

Around Town Sights and Faces Seen

Upon completion of a good harvest in this community, L. L. Howard left this week for Creede, Colo.—but he stopped long enough to tell E. B. Hedrick to write him out $1,350.00 in U. S. War Bonds.

Hereford is gaining a wide reputation for large Channel Cat fish. Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Kennedy of Olton recently spent several days with her brother, W. M. McGehee, and while here they decided to go fishing.

And another good fishing story is found in the fact that Hall Beavers caught a four pound bass recently at Buffalo Lake.

There is no Red Cross fund raising drive in progress right now, but nevertheless the Deaf Smith County chapter has received two contributions this week.

Mrs. Carl Jennings who returned this week from a trip to Illinois and Kentucky, vows that it is her last trip for the duration.

Rat Poison Drive Promises To Be Big Success, Sponsors Say

Wartime Style

First feminine welder in the San Francisco Bay defense area is Sally Chessmore, 25, who studied welding for 75 hours at a trade school and now earns $1 an hour.

Community and neighborhood leaders of the Agricultural Victory Council report the interest of nearly every farmer in the county and orders for poison bait are coming in rapidly.

Orders are being turned in to community Victory Leaders and to Miss Londene Martin in the office of the county home demonstration agent.

"We have made arrangements for plenty of materials to make up the bait," Kennedy says, pointing out that pricing of all materials has revealed that the bait will be sold for 30 cents a package.

Bait will be distributed from three until five o'clock on the afternoon of July 28 and rural citizens are requested to get the bait from their nearest schoolhouse.

Eight Farm Boys Win Berkshire Pigs

Stating that the "Cow-Sow-Hen" essay contest has again aroused much interest among Deaf Smith County farm youth, County Agent A. R. Bateman this week announced 1942 winners of contest.

Winners received Berkshire gilts, Bateman says, explaining that winners next year will receive pigs from these litters, thus assuring a good stock of the Berkshire breed of swine for the county.

Boys who won pigs this year are E. W. Womble, Homer Hill, Billy Lynn Thomas, Bedford Forest, W. J. Higgins, Charles Hoover, Jr., C. G. Chapman and Glen Fortenberry.

Marketing Quotas Apply To Excess Volunteer Wheat

Volunteer wheat, whether hauled out or grazed, if allowed to mature is still wheat as far as government regulations are concerned and marketing quota regulations will apply, according to information received this week from the county ACA office.

Wheat must have been plowed up before it matured to remove these quota regulations, government spokesmen say. If volunteer excess (matured wheat) amounts to three acres or three per cent of the normal yield, whichever is larger, it will have to be stored according to government specifications.

Grasshoppers May Prove Rains to Small Grain

Grasshoppers are a major problem for all farmers in Deaf Smith County.

That is the statement of County Agent A. R. Bateman who said today that grasshoppers will have to be poisoned on each farm in the county where small grains are to be seeded.

"My advice to our producers is that neighbors work together in the spreading of poison bait," Bateman says. "One farmer can't do it; he may kill all those on his land but unless all co-operate, very little good will result."

The commissioners court has arranged for an adequate supply of poison bait to be on hand at the sales pavilion. All farmers have to do is call for the bait and assist in the mixing.

Has His Day

When gas rationing went into effect at Miami Beach, Fla., "Uncle Willie" was harnessed to a 50-year-old carriage to provide transportation in the good old way.

Records For Our Fighting Men

A chance to do something constructive for the morale of our men in camp is offered all citizens of the Hereford territory by the American Legion Scrap Record Drive which is getting underway this week.

Child Receives Broken Leg When Rock Falls

Billy Kester, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Kester suffered a broken leg about 8:30 o'clock last Thursday night when a heavy rock became dislodged from a pile on which he was playing and fell on him.

Mrs. Kester and three children were visiting at the R. S. Scott home when the accident occurred and Billy, the youngest child, had gone into the backyard, where Mr. Scott had been building a rock oven.

The little boy was rushed to the Deaf Smith County hospital, where he remains. An operation was performed yesterday morning to reset the broken bone.

Monk Bites Keeper Who Wants Brave Man To Do Dentist Job

Wanted: A dentist, only qualification, bravery—he need not claim to be painless.

The dentist is needed by Edgar Sowell to perform an operation on Bozo, one of the not-so-tame monkeys at his zoo. Bozo does not have the teeth, but he does have two very sharp tusks, as Sowell can testify after Bozo used the tusks to bite through the fleshy part of Sowell's right hand Sunday afternoon.

Bozo's disposition has never been good, his keepers report, and teasing by a big audience which came to look at Bozo's and Sissie's new baby last week has not improved the papa monkey's outlook on life.

Primary Saturday Sees Political Pot Going Into Last Minute Boil

REPORT ON BOND SALES

We have taken the opportunity from time to time to report to the people of Deaf Smith County regarding the sales of War Bonds and we are glad to say that we have been able to make a favorable report each time, and we want at this time to thank each and every one who has had a part in keeping up the quota for the county.

The month of July was set aside by the Treasury Department as "Retailers-for Victory" month in which all retailers were asked to push the sale of bonds. The first day of July was designated as the opening day and the time from twelve o'clock noon to twelve-fifteen was to be devoted exclusively to the sale of Bonds and Stamps and no other business to be transacted by any place of business during that time.

We have just received notice from our State Chairman that the Treasury Department has asked people of the United States to buy a billion dollars worth of bonds during the month of July and the State of Texas has been asked to buy $33,677,000. In our own county of Deaf Smith the people are asked to buy $26,600 issue price, this means the amount of money invested in the bonds.

County Chairman Deaf Smith County Bond Sales Committee

With 1,556 qualified voters (including poll tax—exempt first voters) Deaf Smith County looked to less interest in the primary Saturday, July 25, than was shown two years ago when qualified voters numbered 1,757.

A sample ballot is reprinted elsewhere in The Brand and voters may find there a complete list of candidates for all county, precinct, state and district offices.

Collect Wheat Bins Now On Railroad Tracks

Farmers who have ordered C. C. storage bins are asked to call for the bins promptly upon their arrival here.

The County ACA Office is making preparations to unload the bins now on the railroad tracks; however, the bins are still available to farmers, who are urged to get the granaries from the railroad cars to save the county office the expense of unloading.

Let's Do More Than Our Part In Scrap Drive

"Let's do more than our part," say members of the Deaf Smith County Salvage Committee of the intensified salvage drive now in progress here.

There still remains a huge amount of scrap metal and rubber in the county, the committee believe, pointing out that earlier drives have hardly scratched the surface of the real scrap pile on Deaf Smith County farms.

According to industry estimates, only a forty day supply of scrap is held by steel mills at present, and a slow down of steel production will mean unnecessary lengthening of the war.

Nurses To Attend Red Cross School in Amarillo

Four Hereford nurses who have been teaching Red Cross home nursing classes or who plan to teach such courses in the future will attend a school for teachers of home nursing, E. C. Eubanks, chapter chairman said today.

Nurses who will attend are Mrs. Marlin Gilliland, Mrs. Tom Carroll, Mrs. B. M. Wiltshire and Mrs. J. W. Dickerson.

Tooth Decay Situation Featured in Hix Cartoon

Mrs. Lena (Ivey) Vickers, a former Hereford resident, this week sent relatives here a clipping from the Oakland, (Calif.) Tribune which shows the wide publicity being given Deaf Smith County's low tooth decay record.

The Deaf Smith County tooth decay phenomenon was the feature in the John Hix "Strange As It Seems" cartoon which appeared June 12 in many papers throughout the nation.

Rev. Stephens says, Gerald Moore will lead the singing at the revival. Citizens of the Ward community join with the minister in inviting the people of Ward and surrounding territory to attend the meeting.

County Interest High

In the county contests, interest centers on the county judge and sheriff races, both of which promise to be hotly contested. The county judge contest is a three way affair with Fred W. Baird, H. V. Hennen and L. H. Foster putting on active campaigns.

Commission Races Contested More interest has been manifested in the choice of commissioner candidates than at any time in several years and in all four precincts there will be contests. In Precinct 1, Troy Moore and R. L. Cacanough are candidates for the post now held by Noah Ewton, who does not seek re-election.

Senate Race Hot W. Lee O'Daniel, seeking return to a full term in the U. S. Senate is meeting with stiff opposition from former governors Dan Moody and James V. Allred, with interest centering on Moody's and Allred's charges of isolationism against Senator O'Daniel and O'Daniel's charge of communist backing of the two rival candidates.

In the governor's race Coke R. Stevenson, who took office when O'Daniel went to Washington is opposed by Hal H. Collins, Min- (Continued on page 12)

Navy Recruiter Here Wednesday

Chief C. M. Norman of the Amarillo Naval Recruiting Station was in Hereford yesterday making plans for starting a naval recruiting drive here.

Present navy plans, Chief Norman said, call for the appointment of county recruiting committees to do the work which has been done in the past by enlisted navy men.

The Navy is now short 27,000 men in its recruiting quota. Norman said, and an intensified drive in August and September will try to make up the shortage.

Each county has been assigned a quota and Deaf Smith County goal will be announced in the near future as will be the names of men from this county accepted at the Amarillo recruiting station.

Bond Breakfast Sells Nearly $2,500 In War Bonds And Savings Stamps

Nearly $2,500 worth of war stamps and bonds were sold at the Bond Breakfast sponsored Friday morning by the Hereford Business and Professional Women's Club.

"We want to thank all the women who attended the breakfast," Mrs. Moore said, "We feel that this breakfast shows what a united effort of business and club women can accomplish."

Nearly every club in Hereford was represented among the war securities purchasers and most business cooperated. Exact figures show a total of $2,460.25 in war bond and stamp purchases. This total represents maturity value. Actual cash taken was $1,500 for bond purchases alone.

The Business and Professional Women also thank R. A. Fullwood of Bob's Battery Shop for the use of the radio to hear the breakfast club broadcast, the Methodist Young People who served the breakfast and other groups and individuals who helped to make the occasion a success.

SEEDS of ADVICE

The Garden Club

YOUR GARDEN IN JULY

Prepared For The Garden Club by Mrs. L. H. Shore

If you have not already sowed your seeds for fall gardens, do it now. As a rule summer sowing should be deeper than winter sowing. A trench a few inches deep should be scooped out, and the ground soaked thoroughly by running water into it. Seed should be covered fairly deep and the trench should not be filled, but left to catch dews and light rains.

Old and new gardens alike need plenty of moisture during the hot, dry weather period. Flower beds may be kept from getting dry by cultivating the soil surface but the lawn depends upon frequent and thorough watering to maintain its rich green color.

ering to maintain its rich green color.

Frequent light sprinkling does little good and it may prove harmful since it encourages shallow rooting. Most grass roots penetrate the soil four or five inches deep. Sufficient water should be given each time to saturate the soil down to the root-tips. On level ground the lawn may be flooded from the hose but it is unsatisfactory on uneven ground. Porous canvas hose covers a greater area with little need for changing its position and at the same time breaks the force of the water.

Cultivation of beds and borders is one means of preserving soil moisture. Mulching the surface with materials that will retard evaporation is practical because it eliminates the need of stirring the soil after each rain. Peat moss is good for mulching, because it blends well with the soil and is hardly noticeable. Worked lightly into the soil surface it will stay in place and absorb quickly whatever moisture reaches it. Once wet it holds water tenaciously.

Where plain cultivation is practiced, judgment must be used as to the depth. Stirring soil an inch deep will suffice in most cases. Be careful not to injure the roots of shallow-rooted plants.

Dahlias which are well on their way need pruning before the unwanted branches rob the plants of good nourishment. The pruning of any leaders means diverting food to the laterals, and vice versa. Where quantity of flowers is the prime purpose nip out the tops of the leaders and where size of bloom counts most pinch out all side shoots beyond those which are to give bloom. If you are interested in flowering plants for next winter make cuttings of Begonias and Geraniums now. They root readily in sand if kept moist and shaded.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

You ought to meet my friend, Will Dudley. I suppose Will must be seventy-eight or nine... but you'd never know it. He's tall and lean and hard as a hickory. And although the only formal education he ever had was a few winters in the old red schoolhouse, I think that he's the wisest man I know in many ways.

For one thing, Will taught me the value of what he calls "Just a-settin'!"

Come upon Will in the evening, when his hard day's work is done, and you'll find him "Just a-settin'," in a rocker on his porch. In one hand he'll have his old briar pipe and in the other, a tall cool glass of beer.

"Wholesome, appetizin' beer," says Will, "is standard equipment for proper settin'! Puts a feller in an easy-goin' peaceful mood."

You see, Will holds the theory that in our present mixed-up world, a man needs a quiet hour every day. An hour in which to sit down quietly and restore his strength and courage.

Will thinks, and I agree with him, that a man ought to forget all his own and the world's worries during that hour-of-peace. And Will feels that a glass of fragrant mellow beer helps most to bring you quiet relaxation.

Show me the man who sits down quietly of an evening with his glass of beer and I'll show you a man who is wise in the ways of living. Such men, like Will Dudley, live to a ripe old age, unembittered by the troubles of the world. They seem to remain, all their lives, sweet-natured and kindly.

Time has a way of rendering accurate judgments on the value of the things men use and enjoy in the world. And Time... thousands of years of it... has handed down the verdict that beer is a pleasant and worthy companion for all men of good will.

Joe Marsh

E. C. Nelson

Judge E. C. Nelson is a candidate for Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals. This is one of the highest judicial offices in our State, one that demands the most thorough training and the widest possible experience. Judge Nelson has attended and graduated from the leading universities and law schools in our country, giving him an educational background of the highest order.

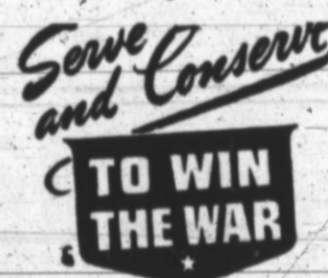

He taught school for five years before entering the legal profession, and served two years in the United States Army during World War I, fourteen months of his service being in France.

He has had a well-rounded legal experience. He has been a licensed attorney for more than 22 years. He has practiced law in all of our courts and has been judge of all courts of record up to the Court of Civil Appeals. As an appellate judge, he will be able, from his own experience, to review a case from the standpoint of both the practicing lawyer and the trial judge. He is now District Judge of the district composed of Potter, Randall, and Armstrong Counties, and his record as a trial judge is one of the best in the State.

Judge Nelson is 51 years old, just the right age to undertake the work of an appellate judge. He is old enough for maturity, experience, and judgment, and young enough for the years of hard work the position requires.

The size of the district has made it impossible for him to see all the people, but he solicits the vote and influence of all our citizens.

CHDA NOTES

By Sadie Lee Oliver

The following instructions for canning peaches by the hot pack method are contained in a publication of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture:

GETTING THEM READY—Wash peaches in cold water but do not soak them.

Remove the skins. Pare thin to save all the fruit you can. If the skins are hard to take off, put peaches in hot water for about a half-minute or until the skins will slip easily. Then duck the fruit in cold water for a few seconds before removing the skins.

Peaches may turn brown as a result of their hot water plunge. To help prevent this, you may dip them in a solution of salt, vinegar and water for about two minutes after removing the skins. Use two tablespoons each of salt and vinegar to a gallon of cold water.

Can Fruit in Its Own Juice—First, cut the peaches in slices. You can get more fruit in the jar when peaches are sliced—an important point in view of the shortage of containers and rubber for canning purposes.

Put the sliced fruit in a kettle and add sugar. This is the most economical way to use your canning allotment of sugar. By putting sugar directly on the peaches you help draw out the juice, waste no sweetening.

Let the sugar stand on the sliced fruit for a few moments before heating it to start the juice flowing.

Then put the kettle on the stove and heat the peaches slowly until the sugar has dissolved and the fruit is hot throughout. But be sure not to cook the peaches until they are soft.

Pack and Process—Pack the hot fruit with its juice in clean, hot, sterilized jars. Fill each jar within an inch of the top and pack the fruit firmly but not too tight.

Process the jars of peaches in a boiling water bath. You can fit up such a water bath canner from a large kettle or a wash boiler . . . any vessel with a tight cover and big enough to hold several jars and allow for covering them with one to two inches of water.

Fit the canner with a rack to hold the jars off the bottom. Have the water in the canner boiling before you put in the jars of fruit.

Place the jars on a rack, leaving enough room for water to circulate freely around and under each one.

Make sure the water comes over the jar tops at least one or two inches and keep it that way throughout processing.

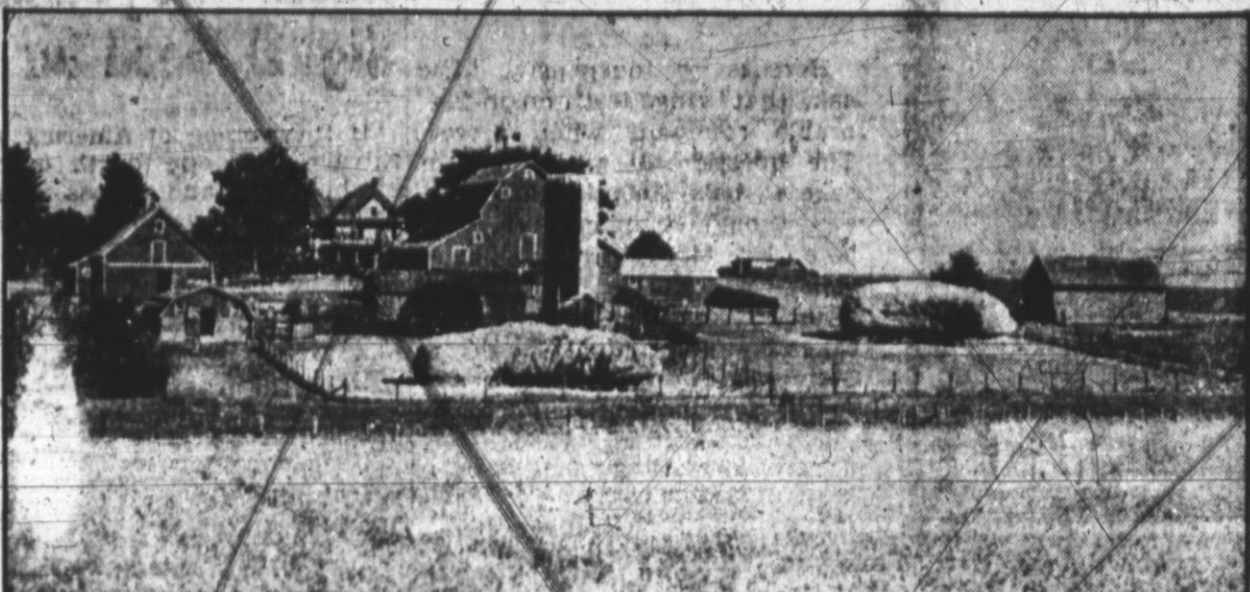

Put the top on the canner and start counting processing time as soon as the water begins to boil hard.

Process peaches whether in quart or pint jars for 15 minutes if you live in altitudes of 1,000 ft. or less. If you live in higher altitudes increase the time 20 per cent for each additional 1,000 feet.

When the fruit is processed, remove the jars from the canner and set them right-side-up to cool.

After the fruit has cooled, test each jar by turning it upside-down for a few minutes to be sure it is airtight.

Farm Income Sets New Record

Farms, like this one in Grady county, Iowa, earned a higher cash income from marketing in 1941 than in any year since 1920. Gross farm income in 1941 is estimated at just under 14 billion dollars. Increase resulted both from heavier marketings and higher prices.

Swim at Protected Beaches

Lifeguards annually save hundreds of swimmers who venture out beyond their depth. Artificial respiration is an important safety measure. To apply artificial respiration, remove victim to a point up the beach a bit from high-water mark. Place a blanket under and over the victim, if possible.

Canning Peaches, By Halves

To can peaches in halves, make a light sirup using the proportion of five cups of sugar to a gallon of water.

Bring the sirup to a boil and then drop in peaches, peeled, pitted and halved.

When peaches are thoroughly heated pack them into jars with the sirup.

Process in the boiling water bath as described for sliced peaches.

If you like, in making the sirup, use honey or corn sirup in place of art of the sugar. Use equal parts of honey and sugar.

With corn sirup use two-thirds sugar and one-third corn sirup. Of interest to turkey raisers will be this conclusion of an Experiment Station Progress report.

These data prove that turkeys require rather high amounts of protein for satisfactory growth. The real turkey grower can well afford to see that his turkeys get what they should have. Some think that grasshoppers are an economical feed for turkeys. Research has not been reported on the comparison of range and grasshopper fed turkeys with range turkeys getting no grasshoppers but fed a medium protein ration. It is true that dried grasshoppers are rich in protein, but live ones are very bulky and high in moisture and eaten in large quantities, they replace other more concentrated feeds. It is also true that considerable energy is expended by the turkeys in catching grasshoppers, and it may be that they are not as economical a turkey food as they are often thought to be.

There is an adequate supply of commercial protein feeds that may be used for animal feeding. It should be profitable to use these in turkey rations so that turkeys receive approximately 17 per cent of protein from 8 weeks of age until the time they are ready for market. The turkeys should then finish properly and bring a better price when sold.

Let's Cook Something

Here is an inexpensive little cake that brings forth much favorable comment when served.

SUGAR RATION CAKE

1-4 lb. butter (melted)
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup water
1-2 cups flour
1 scant teaspoon soda

Boom of Dynamite, Crack of Rifles Signal Need for Salvage of Fats

If the women of America will salvage only one-fourth of the kitchen fats and grease ordinarily thrown out as waste, they will be providing the power for firing 1,250,000,000 anti-tank shells at our enemies.

To the majority of these women it will come as a distinct surprise that the propellant power secured for their salvage is glycerine. For to most women, glycerine is something which, mixed with a pleasant smelling liquid known as rose water, helps keep their hands the kind you love to touch.

Yet without glycerine our great battleships, charting a course toward Tokyo, might conceivably end up in San Francisco. Without glycerine our big guns, blasting at the enemy, might leap from their carriages to turn their havoc on our own gun crews.

And without fats and oils, our supply of glycerine would be a minus quantity. For although synthetic glycerine is a distinct possibility for the future, that future, due to other scarcities necessary to its production, recedes as fast as we vision it.

With the loss of the Philippines and the loss of Malaya went over half our imports of essential fats and oils. Our allies lost equal amounts. Certain of our Latin American neighbors, also dependent on the Far East, for their sources, are looking toward us for help in spelling out their limited supplies.

Normally, about 22 per cent of our glycerine supply has gone into explosives. Peace time uses for these have been largely to blasting and mining operations, uses which are increasing this year and undoubtedly will continue to increase for the duration of the war.

The demand for more and more metal for guns, for ships, for tanks, for planes has put tremendously greater production burdens on our mining industries. The crying need for more and more military barracks—the insistent call for added defense housing projects—all this is requiring more and more explosives, and therefore more and more glycerine, for blasting operations.

But our armed services and those of our allies need explosives, too. The second front in Europe, the defense of Australia and China and India cannot be carried out without countless tons of dynamite for demolition purposes, and of propellant powders.

All over the world the dull boom of dynamite and the sharp crack of rifles signal the need of salvaging our kitchen fats and greases. For to produce one ton of dynamite, some 800 lbs. of nitroglycerine must be used with the other component parts of the formula. And to have the 800 lbs. of nitroglycerine, it is necessary to mix about 326 lbs. of glycerine with the other necessary ingredients. And 326 lbs. of glycerine is derived from no less than 3,260 lbs. of fat or grease.

But glycerine performs its military duties in other and quieter ways, too. Its on a gentle float of glycerine that ships compressors rest. Recoil mechanisms of guns depend on it to function smoothly. Hoists and hydraulic equipment find glycerine essential to efficient operation. It's used in the mechanism which throws overboard the deadly depth charge.

Indirectly necessary to the defensive and offensive prosecution of the war are the synthetic resins, used in the plastics which go into so many of our articles of war. Glycerine is an important part of these resins. Many drugs and medications, too, depend on glycerine for their efficacy, and supplies of these must be increased to care for the needs of

Hospital Notes

Address Overseas Letters Properly

Washington.—The War Department, noting that many letters to soldiers overseas have to be returned because of inadequate addresses, recently published detailed instructions on how to use the mail service.

Before soldiers are transferred overseas they are assigned an army postoffice number inside the United States, and all mail should be sent to that postoffice instead of the overseas base, the war department said. Envelopes should show these things:

"The grade, first name, middle initial, and last name of the person addressed, followed by his army serial number, if known.

"The letter or number of the company or other similar organization of which the addressee is a member.

"Salvage of kitchen fats and greases is one source which neither weather nor war can affect this year and it provides an important backlog for future needs.

For Bigger and Better Bites

Sharing a stay-at-home holiday with his family, little Roger Jeffrey, 3, prays for a bite as he crouches under his father's fishpole. This photo was taken on the banks of the Serpentine, Hyde Park, London.

"The designation of the regiment or separate battalion, if any, to which the company belongs.

"The army post office number in care of the appropriate postmaster.

In addition, the sender should give his return address and allow sufficient space on the envelope for forwarding addresses.

Failure to give any of the information in the address necessitates a great deal of checking and possible return of the letter to the sender, the army said.

My only promise is to continue to give you the best service of which I am capable, and I hope you will see fit to return me as your commissioner.
My sincere thanks to the people of my precinct and of the county for the help they have given me in the work of my office, and I pledge myself to be ready at all times to work for the best interests of my precinct and of the county.

YOUR CONSIDERATION
Will Be Appreciated
When I was elected to the office of Commissioner of Precinct 2, two years ago, I took the job with the idea of doing my best for the people of my precinct and of Deaf Smith County.
During the term I have tried to do this at all times, and I want to express my appreciation for the fine co-operation which has been shown by the people during this time. This makes working for you a real pleasure.
Almost all of you know my qualifications and my willingness to serve you. If you think I am the man for the job, I will be glad to continue as your Commissioner — and will continue to do my best to do the job as you think it should be done.

BULL

By Jimmie Gillentine

Despite the lack of interest politics until the past few years, the election Saturday will see a comparatively large vote cast in this area. This year an inherent right of every American to cast his ballot will be exercised—and don't be surprised if there are some upsets in some of the bigger races. People are no longer being swayed by frivolous things. They are now taking seriously interested in the welfare of their country and the outcome of the war. The folks who laugh and joke when things are running smoothly are the same ones who settle down firmly when trouble comes. A lot of people won't agree with this, but I am predicting that there will be a run-off in the senatorial race—and that O'Connell will come out second best in the final round.

I may be wrong about this but it won't be the first time. Anyway, there are a bunch of people who will bet money that I am wrong and if I am right I will have a hard time figuring out how much I lost by not betting with them.

Furthermore, today's prosperity is going to accomplish wonderful things for Deaf Smith County. A comparatively small percentage of marketing cards have been released, wheat loan money hasn't started rolling in yet, the potato harvest is just starting good, and the camp construction will release a tremendous payroll here. In other words, there will be more money in Deaf Smith County this fall than there has ever been before. People can't buy cats, they can't buy refrigerators, and they can't get lots of other things. This means that many of them are going to buy farms and homes. Alex Thompson estimated that as high as 70 per cent of the land in this county is owned by non-resident land owners. Of course a lot of it is leased and operated by local people, but that day may be drawing to a close. Real estate men tell me that many, many people are asking about the farms.

After the war, things will never be the same. The whole country will have a new economic outlook. Perhaps it will be better; maybe it will not be so good—but it will be different. Don't make the mistake of looking into the future and making your calculations entirely on experiences of the past.

The first World War gave us the automobile. Things have never been the same since that time. This war is giving us the airplane. It will never replace the automobile completely, but it will make a tremendous difference. I once heard West Izard say the little town is doomed. It is really towns of 50,000 to 100,000 that will be hurt after this war. People will go into Chicago, New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco to shop. The little town will come back to a large extent. Land, however, will remain an important economic factor. All wealth fundamentally springs from the soil—and always will. Land may go up and down, but as long as people continue to eat and wear clothing, land will remain a vital economic factor. As the population of this country increases, so will the value of its land increase.

And remember, too, a clear title to a section of rich land will be worthless to you under a Nazi or Japanese regime. Put a good percentage in War Bonds and Stamps.

Folks got pretty excited at the O. L. McKee place in the north part of town last Thursday. Their cow curled up and they thought she was going to die. The veterinarian said she was bit by a rattlesnake, and it gave them very little comfort to think about rattlesnakes lurking here in town. Well, the cow managed to get up and now seems to be doing very well. They are not sure about the snake business, either. I have been trying to convince Jack Gilliland that it is merely a case of Cowpox, or whatever gets the matter with cows.

There's an old boy down at Dimmitt, who writes a column called "Shootin' Straight." It is a very good column, so we will give you a few of his paragraphs. It's a lot easier, and as Homer Fox will say, "A lot better, too."

Yep, taxes are high, but do you know of a better country. Oysters, most palatable of all foods, incidentally are the only things man eats alive.

This Texas wind is always blowing the skirts high—and the same puff also fills our eyes full of sand. Man is the only animal that blushes, or who needs to, and dashed if we haven't just about forgot how to do that.

Man is the only animal who drinks milk (as a regular habit) after he reaches the adult stage. But it's a good habit at that Mr. Brannan.

Fate and the federal government both will help save the hurt for those defeated candidates Saturday—sugar stamp number six is valid that day. We know that some of our Castro County friends are prosperous because their pants are bagging at the pockets instead of the knees. Which is a good tip for some of these storekeepers who have been complacent enough to let all this shopping money go to other towns—just because they're too timid with their advertising dollar to invite their trade.

They do say forest fires have been burning over around Paducah, below the caprock, but on the plains, Newspapers with all their courage, haven't had the boldness to print the story, for it wouldn't "click" down in the timber belt, where it might be read. But we haven't forgotten that shelterbelt of fast-growing trees the Hale Center American got the government to transplant all over the dust bowl a few years back. You see these trees now have passed the adolescent stage and in places look like "woods" to an East Texan, and we imagine some squirrel hunter from down there migrated west and couldn't resist the sweet smell of burning leaves and struck a match.

Many Recipes Make Use of Fresh Peaches

Peaches now in season offer opportunity for delicious desserts which are easy on the sugar bowl and nutritious as well. And too, Hazel Phipps, specialist in food preparation for the A. and M. College Extension Service, points out that peaches will be a Victory Food Special for the period of July 16 to August 5.

Peach shortcake using waffles is a real treat and, they use less sugar than a "cake" shortcake, she says. Instead of cooking the dough in an oven, bake it on a waffle iron.

SHORTCAKE RECIPE

1-2 cups of flour
1-4 teaspoon of salt
1-3 cup of shortening
2-tablespoons of sugar
3-teaspoons of baking powder
1 egg

2-3 cup of milk.
Sift the dry ingredients together, cut in the shortening, and stir in the milk mixed with well-beaten egg. Mix together lightly. Bake in a wellgreased hot waffle iron.
Butter the waffles and heap them with sliced or crushed sweetened peaches. Nothing more is necessary—but a little cream, either whipped or plain, adds to them!

BAKED PEACHES

Select large yellow peaches, pare them, and cut them in halves. Place in shallow pan, pit side up. Sprinkle lightly with sugar, dot with butter, and add a little salt. Bake in oven until the peaches are tender and lightly browned.

Peach salad With Cottage Cheese Honey Dressing

Serves Six
6 medium sized peaches
2 cups cottage cheese
lettuce
Peel and halve peaches and arrange on lettuce leaves; top with cottage cheese. Serve with the following dressing:
1 teaspoon salt
1-2 teaspoon paprika
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1-4 cup honey
3-4 cup chilled salad oil

Mix salt, paprika, lemon juice, honey. Add chilled oil slowly, beating all the time.

PEACH FRITTERS

1 cup flour
1-2 teaspoons baking powder
2-3 cup milk
1-4 teaspoon salt

1 egg
Sift dry ingredients. Add beaten egg and milk and beat until smooth. Drain peach halves which have been slightly stewed. Dip in batter and fry in fat.

CORRY

"The Man to Vote For"

Texas needs a good Commissioner of Agriculture to serve during the present crisis and the years ahead. Bill Corry is the kind of man you want to vote for—a man of experience and action, capable and loyal—a good man for the job. Corry, native Texan, 41, during an industrious life has had 25 years of practical farming experience, served with Federal Farm Board's Cotton Division and as a Legislator. When the present Commissioner, who now seeks a seventh term, deserted the party in 1940, Corry was called on by Texas Democrats to run in a 10-day write in campaign and received 453,573 votes for this office even though his name was not printed on the ballot. Corry, as Commissioner, will provide the leadership and aid agriculture in all-out production, in solving many basic farm problems, and in the expansion of our agricultural industries.

SUPPOSE the Gestapo policed our streets, allowing no group meetings, in fact no representation from the liberty loving American people. These are sinister thoughts, but Mr. and Mrs. Voter it can happen if you don't awaken.
The right to vote is your privilege as given us by our brave forefathers. Never has there been a more urgent time to exercise this right and privilege than the present. It is also your responsibility to vote. The election of county officials may seem trivial to you along side war duties, but remember that the most important unit of our democracy is the community. The community can be no more than its leaders.
Study the ballot elsewhere in this paper and go to the polls Saturday, July 25th, and elect those you think best fitted to do the job for your county and state. Remember it is your right, your privilege... and your responsibility.

Legion, said today. Briefly, the legion wants all your old phonograph records—broken or otherwise. The materials used in record manufacture are scarce, as any "Platterbug" can tell you, and these old records will provide materials from which new records can be made to send to the boys in camp.

The quota of the local legion post has been set at 3,175 pounds of old records, which means that the help of all citizens is going to be needed, Commander Ricketts states.

Turn in your records to L. H. Foster at the Whiteface Printing Company on West Third St. or if you have no way to take the records to town, call J. C. Ricketts or Mr. Foster and the Legion will see that someone calls for your records.

In Tribute To Leathernecks

The ringing cry of the embattled U. S. Marines at Wake Island inspired famed editorial cartoonist Rollin Kirby to offer this tribute to the fighting Leathernecks. Showing the training and traditions of the Marine Corps, "To the Shores of Tripoli," which is dedicated to the men at Wake Island, comes to the Star Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. John Payne as the raw recruit, Randolph Scott as the tough top sergeant, and Maureen O'Hara as a nurse are starred in the production.

3. Unless exempt, must have paid poll tax on or before Jan. 31, 1942 for the year 1941.
4. Must have resided in the state for 12 months and in the county six months preceding the date of election.

Hereford people who listened to the Breakfast Club broadcast Tuesday morning say that a report of the Hereford Bond Breakfast was made.

Candidates, at least local candidates, are expected to go about with an optimistic smile up until election day, which may be hard on the candidates at times, but at least the voters do not have to listen to local calamity howling in addition to the state and national wails.

Hereford Banks will be closed Saturday because of the election. In pre-volstead days, saloons had to close on election dates for pretty obvious reasons, but the reason for a banker's holiday on election must be tied up with the old and involved tradition of banking holidays, about which a book should be written.

Mrs. C. W. Seed and E. D. Fox of The Vogue, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gillis of The Fashion Shoppe and Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Baer of The Popular Store are in Dallas and Fort Worth this week attending fall clothing market.

Fast becoming one of agriculture's leading specialties, the hatchery industry is guided by the Department of Agriculture to keep them spaced out across the country. Can't you just hear this barred rock chick demanding, "Let's get on with the war!"

Norwood Author of Article On Mission Study Technique

Nashville, Tenn., July.—The Reverend Marvin B. Norwood, Methodist minister of Hereford, Texas, is the author of an article in the current issue of "The Pastor," professional journal serving 25,000 Methodist ministers throughout the country, published here.

Under the title "We Used Sunday for Mission Study" Mr. Norwood's article deals with the method he follows in bringing missions to the attention of his church congregation. For the benefit of fellow ministers in the field who might be faced with similar problems he tells of the success of his system, detailing part of the technique he has followed. He tells of the committees formed, their work, and assistance in gaining cooperation; the general theme of the sermon of the day, and brief general outline of order of worship.

Mr. Norwood was admitted to the North Texas Conference in 1920, and transferred to the Northwest Texas Conference in 1924. He has served pastorates at Roscoe, Rotan and Albany. He is assistant secretary and editor of the Northwest Texas Conference Journal.

NEWS in the WORLD of RELIGION by W.W. REID

If a better world is to be realized, Christian of all nations must unite their efforts in a common fellowship for the solution of post-war problems according to Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas, Texas. He lists among the immediate post-war needs the feeding of the starving millions of Europe, the establishment of better racial relations, the creation of a new international order, and the inter-fellowship of Christians of the nations now separated by warfare.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service, organized in thousands of local Methodist churches in every state in the Union, is undertaking to make a "new friend" annually for each local society—"a fellowship with some group of different background in the local community." Also each individual in each local society is "to make at least one friend annually in another group, seeking to know and understand that person and his background, and by exchange of experience draw closer together in facing the common task of Kingdom building."

According to the Moderator of the Church of Scotland (Presbyterian), German air raids on Scotland have seriously damaged 89 churches, manse and church houses; and also damaged 415 structures less seriously. He reports that three Scottish clergymen have lost their lives in the war and nine have been made prisoners.

Dr. Gordon Seagrave, missionary-surgeon, and Dr. Brayton Case, an agricultural teacher—two of the outstanding missionaries of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society in Burma—have received distinguished mention in recent news despatches from the Orient because of their service to the Burmese people and to the British-Chinese army during the days when Japan's soldiers were pushing their way into Burma. Word now comes that Dr. Seagrave, after trekking to India with General Stilwell, will establish a new hospital for wounded soldiers and for civilian refugees in Assam; while Dr. Case will remain in India and offer his expert services as an agricultural missionary and teacher to the people in that land. A number of other Baptist nurses and doctors, American and Burmese, will become staff members of Dr. Seagrave's new hospital.

The Iglesia Evangelica Perkin Memorial in Coatepeque, Guatemala, is celebrating its twenty-first anniversary. It all started years ago when Miss Perkins' Sunday school class of boys in the Covenant Presbyterian Church, Erie, Penn., became interested in two evangelical families in this little Central American community. The group that met in a home for worship began to grow; funds sent by the boys enabled them to buy a lot, lay the foundations and the cornerstone, and secure sheet iron for a roof; the rest of the material and labor they provided themselves. Today the church is self-supporting, has a fine building and manse, a Guatemalan pastor, and a flourishing congregation.

Answering the question, "Are college students religious?" Secretary R. H. Edwin Espey of the Student Volunteer Movement, said recently: "The students themselves are clearly more receptive to religious influence than was the case ten years ago. They do not display their concern in demonstrative ways, and they are openly hostile to sham and undue sentimentality. Many even shy away from the normal outward expression of religious life, including attendance at church. But there is probably less of scorn and more open-mindedness than at any time since the first World War. Thousands of students are not only willing but eager to hear a Christian message that is both genuine in spirit and practical in relation to problems that are real to them. They are seeking a religion that is intellectually tenable, socially relevant, and personally dynamic."
