HISD will address low test scores

By JOHN BROOKS
 Managing Editor

Hereford school board members reviewed results from the 1991 Texas Assessment of Academic Skills at Tuesday's board meeting at the school administration building.

School administrators said the test results followed a statewide pattern: good results in the third grade, lower results for fifth, seventh and ninth graders, and higher results for juniors. Juniors must pass all three sections of the test by the end of their senior year, or they do not graduate.

The test is given each October to assess knowledge in math, reading and writing. Students taking the test this year had to score 70 percent on each section to pass. Passing scores in past years have been as low as 60 percent.

According to the summary reports for Hereford students from the Texas Education Agency:

Third grade--57 percent passed the writing test, 81 percent passed the reading test, and 84 percent passed the math test. At Aikman, 70 percent passed writing, 88 percent passed reading, and 87 percent passed math. At Northwest, 48 percent passed writing, 76 percent passed reading and 79 percent passed math. At Tierra Blanca, 56 percent passed writing, 82 percent passed reading, and 87 percent passed math.

Help coming for bubble kids

Fifth grade--53 percent scored 70 or better on writing, 50 percent passed reading, and 45 percent passed math. At Bluebonnet, 50 percent passed writing, 47 percent passed reading, and 39 percent passed math. At Shirley, 48 percent passed writing, 45 percent passed reading, and 39 percent passed math. At West Central, 61 percent passed writing, 57 percent passed reading, and 55 percent passed math.

Junior high--44 percent passed writing, 39 percent passed reading, and 41 percent passed math.

Hereford High School--For ninth graders, 48 percent passed writing, 53 percent passed reading, and 44 percent passed math. For 11th graders, 68 percent passed writing, 60 percent passed reading, and 52 percent passed math. For juniors, 68 percent passed writing, 60 percent passed reading and 52 percent passed math.

Nena Veazey, administrator for elementary schools instruction, said bluebonnet and Hereford Junior High have been chosen for a special program to help "bubble kids." Those are students who are just below the passing mark that need a small amount of special help to pass the tests.

"We are looking at how we can pop the bubble and move them up," Veazey said. "We have a very large number of students who are on the bubble. We are working on reteaching and other special help, and we are also looking at special help at all schools for children who failed badly. But if we just get half of the bubble kids up, the TEA is going to come in an say, 'This is great, what are you doing?'"

Veazey said administrators and teachers attended a special workshop last week in Amarillo to help set up new programs.

"These test result scores are not a problem just in Hereford, but statewide," said Superintendent Charles Greenawald. "Instead of looking at the global situation, we are going to be looking at individual students and what we can do to help them."

At Hereford High School, changes will be made in the math curriculum to especially help junior students with the math test. HHS Principal Terry Russell explained that students who are taking fundamentals of math and consumer math courses their freshman and sophomore years do not have the skills to pass the test. The 11th grade test addresses skills taught in algebra and geometry.

The math faculty at HHS has recommended starting all students in the ninth grade at a minimum of pre-algebra and doing away with the FOM and consumer math classes.

Buchanan has strong showing in NH primary

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) -- Patrick Buchanan today claimed "tremendous momentum" from New Hampshire for his conservative challenge to President Bush. The pocketbook-driven presidential primary crowned neighbor Paul Tsongas the Democratic front runner.

Bush won Tuesday's GOP balloting by 58 percent to 40 percent, a victory with a surprisingly narrow margin that left the White House uncomfortable.

The GOP candidates said they would focus on the South. The Democrats caucused on Sunday for Sunday's caucuses and to South Dakota before a March 3 regional caucus.

"America, here we come," pledged Tsongas, a former Massachusetts senator. He promised to break free from expectations of a regional candidacy.

Tsongas said his cash-strapped campaign was being replenished with a sudden flood of money. "We will probably raise more money this month than we did in all of 1991," he said today, as he and other presidential candidates made the rounds of the morning television talk shows.

Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton dubbed himself the "comeback kid" after polling a strong second despite weeks of controversy over character issues. Clinton enters the next round with more money and organization than Tsongas.

Linking himself with Tsongas, Clinton said, "We did a respectable job here together. Two Washington outsiders got 60 percent of the vote." Buchanan, upset over his strong showing against Bush, said "We have tremendous momentum coming out of New Hampshire." He said he would aim his campaign next at South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. "We're going to get a tremendous surge out of this," he said.

Yet, Buchanan acknowledged that second place was not good enough. "We've got to find a state where we can go head to head with the president and beat him cold. We're heading South to Georgia, hoping that's going to be the state."

Nearly complete returns showed Tsongas with 35 percent to Clinton's 26 percent.

Behind them was a muddled second tier.

Nebraska Sen. Bob Kerrey took third place with 12 percent of the vote. Close behind was Iowa Sen. Tom Harkin with 10 percent, and former California Gov. Jerry Brown trailed with 9 percent of the vote, but enough to claim moral victory after being hugely outspent.

Tsongas and Clinton split the 18 Democratic national convention delegates, nine apiece, leaving none for the second-tier candidates.

Bush garnered 14 of the Republican national convention delegates to Buchanan's nine.

Board hears about GED successes

Hereford's program for general equivalency diplomas is still on a successful track, the Hereford school board learned Tuesday.

John Matthews, director of the adult education program, said 78 percent of the persons who completed the GED test in 1991 passed. That's above the national average of 72 percent.

Last year's successful students ranged in age from 16 to 59, Matthews said.

Students will start the 1992-93 school year on August 19, according to the calendar approved by the board.

The board also:

--Honored Janie Rendon and Teresa Quintana, both from Aikman Primary School, as employees of the month;

--Reviewed the annual performance report for 1990;

--Accepted a bid for computers from Kerr Electronics, the low bidder;

--Called the school district election for May 2, with filing open until March 18 for the District 4 and 5 posts currently held by Steve Wright and Mike Veazey;

--Considered a change in policy for fifth-year seniors that would not require them to carry a full load of courses.

After an executive session, the board approved the resignation of Tierra Blanca counselor Rhonda Urbanczyk and Aikman teacher Guadalupe Elizondo.

Eades announces for commission post

Hereford City Commissioner Roger Eades Tuesday became the first candidate to file for election this spring. He seeks Place 5, which he has filled by appointment since last September.

Four places on the Hereford City Commission will be on the ballot for the May 2 election.

Eades serves in an at-large position. He was appointed to finish the unexpired term of Terry Langehenig who resigned, then was selected as city attorney, in late August.

Other incumbents are Emory Brownlow, Place 6, also an at-large position; Irene Cantu, Place 2, and Wayne Winget, Place 4.

Winget also is an appointee to the commission, named to serve out the term of Bud Eades who resigned after election in 1990. Brownlow and Cantu were elected in 1990.

Filing for the election will continue through March 18 in the office of City Secretary Terri Johnson.

Terms of Mayor Tom LeGate and Commissioners James McDowell and Silvana Juarez do not expire this year. They were elected to two-year terms in 1991.

DSGH board approves purchases

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN
 Publisher-Editor

Directors of Deaf Smith County Hospital District approved the purchase of two major items last night--a cardiac monitor unit for the Intensive Care Unit and a new ambulance for the Emergency Medical Services.

In other business, the board approved medical staff appointments, tabled a proposal from a quality systems group, heard the operations report and administrator's report, heard a marketing report from Steve Jolly and a quality management report from Lisa Formby, and formally approved Deaf Smith Home Care appointments.

Six local physicians and two from Amarillo were approved to the medical staff and approved by the board. These include Dr. Jesse Perales, Dr. Nadir Khuri, Dr. Duffy McBrayer, Dr. Gerald Payne, Dr. Howard Johnson and Dr. Robert Bidwell. Dr. R.H. Cox Jr., radiology, and Dr. Rod Nugent, pathology, were approved from Amarillo.

Dr. Robert Clark, local surgeon, was not on the list and not mentioned in the board meeting. In response to a question about Dr. Clark's absence from the staff, hospital administrator Ron Rives explained that the doctor was on "automatic suspension for an indeterminate length for reasons of non-compliance with Deaf Smith General Hospital bylaws, not to include medical licensure."

Rives added that he anticipates the matter will be resolved and that Dr. Clark will be re-appointed to the medical staff. During the board meeting, Dr. Perales, chief of staff, announced appointment of department heads and committee members within the medical staff. Dr. Khuri is chief of surgery; Dr. McBrayer is chief of family practice; Dr. Johnson, chief of OB; Dr. Perales, chief of medicine and chief of respiratory therapy; Dr. Bidwell, chief of ICU-ER-EMS; Dr. Payne, chief of physical therapy and home health.

Rives recommended the purchase of the new cardiac monitoring equipment for three ICU beds. New units were quoted at a cost of about $85,000 but Rives proposed purchasing a demo unit at a cost of about $60,000. Directors approved the purchase.

The board had four bids on an ambulance, but one was for a used unit. Two of the bids were for monthly lease only, and the board decided to take a bid from First Response of Georgia for a lease-purchase contract on a new unit. Cost is $40,522 with payment being made over three years.

Jolly, public relations director for the hospital, reported that a number of marketing programs are being planned, including a Women's Issue Forum starting March 3. A "living will" program is also planned for senior citizens, and the free monthly blood pressure and glucose screenings are still being offered at the Senior Citizens Center. The hospital will soon begin a Value Care program for seniors. It is being extended from Lubbock Methodist.

The operations report showed an average daily census of 10.6 for adults and children for January and 9.6 for year-to-date (4 months). Surgical procedures were down from last year, while outpatient visits and physical therapy treatments had increased.

Net patient revenues totalled $553,983 for January, an increase over the same time a year ago, and income from operations was listed at $29,573. Tax revenue and other non-operating income was $121,702, resulting in $151,275 of excess revenue over expenses for the month.

The EMS reported 81 ambulance calls in January, with 62 being transport services. Lisa Formby, quality management coordinator, gave a report covering three months of the quality assurance program.

DSGH will buy a cardiac monitor unit for intensive care and a new ambulance for Hereford EMS.

Rives also outlined a proposal from Quality Systems Group, which recommended a plan to develop a comprehensive quality management process for the hospital. The administrator said he felt a better system was needed. The board decided to table the matter until the medical staff and directors had more time to consider the plan.

Directors present for the monthly board meeting were Raymond Schroeder, chairman; Boyd Foster, Dr. Stan Fry Jr. John Perrin, Dr. Robert Bidwell and Craig Smith. Several hospital staff members attended as well as Larry and Genevieve Summers, and O.G. Nieman.

World/National

MANCHESTER, N.H. - Conservative Patrick J. Buchanan stuns President Bush with a strong second-place showing in the kickoff New Hampshire primary. Democratic victor Paul Tsongas looks beyond his native New England and says "America, here we come."

MANCHESTER, N.H. - New Hampshire has once again administered shock therapy to a Bush candidacy: it sent him a vote of no-confidence Tuesday night. Democrats said their target in November would be not the incumbent president but the insurgent Patrick Buchanan.

WASHINGTON - New Hampshire primary voters rewarded two outsider candidates who scorned status-quo politics. With many Americans concerned about the economy and convinced the country is headed in the wrong direction, the approach has potential nationwide.

WASHINGTON - The Federal Reserve, under fire for not moving more boldly to end the recession, is freeing up an additional $8 billion for banks to lend their customers.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. - Two films about different but equally dangerous criminals - "Bugsy" and "The Silence of the Lambs" - head the list of favorites for the 64th annual Academy Award nominations today.

BETHESDA, Md. - Doctors told a Food and Drug Administration committee that many women with silicone gel breast implants suffer from illnesses ranging from minor flu-like symptoms to a condition resembling Lou Gehrig's disease.

BALTIMORE - Every day, Clara Lamke used to shake the asbestos dust from her husband's clothes when he came home from the shipyard. "She'd say, 'I can't put these clothes in the washer,'" recalled her husband, Calvert. Mrs. Lamke died of lung cancer in 1989. Her husband is one of 8,555 people suing companies they blame for putting them in harm's way.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico - On the drug war's vast Caribbean battlefield, cocaine traffickers are turning to low-riding, wooden-hulled boats that evade radar to make the long but lucrative ride from South America.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The collision of American and Russian nuclear submarines off the Russian Arctic coast won't alter the U.S. Navy's policy of operating its subs in international waters, the Navy's top officer said.

"The seas are free for everybody to operate in - ours, theirs, everybody else's," Adm. Frank B. Kelso II, the chief of naval operations, said in an interview Tuesday. "I don't see anything from this" incident that would change that.

Kelso declined to discuss the collision, which occurred Feb. 11 in the Barents Sea, apparently not far from Murmansk, the strategic naval port on the Kola Peninsula. That is the location of the headquarters of the Northern Fleet, the largest in the Russian Navy.

A brief U.S. Navy statement said the USS Baton Rouge, a Los Angeles-class nuclear attack submarine, was at periscope depth when it was hit by a surfacing Russian sub. The Baton Rouge watched the other sub surface and head toward port, and the Baton Rouge then began a return journey to its home port at Norfolk, Va.

There were no reports of radiation contamination.

The Navy said the Baton Rouge suffered no apparent damage and no injuries and it was due back at Norfolk on Feb. 25.

But Interfax, an independent news agency in Russia, said fragments of the U.S. sub's protective covering were found between the rails of the deck house barrier on the Russian vessel.

U.S. officials said they weren't sure which vessel was at fault, but beyond the issue of blame lay a broader question: If the former Soviet Union is no longer a threat to U.S. security, why are American subs still prowling its coastline?

Pentagon officials said the Baton Rouge was on a routine patrol.

Private U.S. analysts said it seemed likely the Baton Rouge was on a reconnaissance mission and some questioned the need for continued U.S. surveillance of Russian waters at a time of dramatically improved political relations.

"The question is, why are we doing this kind of operation now? The Cold War is supposed to be over," said James T. Bush, a retired Navy captain and submariner. "They really haven't adjusted to the fact that the Cold War is over."

Kelso, a submariner by training, stressed that the end of the Cold War did not mean the United States would give up its right to operate in international waters.

"We've had that feeling since the beginning of this century that we could move our ships and forces wherever we felt we needed to move them," the admiral said.

AG asked for opinion on tax cut

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas' comptroller wants the attorney general to decide whether it is legal for the Public Utility Commission to lower the state tax on utility gross receipts, a spokesman says.

The Public Utility Commission was scheduled to vote Wednesday on the assessment.

Andy Welch of Comptroller John Sharp's office said the agency has asked Texas Attorney General Dan Morales whether the PUC can take the action without legislative approval.

PUC member Marta Greytok has pushed to lower the utility tax to the amount needed to fund the commission and the Office of Public Utility Counsel, the state's consumer advocate for utility ratepayers.

Mrs. Greytok's office said the current tax of one-sixth of 1 percent on utility gross receipts will bring in an estimated $64 million for 1992-93. She said telephone customers pay an additional tax that will total another $2 million.

But the amount needed to fund the PUC and the public counsel's office is $26 million, Mrs. Greytok said. So she is proposing to lower the assessment to one-sixteenth of 1 percent, a $40 million decrease in state general revenue.

"I have long contended that the electric and telephone ratepayers of Texas should not be subsidizing the general revenues of the state," Mrs. Greytok said. "By taking affirmative action on my proposal to slash the tax ratepayers pay, the PUC can give sorely needed tax relief to the great majority of Texas families."

Rules to implement the changes would take effect 180 days after being filed with the secretary of state's office, which may occur this week.

Tipton Ross of Mrs. Greytok's office said the commissioner firmly believes the action is legal. But Welch said that the comptroller's office has "some real questions about it."

The comptroller has asked the attorney general whether the PUC can decrease the tax without legislative approval, such as through formal action by the Legislature or review by the Legislative Budget Board.

Eating less fat made easier by progress of food suppliers

WASHINGTON (AP) - It's easier than ever to cut the fat from your diet, thanks to the progress of food manufacturers and restaurants in producing low and non-fat foods, according to a private report.

But more work needs to be done to decrease the fat in school lunches and cuts of meat, said the study of the Institute for Science in Society. The study was financed with a grant from the Procter & Gamble Co.

The group compiled data from private and government sources to see how the country was reacting to the 1988 surgeon general's report linking dietary fat to chronic diseases.

It found:
-Consumers are cutting back on high fat foods, increasing consumption of food lower in fat and changing cooking habits to reduce fat.

-More than 5,600 reduced fat items are on the grocery shelves compared to 2,500 in 1986.

-About 10 percent of the 10,300 new foods introduced in 1990 were reduced in fat or calories, a 227 percent jump over the 275 similar products in 1988.

-A 15 percent increase in food reformulated to be lower in fat or cholesterol between 1986 and 1989, including a 33 percent increase in reformulated dairy products and a 38 percent increase in reformulated mayonnaise, margarine and salad dressings.

"All facets of society, some more than others, appear to be committed to improving the diet of Americans," said Dr. Edward N. Brandt Jr., head of the institute and chairman of the University of Oklahoma College of Medicine.

The institute is a private group that concentrates on public health policy.

Consumer group forces payments

AUSTIN (AP) - A two-month state investigation, spurred by a consumer group, has uncovered at least $10.5 million in unpaid discounts being refunded to about 500,000 Texas drivers, the state's Department of Insurance says.

Insurance Commissioner Georgia Flint said Tuesday that Texas drivers whose automobile policies offer discounts for air bags in their cars will receive an average refund of more than $20.

"The Texas Department of Insurance used its regulatory authority to call the industry's hand on this practice. We insisted that companies review their records, identify policyholders who had been overcharged, and refund their money - with interest," Ms. Flint said.

Insurance industry spokesman Jerry Johns said many companies have not been giving the discounts because their computers were not programmed to automatically reduce rates for those policyholders.

"In most cases, that has been corrected and refunds have been made to policyholders promptly. The majority of the insurance industry never intended to deceive policyholders," Johns said.

The discount was ordered by a 1988 Insurance Board rule that reduces policy premiums for medical payments and personal injury protection when a car has factory-installed air bags and automatic seat belts.

Drivers can receive a 30 percent premium reduction if all front seat passengers are protected and 15 percent if only the driver is secured.

"Denial of these discounts is particularly ironic because it was the industry itself that requested these discounts to encourage the use of passive restraints and to reduce the claims for injuries in automobile accidents," Ms. Flint said.

According to the Office of Public Insurance Counsel, 19 companies must refund almost $9.5 million, plus another $1 million in interest. Those firms cover about 460,000 consumers.

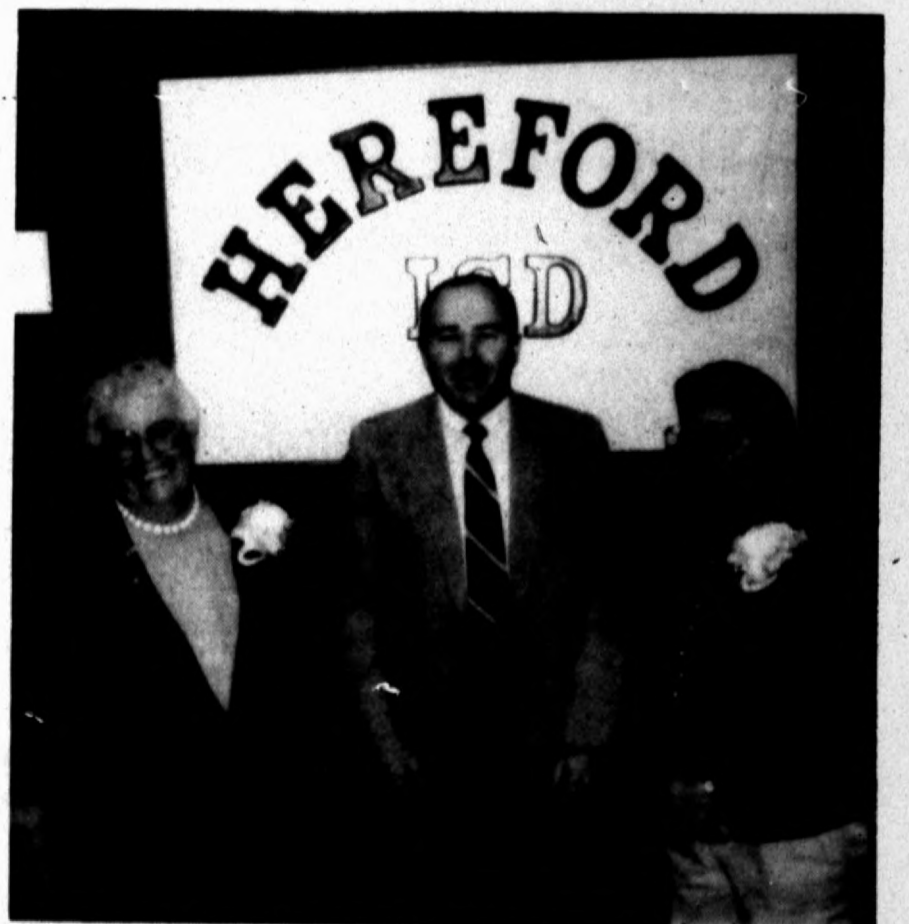

Ms. Flint said 80 percent of insurance companies have responded to the investigation. She expects to hear from 139 more companies with additional refunds topping $1 million.

Leading the firms making refunds is State Farm Insurance Cos., the state's largest auto insurer. It will pay almost 400,000 consumers a total of $8.5 million.

Aetna is paying about $1 million to 30,000 policyholders and three other companies are returning more than $700,000.

Amy Johnson, OPIC's chief counsel, said she expects the refund pool to increase by more than Ms. Flint's estimate because the figure from Allstate Insurance Cos. was "very low." Ms. Johnson added that Farmers Insurance Group has not reported yet.

Those two companies combine for more than 30 percent of the market, she said.

Knox reviews book for DAR chapter

A review of the book "The Navajo Code Talkers" by Doris A. Paul was presented to Los Ciboleros Chapter DAR by Mrs. Stanford Knox at a meeting held Thursday in the home of Mrs. C.F. Newsom.

Mrs. Knox told of the Navajo Indians who rallied to American's call during World War II to perform a unique and vital duty—that of devising and employing a secret code using their native tongue, a code which proved totally indecipherable to the Japanese.

Opening the meeting Regent Mrs. Arthur Clark let the DAR ritual. The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, The America's Creed and the Preamble of the Constitution of the United States of America were recited by members. "America" was led by Mrs. Merlin Kaul.

Mrs. C.F. Newsom read President General Marie H. Yochim's Message from the February Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine, noting a number of historical events taking place during the month of February in addition to the births of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

The National Defense Committee Chairman Mrs. Knox presented "Why Not Defend America's Borders?" from a DAR National Defense publication. "Year after year, illegal aliens flout our laws and threaten our security as they surge across our frontiers by the millions," she said. "Opinion polls indicate there is a growing public support for military participation in the campaign to regain control of our borders. Troop withdrawals from Europe already planned could provide more than enough reinforcements to assist the Border Patrol in regaining control over our southern border," she concluded.

Regent Clark reported that 95 essays had been submitted for the American History Essay Contest. Results of this contest will be forthcoming. The 1991-92 topic is "Famous Women of the American Revolution."

Mrs. C.F. Newsom, DAR school chairman, presented "A School Minute" featuring Berry College of Mount Berry, Ga. This DAR supported school was founded in 1902 and has an enrollment of 1,700. Emphasis is on academic preparation, meaningful work experience and the importance of religion in life.

The chapter voted a memorial to Berry College in memory of Margaret Hix Neal, who was a sister to member, Mrs. Tom Draper.

Regent Clark announced that the next meeting will be on Mary 12 at the Community Center for a program by guest, Boyd Foster on "Natural Grown Organic Foods-For Life."

Present were Mmes. Charles Bell, Clark, Draper, James J. Durham, Beryl Fish, W.J. Gililand, Merlin Kaul, Knox, Newsom, Austin Rose and Abel Ruga.

Many flavorful mustards available at supermarkets

Mustard is a "must" in most households, but perhaps not to the degree that it was centuries ago, when Pope John XXII reportedly slathered mustard on every food he ate.

The pope loved mustard so much that he appointed his rather unintelligent nephew "chief mustard maker to the pope," probably to keep his relative out of trouble more than any other reason.

These days, we have little need for mustard makers. We need only to choose from the incredible, and sometimes confusing, variety of mustards that stock our supermarket shelves. To figure out which kinds you'd like to buy and decide how you'd like to use them, check this handy listing.

American Mustard: A sweet, tangy flavor and a smooth texture characterize our bright-yellow mustard. Squirt it onto hot dogs or burgers or add it to potato salad.

Chinese Mustard: This mustard packs a flavor wallop. Its hotness comes from dark, pungent ground mustard seeds that are combined with water, vinegar, or even beer. Serve it as a dipping sauce for egg rolls, wontons, or Oriental-style grilled meats - but go easy on the amount.

English Mustard: This brownish-yellow mustard is another hot one. It's traditionally made by mixing dry mustard with a little water. Serve just a little bit with cold beef or lamb.

Flavored Mustards: Mustards can be flavored with everything from horseradish or peppers to tomato puree. To enjoy the unique flavors of these mustards, eat them plain with cold meats or as sandwich spreads.

French Mustard: Perhaps the most famous French mustard of all is Dijon, named for the city that first produced it. This grayish, lemon-colored spread calls for combining ground mustard seeds with white wine, herbs and spices. Use it in creamy sauces, sandwiches, and vinaigrette or creamy salad dressings, or serve it plain with with cooked meats, poultry, or seafood.

Annual Valentine dinner attended by club, guests

La Madre Mia Study Club members treated their sweethearts to their annual Valentine's dinner recently at the Hereford Country Club.

Hostesses included members of the social committee: Judy Williams, Gladys Merritt, Georgia Sparks, Ruth Black and Janet Schroeder.

Tables were decorated with red and white potted flowers, red streamers and multi-sized red hearts. The plants were given as door prizes to several members' husbands.

Following a dinner of lemon chicken and roast beef, the group played Pictionary and enjoyed the social hour. Those present were Marline Watson and Messrs. and Mmes. Wayne Lady, Butch White, Dean Herring, Bobby Owen, O.G. Nieman, Raymond Schroeder, Roger Williams, Don Cumpton, G.C. Merritt, Wendell Clark, Doug Manning, Bub Sparks and Terry Bromlow.

The next meeting is planned Feb. 27 in the home of Barbara Manning.

Focus on spring fashions

Now is the time to look ahead to the flirty and sensuous fashions that will bloom in spring.

There's a return to femininity and a resurgence of soft curves. Focus will be on the waist, the hourglass silhouette—with cinched-in middles and fit and flare shapes.

The new spring fashions features the 1940s retro influence with longer, waist-fitting jackets, longer skirts and wide-legged pants. The primary fabric in the clothes is a Fortrel/cotton knit. The appealing dressing becomes easy and hassle-free. Clothes made with Fortrel need very little care to look great.

Fashion colors for spring are bright and include bravado blue, fire island and peony with accent colors of lemon peel, bright green and lacquer orange.

Herd closes season with upset of Borger

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces ended a disappointing season on a high note, beating Borger 62-56 Tuesday in Whiteface Gym.

"It was a great way to finish a tough season," Coach Jimmy Thomas said. "We finally won a close game."

The Herd finished 3-7 in district and 8-22 overall. Borger is 4-6 and 13-17.

After leading 30-29 at halftime, the Herd had a 10-3 run to take a 40-32 lead. Mark Kuper came off the bench for four of the points in the run.

From then on, every time Borger scored, Hereford answered. Immediately after a Borger timeout, the Bulldogs scored four to pull within 40-36, but then Richard Sanderson hit a three-pointer.

Down the stretch, each of Hereford's four seniors--Sean Smith, Leo Brown, Derck Mason and Kevin Kelso--hit field goals to answer Borger challenges. Kelso's basket, a three-pointer, followed a Borger three-pointer and gave Hereford a 55-50 lead with less than two minutes left. Borger had scored five in a row after Brown fouled out with 2:22 remaining.

Kyle Hansen and Mason had baskets in the final minute to keep Borger out of range of a miracle comeback.

Smith led the Herd with 14 points, including a three-pointer at the first-quarter buzzer which gave the Herd a 16-13 lead. Mason and Brown each had 10 points, and Sanderson added nine.

Hereford had the offense to match Borger, but Thomas pointed to a defensive play in the second half which was a turning point.

"I thought one of the crucial times was when Derek (Mason) blocked their post player's shot," Thomas said. "We hadn't stopped him all game. After that, he stopped."

Hereford's junior varsity lost 65-55 after spotting Borger an 18-1 lead to start the game.

"We just couldn't score," Coach Oscar Rendon said of the early run. "I don't know. We couldn't get any buckets to go in."

Hereford made some headway but didn't get within 10 until the final buzzer. They scored 20 in the second quarter to cut the lead to 35-23 at the half, but lapsed in the third quarter and trailed 49-31 going into the fourth. Hereford cut Borger's lead to 13 with six minutes left, but the 'Dogs held them off.

Greg Coplen scored 29 for Hereford. He hit five three-pointers, including one at the final buzzer.

"Greg Coplen had a great offensive game, and he hadn't played in a couple of weeks," Rendon said. Coplen had been out with a bruised nerve.

Kuper, who played in both the varsity and the JV game, added 10 points for the JV.

Hereford's sophomore boys lost 72-69 after surrendering their lead in the fourth quarter.

Hereford led 32-27 at halftime, then extended the lead to 45-31 with a run early in the third-quarter. After that, Borger came up with a 22-7 run which gave the Bulldogs a 53-52 lead early in the fourth. The teams traded baskets until Borger scored six consecutive points to take a 64-58 lead.

Borger led 70-63 in the final minute and held off Hereford's final run. Stacey Sanders nailed a three-pointer to pull the Herd within four, then Josh Tice got a steal which led to a basket by Trey Skiles plus the foul shot. With only a 70-69 lead, Borger beat Hereford's defense for an easy layup, and Hereford didn't have time for a final shot.

Wade Johnson led Hereford with 14 points, Josh Tice scored 11 and Jay Kendall added nine.

Elsewhere in District 1-4A, Pampa clobbered Dumas 105-64, and Caprock upset Randall 82-77.

Pampa, which finished 10-0 in district, will go into the playoffs as the district champion, and Randall, 7-3, is the second playoff entry. Caprock finished at 6-4 and in third place, and Dumas, 0-10, owns the basement. Borger was fourth and Hereford was fifth.

In the first round, Pampa and Randall will play Estacado and Lamesa, respectively, at times and dates to be announced.

Randall's Lady Raiders beat Lamesa 66-56 Tuesday in a Class 4A bi-district game. Randall will meet Big Spring in the second round at a place and time to be announced.

Pampa, District 1-4A's runner-up, lost 47-40 to Levelland on Monday.

ESPN to show Tech-OU game

DALLAS (AP) - The 1992 Southwest Conference football schedule provides conference teams ample opportunity for national attention, league officials said Tuesday.

Texas Tech has switched its 1992 season opener against Oklahoma to Thursday, Sept. 3, to accommodate an ESPN national television audience as the Red Raiders and Sooners meet for the first time.

Texas A&M and Houston also have moved their hotly-contested annual SWC battle to Thursday, Nov. 12, for the same nationwide exposure on ESPN while the Aggies' traditional contest against Texas in Austin on Thanksgiving Thursday, Nov. 26, appears again nationally.

These telecasts, along with a Sept. 5 ABC-TV broadcast of the Texas A&M-LSU encounter from Baton Rouge, La., and A&M-Stanford in the Aug. 26 Disneyland-Pigskin Classic, give conference teams more coverage throughout the country.

"We are pleased with the schedule," said SWC Commissioner Fred Jacoby. "Our membership has again this year demonstrated its commitment to creating new opportunities for our teams and our fans, while at the same time maintaining competitive integrity. We are looking forward to the season."

1992 Southwest Conference Composite Football Schedule (As of Feb. 18, 1992; game times to be determined):

Wednesday, Aug. 26 - Texas A&M-Stanford (Disneyland Pigskin Classic, Anaheim, Calif.)

Cowboys sign kicker

IRVING, Texas (AP) - The rebuilt Dallas Cowboys hadn't anticipated a dip into Plan B free agency this year.

But they hadn't planned on losing kicker Ken Willis to Plan B, either. So, on Tuesday, the Cowboys grabbed Brad Daluiso, who was left unprotected by the Buffalo Bills.

Daluiso handled kickoff chores for the AFC champion Bills last season.

Daluiso, 25, did not attempt a field goal or extra point for the Bills last season after being claimed him off waivers Sept. 10. He spent the first two weeks of the season with the Atlanta Falcons, where he was 2-of-2 on extra points and 2-of-3 on field goals.

Netters sweep Randall

The Hereford tennis team swept 15 matches from Randall in a dual match Tuesday at Randall. Several of the matches were not completed or were played in pro sets because of darkness. Hereford's Teresa Baker saw her first action since coming over from the basketball team, and she apparently had no trouble adjusting, as she beat Karolyn Wolham 6-2, 6-0 in No. 1 singles. In other girls' singles matches, Michelle Berend defeated Jamie

Segedy, 6-2, 6-0; Gabriela Gamez def. Karen Branum, 6-0; Bri Reinauer def. Tiffany Dearman, 4-0; and Jennifer LeGate def. Tracy Cerka, 4-0. In girls' doubles: Emily Fuston/Sherry Fuston def. Wolham/Segedy, 6-1, 6-1; Reinauer/Robyn Sublett def. Cerka/Dearman, 6-4, 6-3; and LeGate/Brooke Weishaar, 4-6, 6-0, 6-3. In boys' singles: Jamie Kapka def. Kevin Morgan, 8-6; Torey Sellers def. Caleb Cameron, 7-6, 4-6, 5-2; Donnie Perales def. Chris Mules, 8-2; and Richard Drager def. Courtney Henderson, 8-5. In boys' doubles: Kapka/Sellers def. Cameron/Mules; 6-2, 6-1; D.Perales/Chris Lyles def. Morgan/Stephenson, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3; and Drager/Bobby Perales def. Wing/Smith, 6-4, 6-0. The team will play in the San Angelo Tennis Tournament Friday and Saturday.

Unknowns crash medal party

ALBERTVILLE, France (AP) - Call them the Wacky Olympics - big medals won so far by longshots named Kjetil and "Vegard the Viking" and Compagnoni. Several mystery medalists for every Tombs. Italy's Deborah Compagnoni - better known until Tuesday as Alberto Tomba's training partner and called "Tombagnoni" because of her daring style - was dreaming of double gold in the women's giant slalom after surprising the top-seeded skiers with a championship run in super giant slalom. But she injured her left knee early in today's first run after turning too sharply at a gate and falling. Two favorites also were early victims of the "Roc de Fer" course. World Cup circuit leader Petra Kronberger of Austria fell near the bottom after hitting a gate too hard with her left arm. Defending Olympic champion Vreni Schneider of Switzerland got off to a fast start but broke her right pole when she got too close to a gate, collapsing into the snow in frustration.

Germany held a comfortable lead in the medals count with 23, nine of them gold. Austria and the Unified Team were next at 17, one ahead of Norway. The United States was holding at six medals, the eighth-best total, but with high hopes going into the women's figure skating that begins tonight. Compagnoni's emergence out of nowhere, or at least short left field, typifies the first week and a half of the Albertville Winter Games. The ski slopes and rinks of the French Alps are littered with big winter names who froze, fizzled or just didn't sizzle as advertised: Paul Accola, Dan Jansen, Kurt Browning, Christopher Bowman, Yvonne van Gennip, Todd Eldredge, the Swedish team.

U.S. fights past French, into semis

MERIBEL, France (AP) - The Americans are a tough bunch to begin with. And when you start messing around with their goalie, watch out. They protected their prized possession, Ray LeBlanc, as if he were gold. When the frustrated French started buzzing around him and stinging him with slashes, they fought back. Sometimes, they even struck the first blow. The U.S. Olympic hockey team won the main event Tuesday night, 4-1, to move into the semifinals and assure at least a fourth-place finish. After the final horn, the United States held France to a draw in the post-game grappling that ensued near the strangely empty U.S. penalty box. "A lot of people are jamming the net and, very honestly, more penalties could have been called, probably both ways," U.S. coach Dave Peterson said. Four penalties were called against the Americans in the final two minutes. One was against LeBlanc for slashing. Peterson defended his goalie, saying "the guy had hammered him about four times." As the game ended, players from both benches spilled onto the ice - swinging sticks and fists. But after push came to shove, the teams exchanged traditional handshakes without incident - or enthusiasm. "I think the players were looking at each other, wondering if fights were going to start again," France's Philippe Bozon said. "I don't think we're a dirty team. We're a hard-working team," U.S. captain Clark Donatelli said. "We're a tough team and we're going to stick together." Especially when LeBlanc, the man most responsible for their surprising Olympic success, is under attack. LeBlanc has played every minute of every U.S. Olympic game and hasn't lost yet. He has allowed just eight goals as the Americans have compiled a 5-0-1 record, the best in the tournament. He has two shutouts and two one-goal games. Against France (2-4), he stopped 35 of 36 shots. "The French team was at least on the same level like the American team" Tuesday night, France coach Kjell Larsson said. "The difference was LeBlanc." LeBlanc played well despite a busy night Monday when he made 45 saves in a 3-3 tie with Sweden that ended the preliminary round. LeBlanc said he endured more exhausting stretches in the International Hockey League, where he plays for Indianapolis. Now he has two days without a game before Friday's semifinal against the winner of today's game between the Unified Team and Finland. The Americans got off to a slow start and trailed 1-0 after one period on Stephane Barin's goal. Peterson screamed at them between periods and got them moving. "I rate it a 10," Ted Donato said of the effectiveness of the tirade, "because we came back." Keith Tkachuk scored early in the second period and Donato scored twice in a 3:16 span. A third-period goal by Marty McInnis finished the scoring.

Austrian Ulrike Maier led Sweden's Pernilla Wiberg, the reigning giant slalom world champion, by .20 seconds and Austria's Anita Wachter by .27 going into this afternoon's second run, with favored Frenchwoman Carole Merle fourth. Three Americans were in medal contention - Julie Parisien of Auburn, Maine, in fifth place, Eva Twardokens of Santa Cruz, Calif., in sixth, and Diann Roffe of Potsdam, N.Y., ninth.

Vegard "the Viking" Ulvang, a Norwegian who had never won a big race, is the Olympics' leading male medalist after taking a third gold medal and fourth overall as part of the winning team in the men's 40-kilometer cross-country relay. Russian cross-country skier Lyubov Egorova of the Unified Team leads all women with three golds and a silver.

Rockets fire Chaney, hire Tomjanovich for interim

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston Rockets owner Charlie Thomas believes in motivating employees and in making hard decisions. Those two management qualities added up to Don Chaney's dismissal Tuesday as head coach of the sagging Houston Rockets, who started the season with high hopes but have been sputtering most of the season. Thomas watched on television as the Rockets lost to Dallas on Saturday. Then, after they blew a 24-point lead to Minnesota and lost 124-122 in overtime Monday night, Thomas decided it was decision time. He fired the 1991 NBA coach of the year and appointed assistant Rudy Tomjanovich as the interim coach. "I simply couldn't wait any longer," Thomas said Tuesday. "Don might have been able to turn it around, but I couldn't wait. I watched that game Saturday night and I felt we gave that game away. "Then last night against Minnesota I knew it couldn't get any worse and that anything I did would have to help." On June 13, 1988, Chaney became the Rockets' eighth coach in the franchise's 24-year history. His contract extends through next season. In Chaney's first three seasons as coach, the Rockets went 45-37, 41-41 and 52-30, but were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs each season. Thomas said he was dismayed by the way the team deteriorated as this season progressed. "In the first 20 or so games of the season, we were one of the top five or six teams in the NBA," Thomas said. "We still have the same talent, but we're not playing. We've got to get back together."

Thomas, who owns car dealerships throughout the state, said he believed in motivating the players. Chaney, 45, has said he doesn't consider it his job to motivate players, just to coach them. "These days, you've got to motivate," Thomas said. "If you can motivate people to sell 12 cars, then you motivate them to sell 15. My idea is to motivate the players." The Rockets are 26-26 and in third place in the Midwest Division, 8 1/2 games behind first-place Utah. Houston's next game is at home against Philadelphia Thursday. "It's been frustrating the way we've been playing," Tomjanovich said. "There is so much potential here. I'll try my approach and we'll see what happens."

The Rockets' latest loss, and their seventh in 10 games, was one of the most bitter this season. They blew a 24-point lead at The Summit Monday night and were beaten by the lowly Timberwolves 124-122 in overtime. Minnesota has the worst record in the league, 10-40. Chaney met with his team in a closed door session following the game and later met with Thomas and general manager Steve Patterson. Chaney led the Rockets through an injury-tilled 1991 season that included a franchise record 13-game winning streak. This was Chaney's second coaching job. He coached the Los Angeles Clippers for the final 21 games of the 1984-85 season and for the following two seasons, posting records of 9-12, 32-50 and 12-70. Chaney played 11 seasons in the NBA, with the Boston Celtics and Los Angeles Lakers.

Tomjanovich, 43, a Rockets' assistant for nine years, retired after the 1980-81 season. During his NBA career, all with the Rockets, he scored 13,383 points and grabbed 6,198 rebounds while playing in five All-Star Games. He averaged better than 20 points per game in four seasons, with a high of 24.5 in 1973-74.

Rodman leads Pistons' rout

By CHRIS SHERIDAN Associated Press Writer
It's scary to think what Dennis Rodman could have done if he had played the whole game. The Detroit forward pulled down 27 rebounds in only 29 minutes Tuesday in the Pistons' 117-95 win over the Orlando Magic. He also scored 18 points.

When coach Chuck Daly took Rodman out of the game with 8:33 remaining and the Pistons ahead 101-74, the NBA's leading rebounder was in rare shape: Rodman, a fitness fanatic, was out of breath and gasping for air. "Yeah, I was sucking wind. It seemed like I was doing everything. I was going one on five at times,"

Rodman said. The Pistons are 10-0 against the Magic since Orlando's entrance into the NBA, including 3-0 this season. In other action Tuesday, New York defeated Sacramento 110-97, Milwaukee surprised Cleveland 128-116, Philadelphia beat Dallas 94-90 and Portland downed Phoenix 129-116.

Hawkeyes upset Buckeyes

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) - James Moses likes to think he plays his best against the best. While that may not always happen, the Iowa senior certainly was in peak form against No. 6 Ohio State and Jim Jackson on Tuesday night. Moses scored 21 points and his tenacious defense was instrumental in keeping Jackson in check as Iowa won 92-86 to knock the Buckeyes out of sole possession of first place in the Big Ten. "Ohio State has a lot of great players, but we have some guys on this team that can be big-time players, too," Moses said. Moses and Co. definitely played big-time defense against Jackson, an All-American as a sophomore last year and the Big Ten's leading scorer this season with a 23.8 average. In other games involving ranked teams, it was No. 2 UCLA 82, California 76; Clemson 68, No. 16 Florida State 67; and Georgia 87, No. 10 Arkansas 78.

UNLV's Johnson had use of car

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Larry Johnson, the first player selected in the 1991 NBA draft, had the use of a sports car last season that was owned by an automobile dealership with ties to the UNLV basketball program, it was reported today. Quoting court and state records, the Los Angeles Times reported in today's editions that Johnson drove a $32,000 car belonging to Fletcher

Jones Import Center of Las Vegas at least two weeks before the vehicle was sold by the dealership to a high school coach in Dallas, Johnson's hometown. Johnson is a graduate of Dallas Skyline High School. Such an arrangement is an apparent violation of NCAA rules that prohibit coaches and other representatives of a school's athletic interests from providing student-athletes with benefits not available to the student body in general, the newspaper said. The Times report comes less than a week after the Las Vegas Journal reported that the FBI was questioning certain people regarding rumors that some of the Rebel players shaved points last season.

Excite kids about reading

Twenty-seven million Americans can neither read nor write. Another 45 million have marginal literacy skills. Every day the 50 million American workers who read below ninth grade level cost businesses a minimum of $200 million in lost productivity.

According to the U.S. Department of Education, "The single most important activity for building the knowledge required for eventual success in reading is reading aloud to children."

The Children's Literacy Initiative (CLI) has devoted itself to helping children develop a love and desire for learning, while improving their reading skills through reading aloud. The experts at "Chase Story Time," a public-interest literacy program developed by Chase Manhattan Visa and MasterCard with the help of CLI, offer some tips to help parents excite their children about reading:

1. Provide your children with good literature that is well-written and illustrated and captures the interest of you both.
2. Choose books that build your children's vocabulary.
3. Read aloud to your children at every opportunity.
4. Let books function as conversation starters. Reading together can be a great time to talk with your children.
5. Take a book along wherever you go. Children are more likely to read if there are good books available to them.
6. Take your children to the library. Encourage them to to their own library cards, and help them choose books that interest them.
7. Don't let your children spend too much time watching television. Their time is as important as yours.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 15 cents a word for first insertion ($3.00 minimum), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy charge, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	.15	3.00
2 days per word	.26	5.20
3 days per word	.37	7.40
4 days per word	.48	9.60
5 days per word	.59	11.80

If you run ads in five consecutive issues with NO changes, you get the same ad in the Reach 4 More free. The regular charge for that ad would be $4.00

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines—those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing; all capital letters. Rates are $4.15 per column inch; $3.45 an inch for consecutive additional insertions.

LEGALS

Ad rates for legal notices are same as for classified display.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

It takes more than blind luck to pin down the right home.

Sure, you could go on stumbling through the housing market. Running into dead ends and getting cornered with too little information.

Or you could nail down that new home the easy way. By consulting an experienced real estate agent.

An agent can point out options you may have missed. Get you inside interesting homes that you may never have seen otherwise. Even do a lot of the groundwork, so you don't have to.

Like researching financing packages. Checking through the multiple-listing service for homes that fit your needs -- and your pocketbook. Negotiating with the seller. And arranging for inspections. He or she will even be there at closing.

So instead of forging ahead without knowing what's out there, get some help from an expert. A real estate agent.

Inside The Hereford Brand, you'll find both qualified agents and valuable information about home buying. Everyday, the real estate classifieds list many properties and agents. And The Brand's Sunday housing section examine the latest market trends and housing opportunities.

With the right guide, hitting your mark can be child's play.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Notice is hereby given that the Hereford I.S.D. will be accepting sealed bids until MARCH 5, 1992. Bids will be opened at 1:00 PM, in the central administration office located at 136 Avenue F, Hereford, Texas, for the following:
FOUR (4) UNIT COMPUTER SYSTEM FOR THE BUSINESS OFFICE
Specifications and information may be obtained by contacting: BOBBY MOUDY, BUSINESS MANAGER at 136 AVENUE F, HEREFORD, TX., (806)364-0606. The District reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Elizabeth Taylor will make her first appearance on "The Tonight Show" on Friday. Miss Taylor is among a roster of stars being sought for the final months of Johnny Carson's 30-year reign as late-night talk show host. Comedian Jay Leno replaces him in May.

LAS VEGAS (AP) - "Diff'rent Strokes" child star Dana Plato got one last chance from a judge after pleading that she needed help for a drug problem.

"I'm sick. I really need help," Ms. Plato, 27, said at hearing Tuesday. Ms. Plato, on probation for robbing a video store last year, was arrested last month for falsifying Valium prescriptions.

She faced a six-year sentence for violating her probation, but District Judge Stephen Huffaker heeded her pleas and allowed her to remain free.

SEYMOUR, Ind. (AP) - John Mellencamp's movie "Falling From Grace" was a big hit with moviegoers in his hometown, where it was filmed. "I loved it," Opal Hoffmeier said after Monday's screening. Her grandson has a supporting role.

It's pita pizza time

A recent poll in USA Today focused on "What kids like to eat...Foods named most often by parents as their children's favorites." Pizza was a clear winner, outranking other favorites such as cheeseburgers, hot dogs, chicken nuggets and macaroni an cheese. This doesn't surprise me. My kids can be fussy about the food I serve, but they're never picky pizza eaters.

Here's a quick and easy version we've tried recently and it's become a family favorite. Instead of making pizza dough, we build the pizzas on pita bread. half the fun is putting the pita pizzas together assembly-line fashion, letting everyone announce their favorite toppings as the pizzas move down the line.

Bake pizza for 10-12 minutes or until cheese is melted and bubbly. For a crispier pita crust, bake the sliced pita halves in the oven 4-5 minutes before adding sauce and toppings. If you'd like to share your comments or ideas for family projects, write to Donna Ericson, P.O. Box 16188, Minneapolis, Minn. 55416.

The great Alaska brown bear weighs as much as 1,600 pounds and measures up to nine feet in length.

Here's how to make six small pizzas.

Preheat the oven to 400 F.

An adult should slice three 6-inch pitas (use plain or whole-wheat) horizontally in half. Lay each slice on cookie sheets, cut side up.

Brush each slice with tomato sauce

Camp Fire Council gives special awards

Special awards were presented during the recent annual meeting of the Hereford Camp Fire Council.

Jainie Guy was named Camp Fire Leader of the Year. She has been a leader for seven years and has served as a resident camp counselor. The council cited her outstanding leadership abilities and dedication to her club and to Camp Fire.

The Sponsor of the Year was Tom Lange with Carl McCaslin Lumber Co. He has been sponsoring clubs for seven years and furnishes supplies for many different Camp Fire projects.

Janie Nino was presented the Fledgling Award. This award was given to Nino for her positive attitude and for being an outstanding leader to a K-4 club and a third grade club.

The Earnest Thompson Seaton Award, given for unique contributions to Camp Fire, was presented to Billie Kelley. She began as a Camp Fire volunteer over 15 years ago. She has been a leader, winter camp counselor, a continual club sponsor, served on the board of directors, and is a mother of a Wo He Lo medallion recipient.

Chelli Cummings and Misty Pagett were given special recognition by the council as Horizon Club board members. They were thanked for their support and service to Camp Fire.

Certificates of Appreciation were given to Dorman Smith and Joe Valdez for their dedication to Camp Fire.

Council officers were also elected during the annual meeting. Serving as president will be Clarence Scott; vice president, Lynda Herrin; secretary, Jackie Flood; and treasurer, Roy Messer.

Directors serving a three-year term are Mrs. Darrell Flood, Nathan Lockmiller, David Red, Mrs. Edward Yavornik and Mrs. Jerry Williams.

Directors serving a two-year term are Terry Beavers and Dean Crofford.

Youth directors serving a one-year term are Erin Bullard and Diane Wilhelm.

Original compositions performed for club

Former Hereford resident, Carlie Burdett of Amarillo, presented a program of her original musical compositions when members of Calliopean Study Club met Feb. 13 at St. Thomas Episcopal Church.

To begin the evening, guest Dr. Duffy McBrayer sang Burdett's arrangements of Psalm 47 and Psalm 46. Piano accompaniment was provided by Linda Gilbert.

Burdett then told the group about her latest project, a musical (which had just that day been delivered to her choir director) entitled "A Man After God's Own Heart" based on the life of David. The work is to be performed by the adult, teen and children's choirs at Amarillo's Central Church of Christ in May. A copy of the completed work was examined by members so they could see how the computer has assisted Burdett in her work.

Burdett then performed on the piano her "Music for Bird Lovers." Members were amazed how the music evoked a clear picture of "The First Flight of the Pelican", "Chickens Pecking at Bugs" and "The Peacock."

Before closing her program, members coaxed Burdett into singing one of her favorite children's numbers from her musical. Refreshments in a Valentine theme were served by hostesses, Claudia McBrayer and Linda Gilbert, to those present. They included Marjorie Mims, Wilma Nobles, Kay McWhorter, Kathryn Ruga, Irene Conway, Virginia Holmes, Faye Holt, Kathlee Palmer, Jan Furr, Dorothy Ott, Audine Dettmann, Mary Fraser and Jane Gulley.

Special guests were Dr. Trow Mims, Buddy McBrayer, Donna Bogan, Norma Walden, Betty Taylor, Dr. McBrayer and Mrs. Burdett.

Book review presented to Lone Star Club members

Ruby Stevenson gave a book review entitled "Raisa" when members of the Lone Star Study Club met recently in the home of Gladys Willoughby.

"Raisa" is the story of Raisa Tetarenka, the wife of Mikhail Gorbachev, who eventually became the first lady of Russia. Raisa was born in western Siberia, the site of the prison camp of slave laborers. Raisa's father was imprisoned at the site because he criticized the government. Stevenson explained that Raisa's mother pushed her daughter to excel in her studies. Because of her mother's encouragement, Raisa was awarded a university scholarship where she received her doctorate. Following her marriage, the early years were difficult but she and her husband were "just happy to be together."

In the absence of the president, Ursalee Jacobsen, vice president, presided at the business meeting when minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Gladys and Quintan Waits served Valentine refreshments to Oneita Davidson, Margaret Ann Durham, Mildred Fuhrmann, Byrdie Dee Fellers, Wilma Goettsch, Naomi Hare, Retta Ramp, Verna Sowell, Marjorie Thomas, Grace Tinnin, Winnie Wiseman and special guest, Jo Wade.

The next meeting will be a musical program at the King's Manor Lamar Garden Room.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last week my wife and I discovered that our 16-year-old son has been wearing his sister's underwear. When we questioned "Brent" he admitted that he has worn her panties and other pieces of lingerie ever since he was 6.

Our 17-year-old daughter, "Annie", has known about this for quite some time and says she doesn't mind as long as the panties are clean when he puts them back in her drawer.

My wife is inclined to let Brent "express himself," as she puts it. She is a psychologist and says a great many more males like to wear lingerie than most people would believe. Furthermore, she sees nothing wrong with it and indicated that she might buy him his own panties and bras so he wouldn't have to borrow his sister's.

Brent insists that he is not gay and reminds us that he has a very lovely girlfriend. According to him, his girlfriend is aware of his interest in women's under attire and she doesn't mind.

Can you suggest that he is not gay and reminds us that he has a very lovely girlfriend. According to him, his girlfriend is aware of his interest in women's under attire and she doesn't mind.

Can you suggest anything I can do about this? I feel as if I am fighting a losing battle. My wife, son and daughter all think that what "Joanne" (as Brent calls himself) is doing is cool.

How does one cope with the situation when a psychologist approves of behavior that is clearly abnormal? Please let them know that they are encouraging sick behavior.--John in Mission Viejo, Calif.

DEAR VIEJO: Your son's interest in wearing women's lingerie is pretty kinky but he is not going to stop because his dad doesn't approve of it.

What is involved here is far more complicated than mere cross-dressing. When you mentioned that he calls himself "Joanne" a whole new dimension opened up.

It appears that your son enjoys thinking of himself as a woman. Your wife, the psychologist, knows that counseling will not "straighten him out." It might, however, help him deal more successfully with a world that does not view his behavior as normal. Good luck.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Many years ago my husband disappointed me terribly. He substituted his Shiner's ring for his wedding ring. I was upset and explained that his wedding ring was a symbol of our love, our three children, and all the good times and struggles we had shared. He became angry and said, "Don't mention the ring ever again!"

I told him I was going to write Ann Landers, and I did. You printed my letter and when I asked, "Is he trying to tell me something?" You answered, "He already has!"

How clever of you. The day that letter appeared in the paper, my husband changed back to his wedding ring. Had this not happened, my heart would have been broken and I would never have felt the same toward him. He lived for another 10 years and I was content all that time knowing that he really did love me.

--M.H. in an Diego

DEAR SAN DIEGO: What a lovely day-brightener. A letter like yours is a marvelous upper. Thank you for letting me know I helped.

When planning a wedding, who pays for what? Who stands where? "The Ann Landers' Guide for Brides" has all the answers. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (This includes postage and handling) to: Brides, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have a high cholesterol and a high potassium. It seems nearly all the foods for good cholesterol are also high in potassium. I went to a registered dietitian, but all I got were separate lists, one for cholesterol and one for potassium. But one list voids the other. I sure miss my orange juice, tomatoes and bananas. My cholesterol is 290 and potassium 5.6. I am 78 years old, not overweight and in good health otherwise.

DEAR READER: A high potassium level in a healthy person who is not taking any medicine is rather unlikely. Your reported level is a little high, but that may not be your actual level. A common cause is how the blood is drawn. High potassium levels are within cells, including the red blood cells. If a significant number of red blood cells are broken when taking a blood sample, the level will be high. Have your blood tested again. The blood should be drawn without any tourniquet on your arm and the sample heparinized to prevent clotting. Such a sample may reveal a completely normal potassium level.

Stark listed on honor roll

Tammy Sue Stark of Hereford has been named to the honor list at Amarillo College for the fall 1991 semester.

Honorees must earn a 3.4 grade point average or above and be a full-time student earning a minimum of 12 hours.

Stark is a medical laboratory technician major.

About $450 million worth of pickles and pickle products is made each year.
