Sheriff's Department Gets In Good Work Apprehending Alleged Violators of Law

Sheriff John B. Miller and his department officials have been doing effective work during the past week or more in the apprehension of law violators and suspects, and pursuing investigations leading toward other violators.

Recover Radio.
A radio stolen from the Mont Baker home exactly a year ago was found Wednesday at Memphis, Texas, and has been returned to its owner.

Liquor Violations.
Several persons arrested Wednesday on alleged liquor violations are being held in the county jail or under bond awaiting investigation by the grand jury which convenes January 30. Under cover investigations of Edward Denham, specially commissioned deputy working in cooperation with the sheriff's department, was of valuable assistance.

Locate Robber Suspect.
One of the three robbers who broke into the West Texas Feed & Seed Company, Ireland-Beavers Motor Company and the Grizzle Motor Company last Thursday night, stealing about $75.00 in cash at latter place, is believed located in Amarillo this week, where he is being held on a similar charge alleged to have been committed there. He gave his name as Robert Young, and evidence identifying him with the group committing the depredations in Hereford last week is believed to be conclusive.

The car belonging to June Allred, taken from the streets of Hereford several weeks ago, was found abandoned on the streets of Clovis shortly afterwards, with none of its contents or accessories missing.

Fire Boys Dance to Provide Aid For Cafeteria

The Hereford Fire Department boys are sponsoring a public charity dance for tomorrow, Friday, night, beginning at 9:30 o'clock, the entire proceeds to go to a worthy cause of vital interest to the Hereford community.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Herb Sindt's orchestra without charge and a number of contributing factors of local civic organizations will assist in making the dance successful. It will be under the strict supervision of the Fire Department boys as has their invitation dances in the past.

Many Public Improvements Get Under Way

The administration of the $3000 received by Deaf Smith county from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to be used for the relief of unemployment here during January and February, has been divided three ways, about one-third of the labor fund being used by the county at large, one-third by the city, and one-third by local park boards.

Beautify City Parks.
Present plans include the clearing away of rubbish and undergrowth along Tierra Blanca creek in the City Park and the building of picnic ovens, grates, tables and other accessories there, with improvement of the entire grounds to make it a desirable place of cool restfulness during the summer season.

Carroll's Vanities At Amarillo Saturday

Amusement for the Panhandle ten carloads of it—will roll into Amarillo for a metropolitan classic at Amarillo next Saturday, when Earl Carroll's Vanities comes there for two performances. While show dates were still more than a week away, the orders for tickets were pouring in, and if you would get the seat of your choice, you must act soon.

The company is composed of 100 members traveling by special train. Included in that number are artists in the various lines calculated to please the amusement-seeking public. According to Wilbur C. Hawk, Amarillo News Globe and Tri-State Fair enthusiast, the same stars that appeared on Broadway last season will perform on the Auditorium stage, and the production will not be curtailed in any particular. There will be 55 separate scenes, with a force

Deaf Smith County Library Continues Steady Growth, Though Handicapped

By MISS LILLIE HOSTETLER, Librarian.

The Deaf Smith County Library circulated 53,027 volumes from January 1 to December 31, 1932, as against 48,001 volumes for the same period of 1931, a gain of over 5,000 volumes, in the face of a greatly reduced budget.

The fiscal year for the library has been changed to conform to that of other county departments, so we are now starting our new year. Our funds have again been cut so that we are now facing a year with almost nothing for new books. However, we are holding our subscriptions to the magazines and in this way hope to be able to satisfy in some measure the demand for new material. The magazines serve two purposes—they give us up to date material for present reading and allow us to build up reference material that it would be hard to replace.

Owing to the generosity of many friends of the library we have been able to add many books in the past year that would have been impossible to have otherwise. Mrs. M. L. Steele gave many text

JUDGE SLATON ATTENDING ASSOCIATIONAL MEETING

Judge Jno. P. Slaton is in Waco this week meeting with the Texas Good Roads Association board of directors, of which he is a member, representing this senatorial district. It is expected the final organization work of the association will be accomplished at this meeting, and other important matters relative to future highway programs will come before the body.

W. B. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Wilson, who is attending the Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos, is playing freshman basketball, and making quite a name for himself on the sport page of the San Marcos Daily News. He also plays second trombone in the band and serves as drum major in their parades. W. B. graduated from the Hereford high school last year and was one of the star basketball players on the local school team.

Call for Old Brands Gets Many Papers

The Brand ran short of papers of the December 29th issue, and last week ran a request for those who had saved them to bring them to this office.

They came—dozens of them—and they brought along those two-weeks old papers. You know, it is with a feeling of elation that we realize people value the Brand so highly that they continue to keep it handy, even for weeks after its issue.

No other medium of advertising available is retained in the home for days and days after its receipt. The Brand goes into the home—into the intimate family circle—and there it stays for weeks and weeks, serving as a reminder of things which have been and are yet to be, always telling the people where to buy needed merchandise and what price must be paid.

Brand advertising pays—and it continues to pay long after the advertiser has forgotten the contents of an ad placed weeks before.

There is more romance packed in the needs and desires specified in Brand want ads than in any medium reaching Deaf Smith county homes.

Wednesday, January 25, has been set for the sale of 46 of the best pure bred Hereford cows and bulls this territory has to offer. D. L. McDonald will be the principal seller, he having consigned 25 head—10 females and 15 bulls. Other breeders have consigned 21 animals. W. T. Womble & Son will have five head of young bulls in this sale, Tom G. Irey has entered three head of straight-bred bulls; Edgar East comes in with four more straightbred bulls and one heifer.

The remainder of the cattle will be consigned by T. E. Siegler, Lee Wolfe, Truman Hines and R. L. Campbell, all widely known for the high quality of their registered cattle.

Hundreds of interested breeders are expected to be in Hereford on the date of this sale. For years Hereford has led the country in the production of high class cattle, and with the advertising of past years to familiarize stockman with what local breeders have to offer, it is expected the sale this year will create more than passing interest.

Col. Fred Reppert, well known auctioneer, is expected here to conduct the sale. He has been in charge of many sales here in past years, and has many friends in this region who would not consider the sale as authentic unless he held the mallet.

Cagers Make It Six Wins In Row for New Record

Hereford high school basketball teams enjoyed one of the most successful weeks of their school history, the boys and girls each winning games from three successive opponents. Interest in basketball is being revived by virtue of the excellent playing the local teams are doing, and better attendance is evidenced than has been apparent for years.

Teams from Canyon, Farwell and Oklahoma Lane fell before the Whiteface aggregations in the order named. Hard games are in prospect tomorrow and Saturday nights when Friona teams come here and the locals go to Bovina for the latter date.

Slaton Talks to C-C Secretaries Of Panhandle

Judge John P. Slaton, president of the Hereford chamber of commerce, with Mrs. Slaton and Mrs. C. R. Bentley, secretary, were attendants at a meeting in Amarillo of the secretaries of the several chambers of commerce of the Panhandle region Wednesday of last week.

The occasion was to discuss matters of mutual concern affecting the different sections of the Panhandle and plan toward solving problems to the greatest benefits of all parts.

Judge Slaton was a specially invited guest for the program, being asked through his membership as director of Texas Good Roads Association to talk about highway plans for the whole Panhandle.

Convention Date Federated Clubs Here April 19-21

The state executive board meeting of the Federated Clubs attended last week by Mrs. J. A. Hill of Canyon, district president, set the dates of the Seventh District Convention to be April 19, 20 and 21, according to word given Mrs. Bob Wilson, local chairman of the convention, just year voted to be held in Hereford, and for which elaborate plans are being laid to make the visit of the 250 expected club women from over the Panhandle and Plains most entertaining.

Lesson

BY DR. J. R. NUNN

January 22.

JESUS FORGIVING SIN

Mark 2:1-12.

1. And when he entered again into Capernaum after some days, it was noted that he was in the house.

2. And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room for them, no, not even about the door: and he spake the word unto them.

3. And they came, bringing unto him a man sick of the palsy, borne of four.

4. And when they could not come nigh unto him for the crowd, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed whereon the sick of the palsy lay.

5. And Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins are forgiven.

6. But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7. Why doth this man thus speak? he blasphemeth: who can forgive sins but one, even God?

8. And straightway Jesus, perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, saith unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9. Which is easier, to say to the sick man of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?

10. But that ye may know that the Son of man hath authority on earth to forgive sins (he saith to the sick of the palsy),

11. I say unto thee, Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thy house.

12. And he arose, and straightway took up the bed, and went forth before them all; inasmuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

draw, where Christ seems to have lived when in Capernaum. Our Lord must have been weary, and glad to get back again to that haven of rest; but there was no rest for him, nor did he, in his heart, want rest. "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work," was one of his most significant sayings. "The zeal of thy house hath eaten me up," men quoted of him. Here, as when he sought repose near Tyre, "He could not be hid."

Crowds South-to See and Hear Jesus.

"And many were gathered together." By this time our Lord had become the man of all Galilee most talked about, chiefly because of his cures of disease. "So that there was no longer room for them, no, not even about the door." Peter was only a humble fisherman, and his was a small house soon filled. The streets of Capernaum, like all Oriental streets, were very narrow, and they also were speedily jammed with the eager, pushing and jostling crowd. Some came hobbling on canes and crutches, many were borne by their friends on rude stretchers.

The Sick Man, "Borne of Four."

"And they come, bringing unto him a man sick of the palsy, borne of four." "Palsy" is the shortened form of "paralysis." The man was lying on a bed, i. e., a thin mattress, each of the bearers having hold of one corner of it (Matt. 9:2). The bearers were the man's neighbors, friends and relatives, and the episode illustrates the way in which Christians may and should combine to bring others to Christ.

"They uncovered the roof where he was." The house was low, probably of only one story, covered with a flat roof, on which the family slept for greater coolness. The roof was reached by an outer stone stairway, narrow and steep, and the poor sufferer must have found it agonizing to be hauled up it, though the bearers were as gentle as possible. The roof consisted of a layer of branches on top of which was a thick layer of earth, with perhaps some tiles, and peasants often broke open the roof to let down articles too large to get in through the door. This is what was done on this occasion.

"And when they had broken it up, they let down the bed whereon the sick of the palsy lay."

Jesus Forgives Sin.

"And Jesus seeing their faith," Christ had a keen eye for faith. In all his miracles he seems to have valued chiefly the faith of those who applied to him, and he often commended it highly. The four bearers had proved their faith by their zeal in overcoming obstacles, but the sick man's faith seems to have been especially pleasing to the Saviour, for it was the sick man whom he addressed. "Saith unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins are forgiven." The Greek word translated "Son" is literally "Child," a term of endearment. But why did Christ announce the forgiveness of the man's sins rather than the healing of his palsy? Because the Saviour knew that sin is the fundamental disease. All sickness, all trouble of any kind, is to be traced back to sin.

Jesus Charged With Blasphemy.

"Why doth this man thus speak?" They were horrified, or pretended to be. They had certainly never heard such words from mortal lips before, nor had any one. "He blasphemeth." Blasphemy is speech directed against God, as when his holy name is used in a trifling or insolent manner, or when, as the scribes imagined in this case, claims to divine power and authority are made by a mere man. "Who can forgive sins but one, even God?" The scribes were correct in their question, but wrong in their application of it. Only the Divine Judge can forgive sin. Christ was God, and in this claim to forgive sin he claimed to be one with God.

Jesus Proves that He Can Forgive Sin.

"Which is easier?" Our Lord, as was his wont, presented to his enemies a dilemma from which they could not escape, as in his answer concerning the payment of tribute to Caesar or his reply about the authority of John the Baptist. "To say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?" "Thy sins are forgiven"—easy enough to say that, since no man could see whether they were forgiven or not. But, "Take up thy bed and walk"—that command must be followed by visible results, or Christ would be proved an imposter. He proposed a miracle in the physical realm to prove his authority in the spiritual realm, thus illustrating one of the reasons why he performed so many miracles.

"I say unto thee, Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thy house."

What marvelous force was in those words! They fired the paralytic's force to action. "And he arose, and went forth before them all." The whole house crowded with people, and the crowded street in front of the house, were witnesses of the miracle.

The Amazement of the People.

"Inasmuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion." It is easy for us to imagine how the people felt on that unforgettable day. They had seen the spectacular presentation of the paralytic to Jesus. They were aware of the critical reasoning of the scribes. They had heard Jesus read aloud the Pharisees' unspoken charge of blasphemy. They had hung upon his lips when Jesus made the proposal to prove his power to forgive by his power to heal. They had seen the peerless marvel take place before their eyes. No wonder they were all amazed to the point of ecstasy.

They Glorified God.

In expression of their amazement, they "glorified God," by their ascription of divine power to Jesus, by their gratitude to the Great Healer for the cure of a well-known townsman, and by telling others not only of the miracle but of its higher meaning. Truly they could say of that which was so fully unexpressed and quite out of the range of their past experience, "We never saw it on this fashion." So it was that "Jesus had acted with the power of God and claimed equality with God, and had made good his claim."

John Aldridge and Bill Shirley of Farwell were in Hereford Friday, enroute to Amarillo.

T. F. Bohannon Points the Way

B. T. F. BOHANNAN, Sims Community.

With hope renewed, faith increased, courage strong and optimism high, we began the new year with our Sunday morning Bible study and Sunday evening song practice. Attendance is increasing, interest growing, much love prevailing and growth showing. With Christ as our leader, we press on.

The Book says to "Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil, cleave to that which is good."—Rom. 12:9.

I read a story once that to me makes unseen things more visible. The story goes:

Once upon a time in far off Italy two brothers lived upon little adjoining farms. One brother was single, the other married. It chanced that upon a certain year the wheat crop was cut short by drought, so that each man had barely enough for his own needs. One night the married man lay awake thinking of his brother.

"The poor fellow is single and does not have the comfort and happiness of home, as I do; he is worried about his harvest; I will get up and carry some sheaves of wheat into his field, and he will be happier."

The same night the bachelor was sleepless, and thinking of his brother, said: "The poor fellow is married and has a host of burdens and cares that I don't have to bear, he is doubtless worried about his small wheat yield; I will get up and carry some of my wheat into his field, and when he sees the shocks he will be happier." And out into the darkness of the night these brothers went, lugging wheat into the other's field. The moon came suddenly from behind a cloud and they stood facing each other with wheat sheaves under their arms.

How far is the daily demonstration of your religion, do you give? Can you be kind in the face of unkindness? How much mastery can you muster when human conditions tempt you to be unjust? How well can you hold your tongue when other people loosen theirs? Can you make your temper mind your soul?

Sales Tax For Texas Is Asked By Fergusons

Coming as almost a complete surprise to the Texas Legislative body, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson Wednesday came out as an advocate of the Sales Tax in Texas in her message to the legislature.

The proposal carried the suggestion for a 3 per cent tax on purchases made by every family or individual in the state. Governor Ferguson expressed it as her belief that such measure would yield a total of approximately $45,000,000 revenue to the state each year. Entering further into the proposition, she explained that the adoption of such measures would cost the average family of Texas about $7.50 per year. Household purchases, she said, had been

Further Discussion Relative To Proposed College Regulation

Answers to Some Questions Raised In Report On Efficiency and Organization.

(A) That the West Texas State Teachers College is not growing.

1. The first degree graduating class had three members; the class of 1932 had 154 members.
2. The college has shown a healthy growth each year, even since the establishment of Texas Technological College, and despite the hard times, has shown practically no loss of students during the past two years.
3. Further, the immediate territory of this college has shown an increase in population from 171,034 to 380,733 (more than 100 per cent) between 1920 and 1930. This immediate territory embraces an area practically the same size as the State of Illinois, which supports five teachers colleges of senior rank. Further, this territory is still largely undeveloped.

(B) That graduates of Teachers Colleges do not teach.

1. Since 1919 (the first year that degrees were granted) 877 men and women have been graduates from the W. T. S. T. C. Of this number 577, or 64.84 per cent, are now teaching; another 103, or 11.7 per cent, have taught three years of more; 100 or another 18.2 per cent, taught less than three years or entered other pursuits without teaching; 37 or slightly more than 3 per cent, are dead or their whereabouts are unknown.

(C) That the West Texas State Teachers College is making no effort toward economy.

1. For two years the Dean and President have been making consolidations and eliminations to do away with small classes. Class size is now of the exact median for teachers colleges in Texas.

2. The faculty is 12 per cent smaller than two years ago.
3. The appropriation for 1932-33 is 27 per cent smaller than five years ago.

(D) That higher education is too great a burden on Texas taxpayers.

1. Texas has appropriated for all higher education in the State for the year 1932-33, $5,372,925. This means that each of the 5,824,715 people has 92.34 cents set apart this year for his education.
2. Texas has appropriated for 7 teachers colleges $1,457,650. This is 25.03 cents per capita for all seven teachers colleges. For W. T. S. T. C. it is 3.8 per capita. Texas per capita expenditure for tobacco (cigarettes, cigars, chewing and smoking tobacco and snuff) is $12.81. Other non-essentials run equally high. Is education worth only one-twelfth as much as tobacco?
3. Texas ranks 30th in education among the states of the Union—her expenditures for education run below the average.

found to range from $400 up to $1500 yearly, the tax on which would amount to from $12 to $150, and from this the average was derived.

Mrs. Ferguson states that with the additional revenue afforded by the sales tax, $45,000,000, and the slashing of over $8,000,000 from present expenditures, the State will be enabled to pay its debts and go on a strictly cash basis.

According to comments by the daily press, the tax proposed for Texas would amount to far more than in other states where such measures have been enacted. At present, it is said, Mississippi has the highest sales tax, which is one per cent lower than that proposed for Texas.

books in education, psychology and economics that are very valuable. Earl W. Wilson also gave many in those same classes, together with many for Junior readers. The Pioneer Woman's club and La Afabatus club gave many books that materially added to the fiction shelves. Mrs. Garrison, Mrs. Slatton, Mrs. E. E. Ramsey, Lucille Park, Mmes. Broadwell, J. E. Dyer, Merle Barber, Bowman, Du Bois Walker and O. O. Curtis, and Mr. W. T. Weaver have given many volumes that have been greatly appreciated.

Others that have given one or more volumes that have also helped more than can be estimated are Mmes. Sherrill, Ray Johnson, Conatser, Gabbert, C. R. Smith, Earl Porter, Miss Dorothy Finney, Mary Turrentine, J. E. Boyd, Mrs. Gladys Pennington, Gus Allen, Jo Ann Barhyte, Frank Gentry, Marcus Houser, Mrs. J. B. Harlin, Chas. Ferguson, Mrs. C. O. Akard, Elsie Parish, Mrs. Geo. Storey, George Mitchell, Mrs. Rex Tynes, Polly Ann Crawford, J. W. Harding, Jr., Mrs. Clara Daniels, Jack Garner, Mrs. Mathews, Mrs. Woiber, J. P. Robinson, Peggy Mitchell, Imogene Copeland, Grace Buzzell, W. J. Weaver, Mrs. J. J. Kropff, Mary Posey, D. W. Crawford, Mrs. Lance, Mrs. Benson, Mrs. Fred Williams, Mrs. Manjeot, Mrs. Stanifer, Mrs. Wes Brady and Mrs. Troy Womble.

Those who have given magazines during the year are too numerous to list individually, but no other factor has been more essential to the success of the year's work than these magazines. One copy of each magazine is put into the permanent files. The second copy is used to circulate from the desk and another copy, if there is one, is sent to the country schools, and any additional copies are used to the best advantage to supply any call that may come. The magazines have really saved the day for supplying the immediate demand.

While there has no outstanding work been done in the past year, there has been a gradual growth in the use of every department of the library. Because of the reduced budget it has been necessary to discontinue the service in delivering and collecting books from the country schools, and this has caused a decrease in the number of books so circulated, but the teachers and patrons are doing all they can to offset this by taking over this service to the best of their ability.

Many of our books are wearing out and we have not the funds to replace them. Many others would last much longer if we could rebind them, but we will have to use them as long as possible and then discard them.

The past year as a whole has shown a gratifying increase in interest and use of the library. There are now 3300 borrowers' cards outstanding, which is more than half of the population of the county, and this does not count the children and patrons who use the books from the country schools without cards. From this it would seem that the library is reaching the greater part of the families in the county. The aim, of course, is to reach every family and to give service to every member of that family.

Protest Proposed Step to Close W.T.S.T.C.

At the Deaf Smith county court house on Friday evening, January 13, Dr. R. P. Jarrett, dean of W. T. S. T. C., addressed a meeting of towns people and ex-students of that institution—the legislative committee on efficiency and economy, as it would effect the Panhandle.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Elmer Patterson, an ex-student of W. T., who introduced L. N. George, former field secretary of the Ex-Students Association of W. T. S. T. C., who commented briefly on the situation and then introduced Dr. Jarrett, main speaker of the evening, acting in the absence of Dr. J. A. Hill.

Dr. Jarrett gave a summary of the proposals of the committee report as they affected W. T. S. T. C. and the Panhandle. He stated that any one of these proposals, if adopted, would impair the standing of the college to such an extent that it would cease to function in its intended capacity. A part of the committee's report was based on a paper by an educator from a northern state, who spent only a few hours in Canyon studying the situation. Dr. Jarrett showed a careful analysis that a part of the accusations brought against the policies of the college were based on statistics which, when presented alone, were wholly misleading. He also gave adequate proof that the proposals of the bill were unsound both economically and socially. He stated that the college was willing to bear its part of a reasonable retrenchment program, but that it was not willing to accept the status which this bill, if enacted, would give the school.

After members of the audience had asked questions on parts of Dr. Jarrett's discussion which were not clear to them, and others had expressed their views on the matter, the meeting was turned back to Mrs. Patterson. Those present voted to adopt a resolution submitted by Dr. Jarrett and appointed A. O. Thompson to see that it was sent to the proper authorities in Austin. Mr. Thompson was asked also to see that copies of the resolution were submitted to civic organizations of the town for their approval. After all who wished to do so had signed the resolution to be submitted by the mass meeting, the assembly was adjourned.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves, director of the bureau of public service; Miss Hattie M. Anderson, associate professor of history, and John T. Gilis, associate professor of manual arts, were other representatives of W. T. S. T. C. attending the meeting.

Dunkle to Finish Work In County February First

John R. Edmons, district agent for the extension service, was up from A. & M. College Monday, and with R. O. Dunkle, former county agent, discussed with County Judge C. W. Humble, the prospects of continuing the work in Deaf Smith county. After going over the situation, Mr. Edmons and Mr. Dunkle decided it was not best for the interests of all concerned to press the matter at present, and the work will be withdrawn from this county, effective February 1. Mr. Dunkle will complete his immediate tasks and bring his association with the extension service here to a close at that time.

However, should he continue to reside here, Mr. Dunkle says he will be glad to assist in every way possible, although without remuneration, the demonstrations of 20 4-H club boys to bring them to a successful finish at the end of their fiscal year in March.

The first of February will see transferred from Deaf Smith county the state and county apportionments of funds sent here to carry on two-thirds of the expense of the extension work. These funds will be diverted to one of 180 other counties in the state still continuing the service, to new counties, just beginning it, or to others who definitely discontinued the work last year but will re-instate it this year.

Harold Lloyd Comes Here In "Movie Crazy"

A favorite comedian on the American screen, and one who never fails to bring down the house when appearing in Hereford, comes Sunday, Monday and Tuesday as Harold Lloyd presents his latest screen version in "Movie Crazy". Following his usual type of picture, clean and wholesome, Lloyd never fails to bring the very highest and most enjoyable class of entertainment. "Movie Crazy" is ranked as his best production. Hereford audiences have been impatient to see and hear it, and it is a safe conclusion the feature will make as big a hit as did Marie Dressler in "Prosperity" during the past week.

Today at the Star is the regular weekly one-act program, appears the last showing of "Night After Night".

Friday and Saturday's picture will be Buck Jones in a story of the Canadian northlands, "McKenna of the Mounted," a slight departure from the usual order of Western feature, but with a promise to be brimful of action and tense situations, played against the background of exceptionally beautiful scenery. In addition the fourth chapter of "Hurricane Express," a thrilling railroad serial along with a fine comedy, will be played, the admission for the two days being set at 10 cents to everybody.

The 1-cent special picture of next week, coming on Wednesday and Thursday, presents Clive Brooks playing in "Sherlock Holmes" which, as its name suggests, duets and other arrangement story.

SOCIETY

Group of Hereford Business Women Organize Professional Women's Club

A small group of women met at the court house Monday evening at 7:30, December 16, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of organizing a Business and Professional Women's club in an informal way.

Mrs. Sherrieb gave a short history of the National Federation, saying that it was organized in St. Louis in 1910, and now has approximately 60,000 members. It publishes the Independent Woman, the pioneer monthly magazine of the U. S. devoted exclusively to the interests of business and professional women. This organization took the first steps toward raising education standards in business when it adopted its slogan, "At least a high school education for every business girl." About a quarter of a million dollars has been expended through more than 500 local educational funds and approximately 1500 girls and several boys owe their education in whole or in part to these funds.

Miss Nell Ayres told why she belonged to the Business and Professional Women's club. She has been a member five years at Plainview and is certainly enthusiastic as to the benefits to be derived from it. She said that it gave social as well as education and business advantages and that it kept the members informed on local, state and national subjects. The membership fee covers the subscription to the state and national magazines and entitles one to all the advantages of those larger organizations. The membership card is equivalent to a card of introduction to outstanding business and professional women in every section of the country.

There were about 20 women present and 15 signed as charter members. There will be another meeting next Monday at 7:30 in the county court room. At this time the organization will be perfected and others will be asked to become charter members.

Other towns of the Panhandle have clubs and the members are very enthusiastic about the benefits from this association for women from the various fields of the business world. The aim is to prove mutually helpful as individuals to each other and as a club to the community.

WYCHE CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. COOK

Mrs. C. C. Cook was hostess to the Wyche club for its regular meeting Tuesday, January 10. Mrs. Leo Wolfe, vice president, presided in the absence of the president. Members of the club gave Mrs. H. Earl Smith, retiring president, a handkerchief shower.

A talk on bedrooms of comfort, by Miss Lula Mae Martin, deaf Smith county home demonstration agent. There are four essentials which should be present in every bedroom. First of all, it should be spotlessly clean, plenty of fresh air is the second consideration. Third, the sun should shine into room during some part of every day. The fourth essential is a restful atmosphere. Mrs. R. W. Ellison has chosen bedroom demonstration, Mrs. DuBois Walker pantry demonstration.

One new member was added to the membership list of the club, Mrs. Andrew Gilliam.

The next meeting will be held January 24 with Mrs. Leo Wolfe.

HOME MAKERS CLASS MEETS

The Home Makers class of the Baptist Sunday school met at the church for their regular monthly business meeting Friday of last week. The meeting was opened with a song by the class. The business session consisted of enthusiastic plans for the new year's work. After an interesting business session, games were played. Group 3 served refreshments of cake and cocoa to Mrs. Will Alexander, Tom Majors, Edgar Mosley, Wood Vaughn, Ernest Speagle, John Hacker, Jeff Gilbreath, Barrett Sowell, Jeff Robinson, Bill Smith, Frank Ball, R. E. McCullough, Otto Massie, Hooper, and several children.

There are two kinds of class members, busy ones and idle ones. Busy ones constantly strive to help make their class a worthwhile one, and can be depended on for anything. If you are a member of the Home Makers class, what kind of member are you? Are you on the job doing your bit? If not, let's see you at Sunday school every Sunday morning and at our business meetings on the second Friday of each month. We sincerely welcome and invite new members to join with us.

has become an integral part of the educational, social, economic and cultural life of this territory; and Whereas, by all competent standards it is a senior college of the first class and is furnishing educational opportunity to thousands of the youth of Texas who could not otherwise attend college anywhere; and

Whereas, it is an institution of the first class in the field for which it was founded and has been the most powerful single factor in developing the public schools of this territory to an enviable rank among the schools of the South; and Whereas, its appropriated cost this year to each inhabitant of the state is the nominal sum of 3.8 cents; and

Whereas, the administrative authorities have already made reasonable and justifiable adjustments looking forward to economy and efficiency and are offering a policy of further retrenchments; and Whereas, the people of Northwest Texas are entitled to adequate support for the state institutions of higher learning already established in its territory; and

Whereas, it serves a large territory in which there are no other state institutions of higher learning already established, therefore Be it resolved, (1) that we vigorously oppose the proposal to abolish the institution or to change its rank or its function, and (2) That we are willing and anxious for the college to bear its just part of a sane statewide retrenchment program, and (3) That we demand the full protection of the institution as a means of preserving and promoting both the material and invisible values of our common life.

Hatcheries Get Ready for Brisk Business Year

Advertising this week announces the setting of commercial incubators of hatcheries at Hereford next Monday, January 23, thus indicating the arrival of the little chicken-time-of-the-year, and its attendant worries for the housewives of the country. The Hillside Hatchery, across the creek south of town, and the Golden Rule Hatchery, east of the city, have been supplying highest grade chicks to poultry breeders here for a number of years, and both institutions are opening the 1933 season full of hope for another successful year. The cooperation the hatcheries of Hereford have been giving the farm homes and poultry raisers in the past is largely responsible for the extra high grade of poultry to be found in the territory. Encouraging the use of pure bred stock of high egg-laying strain, the hatchery operators here have raised egg production in Deaf Smith county to be one of the leading industries.

No better facilities for hatching eggs nor higher bred poultry can be found in commercial circles over the country than is available to those trading in Hereford. The success of the Tri-County Poultry Association as it meets in Hereford each year, can be traced directly to the large number and high breeding of the birds raised here and exhibited.

CORBETT & COMPANY DONATE TO CAFETERIA

Corbett & Company, cleaners, are advertising this week they will give one-half of the proceeds taken in for cleaning, pressing, blocking of hats, etc., done next Tuesday, January 24, to assist in the work of the Central school cafeteria in supplying warm lunches to deserving boys and girls who otherwise would be without.

The firm is doing the work in cooperation with the Hereford Lions and various business men of the city who have volunteered to give financial help to see that the lunches are provided.

Build Hot Beds and Cold Frames

A. P. Swallow, Horticulturist, Extension Service, Texas A. & M.

There are not enough farms in Texas that have a hot bed or cold frame to start their vegetable plants off early in the spring. The cold frame is needed in all parts of Texas and the hot beds with the cold frames are needed in North Texas. The hot bed and cold frame are easily constructed and are of great advantage on the farm.

When plants are started in hot beds or cold frames they mature a week or two earlier than when started in the field. This will place the vegetable upon the market or table earlier. Some vegetables, such as tomatoes, bear better and more fruit when transplanted, after being started in the hot beds or cold frames. Weeds are generally easier to control when the field is transplanted; insects and diseases may be avoided to a certain extent. The above reasons for having a hot bed and cold frame on the farm do not apply to the trucker only, but to the farmer as well.

The hot bed and cold frame should be so located that access to water is convenient. They should be built on a well-drained soil and should run east and west. There should be some protection on the north side to serve as a windbreak, such as a barn, fence or hedge. If there are to be several hot beds, place them parallel because they are easier to handle when placed in this manner and help to protect each other from the wind.

The pit for the hot bed should be six feet wide and the length depends upon the amount of plants to be started and whether or not glass sashes are to be used. The width may be more or less than six feet if preferred. This width is suggested because the standard sash which is used to cover the top of these beds is six feet long and three feet wide, and a bed six feet wide is very convenient to work. It is better for the length of the bed to be such that it can be divided by three when the sash is to be used. The depth should be from 6 to 24 inches, depending on location. In the northern part of Texas the depth should be 20 to 24 inches and in the southern part about 6 to 12 inches. If the depth of the pit is 24 inches, 15 to 20 inches of manure should be put in, that is, about 3-4 of the pit should be filled with fresh mule or horse manure. The manure ought not to contain more than 50 percent of straw or bedding, and should not be put in all at once when the depth is great. A layer of about 4 to 5 inches should be put in, then packed with a sod tamper or the feet and sprinkled before the next layer is placed on.

The second and third layers are put on in the same manner as the first. After the last layers are packed and dampened, place on a layer 4 to 5 inches of good fresh garden soil, free from disease. The top layer of soil can be placed after the manure has heated, but it is best to put it on before the manure heats, because some of the weed seeds, are killed by the heat. Cover up the bed with sash or canvas and leave until the temperature rises and then drops back to 80 degrees F., which will require three to four days after the first heating starts. Do not plant any seeds until the manure has heated as it may take more time than that given above.

The frame for the hot beds can be made of cement, brick or boards (this article will only give information for the frame construction of boards). The frame should be the size of the pit, 6 feet wide and length desired. The inner posts can be made of 2x4 driven into the ground deep enough to make the frame firm. The north side should be 8 to 12 inches higher than the south side. This will give a slant to the top for drainage also the high side on the north will protect the bed from the wind and the bed will receive more sunlight. The south side should be 1 to 6 inches higher than the ground. The boards on the side and ends should extend below the surface of the soil and the soil banked up around all the sides and ends, more especially on the north-side. For the preservation of the lumber the posts should be dipped in some tar preparation and the board for sides and ends painted. The top can be made of canvas painted with a preparation made of three parts linseed oil, one ounce of sugar of lead (acetate of lead), and four ounces of white resin, which will help to keep out the water and air. This canvas can be tacked on the north side about two inches below the top and a round stick tacked on the south side which can be used in rolling it up. Some means should be provided to tie down the ends and south side on windy days and nights. The glass sash is the best when it can be obtained. The glass lets in more light and the bed is kept warmer. Fresh air can be let in easier than with the canvas. The first cost of glass is large, although the average cost is not so much, since these sashes can be kept from year to year, if properly handled.

When the plants come up and start to growing the bed should be given fresh air on warm days. Do not allow too much to get in until the plants get accustomed to it. By gradually opening this space a little more each day the plants can soon stand the early warm weather without any protection. Opening the hot bed in this manner makes it possible for it to be used as a cold frame.

The cold frames are made like the hot beds except that there is not any manure placed in the former and the pit is not dug. The advantage of having the cold frame is that plants like tomatoes and lettuce will make better and stronger root systems, also tops, when they are transplanted. Then the plants can be acclimated better in the cold frames than in the hot beds. The soil in the cold frame is very similar in food and heat to that of the garden soil. When the plants are transplanted to the cold frames they are potted or thinned out to the required distances.

Vegetables to start in the hot beds are beets, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, egg plants, lettuce, onions, peppers, hot and sweet; tomatoes, sweet potatoes, also cucumbers, cantaloupes and watermelons.

Write for further information in regard to these vegetables to the Extension Service of the A. and M. College of Texas.

FARM FOOD SUPPLY of Deaf Smith County, as Reported for 1932.

Goals: 1, make out the family food budget and fill 85 per cent of it; 2, keep record of amount canned.

There were 250 women reached with the farm food supply demonstration in the county.

The 12 demonstrators canned a total of 2730 quarts of fruits, vegetables, pickles, relishes, preserves, jams, jellies, meat, and dried 874 pounds of fruits and vegetables. The total value being $931. The cooperators canned 15,083 quarts of fruits, vegetables, pickles, preserves, etc., valued at $9,821.14, and dried 3,945 pounds of fruits and vegetables.

There were 16,000 cans sold, and 20,024 glass jars, 38 pressure cookers, nine sealers, 850 cans were provided by the commissioners court for charity canning, and the court bought one cooker and sealer for use of agent and people of the county.

During the two-day Achievement tour, 15 pantries were visited, and 111 people attended. One county exhibit was held at which nine clubs arranged booths.

Mrs. F. R. Stivers' Exhibit.

A pantry of 587 containers, one of the best demonstration farm food supplies in Deaf Smith county, is that of Mrs. F. R. Stivers of Ward club, 10 miles northwest of town. According to demonstration methods, Mrs. Stivers put her beans and peas in No. 2 plain cans. Tin is used for non-acid vegetables for meat because of the danger of poisoning from botulinas bacillus, a bacteria found in the soil. The toxin from this particular bacteria is a deadly poison. The bacteria is killed by the high temperature to which food is subjected and the rapid cooling of the tin cans as soon as they come from the cookers. Mrs. Stivers boils all food 10 minutes after taking from the can before using. This boiling in open air will kill any bacteria that happens to be in the can. This precaution will greatly lessen dangers from food poisoning.

By putting her corn in No. 20 enamel cans, Mrs. Stivers was sure of complete heat penetration and no iron sulphide, a black deposit but non poisonous, which is found in corn canned in plain tin cans.

Drying is a safe and inexpensive method of preserving fruits and vegetables. "I am prouder of my dried fruit and vegetables than anything else I have," said Mrs. Stivers, as she showed with pride the six varieties of dried fruit and nine varieties of dried vegetables to the group of visitors on achievement day. "I have 112 pounds of dried peaches, apples, pears, plums or prunes, apricots and cherries; 85 pounds of beans and peas, nine pounds dried corn, eight pounds butterbeans, half bushel Koll-rob, four pounds turnips, five bushels beets, 30 pounds peanuts, 40 pounds popcorn, and about three bushels of cabbage in a pit."

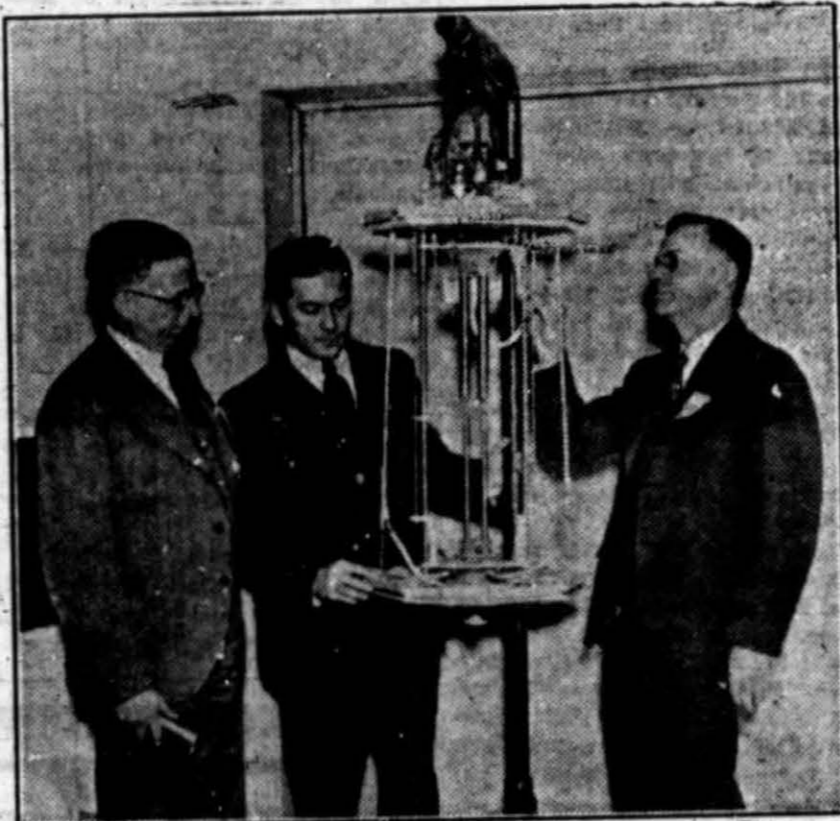

"On account of a shortage of jars, I put my tomato juice in bottles, but I like it better than in the jars, and I already had the bottles," said Mrs. Stivers.

Mrs. Stivers put her dill pickles in a stone jar and left them until ready to use. Some of the pickles she put in quart jars but did not want to use more jars and they keep just as well in stone jars or kegs.

BUSINESS MEN'S BIBLE AND BEREAN CLASSES UNITE

Sunday morning the Berean class of the Baptist church visited the Business Men's Bible class, with Earl W. Wilson as teacher. It was unanimously voted to consolidate, and from now on the Berreens will assemble on the ground floor of the church. It was also voted to keep the organization and all those officers that are now serving the Berreens. A committee was appointed to rename the organization and they are to report Sunday.

Rev. V. M. Cloyd has been instructing the Berean class and it is hoped that he will remain with them and serve as substitute teacher. The class would not like to lose such a good teacher, but the Berreens are past the age limit for the young people's department, in which Rev. Cloyd teaches.

All men and young men are invited to visit the class Sunday, and, as Judge Wilson says, "ho latch-string of our class is always on the outside."

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Deaf Smith County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon William W. Ryan, R. E. McGlachlin, L. V. Phillips, S. F. Stark, Frank G. Warren and the Monroe County Bank, a corporation, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the Sixty-Ninth Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said Sixty-Ninth Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Deaf Smith County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Hereford, Texas, on the 5th Monday in January, 1933, the same being the 30th day of January, 1933, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 28th day of December, 1932, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 2054, wherein Claude Tugwell is Plaintiff, and William W. Ryan, R. E. McGlachlin, L. V. Phillips, S. F. Stark, Frank G. Warren and the Monroe County Bank, a corporation, are Defendants, and said petition alleging that plaintiff is the owner in fee simple of the following described land situated in Deaf Smith County, Texas, and entitled to possession thereof, to-wit: All the N. W. 1/4 of Survey or Section number 16, Township 2, North of Range 4, East of a Capital Syndicate subdivision as shown by a plat thereof, of record in the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas.

That on or about December 1, 1932, plaintiff was in possession of said lands and entitled to possession thereof, but that defendants, on or about said date, unlawfully entered upon said lands and dispossessed plaintiff thereof, and now withhold possession thereof from plaintiff.

That the Capitol Free Hold Land and Investment Co., Ltd., is common source of plaintiff's and defendants' title.

That plaintiff deranged his title from said Company through Deed of Conveyance from said Company to defendant Stark; Deed from defendant Stark, and wife, Mary E. Stark, to R. E. McGlachlin; Deed from said McGlachlin and wife, Grace McGlachlin, to Frank G. Warren; Deed from Frank G. Warren and wife, Sarah F. Warren, to defendant Bank; Deed from said defendant Bank to defendant Warren; Deed from defendant Warren to Ralph Barnett; Deed from Ralph Barnett to L. V. Phillips; Deed from said defendant Phillips and wife, Ida L. Phillips, to C. M. Tyler; Deed from C. M. Tyler and wife, Annie E. Tyler, to C. G. Brooks; Deed from C. G. Brooks and wife, Maggie Brooks, to plaintiff.

That on December 11, 1908, Defendant Stark executed Deed of Trust on said land to defendant William W. Ryan, as trustee, to secure two notes aggregating $550.00, executed by defendant Stark to the Associated Land Company, and that said Deed of Trust provided that when said notes were paid, said trustee would and should release said land.

That the Deed of Conveyance of said land, by defendant Stark, and wife, to defendant McGlachlin recites that the defendant Stark assume the payment of five notes, each for the sum of $170.00; That the Deed of Conveyance from the defendant McGlachlin, and wife, to defendant Warren recites that Warren assumed payment of five notes for $170.00; That the Deed of Conveyance from defendant Phillips to said Tyler recites that Tyler assume payment of a note for $275.00.

That neither of said Deeds recite to whom said notes are payable or who is the owner or owners or holder thereof, and plaintiff does not know who owns or holds either of said notes, but that each and all of said notes secured by said Deed of Trust, recited in said Deeds, have been paid off and satisfied, but that neither the said Deed of Trust Lien nor the Vendor's Lien, by reason of said assumption have been released and they create clouds on plaintiff's title to said land.

Plaintiff seeks to recover title of said lands from defendants and to cancel and annul the liens created on said land, by reason of said Deed of Trust and said assumptions of the payments of said indebtedness.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in the City of Hereford, this 29th day of December, 1932.

(Seal) L. H. Foster, Clerk, District Court, Deaf Smith County, Texas.
