Lovers of sportsmanship can
but applaud the action of Geo.
Mitchell who normally would have made the highest grade for boys in the senior class and been rewarded with a scholarship in A. & M. College. Due to circumstances George could not go to college next year, but Robert Bell,
who was trailing him in second place, was in position to avail himself of the opportunity if the eligibility were his.

Though not as serious as that of the old Pythagorean boys, Damon and Pythias, here was a situation in which the human element could show at its best. Pythias had been condemned to death but desired a short leave of absence before execution. Damon, his friend, gave himself to the authorities and pledged his life in forfeit should Pythias not return. Pythias came back on time, but there was no execution. The ruler, Dionysius, was so touched by the pure friendship shown that he granted a full pardon to the condemned youth.

Here were George and Robert,
just two ordinary American boys coming to the end of their high school days. With only the usual preparation for the final examination, highest scholastic honors would belong to George, but his reward was something he could not make use of in a practical way.
His friend, Robert, could con-

Nineteen Years Ago In Hereford

(From the Files of The Brand,
May 31, 1912.)

The first alfalfa to be grown here by irrigation had been cut on the McDonald farm, the yield running from one-half to three-quarters of a ton to the acre.

W. Elmer Dameron had announced for re-election to the office of county attorney. He had been elected in 1910, while attending school, without making an effort.

Harvey Cash, member of the school board, gave diplomas to Ulric Clifton, Louis Boyd, Willie
Boyd, Nellie Turner and Luna Turner, high school graduates at Dimmitt.

veniently use the A. & M. College scholarship. The superintendent was asked if he could certify the second man,
but he is an upright, conscientious schoolman and citizen, and though the motive was honorable he naturally declined to falsify the record.

The finals were held, averages struck and George had dropped from first to second and Robert had advanced to first, gaining the scholarship.
What happened? All papers were graded correctly; instructors veered not a jot in having to the line of giving only what was coming and not taking away what belonged.

It is strongly suspected that one young man whom the people have just congratulated and in whom pride has been expressed took steps to measure up as worthy. In the terms of one who knew little grammar but something else, he
"seen his duty and done it".
It is believed that George Mitchell saw it his duty to forget the answers to some questions and proceeded to forget.

Mitchell's average went down
—down enough for Bell's grades to take him into first place. The scholastic honor was deliberately sacrificed, and we know that was not easy to do. Honors are the highest rewards sought by men. Many give away money, but few doff their honors to another.
There is nothing even to the American presidency except honor—and death from the grip and squeeze of an unre-lentant strain.

If there is anything in the law of compensation, and our best leaders of all time, including Christ, have taught that such a law exists in God's plan; life bears it out: the story of Damon and Pythias illustrated it, then we can but believe that George Mitchell has cast bread upon the waters that will come back to him
some day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shannon of Beaumont came Friday for a visit with homefolks. Mrs. Shannon was formerly Miss LaJuana Hanna

from old friends and acquaintances.

One of the largest cattle ranches remaining intact was the Green Valley ranch of 32 sections, located on Tierra Blanca creek and beginning seven miles east of Hereford. It was owned by Chas. E.
Harding, Chicago. Albert D. Smith was foreman and he had ten assistants.

with a land company in Fyona.

each.

books and it is hoped that many of the children will complete reading for their state reading certificates. Ella has received here this week for the term's reading.
Miss Hostetler seemed especially interested in our Texas Scrap Book which we have worked on for a year and shall give to the library
after the exhibit in Amarillo.
Walcott school is the only school thus far to receive a certificate of standardization from the State Department this year. This triumph comes after a hard year's work by both pupils and teacher in getting our score raised over 700
points to receive first class rating.
The school has also certificates of registration from the American Tree Planting association for the several trees planted on the school ground and to be dedicated to the George Washington Bicentennial.

Seen On the Screen at the Star

Thursday night is the last chance for movie fans to see "Her Man". This will also be gift night, when ladies are complimented with valuable presents when admitted on a paid ticket and accompanied by an adult paid ticket.

There is only one finish for racketeers, a quick one. They may go on their sensational careers for a while but they always come up against other gangsters or the law. That is illustrated in "The Last Parade", which comes to the Star Friday and Saturday. Jack Holt and Constance Cummins play leading roles.

That galloping, yip-yipping, sure-shooting son of the cactus belt, Jack Oakie, will ride across the silver-sheet at the Star next Monday and Tuesday and thereby hangs a tale. There is a comedy plot in "Dude Ranch". The activity around the ranch keeps the guests in a round of excitement and gives the audience plenty of uproarious mirth.

Coming June 15, 16 and 17 is one of the few big pictures of the year. It is "Trader Horn" and needs little advance notice. The

An Appreciation.

I want to say a word in appreciation of the late Judge J. E. Ferguson.

It was not my privilege to know Bro. Ferguson during his young productive days, but I did visit him many times in his declining health while he was yet a citizen of Hereford.

In fact, the first visit I made after coming to this church was with him. Though he was in failing health at that time, his reception of the new pastor was most cordial. He wished for the church and me a long period of happy, useful service together.

Bro. Ferguson was a charter member of the First Baptist church here, and it is with deep regret that we have to mark "deceased" by his name, but we are thankful to God that we had fellowship with this honored, useful, Christian man.

V. M. CLOYD,

Pastor First Baptist Church, Hereford, Texas.

story is taken from a remarkable book which became a best-seller overnight. It sets a precedent for the unusual and thrilling. The setting is in Africa and has to do with Aloysius Horn, trader among the natives.

Marlin Gilliland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Gilliland, arrived home Sunday night from Horner Institute, Kansas City, Missouri, where he has been enrolled the past year as a student.

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Hornbeak have moved to Huntsville where they will make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Texie Jackson.

Card of Thanks.

Our friends and former neighbors were so interested and showed us so much kindness during the recent illness of our son, Martin, in the hospital at Hereford that we wish to thank them publicly and express our deep appreciation.

While our son was recovering in the hospital from an operation, there were dozens of callers each day, many flowers were brought to the sick room, and homes were opened to us in Hereford that we might be near him. We acknowledge our gratitude for this fine spirit of helpfulness.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Stewart.

VOL. I. MAY 21, 1931. NO. 2

Panhandle Lumber Co. Hereford, Texas.

D. H. ALEXANDER, Mgr.

He: It's a cinch nowadays to get married.

Her: What do you mean, cinch?

Him: Well, all you got to do is find a bigger fool than yourself.

She: Then how is it you are single?

You must be working with the purchase, not only at the time of the sale, but long after the merchandise itself is forgotten. The merchandise we sell must please you now and always.

It was the first time the baseball player had ever played golf. He hit one straight down the fairway, then shouted, "Which way shall I run?"

The way to judge a business is by its customers. Judge us by ours.

"It is dangerous to kiss girls who are reducing, because their resistance is low," said a noted dentist. And, we might add, it is even more dangerous to kiss a girl whose resistance is high.

Rental for the space we occupy on earth is paid by service. By giving unlimited service we are trying to pay our rent.

Mr. T. F. Bohanan is building a six-room brick veneer residence northwest of town. Buckner, Lambert & Hicks have the contract. Panhandle Lumber Company is furnishing the material.

The opportunity of meeting so many fine people is one of the best things about LUMBER business.

He: Before I was married I could have kissed you to death. Now I wish I had.

"Thank you" are two words that have been continuously advancing civilization since gratitude and appreciation first became known—and in this business of ours those are the two words that always go with every purchase made here.

The expression "what's say" has become as tiresome as "listen" and "see".

We need you in our business. Come in and let's get acquainted.

JESUS IN GETHESEMANE

Luke 22:39-52

39. And he came out, and went, as his custom was, unto the mount of Olives; and the disciples also followed him.

40. And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation.

41. And he was parted from them about a stone's cast; and he kneeled down and prayed.

42. Saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me; nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done.

43. And there appeared unto him an angel from heaven, strengthening him.

44. And being in an agony, he prayed more earnestly; and his sweat became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the ground.

45. And when he rose up from his prayer, he came unto the disciples and found them sleeping for sorrow.

46. And said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, that ye enter not into temptation.

47. While he yet spake, beyond a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them; and he drew near unto Jesus to kiss him.

48. But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?

49. And when they that were about saw what would follow, they said, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?

50. And a certain one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and struck off his right ear.

51. But Jesus answered and said, Suffer me them thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him.

52. And Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and elders that were come against him, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves?

53. When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched not forth your hands against me; but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

54. And they seized him, and led him away, and brought him into the high priest's house. But Peter followed afar off.

Golden Text: Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me; nevertheless not my will, but thine be done.—Luke 22:42.

Time: From midnight to 6:00 a. m., Friday, April 7, A. D. 30.

Place: The Garden of Gethsemane on the western slope of the Mount of Olives, and the joint palace of Annas and Caiaphas in Jerusalem.

Introduction.

Jesus and his disciples parted company in Gethsemane in a very real sense. Jesus traveled the way of courageous, sacrificial duty, suffered and won. The disciples, with seemingly good human excuses, gave way to weariness, dropped, slept and failed.

Aggressive wide-awake goodness is never defeated by evil, but such goodness must be alert and active day and night.—Owen C. Brown.

"Nor was it merely with the tragedy of tomorrow that Jesus was laboring, for the sorrow of all the ages is being forced thru the hannels of his soul."—Findlay, in "The Abingdon Commentary."

Garden of Gethsemane. "There is a traditional garden of Gethsemane, enclosed with a wall and containing guarded old olive trees and sweet-scented flowers. This can be traced back to the time of Constantine."—Prof. Walter F. Adeney. "In the present day eight enormous stumps of old olive trees from nine to ten feet high with vigorous young shoots sprouting out from them mark the spot. We know that Vespasian and Titus cut down all the trees in the neighborhood of Jerusalem, but it is of course possible that these old stumps might have been left at any rate, from their enormous girth and extreme age, they might very well go back to the time of Christ."—Alfred T. Schaeffler, M. R. C. S. E. "It is here, in this quaint and carefully tended garden, this precious place which has been saved alike from the oblivious trampling of the crowd and from the needless imprisonment of four walls and a roof, it is here in the open air, in the calm glow of the afternoon, under the shadow of Mount Zion, that we find for the first time that which we have come so far to seek—the soul of the Holy Land, the inward sense of the real presence of Jesus."—Henry van Dyke.

Jesus In Gethsemane. "Jesus must have looked with dread upon the cross that he saw looming before him, for he partook of our nature, with its physical and mental sensitiveness (Heb. 2:17). It is being false to the fact of his incarnation to suppose that, since he was divine, he could think of gnashing wounds and brutal suffering with any less terror than we do. He was in an agony of amazement and fear, as he himself declared (ver. 44; Matt. 26:38), and wanted even the dim, shadowy out lines of his avowed friends to be not far off."

"But there was a greater friend on the slopes of Mount Olivet that night, in whose presence Jesus was to fight through the agonizing struggle and complete his consecration for the climax of his victory over sin and death. For him there was one place, and only one, for supreme comfort, for authoritative counsel and for final decision on all issues. That was the place of prayer. Even though he was almighty, he was constantly, humbly seeking the companionship and counsel of the Father. What a matchless example for us who are infinitely less strong and wise!"

A Ministering Angel. "And there appeared unto him an angel from heaven, strengthening him." Thus angels aided Christ's recovery from the fearful tension of the temptation in the wilderness at the opening of his ministry (Matt. 4:11), a temptation which was continued (compare Luke 4:13) in this Gethsemane experience and throughout all the hours of our Saviour's trials and crucifixion. In sending the angel God answered Christ's prayers: the cup was not removed from him, but he was given strength to endure his sufferings. Thus also our heavenly Father often answers our prayers for relief from pain and escape from trials.

The Sleeping Disciples. "The regretful, 'Why sleep ye?' and 'Could ye not watch with me one hour?' are not expressive of impatience or rebuke. He doubtless pitied them, for it had been a long day and they were tired. But he was meeting and overcoming temptation with watchfulness and prayer, and it was too bad that they weren't. There would be for Peter a reminder of his overconfident declaration of devotion (22:33). And Peter needed the reminder for a warning."

"The Gethsemane scene stands for the everlasting shaming of the church and the individual Christian when they are unvigilant; when they sleep while the Master's cause is in dire straits, or needs their wide-awake attention! We should always end the story with our Lord's 'Arise, let us be going!' (given by Matthew and Mark) which in the original has a tone of confident determination that we miss in translation. "New tides of strength from the strong underlying life of God rose within him."

The Prayer of Jesus. "And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly, and his sweat became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the ground. Was there ever such loneliness as his? Or grief? He himself said, 'My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death.' The burden of the world's sin was upon him,

In such anguish he sought the face of God. Leaving his disciples he went alone to pray. (Matthew and Mark say that he took Peter, James and John with him, but Matthew points out he left them also and "went forward a little and fell on his face and prayed.") Luke leaves out the details to center his attention, and ours, upon Jesus praying.) Jesus was constantly praying. Many hours were spent in prayer while other men slept. His recorded prayers are few, but full of instruction to those who seek to know the spirit and nature of true prayer. They were not formal in that they followed a certain routine or technique of prayer. They were natural, expressing the desires of his heart, now only thanksgiving and again only petition. In this prayer in Gethsemane we are stirred not only by the vision of our Lord's sorrow, knowing that it was for us; but also by the nature of the prayer itself.

Not My Will, But Thine.

Notice the address "Father". That was his thought of God and himself. Prayer was from Son to Father, and in that thought is a world of meaning, involving confidence, reverence and submissiveness. The last words of the prayer express what is implied in every other word of it—that the chief desire of Jesus was that the Father's will, not his, should be done. In that spirit there was but one will—the Father's. So emphatically does he stamp every word with dependence upon, confidence in, and loyalty to the Father's will, that the anguish that sent him to prayer really becomes secondary to his solitude for the divine plan. No wonder that he lifted his eyes to behold a heavenly visitant bringing physical and spiritual strength. And what an answer to prayer. It was as if God had said, "Go on, my Son, the invisible armies attend you."

The Judas Kiss. "But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?" The kiss (see Matt. 26:48) was the traitor's prearranged sign, pointing out Jesus to his captors. "These words were sufficient, for they simply revealed the man to himself, by stating his hideous act in all its simplicity; and the method of his treachery was so unparalleled in its heinousness, so needless and spontaneously wicked, that more words would have been superfluous. With feelings that the very devils might have pitied, the wretch slunk back to the door of the inclosure, toward which the rest of the crowd were now beginning to press."

F. W. Farrer.

"Judas, dost thou betray me with a kiss? Canst thou find hell about my lips, and miss Of life just at the gates of life and bliss?"—George Herbert.

Gethsemane.

"Even though I walk in the darkest valley, I fear no harm; for thou art with me."—Ps. 23:4, Smith.

"It is the way of life, of God; It is the way of right of tears; It is the way which seems to be Life's only way—Gethsemane."—Wakeley.

Home Demonstration News

MISS EUGENIA GUNTER, C.H.D.A.

Miss Sallie Hill, district home demonstration agent, judged the living room of Mrs. R. W. Elliston Friday afternoon and she seemed pleased with the work done by Mrs. Elliston.

The furniture had been rearranged, woodwork cleaned and washed, new shades, footstool, music holder and magazine rack had been added. Only $3.00 had been expended.

Miss Gunter will meet with the Westway girls at the home of Mary Turrentine; Ward club girls at the home of Frances Hutson, and Sims girls at the home of Virginia Chapman.

Orphans Home Truck Will Be Here June 4th

The Church of Christ, through its auxiliary, announces that the Tipton Orphans Home at Tipton, Oklahoma, has started its truck out for its annual ingathering of cash, clothing and food commodities, together with hoes, rakes and other garden implements, and the vehicle will be in Hereford Thursday, June 4.

In this home are 200 orphan children gathered from families of all religious beliefs, and those in which no declaration of religion has been made. It is under management of the Church of Christ, with R. E. Chittwood, superintendent, in charge. Originating at Canadian, Texas, a few years ago, the institution soon outgrew the limited temporary plant it occupied and larger quarters were imperative if expansion was to continue.

Having visited the home in Canadian, a land owner of the town of Tipton, and bearing that name, became deeply interested. He made a proposition that if the home might be brought to Tipton he would make a free gift of a liberal area of rich, fertile land, and otherwise assist the enterprise. This offer was accepted. Today the home is one of the most beautiful, with its fire-proof brick buildings, including home and school structures, in the entire Southwest.

These annual visits of the Tipton Orphans Home truck make possible the comfort and sustenance of the large family of parentless little ones. All who are interested in assisting in this great Christian work may do so by contacting any member of the local Church of Christ in Hereford so that the ingathering on June 4 may be expeditiously handled.

Ferguson Was Early Judge of Deaf Smith

Judge John E. Ferguson, who died in Los Angeles May 9, was one of the early settlers of Deaf Smith county and was one of the earliest judges of the county, according to Mrs. C. E. Wheeler who has supplied other interesting information about this pioneer.

Judge Ferguson was born in 1838 at Sedalia, Missouri, son of J. J. Ferguson and Mrs. Anne Crawford Ferguson. He married Miss Nannie Tannehill in Windsor, Missouri.

In 1891 he came to Deaf Smith county, soon after it was organized when the population numbered slightly over 100. He served as county judge in 1893-94, after which he engaged in the cattle business. The ranch home of Mr. Ferguson was noted for its hospitality from New Mexico to Amarillo.

Soon after the town of Hereford was started, the family moved here where Judge Ferguson organized and was elected president of the first bank.

He was also one of the early and faithful members of the First Baptist church of this city, and was a man of sterling character who was ever ready to aid in development of his town and the Panhandle.

Deceased was in ill health for a number of years before his death.

FILM ON HOME LOYALTY BEING RUN BY THEATRE

The Star theatre is running with each show a special film on community loyalty, furnished by the chamber of commerce. The management, W. L. ## Four Home Industries That Deal With Two Necessities Have Pay Roll of 34,200; Employ 23 People

In the program of projects announced several months ago by the chamber of commerce, home industries was one of the items. Bigger payrolls and more and better industries are included in the aim. Interesting facts were presented Monday to the chamber of commerce and a resume is given below on the four dealt with:

Elevators, by Edward Roberson. Two home-owned elevators, McLean & Pitman and the Farmers, with combined invested capital of $30,000. They have seven regular employees: Milton J. Erwin, Barrett Sowell, P. B. Sowell, Malcolm Cassells and J. S. Jones with McLean & Pitman; and J. W. Lovelady and J. L. Brooks with the Farmers Elevator, besides extra help during harvest. Monthly payroll is around $1,100.

These two elevators bought and shipped 600,000 bushels of wheat last year.

There are two line elevators, the Great West and Cone Grain company, with an invested capital of $25,000, giving steady employment to one each. E. E. Friddle is manager of the Great West and Raymond Cone for the Cone Grain. These two handled 210,000 bushels of wheat last year. They have an approximate payroll of $300 a month, not counting extra help at harvest.

Mill, by H. L. McEntire. The Packard Milling company has just completed a new building, has an investment of $5,000 and capacity of 50 barrels flour a day. A new unit is being installed to run capacity to 100 barrels daily. It is owned and operated by H. M. Packard and H. E. Danforth. Besides the owners, the mill employs two men. C. C. Danforth and Delmer Packard. Monthly payroll is $340.

They make white flour, whole wheat flour, bran, corn meal and breakfast foods.

Bakery, by Aubrey Daniel. The Hereford Bakery, owned and operated by R. M. Dunn, has a capital investment of $6500, monthly payroll of $350 and employs W. R. O'Daniel, L. E. Schneider, J. L. Richardson, Miss Ruth Botts and Miss Hazel Dunn. The shop uses 3500 pounds of baker's flour each week; supplying 75 per cent of local needs and could fill all bread requirements here with the same equipment.

Products are white and whole wheat bread, pastries and cookies of all kinds. Whole wheat from the local mill is used, but since the home white flour is not aged or made for bakers, this material has to be imported.

The cookies served at the chamber of commerce luncheon was complimentary from the Hereford bakery.

Creamery, by E. Joiner. The Hereford Creamery has 180 local stockholders, an invested capital of $10,000 and an operating capital of $5,000. It employs five people with a monthly payroll of $500.

The creamery uses approximately 30,000 pounds of butterfat each week. The average price paid producers over the past year has been 25 1/2 cents a pound. The price has averaged three cents above the market had there been no creamery, enabling farmers to get $7,000 more.

About $6,000 was released last year in salaries and 1,600,000 pounds of butterfat bought. Butterfat is the only by-product made and about $1100 was sold in 1930.

Employees are Herman Shultz, Miss Beth Millard, C. L. Hodges, E. Ramey and N. M. Bartley.

LUMBER COMPANY PUTS OUT "SLINTERS" ISSUE

A regular feature in the Brand these days, and one that is to run many months yet, is the miniature newspaper, entitled "Slinters", edited by D. H. Alexander, local manager of the Panhandle Lumber company.

"Slinters" has reached its third number this week, starting on its first volume. Dave Alexander has been rated a good lumberman and is making a good showing at the writing game. While what he says covers interesting news picked up around the neighborhood, what he sells is lumber with most of the slinters planned off to serve his readers; for instance, the sharp splint last week that might have stabbed under a finger nail or two: "A man is incomplete until he is married, and then he is finished."

Two New Correspondents.

Miss Edith Mann, who has been correspondent for the Brand from Ford, will take a business course in Amarillo this summer. Her sister, Miss LaVerne Mann, has taken her place in representing her community through the newspaper. With the closing of school at Black through which news items for the Brand have been gathered, a new correspondent, Mrs. J. J. Crawford, has been appointed. She will appreciate assistance of her neighbors in reporting all the news.

suit of their studies, they should at least be taught how to make living for themselves and families. Furthermore, said the speaker, education ought to help the learners or youngsters to get along with each other. No one can lead or follow unless he has cultivated a sense of cooperation. "Public school and collegiate work should enable us to have a finer appreciation of life," Dean Gordon concluded. "It should equip us to recognize the true and find it desirable, to appreciate the beautiful in life, in music, in literature, in all things with which civilization is concerned; and finally to give us a concept of the good which should become a part of our being."

CHRISTIAN MINISTER TO TALK ON THREE SAVIOURS

Preaching services announced for the First Christian church by the pastor, Rev. M. J. Johnson, are "Man's Three Saviours" for the morning hour, and "Jesus and Three Sinners" at the evening hour beginning at 8:15 o'clock. Sunday school opens at 9:45 in the morning. Prayer meeting held each Wednesday evening at 8:15. The book of Revelations is being studied, verse by verse. The public is cordially invited to all the services.

Miss Anna Hoffman Becomes Bride of Albert Schulte In Prettiest Spring Wedding at St. Anthony's

One of the prettiest wedding in Hereford this spring was solemnized at St. Anthony's Tuesday morning, May 26, when Miss Anna Hoffman became the wife of Albert Schulte.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hoffman of near Hereford. Mr. Schulte is a prominent farmer of Nazareth.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Nola Elliston at the organ, accompanied by Leo Hoffman on the violin. The bridal party took its place in front of the candle-lit, flower-decked altar at 7:00 o'clock when the ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Salvatore.

The bride was beautifully gowned in ivory satin and full length veil and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and sweet peas. The groom was dressed in conventional black.

They were attended by the bride's brother, Robert Hoffman, and sister, Miss Lucille Hoffman, and the groom's brother and sister, Ed and Miss Teresa Schulte. Miss Lucille Hoffman wore a lovely crown of blue and Miss Schulte one of orchid. Each carried a bouquet of snapdragons.

Immediately after the ceremony, showered with rice, the bridal party and many of their friends repaired to the Hoffman home where the wedding breakfast awaited them. About 150 people were present to enjoy the big dinner which the bride's parents served in honor of the nuptial event.

In the evening a reception and dance was given at St. Anthony's hall for the happy couple.

A honeymoon trip had been planned to Salt Lake City and Yellowstone park, but since the park is not yet open for visitors they will make a motor tour through Colorado and Arizona, visiting El Paso on the return home.

The campfire girls look forward to a surprise at the next meeting. On the outing were Mrs. W. H. Dowell, guardian; Patricia Wederbrook, sponsor, and Geneva Sue Benton, Frances Borden, Virginia Carlisle, Madeline Whitehead, Eva Maude Merriman, Betty Jeanne Ball, Henrietta Fritz, Nina Lee Fritz, Viola Beryl Phillips, Nina Tynes, Lena Ivey, Billie Jo Roberts and Helen Pearl Seed.

A celebration was held on the last day by children and pupils of both district enjoying an outing and picnic on the breaks.

The party left at 9:30 in the morning and at noon an elaborate luncheon was spread for about 60 people. The day was spent in exploring the rough breaks, taking pictures and playing games.

The Winners class of the Methodist church met in a social Tuesday afternoon, honoring Miss Frances Landrum, who is soon to leave for nurse training in Baylor hospital at Dallas. The girls met at the home of their teacher, Mrs. J. F. Ward, at 6:30 in the evening. Games and music were enjoyed and each girl expressed best wishes for Miss Landrum.

A mock operation for appendicitis was performed on one of the members. After the incision was made, Miss Landrum, as assistant nurse, drew forth the "appendix" which proved to be five yards long, disclosing lovely gifts for the honoree.

A tempting picnic supper was served to the regular class and to Misses Roy Smith, Jerry Behrands, Ed Mauk and L. P. Landrum.

Check-Up Will Start Soon On Pre-School Age

The county health service is especially anxious to have the youngsters who start to school next year physically fit, according to Miss Nell Hall, health nurse, and she states that parents will have an opportunity in the near future to have their children examined, immunized and given a test to find out if the tots are immunized against diphtheria.

Parents are asked to consider this matter, talk with their neighbors who took the precautionary measures last year, and be ready to help in every way to reach all the pre-school children in the county.

The pre-school examinations will be made in the early part of June, says Miss Hall, and she wants the cooperation of all in making the children stronger and healthier. In vacation is the best time to check up on the child, she adds, observing bad teeth, poor eyesight, bad tonsils or other defects that should have been corrected before but had been postponed.

The county has been usually fortunate this year in not having many cases of communicable diseases, Miss Hall observes, but such a condition may not remain. With a small cost the child may be immunized against diphtheria, typhoid or smallpox.

As the weather grows warmer parents are warned to watch the child's diet. Heavy foods and rich pastries are to be avoided and plenty of fresh vegetables and ripe or cooked fruits used. Attention should be paid to the milk supply, making sure it comes from a safe source and is kept in a sanitary condition.

The public is also enjoined to keep on fighting flies.

Interest Shown In Farming By Commerce Club

"Hereford and the Hereford country is our business," declared Judge Jno. P. Slaton, president of the chamber of commerce, in conversation with a representative of the Brand, following the regular Monday luncheon of the organization.

Enlarging on this statement, President Slaton continued: "We are sacrificing our personal interests where necessary to carry on in behalf of Hereford and the wonderful territory by which we are surrounded. Ours is an organization depending on voluntary financial support. We take and use this money for the general good. There are no favorites or pets among us. If, as a matter of fact, we show preference for those who evidence a friendship for our organization, this is not a matter of wonder."

"Many times we have had the statement, 'Hereford's chamber of commerce should show an appreciation for the farmers.' That is correct, we not only should, but we do show appreciation. We have just closed an expensive campaign through which many of our good friends on the farms borrowed money from the federal government through our offices. Our office force was even supplemented to care for this task. We invested extra money that we might with the proper degree of facility take care of the requirements of Deaf Smith county citizens. They borrowed money, and as a result will plant and grow crops which they said, and made affidavits to the truth of the utterances, that they could not have grown otherwise. This was without cost to those neighbors and friends. We asked nothing at their hands save and except their friendship, and this we are sure is ours.

"Nor stopping with the producers on the farms in the district. We gladly serve the people of Hereford without any distinction between them as to the lines of business in which they are engaged. We have brought a film setting forth the necessity for home community loyalty. This film is being graciously shown in connection with each program in the Star theatre without cost to the merchants or other business men. It is one of the many acts of the chamber of commerce in the interests of our manufacturers, distributing and merchandising enterprises.

"Our community, including Hereford, will be classed along with its chamber of commerce. No city is bigger or better than its chamber of commerce', is a statement published in one of the most widely distributed newspapers in the United States recently. We know that our chamber of commerce reflects the merits of our community. This is the basis of our activity, our plans and our programs. We are proud of our organization, for it tells attractively the story of Hereford and the Hereford country."

DON'T GO THROUGH ANOTHER SUMMER WITHOUT A WESTINGHOUSE FAN

You'll never dread hot weather again

Summer is Westinghouse Fan time and Westinghouse Fans provide cool comfort all day and all night long. Let us show you the new 8-inch model that sells for only $5.00.

When talking about the weather, remember that an electric fan will cost no more than it will later, and you will enjoy a full season's use of it for the same price. Isn't that practical? Of course we are recommending the silent-running, long-lived Westinghouse.

READY!

We've added two more mechanics (factory trained—we can't use any other kind), to keep ready for emergency service from now until after harvest. Our parts and service shops are open from 6:00 a. m. until 10:00 p. m. now, and when the harvest starts we will be open ready for rush work every hour day or night.

—We have an expert Duco paint man who can put the finest finish on your car. This does not compare with the usual auto paint job. This man gives a "rub-down" genuine Duco, exactly the same as the factory used on new cars.

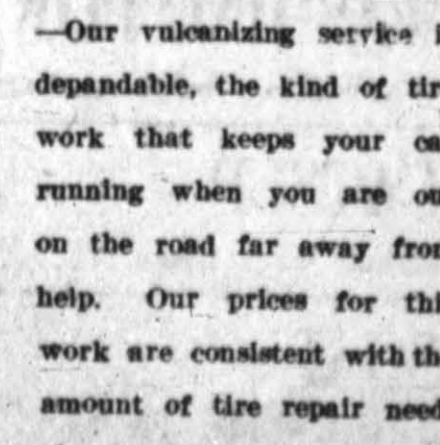

—We take off our hats to no one for greasing cars. Our factory equipment is what is needed to pass our inspector's critical requirements. Five different types of grease MUST be used. Yet our price is only $1.00

—If you haven't seen our washing rack and equipment you can't understand what a good job we do. Remember this work must be up to standard or it doesn't qualify. Yet it only costs $1.00

—Our vulcanizing service is dependable, the kind of tire work that keeps your car running when you are out on the road far away from help. Our prices for this work are consistent with the amount of tire repair needed.

suggestions of other interested citizens. It is stated that the chief reason for beginning at this time to arrange dates, mass meetings and other details is to avoid being too late in preparation for what at this time promises to be the best fair Deaf Smith county has ever held.

It is stated that every man and woman who are interested in the Deaf Smith county fair are urged to be present at the court house at 3:30 o'clock Saturday, June 6, so that officers and community committees, together with others who will be necessary to the success of the undertaking may be named.

Programs, entertainment and amusement will be worked out by committees, especially charged with responsibility for these features. Already suggestions are being received, it is stated, under the direction of the proper committees.

Announcement has been made that county and city officials and the county agricultural and home demonstration agents have been asked to assist with the work incident to making a success of the oncoming fair.
