Frio Club In Study Of Perennials

"Perennials should be planted where they can be left from year to year," stated Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Sr., to the women of the Frio H. D. Club at the home of Mrs. J. B. Cocanougher last Wednesday afternoon March 20. "A good way to fertilize our perennials and other flowers is to dissolve the fertilizer in water and pour into a trench a few inches from the plants. The fertilizer must not be put upon the plant and must not get directly to the roots of the plants. "In planting our perennials and other flowers we want the tallest ones in the background, and graduate the flowers down to the very short ones in front. By planting the flowers in this way we can have a very attractive yard."

Plans were completed for serving the dinner for the Rosson and Hays International Demonstration to be held on Thursday, April 11.

BULL

By Jimmie Gillentine

"Oceans of Water" was the slogan selected by the Hereford territory back in 1901—and still there is no place to swim. The boys and girls are clamoring for a swimming pool. More and more grown folks are talking about a swimming pool, and still nothing is being done. Last Saturday scores of youngsters picked the town with signs demanding a chance to learn to swim. One thing is certain, if the community is going to have a swimming pool it should be started not later than April 15.

What would a swimming pool cost? Ultra conservative estimates on a pool 50x125 feet set the figure at around $3,000—and that might mean $5,000 before it was completed. These figures are based on using the bath house which is already located west of the Main Street bridge. The cost of other pools around the country vary, most of them having been constructed through WPA or PWA projects at around $15,000.

There are three ways by which a pool might be secured. First, and probably the most practical means, would be through a governmental body—meaning the county or the city. However, unless a lot of grown folks do a lot of talking with the officials in these posts they will probably take the easiest way out and do nothing about getting a pool. After all, this is still a democratic country and you can't blame any official for wanting to do his duty—which is the will of the people he was elected to represent. Therefore, consider it your duty to tell the official what you think about a pool, whether you are for or against one.

As for other ways of getting a pool, it might be underwritten by a group. Advance tickets might be sold to defray the debt; it might be sponsored by an organization, or it might be installed by an individual. Incidentally, several individuals have considered the idea.

Personally, I think that the pool should be constructed by some governmental division. This agency could operate the pool, or might in turn lease it to some individual for operation. Please express your sentiments to some of the officials. They are all broad minded men and they are good men—or you wouldn't have elected them to the jobs which they now hold. They will be glad to talk things over with you. It all resolves down to the original question: "Do the people want a swimming pool?" If they really and truly want a pool they can get one, but not without a little effort. Resolve now to talk it over with two or three of the officials. Lets get busy.

Just had a letter from Joe Evans and Jack Rose, who are in Idaho and Colorado telling those folks about our country. Indicating that they are meeting with much enthusiasm on part of the folks there, they seem greatly encouraged. Joe ends the letter by saying "I am convinced that Hereford is going to be the bright spot of the world."

A new addition to our community is Nifty Lou, a young wire-haired terrier which is owned by Barbara Ann Burney. The pup is one of the cutest you ever saw and is the pride and joy of her mistress, Mrs. John Wood also has a three-week-old puppy of the Chow breed.

A lot of people have been asking about the fishing season on bass and crappie. Here's what Old Tack, who is a member of the game commission, has to say: "The season on crappie and bass is closed during March and April. It opens May 1st. The reason for this confusion is that the last session of the legislature the law was amended; until the new law the season was closed in April and May and was open in March. Perch and catfish may be caught at any time without use of artificial bait or lures."

Since Sunday I have been trying to think of some word which might describe the hats which are being worn by the women this year. During recent years it has become one of the favorite masculine sports to sit around and discuss the head coverings which are selected by the ladies. While I believe that a few of the new hats are "a little bit different" this season I can see very little cause for the men to get excited. I admit that the hats of 25 years ago were decidedly different, but so have the automobiles changed along with shoe styles and hairdos. Just because a woman buys a hat which looks attractive with her particular hair style I can see no reason for the men getting all worked up. Furthermore, the women are smart enough to start wearing straw hats right now.

The only difference is that men are slaves to fashion. They are afraid to wear hats which would express their personality and which would bring out their better features—because they know that other men would laugh at them. Therefore, they have become puppets, guided by a never-changing style of head dress.

Just stop and think about it. Wouldn't Meade Halle look cute in a red tam? By the dignity of his office shouldn't Judge Jas. W. Witherspoon wear a derby? Did you ever see Cliff Acker in a cap of big black and white checks? Certainly Cecil Guseman should have a silk "stovepipe" to go with his spats. You could go on and on, but the men would still buy the same style of hats year after year—and they'll probably still sit around and laugh at those which the women wear.

Life Of Rufus Steele Is Like Adventure Novel; Got First Card Knowledge From Gamblers

Not until after he failed as a minister at Auburndale Seminary did W. F. (Rufus) Steele, now in a bridge school here, begin his acquaintance with cards—cards which were to start him on an extraordinary career as a magician, gambler, soldier, traveler, electrical engineer, baseball player and now one of the leading bridge experts of the nation.

Coming from a family of four ministers, Rufus Steele, too, prepared to follow that profession. "After I flopped," Mr. Steele said humorously, yesterday in an interview, "I entered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston from which I received my degree in Electrical Engineering. It was there that I first got my knowledge of cards owing to the fact that there was a large gambling house nearby. All the biggest gamblers in the country went there to play. "I went there and got to where I could keep the cases when Faro Bank was being played. At the end of the day I got what was left in the Sandwich Case for my pay. This amounted to from $9 to $90 per day.

MET GAMBLERS

At this gambling house, Mr. Steele contacted all the professional gamblers such as Goldbrick O'Brien, Monk White, Skinny the Kid, Scareface Tony and Dave Dishler. Each one was known as a professional cheater and each had his own system for cheating. Some dealt seconds, some from the bottom of the deck, some glimpsed cards with their thumbs, etc.

"I was employed by gamblers to catch these cheaters and if I was successful I usually got a tip. If I could not detect the cheat I received a curse," Steele said.

"Tricks that were taught to me by the gamblers, I practiced myself. In later year I used the tricks to entertain my friends in the form of sleight-of-hand, and became quite proficient in that art."

TURNS TO BASEBALL

After getting out of school Steele turned down a $3600 a year offer to play baseball and instead began work for General Electric at $8.60 per week. He was later to play baseball, however, with such teams as the Boston Americans, and up until three years ago was the only professional player listed in Spalding's to pitch two one-hits games in one season. While in baseball he came in contact with the sporting gamblers.

Later he had charge of the Fifth Street Station of Chicago Edison Power company and there he installed the first three 3500 kilowatt Curtis Turbines in the country and also installed the first Dieselpowered electric generators in the country at Jewett City, Conn.

BECOMES MAGICIAN

While in Chicago Mr. Steele was asked to entertain the Society of American Magicians at a meeting there. This he did by performing some card tricks, and subsequently received an invitation to appear at the society's banquet in New York City. After performing for them he was offered a job on the stage in New York City at $350 a week. "I was getting $90 a week at Chicago and working 10 to 16 hours a day. On the stage I got $350 a week and worked 22 minutes a day," Mr. Steele said. "I performed on Broadway 14 months straight, the longest of any magician."

"However," Mr. Steele said seriously, "this was the greatest mistake of my life. From that time I was constantly on the road, no home, only my suitcase and bags, my name in lights and I actually made less money than I did at $90 a week in Chicago. There were hotel bills, tips, bands, and many other expenses to pay.

"A deck of cards has carried me around the world three times," he said.

"I can perform card tricks for 10 hours straight without repeating. I am the only man in the country to get out a book on card tricks, which I do every three years."

"Hereford used to be one of the big gambling spots of the Panhandle," he said with a twinkle. "I stopped here 26 years ago and sat in on a poker game where there was $2,000 on the table. "More money has gone out of Hereford to Oklahoma gamblers than any other place in the Panhandle," he said, speaking of years gone by.

STUDENTS TO BE WARNED

Mr. Steele then turned to plans of the Card companies to begin a seven-year educational campaign this year among the high school seniors.

"Purpose of the campaign is to give students an understanding of the pitfalls of gambling.

"There have been more college educations ruined, more hot checks written and more students expelled because they played penny-ante than most persons realize," he said. "The student who plays penny-ante and loses can lose more than he thought possible in such a small game. Where he expects to lose two or three dollars, he finds that the amount is eight or nine and he has to write a hot check to cover it."

"A no-limit game is really safer, odd as that may seem."

WAS SOLDIER

As Mr. Steele was a soldier in the last World War and has been a recent European traveler, he was asked what he thought of the present conflict.

"It'll be over in July," he said promptly and in the next five to 10 years I believe Europe will be ruled by one man as a union of states."

Mr. Steele enlisted in the last World War with the first 94 Americans to get into the fight. They enlisted with the French army before the United States entered. He was in the war four years and was wounded three times. During the whole four years the only time he touched a deck of cards was when he performed a few tricks when Elsie Janis' Troupe entertained the soldiers.

In concluding the interview, Mr. Steele said, "I like cards. Card games are wonderful games if played honestly."

AAA Deadlines Are Announced

College Station.—No more applications for agricultural conservation payments or for range conservation payments under the 1939 AAA program can be accepted after May 31.

This deadline is final, according to a ruling of the state Agricultural Conservation Association committee which declared that "no exceptions will be made."

At the same time the committee called attention to the following closing dates:

March 31, final date for filing requests for reconstitution of farms and for designating non-general allment farms;

May 1, deadline for filing application to participate in the 1940 range and agricultural conservation programs.

FHA Plans Homes For Families Making Less Than $2,000 Year

"The Tremendous undeveloped field for small homes, long needed and wanted by families of moderate incomes, has been opened up by the Federal Housing Administration in a program destined to be one of the major trends of our time," according to E. T. Stearns, District Director of the FHA in Fort Worth. "The possibilities in this field are almost unlimited," he stated, "especially with respect to the 108 West Texas counties under the jurisdiction of the Fort Worth insuring office.

"For many years families with incomes of $1,000 to $2,000 a year have not been seriously considered as prospective buyers of homes. It has been the general belief that a family in this income group could not afford to invest in a home even if one could be found that was attractive, well built, efficient and modern. "The Federal Housing Administration, through the financing plan made available for the small home program, does more than enable the average family to pay for a home conveniently, by providing that the down payment, or cash equity requirement, may be as little as 5% of the value of the property.

"In this small home program it is entirely possible for families of lower incomes to build or purchase a home with a down payment as low as $150.00 and with monthly loan payments (on a $2000.00 loan for 15 years) of not over $20.00 per month, which includes principal, interest, FHA premium, 1-12 of annual taxes and hazard insurance premium."

The following questions and answers will explain in greater detail the principal provisions of the Federal Housing Administration's new plan of financing available for low priced homes:

1. Who can borrow under this new plan? Any responsible person with a steady income and a good credit record.
2. To whom is application made? To any lending institution approved by the Federal Housing ing the 5% investment, cash expenditure for the following purposes may be included: (a) Value of land, which must be unencumbered (no second liens permitted) (b) Accrued real estate taxes; ground rents and special assessments payable at time of closing the loan (c) FHA examination fee of $10 (d) Actual amount of initial service charge made by the lending institution but not to exceed 1% of the proceeds of the loan (e) recording fees, notary fee, revenue stamps, etc. (f) title examination fees, cost of abstract of title, title insurance policy site survey.

8. How must the loan be repaid? In equal monthly installments, which will cover all fixed charges and includes the following: payment to principal and interest, FHA insurance, service charge (if made by lending institution), 1-12 of annual taxes and hazard insurance premiums. The loan may be repaid over any period of years up to but not exceeding 15.

9. Can the entire loan be paid off at any time?

Borrowers have privilege of prepayment in full or in amounts equal to one or more installment payments, without premium or penalty, provided 30 days notice is given the lending institution.

10. Does the Government provide the money under this plan? No. It is private money, loaned by approved institutions who act in accordance with the government rules and regulations.

11. What must be done to build a new home under this plan? See a builder or an architect, and discuss your plans with an approved lending agency. Tell them how much cash you can invest, and the value of the land if you already own it. Indicate to them the approximate price of the home you wish to build and how much you can conveniently afford to pay each month. With tentative figures they can advise you concerning the probable acceptability of the loan you will require. If it appears satisfactory, drawings and specifications must be prepared and presented to the lending institution, together with the bid from one of more competent and responsible contractors. The lending institution will assist in the preparation of your application for the loan.

12. What happens next? The lending institution will submit the application and other papers to the Federal Housing Administration office in Fort Worth. Within a few days the FHA will notify the lender of its decision, and you will then go ahead, knowing exactly what amount loan will be insurable and the number of years permitted for repayment. As the home is being constructed, FHA will make inspections to determine compliance with the drawings and specifications, and with our construction requirements.

13. Can you give an example of the manner in which a new small home may be financed under this plan? If you own a lot valued at $150.00 to $200.00, you will already have the 5% investment required for any home built costing up to $2500.00. The amount of loan you obtain cannot be for more than the actual cost of the improvements. In a case of this kind, funds would be needed for payment of loan expenses.

If a property is already completed, and is offered for sale at $2650.00, it must be remembered that the loan cannot be for more than the cost of building the improvements, and in no event may it be for more than $2500.00. Assuming in this case that the cost of building was $2500.00, the buyer would be required to pay $150.00 in cash to complete the purchase, and would also have to pay any necessary loan expenses. In either case, where a $2500.00 loan is obtained, the monthly payment for 15 years would not exceed approximately $25.00. This payment would include principal and interest, service charge, FHA insurance and 1-12 of annual taxes and hazard insurance premiums.

14. How do I benefit? Once your home is financed on the FHA plan, your "rent money" pays for your home—while you and your family enjoy more living comfort and security.

Miss Emeline Albracht Is Wed In Church Ceremony Monday

Miss Emeline Albracht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Albracht, became the bride of Harold Kreighouser, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kreighouser of Edina, Mo., Monday morning at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The nuptial mass was read by Rev. Father Aloysius, pastor, with Miss Edna Urbanzyck, organist, playing and accompanying Miss Adeline Koelzer, who sang "O Perfect Love" and "Ave Maria." The choir was directed by Eugene Albracht.

On the main altar of the church were jardinières of calla lilies and lighted white tapers.

The bride's attendants wore floor length net dresses made alike but of varying hues. They were made with circular skirts with ribbon trim and had square necklines and puffed sleeves. Miss Bernadette Albracht, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore aqua blue with blue flower hat. The bridesmaids, Misses Monica Albracht and Oleda Heiman, sister and cousin of the bride, wore pale peach with flower bandeaux in their hair. They carried bouquets of pink and blue sweet peas.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore white satin made along princess lines with flared skirt that fell into a train and long fitted sleeves. Her long veil was held in place by a bandeau of lilies of the valley and she carried calla lilies and fern. Her something old was a gold cross belonging to her great-grand mother and her rosary was blue. Jerry Albracht, brother of the bride, was best man and Anthony Hellman and Larry Loerwald were ushers.

The dinner after the wedding, held at the home of the bride's parents, carried out the bridal theme in decorations with lilies and white tapers adorning the table. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple and favors were tiny pink and white baskets filled with pink and blue mints. After a short visit in Missouri with his parents the couple will be at home in Amarillo where he is employed with the Amarillo Bus Company.

Wheat Insurance Contract Rules Given By ACA

College Station.—Collateral assignments of wheat crop insurance contracts may be made for any one of three purposes—and for no other.

Under the regulations, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation will recognize assignments made as security of a cash loan, for the amount of the current year's rental due under a leasing agreement, or as the current annual installment due under a purchase, mortgage or trust agreement with respect to the farm, the state Agricultural Conservation Association committee pointed out in its meeting in College Station.

Since these regulations are in force, the committee said the corporation cannot recognize collateral assignments on insurance contracts to secure amounts owed on the purchase of, or to cover advances of, materials or supplies.

"If the corporation were to recognize such assignments," the committee's statement read, "it might easily have the effect of limiting sources of credit to the insured for other needs that may arise carrying on operations. Such limitation very probably would result since the corporation can recognize only one collateral assignment with respect to an insurance contract."

The committee added that most farmers try to obtain credit from one source to cover their entire year's farming operations and generally, a commitment is obtained for the total amount with the credit agency advancing in successive installments money required.

In addition, recognition of collateral assignments as security on rental or on payments on farm purchases or installments enables many farmers to remain on their farms who otherwise might be forced to leave the committee said.

Typhus Fever On Increase In Texas

Typhus fever, transmitted to humans by the common rat flea, showed increased prevalence to 538 cases in 1938 over the 497 cases previously reported to the State Health Department during 1938, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Old World typhus fever has a high death rate, while the type we have in Texas (endemic typhus) sometimes called Brill's disease, has much lower mortality rate. The incidence of typhus in Texas is highest among those persons who work or live in rat-infested buildings. It was the observation of this fact that led to the discovery that rats are carriers of typhus. It appears the rat suffers attacks of this form of typhus fever and that the fleas harbored by the sick rat bite man, and thus human infection results.

Aside from the public health problem caused by rats, it has been estimated that the rodents annually cause twelve to fifteen million dollars worth of damage to Texas property.

"Although typhus is not commonly fatal, it cannot be considered lightly. Typhus fever generates intense headache, high fever, and great mental depression in the average patient. As in sea sickness, the patient's greatest fear is that he is not going to die. The illness generally lasts about two weeks.

"Control of typhus is made difficult, since it depends upon extermination of rodents, and that is no easy matter. Trapping and poisoning help, but the best results are obtained by starving the rat. This can be done by having all buildings in an area food is stored, rat-proofed. The State Department of Health and the U. S. Department of Agri-

Methodists Pay Benevolences

Entire benevolences for the year have been paid in full by the First Methodist Church, according to a report from Rev. Marvin B. Norwood, pastor, who stated that few churches manage to pay their benevolences this early in the conference year.

This achievement was made possible by the activity and organization of the Council of Missions and Church Extension, of which Mrs. E. W. Harrison is the Chairman, the work and cooperation of the Board of Stewards, the activity of the various classes and groups who accepted and paid their quota of the asking, but more especially the interest and support of every member, all working under the leadership of the pastor. A check for $650.00, representing the entire acceptance on the General and Conference Work from this church. A payment of $17.00 had previously been paid on the special expense of holding the session of the General Conference this year. Only the apportionment on the District Work yet remains to be paid, and there is enough yet to come in from the various classes to take care of that.

Although the need is great, especially during these trying times only a few churches manage to pay their benevolences in the spring, usually waiting until just before conference to pay the obligation (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 2)

A natural-born dancer, she progressed by leaps and bounds and was finally discovered by Gus Edwards during a summer vacation in Atlantic City. Miss Powell came to Hollywood from the stage where she scored innumerable hits in leading Broadway productions.

At the age of six Eleanor loved to dance and would pose like this when friends of the family got out a camera.

At the age of sixteen Eleanor broke into musical comedy with the lead in the New York production "Follow Through."

In 1931, Eleanor was the feminine lead with Beryl Aar and Harry Richman in New York's "Varieties."

The intricate taps that Eleanor did in this number from the "Broadway Melody of 1936" will long be remembered.

The sensation of "Rosalie," was Eleanor's "drum dance" in which she danced back and forth on a series of drums, some of them thirty feet in height.

"Honorata," which proved one of the most popular films of Eleanor's screen career, found her dancing the "hula" taught her by an expert imported from the Islands.

Here we find Eleanor Powell and Fred Astaire dancing together for the first time in "Broadway Melody of 1936," to Cole Porter's famous tune, "Begin the Beguine."

Two 1939 Plays Are Reviewed For Junior Bay View Club

Two 1939 plays were reviewed at a meeting of the Junior Bayview Club Thursday night held with Miss Lois McCaslin.

In discussing "No Time For Comedy" by S. N. Behrman, Mrs. J. W. McVay said, "The production of this play which occurred in April 1939, stirred considerable interest. It was the fourth production of the Playwrights Producing Company of which Mr. Behrman is one of five associates, it marked the end of a two year exile from New York of Katherine Cornell and it ended a long search for the proper comedienne to play its chief role by the acceptance of an emotional actress who had during her consistently successful career, had practically no time for comedy."

"The American Way" by Hart and Kaufman was reviewed by Mrs. J. D. Neill who, quoting from "Variety", said "It is the season's most far-reaching play, a drama of Americanism in terms that are unmistakable. It is a patriotic display that is stirring if taken in the mood of its writing. Kaufman and Hart who have delivered a number of top comedies are thoroughly serious with "The American Way" apparently swayed by the terrors of Nazism and its off-shoots in the United States."

Continuing Mrs. Neill said, "The play is a reply and a challenge to the brutal crushings of human rights abroad and the insidious machinations of subversive groups at home."

A parliamentary drill was conducted by Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine.

PHILLIP BARRY

At a later meeting held at the home of Mrs. Jack Wayland, Miss Ruby Dutton discussed the "Life and Achievements of Phillip Barry" attache of the American embassy at London for a time and a frequent contributor to the pages of "Best Plays" series. She said "During the past 15 year Phillip Barry's name has been counted among the top American Dramatists. Unlike many of his fellow playwrights who go in for the somber note and the tragic tone, his work is best known for its sparkling and intelligent comedy with serious undertones."

Mrs. Alton Fraser gave "Philadelphia Story" dealing with Dinah Lord, 15 and plumpish, Tracy Lord Dexter, her sister; Margaret Lord, the mother; and Seth Lord, the father. She described the Seth Lord home as one of the most attractive suburban places near Philadelphia.

Those attending the meeting were Ruby Dutton, Edna Daughtee, Eloyse Pitman, Katherine Kirby, Mesdames W. L. Davis, Alton Fraser, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Jimmie Gillentine, Frances McClendon, J. W. Witherspoon and the hostess.

Afternoon Party Entertains Club

Mrs. J. M. Posey was hostess with a bridge party Thursday afternoon for members of the London Bridge Club. Two tables of guests enjoyed the party.

Bowls of snapdragons placed about the house furnished decorations. Mrs. N. E. Milburn made high score and Mrs. Kellar Muse, second high, in the games.

Other players were Mesdames Ernest Medkief, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Meade Halle, Sherman Morgan, Ralph Roden and R. R. Willis.

METHODIST WOMEN HAVE SOCIAL MEET

A social and business meeting of the Woman's Society of the Methodist Church was held at the home of Mrs. E. B. Black last week.

An Easter program was given. Carroll Newsum played a cornet solo, "The Old Rugged Cross" as an introduction to the devotional which was in the form of the story of "The Resurrection" given by Mrs. G. W. Newgom.

Mrs. Marvin Norwood gave an outline of unification of the women's work in the church.

The March bulletin report was presented by Mrs. H. H. Hawkins. A short business session was held when committee reports were heard. Mrs. M. M. Beavers gave the concluding prayer.

Hostesses for the meeting included Mesdames C. C. Cox, Cawthon Bryant, D. H. Bryant, T. H. Coursey, J. C. Cummings and Mrs. Black.

Mrs. Hedrick Is Leader For Bay View Club

Reports were heard and Mrs. Knox Kinard presented 1940-41 program outlines for consideration at the meeting held by the Bay View Club at the court house Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. E. B. Hedrick was leader and opened the program which dealt with "South American Republics" by giving a panoramic view of Paraguay, outlining its early history, topography, climate, inhabitants and government. She brought out the thought that from 1814 to 1840 Paraguay was ruled by a dictator and that although from time to time Paraguay asserted its independence the little country is again under dictatorship: In a decree issued on February 19, 1940, at Asuncion, President Gen. Jose Felix Estigarribia virtually made himself dictator, announcing that he had full support of the army and navy.

Mrs. D. H. Alexander reviewed the book, "Women on Horseback" by William E. Barrett.

The book which critics claim is authentic history of Paraguay is also a biography of Francisco Lopez, former president. The reviewer, in an interesting manner, brought out the highlights of the story, showing how that affected the destiny of all South America, described the three classes of people, all a people of fear, and read excerpts from the narrative which gave an insight into the character of Ella Lynch, an Irish girl whose influence brought about changed regime for Paraguay—and who had a great part in the war with Argentina after Lopez became president.

An out of town speaker will address the club at the next meeting which will be a continuance of the course of study "Our Neighbors, North and South."

Members present included Mesdames Colby Conkright, E. W. Harrison, H. G. Conkright, G. W. Heard, E. B. Hedrick, A. M. Jones, Paul Mathers, John McLean, C. F. Moore, J. H. Olson, G. A. F. Parker, J. P. Slaton, J. B. Stoker, and Bob Wilson.

Mark Hanna.

Roll Call was answered by members mentioning some soil building element. Mrs. John P. Slaton was leader. She stressed the need of studying soil in order to supply any deficiencies.

Miss Sadie Lee Oliver discussed "Rotation" and said, "Don't plant the same thing in the same place year after year, and if you want to become a good gardener you must be able to say barnyard manure without blushing." Miss Oliver pointed out that local soil is lacking in iron and recommended coppers to overcome this lack. She listed the number of growing days in the Panhandle to be 190 or 200 and said the average killing frost in the spring occurs about April 15, the latest, May 10.

Mrs. N. E. Gass talked on fertilizers, advocating the use of animal bones, fish bones, dried blood and barnyard manure.

Mrs. Mark Hanna said that gardening takes an abundance of water and an abundance of hard work in a talk on "Water and Cultivation." She said to be sure the moisture is from 4 to 6 inches in depth and most gardens should be watered late in the afternoon. "Now is the time to look after roses—feed them cotton seed meal, and don't dig or spade deeply around them," she said.

Members attending the meeting were Mesdames N. E. Gass,

It's more Fun in the car up front

In other words, why buy a car that's content to follow along—when little, if any, more money will put you in a Buick up where the banners are flying?

For this year's automotive style pattern was cut by Buick a good twelve months ago.

This year's performance tempo was set two years back when the Buick Dynaflex engine appeared.

And this year's comfort standards still have some catching up to do to equal Buick's combination of four coil springs and recoil-mounted Knee-Action.

Eventually, others may find a way to micropoise-balance engines after assembly, heavy-up their frames, and seek to equal Buick's staunchness.

Meantime you'll have those Buick blessings to enjoy.

You'll drive the style-leader, the comfort-leader, the value-leader—a car full of things that will still be "new" a good two years from now.

And as a visit to your Buick dealer will show, you'll get it at prices like those you find on the sixes.

That gives you something real to look into. Start looking early—to get in on all the fun.

18% PROTEIN CONTENT OF CHICK FEED PROVES MOST PROFITABLE

Do you read the tags on feed sacks?

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Progress Report for March 21, 1940 states that comparative studies were made for two years with feeds for chicks having a protein content of 14, 16, and 20 per cent. "These figures for the two years are very convincing. A careful study of these results has proven definitely that it is economical to see that the chicks receive a feed containing as much as 18 per cent protein. The 20 per cent protein gave somewhat better results than the 18 per cent protein, but due to the cost of protein feeds, this higher level may not be economical.

The concentrated protein feeds used in this study were sardine meal, cottonseed meal and soybean oil meal used in equal parts. In the 18 per cent protein ration there was about five pounds of each of these feeds. The other ingredients in this

A. O. Thompsons And Mrs. Mat Gililand Complete Long Trip

"We left Hereford March 1 with a sandstorm right on our heels," Alec Thompson said in telling of the trip he and Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Mat Gililand made recently to attend the Baptist Sunday School Convention at Harlingen in the lower Rio Grande Valley. They returned Thursday night March 14, after a 2525 mile tour which took them on a trip around a large part of the boundaries of Texas.

After leaving Hereford they traveled through Lubbock, Big Springs, San Angelo and Del Rio, where they also crossed the river into Old Mexico at Villa Acuna. With only a short sidetrip to Carrizo Springs they followed the Rio Grande River down to Harlingen and Brownsville. At the latter city they crossed the river to Matamoros. At a cemetery there they learned that if the rent is not paid on the deceased's location, the coffin and bones are burned, or if the coffin happens to be iron, it is stacked in a corner.

On the return trip the party traveled up the coast to Corpus Christi, circling first the huge King Ranch, then went on to Houston, "keeping as close to the coast as we could." They visited San Jacinto Battlefield and then traveled north to Lubbock. The experimental ration were wheat gray shorts, 20 pounds, pulverized oats, 10 pounds, dehydrated alfalfa leaf meal, 5 pounds; bone meal, 1 1/2 pounds, oyster shell, 2 pounds, salt, 1 pound, and good grain, 45 1/2 pounds. (Since the chicks are grown away from sunlight one eighth of 1 per cent of high grade fish oil was also used.)

The results of these experiments are in line with those of other experiment stations. Many commercial feed manufacturers are using as much as 18 per cent protein in their chick starting rations.

"At the Texas Station we are now experimenting to determine how long chicks require these liberal amounts of protein for best results. This study will require several years; no definite results are available at this time."

Three Kinds of Cold Are Offered By Philco

NEW MODELS ALSO LOWER IN PRICE

Claiming as its leading feature the provision of three kinds of cold, dry, moist and freezing, the new Philco Refrigerators are now on display at Miller Auto Store, according to an announcement being made this week by R. B. Miller.

"Each of these kinds of colds has its own special refrigeration duty to perform," Mr. Miller said. "Dry Cold is necessary to preserve the purity of such foods as milk, bacon, butter, eggs, packaged and canned goods. The Philco has a large compartment for these foods.

"On the other hand cooked meats and left over vegetables, need moist cold, as do green vegetables and fruits. A fresher shelf and a sliding crisper drawer are in the moist cold compartment.

"Then for the storing of such foods as fresh meat, frozen desserts, ice cream and for a extra supply of ice cubes, Philco gives you a third compartment, large enough to store a turkey, in addition to the regular ice cube chamber."

The Philco Refrigerator also has the exclusive "Conservador," a shelf-lined innerdoor, a five-year protection plan, sealed power unit, storage bin, quick ice release, one-piece steel cabinets and many other features. All models, from the lowest priced to the highest, may be purchased on easy terms.

by the U. S. Forest Service. Slight variations were made by the Game Department. Deer trapped in the new devices cannot injure themselves and they can be removed with a minimum of trouble and placed on trucks to be transported to areas in need of restocking.

The area in which the traps are being tested is heavily overstocked with does. The Game Department will reduce the over supply of female deer there and will at the same time be able to restock other areas. This work will supplement other stocking operations carried on annually by the Department.

PUBLIC OPINION

The question this week is: How do you feel when you get "Spring Fever?"

Bernadine Phillips—"Spring Fever?"—It definitely agrees with me. You see, I'm in love!
Alvin Czerner—To me "Spring Fever" is an indescribable feeling that makes you want to go to bed.
Wilma Higgins—I feel like I've been up late every night and have a hangover.
Bettye Roloson—I don't feel any difference. I'm just glad that summer is here.
Squirt Kassahn—Oh! I feel like falling in love, especially with a pug-nosed sophomore.
Edna Urbanczyk—Umm! Well, I feel so-o-o-o-oh well, what's the use, but it is swell.
Bob Gilliland—I feel like I'm wading in mud. (Just can't go fast enough.) And my fancy turns

Grand Champion Is Owned By V. C. Hopson

The F. F. A. Boys and the 4-H Clubs' Fat Stock Show last Thursday was commended by many cattlemen.
V. C. Hopson's calf won Grand Champion and first place in the Senior Division. He also entered a second calf which won second place in the same division with John Douglas Pitman's calf winning third place, Glenn Ricketts', fourth place, and Briscoe West's, fifth place.
In the Junior Division, R. C. Valentine won first place; Earl Hussey, second place; Roy Saltzman, third place; Harold Saltzman, fourth place; and Gordon Higgins, fifth place.
In the Shorthorn division, Herbert Hoover won first place; Charles Hoover, second place; and George Olson won third place.
John Douglas Pitman's calf won top price at $14.00 per hundred. Other students who had entries are: Grady Wilson, O. G. Hill, Jr., Lee Hopson, Kenneth Rudd, Harold Lindsey, Raylan Evans, Harold Rudd, J. D. Green, and Elmer Mathies.
Some of the boys entered their calves in the Amarillo Fat Stock Show.

to gunpowder.
Shirley Thomas—It makes me feel that I would like to see some body that I knew in Los Angeles last summer.
Harold Parsons—I feel that one bed is as good as any other.
George McLean—Ah-h-h-h! "Spring Fever"—Well, the appetite is slightly decreased; the school room becomes even more monotonous than in the winter, and all the sweet, little numbers of the fairer sex that are flirting—I mean flitting—around seem to be magnified into inexpressible beauty.
Louise Cress—I feel just like a bear coming out of my winter cave; or, maybe I feel as though I should have stayed home last night.
Lurline Dixon—Outside of being sleepy when I shouldn't be, I can tell no difference, unless I'm too sleepy to see the difference.

Mrs. T. E. Siegler and Mrs. J. B. Jones were guests of Mrs. Siegler's daughter, Mrs. DeWitt Landis and family in Lubbock Thursday and Friday.

Confidentially Yours

Thanks for the swell response to the "Hi-Ho Snooper;" it helped wonderfully.
Imagine! Jeanie France has already asked Billy Dameron for a date on "Sadie Hawkins Day."
What makes Lynnwood Hallum like Orvella Hill so much?

The Star Theatre had two distinguished visitors Tuesday night: Roger Hartman and Mary Ann Acker. Well, well!
Have you seen Donald McCullough and Mary Ellen Henslee do the rhumba?
Mattie Lawton tried to teach Wayne Phillips how to dance. He can beat Fred Astaire now.
Why does Gerald Gollehon tell all his lady teachers how beautiful they are each day. Is he working for an A?
Harold Close spent a whole history-hour and didn't try to draw attention. He has started parting his hair in the middle for his teachers.
Has anyone heard about Lavon Baize and Nolan Miller? I haven't either.
For the seventh grade: David Phillips and Kathryn Acker have been going to the show together. Oh, man! Is that Tom Wilson in love with Arline Millard. La Nelle Parmer is falling for Lloyd Olson. Thanks, seventh grade snooper, keep up the good work.
Melba Sawyer seems to be interested in Billy Bob Jackson. Nick Koelzer has gained gigantic attention this year. He even has my poor heart swaying.
Rena Rae Renfro is mad at Duane Baize. Why? You might ask Vesta Mae Landers.
Opal and Ruby Price both have secret lovers out of town something about it. Well, girls.
Bess Hagar walks home from place and they refuse to tell school constantly now days with a neighbor boy. Good work, Bess.
Who would have ever thought that Clyde Hagar and Bobbie Turner and Billie Bess Green and Lynnwood Hallum would couple off; and I saw F. L. Lucas and Margaret Higgins and Mary Jane Jordan and Alvin Czerner?
Mr. Kinard scared the "jitters" out of Aline Coker in history class. She probably was thinking, along with Shirley Thomas and Helen Oglesby, about those guys

Boys Win Honors At 4-H Fat Stock Show

The sixth grade boys are doing their part to keep alive the Hereford tradition of more and better Hereford cattle for Deaf Smith county.

Hopson winning Grand Champion and first place in the Senior Division with one calf, second place in the same division with another calf. Briscoe West won fifth in the Senior Division. R. C. Valentine won first place in the Junior Division.

they talk about so much from Plainview, Okla.
Evelyn Benson has at last decided she likes Wilbur Harman. Gee, that is a relief on my mind. The London twins are strange. Gertrude is turned to like boys and Lillie hates all men. Well? J. P. Jones can't make up his mind whom he likes best, Bernadine Phillips or Mary Beth Hicks.
Everett Story sat by Betty Jane Roloson at the banquet last week, and he just blushed.
Leola Wolfington is one true member of anything she belongs to. No kidding, she can always be depended upon.
Roy Morrison is really an electrician. He can't even plug-in the radio cord to a wall socket.
George L. LeGrand for some reason or other has a great liking for senior girls.
Listen Central School, elect yourselves a "Snooper" and get it in the paper for next week.

MANY QUAIL SHIPPED
Mexican quail, which are used by several states for restocking purposes, are moving through Texas now. It is estimated by the Uvalde Leader-News that more than 100,000 will be sent through ports of Laredo, Del Rio, Eagle Pass. Of this number the Texas Game Department gets 20,000 and was able to purchase them, by obtaining bids, at the lowest price in history of game distribution. The birds were purchased for 69 cents each by Texas. Other states are paying as much as $1.30 per bird.

Trapping quail in Mexico is an interesting process. A V-shaped brush fence not over a foot high is constructed, with the point running into a women wire funnel some ten feet long. Quail herders, upon discovering birds, walk slowly toward them, herding the birds inside the brush enclosures. The birds follow the brush until they come to the narrow opening in the wire trap and walk in. They are then caught and placed in crates to be transported to the United States.

COYOTE POINTED QUAIL
Houston Lockheart, plow foreman for the huge King Ranch, is hoping he will be able to trap a certain coyote he saw in action recently. If he does, he may have the most unusual bird "dog" ever known.

Mr. Lockheart was going along a pasture fence near Kingsville one morning during the open season on quail when he saw a coyote come down on a point exactly like a bird dog. The coy-

Tonight marks the opening of the season. This aisle-rolling comedy, entitled, "Professor How Could You" will keep one laughing throughout the entire presentation. How could a person fail to miss such a drama as this? Plan this very minute to see it one of the nights, or both.

Can you imagine a professor of ancient history chased by three girls who claim that he proposed to them? Can you imagine how he decided what girl he wanted to marry? These three man-chasers are played by Polly Anna Crawford as Priscilla Morley, who is a sweet young thing; Bernadine Phillips as Tootsie Bean, and one who is sure to get her man with the help of her big brother; and Orvella Hill and Eloise Tout playing the part of Valerie Whitman, the most charming southern girl of the college.

With all these complications confronting the professor, he is quite busy. Be sure and come to see how the professor so nimbly handles the situation.

The cast for Thursday night is as follows: Keats Perry, Clifford Estes; Vicky Randolph, Dorothy Nelle Trimble; John Appleby, Ernie Schumacher; Grandpa Perry, Bob Gilliland; Grandma Perry, Wanda Jean Reed; Priscilla Morley, Polly Anna Crawford; Tootsie Bean, Bernadine Phillips; Butcher Boy Bean, Jack Knox; Valerie Whitman, Eloise Tout; Boggs, Geo. McLean.

The cast for Friday night varies in that Grandpa is played by Leslie Guthrie, Grandma by Louise Cress, and Valerie Whitman by Orvella Hill.

Tickets can be bought from any Senior, and reserve seats can be purchased from the City Drug Store. The admission is 25c for adults and 15c for students.

Spring Check-Up Of Car Is Important

Motorists who want to get maximum satisfaction from their cars next summer should take time out within the next few weeks for the Spring check-up, lubrication and adjustment which every car needs in order to give a perfect account of itself during the months of warm weather ahead.

This is the advice of Ed Hedner, national service and mechanical manager for Chevrolet. He added that the company's dealer organization is ready, with factory-trained mechanics and factory-approved equipment, to give prompt, economical attention to all spring check-up needs.

"Dealer's experience," he said, "has shown that motorists are much more careful about installing their winter lubricants and anti-freeze in the fall than they are about taking the reverse step when spring rolls around. This is probably because they know that if the matter is neglected they are likely to awake some morning and find their engine frozen, or their transmission-case lubricant so thick that they can not shift gears.

"There is no such worry to remind them to remove the winter lubricant and drain out the anti-freeze at warm weather's approach. But there is good reason why both of these details should be taken care of.

"In the case of the lubricant, the reason is that lubricants are effective only under the conditions for which they were designed. Winter demands a thin-bodied lubricant which will not solidify at low temperatures, but retain its lubricating quality no matter how cold it becomes. Cars operate at much higher temperatures in summer than in winter—temperatures at which the winter lubricant, already thin, would liquefy still further and lose much of its effectiveness. And even though the damage resulting from this thinning might not make itself apparent at once, it would be no less real and no less costly to repair.

"In the case of anti-freeze, the situation is somewhat similar. Regardless of the type used, it should be drained in the spring. The varieties subject to evaporation vaporize very quickly in warm weather, and even a day's driving may reduce the cooling solution level to the point where the radiator steams. The non-evaporating type, on the other hand, sometimes develops acidity when left in the car all summer, and acid, of course, tends to corrode the cooling system.

"Many motorists make an annual practice of having their radiators flushed out at the approach of summer, and the old solution replaced with fresh water. This is one of the best ways to insure efficient cooling regardless of summer heat.

"The battery should be checked at the start of spring, and at frequent intervals thereafter, for the level of the solution drops much more rapidly in warm weather than in cold. Battery terminals should be cleaned if they are corroded and cables and wiring checked. A little inexpensive attention to distributor points, spark plugs and ignition coil will be a good investment, and owners of cars not equipped with heavy-duty generators should have the charging rate set somewhat lower than it was through the winter months.

"Many dealers will be offering spring check-up service, covering most or all of these items, within the next few weeks, and motorists who want to enjoy maximum satisfaction from their cars could do worse than to select a reliable dealer and have this important work done."

Methodists Pay

ligation. Paying this in full at this time is the more remarkable in light of the fact that the local Methodist have raised in the last four months over seven hundred dollars for the extra items, including repairs on the church, interest on the church debt, insurance and the expenses of their revival. All of these are over and above the regular budget of the church, which has to be taken care of every month. All of this has been done without the necessity of a "special drive," and without taking up a public collection in the services of the Church.

The Easter services, including a very beautiful candle light communion service on Good Friday night, were well attended, and productive of the highest spiritual development. Two new members were received Sunday, making a total of 44 for the year, which includes 21 which were received during the revival meeting held last month.
