Farmers' Creamery Exceeds Butter Production Records In Months of June and July

The Farmers' Creamery, Inc., of Hereford finished the highest month's production of its history during July when it shipped out 125,000 pounds of Cream of Plains butter. During June the creamery broke all former records in the purchase of butter fat, but July in turn exceeded that by 20,000 pounds. It is expected that August will again establish a new mark in production, but dry weather and short pastures will likely cut down the production of individual herds.

S. B. Walker, who spends most of his time establishing points of contact over a wide range of territory to secure shipments of cream to Hereford, says that the excellent cooperation farmers give the creamery is directly responsible for the heavy receipts. For more than 100 miles in almost every direction cream is brought or shipped to Hereford, the sellers attracted by the high price the creamery pays. During July the price averaged five cents a pound over the current card price quotations. Much trade in all lines of business is brought to Hereford by the influence exerted through good butterfat prices.

Because of the large receipts, the manufacturing price of butter has been reduced two or three cents a pound, and this saving has been returned to the cream patron in higher prices for their product. This week the creamery is paying 17 cents a pound for butterfat, a raise of five cents in the past few weeks.

"It is a popular idea," said Mr. Walker, "that a high price is essential to the successful operation of our creamery, but we are convinced that the very gratifying results we are now obtaining is due to the cooperation we are receiving from cream producers throughout this region. The cooperation makes a large production possible, the increased volume makes manufacturing costs lower per pound, and we in turn can pay better prices for cream because it doesn't cost us as much per pound to handle it."

S. L. Easley Burial Rites Last Saturday

S. L. Easley, who died Friday in an Amarillo hospital after submitting to a major operation, was buried in West Park Cemetery Saturday afternoon, following funeral services at the First Methodist church, conducted by Revs. J. M. Fuller and M. J. Johnson.

Mr. Easley's death was a blow to his many friends, and his going is a distinct loss to Hereford's good citizenship.

S. L. Easley was born in Johnson County, Texas, May 7, 1872. He was the son of John Ellington and Janie Chitt Easley. His life was spent near Fort Worth, until the age of 14, when he moved with his parents to Hardeman County, Texas, seven miles from Chillicothe, where he lived until eight years ago. At that time he and his family moved to Hereford. In early childhood he was converted and joined the Methodist church.

Mr. Easley had seven brothers and three sisters, three brothers preceding him in death, one dying in infancy, one in early manhood, and one last November.

Mr. Easley was first married to Miss Lucy Oswald of Chillicothe. To this union were born three daughters, Laura, who was married to Paul E. Foster, of Hereford; Zoella and Mildred. All three daughters died before their father. Laura and Zoella within months of each other. Two sixteen months apart in this union. One was also born to this union. Oscar and S. L. Easley, Jr. Both survive him and live in Hereford. His wife died when S. L., Jr., was four years old. Five years later, on March 23, 1917, he was married to Miss Annie Morris, of Greenville, Texas, who survives him. To this union was born one son, Morris Easley. Two grandsons survive him, Paul Easley Foster and James Oscar Easley.

Relatives who attended the funeral services were Henry Easley, a brother of Quannah; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harper, a nephew of Quannah; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thompson, niece of Quannah; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Easley, a brother of Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. David Magee, sister of Levelland; Mary Jane, Virginia and Dorothy Magee, nieces; Mrs. S. A. Campsey, sister, Quannah; Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, niece, Amarillo; Anna Frances and Mary Baker, Amarillo; J. E. and Harold Easley, nephews, Petersburg, Texas; Mrs. Sidney Bennett, sister of Mrs. Easley, and daughters, Margaret and Marion, Jessup, Georgia; and a cousin of Mrs. Easley, Mrs. Jim Gouley and son, Roland, of Wildorado.

LIONS MUST SERVE CHICKEN SUPPER TO GOLFING OPPONENTS

The challenge issued by the Hereford golf club to members of the Lions club resulted rather disastrously for the Lions, who should have stuck to their own haunts and not got so far in the open they could be shot up so badly. Of course, several of the Lions gave exceedingly good accounts of themselves, but there were not enough of that kind, so the golfers, who have named themselves the Lion Tamers, took the tournament 13-8.

A chicken supper is in prospect, but when or how has not been so far determined. J. M. Posey, who represents the Lions and is somewhat blamed for "wandering" the Lions into the match, is in charge of the arrangements and will probably make announcement of the supper during the coming week.

School Opening Date Set For September 5th

Plans for the opening of the Hereford schools on Monday, September 5, are going forward steadily. The first four days of high school enrollment brought an unusual number for registration. At four o'clock Tuesday a total of 141 students had enrolled. These were divided as follows: 38 seniors, 40 juniors, 24 sophomores and 20 freshmen. It is the hope of school authorities that all high school people will find it possible to enroll within the next two weeks. Office hours will be from 10:00 to 12:00 and from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock each day. Children in the lower grades will not report until Monday, September 5, the low fifth and lower grades at Central school, all others at the high school building.

Probably the last school board meeting before the opening of school will be held on Thursday, August 18, at 8:30 p. m. At this meeting the budget for 1932-33 will be adopted. The board has operated the schools for many years on a budget, but this will be the first year under the new budget law prescribing a uniform system for all schools. The meeting will be open to the public, as is required by law.

A recent announcement from Austin advised that the State would pay $16.00 per child of school age for the next fiscal year, beginning on September 1. The amount promised for the year now closing was $17.50, as it has been for a few years past. About $3.50 of this amount will not be paid until after the opening of the 1932-33 fiscal year. The amount to be received from the State for the new year for the Hereford schools will be about $2,000 less than was paid or will be paid for the year 1931-32. The lowering of the per capita apportionment was made necessary by the decline in receipts from the state property tax, the smaller amounts received from the oil and gasoline taxes, a part of which goes to the school fund, and the lower poll tax payments, since $1.00 of each poll tax goes to the school fund, and 1933 is not an election year. The cigarette tax and the increased sulphur tax have been worth a great deal to the schools at a time when other receipts have fallen off. The somewhat improved price of oil also encouraged these receipts. It is also encouraged these receipts for making the apportionment of $16.00 for next year.

D. O. WILLIAMS HOME NEAR ABERNATHY BURNS

Mr. and Mrs. Sherm Williams returned this week from Abernathy where they have been visiting their son, D. O. Williams, and family, former Deaf Smith county citizens, who moved there several years ago. They bring word of the unfortunate loss of D. O.'s home and household property by fire early last Saturday morning.

A gasoline cook stove exploded, and three burning gasoline over Mrs. Williams as she was getting breakfast, and almost the entire contents of the home were lost. For a time it was thought Mrs. Williams was fatally burned from the explosion, but at last reports she was recovering nicely. There was no insurance on the property.

The Williams will live in a second house on their farm, but must buy new housekeeping equipment throughout.

J. L. ROGERS HOME BURNED EARLY SUNDAY

The home of J. L. Rogers was completely ruined by fire about 3:00 o'clock Sunday morning. The entire set of household furniture was destroyed. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers were away from home at the time, they having gone to Portales to visit her parents the evening before. Sam Cunningham, who roomed in the home, was its only occupant, and he barely escaped with his clothes.

Rev. V. M. Cloyd left this week for Alexander to teach in the Erath County Baptist Assembly. Mrs. Cloyd and sons will visit in Winters and Abilene with relatives.

Dr. W. S. Allen, Dean of Baylor University, will occupy the pulpit at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. The municipal band, under direction of Ralph Smith, will render a sacred concert at the evening hour.

Democrats Tell Delegates Vote for Prohibition

The Deaf Smith county Democratic convention was held in the court house Saturday, July 30, and elected C. C. Acker, E. S. Ireland, G. A. F. Parker and A. O. Thompson as delegates to the Democratic State Convention, which convenes in Lubbock, Tuesday, September 13.

The Deaf Smith delegation was sent with instructions to vote for prohibition, for maintaining the Eighteenth Amendment and against the submission of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Charlie O'Dell Badly Burned by Exploding Can

Charles O'Dell is going around with his head heavily bandaged this week as the result of a can of fruit exploding as he took it from the pressure cooker Monday morning at the E. H. Hewitt farm, 13 miles southwest of town.

Mr. O'Dell says he had processed a pressure cooker full of canned vegetables and had let the pressure down and taken off the lid of the cooker. While lifting out the cans to put them in a hot water bath he noticed a slight bulge on the side of a can and turned it around to inspect it. He says he never knew when the can exploded but the after effect is sufficient evidence that it did. The scalding contents flew over his head and shoulders, and for a time it was feared the sight of his eyes was lost, but more recent developments show that beyond bad burns from which he will slowly recover, he was not injured.

Mr. O'Dell advises that those who take cans from pressure cookers protect their eyes with glasses or goggles. It is probable the pressure in the cooker was lowered more rapidly than to give sufficient time for the pressure within the cans to lower in a corresponding degree, and a somewhat faulty can thus contained more pressure than it could withstand, and exploded.

SOME LOCALITIES GET ABUNDANT RAINFALL

Good rains have fallen at scattered points over Deaf Smith county during the past week. Several refreshing showers have fallen in Hereford and reports from several directions tell of good precipitation at various places.

The downfall, however, has not been sufficient to do an appreciable amount of good, for the rains have not overlapped or covered enough territory to be called general.

In the meantime, row crops continue to suffer for want of moisture, and much wheat land is being left unplowed because the soil is not in tillable condition.

Last Rites Held Friday Afternoon for Mrs. R. J. Kibbe

Mrs. R. J. Kibbe died Thursday morning, August 4, after a lingering illness for the past year. Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. M. J. Johnson in the First Christian church. Interment was made in West Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Kibbe was one of the pioneers of Deaf Smith county, and was one of the best loved and respected women of the community, and hundreds of friends are bowed in grief over her passing.

Celista L. Ling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ling, was born in Poweshock county, Iowa, February 23, 1886. She was married to R. J. Kibbe February 6, 1884, moving with him to Harrison county, Iowa, where they lived until the spring of 1891, when they moved to Deaf Smith county, Texas. To this union were born eight children, two girls and six boys, four of whom have gone on before. Those remaining to grieve, beside the husband, are Mrs. Ida Vaughn, Dr. Clyde Kibbe, Harry Kibbe, of Hereford, and Mrs. Lora L. Bane of Salt Lake City, Utah, all of whom were with her at the time of her death.

Mrs. Kibbe united with the Methodist church when a child, but lived as an early settler here where there were no churches for a number of years, until in September, 1901, when she united with the Christian church of Hereford, which she remained an active worker until a little over a year ago, when her health began to fail.

She was a charter member of the Clara Nance Sunday school class, in which she served as student, president and teacher at different times in the course of years. She had been a member of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary societies for a number of years, enjoying the work and fellowship with them. She was a loyal member of the Rebekah Lodge from the early days of that order in Hereford, and always enjoyed the work whether as an officer or as a delegate.

Mrs. Kibbe was an untiring worker with the sick, and did everything she could for the welfare of her community. Her father, mother, one brother and three sisters have gone on before, while three brothers, John W. Ling, Russell Ling and Thomas Ling; two sisters, Mrs. Mary A. Wood and Miss Kittle Ling, remain to grieve with the family. She also leaves 13 grandchildren, all of whom were here except one grandchild who is in Arkansas and was unable to get here.

GOLFERS DEFEAT CANYON; PLAY CLOVIS SUNDAY; TOURNAMENT AT TULLA

The local golf club presented a mass attack against the best Canyon could bring over last Sunday, and sent the visitors home in defeat, 3-14 to 5-24 in the Wheat Belt Golf League match. Next Sunday will witness the closing match of the league season when the Hereford club goes to Clovis for its final scheduled game of the year.

The annual tournament of the league will be played the first Sunday and Labor Day in Tulla, when the best players of the five teams play 36 holes in medal competition for individual championship ratings in the league. This was decided Monday night when representatives of Tulla and Plainview met with the Hereford club here to arrange for the tournament.

Surveyors Of Highway Work On First Street

That work on the right of way project on Highway 60 from Hereford east to the Randall county line is progressing well, was evidenced this week by the appearance of engineers within the city running surveyor's lines along First Street, the route of travel the highway will be branched to at the eastern city limits. Both the present route down Third Street and the new one along First will be marked as state highways, to again be joined at the west side of town.

The committee in charge of securing permits to use the additional land and increase the highway to the required width, has reported the entire route from the Erwin Grain Company east to the county line has been secured, but all details have not been worked out so the papers may be turned over to the commissioners court that it may announce to the state highway department the designated width of right of way is ready for the state to go to work.

It is expected the contract for the grading and drainage structures from the east end of the highway in this county will be awarded at the next month's meeting of the state highway department officials, and it is hoped all permits will be ready and everything in shape that the work may be rushed through.

Considerable interest is manifest in the expressed determination of the Deaf Smith county commissioners to bid on the contract for the first unit of the road work. The county has as good or better equipment than any contractor who may bid on the job. The contractor must bid to make a profit, but the county commissioners will be doing much good if they can operate at cost, at the same time affording an opportunity for local labor to have work.

Deaf Smith county citizens as a rule are not aware that a movement through the tier of counties extending along the west side of the state is working at present to establish a state designated highway to come from the south thru Muleshoe to Friona and north through Vega and across the Canadian River at Tascosa. Such a highway would cut Deaf Smith county in two without affording transportation facilities useful to county interests in the least. The proposed route is up for consideration before the next meeting of the highway department in September. A later suggestion has been made to have the route transferred to come to Hereford from Friona, then go north to Vega, but such a plan is not in keeping with the state department's usual method of going in the most direct line to the desired point, and is not probable of acceptance.

Randall County Work.

E. H. Gemert, resident engineer, in charge of the paving of Highway 60, just across the county line east in Randall, reports the work there progressing nicely, having almost reached Embarger. After that traffic will be permitted to go over the double base of caliche which has been laid until weather and climatic conditions permit the spraying of asphalt topping on that portion of the road.

District Court To Reconvene Next Monday

District court will again be in session, beginning Monday of next week, reconvening after a recess since August 3. The second week's petit jury will be called for duty, that of the first week having been dismissed at the time of recess.

The grand jury is expected to reconvene Friday of next week, August 19, and will resume investigations of alleged law violations. Ten indictments were turned in for the court's consideration during the few days the grand jury was in session before recessing.

Hereford Masons and Eastern Stars will have their annual picnic at the Wes Brady home east of town Friday of next week. The picnic proper is not scheduled to begin until after five o'clock, but guests will be welcomed any time after noon.

This is to be an old-time basket picnic, in which each family, tending will be expected to bring a basket of things good to eat. When all have gathered, these baskets will be opened and the contents spread together on one large table.

Attendance will be confined to members of the Masonic and Eastern Star lodges. Visiting members of these organizations have cordial invitations to attend and enjoy the evening.

LUBBOCK-SOUTH PLAINS FAIR OPENS SEPTEMBER 26

Exhibitors at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock, September 26 to October 1, will crowd all buildings to capacity, if present indications can be depended upon. A. B. Davis, manager of the exposition has said.

Since announcement of the fair recently, inquiries from a majority of the larger exhibitors of other years in the livestock, poultry, swine and other departments have been received which indicate that practically all these old exhibitors will be back.

Tennis Fans to Meet Next Week In Tournament

The annual city tennis tournament will open Monday, August 15. A schedule of play arranged by drawing at a preliminary meeting held August 9, was as follows: In the singles first round contest, Elmer Dameron plays Edgar Pickett; T. E. Selgier plays Travis Dameron; Urin Green plays Roy Arnold; Edgar Ireland plays Keith Guthrie; Woodrow Ireland plays Hal Kester; Marlin Gilliland plays Clifford Kester. The two ceded players, Frank Cogdell and Bernard Seed, automatically received byes into the second round. First round doubles matches include C. Kester and Arnold vs Dameron and Dameron and Kester vs Guthrie and Guthrie vs Ireland and Pickett. Ceded teams in the doubles events are Ssed and Cogdell, Selgier and Streu.

A great deal of interest in this tournament has been shown by the players, and it is expected that the 1932 meet will be the best yet held. Bill Pinniken, winner of last year's singles titles, will not be present to defend it this year, but last year's doubles champions, Streu and Selgier, will again participate.

Bernard Seed and Miss Angela McCurdy Marry

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Bernard Seed to Miss Angela McCurdy of Archer City, at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. McCurdy, at 8:00 p. m., Wednesday, August 3.

Mr. Seed is the son of Mrs. C. W. Bennett here, and one of Hereford's most popular young men. Both he and his bride have been students of Simmons University of Abilene for the past several years and are among the leading spirits in student activities there. From almost every house you pass these days comes the odor of cooking berries or steaming vegetables. Women are busy—busy storing away vitamins, minerals, calories and flavors in jars for the winter days. Even with the reassurance they may have from the political parties that times will be better after election, women will run no risks. They want to be sure of food for their families.

There are many lovely gardens this summer. In these gardens grow both wax and crisp green string beans, health giving spinach and chard, calcium rich carrots, young tender beets, well-liked peas and ears of green corn. Perhaps some gardeners have been even more ambitious, but whatever it is—it can be kept safe for food in jars. Since there is more than enough food right now, the wish comes almost instinctively not to let it waste but to save it for the day when Jack Frost is king. Home canned jars of food are not only a sure source of good food, but they are a real convenience, for the food is all ready to serve. What if unexpected guests arrive? What matter if the housewife is delayed long at a meeting? What if the day has been extra busy? There are jars of food for every need all ready for any emergency.

More than ever this year the old art of canning is again being revived. Science has been at work, too, in home economics laboratories all over the country and has discovered newer and surer methods of canning vegetables, meats and fruits, if you wish. This will, no doubt, be one of the greatest canning years ever known. City and town women are catching the spirit of canning. The rural housewife has always been a great canner. One woman tells of canning 750 jars of fruits, vegetables and meats last year. She says, "I plan to fill all those jars again this year. Then I need not fear that our family will not have enough good healthful food this winter."

Few vegetables contain vitamin C, necessary for growth. Tomatoes are rich in this vitamin, and so stand in high favor on the tables of both the rich and the poor. Tomatoes were joined tremendous flavor as a health giving drink during this past year. Old Man Depression is being chased out of every town, village and hamlet by thrifty women who are filling glass jars with fruits, vegetables, jellies, jams and pickles for next winter's use. They say that every cloud has

A LONG TIME AGO IN HEREFORD

(From the Hereford Reporter, August 9, 1901.)

According to Dimmitt Squibs, Judge C. F. Kerr and J. E. Turner had been in Hereford on business that week.

Three sections of land in Castro county's good farming district had been sold for $2000.

H. C. Fox, expert paper hanger and decorator, had come in from Corsicana and was advertising for work in his line.

The Reporter called the attention of its readers to the fact that no fewer than five of its advertisers had changed copy that week, and in addition one new advertiser had contracted for space.

The editor used quite a bit of space in defense of Admiral Schley, who had, it seemed, been charged by some of the higher-ups with winning a naval battle against the Spanish fleet in the late unpleasantness.

a silver lining, but this particular depression cloud has a gold lining. This is the "canningest" year in history. Thousands of women and girls, many of them who have never canned anything before, are now taking advantage of the plentiful supply of fresh foods at reasonable prices, and the low price of sugar, and are canning, canning, canning. Perhaps some long past ancestral hunch is reminding them that this winter may be a hard one, and they'd better be about the business of laying in a goodly supply of foods. Anyway, everything from soup to dessert is being canned.

Some Facts About Texas.

A baby is born every five minutes in Texas—12 every hour and 288 per day.
There is a baby to each 13 families, a ratio for five and for each 1 1/2 families somebody has bought an automobile.
Texas has 150,000 more radios and 820,000 more automobiles registered than babies, the totals being 101,017 babies, 257,086 radios, and 921,752 automobiles.

The winter months, December, January and February, in Texas, are the most dangerous—27.6 per cent of the year's total deaths occur during those months.
The fall months, September, October and November, are very favorable to human life, as only 22 per cent of all deaths occur during that quarter, as shown by the mortality records of the past five years filed in the State Bureau of Vital Statistics.

One person dies every nine minutes—six every hour and 158 every day, in Texas.

There are 8.6 deaths among the white; 12.6 among the negroes; 10 among the Mexicans—per 1000.
More than 40 per cent of all deaths are caused by five diseases: heart disease, pneumonia, tuberculosis, nephritis and appendicitis.
Heart disease kills an average of 18 people a day; tuberculosis 11; nephritis and appendicitis eight, and cancer seven.

Of all the conditions and diseases that cause death, ten causes are to blame for more than 60 per cent of all deaths from all causes.

There are 5 1/2 deaths per day due to old age babies under one

Dimmitt was preparing for a big tournament on August 14, and it was expected practically everybody from this part of the Platte would be there.

County court had been in session, and part of its business was to dispose of seven indictments against a citizen for instigating illegal voting. This was easily accomplished when it was found that the state had neither an attorney nor one single witness. This first case was dismissed, the remaining six called for trial the following Saturday.

(From the Hereford Brand, August 11, 1911.)

The wool clip for the Hereford territory that year had run about 700,000 pounds, more than 200,000 pounds above estimates.

Two new States had been added to the Union, New Mexico and Arizona. The Senate had granted these territories statehood by a vote of 53 to 18.

A curfew law had been passed for the benefit of the younger boys and girls, and the measure, it was thought, would do a great deal of good for the melon patches and plum orchards.

The Brand was rather inquisitive as to whether there was to be a fair in the fall.

New equipment had been added to the Brand office, said equipment consisting of a square-faced spittoon, 12 by 14 inches in size. Usual friends were invited to drop by and try it out.

Jonathan and Mac Pitman had entertained friends at a forty-two party. Readings by Misses Beesie Snyder and Louise Oberthier had added much to the pleasure of the evening. Little Misses Nellie Farmer and Elizabeth Oberthier had served punch.

The editor remarked "There's many a man who tries to make his wife keep all the family in good standing in the church."

Several families from here attended singing in Friona Sunday and gave a fine report on it.

THE COMMERCIAL USE OF TEXAS HIGHWAYS IS A PRIVILEGE, NOT A RIGHT

The highways of Texas are the property of its citizens. They constitute a system of nearly 200,000 miles of road of which 20,000 miles are designated as State highways and the remainder are county roads. All types of road are represented in this system, less than 5% have so-called "permanent" surface.

The total cost of these highways is unknown but it amounts to many hundred million dollars. From 1917 to 1930, inclusive, counties and road districts of the State issued $243,592,834 in bonds for the construction and improvement of roads and bridges. In the two-year period ending August 31, 1930, the State Highway Commission expended $89,032,825, of which $22,488,426 was for maintenance of the State highways.

In view of these tremendous costs the preservation of our highways from rapid wear and destruction is a matter of very vital interest to their owners, viz., the public. It is especially important that they be made to outlast the life of the bonds, which run from 20 to 30 years.

The use of the public highways for commercial purposes is not a right but a privilege which may be withheld or granted subject to such restrictions, regulations and charges as the Legislature may see fit to impose. Such regulations are intended to promote and preserve the highways and safeguard the interests of the public.

Texas Railroads, which pay the entire cost of construction and maintenance of their own roadbeds and, in addition, make substantial contributions to the cost of Texas highways, are thoroughly regulated with respect to their services, rates, methods and practices. There is no good reason why commercial users of the highways, built and maintained at the expense of the public, should not likewise be regulated to such extent as the public interest requires and pay such charges as will represent proper compensation for the privileges granted them.

The statutes governing highway transportation as enacted by the Forty-second Legislature represent the wishes of the citizens of this State and express their desire to give equal rights to all and special privileges to none. These statutes should be given a fair trial and their value ascertained. Unless this is done, a chaotic condition in transportation as a whole will surely ensue.

Scores went to Miss Martha Duncan, club, and Mrs. M. C. Alston, guest. At the close of the playing refreshments of a salad plate were served.

Star Theatre To Play Great Jungle Picture

An unusual motion picture of jungle savage beasts in action is due for its first showing in Hereford week after next. It is "Bring 'Em Back Alive," visualizing the adventures of Frank Buck in fetching the largest and most ferocious wild beasts from the jungle to the zoos of the world. The feature will be presented at the Star theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, August 21-22-23, and is one of the biggest picture attractions this year.

The picture shows, among other events, a stalking, preying, frothing female tiger cut a tiny baby elephant off from its mother. The baby pachyderm is no higher from the ground than a medium sized police dog. Still whimpering for its mother's milk, it senses danger. Its miniature trunk trumpets an SOS for mamma. The tiger relentless, tireless, intent on the kill, lopes along. The wee elephant runs this way and that. It turns—it scampers to the brush wild with terror, while the tiger enemy trails it with drooling tongue and bared fangs.

But Frank Buck is there with a long barreled rifle. A careful, easy, well-timed shot brings the tiger down. And then a wild chase to capture the baby elephant with his bare hands.

Again a little black honey-bear ambles into camp. It is so young its eyes are still unopened. Buck places it in a rough-hewn cabin built six feet off the ground. Dinnertime and a hungry cub, missing its mother, lifts the simple latch, purely by accident. By instinct it rolls off to the jungle. There's heart interest. Now comes the villain of the piece—a long, lithe, forked-tongued snake coiled in the sun—every ear and sense alive with hungry hope. And there's the little bear, innocent, ambling, trusting. The forked tongue leaps out—the coiled body uncoils—dinnertime for Mr. Snake. Lights out for Master Bear? But no. Kindly providence in the guise of Frank Buck's native boy, momentarily stops the snake and a little black honey-bear comes back home.

Work of Paving Highway No. 7 Thru Bailey County Begun This Week; Lamb County Will Get Work Toward Sudan

Twelve carloads of equipment, road machinery, etc., belonging to Womack & Henning Contracting Co., Sherman, who have the contract for grading and paving 12 1/2 miles of State Highway No. 7, arrived in Muleshoe Saturday and was unloaded Monday morning. Preliminary work began the following day. The equipment was shipped here from Spearman, in Hansford county, where this company recently finished a big road contract. Another consignment of several cars of road machinery is due here about the middle of this week.

The work on this contract is in charge of C. P. Neal, superintendent for the construction company. Neal brought with him about 15 machinery operators and foremen. Also there will be brought in here about 25 teams of mules to be used on the road work. It is understood to be the policy of the construction company to employ all general labor needed in Bailey county, and such trucks as will be required will also be secured within the county where the work is being done. Headquarters for the workmen has been established in Muleshoe.

Work of brushing off the highway and preparing the road bed for the caliche mattress is to be started at once. Three wells are to be drilled equal distance over the 12 miles to be paved, which will furnish the necessary water for bedding down and solidifying the caliche base on which the pavement is to be laid.

The construction company, ac-ording to the contract, has 175 days, not counting Sundays and legal holidays, in which to complete the work on this road. It is thought, however, the task will be completed in from 100 to 120 days, since it is the established policy of this company to always finish their contracts as rapidly as possible.

Lamb County Gets Paving. Last week an appropriation was made by the State Highway Department for the paving of 3.747 miles of road in Lamb county on this same No. 7 highway. It will begin at a point 3.5 miles northwest of Sudan, continuing to the Lamb-Bailey line, and hooking up with the present work on this highway started this week.

The appropriations of federal and state funds made for this project totals $37,500.76, and pays for the grading, drainage structures, caliche base and bituminous surface treatment, averaging a cost of little more than $14,000 per mile. —Muleshoe Journal.

The success of the Prosperity program of last week in the point of increased attendance at the Star Theatre was very pleasing to J. C. Parker, manager, and the six Hereford merchants who helped in putting over the program. Greater crowds than the theatre has witnessed for a long time were in evidence each night and people got more thoroughly acquainted with the type of pictures and the genuine good entertainment the Star brings for them.

The show is presenting for the last time tonight Warner Baxter in "Man About Town," a story of the intrigues and manipulations of political adventurers in Washington, probably not greatly different from the Star picture of last week, "Washington Masquerade." Tonight's feature is a "Event picture," inasmuch as two persons may attend for 1 cent more than the price of a single admission.

Sunday afternoon's matinee and Monday and Tuesday evenings' shows will present Richard Dix in a war story played amid scenes of the recent Chinese-Japanese struggle. Floyd Prepares For 39 Miles State Highway Engineers with the State Highway Department will be in Floyd Monday to start work on the survey for grading and draining a 100-foot right of way on Highway No. 28 through Floyd county, according to information given by County Judge J. W. Howard, Wednesday morning in a long distance telephone conversation with Guy R. Johnson, district resident engineer.

39 Miles of Road. Work of completing the plats and drawings and preliminary plans will require from six weeks to two months, it was indicated, and actual construction on the 39 miles of road will begin about October 1.

State and federal officials will approve the survey and routings and work on the road will immediately follow, Engineer Johnson said.

In a special called session Monday the commissioners court of the county accepted a report of committees and guaranteed with a signed contract the right-of-way through the county.—Floyd County Hesperian.

They had new neighbors and the wife was much interested in them. In a few days she reported: "They seem to be a most devoted couple, John. He kisses her every time he goes out and even waves kisses at her from the sidewalk. Why don't you do that?"
"Why don't I?" replied John.
"Good heavens, I don't even know her yet."

Mr. Campbell, internationally known for his 95,000 acre wheat farm in Montana (a leading example of mechanized farming) was asked by the Soviet Government to assist in the development of the Russian wheat system under the Five Year Plan. Though at first hesitant to accept the invitation because of his innate dislike of a Communist form of government, Mr. Campbell went once, and then a second time to Russia, primarily as a specialist, secondarily as an observer.

"Because of this relatively unique background, the author is able to present a new picture of what has become an almost overexploited subject. The first foreigner to be officially received by Stalin, one of the leading brains behind the Russian agricultural development (still the outstanding feather in the cap of the Five Year Plan); an American technician who can no longer be blinded by propaganda here or abroad—these factors help Mr. Campbell to give a study of Russia which, both in its domestic and international scope is of immediate value.

"Mr. Campbell's primary interest is in wheat, a world-wide problem, which if satisfactorily disposed of might well lead to a quick return to prosperity in other fields, agricultural and industrial. The au-

"Likewise his general conclusions will please no particular group but should cause every thinking person in this country to face clearly the question of trade with and recognition of what is now in potential possibilities, the world's greatest country.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

Exodus 20:12-21

12. Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long in the land which Jehovah thy God giveth thee.
13. Thou shalt not kill.
14. Thou shalt not commit adultery.
15. Thou shalt not steal.
16. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.
17. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his man-servant, nor his maid-servant.

nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is thy neighbor's.
Golden Text: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Lev. 19:18.

Introduction.

The Commandments were written on two stone tablets, and probably the first four, which we studied last week, occupied the first tablet, because they all relate to our duties to God; the remaining six, relating to our duties to men, probably occupied the second tablet of the law. These are now to study. The first, the duty of honoring parents, is a suitable transition, because during the years before we can understand the first elements of religion, our parents stand in God's place to us.

The Fifth Commandment.

"Honor thy father and thy mother." The eternal law requires the reverent loyalty of son and daughter. "In proportion to this great virtue of filial obedience is engrained upon the manners of any country, in the same proportion will decency and good order prevail there, and every precept of the gospel be more deeply engrained on the minds and uniformly displayed in the actions of that people."—Rev. Sydney Smith. "Some scarcely know what honoring a parent means—they can only talk of themselves and their own importance. And, oh! how bitter is the anguish of recognizing that the honor has not been rendered, and that the time for it is gone; that their gray hairs are in the dust; they want no more the services that were withheld, the reverence and the love which were refused them." "That thy days may be long in the land which Jehovah thy God giveth thee." This is, as Paul calls it, "the first commandment with promise."—Eph. 6:2. "A spirit of filial respect implies a well-ordered life in general, and so tends to secure prosperity both to the individual and the nation."—Rev. S. R. Driver, D. D.

The Sixth Commandment.

"Thou shalt not kill." Since the World War taught a new generation the art of scientific murder, the sanctity of human life has seemed less than ever before. There has been in our own land wave upon wave of crime, and the crimes have often been those of violence. The open saloon, that hotbed of fierce passions, has happily been closed—forever, let us hope—but man's greed has broken out in illicit manufacture and selling of the poison, and that in many cases has led to murder. We have continued to spell murder backward—"red-rum."

The Cain-Abel story shows God's valuation of human life. Woe to the man who directly or indirectly destroys this most precious of all God's creations! Notice that the commandment unmistakably applies to suicide, which is simply murder by one's own hand.

The Seventh Commandment.

"Thou shalt not commit adultery." The United States is shamefully conspicuous among the nations in the appalling number of divorces, and a very large number of these are only a legal sanction of adultery. The preceding commandment declares the sanctity of life, so this asserts the sanctity of marriage. "We must restore that high conception of marriage in which even the Roman Catholics believed it as 'the partnership of all rights, human and divine.' We must insist on the recognition by all Christians of its holy mystery as signifying the mystical union between Christ and the Church. We must think of it as Tertullian in one age described it, and Bishop Jeremy Taylor in another, as 'one hope, one vow, one worship, one discipline; a happiness which the church ratifies, the obligation confirms, the benediction seals, angels announce, the Father declares valid; as 'shut up and secured by all the arts of heaven, by honor and reputation, by fear and shame, by interest and high regards.'"—F. W. Farrar.

Let no one consider himself pure unless his heart is pure. If he delights in foul pictures and looks in suggestive movies, in indecent anecdotes, in abominable imaginations, he has brought himself under the ban of this Commandment. "If you are guilty of this sin, do not let the day pass until you repent. If you are living in some secret sin, or are fostering impure thoughts, make up your mind that by the grace of God you will be delivered. Even in this life adultery and uncleanness bring their awful results, both physical and mental."

The Eighth Commandment.

"Thou shalt not steal." "Honesty is within the reach of everybody. There is always one thing which every human being is able to say, and that is, 'I can be honest.' And yet it seems to be as hard now to be an honest man as it was thousands of years ago. I intended to make a list of the words which express the many shades and grades and forms of dishonesty, but when I began to write them down I found I could not get them into my sermon and leave room for the things I wanted to say. I started with 'thief,' 'burglar,' 'robber,' 'pickpocket,' and 'shoplifter,' and I then went on to 'forger,' 'defaulter,' 'embezzler,' 'swindler,' and 'cheat,' and then such crowds of other dark words came trooping around me that I decided to set each one of you make out the list for himself."—Rev. Charles E. Jefferson.

The forms of stealing are almost endless. Men steal by cornering the market, by selling drink or narcotics when one knows they will harm the buyer, by winning bets and other forms of gambling, by cut-throat competition, by taking advantage of a conductor's failure to collect a ticket, or a clerk's giving too much in change, by withholding wages when they are due, or failing to pay one's bills promptly, by driving hard bargains, by adulterating commodities by evading taxes, and so on.

The Ninth Commandment.

"Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." This commandment forbids the giving of lying testimony in law courts, a practice sadly common in Oriental lands. It is also a law against the horrible sin of slander in private life, the mean insinuations, the crafty silences and shrugs, the half-truths that are whole falsehoods, as well as the open slanders. All these are cowardly, but often most deadly means of attack, and many a life is blasted by them. Such lies, once started, can never be completely overtaken. They are especially common in heated political campaigns, when candidates and newspapers come as near to libel of men of the opposition party as they dare. Trade competitions and social rivalries give rise to slanders. There is hardly a more despicable sin than this.

"Chattering, gossiping busy-bodies are the devil's best allies. One in a church can make a minister's best work fruitless. Where they come nothing is sacred and nothing safe. They poison the wine of friendship. They mingle wormwood and gall in the cup of the saintliest. They rob life of its choicest treasures, its trust, its confidence, its joy and in their stead they bring in suspicion and worry and heartaches."—Rev. Geo. Jackson.

The Tenth Commandment.

"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house . . . nor anything that is thy neighbor's." "All the former commandments have forbidden overt acts. To disobey any of these is sooner or later to be detected by one's fellow-men. This final word utters solemn warning against sin in the inner and hidden life. This commandment may be broken without the knowledge of any human being. Sooner or later this also will reveal itself in some overt act."—Rev. G. Campbell, D. D. "In Jesus' mind this Tenth Commandment was indissolubly connected with the First, so that the Decalogue for him began and ended on the same note. A man whose heart was set on acquiring wealth, no matter what lofty purpose he had in mind for it, was setting another god up beside the living Father on his throne of life. He was giving something else a consideration, a trust, a service, that belonged to God alone. 'Ye cannot serve God and mammon.' And in entire accord with the Master, Paul constantly calls a covetous man an idolater."—Prof. Henry Sloan Coffin.
