City Clean-Up Campaign Is Set For Coming Week

Concerted action by all local agencies is promised to make next week a real clean-up time in Hereford. The proclamation issued by Mayor E. B. Black this week sets the time for beginning as immediately, and urges every citizen to participate to the fullest extent, not only in cleaning up the premises of their own home or property, but encouraging neighbors and friends to work together in serving their mutual and the city's interests at clean-up time.

City-Wide.
The plan encompasses the entire city, and asks that no one leave the responsibility of looking after any part coming under his care. All infamable trash should be burned, and all cans and other rubbish deposited in the alleys by Wednesday of next week, February 22, so that trucks may collect and haul the trash away free.

May Secure Help.
Should anyone not have the facilities for doing the work, a workman may be hired to do it at a nominal charge. By telephoning to John McLean at 273 or S. P. Rosson at 51, a laborer may be secured from among those who are doing public work. The citizen will be expected to pay the workman for the cleaning done. A rate of one cent per front foot for the average cleaning needed has been set for wages.

Welfare Association Helps.
The clean-up campaign will serve to give more work to those who are being paid for public services by Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds administered by the local Welfare Association, vacant lots being cleaned of rubbish and assistance being given in hauling away the trash by the R. F. C. workmen.

Lions Sponsor.
Members of the Lions club have pledged their individual efforts toward the accomplishment of a thorough cleanup of the city, and the club as a unit is having distributed circulars urging citizens to properly observe the campaign to the fullest extent of their ability.

Recommended by Federation.
Local clubs belonging to the Tenth District Federation and all associated civic organizations are behind the clean-up movement and are carrying the work forward on a solid front. The annual federation meeting for the district, embracing more than the entire Panhandle, will convene in Hereford in April, and all club members are desirous of having the city at its most spic and span appearance then.

Everybody On Time.
Mayor Black's proclamation says trucks will begin the hauling away of trash from the alleys Wednesday morning, February 22, and it behooves each person to be sure that all premises have been cleaned and rubbish has been deposited in the alley before that time. Let no one wait for some one else—clean-up time is a job for everybody, and only the slackers and indifferent to civic pride will refuse to cooperate.

C. C. Banquet Date Fixed for March Tenth

Alex Thompson, vice president of the Hereford chamber of commerce, and in charge of programs of entertainment, announces this week the date of the Annual Chamber of Commerce banquet to be set for the evening of March 10.

The serving of food for the occasion has been assigned to the local organization of the Federated Club workers, with Mrs. Bob Wilson in charge, and funds realized from the banquet will be used by them in conducting the annual meeting of the Seventh District Federated Clubs to be held in Hereford during April.

Further particulars of the chamber of commerce annual banquet will be announced later as plans are worked out. Present indications are that the affair will be such as to attract the largest local representation of the chamber of commerce has ever drawn together.

PROCLAMATION CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

As Mayor of the City of Hereford, I hereby designate the week beginning Friday, February seventeenth as a week during which all are requested to cooperate in a general Clean-Up Campaign.

All tin cans and other refuse that cannot be burned should be placed in the alleys so that it may be collected and hauled away.

Our City has the reputation of being one of the cleanest and best kept towns on the Plains, and it is our most earnest desire to maintain this reputation. We anticipate many visitors in and through our City this spring, especially during the meeting of the Federated Clubs here in April, and we are anxious for our City to present a good appearance at that time.

I invite the people of each block to organize a thorough clean up of their own block. The City's trucks will begin hauling rubbish on Wednesday of next week, and your trash must be ready by that time if the City is to haul it from your premises free of charge.

Caliche Surface Improves Many City Streets

The laying of caliche surfacing on Hereford streets is gradually going forward to make driving through the resident sections a real pleasure, while spells of rainy and muddy weather bring indisputable evidence of the practical usefulness of the work.

During the past several weeks workmen of the Welfare Association which uses Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds to give work to those in absolute need of employment, have leveled and constructed drainage facilities for the streets adjacent to the high school, and now are carrying the caliche surfacing on from there west along Tenth Street to finally reach 25-Mile Avenue.

Present caliche work in progress is the making of one-way drives through West Park Cemetery. Other work scheduled for this month is the laying of caliche on the short streets intersecting Lake Park on the east side and a one-way loop through City Park down along the Tierra Blanca.

Ultimate plans of the Welfare Association in laying caliche on Hereford streets includes surfacing South Main from below the Santa Fe tracks across the creek and up the hill beyond, if the funds are available to do the work.

HEALTH COUNCIL TO HAVE BABY CLINIC FEBRUARY 20

The Deaf Smith County Health Council has announced a baby clinic for children two years of age and under, to be conducted by Miss Nell Ayers, county health nurse, in her office on the lower floor of the court house from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock next Monday afternoon, February 20.

The clinic is free, and the health council issues an invitation for all parents to bring their little folks of that age. Demonstrations, in weighing and correct measurements will be given, together with advice on health and care.

Members of the rural clubs are asked by the health council to assist in passing the word to those in their respective communities who have children in the age group affected, that they may take advantage of the clinic's opportunities.

HEREFORD BAKER GIVES MUCH BREAD TO NEEDY

Boyd Knox, owner of the Hereford Bakery, has done as much or more than any individual citizen in helping care for the deserving needy of Deaf Smith county this winter.

As usual with bakeries, there is nearly always a quantity of bread daily left unsold that is perfectly good. Mr. Knox each day delivers this amount of bread to the Welfare Association headquarters and it is distributed to the needy of the county as they apply for food.

Too high a tribute cannot be paid Mr. Knox for this good work, and local citizens should keep it in mind when buying bread.

(Mr. Knox does not know this is being written, but the Brand desires to recognize outstanding citizenship whenever it sees it.)

Five Year Penalty Meted in Rape Case Here

The center of interest in district court this week has been the trial of Burl Graves, charged with rape, the case having been continued from last August term of court.

A special venire of jurymen was called in addition to the list chosen for this week's service, being L. H. Alkman, Pearl Singletery, Arthur Thompson, Ed Tiefel, S. L. Harman, Ed Cox, George Guln, J. J. Clark, F. H. Oberthier, Mont E. Baker, W. E. Upton, E. W. Cawthon, Pat Wederbrook, A. A. Ott, George Pace, R. O. Douglas, T. C. Mathies, D. L. Rutter.

From among them and the regular venire the following were selected for the case: P. L. London, W. C. Hromas, H. F. Keenan, B.

LIONS TO VISIT VEGA KIWANIS CLUB TUESDAY

Hereford Lions and their wives or lady friends will go to Vega Tuesday evening of next week to return a visit the Kiwanis Club of the neighboring city paid the Lions here several months ago. The Lions will take an orchestra and will put on a program at Vega, the Kiwanians from there doing the same when they came to Hereford.

Between forty and fifty people are expected to make the trip, which will partake of the nature of a Good Will visit to extend fellowship and greetings from Hereford to Vega.

The Lions Wednesday noon voted to dispense with their regular luncheon next week, but will throw the sponsorship of the club and the individual Lions' personality into the Clean-up campaign proclaimed by Mayor E. B. Black and participated in cooperatively by the several civic organizations of Hereford.

R. F. C. Funds Make Small Farm Loans Available Here

Opinions Wanted On Proposed Exchange

The Brand has been asked to solicit opinions from all sources, including civic organizations and individual citizens, upon the advisability of promoting the operation of a Market Exchange in Hereford similar to the one conducted here before the Christmas holidays. Oral opinions are not desired, written reports being much preferred. These will not be published or made public, but taken as a whole will be used to determine whether or not a Market Exchange is desired.

Plans are ready whereby there would be no expense entailed in a mutual exchange of commodities, and a number of communities and trade centers are conducting such markets satisfactorily and successfully. A candid discussion of the situation is desired. Address all answers to the Brand, and the paper pledges the contents of each communication will be kept inviolate except to assist in reaching knowledge of the desires of the people. No letters will be considered that are not signed.

There can be no doubt of the efficiency of such a market wherein people may exchange surplus supplies or equipment, and if the demand for such an organization and its support be sufficient, one will probably be forthcoming.

A department of what has been termed "Small Farm Loans" has been made available to Deaf Smith county farmers as part of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and its organization has reached the point where applications may be made.

Local members of the committee are Harry R. Fritz, chairman, with George L. Muse, C. C. Acker, E. B. Posey and S. P. Rosson members, and Wirt Phillips as inspector.

Loans will be made farmers upon good collateral of livestock, machinery and crops, to assist them in general farming activities. Application blanks and further information may be secured from either of the members.

The Small Farm Loan is a further adaptation of the Livestock-Feeder loans made to livestock and feed growers during the past fall and brings the loan facilities down to the small farmer and his work. The distribution of the funds is made through the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation of Fort Worth, under whom the Deaf Smith county committee works.

ROY BURGESS TAKEN HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Roy Burgess, foreman of the Will O'Brien ranch, 20 miles west of Hereford, who was injured January 22, when he fell beneath a large truck loaded with cottonseed cake, breaking his leg and several ribs, is gradually improving. He was moved from the hospital to an apartment in the home of Mrs. W. M. Megert, where he could be with his wife and two children.

Muse, Streu and Dyar Are Committee On Distribution Of Feed and Seed Loans

S. B. Edwards, Third Mayor, Did Much Good

(Previous articles by G. A. F. Parker, pioneer banker, have told the story of incorporation and the terms of Hereford's first two mayors. In this article he takes up the administration of Samuel Barnett Edwards, the third mayor of this city.)

Samuel Barnett Edwards, the third mayor of Hereford, was elected April 7, 1908, and served two years. With him were elected five aldermen as follows: C. G. Witherspoon, W. B. Beach, L. A. Stroud, R. N. Mounts and W. D. Kelleher. C. L. Sullivan was elected marshal, A. M. Jones, city secretary, and J. C. North, city attorney. In a letter to Mr. Parker, Mr. Edwards says:

'BONES' HUNTER FIRED UPON AS HE APPROACHED HOME TUESDAY NIGHT

"Bones" Hunter is reported to have been filled with alarm Tuesday night when he apparently was fired upon as he approached his home garage, 7 1/2 miles south on the Dimmitt road.

Investigation shows a missile similar to the slug of a 30-30 rifle passed through the windshield, the cushions and out the back of the car. Except for the flash of the gun, Mr. Hunter knows nothing of his assailant, according to the report of officers who visited the scene of the incident.

New Ruling On Payment Rural School Taxes

A notice from State Comptroller Geo. H. Sheppard to local tax authorities this week announces the passage of House Bill No. 261 by the present state legislature and the signature of Governor Ferguson affixed February 8, making an immediate effective law whereby rural school taxes may be paid separately and apart from other state and county taxes.

This, it is thought, will relieve tax money for the use of rural school districts, which has heretofore not been payable without all state and county taxes being paid at the same time, a circumstance that many times kept all taxes from being paid, even when the taxpayer was willing and able to pay a part of them.

Under the new law, a taxpayer has the privilege of paying only his school taxes and permitting the remainder to go delinquent if he so wishes. The law applies only to districts whose school taxes have been assessed and collected with those of the state and county.

Another part of the law specifies a taxpayer has the privilege of paying his school taxes in two equal parts. The law is effective for the next two years.

Notice of appointment of the local representatives of the Federal Seed and Feed Loan to Deaf Smith county farmers for 1933 has been received this week. George L. Muse, president of the First National Bank, is chairman, with A. H. Streu and C. H. Dyar as members.

They have accepted the appointment and now await further instructions from district, state and national authorities.

No applications for loans can be received at this time, for none of the material for the administration of the loan has been received and no definite information as to its operation will be known until it comes from headquarters. Mrs. C. R. Bentley, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who also acts as distributor for the Welfare Association supplies, with offices in the court house, will be headquarters for application blanks when they have been received and the federal plans for the administration of the Feed and Seed Loans are known.

Funds On Hand to Pay Needy Wages for Labor

Deaf Smith county may well be proud of the administration of Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds to give work to local unemployed, as it is being effected by the Welfare Association.

So well was planned the distribution of the $3,000 given here to be used in January and February, that sufficient funds were kept available to pay for needy laborers through this month. Work has been received from other counties that have exhausted their funds and now find themselves faced with the problem of having deserving needy people but no money with which to give them employment.

Rural Sections Reached.

The amount of money being diverted to give employment to rural citizens is increasing as the organization for proper administration of the funds in the respective communities is being completed. This work is being looked after by each county commissioner in his district, but the appointment of a representative in each neighborhood is bringing the distribution of the employment funds to the individuals most in need of them.

HOLMANS ARE NOW AT HOME IN HEREFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Seth B. Holman, owners of the Brand, made their contemplated move from Amarillo to Hereford Wednesday. They have rented the R. P. Conaway residence on East Third Street, and express themselves as being delighted with again being "at home" in Hereford.

Mr. Holman, who has been critically ill since early in December, withstood well the trip down from Amarillo, and when interviewed Wednesday evening said he was "tickled to death to be back with Hereford friends again."

"My physical condition prohibits my contributing much work to the Brand for some time to come," said Mr. Holman, "but the paper is in capable hands and will continue under the same business administration as before we moved back. As I regain my health and strength and again become closely associated with local circumstances, I expect to take up editorial duties of the Brand as my condition will permit."

Mr. and Mrs. Conaway, after renting their home to Mr. and Mrs. Holman, have moved to the residence of their Hillside Hatchery in South Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Dunkle, who recently moved there, again moving to the Henry Helman property on B Street.

Judge John P. Slaton, president of the chamber of commerce, left Monday for Mineral Wells where he will spend the next week or ten days in the interest of his health.

Trio of Stars In "The Arrival of Kitty"

The above three are important parts of the Amarillo Conservatory of Music Arts play, "Here Comes Kitty," to be presented in the Hereford high school auditorium tomorrow, Friday, evening at 8:15, under the auspices of the Hereford girls Pep Club.

Charles Whittington, who takes the part of Benjamin More, the love-lorn bachelor. Mr. Whittington is a student in Amarillo College and has had the lead roles in Amarillo Little Theatre productions and the Senior high school play.

Lawrence Casey, who plays the part of Mr. Winkler, the scheming and-riskie middle aged bachelor. Mr. Casey is a senior in the Amarillo high school, and has had much experience in dramatic productions. His was one of the most outstanding characterizations when this play was given in Amarillo in January.

Lucille Palmer, a junior member of the Amarillo Conservatory of Musical Arts faculty and a student in the dramatic department of the Conservatory, plays the play to a number of towns adjoining Amarillo where its presentation has been pronounced a decided success.

Admission charges will be 15 and 30 cents, funds derived from the play to be used by the Pep Club to defray expenses for club uniforms, etc.

The play has the reputation of being one of the best ever written, comparing favorably with "Charlie's Aunt" and similar productions. The cast is made up of talent specially suited to the individual parts, the senior department of the conservatory taking the play to a number of towns adjoining Amarillo where its presentation has been pronounced a decided success.

A LONG TIME AGO IN HEREFORD

(From the Hereford Reporter, February 21, 1902.)

The Reporter was having lots to say of a new publication, The Hereford Brand, the first issue of which was to come out about the first of March.

Dr. W. E. Robertson and family had arrived in Hereford to make their home.

According to Rev. Clark, about $2,000 had been raised for the purpose of erecting a Methodist church in Hereford.

F. T. Ramsey was negotiating with Hereford people for the establishment of a nursery here.

The editor said: "The young man who knows how to lay off corn and potato rows, to regulate the distance of the same so as to get the greatest crops, is worth a cow-pan full of the kid-gloved fellows who know how to lead a fashionable wait, . . . Yes, the girl who can bake a loaf of bread and cook meat and potatoes just right is worth a seminary of those soft-headed, silly headed angels who sit in the 'pablah' and let 'Mah' do the work in the kitchen."

The Hereford Mercantile Co. had bought the Hereford holdings of Smith, Walker & Co., pioneer merchandising concern of the Panhandle.

Harmon Beach and Miss Bessie Davis were married that Wednesday at the home of the bride's mother.

Geo. Day had been in town from his North Draw ranch.

The XIT ranch had been sold to a number of parties, the area to each ranging from 18,000 to 210,000 acres.

(From The Hereford Brand, Brand, February 16, 1912.)

A move was on foot to employ experts in connection with raising crops under irrigation and marketing same after grown.

An election was ordered by Mayor J. H. Head to determine whether or not Hereford would adopt the commission form of government.

E. B. Black had closed a contract with Allen and Albert Bell to cultivate 1600 acres of his holdings near Black City.

Chas. Donald of North Draw had been trading in Hereford.

The editor was advocating the establishment of a cannery in Hereford.

Allen Powelson's old cow got out Wednesday night. She was arrested by the city marshal and put in the pound. Mr. Powelson thinks the pound fee of $1.00 should be remitted as somebody milked the cow while she was in the pound, and thus deprived him of his cream for his coffee.

Judge C. D. Wright had attended a convention of judges and county commissioners in Fort Worth.

Governor W. P. Hunt and entire staff of officials were inaugurated in Arizona February 14, thus adding another state to the Union. C. Fred Johnson, brother of Dalton Johnson of Hereford, was treasurer of the new state.

"Judge J. H. Knowles of Midland dismissed his court the other day long enough to let Commissioner Julius Driver for calling the aforesaid judge a liar. After calling court to order, he said, 'I fine myself ten dollars for fighting.'"

SPARKLES OF TRUTH.

Words are the signs of ideas. Every word in every language has a meaning, and we must know the meaning if we get any benefit from seeing it in print, or hearing it spoken. I desire to give here a few examples of the plain speech of the Apostles. Paul tells the Corinthians that "We must use great plainness of speech." 2 Cor. 3:12. Jesus spoke many parables and parables while his ministry was young, but before leaving his disciples for his enthronement he promised them that a time cometh "When I shall no more speak unto you in parables, but I shall show you plainly of the Father." John 16:25, they say unto him, "Now we are sure that thou knowest all things and needest not that any man shall ask thee; by this we believe that thou comest from God." John 16:29-30. Jesus told them that it was expedient for him to go back to the father, he would send another comforter, which was the Holy Spirit; and that when the comforter should arrive, "he will guide you into all the truth, and he will show you things to come." John 16:13. "He shall teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all things whatsoever I have said unto you."

The time came for Jesus to depart from earth. He gave to his chosen disciples his final order to "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."—Mark 16:15-16. But they were to tarry in Jerusalem until "ye be endued with power from on high." Luke 24:49. The spirit comes as promised, they are face to face with the most momentous moment of their thrill-filled lives. They attract the attention of the thousands in a short time. Imagine yourself in their places, what would you do with such a mob of excited people? They were able to handle the situation because the spirit which was in them did testify and teach them all things. These witnesses of Jesus faced the crowd and their spokesman cried out, "Ye men of Judea, and all ye that dwell in Jerusalem, hearken to my words." "Who is he?" asks one of the mob. "Why, he is a Galilean fisherman, who left his nets a few years ago, and has been following a carpenter of Nazareth about the country, but the carpenter was crucified, we know 53 days ago, and these fellows are to tell us something about him. Let us draw near and see what it means." Such was the thought of the crowd. No sooner had the crowd been brought to attention than the speaker introduced his theme. Hear it, "Ye men of Israel, hear these words, Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs which God did by him as ye yourselves also know, him ye have taken and by wicked hands have crucified and slain; whom God hath raised up having loosed the pain of death; because it was not possible that he should be holden of it." Acts 2:22-24. Their hearts are pricked, they realize that the proposition stands proven, and that they are guilty before God. Yea, and their manhood was manifested by their expressed desire to atone for it if possible, they cry out in anguish, "Men and brethren, what shall we do?" The apostle filled with the holy spirit said, "Repent and be baptised, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins." And there were 3000 of those sturdy Jews who were so anxious to be released from their guilt of sins that they gladly received his word and obeyed him. Acts 2:25-41. Why should we not do the same today?

T. F. BOHANAN.

Call It Love

By MARGARET N. HOFFMAN

ANNE, please say you'll marry me. Give me the right to take you away from all this—"

Peter's blue eyes swept the bright, solitary room disdaintfully. The swaying huddle of humanity on the dance floor. A night club transported to a secluded retreat outside a big city. The latest venture of Vance Graydon, their suave, sleek-haired host.

"You're sweet, Peter. And I'd say yes in a minute if it wasn't for the last half of your proposal. But I couldn't live without this. Without crowds of people and music and excitement."

"But this isn't real, Anne. It's only a substitute. A sham. And I'm fed up with living on the surface of things. Anne, please give me a chance. I can teach you to be the things that I like—"

"I do like them, Peter. But that doesn't mean that we have to bury ourselves somewhere. To give up our friends."

"Friends? I suppose that means Vance. He's the god of gaiety at whose altar you worship—"

Anne shrugged slim bare shoulders. "And the answer to that one is?"

"That you'd probably prefer to be hostess of a penthouse apartment and a night club instead of a home."

"I hope that's true," a voice cut in unexpectedly.

Engrossed with each other, Peter and Anne had not seen Vance Graydon approaching. Now he stood beside their table, flashing black eyes intent on Anne's dark beauty.

"Vance, what do you mean sneaking up on us like this?" laughingly demanded Anne.

"Well, there's always the chance of hearing something interesting, for instance."

"Having a good time?"

"Of course. It's a lovely party. But for the last hour it's been dying on its feet." Anne looked over at Peter. That wasn't a nice thing to say, of course, but then Peter really had gone a little too far.

Vance intercepting that glance leaned over Anne. "Never mind. I'm going to see the musicians about some extra features, then I'll be back for my dance with you."

"I'll be counting the minutes."

Peter sat silent. Anne, suddenly repentant, leaned toward him. "I'm sorry, Peter. I didn't mean what I said to Vance. Not really."

"Oh, that's all right. I suppose I'm rather a wet blanket."

Suddenly he beckoned to a waiter to fill his glass.

"Why, Peter! Drinking?" Anne's eyes widened. "I thought you never touched liquor."

"Never is a long time, Anne. And I might just as well begin. Because if you won't play the game my way I'm going to play it your way." He drained his glass, slowly, deliberately. "Dance with me, Anne?"

After their dance the floor was cleared.

When the last note died away Peter got to his feet. "Hey," he shouted, picking his way carefully through the crowded tables. "This party is dying on its feet. Let's give the little play boys a hand." He grabbed the leader's baton. Whipped the orchestra into a savage frenzy of sound.

The floor filled with dancers, amused, smiling. Vance came over to Anne.

"Well, this sort of thing does seem a little more than our friend Peter can manage."

"Oh, Vance, hadn't we better do something about him?"

"No, he'll run down after a while. And now let's forget about him, shall we?"

Anne rose with slow grace. Drifted out on the floor in Vance's arms. Two or three turns about and he had guided her into one of the private rooms. Here he held her tightly.

"Anne, I can't live without you any longer."

He kissed her passionately, possessively. And in that moment Peter in his roamings came into the room and stood for a moment swaying, unseen, in the doorway.

"But Vance, I don't understand—"

Anne lifted grave, questioning eyes. "There's something you haven't said."

"Oh, darling, don't go provincial on me. I'm not the marrying kind. But don't you know that the substitute I can give you will be more exciting than the real thing with any other man?"

"Maybe you're right." She stopped, eyes suddenly intent upon a scene in the other room. Peter holding aloft a glittering ring. Around him a bevy of shrieking, laughing girls with outstretched hands. "But there's one thing you've forgotten, Vance. And that is that there's no substitute for—love."

In another minute she was out of the room. Something small and glittering suddenly flashed over her head and by a superhuman effort she caught it within inches of another's expectant, grasping hand. And then Peter was beside her.

"But Anne, I thought—"

"Never mind, Peter. Just put this ring on my finger and then please—make me home."

A MISSIONARY MUSICAL PAGEANT

Is money for missions money wasted? Do the nations served by missions care whether we send these messengers and helpers or not?

Gained Physical Vigor—A Shapely Figure.

If you're fat—first remove the cause!

Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning—in 3 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—you feel younger in body—Kruschen will give any fat person a joyous surprise.

But be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—and SAFETY first is the Kruschen promise.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts from any leading druggist anywhere in America (lasts 4 weeks) and the cost is but little. If this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, SAFEST and surest way to lose fat—your money gladly returned.

age person a vision of the magnitude of mission work, both home and foreign. Each character represented brings an appeal from his country that the work may not cease. Perhaps we may come to a realization of the truth of a foreign convert's statement that few of our most efficient missionaries would be apt to pass an efficiency test prepared by western minds.

Come out Sunday and spend a peaceful evening seeing these beautiful living pictures and having really good music.

On Texas Farms

By W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor.

This is the "outlook" season, the time when economists throw the searchlight on current trends and offer suggestions to farmers about what lines of production look to be worth trying. They are having a hard time to find anything this year. Apparently a farmer should lay off from everything, to be safe.

One thing is certain: You either make your living at home this year or go without. Texas farmers know that, and they are going after a home living with all the enthusiasm they did last year when at least four-fifths of them raised at home the greater part of the food and feed, and many of the other necessities and comforts.

We are back where agriculture was 100 years ago, on a self-sustaining basis. We surrendered that to go in for specialized farming—witness cotton. In returning to the old basis, we find the game is not the same it used to be a century ago. Everything has been modernized.

Today Texas farm families plan their living at home; make a living-at-home plan, can their food by budget instead of by guess, make their food supply conform in variety and quantity to the requirements of a healthful diet, and even butcher their meat animals by modern labor saving and meat saving methods.

How to live at home the easy modern way that gives healthful plenty at least cost and effort is a contribution of the Extension Service of Texas. County farm and home demonstration agents personally helped more than 100,000 farm families last year to live at home more fully and wisely. Another 150,000 were helped indirectly.

The Extension Service living-at-home plan is available to everybody through county and home demonstration agents, and through a series of bulletins. The one that sketches the whole plan is C-76. Those that give additional useful details are D-81, B-70, B-79, C-33, C-35, C-60, C-81 and C-93. All are free from farm and home demonstration agents or from the Extension Service at College Station.

Work On Garcia Lake Oil Test To Be Resumed

Drilling on the Garcia Lake test oil well, 35 miles west of Hereford, is promised to be resumed in the immediate future, according to the report given this week by H. L. Griswold, president of the Western Union Oil Company of Fort Worth, to E. H. Blood, local representative of the work. The only thing that can in any way delay the work is the refusal of present lease holders to grant an extension of time to permit the drilling to proceed.

The well is now down 1,044 feet of its contracted 4,700 foot depth, and the money and casing has been secured to carry the program to completion. Trucks are reported to be on the way with the casing at the present time. There are but a few leases for which an extension of time is needed, and it is thought these will be received in a few days.

The promotion of the Garcia test is one of the most important ever attempted in Deaf Smith county and the fulfilling of the contract to its required depth is of extreme interest to all local citizens and non-resident land owners.

S. B. EDWARDS, THIRD MAYOR

"During my administration as mayor of Hereford, the water and sewer system was installed, but I would not take credit for this without saying that I followed the advice of our mutual friend, Judge Knight. I never made a move without consulting him first, and by following his advice we saved the city several thousand dollars in the first installation of the system.

"In my opinion there are few people in Hereford who realize the great service rendered to the city by Judge Knight. When the city shall erect a monument to Judge Knight, I have $100 to contribute to that worthy cause."

Samuel Barnett Edwards was born near Mexico, Missouri, September 7, 1870, and resided in that community until 1891, when the family moved to Greer county, Texas—now a part of Oklahoma. After attending country schools in his native state, he attended the Bryant and Stratton Business College in St. Louis, from which he graduated in 1888. He attended for one year the Teachers College at Chillicothe, Missouri.

He was married to Effie May O'Brien December 24, 1894. To this union two children were born, Bryant J. Edwards and Loyd Lisle Edwards.

When he came to Texas in 1891, his first occupation was teaching country schools, in which he continued for five years.

Next he engaged in the cattle business. After three years he sold his cattle and little ranch and moved to Eldorado, Oklahoma.

In 1900 he purchased the Bank of Eldorado, which he operated for three years, then sold the bank and engaged in the immigration business. In 1906 he moved to Hereford where he continued in the immigration business. He was elected president of the First State Bank and Trust Company in 1910, but still continued to operate in the immigration business, in partnership with D. L. McDonald.

In 1916 Mr. Edwards moved to Kansas City, where he remained ten years, then to his present home in Fort Worth where he is engaged in the oil business.

Mr. Edwards and his wife occasionally visit Hereford, where they still have some property and many friends. They are members of the Methodist church and are always active in every good work for the people among whom they live.

In accordance with the new system worked out by the league, only four teams will meet in play for the district title. The division of the district into four sections with a schedule of elimination arranged, makes it unnecessary for county representatives to bear the expense or loss of time of attending the district meet.

On March 24 and 25, W. T. will lend its auditorium and stage facilities to the one-act play contest sponsored annually by the Interscholastic League.

The district meet, the climax in the high school extra-curricular activities, will be held in Canyon April 21 and 22. This meet includes track and field events, tennis tournament, various literary

JESUS TEACHING BY PARABLES—THE GROWTH OF THE KINGDOM

Mark 4:21-34

21. And he said unto them, Is the lamp to be put under the bushel, or under the bed, and not to be put on the stand?

22. For there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested; neither was anything made secret, but that it should come to light.

23. If any man hath ears to hear, let him hear.

24. And he said unto them, Take heed of what ye hear: with what measure ye mete shall be measured unto you; and more shall be given unto you.

25. For he that hath, to him shall be given; and he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath.

26. And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed upon the earth;

27. And should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up and grow, he knoweth not how.

28. The earth beareth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear.

29. But when the fruit is ripe, straightway he putteth forth the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30. And he said, How shall we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable shall we set it forth?

31. It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown upon the earth, though it be less than all the seeds that are upon the earth,

32. Yet when it is sown, groweth up, and becometh greater than all the herbs, and putteth out great branches; so that the birds of the heaven can lodge under the shadow thereof.

33. And with many such parables spake he unto them; but privately to his own disciples he expounded all things.

Golden Text: The earth shall be full of the knowledge of Jehovah, as the waters cover the sea.—Isa. 11:9.

Time: Autumn, A. D. 28, in the second year of Christ's ministry. Place: By the Sea of Galilee.

Introduction.

Our lesson today is the continuation of that great day on the seashore at Capernaum, when our Lord inaugurated with the parable of the sower his wise plan of teaching by means of those wonderful little stories. His purpose, as in the last lesson, is to teach and inspire his disciples, and especially to encourage them with a view of the great things that may be accomplished by the weak and lowly, such as his followers would seem to themselves to be, if they were obeying the commands of their omnipotent Lord.

The Three Parables in This Lesson.

In the selections which we study today the growth of the kingdom is set forth in:

1. The Revealing Candle
2. The Multiplying Seed
3. The Developing Mustard.

The candle implies enlightenment of growth by giving. The seed implies development or growth for fruitfulness. The mustard implies expansion or growth in power and beneficence.

The Parable of the Candle.

The parable of the Candle has been called a pendant to the parable of the Sower. The receptivity of the good ground requires another trait which is exhibited in the activity of the lamp. The character of the hearer has something to do with what becomes of the Word quite as much as the character of the Word or of the preacher who brings it. So we have our responsibility for hearing and utilizing the Word emphasized in the figure of the lamp and lampstand. As we are to let our light shine by example (Matthew 5:15), so here we are to enlighten the world by teaching. So it was that Jesus uttered this parable to his disciples desiring as he did to qualify them to be public instructors in Word to the world.

The Light of the World.

The teaching of this little parable is set forth clearly in Matthew 5:15, 16, "Ye are the light of the world. So let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven." We are not to let this light shine in order that we may be praised, for it is not our light, but Christ's light placed in our charge. Just as the lantern carried at night does not reveal itself but the objects about it, so also the shining life.

There Is Nothing Hid.

"For there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested." "You fancy that a secret is kept closely enough, if no one knows it but yourself, and God. But it can be that a day is coming which will show away with all concealment whatsoever; which will let the wide universe into the knowledge of the most treasured and the most gully secret of every heart; which will set us all in the presence of each other as we really are, with all pretenses stripped away."—Rev. A. K. H. Boyd. Science proves to us that every act, word, nay, every thought, makes its indelible impress upon space; and nothing can save us from the disclosure of it all some time.

Take Heed What Ye Hear.

"Two men looked out of the prison bars." The one saw mud, the other stars. And so to different ears come the same words, identical in cadence and in syllable and yet how diverse their interpretation in the selective power of the soul! It is not really by the eye we see. It is really by the soul we see. And it is not by the ear we hear. It is indeed by the character we hear. By all we love, by all we have made ourselves, by all we have striven for or lusted after, do we take the words which fall on every ear and color them with heaven or with hell. Take heed what you hear, my brother. It is a revelation of your personality."—Rev. George H. Morrison, D. D.

To Him that Hath Shall be Given.

"For he that hath, to him shall be given; and he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath." Christ illustrated this truth in the conclusion of the parable of the talents, Matthew 25:29. "Upon use depends existence. The fish of the Mammoth Cave are in no way different from their brethren in open waters except that they live in darkness and have therefore lost the power of vision. The Hindoo fakir holds his arm out until it is atrophied and his ability to move and use it as an arm is gone. Men upon desert islands or in prisons for years alone have lost the power of speech. And above all is this law true in the moral and religious field. You cannot be a moral man unless you exercise your moral faculties. You cannot be a religious man unless you exercise your religious facilities."

The Growing Plant.

"The expanding kingdom is first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear." If this advance referred to individual progress in spiritual life, its several stages would answer to "growing in grace," to "forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before"; but the grain field, first brown, then green, then yellow, sets forth the whole movement of human salvation from beginning to consummation. At first the growth of the kingdom is invisible as seed in the ground; it makes subjects, that is the blade; they increase, and the grain is in ear; they form Christian societies and create a Christian atmosphere, that is harvest. All this was potentially in the seed; the multitudes which no man can number were present by prophecy and purpose in the incarnation."—James Striving.

The Parable of the Mustard Seed.

A note of joy and triumph sounds through all of Christ's story. One of the happiest of his sayings is this little parable of the mustard seed, a parable which speaks of sure progress from even the most insignificant beginnings, and of great achievement with even the slightest of powers.

"How small are the forces that oftentimes determine character! One brief sentence of Scripture meeting the eye of a German monk was the mustard seed; the character of Martin Luther, the great reformer, was the tree that grew therefrom. A single kind word from an unknown friend, the mustard seed; the tree, John B. Gough, rescued from a drunkard's grave to become the greatest apostle of temperance in the nineteenth century. Thomas a Kempis's Imitation of Christ read in idle moments on shipboard, the mustard seed; the heart of John Newton, a reckless, immoral young man, an infidel and a slave trader, the soil into which it fell; the tree, a saintly character that has embodied itself in some of the sweetest hymns of the church." "Think of Charles and John Wesley, with their fellow students following their method of life at Oxford; and remember what great developments grew from such small beginnings."—Archbishop Lang.

County Ready to Pay Outstanding School Vouchers

County Judge C. W. Humble has had good word for people who hold vouchers issued by the rural school districts of Deaf Smith county. Earlier in the school term a number of the districts issued vouchers against the expected tax payments of the year, and the money is now available to pay off a considerable amount of them. Numbers higher than the ones given below are not payable as yet, but people possessing the numbers listed, if they will bring them, to Judge Humble for approval, will find the vouchers worth full face value, plus interest up to February 1. No interest will be paid on any vouchers scheduled below, since that date:

For Summerfield school district No. 1, vouchers numbered from 1 to 4 are now redeemable; for Wyche, district No. 4, numbers 1 to 29 will be paid; Westway, district No. 5, vouchers from 1 to 47 are redeemable; Walcott, Valentine and Bippus, all in district 6, will pay off numbers 1 to 59; and Messenger, district-10, has the money to retire vouchers numbered from 1 to 100.

All other rural schools of the county have been on a cash basis during the term and have no past due vouchers to be paid from present tax collections.

Better Tax Returns.
A later and more accurate check up of the tax receipts in Deaf Smith county before the delinquent date of February 1, shows a slight increase over the indications reported last week.

J. M. Murchison, clerk in the office of John B. Miller, county tax collector, announces that 39 per cent of the state and county taxes have been collected, and 40 per cent of the rural school taxes have been paid.

When it is taken into consideration that budgets for the coming year's operations were based on anticipated tax collections of 65 per cent, it is not hard for the average citizen to realize that something more than has been done, is necessary if the functions of the administration are to continue through 1933.

According to news reports, last week's cold spell took a heavy toll in all parts of Texas. From the high Plains come reports of great wheat damage, and down in the Rio Grande Valley winter truck and citrus fruits were reported to have been heavy sufferers.

Tuesday, February 14.
A break between Japan and the League of Nations became imminent, as the result of a message to the League in which the Government declared itself adamant in maintaining the independence of the State of Manchukuo.

Charles Boettcher, Denver broker, in the hands of kidnapers, is held for ransom of $60,000, which relatives are making effort to pay.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson startles Texas legislature, when she makes charge that there is a shortage or loss in the State highway funds of $1,097,991, and the law-making body has called for an investigation.

Anglo-American debts discussion in Washington will become a preliminary economic conference under the final instruction of Sir Ronald Lindsay, ambassador, received on eve of sailing from England to America.

The Deaf Smith county rural school tournament to be held in the Hereford high school gymnasium February 18, is to be opened to the public free of charge, according to the report of the committee directing it.

Arrangements have been made for referees for the tournament. "Tommy" McCollum, the Hereford coach, has agreed to referee the boys' games, and Mattie K. Sherman, 1932 graduate, who has refereed Inter-scholastic League games here this year, will officiate for the girls. Play is to begin at 10:00 a. m. immediately after the drawing by the coaches for places on the brackets for the different teams.

Fifteen teams have entered in the four divisions of the tournament, assuring nine games to be played before the tournament can be finished.
