Hereford business has experienced a tremendous expansion, perhaps an expansion that the present population would not actually justify. The need now is for residential expansion to catch the businesses, a realtor expresses.

In answer to the question of where the labor supply may come from, the Texas Employment Commission finally says that if Wilson and related industries are wanting men from Hereford, they won't be able to find them here without pulling them out of other jobs. Unemployment among the male population is almost as high with women, a "different" situation exists. Their labor supply here is quite adequate, the commission says.

The crux of the matter is that it is not the people from our own areas, however, reports the TEC. The commission may also actively seek to bring workers in from other areas.

DPS Cracks Down On Law Breakers

More Texas motorists in this area are exceeding the posted legal speed limits and safe speeds before state Major Luther Moore, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety Major Moore also said that more 100 miles per hour violators are being apprehended than ever before. In an effort to halt this upsurge in speed additional radar will be used extensively in this area and throughout Texas.

Experience and surveys have shown that about 85 per cent of Texas operators drive at or below an appropriate safe speed. By removing the 15 per cent who drive over the posted limits and safe speeds for existing conditions it will be much safer for the adding 85 per cent

Not only will Wilson bring 200 jobs to the city but others will be created through the expanding services necessary to meet the needs of the many new families coming here. With new facilities going through and an expanding economy in Hereford, the employment commission predicts between 75 and 1,000 new jobs throughout the area creating a recruiting situation. Although they are cautious of population predictions officials think there may be as many as 1500 to 2000 more people in the area.

Building activity in Hereford is up, postal receipts are up, school population is up, with more than 1,000 students estimated to be the school population here, above 100 per cent business growth has been great and general population is now well past the 15,000 mark. What is to come is to be seen, but Hereford citizens will have to begin work now in order to meet the needs that a larger more decentralized population brings with it.

JUST KIDDIN' FOLKS
Hereford, K. William Bear walked into the doctor's office and found it crowded with patients.

"I just want you to know that I'm not here," said Bear, "I'm just here to talk to you about the car."

The doctor, Bear had had a breakdown in the old vehicle for the doctor and is a gas and their passengers," Moore said. "The majority will be supporting any legal means of purging these irresponsible drivers from the road."

These "traffic speeders" will be against any control that will increase the probability of their being arrested for violating the law. They don't mind speed laws so long as they can spot a patrol car a half a mile away. To this group, enforcement to protect life and property is not sporting unless they are warned when an officer is near," Major Moore added.

Now suppose a prowler were in the yard of one of these "traffic speeders" and about to make off with a 96 cent garden hose some dark night.

Would the "traffic speeder" want the police to answer his call with a red light flashing and a siren screaming and scare the prowler away or would he expect the police to use tactics that would insure detection, apprehension and punishment of the thief? Would this "traffic speeder" be interested in giving the thief a "sporting chance" such as the "traffic speeder" expects when he endangers thousands of dollars worth of property and even life while driving on the highway at high speeds. Is the "traffic speeder" would be interested in stopping the act of stealing his garden hose by any legal means ever to jailing the thief?

According to Major Moore this is exactly what the majority of drivers want. They want the practice of high speed stopped by any legal means ever to jailing the drivers or removing them from the highways.

The DPS Commander stated that radar is not for slowing down traffic for a few hundred yards near the location of the radar or slowing speeders down to the speed limit. It is for keeping them from driving over the speed limit. It can do the job when it increases the probability of arrest for speeding. It can increase the probability of arrest only when speeders cannot know when they may be driving over a radar beam. The increase in radar is to provide widespread surveillance with speed regulations. When the probability of a faster arrest increases, driver compliance in-

Benny Hill visited in the Moss home Friday night.

The police only want wide-spread compliance with speed regulations. They are trying to improve driver discipline that there will not be any speeding arrests at all. Whenever you hear a driver squeaking about being caught by radar, you can bet that he is not one of the large majority of drivers who is willing to comply with speed laws as a personal contribution toward safer highways.

It is high time that citizens of Texas take a firmer stand against high speeds. Too many Texas citizens are still dodging the issue — hoping that some miraculous remedy will stop the unprovoked killing on highways without having to apply rapid enforcement against "traffic speeders." Major Moore said.

GROWING FAST — Twin calves, born on the Clifford Allmon farm August 23, are remaining healthy and growing fast, as attested by the pictures. The calves are shown, at left, when they were one day old, and at right, on the eight day. The mother let it be known quickly that both of the calves were hers and she intended to keep them. Allmon and his son, Randy, 16, hold the calves.

Twin Calves Doing Well At Summerfield Farm

Clifford Allmon, who farms and raises Angus cattle about four miles south and west of Summerfield, was only mildly surprised on August 23 when he found two baby calves in his pens.

His attitude changed quickly when he began to try and match each calf with its mother. The Angus cow let him know quickly that both of the calves were hers and she wasn't parting with them.

The calves, which turned out to be heifers, continued to make the rarity of twin births look not so rare during the past week as they gained strength and looked quite healthy. The only problem has been the mother accidentally stepping on the calves.

It was the third set of calves for Allmon, who is relatively new to the Angus raising business. The new additions are registered.

Mrs. Allmon appeared to have the answer as to why the twin births. "Wednesday was double stamp day and they were born on Wednesday.

Whitefaces Kickoff '67 Season Against Floydada

With the experience of two scrimmages under their belts, the Hereford Whitefaces will kickoff the 1967 football season at 8:30 p. m. Friday in Whiteface Stadium against the Floydada Whirlwinds.

The Herd played the Palo Duro Dons to a near standoff in a scrimmage here Friday night, with neither team able to score. The Class AAAA team from Amarillo appeared to be more potent offensively than Hereford, but could not push the ball across.

Palo Duro had three tries for a touchdown inside the 10-yard line at one point, but ran out of downs before they could score Hereford scrimmaged Clovis, N. M., here on August 26.

The team facing the experienced Floydada Whirlwinds will be intermingled with seniors juniors and sophomores, with the nucleus centering around the seniors. There are only seven returning letterman, with one of those having missed all but the final game of the season.

A detailed report on the Whitefaces and Friday night's game will be in Thursday's Hereford Brand.

Portales, N. M., which will play the Hereford Whitefaces here Oct. 6, began their season Friday night with a 26-13 loss to West Mesa of Albuquerque. West Mesa got its touchdowns in the first half and Portales scored its points in the second half.

Services Held For Vasalduva

Funeral services for Pablo Vasalduva, 51, of 213 Lake, who was killed in a one-car accident on the Canyon Expressway early Friday morning, will be held in St. Joseph's Mission.

Burial will be in St. Anthony's Cemetery under direction of Gilliland Funeral Home. Time for the services had not been set Saturday before noon.

Highway Patrolman Bill Clifton, who investigated the accident one-half mile north of Canyon, said that Vasalduva was a passenger in a car driven by Apolonio Dennett, 23, of Hereford. The car, said Clifton, left the highway and slammed into a tree.

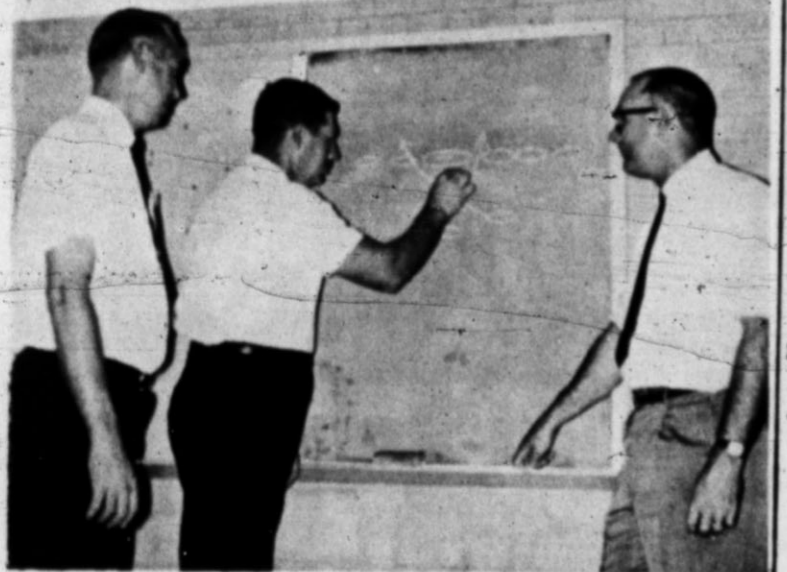

Dennett, who received lacerations, was treated and released at Neblett Hospital in Canyon. He told the highway patrol that Vasalduva had been driving the car, but Clifton said his "report will show Dennett as the driver."

Born on May 3, 1916 at Galeana, Mexico, Vasalduva came to Deaf Smith County in 1950 and had been a trackman for Santa Fe Railway.

Survivors include his wife, Juanita; sons, Willie, and Jerry, and daughter, Carolina.

What's a hospital worth to you? Well, if you're ill and need help it's worth a great deal.

Hospital assets as of August 1, 1967 total $1,967,742.28. That's a pretty sizable asset worth for any business if you're looking at it that way and there aren't many businesses around here that employ 45 people regularly with 9 part-time employees.

However, during 1966 the hospital cared for 222 of patients (out patients total 449) for a total of 2280 Patient Days. The charge for this service (including medicines and without discounts) was $112,872.38.

without the hospital. There are 7 pharmacies, drug well, because we have the doctors. The credit probably figure another 15 employees here.

If there are 22 families working at medical care, that using 4 as the average size of each family there are at least 88 people in Hersford making a living from health facilities.

As we said before, Seigler admits that this is the Chamber of Commerce approach to the thing, and we all know that the hospital is worth much more than money to those who need health care, but just in case you're trying to put it as a dollar and cents basis.

See whether these figures for itself. One could probably go on and on with this type of thing. Actually, when a city reaches a certain size, then it begins to feed off itself - in other words people begin to live off each other. That's what makes the economy go round.

And speaking of the economy it will go quite a head when the Wilson & Co. facilities have been completed and the estimated 20 employees hired for the plant. Add another 20 to the above figures for related service businesses that will follow and you have an additional 40 families that will benefit directly from the Wilson parcel.

And then the road-repair starts again. We're going to need another school before any. Enrollment figures this year are up more than expected, and that in view as construction starts on the Wilson plant, it will go to some more. Certainly the construction boom shouldn't be anything like the one that hit when the $25 million plus fully Super facility was under way, but it will be sizable and will require some outside labor.

Some people may move in to work and decide to stay as they did after the Holly facility was finished. We hope so. We would hope that Hersford always continues to enjoy a steady growth. After all, a town either goes up - or it goes down. It never remains the same.

Chamber Group Meets; Makes Recommendations

The need for representation of Hersford at the Texas Industrial Development conference to be held at College Station on Sept. 24 and 25 was discussed along with other items by members of the Industrial Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Thursday. Several members having expressed a desire to attend the conference, Chamber Manager Bill Thompson was authorized to charter a six-place aircraft for the trip.

The committee was informed of a telephone call from Joe Clark, Industrial Development Manager of the State, presenting the evaluation of $8 per acre foot on the industrial property fronting Progressive and Daisy Roads. While the committee stressed the philosophy of tax evaluation on industrial property, emphasizing the fact that such property produces no revenue until it is developed, Chamber Manager Bill Thompson stated that further consultation with Clark should clarify the matter. City Manager Dudley Bayne, having pointed out that all equalization boards had met and no petitions had been received, offered to keep the committee abreast of the situation. In other business, Thompson gave a detailed report of a recent meeting in Austin relative to pollution investigation and control on Terra Blanca Creek and Buffalo Lake. Thompson stated that it seemed the board created to conduct the investigation was antagonistic and a fair and accurate report could not be obtained. Each member of the industrial committee was requested to do individual research to ascertain the motivation behind the unfavorable attention given these two bodies of water.

Also reviewed by the committee were provisions of the constitutional amendments which would enable cities to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of building industrial plants for lease. The subject was raised pending further study. Members present for the presentation meeting at the Chamber office were Wayne Thomas, Neil Cooper, Edwin Jayne, Dale Young, Dudley Bayne, Ed Lane, and Chamber manager Bill Thompson.

Enrollment Is Up Over State

Public school enrollment will be well above last year's 2.5 million mark as Texas schools sound the bell to begin the 1967-1968 school year, the Texas Education Agency reported today. This year's expected enrollment of 2,598,000 students is up 42,000 — about two percent — over last year's enrollment of 2,556,073 students. The new enrollment will include approximately 1,418,000 elementary students (Grades 1-6) and approximately 1,179,000 secondary students (Grades 7-12).

An estimated 122,000 professional people — including teachers, principals, and superintendents — will be needed this year to look after the educational welfare of the pupil enrollment in an estimated 1,275 Texas school districts. There were about 119,000 professional people working in Texas schools last year.

Agency statisticians also look for an increase in the number of teaching aides to do clerical and other non-teaching tasks. These aides free the teachers for more instructional time with the children.

An estimated 5,000 teaching aides will be on duty in Texas schools this year. Last year there were 4,317.

"This increase in the number of teaching aides indicates that the school districts have been pleased with their performance," says Jerry T. Barton, Director of the Division of Research at the Education Agency.

With more pupils and more teachers this school year, it will take more money to meet the State's obligation to provide a public school education for its young people.

The rising cost of education is reflected in the Agency's estimation that $1,350,000,000 will be spent on public school education in 1967-1968. This is an increase of $55,700,000 — or about four percent — over last year's expenditure of $1,294,300,000.

Based on the expected enrollment and the total cost of public school education, Texas citizens will be spending an estimated $505 to educate each school pupil in the coming year. Last year, the average cost per child was approximately $479.

Although September 1 is considered the official beginning of the school year, the opening day may vary from school district to school district. For instance, many schools in Texas will register students this week.

"Generally, most schools will be opened by the middle of September," says Mr. Barton. "This enables the school districts to provide the required minimum of 175 teaching days specified by Texas law."

Chemical Complex Starts Construction

Ground will be officially broken Sept. 21, for the $18 million anhydrous ammonia fertilizer plant to be built at Borger for Hill Chemicals, Inc., of Dallas, the first step toward a $45 million inland fertilizer complex that will be the nation's largest.

Plans for the ground-breaking ceremonies were completed Friday, August 18, after Hill Chemical's President, John D. Hill, and Kellogg advertising director, A. L. Dowling, talked with George Finger of the Chamber of Commerce's Industrial Development Committee during a one day visit in Borger. Both Hill and Dowling will be present when the first earth is officially moved to begin plant construction.

Ceremonies will be held at the plant site on Farm Market Road 1551 on the south edge of the city at 2:30 P. M., Thursday, September 21. M. W. Kellogg, which will build the plant for Hill Chemicals, has already begun preliminary earth moving at the work site, but the work will get underway in earnest after the ground-breaking festivities.

In addition to Connally, major political figures to be invited include Speaker of the Texas House, Ben Barnes, State Senator, Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo, State Representative Bill Barton of Borger and Harry Clark and John Kelly of the Texas Industrial Commission.

U. S. Representative Bob Price of Pampa, U. S. Representative George Mahon of Lubbock and U. S. Senators John Tower and Ralph Yarborough will be invited.

When completed in late 1968, the plant will have a production capacity of 1000 tons of fertilizer per day. The plant is the 32nd of its kind being built by M. W. Kellogg Company, which pioneered construction of single-train ammonia plants. Their technology cut manufacturing costs up to 50 percent. The 32 plants are expected to account for one-sixth — some 8.5 million tons — of the world's anhydrous ammonia fertilizer supply by 1969.

A second plant of the same size will be built on the 300-acre site south of the city within two years, earlier announcements said.

Natural gas feedstock for the plant will be supplied by Pioneer Natural Gas Company of Amarillo and the Mapco plant at Fritch. Gas plant facilities at Fritch are now being enlarged to meet the fertilizer plant's demand, Mapco spokesman said.

Distribution by an $50-mile Mapco pipeline will take the fertilizer to storage areas in northwestern Iowa. The pipeline will be built next year under terms of a 20-year contract between Hill Chemicals and Mapco.

The construction of the first plant will be headed by Kellogg project manager, Ed Stowell, and construction director, Gordon Jones. A construction crew of some 350 workers, with an annual payroll of some $2,000,000, will also boost Borger's economy in 1968.

Marketing contracts are now

Canon City Services Set For Fred Fain

Fred Fain, who lived on the Fain Ranch south of the Dawn community for nearly 10 years in the early 1940s, died Saturday morning in Canon City, Colo.

Mr. Fain, who was in his 60s, had run the Fain ranch with his brother, Horace of Amarillo. They had been members of the First Methodist Church in Hereford before moving to Canon City about 1948.

Mr. Fain had operated a meat packing business in Canon City and had visited in the Hereford area several times since moving. He also is survived by a son and daughter. Funeral services are tentatively planned for Tuesday in Canon City.

TO HELP ITS NEIGHBOR
NEW DELHI—Nagaland in the extreme eastern part of India has been the exemplary state in a land stalked by famine conditions, Food Minister Jagjivan Ram said.

The tiny primitive state was allotted 3,000 tons of wheat to help tide over its difficult situation. But it has returned 1,000 tons for allocation to more needy areas like Bihar, even though it is in a tight position itself, Ram said.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Hopeful News In Medicine

THE DANGER of accidental poisonings in children is still a great health hazard. Despite all the warnings by health officials, thousands of children are still made desperately ill by consuming taste-like-candy medicines that fall into their curious hands and mouths.

It is well known that these youngsters have a magnetic attraction to and find the well-hidden medicines even when they are stored away in a thought to be inaccessible spot. They have a special talent for opening bottles with caps that are said to be fool-proof, but are not.

Dr. Allen K. Done, of the University of Utah Medical Center, came up with a simple but brilliant idea that may well be the answer to preserving the unnecessary lives lost by poisoning. I am certain that this originated when he witnessed even adult frustration when they attempted to open the plastic strips that contain gum, vitamins, sugar substitutes and packages of peanuts.

I personally know that I have tried my fingers, my nails, my teeth and my temper, and have often given up and thrown away the tempting goodie in sheer despair.

Dr. Done has created a perforated plastic envelope which seems to resist opening by children who finally give up in disgust and go seeking other easier mischievous activity. He believes that children lose interest and do not pursue the task after a few minutes.

He claims that these packages are not particularly inconvenient for adults. I'm afraid he's in for a great surprise when he learns that adults too, give up rather quickly.

It will be worth the frustration for children and adults, however, if it can prevent any of the 63,000 cases of accidental poisonings that occurred in 1965.

Gigantic strides are being made in the prevention, treatment and control of all forms of mental illness. The greatest hope probably lies in the understanding of the chemical imbalance of the body that may be a cause for this vast disease of civilization. Treatment with drugs holds forth the greatest promise for the control of schizophrenia, one of the most desperate of all mental diseases.

Until the final answer is known, all available methods are used in the hope that somewhere at least a single human being can be helped to emerge from the isolation of his own world of fantasy.

Mrs. Marian Chace, a dancer, has found that mental patients, unapproachable by any other means, have become gentle, less aggressive and happier when they are taught the joys of dancing, rhythm and music. Dance therapy seems to liberate many of these obsessed patients from their own fears, hatreds and anger.

Mrs. Chace, working under the supervision of psychiatrists at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Washington, D.C., has added considerably to the recovery of patients and has offered them a sense of belonging during the long period of despair.

Mrs. Joan Kahr of New York City has been duplicating this form of therapy at the Bellevue Hospital in New York City. She is but one of a large group of dedicated people trained by Marian Chace, who is bringing to the mentally ill an additional contribution to their eventual recovery.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH—Medical advice from loving friends is cheap and that's about what it's worth.

The new management's first production is to be "Beyond Desire," a drama about Felix Mendelssohn and his music. Tone will enact a close friend of the composer and serve as narrator. The venture is not expected to interfere with Miss Dalrymple's longstanding activities as impresario of drama presentations at City Center.

MARCH OF EVENTS

TOUGH FIGHT AHEAD FOR LBJ TAX BOOST      CONGRESS EXPECTED TO LOWER IT TO 6%

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Johnson's request for a tax increase has been a long time in coming. And when it did come, it surprised most observers by its larger-than-expected size. For many months the government let it be known that a 6 per cent surcharge was being considered on both individual and company tax payments. While the President hinted a few weeks ago that a higher figure might be proposed, the guessing had been a maximum of 8 per cent, and not the 10 per cent ultimately requested. Further, there were many in Washington who, knowing Johnson's predilection for managing the impact of his announcements, suspected that the hint of higher taxes was simply a ploy to make his request seem modest when made. He has resorted to this kind of thing before.

This time, though, the announcement, together with his past pattern of behavior, boomeranged. The net effect was to exaggerate greatly the size of the tax increase he was requesting. It served to give legislators and that segment of business and the public opposed to any tax increase, the kind of initial adverse public reaction that would help them in opposing the request.

As things now stand in Washington, there are few observers who believe that Congress will reject the request completely. Likewise there are few who think Congress will grant the entire 10 per cent increase. Most observers believe a 6 per cent figure is the maximum that Congress will enact, and that the date for imposing the increases will be delayed to coincide with the beginning of the tax-calculating year, Jan. 1, 1967.

● THE PICTURESQUE WORD—Yiddish expressions, used by comedians and given national circulation by radio and television, have finally invaded the halls of Congress.

A Senate committee issued a report on Defense Department planning, programming and budgetary procedures. One of the papers included in the document contained the following observation:

"The good systems analyst is a 'cochem', a Yiddish word meaning 'wise man' with overtones of 'wise guy.' His forte is creativity. . . . He looks down upon those who say they take objectives as given, knowing full well that most people do not know what they want because they do not know what they can get."

CHICAGO. Declaring that prayer should be "the most natural thing in the world," the Rev. Kenneth Wilson writes in the Methodist monthly, Together, that people ought to quit using special terminology such as "thou" and "thy" in their prayers.

High teams and coaches will be in Thursday's Hereford Brand.

Joe Kerbel To Coach WT Buffs In Absentia

West Texas State University's head football coach Joe Kerbel, convalescing satisfactorily at his Canyon residence following a slight coronary suffered July 30, 1967 was not present when football practice began Thursday.
Coach Kerbel will direct Fall practices and the football program without personally being present according to local physicians.

Assistant coaches Jack (Sleepy) Harris and C. E. (Dirk) Dierking will be meeting daily with Kerbel so that he can direct the Fall workouts without actually being present on the practice field.
"My physicians have advised me that I will be able to re-join the team sometime in the very near future," says Kerbel.

Conservatism Remains Strong Demos: Time A Big Factor In Success GOP: 'More Miles Per Gov't Dollar'

Deaf Smith County's Democrat chairman is Leo Witkowski, who takes a hard look at what criteria people should use to judge their President. Unlike John Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson doesn't have the handsome looks and the flowing speech that is so persuasive on television — but these are items that a president should not be judged upon, Witkowski points out.

LEO WITKOWSKI

Education requiring more than any four years to get accomplished, is the lacking factor today in civil rights, Witkowski believes. Referring specifically to Negroes, the Democrat chairman points out that they are not, and awakened them to the fact that they can do better. But because of the inevitable educational need, the Negroes are still the ones to be unemployed.

"We must remember that, despite some of our economic problems, we do have full employment . . . to the point that the problem is to get someone to work who is qualified. Employers just want someone who will get the job done." Until the Negro can achieve an educational status equal to that of other citizens in the country, he will be behind, Witkowski says — and demonstrations won't solve that problem. The Negro has to be willing to help himself.

War on Poverty programs are only an initial investment in this country, the Democrat points out Witkowski. Some programs in 1968 would be a tremendous loss of taxpayers' money because investments could not be recovered.

Time is a big factor here, points out Witkowski. Some worked out in just a few years, and people should not expect them to be. But poverty-stricken people can be compared to problem children — if nothing is done to improve the situation "you and I have to take care of them whether we like it or not," Witkowski exclaims. "We've got to make tax-eaters into taxpayers." The War on Poverty should be judged on whether it is a paying proposition, Witkowski points out, and whether it is churning money into the taxing agencies.

Comments have been made on the administration of the poverty program, specifically its costs — but Witkowski points out that "to get the right kind of man, you've simply got to pay him a salary. We've got to remember that the day-to-day costs of doing business are higher in the East, and that higher salaries are necessary in order to keep-qualified personnel."

Much criticism has been leveled at federal spending and federal taxation. But it can be compared to growing old, Witkowski explains. "We don't always like it, but it is certainly better than the alternative." The economy has been active under Democrat administrations, Witkowski points out.

Vietnam has been a source of trouble as far as popularity polls for the President are concerned. Witkowski is not one to voice any firm opinion, stating, "We all have our opinions but how can we possibly know all the conditions that the President is aware of —?"

"We have to be able to change from time to time, as conditions change. All we can do with the current situation is study it — and decide a course based on what is going on now."

The farm program is in need of upgrading farmers' incomes, Witkowski believes; he works on this point actively through his association with various farmers' organizations. The farmer is caught in a price-cost squeeze, and needs help to keep his head above water.

WT Tickets Now On Sale Here

CANYON — McDowell Pharmacy in Hereford is one of 33 Panhandle locations at which season tickets for West Texas State University football games may be purchased.

Athletic Director Frank Kimbrough stated that there are 13 ticket locations in Amarillo and 20 others in Panhandle cities. They include the Bi-Wize-Drug in Friona, First State Bank in Vega, Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co. in Dimmitt, First State Bank in Bovina, and Buffalo Bookstore and Buffalo Drug in Canyon.

Cost of season tickets with chair are $24. Bench seats without chair, backs and electrical outlets are priced at $21. Cost of individual game seats are $4 for chair seats and $3.50 for bench seats. Bleacher seats cost $2 for adults and 50 cents for children high school age and under.

The 1967 home schedule includes Sept. 16, Montana State (Amarillo Night); Sept. 23, Utah State; Sept. 30, University of Pacific; Oct. 7, Colorado State Oct. 14, San Jose State (Mom and Dad's Night), and Oct. 28, Arlington State (Homecoming). All games begin at 7:30 p. m.

The Texas Highway Department, 50 years old this year, maintains more than 750 thousand signs along the State highway system.

Deaf Smith County's Republican chairman, Frank Ford Jr., is looking forward to an active election year in 1968; Ford sees a primary contest centered around three top contenders, Richard Nixon, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, all destined to be imminent in the 1968 primaries. "In order to win, the nominee must have a conservative approach and be able to unify the party," Ford believes. Republicans are going to have to take a moderate but purposeful approach, judging "each issue on whether or not we can afford it and how we are going to get the maximum mileage out of the dollars spent." He foresees a strong platform on individual and human rights, but containing firm dealings with riots and crime.

FRANK FORD JR.

Optimistically anticipating a Republican victory nationally, Ford contends that the present administration has turned some would-be voters against it. "The War on Poverty has raised false hopes . . . the results have been few in benefits to the underprivileged. VISTA has been highly successful because it has utilized dedicated young people who are willing to work on mere subsistence allowances, but the later, Johnson approach has brought high paying bureaucratic salaries — it's a haven for defeated Democrat politicians and political hangers-on."

What would the people see done with the War on Poverty should a Republican be elected president in 1968? Ford believes that some expenditures would be reduced — but with efficiency increased through a more effective administration of the desirable programs, with more emphasis on local effort.

"Johnson apparently has been more interested in seeing how much legislation he could pass, rather than making it work," Ford contends. He points out that Johnson has stated that, without his proposed 10 per cent tax increase, U. S. citizens are to be faced with a $35 billion deficit.

"Johnson has sown the wind, and is now reaping the whirlwind," quips Ford, "thinking that federal spending is the answer to every problem. But excessive federal spending has brought inflationary conditions, weakened the dollar and made it more difficult for state, county, city and school taxing agencies to find adequate tax resources."

Looking to the Vietnamese war, bound to be another bone that Republicans are going to want to pick in 1968, Ford believes that "in trying to please all sectors, Johnson has pleased no one. He has done what was politically expedient — and that is not leadership, certainly not in war. Actions taken too late have cost this country tremendously in lives, fiscal outlays, and in effectiveness in the war-torn country."

"No Republican administration is going to cut and run in Vietnam," Ford exclaims. "The argument as to whether or not we should be there is behind us: we are there. But we should be using the resources of the Philippines, Japan, South Korea and other Asian countries who have been in similar situations to a greater degree. We can't finance or police the whole world by ourselves. During the past few years we have seen the partial disintegration of both SEATO and NATO; our allies' support of our foreign commitments is on the downgrade. The free world apparently has lost confidence in Johnson's ability and his integrity."

Turning back to the domestic scene, Ford says that "the administration is definitely in trouble with the farmers. Prices are down to the lowest parity point in a generation while costs are up. The farm belt is in revolt."

On the state scene, the Republican Party has established task force study groups on education, human relations, job opportunities, and several other phases of state government. More Republican legislators are in store for Texas, a positive development for a two-party system, the Republican chairman here believes.

Education Group Recommends Changes For '68

A recommendation that the new teacher banquet be scheduled one week later was made at a meeting of the Education Committee of the Chamber of Commerce Friday at a noon luncheon at the Hickory Log Restaurant. The recommendation was made after a discussion of the difficulties centering around the usual date. Conflict with summer graduation at West Texas State University and the difficulty in obtaining addresses for the new teachers were among the reasons for the change.

Also recommended was the attendance of members of the school board and their wives and members of the Education Committee as guests of the Chamber of Commerce. The mailing of a name card for guests to their hosts, along with a letter of explanation, was another suggestion made by the committee in its efforts to improve the annual affair for the new teachers.

Friday, Sept. 22 was set as the date for the next meeting of the committee, at which time the content of adult educational courses proposed to be offered at the high school be examined, along with the courses needed, the availability of teachers, teaching materials and other aspects of the proposal.

Members present included Leo Forrest, Chairman of the Educational Committee, Neil Cooper, Chamber president, Manager Bill Thompson, Mrs. Jim McAndrews, A. J. (Major) Schroeter, Lynn Pittard, Hazen Woods, Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine, Andrew Shuval, Mrs. J. R. Allison, and Roy Hartman.

IN AUSTIN

Water, Inc. Men Meet With Board

AUSTIN — Members of the executive committee of water, Inc. met Friday in Austin with the Texas Water Development Board. Subject of the meeting was the proposed Texas Water Plan as it pertains to the transportation of additional water resources to the High Plains of Texas for irrigation, municipal and industrial purposes.

John Kendrick, president of water, Inc., reported after the meeting that the organization pledged support and encouragement of the West Texas people to the development of a state-wide plan. "In return," Kendrick said, "we received assurance from the staff of the Texas Water Board of their cooperation and early completion of the state-wide plan, which would include the delivery of in-state and out-of-state water to the areas of the greatest need."

J. W. Buchanan of Dumas, temporary manager of water, Inc. activities, stated that the Austin meeting was most productive with all parties freely exchanging information and ideas for the development of a state water plan. Buchanan explained that "it appears that the quantity of water in excess of the needs in the river basins of Northeast Texas is not as great as was first anticipated. This means that additional studies for the importation of additional water supplies for the completion of a state-wide plan is needed."

Buchanan also said, "The Austin trip gave us an opportunity to visit with some of the other agencies, both state and federal, who are assisting in the water development project."

Members of the Water, Inc. executive committee who were at the meeting in Austin with Kendrick and Buchanan were A. L. Black of Friona; Homer Garrison of Plainview; Charlie Verner of Lubbock; J. D. Smith of Littlefield; and G. H. Nelson of Lubbock. Another executive committee member, K. B. Watson of Amarillo, was unable to attend.

Holly Official Retires After 35-Year Career

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO. — August 31 — Retirement ceremonies at Holly Sugar Corporation August 31 marked the end of the 35-year sales career of Walter H. Forslund, eastern Sales Manager. During the ceremonies, Marlin C. Chenburg, vice president-marketing, referred to Forslund as "the Gibraltar of Holly's marketing force," and "the man who taught all of us a great deal about the sugar business."

Chenburg announced that Forslund would be succeeded by Clement H. Roy, currently assistant eastern sales manager.

Forslund, a native of Kewanee, Illinois, grew up in Colorado Springs and is a graduate in economics from Colorado College (AB, 1929). He joined Holly's sales distribution department in 1932. In 1948 he was made sales office manager and was promoted to his present position in 1964. In addition to continuous coordination of broker relationships, Forslund was also responsible for supervision of Holly's storage and distribution network throughout the Midwest and Rocky Mountain regions. Despite a demanding travel schedule, he has long been active in local civic and social affairs and upon retirement will continue to maintain his home in Colorado Springs. Roy joined Holly in 1947 as an accountant. He became accounts service manager in the corporation's San Francisco office in 1950 and credit manager in 1954. In 1966 Roy returned to Holly's Colorado Springs office as assistant eastern sales manager.

Beverly Rein Is Bride In Afternoon Wedding

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Beverly Kay Rein and John Duane Powell, both students in Eastern New Mexico University of Portales, in an afternoon ceremony at Immanuel Lutheran Church here Saturday.

The Rev. Otto Krezmann of Friona officiated at an altar lighted by white cathedral tapers in branched candelabra twined with greenery and set beside baskets of white gladiolas and pom-pom mums. The bridal aisle was marked with white bows on pew ends.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rein of Progressive Road, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Powell of Solon, Ohio. The bride's father gave her in marriage in the double ring service.

Her attendants were Miss Roxie Harmon of Center, Colo., maid of honor, and Mrs. Don Britton of Portales, N. M., Pamela Roth of Casper, Wyo., the bride's cousin, was the flower girl.

Don Britton acted as Powell's best man, Dennis Smith and Lanny Rose of Carlsbad, N. M., as ushers. Candles were lighted by Miss Dawn Finch of Westminster, Colo., cousin of the bride.

Before the processional, the maid of honor sang Wedding Prayer. Miss Sherry Tiefel was the organ accompanist, who also played traditional marches. On princess lines, the bride's gown was of snow white slipper satin with long fitted sleeves Crocheted lace threaded with narrow white velvet ribbon outlined the cameo neckline, encircled the wrists and extended the full length of the center front.

Held to her blonde hair by three silk organza roses encrusted with seed pearls, her veil fell in four tiers to elbow length. She carried a colonial nosegay of white roses tied with blue ribbon streamers.

Dresses of the bride's attendants were identical, fashioned in empire style with street-length skirts. Bodice and jacket were of white lace, the skirt of the same lace over forget-me-not blue taffeta. Blue bows were worn in their hair and they carried white pom-pom mums with blue ribbon tufts and streamers.

The flower girl's frock was in the same color, of whip-cream crepe. Her headpiece was like that of the bridesmaids and she carried rose petals in a white basket.

A reception in the church parlor followed the wedding. Mrs. Richard Roth of Casper and Mrs. Robert Baker of Dighton, Kan., aunts of the bride, served the wedding cake as Mrs. Jack Harmon of Center, Colo., poured frosted lime punch Miss Finch was at the guest register.

Touches of blue were used with white gladiolas and mums in the centerpiece, and blue flowers decorated the two-tiered cake which was topped with bride-and-groom figurines.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell will spend a honeymoon in Arizona.

For the trip she wore a jersey suit of white and chocolate stripes, with white accessories and a rose corsage.

After Sept. 9 they will be at home at No. 44, West Campus Apartment, at ENMU. Both are junior students there, she an industrial management major and he a marketing major. She was graduated from Center, Colo., High School and he completed high school work in Mamarroneck, N. Y.

Physics Teacher Attends Study At Trinity

Mike Mills, physics teacher at Hereford High School, was one of 32 teachers from throughout the nation selected to participate in an intensive eight-week study program for physics teachers at Trinity University in San Antonio. The program was supported by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The institute held at Trinity was one of a series of teacher training programs supported by the NSF to meet the increasing demand for competent science teachers. The workshop was designed to acquaint the participants with teaching methods and equipment as used by the physical science study committee, a national organization.

The workshop met Monday and included lecture sessions conducted by members of Trinity's physics faculty, laboratory work, and demonstrations. The main objective of the conference competence in PSSC teaching methods, and to help the teachers motivate talented students toward careers in science.

Mills attended Amarillo Junior College and graduated from Texas Tech. He taught in Albuquerque before joining the faculty of the Hereford schools in 1966.

THEATER RENAMED
NEW YORK—One of off-Broadway's business playhouses, the Greenwich News, is being renamed the Langston Hughes.

Stella Holt, producer at the theater for 15 years, initiated the change to honor the poet-playwright who died May 23. Three Hughes works were staged at the theater, "Simply Heavenly," "Jerico-Jim Crow" and "The Prodigal Son," and a double bill of two other pieces is planned this season.

Roll out tag ends of pastry and cut into small squares. Spread with anchovy paste and flip over in turnover fashion, sealing the ends with the tines of a fork. Bake and serve with before-dinner drinks or as an accompaniment to a vegetable salad.

Then there is Irma, a silver-grey toy poodle at the Jeff Carlile home, and her bouncing young son Steamer. He is a dark grey in color, almost black, but Mrs. Carlile says his hair will turn lighter as he grows up.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN

It sounded appropriate enough when Ruby Smith came by our office in the nippy early hours Thursday morning and cheerfully told the staff, "Merry Christmas!"

SOME PEOPLE will go to a lot of trouble to work out a gag, and several of the staff and residents at Kings Manor cooperated to get a laugh at the farewell party for the L. C. Thomases last week.

Seems that Thomas had remarked when he was checking on costs of a move to Corsicana that he "might have to pass the hat to get enough money to get out of town."

Personnel at the Manor, where he has been business manager several years, had already chipped in for a gift of cash to the Thomases, and his statement gave them an idea.

They found the most battered-up hat that could be located, piled it with paper dollars, and put a band around it with the conspicuous slogan, "Corsicana or Bust!" It was presented at the reception in the Manor where everyone was dressed up and slightly formal up to that point.

IN SOME CASUAL conversation at a civic committee session the other day, School Superintendent Johnny Clark said his son Jimmy, well in his teens, had somehow or other failed to hear that classic story, Three Little Pigs, until recently. When he did hear it, he thought it was one of the funniest ever.

Which, incidentally, supports an idea of mine that most of the stories we believe children love so well, are in fact beloved of the adult tellers instead.

Most of us don't appreciate the humor of Three Little Pigs because we heard it when it wasn't even faintly funny to us, and we grew up without ever sensing its fun.

ANYWAY, CLARK'S observation naturally called forth some comment to the effect that the school head's son seemed to have had his early education neglected.

"I've taken that point up with his mother," Clark imperturbably remarked.

Then someone made a really constructive suggestion: "With your influence, you ought to be able to get Jimmy enrolled in Project Headstart!"

H.D. CHATTER Fresh Ideas For Windows

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

The magic of color, new fabrics, styles and imagination add new dimension to decorating. These magic plans to room planning are wonderful for windows and the entire house decorating.

Today's window shades are practical and decorative. They provide light control, privacy or room darkening when needed. In winter, they help insulate heat and in summer, the shades keep the room cool. New shades and trimming offer ideas unlimited to go with today's home decorating.

Some of the basic rules are to select material that is firm, cut shade with carpenter's square. Cutting on the grain cannot be reliable in shade making because the materials are bonded and often pasted off-grain.

ROOMS FOR TEENS dare to be different and should be reports Mrs. Jane Berry. Extension housing and home furnishing specialist at Texas A&M University.

Mrs. Berry reports that Karl Steinhäuser, a distinguished member of the American Institute of Interior Designers, discussed the topic how teenagers can "live at home and like it" at a recent meeting with representatives of the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers.

"Teens need places to sit and sleep, lots of storage room, since they are avid collectors of things, a desk or table for homework and hobbies and a place to store records and books," Steinhäuser told the furniture manufacturers.

Expression with vibrant off-beat colors is almost an essential in a teen's room. They welcome yellow, Chinese red or shades of blue now being emphasized in youth furniture.

STEINHAUSER RECOMMENDS covering one wall or a portion of it with an inexpensive wall board. Here youth can display personality. The wall board can be either refrigerator cork which comes in 18 x 12-inch slabs or the new moderately priced wood-grained paneling. The wood-grained paneling comes in 4 x 8 foot sections and is grooved for attaching shelves or pictures.

Chances are the "only child" will not be satisfied with sleeping arrangements just for himself, Mrs. Berry says. You have to count on the inevitable overnight guest. Double-deck beds, trundle beds and beds with pop-ups that can be tucked under are favorites.

For the studio look, try Hollywood beds, bolster-back or sit-and-sleep sofas. And recent markets indicate that the canopy bed is again popular for young ladies.

But regardless of style or color, stacking and bunching units with generous storage capacity are increasing in popularity for teen and subteen rooms.

IN THE WORLD of fashion where shabby has long held court, democracy is quietly and effectively gaining control.

According to Miss Rheba Boyles, Extension clothing specialist at Texas A&M University, fashion in its best sense is no longer limited to French rooms, with watered-down imitations trickling down to the lower priced levels. Fashion is happening at every level, with the greatest strides being made in the middle brackets.

Since the birth of the American ready-to-wear industry the traditional source of design has been in Paris. Recently, however, the tide has been turning as the Paris couture keeps a discerning eye on what is happening here.

THIS HAS ENCOURAGED American designers to develop their own point of view. In dresses that sell for $25 to $50, in coats and suits for $100 and under the feeling of originality and experimentation frequently over-shadows the work by designers who sell suits for no less than $500.

The shift, low heels, pants, knits, and raincoats are a few of the recent fashions which have been exuberantly adopted by American women at all economic levels. Fashion is no longer the exclusive province of the rich, as American ready-to-wear takes over-style leadership.

NATURE OFFERS the best materials for dried arrangements and now's the time to collect them. Dried plant materials are ideal for creating designs for fall and winter with an outdoor or nature theme.

Collect grain, weeds, flowers, tree branches and driftwood and drying roses, marigolds, zinnias, salvias, pansies and carnations now in a box of dry sand.

Place an inch of sand in a box. Carefully place the flowers on the sandy surface and slowly pour additional sand over the flowers until covered. Put only one layer of flowers in a box and allow 2 weeks for them to dry. At the end of this time, pierce holes in the bottom of the box and allow sand to drain.

HANG MILKWEED, poppy, yucca, celosia, goldenrod, strawflower and baby's breath upside down to dry. Preserve branches of magnolias, oaks, maples and some woody type flowers in glycerin and water. Stand freshly cut branches in 2 inches of equal parts of glycerin and water for about 2 weeks. Branches will have a glossy, fresh appearance and remain pliable.

Place leaves, ferns and grasses between sheets of newspaper and press with flat boards. Spray dried materials with plastic or wax aerosols for prolonged keeping qualities.

OUT, OUT WAX SPOT — Nothing is more beautiful than, candles with dinner. But nothing is more distressing than wax stains on your best dress or table linens. The stain can be removed by following advice from U. S. Department of Agriculture fabric experts.

Scrape the spot with a dull knife. Place the stained cloth on several layers of facial tissues and press with a warm iron. To remove the slight strain that remains, sponge with a grease solvent.

NEW YORK — Joel Grey is to play George M. Cohan in a musical about the famous actor-writer-songsmith which is scheduled to open in April.

Grey won stellar billing last season as the raffish emcee of the hit "Cabaret."

ANGRY READER — SOUTH BEND, Ind. — An irritated reader of the Roman Catholic magazine, Ave Maria wrote that "I took every damn one of your magazines" out of a church vestible rack, "put them in my bag without paying for one of them and down the incinerator they went when I got home" to protect other Catholic minds.

As a result of the theft, he added in a letter to the editor, "God and his blessed mother will reward me."

Personnel at the Manor, where he has been business manager several years, had already chipped in for a gift of cash to the Thomases, and his statement gave them an idea.

They found the most battered-up hat that could be located, piled it with paper dollars, and put a band around it with the conspicuous slogan, "Corsicana or Bust!" It was presented at the reception in the Manor where everyone was dressed up and slightly formal up to that point.

IN SOME CASUAL conversation at a civic committee session the other day, School Superintendent Johnny Clark said his son Jimmy, well in his teens, had somehow or other failed to hear that classic story, Three Little Pigs, until recently. When he did hear it, he thought it was one of the funniest ever.

Which, incidentally, supports an idea of mine that most of the stories we believe children love so well, are in fact beloved of the adult tellers instead.

Most of us don't appreciate the humor of Three Little Pigs because we heard it when it wasn't even faintly funny to us, and we grew up without ever sensing its fun.

ANYWAY, CLARK'S observation naturally called forth some comment to the effect that the school head's son seemed to have had his early education neglected.

"I've taken that point up with his mother," Clark imperturbably remarked.

Then someone made a really constructive suggestion: "With your influence, you ought to be able to get Jimmy enrolled in Project Headstart!"

NEARLY EVERYWHERE I've been lately there have been some friendly dogs to pet. The latest ones I've met were the Carl Wimberley's Tag, who behaved in a most friendly manner, probably because Mrs. Wimberley was in the yard, but has been trained as a farm watchdog and will bite if the occasion seems to call for that; and another smaller and friendlier dog that is Tag's companion.

Then there is Irma, a silver-grey toy poodle at the Jeff Carlile home, and her bouncing young son Steamer. He is a dark grey in color, almost black, but Mrs. Carlile says his hair will turn lighter as he grows up.

Fresh Ideas For Windows

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

The magic of color, new fabrics, styles and imagination add new dimension to decorating. These magic plans to room planning are wonderful for windows and the entire house decorating.

Today's window shades are practical and decorative. They provide light control, privacy or room darkening when needed. In winter, they help insulate heat and in summer, the shades keep the room cool. New shades and trimming offer ideas unlimited to go with today's home decorating.

Some of the basic rules are to select material that is firm, cut shade with carpenter's square. Cutting on the grain cannot be reliable in shade making because the materials are bonded and often pasted off-grain.

ROOMS FOR TEENS dare to be different and should be, reports Mrs. Jane Berry, Extension housing and home furnishing specialist at Texas A&M University.

Mrs. Berry reports that Karl Steinhauer, a distinguished member of the American Institute of Interior Designers, discussed the topic how teenagers can "live at home and like it" at a recent meeting with representatives of the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers.

"Teens need places to sit and sleep, lots of storage room, since they are avid collectors of things, a desk or table for homework and hobbies and a place to store records and books," Steinhauer told the furniture manufacturers.

Expression with vibrant off-beat colors is almost an essential in a teen's room. They welcome yellow, Chinese red or shades of blue now being emphasized in youth furniture.

STEINHAUSER RECOMMENDS covering one wall or a portion of it with an inexpensive wall board. Here youth can display personality. The wall board can be either refrigerator cork which comes in 18 x 12-inch slabs or the new moderate-priced wood-grained paneling. The wood-grained paneling comes in 4 x 8 foot sections and is grooved for attaching shelves or pictures.

Chances are the "only child" will not be satisfied with sleeping arrangements just for himself, Mrs. Berry says. You have to count on the inevitable overnight guest. Double-deck beds, trundle beds and beds with pop-ups that can be tucked under are favorites.

For the studio look, try Hollywood beds, bolster-back or sit-and-sleep sofas. And recent markets indicate that the canopy bed is again popular for young ladies.

But regardless of style or color, stacking and bunching units with generous storage capacity are increasing in popularity for teen and subteen rooms.

IN THE WORLD of fashion where snobbery has long held court, democracy is quietly and effectively gaining control.

According to Miss Rhea Boyles, Extension clothing specialist at Texas A&M University, fashion in its best sense is no longer limited to French rooms, with watered-down imitations trickling down to the lower priced levels. Fashion is happening at every level, with the greatest strides being made in the middle brackets.

Since the birth of the American ready-to-wear industry the traditional source of design has been in Paris. Recently, however, the tide has been turning as the Paris couture keeps a discerning eye on what is happening here.

THIS HAS ENCOURAGED American designers to develop their own point of view. In dresses that sell for $25 to $50, in coats and suits for $100 and under the feeling of originality and experimentation frequently over-shadows the work by designers who sell suits for no less than $500.

The shift, low heels, pants, knits, and raincoats are a few of the recent fashions which have been exuberantly adopted by American women at all economic levels. Fashion is no longer the exclusive province of the rich, as American ready-to-wear takes over style leadership.

NATURE OFFERS the best materials for dried arrangements and now's the time to collect them. Dried plant materials are ideal for creating designs for fall and winter with an outdoor or nature theme.

Collect grain, weeds, flowers, tree branches and driftwood and drying roses, marigolds, zinnias, salvias, pansies and carnations now in a box of dry sand.

Place an inch of sand in a box. Carefully place the flowers on the sandy surface and slowly pour additional sand over the flowers until covered. Put only one layer of flowers in a box and allow 2 weeks for them to dry. At the end of this time, pierce holes in the bottom of the box and allow sand to drain.

HANG MILKWEED, poppy, yucca, celosia, goldenrod, strawflower and baby's breath upside down to dry. Preserve branches of magnolias, oaks, maples and some woody type flowers in glycerin and water. Stand freshly cut branches in 2 inches of equal parts of glycerin and water for about 2 weeks. Branches will have a glossy, fresh appearance and remain pliable.

Place leaves, ferns and grasses between sheets of newspaper and press with flat boards. Spray dried materials with plastic or wax aerosols for prolonged keeping qualities.

OUT, OUT WAX SPOT — Nothing is more beautiful than candles with dinner. But nothing is more distressing than wax stains on your best dress or table linens. The stain can be removed by following advice from U. S. Department of Agriculture fabric experts.

Scrape the spot with a dull knife. Place the stained cloth on several layers of facial tissues and press with a warm iron. To remove the slight strain that remains, sponge with a grease solvent.

NEW YORK — Joel Grey is to play George M. Cohan in a musical about the famous actor-writer-songsmith which is scheduled to open in April.

Grey won stellar billing last season as the raffish emcee of the hit "Cabaret."

ANGRY READER — SOUTH BEND, Ind. — An irritated reader of the Roman Catholic magazine, Ave Maria wrote that "I took every damn one of your magazines" out of a church vestible rack, "put them in my bag without paying for one of them and down the incinerator they went when I got home" to protect other Catholic minds.

WOMEN LEAD AGAIN - Add to the number of things in which women are superior to men: The Splitting Headache. U. S. National Health Survey recently counted six such headaches a year for women to less than three for men.

In a 12-month period, four and one-half million headaches were severe enough to put their victims out of action for at least one day. But for every splitting headache during this period, there were more than 25 common colds. Although the female is a little worse off, men and women share the sniffles pretty equally.

Research Should Go On

Hereford has grown a lot during the past two decades but, no matter what comes along in the future, we doubt if the community will ever face a more colorful development than during the 1940's when it gained world-wide acclaim as "The Town Without A Toothache".

With this in mind, The Brand joins old timers and neighbors in recognizing the accomplishments of Dr. George Heard, pioneer dentist who was honored last week with erection of a historical marker in his honor.

Dr. Heard, despite the catchy "Town Without A Toothache" phrase, would have been the last person in the world to agree with its content. An acute observer and true scientist, Dr. Heard never in his life proclaimed the misleading phrase. He did discover, however, that dental caries (tooth decay) rates were lower in Hereford than most places — and lived to see the day when his theory was proved in state and national dental circles.

Dr. Heard received thousands of letters from all over the world as a result of his discovery, and was honored on many occasions. These findings, in part, led to production of fluoride additions to toothpaste, which are in wide use around the world even today.

At this point, the incident appears to have come to an abrupt halt, due perhaps to retirement and death of the world-famous doctor. We wonder, though, if Hereford and the remainder of the nation may not be making a serious mistake in not further pursuing his discovery. Today our area still maintains one of the lowest dental caries rates in the civilized world. In addition, bone development in this particular area is far superior to most other known places, a fact which cattlemen recognize along with scientists. There are no doubt other benefits yet to be discovered which might prove equally beneficial.

Meanwhile, those same natural benefits which led to Hereford's toothacheless fame still exist and those of us who reside here continue to benefit from them. Sometime research will, no doubt, uncover additional facts which will benefit mankind.

Cold Weather And The "Mini-Fad"

Dame Fashion wields a powerful influence, and no doubt about it. However, we cannot help but wonder if this new-fangled "short skirt" fad has not perhaps gone a bit too far? Even quite a few males are complaining about it, which is something to think about.

The mini-fad, to say the least, has angled off in a direction completely away from the original idea of clothing as a means of covering one's body and keeping one warm.

Unless cold weather puts an end to the fad, we do wonder where the next step will lead? To say the least, it may well put an end to all this fuss about obscene literature. So long as American womanhood bares itself to such an extent in everyday garb, it will certainly be difficult for an artist to "out-nude" the average American street scene.

Glasses That Break in the Dark

Although the Federal Aviation Administration has been trying doggedly to play down the problem of the coming supersonic transport's sonic boom, evidence accumulates that the boom will be considerably more than a small irritant.

For instance, since mid-July the U.S. Air Force has been flying its new SR-71, a twin-jet spy plane which is the successor to the famed U-2, over Los Angeles. It flies at 80,000 feet and 2,100 miles per hour, bringing along on the ground behind it the cone of noise known as a sonic boom. These booms have hit the city about twice a week. However, at that height they do not cause a "tremendous" sound, says Col. Arthur F. Krause, 15th Air Force information director. They are more like a minor thunderclap, he contends:

They do get louder, Col. Krause told the Los Angeles Press Club the other day, when the SR-71 comes down to 30,000 feet for aerial refueling. But then, aerial refueling is done only over thinly populated areas.

Even at 80,000 feet, or almost 16 miles, the sonic boom since mid-July has drawn 564 damage claims from Los Angeles area residents. The Air Force has mailed out 394 claim forms; 66 so far have been returned and 16 claims have been paid, averaging $35, mostly for window and plaster damage. The number of citizens simply complaining about the minor thunderclaps is not recorded.

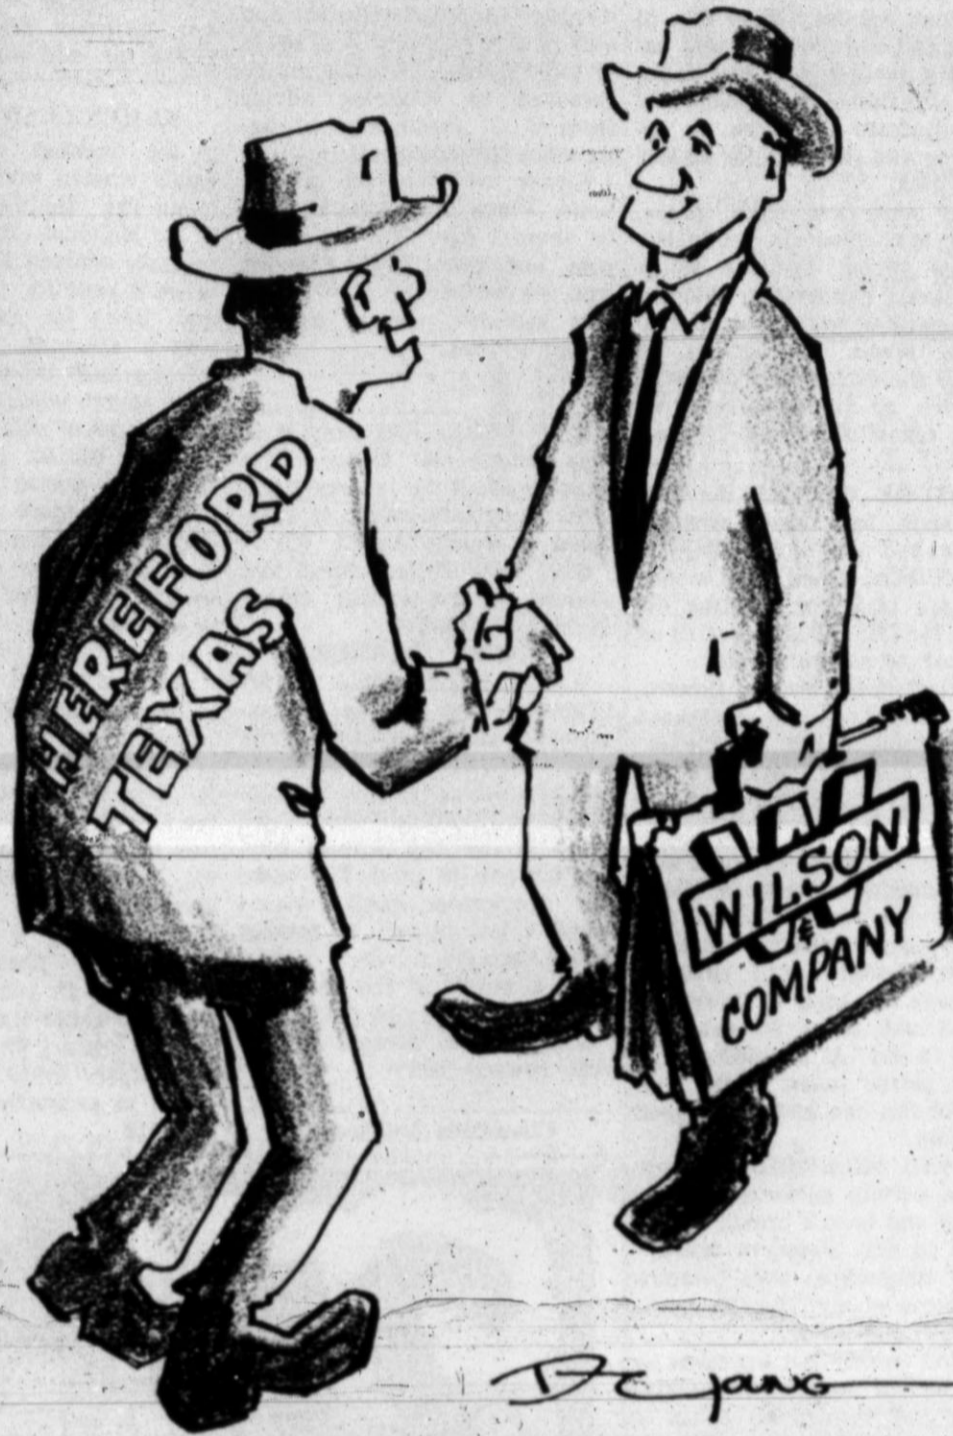

Col. Karuse is reassuring about one thing. The only case involving personal injury, he says, "was when a girl stepped on a broken glass in the dark, and the glass had been broken, without her knowledge, by a sonic boom."

Since the Federally financed SST is going to be considerably larger than the Air Force spy plane, maybe Congress at least should insist on more precise plans to deal with its sonic boom. Otherwise, as the evidence strongly suggests, a lot of people are going to be stepping on broken glass in the dark.

WELCOME TO THE LARGEST AND FASTEST CATTLE GROWING CENTER IN THE NATION

Of Yesteryear And The Royal Arch Literary Society...

University Interscholastic League may be a great thing for the public schools, but I'll bet it doesn't measure up (in some respects, at least) to school competition in years past. Take some old country boy who's done a lot of living, couple it with a spark of humor, and we come up with a description of the past that makes a person wish he could have been there himself . . . .

Our school house was a boxed house with 1x4 strips nailed over the cracks. It may have been about 35 feet by 50 feet. There was a large door in front and a small door near the rear. Some of the wall was papered with newspapers to give it a cozy look.

Center Grove was the botanical name but it was also called Buzzard Roost by rival communities. We had a literary society — the Royal Arch, where much oratory was displayed. We had recitations Friday afternoon after recess. Here are some of the speeches:

I had a little dog, he didn't have no sence. He ran around the house and barked at the fence. Or, I had a little dog, his name was Rover. When he died, he died all over. All but his tail — it rolled over. Some were more refined, such as Twinkle Twinkle Little Star. Some would recite Mary Had A Little Lamb. Then some rude pupil would get up and recite:

Mary had a william goat, its fleece was black as jet. It followed her around all day, and loved her, just you bet. It followed her to school one day, which was against the rules. It made the children laugh and play, to see a goat at school. So the teacher kicked him out, but still he lingered near. He waited just outside the door, till WHACK UM did appear. William ran to meet the man, he ran his level best. Met him just behind, you know, right down below the vest. Whack Um turned a somersault, the goat stood on his head. And Mary laughed herself so sick, she had to go to bed.

The Royal Arch Literary Society was held about once a month on Friday nights. The debates would be on great subjects of interest at the time, and sometimes it would take a different turn like this: Resolved that a scolding wife is a greater pain in the neck than a smokey chimney. One night the smokey chimney side had almost won, when a guy jumped up from the onlookers and rushed forward. He had on false whiskers. With much gesticulating and a lot more elocution he said:

You youngsters don't know nuthin' bout this subject. Wait til yer been married to one awhile and been hammered, banged and slammed around for years:

Because the fire won't burn. Because the cows don't come home. Because the dogs chase the cats. Because the chickens won't go to roost. Because it rains too much. Because it's too dry. Because the hogs make too much racket under the floor. And a thousand and one more things a poor henpecked husband can't help.

The affirmative side won that time. Meanwhile, outside (according to another old-timer's account) . . . .

These events often led in to something of a clannish mood. The boys of opposite schools would steal the other boys' buggy whips, lap robes and other articles that might be left in the buggy. Also they would play pranks on a young man who might have a girl friend with him. Sometimes it might involve putting both front wheels of the buggy on one side or putting one front wheel on the rear and a hind wheel in front on the opposite side. Then again it might mean unbuckling the horse's harness so as to cause him to step out of it as he started to move ahead, leaving the buggy standing still. Whenever we visited another school in contest or for a program some member of the group was nearly always assigned to keeping guard of our buggies and horses.

Well sir, today's kiddos might have the advantages — but we'll have to admit: the UIL of today has a mighty tough act to follow!

—Larry Fuhrmann

50 YEARS AGO

Several loads of hogs have been shipped from Hereford this week. The porkers are bringing good prices. Some are bringing as high as nine cents here. Already this year about 80 cars of hogs have been shipped from this section, most of them loaded from Hereford.

Over one hundred thousand dollars has been paid for hogs in this territory and there will probably be nearly as many more to go as there are large numbers on feed.

25 YEARS AGO

George C. Moudy, deputy collector of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, tagged about 100 cars in Hereford last week and stated Monday that he would be here again sometime after Sept. 1 to check again on car owners who have failed to buy or properly display the federal automobile tax stamp.

About 60 of the cars tagged belonged to owners who had purchased a stamp and had it in their possession but failed to stick it on the windshield or some other place where it would be easily visible. Ten owners have made affidavits that the stamp was lost or stolen and 22 owners bought stamps on the order of the deputy tax-collector. Ten other car owners failed to appear on the first notice, Moudy said, and these delinquents were assessed fines ranging from $5 to $25.

THE BOOTLEG — Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his hindweed farm examines some new ideas in farms this week, more or less.

I was in town yesterday buying another nickel tractor bolt for a quarter and a friend handed me a copy of Time magazine and said "Here, there's an article in this about farming you might like to see."

I'm not sure. According to it, vast progress is being made in agriculture these days, and almost undreamed-of new ideas are being studied.

For example, plant scientists are trying to develop a square tomato. That's right. They want a tomato that grows square instead of round, because, for one thing, it would fit better in a sandwich.

This is what I'm talking about. Why put all the burden on the farmer? It seems to me it's be a lot simpler to just make round bread and use the tomatoes we've already got.

It sure was lucky that table plates originally were designed round instead of square, or you know what kind of eggs scientists would be trying to get hens to lay.

For years agricultural experts have been telling me how to raise feed that's more palatable and nutritious for cows, where as I'd like to see them working on cows that can thrive on the grass and weeds I've already got. Nearly every idea I hear from the experts puts more work on me than my cows.

I don't know what farm they studied, but it wasn't this one.

However, I can see some advantages in these figures and hope they spread throughout the country, especially around here. If it took six hours in 1920 to produce what one hour produces now, a farmer working 12 hours then needs to work only 2 hours now to get in a full day. I'm in favor of that.

By the way, speaking of farming, I noticed that that well-known farmer, Chet Huntley, had to give up one of his farms because, he said, somebody was always opening the gates to his 300-acre spread and letting his 900 cows roam the countryside.

Nine hundred cows on 300 acres? That's not a ranch, that's a ghetto. Somebody opened the gates? Most likely they busted out. Those cows were just rioting, and I'm surprised he didn't have a deep-thoughted television analysis of the underlying causes.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The average employee of a House committee earns $16,827 a year. Each Congressman is allowed 11 or 12 employees on his personal staff, with a top salary of $20,578.39.

34th FINISH HIGH
Three out of four U. S. youths finish high school and 40 percent enter college, according to the Office of Education. Enrollment in colleges and universities this fall is expected to rise 8.3 percent over 1966, to 6.5 million students.

Backyard swimming pools now number more than 2.5 million, not counting about 10 million plastic wading pools. Drownings are becoming a serious problem, with 350 fatalities predicted this year, including at motel, hotel, and apartment pools. Over half of the fatalities at home pools are age 10 or less.

Average age of members of the 90th Congress is 52.1 years. The Senate average is 57.7 years and the House 50.8. Democrats are younger in the Senate and Republicans in the House, each by about three years.

The Supreme Court has had nine members since 1869. But there were only six justices in the beginning and at various times in the 19th century, there were seven, nine, ten and eight members. President Franklin D. Roosevelt sought an increase to 15 but Congress never acted on his proposal.

'CABARET' HELPS PENN
NEW YORK - Producer Harold Prince has given 15 percent of his share in the musical "Cabaret" to his alma mater, the University of Pennsylvania.

The show previously recovered its $500,000 cost and is setting a weekly profit of about $22,000.

Congressman Bob Price Criticizes USDA Action

The 35,000 farmers who protested low farm prices at a National Farmers Organization meeting in Des Moines, Iowa, two weeks ago were simply reacting to the effects of the many anti-agriculture maneuvers of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Congressman Bob Price, a member of the House Republican Task Force on Agriculture, said today.

"Farmers are angry over the depressed prices they receive for the commodities they raise, and justifiably so. The farm parity ratio has dropped to depression-year levels, farm production expenses are at an all-time high, and farm income is severely lagging behind non-farm income," Price said.

"In fact," Price noted, "the Department's own figures show that net farm income skidded from $16.4 billion in 1966 to an annual rate of $14.6 billion in the second quarter of this year. Therefore, it's not surprising that 35,000 farmers gathered together to call attention to these deplorable conditions caused by USDA and Administration decision-makers."

The Panhandle Congressman pointed to recent examples of how the Executive Branch has dealt American agriculture harsh economic blows by:

-dumping huge stocks of Commodity Credit Corporation grain upon the domestic market in order to break and depress grain and livestock market prices.

-delaying the necessary action to reduce price-depressing dairy imports, then failing to cut back permissible imports to the average 1961-65 level.

-underestimating cattle numbers by 4 million head and the turkey population by 5 million birds, thereby bringing an already weak market down further.

-cutting back purchases of pork and dairy products by the military.

-restricting exports of cattle hides, calf and kip skins, such action causing lower domestic livestock prices, notwithstanding subsequent increases in shoe and other footwear prices.

-boosting imports of raw sugar, designed to hold down market prices for domestic sugar producers.

"The Task Force has repeatedly called attention to these and other actions by the USDA and the Administration aimed to depress farm prices," Price said.

"The alarming extent to which they have succeeded in their effort to hold down farm income has again been verified by the feelings expressed at the Des Moines meeting. No wonder our declining farm population isn't optimistic about the prospects for economic survival, and that rural discontent with depressed farm prices is being expressed vociferously and with increasing frequency."

Worker Getting Money's Worth In Social Security

Does the average worker get his money's worth for his social security contributions?

The answer is "Yes." Young workers can be sure, too, that the social security benefits payable to them and their dependents in the future will be substantially increased by the time they qualify for payment.

The social security program is financed in such a way that benefits can be more than kept up to date with rising prices -- without an increase in contribution rates.

Because the social security tax is a percentage of payroll, income to the program rises more than benefit obligations as wage levels go up.

In an expanding economy, rising wages produce more income for the social security system and make it possible to increase benefits more than enough to offset any increases from time-to-time in the ceiling on the amount of earnings that is subject to the tax (and which counts toward the individual's future benefit payment.)

But even without considering the likely future improvements in benefit levels, the average young worker will get retirement, survivors, and disability insurance protection under social security tax contributions over a 40-45 year working lifetime -- even if you count accumulated interest on those contributions.

At the upper extreme -- the young man who starts work in 1973 or later, when the maximum contribution rate for old-age, survivors, and disability insurance goes into effect, and who has earnings at or above the maximum annual amount subject to the social security tax, will no more than just about pay for the value of his protection.

People already at work get more protection for their tax contributions than those who will be going to work under social security in the future.

Under social security, as under practically all private pension plans, the employer's contribution is not earmarked for the benefit of a particular employee. A major part of the employer contribution under private pension plans, as under social security, is used to meet the cost of "past service credits" for older workers.

THREE-MUSICAL MAN

NEW YORK. A very busy songwriter is Johnny Brandon. He has prepared material for three musicals aiming for production this season.

Brandon, who composed the score for the off-Broadway success "Cindy" three years ago, has just added "The Bottle Imp" to his output. Previously announced were "Peg" and "That's What's Happening, Baby."

Talk of Texas

By Jack Maguire

THE GREAT SILVER MYSTERY - In 1930, Houston residents raised $25,000 to buy an elaborate silver service. They proudly presented it to the officers and men of the U.S. Navy cruiser "Houston".

The silver service was covered in sculptured scroll depicting scenes and objects dear to the hearts of Texans. For the next 11 years, it was the pride of the "Houston's" crew.

Then came the war, and in 1941, the "Houston" put in at Manila where it stripped for action. Supposedly the silver was stored at a naval base there.

On March 1, 1942, the "Houston" was sunk in a battle in the Sunda Strait. That was more than 25 years ago, and both the U.S. Navy and the city of Houston have been looking for the silver since. Not one of the 55 magnificent pieces has ever been found.

ASSEMBLY-LINE, BOOZE - Making and selling moonshine whiskey was more profitable than owning a gusher during the heyday of Borger as an oil boom town in the 1920's.

City officials controlled the liquor and beer monopoly and open saloons were permitted so long as the operators stocked nothing but locally-made products. The "line," as it was called, not only manufactured the stuff, but regularly sent tasters to visit the saloons to make sure that no competing booze was being sold!

FIRE TRAPS - Austin's Weldon Hart, who collects the history of Texas courthouses as a hobby, says that at least 42 of these county capitols have burned over the years.

In all, 435 courthouses have either burned, been moved or abandoned in the state's 254 counties.

DOWNED TOWN - Sabinetown, which thrived and died in the mid-1800's, is being buried by the river that brought it into being.

The old steamboat landing on the Sabine, founded in 1839 as a port of entry for the Republic of Texas, is being inundated by the waters backed up by Toledo Bend Dam.

Actually Sabinetown died long ago. It never recovered from the battle it lost with Hemphill in 1858 for the location of the county seat. It lost its post office in 1880. It disappeared from the map decades ago except for an historical marker.

TRAVELING TEXAS - Martha Washington is buried in Denison's old Oakwood Cemetery. However, it is not the First Lady of the U.S. but a kinsman who is interred there.

Denison's Martha Washington was the widow of Dr. Laurence Augustin Washington, Jr., grand nephew of the first President, Dr. Washington, who died in Denison in 1882, also is buried there. Mrs. Washington died nine years after her husband's death.

A STRONG AMERICA with Rural Electricity...

Thanks to consumer owned rural electric systems, more than 580 defense installations, from radar listening posts to atomic missile sites, could be located in remote areas of the country. Without an ample supply of electric power, their strategic placement would have been much more difficult. Rural electric systems are helping to keep America's defenses at peak efficiency, and are contributing to our national security.

Mrs. Jeff Carlile
ex-Rangerette

By SUE COLEMAN
Once a member of the Rangerettes, famed precision drill team of Kilgore Junior College which travels widely each year, pretty blonde Mrs. Jeff Carlile believes her trips to various parts of the United States contributed as much to her education as any academic course.

THE CARLILES have been Hereford residents since early in June, when he came here as a vice president of Hereford State Bank. They came from Albuquerque, where Carol Carlile had gone as a bride three years previously.

Their home at 124 Kingwood, Mrs. Carlile says, is "not nearly furnished yet". They had been apartment dwellers and owned only a few pieces of furniture. After placing these and purchasing others necessary for family use, they are adding furniture and accessories as they find just the pieces they want.

Her insistence on the "just right" in home decor is a part of her interest in things artistic which is expressed in one direction by painting and working with handcrafts. A still life composition hanging in her living room exemplifies her talent as a painter.

OTHER ENTHUSIASMS are for trying new recipes as she cooks for family and guests, skiing and fishing with her husband, playing bridge "just for fun" and working in her yard.

Fortunate enough to find a home where the yard was already set to grass, shrubs and flowers, both Mr. and Mrs. Carlile have taken pleasure in keeping it blooming beautifully all summer. Their backyard is a favorite spot for the couple and their 17-month-old daughter, Marta Dell.

A boat parked on a trailer in their driveway is evidence of their liking for water sports, which they indulge whenever there is time. Summer and winter they like to make trips to a family-owned cabin at Ruidoso.

BORN IN OKLAHOMA CITY, Mrs. Carlile is the former Carol Barnes. Her parents moved to Denver, where they still live, when she was a schoolgirl and she was graduated from high school there.

As a student at Kilgore, she met requirements for the Rangerettes and served as an officer for that glamorous drill team her second year there. Of their travels, she especially enjoyed a trip to Milwaukee to perform for the Braves baseball team, then to other Midwest cities where there were farm clubs of that major league team.

Accustomed to larger cities, Carol Carlile finds Hereford as pleasant a place to live because "People here are so active; there is so much to do all the time!"

She feels that she is rapidly becoming well acquainted here, and expects to find her place in women's organizations of the city and of the Church of Christ, of which she is a member.

The Youth Revival at Frio Baptist Church closed Sunday with good attendance at both services. Dinner was taken at Easter Community Center. Special choir practice and visitation by the young people filled the day. Several out-of-community young people visited during the weekend of services, one of whom was Tommy Needham of Quail.

Mrs. Sam Ogan is spending this week attending a state Baptist WMU meeting at Waco. She is a state officer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Andrews left Thursday to spend a few days visiting their daughter, Mrs. Godfrey Baldwin, Mr. Baldwin and son Randy, at Austin. They were taking their daughter's piano and other things to her. The Baldwins have recently purchased a home in Northeast Austin, 5403 Wellington Street.

The Frank Robbins were to take their daughter, Carol, to Abilene, this weekend. Carol will begin work as a freshman at Hardin-Simmons University.

Carol Robbins underwent surgery, having wisdom removed at an Amarillo Hospital Friday of last week and spent two days there.

Among beginners starting to school this year are LeeAnn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dobbs, Sandra, daughter of the Earl Harkins, Elizabeth, daughter of the Joe Andrews, Maconda, daughter of the Gary Masons, Cory, son of the Charles Springers, Gent, daughter of the Marvin Welty and Sally, daughter of the Renyas.

FLOP FLIPS BACK
NEW YORK. A melodrama that didn't make it on Broadway is headed for Hollywood's cameras.

"We Have Always Lived in the Castle," based upon Shirley Jackson suspense novel, has been bought for the screen by Compass Productions. Priced at the rights wasn't announced, but George Schaefer, head of the firm, said he was "grateful" that the on-stage flop had scared high bidders off.

The show lasted just nine performances on the Great White Way, cost backers $30,000.

House guest of the Charles Springers last weekend was Miss Candace Lehn from Menard, who was a bridesmaid in the wedding of Miss Sharon Tinnin to Norman Gray on Saturday. Also visiting the Springers Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Lynch of Ralls, who were here for the wedding.

A "going away to college" party was given in the home of Mrs. Clark Andrews for Misses Carol Robbins, Jana Cole and Nancy Axe Wednesday evening. Also attending were Darlene

SAYS FARMERS UNION Cost-Prize Squeeze Catching Farmers

Among those attending the annual banquet of the Texas Farmers Union, District 1, at Wellington Aug. 26, were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Witkowski, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kershen, and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson from Hereford. Witkowski is the president of the Deaf Smith County Farmers Union.

Tony Dechant of Denver, Colo. president of National Farmers Union, was the principal speaker at the banquet. He talked about the declining farm income and how it was affecting the independent business man on main street.

"Farmers Union was started at Point, Texas in 1901. It is a unique organization in that it fights on a total front to hold farm net income up equal with the other segments of our economy. A strong rural America is the best guarantee of a strong America. The troubles that develop in most countries such as South American countries are the results of agriculture getting into the hands of a few."

"The chain stores and large corporations are the greatest threat that America faces today. One garment factory in Kansas is phasing out its factory and is going into the farming business with 80,000 acres broken up into 10,000 acre farms that reach from Texas to Minnesota. Each farm has one manager and five farm families with a superintendent over the whole operation. The machinery is shuttled back and forth over the whole operation."

"A big rubber company in Denver has gone into the livestock feeding and egg business producing millions of eggs a day. Heinz Company bought thousands of acres of land to raise potatoes while the farmers in Idaho can't sell their potatoes. The chain stores in Colorado are producing their own beef and packing and selling it in competition with the ranchers.

"The gross income of farmers will be about the same this year as last year, but the net income will be 5 per cent less because the farmer's cost of production is up. Since 1950 fifteen million rural people have moved to the cities. Eighty-eight dairy farmers are going out of business every week in the dairy states. These 'refugees' (as called by city officials) of rural America are going into the cities to seek jobs that are not there, and housing is skyrocketing."

"Some people do not understand why we need farm income, but when farmers make money they spend it which makes a better economy for everyone."

"Businessmen, we need you to help us and work with us to raise farm income to keep the independent farmer on the farm, and you need us because every time six farmers leave the farm one business has to close its doors. The lives and well-being of the farmers and businessmen in rural America are so entwined that the independent business cannot survive unless the independent farmer can continue to operate at a profit.

"I spent 30 minutes talking with President Johnson July 17th about his programs and urged him to move on the agriculture front because the need is so great despite the budget problems that he has, and to move immediately because time is running out. We asked that one billion dollars be allocated to FHA to help finance farmers who can't get financing at the banks. Banks are scared to loan money to many farmers which creates a vacuum that is felt by the business men."

"Farmers Union maintains a full time staff in Washington and we have pledged to go all out on the farm income front through legislation and bargaining power concepts because it still has to be done in Washington. We have a great hope for the independent farmer owner operator, and National Farmers Union pledges to work hard and long to strengthen farm income. A strong rural America is our best guarantee of a strong America."

At a recent county Farmers Union meeting, the following were named to committees: nominating committee, Mrs. O. G. Hill, Sr., chairman; James Gentry, Charles Schlabs, and Robert Strain.

Resolutions committee, Louis Woodford, chairman; Robert Hickman, G. V. Hall, Eldred Brown, Edward Schilling, Virgil Walker, Andrew Kershen, Bob Veigel, Frank Zinser Jr., David Hutchins, F. A. Marnell and Alfred Smith.

NEAR TRAGIC SCENE — A small boy, a bicycle, a careless act and then an ambulance and police car — a scene which is often repeated during the school term. The season's first occurred Thursday morning at the intersection of Avenue K and Forest with the nine-year-old boy being only slightly shaken up.

Casa de Amigos

By MARTIN WINCH
On Tuesday evening, members of the Hereford Migrant Ministry Board gathered in the Casa de Amigos to honor the contribution of the six VISTA workers who have completed their service under the Board. A handsome plaque "In Honor of Hereford's Volunteers in Service to America" is now on perpetual display in the Casa. Additional names can be added to the plaque as additional VISTA workers complete their years of service at the Labor Camp.

One of the six names on the plaque has been heard from far too seldom since the spring. Pris Choate left Hereford July 8 on a temporary sick leave. She called the Casa last week to report that she will be unable to return to Hereford due to ill health. Instead, Pris will enter Bennett College this fall.

Pris was born in New Bedford, New York on December 28, 1944. Her mother was a professional dancer, and still makes her home in New Bedford. Mr. Choate practices law in Boston. Pris's grand-uncle served as U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain, her grandfather was also an ambassador.

Pris has an older brother, Jonathan, and a younger sister, Deedee. Married and the proud father of a baby girl, Jonathan teaches mathematics at the Groton School in Groton, Massachusetts. Deedee has completed two years at Bennington College in Vermont.

Pris herself has pursued a life of service and accomplishment, interrupted at several points by poor health. After the elementary grades, she attended Mary C. Wheeler School in Providence, Rhode Island for one year. In 1961, Prs entered Rosemary Hall School in Greenwich, Connecticut, where she earned her high school diploma in 1963. Sickness required Prs to withdraw from college during her first semester.

In September, 1964, Prs joined the secretarial staff of Jacqueline Kennedy, where she helped to answer correspondence until December. Prs spent the duration of the winter in Aspen, Colorado, selling ski lift tickets for the Aspen Ski Corporation. During the skiing season of 1965-66, she was the associate manager and a ski instructor at the Snow Chase Lodge in Aspen. From June through August, 1966, Prs assisted with therapy treatment at a rehabilitation center in Stamford, Connecticut.

Toward the end of September, Prs entered a 6-week VISTA training program at the University of Oklahoma in Norman. Assigned to work at the Casa de Amigos under the Hereford Migrant Ministry, she arrived in Hereford on November 5, 1966. Prs joined Denise Waltman, who had been living in Barrack 28 at the Labor Camp since early August.

Under the Casa de Amigos, Prs participated in many programs and projects. She helped to run a Cub Scout pack until Keith Schroyer arrived in February. She assisted with 4-H homemaking programs conducted at the St. Joseph's School.

Prs started a Friday night movie program at the Casa. Educational films she selected from numerous catalogues are still arriving weekly at the Casa. Between 50 and 70 children and young adults attend these films regularly.

At the Casa de Amigos, Prs helped to teach the two morning pre-schools, taught English to adults two evenings each week, helped with sewing classes, assisted with Campfire Girls, was a faithful helper at the used clothing sale, and always did more than her share of cleaning up, supervising play, and helping the rest of us.

Prs spent considerable time on medical and social work for residents of the Labor Camp. Like most of her accomplishments, this work demanded personal attention and understanding.

Prs's major achievement was in human relations. She earned the respect and affection of widely diverse individuals and groups in the larger Hereford community. Among workers under the Casa de Amigos, she boosted morale even in times of great strain. Children and young people at the Labor Camp continue to ask when Prs is going to return.

All of us in Hereford who work as a community to achieve equal opportunities for all our citizens will be missing Prs, and knowing why.

THE POPULAR MYSTERY

It is the consensus of opinion that today's mystery story or novel will be the most outstanding and original style of writing of the 20th century, writes Professor G. C. Ramsay. He has chosen Agatha Christie as the top representative of the writers of this style.

Since he is an advocate and student of her way of writing, he has written a book entitled Mystery. The author has studied her books and style at length, both in America and England. The book is a result of his analysis.

He states that early mystery novelists including William Humphrey — who wrote Home From The Hills and Van Dyke used one certain form in their works and have become dated. But because Christie uses a conservative English background her writings, which portray the social history of the times in England, will perhaps be timeless. The times in England, will perhaps be timeless.

Even Ian Flemming's James Bond stories will not be in style in a few years from now, because of the extreme style and modern vehicles he uses. In our fast moving times many of his terms will quickly become obsolete.

Nearly half of this small book is given to appendices listing all of Christie's books, movies, stage plays, and TV's. She is also acknowledged as a novelist and short story writer. Her two most famous characters are Hercule Poirot in one type of mystery story, and Jane Marple has the lead in a different sort of tale.

Christie in private life has remarried (Christie was her first married name which she kept as a writer) and she is now Mrs. E. L. Mallowan. Her husband is a professor who takes part in historical diggings for museums. They live most of the time at their country estate of Greenway House but also have a flat in Chelsea. Because of her interest in interior decoration as a hobby, in which she does most of her

Child Treated And Released After Accident

A 9-year old Latin American boy was treated and released at Deaf Smith County Hospital.

So if you are an Agatha Christie fan you will now know that you are reading what is considered the tops in this type of a story. The critics claim that she does not use one type of plot for her stories, but many and varied ones, which is another reason they believe that her books will be timeless.

tal Thursday morning after he had driven his bicycle into the path of a slow moving car.

Victor Rodriguez of 305 Blewins received emergency treatments about 8:15 a. m. for minor injuries.

Judith Lee of Route 1 told police that she had been driving west on Forest Avenue and stopped for a stop sign at the intersection with Avenue K.

Just as she started to turn north on K, the small boy drove his bicycle in front of her car. The right bumper of the car hit the boy's right ankle and the bicycle, knocking him over.

There was no damage to the car. No citations were given.

PERSONALS

by Penny

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gentry have recently returned from a trip to Mexico City accompanied by their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Smelley of Pleasantville, Texas.

The trip consisted of a stay in Mexico City and Acapulco. While in Mexico City the group visited the Pyramids to the Sun and Moon and the University of the Americas, which has a library containing 1,200,000 books. The outside of the building is decorated with murals on stone mosaics. The Palace of the Arts, a stadium of pure white marble that seats 4500 people; and the Restaurant Lago built over the Chapultepec Lake, were a few more of the sights viewed.

Bull fights in Acapulco stirred the excitement and left a definite impression of Mexico on the minds of the travelers. A boat ride on a lagoon also added to the pleasure and excitement of the trip.

On returning home, the travelers stayed at two other towns, San Luis Potosi, and Monterrey.

A. T. Jones is recuperating at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo following surgery. Jones hopes to be dismissed Tuesday, but in the meantime he can have company, according to Mrs. Jones.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. R. A. Daniel are her granddaughters and their husbands and families, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Moreman and children Mike and Melinda from Austin, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Padillo from Pasadena, California.

The parents of the grandchildren are Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Ray of Pasadena.

Visiting Mrs. Ida Mae Vaughn this past week has been her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Laverne Bane of Salt Lake City, Utah and their daughter Mrs. Pete Eberle of Orjina, Calif.

Also visiting during the week was Mrs. Vaughn's daughter, Mrs. John Anthony of Elida, N. M. The get-together took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Vaughn, the son with whom Mrs. Vaughn makes her home.

Relatives and friends of the late J. H. and J. R. Daniel gathered for a reunion in the dining hall of the I. O. O. F. Temple Sunday August 27. A basket lunch was served at noon. Visiting, music and a family sing song was enjoyed in the afternoon.

Among the sixty five attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Daniel; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Daniel, Marci, Becky and Mike; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Manning, Roger, Betty Ann and Freddie; all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Don Daniel, Theresa and Thomas of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dale Manning, Ronnie, Dianna and Rena of Dallas; Mrs. Ina Shafer and Byron; Wesley Shafer and family; San Jon, N. M.; Elizabeth Robinson and girls, Monte Vista Colorado; Mrs. Thelma Daniel and Johanna, Mrs. and Mrs. Roy Manning, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Manning, Mahota and Katrina, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Manning and Jackie, Mrs. J. E. Thomas, Homer Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. David Glen, Diana and Carrol Ann, Sue Andrews and Ray Dean and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Strange of Hereford.

Chamber Accepts Odessa Lighting Company Bid

The decorations committee of the Chamber of Commerce agreed to recommend to the Chamber board that the bid of Vance Cobb, representing Foreman Decorating and Lighting Co. of Odessa be accepted. Several changes were made in the bid, however, after a telephone conversation with Cobb during the meeting Thursday.

At an earlier meeting, Cobb, along with Quannah Maddox of the L. C. Williams Decorating Company of Houston, made proposals of 14' perimeter-type trees of glass plastic and steel construction to be erected atop each of the sixteen pedestrian shelters along Main Street. Following a request of the decorations committee at that time for firm bids, a formal price was given by Cobb, while Maddox completely withdrew his offer.

In a letter to Chamber manager Bill Thompson, with copies to County Judge H. C. Williams and Mayor Ray Cowsert, Maddox gave as his reasons the invitation to catastrophe and the possible destruction of thousands of dollars of Main Street motif if the perimeter trees were used. A check made by Thompson of two Texas cities, before the arrival of the letter, however, left no doubt as to the performance and satisfaction of the decorations. Maddox requested another meeting with the committee the latter part of September, at which time he would give an entirely new decoration theme.

A price of $397 per tree less one-third discount was the price accepted by the committee. 1000 feet of lighted garland at $1.25 per foot was accepted also, for a total of $5490, plus installation. Since a large enough trade-in value for the chandelier type decorations was not received, it was decided to retain possession of them, and after repair, their possible sale to the city, county, or other organizations. The sale of the chandeliers to another city was discussed, along with the possibility of their use as a means of decorating the courthouse.

Present for the noon luncheon at the Hickory Log were Buddy Bloomer, chairman of the committee, Chamber manager Bill Thompson, Chamber president Neil Cooper, Dudley Bayne, Ted Higgins, Charles Scheetz, J. R. Johnson, and Jerry Detwiler.

Program To Be Presented By Amarillo Group

The patriotic program "Sing Out America '67" will be presented by Amarillo youths at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Hereford High-School auditorium.

Included in the program, which also is called "Up With People," will be 10 numbers by the singers and the 17-piece orchestra which accompanies them.

The Hereford Optimist Club is sponsoring the program locally. Bill Phipps, committee chairman said all proceeds will go toward financing a trip to Austin next year during a time when the youths will be featured as winner of the Attorney General's Youth Council Award.

Phipps said he had seen the program twice and "there just aren't enough words to describe it." A performance at Amarillo Air Force Base brought a standing ovation and four encores for the group, while another performance in the Municipal Auditorium received a standing ovation and two encores.

Presenting the program will be approximately 80 Amarillo youths, ranging from high school to college age. The volunteers have put in about 3 1/2 hours a night, three nights a week for six weeks in preparing the program.

Cincinnati rookie pitcher Gary Nolan turned in one of his most impressive victories on July 4 when he beat the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0. He gave up three hits and walked only two.

Quarter Horse Named Champ

Sudden Arrival, a three-year-old Quarter Horse stallion owned by L. J. Dirks of Hereford, recently was named Grand Champion in his class at the First Annual Bivins Ranch Quarter Horse Show near Channing.

Sudden Arrival competed August 26 in the 1964 Stallions Class of the show, which drew an estimated 250 entries. The show was approved by the American Quarter Horse Association and the National Cutting Horse Association.

Dirks said Sudden Arrival had held the track record in Lubbock for nine months last year for his age class. Dirks has 25 head of horses at his stables about a mile south of the city on U. S. 385.

Present for the noon luncheon at the Hickory Log were Buddy Bloomer, chairman of the committee, Chamber manager Bill Thompson, Chamber president Neil Cooper, Dudley Bayne, Ted Higgins, Charles Scheetz, J. R. Johnson, and Jerry Detwiler.

will include "Run and Catch the Wind," "Building a Nation," "What color is God's Skin," "Freedom Isn't Free," and "This Is My Country." Admission to the program is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Buff Workouts Are Two-A-Day For 55

CANYON — West Texas State University opened fall football activities Wednesday with the staging of the annual News Day luncheon and Picture Day activities.

The 55 varsity candidates got down to serious work Thursday morning when two-a-day workouts began. The Buffs first closed fall scrimmage is set for Saturday in Buffalo Bowl, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

The Buffs, 7-3 last season, return 21 lettermen including five starters from both the offensive and defensive units.

When workouts began Thursday, the WTSU coaching staff, were concerned with two major rebuilding jobs. They must rebuild an offensive line around junior guard Eddie Golecki, lone returning starter from last year's red-carpet cordon; and they must find able replacements for last year's great senior linebacking corps of the Wood twins, Earl and Burl and Dave Gasser.

From their spring training play, likely candidates to step into the offensive line picture are King-sized tackles A. Z.

Drones (6-4, 250) and Larry Brazon (6-4, 255). Drones is regarded as an All-Sectional candidate. Frank Profit, a 235 lb. sophomore, will probably man the other guard post. Senior Mike Zoffuto (6-2, 220) heads the center candidates.

Moving into the tight-end spot filled the past four seasons by WTSU's all-time leading pass receiver Ted Wheeler, will be senior Dan Andrews. Andrews backed up Wheeler last season. He's regarded as an outstanding receiver and excellent blocker.

Other possible starting line candidates include sophomore tackles Dag Azam (6-2, 235) and Earl Clardy (6-1, 225), junior guards Willie Brown (6-2, 225), Lydell Dauster (5-11, 240) and Billy Hatchett, and sophomore center Joe Kerbel, Jr. (5-10, 206)

Sure-handed Dave Szymakowski returns to shoot for national honors from his splintered position. A senior, Szymakowski lacks just two catches to surpass Ted Wheeler as West Texas State's all-time receiving champion. Wheeler caught 72 passes in his four years with the Buffs.

Roy Winters, who enjoyed a strong spring after backing up Hank Washington as a sophomore last season, is expected to open the season as the number 1 quarterback. He will be backed by Frank Bettencourt Jr., an outstanding sophomore field master, and Jim Wheeler from Amarillo Caprock. Wheeler, a sophomore, came out as a tryout this spring and earned a scholarship after logging time at both quarterback and defensive safety. Paul Waite, the strong-armed junior college transfer, has decided not to return to WTSU this fall.

With breakaway threats like Eugene (Mercury) Morris (9.9) Curley (Bear) Watters (9.8) and Aaron Banks (9.5) returning at halfback, that position is well fortified. As a sophomore last year, Morris led the Buffs in both rushing (543 yards) and scoring (9 TDs). He also pulled in 19 passes for 234 yards. Watters was used mainly as a punt and kickoff return specialist last season, specializing where he has few peers. Last year the Garland junior ranked 10th in the nation in punt returns.

The fullback slot, with spring sensation Duane Thomas (9.8) and Albie (00) Owen battling for the starting nod, is little who is 6-2 and 215, rambled for 728 yards and 11 touchdowns in five spring drills while Owens bulled for 526 yards and seven touchdowns as the Buffs' starting fullback in 1966. Owens was out of spring drills with a broken bone in his foot, but he has reported back in top shape for 1967.

Last season perhaps nobody was as conspicuous as Charles (Hotfoot Charley) Henderson, the Buff flankerback with the bag of fakes and the uncanny ability to spear touchdown passes while surrounded by defenders or lying on the flat of his back in the end zone. Only a sophomore, Henderson is expected to produce the same excitement this year. He'll be backed by junior speedster Gary Clark (9.7).

The return of the nation's fourth leading kick-scorer, Tommy Fambrough, insures a solid, if not spectacular kicking game. The Breckenridge junior will be ably supported by JC transfer Dnie Pruitt, who impressed Buff coaches with his long-range drilling in spring practice.

Expected to receive a gargantuan test when they brace to stop Montana State's number 3 ranked small college powerhouse Sept. 16, are the members of WTSU's defensive unit.

This year's "Unfriendly Society" will be headed by senior All-Texas tackle Jimmy Campbell (6-2, 215), senior guard Dave Whitmire (6-2, 220), and senior safeties Rick Barrett and Steve Haterius. All were starters on last year's 7-3 team. Battles are expected to erupt along the defensive-line to fill vacancies left by the graduation of guard Marc Allen and the conversion of tackle Jesse Powell to linebacker. Top candidates for the new posts are guards Larry Eschenburg, a 6-5, 240 pounds junior transfer, senior Louie (Mudcat) Spinks, who was number 1 at the close of spring drills, and promising sophomores Lawrence Fowles (6-4, 230) and Steve Maddox (6-3, 230). Frank Goodish, a rangy 6-3, 235 pound junior who red-shirted last year after transferring from Iowa State presently is the top candidate to fill Powell's tackle post. Goodish nailed down the starting tackle berth in spring drills. Senior Don Nilson, a two year Buff letterman, is expected to contest Goodish for the starting berth.

The 1967 linebacking corps is inexperienced enough to get burned, yet promising enough to win ball games. Both Jesse Powell and Byron Jones, spring outside linebacker starters, found themselves learning new assignments. Jones only worked at the new position a week after shifting from tight end, while Powell's transition from tackle was impressive. Stocky Dick Kimbrough and rangy Billie Francis are expected to battle it out for the top middle-linebacker spot.

Other possible linebacker candidates include Tommy Mounsey (6-2, 220) a former All-Service linebacker from Booker, JC transfer Carl Heilman (6-0, 225) and squadsman Ron King (6-0, 195). Harry Daigle, another linebacker hopeful from Houston, was drafted before the new student deferment law went into force.

The probable starting secondary for 1967 is an all letterman unit. Safeties Barrett and Haterius insure strong deep protection while corners Don Tardy and Gary Conner proved their mettle in spring drills. Promising sophomores Billy Lantow and Gary McAtee are counted on to land depth to the cornerback slot.

WOODSON HAS HOPES

LAS CRUCES, N. M. — Coach Warren Woodson says his 1967 New Mexico State University football team may be better offensively than his 1966 squad. Last year, the Aggies averaged 32.1 points per game and compiled a 7-3 mark.

Woodson thinks his 1967 team could be better than the undefeated 1966 NMSU squad except for the wingback and end position.
