All-Girl Rodeo Opens Tonight in Arena

The girls are in town, the stock is resting up and the fever is building, all in anticipation of tonight's first-round performance of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame All-Girl Rodeo in Hereford Riders Arena.

Tickets for the 7:30 p.m. performance will be on sale for $4 for adults and $2 for children at the gate. Performances also are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Cowgirls, 252 in all, from throughout the country will be on hand to compete in bull riding, bronc riding, calf roping, team roping, steer undecorating and goat tying. Nationally-ranked cowgirls in the Girls Rodeo Association (GRA) are among entrants in each of the events.

Hereford Rotarians will man the concessions stand all three nights of the rodeo.

During Saturday's final performance, seven women—six living and one deceased—will be inducted into the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame.

Rodeo dances are planned for 9 p.m. on both Friday and Saturday, with country-western stars Kenny Dale and Red Steagall, respectively, performing. Steagall is best known for his hit "Lone Star Beer and Bob Wills Music."

The annual rodeo parade is scheduled for 2 p.m. through downtown Hereford. Diane Pingree, publisher of Texas Woman, which is one of several publications covering the rodeo and its surrounding events, will serve as parade marshal.

Entries for the parade will be accepted at the chamber of commerce office until 5 p.m. today. Awards will be given for best float, antique car, riding club and marching unit.

An Old Fiddlers Contest, under the direction of County Judge Glen Nelson and sanctioned by the Texas Old Time Fiddlers Association, will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday, with registration set for 10 a.m., at Dameron Park. Divisions will include junior, senior and open.

A barbecue open to the public will begin at 5 p.m. Saturday at the Bull Barn. Tickets will be sold at the door for $5 each, with proceeds going to the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame.

The Western Heritage Art Show, featuring works by several renowned female artists, is going on at the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame, located on the lower floor of the Deaf Smith County Library.

THE BRAND JOINS citizens of the community in extending a big welcome to Girls Rodeo Association members and all visitors for the All Girl Rodeo and the Hall of Fame festivities today through Saturday. Volunteer workers have put a lot of work and preparation into the event, and business firms are providing strong support for the annual project.

WHERE ARE the hippies of a few years ago?

My theory is that many of them get government jobs. With the direction our government is taking, it makes you wonder if many of these anti-establishment, anti-growth and anti-nuclear environmental activists have not moted into bureaucratic positions.

HAVE YOU ANSWERED the Hance Poll?

Rep. Kent Hance recently mailed questionnaires to everyone in the 19th Congressional District and is seeking input on some issues being discussed in the U.S. Congress. The opinion poll has 17 questions which require only a "Yes" or "No" check.

In a news release, Rep. Hance said he would "sincerely like to have the input from as many people as possible in the district so that I can better represent the people." He has put a Sept. 1 deadline for getting the questionnaires back.

Questions on the poll have to do with the federal budget, energy, the post office, military draft, speed limit, nuclear issues, national health insurance, and others. The last question seeks an opinion on what is the single most important issue facing our nation today. We have an idea that many citizens will put a checkmark by energy, inflation, and

Farmer Debt, Assets Increase, Says USDA

By BRIAN B. KING
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm debt increased by a record amount last year but so did farmers' equity, producing a record gain in the value of farm assets, the Agriculture Department says.

The 15 percent gain in net assets, from $713 billion on Jan. 1, 1978, to $820.2 billion a year later, was more than the combined increases for all the years of the 1960s, a department report said Wednesday.

The rate was almost double the 7.6 percent overall rate of inflation faced by urban consumers in 1978.

Owners' equity in those assets was $682.7 billion after accounting for a total farm debt of $137.5 billion, it said.

Farm debt has doubled since 1973 but so has the value of the assets, with equity up 108 percent in these six years, the report showed.

The annual "Balance Sheet of the Farming Sector" noted that the rate of increase in assets' value almost doubled since 1977 but did not quite match the 1976 pace.

On Jan. 1, agricultural economist Carson D. Evans wrote, "For each dollar of debt, there were nearly $6 in assets."

The value of real-estate assets rose 14 percent; livestock and poultry, 60.4

Unauthorized PLO Meetings Result in Young's Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Andrew Young, out as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations for unauthorized discussions with the Palestine Liberation Organization, may still be at his post when the explosive Palestinian issue comes to a head at the U.N. later this month.

White House officials said President Carter intends to move with "due care and deliberate consultation" in choosing a successor. And, these officials said, he will consult Young in making a selection.

That process could still be going on next Thursday, when the Security Council is scheduled to resume its debate over the Palestinians and resolutions to support their drive for statehood.

His resignation was announced Wednesday after he met separately with Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance for 45 minutes and with Carter for an hour and a half.

Young said he wrote his letter of resignation in New York on Tuesday night. But there was speculation — unconfirmed by administration sources — that Young's status was not settled until well along in his talk with Carter.

In any event, Carter wrote out his acceptance in longhand shortly after Young left the White House living quarters.

Young stressed in his farewell press conference a conviction that the United States should deal with the PLO — a conviction flatly against U.S. policy.

He defended his July 26 meeting with Zehdi Labib Terzi, the PLO's U.N. observer, and said: "I'd do it again and

Thunderstorm Brief, Still Heavy

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Overcast conditions brought on by the arrival of a cool front gave way to brief but heavy showers over portions of Deaf Smith County Wednesday afternoon.

The rainfall comes as another boost to the corn crop in those locations fortunate enough to receive the moisture, as it fell right at the grain filling stage when the makings of this fall's harvest are in their final stages.

Cool, wet conditions should also help to deter buildups in the spider mite population in corn and grain sorghum, dealing a blow to the pest that no amount of insecticide could deliver.

Scattered rain showers also deposited good rainfall accumulations in the dryland country on the county's western edge, where summer grain sorghum should benefit from the rain, and moisture will be stored up for the planting of the winter wheat crop which is soon to begin.

Heaviest rainfall reports from precipitation Wednesday came from isolated rangeland in the westernmost portion of the county, where upwards of two inches of moisture fell on the Bridwell Ranch.

Heavy rainfall was also reported in the vicinity of the Ford community north of Hereford, where accumulations ranged from one to 1.75 inches.

Other reports from the dryland country included a .80 inch reading from the Clint Homfeld farm 47 miles northwest of Hereford, and a .50 inch total from the J.F. Martin farm at Walcott.

Eight to nine miles west of the Martin farm, one inch of rainfall was reported.

Northwest Grain, located west of Farmer's Corner reported rainfall of from .25 to .50 inches in intermittent showers

Money Tight, but Realtors Urge Homebuying

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

If you can get the money, now is the time to buy a house, whether it's your first or you're planning to purchase a more expensive home.

That's what local Realtors are saying, though they admit that homebuying right now isn't a snap. Money is tight, and local savings and loan associations aren't making many conventional loans.

"If you can get a loan, now is the time to buy," said Melvin Jayroe, regional vice president of the Texas Association of Realtors. "The thing is, labor is over, 60 percent of the cost of the home. The whole problem is building costs. The builders are working with now are forecast to $34 a square foot in the next three months."

Jayroe added that steadily rising house prices, the tax break received on loan interest and increasing interest are other reasons buying a first home or moving up to a better one are important right now.

"After Aug. 27, the interest rate ceiling changes from 10 percent to 12 percent. Nobody knows, even the loan companies, what the interest will be," Jayroe said.

Now is not the time to rent, he stressed.

"If you're renting, you can take the amount you're paying for rent, multiply that by three and see what it's costing you to rent. Because of the inflation you're missing on a house you own, the tax advantage you would have by owning property and the rent you actually lose, it's easy to see how much money you're losing.

"If a young couple can build an equity of $2,000 to $4,000 a year by owning a house, it's money they can save."

Neil Cooper, president of the local Board of Realtors, agreed that now is the time to buy.

"It behooves every individual who can afford to make the investment to own as much real estate as he can comfortably pay for. The reason that it is advantageous to do so is the deductions that are allowed you on interest and taxes are a significant amount," Cooper said.

"Further, double-digit inflation makes property ownership available now. Building costs continue to rise. Interest rates always will approach the inflation rate, and the sooner that a person invests in a property, the sooner he'll be able to use the leverage that is afforded him in a real-estate equity buy."

Mark Andrews, past president of the local board and a state director, said he does not advise anyone to buy a house if it stretches the family budget, but added that homebuying is important "to take advantage of lower interest rates and there's not a lot we can do about inflation."

Andrews said he is most concerned

Cuban Exiles Say Propaganda False

MIAMI (AP) — Cuban exiles say they decided to risk their lives to flee their homeland after learning that Fidel Castro's propaganda about "the devil...in the United States" is false.

"The Cuban people there believed that Cubans here were living in disgrace, that children have been killed," Mauricio Quevedo, a 33-year-old electronics engineer, said Wednesday.

Quevedo, his wife and 4-year-old daughter were among 11 Cubans who faked a picnic on a beach near Havana on Saturday, then swam to a boat at nightfall and braved a trip through the rough Florida Straits.

They landed at Miami Tuesday.

Since April, 102 Cuban exiles have arrived in Florida in boats, officials at the Cuban Refugee Program report. In 1978, just 19 refugees landed. There were 33 refugees in 1977, 12 in 1976 and none in 1975.

Some Antibiotics Said Not Necessary

BOSTON (AP) — American hospitals could save $100 million to $200 million a year if doctors stopped prescribing unnecessary doses of antibiotics after their patients undergo surgery, researchers say.

A Harvard study found that doctors sometimes order their patients to take infection-fighting drugs as a precaution for days and even weeks while they recuperate from surgery.

Eliminating this medicine would reduce hospitals' expenses for antibiotics by about 20 percent and cut down the frequency of adverse reactions to these powerful germ killers, the researchers said.

"This is a large economic waste, to say nothing of the medical consequences of prolonged usage," Dr. Timothy R. Townsend, one of the researchers, said in an interview.

The study, conducted at Harvard Medical School, was published in today's issue of the New England Journal of Medicine.

The doctors studied the way physicians gave antibiotics as a guard against infection in 20 general hospitals in Pennsylvania.

Johnson Has Bond Cut in Half

WICHITA FALLS, Texas (AP) — Former grain dealer Bobby Johnson, accused in a million-dollar swindle, had his bond cut in half to $500,000 Wednesday, but a federal judge declined to move his trial out of Wichita Falls.

U.S. District Judge Eldon Mahon granted a two-month delay in the trial for Johnson, who eluded federal searchers for more than two years before he was captured in Idaho last month. The new trial date is Nov. 19.

Mahon said he might entertain a motion for a venue change at a later date.

Defense attorneys claim publicity surrounding their 43-year-old client has made it impossible for him to get a fair trial here.

Mahon did not rule on a defense motion to suppress testimony about events that took place after the alleged grain swindle occurred, including Johnson's disappearance off the Texas coast Jan. 3, 1977, when witnesses on a fishing boat said he fell out and apparently drowned.

Johnson spoke very little during the pretrial hearing, answering yes when asked by attorneys if he understood and waived his right to a speedy trial when the defense asked for a trial delay.

Davis Defense Questions Agent

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — The defense in the murder-for-hire retrial of industrialist Cullen Davis was to zero in today on an FBI agent whose testimony cast a shadow on defense strategy.

Lead defense attorney Richard "Racehorse" Haynes planned to continue his cross-examination of FBI agent Ron Jannings, the state's second witness.

Jannings testified Wednesday he searched informant David McCrory before and after two pivotal meetings with Cullen Davis and found no trace of a "phantom" tape recorder.

Prosecutors called Jannings in an effort to undermine Davis' contention that he knew he was being recorded when he discussed mass murder with McCrory.

Davis, a 45-year-old Fort Worth millionaire, is accused of inducing McCrory to hire a gunman to kill Davis' divorcee judge, named on a purported "hit list."

The defense maintains Davis was duped by McCrory in a loosely organized conspiracy orchestrated by the defendant's ex-wife, Priscilla, 38, who at the time was locked in a high-stakes divorce struggle with Davis.

that continued through much of the afternoon Wednesday.

A total of .50 inches was reported from the H.L. Hershey farm 13 miles northeast of the city.

Rainfall accumulations were apparently heaviest on the west side of the city of Hereford, with a .50 inch report coming from the 200 block of Ranger Drive.

Holly Sugar's Hereford plant logged 44 inches of rainfall, while KPAN radio recorded only .18 inches.

To the east of Hereford, only a trace of rainfall was reported at the Dawn community, while no rain occurred at Easter, south of the city in neighboring Castro County.

Dense fog enveloped portions of the Panhandle this morning prior to sunrise, with visibility reduced to one mile in Amarillo.

Southwest-Texas joined the Panhandle in reporting cloudy skies while the remainder of the state was clear to partly cloudy.

Forecasters predict widely scattered showers for most parts of the state this evening, and the outlook is for cooler temperatures going into the weekend with afternoon cloudiness, although forecasters predict afternoon highs mostly in the 90's through Friday.

ONE OF THE refreshing things about Gov. Bill Clements is that he says what he thinks. He was criticized by various Mexican-American groups recently for remarks about bilingual education, saying that the sooner we can get Mexican-Americans into an English world, the better it will be for them.

The U.S. has been a melting pot of ethnic groups and all cultures, but English has been the official language. Immigrants of other generations worked hard to learn English—they did not expect the rest of America to learn German, Italian or French. And, they did not expect ballots to be printed in anything but English.

Realtors

about fitting a homebuyer's needs. "It's important to buy right now, but I do what's best for people—I fit their budget, their income and their expenses."

All three Realtors said exactly the same thing: money is scarce but available.

"There is money available for house loans," Jayroe said. "We have gotten loans approved lately, and most of them aren't going to fund loans until after around the first of September."

Cooper carried the thought a bit further. "Loans are available. Homes can be financed," he said, emphasizing the "can."

"Yes, there are loans available. A lot of it depends on what type loan you're looking for," Andrews said. "Our business has been good. We've worked some FHA, VA loans assumption."

Don Lane, of Hi-Plains Savings and Loan Association, said, however, that his company won't get back into a good conventional loan business until money becomes available.

"A lot of real-estate people believe, that lenders have money and as soon as the interest rate goes up at the end of the month—the 27th—that there will be money. But if you don't have the money, an increase in the interest rate doesn't give you more money."

Lane said Hi-Plains is taking "just a few applications," adding that the situation has been tight all year but has "reached a peak" in the last two or three months.

be deployed in such a way that navigation by large freighters and tankers still will be possible. Coast Guard officials said.

For the first time, task force leaders were talking Wednesday about the possibility of guarding bays and lagoons along the entire 367-mile-long Texas coast and perhaps Louisiana.

Although the beached oil is a nuisance to tourist and a threat to shore birds, Robinson said the Texas coast would be in "very big trouble right now" without its natural protection from barrier islands.

Laguna Madre, which runs between Padre Island and the mainland, and the other lush bays and lagoons harbor numerous species of rare birds and wildlife and are breeding grounds for shrimp and other key commercial marine species. The two southerly passes into the Laguna Madre have already been protected.

Robinson has said the easily-cleaned beaches would suffer the least environmental impact from the oil.

But in the Security Council deliberations, Young presumably will remain bound by U.S. policy and commitments to Israel and veto any resolution supporting Palestinian statehood.

among black leaders.

One, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, said it could force blacks to break with the Carter administration and with Jews.

"There has been a heightened sense of antagonism between blacks and Jews over the resignation," Jackson said in Norfolk, Va.

"There are a lot of questions that need to be answered. One of them is whether or not it was a forced resignation and also whether Andy was the fall guy," Jackson said at the annual meeting of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Jackson suggested that Israeli spies could have been involved.

In that connection, The Atlanta Constitution reported Wednesday evening that Israeli spies knew of Young's meeting with the PLO and what was discussed.

repayment difficulty," it said, in sharp contrast to statements in January and February from members of the American Agriculture protest group.

The averages include financial situations ranging from farms that show a profit every year to those that had a good year after several poor ones to those that went bankrupt.

And, the report noted, the $107.2 billion gain in assets amounts to only $600 million in 1967 dollars.

The balance sheets don't include the estimated $6 billion worth of grain and soybeans stored off the farm but not held as collateral under Commodity Credit Corporation loans.

The average value of an acre of farmland rose by $70 in 1978, compared to $40 in 1977, bringing the total increase since 1970 to $363.

The average per acre price Jan. 1, was $559. Evans wrote, with land the cheapest in New Mexico at $100 an acre, and most expensive in New Jersey at $2,222.

Mr. President, all kinds of medical care combined amount to only five percent of the Consumer Price Index, and hospitals are only a part of that.

There is no way in which that single component could have any significant impact on the overall cost of living.

Indeed, medical costs have risen less than other costs. Where the Consumer Price Index increased nine percent last year, the medical component increased only eight percent.

ABA Winds Up Meeting

DALLAS (AP) — The American Bar Association, managing to avoid more than in the past the controversial topics confronting it, has concluded a week-long national convention.

The ABA's policy-making House of Delegates rejected recommendations Wednesday that the 250,000 lawyer trade group urge Congress to update federal death penalty laws and overcome a 1978 Supreme Court decision allowing so-called "third party" police searches against persons not suspected as criminals.

The only substantive recommendation to become official ABA policy was adopted Tuesday. Delegates voted to lobby Congress in support of a law giving President Carter and his successors sweeping authority to order regulatory agencies to abandon or modify their policy decisions.

As envisioned by the ABA, such presidential power would be answerable to Congress.

The proposed death penalty legislation discussed Wednesday would "establish rational criteria" for imposing capital punishment for federal crimes such as treason, espionage and presidential assassination.

The federal death penalty laws are on the books. But in 1972 they, along with all state death penalty laws, were declared unconstitutional as then applied.

Thirty-four states drafted new capital punishment laws, and in 1976 the Supreme Court ruled that death can be a valid punishment for convicted murderers.

The once-invalidated federal laws remain unchanged, however. No one has been convicted of a federal capital crime in the past seven years.

The ABA two years ago refused to go on record in opposition to capital punishment, but it never has endorsed any such law.

Opponents of the proposed federal law, claimed by its backers to be mainly procedural, successfully argued on the House floor that ABA support of the bill would end the organization's record of neutrality.

An expected prolonged debate was averted as delegates eager to make airplane connections out of town raced through the final day's work.

In fact, several potentially divisive issues scheduled for a House vote were withdrawn from the legislative calendar and assumedly will return for consideration at the organization's February meeting in Chicago.

Among them were resolutions requesting ABA support for strict adherence to terms of all Indian treaties signed by the United States — some of which granted forever to tribes huge tracts of lands now owned by non-Indians.

Before adjournment, delegates' overwhelming rejected taking a stand in the Supreme Court's 1978 police search decision.

The Stanford University student newspaper.

The ABA resolution would have put the lawyers group in favor of a pending bill — one of many introduced in the wake of the Supreme Court ruling.

HISD Hires Wayland Professor

Kenneth R. Helms, associate professor and head of the Wayland Baptist College, Department of Vocational Education, was hired this week as vocational director at Hereford High School.

The hiring was made official in Tuesday's meeting of the school board of trustees.

Helms, who joined the Wayland faculty in 1977, will oversee 24 vocational programs in the Hereford School system in addition to supervising adult and continuing education programs in the city.

"The move will open the way for me to broaden my experience in the field of vocational education," said Helms, who came to Plainview after 12 years in San Angelo, where he was industrial cooperative training coordinator for Lake View High School.

Helms and his wife Judy have four children: Steve, Kimberly, Stuart and Mrs. Cheryl Odom.

He replaces John Quinby, who resigned to become Plainview High School's vocational director.

Church To Speak To Fellowship

Peter Church will be the featured speaker at the monthly meeting of the Hereford chapter of Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International Saturday.

The meeting will begin with a buffet supper at 7 p.m. at the Hereford High School cafeteria, to be followed by the presentation at 8 p.m.

Church was born in Cape Town, South Africa, and excelled in athletics during his high school years.

At the age of 18 he was trapped in a gold mine accident 6,000 feet underground. He was critically injured, suffering paralysis from the waist down, and spent a year in the hospital.

Currently a resident of El Paso, Church has served six years as a pastor, and has completed two years of study with the Navigators in Colorado Springs and five years as director of Youth for Christ in Johannesburg.

He has been actively involved in evangelism through the media since 1971, with much of his effort concentrated in southern Africa.

The FGBFI is an international services arm of the entire church which serves all churches, encouraging its members to be active in their church affiliation and support.

Local officers include Johnny Cloud, president; Leo Harper, vice president; Kit Sanders, secretary; and Jimmie Alford, treasurer.

Zurcher vs. Stanford Daily, the court said police do not first have to try to obtain a subpoena before trying to get a warrant to conduct searches of new rooms, lawyers' offices or the premises of other non-suspects who might possess evidence of a crime.

He is survived by the widow, Alice; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Wittie of Odessa; and a daughter, Jennifer Lynn of the home.

Services will be tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church for LaVone Easley, 51, of 317 Center. The Rev. Doug Manning, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in Rest Lawn Cemetery under the direction of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Easley died yesterday morning at Deaf Smith General Hospital after a lengthy illness.

A longtime resident of this area, Mrs. Easley was born Sept. 26, 1927 in Castro County. She was a longtime employee of the First National Bank. She married Harold Easley Aug. 31, 1974 in Hereford, and was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include her husband; a daughter, Nancy Fuller of Lubbock; a son, Danny Bover of Hereford; three brothers, Harvey and Weldon Lindsey of Hereford and Harold Lindsey of Cleburne; a sister, LaNell Brantley of Odessa; her mother, Mrs. J.J. Lindsey of Hereford; and two grandchildren.

Pall bearers will be Howard Gore, Marvin and Lonny Coffey, Glenn Watts, Delbert Bainum and Jerry Beach.

Memorials are suggested to the American Cancer Society or a favorite charity in lieu of flowers.

Police Investigate Banner Thefts

Police are searching for suspects who stole red, white and blue banners put up in honor of the cowgirl rodeo after businesses the Freeman Decorating Co. of Dublin, Texas, complained Wednesday.

Banners were stolen from the Cowboy Drive In, 545 E. 1st, "Hacker's Upholstery, E. Highway 60; and Nuneley's Fruit Market, 200 N. 25 Mile Ave.

Cowboy Drive In also reported that the back door of the business had been forced open and four packages of hamburger meat, seven stereo tapes and one speaker system were stolen.

Mary Hetzel, 213 Fir, reported Wednesday morning, that someone entered her locked vehicle while it was parked in front of Park Ave. Florist, E. Park Ave., by forcing open a vent window and stole her purse.

The purse contained $50 in cash and numerous items.

Raymond Granda, Route 2, told police someone entered his car while it was parked at One Stop Auto, N. Highway 385, and stole his billfold containing $15.

Officers Wednesday issued three tickets for speeding, two for no driver's license, two for no back lights, two for illegal parking, one for exhibition of acceleration, one for unregistered motor vehicle, one for running a stop sign and one for driving in the left hand lane of U.S. Highway 60 without passing or turning.

ARMANDO G. VILLARREAL, 39, of 911 S. Schley Street died at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday in Deaf Smith General Hospital after a short illness.

Services are pending with Smith & Co. Funeral Home, with a rosary service scheduled tonight in Pioneer Chapel at Smith & Co. Funeral Home at 7:30 p.m.

Born June 25, 1940 in Mission, Tex., Mr. Villarreal resided in Hereford for 13 years. His wife is Guadalupe Villarreal. He was employed as a cement finisher by Garcia Cement Company, and was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Paul Harvey News Increase the Cost of Hospitalization

President Carter, Sir, you have been making better speeches recently—but you blew this one!

You said, "One of the most important components of inflation is the soaring cost of hospital care." In urging Congress to approve the Hospital Cost Containment Act, you said, "Through this one piece of legislation we can, at a single stroke, reduce inflation, cut the federal budget, save billions of dollars of unnecessary public and private spending."

Mr. President, all kinds of medical care combined amount to only five percent of the Consumer Price Index, and hospitals are only a part of that.

There is no way in which that single component could have any significant impact on the overall cost of living.

Indeed, medical costs have risen less than other costs. Where the Consumer Price Index increased nine percent last year, the medical component increased only eight percent.

How, then, could your speechwriter dare to single out medical care as "one of the most important components of inflation?"

In fact, hospitals, with voluntary cost control, have reduced their overhead to where last month, when the cost of living was increasing by more than one percent, the medical care component increased by less than half that.

So let's fight fair! The big increase in the cost of living is not in medical care.

And misguided by mistaken numbers, you might mislead us.

One sure way to increase the cost of hospitalization is to let government run hospitals.

The typical hospital janitor starts at $3.37 an hour.

The average post office janitor starts at $6.48 an hour.

Where does government get off daring to tell hospitals to cut costs?

The average hospital clerk starts at $3.37 an hour. Doing similar work a post office clerk starts at $7.19 an hour.

The post office janitor makes more money than a registered nurse is paid in an average U.S. hospital.

More than a certified medical technologist...

More than a graduate accountant...

And government dares to prescribe "more government!"

Colorado tried "government" as a solution to inflation when it established a Rate Control Commission for that state's hospitals.

You know what they discovered? That the commission was itself causing hospital costs to escalate. The costs of paperwork and inspections and punitive regulations far outweighed any benefits.

So Colorado has abolished its Rate Control Commission.

The Denver Post, which had originally supported creation of the commission, called for its abolishment.

"It is now obvious," the Post editorial stated, "that the fear of federal bogeymen stampeded Colorado into authorizing a layer of bureaucracy whose only contribution has been to create additional millions in sterile costs whose burden must fall on consumers."

As is, nationally, government snooping of hospitals is adding to every patient's bill by $38.66 a day! Please, no more!

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, Aug. 16th, the 228th day of 1979. There are 137 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1914, the British Expeditionary Force landed in France in World War I.

On this date:
In 1777, the Revolutionary War Battle of Bennington, Vt., was an important victory for the Americans.

In 1807, Robert Fulton's steamboat, the Clermont, made its first run up the Hudson River from New York to Albany, covering 150 miles in 32 hours.

In 1861, President Abraham Lincoln prohibited the states of the Union from trading with the seceding states of the Confederacy.

In 1896, gold was discovered on Bonanza Creek in Alaska, setting off the Klondike gold rush.

In 1960, Britain granted independence to the crown colony of Cyprus.

In 1977, rock 'n roll singer Elvis Presley died at his home in Memphis at the age of 42.

Ten years ago: Britain completed a troop movement into Northern Ireland to help quell the worst violence between Roman Catholics and Protestants in more than 30 years.

Five years ago: Turkish invaders of Cyprus completed the division of the island into two areas and declared a cease-fire.

One year ago: The Federal Government was beginning a systematic inquiry into alleged overcharges within the oil industry which ultimately were passed on to the consumer.

Today's birthdays: President George Meany of the AFL-CIO is 85 years old. Singer Eydie Gorme is 47. Hall of Fame pro football star and broadcaster Frank Gifford is 49. Ballerina Suzanne Farrell is 34.

Thought for today: I believe in the discipline of silence and can talk for hours about it — George Bernard Shaw, British playwright, 1856-1950.

Recession Ripples Hit at Varied Times

WASHINGTON (AP) — A recession is like a wave in a pond, rippling slowly and inevitably across the economy, affecting different sectors at different times in different ways.

Many administration economists, including newly confirmed Treasury Secretary G. William Miller, say the United States is in a recession. Statistics show retail sales down, inventories up, the gross national product slipping.

But a downturn's most dramatic sign — unemployment — has yet to rear up nationally. The current jobless rate, 5.7 percent, is virtually unchanged from recent months.

Economists say, however, that unemployment lags behind other indicators in signaling a recession.

"The 5.7 percent rate is a last gasp before everything on the employment front gets pretty rotten," says Jeffrey Green, an economist at Wharton's Econometrics Forecasting Associates.

His Philadelphia firm predicts a 7.5 percent jobless rate by next year. A memo prepared by administration economists suggests unemployment could exceed 8 percent by the end of 1980. Each percentage point represents 1 million people out of work.

Historically, businessmen who sell consumer goods — particularly easily delayed purchases like cars, appliances and furniture — are the first to suffer from recession. In this year's second quarter, retail sales declined 4.5 percent, adjusted for inflation.

But it takes months before depressed sales create inventories large enough to force businesses to cancel old orders or delay new ones.

Only then will producers have to cut back production to avoid their own swelling inventories. When this happens, workers are laid off.

Then the recessionary ripple begins all over again. Laid off workers lose the income needed to purchase a new car, a refrigerator, clothes, dinner out. Retailers face more reduced sales. Many must cut back their orders even further.

Parts of the country will feel the downturn differently. Economists say the Midwest and Northeast will be hit first and hardest because manufacturers of durable goods are concentrated there.

The more service-oriented

South and far West will feel the recession later — and probably less severely.

Detroit already is in a recession, says auto industry analyst Arvid Jouppi. The city's jobless rate, at 10 percent, is nearly double the national average. Car sales started dropping off back in March, following 50 consecutive upbeat months.

At times this year, car sales have fallen 30 percent below last year's levels, Jouppi says. Last year, Americans bought 9.2 million new domestic cars. This year, they will buy 8.6 million, he predicts.

What does this mean for autoworkers? Already, 43,000 have been laid off, and Data Resources Inc., a Cambridge, Mass., economic forecasting firm, predicts the toll will reach 102,000 by year's end.

"Even workers not laid off will see their paychecks shrivel," said Jouppi. "Workers' buying power will be severely shrunk. Retailers in Detroit already feel that pinch."

DRI predicts auto output will reach its low point in late fall.

then begin an upswing in early 1980. By then, other industries will be feeling the recession, some directly because of Detroit's doldrums.

Many economists say the lay-off of 100,000 autoworkers can create 200,000 layoffs across the nation in industries that supply Detroit, such as steel and aluminum from Pittsburgh, rubber from Akron and plastics from Delaware.

Illustrating this ripple effect, DRI offers these scenarios:

—Rubber industry output will fall only half a percentage point the rest of this year, but it will drop 3 percent in 1980; layoffs will be minimal in 1979, but increase by 41,000 workers next year.

—Steel output will drop 2.5 percent this year and 6 percent in 1980. Unemployment won't grip the industry until next year, when 66,000 workers will encounter some joblessness.

—Chemical output will experience an overall gain into late 1979, but drop 1 percent next year; unemployment will increase by 18,000 during 1980.

Whether the recession is mild or severe depends largely on how well businesses manage inventories. The 1973-74 recession was made more severe, economists say, because inventories grew too fast.

"Even after the economy turned weak in 1973, inventories continued to accumulate through the third quarter of 1974," said Wharton's Green. "That was too slow a reaction."

According to figures released Tuesday by the Commerce Department, business inventories increased in June by 1.3 percent, which followed a 1.1 percent swell in May and a 1.4 percent rise in April. Since June 1978, inventories have risen 12.9 percent.

The ratio of inventories to sales in June was 1.43, compared to 1.40 in May, but below the 1.57 average of the 1975 recession year.

Living Standards Likely To Fall

NEW YORK (AP) — Viewed as a piece of machinery, the United States once hummed while other nations sputtered. Into the factory went raw materials, and out came finished goods greatly enhanced in value.

The United States, it was said, had put it all together: the raw materials; the ability to raise capital; hard, smart workers, and innovative management. It was "productive." It was efficient.

There was an attitude too, that with luck and perseverance a person had the chance to raise his living standard. While it didn't always work out that way, it happened enough to create the generalization.

By getting it all together, Americans achieved the highest material standard of living in history. It was the reward for being productive, for turning out enormous amounts of goods at the lowest price.

Since more goods could be produced at no greater cost, or at a decreasing cost, the prices of those goods could be lowered and still leave a profit for manufacturer, middleman and retailer.

Now the Joint Economic Committee of Congress warns Americans that, unless they put it all back together again, their living standards may fall in the 1980s, a consequence of a decline in productivity growth.

The statistics give warning: In the 15 years to 1965, productivity grew at an annual rate of 2.6 percent. From 1965 to 1973 the increase was at a 2 percent rate. And from 1973 to 1978, only 1 percent a year.

It didn't stop there. Last year the rate of increase fell to about 0.4 percent, and in the first half of this year it actually declined by 3.3 percent. It now costs more, not less, to turn out goods and services.

What happened to make "it" come apart? Many reasons. The major disagreement is how to weight the separate reasons, and how to deal with them through legislation and leadership. But they are well known.

—Capital investment has been lagging.

—Inflation is cited as both cause and effect.

—Decline in money spent on research and development.

—The United States now produces more services than goods, and productivity increases are difficult in the service industries.

—Growth of government.

—Government regulations.

—Environmental costs are included in those "nonproductive" projects.

—Worker attitudes. Some observers say workers are bored, coddled, goal-less, antagonistic, etc.

—Work restrictions. Imposed by labor, government and management.

There are other reasons too, and they are equally understood. There is no inability to understand the problem. The difficulty is in getting action on the problem.

That is, apathy, inaction, procrastination — whatever it be called — is as much a part of the productivity problem as all the others mentioned.

The Lighter Side

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — George doesn't do much, but what he does, he does well.

The 22-ounce, black Old English Bantam crowded his way to a championship title Tuesday at a championship title Tuesday at the Illinois State Fair, where he sounded off 63 times in a half-hour to beat seven other finalists.

"He just loves to crow. He doesn't do anything special. He just runs around the farm and crows," said Alvin Bender, George's owner. "From night to morning he crows, even during the night."

Marion Nash, the fair's superintendent of poultry, said roosters crow to attract hens and "to establish their masculinity and all that garbage. They want to tell the gang: 'I'm the boss or want to be the boss,' or something."

"He's got a few hens at home," said Bender, 53, of Humphrey, Neb. "When he gets home to see them, he'll get his reward."

Owners of the contestants urged their entrants on with bribes of corn, by blowing on their feathers and by clucking in sensual barnyard tones.

"Come George, let's go George, hey, wake up George, you can do it again," Bender's wife, Boots, pleaded quietly, as the row of penned roosters squawked, clucked and — in the only sound that counted — crowed.

George had scored 57 crows in the preliminary half-hour for a total of 120 crows in the period of an hour. The runnerup, a black-breasted red, Old English Game Bantam named Begin, scored 109 crows.

MANCHESTER, Conn. (AP) — When anger or frustration make effective vituperation difficult, why not call Dr. Nasty?

For $10, (no house calls, please), the doctor will dash off 250 well chosen words of complaint ranging from simple aggravation to tongue-tying rage.

Dr. Nasty resolves more than 90 percent of the consumer complaints he handles, says Thomas Winer of Gerber and Winer Professional Management Services.

"All Dr. Nasty wants to do is write the letters," adds Winer, whose firm handles the administrative details of the business.

Although the doctor specializes in consumer complaints, he will also deal with other annoyances, such as inconsiderate neighbors playing loud music in the early morning hours, Winer said.

"He does personal, nasty, hate mail," Winer said, adding, "I think there's a definite need for such a service in this area."

Angel Dust Caused Man To Bit Himself

CHICAGO (AP) — A 29-year-old man bit his forearms almost to the bone after smoking a marijuana cigarette laced with the numbing drug known as angel dust, a Texas doctor says.

And Dr. Vernon Eugene Grove Jr., a private practitioner in Austin, Texas, says that may be an argument against legalization of marijuana.

In a report published in the Aug. 17 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, Grove said the patient experienced "terrifying auditory hallucinations" telling him that his hands had offended him and commanding him to punish himself by biting.

Because of the disassociation caused by the drug, Grove wrote, the man "bit his forearms almost to the bone and felt no discomfort. A nauseating, odoriferous wound infection manifested, which the patient ignored. Excruciating pain developed only later."

Angel dust, phenylclidine hydrochloride or PCP, has anesthetic effects and also is known as horse tranquilizer for its use in veterinary medicine, Grove said. It can produce violence or self-injury while anesthetizing a person who has taken it.

Luckenbach's For Sale

LUCKENBACH, Texas (AP) — Songs about Texas cities aren't uncommon in the world of country music.

From the streets of El Paso to the women of Abilene, from San Antonio's Rose to a home in Houston, lyricists have found inspiration to set words to music.

None of those cities is for sale.

That's not true of this tiny hamlet in the scenic Hill Country of Central Texas.

Discovered by the late Hondo Crouch, Luckenbach has become a haven for those fed up with the rat race — people who are content to wet their whistle while watching the mud-dauber wasps return to their nests.

The epitome of "laid-back," Luckenbach hit the big time when its folksy charms were extolled in a song by singer Willie Nelson and Waylon Jennings. The pair of "outlaw" musicians sang that in Luckenbach, "there ain't nobody feelin' no pain."

Crouch's death left his town in loving hands, but inheritance taxes have forced a "for sale" sign to go up at the city limits.

His heirs say they can't pay the taxes on his estate, so they are looking for the "right kind of person" to purchase the rustic nine-acre town.

"Those inheritance taxes are really something," said Becky Patterson, one of Crouch's daughters.

However, she added the owners — she, her sister and Crouch's partner, Kathy Morgan — hope the buyer doesn't have any changes in mind.

"It has so much potential, and yet I like it just the way it is, cobwebs and mud-dauber nests and all," she said.

The deal includes an old cotton gin, a blacksmith shop, an egg house, a dance hall and a combination general store-post office-beer joint. The popular weekend retreat also has five flush toilets, one parking meter and a pay phone.

Crouch, Ms. Morgan and television actor Guich Kooch (of "Carter Country") bought the town in 1971. Later, Kooch sold out to the other partners.

"I've put eight years of my life here," Ms. Morgan said. "I'm sad; very, very sad."

She said a San Antonio broker is quietly looking for somebody who won't destroy the natural beauty of the spot.

"We want a buyer who enjoys people, has a feeling for nature and loves old things — not only people, but traditions as well," Ms. Morgan said.

The price has not been revealed, but the owners hope to hear only from serious prospects.

"You have no idea the number of times I've been asked whether Luckenbach is for sale," Ms. Morgan said.

The town was just a crossroads near the LBJ Ranch before Crouch put it on the map with festivities designed to show "everybody is somebody in Luckenbach."

There were redneck rock music concerts and beer busts to welcome the mud-dauber wasps home to the Hill Country.

Now things aren't as joyous in the popular weekend retreat, although the owners hope somebody will show an interest in buying it and preserving the laid-back way of life.

"I think it's the most famous little town in Texas," Ms. Patterson said.

Port Plans To Proceed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for a Texas deepwater port to handle crude oil shipments can be dusted off again now that the Department of Transportation conditionally has granted a license one year after a state agency made its application.

"Construction and operation of the proposed port will be in the national interest," Acting Secretary of Transportation W. Graham Clayton said Wednesday in granting the license as one of his last duties.

Neil Goldschmidt was sworn in later in the day.

The Texas Deepwater Port Authority officially filed for a license last August, taking over plans abandoned by a private consortium known as Seadock. The state agency has until May 15 to accept the license with its financial and anti-trust conditions.

The offshore port, to be located in the Gulf of Mexico about 26 miles south of Freeport, would be able to handle 2.5 million barrels of oil each day.

Clayton said the port would be "consistent with national security and other national policy goals and objectives, including energy sufficiency and environmental quality."

Ernie Bauer, chief of the department's ports division, said the license stipulates that a satisfactory financial plan must be submitted before any bonds can be issued.

"There are a number of conditions in the license," he said. "We're saying that they have got to submit a financial plan to meet all the requirements." Bauer said the Texas attorney general would have to clarify what the state's liability would be in case of oil spills.

Another condition would limit the number of members of the deepwater port authority's board of directors to three, he said.

"The Justice Department had recommended that no members of the board be from the oil industry, and we compromised at three," Bauer said.

Seadock, originally made up of eight oil companies and one chemical company, was hit by anti-trust litigation before it disbanded.

Bauer said the state agency's application was an amended version of Seadock's with only slight differences.

"On the surface it looks a little weaker to us financially, but I think those questions can be answered," he said.

The Texas Legislature established the deepwater port authority in 1977 to take over where Seadock stopped, but said the state's credit could not be put on the line.

The port's estimated cost at the time of the application was about $1 billion. Agency officials said it would take at least two years to complete the project, to be financed by selling $1.1 billion of industrial revenue bonds.

An interest-drawing account of 150 million would be set aside to take care of insurance for oil spills.

The application included data showing that offshore ports reduce oil spills by 14 percent compared with comparable volumes of oil moving through on-shore facilities.

The deepwater port, which could handle shipments from tankers — too large for conventional ports, would be made up of two platforms and four moorings. Oil unloaded at the port would be transported 31 miles through pipelines to an on-shore storage area.

The nation's first offshore port, operated by LOOP, Inc., is under construction in the Gulf of Mexico south of Grand Isle, La. The DOT granted LOOP and Seadock licenses at the same time, but the Louisiana port was the only one to accept the conditions.

Clements To Meet with Another Governor

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas Gov. Bill Clements flies to Monterrey, Mexico, today for the second of his talks with Mexican state governors on mutual border problems.

After a private half-hour talk, Clements and Nuevo Leon Gov. Martinez Dominguez will address a special joint session of the Nuevo Leon Congress Thursday afternoon.

Monterrey is 148 miles south of Laredo on the Rio Grande.

Clements visited Tuesday with Tamaulipas Gov. Enrique Cardenas Gonzales in Ciudad Victoria. On Aug. 27 he has talks scheduled with Coahuila Gov. Oscar Flores Tapia in Saltillo and on Aug. 29 with Chihuahua Gov. Manuel Bernardo Aguirre in Chihuahua City. Clements has said the main topics of the talks with governors of Mexican states adjoining Texas include illegal aliens, border drug trafficking and exchange of energy.

After the Tuesday talks, Clements said Cardenas Gonzales agreed with him that illegal aliens, or undocumented workers, must be controlled both by the United States and Mexico. He said the Mexican governor agreed to contact the other governors and tell them of their accord.

"We're still talking policy, not mechanics," Clements said. "Until we get a declaration from all four governors, I don't want to talk about details."

Clements held a June meeting in Brownsville for governors of New Mexico, Arizona and California or their representatives. At that meeting, Clements' proposal to allow Mexican workers to legally enter the United States on temporary work permits drew opposition from Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt.

His Cycle Impresses Judges

BALTIMORE (AP) — When Charlie Chisholm takes Big Daddy Rat out for a night ride, a thousand lights detonate 3,500 tiny rhinestone explosions, dazzling awestruck pedestrians and fulfilling a 40-year dream.

"You pass this motorcycle at night, you don't know what it is," Chisholm boasted. "I mean, you turn on 300, 400 of these lights, it looks like a meteor coming at you. A lot of people, they go crazy over it."

The 1962 Harley Davidson, proudly dubbed Big Daddy Rat, almost never loses a "best dress" motorcycle competition — and small wonder.

Sandwiched between two chromed wheels, Chisholm has lovingly installed a radio-tape player, a CB radio, and 1,450 lights — all of it outlined in a blaze of rhinestones and red and white tassels.

The bike is a regular at civic parades, county fairs and shopping center openings and the 52-year-old West Baltimore bartender says it is about to be listed in the Guinness Book of Records as "the world's most unusually lighted street motorcycle."

But Chisholm has bigger things in mind, like the recent trip to Cologne, Germany, courtesy of a motorcycle magazine. Some of the tours, he hopes will be for profit. Other will be for charity.

Charlie Chisholm hasn't forgotten his humble beginnings. "When I was a kid, we were very poor people. My daddy always promised me a bicycle, but I never got a new bike," Chisholm said, explaining that a cousin's motorcycle sparked his own interest in cycles.

"He had a few things here and there, and I thought it was a tremendous bike and I said that if I ever got large enough, I'd get one of my own."

"I left home at 15 and when I finally got the money, I put it down on a motorcycle. My wife took one look at it. She said, 'You gotta get rid of that motorcycle, or get rid of me.' So I kept the bike."

On a whim, he attached 50 lights. That attracted attention, so he added another hundred, and another, and another.

"I just kept adding. After I got up around 300, everybody was really amazed and I decided to really go for it."

Repubs Gaining Strength

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston pollster confirms what Texas Republicans have been saying for years — the GOP is getting stronger.

V. Lance Tarrance, who conducted polls and opinion research for the successful campaigns of Gov. Bill Clements, Sen. John Tower and several other candidates, says "new" Texans mean a net gain of 78,000 votes for the GOP.

Tarrance, who predicted Clements' and Tower's races to within one percentage point, based his conclusions on at least 18 surveys of Texan opinion and voting preferences.

Since 1970, he says, immigrants to the state included about 252,000 Republicans and 174,000 strong Democrats, giving the GOP thousands of new votes.

The new Texans are also younger and better-educated than average, he reports.

Good Republican news is that 42 percent of the state's newcomers consider themselves either "somewhat Republican" or "mostly Republican."

By contrast statewide, only 26 percent of voters say they are Republican.

Obviously, this is bad news for Democrats.

About 10 percent of the state's 6 million registered voters have moved into the state since 1970, the studies show, while about 20 percent of the voters have moved from one part of Texas to another.

Tarrance's conclusions include: —63 percent of new voters are under 45 years old, compared with 55 percent statewide.

—85 percent are white, compared with 81 percent statewide.

—College graduates make up 34 percent of the immigrants, compared with 29 percent for the whole state.

Junior Golf Winners Named

First round leaders held to their leads in the final round of the Hereford Junior Golf Tournament as winners were named in four divisions of play. Kent Walterscheid, Stefan Hacker, Scott Skinner and Alan Wartes each took top honors in their respective age groups.

Walterscheid, with a two day total of 57-57-114, won the 10 and under division, beating Darrel Page, 58-70-128 and Todd Schoreader, 75-62-137.

Hacker turned in a 36 hole total of 226 with rounds of 112 and 114. In second was Woody Glass who turned in two 114's to finish at 228. Third in the 11-12 year old group was Phillip Webster with a 113-120-233 total.

Skinner shot the best round of the tournament in winning the 13-14 year group, a 78-76-154 for 36 holes. Behind him were Steve and Alan Fairweather with 175 and 200 totals respectively.

Wartes, with an 85-84-169 total took first in the 15 and over category. David Dudding finished second in the tightest race of the divisions as he shot 88-82 to finish one stroke back of Wartes.

The tournament is an annual affair with the players getting a chance to compete against their own age groups.

Raymond Schroeder, head coach of the high school golf team said that it is a good chance for some of the prospective high school and junior high golfers to get needed tournament experience.

Attack Involuntary Says Former Laker Manager

By ROB WOOD
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Pete Newell, former general manager of the Los Angeles Lakers, said he believed Kermit Washington struck Houston Rocket star Rudy Tomjanovich "by simple reaction, an involuntary response."

Newell, who now works with Washington during the summer months to hone his basketball skills, said the onetime Laker forward would never "purposely try to hurt anyone. I can't justify the blow to Tomjanovich, but it was almost a conditioned reflex by Kermit to defend himself."

Earlier Wednesday, Washington gave his account to the federal court jury of the one-punch fight Dec. 9, 1977, when he hit Tomjanovich in the face. The Rocket captain suffered a fractured jaw, fractured skull, broken nose, other facial injuries and leakage of spinal fluid.

Washington, now a member of the San Diego Clippers of the National Basketball Association, said he saw "a blur coming directly at me. So I turned and swung. I didn't know who it was. I had no idea who it was. The blow was a reaction."

Newell told the jury he believed Rudy had made a mistake by "running right at" Washington. He should have gone around to the side. He made a mistake.

Tomjanovich is suing the Lakers for more than $1 million and the Rocket organization is seeking $1.4 million for the loss of its top scorer during most of the 1977-1978 season.

The trial, now in its second week, is expected to go to the jury late Friday.

Speaking softly from the witness stand, Washington said fighting "is not a part of professional basketball. It is not even a part of living in our society. But it happens."

Insisting that he was only "upset and didn't get mean" that night on the court, Washington said the incident began when he grabbed the shorts of Rocket center Kevin Kunnert during a Houston fast break.

"Kevin hit me in the forehead with an elbow. Then he hit me with his fist. I had to defend myself or fall down in a fetal position. I started swinging. Kareem (Laker center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar) grabbed Kevin and tried to pull him away. I continued to swing because I was angry."

"Then I stepped back and saw a blur coming at me. The blur was coming directly at me. So I turned and swung."

"I regret Rudy was hurt ... I never before had been involved in a fight when any player was hurt," he said.

Under cross-examination, Washington said he had been in several fights during his professional career "but I never started any of them."

A deposition from Lawrence O'Brien, NBA commissioner, was read into evidence. The heart of the deposition was a statement from O'Brien that the $10,000 fine and 60-day suspension handed Washington after the Tomjanovich incident was the largest in the history of the league.

Also a deposition from Jack Kent Cooke, former Laker owner, was read and Cooke said he had never spoken to Washington about the fight and was in Las Vegas at the time of the trouble.

New York Completes Sweep Of Slumping Texas Rangers

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Yankee Manager Billy Martin keeps talking about the impossible dream. But after the Yankees completed a three-game sweep of the Texas Rangers with a 4-3 victory Wednesday night, Pat Corrales, the Rangers manager was having nightmares.

"We keep on finding different ways to win," said Martin. "If we keep going now it could be scary to the guys in front of us."

John, 16-6, scattered ten hits, the final two coming to start the ninth before Gossage came in. He walked three and struck out five and was satisfied when it was over.

In the ninth, with the score 4-2, after Bill Sample and Jim Sundberg had singled, Gossage uncorked a wild pitch while facing his first batter, Bump Wills. The runners moved up, which allowed Sample to score when Wills bounced out to first baseman Chris Chambliss. Sundberg, the tying run, took third.

The dangerous left-handed, hitting Mickey Rivers was the Texas batter.

"Rivers is the last guy I would want to face up there in that situation," said Gossage.

"He makes good contact and can run like a deer. I tried to keep my fast ball down to him, hoping he would strike out or hit a grounder."

Instead the ex-Yankee lifted a short fly to Piniella in left field and Piniella's throw held the runner on third.

Gossage then got Buddy Bell to fly out ending the inning.

"I used all fast balls," said

Gossage. "I'm still not using my slider. I'm not in my rhythm yet, and I have to drive the ball to get enough on it."

It was the Yankee reliever's 18th appearance and his eighth save of an injury-plagued season.

"There's always some doubt about whether you come back too soon after an injury," said Gossage. "I'm just beginning to feel right, and I still have to work on my slider."

Gossage was hurt in a clubhouse fight April 18, and returned July 13. He required surgery on the thumb of his

Vega Picked To Win In Pre-Season Predictions

By MARC HERRING
Brand Sports Editor

"We are not real big and we will have to rely on a lot of the kids to play both ways plus we have only nine lettermen and five starters, but the pulls still pick us to repeat as district champs." Coach Charlie Moot, first year head man for the Vega Longhorns said.

"At first I couldn't see how they would pick us as the top team, but now after working with the team some, and hearing about why we were picked, I think we will be in the thick of the race."

District 3-A champions last year, Vega will start this year with Moot as the new head coach, replacing Jimmy Duncan who left after 15 years and seven district titles.

Moot said that the tradition and the desire of the kids are tremendous and with this kind of mental attitude, half the battle of winning games is over. The Longhorns return nine lettermen from last year's squad, with five being regular starters. Rob Groves, Rick Jones and Fred Fangman all return in the backfield and Scotty Cook, who started last year at linebacker and backup quarterback is returning.

The other returnees are Johnny Ferguson and Alva George on the line, which Coach Moot says is strong, but depth may prove to be a problem if injuries arise.

"Our backfield is in excellent shape with some strong backup if needed," Moot said. "The same is true with our linebacking corp on defense, with Cook and Fangman returning. Question marks are on the line where we have some quality players but the depth is not proven as of now."

Vega entered two-a-days at the first of the week with 37 kids reporting, which is small even for a class A school. Moot said that Vega is one of the smaller schools in the district, but it should not pose a problem to the end result.

The Longhorns will start the season with two scrimmages against River Road and Stratford. First game of the season will be against White Deer in Vega on Sept. 7.

Non-conference foes for the Longhorns will be on the large and tough side, with Boys Ranch and Friona scheduled. Both of these schools are in class 2A and other teams Sanford-Fritch and Sunray are worthy opponents.

The first district contest will be against Bovina Oct. 19, with Kress, Springlake-Earth, Hart and Farwell following respectively.

Expos Beat Astros At Own Game, 3-0

HOUSTON (AP) — The Montreal Expos gave Houston a dose of its own medicine, combining clutch hitting, speed on the bases and tough pitching to take their first win in the Astrodome since April 1978.

Dan Schatzeder held the Astros to just two hits in five innings before his shoulder stiffened. He gave way to Scott Sanderson who allowed just three more singles as the Expos blanked Houston 3-0 Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Montreal batters were banging out 10 hits of their own, including two each by Andre Dawson and Ellis Valentine, who also stole a base apiece along with Rodney Scott.

"I like pitching to clubs like Houston who rely on left-handed hitting," said Schatzeder, who beat the Astros and Joe Niekro 19-3 when he pitched against them in Montreal June 17.

Houston center fielder Terry Puhl said left handers are hard on the Astros, but Schatzeder has been especially tough.

"We have trouble with left handers, period, but he's got good velocity and a good motion that makes him tough," Puhl said. "Besides that, he's got a great pickoff move to first."

Puhl said the combination of that move and the strong right arm of catcher Gary Carter kept the free-running Astros at bay.

"It's almost impossible to steal against that motion combined with a catcher like Carter," Puhl said. "In fact, even though we won the first two games, Carter shut down our base stealing during the whole series, and that's a big part of our game."

Carter, who's been slumping at the plate lately, also got into the scoring act Wednesday by supplying the Expos' first run, which proved to be the only one they would need to beat Niekro, 16-7.

The catcher singled to open the second inning, advanced on an error and scored on a double-play grounder.

Schatzeder, 8-4, contributed to his own cause in the fifth inning by singling, moving to second on a hit by Warren Cromartie, advancing to third on a wild pitch by Niekro and scoring on a grounder by Dawson.

The third run came in the sixth on a walk to Larry Parrish and consecutive singles by Chris Speier and pinch hitter Jerry White.

Expos Manager Dick Williams added his own praise for Carter to that heaped on him by Puhl.

"Stolen bases get runs, and the Astros have got to run," Williams said. "That's their style of play and it's especially suited to this ballpark."

"But we have a good catcher," he added. "My catcher can throw as good as anybody in this league."

The Expos' win kept them second in the National League East, 3 1/2 games behind Pittsburgh, which also won Wednesday. Houston retained its 4 1/2 game lead over second-place Cincinnati in the National League West as the Reds lost to Philadelphia.

Junior Rodeoers Claim Top Spots In Hereford

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Hereford youngsters took home a major portion of the top honors in the Hereford Riders Club Junior Rodeo held here last weekend.

Local competitors failed to capture the top all-around title in only one age division of the event, which drew 188 entries from throughout the Panhandle during its two night run here.

Among Hereford competitors winning all-around honors and their age divisions were Lee Washington and Rita Ward in the 15-17 division, Brad Cunningham and Jana Johnson in the 11-14 division, and Brian Bone and Jill Johnson in the 8-10 age grouping.

Monty Harris of Amarillo was the winner in the 7 and under divisions.

Hereford competitors consistently captured top placings in the events of the various divisions as well.

In the 15-17 division for boys, Blake Johnson and Brett Cunningham of Hereford were first in team roping, Lee Washington and Johnson were second and Jodie Reynolds and J.D. Ragland of Slaton were third.

Mike Dale of Muleshoe was first in cow riding, while Washington was first in chute dogging.

Cunningham was first in calf roping while Washington was second and Thurmon Myres of Muleshoe was third.

Ribbon roping action in the 15-17 boys' age division saw Washington first, Jodie Overturn of Slaton second and Tommy Wheeler of Muleshoe third.

In the 15-17 girls' competition, Tania Willson was first in breakaway roping with Rita Ward first in goat tying.

Miss Willson was also first in flag racing, followed by Sherry Evans of Hale Center and Donna Nichols of Hereford.

Barrel racing also saw Miss Willson finish first, with Miss Ward second and Miss Evans third.

Miss Ward led all competitors in the poles, followed by Miss Evans in second, and Miss Nichols in third.

Brand Cunningham boosted his eventual finish as all-around winner in the 11-14 boys' division with a first place finish in ribbon roping.

In steer daubing, Cody Foster of Memphis was first, with Hereford competitors Shaun McConnell and Joel Smith second and third respectively.

Jason Harris of Amarillo was first in steer riding, followed by Allen Bell of Amarillo and Alfred Ball of Hereford.

Kevin Fisher of Memphis was first in breakaway roping.

Competition in the 11-14 age division for girls saw Celest Smith of Sunray capture first in the flag race, while Jana Johnson of Hereford was second and Stacy Funk of Canyon was third.

The order of finish was identical in the barrel race.

Miss Johnson was first in goat tying, followed by Bonnie Stewart of Sunray and Miss Smith.

First in pole bending also went to Miss Johnson, while Miss Funk was second and Miss Smith third.

In the boys' 8-10 division, Don Thomas of Hereford was first in steer riding while Brian Bone of Hereford was second, and Shawn Audrian of Amarillo was third.

Steve Richardson, Billy Stephens and Kenny Chambers made it a one-two-three finish for Hereford in barrels.

In steer daubing, Richardson was first, Bone second, and Chambers third.

Girls' action in the 8-10 age grouping included a first place finish by Marla Smith of Hereford in the slack race and a second by Jill Johnson in that event.

The order of finish was the same between the two local youngsters in goat tying and in the barrel race, while Miss Johnson captured first place in pole bending.

Action in the 7 and under division saw Monty Harris of Amarillo first in pole bending with Regina Lewis of Hereford second and Rick Trotter of Hereford third.

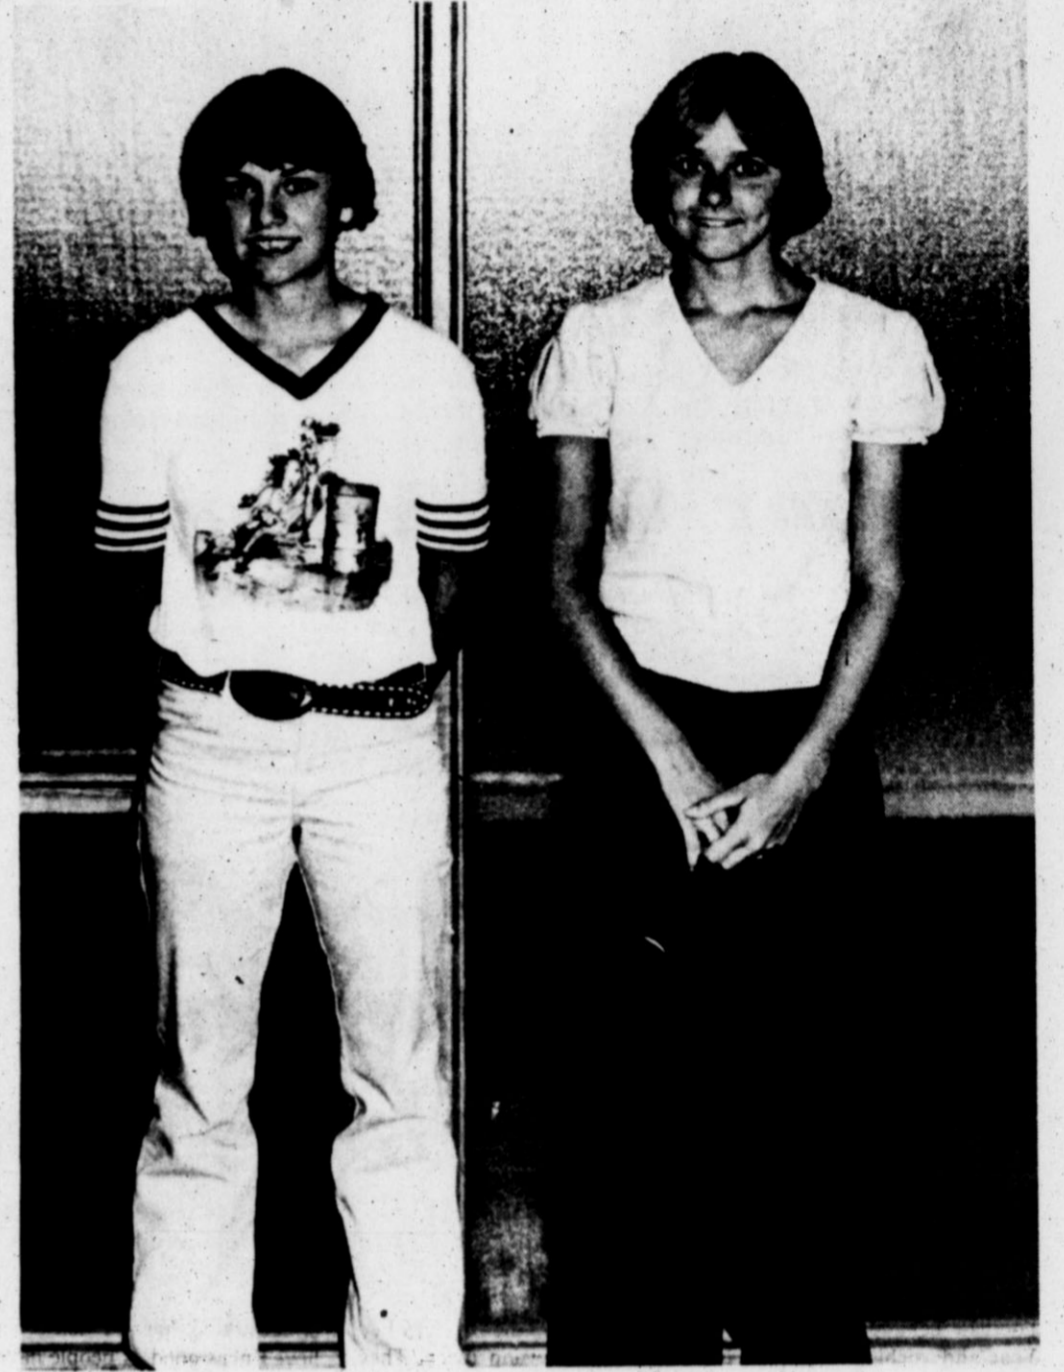

Harris was first in the goat race, followed by Poppy

Richardson of Hereford and Randy Funk of Canyon.

In the flag race, Harris was first, followed by Hereford competitors Mickey Gomez and Regina Lewis.

Regina Lewis rode off with first place for Hereford in the barrels, while Mickey Gomez was second and Harris was third.

Chris Evans of Amarillo was first in calf riding, Gomez was second and Harris was third.

Top Girls

In the 15-17 girls division Rifa Ward collected two firsts, a second and a fourth and Donna Nichols [right] picked up two thirds and a fourth.

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — Seventeen yachtsmen were known to have died in the disastrous storm which hit the Fastnet yacht race and other vessels in the 20,000 square-mile area of the Atlantic between southern Ireland and Cornwall.

The dead include 13 Britons, one American, Frank H. Ferris, who lived in London, and one Dutchman. Nationalities of the other two dead were not immediately certain.

Ships and aircraft continued to search into the early hours of Thursday, seeking one yacht still unaccounted for and possible survivors of the score of yachts sunk, abandoned or in distress. Rescue services said the death toll was certain to reach 19.

Without Tarkington, Vikings Title Chances Harder In NFC Central

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — In the past seven years, a big difference between the Minnesota Vikings and the rest of the National Football Conference Central Division was quarterback Fran Tarkenton.

Chicago, Green Bay, Detroit and Tampa Bay simply did not have a signal-caller of Tarkenton's caliber. In close games he was often the difference between winning and losing.

This year Minnesota no longer has the Tarkenton edge.

"We'll be as competitive a division as there is in football," offers Minnesota, Coach Bud Grant when asked for his assessment of the NFC Central in 1979. "The first thing all the other teams start out with is

"Let's beat the Vikings." Then they go on from there."

The Vikings have stumbled into division titles the last two seasons because of the tie-breaker rule. In 1977 a fake field goal helped them accumulate enough points to edge out Chicago. Last year Minnesota needed a last-second touchdown against Green Bay to escape with a 10-10 tie and the playoff nod.

"The experience of barely missing a playoff spot will provide a new plateau from which to seek a new championship," says Packer Coach Bart Starr, whose club tied Minnesota with an 8-7-1 record but missed post-season action due to the Vikings' better head-to-head record.

"I think any of the five teams can win it," adds John McKay

Oilers Obtain Patriot's Gray

SMITHFIELD, R.I. (AP) — Two-time All-Pro tackle Leon Gray is on his way to Houston after a trade, leaving behind bitter teammates and a coach fearful his departure will hinder the New England Patriots' efforts to make the Super Bowl.

"He was traded to a team that wants to win," said offensive guard John Hannah, Gray's linemate. Asked if New England also wants to win, Hannah responded, "No it doesn't."

Hannah, who is tied to the team through 1981, also said, "This is the last time I'll sign a contract here."

Gray, 28, was dealt to the Oilers for a first and sixth round draft choice.

Ron Erhardt, in his first year as head coach of the team which finished first in the National Football League's American Conference, also was unhappy.

He said, "The organization felt our strength was in the offensive line, (but) I'm reluctant to see it (the trade) happen."

General Manager Bucko Kilroy said in a statement:

"It is felt that with the outstanding performance of our starting offensive line, and the strong back-up depth... that the Patriots were able to complete such a deal.

"With the first-round draft choice secured from the Oilers, we subsequently feel that the club will be able to draft a top-rated player next year."

Kilroy said in the college draft the Patriots will use at least one choice to secure the defensive line strength the team has been seeking for two seasons.

Gray — informed of the trade Wednesday morning — was unavailable for comment. He was reported with his wife, who gave birth a few hours before he learned of the trade. The family recently bought a home in Westwood, Mass.

The 6-3, 260-pound Gray was originally drafted in the third round of the 1973 draft by Miami. He was later claimed on waivers by the Patriots. After joining the Patriots, Gray was voted All-Pro in 1976 and 1978. He also was awarded the Golden Helmet award in 1976.

Gray, along with Hannah, walked out on the Patriots two years ago in a contract dispute, missing pre-season action and two games of the 1977 regular season before settling his contract.

Second-year tackle Dwight Wheeler of Tennessee State has been tabbed as Gray's immediate replacement and the team has two No. 1 draft picks for the offensive line on the bench — Bob Cryder of Alabama, listed as a guard, and Pete Brock of Colorado, listed as a center.

In Houston, Gray is expected to move into a starting left tackle spot replacing Greg Sampson, who is disabled after surgery to remove a blood clot on his brain.

Pirates Stay On Top

The Pittsburgh Pirates — now there's a team that appreciates being in first place.

The Pirates, who used to make it a habit winning the National League East title, went more than two years before gaining the division's top spot on July 28 this season.

They only stayed there a day, but moved in again on Aug. 5. And now they may never leave.

"I think the World Series is well within our grasp," said Bill Robinson, who belted a home run as the Pirates beat the San Diego Padres 5-1 Wednesday night.

Robinson, of course, is one of the main reasons that the Pirates are doing so well these days, even if he isn't playing as much as last year because of the acquisition of John Milner. Robinson's homer was his 23rd, pretty good for a "part-timer."

In other NL action, Montreal beat Houston 3-0; Philadelphia stopped Cincinnati 3-2; Chicago edged San Francisco 6-5; Los Angeles defeated St. Louis 6-5 and New York downed Atlanta 6-3.

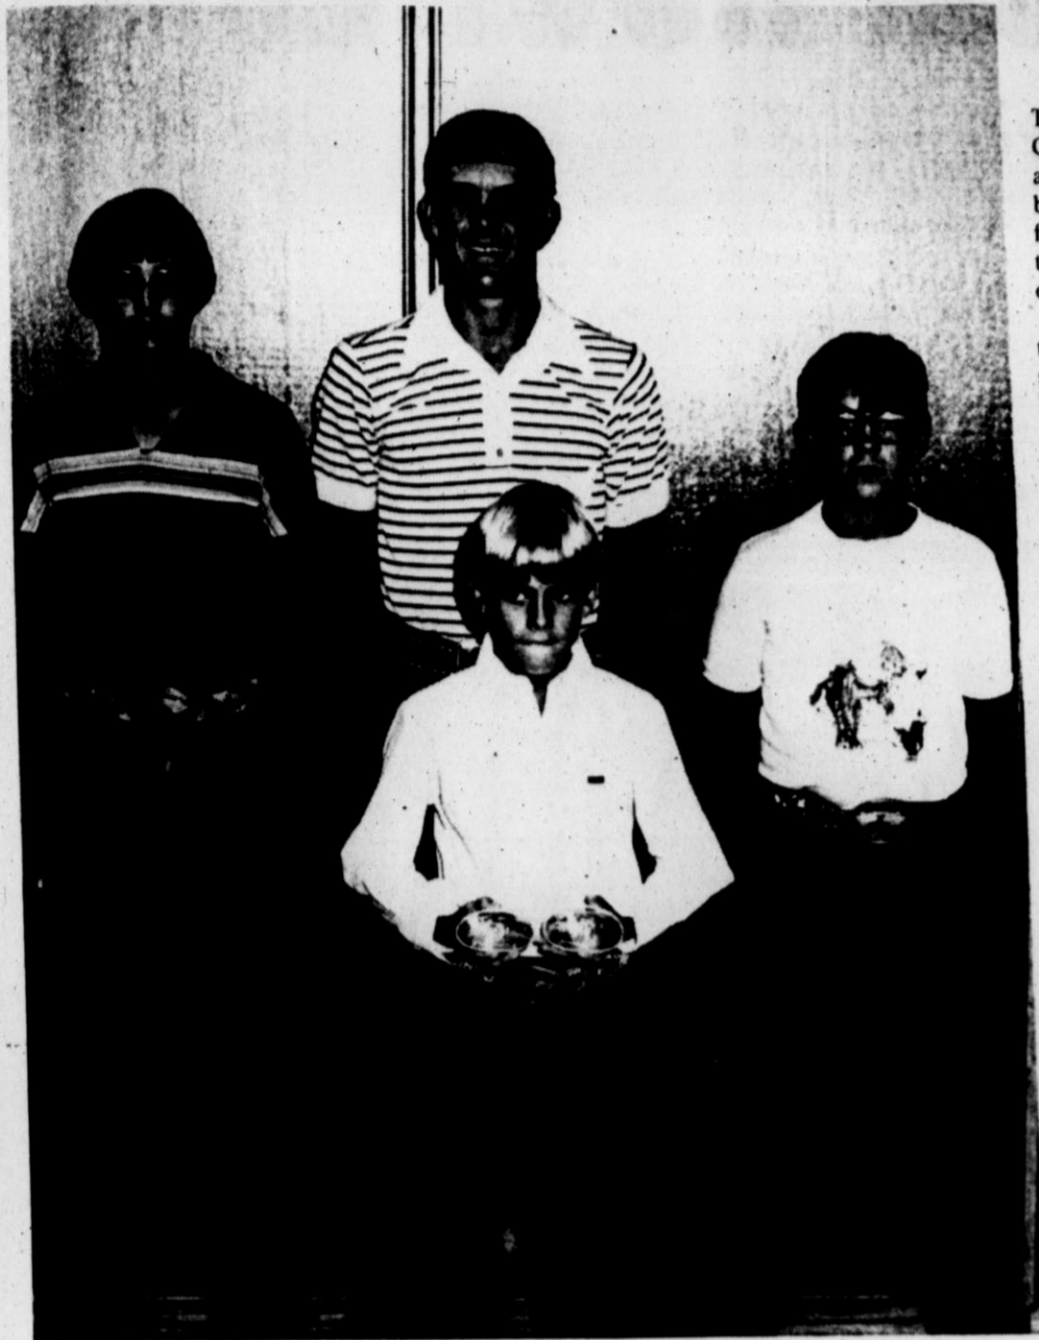

Philadelphia broke a four-game losing streak by beating Cincinnati.

Espinosa, 13-9, was touched for a run-scoring double by Harry Spilman in the second inning, and an RBI base hit by Dave Collins in the eighth while pitching his eighth complete game as a member of the Phillies this season.

Cubs 6, Giants 5

Bill Buckner's leadoff homer in the seventh inning powered Chicago over San Francisco. Buckner's game-winning wallop overcame a pair of two-run shots by the Giants' Mike Ivie.

Steelers, Oilers Expect To Win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — In Pittsburgh, the Steelers have three Super Bowl titles and potentially their best team ever. But you can't even wrap fish in day-old potential.

In Houston, the Oilers have Earl Campbell, the National Football League Rookie of the Year and rushing champion in 1978 — but it remains to be seen whether the Oilers match their 1978 success.

In Cleveland, the Browns have made some trades and Greg Pruitt has aired his gripes. But it's a big jump from a .500 season to the playoffs.

In Cincinnati, the Bengals have some prize rookies and hopes for major improvement from their 1978 disaster. But great expectations have gone awry there before.

Those are the teams — and those are the buts — in the Central Division of the American Conference, where Pittsburgh's five straight titles belie the toughness of the competition.

Last season, the Steelers had to win the division twice. They overcame Houston in regular season then had to beat the wild-card Oilers in the AFC title game.

This summer, the Oilers got a two-week jump on Pittsburgh by opening camp July 3. But the Steelers' season may have begun the day after their Super Bowl victory over Dallas.

"I think this football team hasn't reached its potential yet," Coach Chuck Noll said before leaving Miami.

"I hope I can say that after this season, too," he said recently.

Last season, Terry Bradshaw posted career highs in touchdown passes and accolades. "I can't help but get better. I'm still working hard. I don't believe I'm as good as people have been saying," he says.

In Houston last season, Campbell's arrival complimented the passing of Dan Pastorini. "Used to be Dan was like a sword fighter with a pocket knife. Now he has his sword," says Coach Bum Phillips.

"I don't have any numbers in the back of my head. But I'm expecting a lot from this guy Earl," said Campbell, shifting to the third person.

In Cleveland, Coach Sam Rutigliano has a precise estimate of what his team, 8-8 last year, will need to make the playoffs.

"It will take 11 wins," said Rutigliano. "While 11 wins may be difficult, I think I am being realistic."

AL East Sweeps West Teams

It was the bottom of the 12th inning, the score was 1-1, and there were two out. Doug DeCinces led off first. Eddie Murray led off third and Chicago pitcher Guy Hoffman had a 1-2 count on Baltimore pinch-hitter Benny Ayala.

One more strike, and it's on to the 13th inning. But as it turned out, Hoffman had the Orioles right where they wanted him.

While Hoffman went into his stretch, Murray danced off third. Hoffman glanced at him, then at DeCinces.

Then Murray took off for the plate and there was a robbery in progress at Memorial Stadium.

"If the pitcher hesitates or takes a step towards first, he's dead," said DeCinces, who watched the pitcher take that fateful step towards first as Murray streaked home to score standing up and give the Orioles a 2-1 triumph over the White Sox Wednesday night.

In the other American League games, the Boston Red Sox beat the Minnesota Twins 9-5, the New York Yankees topped the Texas Rangers 4-3, the Milwaukee Brewers trimmed the Kansas City Royals 6-5, the Detroit Tigers bested the California Angels 6-1, the Seattle Mariners edged the Cleveland Indians 3-2 and the Oakland A's defeated the Toronto Blue Jays 3-1.

Red Sox 9, Twins 5

Carl Yastrzemski hit a two-run homer in the four-run eighth inning that snapped a 5-5 tie and sent Boston to its 14th consecutive home victory over Minnesota.

Real Estate Tips

by Tommy Bowling

How much money should I set aside for use as earnest money when offering to buy a property?

Normally, a buyer will be asked to make earnest money payment equal to 10% of the purchase price of the property in question. If you are offering to buy at a price lower than the "asking price," you may wish to make a more substantial earnest money payment, in order to encourage the seller to accept your proposal. You may also indicate that you are agreeable to making an additional payment toward the purchase price of the property if the seller accepts your offer. If you want to use this additional payment offering as a sales tool to encourage the seller to accept your proposal, you should state the amount of this additional payment in your offer to purchase. Your broker can recommend when such tactic is advisable.

Cougars To Rebound From Bowl Loss

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP) — When the eyes of the nation last saw the University of Houston football team, it was trudging dejectedly off the icy Cotton Bowl field last January after being struck by a blarney stone thrown by Notre Dame quarterback Joe Montana.

The Cougars seemingly had the game won in those closing seconds until the Irish came charging back and won the game on the final tick of the clock when Montana hit Kris Haines in the corner of the end zone.

The play that remains most unforgettable from the Cougar point of view however, came seconds earlier when Houston tried and failed to make a first down facing fourth and one at its own 29.

That picture of total dejection and disbelief was frozen--almost literally--in the minds of many Cougar fans, but guess what?

The Cougar football program didn't go out of business.

The Cougars are alive and well and, in fact, being chosen in some circles to once again to win the Southwest Conference championship.

But "that play" just won't completely go away.

"It goes through your mind," UH Coach Bill Yeoman said. "I'll be driving down the freeway and it'll just pop into my head. But maybe that was good for us. Maybe if we get there again, I'll have a better play to call."

The Cougars, loaded with defensive talent and the usual tribe of fleet running backs, definitely have a chance to 'get there again.' Nine defensive starters return headed by linebacker David Hodge and tackles Hosea Taylor and Leonard Mitchell.

And Yeoman vows that the UH secondary, last in the conference in pass defense last year, will be improved.

The Cougars lost 1,000 yard rushers Emmett King and Randy Love but the parade of UH running backs--is expected to continue with John Newhouse and Terald Clark. And Yeoman, who likes to platoon his backs, says backups Dallas Wiggins and David Barrett also will play.

Danny Davis and the magic he could perform at quarterback are gone but understudy Delrick Brown, who is much quicker than Davis, will step into the driver's seat.

"We shut out Texas A&M and held Arkansas to no touchdowns and Utah scored 25 points on us," Yeoman said. "That's not consistent defense. That's not the kind of football we have to play to win. We have to get substantially better and there's no reason we can't."

Yeoman says his secondary of Gerald Cook and Kenny Hatfield at the corners and safeties Elvis Bradley and Tommy Ebner will return.

conference in pass defense you can't go anywhere but up," Yeoman said. "Elvis looks like he's more serious and he's in the best physical shape ever."

"Gerald Cook will play better or else James Durham will take his place. Hatfield will play better too because we just threw him in there last year. Ebner played well last year and should do as well or better this year."

Yeoman has no worries about his quarterback. "Mechanically, Delrick has a stronger arm than Danny," Yeoman said. "But he doesn't take in the field like Danny did."

But I think we'll move the football. We'll pose a threat to a defense."

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League has a numbering system for players, as follows: Quarterbacks and kickers, 1 to 19; running backs and defensive backs, 20 to 49; linebacks, 50 to 59.

Defense Gives Texas Number 1 Nod

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A sophomore quarterback "still scratching the surface of his ability" and a defense that seems to hate even giving up a first down are the keys to Texas' football success in 1979.

Texas routed Maryland 42-0 in the Sun Bowl and was ranked No. 9 at the end of the season.

Post-game comments indicated Texas players were thinking of a national title in 1979, and Texas Football magazine has selected Texas No. 2.

Asked about the pre-season rating, Coach Fred Akers said, "The players have worked to get there, and they feel that's where they belong."

He recognizes, however, that some feel the Southwest Conference will be the strongest in the nation this year, and Texas has a rugged schedule that includes road games against five teams that were ranked in the Top 20 at the end of last season.

Texas plays No. 3 Oklahoma at Dallas, No. 10 Houston at Houston, No. 11 Arkansas at Little Rock, No. 15 Missouri at Columbia and No. 19 Texas A&M at College Station.

Texas Football predicts three of Texas' 1979 foes — Houston, Missouri and Oklahoma — will finish in the Top 10 this season.

"The schedule is as strong as we've ever had," said Akers, who is starting his third year as head coach at Texas after nine years as an assistant.

Asked if his defense has the potential to be the best he has seen at Texas, Akers said, "Yes, I think it does."

Receiving most of the attention are All-American safety Johnnie Johnson, called "Dr. Doom" by his teammates for his vicious tackling, and 250-pound tackle Steve "Incredible Hulk" McMichael.

Tackle Bill Aker, middle linebacker Lance Taylor and safety Ricky Churchman also are considered Texas defensive superstars.

Nine defensive starters return from last season, and 1977 starters Tim Campbell and Mark Martignoni could return from injuries.

One unexpected loss occurred when linebacker Bruce Scholtz dislocated an ankle in a summer softball game, an injury that could force him to miss early contests.

Other question marks are Texas' kicking game and running backs.

Russell Erxleben, the greatest punter-placekicker in Southwest Conference history, has gone on to the pros, and 170-pound speedster Rodney Tate was shifted from wide receiver to halfback for depth.

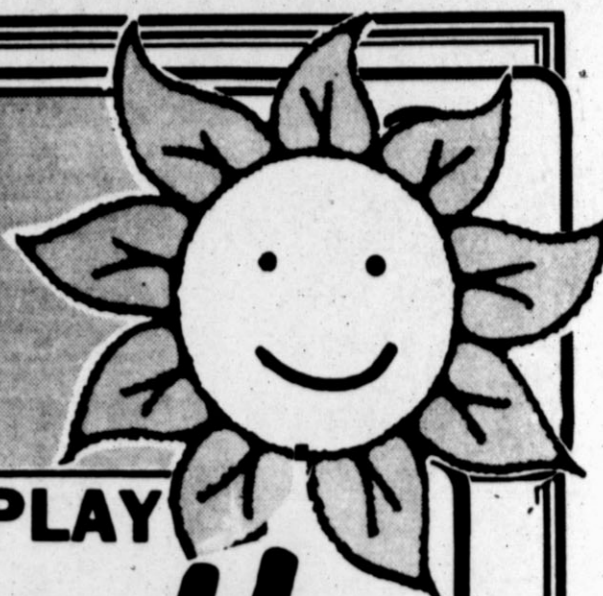

The offense is geared to quarterback Donnie Little, who had 629 yards total offense in limited play last season; leading rusher A.J. "Jam" Jones, who ran for 465 yards; all-SWC receiver Johnny "Lam" Jones; and 6-foot-6 tight end Lawrence Sampleton.

Senior center Wes Hubert, 250, and sophomore tackle Terry Tausch, 260, are the mainstays of the offensive line.

"Tausch was one of the best first-year players I've ever seen," said Akers. Either John Goodson, who punted 11 times for a 43-yard average in the spring training finale, or freshman Jeff Guy

Kerr Resigns
As U.S. Attorney

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — James Kerr, whose vigorous prosecution tactics in drug-related cases apparently provoked an assassination attempt last November, has resigned his position as an assistant U.S. attorney.

Kerr had been under 24-hour guard since he escaped a hail of automatic weapons fire in San Antonio by diving beneath the dashboard of his car. His departure was announced Wednesday by U.S. Attorney Jamie Boyd.

Boyd refused to say what kind of job Kerr had taken or where he would be living, citing "security reasons."

The attempt on Kerr's life was the first of a series of violent happenings that has thus far climaxed in Austin, where Las Vegas gambler Jimmy Chagra was convicted of drug-related "continuing criminal enterprise" Wednesday.

Kerr had been a frequent courtroom opponent of Chagra's lawyer, brother, Lee. A month after Kerr's car was riddled by bullets, Lee Chagra was shot to death in his fortress-like El Paso office during an apparent robbery attempt.

The judge who was originally to hear the case against Jimmy Chagra, John Wood Jr., was assassinated in front of his San Antonio residence last May. Like Kerr, Wood was known for tough treatment of drug offenders, earning the nickname "Maximum John" for his stiff sentences.

At the time, Chagra's attorneys called the Wood shooting. "The worst thing that could have happened to us" because of implications that might be drawn. Boyd said the attack on Kerr has caused law enforcement agencies at all levels to step up their efforts.

"We deeply regret losing his (Kerr's) services to this district, but could not stand in his way when he was offered a new position within law enforcement with substantially greater challenges," Boyd said.

Boyd's announcement caused a flurry of reaction at Austin.

Kerr had been directing a federal grand jury investigation into drug trafficking, concentrating on the El Paso area. That grand jury indicted Jimmy Chagra.

It had been widely assumed that Kerr would lead the Chagra prosecution. Boyd surprised observers by disclosing the day before the trial began that two other federal prosecutors would be in charge.

Joe Chagra, Jimmy's brother and defense attorney at the Austin trial, first said he had nothing to say about Kerr's leaving his job.

"I don't care what he does," Joe Chagra said. "I heard he had asked for assignment out of the country... that he was tired of being under guard 24 hours a day. I don't think about Kerr. I think it's a shame that our taxpayer's money is being spent to guard him 24 hours a day."

Jimmy Chagra said, "I got nothing against Kerr. What's Kerr ever done to me?"

An assistant U.S. attorney at the Austin trial, who asked not to be identified, was asked why Kerr might have left the federal prosecutor's ranks. "Still scared, I guess," he said.

Newsmagazines Flop,
According to Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Television-watchers who might have preferred something new on the tube had sports and the networks' newsmagazines to choose from during the week ending Aug. 12. They apparently preferred reruns, figures from the A.C. Nielsen Co. show.

ABC's "20-20" finished 24th in the ratings, and "Prime Time Sunday" on NBC tied for 37th place, with a repeat of CBS' "White Shadow."

CBS' "60 Minutes," on the other hand, did comparably better with repeat segments — a tie for 16th place.

CBS grabbed the first five places in the networks' prime-time ratings race with repeats, including "The Jeffersons" in first place and "Alice" in second.

ABC, meanwhile, listed 10 of the next 15 programs ranked, and won the networks' competition for the third week in a row.

The rating for the No. 1 show was 24.7. Nielsen says that means of all the homes in the country with television, nearly a quarter saw the program.

ABC's strength through the middle and lack of shows at the bottom paid off in a rating for the week of 15.9. The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 15.9 percent of the homes in the country with television were watching ABC.

CBS listed three of the week's five least-watched programs, including a movie, "Mixed Company," in 59th place. "Stockard Channing in Just Friends" in 62nd and a previously broadcast "CBS Reports" documentary on mental health in 63rd.

Here are the week's top-rated programs:

"The Jeffersons," with a rating of 24.7 representing 18.4 million homes. "Alice," 24.5 or 18.3 million. "One Day at a Time," 23.2 or 17.3 million. "WKRP in Cincinnati," 22.6 or 16.8 million, and "M-A-S-H," 22.2 or 16.5 million, all CBS; "Charlie's Angels," 21.7 or 16.2 million, and "Vegas," 21.6 or 16.1 million, both ABC; "Three's Company," ABC, and "Lou Grant," CBS, both 21.1 or 15.7 million, and "Barney Miller" and "Carter Country," both 20.9 or 15.6 million, both ABC.

Depicting Tragedy

Sculptor Pamela Harr is shown here working on the clay model of a grief-stricken Narcissa Whitman upon discovery of her drowned daughter, as a young woman and child pose for the artist. Mrs. Whitman, the first white woman to cross the Rocky Mountains, is being inducted into the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame this weekend during the annual professional all-girl rodeo. Mrs. Harr, a resident of Bozeman, Mont., will have her works here on display at the Hall of Fame during the Western Heritage Art Show and Sale, scheduled from 11 a.m.-5 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Miss Texas Prizes Valued at $30,000

[EDITORS NOTE: Should Miss Hereford Lynn Mitts win the 1980 Miss Texas USA title, she will receive $30,000 in prizes. Miss Mitts is currently in El Paso for the state pageant, which will culminate Monday with the televised finals.]

A queen's ransom? That's for sure as the prizes for the 1980 Miss Texas USA begin to gather for the young lady selected to represent the Lone Star state in the annual Miss USA Pageant.

Monday evening, August 20th will mark the fifth anniversary of the Miss Texas USA Pageant, which will be televised live throughout the state to an estimated 400,000 viewers as the 1980 Miss Texas USA is chosen, and crowned from a field of 90 statewide representatives. Along with the title, Sarah Coventry crown and traditional bouquet of red roses from Coronado Florist, one young lady from somewhere in the state of Texas will win over $30,000 in cash and prizes.

Wardrobe prizes are bountiful this year as the newly-crowned queen will receive a $5000 day wardrobe from Dillard's Department Stores, a $1000 wardrobe selection from J.H. Collectibles, $600 Bill Blass pant collection from Billy the Kid, and a $300 handbag group from Consolidated Handbag Company. She will receive two complete western outfits valued at $200 from the Shoot Out and a $800 boot selection from Tony Lama in addition to a $8000 designer gown collection from Guyrex. A special $6000 tuxedo collection from Timely Formal Wear will be given to the new Miss Texas for her future wedding plans.

The new Miss Texas USA will live in a luxury furnished apartment in El Paso valued at $3000 where she will enjoy a $480 Sealy Posturepedic queen size mattress from American Furniture Stores, a complete stereo unit from Vista Sound and a $600 Air conditioner from Passage Supply. She will receive the daily El Paso Times and El Paso Herald Post and drive a new Buick during her reign from Travis Crawford Buick-Opel while enjoying her $420 membership to the International Health Spa. She will also be gifted with an original oil painting valued at $500 by artist Kim Tomes.

A beautifully-crafted diamond ring worth $2300 designed by Chatelle Fine Jewelry will adorn the finger of Miss Teen USA and a special $1000 photographic portfolio from McBryde's Creative Photography Studio will belong to the winner. She will receive $600 worth of hair care and attention from the Hair Odyssey and a full year's hand care service valued at $500 from Nails by Angela. Helen of Troy will gift the new queen with a $400 collection of hair dryers and curling irons with a special $300 wig selection to be given by House of Wigs.

The new Miss Texas will travel to the annual Miss USA Pageant next spring in Biloxi, Mississippi, courtesy of Adventure World Travel Agency. She will take a five week Tour of Texas in conjunction with Dillard's and enjoy a $2500 Hawaii trip where she will be the special guest at the Miss Hawaii USA Pageant.

Last but not least, the young lady chosen will receive a $3000 personal cash appearance fee with a special $1000 cash scholarship from Wendy's. Contestants arrive in El Paso for the competition on August 13th and will enjoy a full week of activities culminating August 18th with the Preliminary Competition. Guyrex Associates of El Paso are sponsors of the event.

To Display Bronzes

Bronze sculptor Leona Tidd of Wickenburg, Ariz., will be exhibiting her works here during the Western Heritage Art Show and Sale, which will be open to the public tomorrow and Saturday in the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame. Mrs. Tidd often uses gem-quality turquoise and silver on her bronze pieces. Her favorite subjects are the Navajo Indians, particularly the women and children. Her husband, Ray, is also a sculptor.

Ann Landers

Mistaken Relationships

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been beside myself with anxiety since this stupid incident occurred two days ago. I work in a small, one-girl office and have been divorced for two years. Last week we had an office party to celebrate five years in business. My boss' wife was present-along with several other people. This is what happened:

I asked my boss, as a gag, if I could sit in his chair. I turned my head and patted him on what I thought was his back. Suddenly I realized it was not his back I was patting--it was his behind. I could feel my face turn red and didn't know what to do; so I acted as if nothing happened.

I know his wife saw it all because she was standing right beside him. I don't know if she realizes it as inadvertent or if she thinks we are fooling around.

They have what appears to be a very good marriage. I have a friendly relationship with my boss, but it's strictly business.

My question is this: Should I tell his wife how embarrassed I am or keep quiet?—Extremely

Upset
DEAR UP: Keep quiet. He who excuses himself accuses himself.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I need someone who can be objective. I can't. Mostly I feel guilty because I wasn't a better wife. I am filled with rage. I was married to a handsome man, very outgoing and well liked. I was just the opposite. I let "Dick" know I was doing him a favor when I accommodated him sexually, because I never got anything out of it. I did "bedroom duty" when he asked, but as the years went by he asked less and less.

Three months ago, after 28 years of marriage (no children), "Dick" died suddenly of a heart attack. I learned last week that he had kept a mistress. The woman was an executive in a large firm. I'm sure the affair was one of long standing.

The way I found out about it was strange. I discovered a key in my husband's wallet. It had an address tag attached, so I went to see where it led. When I walked into a love nest, I was shocked. No one was at home--so I looked around. I found receipts for gifts he had bought her and letters he had written when he was away on trips. His pictures were all over the place.

I didn't touch a thing--just left. The woman has no idea I was there. Now I am torn between wanting to tear her hair out for stealing what belonged to me, and tearing out my own hair for being so blind.

"Dick's" mother is still living, and I don't want to ruin his reputation. What should I do?—No Identity Please

DEAR NO I.D.: Do nothing. Say nothing. It's a fall order, but no good would come of exposing the past.

If you need to vent your anger (or expiate your feelings of guilt), talk to a professional counselor--preferably a person who did not know "Dick" or you.

DEAR ANN: I just read that a new method of birth control is being tried in Rome. It is hypnosis. According to one doctor who specializes in this technique, he hypnotized 100 women and not a single one of them got pregnant. Please comment.—Big Q

DEAR BIG Q: I would not depend on this technique unless I loved children and wanted a large family.

Nutrition Workshop Planned Sept. 8-9

4-H Foods and Nutrition leaders from Deaf Smith County are encouraged to attend a September 8 and 9 weekend workshop at the Texas 4-H Center near Brownwood.

Assistant County Extension Agent Agnes Taylor notes that the workshop will include a wide variety of 4-H foods and nutrition project helps for teen and adult leaders. Topics to be covered are: Teaching Methods; Weight Control; Conditioning Exercises; Method Demonstrations; Food Show Preparation; Record Books; and Recreation.

Instructors for this workshop are: Mrs. Mary K. Sweeten, Extension Foods and Nutrition Specialist, College Station; Iris Kalich, Area 4-H and Youth Specialist, San Angelo; and other 4-H Adult and Teen Volunteer Leaders who have successful experiences in 4-H Foods and Nutrition activities.

For further information and registration details, those interested in participating may contact Mrs. Taylor at the Deaf Smith County Extension Office located on the third floor of the Courthouse or phone 364-3573.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

TIRE COSTS

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 30 million passenger-car tires were retreaded in the United States in 1978, according to the Tire Retread Information Bureau.

In all, one out of five replacement passenger car tires is a retread.

The cost of a retreaded tire can be as much as 50 to 70 percent the cost of an equivalent new tire. However, prices vary from region to region. One major factor is the availability of retreadable worn tire casings. Prices are generally lower where casings are readily available, industry sources report.

Memorial Services Conducted At Lodge

Thirteen members were present at the regular meeting of Hereford Rebekah Lodge #228 Tuesday evening at IOOF Temple.

Noble Grand Helen Sowell presided at the business session. Ailing members and friends were reported and cards signed for mailing.

Members who will be attending "Under the Stars" initiation ceremonies at Clovis, N.M., Saturday were asked to meet at the home of Ursalee Jacobsen, 115 Oak Street at 4:15 p.m. Saturday.

A memorial service was observed and the charter draped for in memory of Ophelia Carnes. Lydia Hopson was in charge of the service.

All members are urged to be present at the next meeting when initiation ceremony will be held.

Verna Sowell was hostess to Helen Sowell, Anna Conklin, Bessie Sauley, Ursalee Jacobsen, Ada Hollabaugh, Lydia Hopson, Gladys Evaris, Martha Bridges, Leona Sowell, Peggy Lemons, Faye Brownlow and Susie Curtsinger.

Live Models!

Officers Installed By Newcomers Club

Carolyn Canon, ending her term as president of Hereford Newcomers Club, expressed appreciation to members and fellow officers Tuesday during a luncheon meeting at the Country Club.

Suzy Curtsinger then conducted the installation of new officers for the 1979-80 year. She presented each incoming officer with a card identifying the vitamin necessary for proper discharge of her duties. (See photograph for new slate of officers)

Welcomed as guests were Jeanne Mehlberg of West Lafayette, Ind., the mother of club member Marge Mehlberg; Joy Matthews of Oregon and Debbie Haney of Corpus Christi, both employees of Hereford State Bank.

It was announced that the immediate past officers and newly-installed officers will be meeting at 2 p.m. Friday in the home of the president, Brenda Campbell. The women will outline new programs for the coming club year.

It was reported that Gracie Conner, retiring treasurer, is moving to Temple, where her address will be 3006 Arrowhead Ave.

Any newcomers to the area who are interested in joining this club are invited to contact the president, Brenda Campbell, at 364-8145, or Donna Mandina, 364-6412 or 364-5563.

Newcomer Officers

Missionary Couple To Work In Colombia

GLORIETTA, N.M. -- Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. White were among 34 persons named missionaries by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board at its August meeting at Glorieta (N.M.) Baptist Conference Center.

As missionary associates, the Whites will work in Colombia, where he will be a religious literature coordinator and bookstore manager and she will be a church and home worker. He is an accountant for a Hereford accounting firm. They are members of Temple Baptist church.

Born in Grady, N.M. White also lived in Clovis, N.M., while growing up. Mrs. White, the former Kay Garrison, was born in Tulia, and also lived in Silverton.

They attended Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, where he received the bachelor and master of business administration degrees and she received the bachelor of science degree. They also attended Clovis Community College and Western Texas State University, Canyon. She received the master of education degree from Texas Woman's University, Denton.

White farmed for several years in Grady. He was also an accountant for another Hereford accounting company and for a Friona accounting company.

Mrs. White was a secretary-bookkeeper for Grady Public Schools and has held several teaching positions in the Hereford schools.

They have a grown daughter and son, Ruth and Ryan, and a daughter, Sharon, born in 1967. They will go to Pine Mountain, Ga., in September for a 14-week orientation before leaving for the field.

A missionary associate is a person between 35 and 59 employed for a renewable four-year term to do a particular job for which he is uniquely equipped by his education and experience.

A reception will be held for the White's Sunday at Temple Baptist Church following the evening services, with guest speaker Ben. Mieth of World Evangelism Foundation in Dallas.

During morning services guest speaker Morris Cobb of Amarillo, a representative of the Foreign Mission Board will present a message to the congregation.

Friends and other interested persons are invited to attend this special day of music and testimonies.

Eastern Star Welcomes Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bairfield of Clarendon were guests of the local chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Tuesday night during the regular business meeting in the Masonic Temple.

Bairfield, past grand worthy patron of OES, discussed the organization and reminisced about his wife's grandmother.

Mollie Gray, who was worthy grand matron in 1906-07, Mrs. Gray served on the original committee which procured land near Arlington for the Eastern Star Home. The Bairfields are members of Clarendon OES Post #6.

In other business Tuesday, members were invited to attend a salad supper on Sept. 13 at Littlefield. Also, it was agreed to observe the birthday of Rob Morris, founder of the Order of Eastern Star, with a supper party on Aug. 24 at the home of Dorothy Noland.

Mrs. Mildred Lewis was named to replace Sadie Shaw on the telephone committee. A special introduction was given to Bernard Roberson, who is a member of the Masonic Strength Committee on the state level.

Serving as hostesses to the 26 members present were Mrs. Ed Hartley, Marilyn Muse, Mrs. Ted Sumner and Mrs. Bob Thuet.

Serving as organist was King's Manor resident Katie Price, who holds membership in OES Post #161 at Perryton.

The U.S. birth rate dropped from 25.1 per 1,000 population to 14.8 in the 50 years between 1925 and 1975.

MAMA CAT

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Venus, a black cat, is nursing five babies.

Three are female kittens she gave birth to at the Oregon Humane Society. Two are female puppies who became her babies when they were brought to the society.

With no nursing dogs in residence, the society staff gave the two puppies to Venus, who graciously accepted them.

Venus and her five babies now live at the home of Mardi Jacob, a humane society volunteer and field director of Pet Pride of Oregon, an organization of cat enthusiasts.

On the first day of school, all the teachers in one school received the following note from their principal:

Dear Teacher:

I am a survivor of a concentration camp. My eyes saw what no man should witness:

Gas chambers built by leafed engineers.

Children poisoned by educated physicians.

Infants killed by trained nurses.

Women and babies shot and burned by high school and college graduates.

So, I am suspicious of education.

My request is: Help your students become human. Your efforts must never produce learned monsters, skilled psychopaths, educated Eichmanns.

Reading, writing, arithmetic are important only if they serve to make our children more humane.

The solution to education's basic problems may just be more conscientious students, teachers, parents--everyone in the school's community.

(Next week--Homework)

To Be Honored

Mr. and Mrs. O.C. Cummings of 510 Ave. K will be honored with a family dinner in their home this evening. The Cummings are celebrating their 65th wedding anniversary. The couple had nine children, five of whom are surviving: Lois McDermitt of Hereford, Mrs. Raymond Dement and Mrs. Viola Williamson, both of Amarillo, Mrs. Ernest Neff of McAllen and Floyd Cummings of Lander, Wyo. There are 22 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren. Annie Mullin and O.C. Cummings were married in Hereford on Aug. 16, 1914. They have resided here since 1944. Cummings, who is a retired millwright, and his wife are members of Central Church of Christ.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

This country's next war will not be fought between nations on a foreign battleground. It'll be a civil war fought in a yard between neighbors.

For some reason we can have compassion for a cat caught in a tree, or a lost dog, or a bird that has fallen from a nest. But we have none for the man trying to sleep in on a Sunday morning.

Take the case of poor Mrs. Holmes from York, England. She lived next door to a "menace" who was doing repairs and renovations on his home from 7:30 to 11:30 every single evening. When he began to build a closet on the other side of the wall, she and her husband had to move out of their bedroom.

When they returned, he started doing the same thing in another bedroom.

Mrs. Holmes appealed to the police, the local government and a citizens' advice bureau. Finally, she did what she had to do. She threw a brick through his window.

All of us have had a "brick wish" at one time or another. How about one for the teenager who has insomnia and deaf parents and who works on his car in the wee hours of the morning, stopping every 15 seconds or so to race the motor?

Or the travelers who have made a trench in your yard by shuffling back and forth between the houses.

Or the party-throwers who amplify music in their back yard and inflict their taste on everyone in the neighborhood.

The borrowers who are going to quit cutting grass someday, but until they do will borrow your mower, lawn sweeper, hose, and fertilizer.

The dog people who do not hold themselves responsible for their dog getting into your garbage or tearing up your flower beds.

The scenic wonders who have had two junk cars sitting in their side yard for three years and never consider that they're an eyesore.

There doesn't have to be a war. It takes people who stop thinking about themselves and have a little consideration for their neighbors, and hopefully the example will be returned.

Incidentally, Mrs. Holmes...the lady who threw the brick...was set free by the judge.

Inflation Deflates Older Home Insurance

COLLEGE STATION — Can your home insurance match today's inflated prices -- if you have to replace your property?

Be sure to insure your home up to at least 80 percent of its replacement value, cautions Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist.

Mrs. McCormack is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Many people who've failed to increase their homeowner's insurance coverage over the years would be unable to handle replacement costs on their house or its furnishings in today's market, she says.

For example, a home built in an average community in 1970 for $25,000 could cost $48,000 to build today.

Replacement costs on older homes are even more startling, she adds.

To update your home, consult a real estate broker or insurance agent--or, for a fee, a contractor or an appraiser.

That will keep your property out of inflation's "tornado-like path," she says.

Charlemagne, founder of the Holy Roman Empire in the 9th century, is said to have been 8 feet tall.

The covenant of the League of Nations was unanimously accepted in 1919 by the delegates of 42 countries.

Fans Cut Utility Bill

COLLEGE STATION — Toss out your air conditioner and cool off with fans?

Absurd? Not if you want to slash your utility bill in half in some Texas areas.

Air conditioning accounts for up to 50 percent of all home energy used in some areas of Texas, says Dr. Jane Berry, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

Fans save money, and they provide comfort, she says.

You can use them as "helpers" to your air-conditioning system--or in place of it.

Dr. Berry is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Here are two types of fans to start with--in deciding which will do the best job in your home:

CIRCULATING FANS

Circulating the air inside the home makes you feel cooler because it speeds up evaporation of moisture from the skin. These fans "help" air conditioning--or work alone.

Fans for this job include standard table-top fans, "box" fans that sit on the floor or a flat, steady surface, and the old-time ceiling fan.

VENTILATING FANS

Use ventilating fans without air conditioning--they need open windows.

Fans that ventilate do two things: they exhaust hot, stagnant indoor air to the outdoors, and they bring cooler outside air into the house.

They're most effective at night--or at times when outdoor air is cooler than air inside the home.

To use a ventilating fan, place it in an open window and seal up space around it. Also, shut windows near it for maximum drawing power. Then open a few windows on the opposite side of the area to be ventilated--that may be just one room or the entire house.

WHY FANS?

Texas is rediscovering the fan.

Many Texas residents already report that using the "right" fan lets them run air conditioners at higher settings--or simply turn them off--and still stay comfortable.

Research says that a fan makes an air-conditioned room feel six to eight degrees cooler.

Fans use only about 150 watts of electricity or less, while a typical room air conditioner uses about 860 watts.

COLLEGE STATION — Best buys at Texas grocery markets include poultry, pork, some produce and several "specials," according to Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist.

"Specials" appear on a variety of canned fruits and vegetables, pasta products, tuna fish and salmon--along with dairy products, she reports.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

POULTRY — Both whole fryers and parts have low prices, while turkeys have moderate prices.

Egg prices remain at bargain levels.

PORK — Supplies are plentiful and prices are down.

Pay special attention to Boston butt roasts, end and mixed chops, boneless hams, bacon and liver.

FRESH FRUITS — Most economical items are bananas, nectarines, peaches, grapes, plums, cantaloupes and watermelons.

In choosing cantaloupe, notice the larger sizes have the best quality.

FRESH VEGETABLES — Budget items include potatoes--a real bargain, along with green beans, cabbage, carrots, corn and soft-shell squash.

Also, purple hull and blackeye peas and okra.

DAIRY — "Specials" appear on milk, half-and-half, sour cream, yogurt and several cheeses, including cottage cheese.

BEEF — Beef prices are staying at the same level, but there are some features, especially on chuck roast and steaks, ground beef and liver.

Everyone has a fried chicken recipe. Only the Colonel has the Original Recipe.

What can you get at Kentucky Fried Chicken that you can't get from any other fried chicken store?

The Colonel's Original Recipe. This is the way Colonel Sanders himself first started making fried chicken. And no one's topped him yet.

No wonder. His Original Recipe chicken is made with a secret blend of 11 herbs and spices. Then pressure fried (not deep fried) tender and juicy. All the way through.

Of course, some of our customers take a fancy to our Extra Crispy chicken. So crisp on the outside. Tender on the inside.

Which is your favorite? The Original Recipe or Extra Crispy? Take these money saving coupons to a participating store and try 'em both. (On Saturday and Sunday, save money on a complete meal for the whole family with our "Weekend Special" coupon.)

Outdated citizens' lobby?

WASHINGTON (NEA) - Has Common Cause, with its persistent demand for more open and honest government, become outdated?

Some capital observers say yes, that what former Vice President Spiro Agnew dubbed the "post-Watergate morality" has run its course and that the Common Cause advocates have lost favor in the halls of government.

Not surprisingly, Common Cause leaders contend their influence remains high as the organization prepares for its second decade.

The truth lies somewhere between. Common Cause is having trouble attaining many of its goals and has offended some of its former allies, but it remains a respected force not only in Washington but in many state capitals as well.

Founded by John Gardner in 1970, Common Cause based its early success on an appeal to citizens fed up with government — and especially by Vietnam and Watergate. Rather than propose solutions to immediate problems, it typically has tried to change the way government operates so that it more effectively meets public concerns.

Gardner once said Common Cause focuses on "the things that we think of as the problems behind the problems," such as responsive government, accountability of public officials and an open process. Although he has retired as its chairman, Gardner and his ideas still hold major influence at Common Cause.

The group may have reached the zenith of its popularity and influence with the resignation in 1974 of Richard Nixon and the efforts during the next year or two to make both the presidency and Congress more democratic in their operation and less vulnerable to the appeals of special-interest groups.

Among Common Cause's major successes have been federal and state open-meetings laws and campaign reforms reducing maximum contributions to a candidate and providing public disclosure of campaign financing.

In the past few years, however, Common Cause has met repeated frustrations. To no avail, it has backed several proposals in Congress, including a new lobbying law, periodic "sunset" review of all federal programs and public financing of congressional campaigns. Both the Senate and House have become more skeptical of the benefits of full disclosure and limitations on interest groups.

Seething resentment of Common Cause and its techniques recently came to the fore when the organization issued a press release claiming that more than $1 million in political contributions from the real-estate industry had paid off in the House's defeat of a proposal for new federal powers to discipline fraudulent land developers. The statement listed all lawmakers who received the campaign money and showed how they voted on the issue.

Rep. Olympia J. Snowe, a first-term Republican from Maine, admitted she had received real-estate contributions but said she did not know of the industry's interest in the legislation until the Common Cause attack. She blasted the "blind and vicious attack on the collective integrity of the members of the House" and said such claims breed public skepticism, mistrust and disillusionment with government. Other legislators called for a Common Cause apology.

Fred Wertheimer, Common Cause's chief lobbyist, stood by the earlier statement and said the organization will continue to study the link between campaign gifts and legislative actions. "The numbers are very powerful in showing the strong impact of money in politics," he said.

Common Cause's membership has dropped from 300,000 at the peak of Watergate to about 225,000. But Wertheimer is proud of the contributions Common Cause has made during the 1970s and is confident it will have more success during the 1980s in upgrading the citizen's role in government. In addition, he predicts closer examination of government performance. The "citizens' lobby" has reached maturity. But it likely will find increasing difficulty determining the "common cause" on many issues.

QUOTE/UNQUOTE

What people are saying...

"It is, rather, part of the 'baggage of sexual stereotypes'... that presumes the father has the 'primary responsibility to provide a home and its essentials,' while the mother is the 'center of home and family life.'"

— Justice Harry Blackmun, writing for the Supreme Court, affirming a lower court decision that a section of the Social Security Act based on gender is unconstitutional.

"I've told him he's at the final crossroads." — George Steinbrenner, owner of the New York Yankees, discussing the rehiring of fiery manager Billy Martin, who recently took over from Bob Lemon in another controversial shake-up. Sports Illustrated.

"They seem to enjoy working in company, there's an affiliation between them of some sort that's hard to explain."

— Howard S. Curtis of the Massachusetts' Hull Aquarium, talking about dolphins being trained to swim with cameras on their backs. It's part of a planned expedition to Scotland to locate the Loch Ness monster.

"Certainly." — Crown Prince Fahd of Saudi Arabia, asked if his country would make formal peace and help guarantee Mideast stability if Israel were to withdraw to pre-1967 borders.

"The rhetoric against housework tends to ignore the rewards of child care, community involvement and civic activities, all of which make homemaking a very viable way to enhance feelings of self-worth."

— Alfreda F. Iglehart, of the University of Michigan Survey Research Center, discussing a study of more than 700 women. It found that despite enjoying their roles, homemakers may feel guilty because of the feminist emphasis on fulfillment through outside work.

"Even for New York, this is crazy."

— A New York City cab driver observing the 200-car gas lines that spurred the city's Automobile Club for the first time to advise motorists to stay home.

"There is a direct relationship between the amount of paraquat inhaled and the extent and severity of lung damage that results."

— HEW Secretary Joseph Califano, concluding that the herbicide used to kill marijuana in Mexico is a serious health hazard.

"In the last 20 years, we have lost one million acres of cropland annually. At this rate, by the year 2000, we will have lost enough farmland to annually feed the combined populations of Sweden, Norway, Finland, Denmark and Belgium."

— Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wisc., worrying about the loss of American farmland to non-agricultural development. He is sponsoring the Farmland Preservation Act.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The results of a Texas Monthly poll on Gov. Bill Clements and the Texas Legislature are in: they include good news, bad news and one real surprise.

The good news, at least for the Governor, is that over 60 percent of the persons interviewed believe Clements was effective in influencing the Legislature and the federal government. Almost 49 percent rated Clements as "good or very good" overall.

The bad news, at least for the lawmakers, is that only about 40 percent of the respondents rated the Legislature as "good or very good." House Speaker Bill Clayton did better than his House colleagues, receiving 50 percent approval for his leadership, while Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby was thought to be "very good" by about 46 percent.

The surprise? When asked what issues should be brought up in a special session, voters overwhelmingly preferred "energy." The much-mentioned issues such as initiative and referendum, presidential primary, and more tax reduction did not even score in the double digits, while energy was thought important by 50 percent of those questioned.

Will energy be included in the Governor's promised special session in 1980? State Rep. Dan Kubiak, advocate of gasoline and other alternative energies, asked Clements to include "rapid development of alternative energy" at a press conference in June. The Rockdale legislator said he has received encouragement but no commitment from the Governor's Office on the issue.

The poll also showed: —Most Texans, 64 percent, prefer a "same day" presidential preference primary.

—Over 50 percent of the voters disapprove of the actions of the 12 state senators called the "Killer Bees" who fled the Senate to defeat a separate primary bill.

—A majority of Texans, 54 percent, feel a consumer should not be able to sue a seller for more than a defective product costs, thought by some to indicate voter approval of recent amendments to the Consumer Protection Act.

—A whopping 76 percent disapprove of the recently-passed law increasing home mortgage loan rates.

—Sixty-two percent favor initiative and referendum powers for voters.

The recent 5.1 percent pay hike for teachers was thought to be too low by 54 percent of the respondents.

White Criticizes Wiretapping

Clements' wish to include a broadened wiretapping bill in the special session received a rap last week from the state's top attorney.

Texas Attorney General Mark White issued a detailed and negative critique of Clements' plan to legalize wiretaps, saying it "poses serious potential for abuse of Texas citizens' civil liberties."

White said the proposal does not require actual surveillance to be conducted by a certified law enforcement officer, an oversight he fears "represents a real threat for potential abuse."

White's criticisms were made in a letter to State Rep. Lynn Nabers, chairman of the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee now studying the wiretapping bill.

The Speaker's Race

While Speaker Clayton appears to be getting no opposition en route to an unprecedented fourth term as head of the House, several representatives are already tossing their hats into the ring for the 1983 race, when Clayton says he will step down.

Last week Rep. Jerry Donaldson of Gatesville and Rep. John Bryant of Dallas, both Democrats, filed campaign reports for Clayton's seat with secretary of state's office. Donaldson is highly regarded as a member of the "speaker's team" while Bryant is equally well thought of as leader of the "loyal opposition."

Other representatives with campaign reports already filed are Tom Uher of Bay City and John Wilson of La Grange.

Food Stamp Dining

A new twist is being tried on food stamps: a six-month experiment letting senior citizens use their food stamps in restaurants.

The experiment begins

Oct. 1 in three Texas cities: Houston-Galveston, Austin and Abilene.

To contract for the Senior Dine Out program, a restaurant must offer balanced, nutritious meals at no more than $2.50 and cannot specialize in take-out service. If the plan works, it will be expanded to the rest of the state.

State welfare officials withheld for several months a report citing numerous violations at a child-care center operated by Dallas Rep. Clay Smothers. It was reported last week.

Smothers confirmed he had asked a human resources department official this spring to delay the report until the legislation session ended. He and other legislators were considering the department's budget at the time the request was made.

20TH CENTURY BOSTON (AP) — The exhibition "20th Century Drawings from Massachusetts Collections" is on view through Sept. 2 at the Institute of Contemporary Art.

The show contains over 100 drawings. The institute says it "provides an opportunity both to enjoy rarely seen works of such classics of the 20th century as Picasso, Klee, Gorky, Beckmann, Leger and Kline as well as to examine the efforts of more recent artists."

Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the throne of Austria, was assassinated with his wife in the Bosnian capital of Sarajevo in 1914. The assassin was a young Bosnian revolutionary organization called The Black Hand. The Vienna government sent an ultimatum to Serbia, demanding, among other things, prosecution of those responsible, but Serbia's response was evasive. Austria declared war on Serbia a month later, and the First World War began.

THE STATE OF TEXAS TO: Edwin Morrison, Jr. Defendant. Greeting: YOU (AND EACH OF YOU) ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the District Court of Deaf Smith County at the Courthouse thereof, in Hereford, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 26th day of September A.D. 1979, to Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court, on the 21st day of February A.D. 1979, in this cause, numbered DC-8896 on the docket of said court and styled Bill Chandler, Plaintiff, vs. Edwin Morrison, Jr., Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: A suit for the collection of a promissory note executed by Defendant to Plaintiff on April 5, 1978 in the original principal sum of $16,100.00, having a balance due of $7,481.12. Said suit seeks recovery of the balance due on said note, interest thereon, attorney's fees and costs of court.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law directs.

Witness Lola Faye Veazey, Clerk of the District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas.

Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said court at Hereford Deaf Smith County, Texas, this 14th day of August, A.D. 1979.

Lola Faye Veazey Clerk, District Court Deaf Smith County, Texas. By Ruth Lueb, Deputy. Th-32-4c
