Harvest Almost Complete

Around Town

Everything still is revolving around the wheat harvest. Many farmers have finished cutting now, although there are quite a number of small fields that haven't been touched yet. And while the rains will do wonders for the row crops, there are a lot of anxious glances at the big thunderheads while the combines are whirring along for long hours.

We've seen several fields of 60-bushel wheat and have heard rumors of some that are making 70 or 80 bushels. It looks like a real bumper crop for this county.

The 10th anniversary reunion of the Hereford High graduating class of 1949 will be observed Saturday, July 4. Events on tap include a coffee for the girls (Continued on page 2)

Rainfall in Deaf Smith County this week put a damper on harvesting of wheat as storage of the 1959 crop was estimated at being about 75 per cent completed Wednesday morning.

Few combines were scheduled to hit the fields Wednesday, but with a few cloudless days, most farmers felt that harvesting of the estimated 240,000 acres of the crop would be "a thing of the past" by the middle of next week. County Agent J. W. "Lefty" Thomas, after talking to county elevator operators, said that up to 75 per cent of the wheat in the county has been harvested. County elevator managers said moisture content has ranged from 12 to 14 per cent.

Yankee Efforts Beat Cardinals

In an eventful game at Little League park the Yankees came from behind to win over the Cardinals 8-7 Tuesday night.

A three-run lead was established by the Cards in the first inning when scores were made by Gary Stagner on a single, Frank Cain on a home run and Steve Coneway on a walk.

The Yanks were blanked in the first after two singles by Steve Hodges and S. D. Baize. Having a blank inning in the second, both teams remained scoreless.

Hot winds shrunk some of the grain in the county to some extent last year, and hail damaged some of the crop. Little hail has been reported here this year.

No lack of combines has been reported in the county this year, according to Pat Patterson, State Employment representative. Harvesting began on June 17.

Most of the hail reported in the county this year has been in the west portion. During the peak of harvest last year, large hailstones peppered the unharvested crop to a great extent west of Hereford.

Only 26 of an inch of moisture was registered on Hereford's official rain gauge at City Hall. However, overcast skies blocked farmers' chances of putting combines into operation Wednesday.

Major Construction Shows Continued Growth For City

Building activity in Hereford continued to soar at supersonic speed during the second quarter of 1959, with 32 permits for building and alterations totaling $355,185 for April, May and June.

Added to 34 permits issued during the first quarter for $536,600, the recent quarter brought the year's total to 66 (Continued on page 2)

permitted for $891,785. Contrasted with the $370,240 in permits issued at the end of June, 1958, an increase of $521,545 is shown so far over the previous year. Permits issued during the last three months nearly equalled the total for the first six months of last year.

Major construction during the recent quarter included permits for $42,000 for a 4,200 square foot addition to the Presbyterian Church in Hereford, and (Continued on page 2)

Tribe Blanks Tigers, 15-0

Playing errorless ball and giving up only four hits the Pony League Indians blanked the Tigers 15-0 Tuesday night. The game belonged entirely to the Indians, as only three Tigers even saw third base and Indian pitcher Dick Combs only allowed three Tigers on base by walks.

In the first inning Danny Cates hit a single for the Tigers, but with one out before him and two more outs made in the order they batted, Cates didn't have a chance.

The Indians, too, were blanked in the first inning with only a single by Gene Jennings to break the monotony.

Blanking the Tigers in the second inning the Indians ran in six scores in the bottom of the inning to start the race.

Two singles, three walks and an error accounted for the Indian runs. Bill Steele, Ronnie Gray and Ronny Duncan all took free passes to make the round trip. Singles were converted to scores by John Willoughby and Jim Haney. Eugene Jennings capitalized on a second base error to score.

Four Enter Beauty Contest As Festival Gathers Steam

Four girls have been entered in the Hereford Harvest Festival queen contest, as the pace begins to quicken in anticipation of the huge event.

Initial entrants in the two-day beauty contest include Judy McGee, entered by Cooper's Market; Zell Crump, sponsored by the Popula Store; Janie Bookout, entered by Vogue; and Jo Ann Fowlkes, who will be sponsored by West Texas Drilling Co.

Additional entries are expected this week, according to the Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the contest. Gerald Hale is chairman of the beauty pageant.

Any firm, organization or individual may sponsor an entry in the beauty contest. Single girls between the ages of 16 and 23 are eligible to compete in the contest, which will be held July 30 and 31 at the High (Continued on page 2)

School auditorium, starting at 6 p.m. each evening.

The Harvest Festival is slated for July 30, 31 and Aug. 1, with many activities slated for the special event.

Gathering steam for the three climaxed days, the Lions Club Carnival will go into operation around the Bull Barn on Saturday, July 25, for eight days of activity.

On Tuesday, July 28, the Chamber of Commerce will sponsor an appreciation dinner for the area vegetable industry.

Special attractions will begin on Thursday, July 30. The first of three evening rodeo performances will be held, sponsored by the Hereford Riders Club. Rodeos will get underway at 8 p.m. for the three big days.

There will be a harvest exhibit and home show at the Bull Barn and Equipment Barn during the three days. County Agent Lefty Thomas is in charge of the exhibits with home demonstration club women selling the exhibit passes.

Saturday will really wind up the celebration in fine fashion. The entire day will be dedicated to the area pioneers, who will gather to renew old acquaintances and exchange tales of the early days in the Panhandle.

Dedication of the new City of Hereford airport also is scheduled for all day Saturday. Among other things, there will be static displays of aircraft, an Air Force jet fly-over and many other activities.

At 2 p.m. Saturday, a huge Harvest Festival parade will start rolling through the downtown area of Hereford. The Optimist Club is handling the parade entries, under the chairmanship of Gene King. There will (Continued on page 2)

Radar Goes Into Action To Curb City Speeding

A Muni-Quip radar unit was received Monday by the Hereford Police Department for enforcement of speed laws within the city limits. City officials hoped to place the unit into operation this week.

Police chief Henry Aycock said the unit would be placed in a patrol car and be operated on the selective enforcement method at various portions of the city.

"The unit will not be used as a device for additional revenue to the city," Aycock said. "Rather, its purpose is to assist the department in enforcing speed laws for the safety of motorists and pedestrians."

Aycock pointed out that property loss caused by automobile accidents in 1958 exceeded that of 1957, even though there were fewer accidents in 1958. He attributed excessive speed as a factor in the greater property loss last year.

Signs were to have been placed at the main entrances to the city this week to inform motorists that speed in Hereford is radar-controlled.

"As we feel that excessive speed is one of the greatest factors in causing car accidents," Aycock said, "we hope to decrease accidents considerably by placing this unit in operation."

As required by trial judges in other locales, the unit will be calibrated by a tuning fork at each new location to check registering accuracy of the unit. The unit will be placed at points where it will "do the most good" in decreasing the present accident rate, Aycock said.

In-service instruction on the unit was to be held for Hereford patrolmen this week, he said. Operating from a 12-volt car battery, the unit has three rang-

OPERATION HOLIDAY

Highway Patrol Announces Extra Hours For Weekend

Texas Highway Patrol officers in Deaf Smith County will work extra hours over the July Fourth weekend in the state Department of Public Safety's "Operation Holiday."

On July 3, 4 and 5, the three patrolmen in the Hereford unit will work 12-hour shifts instead of the normal nine-hour periods in enforcing speed laws on highways in the area.

"Schedules are being arranged so that patrolmen will be on duty during peak traffic load hours," patrol sergeant Dan Duggan of Hereford said.

Duggan added that all personnel of the Department of Public Safety's license and weight and motor vehicle inspection services will be used in conjunction with patrol units to control traffic-heavy highways.

Patrolmen have been instructed to pay strict attention to any hazardous moving violation of motorists over the holidays. Also during that period, "Operation Deathwatch" will be in effect, in which all violent deaths will be reported to the Department of Public Safety headquarters in Austin.

Make Marijuana Charge Against Theft Suspect

A charge of possession of marijuana stemmed from the arrest of one of two Latin-American youths charged in connection with the April Helton Army Surplus Store burglary in Hereford this week.

Arrested by Deaf Smith County Sheriff Charles Skelton Sunday in Hereford were Juan Bastardo, 18, charged with burglary and possession ment of Public Safety headquarters in Austin.

Duggan pointed out that since the Fourth falls on a Saturday this year, many Texans will receive a holiday on Friday or Monday, giving families a chance to take short vacation trips.

"Weekend travel is normally dangerous enough," he said, "but when you couple it with a holiday, it becomes increasingly hazardous."

He emphasized that travelers should not undertake journeys of a greater distance than can be driven at a leisurely pace, with allowance for heavy traffic and other delays.

Col. Homer J. Garrison, Texas Department of Public Safety head, announced that 26 traffic fatalities had been predicted for the state during the holiday. He then challenged the public to prove the experts wrong by reducing this estimate.

File Probation Violation Charge

Tony Lee Miller, 19, of Hereford was charged with violation of probation this week by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department after his arrest at Clarksville, where he has been charged with car theft.

Miller was arrested by officers in Clarksville, in Red River County, about two weeks ago. He was returned to Hereford by Deputy Sheriff L. R. Cherrylomes Monday.

Probation for Miller was set at two years by 69th District Judge Harry Schultz early this year after Miller entered a plea of guilty to a burglary charge. Cherrylomes said Miller was released at Clarksville after posting a $2,500 bond.

Approve Audit, Name Committee For United Fund

Directors of the Deaf Smith County United Fund Monday authorized an audit of the organization's books by a public accountant.

The action is a normal procedure and will precede a change in the group treasurer. Bill Decker will be succeeded by Al Yeager as treasurer.

In other action, campaign committee chairman Hillary Aven named his committee for the coming year. It includes (Continued on page 2) of marijuana, and Hilario Garcia Jr., 18, charged with receiving and concealing stolen property in connection with the Helton Store burglary. Both live at the Labor Camp. While searching Bastardo, Skelton confiscated four cigarettes believed to be marijuana. The cigarettes have been sent to the Department of Public Safety laboratory in Austin for analysis.

Rites Held For Mrs. Dudley, 64

Funeral services for Mrs. Willie Wanda Dudley, 64, of 109 Pearl Street, were conducted Monday in the Assembly of God Church of Hereford, with the Rev. V. W. Marcontell, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Dudley died at 8 p.m. Saturday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lenora Pierson. She was born in Johnson County Oct. 17, 1894, and was married to Alvin Herbert Dudley at Carey on May 19, 1918. She moved to Hereford from Plainview in June of 1958. She was a member of the Assembly of God Church.

Survivors include her husband; a son, Homer Dudley of Plainview; seven daughters, Lurine Dudley, Mrs. Dora Biggstaff and Mrs. Fay Hartman, all of Plainview; Mrs. Lenora Pierson of Hereford; Mrs. Alma Lee Pierson of Lockney; Mrs. Nita Hoffman of Olton and Mrs. Jimmy Crabtree of Sweetwater; two sisters, Mrs. T. B. Sanders of Sinton and Mrs. L.L. Howard of Colorado Springs, Colo., and a brother, Claude Martin of Shamrock.

Burial was in Rest Lawn Memorial Park under the direction of Kreig-Marcum Funeral Home.

Post Office Adds Second Drive-In Box

A drive-in box for out-of-town mail deliveries was added by the Hereford Post Office Department Monday for the convenience of automobile patrons.

In announcing the addition, Mrs. Curtis Traweck, Hereford postmaster, urged patrons using the out-of-town and local delivery drive-in boxes to separate their mail before placing it in respective boxes.

The new box was placed to the left of the local delivery box on the south side of the post office. Mrs. Traweck urged persons to mail their letters early, at least by 8 p.m., in order that the post office's night dispatcher would have adequate time to separate mail for delivery the next day.

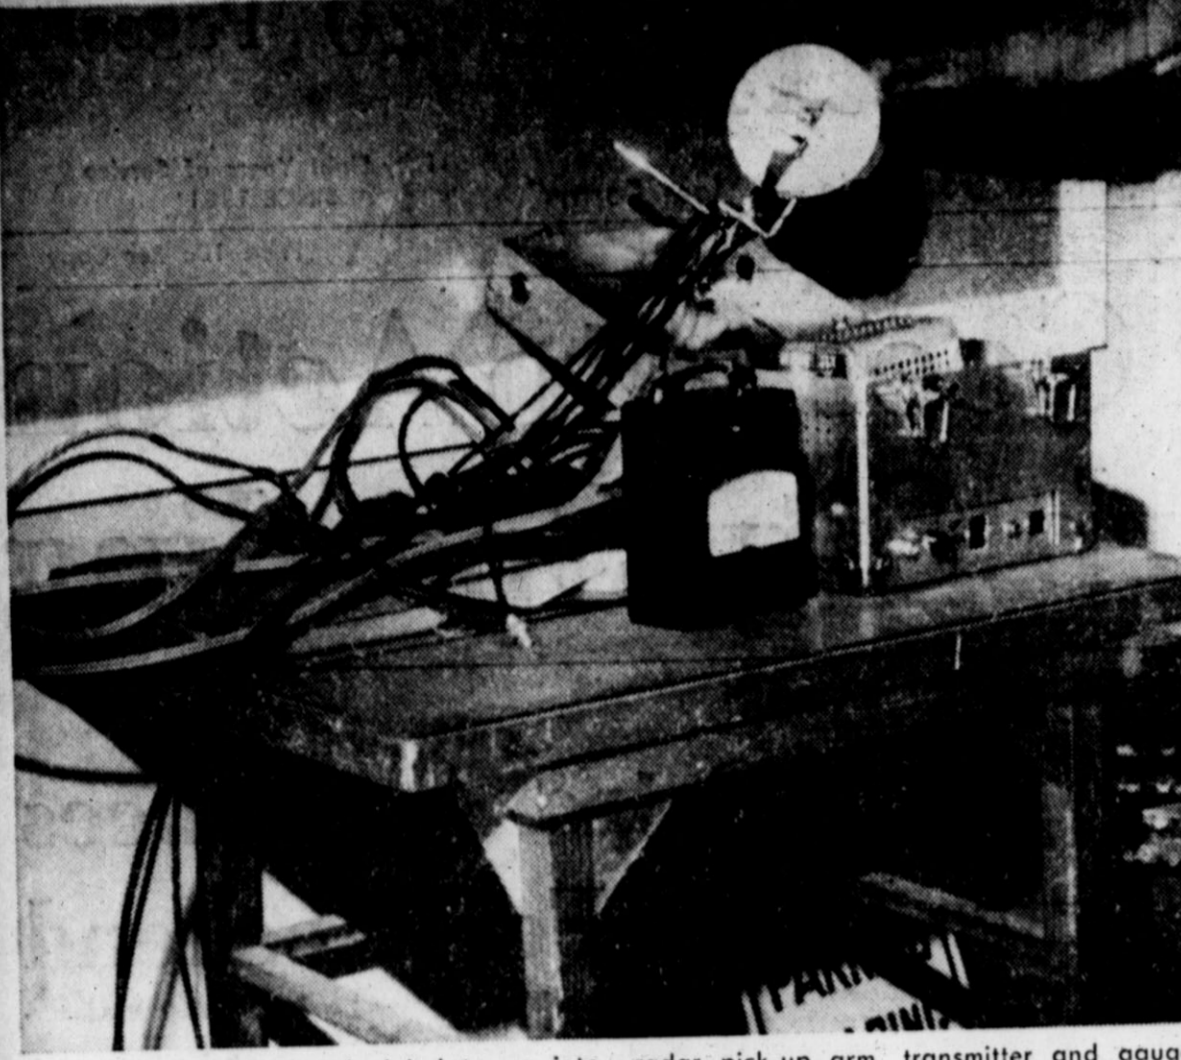

All quantity local mail during the first part of each month should be taken inside the post office and mailed, Mrs. Traweck said, as outside boxes have limited capacity during those periods and are often overloaded.

The box for out-of-town mail was added in order that dispatching could be speeded up, thereby increasing efficiency and service, Mrs. Traweck said.

Giants Upset Dodgers In 8-4 Little League Contest

In a windy Monday night game the Little League Giants upset the Dodgers, 8-4. Using three hits to make the eight runs, the Giants managed to squelch the seven hits of the Dodgers and allow only four scores. In the first inning the Dodgers took the lead after a blank inning for the Giants. Lynn Warren, using errors, made the score for the Dodgers. The second inning saw the Giants take the lead from the Dodgers when Jerry McCaslin got on base by a short stop error. Robert Higgins took a pass to first and a single by Kenny Justice assisted in making the score. Justice was thrown out on third. Having the lead the Giants were blanked in the third inning and the Dodgers came from behind to tie the score at 2-2.

Lynn Warren hit a single and used a passed ball to advance to second. He was batted in by a double by Doug Watson and the score was tied. Again taking the lead, the Giants brought in three runs in the fourth inning. A double by Gary Royal and runs by Robert Higgins on a walk and John Pool on a short stop error accounted for the lead. The Dodgers got one hit but no scores in the inning. Three more runs accounted for by Guerrero, Royal and McCaslin for the Giants gave them a comfortable margin in the fifth inning. A valiant attempt to come from behind died for the Dodgers after they had brought two more runs in. Warren and Watson both scored on singles. The game ended with a blank sixth inning. In the minor leagues, the Dodgers turned the tables on the Giants and beat them 9-5. The winning pitcher for the Giants was Alex Guerrero, who shared mound duties with McCaslin. The losing pitcher was Roger Owens.

A HOUSEWIFE WAS INJURED in a two-car accident which occurred Sunday evening on Highway 60, six miles east of Hereford. The accident occurred when John William Edwards, 34, of Morenci, Ariz., driver of the car at left, attempted to pass the other car, driven by Miss Jo Copeland, 20, of Spearman, while Miss Copeland made a left turn from the highway to a county dirt road. Mrs. Edwards, 32, wife of the driver, was treated for minor injuries and released from Deaf Smith County Hospital shortly after the accident. (Staff Photo)

Arizona Woman Slightly Injured During Two-Car Collision Sunday

A Morenci, Ariz., housewife received minor injuries in a two-car accident at about 6 p.m. Sunday on Highway 60, six miles east of Hereford. Mrs. Frances Marie Edwards, 32, was treated and released in the emergency room of Deaf Smith County Hospital shortly after being injured in a car driven by her husband, John William Edwards, 34. Driver of the other car was Miss Jo Lynn Copeland, 20, of Spearman. Investigating Highway Patrol Sergeant Dan Duggan of Hereford said the accident occurred when the Edwards car, travelling east and following the Copeland car, attempted to pass when the Copeland car slowed and made a left turn into a county dirt road intersecting with the highway. The right front fender of the Edwards 1954 car hit the left rear fender of Miss Copeland's 1957 sedan, Duggan said. Both cars came to a stop at the entrance to the county road. Mrs. Edwards was taken to the hospital by Kreig-Marcum ambulance. There were two occupants in the Copeland car and four in the Edwards car. Miss Copeland is a student at West Texas State College in Canyon. Damage to each car was estimated at $150 by investigating highway patrolmen. Patrolmen Kenneth Maxwell and Charles Skinner of the Hereford unit assisted in the investigation.

Burial Set For Former Resident

Funeral services for Herman Schulz, former Hereford resident, will be conducted Thursday at 10 a.m. in the First Methodist Church at Bentonville, Ark. Burial services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. in the West Park Cemetery of Hereford under direction of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Haney Infant Rites Held

Funeral services for James Austin Haney Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Haney, 301 Myrtle St., were held Wednesday in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home with the Rev. H. V. Fields, pastor of the Grace Gospel Church of Hereford, officiating. Burial was in West Park Cemetery under direction of Gilliland Funeral Home. The infant died at the home Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. following a short illness. He was born May 8, 1959. Survivors include the parents; one sister; a grandmother, Mrs. Ruby Nixon of Hereford; and a grandfather, W. U. Haney of Lubbock.

Services Held For Local Man's Sister

Graveside services for Mrs. Maria J. Brewer, sister of J. J. Corner of Hereford, were conducted Wednesday in the Flomot Cemetery. The Rev. G. A. Elrod, pastor of the Silverton First Baptist Church, officiated. Other survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Charity Wilson of Phoenix; and a sister, Mrs. Nancy Fuller of Los Angeles.

Again scoreless in the fourth inning, two hits were made for the Tigers by Chuck Calloway and Jerry Bybee. Calloway was thrown out at second and Mike Ferguson and Bybee both died on base. Ferguson had been allowed on by a fielder's choice. The Indians were blanked in the fourth inning and retired with Gaylord Otis, who had doubled, being stranded on second.

Blanked in the fifth inning the Tigers retired with runners on first and third, having been allowed on by walks. Four more runs were accounted for by the Indians who used errors and walks to score. The winning pitcher was Dick Combs. The defeated pitcher was Mike Kelly, who shared the pitcher's box with Tom Powell.

Another Latin-American charged in the burglary, Felix Salazar, 25, brother of one of the men in custody here, remained in custody of United States Customs in Del Rio, where he and Ortiz have been charged with possession of marijuana.

Ortiz posted bond on the marijuana charge in Del Rio and was released to the custody of Skelton last Thursday. Francisco Salazar was charged with burglary here after his arrest at the Labor Camp last week by deputy sheriffs L. R. Cherryhomes and Domingo Pesina. The five men were charged in the April 19 break-in of the Helton store in the 100 block of Main, in which seven pistols valued at $480 were reported missing the morning after the burglary. Skelton returned to Hereford from Del Rio last week with some of the recovered pistols after nearly a week of investigation.

Harvest....

Rains in the county this year, however, were late in coming and much of the dryland wheat's growth was stunted.

Chief Describes Radar As Control

Chief Henry Aycock

The planned use of radar as an instrument of speed control in Hereford was explained by Police Chief Henry W. Aycock at the meeting of the Hereford Optimist Club Tuesday. Pointing out that the accident incidence in Hereford has gone down, Aycock revealed that the cost of property damage had increased during the past year. Aycock said that this indicates that the cars involved in accidents have been going faster. Radar is not to be used as a tool of entrapment, Aycock told the Optimist Club. All entrances to the city will be marked with signs warning about the use of radar and an advance program of publicity is being carried out at present.

Showing the police activities of the year Aycock quoted the records that the Hereford Police Department has made 300 criminal arrests and has answered an average of nearly one call per hour for the last year. In ceremonies Saturday night Roy Boyer was installed as president of the Optimist club. Other officers are Steve Powell, first vice president; Jack Almon, second vice president; Gene King, secretary - treasurer and Don Sanders, chief pessimist. Elected to the board of directors were Wayne Williams, Don Sanders, John Rowland, Duane Campbell, Bob Wilson, Glenn Watts, and Marvin Coffey, the retiring president. Roy Boyer was awarded the "Optimist of the Year" trophy.

Keeping the lead the Cards added two more scores to their treasury in the fourth when Cain made the bases on a fielder's choice and was brought in by a home run by Ranspot. This gave the Cards a 7-3 lead. Coming from far behind the Yanks began to erase the gap between the scores by bringing in three more runs and holding the Cards scoreless for the rest of the game. A single by Robby Lemons, a walk by Jim Allison and Terry Hill, using a second base error accounted for the scores.

Scoreless in the fifth, the Yankees came back in the sixth to bring two more runs and end the game with a one run lead. Steve Hodges hit a home run and Robert Strange walked to make the winning score. The winning pitcher was S. D. Baize, who pitched the last three innings and shared the duties with Robert Strange. The defeated pitcher was Mike Ranspot, who relieved Ed Mims.

In the Minor League game the Yanks went over the Cardinals 11-8. The schedule for the remainder of the week pits the Cardinals against the Giants Thursday night and the Yankees against the Dodgers Friday night.

Southwest Lawmakers Aid Latin American Relations

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Whatever degree of friendship exists between the United States and Latin-American nations, especially Mexico, can be credited in some measure to Texas and New Mexico congressmen.
Since the time when the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt pronounced the Good Neighbor Policy the role of lawmakers from these two states has been increasingly significant.
This spring at an inter-parliamentary conference of the Latin-American states held in Lima, Peru, one of the U. S. delegates was Rep. Joe Montoya (D-NM), who addressed the assembly in Spanish.
The American ambassador to Peru observed later that only a U. S. congressman speaking in Spanish could have convinced the Latin-American delegates of the sincere aims of this country.
In line with this phase of Latin-American relationships, four Texas congressmen are in the midst of a 10-week refresher course in Spanish.
They are Reps. Joe Kilgore of McAllen, whose district runs along the Rio Grande from Brownsville up to Laredo; J. T. Rutherford of Odessa, with a long stretch of the Mexican border in his bailiwick — from El Paso down along the Big Bend country; John Young of Corpus Christi, with a large Spanish-speaking population in his district; and Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth, who has an interest in the language and those who speak it.
Each Friday afternoon at 5:30 p.m. the four Texas lawmakers, joined by a few of their staff members, meet in one of the congressional offices for tutelage they have engaged.
"We all had Spanish in school years ago," observed Kilgore. "But we were getting pretty rusty on it. It's coming back though, and we're thoroughly enjoying the course."
Montoya, commenting on his experiences in Lima, said: "These and other incidents strengthen my conviction that we need more of our boys and girls from the southwestern part of our country in Foreign Service posts in Latin America."

Proof of the serious intention of U. S. officials to improve the relationships between this nation and Mexico is the proposal to create a joint-parliamentary group or union composed of 24 members of the U. S. Congress and a like number of members of the Mexican Congress.
A joint House-Senate resolution authorizing a meeting of the group at least once each year to discuss common problems has been approved by the House Foreign Affairs Committee and is awaiting action on the House floor. Similar legislation is under consideration in Mexico.
While the measure pending in the House leaves it up to the Speaker to designate the 12 House members — specifying that not less than four shall be members, it is believed likely that all U. S. congressmen with districts confronting Mexico would be named.
That would include Rep. Clark Fisher of San Angelo as well as Kilgore and Rutherford, and Rep. Tom Morris of New Mexico as well as Montoya.
Representing the U. S. Senate on the group would probably be the two senators from each of the bordering states — Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. The group, in any event, undoubtedly would include Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), who speaks Spanish as well as he does English.
Incidentally, when dignitaries of Spanish speaking nations address joint sessions of Congress in their native tongue, Chavez can often be seen breaking out with a smile or a burst of applause while nearly all his colleagues sit by and wait for a translator to tell them what's been said.

GARCIA NEWS

Moisture Falls Monday, Halts Wheat Harvesting

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT
Moisture fell Monday afternoon over most of the community. N. A. Brown reported two and one-half inches on their land west of the Garcia Community House and about two inches on their home place. Bootleg received 1.80, while Albert Thorn and Frank Ford reported from three to three and one-half inches.

The rain slowed harvest down, but was a blessing on the range land. Jack Buse and Floyd Brown received showers Thursday night.

Mrs. Josie Busby of Friona spent last weekend in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bruce Coleman.

Mrs. Frank Ford and daughter, Susan, of Lubbock spent the week on the ranch north of Bootleg. They returned Thursday to Lubbock and plan to go to Austin and spend two weeks visiting Frank Ford Jr. and family. They will also visit her parents, and then return to the ranch for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Collins left last Saturday for Fort Morgan, Colo., to take their son, Bruce, to a job. They plan to spend a few days in Colorado, then return home by way of Kansas where they will visit with her father.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Broxton of White Deer were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown recently. Other visitors in the Brown home were Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Pulliam of Portales, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Murhair and daughter of Clovis, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Murrel and family of Hereford are now living in Mrs. Brown's house across from the Garcia Community House. Murrel works for the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill White and children returned Thursday from a vacation in eastern Oklahoma and Arkansas. They report a nice trip, but that it was hot.

Thursday Frank Ford and others were working cattle when Ford received a broken finger. Mrs. Frank Ford and daughter, Susan, visited in the home of Mrs. S. N. Thweatt Tuesday afternoon. Susan had just returned from Austin where she had been doing some school work at the University of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Thorn of Miami, Tex., visited their son, Albert Thorn, Sunday. They had with them their two grandsons. Albert Thorn was finishing planting maize and harvesting wheat.

Mrs. N. A. Brown received an announcement from Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Potts of New Hall, Calif., of their new baby girl, Rebecca Ann, born June 15 and weighing seven pounds and two ounces. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Potts of Rosedale, N. M.

Mrs. Ruth Coleman spent a few days in the Deaf Smith County Hospital recently. She is home now and reported to be doing well.

Mrs. L. W. Potts of Rosedale, N. M., suffered a heart attack Wednesday night. Potts visited with his daughter, Mrs. N. A. Brown, Thursday afternoon and reported she was resting well.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Collins visited with Mrs. Frank Ford Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Monroe and family were guests at the Frank

Ford ranch Monday. The Fords were having hamburgers on the grill. The Monroes played some croquet with the others. Jim had been working on a windmill and had fallen from the top, but was not seriously injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buse were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. George Bumpass and son Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buil of Amarillo visited recently with Mrs. J. E. Rouse. Mrs. Buil is a niece of Mrs. Rouse.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Tyler and children visited with his mother in Dallas over the weekend. They also visited her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Simpson Jr., in Floydada. Tyler's sister, Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Williams and family, his brother and family, R. T. Tyler, all of Dallas, and George Tyler and family of Haskell also visited with the group.

One-Hitter Earns Red Sox Victory Over White Sox

A big seventh inning, head-up fielding and allowing only one hit helped the Red Sox to blank the White Sox 9-0 Monday night in Pony League play.

Starting the game in a dust storm and fighting a strong wind from right field throughout the game, only three scores were given apby and only eight walks were given the Red Sox before the seventh inning. In the last inning, however, the Red team batted the White Sox out of the park.

One first inning run was made by Red Sox Barry Gabbert on a walk. Using passed balls, Gabbert advanced around the bases for the score.

The White Sox used three walks to load the bases in the first inning in a vain attempt to score. The inning ended with all three men stranded.

The Red Sox were blanked in the second inning as were the White Sox. Runners advanced to bases on walks, but the fielders eliminated two of them and White Sox pitcher Dick Patton fanned another to retire the sides.

The White Sox part of the inning recorded the only hit made by them. Randy Carver knocked a single but he, and one other runner died on bases when three men were struck out.

The third inning will go into the history books as a goose egg. Both teams made nothing on nothing. The Red Sox were eliminated by the White Sox infielders, who caught flies and eliminated runners as they approached first base. The White team was retired in order.

Two hits brought two runs for the Red Sox in the fourth inning when Drew Kershen walked to first base and Gary Kendrick lost the ball somewhere behind the left field fence. The White Sox again failed to get off the ground.

The fifth inning brought two singles, but no runs to the Red Sox. The rest of the game was hitless and scoreless for the Whites.

A blank sixth inning for the Reds was followed by a final stanza that gave them six runs.

Things just seemed to blow up for the Whites when nearly everybody started hitting in the seventh. Kershen, who had been relieved by Smith on the mound started the inning with a double. Brown, Baker, Smith and Kendrick made scores before an out was made. With two outs Jerry Sheppard and Gabbert took advantage of outfield errors to make scores before the game was ended.

The winning pitcher for the Red Sox was Drew Kershen. He was relieved by Smith in the seventh inning.

Richard Patton went the distance for the Whites to give up eight hits and eight walks.

Houston Umpire Wouldn't Trade Jobs With Batter

HOUSTON (AP) — American Assn. Umpire Thomas Bartos, a social outcast during working hours, wouldn't trade lots with a .500 hitter.

"The way I always put it is I wanted to be a gentleman, so I became an umpire," said the stocky, friendly man with the brown crew cut.

"Of course, anybody can take that anyway he wants to take it."

Bartos worked the first 10 games of the Houston Buffs' debut in the association, one step away from the majors. Last winter he worked as a salesman handling household goods.

"You read about umpires being underpaid, but in our league the average salary during the course of the season will take care of him," Bartos said. In the American Assn., he said, the average is about $2,500 for the five-month season.

Out of that sum the ump buys two uniforms, two pairs of shoes, chest protector, mask and cap.

Umpires seldom spend more than a week in any of the league's 10 cities — Houston, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Denver, Indianapolis, Omaha, Charleston, Louisville, Dallas, and Fort Worth. They work in pairs and receive working schedules about two weeks in advance.

But from city to city, life is much the same, he told Charlotte Phealan of the Houston Post in an interview.

"We spend most of the time in our hotel rooms, or maybe we'll catch a movie in the afternoon. Sometimes we'll walk around town shopping. I usually write my wife every day," Bartos said.

Bartos, a second baseman in his playing days, is philosophic about his profession.

"You know you're not popular. People don't come out to see us," he said. "We're not looking for a pat on the back from anybody and we don't expect."

"They can sit back in the grandstand and second guess. A fan will say to Joe Blow, 'He really missed that one,' and they usually tell you about it. That's part of the game."

"As long as they come to the ball park they can do all the screaming they want. They can yell their brains out."

Bartos will never change a call unless an interpretation of rules is involved.

"Even though everybody in the park thinks you kicked a pitch, it's still a strike," he said.

A veteran of 15 years in baseball, Bartos says he hates to throw a player out of the game.

"Any umpire will listen to a beef from a player and some will take more than others, unless a player's language becomes abusive. That's the main

Honor Visitors At Toastmasters

Observing guest night the Hereford Toastmasters Club had a program of extemporaneous speaking and a formal discussion of the benefits of the Toastmaster's Club and public speaking in general.

In a session of extemporaneous speaking the members of the club gave short speeches on such questions as, "Will the wheat farmer discard the wheat quota program as did the corn farmer?" and "Will the presidential election bring a hot campaign?"

In the formal speaking period, Dr. Wesley B. Owen gave a speech on the fun and profit of toastmasters. He was followed by Larry Gargan, who discussed learning to talk. Ed reason, the commonest thing, that will eject a man from a game."

Bartos says he invites an average of eight to 10 players to leave the park annually.

"Some guy will call you a name and direct it right at you and there's only one thing to do — that's to run him out of the game."

HELP WANTED: MD DIVERNON, Ill. — Wanted: a physician.

This village of 1,000 is without a doctor and the nearest one is 20 miles away.

Robert Bramley, secretary of the Divernon Lions Club, sent a request for a doctor to Louis G. Raupp, director of the Alton office of the Illinois State Employment Service.

The application seeks a reputable doctor, licensed in Illinois with long experience or just starting practice.

Dziuk Jr. delivered a speech on the art of communication and Kenneth Coker spoke on the benefits of the Toastmaster's club for the non-speaker.

In an evaluation period the extemporaneous and formal speeches were discussed, pointing out the good points and failings of the speeches and speakers.

WATCH THOSE WORDS! HONOLULU (AP) — Dr. Kenneth Warner advises girls to watch their language in coping with ardent swains. Warner says the warning should not be, "Sir, you have gone too far."

It should be, "Sir, you have come too close." The University of Maryland semantics expert gave this example to show how people fail to say what they mean.

What our Insured Savings and Loan Association means to you:

1. Our savers feel secure as their savings grow safely and swiftly... because they know their money is carefully managed. The returns on savings are excellent...

2. And your savings account is insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U. S. Government.

3. When you save at our Insured Savings and Loan Association, your money's ready to buy the things you want when you want them.

4. Our Insured Savings and Loan Association is one of over 3700 where almost 20 million thrifty Americans have savings of over $40 billion.

5. And we help lots of people finance their own homes through savings for a down payment, and a mortgage for the balance.

6. In fact, over 800,000 families last year financed their homes the Insured Savings and Loan way... the most popular way.

Bible Words for Today

JAMES 2:1 — "My brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons." (KJV)

James is saying, "Do not show partiality."

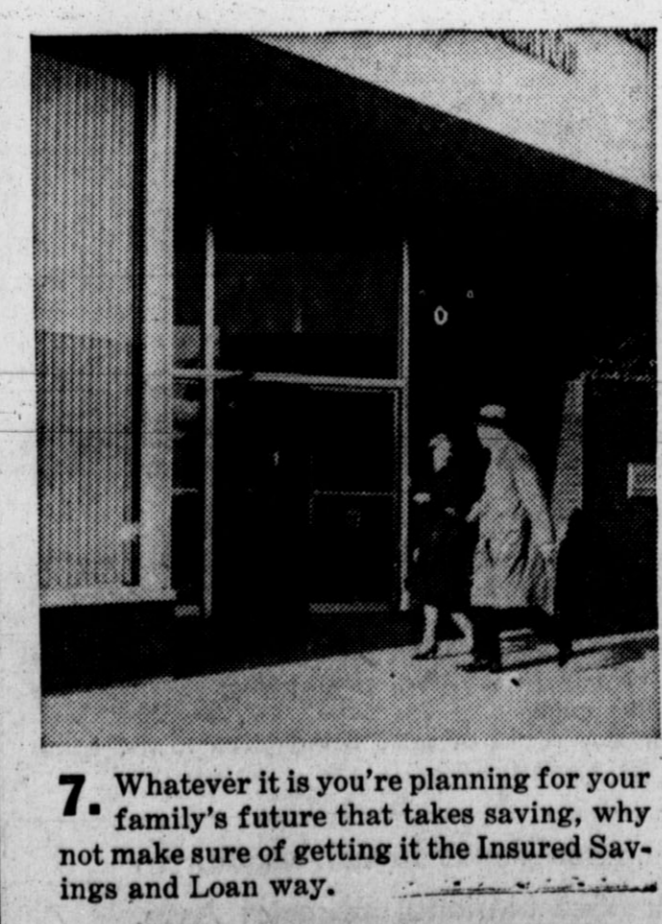

Jesus had no favorites, but respected human personality wherever he found it. The disciples were amazed that Jesus was kind and considerate of the woman of Samaria who came to Jacob's well.

It continues to be true in these present times that God does not show partiality to race, face, place, or taste, though the race be Caucasian, the face white, the place America, and the taste refined.

While pausing for a few minutes at the Good Samaritan Inn between Jerusalem and Jericho, a message came to me. "I must have compassion; I must show mercy; and I must bind up wounds."

There are no second-class citizens, no second-class races, and no second-class Christians. All are our neighbors. It was to me and to you that Jesus said, "Go, and do thou likewise."

Building In Hereford Indicates Solid Growth

Strong steady building growth is the key to the future of any town. Hereford shows that it is keeping pace with trends to a larger population.

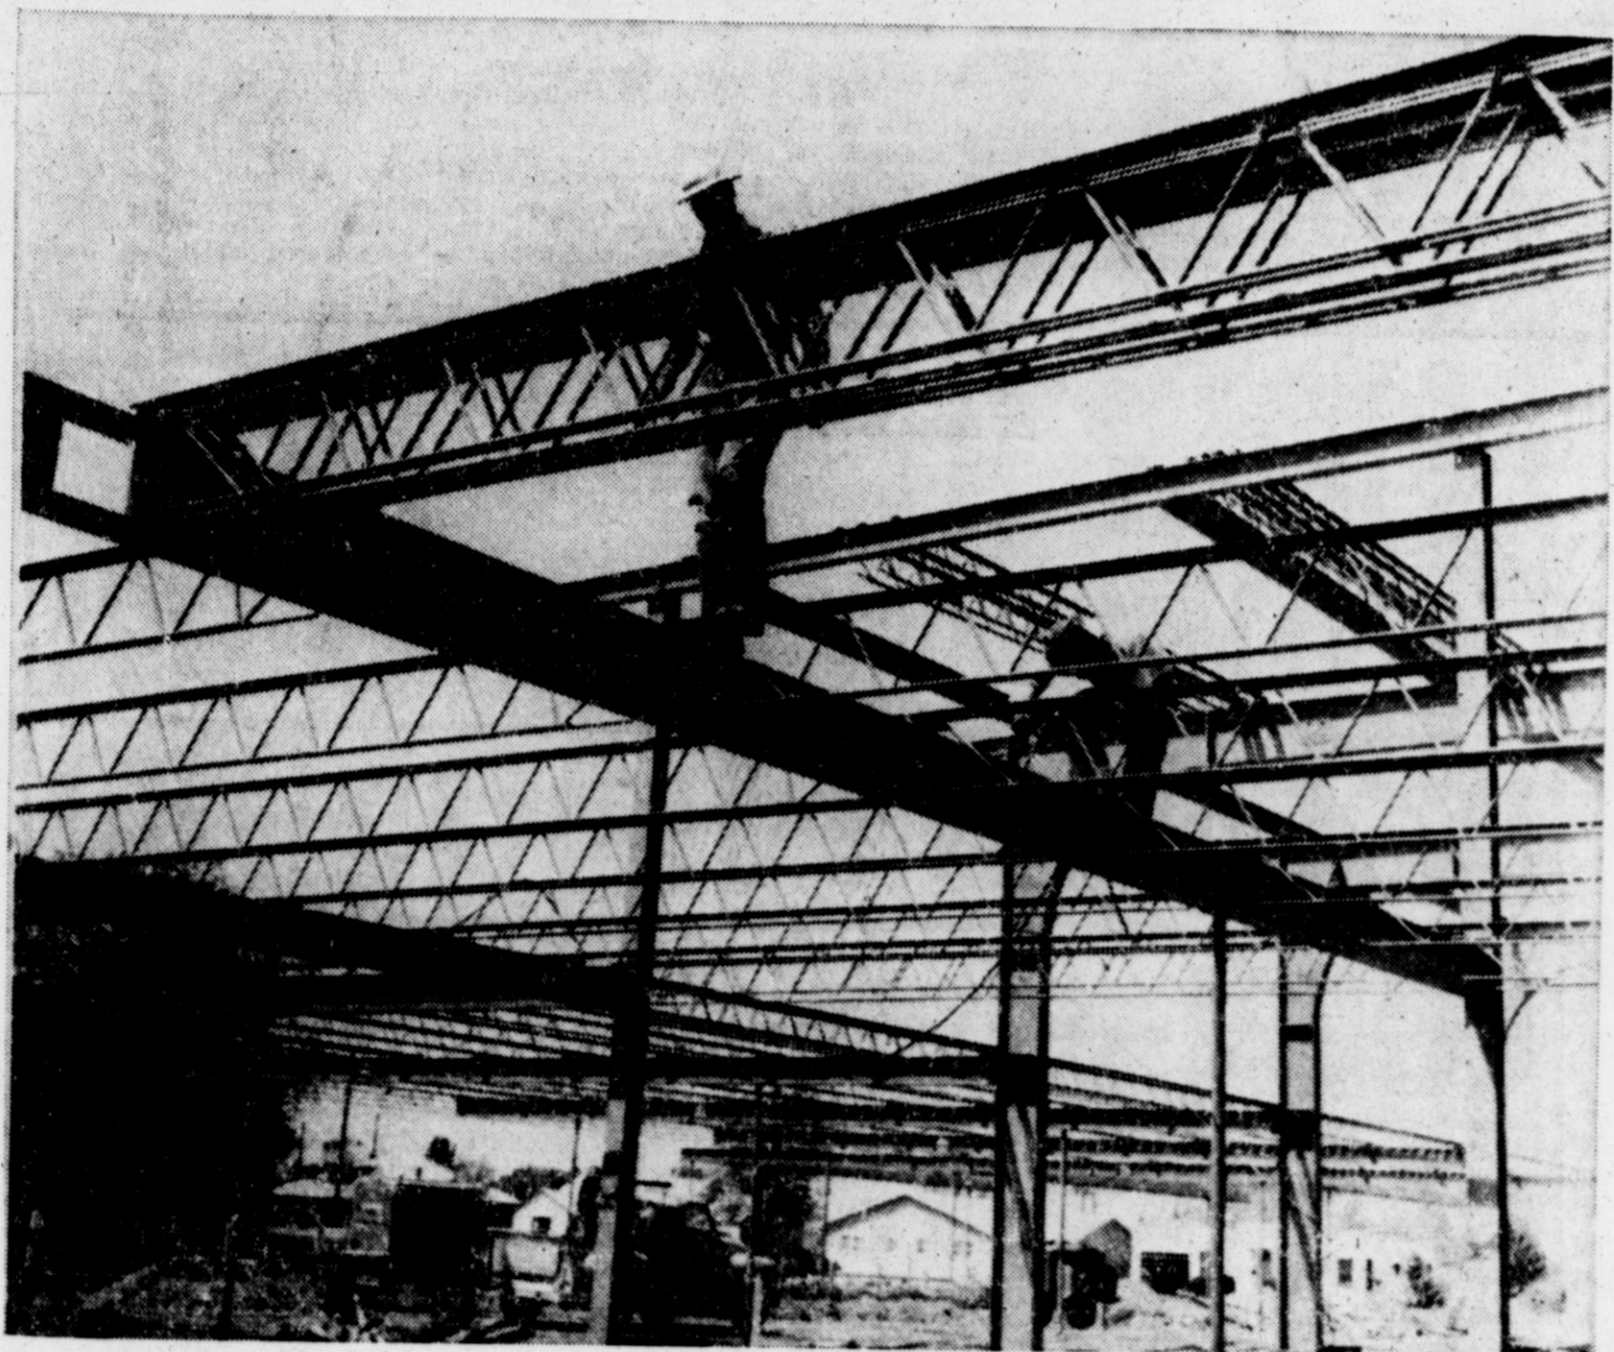

A short drive around the city will show many evidences of expansion. There are new business buildings, expansions, new homes, schools, churches and expansion of public facilities.

All of these point to a good future for Hereford . . . A town that is continuing to grow!

Among those in the wedding party were Jana Cole, Tommy Schmidt and Mrs. Charles Self, of this community. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dobbs, parent of the groom were hosts Friday evening at a supper after the rehearsal.

Others attending the wedding from this area were Mrs. B. H. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews, Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr., Bonnie Sparkman, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Harder, Gerald Harder, Charles Self, Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Corder, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth DeHart, Bruce Terry, Jack Rogers, Mrs. M. H.

COAT OF MANY COLORS—Versatile summer topper with vari-colored pockets is easy to make of felt.

Make Your Own Coat For Summer Trips

By DOROTHY ROE
It's a smart girl who sews her own when it comes to getting together a vacation wardrobe. All those gay outfits for holiday fun often can make a wreck of the budget.

Brightest idea of the season is an endlessly useful short felt coat with many bright patch pockets in different colors, to wear over anything from a bathing suit to a dance dress.

Anyone who has worked with felt knows that it's the world's easiest fabric to sew. The seams don't ravel. It needs no hemming and you can make a garment from it in no time. Local sewing centers have experimented with making some of these new felt coats, and report them easy enough for the most inexperienced seamstress. They suggest making the topper in white felt with contrasting pockets of royal blue, bright red and black.

Since felt comes in a 72-inch width, a little yardage goes a long way. Choose a good standard pattern for a straight, collarless short coat with three-quarter-length sleeves, and follow pattern directions for cutting and sewing. Although felt need not be hemmed, you can achieve a smart finish by hemming the jacket edges with a contrasting color thread. In this case royal blue was used.

Three different colors of felt should be used for the six square, brass-buttoned pockets. To make the pockets, cut six rectangles 4 by 15 inches—two in each color. Fold the rectangles in half. Cut a pointed flap at the top of the rectangle 3 inches deep. With white thread, run a line of stitching around pocket flap 3/4-inch from edge. At bottom of flap-cut through one thickness across the pocket to form opening.

On the flap mark length of cutting space for buttonhole plus 1/8-inch for bar tacks. If you own an automatic sewing machine, set the selector for a buttonhole stitch. Otherwise use the button-holer attachment for a regular machine. It's a good idea to make a sample buttonhole first on a scrap of fabric, to be sure you have it right.

Pin pockets in position on the topper and stitch with white thread 3/4-inch from edge. Attach dot snappers to make a neat closure for front of jacket or, if you prefer, use more brass buttons and buttonholes.

Mobley, Mrs. Floyd Cole and Cheryl, Mrs. Herb Schmidt and Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schmidt, Brent and Sheryl, Mrs. Jewel Cassels and members of Dobbs' family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobbs will live in Hereford south of Hereford with his father and brother.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Sr. returned home Tuesday from a ten-day visit in Manteca, Calif. They rode the train and report a good trip except for the extreme heat in California. They visited an aunt of Mrs. Sparkman, Mrs. Jennie Buchanan, and cousins, Bill and Cloe Buchanan and their families, all of the Manteca vicinity.

Miss Veradelle Andrews, who accompanied her aunt, Mrs. Alie Burris and family, and Miss Alma Andrews, on an automobile trip through California spent the weekend visiting the Buchanan relatives also.

The Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Baldwin left Tuesday morning for a vacation trip, most of which was to be spent visiting his mother in Albuquerque, N. M. Jack Rogers of Hereford, a student at Hardin Simmons University, has been invited to speak at the Frio Baptist Church, Sunday, July 5. Other speakers have been invited to fill the pulpit the following Sunday, while the pastor is away.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Parker spent the weekend visiting in the home of Mrs. Parker's sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Isbell of Tahoka. While they were away, the Olin Parrises stayed with Parker's father, J. E. Parker, at the Parker home.

HE TUNED TO TROUBLE
DOERUN, Ga. (AP) — Police Chief C. L. Hall's ear for music helped catch a bank burglar. Hall heard a radio playing in the coat of a young man and asked him where he got it. The youth said he took the radio as security for a $1.50 loan from a friend. The friend admitted to Hall that he had taken the radio from the bank when he was unable to break into the vault.

Visiting the Jim Brooks home Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Schultz of Hereford. The Brooks family visited the home of their daughter, Mrs. L. D. Taylor, at Friona Sunday and brought their grandchildren, Robin and Kay and Kenny Taylor home with them to spend a few days.

Major and Mrs. H. H. Knight and family have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Sudduth. Maj. Knight is with the Air Force stationed at Columbus, Ohio. They are to leave San Francisco July 25 for a three-year tour of duty in Japan. In the meantime, the family is visiting relatives in Lubbock and Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Marcom and son of Levelland came to visit her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sudduth.

Visiting at Frio Church Sunday morning were Mr. and Mrs. Pick Harmon of Hereford and Mrs. Harmon's mother, Mrs.

Brown of Erick, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dobbins are the parents of a girl, whom they have named Carla Sue. Mrs. Dobbins and daughter came home from Deaf Smith County Hospital Saturday.

Visitors on Sunday were the Edgar Vinsons. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hodges and R. E. Wedel of Amarillo, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Dobbins. Her mother, Mrs. Eva Dement of Hereford, is staying at night with them to help care for the baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber took their sons, Jimmy and Virgil, to Lenora for them to attend a scout camp near Ft. Davis with a Lenora troop. Mrs. LaPreal Williams of Abernathy accompanied them home for a visit this week.

Frio Home Makers Club met

Tuesday, June 23 in the home of Mrs. Clark Dobbs. The 4-H girls presented a program with a vegetable demonstration which they had used in the county elimination contest.

Reba Hall and Edlana Vinson gave individual demonstrations and Jana Cole and Carol Robbins gave a team demonstration.

Mrs. E. F. Vogler brought a program on "Hearty Sandwiches and Snacks". Those attending were Mesdames Vogler, T. L. Sparkman Jr., Earnest Harder, Frank Robbins, Ed Clark, Commie Smith, Floyd Cole, Arthur Betts, Henry Dobbs, Edgar Vinson and Annie Springer.

The Frio Baptist Church Girls' Auxiliary met at the church recently to install new officers. Those installed were Nancy Axe, president; Judy Glenn, vice president; Ramona Hall, secretary; Edlana Vinson, assistant; Carol Robbins, treasurer; Jana Cole, program chairman; Vicki Axe, refreshment chairman; and Reba Hall, forward steps chairman. Sponsors are Mrs. B. H. Baldwin and Mrs. Andy Axe.

Jana Cole celebrated her eleventh birthday Tuesday by having guests Jane Messick, of Hereford, Carol Robbins and Ramona Hall, spend the night with her.

Recent visitors of the H. M. Mobleys and Floyd Coles were cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Gritton and Jerry Don of Odessa.

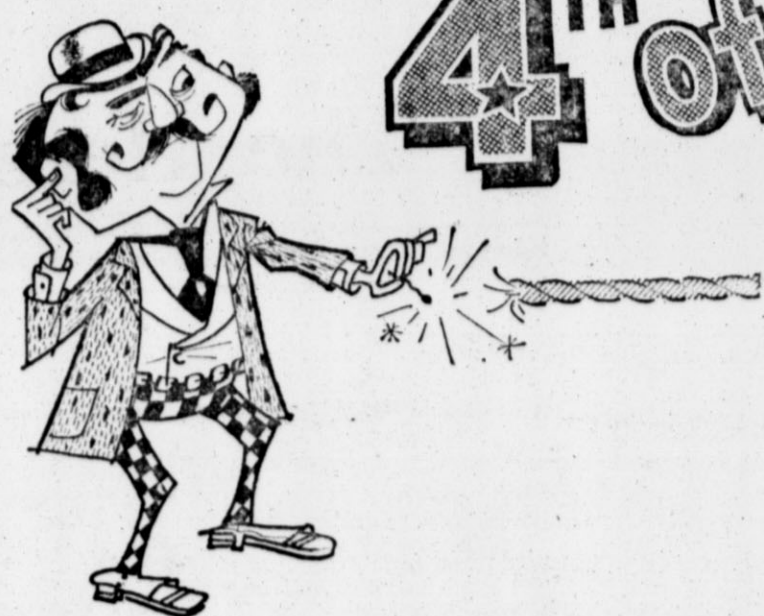

A modern, three bedroom house has been located on the Gass farm where the old two-story house burned last May. The house and grounds are being finished and are nearing re-adness for the Blackburn family to move in. They have been living on Knight Street in Hereford until the house is ready for occupancy.

John Simpson returned Monday from a trip to Los Angeles, Calif. He rode the train, accompanied by Mrs. Simpson's mother, Mrs. Mollie Watkins, to her home there after an extended visit with relatives here. Mrs. Watkins came home with the Simpsons last April when they returned from a several week's visit with their California relatives. Mrs. Watkins became ill and was unable to make the return trip alone.

Mrs. Woodrow Jones is ill with a heart ailment and is resting at her home south of Dimmitt. The condition was discovered about two weeks ago.

ONE-GUN GAL — Dagmar's ready for western.

Dagmar Gunning For Western

By EDWARD KITCH CHICAGO — With a built-in southern drawl and a new figure, Dagmar is shopping around for a part in a western movie or television show.

"You can say I have gun, will travel," she quipped. "Here I'm ready and they couldn't even see me. Maybe I'm from so far west they couldn't see the forest for the trees."

Dagmar's from out west, all right — West Virginia. She was born in Huntington, W. Va., as Virginia Ruth Egnor, one of seven children.

She was in Chicago demonstrating a product she claims helped her lose 30 pounds, while her husband, Danny Dayton, was making an industrial film.

She studied tap dancing and appeared in school plays while in Huntington High and worked in a drug store to pay for dancing lessons.

"I was the Eleanor Powell of my set," Dagmar says. "I used to win all the jitterbug shows." She still wins dancing contests.

"I won two tickets last Nov. 10 to go to Paris and haven't had a chance to go yet. Maybe I'll go this summer."

Dagmar attended Huntington Business College and worked in a loan office before she went to New York and Broadway. "I first played a dumb blond in the Olsen and Johnson show, 'Laughing Room Only,'" she says. "I changed my name then to Jenny Lewis." That was in 1950. Soon she was on a late-night television show with Jerry Lester.

The three nights a week bit on TV put Dagmar in show business.

"A writer gave me the name of Dagmar. He said it was the name of some queen in Europe."

Married to Dayton for eight years, she says her marriage is a success because "we're in love and he's a wonderful guy."

"I like to see him do well, and he likes to see me do well," she says.

Dayton appears on CBS' "Keep Talking" and is associate producer of "Masquerade Party."

In November Dagmar begins a stint at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas. "Then after six weeks I open on Broadway in a New York night club."

But she has her eye aimed on a western as an ultimate goal.

"It's a lot of fun to play those dumb parts," Dagmar says. "I wish a producer could see me in one of those situation comedy westerns."

MARINE MARE MOTHER AGAIN

CAMP PENDELTON, Calif. — The Marine Corps' famous Mongolian mare, Sgt. Reckless, is a mother for the second time.

A brother to her first colt, Fearless, was born recently.

Reckless was given that name while carrying ammunition under fire in Korea. She had been purchased at a Korean race track.

SCOUTS WILL SEE EUROPE

DAYTON, Ohio — Oakwood Girl Scout Troop 471 believes in long range projects.

When they were in sixth grade, 11 of the girls began dreaming of a trip to Europe. Now in high school, the 11 have collected $8,000 by selling Christmas trees and scrap paper. They expect to have another $1,000 by June and sail for a nine-week visit to nine nations.

Coins of pure platinum were issued by Russia during the early part of the 19th Century.

Leo Forrest Installed As New Rotary Club President

More than 100 members and guests attended the annual officer installation banquet for the Hereford Rotary Club Monday night. The meeting was held in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom.

Leo Forrest was installed as president for the 1959-60 club year by Burnett Roberts of Levelland, governor of District 573.

Other new officers include Gerald McCaskill, vice president; Kenneth Coker, secretary; and Clinton Massie, treasurer. New directors are Dick Barnard, Alex Schroeter, Owen Seamands and Francis Hardwick, the retiring president.

Perfect attendance buttons were awarded as follows: Gerald McCaskill, three years; Earl Phillips, 13 years; John Patton, 14 years; Clinton Massie, one year; Jack Nunley, two years; Dave Alexander, seven years; Emmett Milburn, eight years; and Ben Childers, two years.

Governor Roberts announced that the Hereford Rotary Club had the largest membership gain of any club in the district during the 1958-59 year.

Forrest said, "The Hereford Rotary Club has had a very successful year and has made some outstanding accomplishments and contributions."

Among the items mentioned by Forrest were: a net gain of 16 new members; initiation of barbecues as a means of raising funds; hosting the District 573 conference; establishment of an infant health program at the Labor Camp; sponsoring the Hereford Commission on Alcoholism; working toward 200 per cent support of the Rotary Foundation (now at about 150 per cent support); and other active programs of work.

Miss Sheila Williams was presented with a Rotary Bracelet as incoming club sweetheart.

Stagner and Joe Kerr, Juanita Sims, the defending women's champion, could win permanent possession of the trophy if she wins this year. She won the championship in 1956 and '57. Strong contenders for the ladies crown are Meredith Ireland, the present municipal champion, Olsae Trimble, Rowena and Lucille Posey. Persons not able to qualify Qualifying rounds for the Hereford City Golf tournament will be complete by tomorrow, the official day to qualify for medalist honors.

Match play gets underway Saturday, July 4, and will continue through Sunday, July 5.

A picnic lunch will be held Friday, July 3, at 8 p.m. at the club house for golfers and their families. Each family is requested to bring enough food for itself.

In the tournament eight players will be placed in each flight and one match will be played Saturday. The next day two matches will be played.

As of Tuesday nine golfers have turned in scores. They are Wimpy Walker, 77; Wayne Phillips, 77; Don Vaughlin, 79; Russell Carver, 80; Ray Hartman, 81; Cliff Arnold, 83; Henry Aycock, 84; J. W. Robinson, 92; and Gene Moore, 121.

Max Drever is the defending men's champion, having won the title by defeating Charles Seeds in last year's finals. He will be a strong favorite to repeat this year.

Former champions Seeds, Bob Lindsey, Don Martin and J. M. Posey are strong contenders for the title as are such players as John Ethridge, Dale Tinnin, Wayne Phillips, Earl tons to: Hugh Clearman, past director; Gerald McCaskill, past secretary; Leo Forrest, president; Clinton Massie, treasurer; Jack Nunley, past director; and Melvin Young, a plaque as past president.

Perfect attendance buttons were awarded as follows: Gerald McCaskill, three years; Earl Phillips, 13 years; John Patton, 14 years; Clinton Massie, one year; Jack Nunley, two years; Dave Alexander, seven years; Emmett Milburn, eight years; and Ben Childers, two years.

Harvest In Full Swing, Wheat Two-Thirds Cut

By MRS. CARL WIMBERLEY
Fine harvesting weather of hot dry days has prevailed over the weekend and the wheat is estimated to be two-thirds cut. It has been so dry some farmers have combined until 10 p.m. and one crew cut until 1 a.m.

Some of the workers at the local elevators have not had time to go home to eat lunch and supper, they have been so deluged with grain haulers. The consensus of opinion is that the average yield of the irrigated wheat is from 40 to 50 bushels per acre. Dryland wheat has made a poor yield.

Alfred May was admitted to the Deaf Smith County Hospital in Hereford late Thursday. He suffered a heart attack about two months ago and had a light attack last week.

Alan Dale, Ricki and Micki Ward, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ward Jr., all have the mumps.

Debbie Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Newman, had the measles the past week.

Ruth Marie Cathey of Durant, Okla., arrived Wednesday for a visit here in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin May.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith were her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baird and children, Raymond, Toni, Barbara and Jackie, of Clayton, N. M.

Last Monday Mrs. Smith's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Addison Cammack and sons, John and Jack, of Nara, N. M., visited here. They were en route to Matador to visit an uncle who is in the hospital there.

Mrs. John Cammack, who is visiting in the Smith home and who recently fell and broke her collar bone, is reported to be getting along fine.

Mrs. H. H. Miller has been elected vice chairman of the Deaf Smith County Red Cross for the coming year. She has been serving as one of the directors.

Phyllis Ann Wimberley received notice this week from the Dean of the Faculty at Texas Women's University at Denton that her name had been placed on the Special Honor Roll for the 1959 Spring semester. Mrs. Boyd Stewart and family, Pat and Parker, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Zed Stewart and other relatives here. Pat visited Saturday night with Dorothea Stewart. Buddie Stewart went home with Mrs. Boyd Stewart and family.

The girls' 4-H Club presented the program at the meeting of the Dawn Home Demonstration Club held Friday in the home of Mrs. Muri Little.

The members displayed the breads which they recently entered in the county bake show, and their record books. Mrs. L. W. Tooley, the 4-H leader, gave a demonstration on accessories. Members present were Judy and Phyllis Husmann, Sharon Hoffman, Linda Tooley and Alice Ann Caraway.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tooley of Kress visited here Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Tooley and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Husmann have a baby son, born June 13. They named him Daniel Thomas.

Mrs. Leo Hoffman and Mrs. Alfred Reinart held a pink and blue shower for Mrs. Husmann Thursday in the Hoffman home. Those present were Mrs. Husmann, her mother; Mrs. Lemons of Kansas, Mrs. Ed Loerwad, Mrs. Gene Loerwald, Mrs. Walt Warren, Mrs. Andrew Kershner of Hereford, Mrs. J. W. Schumacher, Mrs. Marvin Diller, Mrs. A. J. Bezner and Mrs. Tooley.

Trig Twitchel and Jack Jerome of Wichita Falls visited Sunday morning in the home of Mrs. N. R. Miller.

Luanna Olsen went to Kingsville Friday where she visited over the weekend with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Olsen.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Beavers have received word from their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald May of Lawton, Okla., that their new baby daughter has been named Donna Eileen. Keith and Brent May are here with their grandparents.

Mrs. Kermit Orsborn Sr.'s parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Swain of Kearney, Neb., have been here visiting. On Sunday all of the two families went on an outing to Palo Duro Canyon. Kermit Orsborn Jr. went home with his grandparents Monday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Paul McClung and children, David, Dean and Cheryl, left Friday for their home at Overton after several days of visiting with friends here.

Their son, Kenneth, remained for an extended visit here. Mrs. Tony Benson and daughter, Xan, of Lubbock is staying this week with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dixon of Wichita Falls visited Friday night with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wimberley, and their son, Charles Dixon. Charles is staying part of this summer here with his sister.

A birthday dinner honoring L. A. Smith was held Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Johnson. Other guests were Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Poe and family of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Weeter and children of Borger, Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Miller and family.

Mrs. Herschel Miller Jr. returned home Thursday from the Deaf Smith County Hospital in Hereford where she had been since June 19. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hood of Hereford, are staying here in the Miller home.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon H. Baker, Patsy and Johnnie Baker of Dublin visited here Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. W. W. Wimberley Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wimberley and Mr. and Mrs. William Wimberley.

On Sunday a family gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wimberley. Others present included Mrs. W. W. Wimberley Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wimberley, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wimberley, Phyllis Ann, Ted and Billy Wimberley, Mr. and Mrs. C. Aubrey Wimberley, Kathleen Wimberley and Charlotte Morrow of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Baker and family of Dublin and Charles Dixon of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. W. H. Gentry and Ann attended funeral services Sunday afternoon in Hereford for J. A. Pitman.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Frye Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bavousett and daughter of Friona, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Burum of Petersburg and Margaret Burum of Norman, Okla.

Billy and Margaret Burum's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mort Burum of Norman. The family lived here for a number of years when the children were small. Mrs. Burum's parents were Mr. and Mrs. George Day, a pioneer ranch family of Deaf Smith County.

Margaret Burum graduated from Oklahoma University this year and will teach at Grand Rapids, Mich., this fall.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. H.R. Richardson and family arrived June 17 for a visit with her father, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Miller, before going to Anchorage, Alaska. Richardson has been working at the Pentagon in Washington, D. C.

Visitors who called Sunday afternoon in the Miller home to visit the Richardson family were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miller and family, Mrs. Inez Wedel of Amarillo, Miss Vera Crawford of Canyon, Mrs. Cora Bentley, Mrs. Gladys Miller of Hereford and her grandson, Herschel Miller III, Mr. and

Bass Serves Drinks To All On Last Day

COLEMAN, Tex., (AP) — It was drink or else with Sam Bass, recalls William R. Hinds, 93.

The day before the noted bank and train robber was fatally shot in an attempt to rob the Round Rock bank in 1878, he compelled most of the men of Belton to take a drink with him in a saloon, Hinds says. Hinds is a retired farmer and hotel man here.

"He was a big hearted fellow," the old-timer remembers. "My father and my Uncle David Pitman were in the group."

"Most Belton men knew it was Bass. A member of his gang tipped off Texas rangers about the planned bank robbery in a letter posted in Belton."

"The next day Bass and his gang, except the traitor, were wiped out."

Bass escaped temporarily, although fatally wounded. He was found under a tree and taken back to Round Rock, where he died in a tin shop.

"He refused to tell where he had hidden lots of money taken in other train and bank robberies," Hinds said.

Hinds migrated with his family from Waldron, Ark., to a farm between Belton and Salado in 1872.

"Two years later, he said in a recent interview, a mob broke into the Bell County jail and shot nine men accused of stealing horses."

"The next morning I visited the jail and it was a bloody shambles," he related. "The bodies of the men were buried in one long grave."

In those days, rich blackland could be bought for 50 cents an acre. An influential college was at Salado. The present city of Temple didn't exist then.

Hinds moved to Coleman in 1896 and farmed near the present city park. Later he moved to another farm. Still later he operated a hotel and wagon yard at Valera, and held other jobs.

He now boards in a private home. His wife died three years ago.

HE'S READY FOR A CHANGE
WAUWATKA, Wis. (AP) — Franz Schubert's evening stint as a baby-sitter turned into a 36-hour job.

Franz, a high school student, was called by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Klas to care for their two small children on a Saturday night. During the evening, one of Wisconsin's big snowstorms struck and the home was isolated for 36 hours.

Commented Franz later: "I've had it for diaper changes."

THEY'RE GOOD SCOUTS
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Scout work is almost a full-time project for the John J. Brumer Sr. family.

Brumer is advisor to an Explorer post. His wife, Ceelia, is leader of a Brownie troop. Their son, John Jr., is an Explorer Scout. Michael is a member of a Boy Scout troop, and Beverly, Barbara and Beatrice are Girl Scouts.

The only non-scouting members of the family are six-year old Sharon and three-year old Lori.

Good dip for lobster chunks: melted butter mixed with a little tarragon vinegar.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

'States' Rights Bill' Approved By House

To the people of the 18th District:

The House of Representatives last week passed H. R. 3. This is a bill commonly referred to as the "States' Rights Bill." It is primarily designed to prevent federal laws from striking down state laws in the same field where there is no irreconcilable conflict.

It contains two sentences: the first states in effect that acts of Congress shall not be construed by the courts as preempting a field, and thereby nullifying state laws on the same subject, unless the act of Congress so specifically states or unless there is such a direct and positive conflict between the federal act and the state law that the two cannot be reconciled or consistently stand together; the second sentence states in effect that it was not the intention of Congress in passing the Smith Act in 1940 to prevent states from prosecuting seditious acts against the United States.

It will be remembered that the Supreme Court in 1956 ruled that an alleged communist in Pennsylvania could not be prosecuted for seditious acts under the Pennsylvania laws because the federal government had adopted an act in that field and thereby nullified the state law on the subject.

The passage of H. R. 3 after a vigorous and bitter debate, was a clear-cut victory for those who are opposed to the centralization of government and the concentration of power in Washington. Those who opposed the passage of the act are considered generally to fall into the category of those desiring further expansion of federal regulation and activity. Needless to say, it is to be expected there will be much litigation on this subject if H. R. 3 finally becomes the law.

Whether or not it will clear the Senate is an unanswered question at this time. This same bill passed the House last year by the vote of 241 to 155. The margin this year was much narrower, the vote being 225 for the bill and 192 against it. The bill that passed the House last year failed in the Senate by a narrow margin of one vote. Presumably, however, that the bill does pass the Senate, there is still the threat of a veto by Mr. Eisenhower.

It is difficult for me to see how Mr. Eisenhower or anyone else can oppose this legislation if they desire to see the people of this country governed in the manner intended by the framers of our Constitution. However, the opponents are entitled to their beliefs on the subject which I respect, but I sincerely hope they do not prevail.

A Yankee friend of mine from Fredericktown, Ohio, Congressman Robert W. Levering, introduced a resolution extending congratulations to the people of Mt. Vernon, Ohio as they commemorated the 100th anniversary of the famous song "Dixie." It seems that the composer of the song was one Dan Emmett of Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

The story of the composition of Dixie is one with which I was not always familiar. It seems that Dan Emmett who is known as the father of minstrelry in the United States for his first popular song "Old Dan Tucker," was desperate for a new song for a minstrel show in New York which was going badly. Dan had a deadline to produce a song that would pep up the show. The story is that during that period there was a common expression among people in the theatrical world who were not getting along so well. The expression was "I wish I were in Dixie," which simply meant "I wish I were somewhere else besides where I am now."

At that time it had no relationship with the South. While brooding over the fact that he could get no inspiration for a new song, Dan Emmett kept repeating the expression to himself, and it was because of this that the song was born. The funeral services for Arch J. Kemp of Hale Center father of Mrs. Jack A. Johnson of Hereford were conducted Monday in the First Baptist Church of Hale Center.

Officiating at the services was the Rev. Charles Gates, pastor of the Hale Center First Methodist Church. Burial with Masonic graveside rites was held in the Hale Center Cemetery under direction of Lemons Funeral Home of Plainview.

Mr. Kemp, 60, was fatally injured in an automobile accident late Saturday near Justiceburg, driving alone, he presumably dozed or was stricken ill and his car went out of control and struck a culvert abutment. He

100 Pair Of Bob White Released On Land In Deaf Smith County

The Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District has started a wildlife program in Deaf Smith County, by setting out 100 pair of Bob White quail at various places in the county, according to Luther Lesly, chairman of the board of supervisors.

Lesly adds that several thousand acres have been put in the Soil Bank Program and seeded to native grass and sorghum alnum.

Sorghum alnum will provide the needed cover and food for wildlife. Bob White quail needs year around cover for protection from predatory animals and climatic conditions.

Suitable wildlife habitats are Soil Bank land, small areas around lakes, windmills or odd areas in cultivated fields, according to Lesly. The area should be fenced to protect from grazing and other disturbances.

Provide brush piles for cover and plant sorghum and legumes for wildlife food, he advised, and leave areas of sorghum stalks standing near wildlife areas. Supplemental food should be provided for wildlife during extremely dry or cold weather. Protect wildlife areas from such predators as coyotes, swift fox, cats and skunks he said.

The board of supervisors for the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District can get quail each year from the Texas Game and Fish Commission. Applications can be made at the local Soil Conservation Service office for quail if there is adequate cover and food on your farm or ranch. Wildlife is the product of the soil, trees, grass and grain. The main problem involved in the sustained production of wildlife is providing cover, food and water. These are essential for small game as a means of providing escape from predators, preventing starvation, and providing a healthier habitat or home in general, he concluded.

Local Cadet At Summer Camp

Cadet John G. Benson, son of Mr. Henry N. Benson, 116 Centre, Hereford, arrived at Fort Lee, Va., Saturday to attend the 1959 Fort Lee ROTC Summer Camp. He will be participating along with several hundred other students from 21 universities.

In the fall, Benson will return to the University of Texas to complete his fourth year of education. Upon graduation, he will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve.

At Fort Lee, home of the Quartermaster Training Command, the cadets will get acquainted with Army life and obtain a familiarization with army operations and equipment. Special attention will be given to marksmanship, map reading, and developing command leadership in each individual. A seven day tactical bivouac under simulated battlefield conditions will culminate their training.

Major General Alfred B. Dennison, Commanding General QMTC and of Fort Lee, officially opened the camp with a welcoming address to the cadets last Monday. Colonel Victor L. Cary is the Deputy Camp Commander.

F. Baird Attends District Meeting

Fred Baird, school business manager of the Hereford Rural High School District, was among the 50 school district business managers, superintendents and tax assessors who attended a two-day meeting June 24-25 at Texas Tech. Neighboring states will continue to siphon teachers from Texas schools because of better salaries, school business officials were told.

The possibility of meeting this competition evidently will have to await the next regular Legislative session, Leon Graham of Austin told a School Business Services Workshop.

The current Legislature has done nothing to change the situation, he pointed out. Graham said legislation also is needed to make consolidation of school districts easier.

HD, 4-H Hold Joint Meeting

The Messenger Home Demonstration and the Walcott 4-H Clubs met in the home of Mrs. Bertram Jack Friday afternoon. The 4-H members reported on the things they enjoyed doing most in 4-H work the past year. 4-H work for next year will be crafts.

Dianne Jack played the piano and Mrs. N. A. Brown demonstrated making belts and covering buckles.

Those receiving secret pal gifts were Mesdames G. E. Pinkerton, Floyd Brown and Ernest Brown. Nancy Tyler received the floating prize.

Mrs. Bertram Jack and Mrs. N. A. Brown reported on the council meeting. Attending were Mesdames N. E. Tyler, Glenn Burrus, G. E. Pinkerton, Ruth Coleman, J. E. Rouse, Jack Buse, S.N. Thweatt, N. A. Brown, Ernest Brown, E. M. Jack, Floyd Brown, Elmer Northcutt and the hostess.

Others present were Wanda Northcutt, Nancy Tyler, Elizabeth and Kathryn Burrus, Gay Debra and Gerald Wily, Dianne and Marla Jack and Earl and Roger Brown.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

House Lawmakers Become Sensitive Toward Criticism

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN — Much more than just taxes is being written now at the State Capitol.

Political careers are being shaped — or broken. Climate is being determined for business development — or freeze. Cost of living for every Texan is involved.

That's what the edginess, temperament, fussing and name-calling is all about right now.

Seldom, if ever before, have lawmakers been so sensitive to criticism — from governor, from press, from public.

For the first time in years, the House met on a Saturday (June 20) to work on the long overdue tax bill. Knuckling down had come reluctantly — but surely — after governor and press had chided lawmakers for long Thursday - to - Monday recesses during the short 30-day special sessions. Lawmakers fussed back earlier in that week — but they stayed late.

For the most part, the fussing was all bark and little bite. House members who threatened to evict Capitol news reporters from their Capitol quarters and House floor press table in reprisal weren't taken seriously. Reporting of legislative affairs is fundamental to the democratic processes — and no one realizes it better than do lawmakers.

In brief: pressures mounted. A safety valve blew. . . and work was resumed in earnest.

A two per cent "luxury tax" on items costing more than $50 is the principal new feature of a House committee-approved revenue bill.

Tax committee voted 12-6 to send the bill by Rep. Frates Seigelson of San Antonio to the House floor.

Like several previous bills, it was an attempt to compromise the conflicts between the "sales taxers" and "business taxers." It would raise an estimated $170,000,000 for the biennium. About $36,000,000 would come from the luxury sales tax. About $6,100,000 would come from a one per cent severance beneficiary tax on natural gas, and about $13,000,000 from increased franchise taxes on corporations.

Rest would come from increased levies on gross receipts of utilities and sales of automobiles, tobacco, wine and liquor.

In the showdown on taxes last session, the House refused to approve a bill heavy on sales taxes. Some committee members voted against this bill on grounds that a two per cent sales tax, even though it was only on $50 or more items, would be ruinously unpopular.

A majority of the Senate, however, has shown definite disapproval of loading too much of the new burden on business. They feel heavy business taxes would shut out industry and cut off the source of new prosperity.

Both houses re-passed the appropriation bills that went through the first special session.

They went to same conference committee that worked before to adjust differences. House bill was some $20,000,000 higher.

Conference committee reportedly did most of the routine work on the bills and set them aside until a tax bill could be passed to make spending possibilities more definite.

Abandoned property bill, which provoked some of the most heated legislative debate this year, is having its third round.

Rep. James Bates of Edinburg, sponsor, told the House tax committee the bill wouldn't change the escheat laws that have been on the statute books for years. He declared it would make the old law more workable.

Bates' bill, as introduced this session, would require banks and others holding money or property unclaimed for seven years, to report it to the state within 60 days after passage of the bill.

It also would give state agencies authority to examine the books and records of businesses to see if they are holding such property.

Bankers labeled it a "free hunting license into all bank accounts" and "unconstitutional search and seizure."

Bill was sent to subcommittee.

Making progress in its second legislative round is a bill that would allow state colleges to require students to pay an activity fee.

Similar bill died in the first special session.

It would allow the colleges to make mandatory a student fee of $30 a semester. This would pay for such campus services as hospital and medical care, book rentals, student publications and tickets to athletic and cultural events.

College presidents are supporting the bill. Those from smaller schools, particularly, say they need the extra revenue to stay in the black on these activities.

Spokesmen for student groups opposed. They said poorer students would rather do without these services than pay the fees.

Senate Finance committee leaned toward the presidents' view, voted the bill out by a 2-to-1 majority.

Senate has a simplified substitute for Rep. Robert Eckhardt's bill to protect public beaches.

New bill says that no one shall get in the way of the public's right to go to and from public beaches. It leaves to the courts the job of defining where the line is between public and private ownership along the coast.

It would not, according to its Senate sponsors, cloud the title

Local Student On Honor Roll

Gayle Joan Kendall of Hereford was one of 2,315 students who made the honor roll for the spring semester at The University of Oklahoma at Norman, Dr. George L. Cross, University president, announced.

Of the more than 2,000, half were from out-of-state, and 69 of 251 foreign students representing 29 countries. Students made better grades the second semester of 1958-59 with 23 per cent more of the total university enrollment listed on the honor roll, the university registration director reported.

A straight A grade average was earned by 125 students. To be eligible for the honor roll, a student must have an overall B grade average in a minimum of 12 college hours and must not have a "Failing" or "Incomplete" mark in any course.

Crowell Named State Director

C. E. Crowell of Hereford was elected as a director of the Texas Real Estate Association during the group's 38th annual convention in Houston recently. The term of office will become effective Jan. 1.

New officers chosen for the coming year were W. Vernon Walsh of Brownsville, president; P. C. Naylor Jr., San Antonio, vice president; Joe B. Phillips, Lubbock, vice president; E. T. Compere Jr., Abilene, secretary; and Lyn E. Davis, Dallas, treasurer.

Highlighting the 1959 TREA convention, staged at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel, was the keynote address by General Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine Envoy to the United States. In his speech, "Today's World — Tomorrow's Goals," he emphasized the importance of the global race for power in which the free world is engaged against Communism, outlining truths which must be faced if we are to win.

A record high attendance was recorded at this 38th annual convention of the Texas Real Estate Association.

Wanda Holt At Dallas Hospital

Wanda Gale Holt, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Holt of Hereford, was admitted June 17 to the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas.

Texas Scottish Rite Masons founded the hospital 35 years ago in an effort to provide a chance at a normal life for the handicapped child. The hospital, which has accepted more than 100,000 children for treatment since 1925, is supported by public contributions and bequests.

Local Ginner At Cotton Meet

W. D. Revel of the Deaf Smith County Gin in Hereford was one of 23 area cotton ginners who were presented all-cotton certificates by Texas Tech Agriculture Dean Gerald Thomas in ceremonies Friday, June 26, in the Agriculture Engineering Bldg.

The men attended a cotton ginners' workshop on latest methods of cotton ginning.

Cooperating with the Tech agricultural engineering department in presenting the workshop were the National Cotton Council, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, representatives of the cotton industry and other Tech schools.

'Model Water Use Act' Is Explained

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story was prepared by Allen H. White, staff member of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District. It discusses a paper which outlines a "Model Water Use Act" presented at the Texas University Water Laws Conference held recently at Austin.)

Perhaps the most significant paper presented at the Texas University Water Laws Conference held in May at Austin was one that outlined a "Model Water Use Act."

The National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws has drafted the model water use act, and it has been distributed to state legislatures throughout the nation.

The model water use act is "designed for widespread study and consideration by state governments in order to protect, conserve, fairly allocate for use, and where necessary reserve water resources in the interest of the health and welfare of the people."

The act would first recognize that all water resources of the state, both surface water or ground water, are property of the state and should be developed on a beneficial-use basis.

The act provides for a five-man Water Resources Commission to be appointed by the Governor of the state. This five-man Commission would make determinations as to the most beneficial uses for the water of that state.

It would control the development and use of the water resources, including underground water, to "effectuate full utilization, conservation, and protection of the water resources of the state."

All water used in the state would be under control of the Commission with the exception of domestic supplies. No water could be used by an individual before first having been granted a permit by the Commission for such water. Even riparian uses of stream water would be subject to permit requirements.

The Commission would have as its objective the most beneficial use of all underground and surface water resources of the state. The Commission's opinion in this instance might deviate considerably from the viewpoint of those taking a contrary outlook.

To the industrialist who might serve on the Commission, industrial use of water would perhaps be the most beneficial; whereas, to the agriculturalist serving on the Commission, the use of water for irrigation might seem more beneficial; and to one serving who leans toward rapid municipal growth, the preservation of water resources of the state for future municipal use would perhaps be the most beneficial.

It appears that if a water use act such as the one here described were employed in Texas it might have a drastic curbing effect on the growth of our state.

The Commission would be the official state voice in all dealings with the federal government on matters pertaining to state water resources. Also it would negotiate and formulate all interstate water compacts.

Each permit granted by the Commission would be limited in duration. The duration of permit validity would be determined by the Commission. It can readily be seen that by limiting the time that permits will be valid might definitely impair the growth of an area.

If permits were not valid for an appreciable length of time, the individuals granted permits to use water would perhaps not feel justified in spending money for improvements of their operation.

In granting permits the Commission would give no preference whatsoever to applications filed first in time, but rather it would be governed strictly by the standard of beneficial use.

At any time before the permit has expired, the permit holder may be required by the Commission to relinquish his rights to the water granted him by the Commission upon receipt of reasonable compensation for his loss.

If the Commission should decide that one or more applications for permits have been filed that would create uses for water which are adjudged as more beneficial or would provide a more complete utilization of available water than the permit holder is making with the water, the Commission would then determine that the prior permit should be relinquished and be granted for the more beneficial uses.

A fee would be charged for each permit based upon the class of the permit, the duration of validity of the permit, and the capital investment to be made by the permit holder. The fee could be waived at the discretion of the Commission.

If a shortage should occur or if the ground-water table in any area of the state is progressively declining, the Commission may upon its own initiative establish rules, regulations, or orders forbidding the construction of any new wells or diversion facilities or by modifying the existing uses of water.

The Commission may regulate the use of ground water by proportioning, limiting or rotating uses of water, or the Commission may even find that uses have ceased to be reasonable or beneficial. Even after having been granted the right to use certain underground or surface water of the state, the permit holder could still not be assured that his supply of water would not be taken from him.

It readily can be seen that by vesting such broad powers in a five-man Commission almost anything could befall our State. To base a priority for water on a criterion of most beneficial use and to allow the determination of beneficial use to be made by a five-man Commission, the future of any particular business in our state might well depend upon the prevailing moods of this Commission.

Emergency powers of the act outlines procedure which gives the Commission the privilege of establishing the rules which could prohibit the use of the State's water resources. The Commission could, under these same emergency powers, authorize any state or local governmental agency to enter upon public or private lands and remove any amount of water necessary to protect the public health, safety and welfare.

In times of emergency the Commission shall give preference to uses of water initiated prior in time unless by the election of the Commission it determines that such a preference might impair or be detrimental to the public interest in the utilization of the State's water resources.

The Commission would have authority to pass rules and regulations prohibiting the pollution of waters of the state.

A breakdown of this model water use act, which has been introduced to Texas for study and comment, is published to show how some people think and a view of things with which we will assuredly be faced in time to come.

Because of a rapidly increasing trend toward centralized

Turmoil, Shrinking Demand Characterizes Coal Story

By JULES LOH

In the year 1808 a man named George Shoemaker of Pottsville, Pa., hauled nine wagonloads of coal to Philadelphia.

He sold two loads. The other seven he had to give away.

In the next century and a half the pendulum of coal prosperity made its arc, and in this generation began its downward swing.

And the problem of George Shoemaker 150 years ago is today the basic problem underlying the prolonged and bitter dispute in Eastern Kentucky.

There simply is a shrinking demand for coal.

Ten years ago truck mine operators in Eastern Kentucky got $4.50 per ton for their coal. The United Mine Workers contract called for a daily wage of $15.60 for the men who mined it.

Today the average price per ton is $3.50, and the UMW contract asks a daily wage of $24.25.

Refusal of mine operators to sign the contract has led to bloodshed, death, thousands of dollars property damage, and scores of the type that don't heal readily — the type inflicted when brother turns against brother, father against son.

Many feel the short life of coal's prosperity is the fault of the industry itself — through failure to exploit the market to its fullest.

George Shoemaker of Pottsville had only one selling point: This black stuff burns:

It will heat a house.

Modern technology found that coal and its derivatives could be used to make everything from baking powder to phonograph records; from aspirin to cyanide; from perfume to nylon hose; from linoleum to DDT.

"There is still money to be made in coal," said F. F. Schulte, for whom coal has provided a livelihood for 58 of his 70 years.

Schulte ran away from his home in Calumet, Mich., when he was 12, and followed the bituminous seams from Iowa to Whitesburg, Ky., where he is now retired.

There are few jobs Schulte has not done in the coal mines. "A good coal miner is worth his hire," Schulte said.

"That's why neither side is completely right or completely wrong in this strike."

"I have seen good mines ruined because the operator did not invest enough of the profits in it," he said. "I know, because I have operated a truck mine."

"The price of coal is not as good as it used to be, sure. But it is still high enough for a man to make a good profit and pay good wages — if he operates his mine right."

"He can't take everything out and put nothing back."

"A miner making $10 a day for loading about 10 ton (coal people never say tons) is not going to take the time to clean the coal properly."

"He shoots it with too much powder and gets too much ash, and the operator gets a low price for the coal."

A moderate sized truck mine will produce about 100 tons per day.

Out of each ton, the operator's chief expenses, other than labor, are the average of 60 cents he pays the trucker to haul the coal to the loading ramp, and government control, it is most important that each of us as individual water users manage our water carefully and use every gallon that we pump to produce income. It will become increasingly important in the future for us to be able to point to our High Plains area and be able to say that our problems are cared for adequately and that we do not have need for a centralized agency dictating policy to us.

"We have definite individual responsibilities in seeing that our water is managed properly and not wasted. We cannot expect to continue to exploit the water resources of our area and at the same time expect to retain private ownership of these resources."

Let's look at the problem realistically. Either we're going to take care of this underground water upon which we are most dependent, or someone else will do it for us. We cannot have our cake and eat it too.

The 40 cents he pays the UMW toward its welfare fund — this instead of providing hospitalization and retirement benefits of his own.

Naturally there are other costs to operating a mine.

Most of the operators lease their mines, so there is a 25 cent royalty on each ton for the owner; and there are tool depreciation expenses, explosives, timber and other costs.

Schulte's point is there should be enough for a higher wage than the approximately $10 a day now being paid.

"Probably the union's demand is too steep," he said.

"John L. Lewis has done a lot for the coal miner. It was terrible here before John came. But it could be that he's asking too much."

The solution to the two-month old crisis is obscure. If no solution is found, however, the result is obvious.

Because in Eastern Kentucky there are only two basic sources of income:

Coal — and government relief checks.

name of the piece was "I Wish I Was In Dixie's Land."

It pepped up the show and was a great success, but it was received with widest acclaim in the South. In fact at the outbreak of the Civil War it became the South's war song, its national song, its anthem and has been so associated ever since. When Jefferson Davis was inaugurated President of the Confederacy, the band played Dixie.

When President Lincoln came out of the White House to address a crowd joyous that the great civil strife was ended, the conductor of the United States Military band asked him his favorite selection. Lincoln replied "play Dixie."

Thus, Dan Emmett gave the nation its first national song of native origin. The Star Spangled Banner, America, and even Yankee Doodle were all tunes with overseas tones.

Last week the House Interior Committee adopted the resolution making a national shrine of the grave of Samuel Wilson, progenitor of the symbol "Uncle Sam." Few people realize that the symbol "Uncle Sam" did have its foundation in a real person, to wit, Mr. Sam Wilson, who was a prominent figure of the Revolution and colonization of this country. He was born in 1766, ran away from home and joined the Army at 14½, serving until the end of the Revolutionary War.

He settled in Troy, New York, and established a meat-packing business. He was inspector of provisions for the American Army in New York during the War of 1812. A visitor to his meat-packing plant inquired as to what the initials "EAUS" on a barrel of meat signified. The workman replied the initials EA stood for Elbert Anderson, the contractor, and the US stood for Uncle Sam or the United States. The name of Uncle Sam was later associated with the figure of the tall gentleman in striped pants, the star-bedecked coat and goatee.

This figure then appeared in a cartoon and was known as Brother Jonathan. However, the association of the name Uncle Sam with the figure caused a merger of the two and it has remained since as the symbol of the United States, sometimes stern, sometimes jovial, sometimes surprised, but always typical of the qualities of our country and that for which it stands.

Have you been swimming yet? I guess nearly everyone has been by this time.

Joy Story has a problem. When she goes swimming, her long pretty hair gives her some trouble. Do you know how she puts on her swimming cap? She wets her hair first, and then she puts her cap on. Strange — I thought that swimming caps were to help keep your hair from getting wet.

Sue Minor has the right idea for baby-sitting. She just takes the children swimming and then she can swim, too. Have you seen Ann Smith's tan? Bee-yoo-ti-ful! Now I'll explain why Ann's nose is sometimes white. She puts zinc oxide (or something like that) on it to keep it from blistering and peeling. If that is your problem, you might ask Ann if it is working.

Some people have all the luck. The red 1959 Lark sitting out in front of Cooper's Store went to Azalee Phillips. Believe it or not, Azalee was so surprised that she actually dropped the telephone when Cooper's called to tell her of her good fortune. But then, not everyone can win a drawing contest.

Joelle Tillier-Laroche, our French exchange student, left Hereford Sunday morning for Amarillo. There, she boarded a bus for Dallas where she was to meet 60 other exchange students for a three-week tour of the U. S. All of the 1500 exchange students in the U. S. are to meet at "Midway" for a three-day camp.

Joelle will then take a boat from Montreal to Le Havre, France. She will arrive in Le Havre on Aug. 5. Her parents will meet her there to take her home. We are going to miss Joelle a lot since she has left, but maybe she can come back to visit us some time before very long.

Even school activities are still going on. The contest play, "All My Sons," directed by Carroll Hickey, was presented at the school this past Thursday and Friday. Everyone who saw it said that it was tops.

The play cast consisted of Lee Blocker, Jan Wallace, Sheryl Patterson, Durwood Jacobs, Mildred Wester, David Larsen, Errin and Gary Wertemberger, Suzanne Langley and John Buck. Sheryl and Lee got flowers after the two night performances.

The cast presented Carroll Hickey a little ceramic pot with feathers around the top. The inscription read as follows: "You never had it so soft."

The cast became a little superstitious about "Old Red." Old Red is a red petticoat. After an incident at Portales, N.M., the red petticoat became a lucky charm for the cast. After the final presentation on Friday night of last week, "Old Red" was presented to Mrs. Carroll Hickey as a gift. Mrs. Hickey said that there was nothing that she liked better.

The summer is slipping away and it won't be long before school will start again, but here is hoping that everyone enjoys his summer to the fullest.

Parents Should Prepare For School Next Fall

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.

The long summer lies ahead, school seems far off, but now is the time to make sure your child will be in the best of condition when school begins.

You will have time during the summer to do whatever needs to be done.

Make an appointment with your doctor and have a complete physical examination for each one of your children. Talk over with your doctor any and all problems you have with the children.

Johnny has had a lot of sore throats this last winter and a few times he has had infected ears. Is his hearing normal now? Maybe his tonsils are badly infected and should come out. Your doctor will not advise this operation unless it is necessary. We don't any longer drag out tonsils just because they are big. But if they really are in bad shape, spring is the ideal time to have them removed.

How about weight and nutrition? Has your youngster gained enough and not too much? Maybe you need to look into his diet more carefully — too many snacks and not enough muscle building staples. Maybe it is a little extra sleep he needs.

How about eyes? Every child should have an eye test once a year. If your child has had trouble in school, make very sure you get both his vision and his hearing checked. No child can learn well if he cannot see the blackboard or hear the teacher clearly.

Is his posture good, are his muscles firm and strong? Is his color good?

Talk over with your doctor your plans for the summer. Try to see that whatever your plans, there is plenty of time and opportunity for good play outdoors.

For some children some weeks at camp are wonderful — but not for all children. And if you are planning to send a child to camp, make sure that the camp will give your child what he needs. A timid, shy child has quite different needs from a camp than an overly aggressive headstrong child.

Does your child suck his thumb, wet his bed, dawdle over his food? Talk these problems over with your doctor. Maybe that invitation from grandma would be exactly the right thing. Andy has been in the shadow of his older brother all winter. He can't call his soul his own. You just can't find the time to let him get out his slow halting little stories. You are always hurrying him up, though you know you shouldn't. A month with easy going, leisurely grandma may do wonders for him.

On the other hand if grandma is a rigid person who is going to make Andy tow the line or else, for heaven's sake find a polite excuse and keep him away from there.

Plan the summer for the children to correct as many of their drawbacks as possible, both physical and emotional ones.

A few children may need some tutoring in the summer. If you are going to be in the city all summer a youngster may be a lot better off in school than with too much free time to lie around and watch television.

And one more thing — don't forget the child's teeth. Plan a visit to the dentist in the

The public will have its first chance to inspect the newly completed bleachers and resodded gridiron at Whitface Field Friday night when it will be opened with a concert by the high school band. Floodlights have been installed for this occasion and other concerts to be given during the summer.

The new bleachers, 41 yards on the west side and 16 on the east side of the field, have been finished and the field has a better crop of bermuda grass than ever before. A two-inch pipeline was recently laid as part of the improvement program. The pipe runs the length of the gridiron and has a number of taps, making watering simple.

No cars will be allowed inside the enclosure Friday night, and children may play on the grass. The Band Mothers club will serve ice cream. There will be no admission charge.

Have you read the classifieds? spring and get any needed dental work attended to before fall.

SUSPICION PAYS

PITTSBURG, Kan. (AP) — The marshal of the Pittsburg city court, Joe McIlwrath, apparently has a knack for spotting potential trouble-makers. When McIlwrath saw three boys purchasing BB shot, he took down the license number of their panel truck. When a large plate glass window was damaged by BB shot three days later, McIlwrath pulled out the license number and the three youngsters were arrested and charged.

Mr. Tax-payer:

Which of these pipes will your city use?

Texas-made Lone Star cast iron pressure pipe will last over a hundred years!

The use of cheap substitutes, such as foreign-made cement-astbestos pipe, is wasteful and means probable replacement in a very few years. (This pipe was taken from a Texas city's water system. Photo is unretouched.)

Officials of most Texas municipalities know that when they buy and install cast iron pipe they are helping to support the American economy and the high standard of living we all enjoy. They are buying products made in America for use by Americans. They are not fooled by the slightly lower initial cost of foreign goods because they realize that this "paper savings" will be more than offset by the cost of excessive maintenance.

Domestic cast iron pressure pipe is time-honored, centuries-proved, and is backed by strong, resourceful American companies that will be in business for years on end to guarantee their product.

Really, who backs foreign-made pipe? Who answers for it when it fails? To whom will the few ill-advised pipe-buyers look for the answers to these questions when trouble develops? Were they penny wise and pound foolish?

Take a look at some of these important factors back of the initial price tag, then pick up the telephone and call the first city official you think of and tell him you appreciate his good judgment in buying American-made cast iron pipe with your tax dollars. If he has been buying Lone Star pipe, tell him that we, too, appreciate the business!

Without ME YOU can do NOTHING

—so the vine said to the branches. Separated from the vine the branch became dead wood. We boast of our strength and the part we play but oh, how dependent on God we really are.
The physical body must have goods we cannot get except they come from God... air, food, water, companionship and even wealth. It is all part of a living universe. By itself all of this would be dead wood. The Christian without Christ becomes fruitless... dead. The human is nothing apart from the divine. God not only created life, He also sustains it. Our health, strength, success are all God's gift. Better stop Mister; long enough to give Him credit. Without Him we can do nothing.

Abundance Of Fruit Is Reported This Summer

By ARGEN DRAPER
While at Wellington this last weekend I asked about peaches and when they would be ready. It seems that there is an abundance of fruit this summer. The Hale Havens will be ready July 12 and will sell for $3 a bushel.

Probably the next thing that you will be canning will be cold potatoes. The directions: Use potatoes one to 2 1/2 inches in diameter, wash, pare, and cook in boiling water for 10 min. Drain. Pack hot potatoes in hot jars to 1 1/2 inches of the top of the jar. Cover with boiling water leaving 1/2 inch headspace at the top of the jar. Close and process the pints for 30 minutes, quarts 40 minutes. If you are canning in a pressure sauce can process the pints 50 minutes. Remove the container from the canner and cool.
Vegetables are salted one teaspoon per quart.
Home Management is a mental process through which families get what they want by using the resources available. Resources include more than money. They include time, energy, effort, ability, attitude, community facilities, interests and other things. Each family knows its own problems as it differs from those of every other family. Resources are different from everyone else's; therefore, problems must be solved differently.

No pattern can be used the same way. Instead families must work with their own solutions remembering that things that are important to the family will not just happen. They must be planned for; plans must be

Strong Brine Is Secret Of Hearty Pickles

HOUSTON (AP)—From strong brines, says pickle packer Mayes Fuller, hearty pickles grow. "I can tell you if the brine will float an egg, you can never go wrong," Fuller said.
Fuller and his father, S. M. Fuller, operate a pickle plant here which turns out more than 400,000 gallons of dills, sweets and sours a year.

Fuller trucks pick up 100-pound potato sacks full of graded cucumbers from grading sheds every day during the height of the early summer season.

"We work night and day to get those cukes in the tanks," he said.
Tanks are 5,000 and 10,000-gallon wood vats in which the cukes are placed in strong brine and wherein curing sets in. Once it does, a cucumber will keep indefinitely.

Each grade has its own brine tank, even warty nubs which are ground into relish.
"It takes two or three months to cure," Fuller said. Curing is over when the yellow cucumber turns green inside.

Workers net big batches from the brine as they are needed, and rinse them. Then they are soaked in a firming solution of tumeric and alum for about three days and get rinsed again. The final step sees the cukes placed in 50-gallon barrels where they receive their own flavor and identity—dill, sweet or sour.

Sour pickles are treated with vinegar, dill with dill concentrate and sweet with sugar.
The mammoth wood pickling vats will last indefinitely, Mayes said, if cleaned thoroughly between brines.

"But we have to keep rehooping them," he said.
If you'd ever come down here on a Sunday Morning and found the vat split and all the brine drained off 5,000 gallons of pickles, you'd take care of those hoops.

Take a tip from the experts... in their own words... and from on-the-record facts and figures: More than ever, Chevrolet gives you more than any other of the leading low-priced three! More room to relax in, for instance. A sampling of official dimensions reported to A.M.A.* makes this clear. Chevy front seat hip room, for one thing, is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. And Chevy even offers more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars!

Best Brakes Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, Chevy out-stopped both of the "other two" in a

Best Style It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

Best Economy Every motor magazine has given Chevrolet's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED puts it: "... surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price."

Do-It-Yourself Recipe Failure

By VIVIAN BROWN
The do-it-yourself movement is "snare and delusion," at least to one "handy" woman who has just had her share of adventure in that field.

"I guess I was trapped into it because so many friends smirked when I said I was going to have a floor in my brownstone house remodeled," says Cecily Brownstone, Associated Press Food Editor. "Why not do it yourself?" they challenged, as they rat-then say — "But don't do it that way. I have a better way." When that didn't work, they would say "Well, the real secret is..." They are cagier with their do-it-yourself tricks than a French chef with culinary secrets.

YOU THE LADY THAT CALLED AN' HOLLERED 'HELP!'?

The most discouraging aspect of do-it-yourself for Cecily was that everything took longer than she could possibly imagine.

"I began to loathe preceding generations when I tried to remove the 30-odd coats of paint from the walls and black marble fireplace. When I hit bottom, I found a casein paint, all the rage 100 or more years ago. The trouble was it would not respond to modern paint removers. The product I had to use not only removes paint, but dissolves skin and bones as well. I had to invest in a complete protective outfit, cover-alls, hat and gloves."

The upshot of it all is that Cecily recently has been concentrating on the professional "help wanted" ads.

"The fireplace had become such a chore for me that my sister finally decided to refinish it as a birthday gift, mainly to save the $75 I was about to invest to have someone else do it. But there is still a long way to go, and I'll be glad to pay to have someone else take over."

Cecily, now dedicated to revealing all when she finds time to write about it (She'll call her book: "It shouldn't Happen To a Brownstone") says that remodeling a home is definitely not a career girl's dish of tea, especially if she can make more profitably use of her time. "One needs a husband's moral support or the energy of a football player," to survive the experience that snowballs from paint remover to plaster, wall-paper, and paint.

"I've become such a horrible bore with my many groans and complaints that my friends flee when they see me. I've been looking forward to the day when I can entertain gracefully again, but right now I'd be too tired to conduct the guided tour, even if my house looked like a palace."

Household Scrapbook

Mattresses, pillows, cushions, and blankets will last longer and be far more sanitary if they are placed outside in the sun one day each week. The fresh, sweet odor is very pleasant upon going to bed.

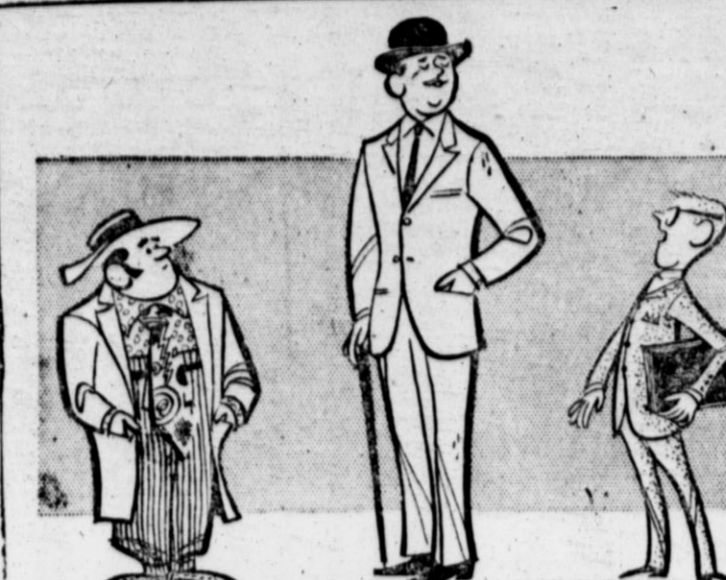

Mud Stains
Mud stains may be removed from black silk by rubbing the spots with a cut potato after removing the surface soil. The potato leaves a starchy deposit which can be brushed off when dry.

Boiled Water
You can rid boiled water of that flat taste by pouring it back and forth from one pitcher to another, or by shaking it in a large bottle.

Kid Gloves
If the kid gloves seem to have been hopelessly spotted by rain drops, don't let them dry, but while they are still on the hands and damp, rub very gently with a damp cloth so that the rain drops are scattered. If you do this in time, they will not spot.

Soot on Carpet
Do not attempt to sweep up soot from a carpet, or a smear is liable to result. Instead, cover it quickly with salt. Then sweep this up carefully and no smear will be left.

A Little Starch
Table linens which have been given a light coating of starch are more resistant to stains and spots. This is especially good for mats and dollies.

NEW LOOK FOR MEN—The continental silhouette, at center, has shorter, more fitted jacket with cutaway front, tapered sleeve, narrow, cuffless trousers. Strictly old-hat are the zoot-suit at left and the college-boy suit, right.

American Male Goes Continental

By DOROTHY ROE
Just look what's happened to Pop!
This spring he looks slimmer, smarter, with the indefinable aura of a world traveler. No more football shoulders on his suits, no more knee-length jackets, no more of the shapeless college-boy suits he's been wearing for the last few years.

No sir! Pop has gone continental. You have to look closely to define the difference. But the trained eye sees that the smartest men's suits this spring are slightly fitted at the waistline, with a jacket a fraction shorter than formerly, a slightly rounded cutaway line at the jacket front and no cuffs on the trousers.

These changes may seem inconsequential to women accustomed to violent fashion variety each season, but they represent a revolution to the conservative American male, says Frank C. Doblin, chairman of the fashion committee for New York's custom tailors and designers.

"Men are creatures of habit," he says. "They hate to change their customary way of dressing, eating and living. That's why men's fashions change more gradually than women's. Nevertheless, they do change, and change is good."

Doblin approves the continental silhouette, and feels it's high time American men take to a slightly more "shaped" look. He says:

"The so-called continental silhouette as it is being done in this country actually is quite different from European styles. It has been adapted to the A-

How Can I?

Q. How can I prevent mold on bread?
A. Mold is less likely to form on breads and cakes that are kept in boxes during warm weather, if the boxes are aired frequently.

Q. How can I make fruit jars air-tight?
A. Dipping the tops of fruit jars into melted paraffin will make them absolutely air-tight.

Q. How can I make a good summer drink?
A. Squeeze the juice of two lemons and one orange, strain, and add one cup of sugar, also enough iced water to make three pints. When ready to serve stir in one pint of ginger ale. This makes an inexpensive and delicious drink.

Brownsville Highway Rides History's Track By River

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—more familiarly known as the Old River Road.

Or, because Zachary Taylor and his men used it during the Mexican War, some people still call it the Military Highway.

Off to the left loom the high levees along the American side of the river.

Along the road, even before you come to the first community - La Paloma - huts of mud and sticks thatched with palm leaves give an exotic touch to the landscape.

Cross - crowned churches are frequent. Just east of the little town of Santa Maria stands an old, time-worn chapel in which people have worshipped for over 135 years.

Across the road is El Rancho Blanco which, according to legend, was once a Mexican fort. U. S. troops occupied it after the Mexican War. Then it served as a stage stop. Today it is a home.

Its mellow, brown bricks of native clay were molded on the premises at the same time as those for the church, and the story goes that the ranch house and the chapel were once connected by a tunnel.

Through this the ranch owner and his family could cross to worship without being exposed to raiding Indians.

On the river bank, behind the house, puffing stern-wheelers tied up before the railway days and were loaded with corn and cotton for Brownsville and Matamoros.

Just at the edge of Santa Maria to the westward, an irrigation canal leads off to the south. Follow its levee and you will come to a long, low stone building, shaded by mesquite trees and set in the midst of a cotton patch.

Once occupied by Gen. Taylor, brown-eyed, smiling children have taken the place of his dragons and Texas Rangers.

From Santa Maria the Old River Road leads through the Tip of Texas - that Magic Valley of incredibly fertile land where crops seem to shoot up overnight, and a second, a third, and even a fourth can be planted almost as soon as the preceding one is harvested.

On either side of the road, on ordered rows, march vegetable gardens and truck farms. Another scene is a hallmark of the Valley - long rows of palms, with feather - duster tops - that march and counter-march across the horizon like well-drilled troops, always in perfect alignment, bringing a touch of the tropics to Texas.

Traveling in history's footsteps, Drive on U. S. 281 westward out of this border city and you're

Straw Hat Fad Sweeps Country

By DOROTHY ROE
Everybody wants a straw hat this summer.

Those gay brimmed straw hats which bright teen-agers borrowed from Venetian gondoliers a year or so ago will be seen all over the place this summer — not only on the beach but on city streets as well, worn by Mom as well as daughter.

A bright idea to stretch the usefulness of a natural straw hat is to make a variety of streamer bands in different colors, to match all the dresses in your wardrobe.

This is easy to do if you follow suggestions of local sewing center experts, who experimented with various color combinations in bias double-fold tape. One effective combination is red, white and blue.

You'll need two five-foot strips of tape in each color, plus a strip of cloth or ribbon about two and a half inches wide and long enough to go around the crown of the hat. Measure distance around the crown and mark this off in center of strip of tape. This will leave the two ends about 18 inches long, to form the streamers.

Keep the tape folded and set your automatic sewing machine for a wide zigzag stitch. Start at the end of the first strip and zigzag along until you come to the mark for the crown.

Now slip the strip of fabric or ribbon under the tape and continue with zigzag stitch to sew tape to fabric. At end of ribbon strip, continue down streamer end of tape. Repeat with remaining rows of tape. After all tape is stitched in place, run one line of stitching across ends of crown section. Tie all streamers, together and knit ends of each streamer.

An imaginative girl can work out many variations on this theme, in many color combinations. Jumbo rickrack also is effective for hatbands and streamers.

Make them to match your summer outfits, using ordinary bias folded tape.
