W. H. Zichang Talks to Lions

W. H. Zichang, superintendent of the children's home in Amarillo, discussed the needs and objectives of the home yesterday at the Lions Club luncheon. Prior to his talk, Jack Little of Amarillo, a visitor, was introduced and Boss Lion Ralph Smith announced he had been advised that the Hereford club is leading clubs of the nation in its division in a membership drive.

Mr. Zichang was introduced by Rev. J. C. Thorns. Mr. Zichang said the home had suffered during the depression just as other institutions had suffered, and had for the past several years operated as economically as possible, letting repairs, etc. go for the time being.

The depression is over, he said, and it is beginning to show in the home. However, the area has not started renewing its contributions and Amarillo is almost wholly caring for the home. It has been forgotten in the area, he said, and as a result we have not been able to care for your children who need this help. With the government turning relief back to the counties, the effects of the home is going to be more strongly felt throughout the Panhandle. The state home is overcrowded now, he said, and the Amarillo home is the only one of its kind serving this area.

He said about 35 children are now being cared for and the home is able to receive more. "What we need is the cash with which to care for their needs."

Building At Old Central School Recalled by Chairman of Board

E. B. Black, chairman of the Deaf Smith county school board at the time the first Central school was constructed, this week, as the new school was about to be dedicated, recalled instances concerning the construction of the first building some 30 years ago.

Mr. Black was chairman of the board of three members. All Deaf Smith county was one common school district, and when the school was built, Hereford elected seven trustees and became through proper procedure an independent district.

"We thought we were making a big step and being very progressive, and we were," Mr. Black said. "It was as fine a building as you could find in this part of the country."

For years the auditorium in the attic was the largest assembly room in Hereford. It was not in use because of fire hazard in recent years and was one of the old marks about the building that disappear with the flattening of the roof.

Mr. Black recalled that the building was constructed at a cost of $25,000—about half the sum spent on remodeling and additions. At that, the expenditures more than doubled the structure's usefulness and prolonged its life for many years.

The first superintendent to serve in this building was W. H. Ray, and the first principal was "A man named Roberson," Mr. Black recalled. "Of course, we have now and have had lots of good men and women in our schools, but we also had a mighty fine faculty then," he stated.

Hereford Girl Honored.

Miss Ella J. Broadwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Broadwell of this city, and a graduate student at North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, has been elected secretary of the E. D. Criddle Historical Society, information from the school reveals. The society is for students who are majoring or minoring in history and who have a scholastic average of B in that subject.

Miss Velma Louise Bigler of Denver Bride of Clifford Kester

A wedding of local interest is that of Miss Velma Louise Bigler of Denver, Colorado, and Mr. Clifford Kester of Monte Vista, Colorado, which took place Sunday, October 18, at 4 o'clock, at the Capitol Heights Presbyterian church in Denver.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Margaret Plunkett of Monte Vista, who served as bridesmaid. She wore a dark green transparent velvet princess dress with gold accessories, and she carried a bouquet of tansman roses.

The bride was attractive in egg shell transparent velvet, made princess style, with a train. Her finger-tip veil was held in place with a Juliet cap. She carried an old fashioned bouquet made of gardenias. Her only ornament was a small gold crescent pin, which was worn by her mother at the time of her wedding.

Mr. Hal Kester, of Hereford, a brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mr. Shad J. Tinsley played a medley of old hymns. The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin by Wagner was used as the processional. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a trip to Hereford, where they will visit Mr. Kester's parents, and to points in New Mexico. Mrs. Kester is a graduate of Colorado State College at Fort Collins, Colorado, and a member of Gamma Phi Beta Society. Mr. Kester is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Kester, and for the past several months has been connected with the Stowe Jewelry Company in Monte Vista. After November 1 they will be at home in Monte Vista.

MRS. G. M. HUDSON GETS COLUMN AWARD

Mrs. G. M. Hudson was the second writer whose column won honors in Old Tack's contest and appeared under the heading of the Tactless Texan in the Amarillo News and Globe. She was the first person to gain this recognition who is not engaged in the newspaper business.

Mrs. Hudson's column appeared in Monday afternoon's Globe and Tuesday morning's News. In a breezy style that made easy and interesting reading, she discussed pertinent topics of the day. Readers of the Brand became familiar with Mrs. Hudson's writing when she contributed a series of interesting letters on the Texas Centennial recently.

OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Behrends, residents of the Plains for the past 29 years, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Monday at their home near Kress. Six of their eight children and their families and a host of friends attended. Luncheon was served to about 75 people. Two daughters who reside in Iowa were unable to attend.

Mr. Behrends was born in Marx Ostfriesland, Germany, on December 10, 1863, and Mrs. Behrends was born four years later at the same place. When only a year old she moved with her parents to the United States, settling in Iowa. Mr. Behrends followed when he was 18, and also settled in Iowa. The couple was married at Lizard, Iowa, on October 12, 1886.

In 1910 they moved to Kress, where they have resided since, with exception of four years spent in Castro county and three years in Deaf Smith. Children who were present were H. G. and A. L. Behrends of Hereford; George Behrends of Dimmitt; Mrs. Ben Mosley of Amarillo; and Mrs. C. F. Sjogren and Rank Behrends of Kress. Mr. and Mrs. Behrends also have 25 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

MRS. FULLWOOD ENTERTAINS BROTHERS

H. W. Bates of Boston, Mass., and Dr. W. S. Bates of Barre, Mass., are guests of their sister, Mrs. E. H. Fullwood and family. The brothers at one time lived in Hereford, and this is the first visit in 36 years for Mr. H. W. Bates. He will leave Saturday for a visit to the Centennial exhibitions in Fort Worth and Dallas.

Dr. Bates will remain here until Monday, when he will leave for Waco, where he will be joined by his brother for a visit with relatives.

DAMERON HOME SCENE OF AUTUMN PARTY

Autumn leaves and garden flowers in shades of red, rust, orange and green decorated the house when Mrs. Tom McCollum and Mrs. Travis Dameron entertained a group of friends Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dameron. Appointments for games of contract were in autumn colors, suggested by the baskets and bouquets of lovely dahlias arranged artistically about the rooms. Tallies were in the shape of leaves. Mrs. Bobo McLean won high score prize and the traveling prize went to Mrs. Emmitt Milburn.

A delectable salad course was served to Mrs. Tom Carter, Ernest Medick, Harold Close, J. C. McCracken, R. M. Wiltshire, M. D. Womble, Glenn Weir, Emmitt Milburn, C. C. Ferguson, Grant Fuller, Charles Donald, Lee Morgan, Jesse Stanford, B. F. Guthrie, R. P. Conaway, Bernard Hicks, J. T. Glibreath, Jr., Bobo McLean, C. O. Rockwell, O. C. JUNIOR BAY VIEW CLUB STUDIES BRITISH ISLES

The Junior Bay View club met Thursday, October 15, at the home of Mrs. Colby Conkwright. Continuing their study of Travel in Europe, Miss Rhita Sullivan, as leader, gave an introduction to the program on the British Isles.

Miss Sullivan called attention to the fact that since England is the Mother Country, and due to the similarity of language, the British Isles would logically be the first European country Americans would visit.

Miss Ruth Conkwright gave many interesting facts about Ireland, Scotland, Wales and England, describing castles, cathedrals, abbeys, fields of heather, the cities and other places that would usually be seen on a visit.

Refreshments were served to Fern Carlisle, Ruth Conkwright, Edna Daughette, Ina Mae Glibreath, Eva Gilliland, Vida Hicks, Katherine Kirby, Eva Pitman, Eloyse Pitman, Gwendolyn Spradley, Rhita Sullivan and Dorothy Conkwright, club members. Eunice Glibreath was a guest of the club.

TRIO OF HOSTESSES ENTERTAIN

A trio of hostesses entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Homer Brumley, when Mrs. George Robertson, Mrs. J. O. Baker and Mrs. Homer Brumley gave a delightful afternoon party, complimenting Mrs. Early Joiner of Lockney.

Dahlias and other fall flowers in a riot of color decorated the rooms and the halloween motif was suggested in refreshments. Many interesting and enjoyable games were played and clever and original favors were presented to the guests. Little Miss Wilma Jo Robertson furnished the surprise feature of the afternoon when she presented the honoree with a lovely shower of gifts.

Guests include Mrs. Alex Thompson, Bonnie Brumley, Alfred May, Earl Wilson, D. H. Alexander, George Muse, Ray Horn, G. W. Brumley, Alvin Thompson, G. B. Williams, Ernest May, Andrew May, Willard Witherspoon, F. T. Rolson, Fred Millard, Lillburn Ray, Henry Hastings, Artis Daniel, Major Schroeter, Allen Powelson, Ellis Coombs and the honoree.

LAY VIEW CLUB HAS MEETING

"Quest of Knowledge" was the subject of the program led by Mrs. F. T. Rolson at the Bay View club meeting Thursday afternoon at the club room.

Mrs. Rolson gave a very interesting discussion of Thirst of Knowledge and Intellectual Curiosity. Mrs. E. W. Harrison gave a graphic account of Brief Sketches of English Adventure. Mrs. G. M. Hudson told of Spain and England in the Race for World Possessions.

Miss Byrdie Scheithagen and her cousin, Mrs. P. Frank O'Donnell, of Boston, Mass., and Mr. Hugh Preddy of Amarillo, spent the week end visiting the Carlisbad Caverns and other New Mexico points.

Mrs. Paul Mathers returned from Wichita Falls Friday where she and Mr. Mathers have been visiting relatives. While in Wichita Falls Mr. Mathers underwent an appendectomy, and was unable to make the trip home until Wednesday. His sister, Mrs. Schwartz of Amarillo accompanied him home.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB HAS TEXAS CENTENNIAL PROGRAM

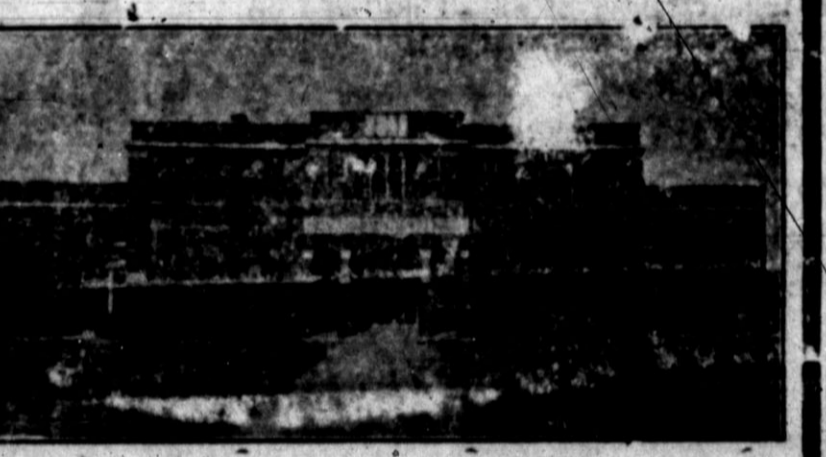

The Music Study club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. B. Jones, with Mrs. Elmer Dameron as leader of the Texas Centennial program. The setting for the program was given in an interesting introduction by Mrs. H. L. Broadwell. Music of the Centennial was described by Miss Mattie Mae Swisher.

Mrs. A. J. Schroeter told about the opening day at the Centennial. The Cavalcade and the Show Boat were interestingly pictured by Miss Eloyse Pitman. Mrs. C. C. Acker told of the Hall of Religion and the Hall of Communications. A picture of the Midway by Mrs. Alvin Thompson was an interesting number in the program and Mrs. C. H. Dillehay gave a glowing account of Casa Manana.

Musical numbers on the program were The Brazos Boat Song, by Mrs. E. M. Wiltshire; The Night Is Young and You Are So Beautiful (music from Casa Manana) by Mrs. Carl Moutz, and a trio, Texas May I Never Wander, by Mrs. Alex Thompson, A. J. Schroeter and Miss Ruby Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simon and Mrs. Elizabeth Hart of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. Clay Neil of Dimmitt visited Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Dean Sunday.

CAUGHT IN THE WILD

ROBERT AMES BENNET

Garth gave her a pat on the head, and turned away, embarrassed. "No wonder you're over-come. It's been too much for a girl. We'll hop out of here at once."

He lashed the unconscious killer's wrists to his belt, tied his ankles together, and climbed into the cockpit of the plane. After replacing the breaker points, he had the men take turns spinning the propeller. He then tried the self-starter. The plane roared. Pulled by the whirling propeller, the plane slid forward off the log rollers.

After cutting the gun, Garth ordered two of the men to heave Huxby into the cabin. The third man he sent for the rifles. "I want the one with which he shot Constable Dillon. But you may as well bring the others—also a lot of that bear fat."

He himself went to pick up the still-weeping girl and help her to the second seat in the cockpit. He made sure of the supply of gasoline, and climbed down again to see that the men gave the bottom of the floats a thorough greasing with the bear fat.

After that, when all were aboard and the rifles in Lilith's keeping, he started the engine. The plane at first moved slowly. The floats dragged on the rough surface of the frozen slush. But when they glided out on the streak of glare ice, the friction became less than that of a water take-off.

Within a half mile the speed had so increased that an easy pull on the joystick sent the plane skimming up off the glassy surface. Garth banked in a long curve to the left, listening to the roar of the warmed motor. Every cylinder was hitting sweet.

CHAPTER XII

Squaw Lilith.

The cross-country flight brought the plane to the Mackenzie at the great bend below the Liard. But Garth did not come down at Fort Simpson. He flew on up the vast river to the Great Slave lake and east across the lake to Fort Resolution.

Some time before sunset he set the cabin plane down at the landing of the Airways base by the mouth of the Slave river. After handing Lilith ashore, he left her standing while he went to speak to the Airways superintendent. That courteous gentleman hastened to tell the girl that his wife would be delighted if the daughter of Mr. Burton Samill would honor their hospitality.

Garth was not invited. He turned away to meet the red-coated sergeant of police for whom he had sent. Lilith did not see him again until the next morning.

Told by her hostess that Mr. Garth wished to speak to her, she made a hurried effort to adjust her borrowed dress. She went hesitatingly into the room where Garth waited alone for her. Her dress, though more stylish than the one loaned to her on the steamer by the Fort Norman missionary's wife, was not cut for her lithe figure.

Sight of him in his caribou parka brought her to a startled halt. Her eyes widened. "Oh, still in your skin suit! You—you're going back!"

"What difference does it make to you?" he asked. "You'll soon be in Edmonton—and civilization."

She stepped suddenly close to him, her hands held out in appeal. "No! I—Allan, take me back with you!"

"Back there? Don't tell me you like that squaw life. Those days in the valley and the trip out must have been a hell of torment to you—dirt, rags, mosquito dope, flies, starvation. And now ice, snow, bitter cold."

"Anything—anything just to be with you, Alan—dear!"

He put his arms about her. He

kissed her red lips and scarlet cheeks and tightly closed eyelids. "My girl," he said, "you are going with me wherever I go. Get on your parka."

Her arms were clasped tight about his neck. She lingered a moment to return his kiss. Then, her blue eyes aglow, she ran to obey him.

When she came hastening back, in her Eskimo costume, she ventured an appeal: "Can't I have a comb and brush and—and soap, Alan?"

He looked soberly past her shoulder at the amused face of her hostess. "Well, yes, I dare say you can. We're going first to Edmonton. Your father is there. I sent him a message that we were coming."

He took her into his arms, regardless of the onlooking lady. "My girl, we are back in civilization. We are first going to be properly married."

"But these caribou suits?"

"Best of flying costumes. We're taking a two-seater. The suits will come in handy again this winter when I teach Mrs. Garth how to drive a dog team. Until that it's to be silks for my girl. I must first testify at the trial. After that we'll hop over to Victoria and take a steamer to Japan for our honeymoon."

"Oh, Alan, how—how delightful. But Japan? Why, I never dreamt a prospector like you would care to travel in the Orient. So, if—if you'd rather go back to the valley, dear—"

Her hostess could no longer keep silent.

"Prospector, Miss Ramil! Is that all you know about Mr. Garth? His father is one of the heads of the Hudson's Bay Company. He himself is a member of our parliament, a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, a noted explorer—"

"And the winner of the gamest girl I ever knew," Garth cut in. "Come on, Squaw Lilith. You've proved yourself a mate woman. Now you're going to be my lady wife."

(THE END)

CONSERVATION PAYMENTS WILL BE STARTED SOON

The Agricultural Adjustment administration has announced that initial payments under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation program will soon be started to producers in Texas and the other states of the Southern region according to A. L. Smith, secretary of the State Conservation Committee.

Mrs. Ida Davis of Clovis is visiting her mother, Mrs. Jeff Thompson.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Not to scare you INTO OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE FOR WINTER

"My worst troubles—never happen," the man with the worrying-habit finally admitted, you know.

And for a good plain reason, the worst Winter engine troubles that you ever saw in print, simply don't happen after you change to Oil-Plating.

For Oil-Plating with patented Conoco Germ Processed oil makes sure that all engine parts have plenty to slide on, ALL THE TIME!

Before any mere "free flowing" old-type oil might even begin to flow, modern Oil-Plating has completely prevented ruinous drag on your engine, starter and battery. The reason is that patented Germ Processed oil, before returning to the crankcase, always leaves a long-lasting Plating of oil all the way up through your engine.

Overnight, and even over days of Winter idleness for your car, this slippery Oil-Plating stays up—ready to start before you are! Then you needn't be scared of suffering one un-oiled start or one poorly oiled mile this Winter. Simply Oil-Plate today at the sign of Conoco Germ Processed oil. Continental Oil Company

Misses Ira Ricketts and Luke McBrayer spent Thursday with Mrs. W. A. Ricketts in Hereford.
Harold and Delbert Conklin spent Friday night with their grandmother Hershey.
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ricketts of Hereford spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Luke McBrayer.

Announce Birth of a Son

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morton announce the arrival of a son, Kenneth Dan, Sunday, October 18. There are four little girls in this family who are very proud of their first brother. Mr. Morton works for the city.

Leads Assembly Of God Revival

An old-fashioned revival is in progress at the Assembly of God church on 14th Street and Avenue G, one block north of the high school, according to Rev. W. A. McCann, pastor. The revival was started Sunday, October 11, and will continue until November 1 or later.
Rev. McCann preached last week and the next two weeks will be under the direction of Evangelist L. B. Lewis of Plainview, who will be assisted by Mrs. Lewis, a musician and singer. Rev. Lewis is said to be an interesting and capable speaker. Saturday night his subject will be Divine Healing—Is It for Today? Sunday night he will speak on Religion Without Christ. Wednesday night of next week will be a special young people's service.

Prayer meeting is conducted each morning at 10 o'clock, children's services at 7 p. m., and evangelistic services at 7:30 each evening. Congregational singing is featured with special music. The public is invited to attend.

Dillehays End Two-Week Trip

Superintendent and Mrs. C. H. Dillehay returned Sunday from San Antonio and other Texas points, where they had been for the past two weeks on a combined business and pleasure trip. They were accompanied home by Mr. Dillehay's father, T. J. Dillehay, of Decatur.

Mr. Dillehay went to San Antonio as a member of a state textbook committee to select books to be used in Texas public schools. They arrived in San Antonio Sunday night, October 4, and hearings, discussions and voting started the next morning and continued through the following Sunday morning, including two night sessions that lasted until after midnight.
They returned to Austin last Monday and made their report to the state board of education. Mr. and Mrs. Dillehay spent Tuesday morning in Austin conferring with board members as to the advisability of trying to refund bonds of the Hereford school district from five per cent to four per cent to save the difference in interest. They visited Dallas schools and the Centennial Tuesday and Fort Worth schools Thursday and Friday.

After spending Saturday night at Mr. Dillehay's home in Decatur, they came home Sunday. Mr. Dille-hay's father, who was ill for several months last summer, stood the trip here remarkably well, Mr. Dillehay said, adding that they hope to keep him here until Thanksgiving.

See Show, Have Drinks.

About 60 persons from the Flagg community were guests of the Star Theatre and Brooks Drug Monday night. They attended the theatre as guests of John Roberts and then had drinks at Brooks as guests of Charles Brooks. The occasion was the weekly invitation extended to the school pupils and their parents of one of the communities in the Hereford area.

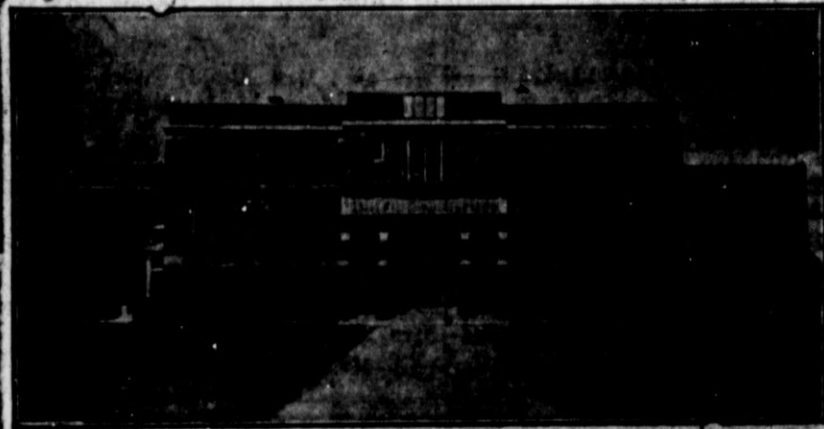

ONE OF OLDEST HOMES HERE BEING DESTROYED

Among jobs being done in Hereford is the re-roofing of the A. H. Elliston home on West Third Street and the tearing down of the old Wilson place, one of Hereford's old landmarks on 25-Mile Avenue.

The building was purchased by Carl Frye, it was reported, and will be moved to Mr. Frye's home place and to his Summerfield farm, where two buildings will be erected.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Sewell left Friday for Los Angeles, where they were called by the serious illness of his father. A brother from Pampa and another from Claude accompanied Mr. Sewell.
