by Speedy Nieman

Procrastination is the fertilizer that makes difficulties grow.

There will always be those who claim the right to share the flowers while denying any obligation to plant the seeds from which they grow.

Today has been designated as Heart Sunday and highlights the month-long campaign of the Hereford Heart Fund. The Breakfast Kiwanis Club will head today's drive for funds, with a goal of $3,434 set for the community. Our contributions will help support the Heart Association's efforts to control this nation's leading health enemy. Donations can be mailed to Box 274, Hereford.

Congratulations to the Hereford Whitefaces basketball team on a great season! The Herd improved as the season progressed and almost captured a share of the title. Coach Ron Mayberry and his crew are to be commended and with the large number of juniors on the squad, prospects appear bright for next year!

If you have an interest in the "Meals on Wheels" program being proposed here, be sure to read the article inside today's issue. If you know someone who might benefit from this service, fill out the form and mail it to the address given. Compiling this survey and showing a need is a vital step in getting the program initiated.

The Senate vote to support the anti-busing plan is an encouraging sign. Politicians are beginning to see the light-if they defend busing on a racial basis, they're in trouble. The polls show that the majority of people in this country are not opposed to integration of schools. It is the arbitrary, often unreasonable setting of racial quotas which lead to sending children a long way from their neighborhood to school that has brought about resistance.

What the liberals of the country have sought, and what the courts have attempted to bring about, is a change in housing patterns-by using school children. As long as it was the Southern schools involved, the agitation was dismissed as merely an expression of racial intolerance. As the busing movement spread into the North, however, the protests mounted. Now, it could be a more important issue in the 1972 elections than the Vietnam war.

It's fine to worry about who will be elected president this year... but the fellow you really ought to worry about is the man or woman we elect in 1980.

According to that 20-year curse, when Congress voted to take the land away from the Indians in Kansas, Chief Thunder Bird, in anger, made this prediction:

"Every president of the United States elected on years divisible by 20 shall die in office."

Legend? Harrison, elected in 1840, Lincoln, elected in 1860, Garfield, elected in 1880, McKinley, elected in 1900, Harding elected in 1920, Roosevelt elected in 1940, and John F. Kennedy, elected in 1960 - all died in office.

Brand Filing To End Wednesday

Wednesday is the final day for registering livestock brands with the county clerk.

B.F. Cain, county clerk, said after Wednesday, all brands not registered "will be up for grabs" and recorded in the name of anyone who wants that particular brand.

"I don't know how many we still like, but there are a lot," he said. "Some that were registered."

In Grand Jury Session

Large Embezzlement Hinted

The Deaf Smith County grand jury, amid hints of a major embezzlement, Friday returned 10 indictments and eight of those were said to have been against the same person.

Only one name was released and that was the name of John Neal Newton, 24, who was indicted on charges of possession of a narcotic drug.

The grand jury returned indictments against two other persons but officials would not release the names because the two are not in custody.

Sheriff Travis McPherson said Friday that the grand jury returned eight indictments against a former Hereford man who is accused of swindling "possibly as much as $100,000" for a local business.

The grand jury set bond at $5,000 on each of the eight indictments, which means when the man is arrested, total bond will be $40,000.

McPherson said the man indicted does not live in Hereford at this time although he was connected with a local business before moving out of state several months ago.

The man is accused of converting business money to his private use and also of swindling the company he worked for out of several thousand dollars through salary receipts.

McPherson said it is possible his office will make an attempt this weekend to bring the man back to Hereford for arraignment.

Officers have been working on the case for several months after it was brought to their attention by owners of the business.

The other indictment returned by the grand jury was for forgery, but that person also has not been arrested.

Newton was arrested in early February and charged with possession of marijuana.

Members of the sheriff's office and the police department obtained a search warrant on Feb. 2 and went to Newton's home just outside the city limits on U.S. 60. Officers found the television set going and the lights on in the house, but no one was at home.

The officers then entered the house and after a search, discovered what they termed a "small amount of marijuana."

Newton was not home, but later was arrested on east U.S. 60 as he was entering the city limits.

Bond was set at $5,000.

Man's Test Of New Law Fails; Gets Stiff Fine

Efforts by an 18-year-old Hereford man to fight a new state law failed Thursday and as a result he was fined $250 and court costs and sentenced to three months in jail.

The fine and sentence both were probated for one year by County Judge H.C. Williams after a mix-up occurred between attorneys and the jury of three men and three women.

Johnny Coulter of Northwest Mobile Lodge, was found guilty of failing to stop when signaled by a police officer. The jury deliberated 45 minutes before returning to the courtroom, but when it returned, the foreman presented the court with both a verdict and a penalty.

The jury was to have returned its verdict then heard a probation plea from defense attorney R.C. Hoelscher, then returned again to decide on the sentence.

Coulter was accused of refusing to pull over when given visual and audible signals the night of Sept. 20 of last year by city police officer Oscar Martinez.

Martinez testified that he was parked on a service station driveway on U.S. 385 when he saw Coulter and another vehicle contesting for speed, going north.

He said he turned on his siren and flashing lights and chased the two vehicles several blocks down Moreman before he was able to pull in front of Coulter's vehicle and force it over to the side of the street.

Martinez said he estimated the two cars' speed to be about 70 miles per hour going down U.S. 385 before turning onto Moreman.

Coulter testified he was speeding, but only going about 45 or 50 miles per hour and that he did not see Martinez until he started around the two vehicles and forced them over.

He said he thought Martinez was only after the other car and not him.

The trial was the first of its kind to be contested in this county.

A new state law, passed by the 62nd Legislature, states that any driver of a motor vehicle who "willfully fails or refuses to bring his vehicle to a stop, or who otherwise flees or attempts to elude a pursuing police vehicle, when given visual or audible signal to bring the vehicle to a stop, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

The new law also states that the signal may be by hand, voice, emergency light or siren, but the officer must be in uniform and displaying his badge of office and the vehicle must be appropriately marked.

The violation of the law carries a penalty of imprisonment of not less than 30 days nor more than six months or by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, or both.

Up until the time the bill was passed by the legislature in September of last year, law enforcement authorities could not pull a person over unless a crime had been committed.

The trial Thursday was the first of three such cases that have been filed in this county since the new law went into effect. The others still are pending.

Three Charged In Drug Raid

Two Hereford men and a 17-year-old Amarillo girl were arrested Thursday and charged with possession of marijuana.

The girl was released to the custody of her parents about 3 a.m. Friday and the two men were placed in the county jail under $2,500 bond each.

Arrested were Oda Lee Bathel, 21, and Gerald Don Blackburn, 23, both of Apt. C, Palo Duro Apartments.

Two other persons from Amarillo were arrested along with the others, but were not charged in connection with the case.

Members of the sheriff's office and police department arrested the juvenile and her two companions as they were leaving Hereford, apparently enroute

Voter Registration Deadline Nears For Coming Elections

The deadlines for registering to vote in upcoming elections are nearing, according to Neil Miller, county tax assessor-collector.

The deadline for registering to vote in the April 1 school board election is Thursday, which is 31 days prior to the election.

The deadline for registering to vote in the city commission election, which is April 4, is Friday, also 31 days prior to the election.

April 5 is the deadline to register for the May 6 primary.

"Those who did not register by Jan. 31 need to bring their registration cards with them to our office if they want to vote for these elections," Mrs. Miller said. "If these people want to mail in the registration cards, we ask them to be sure and sign them."

The registration system was changed this year and now is a year-round affair instead of the traditional Jan. 31 deadline.

However, for each election planned, persons who want to vote must be registered at least 31 days prior to the election.

There is no charge for registering to vote.

The traditional Jan. 31 deadline was changed after 18, 19 and 20-year-olds were granted the right to vote. Persons who will be 18 prior to an election but not until after the 31-day registration deadline has expired can register anyway and still be able to vote in the election.

Barret Announces For Re-election To City Post

Frank Barrett, who was appointed to the city commission in June of last year, Friday became the first person to file for the upcoming city commission election.

Deadline for filing is 5 p.m.

Friday at city hall.

Up for election this year are the positions held by Barrett and Bartley Dowell. Barrett is running for Place 4 while the Place 3 position held by Dowell will be vacated.

Dowell announced Friday he will not seek reelection to the commission after having served two, two-year terms.

"I don't intend to run again," Dowell said. "I have too many irons in the fire already and I thought it would be better not to run again."

Dowell has been a resident of Hereford since he was 6 years old and has been associated with Brown, Graham and Glover as an accountant for 17 years.

He is a member of the Kiwanis Club and has been since 1951. He served as president of that organization in 1954.

Barrett, 48, was appointed as city commissioner last year to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Roland Barton.

He has been a resident of Hereford since 1955 and is co-owner in Barrett Produce vegetable shed. He also is in the farming and cattle-feeding business.

Barrett graduated from Wendell Idaho High School in 1940 and is a graduate of West Texas State University. He is past-president of the Farm Bureau, West Texas State University Extension Association and the Texas Vegetable Growers Council.

He and his wife, Betty, live at 112 North Texas. They have three children.

The city commission election will be the first Tuesday in April and the Community Center will serve as the election site.

DAR Announces Plans For Bicentennial Bash

When the Fourth of July, 1976, rolls around, massive celebrations to commemorate the nation's 200th anniversary are expected to be staged in cities and communities all across the U.S.A.

Los Ciboleros, the Hereford chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, announced this week that they are starting plans for the Bicentennial to be observed on the local level.

Mrs. Joe Reinauer, chairman of the local DAR Bicentennial committee, announced that the chapter will "solicit the help and cooperation of every citizen in Hereford to come alive in 1975 with the Spirit of '76 and focus on the 200th anniversary of the birth of our nation."

She adds that the local chapter is open for suggestions concerning the celebration, and asks any citizen or organization to submit ideas for a community-wide project.

The American Revolution Bicentennial era officially opened with a nationally-televised ceremony in Washington on July 4, 1971, with President Nixon presiding. The period was proclaimed from that date to July 4, 1976.

The Texas Bicentennial Commission already is deep into the framework for the 1976 demonstrations that hopefully will involve all creeds and cultures in rededication to the principles which underlay the 1776 declaration.

The idea of having all communities make the anniversary memorable has the backing of two presidents. Lyndon Johnson initiated the program in 1966, calling for a federal Bicentennial commission and asking states to set up similar bodies. The national commission was set up under President Johnson and got impetus from President Nixon.

The Texas Bicentennial Commission was created by the 1969 Legislature under a bill sponsored by Senators Barbara Jordan of Houston and David Ratliff of Stamford. Gov. Preston Smith named seven citizens to serve with the attorney general and secretary of state as ex-officio members. One of the seven is Mrs. Kelly B. McAdams of Austin, who is also state chairman of the DAR's national Bicentennial committee.

The DAR committee offers several goals to direct the hopes and attitudes of the DAR in commemorating the Bicentennial era. Among these goals are: —To reaffirm the fundamental principles of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness stated in the Declaration of Independence;

—To rededicate ourselves to the imperishable ideals of the American Revolution;

—To urge that the U.S.A. Bicentennial commemoration shall be directed toward a powerful revival of the spirit of the American Revolution, rather than simply celebrate independence. Theme of the era will be "Happy Birthday to US!" Several cities in Texas are bidding for the statewide convocation being planned to mark the nation's 200th birthday. San Antonio, Lubbock, Houston, and Dallas are expected to bid for the honor, and several others are possibilities.

Lubbock, with 12 acres on the campus of Texas Tech, plans to complete an embryonic Ranch Headquarters. It will have 20 historic buildings reproduced, some going almost back to the Spanish cattle drives that were started to help feed early settlers in Texas. Other civic improvements are listed as part of Lubbock's bid to become the "Bicentennial City of Texas."

Mrs. Stehr died Wednesday in a Dimmitt nursing home. Born as Olive Schultz March 5, 1914, she came from her native state, Missouri, to Texas in 1917, and to Castro County in 1944 from Granite, Okla. She married J.T. Stehr at Tyler in 1936.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Cecelia Schueler of Friona and Sarah Davenport of Jacksonville; a son, Cecil, of Hutchinson, Kan., sister, a brother and 10 grandchildren.

Cain said there have been approximately 1,500 brands registered under the new state livestock brand act that went into effect the latter part of August. At that time, farmers and ranchers were given a six-month period in which to record their brand with the county clerk.

After the six-month period all brands not registered will be available to anyone who wishes to have any brand. Owners are required to record the marks or brands whether they have been previously recorded or not. The owner of a certain brand has the right to have his mark recorded in his name if, according to present records of the county, he was the first person to record that brand.

After Wednesday, all marks and brands now in existence in the county shall no longer have any force or effect.

All brands and marks registered under the provisions of the new act shall be re-registered every 10 years in the same manner. Registration fee is $2.

The Texas Health Careers Program will present a Health Careers Assembly for La Plata Junior High School on Tuesday, March 7, at 2 p.m.

The unique presentation by John Haddad, director of field services, Texas Health Careers Program, is designed to introduce career opportunities in health care to all students.

With over 300 different careers available, the health-care field offers employment to people with a wide variety of education and training. The health-care field is projected to employ more than any other industry in the United States by 1975. Texas alone has needs for over 20,000 trained personnel today.

A project of the Texas Hospital Education and Research Foundation, the Texas Health Careers Program was begun in 1964 by the Texas Hospital Association to overcome health-manpower shortages. # 'Meals On Wheels' Progressing Well

A project, initiated by a Hereford woman, to secure a "Meals on Wheels" program in the city is now moving into its second stage with a survey to determine the need for providing meals to senior citizens.

Mrs. O.C. Curtisinger introduced the idea for the program here about two weeks ago, and she says response has been "very good." In talking with Community Action Agency officials in Amarillo about the program, she found that the first step toward securing funds would be to make a survey.

Mrs. Curtisinger is taking the details of the program to clubs and church groups in an effort to stimulate interest and support for the plan. Object of the program is to prepare and deliver each day a well-balanced, nourishing meal to those people who are unable to prepare one on their own.

The program has been introduced in a number of towns, being set up through a federal grant with the funds channeled through the Governor's Committee on Aging. Federal funds are provided on a 75, 60 and 50 percent basis the first three years with local citizens raising the remainder. After three years, the community takes over entirely.

Home delivery of the meals is made by volunteers and, generally, one meal is provided per day, five days a week. Food is prepared in a central kitchen, or restaurant, in accordance with the recipient's doctor's recommendations. Special diets are taken into consideration, and meals are packaged in insulated containers so that hot meals can be delivered.

Under guidelines of the program, the recipients agree to pay for the meals, to the best of their ability. No one is refused service because of inability to pay, however. Additional funds usually come from donations, foundations, churches, clubs and businesses.

In an effort to become acquainted with all persons in Hereford who are unable to fix a hot, well-balanced meal once a day, The Brand has been asked to publish the questionnaire below. Citizens are asked to fill out this form for anyone in their neighborhood who might qualify. Mail it to Meals on Wheels, 610 Bowie St., Hereford, 79045.

Wheat Growers Now Have Opportunity To Improve Income

Wheat growers in Texas have an opportunity to strengthen their own income and that of wheat growers nationwide through use of set-aside provisions of the 1972 farm program, according to Leo Witkowski of Hereford, president of the Texas Wheat Producers Association. Witkowski urged all Texas producers to head the appeal for program participation of National Association of Wheat Growers president, Gene Moos of Edwall, Washington.

"Wheat growers should consider the long-range advantage to each individual producer and to the wheat industry if they sign up some wheat acreage in the new set-aside option in 1972," Moos said.

Moos, who has 300 acres of winter wheat planted, says wheat producers who anticipate more than an average yield on wheat already planted will be tempted to gamble on price at harvest time and not use the new U.S. Department of Agriculture offer to pay 94 cents per bushel for an average yield for up to 75 per cent of a farm's domestic allotment. He has signed up to set aside 65 acres.

Moos emphasized that the 1971 wheat crop year will see a carry over of 900 million to 1 billion bushels of wheat and unless growers use the option to cut potential overproduction, they will be looking at a total carry over of about 1.3 billion bushels at the end of the 1972 year.

"If U.S. wheat growers will set aside 10 million acres that average 30 bu. per acre, that would cut U.S. production about 300 million bushels in 1972 which is about the amount anticipated in excess of our needs," stresses Moos. He points out that if growers ignore the opportunity to use the voluntary set-aside to cut wheat production back to manageable carry over in 1972, then growers could think they won for the short-range but may face rigid wheat allotments and reduction programs in 1973 and 1974.

Wheat acres signed up for the set aside program can be pastured or left standing to prevent wind and soil erosion. Contact your ASCS office for complete details.

BB Over; Whitefaces Should Have Greener Pasture Ahead

BY TERRY NEILL
Sports Editor

Tuesday night's loss to Plainview ended a good season for the Hereford Whiteface basketball team, coached by Ron Mayberry.

Not only did Hereford end the season with a 5-3 district record bitering last year's mark, but they were in the 4-AAAA dogfight all the way, losing only on two last second free throws in a game that could have easily ended the other way.

"I think the boys played as good or better than they are capable of during the season, especially in the second half district play. I feel that we were possibly the best team in 4-AAAA at the end of the season," Mayberry said.

"Considering that we opened the season missing several key players who were still playing football, then had to work these boys back in the line-up I thought we played very well and had a good overall record."

Mayberry continued.

This year's Whiteface team set one school record, scoring an average of 45.1 points a game. Mayberry also was impressed with the play of the sophomore and junior varsity teams, which tied for the district title in their races.

Keith Kitchens, Hereford's versatile junior guard was the 4-AAAA top scorer, notching a total of 181 points in loop warfare. Kitchens was also the top overall performer for Mayberry on the season, scoring 451 total points for a 19.6 average per game.

Terry Scott was Hereford's next best cord ripper hitting for an 11.8 average per game. David Hicks was next with a 7.9 average.

In 4-AAAA action Mayberry's team scored an average of 60.5 points a game and allowed 50.2 points. The Whitefaces hit 180 of 390 field goal attempts for 46.1 per cent, and 116 of 186 charity throws for 62.4 per cent.

Hicks was the Herd's leading rebounder on the season, with 268, and in district play with 75. VanderZee had 249 rebounds during the season, and Larry Roberts contributed 179.

Alan Cornelius had the best per cent on field goals, hitting 70 per cent. Kitchens hit on 53 per cent and VanderZee 52 per cent. Kitchens led the Herd in free throws, hitting on 81 per cent, while Hicks dropped through 69 per cent and Danny Charest got 65 per cent.

Kitchens had the most assists over the year, 139, while Scott got 102 and Hicks contributed 33. Kitchens also lead the team with steals. He intercepted 117 enemy efforts, while Scott stole 93 and Charest got 50.

The Herd won five and lost three district contests, but only lost the three games by a total point spread of 11 points.

"I am greatly encouraged by this year's showing and feel that with the respect and experience we have gained this year, we will definitely be a contender next year," Mayberry said.

VanderZee, Scott and Kitchens will all return for the 1973 season, and Mayberry will have a pleasant dilemma in picking his other starters.

"The sophomore and junior varsity teams just played great basketball this season. Larry Roberts, James Harris, Jim Marsh, Andrew Wingert and John Stoy are all top prospects coming off the sophomore team, while Gary Hicks, Luther Mays, David Duvall, Barry McNutt, Ralph Scott and Terry Poindexter all show great potential from the junior varsity," Mayberry added.

The sophomores finished with a 17-7 overall mark, and the junior varsity recorded a 19-5 record for outstanding seasons.

Every basketball coach would wish for Mayberry's problems next season.

This column is dedicated to the unidentified caller who telephoned Ball Hawk at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, on his morning off, and awakened the Hawk from sound slumber.

It was bad enough that the caller picked such an inopportune time to call, but also had very little to say after Ball Hawk picked up the receiver.

The conversation went something as follows:

"Hello."
"Is this Terry Neill?"
"Yes."
"Did you attend the game Tuesday night?"
"Yes."
"Then how did you make all those mistakes in your story?"

"Oh peechie-keen, which part was wrong?" (peechie-keen is a slang term which means the same as "Oh Great")
"Well why don't you re-read it and see?" click, buzzzzzzz.
That was it. The entire conversation. The call did make me wonder, however, so I called Coach Ron Mayberry after re-reading the article on the Hereford-Plainview game three times, and finding no mistakes.

Mayberry thought the story was "Super" and could find no mistakes in it. I had him question his coaches to see what mistake Ball Hawk had made, so that I might correct it. His coaches could also find none.

Ball Hawk doesn't mind someone bringing a mistake to his attention, in fact he appreciates it. But when someone calls him at 8:30 a.m., talks like Adolph Hitler and then slams the receiver down, he does not appreciate it.

Especially when they behave like a child, instead of the mature woman the voice seemed to generate from. Her point is still unclarified, but apparently Ball Hawk said something to offend the "dear" caller.

Unfortunately she has never had the fun of holding a camera in one's right hand and a pen and pad in the other, trying to photograph and take notes on a game's progress at the same time.

She's really missed something. Try it sometime, anonymous caller, and you might even make a mistake now and then!

Little Dribblers Underway

About 300 Hereford boys were on hand for the first day of Little Dribblers basketball practice last Saturday, and things went smoothly according to league official Bill McKinney.

"Most kids found their teams without too much trouble, but there still are many who have not contacted their coaches, or shown up for practice. All boys who had previously signed up for Little Dribblers need to contact their coach, whether or not they intend to play," McKinney said.

"Support Little Dribblers" decals went on sale yesterday. These decals cost only 50 cents and can be obtained from any Little Dribbler. Each cager was issued three decals.

Jerseys will be issued before the first game, which is Monday night in the Peeewe and Major Leagues, and Tuesday evening in the Minor League.

The Celtics and Hawks will battle in the first game Monday in the Major League, slated for 6 p.m. In the second game at 7

Gifts Given In Roll Call Reply

Answering roll call with generous gifts for the Sam Ogan family whose home and belongings were recently lost in fire, members of La Madre Mia Study Club met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Eugene Sparks with Mrs. Charles Frye serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. G.C. Merritt, president, encouraged members to bring educational toys to the next meeting to be donated to children in the Satellite Day School. A letter of thanks was read concerning the recent contributions to the Satellite program from earnings La Madre Mia gained through their holiday bazaar. Mrs. Bud Eades, in a program on weight watching, stressed the importance of feeding children nutritional foods from birth to begin good eating habits early in life.

Plainview Bops Monterey 65-45 For Loop Title

Plainview's Bulldogs had little trouble against Lubbock Monterey Friday night, defeating the Plainsmen 65-45, and winning the District 4-AAAA championship.

Plainview defeated Hereford, 51-49, Tuesday night to set up the game between the first and second half district champions.

Plainview ripped the cords for 13 consecutive points in a productive first half scoring binge and had little trouble from that point. Leroy Buckner, Willie Carreathers and Billy Washington led the balanced Bulldog attack.

Plainview will now face Amarillo Palo Duro in the bi-district tilt this week.

H. D. Title Nominees' Records Impressive

Title of Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Club Woman of the Year will be conferred on one of six nominees at the annual H.D. appreciation luncheon in the County Bull Barn Monday at noon.

An engraved trophy offered by The Hereford Brand each year will be presented to the woman chosen by out-of-county judges on the basis of reports of her work.

Members of all H.D. Clubs in this county are luncheon hostesses to the Commissioners Court, other county officials and businessmen whom they recognize for special contributions to the club program.

Six clubs have nominated members in the race for the title, and compiled work records to submit for judging. Mrs. Wayne Jones of Wyche H.D. Club received the award last year.

Mrs. Allen Evers, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. T.B. Thomas, Mrs. Gaylon Bryan, Mrs. Pat Smith and Mrs. Wayne Sifford are the 1972 nominees.

President of Young Homemakers H.D. Club, Mrs. Evers attended all its 1971 meetings except the Christmas party; she was kept at home by illness that day. Membership in the club has increased by eight since she took office.

She missed only one H.D. County Council meeting, attended the 1971 luncheon and Rural Homemakers Day in Amarillo last October. In addition to participation in her own club she gave a demonstration on men's clothing for Ford H.D. Club.

At home she is busy with four children from one to seven years old, and teaches a private class in piano. She serves on the community unit committee of the Women's Organization in her church, St. Anthony's Catholic, and is church organist.

Mrs. Bryan has been a member of North Hereford Club since 1956 except for a few years when she lived in Carlsbad, N.M. where she was active in a H.D. Club. She took the president's office after a resignation this year.

She helped organize Young Homemakers Club, also a club for negro girls a number of years ago, and Merry Maidens 4-H Club, which she led four years. In Avenue Baptist Church she has been superintendent of the intermediate Sunday School department, a teacher and vacation school worker.

Active in a garden club, she was junior exhibit chairman for a recent flower show. She is treasurer of Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter, secretary of Hereford Newcomers Club and a member of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Raymond Smith is past president of Ford Club and as its council delegate three years has a 99 percent attendance record; she has attended all meetings at Ford. She was 1971 telephone chairman, a task complicated by division of club membership on Hereford and Vega phone lines.

Wife of a farmer-stockman, she often accompanies him on cattle buying trips, also enjoys visits with her daughter and two sons, all married. She has been a mainstay in the club project of maintaining the former Ford School building as a community house and polling place.

For 12 years she has served as clerk of elections in Precinct No. 4. She attends First Christian Church in Hereford.

Mrs. Pat Smith is a young wife and mother and president of Dawn H.D. Club after having served as secretary and treasurer. She and her husband are also leaders of the lately-organized 4-H Club at Dawn and are active in other affairs of their community.

Regularly attending County H.D. Council, she has been on its recreation committee two years and helped organize the 1971 Christmas party. She has given crafts demonstrations during the year in her own club and in a crafts workshop.

This is her second year as Dawn area chairman for the American Cancer Society. She is on the building committee for the Dawn Community Center and takes part in Community Night meetings there.

Mrs. Sifford is a six-year member of Bippus H.D. Club, and living 54 miles from Hereford on the ranch her husband manages, is probably the member farthest from Hereford. But she missed only two H.D. Council meetings in four years.

She has served as club president, council reporter and corresponding secretary. After a workshop, she conveyed its demonstration to her club, and has been a leader in club service projects.

At Bippus Community Church she taught in Vacation Bible School last summer and assists in the monthly community birthday parties. She has an eight-year-old son who attends Adrian School. The Sifford family enjoys camping, fishing and boating.

Mrs. Thomas is president of Westway Club, has held all its offices and committee positions in her 20-odd years of membership, and also been a Council delegate. She was a county delegate to the THDA convention in Dallas in 1970.

She has been a 4-H Club sponsor while her children were growing up. Now she is a member of the Red Cross Volunteers and last year gave a program for the Young Homemakers of Texas in Hereford.

Small talk

BY SUE COLEMAN

RETURNING the first of the week from a visit with a brand-new granddaughter in McAlister, Okla., Mrs. Jack Ward Jr., who lives northeast of Hereford, is very happy to talk about Jeanetta Faye, the daughter who was born Feb. 12 to Mr. and Mrs. H.P. Green Jr. of McAlister.

Mrs. Green is the former Judy Ward of Hereford. Her mother went over to be with her when the baby came and stayed a few days until the family was somewhat back to normal. The new arrival weighed 8 pounds 9 ounces.

Besides the grandparents here, Jeanetta Faye has two sets of great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ward Sr., Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Rhodes, also of Hereford.

WE GET A REPORT from Lubbock Christian College every once in a while on the activities of Laura Pierce with musical groups there. She is a member of the LCC Royal Blue Band, which will begin its spring tour Wednesday.

Performances in Carlsbad and El Paso are scheduled, and the band members will have opportunities to visit Carlsbad Caverns and cross the border into Juarez, Mexico, from El Paso. Laura is the daughter of the U.V. Pierces, 216 Fir.

LIVE SHOWS ON LOCAL stages offer plenty of entertainment in the next few days, you probably have noted. First is the musical review by Mary Allen Vincent Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

After hearing her last year, I wouldn't miss it, and most of her 1971 audience seems to feel the same way about her. The reviews of musical comedies which she originates are unlike anything seen in these parts, and

School Nurse's Work Explained

Duties of a school nurse, Calopian Study Club members learned Thursday evening, are far more varied than was implied in the title of their program, "Will You Pull This Splinter, Please?" although such simple first aid to pupils is part of the job.

Meeting in the home of Mrs. Kendrick, the club had as guest speaker Matilda Coronado, whose actual job title is director of health education in Northwest and Bluebonnet elementary schools.

Mrs. Coronado is a wife and mother as well as a nurse, and has been in school employ three years. She listed the many phases of her work, relating incidents to illustrate. And she explained that school nurses here do not wear uniforms because they have found that some children fear a uniformed nurse.

Mission Planned At Local Church

First Christian Church will sponsor a lay witness mission Friday through Sunday of this week.

About 50 guests from throughout the Panhandle are expected to be on hand for the program that is designed to help people understand and communicate their faith, according to Gene Brink, minister of the church.

There will be a 24-hour prayer vigil in preparation for the event that will begin at noon Thursday. The first public meeting will be a covered dish supper Friday at 6:30 p.m. in the fellowship hall.

On Saturday there will be coffee in the morning and luncheon and another dinner in the evening at the church.

Herman Maule of Lamesa is the coordinator for the program. Bruce Coleman is local chairman and Mrs. Ivan Block is chairman of the evangelism department.

The public is cordially invited to participate in the program.

Oriental Students Speakers

Occupations of Thailand residents were discussed by two youths from that Asian nation who are attending Hereford High School this year, as they spoke informally to Cultural Home Demonstration Club Friday in the home of Mrs. Ira Scott.

Banyat Adipat and Terawit Katerungroch, sponsored as students by First Christian Church, gave a general description of their home country and spoke of its climate, people and industries.

Eighty percent of the residents are farmers and rice is their main crop, they said. Other industries are lumbering which produces hard woods such as teak, fishing, weaving of silk cloth, working silver and mining tin.

The country is mountainous with much rain especially in the middle portion; the north part is a jungle where elephants are found and water buffalo are used for transportation, the speakers added.

Members present included Mrs. J.G. Gandy, Joe E. Skelton, Grady Parsons, Hilrey Aven and E.T. Tumlison.

Benefit Review Coming Tuesday

Tickets for the musical review of the comedy, Promises, Promises, which Mary Allen Vincent of Dallas will present at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Hereford High School auditorium, will be honored whether they were purchased before or after a date change for the show.

Also, tickets will be on sale at the door by members of L'Allegria Study Club, which will sponsor Mrs. Vincent's return appearance as a benefit for the "We Care" fund of Deaf Smith County Public Health Clinic. Admission charge is $2.

First scheduled for Feb. 17, the review in which Mrs. Vincent narrates the story of the Broadway musical and sings its hit songs, was postponed when her accompanist had a wrist injury and a substitution had to be made.

Ann Newman, a pianist who has accompanied the reviewer in some previous performances, has been engaged to replace Ray Plagens for the appearance here. Plagens backed up Mrs. Vincent's one-woman show exactly when she entertained a Hereford audience for the first time last year.

She was so well received that L'Allegria Club voted to bring her for another show, this time in the school auditorium which accommodates a larger audience than First Baptist fellowship hall where she was heard before.

This program is the club's major financial project of the season, to support its contribution to the clinic for medical service to children of needy local residents. Mrs. Danny Martin is L'Allegria president. Mrs. Hannah Woods and Mrs. Jim Carnahan co-chairmen of the finance committee.

HHS Seniors Will Stage Class Play

ARSENIC AND OLD LACE, a comedy popular on stage and screen, will be presented by seniors of Hereford High School Friday and Saturday as their class play. Directed by Wayne Hodgson, speech and drama teacher, it will begin at 7:30 p.m. both days in the school auditorium.

CLASS MEMBERS have tickets, which will also be available at the door, priced at $1.25 for adults and $1 for students. The plot concerns two charming old ladies who commit murder with the best of intentions, and others in the eccentric Brewster family.

BAD MOMENTS for Mortimer, left, involve Randy Clements as Dr. Einstein and Joe Flood as another of the Brewsters, Jonathan.

WRONG REACTION is displayed by Mary Kay Wagner and Alesia Ragsdale, right, in rehearsal with Eddie Gage as Police Lt. Rooney.

Music Festival Set For Juniors

Entries near the 150 mark exceed last year's total in the annual Junior Music Festival to be held here Thursday, sponsored by Federated Music Clubs of District I of the Texas Federation.

This contest is for pupils in instrumental and vocal music from Division I of the district. All-day sessions will begin at 8:45 a.m. and continue through the day in First Baptist Church.

Pupils, classified by age and years of music instruction, will play or sing for judges who will rate each one individually. The judges are Mrs. Forrest Stockdale, Mrs. Charles Thurmon and Mrs. Thomas Hambric, all Amarillo music teachers, and Mrs. Allen Cansler of Hereford.

Members of Music Study Club and Dawn Music Club will be in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Carl Wimberly of the Dawn Club is chairman.

Assistants are Mmes. J. B. Caraway, R.T. Stewart, Clarence Betzen and Carl Klueskens of the Dawn Club; Mmes. Wesley Fisher, Dale Young, W. T. Carmichael and Paul Lyons of Music Study Club.

Honoring the judges, a luncheon will be served at noon at the Cason House. Teachers and parents of the pupils who wish to attend this luncheon may do so, Mrs. Wimberly announced.

Mrs. Cansler and Mrs. Hambric served as judges in last year's contest. Mrs. Thurmon is a past president of the Amarillo Music Teachers Association and presently chairman of its student affiliate committee.

She is serving this year as MacDowell Music Club president, and is a member of the Amarillo Piano Ensemble. She and Mrs. Stockdale gave a two-piano concert last spring in one of the Sunday concerts presented by the Music Teachers Association.

The latter is treasurer of the Association this year, past president of the MacDowell Club, a member of the Ensemble and organist for West Amarillo Christian Church.

She has taught piano in Kansas and New Mexico as well as in Amarillo. Her study of piano was at Friends University in Wichita, Kan.

Mrs. Hambric is a graduate of the University of Southern California and has studied music with well-known teachers, including Bruno Walter.

Mrs. Cansler won numerous student awards and scholarships as a music major in West Texas State University, and appeared in leading roles in operas and musical comedies presented by its music department. She taught while doing graduate work for her masters degree in music.

Newcomers Plan Aid To Center

Assistance in a bazaar which children of the Hereford Satellite Center will conduct March 25 in Sugarland Mall, was planned, and a garage sale was scheduled later to benefit the Center, at a special meeting of the Newcomers Club Wednesday evening in First National Community Room.

The evening meeting was held so Agatha Cardinal, director of the Center, could be present and speak to the Newcomers, who had at a previous meeting voted to finance a trip to Six Flags Over Texas for a child who attends the Center, and an adult to accompany him.

Mrs. Cardinal spoke informally, giving information about the purposes and operation of this center for educating retarded children, its background and its present needs.

The bazaar will offer for sale items made by pupils in the Satellite Center; Newcomers Club members will add other items.

They also seek the support of other organizations in Hereford, any whose members wish to help are asked to notify Mrs. William Farran or Mrs. Gene Batterman.

Gift Is Club's Farewell

A farewell gift to Mrs. L.C. Roots, a member who is moving to Lubbock, was presented at the meeting of Sweet and Fancy Decorating Club this week in the home of Mrs. Dale Henson.

Mrs. Roots, whose husband has been pastor of Summerfield Baptist Church, leaves soon for the South Plains city where the family will make a home.

In the Club's business period, plans were made for Mmes. Jim Ritter and Jim Garner to take birthday cakes to Kings Manor retirement home March 12, for residents whose birthdays occur next month.

Date of the annual bake sale was also set, for May 13. Mrs. Leroy Edwards presided for the program which was a lesson on making sugar-mold Easter eggs.

Other members present were Mmes. J.A. Crawford, Lynn Pittard, Paul Coneway and Steve Coneway.

Future Bride Is Honoree

Mrs. Gass Feted On Her Birthday

A birthday observance that took on the proportions of an all-day open house honored Mrs. N.E. Gass Thursday, when she was 82 years old. Friends called through the day at her home 311 Jackson, where flowers, gifts and cards arrived.

Mrs. Gass is a longtime resident of Hereford, who was born Feb. 24, 1890 at May, in Central Texas. She came to the Panhandle in 1910 as a student in West Texas State, later taught in several communities and was an employe in the Hereford post-office.

The former Pearl Hensley, she married Nestor Gass in 1917 and assisted in operation of the department store owned by his family from the time Hereford was founded until 1938. Her husband's death occurred in 1967.

Mrs. Gass has been enrolled in Pioneer Study Club for more than 40 years and has been made a life member. She is a member of the First Methodist Club of the Hereford Order of Eastern Star chapter, and a member of First Christian Church.

Among her birthday gifts was a handsomely decorated cake made by Mrs. Dale Henson.

H. D. CHATTER Appreciation Lunch In On

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

THE APPRECIATION Lunch-in Monday is always a highlight as it is the time the Outstanding HD Woman of the Year is announced. There are so many deserving women in Deaf Smith to be recognized that it would be nice to be able to give a plaque to each. Anyway, we'll know at noon Monday who the committee chose the most outstanding.

THERE'S SOME interesting housing notes just released from our housing specialists' on, current housing trends.

THE RECORD GROWTH in residential building in Texas shows no signs of downturn. Urban permits for starts on all types of housing units rose in 1972. The high level of housing starts is unquestionably due to the reduction in the cost of money and increase in its availability.

WHILE gains are predicted to grow even larger, increases in 1972 are not expected to be nearly as large as those in 1971. Industry officials estimate residential construction will rise 10 to 14 per cent in 1972 compared with about 40 per cent in 1971. Housing starts for 1971 totaled slightly fewer than 120,000 units not including mobile home sales. For 1972 the predicted total will climb up to 130,000 units.

A NUMBER of reasons are cited to explain why residential construction in Texas will likely continue at a high level:

1. Interest rates are predicted to stay constant or decline slightly. Currently they are down from 9 per cent levels of 1971.

2. Controls under Phase II are expected to slow rises in labor and material costs. Stability in costs and interest rates will encourage both buyers and builders.

3. Financing for housing is readily available and is expected to continue in good supply through next year.

4. Marriages in Texas are on the upswing, and family starts are expected to set new records as more young couples establish households.

5. In an election year, government policy will stimulate more home building. With 1 in 4 housing starts receiving a federal subsidy, government programs will make it easier for even middle-income families to buy homes.

THE TREND among Texas families who have been priced out of home ownership, is to move into multiple-family housing. The multiple-family share of housing starts has grown each year until 40 to 50 per cent of all new housing in the state consists of multiple-family dwellings.

The share of single-family housing starts will continue to decline, but at a slower rate than in the past.

ALL TYPES of housing will be in demand, but the pressure is on builders to provide lower-cost housing. A part of the need for lower-cost housing will undoubtedly be met through the use of mobile homes, modular, sectionalized and other forms of factory assembled housing.

FEBRUARY 14 was the last date to order windbreak trees. This is the first time the evergreen stock has been exhausted. I wonder if it means more windbreaks are being planted or if it is a shortage of labor.

By the Garden Gate with Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

The hope of Springtime means the promise of a bright, beautiful, awakened world. There are many indications that Springtime cannot be far off.

The past few days I have spent sometime each day outside because the sunshine was so warm and everything really looked inviting. Tiny spears of green grass appearing, tiny blossoms of the wild flowers and crocus sprinkling the lawn here and there with their sweet cheerful blossoms. Then the birds are getting real busy flitting from tree to tree, perhaps looking out where they will nest.

One morning as I stood near the leafless Rain Tree. I heard the notes of a bird song. It really wasn't real loud or beautiful, but the robin from whence it came was busily hopping from place to place looking for his noon meal, and to me the bird song had a lilt of the promise of Springtime in it.

Another promise of the coming of spring was the colorful cluster of deep yellow daffodils, nestled underneath an evergreen at the home of Mrs. Will S. Kerr. I stopped by Mrs. Kerr's to deliver to her a pamphlet regarding the bulbs The Hereford Garden Club is selling, and as I approached the entry the first thing I saw was this beautiful cluster of bright blossoms.

The pamphlet I held in my hand pictured the kind and colors of the summer bulbs that the Garden Club is selling. Among these are some very lovely Gladioli, and dahlias. In reading about the new 1972 flowers, I found that there are two new dahlias.

The names of these new dahlias intrigued me. They are Sugar Smacks, and Hot Pants (yes, the flower world is keeping step with the trend of the new styles).

Hot Pants, is a small cati dahlia, it has frimbriated (fringe, or fringe-like) structure. The blossoms are a hot pink with center touches of white. The blossoms are a very usable size, averaging four to six inches, depending on how grown which involves disbudding, feeding, cultivation and watering. The depth of the blossoms is described as good, and the foliage and bush have good substance and depth of coloring.

Sugar Smacks, is a straight cactus type with seven-inch exhibition blooms on a bush which should grow to a height of approximately 4 1/2 feet. It was a sweepstakes award winner in Portland in August. The color a soft yellow, which would blend well with other colors.

The Hereford Garden Club is offering three very highly recommended dahlias, and the colors are deep purple, red with white touched petals, and yellow.

Other All-America 1972 Selections are the gladioli, which I named last week, and Gold Galore-marigold, Carved Ivory zinnia, Circus petunia and Summer Carnival hollyhock. These are all grown from seed. All are first generation hybrids except the hollyhock.

Carved Ivory, was created by Weddle Plant Laboratories and introduced by Bodger Seeds Ltd., of California (it is really exciting and instructive to visit the gardens where the seed producers test and pick the All-America Selections). It is a giant cactus-flowered zinnia.

Blossoms are uniformly doubled and curled with a distinct clarity of ivory coloring, and very double and curled and have great promise to be very popular with gardeners. Plants have a very vigorous growth, branchy and usually grow as high as 2 1/2 feet. Is recommended as an early bloomer.

Petunia Circus is a departure from the past petunia winners in that it is very double of the grandiflora type and tested as a profuse bloomer. Color deep salmon and white.

Marigold Gold Galore has blossoms which are deep gold and they are very double, and grow to a size of approximately three inches. This of course would probably call for disbudding. The nature of the plant is that of hedge growth-very bushy and will grow to a height of two feet if properly grown. Withstands drought and heat, and after starting to bloom will be continuous until frost.

The next one really fascinates me as I am very fond of hollyhocks, even though one has to battle with insects and damaged foliage.

Summer Carnival, really gives the new hollyhock an intriguing name. Characteristics and qualities of the Summer Carnival are that of the various colors of the blossoms and that they are very double in the center petals. Another good feature is that they have an abundance of flowers and they come at one time, similar to popping corn.

The color plate of Summer Carnival is most interesting and personally I would like very much to have a row of them growing by my brick wall. It isn't often that we have a hollyhock to be picked in the All-America selection, so to me this is a challenge to try to grow some of them. Am hopeful that they will be disease resistant.

Busy days: The past few days there has been much action in the yards. It always thrills me to see people begin to get busy with garden and yard preparations for the coming growing season. Many are mowing their lawns, cleaning out the dead grass, watering, and searching out some of the enemies (weeds, grasses etc.). A real promising indication is when the men-folk start the work days outside. I saw men busy in many of the yards.

Soon the vegetable gardeners will have the soil plowed or spaded and seed will be planted for early vegetables. Next week we will be introduced to some of the new vegetables, ad the All America Selections among the vegetables. Please remember to include vegetables in your planting. Remember they can be planted along with the flowers and many of them make beautiful border plantings, and add color and interest to the flower gardens.

Take time for some enjoyable walls outside. Much is missed if we continue to stay inside. Buds on the trees are growing, tiny leaves are showing color. Tulips, hyacinths, daffodils and many other spring friends of the garden world are showing good promise of delightful blooms. One of the loveliest sights I have seen is the flowering Apricot Tree in the Rose Memorial Garden at First Baptist Church. It is pretty. The dainty pink blossoms will soon reach their full bloom, and the tiny buds showing color are enchanting.

Happy Springtime to all..... remember the signs of Springtime mean the promise of Easter.

Aquarius Or Anarchy?

In a world constantly changing, it is to be expected that we experience various national moods. We had the mood of the 1930s, the Great Depression; the 1940s, the War years; the mood of the 1950s when the people were catching up from the war shortages and utilizing to the fullest the increased post war income.

Then there was the mood of the 1960s in which people grew tired of post war living which they had learned to take for granted. A generation which had never known depression somehow got the idea that the world owed it a college education at an expensive school, a convertible, everything offered on the market. There was no need for a Santa Claus because they had more gadgets in their room than Santa had in his bag!

Boredom characterized the age.

There were no new worlds to conquer, no new wants for which to strive, no goals tempting enough to win.

And along with no new mountains to climb came a break down in home life in which there was no symbol of authority. The child was his own boss from the time he was three weeks old.

One characteristic of the 1960s was "unrestrained freedom" or "obey only these laws, rules or regulations that seem good." So this became the age of protests, the age when authority was held in contempt, seldom respected.

We saw this spirit of anarchy on every level... in the three-year-old child who ruled the roost in his own home. He decided what he was to eat and wear, where and when he was to go and come.

The youngster acknowledged no authority at school, and his parents backed him up, either because they wanted to or simply just couldn't do anything about it!

Looking back to the beginning of this new mood, we find the first shot was fired in the early 1950s when for the first time in American history an American army general figuratively thumbed his nose at his Commander in Chief, the President of the United States. Douglas MacArthur literally told President Truman to go to hell!

Grumbling in private over disagreements in opinion are as old as the army itself. But that's as far as it ever got. But MacArthur decided he knew more than the President and his military advisers... and he took things in his own hands. And what was the reaction of the American public? It roared its thunderous applause for somebody that "had the guts to tell off the President of the United States." Never was MacArthur's stock higher. Never was Truman's stock lower.

This set the stage for the second shot of defiance. In 1954, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that every American, regardless of race, color or creed, is entitled to the same quality of education. Taking their cue from MacArthur, high government officials in the deep South thumbed their nose at the highest court in the land. "No, not in a thousand years," they chanted.

Regardless of who was right or wrong in their decisions, both MacArthur and the Southern governors had not a leg on which to stand.

The behavior of the Southern governors was in turn an invitation to the Negroes to defy the law.

"If the governors can defy the law and get by with it, why can't we?" they reasoned. And their defiance mushroomed into something that had gotten completely out of hand by the summer of 1968.

The spirit of anarchy spread to the college campuses. If a college regulation wasn't in accord with the thinking of the student, it was ignored in many instances.

Then came the opponents to the Vietnamese war and the draft card burners. And we hardly have an area of American life which hasn't experienced anarchy.

The whole problem revolves around the principle, "what is ultimate authority?" In a world composed of humans, no institution is infallible. Yet, we must place ultimate authority somewhere. We believe that ultimate authority is the government of the United States. And even it is subject to lawful changes made by the people.

Others believe ultimate authority lies in the whims of each individual. So we entered the 1970s... and the trend continues.

Being neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, we can't foresee what the 1970s will hold for us. But this we know—we seldom see society make 180 degree turns.

A Health Issue

It's ridiculous enough that the government subsidizes the growing of tobacco and then tries to discourage the use of cigarettes, the chief tobacco product. The situation, however, is getting sillier.

Recently a Senate Commerce subcommittee held hearings on this weighty question: Are so-called little cigars really cigarettes? The question arose because of rising production and sale of the small stogies, which are in fact about the size of cigarettes.

More than semantics is involved. Federal law bars ads for cigarettes on television and radio, but permits commercials for cigars. Moreover, cigars are taxed much more heavily than cigars and other tobacco products.

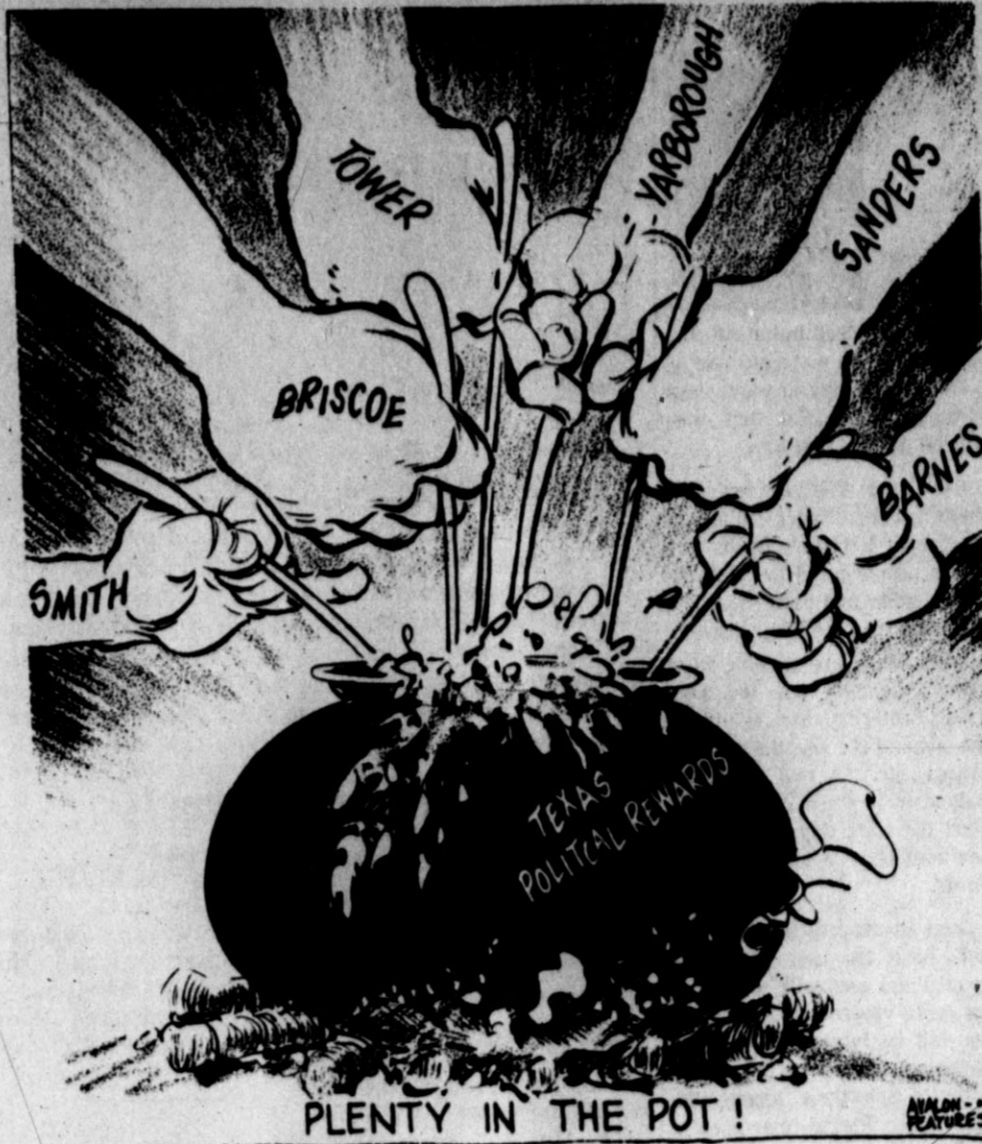

If Congress really wants to, it can go wandering around in this area for years. The word cigaret, for instance, actually means little cigar. Present federal law indicates that the main difference between cigars and cigarettes is that cigars are wrapped in tobacco while cigarettes are wrapped in paper.

Witnesses at the Senate hearings began to make the matter more complicated. One specialist said the key to the health hazard of tobacco products was whether the smoke was "inhaleable." Cigar smoke is so strong that most stogie-users don't inhale it intentionally, but witnesses indicated at least one little cigar is "inhaleable."

One witness recommended creation of a special government committee to redefine the difference between cigars and cigarettes. Meanwhile, the Federal Trade Commission is starting extensive tests of a couple dozen brands of small cigars.

By now there aren't many people to argue that tobacco products of any kind enhance health. The government won't do much to enhance the public's health and peace of mind though, if it spends a lot of time deciding when a cigar is really a cigar.

The U.S. Constitution Ervin's Long Romance

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C. — Sam Ervin fell in love with the U.S. Constitution at an early age and is still pursuing his romance as a 75-year-old Senator from North Carolina.

Most elderly legislators tend to be regarded as members of the over-nit gang, too long in power and overdue for retirement. Not so Senator Sam, whose popularity seems to keep on rising and whose usefulness is undiminished. Among other things, he works harder than many men half his age.

As Chairman of the Constitutional Rights Subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Senator Ervin is the prime defender in government of Freedom of the Press. His hearings have provided a forum for editors and broadcasters to state and restate their First Amendment principles. Every time the bureaucrats are caught in a cover-up, it is Ervin who does the exposing.

While friendly by nature and very much the Southern gentleman, the North Carolinian can tear apart a witness whose views he does not accept. He uses exaggeration as a weapon, employing phrases like "the greatest tyranny ever conceived by the mind of man," and often quotes the Scriptures.

Image Has Changed

During the civil rights battles of the 1960's, Senator Ervin was regarded as something of a country bumpkin, a rural lawyer apparently over his depth in the big leagues in Washington. This proved to be a false impression as Constitutional issues arose and Ervin has proved to be a legal scholar.

From a North Carolina family with roots in the state back to Colonial days, he was a hero of World War I, twice wounded in action, and winner of the Silver Star and Distinguished Service Cross. After being mustered out, he went to Harvard Law School, then returned to his home town of Morganton to practice.

He served several terms in the legislature, held Democratic party posts, became a local judge, served one term in the U.S. House of Representatives, and then was appointed to the North Carolina Supreme Court. A career on the bench seemed inevitable until 1954, when he was appointed U.S. Senator, to fill a vacancy. He was elected to the seat later that year and has been reelected ever since.

Despite nearly 18 years in the Senate, Ervin ranks only third in seniority on the Judiciary Committee. Two other Southern outrank him, James Eastland of Mississippi and John McClellan of Arkansas.

Sometimes a Hero to Liberals

While Senator Ervin is a strict constructionist and a foe of civil rights extremists, he sometimes finds liberals singing his praises. As a champion of individual rights, Ervin finds company from the left flank. On the other hand, he champions a strong defense establishment and backs President Nixon on Vietnam.

When Nixon began to reform the Supreme Court by his appointment of conservatives, Ervin was a White House ally. However, Ervin has criticized the Nixon crime program, attacked the Administration for its secrecy practices, and defended release of the Pentagon papers.

In one recent speech, Ervin said: "Ours is a time of doubt and fear. The tides of fear are rising, and the anchors of faith are dragging. It is in such a time frightened humanity needs freedom most."

"Since courage is better than fear, and faith is better than doubt, let us spurn fear, cherish faith, and dedicate ourselves to this proposition: Freedom is life's supreme value and must be preserved for ourselves and our posterity cost what it may."

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm apparently has become aware of the current literary news, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I wish you'd help me out. I've just completed writing an autobiography of Christopher Columbus and need your help in finding a publisher who'll advance me $650,000 with a check made out to C. Columbus. Once that sandbar is cleared it'll be easy sailing as I guarantee, there'll be no telephone calls from him denying he ever heard of me.

I have a letter which I am now having a New York firm of experts confirm in Columbus' handwriting but despite this I don't intend to offer parts of the book to Life magazine as I have a feeling the people there at the moment would not be interested.

Speaking of handwriting experts I am very interested in the reaction of the firm which at first reported that the letter from Howard Hughes to Clifford Irving was genuine that unquestionably it was the billionaire's handwriting.

Then when the whole thing started falling apart the firm announced it was "revising" its first opinion and that maybe the writing wasn't genuine after all.

It seems to me this method of handling a situation ought to be available to others.

For example, think how many thousands of college students there are right now who'd like to "revise" some of the answers they gave on their last exam. Think of the politicians who on reading today what they said yesterday would like to revise their remarks in a hurry. I can't think of any off-hand but there may be some newspapers who'd like to get in on this, or at least have it ready just in case.

I don't know of anybody who, if he talks long enough wouldn't like to revise in one direction something he said flat-footedly in the opposite direction the day before and I hope this New York firm of handwriting experts hasn't copyrighted the system.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Talk of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

HISTORY-MAKER—Quannah, Hardeman County, is the only town of its size (4,768 citizens) in the nation without a police force!

Early last year, the town simply phased out its police department. Concerned about rising taxes and the duplication of public services by both local and county governments, Quannah and Hardeman County decided to pool their resources and let a single agency take over law enforcement.

Now Sheriff Chester Ingram runs a single streamlined police agency that provides around-the-clock radio patrols for both the county and city. It has reduced costs, provided more efficient police work and could lead to similar experiments in other counties of the state.

Quannah and Hardeman County undertook the merger of the police and sheriff's departments as an experiment. A $45,000 grant from the Criminal Justice Council helped to pay for it. Now other small cities, faced with spiraling taxes and manpower shortages, are watching the experiment with interest.

FAMILY AFFAIR—Four generations of the Allee family have been Texas Rangers.

The most famous is Captain A.Y. Allee, who retired in 1970 after 39 years on the force. Both his father and his grandfather were Texas Rangers before him. Now his son, A.Y. Allee Jr., wears the Ranger badge.

TRAVELING TEXAS—At Houston's Pagan Church (903 Welch), communicants drink tea in the nude at 2 p.m. each day and there is a class in the art of love at 7 p.m. Visitors are not welcome.

The unusual church was founded almost four years ago by a former postman-turned-security guard who decided that Texas' largest city needed a place where those affiliated with the Pagan Society could practice their religion. The church teaches mental, occult and hypnotic arts to worshippers who believe that the soul is reincarnated.

Sessions are held nightly and on weekends. Members deal with subjects as diverse as yoga, sex, psychic phenomena, religion and karate.

TEXANS AT WORK—A certain Kentucky colonel who provides the nation with a special brand of fried chicken may dispute the claim, but the fact is that the drumstick king of the world is a Texan.

He is Herbert Brochstein, and his Houston-based company will sell a million pairs of the sticks to drummers throughout the world this year. A dozen factories in Japan turn out the drumsticks for Brochstein from a specie of white oak that is grown only in that country. The Houston farm markets 19 different models with natural wood tips and another 12 models tipped with nylon.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS—In 1927, when Henry Ford unveiled his Model A roadster complete with wire wheels and a rumble seat, it delivered in Texas for $385, plus freight charges. And there were no excise taxes added.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

WASHINGTON, D.C.—While the Corporation for Public Broadcasting has been responsible for some interesting entertainment on TV, it apparently cannot resist the temptation to present liberal political commentary in the guise of news and analysis.

Clay T. Whitehead, director of telecommunications for the Nixon administration, recently told the Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights that establishment of a national news show on public television is "contrary to the spirit" of the legislation which created the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. He charged that restrictions on CPB written into the Public Broadcasting Act of 1967 had become meaningless. "They produce and write (national) programs anyway," Mr. Whitehead said. His remarks were specifically addressed to a national news program that premiered on public TV in Washington Feb. 2 and featured Sander Vanocur, ultra-liberal commentator formerly associated with the National Broadcasting Company. Mr. Vanocur makes no secret of his pronounced liberal bias.

Ironically, Mr. Vanocur is receiving $85,000 a year for his service as a CPB commentator. As Mr. Whitehead noted, "public service has its own rewards."

The intention of Congress in approving the Public Broadcasting Act was to place emphasis on local programming. But CPB has aimed at fashioning an American version of the BBC (the British Broadcasting Corp.), which is what Congress very definitely intended to avoid. In Britain, the BBC today has lost viewer and listener confidence as a result of its role as a media outlet for the liberal-left establishment.

The orientation of the CPB was made very clear on Mr. Vanocur's program broadcast immediately following the President's State of the Union message. Mr. Vanocur had assembled a panel of commentators. All but two of the panel were liberal-left in their views. Mr. Vanocur intoned: "To discuss domestic affairs we have..." Then he rattled off the names of a liberal-left group, including Dr. Richard Barnet, director of the Institute for Policy Studies, a radical think tank in Washington; Charles Evers, liberal politician and defeated gubernatorial candidate from Mississippi; Stephen Hess, former chairman of the White House Youth Conference that was in the hands of young liberals; Miss Alice Rivlin, a former HEW official in the Johnson administration; and Tom Wicker, associate editor of the "New York Times," kneejerk liberal and prisoner rights activist.

It is bad enough that the networks slant the news and present rigged commentaries such as "The Selling of the Pentagon." It is intolerable that money from taxpayers should be used to present biased offerings of this sort.

If the taxpayers object to the use of their money, now is the time for them to write to their congressmen and protest. Efforts are being made to provide CPB with additional funds. Though the administration is aware of the politics of CPB newscasters, it nevertheless is supporting a large increase in funds for public broadcasting for 1973. U.S. Rep. Torbert H. MacDonald (D-Mass) has proposed a funding system even more to the liking of CPB officials. He would have Congress provide money for public broadcasting for a five-year period.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

There are many advantages in obtaining a lifetime membership. If you can't think of any, just ask the salesman at some of the local health spas, dance studios, or athletic clubs. He will tell you that this form of membership conveys the highest status, most economical form of membership.

But what are the disadvantages of the lifetime membership? A lifetime membership is only as good as the company which stands behind it. The company may not remain in business throughout your lifetime and your membership then becomes a piece of worthless paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lomax of Amarillo were hosts to a dinner, Sunday evening after church in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Fortenberry. There were around 20 attending.

Norman Reroat and Marty Wright of Amarillo spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Stephens and Jamie.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Travis visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brownlee and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brownlee and family at Glenrio.

The Adrian Girl Scouts toured Channel 7 last Tuesday and watched them make a live commercial, then had dinner at Furr's Cafeteria. Scouts going were Tonda Rich, Susan Skaggs, Betty Myer, Carolyn Myer, Jo Ellen Jacobson, Rene Moore, Sandra Webb, Sherry Blankenship, Leann Warren, Lena Greathouse, Martha Morales, and Kim Ehresman.

Mothers going were Mrs. Joann Myer, Mrs. Beverly Scott, Mrs. Joyce Rich and Mrs. June Ehresman and Miss Linda Pridmore.

Mrs. Oliver Wann held a "get-acquainted coffee" for Mrs. Toby Cunningham Monday morning in her home. Mr. and Mrs. Toby Cunningham and their three children moved here from Panhandle and he is employed with the Adrian Wheat Growers. There were around 30 ladies attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dewees hosted a barbecue for the Giegy Chemical Company in Vega at the County Barn, Monday night. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Speed, Ronnie Johnson and Dude Speed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Speed, Mr. and Mrs. Swift Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Noel, Mr. and Mrs. John Esslinger, Terry Johnson and Ronnie Johnson had dinner at Tommys Cafe, Sunday and visited, all are from Amarillo except the Speeds and Ronnie Johnson.

comes a piece of worthless paper. Every year businesses go bankrupt leaving people stranded with services they have paid for but cannot obtain. Even if they remain in business their facilities may be allowed to deteriorate. Another problem arises when the purchaser transfers to another city and is unable to continue to utilize the facilities.

When purchasing a lifetime membership, you should consider the fact that after the "new" wears off, you may lose interest in the dance lessons or using the facilities at the health spa. A persons who does not use the services purchased pursuant to a lifetime membership is not saving money, but instead is wasting his money.

Consider whether or not you will be able to use the services you are purchasing. Consider the possibility of a shorter membership period such as one year. Be sure you have inspected the facilities to determine you will be satisfied. Above all, don't rush into signing a contract just because the salesman is impatient. Make up your own mind, don't let the salesman do it for you. Remember, you can nearly always sign the contract tomorrow, but you rarely can relieve yourself of your obligations under a contract once it is signed.

Veteran's affairs

Q—When will I receive the dividend check on my G.I. insurance?

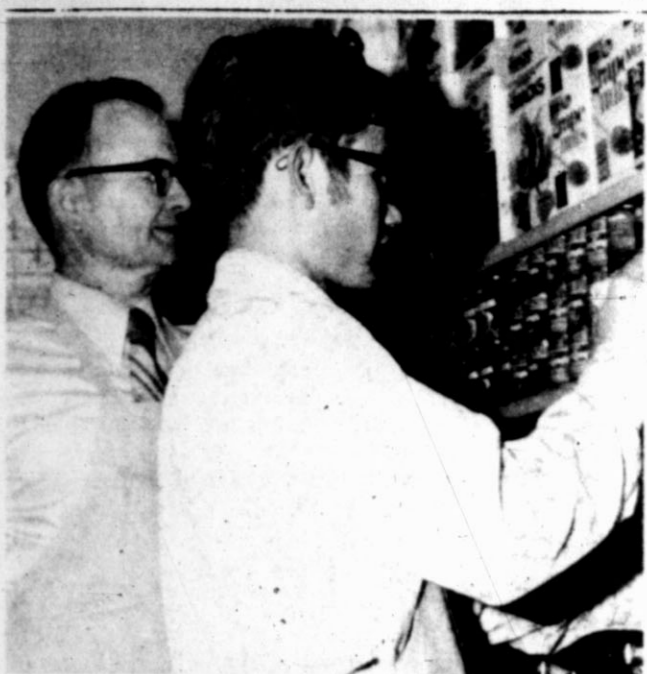

A—Dividends ordinarily are due on the anniversary date of the policy. However, VA plans to mail current dividends during the first six months of 1972.

Q—I draw a VA pension for a total and permanent nonservice connected disability and have been rated as in need of aid and attendance. Am I eligible for outpatient medical treatment for any condition?

A—Yes, you are eligible for any medical treatment required, except for dental conditions.

Q—I hear VA pensioners over 72 years of age don't have to file annual income questionnaires anymore. Is that true?

A—Yes. A recent law excludes persons 72 years old and older who draw pensions for nonservice-connected disabilities and parents receiving indemnity compensation during two consecutive years from filing annual income questionnaires. However, they still must report changes in income.

Desire For Education In America Is Fulfilled

BY JANIE BANNER
Staff Writer

TWO TEENAGE BOYS were studying together in junior high school in Thailand; one from the city, the other from a province nearby.

Both had the desire to someday study in America, hoping to be sponsored by their church.

Banyat Adipat, 20, and Terawit Katerungroch, 19, saw their wish come true and are now part of the Hereford High School student body.

In January of last year Allen Eubanks of the Dallas area, who had previously done missionary work in Thailand, spoke at a First Christian Church dinner here.

ALONG WITH HIS program of color slides, he mentioned the fact that he knew of two boys in Thailand that he thought would profit if given the chance to study here.

Meanwhile, the two youngsters waited—Adipat in the province of Nakornpathom and Katerungroch at his home in Bangkok, the capital of Thailand. After receiving word and making necessary preparations, the boys arrived in the United States in July.

Before arriving in Hereford, Terawit visited his brother and an uncle in California and Banyat was able to spend time with a sister in the same state.

FOUR MEMBERS of Banyat's family have studied in American colleges in the past with one sister returning to her country to practice nursing. His mother teaches English and Thai language classes while his father is superintendent of Christian schools in Nakornpathom.

Terawit, who plans to follow in the footsteps of his father, a policeman, has an older sister and a younger brother.

Banyat, who would like to be a doctor, has an American sister, Nancy, daughter of his adoptive parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brink 211 Sunset Drive.

MRS. BRINK said "Nancy is accustomed to having brothers around so she treats Banyat as a brother and they get along nicely." Nancy is a junior at HHS.

His first four months here, Terawit stayed with the Bob Veigels who reside north of the city. He now makes his home with the John Alkins and son Jim, a sophomore.

Both youths, having completed high school level learning in their country, are active in the HHS mixed choir and study health, history, government, trigonometry, chemistry, English and physical education.

Communication in the English language has been little problem to the pair as it is required that all Thai children study English beginning in the fifth grade. Terawit and Banyat, however, took the course since first grade.

THE BEAUTIFUL December 1971 snow which fell on Hereford was the first snow ever seen by the pair since the three seasons in Thailand do not include snow.

Winters in their country, they explained, are very cold but are without moisture. Summers are hot and sticky and the four-month rainy season brings heavy rains almost every day.

Even though transportation in their country is by trains, taxis, buses and cars, Terawit is often seen bicycling around Hereford as the laws do not allow foreign visitors to operate automobiles in the U.S. without specific examinations.

While a variety of sports, excluding only football, are enjoyed in Thailand, games of soccer are played year-round with seasonal competition.

ANOTHER PASTIME for youngsters is dancing. Terawit described their dance routines as "lots of hand motions and footwork with certain steps for individual dances."

While both boys agree, Terawit says, concerning friends in Hereford, "I like everybody to be my friend. Not just hang around with one person."

Banyat agrees it is more fun to take in various activities with a group of friends, as is customarily done in Thailand.

Report Shows Population Here Is Getting Younger

The figures are all in and the story can now be told. The Deaf Smith County population is getting younger. It is younger today than it was 10 years ago.

According to the latest Census Bureau findings, the median age in the local area is now 22.5 years, which means that for every person who is older than that there is one who is younger. Back in 1960, when the previous census was taken, the median age in the area was 23.8 years. It has been moving downward since then.

For the American population as a whole, the reports show a median age of 27.9. For the State of Texas, it is 26.4.

Chiefly responsible for the shift in the age level is the growing preponderance of young people. Nearly one out of every five persons is now in the 15 to 24 age bracket.

Area Producers Cited For Yields

Four grain sorghum producers in this area were named recently as members of the 1971 Northrup, King Carload Sorghum Club.

Named were A.E. Hodges, Ed Rohrbach, Carl Straffuss and LeRoy Johnson. The NK Carload Sorghum Club for 1971 has 715 members from 14 states. In 1971 they produced 584 million pounds of grain from 150,000 acres. This is equivalent to 2,933 giant hopper carloads of grain.

Straffuss had 200 acres of grain sorghum that yielded 1,193,880 pounds while Rohrbach seeded 197 acres and harvested 478,896 pounds of the crop in November.

Johnson had 136 acres and harvested 902,900 pounds in October and Hodges had over two hopper cars of grain from only 65 acres.

The dramatic increase in this group is indicated by the figures. Since 1960, when they numbered 27,136,000, they have grown to 39,768,000, a whopping 47 per cent jump.

By way of comparison an increase of only 8 per cent was recorded in the 10 years for all other age groups.

In Deaf Smith County the number of people between ages 15 and 24 is now 3,197, as compared with the 1960 total of 1,929.

The surge in the youth population is the result of the sharp increase in birth rates in the years following the last World War.

And, although the birth rate has been dropping in recent years in most parts of the country, it has remained sufficiently high to produce a big crop in the younger age groups.

The general trend at the present time is to smaller families, according to the latest studies, reflecting the concern people have with modern day problems and costs in the rearing of children.

This is indicated in the Census Bureau's so-called "fertility ratio," which refers to the number of children under age five per 1,000 women of child-bearing age.

In Deaf Smith County, in 1960, this ratio was 584. It is now 498.

The local figure, although considerably lower than before, as is the case elsewhere, is still well above the ratio in many sections of the country. In the United States, it is 352 and, in the West South Central States, 369.

Hereford Native Dies In Canada

Funeral services for William Dudley Williams, who was born in Hereford Aug. 21, 1901, and lived here until the early 1920's were conducted recently in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, where he had resided since 1956.

A son of the James H. Williams, pioneer farmers and ranchers in Castro and Deaf Smith Counties who reared a family of six daughters and six sons, W.D. Williams was known as Bill while he was growing up here.

He moved from Hereford to Wyoming, then to Saskatchewan province in Canada in 1943 and later to Calgary. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and Shrine Club in Calgary.

Surviving him are his wife, two sons and a daughter, all living in Canada; three sisters, Lella Wilmet of Fort Sumner, N.M., Ethel Huxley of Medford, Ore., and Edna Lee Collier of Redlands, Calif.; two brothers, J.H. of El Paso and Jake of Littleton, Colo., and eight grandchildren.

A memorial fund has been established in his name with the Canadian Cancer Society, 235 - 7th Ave. S.E., Calgary.

ICT STUDENT OF THE WEEK— Selected as this week's Industrial Cooperative Training Student of the Week is Doug Poarch, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Poarch, 241 Centre. A senior in Hereford High School he is employed by Poarch Brothers and is pictured with supervisor, Tupp Loerwald.

Potato Growers Okay Promotions

Potato growers, voting in a referendum, have approved issuance of a nationwide research and promotion plan.

Officials of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service said the program was approved by 60 per cent of the growers voting, and by 70 per cent of the production voted in a mail referendum held Feb. 1-10.

To be made effective, the plan required approval by two-thirds of those voting, or by a majority of the producers voting if they produced two-thirds or more of the potato volume represented in the referendum.

The plan was authorized by special legislation and is based on evidence presented at a public hearing held last June and July.

The program will be financed by an assessment of up to one cent for each hundredweight of potatoes handled.

Actions to be taken before the program is fully implemented are:

1. Issuance of the plan by the Secretary,
2. Nomination meetings in all 48 contiguous states followed by selection of Board members, and
3. Upon recommendation of the Board, issuance of regulations designating the handlers who will collect assessments, and the rate of assessment to be paid to the Board.

Further details regarding these actions will be issued soon.

Nelson Completes Training Course

Glen Nelson, Justice of the Peace, was among the 172 JPs from across the state who recently completed a 40-hour educational program in Lubbock that was conducted by the Texas A&M University Police Training School.

Justices from 104 West Texas Counties attended the sessions under a grant from the Texas Criminal Justice Council to A&M's Engineering Extension Service.

The JP program was broken into two 20-hour sessions, the first held in September emphasized duties and responsibilities.

This week's program included speakers on highway safety, criminal traffic law, game laws, court responsibility, bond setting, evidence rules, license and weight laws, inquest, contempt of court and recent attorney general opinions. Justice completed educational requirements under a new state law.

BICH PICKS SKIPPER

NEW YORK (AP)—Bruno Bich of New York has announced that his father, Baron Marcel Bich of France, has chosen Paul Elvstrom of Copenhagen as the skipper of a new aluminum 12-meter yacht being designed by Andrew Mauric for the 1974 America's Cup challenge.

Elvstrom has won four Olympic gold medals and 11 world championships. Baron Bich plans to ship his two 12-meter yachts, France and Constellation, to Copenhagen in the spring. Apparently, they will serve as trial horses for the new yacht.

Vanguard's rubber gasket very seldom runs into a problem it can't handle.

What you see here is just about the only thing that will do it in.

But this little demonstration also points out a very important fact.

Vanguard's rubber gasket is extremely flexible.

Where an irrigation system is concerned that offers lots of advantages.

Once the line is down, all the ground shifts and temperature changes you can imagine aren't going to bother our rubber gasket.

We tested the Vanguard rubber gasket joint under extreme conditions. Once it proved itself hydrostatically, we twisted it and turned it and even buried it in highly acidic soils.

Nothing happened. The gasket still held a watertight seal.

Very simply, it's been through everything it could ever encounter on your farm. And more.

At this point, we would naturally expect you to run right over to the nearest Gifford Hill sales office and buy up all the Vanguard irrigation pipe you could get your hands on. But if you really don't need an irrigation system right now, keep Vanguard in mind for the next time you run into a problem that takes a special kind of pipe to handle.

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
I simply must tell you about a doll house that my family made for me years and years ago.

First of all, at the time, it was very easy to get one of those wooden divided orange crates and that was what mine was made from. (Heavy only knows where you would get one of those wooden crates in this day and age, but I'm sure you could use a sturdy cardboard box just as effectively.)

The box was divided into four or more rooms and one of the real cute things that I remember so vividly were the windows. These were cut out and cellophane (taken from window envelopes) was glued over the cut-outs so that they really looked like the real thing.

My sisters made drapes and tiny bathtowels from scraps of material and the walls were papered with samples of wallpaper. Of course, each room was furnished.

I remember that they used a glass bird feeder for the bathtub. It was one of the long old-fashioned types. Tiny caps from containers such as toothpaste, etc., were used for wastebaskets. Daubs of paint and a roof made the finishing touches.

Also they took small container caps (the same variety they used to make the wastebaskets, only a little larger) and planted orange and lemon seeds in them for lovely little trees.

Best of all, my Mom took an old blotter, covered it with dirt and planted grass seed. It really grew. In fact, it kept me busy cutting it with scissors.

Think of the fun you could have with that special little girl in your life. I guarantee you it's something she will never forget.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE:
I would like to offer a bit of advice to oldsters (over 80) who plan on giving themselves a pedicure:

When you want to cut your toenails, you should lie down on your bed with three or four big pillows propped beneath your head.

Then draw your feet backwards until your knees are away up high. Then lift your left foot to your right knee and try to slip it by.

Whittle and scissor your left foot until you think that you are through. Then you take a day or two for resting before you start on Foot No. 2.

HOT DIGGITY DOG!

DEAR HELOISE:
Our neighbors have a dog who loves to ride in the car, but he is not tall enough to see out of the windows. So they made him a car seat!

They stacked some old newspapers together high enough to raise him to window level, then put two pieces of leftover carpeting—one on the top, one on the bottom—and tied it together with some twine.

You can almost see the "smile" on his face!

And I've got a smile on my face at the thought of all the newspapers it would require to lift my Chihuahuas up to window level... but it would be worth it to see the "smiles" on their faces!

ON THE MARK, SET...

DEAR HELOISE:
I figured out a way to teach my little daughter how to set a table.

I bought a laundry marker and an inexpensive white cloth for the kitchen table where we have breakfast and lunch. When only the family is eating, we use this cloth and she sets the table.

I traced a plate, cup, knife, fork and spoon, plus a napkin at each setting with the laundry marker.

Now there is no question about where things go... only a lot of offers to set the table.

A Reader

DEAR HELOISE:
Just finished making tickets for a drawing at our club meeting, and I got the idea of using my tracing or marking wheel to divide the two parts of each ticket.

This way they are much easier to tear in half than if they were just folded.

A BED OF ROSES

DEAR HELOISE:
Always stand beside your unmade bed in the morning and spray on your favorite perfume or cologne.

The fragrance will still be there that evening when you turn back the covers and you won't waste a single particle of that heavenly scent!

DEAR HELOISE:
I clean my ceramic tile joints with a cotton swab and peroxide.

I just run one end of the swab saturated with peroxide down the joint, let stand a minute or two, then run the other end (which I left dry) down the joint to pick up the dirt and peroxide.

No mess, drip or anything—just nice, clean joints.

TELEPHONE TIE-UP

DEAR HELOISE:
I have two children between the ages of eight and seventeen. They get a lot of phone calls. Naturally, each one wants to have a private conversation, but our phone is in the hall.

As a result of this they take the phone into their rooms when using it and this creates a hazardous situation. Someone could so easily trip over this cord, so I got the idea of tying a bright-colored cloth on the cord and it is more easily noticed now.

HOCUS-FOCUS

CAN YOU TRUST YOUR EYES? There are at least six differences in drawing details between top and bottom panels. How quickly can you point out these differences? Answers below.

BULLETIN BOARD

- MARCH FORTH! Try this without looking at a calendar. If the first Thursday after the first Monday in March falls on the 9th, what day of the week will March 1st be?
- Let's say a tennis ball rolls into a six inch hole that is very deep. The ball is too far down to be reached by hand. By what simple means can the ball be retrieved?
- Balloon-buster race! Line up friends in teams. Place a box of inflated balloons at the front of the room. Team members run for a balloon, stomp on it until it breaks, then run back to next in line.

Hey kids, if you have a Bulletin Board item, send it to Junior Whirl, on this paper. It may appear here.

EVEN HANDED? Hand a number of pennies to a friend. Ask him or her to place an odd number in one hand and an even number in the other (at least one coin in each). Ask your friend to multiply the number in his right hand by an odd figure and the number in his left hand by an even figure and then tell you the sum of these two results. The over-all result is an even number. The even number of coins is in the right hand; if it is odd, the even number is in the left hand. If your friend attributes this to "luck," do it again.

THEY'VE DONE IT AGAIN! Will you help the Three Little Kittens, above, find their lost mittens by retracing their steps?

SMOOTH SAILING! To bring forth the hidden scene above, apply the following colors neatly: 1-Red, 2-Lt. blue, 3-Yel low, 4-Lt. brown, 5-Lt. green, 6-Dk. green. Anchors aweigh!
