TELEPHONE PEOPLE TO BUILD HERE

Approximately sixty members and guests attended the Chamber of Commerce luncheon held Monday noon at the Hereford Hotel. Though somewhat fewer in number than the usual attendance at the weekly luncheon, much interest was exhibited by those present in the problems that were brought up for discussion and announcements of proposed improvements to be undertaken in the city.

Of especial interest to the people of Hereford, residents as well as business men, was the announcement by representatives of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. who were present that a survey of the city is now in progress for the purpose of determining the exact improvements necessary in the telephone equipment for the city. Plans include provision for future growth of Hereford as well as present conditions.

According to T. B. Greer, commercial engineer from the Fort Worth office, the survey is a preliminary move to the establishment here of the common battery, or flashlight system, which is to be housed in a new building to be erected here by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Included in the survey being made now by Mr. Greer, assisted by H. C. Darnell of the sales department of the Amarillo office, are all the factors that tend to indicate the future growth of Hereford. A count is being made of every residence and business house in the city and all will be classified into various divisions which will show the number of present telephone subscribers, probable future subscribers and the kind of service that will be required by each classification.

At present, according to Mr. Greer, there are slightly more than 500 telephones being served by the local exchange. Provision will be made in the new equipment, when installed, to care for a much larger number than that and the apparatus will be so arranged that additional equipment can be added as the growth of the community justifies such additions.

Jones Furniture Co. Puts In Line of New Goods

C. S. Jones, who for the past eighteen months has operated the Jones Furniture Store, announced this week that he has installed a complete line of new furniture, including living room, dining room and bed room suites; a complete assortment of porch furniture, and many single pieces of furniture.

In order to allow proper display of the line of new furniture, Mr. Jones has leased the Dunlap building, a 25x100 feet structure, with balcony and basement, which adjoins the Britain building already occupied by the stock of second-hand furniture handled by him.

Mr. Jones has had previous experience in merchandising of fine furniture, having operated one of the largest furniture stores at Fort Morgan, Colorado, for several years. Before going to Colorado, Mr. Jones had long been a resident of the Plains territory. He has a wide acquaintance in Deaf Smith county through the operation for a number of years of a hardware store at Dimmitt, with which enterprise E. S. Ireland, mayor of Hereford, was at one time associated.

Though having installed the line of new furniture, Mr. Jones states that he will continue to handle a complete line of second-hand furniture. On Tuesday and Wednesday, June 4 and 5, announces Mr. Jones, a representative from the factory at Detroit, Michigan, will hold a demonstration at the Jones Furniture Co. store of the Lantel gas stoves.

Work On Creamery Being Pushed; May Open Next Month

Construction work on the Farmers' Co-Operative Creamery building is progressing faster now than it has for some time, according to N. O. Bendickson, who is in charge of the establishment of the new creamery here. The brick layers will finish their work this week, stated Mr. Bendickson, and then the building will be ready for the installation of equipment and machinery.

Mr. Bendickson attended the opening of the Floydada creamery on May 25, and reports that deep interest was exhibited in the project by farmers of that section, many of whom had never before had an opportunity to observe the process of the manufacture of butter. Crowds jammed the creamery building all day at the Floydada opening, reported Mr. Bendickson, and many expressions of approval were voiced by those who inspected the plant and visualized the profits that, with proper management, are expected to accrue to the farmers of that territory.

Fine Jersey Herd Up for Auction June 12

J. E. Ware & Son, who reside one-half mile east and three miles south of Friona, have announced that they will hold an auction sale of thirty head of registered Jersey cows on Wednesday, June 12.

All cows being offered are of an especially high class and carry a record of merit. The sire of these cattle is "Theatre Cup Kid," a bull of outstanding individuality as well as breeding. In a recent show held at Plainview this animal won first place in his class of seven head against exceptionally strong competition. He was declared grand champion at the recent Farwell show.

This offering consists of young bulls, heifers, heifers of breeding age, and outstanding cows of a high test milk record. Further details of the sale will be announced in the next issue of the Hereford Brand.

Hale, of Durant, Oklahoma, will arrive here early next month and will be associated with Dr. Sparks. Offices occupied by Dr. Sparks with the late Dr. W. F. Gabbert, in the First National Bank building will be maintained by Drs. Sparks and Hale.

Hereford Territory Gets Three Good Showers

During the past six days Hereford and vicinity have experienced three heavy downpours of rain. Though of short duration each of these showers have added considerably to the moisture already received during the month. Farming operation have been delayed somewhat because of the rains.

Bellview Expects Big Hereford Delegation at Reunion June Eighth

Most of the Hereford business firms are signing up for the trip to Bellview June 8, to the Old Settlers' reunion, according to Chairman A. O. Thompson of the Trade Extension committee of the local chamber of commerce.

Arrangements are being made not only to take one of the largest delegations that has ever visited a sister community, but the Hereford band will also be taken along to furnish music for the occasion and every person making the trip is being coached to "sell" New Mexico about Hereford.

A number of Hereford men will make short talks, and the "White-face Four" chamber of commerce quartet will accompany the delegation and help furnish entertainment.

Manager H. K. Fox of the baseball team, has stated that the Hereford team will meet the fast Santa Fe team from Clovis at Bellview and a general exchange of good will between the two states will be indulged in.

Those making the trip have arranged for advertising and the Chamber of Commerce will supply hat bands and canes to the boosters.

Prairie Dairie To Have Open House Saturday

H. P. Sindt and O. L. Rutherford, proprietors of the Prairie Dairie, which was formerly known as the Quality Milk Co., have issued an invitation to the people of Hereford and of the surrounding territory to be their guests next Saturday, June 1, from 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. to inspect the equipment and barns of the dairy. The proprietors of the Prairie Dairie are anxious for the public to see the plant that serves them fresh milk every day so that they may better realize the safeguards and cleanliness that surround every bottle of milk that is delivered to the home or sold at the grocery stores, declares Mr. Sindt, in issuing the invitation.

Refreshments will be served free to all who visit the Prairie Dairie. To reach the dairy visitors are directed to drive out the first street west of the high school building to the third intersection, then turn west and stop at the first place on the right. As those who purchase milk daily from the milkman seldom have the opportunity to inspect the processes of handling and the equipment used in a modern dairy, it is expected that many people of the city will visit the Prairie Dairie Saturday.

Time Extended In Creamery Contest

In order to give a greater opportunity to the people of Deaf Smith and adjoining counties to compete for the prize of $25.00 offered by the Farmers Co-Operative Creamery for a trade mark or brand for the butter that will be manufactured here in their new plant, those in charge of the contest have announced that the closing date for the contest will be extended to 12:00 o'clock noon on Saturday, June 8, instead of closing on June 1, as first announced.

Suggested names must be mailed to the Farmers' Creamery Association, Box 722, Hereford, Texas. The name suggested should be legible, our town and county, state the directors of the creamery, and at the same time appeal to the buyer of the butter. Announcement of the winner of the $25.00 prize will be made Saturday afternoon, June 8, state officials of the creamery.

Gooch, Fox, Holman See Many Candles

The sixth annual birthday dinner for Henry Gooch, E. D. Fox and Seth B. Holman was celebrated in the Holman home Sunday evening.

The tastefully decorated home made a pleasing background for a four-course buffet dinner. One feature of the occasion was the birthday cake, skillfully set off with candles and rosebuds. An enjoyable evening was spent and Mrs. Holman proved a most charming hostess.

Mrs. S. I. Booser of Amarillo spent Sunday with her parents here.

NEW BRIDGE FOR PALO DURO SOON

Meeting in an all day session on Monday, May 27, the Commissioners Court considered a number of matters that demanded their attention. An order was given to the Austin Bridge Co., of Austin, Texas, for a steel bridge span which is to be installed across Palo Duro creek on a north and south road in the northeastern part of the county. The cost will be approximately $1,100.

Because of the constantly increasing demand of the people of every section of the county for new roads, the Commissioners at their meeting Monday purchased a new road grader. Judge Wilson announced that two road crews and working outfits will be maintained by the county, each in a different section.

G. W. Brumley Home From Trip North

G. W. Brumley, president of the Brumley Chevrolet Co., returned home last week from an extended trip through a number of Eastern cities, including St. Louis, Detroit, Flint, and Milford, Michigan.

With several hundred other Chevrolet dealers from the Southwest, Mr. Brumley inspected the assembly plants, factory and proving grounds of the General Motors Co. Viewing the elaborate and complete organization that backs up the product he handles here has greatly increased his enthusiasm for the Chevrolet car, states Mr. Brumley, and has impressed him with the true value and service that is incorporated into the car when it is built. The new Chevrolet Six, declares Mr. Brumley, is the finest automotive product ever offered the American public at the price for which it sells.

Ad Men Visitors In Hereford: Well Pleas'd

Ken L. McGregor and C. A. Stevenson, representatives of the Campbell-Ewald Co., of Detroit, Michigan, were visitors Wednesday in the city. The Campbell-Ewald Co. is one of the largest advertising agencies in the United States and, as representatives of General Motors Corporation, handle probably the largest sum of money spent yearly for advertising automobiles. Messrs. McGregor and Stevenson were impressed with the rapidly expanding market here for the General Motors line of cars.

"Mother Machree" to Be Staged for Guild

"Mother Machree," a screen production based on the long-famous song of that name, is to be presented at the Star Theatre on Monday and Tuesday nights, June 3 and 4, for the benefit of the Presbyterian Guild of Hereford.

Ladies of the Guild are selling tickets now for the production and the organization will share in the receipts from the showing of the film here. Such funds will be used by the Guild for the furtherance of church work.

In speaking of the film version of "Mother Machree," Ernest R. Ball, celebrated composer, said: "I wrote the music for 'Mother Machree' in conjunction with Chauncey Gleet, the Irish tenor, who enjoyed great popularity twenty years ago. The lyrics were written by Miss Rida Johnson Young and I have always considered the words the most touching of any I have ever read. There is something infinitely tender about the song and I am sure that Miss Rida Johnson Young, who plays the title role, has invested the screen play with a haunting sweetness."

John Ford, maker of the "Iron Horse" and "Three Bad Men," directed "Mother Machree" and like his other two masterpieces, it is an interpretation of an epochal period of American history, as well as a great story of mother love and romance.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Bertrand of White Deer spent Thursday and Friday in Hereford on business.

Mrs. J. G. Davis and daughter, Ina, of Dimmitt, were in Hereford shopping last Friday.

Your Weeds—Cut 'em Down Before the City Has to Do It for You

In another column of The Brand Mayor E. S. Ireland is calling the attention of property owners to a city ordinance which requires the owners of vacant lots to clear the premises of weeds. Unless the weeds are cut now, declares Mr. Ireland, they will soon reach a height that will attract unfavorable notice from passing tourists and, when dry, will constitute a real fire hazard to the residences near them. Unless property owners of the city take prompt action to rid their lots of weeds, states Mr. Ireland, it will be necessary to take steps to rigidly enforce the city ordinance governing the situation.

Hereford Wallops Brady Team to Tune of 6-2

Before a large crowd of enthusiastic boosters the home baseball team won its fourth game of the season by defeating the Brady team of Amarillo here Sunday afternoon by a score of six to two. Better team work was displayed by the Hereford aggregation than in some of the past games, and fewer errors were made. Greater ability to register a hit when it was especially valuable was exhibited and a smoother game than usual was played. Carmichael, pitcher for the home team, made an excellent showing striking out nine of the opposing players. Strain, of Amarillo, was replaced by Lewis after pitching only two innings. One double play, Glennin to Posey, featured the game for Hereford.

Score by Innings:

Team	R	H	E

Norton Goes for New Marquette Automobile

E. H. Norton, of the Norton Motor Co., left Monday afternoon for Oklahoma City where he plans to secure one of the new Marquette autos. Mr. Norton expects to return to Hereford Thursday. Though the demand of dealers in the territory for the Marquette is heavy, Mr. Norton has been assured that two of the closed-in models of the new Buick product will be in Hereford for display on Saturday, June 1. Many inquiries have already been received by the Norton Motor Co. concerning the new car.

Albert W. Smith, of the Amarillo News-Globe, was a Hereford visitor Sunday.

A CALL TO ACTION! To the Citizens of Hereford:

The continued wet weather has caused a rapid growth of weeds, and at the same time has prevented our giving them our attention, and as a result it seems certain that unless we give them our prompt and earnest attention, Hereford will break all former records insofar as weed-growing is concerned.

Breaking records seems to be the order of the day, but I am sure that the citizens of Hereford have no desire to break its record in weed-growing. We have demonstrated to the satisfaction of all that we can beat the world in growing weeds, so let's turn our efforts in another direction and make a new record in getting rid of them.

Seriously, folks, it is a reflection on us to allow a condition that is threatening us right now, and as mayor of your city, I am calling on every good citizen of the town to take prompt and vigorous action in getting rid of the weeds. They are a menace to our health and a reflection on our city.

Respectfully submitted,
E. S. IRELAND,
Mayor.

MAN DROWNS IN WATER 5 FEET DEEP

Stark tragedy changed a pleasant fishing expedition into a sad home-coming Sunday afternoon when J. O. Castor, age 28, residing on a farm 15 miles south of Hereford, was drowned as he was wading across Tierra Blanca creek at the Tom Ivey farm, nine miles east of the city.

Mr. Castor, his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kincaid and two young members of the W. B. Thurmond family had been fishing along the banks of the creek when, late in the afternoon, Mr. Castor decided to wade across the creek as he had done several times earlier in the day, in order to reach a better position for fishing. At the point chosen the water was said to be only about five feet deep, reaching only to the shoulders of Mr. Castor, but as he was crossing his companions were horrified to see him suddenly fall backward and disappear from sight in the waters of the creek.

Frantic efforts by members of the party to reach Mr. Castor were unsuccessful. Tom Ivey, who responded to the frightened appeals of the group for help, finally succeeded in bringing the body to shore. A physician who had been called, met the party as they were enroute to Hereford and attempted to resuscitate the drowned man by artificial respiration but all efforts were unavailing. The body was brought to the E. B. Black Undertaking Parlors at Hereford and relatives of the deceased were notified of the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Castor of near Plainview, parents of Mr. Castor, a sister, Mrs. Moon and her husband, also of Plainview, and H. L. Castor, of Skelly, a brother of the deceased, arrived Sunday night at Hereford and accompanied the body to Plainview Monday morning.

Funeral services were held for Mr. Castor Monday afternoon at Plainview and burial was in the cemetery at that city. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Thurmond, residing on the Tom Major farm, parents of Mrs. Castor, accompanied their daughter to the funeral at Plainview.

Two theories have been advanced as cause of the accident. From the lack of struggle on the part of the drowned man as he sank from sight into the water of the creek, many believe that he suffered an attack of heart trouble which paralyzed his muscles and rendered him unconscious. Others think that possibly Mr. Castor stepped into a deep hole in the creek bed, thereby losing his balance and causing his drowning.

A. C. Thompson Opens Lumber Yard On E. 3rd

Alvin C. Thompson, who for the past eleven years has been manager here for the Panhandle Lumber Co., has resigned his position and has engaged in the lumber business on his own account. The resignation of Mr. Thompson was effective Wednesday and this morning he started operations in his own establishment, which is to be known as the A. C. Thompson Lumber Store. The location of the offices and yard will be at East Third and McKinley Streets. Construction of the buildings has already commenced and Mr. Thompson will be found at the new location.

During his years of service as manager of the Panhandle Lumber Co. branch here, Mr. Thompson has made hundreds of friends and is well and favorably known to nearly every inhabitant of Deaf Smith county.

A complete line of lumber and building materials will be carried here, stated Mr. Thompson today, when announcing the starting of his new venture. From eighteen to twenty carloads of lumber and building materials are enroute now to Hereford for the A. C. Thompson Lumber Store, and several carloads of lumber, cement and sand are being unloaded here for the new establishment.

In addition to selling lumber and building materials, Mr. Thompson will, through financing the building, encourage those who now rent homes to become owners of a home of their own.

More Farm Storage For Wheat

The combine has revolutionized wheat harvesting and is compelling the farmer to make radical changes in his storage and marketing methods. The present plan, that of delivering a large part of the crop direct from the field to the market, results in a "mad rush" for space to unload and makes it impossible for the elevators and railroads to get about of the way fast enough. As a result the farmer who does not have storage space is forced to dump at least a part of his wheat on the ground. This plan has the temporary effect of overloading the market. It offers very little opportunity to sell wheat according to its real value, the tendency being to sell all of it at the same price, regardless of quality.

See us for plans and specifications for your STORAGE BINS.

Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic:
LATER EXPERIENCE OF JEREMIAH

Scripture Lesson:
Jeremiah 38:4-13

Introduction

We are now to study some of the scenes in the later life of Jeremiah, taking them as typical of his entire career, so full of heroic toll. The first shows the prophet placed in that instrument of torture, the stocks, Jer. 20:1-5. He had been prophesying publicly in the temple (Jer. 19:14-15), crying out that Jehovah would bring much evil on Jerusalem and all the towns of Judah because of their refusal to hearken to God's words spoken through the prophet. Among his hearers was a priest named Pashur, the "chief officer" of the temple, who seems to have had authority to keep order in the temple. This Pashur was greatly offended by Jeremiah's prophecy and promptly put the prophet into the stocks. A cruel beating preceded this punishment. Paul suffered the same torture in Philippi, and he also, when released, protested vehemently, obtaining an apology. Jeremiah, freed the next day and brought before Pashur, had the courage to administer a severe rebuke to that officer.

Jeremiah and Zedekiah.
Jer. 37:1-10. The death of the noble King Josiah, mortally wounded at the battle of Megiddo, caused intense grief to Jeremiah. He was succeeded as king of Judah by his son, Jehoiachaz, who after a rule of three months was deposed by Pharaoh-necho, who appointed in his stead his brother Jehoiakim. This son of Josiah reigned wickedly for eleven years, undoing all the good work of his father, his evil work being boldly opposed by Jeremiah. He was succeeded for only three months by his son Jehoiachin or Jeconiah, but Nebuchadnezzar placed on the throne his uncle Zedekiah, another son of Josiah. Zedekiah was the last king of Judah.

The great Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, had attacked Jerusalem twice, and had carried King Jehoiachin to Babylon with ten thousand of the chief inhabitants of Jerusalem. Zedekiah, his vassal, was foolish enough to revolt, and Nebuchadnezzar promptly came with an army and laid siege to Jerusalem.

How easily, by foretelling good fortune, Jeremiah had made himself the most popular man in Jerusalem! But it would have been only for a time, and then he would have been despised as a false prophet. He chose, as always, the difficult path of uncompromising truth.

Jeremiah and Irijah.

Jer. 37:11-21. During the intermission of the siege, when the Chaldeans were off to meet the Egyptians, great numbers of the people of Jerusalem went out into the country, both as a relief from the confinement they had undergone and to lay in a supply of provisions against the possible renewal of the siege. Jeremiah was in this throng, and was going out of the gate of Benjamin, in the north wall, along the road leading to the territory of the tribe of Benjamin, Jeremiah's birthplace. Anathoth, was there and he was going to lay claim to the land which he had inherited. But as he was passing through the gate in the midst of the crowd, the captain in charge of the watch there spied him. This soldier charged

Jeremiah with being on the point of deserting to the Chaldeans, and in spite of the prophet's indignant denial he arrested him and brought him before the princes, the clan leaders who had by this time gained much power. These, being enraged at Jeremiah for opposing the Egyptian alliance, promptly had him scourged and put into a dungeon. His cell was probably one of the many underground rooms excavated in the rocks on which Jerusalem is built, destitute of light and air, and foul with vermin.

Jeremiah was in this awful place for many days, during which time the Chaldeans having defeated the Egyptian army, came back to Jerusalem and resumed the siege. King Zedekiah was in distress and sent for Jeremiah secretly to ask him whether he had not received some word from Jehovah. Jeremiah promptly replied that he had such a message, stoutly delivering once more the dire prophecy he had given before, that the king should be delivered into the hands of Nebuchadnezzar.

Jeremiah Cast into a Dungeon Again.

Vs. 5, 6. "Then they took Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Helchiah, the king's son, that was in the court of the guard." This court was part of the palace, and the dungeon was evidently a pit used for the storing of water, but now, as the siege had progressed so far, the water was exhausted. The bottom of the pit, however, was deep with mud and slime, and the princes evidently expected Jeremiah to sink therein and be suffocated, or, falling this, to be starved to death. "And they let down Jeremiah with cords." The pit was so deep that they could not let him down with their hands. "And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire; and Jeremiah sank in the mire." They probably shrank from the odium of a public execution, or thought, with the strange superstition of the Eastern mind, that in this way they could escape the guilt of shedding the prophet's blood. The death by starvation might easily be represented, even to themselves, as a death by disease.

Jeremiah Delivered from Prison.

Vs. 11-13. "And Ebedmelech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, Put now these rags and worn-out garments under thine armholes under the cords. And Jeremiah did so." "Nothing could show the acuteness of the prophet's suffering more vividly than the precautions which the thoughtful kindness of the eunuch thus suggested. The pit was so deep that ropes were needed to draw him up as they had been to let him down, and lest they should cut into the flesh of Jeremiah's emaciated form improvised cushions had to be fastened to the ropes, that he might rest his armpits on them."

"This scene at once recalls two other scenes. The first is the familiar story of Joseph. He, too, was cast into a miry cistern; he, too, was drawn out again before his life had fled, through the mingled passions of pity and remorse. But far more vividly, if not so literally, the scene suggests the last sufferings of Jesus. In the lonely heroism of this man of sorrows we see outlined the heroic loneliness of Jesus. Each stood alone, in the city that they loved, hated by the very hearts they longed to help. Both would have saved the city from its enemies, if the city had only hearkened to their voice."

King Zedekiah Captured and Slain.

Jer. 39:1-7. Near the close of the eleventh year of King Zedekiah the forces of the king of Babylon made an opening in the wall of Jerusalem and entered the city which had kept them at bay so long. Zedekiah fled, but was overtaken in the plains of Jericho and brought before Nebuchadnezzar. His sons were slain before his eyes, together with his nobles, and, with these horrible scenes the last that he gazed upon, his own eyes were put out, and, loaded with chains, he was carried off to Babylon. With him were taken all the wealth of Jerusalem, and those of rank, merely the poor people being left in the land. The king's palace and all the homes of Jerusalem were destroyed by fire, the walls were broken down, and the proud city was left a ruin.

As to Jeremiah, Nebuchadnezzar gave him his choice to remain in the land or to follow him to Babylon. He chose the former, and was protected by Gedaliah, a Jew whom the Chaldeans had made governor of Palestine.

Jeremiah's Last Days.

After two months Gedaliah was treacherously murdered (40:1; 2 Kings 25:22-25). Fearing the wrath of Nebuchadnezzar for this, the people decided to remove en masse to Egypt, forcing Jeremiah to go with them. There was to be no rest or peace this side of the grave for Jeremiah. Even here in Egypt and in his declining years we find him still fighting ungodliness among his exiled countrymen, voicing God's warnings and judgments (55:8). "He was indeed, and distinguishedly so, a Suffering Servant of Jehovah." Cheyne remarks that if his words do not foretell of the Christ like some of the other prophets, his life does. The church fathers had a tradition that he was stoned to death by the Jewish community at Daphne, the Tahpanhes of the Old Testament. Others say that when Nebuchadnezzar conquered Egypt (around 567 B. C.), he took the prophet back with him to Babylon, where he died a natural death. Either tradition is unauthenticated. But, "He who battles on His side, God, though he were ten times slain, Crowns him victor glorified, Victor over death and pain." ANOTHER GOOD EGG

Though not qualified by an extensive experience as the "Tactless Texan," of one of the leading dailies of the Southwest in judging the merits of poke salad, angel food cake and strawberries, the editorial staff (both of them) of the Hereford Brand do claim the ability to judge the quality and comparative size of two products of this section, namely fresh eggs and home-raised strawberries.

We haven't had an opportunity as yet to exercise our respective abilities on the home-grown strawberries, but we did qualify this week in the egg judging class, and we hereby declare that the egg produced by one of the flock of Rhode Island Red hens owned by J. C. Burton of Clement Avenue, which measured six and one-fourth inches in circumference, and that required eight inches of string to measure around it from tip to base and back to the tip, was not only one of the largest eggs ever seen by either of the editorial force of the Brand, but was an absolutely fresh and edible egg, as we proved, after the measuring was concluded, by having the chef at the cafe convert it into an omelette (the only way we had of dividing it evenly) for our supper.

We might be persuaded most any time to exercise our abilities as judges of strawberries, either "au naturel" or as an integral part of a short cake properly garnished with cream—preferably whipped cream.

Adrian-Sims Notes

We are having fine weather for growing crops.

Misses Maude and Jessie Malone were Hereford visitors Tuesday.

The John [unclear] family have moved back into the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cook of Borger were at the farm last week.

much as $4.00 per acre last season, County Agent R. O. Dunkle is urging every farmer to treat grain sorghum seeds with copper carbonate dust before planting.

Copper carbonate dust, states Mr. Dunkle, is used at the rate of three ounces of dust to each bushel of grain. An easy way to apply the dust is to mix it with the grain in the planter box at the time of planting. The dust should be thoroughly mixed with the grain, advises Mr. Dunkle, by stirring it with a stick. Avoid using the hands in mixing the dust with the grain, he cautions, because the copper carbonate dust has a very bitter taste and if any gets on the hands and from there into the mouth the result will be very disagreeable.

In mixing the copper carbonate dust with the grain, states the county agent, the amount of grain in the planter box should be estimated and a proportionate part of the three ounces mixed with it. If there is one-third of a bushel of grain in the planter box only one ounce of copper carbonate dust should be mixed with it.

A trifle more than one tablespoonful of copper carbonate dust weighs one ounce. One important thing to remember, states Mr. Dunkle, is when a farmer leaves the field at night the planter box should be emptied of any grain and copper carbonate dust that remains in it because of the corrosive action of the copper carbonate on the metal of the seed plate.

Copper carbonate can be obtained at any drug store at a cost of approximately 28 cents per pound, making the cost for the area seeded only one cent per acre.

PURE SEED WILL PAY DIVIDENDS

Because 90 out of every 100 grains of kafir corn seed, and a slightly lower percentage of milo maize and hegarl seed secured from the Hereford Experimental Seed Farm germinated when planted, a total of $17,500 of extra revenue was divided among fifty farmers of Deaf Smith and adjoining counties last season and double that number of farmers have signified their intention of sharing in extra crop dividends this season.

Since the establishment here in 1928 of the Hereford Experimental Seed Farm by J. P. (Uncle Jess) Roberson, the yield of sorghum grain from seed raised on the farm and planted on individual farms in the Hereford trade territory has been increased an average of five bushels per acre over the yields produced from ordinary seed.

In the spring of 1928 a total of 16,000 pounds of pure sorghum grain seed was harvested at the farm and sold to fifty farmers in Deaf Smith and adjoining counties. This seed, used in planting 7,000 acres, produced an increased yield on the various farms totaling 35,000 bushels. At a market price of 50 cents per bushel this increased yield brought an added revenue of $17,500 to those farmers who planted pure seed.

When, three years ago, Mr. Roberson, in an effort to increase the profits of farming for himself and his neighbors, decided to devote all of his attention to raising pure seed he started with kafir corn, milo maize and hegarl seed obtained from the Lubbock Experimental Farm, which had over a period of ten years proven to be productive of high yields.

The original stock of Texas black-bull kafir corn obtained by Mr. Roberson from Lubbock was developed by elimination from 2000 samples of seed. In this process one row of each of the 2000 selections of seed was planted. At the end of the first year the grain from each row was weighed to determine the comparative yield. In the next year planting the seed showing the lower yields were discarded. This process of eliminating the low yielding strains was followed for ten years. At the end of that period heads Nos. 1700 and 1845 were proven to be the most productive and in another planting or two head No. 1845 proved to be a greater producer than its companion. Later the number assigned to this species was changed to 9195. This seed was selected by Mr. Roberson when he established the Hereford Experimental Seed Farm. Milo maize and hegarl seed selected by Mr. Roberson were developed by the same thorough process of eliminating the weaker strains of seed.

When submitted by Mr. Roberson to the State Department of Agriculture at Austin, the seed produced last fall at the farm and now being sold to farmers in this territory tested as follows: Kafir, 99.12 per cent purity and 99 per cent germination; hegarl, 99.75 per cent purity, 97 per cent germination; milo maize, 97.18 per cent purity, 93 per cent germination.

Some farmers are skeptical of results in increased yields of grain that their neighbors had secured through use of pure seed, states Mr. Roberson, but experience has proven an effective argument. "I am just getting this seed to prove to my wife that she is wrong," declared one such customer to Mr. Roberson last spring, as he purchased a small amount of pure seed for a trial. After harvest, declared Mr. Roberson, that same individual when encountered in town admitted: "My wife was right about that seed I bought from you. I got a third more grain from the field I planted with it than I did from the field I planted with common seed."

Proper preparation of the soil, before planting, insists Mr. Roberson.

son, is one of the most important factors in producing an increased yield of sorghum grains. "Make a crop before you plant it," is his advice to every purchaser of pure seed from the Hereford Experimental Farm. "Cultivate the ground before you plant. Work it until you get every weed out. Your crop is half made when you plant it clean," he added.

"Kafir and maize should be planted now," advises Mr. Roberson, "because records show that when these grains are planted in this section after May 15 an eleven per cent higher yield is obtained than when they are planted in April. Only 71 days are required to mature kafir and maize that are planted after and near May 15." "Hegarl," he stated, "should be planted about June 10 to 15."

One of the greatest advantages of grain grown from pure seed, declared Mr. Roberson, is the uniform height of the stalk, which results in a saving of both labor and grain when harvesting.

Because of the increased yields of kafir, hegarl and maize obtained by numbers of farmers in this territory—who last year planted pure seed, a large demand for seed from the Hereford Experimental Seed Farm has developed within the past few weeks. Sales of pure seed have been made recently by Mr. Roberson to farmers who reside as far as 32 miles north of Hereford and to others 25 miles south of the city. Slightly more than 100 farmers have already purchased a total of more than 24,000 pounds of pure sorghum grain seed of which 9,400 pounds were hegarl; 8,800 pounds kafir and 6,200 pounds milo maize. Individual purchases have ranged from 50 to 1500 pounds.

Records kept by Mr. Roberson show that hegarl raised here last fall from pure seed produced 66 bushels per acre, kafir 56 bushels, maize 50 bushels per acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hicks were Amarillo visitors last week.

Years of service in MODEL T FORDS

THE Model T was so strongly and sturdily built that it is still rendering reliable, economical service to motorists in every section of the country. Millions of these cars can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of use at very small cost.

So that you may have this work done economically and satisfactorily, the Ford Motor Company is still devoting a considerable section of its plants to the manufacture of Model T parts. It will continue to do so as long as they are needed by Model T owners. The following list gives the approximate labor charges for reconditioning the Model T Ford:—

Engine
Tune motor (including replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary)	$1.00
Grind valves and clean carbon	$3.75 to 4.00
Overhaul carburetor	1.50
Reline detachable car transmission bands	1.50
Install new pistons or connecting rods	6.00
Tighten all main bearings	6.00
Overhaul motor and transmission	$20.00 to 25.00
Rear System
Replace rear axle assembly	2.50
Install universal joint	3.00
Reline brake shoes	1.50
Replace rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion, or drive gear	5.00
Overhaul complete rear axle assembly	$5.75 to 7.00
Rebush spring and perches	1.75
Oil and graphite springs	3.00
Front System
Overhaul front axle	$4.00 to 5.00
Rebush spindle bodies and arms (both sides)	2.50
Replace or straighten spindle connecting rod	.75
Tighten radius rod or steering ball cap	.60
Tighten all sockets and joints of front end	1.50
Replace front spring tie bolt or new leaf	2.50
Straighten front axle	3.00
Chassis
Replace rear fender	1.75
Overhaul steering gear	3.50
Repair muffler	1.00
Overhaul radiator	7.50
Repaint Coupe	25.00
Repaint Sedan	25.00
Repaint Touring Car	20.00
Reupholster Runabout	8.00
Reupholster Touring Car	15.00
Replace top deck (Coupe or Sedan)	4.00
Overhaul starting motor	3.00
Overhaul generator	2.00

These prices are approximate and are for labor only, because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The charge for these parts is low, however, because of the established Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

"My stomach was in such an upset condition that most everything I ate soured instead of digesting properly. I would have such bloating pains after each meal that I hated to eat. About twelve years ago I had a fall, injuring my hip and knee, and I have been troubled with rheumatism in my joints ever since.

Dehorning Calves a Growing Practice

Menard. "We want you to come out to the ranch and de-horn some calves for us." Martin Brothers told the county agent here five years ago. W. R. Nisbet, promptly replied, "Yes sir, I'll be out in the morning." But there were no suitable de-horners available, so that afternoon he went to a blacksmith shop and made by hand the first pair of de-horners widely used in this county. Since that time scores of de-horning demonstrations have been held each spring, and several ranches will soon be free of horned cattle. The reason for this rapid spread of the practice is that dehorning gives cattle greater market value, less screw worm trouble, fewer sheep and goats fatally gored, and more uniform herds.

BUDDING PECANS INCREASE REVENUE

Fredericksburg.—In proportion to the time and labor spent, five acres of top-worked pecans made Charles Meurer, a farmer living near here, more money than any other five acres on his farm. Five years ago he began budding native trees to paper shell varieties and last year, according to H. F. Grote, county agent, he sold 1000 pounds of pecans at 35 cents per pound. Native nuts brought only nine to ten cents per pound.

THE OIL BROKE DOWN DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO YOU

STRANDED five miles from nowhere because the oil wouldn't do its job! Has that happened to you? If it has, the chances are that you were not particular the last time you had the crankcase drained—or perhaps you ran too long without changing the oil. This will be a slack summer for service cars if motorists will remember two things: first, to change oil regularly, and secondly, to use only a brand of oil which they know from their own experience or the experience of others will stand up under the most trying conditions of motor operation.

You can depend upon any oil which has the backing of the Continental Oil Company. These are the brands which have been tried and tested—in the laboratory and on the road. They lubricate thoroughly, protect every moving part and stand up under intense heat.

Ask for these brands at leading service stations and garages.

TO NON-RESIDENT LAND OWNERS

I have been selling land in Deaf Smith county years. I sold the first land to be sold in the county on crop payment plan, which has proven good land owner. Land that never produced anything but grass before, have now over 6,000 acres in which that will pay land half out this year. Many acres broke to be planted this fall. Can get your land shape where it will be producing something. Non-resident land owners have not helped to develop this country—let me help you by selling your land on crop payment plan to good, reliable farmers who will pay you for the land and you will realize more out of the land this way than most any way you will ever be able to sell it. Write me for information, giving best price you will take for the land.
