Record Vote in County Forecast as Primary Election Nears

COMMUNITY BUILDERS: Bob Higgins

Mr. Bob Arrived Before Railroad; Helped Raise Hereford from A Pup

A Deaf Smith county pioneer in his own right is Bob Higgins—better known to many friends as "Mr. Bob." He arrived in Hereford before the railroad and, until recently, was the only man in this county still living on the land where he originally filed.

William Robert Higgins was born the son of a leather tanner in Cleveland, Tennessee, August 8, 1879. At the age of ten, he moved with his parents to Texas. According to Mr. Bob, "There were lots of boys in our family. My father knew there was not enough for train tickets to bring us all to the new country; so he and my mother decided to bring the brightest boy. They looked around at us, decided I was the one; and that's how I got to come to Texas!" As an after-thought, he adds, "If you're wondering what happened to the other boys—oh, they pinched their heads off and threw them in the creek!"

The Higgins family, who with two other Tennessee families had their household utensils and two horses each, stopped at Vernon, Texas. Mr. Bob says Vernon then was about the size of Friona and had white sand a foot deep on the main square.

Two years later young Bob moved to a ranch on Red river near the frontier trail station and trading post called Dean's Store. This location brought him within a few miles of the Oklahoma Indian territory. Among Mr. Bob's acquaintances with the many Indians who moved back and forth between Oklahoma and Texas was Chief Quannah Parker, son of the white captive, Cynthia Ann Parker.

Mr. Bob tells this blood-curdling story of an encounter with a bunch of Indian warriors. "One day I was riding down a small canyon near the river hunting for some cattle that had strayed away from the ranch. We had had very little

Veterans Vote Free Without Exemptions

Veterans of World War II who have been discharged from the army within 18 months of the date of election will be entitled to a free vote in the Democratic Primary next week, Sheriff J. O. Newell pointed out this week.

Veterans in this group will be able to vote simply by presenting their discharge papers to the election judges at the polls.

Cards advising veterans of this privilege were mailed by Newell to all the county's ex-servicemen this week.

Veterans who claimed legal residence in this county at the time of entering service will be eligible to vote regardless of whether or not they have been in residence here for the past six months as required by law. In other words, veterans who have just returned from service, but who previously had claimed legal residence here, can vote in this county.

Twenty-one year old voters who are casting ballots for the first time this year should have exemption certificates, but will be allowed to vote without them by establishing their age and eligibility with the election judges.

Double Parking on Main Street To Bring Quick Action by City Police

Double parking in the downtown section of Hereford must cease, according to City Marshal Bruce Wooddell.

Violations of parking ordinances are going to be checked, Wooddell warned local drivers this week, and violators will be subject to fines.

A record will be kept of all offenders, Wooddell said, and warnings will be issued on the first offense. A second offense will be dealt with in city court.

City ordinances governing traffic regulations were cited by the marshal. Section 25 of Ordinance 284 provides that "persons driving or operating any vehicles on Main street between 1st (Hiway 60) and 5th

Long Ballot Faces Voters in First Post-War Primary Test

Deaf Smith county voters will be presented with a long ballot at the Democratic primary election a week from next Saturday.

Fourteen candidates are on the ticket in the Governor's race, the largest group on the ballot. Next on the list, in point of numbers, are five candidates each for United States Senator and Lieutenant Governor.

Only two county offices are contested, but "hot" races are in prospect for these two, with five of sheriff and three for county judge.

Only two of five district offices are contested. Two candidates each have announced for District Judge and District Attorney.

In the Commissioner's precincts, all offices are contested except in Precinct 2.

A record ballot is anticipated in Deaf Smith county this year as poll tax payments this year reached the highest mark in the county's history. A total of 2,014 poll taxes were paid, and 32 exemption certificates were issued. In addition, a large number of ex-servicemen have returned to the county from the armed forces in recent months, and will vote on their discharge certificates.

Candidates for all offices, and their counties, in the order in which they will appear on the official ballot, follow:

For United States Senator: Floyd E. Ryan, Harris County; Laverne Somerville, Dallas County; Terrell Sledge, Hays County; A. B. (Cyclone) Davis, Dallas county; Tom Connally, Falls county.

For Governor: A. J. Burks, Ector; Homer P. Rainey, Travis; John Lee Smith, Throckmorton; Chas. B. Hutchinson, Dallas; W. J. Minton, Grayson; Floyd Brinkley, Harris; C. R. WORRY AND INDIFFERENCE

Overanxiety, particularly about health, is a disease in itself. Physicians call it hypochondria. Those who "enjoy" ill health only make themselves and those about them miserable.

Opposed to chronic worry is complete indifference, to the point of disregard of common-sense health rules and contempt for medical care.

Between these two absurd extremes lies the sane middle road. Petty, transient discomforts need not cause grave concern and frequent trips to the doctor. When symptoms persist or recur with annoying frequency, it is then time to seek professional assistance. Indifference under these circumstances only invites more serious trouble.

"Keep Your Present Car in Top Condition"

Of course we want to put you in a new Dodge as quickly as we can. But we simply can't do that to your own best advantage if you run down the condition of your present car.

Why? Because the wait may be long—your present car is old and yet you need all the driving safety and comfort you can get. Also, because you definitely 'profit' or 'lose' by the "condition" of your present car when you finally turn it in.

So, out of our experience and knowledge of today's conditions we again say to you—

Get Our Double Protection—Today

Bring in your car. Let us give it the necessary inspection and expert care. Then you'll have peace of mind—and you'll be money ahead.

If telephone service is slower ...here's why!

We're taking emergency steps to bring telephone service to people who are waiting.

We're adding more telephones to switchboards already heavily loaded—more telephones than the switchboards were ever intended to handle. This may slow up telephone service here at the busiest times of the day.

In normal times we wouldn't even consider such action. But many people are waiting for service. And new equipment is hard to get and takes considerable time to make and install. The size of the job staggers imagination. Telephone equipment is needed everywhere in large volume.

That's why it is necessary to load the present switchboards to the very limit.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

As fast as we can in the face of material shortages we're pushing our construction program. Our first goal is to serve everybody who is waiting. Then we'll restore service to prewar standards as quickly as we can. It will cost a good deal. This year we plan to spend 47 million dollars in the five states we serve.

Sometimes you may not hear "Number, please?" promptly

With switchboards here heavily loaded, the operator may not always be able to answer your signal as promptly as she and you would like. This may be true especially during the busy calling hours, in midmorning and early evening.

If you do not hear the operator's "Number, please?" for a few seconds after you lift your receiver, we hope you'll understand why. She will answer just as soon as she can.

Shasta daisies, white asters and fern, with graduating white tapers in seven branched candelabra, decorated the church. The bride was dressed in a white imported linen frock made with peplum and sweetheart neckline. The bridegroom's mother wore a black sheer dress with corsage of white gladioli and the bride's mother wore an aqua-blue dress with pink gladioli corsage.

RECEPTION HELD
At the reception held at the bride's home following the ceremony, white asters and pink

Census Shows County Has Fewer But Larger Farms; More Cultivation

Deaf Smith County has fewer but larger farms, and ten percent more acreage in cultivation, now than in 1940, according to advance figures compiled by the United States Bureau of Census and just released this week.

The number of farms operating in the county had dropped from 854 in 1940 to 830 last year, but acreage under cultivation increased from 332,486 to 475,288, and the average size of farms increased from 1,093 acres to 1,346. Land in farms in the counties now totals more than a million acres. The 1945 figures show 1,034,787 acres in farms, as compared to 933,959 in 1940.

The livestock census shows a big jump in cattle over the 5 year period. 84,676 head of cattle and calves were on Deaf Smith farms in 1945, as compared with 34,140 in 1940. The number of hogs was up about one third, with 8,422 reported in 1945, as compared with 6,326 in 1940. The number of horses and mules remained about the same.

With the increase in cattle, however, came a corresponding drop in the number of sheep from 14,887 in 1940 to 5,232 in '45.

Milk production remained at a constant level, with more than 1,300,000 gallons produced in both census years, but the sale of whole milk took a big jump while sale of cream and butter dropped off sharply.

Production of grain sorghums took a tremendous leap during the 5-year period, both in acreage planted and bushels harvested. More than 1,103,000 bushels of grain sorghum was harvested in 1945 (1944 season) as compared to 203,930 in 1940. Production of barley jumped from 71,315 bushels to 177,227 bushels.

Wheat acreage was up considerably from 237,541 to 365,975, and production was nearly a million bushels higher.

Acreage planted in alfalfa showed a sharp increase from 787 acres to 1833, and tonnage was up from 2,051 to 3,907.

Biggest boost in percentages, however, was in Irish Potatoes. Acreage planted to spuds in 1940 was 221. In 1945, it had jumped to 2,769 acres, and production, which was 46,596 bushels in '40, had jumped by 1945 to 450,637 bushels.

Copies of the census report are available at the office of the County Agent in the courthouse.

cialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Shrubs should not be pruned after mid-July.

Cutting back shrubs in summer tends to hold back growth of limbs, twigs and leaves and aids the plant to form a crop of fruit of flowers next spring. Prune out also all dead and diseased limbs and any branches which crowd other plants or get in the way of windows or paths.

1946, and the nature of said suit is as follows: suit for partition of the east half of Block No. 1, of DeAtley's Addition to the town of Hereford, said addition being a subdivision of blocks 10 and 11 of Womble's addition to Hereford, Deaf Smith County, Texas. Plaintiffs alleging that Clyde B. Kinkead and Eva M. Kinkead own 19-20 of said property, that Donald Williams and Dickie Williams, each own 1-30 of said property, and that defendant Howard Roles owns 1-40 of said property, each being an undivided interest, and that it became necessary, and said Clyde B. Kinkead and Eva M. Kinkead did expend $4000.00 to repair said property, and $1000.00 to pay delinquent taxes on said property, and that they are entitled to an equitable lien on said property for said amounts, and that said property is not susceptible to division in kind. Plaintiffs pray that said property be sold and the proceeds be applied first to the payment for said repairs and taxes, and the balance be divided among the plaintiffs and defendant in proportion as they own said property.

Pvt. Earl Drake Writes of Visit to Brother's Grave at St. Lo, France

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was written by Pvt. Earl Drake to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Drake of Friona, following a visit to the grave of a brother, Owen, who died in the invasion of the continent and is buried near St. Lo, France:

Le Harve, Camp Phillips M, July 2, 1946.

Dear Folks:

Saturday morning we didn't know when we would leave, so I made up my mind I was going to see Owen's grave even if I missed the shipment. I got my pass and six "K" rations around 12 o'clock and started out for Le Harve walking. I got a ride in a jeep and caught a train at 1:44. I believe I had to go to Rouen, change trains and go to Serquigny and change trains to Coen and had to stay there from 11:00 o'clock Saturday night until 8 Sunday morning, then to St. Lo. I got there about 10 o'clock. Boy, that town is sure blown up and not much traffic. I traded a $1.00 bill to a Polish soldier for 500 francs, 5 packages of cigarettes for 500 francs, and gave an old taxi 1500 francs to take me out to the cemetery. I had a hard time getting him to wait on me to go back to St. Lo. I was there only about one and a half hours. I walked right over to Owen's marker and his name sure did hurt me and his dog tag on the back of his marker. The same one he showed us at home one night. I took 2 rolls of pictures and a G. I. who is in charge of the cemetery came out and talked to me and said he had a camera and went and got it and took one roll and gave it to me. You know before I got to the cemetery I thought I could get someone to take my picture by Owen's grave. I would but I didn't think of it until I was started back to St. Lo. I hope the films will be good. The cemetery was flat with grass and some small white flowers all over the ground. Owen's grave was next to the road in the cemetery I thought their heads would have been to the west but they were all to the north. There were 1202 in Owen's cemetery, then, across the main road there were 1200 Germans buried. Mother, I'll tell you more about it when I get home. He is resting and is better off than we are, but we loved him so much. I got to St. Lo and no train until Monday, July 1, at 11 o'clock, so I found out the English had a Red Cross hospital there, so I stayed all night there, then I got in here last night about 8:30 and my company was still here, and we may start the 4th or 5th of July, but don't know. There will be 14 ships in by July 10, so can't be long. I got you two rocks from the edge of the cemetery road and some short small flowers and some dirt from his grave. Well, it is sure hot here in the day time. I guess it is at home, too. I didn't get up in time to go to breakfast this morning and they are feeding dinner now, so I'll go eat soon. They line up double lines for several blocks to eat. Mother, I'll close for now and tell you about my trip later. I hope you are all well. I feel O. K.

Lots of love,
Your son, Earl.
P. S. Mother, here are some flowers that were on Owen's grave. I'll keep some, but they are so wilted. I thought I had more of them. Van Wormer said they looked like daisies.

College Will Get Living Quarters From POW Camp

CANYON, Texas July 10—Two hundred additional ex-servicemen will find comfortable living quarters on the campus of West Texas State College as a result of action of the Federal Public Housing Authority this week in granting to the college buildings from the Prisoner of War Camp at Hereford, Texas.

The buildings will provide twenty-five units for four three-room apartments each which will furnish living quarters for their families.

A barracks style dormitory will be made from another building which will accommodate an additional 100 single ex-servicemen.

These emergency housing units will be placed on the college campus at points where service lines are easily accessible. According to President Hill, they will be used as long as the housing emergency continues and ex-servicemen will have priority in their use for the entire time.

Conner Hall another dormitory for ex-servicemen will be ready for occupancy this fall. It will accommodate 100 single men.

Soil Testing Lab At A & M College Offers Services

A soil testing laboratory has been set up at Texas A. and M. College to make chemical analysis of soil samples. The service, as set up by the Board of Directors, is open to the general public. The laboratory will be operated by the Division of Chemistry, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, in cooperation with the School of Agriculture and the Extension Service. Fees will be charged ranging from 25 cents for PH. test to 7.50 for a complete soil analysis.

"An analysis of a sample of soil improperly taken is without value," Dr. J. F. Fudge, who is to be in charge of the laboratory, pointed out. He urged that persons wishing to submit soil samples write to the Soil Testing Laboratory, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas, and ask for sampling directions.

Information with reference to the soil, its use and location, is also needed, and a form provided by the laboratory must be filled out and returned with the soil sample.

The analysis is completed the results will be turned over to the Extension Service where M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist, and his associates will make recommendations for the improvement of the soil in the light of the chemical content and history.

The county agricultural or home demonstration agent in the county concerned will receive a copy of the analysis and recommendations, and will be able to aid in the solution of any other problem which may arise.

To the Voters of Deaf Smith County:

DEAR FRIENDS,

I am taking this means of letting each and every voter of this county know that I will deeply appreciate your vote in the election on the 27th of this month.

I regret that I was unable to visit every one in the county as I had planned, but due to my Financial Handicap, will be unable to do so.

As every voter in the county knows, by now, I was recently discharged from the army after serving 5 years with 32 months of that time overseas. During my time in the army, I had several assignments which are too numerous to discuss at this time. But I am sure that they have qualified me for the office that I now seek. And if you people of this county see fit to elect me as your sheriff, tax assessor and collector, I shall do my best to keep the town and county clean, and run the office in a fair and honest manner.

In closing I want to let you know that I run on my own ticket. No individual or organization had any influence on me announcing for this office. But I want you to know that I want and will appreciate backing and support from each and every individual and organization of this county.

I served you people over there. I now ask for a chance to serve you here at home.

Best wishes to one and all,

Horace W. Baize
Candidate for Sheriff, Tax Assessor, and Collector of Deaf Smith County

A few words to the Veterans of this county: As you know I will deeply appreciate your vote this election, and will do my best for each of you if I am elected. I beg you all to remember the date of election, and please take off work for a few moments and go to the polls to vote. Be sure to take your discharge paper with you. You may be asked to show it. Let's all pull together, you Veterans.

nothing I could do, and before I had time to do it, Indians were swarming all over me." At this point in the story, Mr. Bob pauses. When the listener excitedly asks, "And what happened?" he replies nonchalantly, "Oh, they killed me." Mr. Bob arrived in Hereford by way of train, livery buggy and "ankle express" in October of 1896. He found Hereford to be a small grocery store, a tent restaurant and a water tank. His first few years were spent on the ranches of Jack Kilgough and Andrew Lipscomb. It was while he was with Mr. Lipscomb that he helped lay out and plow a fireguard across the ranch which was later to become State highway 51, better known in Hereford as 25-mile Avenue.

In 1901, Mr. Bob went to work for the Capitol Syndicate in the Escavada division of the XIT ranch. About half of Deaf Smith county was included in this division. Mr. Higgin's memories of life on the ranch contain accounts of many prairie fires. The biggest of these that he recalls began near Tucuman, New Mexico, in 1906 and moved into Texas, across to Bovina. The fire, smoke of which XIT men could see for three days before it reached them, covered a strip of territory approximately 125 miles long and 50 miles wide leaving the prairie strewn with the charred remains of rabbits, cattle, coyotes and antelopes.

Following this fire, Mr. Bob moved some of the cattle to Arney to find grass for the winter. It was here that he met Miss Ada Wood, a schoolteacher from Quitman, Texas. They were married in 1907 and moved back to Mr. Bob's small ranch nine miles northwest of Hereford.

Mr. Bob built up his holdings from two sections—one of which he purchased for $16 and the other for $50—to 14 sections. He got his start in cattle from stray dogs which the cowboys would give him. His herd grew to 300 head of registered Whiteface Hereford cattle. Mr. and Mrs. Higgins lived on this same ranch 36 years—until 1943 when they moved into town.

Messenger News

MRS. J. N. MESSENGER

More than three and a half inches of rain has been received in this area so far this month. The row crop here is looking good. A weed commonly called "goat-head" is very bad this year, and farmers are working their fields often.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Smith and son, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Smith and two children, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bass all drove to the Red Riven on an outing, expecting to be gone a week or more. Mr. and Mrs. Bass returned Saturday.

Farmers are working day and night plowing wheat stubble and getting ready for fall planting.

Chaplain John B. Abbott is still in the hospital at Springfield, Mo. His family is at Fort Hancock, Texas, with his mother.

FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion was almost the order of the day for Mrs. F. M. Faulkner last week with children arriving to visit with her in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bob Wilson. The out-of-town relatives included Mrs. Ulric Lea and son Jimmie of Knox City, Mrs. James Steele and son Donal of Grenville, N. M. Mrs. C. H. Smith of Monahans and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Faulkner of Amarillo.

Mrs. D. C. Laird has returned to her home in Kilgore after visiting her sisters, Mrs. H. Baird and Mrs. Seth B. Holman.

A true cattleman, Mr. Bob hates sheep. According to him, if a sheep gets to feeling a little bad, it will just lie down and die for nothing better to do, and then, he says, the sheep which was grazing behind the dead one, will gaze woefully upon its companion and lie down and die just out of pure sympathy!

Mr. and Mrs. Higgins have two sons, G. T., who lives here; and Altus, who is living on the Higgins ranch northwest of town. They have two grandchildren.

Mrs. E. J. Hudson has had two sisters, Mrs. Annie W. DeVette and Mrs. T. P. Clements as her guests for the past two weeks. They plan to leave this weekend for their home in Rockmart, Ga.
