Five More Cast Hats Into Political Races

Sylvia High

Clyde Whitaker

Bobby Veigel

Jim Arney

Vernon Inmon

The race for three positions on the Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees became even more crowded last week when three men and one woman announced, bringing to seven the number who have filed.

Incumbent Bobby Veigel, who earlier had indicated he would seek re-election, filed Thursday along with Clyde Whitaker and Jim Arney. Sylvia Mae High became the first woman to enter the race when she filed on Friday.

Those four join Douglas Nix, John Thames and Don Lowder in the race for the three non-paying positions on the school board.

Also, Vernon Inmon announced for the County School Board's trustee-at-large post and Floyd Brown announced for the same board's Precinct 3 position.

Jim Monroe, the incumbent in the Walcott School Board race, is the only person to file for the two positions on that board.

The filing deadline for the Hereford Independent District Board of Trustees is March 2 and, the period of absentee voting, will be from March 13 through March 28 at the school tax office on Sampson Street.

The Hereford School Board election will be April 1.

Two members of the present Hereford School Board—Hugh Clearman and Olin Parris—have announced they will not seek re-election to the board.

HEREFORD SCHOOL BOARD

Mrs. High, 39, has been a resident of Hereford for 17 years.

She is a housewife and the mother of 10 children.

She was born in Teague, Tex. and attended Booker T. Washington High School in Teague. She has served as the president of the local chapter of the National Association For the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

"We need a woman on the school board," she said. "I am very interested in it and we need change in the styles of fashion—in the school dress code—every phase that needs to be improved."

Arney, owner of Edwards Pharmacy, is 36 years old and has lived in Hereford for 12 years since his move here from Weatherford, Okla. He graduated from high school at Leeder, Okla. in 1954 and attended Southwestern State College where he received degrees in biology and pharmacy. He is a member of the noon Kiwanis Club and the First Christian Church and is active in the Boy Scouts. "I am real interested," he said. "I have three children in school and I feel it's my public duty to file."

Whitaker, 29, is a life-long resident of Hereford. He is an employee of Wilson Beef and Lamb.

He and his wife, Janey, have two children and live at 108 Ave. J. He attended Hereford schools and Oklahoma State University and West Texas State.

"The average working man should be represented," Whitaker said as his reason for seeking one of the posts. "We need someone who represents the working people's views."

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

Brown, 45, is the incumbent on the County School Board for Precinct 3. He is a farmer in western Deaf Smith County and has been for 31 years since his move here from Terry County, New Mexico.

He attended schools in Friona and is a member of the Rose-dale Baptist Church in Bellview, N.M.

He is a member of Temple Baptist Church, the Chamber of Commerce and Boys' Baseball.

He graduated from Northside High School in Vernon and Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

Branding Time
by Speedy Nieman

"The hardest thing any man can do," said Josh Billings, "is to fall down on the ice when it's slippery and get up and praise the Lord."

Middle age might be defined as that period in life when you'll do almost anything to feel better except give up what's hurting you.

Several issues back we mentioned that Texas publishers were asked to give their opinions on the governor's race. The informal poll, taken at the Texas Press Convention in Fort Worth, revealed that Dolph Briscoe was cited as the favorite by 48 editors. Due to a mixup, we just got the results this past week.

Editors were asked first who they thought would carry their county if the election was held that day, and this was the response: Briscoe 18, Preston Smith 13, Ben Barnes 12, Barnev-Briscoe tie 2, and undecided 3.

They were asked how they would vote personally, and this was the count: Briscoe 28, Smith 6, Barnes 5, Grover 1, and undecided 8.

CHANGING TIMES: It seemed ironic to me this week as I glanced over the school menus which are published each week. The public schools had fish listed for Friday, while St. Anthony's Catholic School had country fried steak as the main dish.

Valentine, the day of hearts and flowers and soft-centered chocolates, comes up Monday and a large portion of American society will ignore the observance. Its kind of a shame that many people let the day go by without notice, since love needs to be expressed frequently.

All people like to be reminded that someone loves them, and even if we let loved ones know how we feel often during the year, it's still nice to receive a special recognition on Valentine Day!

We used to think old Ralph Nader was really a champion for the cause of consumers, but now we think he's done "stopped preaching and started meddling."

Maybe Ralph has us riding in safer automobiles, but I wonder how much his efforts have raised the price of the car—especially do I wonder since I don't use all the harness straps. Some of his other crusades have accomplished some good, I guess, but we must remember that it isn't a perfect world. Nader could find something wrong with every product, every manufacturer if he so chooses—just as some people find a Communist behind every bush.

Someone has defined the awkward age for a boy as that age when he is undecided whether to offer the bus seat to a girl or race her for it.

Four Juveniles Arrested; Charged With Bike Thefts

Four juveniles, arrested last Wednesday in connection with the theft of about 40 bicycles, have been referred to the County Juvenile Board for possible recommendation to the District Attorney that charges be filed.

Bill Hodges, juvenile officer, said the youths were arrested about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday while apparently in the process of stealing two bicycles on Northwest Drive. The youths ranged in age from 13 to 16.

Sheriff's officers and police officers were summoned to 230 Northwest Drive after they had received a telephone call of the boys stealing a bicycle. When the officers arrived they found the boys taking another bicycle.

According to Hodges, the youths admitted the theft of the two bicycles on Northwest Drive and also the theft of about 40 other bicycles over a long period of time.

The boys took officers to the bicycles were hidden in six different locations—five homes at the Labor Camp and another home near the city dump grounds.

Officers went to the six locations and recovered approximately 40 bicycles.

Officers said the boys were using parts off the stolen bicycles to keep their own in good condition.

Value of the bicycles was estimated at about $1,600.

Officers have asked the Brand to publish the following descriptions of the bicycles and bicycle frames recovered through the arrests of the juveniles. Persons who have a bicycle missing can contact the police department or sheriff's office.

Sugar Outlook Bright, Group's Secretary Says

Texas and New Mexico Sugar beet growers, who have suffered through three straight years of setbacks and losses, were told Friday that the outlook of the crop appears bright because of higher prices and a world-wide shortage of good quality sugar.

James W. Witherspoon, executive secretary of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, said during the group's business session Friday that the price of sugar "looks like it is going to stay high."

Approximately 100 growers from throughout the area attended the annual business meeting while a much larger crowd was expected for the annual banquet Saturday night at the Bull Barn. "There is a shortage of sugar around the world," Witherspoon said, "and it looks like we will have good prices through this year. The quality of the sugar from Cuba is going to be real low and I have heard the Soviet Union has begun buying large quantities of sugar from any source they can."

Witherspoon was one of the key figures in getting the Sugar Act renewed this year and he said it took considerable dealing.

"I know when the Sugar Act expires each time everyone begins to wonder if we will have another."

"There are some Congressmen who are bad-mouthing the Sugar Act and saying it is a give-away to the farmers, but without it nobody here would be growing sugar beets because we couldn't compete with Cuba and Hawaii and other countries," Witherspoon said.

Witherspoon spent considerable time this year winning and dining the users and confectionary people, and "got them to go along with us and see our viewpoint" about the Sugar Act.

The new Sugar Act is a three-year agreement, but the executive secretary said he feels it is adequate for the time being.

Witherspoon revealed the fact that the 1970 sugar beet crop had a greater profit gain than any other year. He said the price of 14 per cent sugar this year was more than 17 per cent sugar of the 1964 crop.

In other business, Jay Boston, Virgil Marsh and Don Shipley were re-elected directors of the organization and the members voted to present several major requests to Holly Sugar officials for their consideration.

Science Fair Is Set March 1-3

Hereford's annual Science Fair has been set for March 1-3. All local elementary schools will have their fairs on March 1, and the best exhibit from each will be included in the main show, to be held at the Bull Barn on March 2 and 3.

Joining the junior high, high school and elementary exhibit from Southwestern Bell Telephone and a model power plant from Southwestern Public Service.

A grand champion project will be picked from the junior high and high school exhibits in two classes - boys and girls - and a champion will also be chosen from the seven junior high entries. First, second, third and fourth places will also be awarded.

Champions will take their projects to the Texas-Panhandle science Fair in Amarillo on March 23, 24 and 25.

Crops Committee Sets Special Clinic Here

The Deaf Smith County Crops Committee will sponsor a Crops Clinic beginning at 1 p.m. Thursday at the Bull Barn.

Jerry Roberts, chairman, and members of the Deaf Smith County Crops Committee have selected speakers and topics of interest to farmers of this area. Marvin Sartin, Texas Agricultural Extension Service area economist, will discuss "Equipment Ownership vs. Lease and Custom Contract Operations"; Dr. James E. Osborn, associate professor, Department of Agricultural Economics, Texas Tech University, will discuss "Selection of Equipment for Farms in the High Plains"; and Dr. James Mallet, economist, Texas Extension Service, College Station, will discuss "Depreciation and Tax Management of Farm Equipment."

Dr. K.B. Porter, research agronomist from Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland, will discuss the results from grazing programs of the very small grain type crops. Also, Dr. Frank Petr, area agronomist from Amarillo, will discuss alfalfa production. The acreage of this crop has increased during the last few years and there seems to be a potential for continued increase in production in relation to the cattle feeding industry, according to County Agriculture Agent Justin McBride.

Hereford Branch Of 'Opportunity Plan' Is Established

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN
Publisher

Opportunity Plan, Inc., an organization which offers loans to students in need of financial aid, now has a Hereford division—set up largely through the efforts of the Hereford Lions Club. The board of directors of the new division of Opportunity Plan, Inc., was named here this week after several meetings. Members of the Hereford board include John Aiken, chairman; Mrs. Bob Word, vice chairman; Mrs. Waldo Baxter, secretary-treasurer; and directors Robert Thompson, Ken Rogers, Flake Barber, and Rodney Laubhan. Lynton Allred, Lions Club president, announced this week that the club will contribute $5,000 to launch the local Opportunity Plan fund. Contributions of any amount are invited and they are tax deductible. Funds donated here will go to the Hereford division of OPI, unless otherwise designated.

The OPI program provides financial aid to students who are interested in earning a college degree, as well as those who wish to attend a technical school or pursue other courses not leading to a degree. The local board will screen applicants and recommend them for loans. Students of the Hereford area who need aid for continuing their education are invited to consult a member of the local board and learn more about the plan, according to Aiken.

The Opportunity Plan is not new to Hereford, nor is its founder, Milton (Buff) Morris. Helping fund the plan over the years have been the Jim Hill Estate, Will G. Harris and the late Ruth A. Harris, and other individual contributors. Consider, too, that some 40 students from Hereford are now signed up with OPI, and about 23 teachers in the Hereford school system took advantage of the program to earn their degrees. Bruce Miller, Hereford attorney, is a member of the parent board of the West Texas OPI.

When you talk about the Opportunity Plan, you have to think of Buff Morris, who is now the fulltime executive vice president. See PLAN Page Two

ENCOURAGES PREVENTION — Dr. C.E. Hicks, local cardiac specialist, in observance of Heart Month, conducted the second program on heart-disease for members of the Lions Club at a recent meeting. Dr. Hicks urged prevention of possible heart disease through careful and reasonable exercise. He said the "aging is actually withdrawal from life," in that most people slow down their activities as they grow older instead of maintaining a continuous exercise program.

Plan . . .

The Opportunity Plan is simple: A high school graduate who can't afford a college education or technical training can—if he can convince Morris he is sincere—borrow enough money on his own signature to pay his way.

It's no gift. It is a loan and he must pay it back, but with no interest charge. The student must be willing to work while attending school and to live on a strict budget. Besides his classroom studies, the student learns about personal finances under the OPI program.

Morris was in Hereford this past week, counseling with interested students.

"We are not looking just for the kids in the top percentile of their class," stressed the former teacher. "There are two things that entrance exams don't determine—how bad you want an education, and how hard you'll work to get it."

Morris, 62, has a forceful way of getting his point across, and it goes with his stature—6-3, 220 pounds. He disapproves of the "free rides" offered on some financial aid programs, and he thinks Uncle Sam is too free with his money. He points out, however, that with the various programs now available a student can get a college education "if he wants it bad enough."

Although the plan first started out only for loans at WTSU, a student can obtain a loan now for several West Texas colleges and technical schools. These now include Amarillo College, Texas State Technical Institute at Amarillo, Oklahoma State Tech, Texas Tech, and Angelo State. With the headquarters at WTSU, however, a student has the benefit of counseling.

Morris says he has loaned more than $2 million since 1937, showing a delinquent list of only $37,000. OPI was actually incorporated in 1958 after Morris had started several separate loan funds and "had too many checkbooks." He also wanted a board of directors to take responsibility for the operations.

He had started his own loan fund in 1933 with a $500 donation from A.E. Quest of Lubbock, and soon others started making contributions. After OPI was incorporated, WTSU asked Morris to set up a department of student financial aids and be its director. Later he became fulltime executive vice president of the Opportunity Plan.

Each student loan is tailored to the student's needs. Morris sets up a budget for them, and each student keeps an OPI "book". All the money the student gets for school goes into OPI, and it operates similar to a bank with a checking account.

If a student gets $100 a month from his family, for instance, and he needs $150, then the loan is for $50 a month. The $100 from home goes into the OPI fund, and the student writes a "check" for the money needed. The student accounts for all expenditures and always knows the balance he owes to OPI.

Morris wants the student to have enough money so that financial worries will not interfere with studies. Boys must have money for dates; girls must have money for cosmetics and coffee money. He tells the students to spend as little as they can; earn as much as they can; owe as little as they can; graduate as quickly as they can, and pay OPI back as soon as they can.

"The Opportunity Plan has opened a lot of doors for students who otherwise would not have made it to college," says Morris.

"It's hard work," he adds, "but there is a lot of satisfaction in doing something that needs to be done, and being stubborn enough to prove that you can do it."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Old Man's Will

Harvey was dismayed to learn, when his father's will was read, that he had been left out altogether. In short order, he challenged the will in court.

"My father was past 90 when he signed this document," Harvey pointed out. "He was slovenly in his personal habits. He was getting forgetful. And he was totally blind. In such a condition he was certainly not competent to make a will."

However, the court held the will valid. The judge said advanced age, even though accompanied by assorted frailties, does not automatically mean a person is incompetent to make a will.

On the contrary, the law has shown a special tenderness for wills made by the elderly. One judge's explanation has often been quoted:

"It is one of the painful consequences of extreme old age that it ceases to excite interest, and is apt to be left solitary and neglected. The control which the law still gives to a man over the disposal of his property is one of the most efficient means which he has, in protracted life, to command attention."

Of course, old age may indeed be accompanied by real incompetence. In another case, the will of an 86-year-old woman was thrown out because in her declining years she had been unable even to recognize friends and relatives. The court said a will she signed while so disabled did not truly reflect her "will" at all.

But in a close case, the law gives a will the benefit of the doubt. This is not only a matter of concern for the elderly but of preference for wills as the best way to transfer property at time of death.

For if there is no will, all sorts of unpleasant things may befall the heirs. The most money may go to the least deserving. Taxes may be needlessly high. Costs of administration may be exorbitant. Family heirlooms may spark family feuds.

Accordingly, to the person who has grown old without having made a will, the law's advice is plain:

Better late than never.

Economic Stabilization Questions and Answers

Q. Are small retailers subject to the Price Commission's posting requirements?
A. Retailers with sales of less than $100,000 are not subject to price controls, including Price Commission posting requirements.
 Retailers with annual revenues of $100,000 or more but less than $300,000 do not have to post signs listing the base prices. However, these retailers are still required to post a sign announcing the availability of base price information and make such information available upon request. They are also still subject to monitoring and spot checking by the Internal Revenue Service and must make available to the IRS documentation of base prices if requested. Generally, retailers with sales of $200,000 or more must fully comply with the posting requirements.

Q. Are restaurants treated as retailers or service organizations under the economic stabilization program?
A. A restaurant is considered a service organization. This means that restaurants are not subject to Price Commission base price posting requirements as are the large retailers.
Q. Should I contact the IRS with questions about Phase Two dividend guidelines?
A. No. Persons with questions concerning dividends should contact their local Department of Commerce field office.
Q. What types of rental units are exempt from controls?
A. The following types of rental units are exempt from controls:

- 1) Industrial, farm and non-residential commercial property;
- 2) Rental units on which construction is completed and a certificate of occupancy or similar document is issued for the first time after August 15, 1971;
- 3) Rehabilitated dwellings for which the cost of rehabilitation exceeds one-third of the total value of the rehabilitated property and for which a certificate of occupancy or similar document is issued for the first time after August 15, 1971;
- 4) Apartment units renting for $500 a month or more;
- 5) Owner-occupied dwellings of four or less units having longer than a month-to-month rental agreement; and
- 6) Single family rental dwellings rented for longer than month-to-month periods where the landlord owns four units or less.

Category II and III employees whose increases amount to seven percent or less, or who meet the requirements of having raised funds for increases, may make payment without prior approval from the Pay Board. However, they must report their actions by letter to the Internal Revenue Service within 30 days after payment. Where retroactive payment in such instances would amount to more than seven percent, it may be permitted after approval by the Pay Board.

Category I employees must prenotify the Pay Board before granting retroactive pay regardless of the amount or circumstance. If the Board does not challenge such increases within two weeks, they may be paid.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
 Attorney General of Texas

If you have purchased a franchise or you are seriously considering investing in a franchise business, there are certain questions which you might ask to determine your chances for success.

First, who is the franchisor? If the franchisor is well known, has good reputation, and has an obviously successful franchising operation, you have a better opportunity to succeed in your business. Occasionally, a dishonest promoter will use a franchise name and trademark deceptively similar to that of a well-known franchisor. Be skeptical of franchisors whose major activity is selling franchises and whose profit is primarily derived from these sales or from the sale of franchise equipment. Remember, the more information you learn about the franchisor and the successes or failures of individuals who have purchased his franchises, the better prepared you will become to make an intelligent decision.

Second, you should determine the length of time the product has been on the market and whether it has enjoyed successful promotion during this time. In short, is it a proven product or service or just a gimmick? Ask yourself whether or not you are really interested in selling the product or service, what the future demand will be, and the nature of the competition you must face in marketing the product.

Third, what is the cost of the franchise? In addition to the initial cash outlay required, there may be other charges, assessments, or royalties to be paid to the franchisor, and you may be required to purchase supplies from the company rather than from local sources.

Fourth, what profits can reasonably be expected from the franchise operation? Here again, investigation on your part by talking with present franchise owners may provide facts you will need to make an intelligent decision. In any event, the representations of a promoter concerning projected net profits or earnings potential should be carefully examined for accuracy.

Fifth, what training and management assistance will be provided by the franchisor? It is very important that you clearly understand the specific nature of the training to be provided. Will it consist only of receiving a manual of instructions or hearing a few lectures? You must determine whether or not after taking the training offered you will be able to operate the franchise successfully.

Sixth, what are your rights and obligations under the terms of the franchise agreement contract? Contact your attorney and listen to his explanation of the terms and conditions of the promoter selling the franchise. In summary, you should not rush into signing a contract or any other document relating to a franchise promotion, and you should not make any deposits or down payments "to hold a franchise open" or to "demonstrate good faith" unless you are absolutely certain about your decision to go ahead with the franchise arrangement.

Find out all you can about the franchise including the names and addresses of other franchise owners whom you can contact. Take the time to talk with these individuals to determine their attitudes toward the company, the success or failure they have encountered, and the problems they have dealt with in operating the franchise. Consult your attorney and have him review all aspects of the agreement to be certain that all terms of the agreement are set forth in a

Democratic Party Sets 8,644 Goal

The "Operation Everybody" voter quota for Deaf Smith County has been set at 8,644 by the Texas Democratic Party, according to county chairman Leo Witkowski.

"That figure represents 65 percent of our estimated eligible voting population," Witkowski said. "The state goal of the Democratic Party is to have 5 million Texans registered between now and April 5, the last day to register in order to be eligible to vote in the May 5 primary."

"Operation Everybody!" is a project of the State Democratic Executive Committee. The special drive is headed by Mrs. James A. McMullen, II of Fort Worth, chairman, with Mrs. Abbie K. Evans of Houston as vice chairman.

"Voter registration is free, but everyone must register in order to vote in the 1972 elections," Witkowski said. Applications forms are at the County Tax Assessor's office in the courthouse.

A special plea is being made to all 18, 19 and 20-year-olds to register and take advantage of the new law which entitles them to vote for the first time.

"Our county will be competing with other counties of similar size for statewide recognition in doing a good job," Witkowski said.

Gold, silver, and bronze plaques will be awarded to the counties which exceed their quotas by the highest margins. All counties which meet their quotas will receive special certificates of merit.

TIMES DO CHANGE

SYDNEY (AP)—An aborigine, David Edward Wotherspoon, has been granted a liquor licence at a hotel 70 miles north of Sydney.

Only a few years ago, over most of Australia, aborigines were not permitted in hotel bars and it was an offense to supply them with liquor.

A NEW LUNAR TEST

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—New clues in the age and origin of cosmic rays—mysterious particles that bombard the solar system from all directions in space—will be provided by a special array of detectors to be carried to the moon and back next March by the Apollo astronauts.

The detector array uses various materials—including plastic research and development record tracks of cosmic rays. The shape of each track, after etching, reveals what kind of particle made it.

The lunar surface cosmic ray experiment was designed by scientists at the General Electric research and development center at Schenectady, N.Y., University of California at Berkeley and Washington University in St. Louis.

HHS Cosmetology Class Entertains Beauticians

February 13-19, designated as National Beauty Salon Week, is being observed by the cosmetology class of Hereford High School.

The National Hair Fashion Committee has set this week to alert the nation's women to the many performances provided by beauty salons throughout the nation.

To start the week off, the class invited local beauty operators to visit their classroom and see a film entitled Hairstyles of the '70s, a preview of the styles that will be seen on the American woman for the next decade. Vanna Thurlow is the coordinator for the cosmetology classes.

A class consists of a three-hour lab and is part of the girls' schooling. On Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, patrons are invited to make an appointment to receive any beauty service that could be done at a regular beauty shop.

374 Boys Ready For Little Dribblers Play

A total of 374 Hereford boys have signed up for this year's Little Dribblers Basketball Inc. sponsored by the Hereford Jaycees and including boys, 8-12 years of age.

Three leagues have been formed this season to accommodate the more than 100-boy increase from the program's first year in Hereford. A major league, for boys 11 and 12 years-old; a Minor league, for youths age 9 and 10; and Peeewe league for boys 8 and 9 years of age.

Fundamental dribbling and shooting drills were held last Saturday in the Pioneer Natural Gas Warehouse with members of the local Jaycees on hand to supervise. After the two hours of tryouts were held, coaches selected their teams for the upcoming action.

The first practice date has been set for Saturday Feb. 19, with the first game planned for Feb. 26. There are 10 teams in each league this year and each league is split into two zones with the winner of each zone meeting in the league championship game in March.

An all-star team from the Major League will also be chosen, and will compete in advanced play which will hopefully lead to the national tournament in Levelland during April.

Major league teams will practice at Stanton Junior High School gymnasium, while pewee and minor leaguers will sharpen their skills at the high school gym. The teams will practice two times before the season begins and on each Saturday of the schedule.

Stanton will host all Major league contests, while Peeewe and Minor League clubs will compete at high school on Friday evening, with four games slated each evening. The Major leagues will battle on Monday, Tuesday and Friday nights, with three games slated each night. Game times are 6, 7 and 8 p.m. on Monday and Tuesdays, and 6, 7, 8, and 9 p.m. on Fridays. A small admission charge of 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for students will be charged.

All Little Dribblers' cagers should bring a pair of tennis shoes and $3.50 to the first practice session. The $3.50 is used for jerseys and insurance purposes.

The Celtics, Bucks, Lakers and Knicks will practice from 10-12 a.m. on Saturday at Stanton, while the Bullets, Warriors, Hawks, Pistons, Suns and Royals will workout from 1-3 p.m. at Stanton Junior High.

Practice times for minor leaguers and Peeewe cagers have not been announced as of yet, but coaches will notify their players of the time and place at a later date.

Defense Tells The Tale

Herd Tramples Hapless Mustangs, 83-40

BY TERRY NEILL
Sports Editor

Spearheaded by a tenacious defense, the Hereford Whitefaces, under Coach Ron Mayberry, launched their assault on the second-half 4-AAAA title Friday night in Hereford with a top-sided 83-40 defeat of loop rival Lubbock Coronado.

With an evenly balanced team effort, the Whitefaces, led by 6'7" Dan VanderZee, 6'11" Keith Kitchens, and 6'4" David Hicks, dominated the contest from the opening buzzer.

The Mustangs were so completely stifled by the Herd's well-disciplined full court press they failed to notch a field goal until 1:30 remained in the first period.

Kitchens ended with high point honors, getting 26, while VanderZee added 16 and Terry Scott tossed in 12 markers. Alan Cornelius with 11 and Hicks with 10 points also scored in double figures during the Friday night onslaught. Danny Charest added four points, Wallace Hill got a single basket, and both Gary Goheen and Larry Roberts hit one point.

Hereford's stingy defense and "run-and-gun" offense kept the Mustangs off balance throughout the first period, and the White-faces led 17-4 when the opening stanza ended.

Coronado scored nine points to the Whiteface's 18 in the second quarter, and trailed 35-13 at intermission. Hereford however, poured in 26 third period markers as Kitchens and Cornelius got hot. The Mustangs also warmed a bit, sinking 12 points.

Hereford outscored the visitors 22-15 in the final period to take the victory.

Mayberry called the victory a "team thing" and cited the entire team for its play. Mayberry was especially impressed with VanderZee, a sophomore who had started earlier in the season, only to lose his job when loop action began several weeks back. The talented sophomore blocked several shots, and kept the Mustangs intimidated with his mighty reach.

Cornelius and Scott ran rampant in the second half as the Herd's fast break shifted into high gear, complimenting their fine defense.

"It was probably our best game defensively all year," Mayberry commented after the game, "it's a big step for our chance in the second half. There's really no one individual played great ball."

Coronado displayed its feelings about the game's outcome by drawing three technical fouls, two during the first half. Both teams made good use of the charity line in the final half, as the contest became more physical. Hereford ended-up sinking 23 of 36 free tosses for 64 percent, and Lubbock converted 14 of 23 for 61 per cent. VanderZee was the only cager to foul out.

The Friday night win which brings Hereford's record to 16-11, will set up an important clash with Lubbock High Tuesday in Lubbock.

Hereford also won the junior varsity game, 71-49, and the sophomore contest, 59-50. Mays paced the junior varsity Longhorns with 20 points, while the Shorthorns were lead by Jim Marsh with 18.

cent, and Lubbock converted 14 of 23 for 61 per cent. VanderZee was the only cager to foul out.

Hereford Parts Wins, Keeps First Place In City Basketball League

With two cagers hitting in double figures the Hereford Parts team romped over Saint Anthony's, 83-26 Tuesday night and padded an already sizeable loop lead in the Men's City Basketball League.

Farr Better Feeds topped First Supply 61-31 in opening action Tuesday.

Action starts in the league on each Tuesday and Friday night at 7 p.m. with the first contest, and 8:30 p.m. for the final encounter. Most games are played at Stanton Junior High School, and no admission is charged.

Hereford Parts is currently alone atop the standings with a 5-1 record, while Farr Better Feeds holds down second and pioneer Natural Gas and P.K. Supply are tied for third.

Parts jumped out to a quick 20-4 lead after one period and lead 34-8 at halftime. The Parts five then erupted for 28 third period points and wrapped up the win. Bobby Steward got 23 points and Ronnie Hale banged in 15 to pace the victors, while Don Samuels scored 11 for the losers.

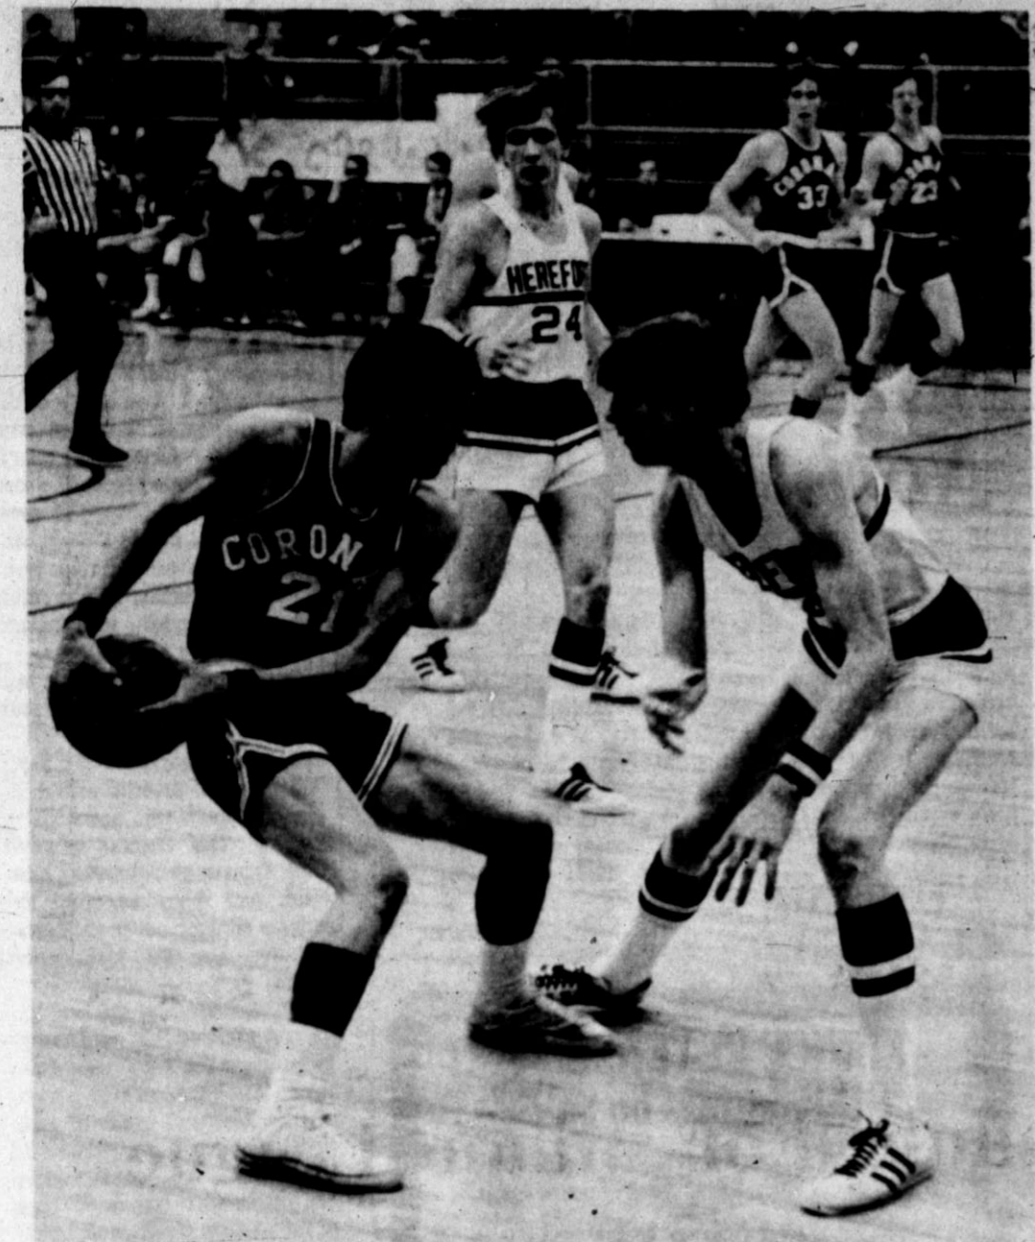

Supply could get only one basket during the first stanza, while Farr Better Feeds was dropping in 19 points, and trailed 26-12 at halftime. Farr Better Feeds went on to score 15 points in the third period, and 20 in the final quarter. First Supply got 19 final half points.

Billy Redmon lead the winners with a 26-point effort, and Odis Cooper added 17. Charlie Miller registered 16 points for the First Supply unit.

First, you're protected where it counts most: on the major mechanical parts of the car you buy. And that lasts a healthy 30 days or 2000 miles, whichever comes first.

Second, you get special savings on any parts or labor you need. From the day you buy for 24 months.

Third, the special savings are good all across the country at most Chevrolet dealers. Say you're on a vacation trip and find you need service. You just get in touch with a participating Chevrolet dealership.

All you do is show an OK warranty identification card you receive when you buy your used car.

Your Chevrolet dealers' new OK warranty. It takes the guesswork out of used car buying.

HHS Tracksters To Open Season

Track season will begin for the Hereford High School cindermen Feb. 28 when they journey to Plainview for the Plainview Invitational Relays. The meet will feature a field of eight area teams, including all 4-AAAA squads.

Coach Don Cumpton, whose team finished in the cellar in 1971, reports about 46 boys out for track this year, and is expecting to carry about 25 on the varsity and the remainder on the junior-varsity.

Cumpton is optimistic about the '72 season, citing enthusiasm and more experience as bright spots. The Whitefaces will also have John Page, a 5'10", 180-pound discus hurler who won the 4-AAAA title last year back for his senior year of eligibility.

Page's longest toss in 1971 was 152'1" and according to Cumpton is one of eight seniors who are providing "good leadership" for the younger tracksters.

With 16 lettermen returning, and half of those seniors, the Whitefaces should improve on last year's showing.

"We were a little young last season, and it was our first in 4-AAAA," commented Cumpton.

The coach singled out Lubbock Monterey as the team to beat in loop competition, citing a wealth of talent and depth as Monterey's strengths. Monterey is the defending district champion.

Lubbock High, Monterey, Coronado, Plainview, Borger, Lubbock Estacado, and Pampa will join the HHS squad at Plainview. A division for the junior-varsity also will be held.

Jaycees Plan Tourney In Muleshoe

Entries are currently being accepted in Muleshoe for the Muleshoe Jaycees' Ninth Annual Volleyball Tournament, planned for March 13-15 in the Muleshoe High School gymnasium.

Trophies will be awarded for first, second, third and consolation finishes, and an all tournament team will be selected for both men and women. A panel of judges will select the teams in ability and sportsmanship.

Teams wishing to enter the tourney should contact Mack Gist at 272-4830 in Muleshoe, or Ronnie Gustin, at 272-4261. The entry fee has been set at $7 per team, as in the past.

Entries are being accepted earlier this year than in the past so that interested groups will have more time to organize a team and practice.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—New guidelines for conduct of the state's first publicly-financed primary elections are due to reach local election officials this week.

Secretary of State Bob Bullock, as chief Texas election officer, drafted the rules in line with a federal court amendment to the decision outlawing filing fees as proposed in a 1971 law.

Bullock interpreted the latest order as authorizing the state to foot the bill for primary election costs. He said an earlier opinion permitted use of nominal filing fees to regulate length of the ballot but not as a revenue-raising device placing a wealth requirement on candidacy.

The chief election officer ordered this mandatory filing fee schedule for both Democratic and Republican candidates (or an alternative nominating petition signed by qualified voters):

Statewide offices, $400; U.S. representative, $300; state senator, $150; state representative, $100; chief justice or associate justice, court of civil appeals, $100; member state board of education, $50; district judge or judge of any court having district office status, $100; district attorney or criminal district attorney, $100; all county offices except county surveyor or inspector of hides and animals, $100; inspector of hides and animals, $50; county commissioner, $50; justice of the peace or constable for counties above 200,000 population, $50; justice of the peace or constable for counties under 200,000, $25; all party offices, no fee.

Fees must be paid in full by February 28. In lieu of filing fees, candidates may elect to file petitions by a March 6 deadline. For statewide offices, 2,500 signatures are necessary. For other offices, signatures urging candidacy must be equal in number to at least two per cent of the entire vote cast for a party's gubernatorial candidate in the last general election for the territory served—or at least 25 and no more than 300 signers.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has stated he will ask an attorney general's opinion on legality of Bullock's proposal to finance May and June primaries with funds transferred from another state appropriation. Gov. Preston Smith applauded the plan and said he will direct the necessary transfer.

ALLOWABLE GOES UP—The February oil allowable has been pushed up another 4.1 per cent in answer to demands for more production.

Texas Railroad Commission set the allowable at 75.8 per cent the following week after announcing it would be 71.7 per cent.

Chairman Byron Tunnell said several Texas refineries insisted they could not get enough crude oil to meet demands for February if the allowable were set at the 71.7 per cent factor.

The allowable has been raised for three straight months, and the new, adjusted February mark is the highest since a 77.2 per cent factor last May.

Tunnell said requests amount to a firm demand for an additional 76,000 barrels of crude oil a day for the month. The new allowable will permit an extra 75,717 barrels a day.

Texas crude stocks January 21 came to 90,994,000 barrels, down 18.3 million from the same time in 1971.

WATER BONDS SOLD—Texas Water Development Board sold $25 million in water development bonds at an effective interest rate of 4.6831.

A syndicate headed by First National Bank of Dallas made the purchase.

Sales of the bonds increased the Board's statutory lending rate from 3.7207 per cent to 3.95873 per cent. Thus, Governmental units borrowing money from the Board for water supply project construction will pay a higher interest rate for their loan.

Bidding was close on the sale. Six bids overall were received.

COLORADO BASIN PLAN ORDERED—A water quality cleanup plan for the Colorado River Basin must be completed by local, state and federal authorities by July, 1973, to meet a federal requirement for loans.

Cities of Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, San Angelo, Brownwood and Austin may be affected by the decision for years to come. A U.S. House resolution directed federal engineers to review reports on the Colorado and tributaries and compile the study of a 54-county basin including 990 river miles.

Efforts will be made to define areas generating most pollutants and to propose basinwide approaches to correcting problems.

COURTS SPEAK—Policemen relying on first-time informers for information should have to identify them sufficiently to prove reliability before search warrants are issued, the Court of Criminal Appeals held.

Texas Supreme Court admitted that fine print technicalities in an insurance policy caused an apparent injustice, but concluded that changes should be made by the Insurance Board or legislature rather than judges.

A faulty search warrant based on hearsay resulted in reversal by the Court of Criminal Appeals of a four-year sentence of a former University of Texas professor on marijuana possession charges.

SINGLE MEMBER DISTRICTS—Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin strongly criticized a January 28 federal court ruling ordering single-member districts for Bexar and Dallas Counties.

Martin contends the decision is wrong and that the U.S. Supreme Court may reverse it on appeal.

Meanwhile, he asked the highest court to delay effect of the order for 1972 elections. If it is made effective immediately, Martin contended, re-registration may be necessary for 400,000 Dallas and 224,000 Bexar County voters in line with altered voting precinct lines.

The three-judge federal court ordered 11 individual House districts in Bexar and 18 such districts of about 74,000 each of Dallas. Other districts drawn by a state legislative redistricting board last October were left intact, for this year's voting, although the legislature was directed to redraw all of them by July 1, 1973.

ANTI-INCOME TAX GROUP REVIVES—An anti-income tax group of prominent Texans Wednesday announced plans to push for state governmental economies to head off "substantial new taxes" this year.

Texas Association of Taxpayers, which helped defeat a corporate income tax in 1971, is seeking to expand its membership base of 5,500 before the 1972 special legislative session.

Principal objective, said Chairman Tom Sealy of Midland, is first to "encourage every possible economy that will put a lid on spending."

SOUTH TEXAS PLAN announced initiation of a plan aimed at improving job opportunities, living conditions and governmental services in a vast 60-county area of South Texas.

Ideas for bettering the quality of life in South Texas involve largely the attraction of industries to the area and improved training of manpower for vocational skills.

"This may well be one of the most significant proposals to come out of my office since I have been governor," Smith said.

The area covered by the plan would extend from Val Verde County on the west to Refugio County on the east, as far north as Gillespie and Comal Counties and south to the Rio Grande. Poverty incidence in the area, said Smith, is 35 per cent compared to the statewide figure of 21.5 per cent.

AG-OPINIONS—State funds may be used by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to SCOUTING SERVICE NOTED — Nolan Grady, local postmaster, active in Boy Scout leadership for ten years, adds another distinguished service award to his collection. The Silver Beaver Award, a framed plaque and silver beaver decoration suspended from a ribbon neckband, was awarded to four area leaders at the recent appreciation dinner of Llano Estacado Council in Amarillo. Grady has served as assistant scout master, scout master, district advancement chairman, district chairman, and is presently district leadership training chairman.

meet new federal requirements that qualified residents and businesses receive financial aid when they are uprooted by state-federal land acquisition, Attorney General Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

*Persons licensed by the Texas Board of Examiners in Fitting and Dispensing Hearing Aids can lose their license for violating professional standards in out-of-state dealings.

*A person convicted of DWI subsequent offense is subject to having his license automatically suspended even when the sentence is probated.

SHORT SNORTS

A state appeal from a federal court decision that illiterate voters must get aid at the polls was withdrawn at the governor's demand.

H.P. Guerra II of Rio Grande City was named to the Finance Commission of Texas.

New state highway maps are now available, and Highway Department tourist bureaus reported a 16 per cent increase in travel services for 1971.

County Democratic Chairmen will hold an organization meeting here Saturday (Feb. 12).

Democrats are feuding over adoption of required new party rules for conventions and conduct of business.

An application has been filed to charter a new American (state) Bank at Odessa.

Teachers finally got their three-months' retroactive pay raises cleared.

The personal income index rose eight per cent in Texas last year.

The original name of the bass was barse, which is Old English meaning bristly or spiny.

Schools Noting Vocation Week

February 13-19 has been designated as National Vocational Education Week. It will be observed in Hereford public schools as it will be throughout the country by schools, teachers and students.

Richard Robinson, vocational director at Hereford High School, says the purpose of this national observance is to bring attention to the merits and accomplishments of vocational education. He encourages members of the community to visit schools during the week to view projects and programs. Vocational education prepares students for employment by training youth for a salable skill.

"Young people and adults today face a tremendous task of selecting career development programs. Careful investigation and observation are necessary for the potential student to choose the career training program which will provide the most satisfying career," Robinson said.

He urges all adults of the community to visit the school during National Vocational Education Week. One can learn much about career education by observing existing vocational programs and talking with community employers who serve on school advisory committees.

Vocational programs in the Hereford Public Schools are: distributive education, vocational office education, industrial cooperative training, vocational agriculture, vocational home economics, auto mechanics, building trades, cosmetology, electrical trades and printing trades. In junior highs, CVAE home economics and CVAE power mechanics are offered.

Do you really want your brother-in-law to know how much you earned last year?

Of course not. It's nobody's business but your own.

However, annually millions of taxpayers bear this kind of personal information to people who really shouldn't know. For what? Just so they can save a few dollars doing their income tax.

That's some price to pay.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it with any amateur who might not know that work clothes in some instances are deductible, or that income averaging might save tax dollars, you can have your tax return done by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team with complete confidentiality. There are thousands of them in over 6,000 conveniently located offices. H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for the 7 million families we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

This means that H & R Block is ready to offer you year 'round tax service for just one low fee a year, with no extra charge for audits and estimates. Yes, we cost a little bit more than your relatives or friends—or neighbors—but when you think of what we deliver, you can't afford anything less than H & R Block.

QUEEN OF QUARTZ

The most universal mineral known to us today is quartz—a combination of two basics of the earth's crust—silicon and oxygen. When colorless, the quartz material is called Rock Crystal. Often, we see this type in carved objects of limpid beauty. Another jewelry use for rock crystal is in cutting it into small beads or rondels to separate colored stones in necklaces. Citrine quartz is a much less expensive alternate for precious topaz, and the smoky variety—called Cat's paw—is a popular favorite with modern craftsmen who make silver jewelry. The Chinese favored Rose Quartz as a carving material, and many beautiful examples of their art in this lovely stone can be seen in museums.

But, undoubtedly, the best liked and most widely used jewelry quartz is the deep violet Amethyst. Since the earliest period, when crudely-cut beads of amethyst were used for barter, its translucent, deep-hued beauty has appealed to many. Bishops of the Church traditionally wear amethysts in their rings of office. Catherine the Great of Russia, included amethysts as an important part of her Crown Jewels. Now, we see them used in antique jewelry, often in combination with pearls. Thanks to faithful replicas of antique pieces, amethysts are again coming in vogue.

LID FOR FREEWAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A block-long "lid" will cover a major freeway running through the heart of Seattle, Wash., says the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The "lid" will hide the freeway and muffle noise were the traffic runs below the surface.

The "lid" will be a 3.6 acre park with trees, grass and falling water that will provide a retreat for the pedestrian and a novel driving experience to the freeway traveler.

In addition, the park will extend over a 200-car, privately-owned garage at one end and a 60-car city parking garage at the other.

Entertainment with plus benefit

FINANCE AND PROJECT COMMITTEE of the sponsoring club has the responsibility of planning for the show, supported by all members. Mrs. Hazen Woods, center, and Mrs. Jim Carnahan, right, are co-chairmen and Mrs. Rudy Metz is also on the committee.

L'ALLEGRA STUDY CLUB presented Mary Allen Vincent of Dallas in one of her original musical reviews last year as a contribution to the city's entertainment and cultural life. So well received was the program, the club is bringing her back Thursday to a larger auditorium, as a benefit for its main community service work.

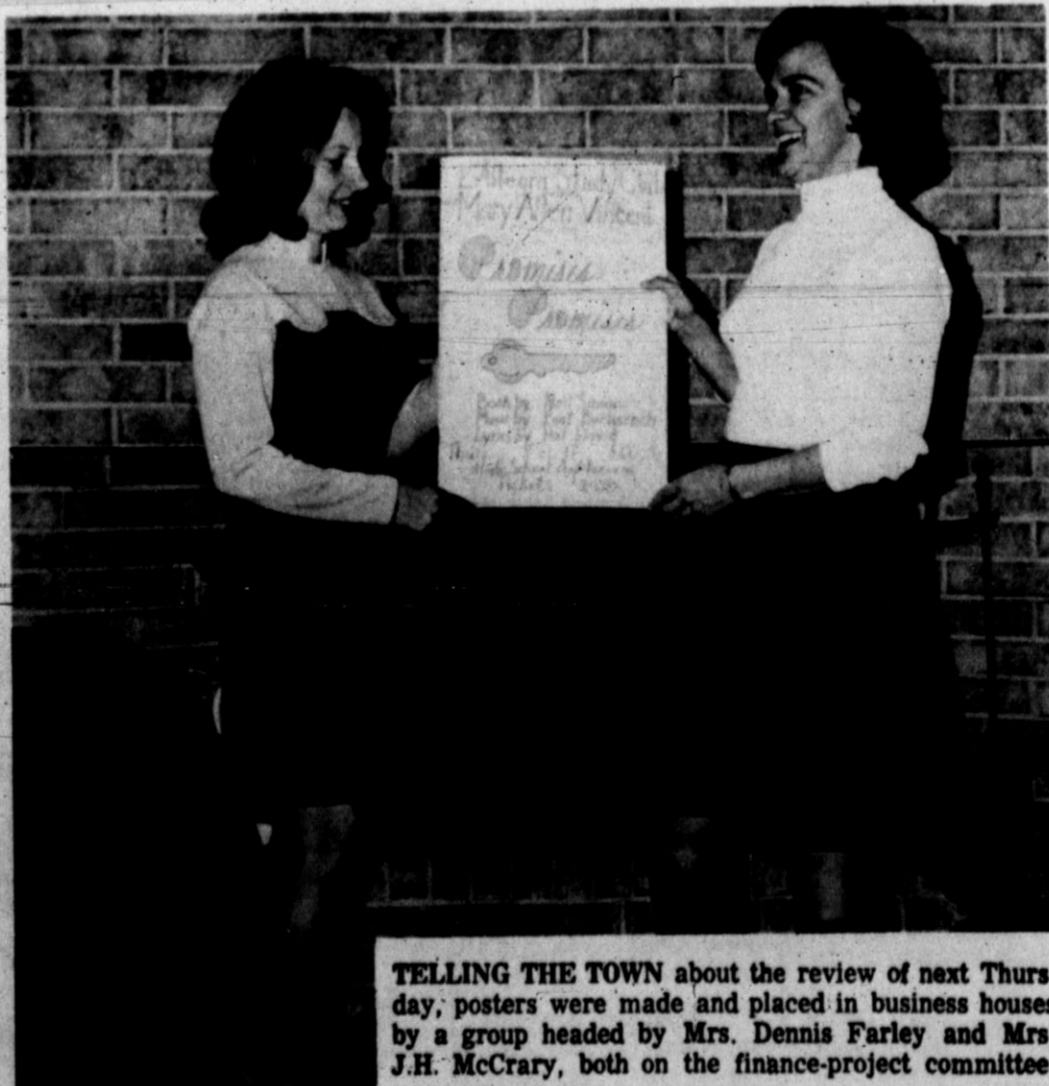

STORY AND SONGS of a popular Broadway musical, Promises, Promises, will be given in Mrs. Vincent's vivacious style on Hereford High School stage at 8 p.m. Tickets are on sale by club members and will be available at the box office, with all proceeds going to the "We Care" fund of Deaf Smith County Health Clinic which supplies medical aid to needy resident children.

ONE WOMAN SHOW is a title sometimes used to describe the Dallas entertainer, who relates the plot and sings hit numbers from musicals, but she is expertly backed by pianist Ray Plagens, inset photo, who joins her to sing duets.

CLUB PRESIDENT is Mrs. Danny Martin, looking up from a reading of the program of Promises, Promises as it was staged by a traveling company a few weeks ago in Amarillo.

TELLING THE TOWN about the review of next Thursday, posters were made and placed in business houses by a group headed by Mrs. Dennis Farley and Mrs. J.H. McCrary, both on the finance-project committee.

Small talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

ONE OF THE prettiest styles in the whole catalog of dress has been revived lately, and I'm happy to see it becoming popular here. That is the fashion for capes, which seem to improve the appearance of any woman.

Lately I've seen Mrs. Frank Ford in a cape costume involving a plaid in maroon and gray. Mrs. Ivan Tipps in a positively dashing shepherd checked cape over a black pantsuit, Mrs. Rex Lee in a full-length cape of a fuschia shade, and Mrs. O.G. Hill Sr. in a shorter wrap in a softer shade of purple—maybe it could be called heather.

In past periods of cape popularity, the garments have been worn by men as well as women with the same effect of elan and grace.

Now that men go to the opera in business suits instead of top hats, tails and capes lines with white satin, about the only survival of men's capes is in the uniform of some drum majors, where thank goodness masculine glamour can be displayed in full.

MAYBE IT ISN'T THE most practical wrap in a West Texas wind, but a cape can make nearly any woman look and feel that she is dressed to the hilt—something like wearing a skirt with a train. In either, you feel that your dress is graceful, even if you're not.

As for the almost universal becomingness of a cape, that may be because the garment is like charity, covering a multitude of sins. A tall, slender woman is the best model for a cape, but then she is for anything else. The too-skinny or too-fat gal, or one with any figure defect, finds a friend in the cape which just swirls over the problem area.

But that doesn't mean that a five-foot-two, 200-pounder should rush into a flaring, clan-plaid cape featuring green and scarlet, and expect to look slim and chic.

SOMEONE HAS asked L'Allegria Club members whether the musical review by Mary Vincent, which the club will sponsor Thursday evening, has an X or a G rating. The musical comedy to be reviewed is Promises, Promises.

It is a stage success which was adapted from a screenplay, instead of the usual other way around, and the movie on which it is based is The Apartment.

True, its plot, concerning a junior executive finding favor in a big firm by lending his apartment to his seniors for rendezvous with their girls until he learns that one of the meetings is to be with his special girl, is a plot that could be considered unsuitable for general audiences.

However, Mrs. Vincent assures the club that her review is handled so there is nothing offensive, and those who heard her program last year can vouch for the fact that she uses good taste in narrating a show, and emphasizes the songs.

Record Keeping Is 4-H Subject

Record keeping, which supplies the basis for judging in many 4-H Club contests, was the subject at a meeting of Green Valley Club, one of the newer 4-H groups in Deaf Smith County, at its meeting this week.

Joyce Shipp and Robert Devin, assistant county agents and 4-H leaders, conducted the lesson and showed how record books should be kept current. Wesley Strain presided. Thirteen members were present in Dawn Community Building.

Valentine Queen Of BSP Chosen

Crowned at the annual Beta Sigma Phi Valentine Ball Saturday evening, Mrs. Jim Cramer is the sorority queen in Hereford for 1972. She was the candidate for the title from Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter.

Presented with her at the ball were nominees from the other two chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, Mrs. Max Stipe of Alpha Alpha and Mrs. Bobby Jones of Kappa Iota.

A committee of sorority members from Amarillo selected the queen from the three chosen by vote of their own chapter members.

The 1972 Beta Sigma Phi Valentine Queen has been a member of that organization for eight years, being currently active in the Exemplar chapter, Xi Epsilon Alpha.

Besides sorority activities, which have given her office positions and named her BSP City Council Valentine Princess in 1969, Mrs. Cramer enjoys sewing and playing the organ for her church, St. Anthony's Catholic. Sharon and her husband Jim, who owns a local real estate concern, have lived in Hereford for a number of years.

First runner-up title this year goes to Mrs. Max L. Stipe, a resident of Hereford for 22 years. Frances has seen 17 years of membership in BSP and is president of the Alpha Alpha Preceptor chapter this year.

Mother of one daughter, age 12, Mrs. Stipe works as medical secretary at Deaf Smith General Hospital.

Tony Jones, Mrs. Bobby Jones, has been named second runner-up. Presently in her second year membership with the Kappa Iota Chapter of BSP, Tony served her first year as service committee chairman.

Positions she holds this year include program chairman, civilian defense officer, executive board member and membership and contact committees.

Tony has one small son, Clay, six-months-old.

Club Will Sponsor Trip To Six Flags

Calliopean Study Club members voted Thursday evening to sponsor one of Hereford's Satellite school students on a trip to Six Flags this June. The group met in the home of Mrs. Roy Grubbs.

Mrs. Dale Furr, in presenting the program, reviewed the book

The Quality of Life by James Q. Michener. The non-fiction book holds a subtitle, A Voice of Reason, touching on the problems of American society.

Michener lists seven basic problems of the society: saving the city, race, education, youth, communications, preservation of the environment and population explosion.

Other members present were Mmes. C.J. Crump, E.W. Dettman, J.T. Gilbreath, Mary Gibson, Ansel McDowell, D.C. McWhorter, Emmett Milburn, D.W. Palmer, Keith Simmer, George Warner, Jack Wilcox, Hazen Woods and Bob Word.

American songs make program

Folk songs were featured in Dawn Music Clubs program observing the annual Parade of American Music Tuesday afternoon, at a meeting in Dawn Baptist Church. Mrs. H.V. McCabe and Mrs. J.B. Caraway were hostesses.

Instruments and voices shared the program as Mrs. R.E. Curtisinger gave a fiddle rendition of Yankee Doodle with Mrs. Carl Wimberley seconding on the piano. Mrs. Gerald Parker played The Very Last Day as a guitar solo and Mrs. Gene Meacham sang the comic ballad, Abdullah Bulbul Ameer, accompanied by Mrs. R.T. Stewart.

Piano solos of more recent popular songs, Alexander's Ragtime Band by Mrs. Clarence Betson and O What a Beautiful Mornin' by Mrs. Dwane Nelson, rounded out the program which emphasized February as American Music Month in federated music clubs. Plans were made for a community program to be presented by the club in the spring, with Mrs. Parker as general chairman. The club will entertain members' husbands at the next meeting, Feb. 22, with dinner and music in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strain.

The Rev. Boniface Riedmann, pastor, officiated for the ceremony as Gordon Elliot gave his stepdaughter in marriage. Altars were banked with white mums as a setting for the bridal party.

Tiers of ruffled lace widened the sides of the Victorian skirt and shaped into a brief train. Her illusion veil fell shoulder length from a coil of petals edged with seed pearls. She carried white carnations and roses in cascade arrangement.

Her attendants wore empire dresses of satin, floor length.

The maid of honor was dressed in larkspur blue.

Headpieces of satin and tulle matched the dresses in color, and their nosegays were in pink carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Winfield Hill Jr. of Durham. Her father gave her in marriage as Dr. James Cleland, dean of the chapel, officiated for the wedding at the candlelighted altar.

Her twin sister, Mrs. David Yoakum of Cocoa Beach, Florida, attended the bride as matron of honor and Charles Mims of Albany, California, was his brother's best man. Miss Sally Happer of Durham was maid of honor.

Search For Truth

The search for truth in many courtrooms today has taken on new dimensions. In some instances, the court, in addition to administering justice, is forced to justify its existence and physically police its proceedings to maintain a modicum of decorum.

There are occasions when the court seemingly spends as much time trying to control shouting defendants and their recalcitrant counsel as in conducting the trial. In short, the courts are now experiencing some of what law enforcement for years has suffered in full measure—violent disrespect for the law and diabolical schemes to prove that the system of justice does not work in America.

For many, reverence for the law is no longer a sacred principle. The attributes so vital to impartial courtroom procedure are scorned, and court authority is tested. Let us make no mistake about it. When defendants call the jurist "a fascist" and "a lying pig," shout curses and obscenities at the court, chant in unison, and completely destroy the dignity of the courtroom, the duty of the court is axiomatic. The consequences must be sufficient to deter such action.

Aside from the contemptuous courtroom conduct itself, equally disturbing are the public agitations and blatant outcries from some quarters against a judge who takes firm action to meet the problem head-on. The beleaguered jurist is an instant villain in these contrived sideshows and, like the law enforcement officer before him, becomes a target of repeated abuse.

In discussing courtroom conflicts in March, 1971, Hon. Warren E. Burger, Chief Justice of the United States, stated in part, "... I do know this—and so does anyone who has read legal history and read the newspapers in recent years—that John Adams, and his reincarnated colleagues at the bar, would be shocked and bewildered at some of the antics and spectacles witnessed today in the courtrooms of America. They would be as shocked and baffled as are a vast number of contemporary Americans and friends of America all over the world." The Chief Justice urged that priority be given to methods and machinery, to procedure and techniques, and to management and administration of judicial resources to meet the challenges to our system of justice. Fortunately, there is indication that most of the members of the legal profession agree with the Chief Justice and are working to correct these conditions.

If the judiciary is to keep the faith of the American people, then it must deal promptly and decisively with vituperative outbursts and disruptive tactics in court. Justice without strength will soon become no justice at all.

—J. Edgar Hoover

Viable Provider Of Jobs

"Are you going to expend your energies complaining about controls, or are you going to adopt wage and price policies that will remove the pressure of inflation and the need for controls?" President Nixon posed that question to businessmen at the opening session of the White House Conference on the Industrial World Ahead. There was no indication that he got an answer, or that he even expected one, but the fact that the question was asked must have given some businessmen a rather unhappy view of the industrial world immediately ahead.

Most corporate executives presumably recognize that they could not cause inflation even if they wanted to. As steel and aluminum producers have been reminded lately, even the biggest corporations can't always raise their own prices when they want to, even if the government gives its permission; market competition gets in the way.

Inflation is purely and simply the product of a government's financial policies that balloon the nation's money supply. In doing so the government makes it possible for business and labor to find buyers for their products and services at higher prices and wages.

Now, businessmen and labor leaders could, if they chose, forswear higher prices and wages. In the real world, though, they could do so only by endangering their survival as businessmen and labor leaders. Recognition of that fact may be one reason that the administration opted for compulsion.

Even assuming that controls operate smoothly and efficiently—on the record to date, that's a very large assumption—they cannot extinguish inflation. If the government insists on inflating the economy, the pressures eventually will break through in black markets, shortages and the like.

Anything a corporation, or even all corporations, can do in this area, the government can do considerably better. What is required is the sort of political courage that hasn't been much in evidence in Washington—among Republicans or Democrats—in recent years.

In a sense the politicians have boxed themselves in and they're afraid to break out. They know that monetary and fiscal restraint will produce price stability, but they fear that it must at the same time produce excessive unemployment. To the extent this is true—and everyone agrees that strong inflation can't be curbed without significant unemployment—it's largely the fault of the politicians.

The chief reason the economy has so much trouble adjusting to increased price stability is that there are so many market rigidities. The government has allowed labor unions to acquire the power to go on pushing up wage rates in the face of rising unemployment. The government also goes on pushing up the legal minimum wage, and is about to do so again, although the result will be to eliminate jobs for many Americans.

Wherever there is excessive power to distort markets—in business as well as in unions—the government should move to correct it. Yet the recent agonizing in Congress over doing anything at all about the West Coast dock strike shows just how far the lawmakers have to go to find the courage to do much about entrenched union power.

In other areas the government needs not more courage but more intelligence: in devising better manpower training programs, more efficient procedures for directing the unemployed to the available jobs. Sooner or later the government also is going to have to overhaul welfare, to provide more effectively for those who cannot provide sufficiently for themselves.

The prime mover in each case must be the government. The responsibility of the corporation in all of this is to remain a viable provider of jobs, not to try somehow to conceal the political cowardice and ineptitude of the politicians.

Port Fabs--A Scientific Test For Depopulation

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C.—Port Fabs is a new city located in the Arkansas River basin of southeastern Kansas, not far from such urban centers as Wichita, Kansas City, and Oklahoma City.

Most people have never heard of Port Fabs, even in Kansas, but its population is expected to reach 43,000 by 1980, 75,000 by 1990, and 100,000 by the year 2000. If so, it will really be on the map and known by most everybody.

Port Fabs is scientifically located, where a city is needed. It is in the Great Plains, in the heartland of America where most states have been losing population for decades, as people deserted rural areas to move to the already overcrowded cities.

The Great Plains has suffered the highest rate of off-farm migration. More than 50 percent of those residents under 35 years of age quit the farm during the 1957-63 period. About 20 percent moved only 150 miles or less but more than 13 percent moved more than 500 miles, abandoning not only their county but their state and region as well.

Port Fabs was created to show how to stop this depopulation of rural areas. It is designed to demonstrate one way the out-migration trend can be reversed. It is a rural growth center of the type needed to help solve the problems of both rural areas and the cities.

Industrial Base is the Key

To grow and prosper, a new city needs an industrial base and yet not be dependent on a single industry. Port Fabs meets that test. It has a modular home construction plant which employs 1,000 and is expected to expand rapidly in a fast-growing industry.

Other industries, scientifically selected to provide a broad spectrum of employment opportunities and yet keyed to needs of the area, include malt beverages, synthetic materials and farm machinery, electrical equipment and instruments, apparel, containers, and recreational equipment.

How did these plants happen to locate in Port Fabs, Kansas? Well, it did not just happen; it was arranged by chambers of commerce, civic groups, mayors, bankers, school superintendents and other local leaders. Many businesses are anxious to quit the major cities and need only the proper circumstances to move to a non-metropolitan setting.

Port Fabs was in the planning stage for a decade. This allowed time to take advantage of Federal and state grant and loan programs. With that kind of seed money, industries could be offered such incentives as direct payments, tax credits and deferrals, and low interest loans.

Who Will Build It?

Actually, Port Fabs exists only on paper. It is the hypothetical creation of a team of agricultural economists, headed by Professors Robert R. Fletcher of the University of Wyoming and Daniel D. Badger of Oklahoma State University.

It was presented at the annual meeting of the American Agricultural Economics Association, at Carbondale, Illinois, last August, and reported in a recent issue of "The Farm Index," a monthly publication of the Economic Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

But Port Fabs needs to be created. Without it a 54-county area is expected to lose another 138,000 people by year 2000, due to out-migration. Most of those leaving will be the young people who have acquired skills that need to be matched to job opportunities. Most of those leaving would rather stay home, if they had a choice.

The planners know what it will take to save rural America. All that is required is the commitment at the grassroots level to make the dreams come true.

Talk of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY—In the case of grand opera, Texas was never a cultural laggard.

Galveston, then the queen city of the Lone Star State, brought Italian opera to Texas for the first time on April 15, 1867, when Verdi's "Ernani" was presented in the old Neitch Theatre there. It was staged by the Ronconi Opera Company which had moved to Galveston after playing to empty houses in New Orleans and the artists were facing financial disaster.

There were only 22,500 people resident in Galveston at the time, but they must have included a number of music buffs. At least, paid attendance was enough to keep the Ronconi troupe on hand for the performance of four more operas before they moved on to Houston. There, however, neither "La Traviata" nor "Il Trovatore" attracted many paying customers and Ronconi took his singers back to Galveston for an encore.

Dallas, more isolated from traveling musicians than the port cities, didn't stage its first opera until February 12, 1875. It was Flotow's "Martha" and it was both a critical and a box office success.

FROM TEXAS, WITH LOVE—Valentine (pop. 241) is one of the nation's most popular post offices at this season.

The Tiny Big Ben country village is deluged with letters and cards from throughout the U.S. from people who want their St. Valentine's Day greetings to carry the Valentine postmark.

COW PASTURE FINANCE—At least 50 of the more than 10,000 customers of the First State Bank in Rio Vista (pop. 358) arrive in their own airplanes, landing them on a pasture behind the bank and then walking about ten yards to the entrance.

The Johnson County bank, believed to be the only "fly-in" bank in the U.S., has customers throughout the nation and in many foreign countries. It has so many customers in nearby Cleburne who bank by mail that the post office there has three mail drops—one for "local," one for "out-of-town," and one labeled "Rio Vista." Customers from at least five surrounding counties fly their own planes to the bank's landing strip.

Calling itself the "Cow Pasture Bank," the First State uses checks bearing the caricature of a cowboy on a sorry horse lassoing a skinny cow.

TEXANS AT WORK—From the 1860's through the early 1900's, one of the state's most unusual labor forces consisted of specialized longshoremen who used screwjacks to stow and pack cotton bales in the holds of ships.

Screwmen could increase the bale capacity of a ship by 10 to 15 per cent and could spell the difference between profit and loss to a cotton shipper. These skilled laborers organized one of the state's first unions, the Screwmen's Benevolent Association of Galveston.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT
Southern States Industrial Council

The study of the future has become a major occupation. Numerous authors and academicians are busy forecasting what the United States will be like in the year 2000. The best known of the studies of the nation's collision with tomorrow is "Future Shock" by Alvin Toffler, but many other studies are in progress.

Predictions about things to come are understandable, for we live in a time of rapid change. It is only reasonable to suppose that the changes in the next two or three decades will be as profound as the changes of the generation past. Predicting the future is hazardous, however. History doesn't move in a straight line. It is full of zigzags and curves and provides surprises.

In the 1960's, for example, social analysts declared that the nation was entering a new urban era. It was said that the big cities would dominate American politics and that the leaders of urban coalitions such as Mayor John Lindsay of New York City represented the wave of the future. But recent statistics suggest that central cities are of declining importance. A report prepared for the Commission on Population Growth says that by the year 2000 the number of congressmen from the suburbs will almost double while the number from central cities will drop sharply.

The 1960's opened with liberal politicians and intellectuals totally committed to interventionism overseas. President Kennedy traveled to West Berlin and expressed American solidarity with the statement: "I am a Berliner," which was properly understood as a vow of unyielding U.S. support. The 1970's finds the liberal community committed to a new isolationism.

Surprises abound. Richard Nixon had the firm support of conservatives in the 1960's when he professed complete dedication to free enterprise principles and unyielding opposition to the communist powers. The new Nixon of the 1970's has imposed economic controls on a free economy and sought an accommodation with Communist China.

It is hard to make accurate forecasts. In Richmond, Va., a U.S. District Judge has ordered the merger of urban and suburban school districts. His plan is a studied effort to transform the suburbs and plunge them into a court-designed melting pot. But if his decision were upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court and the high court today is different from what it was a year ago, it doesn't necessarily follow that his edict will have the effect he intends. Instead of knocking down the walls between city and suburbs, the Richmond ruling may have the effect—nationwide—of causing a flight of suburbanites to more outlying areas—to areas beyond possible busing zones.

A century ago, President Lincoln asked: "Whither are we tending as a nation?" People in the middle and late 19th century couldn't predict the course of American history in the 20th century. It is doubtful that late 20th century Americans are better forecasters, despite the availability of statistical tools. Both liberals and conservatives have to be cautious in making estimates regarding the character of the future. Our country is very big and contains diverse elements. Regionalism is still strong and the outcome of the culture battle is uncertain. We have a broad spectrum of ideas and beliefs. The nation is subject to external pressures and threats that could serve as a catalyst for unexpected change. Outbreak of war in the Middle East, for example, could profoundly alter isolationist ideas in the liberal camp.

Miss Legate Is Bride Of Ronnie E. Lance

Wedding tapers in branched candelabra lighted the altar of First Baptist Church for the exchange of marriage vows by Miss Connie Sue LeGate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolen L. LeGate of 118 Elm, and Ronnie Earl Lance, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Lance Jr., 343 Stadium Drive, Saturday.

Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor, officiated for the mid-afternoon ceremony. White gladioli and red carnations in fan-shaped arrangements were set on Roman pedestals among jade palm branches as a background.

Miss Barbara LeGate, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor while David Evans of Lubbock served Lance as best man. Tiffany Jo, daughter of the Tom LeGates, was the flower girl.

Bridesmaids were a sister, Mrs. Rick Hutson, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Tom LeGate. Larry Cook of Estancia, New Mexico and Joel Williamson were groomsmen. Tom LeGate and Rick Hutson ushered guests to church pews.

Mrs. David Evans sang the wedding solos, The Lord's Prayer, We've Only Just Begun and Twelfth of Never. Organ accompaniment and marches were played by Robert Bell.

White velvet made the bride's gown, in Edwardian style with ruffles of candlelight Venice lace at the high neckline and from wrist to elbow on the fitted long sleeves.

The same lace, accordion pleated, was inserted in a fan shaped panel down the center of the chapel train which was attached with a bow at back waist line.

Encrusted with seed pearls, more of the lace made the queen's crown which held the bouffant tiered veil, elbow length. An heirloom pin which belonged to the bride's great grandmother was a part of her costume.

Her bouquet was a cascade of white pompons centered with cymbidium orchids.

Bridal attendants wore crimson velvet gowns with trim of white and crimson around the high waistline. Skirt fullness was swept to the back. They carried white fur muffs, and from fur headpieces illusion veils extended to floor length.

The small flower girl wore a dress and headpiece in the same style, but all in red.

A reception in the church fellowship hall followed the ceremony, with Mrs. Judy Gore at the guest registry, Mrs. Kirk Owsley and Mrs. Tom Buchanan served the wedding cake as Miss Jenee Herrington poured punch.

A white satin cloth decorated with mother of pearl sequins and appliques of roses and bells was overlaid with net on the bride's table.

For a honeymoon trip to San Antonio Mrs. Lance changed to a brown and white suit with brown accessories. On their return the couple will be at home at No. 35, 820 Irving.

The bride attended South Plains College at Levelland after graduation from Hereford High School, and is employed by Oswalt Division.

His term of service in the United States Army completed last month, the bridegroom is with Community Grain of East-er. He is a Hereford High graduate and attended Texas Tech University.

Guest Off To Gala Ball

A carnival ball of the Mardi Gras season would be an exciting event for any Hereford resident, but the one she will attend at Corpus Christi is especially so for Betty Rice, of 405 Jowell, who left this weekend for the coast city.

Her sister, Mary Odessa Sanders, has designed gowns for the festival queen and her attendants who will be honored at the ball, and Mrs. Rice is going as her sister's guest.

A former Hereford resident, daughter of Mrs. Mary Brashear of 233 Ave. E. Mrs. Sanders has been chosen for several years to plan and make the costumes for this ball, a major social event of the year in Corpus Christi.

She is owner of Mary's Modiste Shop, where dresses are made in her original designs for women of the Corpus Christi area.

Mrs. Rice made her own dress to wear to the ball, simply styled of a rich fabric. Brocade in sea-green shade with gold metallic threads has a contrasting note in sheer sleeves gathered to hand of the brocade to form ruffles at the wrist.

Bulb Bloom Due In Club Project

Bulbs planted by Hereford Garden Club members and Junior Gardeners will bloom for spring color in several parts of the city, reports at a Friday afternoon club meeting indicate.

Mrs. Ray L. Johnson said the therapy committee assisted by the juniors have planted 265 bulbs on the grounds of Kings Manor retirement home, while Mrs. O.G. Hill reported planting completed at the First Baptist Church memorial garden. Others are in planter boxes on downtown streets.

The meeting was in Mrs. G.W. Newsoms home with Mrs. S.S. Williams as co-hostess, and at its close, the 15 members present and a guest, Mrs. L.H. Lookingbill Sr., went to the home of Mrs. Jeff Roberson, 136 Ave. D, to see her rock garden.

Rock Gardening for Flatland was the program subject, discussed by Mrs. Johnson who showed numerous photographs to illustrate her talk on planning and growing these plantings.

In the business period with Mrs. R.L. Layman presiding, members decided to sponsor local contests in a Texas Garden Club project for speech and poster contests in the public schools.

It was also decided to tentatively set the club's annual fall flower show for mid-September, when summer-flowering bulbs which members are selling will be in bloom, ready for exhibit. Mrs. L.W. Norvell, finance chairman, distributed order brochures for these bulbs, which are varieties to be planted in the spring.

'Meals on Wheels' Program Being Sought For Hereford

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN
Publisher

A woman in her late sixties, suffering from arthritis, feebly tries to open a can of pork and beans for her dinner—the only thing she is able to prepare with crippled hands.

An elderly man, partially blind, sits down to his solitary dinner of canned spaghetti. A diabetic man—a widower for six years—prepares his familiar diet of potatoes and poached eggs, one of the few meals he knows he can safely eat.

Hypothetical situations, yes—but ones that repeat themselves each day, all over the world, and in Hereford. Action has been taken in many cities throughout the country to correct the situation through a program known as "Meals on Wheels."

A Hereford woman—Mrs. O.C. Curtisinger—announced intentions this week of securing community support to launch the program here. She became interested in the plan after reading a story about a "Meals on Wheels" service in Lubbock, and she plans to present the story to community leaders here.

The object of the program is to prepare and deliver each day a well-balanced, nourishing meal to those people who are unable to prepare one on their own. The program, as provided in other towns, is set up through a federal grant with the funds channeled through the Governor's Committee on Aging.

Mrs. Curtisinger, who has secured much information on "Meals on Wheels," explains that federal aid is provided for three years. After that time, it is up to the citizens of the community to make donations to keep the project going. The first year the federal funds provide 75 per cent of the expenses and the local citizens provide the remaining 25 per cent. The second year the ration is 60-40, and the third year it is 50-50.

In presenting the proposal to various community, civic and church organizations, Mrs. Curtisinger hopes to find a sponsoring agency which would make application for the funds. She adds that community financial support must be assured before the program can be initiated and "we must find volunteer workers for the project."

Explaining the operation of the "Meals on Wheels" program further, Mrs. Curtisinger said persons would qualify for the meals, after being evaluated by a registered nurse. The applicant would then go to a doctor for a physical, with the doctor prescribing the type of meal he wants the patient to have. Special meals would be prepared to accommodate people needing special diets.

Mrs. Curtisinger said the program is set up "for the rich and the poor." If the people are able, they pay for the meals; if they are unable to pay for them, this is taken care of through the funding of the program. A local caterer or restaurant would prepare the meals.

"The advantages of the program are varied," Mrs. Curtisinger concluded. "This would help keep people in their homes who otherwise wouldn't be able to stay there. As they stay in their homes, they will also have better physical and mental conditions."

Mrs. Curtisinger invites anyone interested in learning more about the program, and in helping start such a plan here, to contact her. Mrs. Curtisinger's phone number is 364-0881.

Cardiac specialist speaks to Lions

Dr. C.E. Hicks, Hereford cardiac specialist, was guest speaker for the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday at the Civic Club Center.

Dr. Hicks presented slides and explained the benefits of physical activity in helping prevent heart disease. He pointed out that there are more heart attacks during rest than during times of activity. Dr. Hicks added, however, that a person should have a physical examination before launching a new exercise program. The speaker recommended jogging, bicycling, sustained calisthenics, and other sports as forms of exercise. Statistics show that the mortality rate on heart disease decreases with the varying amount of physical exercise.

Allred presented certificates of recognition to Flake Barber and Neil Cooper for their leadership on the annual Pancake Supper sponsored by the Lions. The club grossed more than $3,000 on the project.

NEWCOMERS WELCOMED — Welcomed to the city and onto the Newcomers Club membership roll at a Tuesday afternoon luncheon in Community Center, were, from left, Mrs. Melvin Hoover, Mrs. Jerry Schoen-hard from Fort Dodge, Iowa and Mrs. Charles Stanton from Verona, Italy. Other new members not shown are Mrs. Howard McLean, Mrs. John Chavarria, and Mrs. Frank Bethune from South America.

Research Business Opens Office Here

A Hereford office of Brookside Farms Laboratory Association, Inc., a co-ordinated soil-plant-animal nutrition research firm, has opened here at 941 E. First St.

Abe Davis and David Pickens will act as consultants for the research firm. Davis is a long-time resident of Hereford and Pickens is in the process of moving to Hereford from Guymon, Okla.

Brookside Farms Laboratory is a long standing laboratory service that offers analysis service in soil, water, feed, livestock blood, vitamins, farm products and other areas.

A meeting is planned Tuesday in the Junior Livestock Building in Canyon at 5 p.m. and a representative from the home office in New Knoxville, Ohio will be on hand. That same representative also will present a short program on the firm at a meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room in Hereford.

"Any farmer, even if he is not interested in soil analysis, will gain from this meeting," Davis said.

The firm gives year-round service in testing of anything demanded by a farming enterprise. The consultants go out to the different farms, take samples and run tests on them, then consult with the farmer as to the findings of the tests.

The fee is figured on a per-acre basis which averages out to about $1.21 per acre. The cost is slightly higher the first year but tapers off in following years.

Dr. William A. Albrecht of the University of Missouri, has set up all laboratory procedures and all consultants take training directly under him.

Ancient Egyptians used starch as a sizer and an adhesive as far back as 3500 B.C.

The tanning industry obtains about 87 per cent of its hides from animals that are produced for meat or wool.

TWO WINNERS — Sandra Stallings, left and Brenda Owen from La Plata Junior High received cash awards for selling the most tickets out of the four Future Homemakers Chapters in Hereford schools for the FHA Chili Supper that was held last weekend. Tied for the promised prize, each received $5 for her winning efforts.

'Playground' Group Meets

Jim Lindsey, executive manager of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, attended a meeting Tuesday in Pampa of the Panhandle Playground Association.

The association is a nonprofit organization aimed at promoting tourism throughout the Panhandle. It was formed to include 32 Texas Panhandle counties with Lindsey named as the group's first chairman.

The association will hold its first annual meeting March 8 in Pampa, at which time the board of directors will be named and bylaws approved.

The association is made up of

C of C managers and other interested citizens who are interested in "promoting and pushing tourist attractions in the Panhandle area." It will be a non-profit organization and application has been made to incorporate.

Interested representatives in the Panhandle held a general meeting in September of the past year to initiate the organization.

"Most of the men in attendance at each of our four meetings feel that we have tourist attractions in the Panhandle which have not been promoted," Lindsey explained.

The steering committee headed by Lindsey is anticipating a budget of about $10,000 for the first year. In the tourism promotion, the organization hopes to use brochures, newspaper and radio advertising, and outdoor advertising to help promote the program.

By the Garden Gate with Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

Shooting Star, should be a good selection as it resembles its name in color, which fiery red and yellow. It has full pointed buds with the abundance of rich foliage and it grows to 12 inches.

Study characteristics, colors, formations, and resistance to diseases, then make choices carefully. One or more of these would add that certain something to your rose collection and garden.

VALENTINE's day; be sure and send that Valentine which you have purposed to send. Cheer, happiness, and love can be created by gifts of love.

Roses are ideal to express such to your Valentine. Their fragrance and loveliness are irresistible. Many other things can be selected that will create happiness: for example a telephone call both local or long distance, a telegram, a book, candy and other flowers (perhaps so sweet violets).

Really, I have already received some of my Valentines ahead of time. Several have been sent brought and called in the past shut-in days. The grandson, Lloyd Jr., called and we had a delightful visit via phone. I met his new dog (by description) and also heard of school days, and other boy things. When it came time to say good-bye, he said:

"Grandmother, I love you so much, I really do love you .... Good-bye."

Happy Valentines Day to all of you dear readers. May this be the happiest one you have ever had. Make it so by doing for others. My thanks and best wishes for the happiness you have shared with me and for the kind words both spoken and written.

Four-Day Series Of Sermons Set By Underwood

A Wichita Falls minister who is active in the civic life of that North Texas city, Dr. Walter L. Underwood will conduct a four-day preaching mission in First United Methodist Church today through Wednesday.

Dr. W.A. Appling, pastor, announces the first service of the series at 7 p.m. today, evening services at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Wednesday and breakfast meetings at 6:30 a.m. on those days.

The public is invited to hear Dr. Underwood, who has traveled extensively in Europe, including the Iron Curtain countries, in Africa and the Holy Land in addition to attending two general conferences and a jurisdictional conference of the Methodist Church.

He has been campaign chairman and president of the Wichita Falls United Fund, served on the Human Relations Commission there, and also on boards of trustees of the Methodist Hospital in Dallas and the Methodist Mission Home in San

Walter L. Underwood D.D. ... in preaching mission

Antonio. Before going to the pastorate in Wichita Falls in 1967, he was pastor of a Denison church and district superintendent of Dallas Southwest District of the Methodist Church.

He was educated in the University of Virginia, Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University, and received his doctor of divinity degree from Texas Wesleyan College.

Each time I return home there seems to be something to bid me welcome. This time when I drove onto the driveway a beautiful Robin, perched high in the ornamental plum, chirped at me then came down and walked across the driveway. Seems he might have been writing welcome.

Afterwards he lighted on the top of the fence and watched me as I unloaded the car. Of course I wanted to let him know my appreciation, so I carefully crumbled some corn bread in the feeder and a good meal was enjoyed before he flew away.

Am going to miss many of the lovely things enjoyed while staying with the P.H. Gillilands. One of the things at the top of the list were the delicious, perfectly browned and cooked "boot-heels" (hot biscuits to most of us, but to the cowboys "boot-heels"). Every morning (my brother-in-law) and I feasted on delicious hot biscuits, home made sorghum, or tasty jelly, jam, or preserves.

Having spent many years on ranches, our morning conversations were always the highlight of the day. There was never a dull moment as his wealth of stories and true happenings of ranch days were most fascinating. His manner of telling them can not be surpassed. Since I mentioned "boot-heels" one of the famous sayings of the cowboy when the biscuits were ready was to yell out, "Come and get 'em before I throw them out!..Boot-heels ready!"

Learned how sorghum syrup was made, the test of goodness, all about butchering time, making of sausage, lard, "crackling bread," "souise" and many other goodies. Also, the fine steaks cut right from the half which usually was hung on the windmill to cure and freeze-nothing more delicious, and appealing to the hungry cowboy... and others too.

BEAUTY SPOT—One of the beauty spots in Hereford now is that of the grounds at Hi-Plains Savings and Loan. The crocus are in full bloom and since they were put out several years ago they have multiplied until there is much color and real beauty.

1972 ROSE SELECTIONS: I apologize for not having written about the 1972 Selections before now, but my days have been so full that I haven't had time to study and get material ready. Now that the "flu" bug has flown in my window and is keeping me company, I am taking out some time and reading back issues of magazines and other materials. Really when a person takes time out to read and study the new introductions, to look at the new catalogues and to catch up on reading materials, it really makes one have a great desire to do some spring planting.

Well, since it is not weather for plantings, we can scale our planting grounds, and decide on what materials-new and old-we will plant for the growing season. Since most of us are fond of roses, am sure that at least one or more of the new introduction will find a place in the rose gardens throughout our town.

In one of the papers I found this bit of history, relative to the rose, and since it interested me, am passing it on. Some of it is tradition, while other items are true to history.

It has been told that a weary crew of early sailors sighted and picked up a rose bush floating in the sea. Columbus noted the incident and entered it in his ship log Oct. 11, 1492, one day prior to his landing in the Bahamas. The rose was not always universally revered. Because of its lavish use in the excess of pagan Rome the rose was condemned by the church. By the middle ages, however, the flower became accepted as a part of Christian culture. Eventually white roses came to symbolize the purity of the Virgin Mary, and the red rose, the blood of Jesus.

The first known cultivation of the rose dates back almost 5,000 years to Shen Nung dynasty of China. Since then, and probably before, it has been inseparably a part of man's history and legends. It has been immortalized in poetry, music legends, love, stories; carved in stone; blown in glass; and painted in numerous noted places. Many worshiped it, also consumed it.... and time has changed it.

Much experimentation by man has brought the perfection of the rose and to make it more world known. Also, horticulturists have grown it so well and did so much for it that we have roses which do not have rust or mildew, and in which the fragrance has been made sweeter. They are grown larger and hardier, and colors have been increased until the tints, tones and colors of the artist's palette shows all the gradations and beauty.

This year's selection offers a varied choice.

Hybrid Teas head the list with five new ones. Topping the list is Masterpiece, having five-inch blossoms of classic shape, petals thick and quilled, and they are especially recommended because they are rust and mildew resistant.

Century Two is a deep pink in color, akin to Charlotte Armstrong. They have good substance and a vigorous plant with rich deep color foliage.

Jackson Perkins, has perfect Golden Gate, which is a charming yellow in deep tones. Lovely pointed buds, and full non-fading blossom with a depth of interest, and measures 4 1/2 inches.

Heirloom, which has a fascinating name, tends towards the old fashioned rose, both in formation and color. The color should appeal to many as it is red-purple, and very rich. Has high center blossoms, and there will be clusters of blooms, as well as singles, which make it ideal for arranging. Foliage abundant, rich dark green.

Gene Boerner, who has given us some of the recent introductions the past few years, offers Faberge. It is a charming pink, a free bloomer, produces tapering buds and has long thornless stems.

Two Floribundas are on the new list.

Aperitif is also by Gene Boerner. Has pointed dark rose colored buds, but opens into a delicate, appealing, two-inch yellow blossoms. Is fairly disease resistant, having good substance.

Jazz Fest, (an interesting name) another floribunda, is one which will have bright cherry blossoms changing to rose as they age, but bloom is abundant, both single and in clusters. Recommended for landscaping hedges.

Moon Magic, is a bright salmon floribunda with light and dark effect created by the bi-color blossoms. Parents are Golden Scepter and Little Darling, which give it a good start for rosarians.

Two miniatures are included on the list. They are over the Rainbow-a 12 inch bush, with slow-opening flowers which is a bi-color in yellow and red and resistant to heat.

Parenthood costing more

The general figures on the cost of rearing children in the United States, released recently by a presidential commission, raises the question: "What does it cost in Deaf Smith County?"

How much does the average local family spend in raising a child from birth to age 18?

The report, based upon a study made by the Commission on Population and the American Future, estimates what it would cost the typical family. It notes that the cost varies widely from area to area and from family to family. The chief controlling factor, in most cases, is income. In Deaf Smith County, as well as in every other part of the country, it takes considerably more than it did in earlier years to provide children with their basic needs.

For example, according to the Health Insurance Institute, the current cost of food alone for a youngster, from birth to age 18, averages $8,500. It breaks down to $8,700 for boys and $8,100 for girls.

That is more money than was necessary 25 years ago for their food, clothing, education and medical care combined.

Today, based on the government report and on other findings, the amount spent in raising a child to age 18 ranges from 2.9 to 3.6 times the net earnings of a family in one year.

In Deaf Smith County, where the average net income is between $9,000 and $10,000 per household, the outlay comes to an estimated $32,300 per child. Local families whose incomes are larger than this spend more and others, less.

The figures show that the first year is usually the most expensive. A family may incur bills of over $3,000 in that year, including birth costs. After that, the heaviest demand comes in the teen years.

Also it is noted, children growing up on farms cost $3,400 less, on average, than those in urban areas.

On the basis of the local figures, the 370 or so boys and girls in Deaf Smith County who reach 18 annually represent a total outlay on the part of their parents of nearly $11,951,000 during the growing up period.

Our Story: BAD NEWS TRAVELS FAST AND SOON THE GREAT WALLS OF DONDARIS ARE THROGGED WITH ANXIOUS CITIZENS GAZING OUT ACROSS THE FIELDS WHERE THEIR BATTERED OUTPOST ARMY IS STRAGGLING HOMEWARD.

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THE HISTORY OF DONDARIS, DEFEATED SOLDIERS ENTER THE GREAT BRONZE GATES WHEREON ARE CARVED SYMBOLS OF FORMER VICTORIES.

KING GIAN ORDERS THE SURVIVORS TO REPORT TO HIM, AND THEIR STORY IS FRIGHTENING.
 "OUR BRIGADE KEPT ORDER AND COLLECTED THE TRIBUTE IN CONQUERED POLDIS. THE PEOPLE SPREAD A GREAT BANQUET FOR US TO COMMEMORATE THE YEARS OF PEACE WE MAINTAINED. MUCH WINE WAS SERVED, THEN THEY SUDDENLY DREW SWORDS AND FELL UPON US!"

THEN THE KING SENDS MESSENGERS TO THE TWO REGIMENTS THAT OCCUPY DORAIN AND FAR HAPLION TO WARN THEM THAT REVOLT IS RAMPANT AND TO BE PREPARED.

THE KING IGNORES HIS INCOMPETENT GENERALS AND SETS THE ARMORERS TO WORK SALVAGING THE WAR WEAPONS THAT HAVE LAIN RUSTING FOR A DECADE. NIGHT AND DAY THE FORGES ROAR.

THERE IS PANIC AMONG THE NOBLES. THEY KNOW THE WEAKNESS OF DONDARIS AND ARE READY TO MAKE A DEAL WITH AN ENEMY FOR THEIR OWN SAFETY. AND THEIR KING IS NOT THE PUPPET THEY HAD SUPPOSED.

HOPE COMES TO AN ENSLAVED PEOPLE WHEN THERE ARISES A GREAT LEADER TO WELD TOGETHER THE LANDS OF POLDIS, DORAIN AND FAR HAPLION. THEN THEY TURN FIERCE EYES TOWARD DONDARIS AND REMEMBER ANCIENT WAR SONGS.

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
Someone recently asked me, "Do you like to dust?" It didn't take me long to answer that one! And you guessed it, the answer was, "No, a thousand times NO!"

Well, evidently this was the right answer because this very dear friend of mine handed me the handiest little duster you have ever laid eyes on. She makes these for all her friends who hate to dust. (Needless to say, she is kept awfully busy.)

She takes the left-hand cotton glove (uses right-hand glove for left-handed friends) and covers the back of it with little wool yarn pompons.

The left-hand glove is then each finger and these run all the way to the cuff of the glove.

These pompons are very easy to make. Just take a piece of cardboard about two inches wide and wrap it with the yarn. Then cut and tie in the center and attach each of these to the glove with yarn underneath or on the inside of the glove.

This finished product is just marvelous for dusting hard-to-reach places and such things as legs of chairs, etc.

Just spray on some dust magnet and your dusting ceases to be a chore. When your dust mitt gets dirty, just throw it in the washer...

April

worn on the right hand when dusting and the pompons are in the palm when worn in this manner. There are single rows of yarn pompons down

Aren't they heavenly? I too have a very special friend who made me a dust mitt. And do I LOVE it! It just can't be beat. Even my daughter has been known to dust on her own without any coaxing from me. She thinks it's super. Now I ask you, could you have a better testimonial?

TRIP 'N' TRUNK

DEAR HELOISE:
My sister and her family went on a trip recently and were wondering how they could protect their luggage while it was on the luggage rack on top of their car.

I suggested that they put their bags in the large plastic trash-can bags and they would be protected from the elements.

LETTER OF THOUGHT

DEAR HELOISE:
Recently, I read the letter from a reader who came up with the idea of using a dishpan for bread mixing.

Just to show that there is nothing new under the sun, I have in stock two such bread pans for mixing that are genuine antiques and were used by our grandmothers. They even have covers that fit!

We also have bread pails with dough-hooks that have the recipe molded right into the lid.

Those homemakers of the past were very efficient, believe me.

NO CRACKS

DEAR HELOISE:
I made a cute wall decoration. I used two white plastic doilies, cut the round center out of one and then sandwiched a saucer with a beautiful floral design between the two doilies. The cut-out doily frames the design on the saucer.

Then I laced the two doilies together with ribbon and I had a very pretty frame for my saucer picture.

EGGS-ACTLY RIGHT

DEAR HELOISE:
I have found so many uses for those pretty pastel plastic egg cartons that we get these days.

In our home we cut the egg-cup sections apart and use them for nut cups at parties. My teenagers also use them to make 3-D flowers for their bulletin board.

Mrs. D. G.

STOP LOAFING!

DEAR HELOISE:
If you keep loaf pans on hand for the occasional loaf of nut bread or fruit cake, but really don't use them a lot, you might like my suggestion.

I find that they make excellent drawer dividers for my

STAMP IT OUT!

DEAR HELOISE:
I keep stamped postcards in my pocketbook. This way, I can send off immediately for free offers I see in magazines, papers, etc.

No more moans of "where did I see that offer?"

IT'S A STICKUP

DEAR HELOISE:
Pressure can be put (or glued) on curved or irregular surfaces with sandbags, but an old air mattress, inner tube or float can be wedged in and will inflate to conform to the shape of the space it is in.

Many times it can be a real lifesaver in a large glue job.

THE GAME ROOM

DEAR HELOISE:
Here is a suggestion for the older men who read this column:

For those who like to play checkers and have a difficult time seeing black on black, a small square of tape stuck on the checkers will solve this.

A Handful

DROP FIVE toothpicks so they fall at random on a flat surface. Now, try picking them up one at a time in the following manner (and order):

- The first toothpick between your two little fingers.
- The second between your two third fingers.
- The third between your two second fingers.
- The fourth between your index fingers.
- And the last between your two thumbs.

If present, challenge them to a race.

- OLD LATIN LEGEND? The following appears to be in old Latin, perhaps a legend: AMANS TAM ERAT HI DESINT HERO AD DIGITO UT MANDO. Actually, however, it's a put-on involving word spacing and punctuation. What does it really say?
- Make change? Offhand, would you say there are five, seven, ten, more than ten, different ways of giving a quarter as change? (Using U.S. coins in use.)
- Challenge: Find a rhyme for chrysanthemum. Can you meet this challenge?

HIT OR MISS? Only one path scores a strike in the bowling match above. Which one? Start at arrow; goal is X, top right.
