The bold announcement two weeks ago of a large garment manufacturer locating here may be the first of more to come as it led to the formation of a permanent foundation whose purpose it will be to seek out and establish new businesses in Hereford.

The foundation is the Hereford Industrial Foundation, Inc., which was officially organized as of Thursday as a non profit organization. The organization has been instrumental in coordinating negotiations which led to Sue Ann Inc., a major Dallas-based women's sports wear producer, deciding on Hereford for its large new plant.

THE STATED PURPOSE in the articles of incorporation are, "Promoting the business interest of the City of Hereford and Deaf Smith County...including rendering financial and other assistance to the manufacturing, industrial, business and trade development in the city...and to render aid (including leasing and buying property and erecting and repairing buildings) to manufacturing, industrial, scientific, educational and business enterprises situated in such area."

In announcing the foundation Friday morning, Tom Burdett, local attorney and president of the foundation, said, "The foundation represents the realization of one of the chief goals of the Chamber of Commerce this year."

The foundation was organized as separate legal entity apart from the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce but is an outgrowth of the C of C industrial development committee. Burdett said the foundation's connection with the C of C will be to receive business leads from the industrial committee and then follow through with arrangements to insure a business locating here. Also the C of C will provide office space for the foundation.

THE BULK of this work will be carried out by the foundation officers. They are Burdett, president; Dickie Gerles and Kenneth R. Rogers, vice presidents; Bill

231 Seniors To Attend Baccalaureate Sermon

Rev. Doug Manning, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will address the 1975 graduating class and audience tonight at 8 p.m. at Whiteface Stadium. There are 231 candidates for graduation.

Should inclement weather prevail, the baccalaureate service will be held in La Plata Gym.

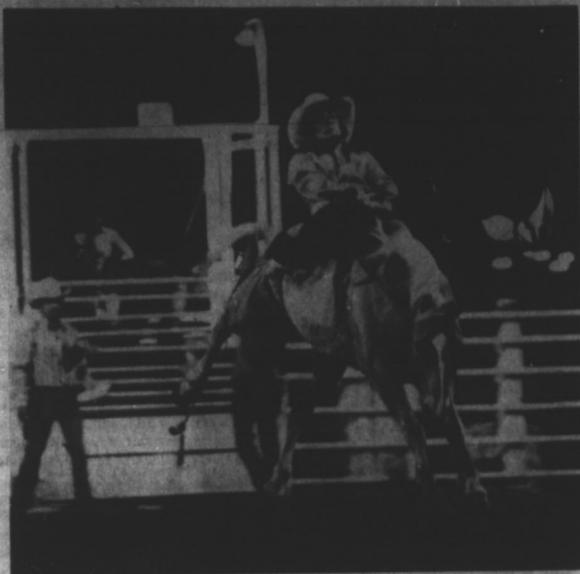

Rev. Bill Lang, pastor of St. Thomas Episcopal Church will give the invocation and Rev. L.D. Mays, pastor of New Zion Baptist Church, will give the benediction.

Commencement exercises will be conducted at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, May 27th, also at Whiteface Stadium. Shyla Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thomas, will give the valedictory and as salutatorian, Gary Landers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Landers, will also address the class.

Presentation of diplomas will be by school board president Jim Conkright. Students with over a 5.0 grade average will be recognized and the outstanding senior, selected by the school faculty, will be announced.

Following the commencement exercise, seniors will be treated to a party from 11 p.m. to 4 a.m. in the Activity Center at West Texas State University. The "Christophers" will play for the dance in the ballroom, refreshments will be available in the snack area and all the activities, including the olympic swimming pool and bowling alley will be available. Seniors can purchase a ticket for $4 to the party. Mrs. Wayne Thomas is serving as general chairman of the party sponsored by parents.

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says some people who slap you on the back are trying to help you swallow what they just told you.

It's easy to be the most important citizen in town; the hard part comes in finding a town small enough.

A tip of the hat to all of the folks on the Hustlin' Hereford Hall of Fame GRA Rodeo committee. Friday night's opening performance launched what appears to be a great All Girl Professional Rodeo, and a lot of volunteer work went into the planning of this event.

We wouldn't want to attempt to list all the people who really devoted their time and talent because we'd probably miss some. However, the leadership of Terry Caviness, overall chairman; Butch White, rodeo chairman; and Roy Faubion, Hall of Fame leader, shouldn't go without notice.

We visited briefly with Alice Greenough at the rodeo Friday night. She is one of the three honorees to be inducted into the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame here in Hereford. She hails from a rodeoing family, with five of them competing at one time. She and her brother, Turk, each won the bare back bronc riding crowns at Madison Square Garden in 1940.

An active member of CowBelles, Alice was amazed at the number of CowBelles she was introduced to in visiting around town Friday. She hails from Phoenix, Ariz., and remarked that "there are a lot of CowBelles there, but you don't run into them every day."

It's easy to understand why Alice is one of the first honorees. She helped start barrel racing for the cowgirls and was co-producer of her own rodeo back in 1943. She was an exhibition bronc rider with the touring rodeo and made memorable appearances in Spain and Australia.

Plans for the annual Pioneer Day celebration, scheduled at the Bull Barn May 24, are being finalized with several women's clubs to help with the event. We've been asked to clarify a recent

The rodeo got underway with a full house of spectators Friday at the Hereford Riders Arena. With just about the whole arena lined with onlookers, the girls held close to their broncs and aimed straight for calves and goats with ropes in attempts to garner some of the record $20,420 in prize money.

The rodeo is billed as the biggest in the GRA history not only for the total purse but for the 391 entries in the different events including calf roping, goat tying, bareback riding, barrel racing, steer undecorating, bull riding, and team roping.

The inductees of the Hall of Fame include Alice Greenough, Jackie Worthington and the late Sissy Thurman. The county library is temporarily housing the Hall of Fame until a new building can be built in about two or three years on property near the municipal airport.

Each has won numerous rodeo events including multiple all-round cowgirl championships.

Bill Albright, executive vice president of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce, said more spectators are expected today.

While seating was short Friday, more bleachers were installed Saturday to provide about 1,900 seats today.

Hereford residents got into the spirit of the rodeo festivities Saturday as they participated in a parade and competed with the daring in events such as greased pig chasing and cow milking contests for women and cow chip throwing contest for men. The kids were even included with a stick horse racing contest.

Following the contests, the Hereford Rotary Club provided a barbecue in Damon Park.

The All round champion of rodeo will be awarded a $600 saddle.

Cost for the rodeo is $2 for adults and $1 for children under 12-years-old.

Area Farmers Testify Before Gas Hearings

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Writer

Testimony in the final day of regional hearings in Lubbock concerning the priority of natural gas for irrigation purposes went at a faster pace Friday as a large number of farmers returned to the Hub City to testify.

Approximately 500 Panhandle-area farmers attended the first session of hearings Thursday.

The regional hearings included sessions in Phoenix and Albuquerque last week in addition to those held in Lubbock.

ACCORDING TO JAY BOSTON Hereford, a director for Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association, federal Power Commission FPC administrative judge Curtis L. Wagner proved "cooperative and understanding" in Friday's hearings.

"The hearings moved lots faster Friday, they swore in witnesses ten at time," said Boston.

Boston was one of the first to present testimony in Friday's hearings, and he elaborated on some of the points concerning area agriculture.

"I told the judge that our Panhandle area farmers are second to none in getting things done, and explained some of our cropping procedures to him. I told him about the fine soil we have here and the ability of that soil to produce good yields. The judge was real cooperative in taking my testimony and allowing me to elaborate," said Boston.

Boston also commented on the adverse effects that curtailment of natural gas could have on the local sugar beet industry.

HE TOLD THE JUDGE, "If we don't have gas to aid us in growing our crops, we'll have a $60 million sugar beet plant on our hands that won't be worth a dime."

Boston also spoke on the Hereford area's cattle feeding industry and pointed out the importance of agriculture in relation to cattle feeding locally.

"I think we did some good, I was encouraged by Friday's hearings," said Boston.

Carl King, of Dimmitt, president of the Texas Corn Growers Association also testified early Friday.

"We tried to get away from the trend of repetition that was taking place. The FPC attorney was questioning every farmer about the depth of his wells, the size of engines he used and matters along those lines, said King.

King spoke on the general effects of curtailment of gas on the agriculture industry, and told the judge, "I can't fathom a reduction to a No. 3 status for agriculture. We're going to have to decide whether to produce food or try and eat cars.

KING'S REMARK was in reference to the questioning of the farmers' case by General Motors, the State of California and others. A commercial priority for agriculture would rank it above industry, and a No. 3 priority would make agriculture and industry more competitive and result in gas curtailments for agriculture.

"I stressed the food angle in my testimony and also tried to point out some of the ill effects a demise in agriculture could have on the area," said King.

King told the judge that he "didn't want to think about taking gas away from a food producing area to give it to an industrial area," and added that he would quit farming if faced with such a move.

"The hearing was fair as you could ask for, I think we did a good job on it," King commented.

Most of the witnesses who presented testimony Thursday were officially designated as intervenors and were called by Cameron Graham of Albuquerque, lawyer for the Southwestern Gas Users Association. Graham continually stressed the difficulty of converting natural gas engines to alternate fuels during Thursday's proceedings.

A release issued by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association cites a study by engineers for a leading irrigation supply firm showing that switching the commonly used automatic type of irrigation engine from natural gas to gasoline would increase hourly cost about 320 per cent and up hourly cost 282 per cent for conversion to propane.

ADDITIONAL MAINTENANCE requirements for engines run with alternate fuels were also cited during the hearings.

Farmers questioned at Thursday's hearing time and again said production without aid of irrigation would mean reduced yields of as much as 85 per cent. Many pointed out that finding financing for dryland farming would also be difficult.

Ray Joe Riley, Castro County Farmer, summed up the feelings of those in attendance at the sessions when he said, "Curtailment of natural gas to fuel irrigation engines would force farmers to gear down to a dryland economy."

Judge Wagner has two weeks to write an opinion on the matter following Thursday and Friday's hearings. A 30-day appeal period will follow the issuance of the opinion.

Commissioners Meet Monday

City To Settle Motorcycle Dispute

Motorcyclists and conservationist will have a face-off as each group is scheduled on the agenda for the Hereford City Commission meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday night.

The commissioners will be considering this controversial item as well as an item concerning the school crossing over Park Ave. near the new Central Elementary School and a budget report from City Manager Dudley Bayne.

Bayne said the budget report is in connection with the annual audit made of the last fiscal year's budget.

THE NEW SCHOOL school is being built behind the Park Plaza Shopping Center and some students going to it will have to cross Park Ave. to get to it. The school district administration had asked the city to establish some form of warning light or school zone across the busy street to slow the traffic for the students' protection.

The main portion of the meeting will undoubtedly consist of differing opinions expressed by those wishing to use Veterans Park for motorcycle riding and those interested in preserving the area for nature trails. Both interests appeared at the May 5 City Commission meeting concerning a proposal by the city to forbid any motor vehicles in city parks especially Veterans Park.

The motorcyclists claimed it was the only natural area in this area which afforded the hilly terrain desired for riding the motorcycles. They claim it is a growing family sport and asked the city to designate some portion of the park for their sport. Presently there is a racing track in this area, but the motorcyclists are interested in trail bike riding.

RONNIE WOOD, a science teacher at Stanton Junior High School, told the commission that he used the park for nature hikes with his classes. Also, he explained that it was the only area left with such vegetation and that it should be preserved as such.

The city had obtained the park a few years ago from the veterans organization here for the purpose of preserving the

C of C Directors Review Reports On Rodeo, Membership Breakfast

A lighter agenda than usual faced the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce directors early Thursday morning at a regular monthly meeting.

Reports were heard on the Hereford All Girl Rodeo and Hall of Fame, the upcoming C of C breakfast for the general membership and from the Women's Division.

The board unanimously approved the motion for the Chamber of Commerce to hold its second breakfast membership meeting. Rev. Doug Manning, pastor of First Baptist Church, will serve as chairman of the event which is set for Thursday, May 29.

Terry Caviness, overall chairman for the rodeo reported that approximately 200 cowgirls entered 391 events in the Hall of Fame Rodeo. This sets a record for entries in an all girl rodeo across the nation. "The most barrel racers to compete in a rodeo has been 63, but Hereford will welcome 90 entries in this one event," Caviness said. He also reported that the rodeo committee had spent $2,000 on the Riders Club Arena to make it ready for the big event.

Caviness said they were hoping for full capacity crowds for each performance in order to break even this first year of the rodeo. He reported the bleachers would hold approximately 1,500 fans Friday night, but that more bleachers would be moved in for the Saturday night and Sunday afternoon performances, seating at least 1,900 fans.

A total purse of $20,420 will be awarded as prize money. This is the largest amount ever awarded at a GRA Rodeo.

"From all reports so far, the Girls Rodeo Association is more than pleased with our efforts in Hereford," he said.

In the report on the All Girl Hall of Fame by Mary Rando, curator, she said there had certainly been a lot of help and interest shown. "We'll have a few things for the public to view and will be open 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. during the three days of the rodeo," she said.

She said the induction ceremony for the three inductees to the Hall of Fame would be held at the Sunday afternoon performance of the rodeo with Roy Faubion making the presentation.

Lavon Nieman, president of the Women's Division, gave a brief report on its current activities. She reported that four committees were working on the rodeo and plans are proceeding for an outstanding summer youth program at Community Center.

It was reported by Bill Albright, C of C executive vice president, that the industrial committee was to meet Thursday afternoon. He felt that the committee would probably adopt a new charter and by laws to secure an industrial foundation for Hereford. He also pointed out that the Texas State Technical Institute has budgeted $30,000 to help train employees for the new industry coming to Hereford. Training will probably take place right here in Hereford.

In Albright's executive report he explained the gas hearings in Lubbock and that they were well attended by concerned Hereford citizens. He also reported on correspondence from Washington, D.C. on the recent agriculture bill, on the proposal for school tax concerning rural property, a tour Thursday for 20 agriculturists from South Africa, that he would be attending the Texas Chamber of Commerce manager's meeting in Abilene June 8-10, the Deaf Smith County Tennis Tournament has been set for June 26-29, the Miss Texas Pageant is July 8-11, and C of C directors are making an effort to finish distributing the 1975 stickers for membership plaques.

R.W. (Bud) Eades, president, conducted the business session. The invocation and pledge to the flag were given by Donald Hicks. Others attending were Mike Patrick, Calvin Goodin, Andrew Kershen, Bud Snyder, Lee Umsted, Jim McDowell, Arturo Gonzales, Larry Wartes, Caviness, Nieman, Albright, secretary Betty Wilson and guest, Mary Ranbo.

Albright, executive vice president and secretary, and Dennis Farley, treasurer.

They are overseen by a 16-member board of directors made up of the officers and the following individuals: R.W. (Bud) Eades, Jake Webb, Ray Cowsett, Emory Brownlow, Jeff Carille, W.T. Carmichael, Cleo Cortis, Dean Herring, Austin Rose Jr., Arthur Gonzales, Bobby Owen and S.L. (Pic) Harmon Jr.

In the organizational meeting held

Thursday, the officers were elected and four "important pieces of business were decided," Burdett explained.

They include (1) Authorizing a lease to the Sue Ann firm on a building to be constructed by the foundation, (2) Taking options on two 2 1/2-acre tracts of land on Pine Street north of Boots West Western Wear, (3) Applying for loans from Hi Plains Savings and Loan and the Texas Industrial Commission, and (4) Appointing Ray Cowsett to head a fund raising drive.

INITIALLY the money on which the foundation will operate will come from dues of members and donations made in the fund raising drive. Jake Webb, manager of Southwestern Public Service, will conduct the fund raising committee to raise a minimum of $30,000 within about 10 days of the drive's start. Dues are $15 annually.

The fund raising is expected to begin shortly after an organizational meeting of the fund raising committee is held next week. The board will meet occasionally on a called basis, not regularly.

This money will finance loans to build the 12,000 square-foot building for Sue Ann Inc. It will be located on the Pine Street tracts. Sue Ann will lease the building for an initial period of 10 years. The foundation will own it.

The land was bought from Mark Davis and Gene G. Hill of Amarillo. The amount was not disclosed.

THE FUND RAISERS hope to garner about $50,000 or $60,000 in funds to provide capital to attract other new industries. The total amount to be spent on Sue Ann is $130,000 for the building, land and pavement.

When the garment firm begins production, it is anticipated that it will hire up to 150 women as sewing machine operators and provide a payroll of about $750,000. Representatives of the company are in Hereford this weekend to look over the town and see the Hall of Fame All Girl Rodeo.

Albright, executive vice president of the C of C, said the foundation is one of the goals set forth by the Goals for Progress committee of the C of C.

"The board is enthusiastic about obtaining other blue chip industries such as Sue Ann," Burdett said. "We have had 1,000 per cent cooperation of the people we have asked to participate."

area to prevent any further damage from caliche which was being dug out of the park.

Clay Lindsey and Lonnie Cardinal, both involved in a phase of the motorcycle business here, have checked with other cities in the Panhandle to investigate what other cities are doing to provide motorcyclists places to ride. Both had attended the earlier commission meeting.

They said cities of Lubbock, Dalhart, Bovina, Plainview, and Clovis, N.M. have set up designated areas for motorcyclists. Lindsey said some of these areas have been arranged in differing fashions—some on rough river draws and others in race track form.

"IT'S A FAMILY oriented sport and it provides recreation for almost 200 active motorcyclists in Hereford," Lindsey said. Other sports such as golf are provided facilities and we need some too. Otherwise we'll have to ride illegally on streets and in alleys or have to go 70 miles for a place to ride."

Wood says that he plans to show the commissioners the interest here for nature trails. "I have letters of support from the Cub Scouts, the garden clubs, the Soil Conservation Service and the schools," he said.

Plans call for the groups to establish nature trails in the park for school classes and the general public.

Bayne said he doesn't see any real place for the motorcyclist right now but "of course that will be up to the commission."

Cowgirls' Future Home

Roy Faubion, president of the Cowgirl Hall of Fame, and Margaret Clemons, president of Girls Rodeo Association, look over the 10-acre site where the institution is to be located. The sign marks the spot near the Hereford Municipal Airport about two miles east on Hwy. 60. The Hall of Fame building will be constructed in about two to three years from funds raised in a national campaign drive.

Education Expenditures Revealed

(Spc)—How much is being spent annually in Deaf Smith County for education? Is it more or less than in most other localities?

What proportion of local governmental expenditures go for teachers salaries, school construction, maintenance, books and the like?

As is the case in every other community, local officials are faced with the problem of providing satisfactory educational facilities and opportunities, despite the tightness of money in these inflationary times.

A federal study, recently released, indicates that education is the largest single item in most local budgets.

In Deaf Smith County, it shows, approximately 65 per cent of all public spending is in that direction. In some communities the proportion is somewhat smaller than that and, in others, quite a bit larger.

Nationally, the average is 41 per cent. It is 53 per cent in the State of Texas.

The study of local government expenditures, made every five years, is based upon data compiled by the Commerce Department for its current Census of Governments. The prior one was in 1967.

Its figures for Deaf Smith County that the amount spent in the year for all public purposes, equivalent to $403 per local resident, included $262 for education.

This represents the actual outlay at the local level and is exclusive of Federal and state contributions.

In other counties across the country, per capita spending for education came to $234 per capita. The average throughout Texas was $214.

The current school year is marked, nationally, by a drop in enrollments and a rise in expenses, reports U.S. Commissioner of Education Terrel h. Bell.

He expects the total cost of education to reach $108 billion or $11 billion more than last year.

It has become the country's largest enterprise, he notes, in terms of the number of people involved (62 million, including 3 million teachers) and in dollars spent ($68 billion for public and non-public schools and $40 billion for colleges and universities.)

County Court Busy With DWI Convictions

Cases processed in County Court during the week ending May 9 are:

—Larry Mac McLeod, DWI, fined $100 plus court costs, sentenced 15 days on a one year probation.

—Carlos Gonzales, Driving While License Suspended (DWLS), sentenced three days, fined $200 plus court costs.

—Ray Eldon Casey, probation revocation hearings held, probation revoked, sentenced 15 days.

—Cliff Rene Shepperd, probation revocation hearing held, probation revoked, sentenced 15 days.

—Laura Self Warton, DWI, fined $100 plus court costs, sentenced 15 days on one year probation.

—Juan Eligio Martinez Jr., DWI, fined $100 plus court costs, sentenced 15 days on one year probation.

—Ricky James and Nydia Rodriguez Austin, possession of marijuana, fined $350 plus court costs, sentenced 180 days on six months probation.

—Billy Joe Bates, DWI, fined $100 plus court costs, sentenced 15 days one year probation.

—Richard Castro, DWLS, fined $150 plus court costs, sentenced 15 days on one year probation.

—Rodolfo Elizondo, fleeing a police officer, fined $200 plus court costs.

article concerning the celebration. Planners report there is no charge for the luncheon, but there is a $1.50 registration fee.

The development of a new product is a three-step process: First, an American firm announces an invention; second, the Russians claim they made the same discovery 20 years ago; third, the Japanese start exporting it.

Paul Harvey, in a nationally syndicated column, says lots of our so-called "unemployed" don't have to be. Unemployment pays so well these days that countless Americans are refusing jobs, choosing to loaf.

And, adds Harvey, you can't blame them—you have to blame the system. They have a government permit to pick your pocket. The only way the system is going to be corrected is for taxpayers to revolt. His suggestion: "Let's all take the summer off!"

Sounds great, but there's no way we can take the summer off—the working taxpayers are the ones keeping the country going. We've got to convince our elected politicians that we don't want to carry the extra burden of goldbricks on our backs, that we'll work to help the poor but not to help those who refuse jobs.

Harvey gives an example of the fault in the system. In Greenville, S.C., for instance, the unemployment rate is 12.3 per cent. Why don't some of the unemployed take one of the job openings at a local textile industry?

Working, a man makes $125 week and has take-home pay of about $90. Unemployed, he collects $88 a week with no deductions, and he gets food stamps, plus money from odd jobs he doesn't bother to mention...and makes more money fishing than working. It's unfair temptation to anybody, declares Harvey. As long as we take a ho-hum attitude, the politicians will promise the welfare goodies that draw a few hundred thousand votes that might make the difference in many elections.

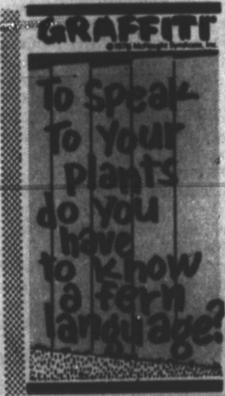

We can't remember a year when legislation, both from Austin and Washington, has posed such a threat to our way of life. Proposed legislation in Austin which would effect our agricultural economy has had farm leaders, busily meeting, and contacting their representatives.

Local irrigation farmers are now highly concerned over a proposal to change the priority of natural gas allocated for farm use. Local leaders are urging as many farmers and businessmen as possible to attend a hearing in Lubbock Thursday and Friday. They hope to have at least 2,000 people register and protest the ruling.

Before that situation, local taxing authorities warned farmers and businessmen of the adverse effect which new land valuation proposals could have on this area. That situation is not resolved and all of us need to keep watch and attempt to protect ourselves from discriminatory legislation.

Sometimes I wonder if we shouldn't give all our legislators, state and federal governments, a year's vacation with pay. I believe it would be less expensive, and the flood of bills would stop for a short period, anyway.

But, as bad as the legislation bodies sometimes appear, it seems to me our real concern is still bureaucracy. We are in danger of losing our free enterprise system to the rulings and interpretations of bureaus. Through bureaucracy, we have built up the most inefficient form of government yet known to man.

Blood Donors Needed

Blood donors are asked to replenish an ever dwindling blood supply between 4-6 p.m. Wednesday as workers of the Coffee Blood Bank of Amarillo come to Hereford Community Center to collect scheduled monthly donations.

Mrs. Barbara McCrary, chairman of the local blood committee, said that donations have dropped rapidly during the past four months from the record collections in January of 107 pints.

"We desperately need the blood to pay back the blood used for recent patients," Mrs. McCrary said. "Please take time to help this worthy cause," she continued.

Blood will be taken from inside the center, not from the mobile unit.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

By Clay R. Pollan
Note planetary ruler of your birth symbol

FOR WEEK BEGINNING MONDAY, MAY 19, 1975

Aries Mar. 21 - Apr. 19 Pluto ☿
Social relationships are emphasized now. Be more active, come out of your shell. Express yourself freely, frankly. Unless you make known your wishes and needs, they won't be fulfilled. Certain people are in a mood now to make you happier. Some mysterious happenings indicated, but are pleasing ones.

Taurus Apr. 20 - May 20 Venus ♀
The key this week is to be thorough. Double check everything. Be more inquisitive—ask questions. Don't fumble around. Get to the heart of issues. Bypass subordinates and deal only with those at the top. The main thing is not to worry. Minor problems will be successfully ironed out. Forge ahead!

Gemini May 21 - June 20 Mercury ☿
This is a time to explore and delve into foreign fields. Experiment, write, test ideas. Study publicity techniques and advertise your talents. Try to improve your ability to communicate. You'll get things moving if you initiate. Your intuition is more reliable than facts and figures.

Cancer June 21 - July 22 Moon ☾
A week to give thought to material things. Stock up on staples, such as food and comfortable clothing. Look over certain ailing mechanical equipment and employ the services of competent repairmen. Whatever you do, get receipts and warranties. Place an order for estimates on improvements.

Leo July 23 - Aug. 22 Sun ☼
Personal satisfaction is emphasized. You'll receive what you have earned. Pending issues will now come to a head. Good ideas that have not crystallized can now materialize into profit. You can aid a Gemini person and be helped in return. You can break through restrictions. New opportunities will come.

Virgo Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 Mercury ☿
Emotions may take over now. You seem to be guided more by impulse than logic. You must settle down and try to be more practical. Realize this and pull in your reins. Watch spending and cut corners where you can. Forget the frustrations of long ago. Get your feet firmly implanted on the ground.

Libra Sept. 23 - Oct. 22 Venus ♀
Let up a little. Avoid pressing too hard. Take your time and do your work more thoroughly. Exercise more tact and diplomacy in dealing with associates. Do not be critical. Making too many demands could mean actual loss. Social prospects bright. Make most of your personality. Exploit it. You'll get results.

Scorpio Oct. 23 - Nov. 21 Mars ♂
New starts are in order. Stress independence and reliability. Be in control of your emotions. Learn to know the difference between love and sensation. You'll get an unexpected chance to favorably impress an important, influential person. Favors will be granted if you choose the right moment for asking.

Sagittarius Nov. 22 - Dec. 21 Jupiter ♃
The money department is accented. Be more thrifty. Pull in financial reins. The tendency to overspend will catch up with you. Incorrect information or figures will make for faulty decisions. An unfavorable time for long-term money deals. Go for the quick profit. Don't gamble on tips given by friends.

Capricorn Dec. 22 - Jan. 19 Saturn ♄
Caution is the key now. Be realistic. Refuse to be the victim of self-deception. Don't be pushed into a blocked corner. You can't always have your own way. Others may try to sell you short. Refuse to be tied down by tradition. Take what action is needed. Don't trust those who flatter you obviously.

Aquarius Jan. 20 - Feb. 18 Uranus ♅
Don't take on a cause about which you are dubious. Your own wisdom is the best guide. Don't allow yourself to be persuaded by anyone's eloquence. An article you thought lost or destroyed comes to light. Look up old friends. Visit old haunts. Beware upsetting those in authority. Reject false flattery.

Pisces Feb. 19 - Mar. 20 Neptune ♆
Slow up. Be a perfectionist. Don't let anyone intrude on your privacy. Keep to your own independent path, which will give you greater assurance and confidence. Grab opportunities. Go visiting. Get out and about. You need the stimulation of the unfamiliar. Go ahead if you've been thinking of joining a new club.

HUSTLE HUSTLE HUSTLE

By Bill Albright, Executive VP
Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce

With Rodeo activities, the Hall of Fame, a new Industrial Foundation, the agricultural situation and a multitude of other events it's been a pretty hectic pace around this old Chamber, but we should never be too busy to emphasize the real purpose behind most of our efforts.

And anyone who was present at the Bull Barn Tuesday knows what I'm speaking about. Yes, our young people are the real future of Hereford and Deaf Smith County and we have a right and much reason to be proud of them.

I remember a year ago when Jesse Owens, Olympic track star complimented those fine young people on achievement, on appearance, and on attitude. He said this is obviously a different place from others where he had visited. He made me feel proud of our young people. Again, last Tuesday our athletes showed those very same qualities as they received their awards and listened to a very strongly inspired speaker.

Then on Wednesday, I visited students quietly and attentively witnessed the ceremonies and enthusiastically applauded their fellow students. There was no discourtesy, no rudeness and no interruptions. It was a real typical example of our young people.

Speaking of courtesy—remember the "Most Courteous Employee" contest that the business committee ran last month? Know where two of the three winners came from? Hustlin' Hereford High-of course. And then you know of the outstanding sportsmanship demonstrated at our athletic events, not only the contestants but by the Whiteface fans. Other folks visiting Hereford are thoroughly impressed and never fail to comment on the really unusual spirit exhibited by our youth.

But wait a minute—all good things didn't just happen. It takes a whole lot of "up bringing" to accomplish the enviable record we enjoy. It takes families and concern and love and pride! And it takes a school system that perpetuates the same ideals that the parents develop in those young folks. We are truly blessed with all the ingredients of success and our children reflect pretty much the way we lead them.

Congratulations to us all—the community—the school system—the parents and to our youngsters. We're pretty proud to be a part of it all. As a matter of fact the total spirit of Hereford is HUSTLE HUSTLE HUSTLE!

The Abundant Life

Pulling Together

By BOB WEAR

There are some ways in which the individual can be independent, and should be independent; however, there are many ways in which we are interdependent. To whatever extent we deny this interdependence, or overlook it; all of us will suffer loss.

We have some individual differences, but we also have many common interests. The permissible individual differences must not be permitted to prevent our full cooperation in the areas of our common concerns.

"PULLING TOGETHER" we do have an encouraging possibility to find satisfactory solutions to many of our mutual problems, and of finding ways to overcome our common difficulties. From both the viewpoint of mature intelligence, and obvious necessity; it is self-evident that there must be an enormous amount of combined thought and effort.

Personal Responsibility must be recognized and accepted, because this is the only way we can do our part in working together for our common good. The shirkers and the irresponsible people make the burden heavier for those who are willing to work. Nevertheless, the work must be done. We must not be discouraged.

OUR INTERDEPENDENCE makes it absolutely necessary that we learn everything we can about "pulling together". There must be diligent study of our mutual needs, and honest admission of the fact that we must work together wherever and whenever we can.

There is a limit to what one person can do alone. Every worthy project requires the help of others, willingness "to pull together" for the common good.

We are so interdependent that we cannot even survive without the help of others. There are certain things which work better when performed in a group, together. Moments of Meditation.

In order to do our best, we must approach this "pulling together" with the right attitudes. We cannot afford to be seeking self-aggrandizement, because such an aim undermines the mutual endeavor. All of us can do much more and do it better, when we do not care who gets the credit.

There is one worthy aim, and that is to do what we can to help solve the problem; overcome the difficulty; or perform the service.

APPECIATION FOR EACH OTHER is perhaps one of the most helpful elements in our working together, and in the ways we benefit from our mutual assistance. In order to serve the maximum good, this appreciation must be expressed.

We cannot afford discouragement; or any degree of the defeatist attitude. This means that we, in order to accomplish the maximum from our combined efforts, must be diligent in mutual encouragement and mutual up-building. Much of the strength we need

More Women Enrolling In College

Many women between 25 and 35 are joining the book brigade by returning to school this summer, according to Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist.

The specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, noted that many view a college degree as a means of "keeping up" intellectually, as a means of getting a better job, improving their life style or filling leisure hours.

"Most colleges and universities in Texas welcome the mature woman and are offering new courses that are more relevant for them.

"Flexible schedules, personal counseling, career planning or job placement, removal or age restriction on scholarships and other grants-in-aid, or less rigid residence and time requirements for earning degrees are a few of the services offered by most schools."

She said that some colleges offer child care services, parking or credit card charging for tuition. All these services attract mature women, the specialist noted.

"Many adult women returning to the classroom are concerned about being young enough to learn, finding time to study with family responsibilities, acceptance in the classroom by professors and younger students, and spending so much money on themselves.

"The most difficult step is the first one—mustering the courage to write or personally visit the school and make a commitment to return to campus," Miss Taylor said.

She suggested some considerations before returning to the classroom.

—Share you idea with your family and get their support.

—Go easy the first quarter or semester so you can adjust to the new drain on your time.

—If you're not sure about school, try an adult education course or non-credit course. After that, work seriously toward credit and a degree.

—Consider national trends and job opportunities if you plan to enter the job market after getting the degree. If there are job openings, you'll feel better about your educational expense, the specialist noted.

"Classrooms are competitive. This is a new environment for many adult students. Being shy and withdrawn won't help the mature woman meet other students with whom she can exchange ideas or seek help.

"But planning ahead and using her head will start the mature woman on the road to a degree of success," Miss Taylor said.

Lions See Film on Farm Product Price Problems

Don Russell of Plainview, representing Farmland Industries, presented a film pertaining to the importance of agriculture when he was guest speaker at the Hereford Lions Club meeting Wednesday at Civic Club Center.

The movie pointed out the lack of organization of farmers in securing fair prices for their products. It also emphasized the bargain which food continues to be in the United States, compared to other nations.

Another guest of the club was Sammy Thurman, a director of the Girls Rodeo Association. She was introduced by Roy Fabian. Mrs. Thurman outlined the history of the GRA and mentioned features of the Hustlin' Hereford Rodeo Scheduled for the weekend.

Cindy Ruther, Leo Club president, gave a weekly report on an event at Hereford High School. President Wayne Lady introduced Hank Stringer who was named in the Awards Assembly program Wednesday morning as the recipient of the Lions Club Scholarship.

PERCY MAYS
... Singing Evangelist

Evangelist Readies To Record Album

Percy Mays, son of Rev. and Mrs. L.V. Mays of 432 Barrett is in Hereford preparing for the recording of an evangelistic album which will take place June 2 at the Associated Recording Studios in Oklahoma City.

Mays, a Hereford High School graduate, has been doing musical evangelistic work for about two years. He currently works out of the Sherwood Baptist Church in Odessa.

Mays attended West Texas State University before entering the evangelistic field, and although his father is the minister of the New Zion Baptist Church here, he says he didn't become a Christian until about four years ago.

The young evangelist uses music and comedy monologues in his work, and points out that he enjoys working with youth.

"I love to sing more than anything. I started out doing comedy, some Bill Cosby routines and impressions, and later I started singing and writing songs," said Mays.

Mays travels to churches, schools and military bases and has visited numerous states including New Mexico, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, California and Mississippi in addition to his work in Texas.

The album Mays will record is entitled "Smile", which is also the title of a song popular on Mays' evangelistic tours.

Some 12 songs including many Mays has written will be included in the album.

Proceeds from the sale of the album will help support the young evangelist in his work.

Commenting on his evangelism, Mays said, "The greatest thing that has ever happened to me is to receive Christ, so I feel that the greatest thing I can do for others is to introduce them to Him."

LEE ROY GOOD

Lee Roy Good Earns Degree

Roy Good, a graduate of Hereford High School, has received his Bachelor of Science degree in Elementary Education from West Texas State University. Commencement exercises were held Saturday at Amarillo Civic Center.

A celebration dinner was held immediately following the commencement exercises at the Town Crier Steak House in Amarillo.

Roy Good lives with his wife and three children in Dumas, where he is employed at the Diamond Shamrock Corporation.

He is the son of Mrs. Leota Good of 214 Avenue C and the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Flesher of 401 Centre. His aunt is Mrs. Virginia Wallace who also resides at 214 Avenue C.

Chamber Honors Athletes

The Sports Committee of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce honored three Hereford High School athletes at a noon luncheon held at the Caison Steak House Friday.

Micki Merritt received an achievement award for girls' track, Doug Charest was honored in football and Craig Nieman received a basketball award.

The awards were presented by the youths' respective coaches, Roy Shipp, Barry Arnwine and Fred Upshaw.

Miss Merritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.C. Merritt Jr. is a Hereford High School sophomore and is active in 4-H in addition to athletics. She was a regional qualifier in the 440 yard dash this season.

Charest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Charest, served as a captain of the Herd football team and planned to play baseball until he was injured in a pre-season workout.

He has served as president of the senior class and was elected Mr. HHS this year. He plans to attend Texas Tech following graduation.

Nieman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O.G. "Speedy" Nieman. He served as a captain of the basketball team and also lettered in baseball two years.

He served as president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes this year, was vice president of the Key Club, and co-editor of the HHS annual. He was also named to Who's Who in American High Schools and plans to attend Texas Tech upon graduation.

The chamber sports committee also heard a report on a basketball tournament planned for December. Coach Barry Arnwine told those in attendance that seven teams have been lined up for the tournament, which will be held December 4, 5 and 6.

Teams that have entered the tournament include Dumas, Vernon, Levelland, Canyon, Brownfield, Moston and Hereford.

"We're looking to make this a successful tournament and we're going to need the aid of the chamber sports committee. Once we get the tournament started, we'll probably have teams asking to enter next year," said Arnwine.

Headed For Nationals

Chuck High, far right, former Hereford High School cinderman will compete in the NCAA National Track Meet next week. High was awarded a football scholarship to Tarleton State University and was a walk-on for the track program. He earned letters in both sports.

High Bound For National Meet

Chuck High, a 1974 graduate of Hereford High School and a member of the Tarleton State University track team will compete in the NCAA National Track and Field Meet in Arkadelphia, Arkansas Friday and Saturday. High turned in a 14.4 clocking in the 120 high hurdles this year to qualify for the meet. The time is his best ever in the event.

The former Hereford student was a walk-on for the track program at Tarleton State. He earned a letter in track and was also a football letterman, having earned a scholarship in that sport.

During his high school career, High competed at the state track meet in the high hurdles. He earned a second place finish in district in hurdles competition in 1974.

The son of Mrs. Sylvia High, he will be classified as a sophomore at Tarleton State at the beginning of the fall semester.

High will depart for the National Finals Tuesday.

Raider Day Event Slated Tuesday

Tuesday will be "Red Raider Day" in Hereford as local Texas Tech exes host a golf tourney and dinner for visiting Tech coaches and faculty members.

Dave Hopper, local Red Raider Club director, invites all Tech supporters to participate in the activities of the day. Entry fee for the golf tourney, social hour and dinner is $20 a person. Admission for the evening program is $7.50 a person, and ladies are invited.

Steve Sloan, new Raider football coach, and most of his staff will be present for the Hereford event. At least 26 coaches, faculty members, or Red Raider Club members from Lubbock have made plans to attend. Athletic Director JT King, basketball coach Gerald Myers, and business manager Polk Robison will be among the Tech group.

Sign-in for the golf tourney is 1 p.m. Tuesday, with a shotgun start set for 1:30 at Pitman Municipal Golf Course. The evening program starts with a social hour at 6 p.m. at Hereford Country Club, and the dinner program beginning at 7 p.m. The events are open to interested fans.

Persons who wish to enter the golf play should call Cal Garrett at the Golf pro shop by 5 p.m. Monday. Hopper has also requested those who plan to attend only the evening program, to call 364-6051 by 5 p.m. Monday.

During the evening program, members of the Tech coaching staff will brief fans on prospects for the coming year, and a film on "Football Highlights of 1974" will be shown.

Sloan, Texas born and Tennessee raised, has what all Texas fans like—he's a winner. The 30-year-old grid boss is the youngest major college head coach in the nation, but has already had seven years of coaching experience—five as an assistant and two as a head coach.

Sloan's 1974 Vanderbilt team posted a 7-3-1 record and tied Tech in the Peach Bowl. It was the first time since 1955 that a Vanderbilt team had won more than five games in a season. For the Commodores fine showing, Sloan was named Southeastern Conference "Coach of the Year."

Since he was a sophomore at Alabama, Sloan has missed going to a bowl game—as a player or coach—only two years (1967, when he was with the Atlanta Falcons, and 1973 his first year at Vanderbilt.)

Born in Austin and raised in Cleveland, Tenn., Sloan starred under Bear Bryant at Alabama and quarterbacked the Crimson Tide to a national championship in 1965. He spent two years with Atlanta as a pro quarterback before returning to his alma mater for a three-year stint as offensive backfield coach. He was offensive assistant at Florida State and Georgia Tech one year each before going to Vanderbilt as head man.

Sloan has been selected as the head coach for the East team in the Coaches All-American Game to be played in Lubbock in June. Despite a demanding recruiting and guest speaking schedule during the off season, Sloan found time to write a book, "Calling Life's Signals", in 1966. He is also active in the Fellowship of wife, Brenda, have two sons.

Athletes Honored

The Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce sports committee honored these three Hereford High School athletes at a noon luncheon at the Caison Steak House Friday. Receiving the sports achievement awards were Craig Nieman, basketball; Micki Merritt, girls' track, and Doug Charest, football.

June 1 Deadline To Apply For Fish

Landowners with fishless farm ponds have until June 1 to make application to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for catfish and sunfish.

Application forms are available from local P&W game wardens and at most department offices.

Acknowledgment of applications is made by mail and landowners will be notified 10 days to two weeks before delivery of fish is made, usually between Aug. 15 and Nov. 1.

Those who have approved applications will be advised of the time and place to pick up their fish and the amount of pond water to bring with them.

Ted Lowman, P&W hatchery coordinator, said that in order for owners to receive fish their ponds must never have been stocked with the requested species, the ponds must have dried and refilled or they must have had all fish chemically removed since the last request.

"Applications are maintained on department computers to prevent duplication of requests," said Lowman.

As yet, sunfish, catfish and largemouth bass are provided free of charge to private pondowners.

The deadline for largemouth bass applications was Jan. 1 for delivery this spring.

Lowman also pointed out that federal hatcheries are discontinuing their deliveries to private waters.

"After orders for largemouth bass are filled this spring, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will no longer accept applications for fish to be stocked in private ponds.

"However, the Parks and Wildlife Department will assume the responsibility of delivering U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service orders presently on file for catfish and sunfish this fall and bass next spring."

District Park Chief Named

Henry Burkett, Chief of Law enforcement, Texas Parks & Wildlife Department, has appointed ten new district chiefs in that division.

A 25 year veteran of the department, William H. Pratt, is the new district chief for the South Plains and he will be stationed at Lubbock. Mr. Pratt went to work for the then Texas Game & Fish Commission on November 1, 1949 and his first station was at Dallas. This was followed by an assignment at Lamesa for the next thirteen years. In 1965, Mr. Pratt was transferred to Lubbock and he has retained this post until his recent appointment as chief.

A 25 year certificate was recently awarded to Mr. Pratt by the Texas Parks & Wildlife Commission in Austin for his many years of service and dedication.

"I am familiar with the South Plains, its wildlife and problems and even though we are one man short in my district at the present time," Pratt continued, "I feel that we are contacting most of the sportsmen and landowners and that we are furnishing a needed service."

One of the keys to old age is in knowing how to relax and break the tension which builds up while making a living.

Benefit Tilt Ends Herd Grid Drills

The Hereford Whitefaces will end spring grid drills with a Maroon-White intra-squad game Friday, and this year's game will be staged as a benefit match for the James Self family. Coach Fred Upshaw announced this week.

Self is a teacher at Stanton Junior High and a former coach at both junior highs. The Selfs recently announced the birth of twin sons, but one died in the hospital and the other has been confined for treatment since birth. Mounting hospital bills have created a financial burden.

Admission to the game will be by donation; there will be no set charge. All of these contributions will go to the Self fund, which has been initiated by friends at Hereford State Bank. Persons wishing to make contributions can do so at the bank.

The spring game will start with freshman scrimmage at 6:30 p.m. Friday at Whiteface Stadium. The varsity will scrimmage immediately following the freshman clash.

The Whiteface Booster Club will operate the concession stand during the spring game. Fans are invited to attend the game and get their sandwiches and drinks at the boosters' concession stand. The club needs additional funds to cover expenses of the All Sports Banquet, according to president Tom Simons.

Lace Adorns Summerwear

Romantic, feminine lace looks are inexpensive, easy and fun to add to existing wardrobe items. Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist noted this week.

"Lace details and trims are leading fashion items for the warm weather season this year," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reported.

Add lace to highlight top or undersides of cuffs, pockets, yokes, collars, bands or flaps. Stitch on lace appliques and ruffles or insert lace edgings into seams to accent blouses, skirts, dresses and sportswear separates, she suggested.

"Lace fabrics and trims range widely in fiber content, recommended care, texture, price and width. Lace dollies, tablecloths, scraps of trim from outdated garments are excellent sources for trims.

"When adding lace, choose one that compliments and is compatible with the fabric, design lines and mood of the original garment," she advised.

To achieve a permanent beige or antique lacy look, dip cotton—or blend at least 50 per cent cotton—lace in a strong tea solution and simmer 20 minutes.

Rinse and dry thoroughly, Mrs. Culp directed.

The specialist reminded that a little lace goes a long way. Motifs can be cut apart and separated by clipping away from the mesh background. Don't cut the heavier motif threads, she warned.

"Due to the mesh and knotted background, the design motif and patterns is the prime consideration in planning placement. The grainline isn't that important," she said.

Lace with finished edges or motifs should be stitched on top of the garment to show off shaped and scalloped edges. Unfinished edges should be inserted into seams or hemmed.

"The design of the lace can be used to camouflage seams. Cut seams to keep so that the bottom edge is cut straight and the top follows the design motif. Top stitch following the outline of the motif. Trim excess fabric from the underside.

"Narrow zigzag stitches are ideal for stitching and appliqueing laces. For a sheer look underneath, fabrics may be cut away or supported with organdy or other sheer fabrics," the specialist suggested.

The Lanes, for years, have been our adopted family, Jerry having preached on many Sundays as Dr. John English's assistant. He also often led our "Song Fests." Meanwhile, as he taught school here, his mind was on his deep-rooted desire to preach or at least work in some branch of Christian Ministry. An illness had diverted his path into teaching rather than preaching. So in 1972, he gave up teaching in Hereford and worked in Panhandle with his father, selling machinery.

Thriving Pasture

J.E. Brooks poses amid some of the thriving grass on his farm four miles south of Hereford. Grasses included in the pasture are tall fescue, smooth brome and orchard grass. Brooks is currently carrying out a Great Plains Conservation Program contract with the Soil Conservation Service. He has established some 75 acres of irrigated pasture on his farm.

Beef To Meet New USDA Standard

AUSTIN—Revised U.S. grade standards for beef will become effective April 14, making it possible for slightly leaner beef to qualify for grades USDA Prime and Choice.

According to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, the revisions will also establish a more restrictive Good grade, increase uniformity in eating characteristics (tenderness, juiciness and flavor), and require that all graded beef be identified for quality and yield or ratio of fat to lean.

U.S. Department of Agriculture officials said the long-range effect of applying yield to all graded carcasses could be the most significant factor in reducing the amount of excess fat on cattle and beef.

Most of the cost of producing, shipping and trimming excess fat could be avoided by increasing the number of cattle which can produce thickly muscled, high quality beef with little excess fat.

Officials said greater production of this type of cattle can be hastened through price incentives.

Federal grading of beef is a voluntary service for which users pay a fee. USDA yield grades, number 1 through 5, measure percentage of trimmed retail cuts a carcass will produce. Quality grades like Prime, Choice and Good measure tenderness, juiciness and flavor and are based primarily on marbling and maturity.

The revision will eliminate a third grading factor, conformation or shape of carcass, which does not effect the eating characteristics of beef.

"Consumers have come to expect high quality Choice beef, which is sold in most supermarkets," White said. "But those who want leaner beef at a lower price will be pleased with the redesigned Good grade."

"The range of quality characteristics of Good has been reduced by about 50 percent which will result in a highly uniform, consistently palatable product," he continued. "Because this quality of beef can be produced at a lower cost than Prime or Choice, consumers may be seeing more of it in the market."

Brooks Carrying Out Great Plains Program

BY ED BLACKWELL

J.E. Brooks, who farms 4 miles south of Hereford, is currently carrying out a Great Plains Conservation Program contract with the Soil Conservation Service. Brooks has done a good job of providing adequate land treatment to his cattle and horse farm, after entering the program in 1970.

He will complete his contract December 31, 1975. While in the Great Plains Conservation Program, Brooks has established 75 acres of irrigated pasture and changed what was once a deep gulley into a beautiful grassed waterway. The farm is now adequately protected from wind and water erosion. With the continued good management that Brooks provides, the farm will continue to provide a stable income. Brooks believes that management is the key to making the irrigated pasture pay off for him. This includes proper irrigation, fertilization, grazing use, weed control and rotation grazing.

The Soil Conservation Service office in Hereford is currently administering 37 active contracts in Deaf Smith County with farmers and ranchers. The primary object of the Great Plains Conservation Program is to assist farmers and ranchers in carrying out on a voluntary basis, a plan of operations that, through cropping and grazing systems and the application of enduring soil and water conservation practices, bring about greater stability to operating units and the area.

Cooling Technique Protects Peaches

A new cooling technique, first tried on apples in Utah, is being used by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station researchers in Lubbock to protect peaches from freeze by preventing early blooms.

In both 1974 and 1975, the researchers delayed the blooming period of peaches about two weeks at the Wolfe Orchard near Seminole. This spring, the sprinkled trees have one-third to one half of a full crop, say the scientists. At the same time all blooms on the unsprinkled trees of the same variety were frozen.

Dr. Otto Wilke and Dr. Bill Lipe, along with National Weather Service Agricultural Meteorologist Oliver Newton, are working cooperatively in the venture. Their aim is to come up with a method that can be used commercially to prevent destruction of peach crops by late freezes.

The approach is based on an understanding of deciduous fruit trees (trees which lose their leaves in winter), say Wilke and Lipe. Such trees require a period of temperatures below 45 degrees F to allow them to blossom to following spring. In West Texas, peach trees satisfy this internal dormancy in late December or in January.

Once rest is satisfied, the fruiting buds can begin growth, but are held in check by cold temperatures. As temperatures rise above 45 degrees F, the tree becomes active. The period of time between termination of rest and bloom is determined by the number of degree-hours above 45 degrees F. If temperatures can be reduced during this period, blooms are delayed.

When water is sprayed on the trees, evaporation from the wet limbs cools the buds, reducing the number of degree hours above 45 degrees F.

Lipe says it has been known for years that delayed blooming can be achieved by cooling. So far as he knows, however, this method has never been used on peach trees.

The system is a three-gallons-per-minute 360 degree shubberty nozzle mounted on a five-foot riser in the center of each tree. Each nozzle was turned on for 30 seconds every four minutes, explains Wilke, who designed the system.

In 1974, flow was sequenced among trees by a timer, dc stepping switch, and 24-v solenoid valves. In 1975, water-driven flow-dividers were used for sequencing.

Says Wilke, "In both cases, a thermostat was used to automatically actuate the system when the temperature exceeded 45 degrees F. And in both years, sprinklers were turned off in late March to prevent salt damage to open blooms and emerging leaves."

The researchers report in some fruit growing areas producers can use undertree sprinklers or smudge pots during freezes to warm orchards and protect open blooms. Because high winds rapidly transport heat away from trees here in West Texas, those methods are usually ineffective in the surrounding area.

Oliver Newton says that the evaporative method of cooling is effective only in semiarid areas where the relative humidity is low.

Schlabs Gets DeKalb Award

Tom Schlabs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schlabs of Hereford was recently named winner of the 1975 DeKalb Agricultural Accomplishment Award.

The award, sponsored by DeKalb Ag Research, Inc., is presented to the outstanding senior in vocational ag departments around the country.

Winners of the award are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership and a supervised farming program.

Schlabs has been active in the HHS FFA chapter. His projects have included show swine, farm mechanics and a farm program raising maize, corn, sugar beets and cotton.

Following graduation, Schlabs plans to attend West Texas State University where he will major in plant science.

Ways Sought To Boost U.S. Sugar Output

If you're keeping your sugar-bowl understocked these days because of high prices, things may be better in the future. Agricultural researchers are already hard at work trying to come up with ways to boost sugar production in this country.

World demand for sugar out-paced world production in 1974 for the third straight year. Since the United States imports more than half its sugar, the need is apparent for boosting domestic production.

A promising new source of sugar developed by USDA scientists is sweet sorghum. Researchers believe it has special potential as a crop in areas that are too far north for growing sugar cane, and too far south for sugar beets.

Recent tests at Santa Rosa, Tex., demonstrated that sweet sorghum can be milled satisfactorily in a conventional sugar cane mill. Starches in the raw juice which prevent formation of sugar crystals can be removed in cane-juice clarifiers. USDA says more full-scale testing will be required before the process can be commercialized.

Grandson Of Residents Working With Doctors

David Wayne Paul, former Hereford resident and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Paul of Hereford is currently working with doctors in Perryton to learn more about practicing medicine in a small town as opposed to large cities.

Paul is a senior medical student at the University of Texas at Galveston Medical School.

A 1972 graduate of WTSU, he is in Perryton as part of his course work on a work-study program that allows medical students to get field experience in medicine without the structured requirements that an internship will later make on them.

Paul notes that there are no doctors in his family, and planned to be an architect himself when he started out.

Unlike most medical students, he has decided that he would rather work in a small town than in larger urban areas.

"I just feel more comfortable in a small town," he said.

With one year of Medical school to go as well as his internship ahead of him, Paul says his biggest interests at present are obstetrics and pediatrics.

After finishing his work with the Perryton doctors, Paul will go to Lubbock for four months, spending two months working in family medicine and one month each in dermatology and emergency room experience.

Hereford College Student Picked For Rough Army Training School

Wayne Koenig of Hereford, Texas Tech University Army ROTC cadet, has been selected to undergo "the roughest training the Army offers" at the U.S. Army Ranger School.

Only those students who excel in academics and military proficiency are selected for the nine-week-long program which is conducted at Fort Benning, Ga., Mountain Ranger Camp, Dahonega, Ga., and Elgin Air Force Base, Fla., said Lt. Col. George T. Kimbro, professor of military science at Texas Tech University.

Koenig, a junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Koenig of Route 3, Hereford, and is a 1972 graduate of Hereford High School.

Col. Kimbro said the Fort Benning phase of the training concentrates on preparing men, both mentally and physically, for the practical work conducted at the other two locations.

Physical conditioning involves exercises, hand-to-hand combat instruction, bayonet drill, obstacle courses, running long distances, and water survival training. Classes will be conducted in patrolling operations, weapons, communication means, first aid, and living off the land.

"All of the Ranger training is designed to impart military skills," Col. Kimbro said. "Most important, however, is the leadership training it will provide. Wayne will be required to direct the efforts of other students on a rotating basis. He may be called upon during a moonless night to lead a tired and hungry patrol from a swampy area to liberate some stimulated prisoners of war.

During the training, the young student will learn a lot about himself. He will learn what his physical and mental limits are through the intensive and rigorous training."

Cadet Koenig, a two-year Army ROTC scholarship recipient, is majoring in psychology. In the Military Science program he is active with the Double-T Rifle Team and the Counter-Guerrilla Unit.

Last year he attended the Airborne School at Fort Benning where he earned the Silver Wings of a U.S. Army paratrooper.

Getting Experience

Late Taxpayers Charged 9 Per Cent After July 1

The interest rate for taxpayers who are delinquent in paying Federal tax bills, or have been granted extensions of time to file, will jump to nine per cent per year beginning July 1, 1975, according to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

A.W. McCanness, district director of IRS operations in North Texas, said today that the higher interest rate will be charged on all overdue taxes as a result of legislation enacted on January 1, 1975. The present rate is six per cent per year on most taxes.

The government, which now pays six per cent per year on overpayments by taxpayers, will also pay nine per cent interest starting July 1. Interest becomes payable if the overpayment is refunded to a taxpayer more than 45 days from the due date of the tax return, or from the date the return is received by the IRS, whichever is later, McCanness said.

In addition to hiking the interest rate to nine per cent, the law provides for increasing or decreasing the rate in the future, to keep it in line with the prime interest rate commercial banks charge their largest customers.

McCanness pointed out that there has been no change in the percentage charged for the late payment penalty. The penalty remains one half of one per cent of the unpaid tax for each month or part of a month the tax remains unpaid, to a maximum of 25 per cent of the unpaid amount. Penalties may be imposed on top of interest charged for late tax payments.

Military Record Correction Steps Told Veterans

Jack Coker, Veterans Administration Regional Director, reminds veterans of their right to request correction of what they feel are errors or injustices in their military records.

Application must be submitted to the branch in which the veteran served, but VA can provide the necessary Department of Defense form, DD-149, "Application for Correction of Military or Naval Records."

Coker pointed out that while some errors may seem insignificant, corrections of others could prove important, resulting in eligibility for VA and other benefits.

Generally, veterans are expected to file requests for correction within three years, but this deadline may be waived in interest of justice, Coker said.

Applications may be filed by the veteran, survivors, or legal representatives.

By The Garden Gate With Glad

By Gladys Manjeot

Four years ago while in Kansas, I started studying about sunflowers. The sunflower is the state flower of Kansas and since I married a native Kansan, it has been a challenge to learn more about this state flower.

In some of the findings, I learned that their seeds are becoming very popular eaten as nuts and that there was a probability that a cure for cancer and other diseases might be found in the sunflower.

Big and Bright, the sunflower has become a popular symbol—a lively personification of the organic living idea. It represents a friendly link with the birds, who enjoy its seeds so much, as well as with the ecology-conservation concept that seeks to protect our wildlife and the environment.

In the early days of America, the Indians used the sunflower seed for food. They found it tasty and satisfying. Since that time, scientists and chemists have determined that the sunflower seed has exceptional nutritious value. Seeds are 25 per cent protein—therefore they can be put on the same level as meat. They also contain liberal amounts of vitamins, especially A, B-Complex and E in their unsaturated oils.

Homesteaders and farmers have long found sunflowers effective interplanted with corn, along poultry runs and as hedges and borders; they are also very effective when used for screening in the landscape. Bird fanciers plant them so that they will have the seed for winter food for the birds, which like them so well.

The sunflower, especially the Helianthus grows tall and has full foliage, which gives shelter to small wild animals, as well as fowl, when grown near the housing and feeding pens of the chickens.

Throughout the years, I have seen many handsome (they are really attractive) plantings of sunflowers in Hereford, as well as other locations. I recommend them for many reasons. They are good composting material, especially the foliage. They attract birds; they aid in improving the soil where planted. Birds and fowl use them for shelter and in so doing they often roost under the protection of the plants, therefore the soil is enriched by their droppings.

Sunflowers are attractive. Colors are bright and beautiful and you can almost see them grow (like corn). As the sun advances in the sky, the heads of the sunflower turn with the sun. The latter is fascinating to children and also appeals to adults (I have spent hours watching them grow) and the birds coming and going when the seeds have ripened.

The National Youth program, has for several years, had sunflowers as one of the plants for the Junior Gardeners to grow in competition is most interesting to check on the sizes grown and the many uses they have. Not only do sunflowers grow high and large, they have small sunflowers, which yield well.

Seed should be sown 1/2 inch deep, in good soil, with rows 24 to 40 inches apart, and there should be at least 12 inches between seeds. Late April and early May are suggested months for planting. Plants should be cultivated and kept free of weeds. In a dry climate, then it will be necessary to water the plants. The soil should be friable with a pH balance between 6.0 and 7.5. During growth they should be enriched with compost, manure or other humus, for they are heavy-feeders.

I sincerely hope that our area will be one of the leading producers of the popular sunflower. It can be proven a very high commercial product. Grow some in your garden; they really produce delicious edibles, when seed are ripened and toasted. The young folk like them... and I do too.

Would like to see the Johnson Junior Garden Club enter the National growing contest. Our soil can do more and better than many other places. We are told that life gives only time and space—that it is up to the individual to fill his own life and to aid mankind, so grow some sunflowers and encourage your children to join you. Planting and growing is a fun thing to do.

POTTED PLANTS. Many mothers received potted plants Sunday and to enjoy them it will be necessary to take care of them properly. Do not over-water them. Many houseplants are killed by over-watering. A good test is to press the soil with your finger and if it is moist, do not water; if dry and soil does not give to pressure, water. Use warm or tepid water and pour slowly, keeping it away from the foliage.

Place where plant will receive some sunlight, but use caution that direct sunshine does not become too hot; sometimes sifted sunshine is better. If placed in wind draft it will be harmful, however fresh air in the room aids plants as they like to breathe fresh air too.

Groom the plant, if it is a flowering plant. Remove the faded blossoms and keep soil free of fallen bits of foliage and other waste; this will invite insects. Check foliage and plant stalks for insects and, if needed, use a light spray of insecticide. Use care that it will not burn the tender plant.

Turn plant at least once a week to keep it in a healthy condition. Enjoy your plants and gifts so that they will be GLAD they came to your house to stay.

"STUDY TO be a good workman." This might well be the motto of garden club members. Monday, several Hereford gardeners will be joining the people of the state in a symposium, which was held in Abilene, May 12th through 14th, with District VIII Judges Council as hosts. Theme was "Follow Through" and the instructors were Dr. H. Taylor, Mrs. L.P. Johnson, Esther Veramac Ham'l and Dr. Arthur Williams.

Those attending from Hereford were Mmes. Bill Gentry, R.L. Ethridge, John N. Jacobsen Jr. and A.L. (Glad) Manjeot. It is an advanced study and there was much to learn and re-learn; there was fun, relaxation, beauty and good "gardenship."

Springtime must be here, as I saw my first rose in bloom last week and the lady bugs are real busy. Was delighted when I was working in the vegetable garden to see so many of them; they are really a gardener's friend.

This morning while doing my hair, I looked out the window and, lo and behold, there were little plums on the oriental plum tree outside the window. Just for what I saw, I think will have enough to make some jelly. Also, I am happy that the evergreen, both the broad leaf and the needled, are responding and new growth is taking place where the damages were made by the last freeze. So take heart, it does pay to give good care and to be an opportunist gardener. This should be a good year.

Between 130,000 and 150,000 Vietnam refugees have entered the U.S. in the past several weeks. The big question is where will 30,000 refugee heads of families find jobs when there are 4,400,000 unemployed compensation.

The most commendable expression of welcome to the refugees came scattered across the country in low-level service jobs, such as janitorial, domestic and hospital work. Jobs that the unemployed can reject and still receive unemployment compensation.

The most commendable expression of welcome to the refugees came from George Meany, an outspoken labor leader who said that despite a 9 per cent unemployment rate, this country should be able to find jobs for another 30,000. What many Americans do not realize is that this country admits 400,000 legal immigrants every year and this 30,000 person bulge is only a special situation. The 150,000 refugees represent a pretty sizeable hunk of spending power, too.

Thus far, few of the refugees have had any trouble finding work. The majority are doctors, bankers, shopkeepers and businessmen. There are quite a few women and children but very few peasant, workclass persons.

The primary problem is convincing the unemployed Americans that they aren't being ignored or pushed aside in order to jobs to refugees. The government is following the policy of not placing refugees with companies where workers are laid off. But even that policy may not avoid violation of the 1964 Civil Rights Act which prohibits discrimination in hiring on the basis of national origin.

Even if outright hostility disappears in time, resentment will remain for many months and possibly years.

College Cheerleaders

Floresville, Debbie Soils of San Antonio, mascot Ken Wise of San Antonio, Dayna Newberry of San Marcos, Noel Rando of Houston, Donna Thomas of Midland and Bryan Laas of San Marcos. The cheerleaders won their positions in campus-wide student elections. The mascot was picked by the cheerleaders after tryouts.

Oil Production Drops Off

Another 12 months of crude oil production at 100-per cent of the maximum effective recovery rate in nearly all Texas fields has resulted in the second consecutive yearly dropoff in crude oil production in the nation's No. 1 energy state.

An output of less than 1.3-billion barrels of crude in 1974 was almost 32.5-million barrels below the 1973 figure and over 38.7-million barrels short of Texas' all-time record production year of 1972.

Texas' production last year continued to set the pace among this nation's oil producing states, representing approximately 39.4-per cent of total U.S. production, according to statistics compiled by Texas

Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

In 85 years, Texas' oil fields have produced over 39.1-billion barrels of crude oil, approximately 36.2-per cent of total recorded U.S. production.

"The continuing and accelerating decline in production from Texas fields again points up a national crisis—an almost inevitable increase in U.S. dependence on insecure, higher-priced foreign crude oil for this country's basic energy needs," said the Association president, Sherman Hunt, an independent Dallas oilman.

"With about 63-per cent of U.S. production under strict federal price control, producers are caught in the squeeze between an arbitrary price ceiling far below the price of foreign oil and the skyrocketing cost of finding and developing domestic reserves. It remains the Congress' responsibility to adopt economic policies which will encourage rather than hinder the search for new supplies of energy. Only in this way can this downward trend in domestic crude oil production in Texas and elsewhere be reversed," Hunt said.

Jones Attends Best Western Area Meeting

Jack Jones of the Red Carpet Inn-Best Western in Hereford attended a Best Western Area Meeting held recently in Wichita, Kansas.

The two day Area Meeting was attended by more than 200 owners and managers of Best Western motels, hotels and resorts. They met with key executives from the corporate headquarters in Phoenix, Arizona and Best Western Board members.

Best Western, the second largest lodging organization in the world, is divided into seven geographical districts. There are approximately 1,300 Best Westerns located in 900 cities throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. Every spring, meetings are held in each district to review current and future plans for the organization.

Best Western Area Meetings were held this year in Wichita, Kansas; Orlando, Florida; Albany, New York; La Crosse, Wisconsin; San Diego, California and Salt Lake City, Utah. (The Salt Lake City Area Meeting encompassed two Best Western districts.)

National Nursing Home Week, which is concluding today, will be observed from 2-4:30 p.m. at an open house in the Westgate nursing unit of King's Manor Methodist Retirement Home.

Rainbow for Girls, represented here by Leta Nunaly, at right. The spotlight this afternoon will be on Westgate residents, including Everett Smith and Mrs. Jane Hughes.

Refreshments will be served by members of the Manor Auxiliary at Westgate. Mrs. Rodger Ruland, at left, will preside at the refreshment table with the assistance of local Order of Westgate personnel, standing, will welcome visitors today into the local nursing facilities. They are, from left, Mrs. Wayne Trask and Mrs. J.B. Noland, assistant activity personnel; Mrs. Jack Harrell and Mrs. Don Davidson, activity co-directors. Crafts, such as these displayed by their creators will be on exhibit today. Seated from left are Mrs. Virgil Toles with dolls made from socks, Mrs. Floyd Brown with posters and Mrs. Walter Huntley holding one of her paintings.

Mrs. J.J. Durham, center, is president of the Auxiliary and will greet guests with Jerry Barton, LVN, nursing supervisor standing at left. Standing with them are R. R. Jackson and Offus Vick, residents, and Mrs. John Gilmore, LVN, assistant director of nursing. Seated residents are Mrs. Freida Coneway and Mrs. Mary Campbell.

Westgate Opens Doors Today For Reception

King's Manor proper and the cottages will also be open for visitors. Hostess couples will be Mrs. J.R. Stevenson, Mrs. Joe Williams and Mrs. Clyde Hudson and their husbands, Williams, Stevenson and Hudson. Also Mr. and Mrs. David Hill (not pictured) will lead tours for the visitors to the Manor.

Mrs. James Hull Sr. and Mrs. Wayne Thomas, at left, will play piano selections during the reception this afternoon. They are not unacquainted with this instrument as they accompany sign-along periods at Westgate each Friday and Sunday. Others who participate in music sessions are Mrs. Ancl Greenway, her husband and Homer Garrison.

Reception Scheduled At Westgate

A reception today (Sunday) at the Westgate Unit of King's Manor will culminate the observance of National Nursing Home Week here.

A tea will be held today at Westgate from 2-4:30 p.m. Manor Auxiliary members will serve the guests.

No formal program is planned for the reception but piano music will be provided by Westgate resident Mrs. James Hull, Sr. and by Auxiliary member Mrs. Wayne Thomas.

Those receiving guests will include Mrs. Joyce Lyons, Manor administrator; J.J. Durham, auxiliary president; Mrs. Don Davidson, diversional activities director; Jerry Barton, nursing supervisor; Rev. DeWitt Seago, chaplain; and Jim Conkright, president of the

Presiding at the refreshment table will be Roger Ruland, social activities chairman for the auxiliary. He will be assisted by members of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls.

Westgate residents enjoyed a trip to the Deaf Smith County Historical Museum Thursday as part of the week's activities.

"We're fortunate to have an auxiliary with approximately 100 members here," said Mrs. Joyce Lyons, Manor administrator. "The auxiliary members meet many of the patients' needs in our home. The volunteers visit with patients, read to them, take wheelchair patients for strolls, and serve as drivers for recreational, shopping and other excursions," she added.

Mrs. Lyons had high praise for the efforts of the volunteers. "Those who have given their time in these activities have, without exception, found the rewards to be far in excess of the time contributed. This is always true when we give of ourselves in an unselfish act that contributes to the well being and happiness of a fellow human," she commented.

The Manor administrator expresses hope that Hereford residents will visit the facility often in the future and help brighten up the days for its residents.

Mrs. Lyons pointed out that few individuals have ever seen the interior of a nursing home, and prior to World War I, such establishments were thought of as almshouses or the poor farm—a place where the poor went to die.

Hendon-Maddox Wedding Conducted at Irving

Marrriage vows were pledged Saturday evening at Irving by Jodi Murray Maddox of Carrollton and Steven Eugene Hendon of Irving. The ceremony was conducted in Woodhaven Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Honk Hunt, pastor.

Yellow and white gladioli and blue daisies were arranged on either side of the wedding altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.C. Murray of Farmersville. Hendon, who is a graduate of Hereford High School, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Hendon of 126 Kingwood.

The bride was attended by her aunt, Mrs. Kate Robertson of Lewisville. Hendon's brother, Bryan, served as best man.

Sharing duties as ushers were Lonnie Coffey of Lewisville and the bride's brothers, Jim Murray of Josephine and Billy Bob Murray of Farmersville.

Principal wedding selections, "The Sabbath Blessing" from Fiddler on the Roof and "The Lord's Prayer," were sung by Mrs. George C. Moore IV. Mrs. Jon Keller of Irving provided accompaniment at the piano and rendered favorite hymns of the couple. "Day By Day" was recessional music.

The bride wore a carpet-length dress of pale blue chiffon flocked with yellow rosebuds. The empire gown was styled with a square neckline and long bouffant sleeves which gathered at the wrist. Her sheer pinafore featured a flounce on the full skirt and a blue satin sash which tied at back of the empire waistline.

A halo of entwined blue and white daisies was the bridal headpiece. Her bouquet was formed of matching flowers.

Completing the ensemble were a heart-shaped emerald necklace and corresponding earrings, gifts from the bridegroom's parents. The jewelry corresponded to her emerald engagement ring.

Mrs. Robertson, the matron of honor, wore an ensemble similar to the bride's. Yellow hues were picked up in the crepe dress and chiffon pinafore also highlighted with yellow rosebuds. The long gown had short puffed sleeves, square neckline and empire waistline. A yellow satin ribbon clasped the pinafore, tying in back.

She carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisies and wore a ring of matching flowers in her hair.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given in the church parlor. The bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Paul Hendon of Bryan, served the three-tiered chocolate cake which was iced with yellow frosting and topped with a nosegay of yellow and white daisies. Mrs. Jim Murray of Josephine ladled the yellow fruit punch.

Presiding at the registry table was the bridegroom's sister, Miss Pattie Hendon of Hereford.

Among the guests at the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. Hendon and Patti of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. S.L. Hamman Jr. of Hereford; Miss Pam Harmon of Amalfillo; Mrs. Parmer Norton, Mr. and Mrs. D.D. Hetzel and Dr. and Mrs. Cliff Skiles, all of Hereford.

Leaving on a wedding trip to San Antonio, Mrs. Hendon wore steel-blue pants and a blue and white print jersey blouse over a white shell with white sandals.

The couple will be at home after their honeymoon at 922 W. Rochelle, Irving.

A 1969 graduate of Farmersville High School, Mrs. Hendon is a 1971 graduate of Executive Secretarial School. She is now employed by Digital Equipment Corporation in Dallas.

Hendon completed high school studies here in 1968. He graduated from West Texas State University in 1973 and is employed by Las Colinas Equestrian Center, Irving.

A pre-nuptial courtesy honored Jodi Maddox during April in the home of Mrs. D. Hetzel, 213 Fir.

Welcoming guests with the honoree were Mrs. Eugene Hendon and Miss Pattie Hendon, mother and sister, respectively, of her intended husband.

The bride-to-be was presented a corsage of white roses encircled with blue ribbon. Other members of the receiving line wore white and yellow daisy corsages.

Bridal colors of blue, yellow and white were incorporated into shower decorations. Also, blue and yellow flowers enhanced the cake which was served with coffee or punch. A floor-length blue tablecloth designed with a flounce covered the refreshment table. A crochet overlay, which was made by the hostess, was presented as a gift to the honoree.

Out-of-town shower guests included Mrs. Hugh Harmon of Guymon, Okla.; Miss Pam Harmon of Amarillo; Mrs. Jimmy Martin of Amarillo; Mrs. Darrell McLain of Hart; Mrs. Vic Nelson of Olton; Mrs. Bill Harmon of Dimmitt.

Sorority Observes Third Birthday

Alpha Iota Mu Ritual chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority celebrated the third anniversary of its inception Thursday evening at a buffet supper at Chef Luis Restaurant in Amarillo.

As the final meeting of this year, members installed officers for this coming fall. The traditional BSP installation ritual was conducted by Mrs. Ken Walsler, departing president. Placed in office were Mrs. Chick Holbert, president; Mrs. Ken Glenn, vice president; Miss Dixie Ford, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Darwin Heun, recording secretary; Mrs. Mrs. Johnnie Burkhalter, treasurer; Mrs. Floyd Neill, extension officer.

Following conducted business, secret sisters were unveiled and gifts exchanged.

Mrs. David McDonald presented the program on home planning.

Guests at the anniversary party were Mrs. John Schneider, previous member advisor, and Mrs. Chuck Laing and Mrs. Max Stipe, current advisors. Two charter members, Mrs. Grant Garrett of Childress and Mrs. Jerry LaFrance of Olton, were also present.

Regular members in attendance included Mmes. Ron Davies, Jimmy Bell, Burkhalter, Glenn, Holbert, Coy Mason, McDonald, Fred Ruland, Gerald Sledge, Walsler, Eldon Koch and Heun.

Also, Misses Ford, Phyllis Gerdson, Betty Barrett and Linda Wilhite.

Local Couple Married In Afternoon Ceremony

Bell V. Williams of 112 Centre and John Thomas Reid of Hereford were wed Saturday afternoon in Wesley Methodist Church by the Rev. Jack Moore, pastor.

The bride, who is employed at Garrison Seed Company, is the daughter of Mrs. Clifford E. Payton of Decatur, Ark. Reid, employee of Arrowhead Mills, is the son of Mrs. John H. Reid of Trinidad, Colo.

Spring flowers and greenery arranged in a large basket decorated the altar.

Serving the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Clyde Sorrells. Best man was Dave Sorrells.

Ushering guests to their seats were James Reid the bridegroom's son who is stationed in Germany, and Ed Tibilas.

Wedding music was provided at the piano by Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr. who performed "I Love You Truly" and "Something."

Given in marriage by her son, Ross Williams of Lubbock, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white voile patterned with small pastel flowers. The long sleeves on the princess style dress were trimmed with ruffles at the wrist.

Her bouffant veil of imported lace and illusion cascaded from a cap of pale blue voile. She carried a bouquet of white spider daisies.

A pearl necklace given to her by her brother was worn by the bride and she carried a good luck penny she received several years ago from her father.

Her single attendant wore a voile gown of pale blue voile and carried a nosegay of matching daisies.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church Fellowship Hall. The white heart-shaped cake which was topped with blue forget-me-nots centered the refreshment table covered with white cloth and blue overlay.

Mrs. Frank Seward of Minco, Okla., sister of the bride, served the cake with punch poured by Miss Celia Morris of Lubbock. Miss Kiska Hodges registered guests.

Others assisting were Mmes. Ed Roe, Marvin Kendrick and A.E. Hodges.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Seward of Minco; the groom's mother and Jerry Reid, both of Trinidad.

Wearing a baby blue pantsuit, which was a gift from her children, Mrs. Reid and her husband left for a honeymoon trip to Colorado and other points.

The couple will be at home at 112 Centre after May 25.

Mrs. Reid is a graduate of Dimmitt High School. She is active in North Hereford Extension Club, Hereford Rebekah Lodge, the Camp Fire Council and Hereford Medical Auxiliary.

A graduate of Trinidad Colo. High School, Reid attended college for two years. He is a member of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Miss Hersley Married Against Spring Setting

Fresh-cut flowers decorated the sanctuary of Temple Baptist Church Saturday afternoon for the wedding ceremony of Miss Joann Patricia Hersley and James Carol Wilson.

The Rev. Charles Broadbent of Lubbock officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Harold L. Hersley of 209 Ave. B and the late Mrs. Hersley. The bridegroom is the son of Winston Wilson of Muleshoe and Mrs. E.E. Motters of Hale Center.

Spring flowers from Mrs. Masters home garden were arranged to enhance the marriage setting.

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. Tim Leatherman of Lubbock, and Miss Wanyth Barclay of Vega. Marvin Wilson of Amarillo served his brother as best man. Gary Elan of Friona was present as groomsmen.

Assisting as ushers were Jim Hersley of Chicago and Tim Leatherman of Lubbock.

"How Great Thou Art" and "The First Time Ever" were principal wedding selections sung by Mrs. Craig Pouch, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Jones.

Excited to the altar by her fiancé, the bride wore an empire-style gown of snowflake-pearl-de-sioux designed with buttoned neckline and tapered long sleeves. A band of white satin encircled the waistline and clasped in center front with a jeweled bow.

Pearl-crested lace covered the fitted bodice, cathedral train and cascaded in a panel down the center front of the dress. The long train was fastened at center back with a large bow.

Imperial lace embellished with seed pearls covered the small headpiece which suspended an elbow-length, bouffant veil of candlelight illusion.

A ring which had belonged to her mother was worn by the bride as an heirloom piece.

Her bouquet and flowers carried by the attendants were spring blooms, also from the groom's mother's garden.

The custom of honor and bridesmaid were identical too-length gowns of aqua polyester knit. Styled with high waistlines, the dresses had v-necklines and included waist which tied at center back. Baffles edged the necklines, long sleeves and hems.

The church fellowship hall was the site of a wedding reception which immediately followed the ceremony.

Trimmed with aqua frosting and pink roses, the white three-tiered cake was served by Mrs. Jim Hersley, the bride's sister-in-law. Punch and coffee were poured by Mrs. Trish Rasmussen and Mrs. Monty Smith. Guests were registered by Mrs. Jan Hersley, sister-in-law of the bride.

Again, flowers from Mrs. Masters home were decorations.

Mrs. Wilson wore a three piece pantsuit of lime green slacks and halter top with a patterned overblouse, for a wedding trip to points in south Texas. The couple will be home after June 1.

A 1972 graduate of Hereford High School, Mrs. Wilson is a student at West Texas State University and is employed as assistant administrator of King's Manor Methodist Home.

Her husband is currently employed as a game warden trainee by the Texas State Parks and Wildlife Department. He graduated from Hale Center High School in 1966.

Among the wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leatherman of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Jan Hersley of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Randall Wright of Lubbock; Dale Hersley of Etoile; Mrs. Jan Hersley of Etoile; Mrs. Masters of Hale Center; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hatcher of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Winston Wilson of Muleshoe.

Wyche HD Club Holds Craft Day

Dip 'n' Drape dolls were attempted Thursday by Wyche Extension Club members during a craft day at Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

Mrs. J.H. Holden helped her fellow members work on the project prior to a covered dish luncheon. A brief business session resulted in election of officers next year.

Named to office were Mrs. L.B. Wortham, president; Mrs. W.P. Aze, vice president; Mrs. Bob Thoutt, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Holden, council delegate; Mrs. E.C. Hewitt Jr., alternate delegate; Mrs. Harly Ward, reporter; Mrs. Iza Ott, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Ott was hostess to members present, who included Misses Frank Duncan, Hewitt, Wayne Jones, Wortham and Holden.

Ceramic Club Completes Year

Officers of Ceramic Art Club were installed during ceremonies Wednesday afternoon in Hereford Country Club.

Mrs. Leona Seavey conducted installation of these newly-elected officers: Mrs. Lloyd Kirkby, president; Mrs. Charles Springer, vice president; Mrs. J.W. Stengel, secretary-treasurer-reporter; Mrs. Seavey, historian.

Appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Seavey for her role in directing ceramic classes at Westgate nursing unit of King's Manor this year. Assisting her in this activity were Misses Springer, Bright Han, George De Boer, Ben Greider, Stengel, Curtis Wright and Kirkby.

Recognized as a guest at the Dutch treat buffet luncheon was Mrs. Han's mother, Mrs. Don McMillin.

Members in attendance included Misses O.H. Calpepper, De Boer, Seavey, Greider, Han, Hromas, Kirkby, Zelma Kuykendall, Springer and Stengel.

Guild To Rate Piano Students

Over 100 piano students of Hereford teachers will try for high ratings in the annual audition of the National Guild of Piano Teachers to be held between May 19 and 23 at the First Christian Church here.

The piano students will be judged for ratings only and not on competition among each other. Each is provided a critique of the performance by a single judge representing the Guild.

This year's judge is Mary R. Wiltshire of Baltimore Md. She has a varied background in music as she has taught at public schools in Texas and given private instruction in Texas and Maryland.

She received a bachelor's and master's degree from West Texas State University in Canyon and has studied at Clarendon Junior College in Clarendon, University of Southern California in Los Angeles, Art Publication Society and Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., Chicago Musical College and the Juillard School of Music in New York City.

The students represent the following local piano teachers: Mrs. Charles Jones, Miss Francis Parker, Mrs. Buddy Peeler, Mrs. Jim Hudgens, Mrs. Joe Hacker, Mrs. Tom Burdett, Mrs. Paul Lyons, Mrs. Jack Rodgers, Mrs. Charles Jones and Mrs. Lyles Holmes.

Chairman for the auditions is Mrs. Charles Jones.

July Wedding Set

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brady, 110 Star St., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jeannine, to Kenny R. Rus her, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth O. Rus her, 124 Av. B. The wedding ceremony will be held July 5 in the First Christian Church with the Rev. Eugene Brink, pastor, officiating. The bride-elect is a candidate for graduation at Hereford High School and is employed at Bill Brady Photography. The prospective bridegroom is a 1972 Hereford High graduate and attended West Texas State University. He is employed at Deaf Smith County Electric Co-Op. The couple will reside at 904 E. Third St.

Meat Prices Climb

Meat prices are on the move again—upward, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Olyatt.

"Retail beef prices, generally declining since last September, now will begin increasing somewhat as supplies are slightly less abundant," the consumer marketing information specialist explained.

"Pork and poultry supplies—not as plentiful as beef—will continue to increase, especially as the barbecue season nears," she predicted.

One commodity with lower prices is the egg.

Mrs. Olyatt, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service,

The Texas A&M University System, termed eggs "one of the best protein buys currently available."

In the dairy department, consumers can expect reasonable prices on liquid milk, cottage cheese and dry powdered milk.

Produce counters show a mixture of spring and summer vegetables.

Soft-shell yellow squash and green beans are more plentiful, and corn-on-the-cob will double April's supply during May, Mrs. Olyatt said. Potatoes remain abundant, and new shipments of Round Reds are increasing.

In fruit sections, oranges are more plentiful than grapefruit, but both have moderate prices, the specialist noted.

"Strawberries and pineapples are featured items in some stores with quality generally very good, and watermelon prices are gradually dropping as supply increases."

Other vegetables at the most economical prices are beets, celery, cabbage, carrots, dry yellow onions, collards, mustard, turnips and greens.

Miss Turner Receives Scholarship

Ellena Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Turner of Arlington, former residents of Hereford, has been awarded a four year scholarship in voice and music at Tarleton State University at Stephenville. She will graduate June 3 from Sam Houston High School in Arlington.

Miss Turner is a 1975 member of the All-State Choir, Alto 1 section; Area 1 member for two years and a three year member of Region V.

She recently entered, and won a scholarship and two trophies, in the 1975 All-City Teen Follies, an annual project of the Sundown Kiwanis Club of Arlington. She sang a solo and accompanied herself at the piano for her talent competition.

She has been active in choirs, school and church, participating in A Capella choir for 2 years, Texan Belles, a special girls' choir, for 3 years and sang for six years in a girls' quartet at church. This same girls' quartet was active in school until one of the girls' graduated and they became a trio. They have performed at area Civic Clubs, Country Clubs, Banquets, State Fair and a Dallas television station, as a trio, in Texan Belles and she has been a frequent soloist.

Active in UIL for the past four years, she will be returning to Austin in early June, to perform in a "P.D. Bach" Comedy voice and kitchen instrumental number. She was photographer's model for 1975 seniors at Blauvelt Studio of Arlington.

ELLENA TURNER

Zimmerman in Recital

Zann Zimmerman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ron Zimmerman, will be presented in a piano recital Sunday at 3 p.m. in First Christian Church.

An eighth grade student at La Plata Junior School, she was a twirler for the school band. A winner of superior ratings in the local music festival and National Guild auditions, she also participated in the Texas Girls Choir Competition and Amarillo Symphony auditions.

She is a student of Mrs. Joe Hacker and Stanley Potter, West Texas State University. Miss Zimmerman will perform music from all periods including Bach Two-Part Invention, Mozart Sonata and concerto, Debussy's "Golliwog Cakewalk", "Malaguna" by Lecuona and "Toccata" by Khachaturian.

She will be assisted on the program by vocalist, Sabra Hacker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hacker. Miss Hacker is a sophomore at Hereford High School and a student of Mrs. Allen Casler.

Her selections will be "Gonna Build a Mountain" by Newley and "I Enjoy Being a Girl" by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Burges of Hereford announce the engagement of their daughter, Carmela, to Jerry Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Brock, also of Hereford. The couple will repeat marriage vows July 25 in Temple Baptist Church. Miss Burges has attended West Texas State University and is currently employed at Campbell Realtors. Brock is employed at Hereford Glass. Both are 1974 graduates of Hereford High School.

Books Needed Now For DAR Project

Paperback and hardcover books, magazines and records are being collected now by members of Los Ciboleros Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in preparation for a book sale June 7.

Proceeds from this activity will be used as further payment on microfilm and the micro-reader which was donated to Deaf Smith County Library by the local DAR chapter.

Collection boxes for discarded literature have been established at various city locations, including Sugarland Mall, First National Bank, Hereford State Bank and the library.

DAR members have also offered to come and pick up donated books. To accomplish this, contact Mrs. V.O. Hennen at 364-0291, Mrs. Charlie Holt at 357-2520, Mrs. C.F. Newsom at 364-1420 or Mrs. L.W. Norvell at 364-4475.

Security Measure?

If Texas Legislators wonder why they continue to have "a bad press" they can find one good reason in a bit of monkey business processed by both Houses last week in Austin. . . a "legislative security" measure adopted without debate and with almost lightning speed which has the effect of boosting retirement pay for veteran members of that illustrious body to a cool $18,000 a year for legislators with 30 years service.

The House amendment which increased the present maximum of $10,800 a year in retirement benefits to the $18,000 mark was never debated before adoption. It altered a state employee and officials retirement systems overhaul to gear elected officers pensions to the pay of district judges.

After a fire-storm of newspaper criticism followed the unheralded and undebated action, both House and Senate back and passed resolutions endorsing their decision and urging the governor to sign the bill. Now aren't you glad you voted for that pay raise amendment for this bunch of brigands?

The continuing mystery to us is why members of the Legislature go to all the trouble to legalize a madding-piddling pay raise through the amendment process when they have consistently demonstrated their talent for doubling their money through back-door expense account padding? That mystery is only deeped by the general public's ho-hum attitude toward this siphoning off of public funds.

—The Canadian Record

'My Business'

The American Civil Liberties Union recently filed discrimination charges against a number of prominent New York restaurants, accusing them of hiring only waiters rather than waitresses. After a required waiting period of 180 days, spokesmen said the ACLU will file a $2.4 million suit in federal court.

When newspapers asked the restaurant owners and operators about their practices, some said no waitresses had ever applied, some said no others talked about having to work late hours, and still others gave similar explanations. But the owner of a French restaurant explained that the did not hire waitresses because "that is the way I run my business."

Americans have become so regulated by laws, rules, and edicts, governing the most minute areas of human activity, that it sounds shocking if not downright brazen to hear entrepreneurs talking about "my business." Can you imagine the ACLU's scorn when it gets that reckless man into court? Entrepreneurs talking about "my business." Can you imagine every day that there is a pattern of discrimination against waitresses, since they seem to be at least as numerous as waiters. And when the law and courts start attempting to dictate hiring choices where no broad discrimination pattern exists, is it not a sign of an overregulated society?

Indeed, there are areas in which women face discrimination involving unequal pay for equal work, bank lending policies and other questions. But it hardly serves the interests of women or anyone else to try to create issues where none exist.

May Memories

Remembering seems to be a heartstring of May. Practically all states remember their fallen soldiers this month—most of them on the last Monday, this year the 26th. Virginia remembers that day as Confederate Memorial Day (the Carolinas observe May 10th). And a few states observe the 30th, or another day.

North Carolinians observe the 20th as Mecklenburg Day—the anniversary of a declaration of independence at Charlotte in 1775. In Massachusetts and across the nation intellectuals observe Ralph Waldo Emerson's birth anniversary—the 25th (Boston, 1803). But perhaps the most nostalgic day other than memorial day for Americans is the 21st.

On that day in 1927 Charles Lindbergh flew from New York to Paris in a single engine plane, spanning the Atlantic alone. He took off on the 20th and landed in Paris on the 21st. Not only did he win a prize of $25,000 for that feat but he won immortality.

Instead of a quiet rest in Paris, where he had several letters of introduction he thought he would need, Lindbergh became the international hero of the day, idol of men, women and children everywhere. The young American pilot of the twenties lives on today—his aircraft, "The Spirit of St. Louis," can be seen in Washington's Smithsonian Museum.

Business and You

By Jack Woodriddle
Communications General Manager
U. S. Chamber of Commerce

In these recession days, you may be seeing or hearing references to the "hot dog ad" which helped pull us out of an earlier recession. If you've missed it, here is the original text:

A MAN LIVED BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD . . . and sold hot dogs.

He was hard of hearing, so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes, so he had no newspaper.

But he sold hot dogs. He put up a sign on the highway, telling how good they were.

He stood by the side of the road and cried, "Buy a hot dog, mister!"

And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders and he bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.

He got his son home from college to help him. But then something happened.

His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? There's a big depression on. The international situation is terrible, and the domestic situation is even worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son has been to college. He listens to the radio and reads the papers, so he ought to know."

So, the father cut down on the bun order, took down his advertising signs, and no longer bothered to stand on the highway to sell hot dogs.

His hot dog sales fell almost over night. "You were right, son," the father said to the boy.

"We are certainly in the middle of a great depression."

This ran as an ad in the American Metals Market, a small trade paper, back in January 1958. You may remember we were in a recession then, too, and people were criticizing President Eisenhower for not taking drastic action. A Lancaster, Pennsylvania aluminum company called Quaker State Metals, was persuaded by Sage Swanson, public relations consultant, that the "crazy ad" might help.

The editor of American Metals Market sent copies of the ad with a "Dear Editor" letter all over the country and suddenly every one was laughing at the recession fears.

President Eisenhower waved it at his visitors. Commentators and the news weeklies, as well as many papers, repeated it. Mr. Swanson claims that Mr. Eisenhower and his aides believe it had a lot to do with turning the economy around.

We don't have a new "hot dog story" today but we do have lots of evidence that our country is not going to the dogs.

Some businessmen recently ran an ad in New York titled "What's Right With America." It was prepared by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and we invited readers to write in what they think is right about America. We have been overwhelmed with responses.

Now the ad is being sponsored by other businessmen in other cities and published by some papers as a public service.

We know we can't talk ourselves out of a recession but a good look at the positive facts should help as much as the old hot dog story.

Let's Yell 'King's -X'

BY JAMES ROBERTS
Andrews Co. News

Remember the old childhood phrase "King-X"?

In the game of tag, if you ran and ran until your legs couldn't pump enough oxygen and the chaser was closing in fast, it was expedient to yell, "King's -X", and gain a breather.

The old phrase came to mind this week when we poured through a two-day accumulation of mail in the desk. . . and the vast majority contained warnings and dire predictions of laws passed or about to be passed in Washington or in Austin.

It's overwhelming—and it just seems like that the best thing for the American taxpayer to do at this stage of the game is to holler "King's -X" and stop all action in Washington and Austin.

We hope in all the hullabaloo during the next 14 months as we celebrate the nation's 200th birthday, the people do not forget the one central theme that brought about the American Revolution: taxation.

And perhaps when the fanfare is over, people will be a little more aware of just how much in common they have nowadays with those people of 200 years ago.

Farmers and merchants enjoyed a healthy, seldomseen freedom for 150 years before the American Revolution. Times were good and Yankee Clippers were taking the harvests of the colonies and trading it around the world for sugar, silver, gold, spices, molasses, rum and slaves.

And in a relative short period of time, historywise, this nation developed the wealthiest middle class with the highest standard of living in the world. . . and the people enjoyed it and loved it.

But following the French-Indian war the taxation by the mother country of Britain changed. It changed from taxation designed to restrict the American colonies to one of farming and merchantmen to one designed to raise revenues.

And the trouble started! Englishmen looked at the wealth of the people in the colonies and decided to start taking bigger slice off the top. . . and the colonists hit the ceiling. The worst pill to swallow for the colonists was the fact that the Parliament kept passing more legislation calling for more taxes yet the colonists had no representatives serving in Parliament.

And the famous cry: "Taxation without representation is tyranny" developed.

Eventually the yoke of taxation became so heavy that the American Revolution was born.

And from the birth of the Republic of 1776, the nation fared rather well for 160 years. . . things haven't gone so well of late.

Perhaps the real reason that the American people are again feeling the burden of their government is the fact that once again we have taxation and restriction without representation.

We have moved from taxes and restrictions passed by our elected lawmakers to taxes and restrictions by bureau edict.

We're no longer ruled and taxed by elected representatives in the White House or in Congress but by appointed bureau mamees by civil servants answerable to no one but their own code of empire building.

Talk of Texas

By Jack Maguire

GRAVE MISTAKE—Ray H. Green of The Glimmer Mirror, one of the 23 papers in which "Talk of Texas" appears, vouches for this story:

Many years ago, an Upshur County farmer named Arnold employed a large number of blacks on his cotton plantation. When his tenants asked that he provide them with a cemetery, he set aside two acres of his plantation in perpetuity as a burial ground.

Years later, in 1968, the Texas Highway Department decided to widen and straighten U.S. 271 between Glimmer and Pittsburg. The new route fronted on the old cemetery and a stake bearing a ribbon was set by the highway surveyors about 50 feet east of the nearest grave.

About the same time, a former tenant of the Arnold farm died in Fort Worth. His last request was to be buried in the old cemetery. The undertaker was instructed to bring the coffin to the burial ground and prepare for the interment at a point where a stake would be set. The caretaker selected a site at the rear of the cemetery at the farthest point from the new highway.

When the undertaker arrived, however, the first stake he saw was the one marking the new highway route. He and his helper dug a grave and buried the body on the right-of-way of proposed road. When highway engineers discovered what had happened, they faced a choice: Go through the legal problems of having the body removed to a new grave or else redesign the highway. They chose the latter course, resurveying more than half a mile of the route and bending the road so that it missed the new grave.

TEXAS BRAG—San Antonio boasts the second largest horizontal office building in the U.S.

It is the new headquarters of the United States Automobile Association, a cooperative providing insurance for all branches of the armed services. The building, with gross square footage of almost 3,200,000 square feet, is second only in size to the Pentagon in Washington.

The building spreads over 18 acres of a 286-acre site on the northern outskirts of San Antonio. Construction required 262,000 tons of concrete—enough to build a 600-mile sidewalk stretching from San Antonio to El Paso. The 1,800-foot long building (actually five structures interconnected by a central spine) is so large that mail is delivered by small trains running on a monorail.

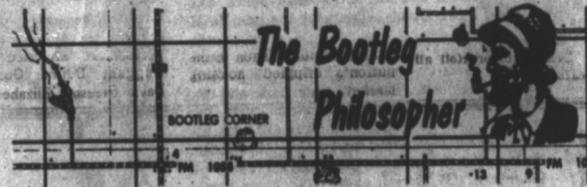

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Devils River, which rises in northeastern Crockett County and flows southward for 100 miles into the Rio Grande, was first named for a Christian saint.

In 1839, Captain John Coffee Hayes, the fabled Texas Ranger, came upon a river gorge after riding for miles across an arid plain. He asked a Mexican who came along the name of the stream and was told that it was "San Pedro's."

"Saint Peter's, hell!" Hayes retorted. "It looks like the Devil's river to me."

It has been called Devils River since.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES—In Dallas, a hamburger stand advertises: "Don't worry about the price. Shoot the works while you've got it."

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg Corner takes a last look at the Viet Nam war this week.

Dear editor:

I know President Ford has said we ought to forget about the Viet Nam war and turn our thoughts to other things here at home, and I intend to, but there's one last thing I'd like to say.

As I understand it, one of the stated reasons for our being over there was the domino theory, that if South Viet Nam fell to the Communists then another country would, then another and another like dominoes do when you stand them one end in a row and push the first one over.

I have thought this over and while I haven't figured out who stood those countries on end in the first place, and who set them up in rows, I followed the war in the newspapers and on television, noticing that the more we bombed the less we won, that the Generals who didn't seem to know the war wasn't in a tunnel, it was out in the jungles. In fact, we went through countless tunnels, only to find they led to nowhere.

Therefore I've come to the conclusion that the game over there wasn't dominoes, it was checkers.

But it wasn't played by the rules of checkers used here in Hereford. The Viet Cong played like all its checkers were kings from the start of the game and you could move them forward or backward any time you pleased and jump in any direction you wanted and over as many spaces as you liked. If it looked like they were losing they'd grab their checkers and move to another board in another part of the jungle.

I don't know why it never occurred to our leaders that you can't play dominoes on a checker board.

And the thing I guess we'd better be thinking about is that the General who kept saying we've got the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese mortally weakened and on the run, all we need is a few hundred thousand more men and a few more billion dollars and we'll have victory by Christmas, are the same Generals who will be in charge if the U.S. ever gets into a really genuine war of survival.

President Ford is right, we ought to turn our thoughts to something else, and that may be one of them.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Swim Program Teachers Sought

Hereford's Red Cross swimming program is making an appeal for help from adults and youth in the summer swimming program.

The local unit is particularly in need of volunteers to teach swimming courses this summer at the Hereford City Pool.

Mrs. Richard Zinser, director of the annual program pointed out that persons interested in training classes should contact her immediately at 578-4555.

Classes for teachers will be conducted at a later date this month.

A senior lifesaving course will get underway here Monday and continue through May 24 from 4-7 p.m. The course is open to individuals who have completed swimmers training and are 15 years of age or over. Fee for the course is $2.25, which will go toward maintenance of the pool.

Also planned is a water safety aid course set for May 26-30. No fee will be charged for these lessons. Individuals must have taken swimmers training and be at least 14 years old to enroll.

According to Mrs. Zinser, instructors are critically needed for swimming classes this summer. Classes will be divided into three sessions with the first set to begin June 2.

Classes are designed for youth who have finished the first grade and for adults.

Classes are held from 9 a.m. to noon on weekdays at the city pool and a special class for adults will be scheduled each evening at 6:30.

The second session will be held June 23-July 4 and the final session will be July 14-25.

Individuals desiring further information may contact Mrs. Zinser or G.C. Graves at Hereford High School.

Marriage Planned

Miss Ruby Fay Bell and Terry G. Teaschner have announced plans to marry May 24 at First United Methodist Church in Dimmitt. Miss Bell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bell of Kress, is a graduate of Kress High School. She completed studies at Texas Tech University and is presently employed by the Dimmitt Independent School District. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Damron of Hereford. He graduated from Hereford High School and attended Texas Tech. Teaschner is employed by Cluck Feedyards, Dimmitt.

The Jolly Dollies Blue Bird group met Thursday in the home of their leader, Mrs. Allen Evers.

They were served refreshments by Daphne Perez.

Aiming for their Star Bird patch, the group made packets for the children in the hospital and delivered them to Deaf Smith General hospital. They were treated to a tour of the hospital which was conducted by Mrs. Johnnie Dupnik, assistant leader and an LVN at the hospital.

Blue Birds present were Cathy Bartels, Cynthia Barrera, Michelle, Shannon Evers, Maudy Mazurek, Michelle Lopez, Daphne Perez and Lori Walterscheid. Special guests included Sandy, Richard and Russell Evers.

ON HOUSING STARTS

The Commerce Department reported the steady drop in the number of new housing units started, and building permits issued were less last month, indicating possible stabilization of the nation's crippled housing market.

Mrs. Bradly Stars

Pupils In Recital

Mrs. Bill Bradly presented two groups of piano students in a spring recital Thursday evening in her home, 110 Star.

Those youth presenting solos and ensembles in the first segment were Steve Beene, Pat Mercer, Shirla Greenway, Laurie O'Rand, Decann Walser, Jeff Mercer, Dan Ricketts, Christie Beene and Lisa Blakely.

The second group of performers included Daria Duggan, Donna Gonzales, David Greeson, Elizabeth Willis, Lydia Cortez, Janet Burdine, Jana Grimsley, Patricia Grimsley and Richard Waters.

SUPPER SCHEDULED BY SENIOR CITIZENS

Local senior citizens are invited to a covered dish supper at 7 p.m. Thursday in Community Center.

Money multiplies the power of man, either for better or for worse.

Miss Shan Banks, graduate of Hereford High School, received a bachelor of science degree in education Saturday from Texas Tech University at Lubbock. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Banks of Milo Center, she has been a member of the President's hostess and the WTBU Student Education Association. Her teaching field qualifies her for general social science. Miss Banks was listed on the Dean's Honor Roll all four years.

Red Cross Seminar Conducted

American Red Cross first aid training and disaster preparedness programs were conducted here Wednesday and Thursday, drawing representatives from across the Panhandle region.

Officials from the West Texas ARC Division who directed seminar lessons were Jim Welch of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. James Moody of Childress and Bill Lynch of Fort Worth. Deaf Smith County ARC leaders who played vital roles in the forum included Mrs. H.H. Miller, executive secretary; John Poindexter, chairman; Don Daugherty, disaster preparedness chairman; Mrs. Corinne J. Neely, orientation chairman.

Six area residents qualified as multi-media first aid instructors Wednesday after completing the second half of a course led by Jim Welch, safety services representative. These trainees viewed instructional films and practiced first aid skills in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

Participants included Joann Collis of Muleshoe, Deputy Sheriff David J. Slaughter of Dimmitt; Marshal Lonny N. Rhynes of Dimmitt, Connie T. Brumley, Charles Watson and Mrs. Tommy Blasingame, all of Hereford.

Numerous aspects of ARC volunteer work were defined and discussed Thursday by executive ARC personnel who assembled at Hereford Community Center.

Mrs. Neely, local board member, and previous executive secretary, registered guests from 9-10 a.m. Poindexter gave the welcoming address.

New texts available on water safety instruction were analyzed by Welch during the first segment of two programs that morning. He also defined skills which are necessary for different ARC certificates.

Following his presentation,

Moody, disaster preparedness consultant, emphasized the importance of being ready for emergency situations, such as tornadoes and other major accidents. "It could happen to you," he stressed "and it is vital that another person be able to assume your Red Cross responsibilities in case you are injured or killed."

After lunch at K-Bob's Restaurant, an open discussion period was held concerning the topics covered earlier that day. Regular ARC meetings were also suggested.

Disaster preparedness workshops were conducted simultaneously Thursday evening at the Red Cross office here and The Medallion Room of the Rural Electric Co-operative.

At the REC building, Bill

Lynch and Don Daugherty distributed information on the main steps of operation in case of emergency situations. Survey of the situation's severity, mass care for victims and organization were discussed.

Meanwhile, Mrs. James Moody was stationed at the ARC office where she told of the procedural tools which are available to volunteer case-workers following a disaster. "The victim is of paramount importance," she commented. "The caseworker's first obligation should be directed to these stricken individuals."

Lynch then joined Mrs. Moody at the Red Cross office and they conducted a mock interview between a disaster victim and ARC volunteer.

Attending one or both of the sessions Thursday were:

Joe Herber of Lubbock, Jean Streety of Littlefield, Bobbie Jennings of Lubbock, Mrs. Bonnie Haberer of Littlefield, Thelma Philpott of Plainview, Dr. Stephen E. Kirtley of Plainview.

Nelle Peters of Plainview, Jo D. Cox of Dumas, Mrs. Bruce L. Miller, Mrs. Lee Umsted, Mrs. Dale Henson, Nell Culpepper, Mrs. Neely and Mrs. Miller, all of Hereford.

Representing Amarillo were Ruth Booth and Sue Osborne. Also from Deaf Smith County were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Dettmann and Mmes. Edgar Sowell, Clarence Betzen, Alfred Smith, Blasingame, Willis Duggan, Buel Monroe, Don Douglas and Umsted.

L'Allegra Club Winds Up Season

Tokens depicting a wild west theme were given to new officers of L'Allegra Study Club during installation rituals Thursday in the Country Club.

Mrs. Jim Carnahan placed these women in office: Mrs. Gerald Parker, president; Mrs. Jim Conkright, vice president; Mrs. Cameron Gault, treasurer; Mrs. Burns Hamilton, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Rudy Metz, historian; Mrs. Terry Caviness, recording secretary; Mrs. Bill Lyles, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carnahan, parliamentarian; Mrs. David Jeffries, reporter.

Secret pals were revealed and gifts exchanged as members met for the final time this season.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mmes. Dennis Farley, Bobby Veigel, Danny Martin and Wesley Gully. Members present included Mmes. Joe Reinsauer Jr., Aaron Hutto, Gerald Payne, Alex Schroeter, Tommy Carnahan, Bill Warrick, Eddie Reinsauer, John Smith, Cliff Skiles, Gary McQuigg, Dwaine Walker, Hugh McCray and Dennis Lomas.

Jimmy Jobe Is Promoted

Jimmy C. Jobe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Jobe, Route 2, Hereford, was promoted to Army specialist tour while assigned as a light air defense electronic technician in the 3rd Infantry Division in Giebelstadt, Germany.

Inducted Into Office

Installation of officers highlighted the final meeting of L'Allegra Study Club Thursday. Placed in office were, from left, standing: Mrs. Rudy Metz, historian; Mrs. Burns Hamilton, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Terry Caviness, recording secretary; Mrs. Cameron Gault, treasurer; Mrs. David Jeffries, reporter; seated: Mrs. Jim Carnahan, parliamentarian; Mrs. Gerald Parker, president; Mrs. Jim Conkright, vice president. Mrs. Bill Lyles, corresponding secretary, is not pictured.

Garden Club Holds Closing Luncheon

Mrs. Billy Wayne Sisson installed new officers of Bud to Blossom Garden Club Friday in her home where members wrapped up another year.

After a luncheon, these women were inducted into office: Mrs. Gaylon Bryan, president; Mrs. Jess Robinson, first vice president; Mrs. W.H. Gentry, second vice president; Mrs. Jim Pavlock, third vice president; Miss Gladys Setliff, secretary-reporter; Mrs. Sam Long, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Polan, federated garden club reporter.

Two new members were welcomed into the club. They were Mrs. Robert Betzen and Mrs. Ruben Gutierrez.

Under the direction of the new president, members voted to write a letter to the City Commission, asking for the preservation of the nature area in Veterans' Park.

Work as if you were to live 100 years; pray as if you were to die tomorrow. -Benjamin Franklin.

More things are wrought by prayer Than this world dreams of. -Alfred Tennyson

North Hereford Club Nominates Delegate

Mrs. Tony Hoffman was nominated by North Hereford Extension Club Thursday as a delegate to the state convention when members met in the home of Miss Roberta Campbell.

The county Home Demonstration Council will assume travel expenses of three delegates to the Abilene assembly later this year.

Mrs. T.E. Brisendine, president, directed the business meeting which included discussion of birthday gifts to be sent to Kathy Skinner, a resident of Girlstown at Whiteface. Also, a re-upholstered chair and garden planting were personal accomplishments listed in the hostess report.

The hostess presented the program, "Texas Under Six Flags" and described the Spanish influence which is apparent in pioneer songs of the Lone Star State. She also outlined the life of Erastus "Deaf" Smith, this county's namesake who was a scout during the revolution against Mexico.

The next meeting will be a salad luncheon in the home of Mrs. A.E. Hodges on June 19. Those members attending the meeting this week were Mmes.

Brisendine, Paul Hoff, J.A. Crofford, Neal Lemons, Hodges, Iva Saltzman and Bob and Tony Campbell.

Former HHS Students To Be United

Members of the 1930 and 1931 graduating classes of Hereford High School are invited to attend a reception and supper Saturday.

Mrs. A.B. Higgins and Mrs. Deward Roberson will be hostesses at a reception from 2-5 p.m. that day in Community Center. Interested parties are urged to come.

A Dutch treat supper will be held afterwards at 6:30 p.m. at Dickies Restaurant.

This is the third such reunion of these two HHS classes.

Prayer is and remains always a native and deepest impulse of the soul of man. -Thomas Carlyle.

Joyce's Journal Lace For Summerwear

by Joyce Shipp

Romantic, feminine lace looks are inexpensive, easy and fun to add to existing wardrobe items. Lace details and trims are leading fashion items for the warm weather season this year.

Add lace to highlight top or undersides of cuffs, pockets, yokes, collars, bands or flaps. Stitch on lace appliques and ruffles or insert lace edgings into seams to accent blouses, skirts, dresses and sportswear separates.

Lace fabrics and trims range widely in fiber content, recommended care, texture, price and width. Lace dollies, table cloths, scraps or trim from outdated garments are excellent sources for trims.

When adding lace, choose one that compliments and is compatible with the fabric design lines and mood of the original garment.

To achieve a permanent beige or antique lacy look, dip cotton—or a blend of at least 50 per cent cotton—lace in a strong tea solution and simmer 20 minutes. Rinse and dry thoroughly.

A little lace goes a long way. Motifs can be cut apart and separated by clipping away from the mesh background. Don't cut the heavier motif threads.

Due to the mesh and knotted background, the design motif and pattern is the prime consideration in planning placement. The grainline isn't that important.

Lace with finished edges or motifs should be stitched on top of the garment to show off shaped and scalloped edges. Unfinished edges should be inserted into seams or hemmed.

The design of the lace can be used to camouflage seams. Cut seams to lap so that the bottom edge is cut straight and the top follows the design motif. Top stitch following the outline of the motif. Trim excess fabric from the underside.

Narrow zigzag stitches are ideal for stitching and appliqueing laces. For a sheer look underneath, fabrics may be cut away or supported with organdy or other sheer fabrics.

COLORS THIS SUMMER will range from the palest pastels to the boldest brights. Traditional pastels will be freshened by frostings of white or combined with darks like black and navy. Multicolor pastels in florals and scenic prints are a soft, fresh approach to summer. Shrimp, coral, and pink are among the favorites.

Black and white, absent from the summer scene for several years, is back and provides a cool, sophisticated look. Black and white prints on both wovens and knits offer a variety of designs from small geometrics to bold florals.

Vegetable brights round out the palette with colors such as banana, celery, peach and tomato. Worn singly or in combination, these colors are cheerful additions to any wardrobe.

COUNTY HOME Demonstration Council will meet Monday, May 19 at 2:30 p.m. in the courthouse. Officers for the up-coming year will be elected.

We'd like to thank Mrs. Bob Campbell and her committee for working on the Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration float. Those serving on her committee included: Mrs. Tom Hargrave and Mrs. Ralph Warren. We'd also like to thank the ladies who rode on the float and for all the help and time they gave in putting the float together. Efforts like this help build a better community.

Mon Amis Officers Installed Thursday

Shining stars of service were presented to new officers of Mon Amis Study Club Thursday by Mrs. Leroy Edwards in the home of Mrs. Roy Botkin.

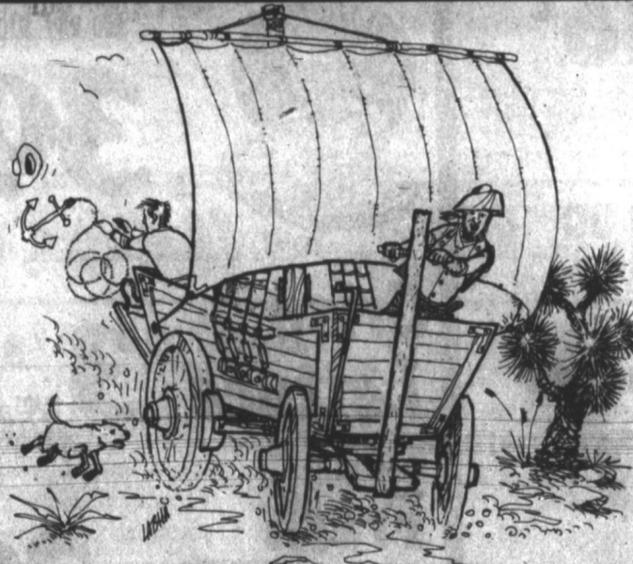

The installation ceremony marked the conclusion of the club's season.

Mrs. Ken Walser conducted the business meeting, during which members opted to do volunteer work again next year at King's Manor and at Deaf Smith County Historical Museum.

Mrs. Fate Shannon and Mrs. Clarence Behrends were recognized as guests.

Representing Hereford State Bank, Mrs. Jack McKinster described the Special Organization Services (SOS) which are available to an individual in times of bereavement.

The entire club registry was present, including Mmes. Bill Broxton, Edwards, James Dobbs, Don Tindal, Ernest Flood and Jerry Don Lance.

Pioneer of Year Nominations Due at KPAN Wednesday

Deadline for nomination letters for the Pioneer of the Year is Wednesday. The annual Mid-Plains Pioneer Day celebration is set for Saturday in the Bull Barn.

Nominations should be more than 25 words concerning an individual who has resided in the immediate area for at least 30 years. These should be submitted to KPAN Radio station, Drawer 1757.

Registration will begin at 9:30 p.m. and there will be a charge of $1.50 for membership dues.

Registration will begin at 9:30 p.m. and there will be a charge of $1.50 for membership dues. Pioneer Study Club members will preside at registration when free coffee and doughnuts will be served.

The business meeting will begin at 10:30 a.m. and a free covered dish luncheon will be served. Benny Womble, president of the association, will preside over the business session.

In addition to the Pioneer of the Year, recognition will be given to the oldest man and woman present and the pair who will highlight the luncheon.

The welcoming address will be presented by Ed Line and the response is expected from L.M. Fertsch. The Rev. Doug Manning, pastor of First Baptist Church, will deliver the invocation. Grant Hanna will lead the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Decorations are being provided by Hereford Garden Club, Garden Beautiful Club and Bud to Blossom Garden Club.

Study Club Officers

The Hereford Study Club recently elected officers. Those chosen to lead the club include Doris Bryant, president; Betty Gilbert, reporter and secretary; Ruth Word, corresponding secretary; Maxine Hartman, vice president; and Morgan Cain, treasurer.

and Billy Wall and Woody McDermitt.

The organization is the 14th county unit to form in the 20 county area region. Its purpose is to hold public education programs on heart disease symptoms and to sponsor clinics

Scribbles and Scratches

WORK WITH THE PUBLIC and you'll get volumes of educational values not available in any classroom. The puzzling aspect of dealing with this swarthy mass of anonymous humans is—where does "the public" come from?

Is it a group of invaders imported to purposefully, and with malicious intent, perturb the everyday American worker? Do they sneak into our shores during the night, cloaked by darkness, and return to their eerie chambers at dusk, like vampires feeding on the souls of American business and industry?

That theory is doubtful. Actually the audacious public aren't little gothic bats; they are more like Mr. Hyde after drinking Dr. Jekyll's ghoulish potion. After a healthy swig of righteous indignation, the finest, upstanding citizen of the community grows fangs and storms after his prey. He becomes "the public."

Confronting "the public" day after day can be disillusioning, depressing and downright disturbing. The only cure, since you can't flick 'em, is to join 'em. So the next time "the public" attacks, swallow your humiliation and, armed with venom, run down the street and tackle the first person you see, whether it be a bank teller, store clerk or news reporter.

SHEEPSKINS AND mortar boards are in obvious use this time of the year, with graduates pouring from high schools, colleges and universities. Some of these scholars are included in today's issue of The Brand and many youth have not been included yet.

One graduate who deserves special recognition is Mrs. Robert Hickman, who received her masters degree in art from West Texas State University yesterday. Joyce is active in this community in several capacities and obviously budgets her time well; not many women with three daughters can go back to school and get a masters degree.

Speaking of her daughters, former Miss Hereford Susie Hickman will be living in Perryton this summer where she will sing on weekends at the Country Club there. During her performances, she will be accompanied by Elson Clark, pianist who has appeared throughout the Panhandle.

Susie says it is her "first real time away from home" and she's excited about her new job. However, as she explains, there will be more studies at West Texas State University again this autumn, when she will be enrolling as a junior nursing major.

YOUNG HOMEMAKERS Extension Club has welcomed Mrs. John Arent as a guest during their last two meetings and mention of it was missed in the paper. So here 'tis.

Materials The following amounts of asphaltic material and aggregate shall be used: OA-175 Asphalt 0.30 gallons per square yard Aggregate #5, Type A, 1 C/Y per 120 S/Y Construction Methods The area to be treated shall be cleaned of dirt, dust or other deleterious matter by sweeping or other approved methods. Asphaltic material shall be applied on the cleaned surface by an approved type of self-propelled pressure distributor so operated as to distribute material in the quantity specified, evenly and smoothly, under a pressure necessary for proper distribution. The Contractor shall provide all necessary facilities for determining the temperature of the asphaltic material in all of the heating equipment and in the distributor, for determining the rate at which it is applied and for securing uniformity at the junction of two distributor loads. The distributor shall have been recently calibrated and the County shall be furnished an accurate and satisfactory record of such calibration. After beginning the work should the yield of the asphaltic material appear to be in error, the distributor shall be calibrated in a manner satisfactory to the County before proceeding with the work. Asphaltic material shall be applied for the full width of the seal coat in one application unless the width exceeds 24 feet. Asphaltic material shall not be applied until immediate covering with aggregate is assured. Aggregate shall be immediately and uniformly spread by an approved self-propelled continuous feed aggregate spreader. The aggregate shall be applied at the approximate
