Earl Holt And Joe Reinauer Receive Top Farmer Awards

Presentation of the 1961 awards for the Outstanding Farmer and the Outstanding Conservation Farmer of Deaf Smith County were made during a special program at the Hereford Lions Club meeting held Wednesday.

Receiving the award as the outstanding farmer was Earl Holt, first member of the club to receive the award, with Joe Reinauer receiving the outstanding conservation farmer award.

The outstanding farmer award is sponsored by the Lions Club and is presented annually to a Deaf Smith County farmer. Selection and screening of the candidates are made by the agricultural committee of the club.

Co-sponsoring the conservation award is the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District, and selection is based on the practices used in the conservation of soil and water.

Requirements for the outstanding farmer award are soil and water conservation, community spirit, lives on a farm, keeps livestock, controls noxious weeds, and maintains premises.

In making the presentation, Jack Kassahn, a member of the agricultural committee, commented that the award was being made to an outstanding farmer, an outstanding man and an outstanding family.

Holt was raised on a farm near Cloud Chief, Okla. In high school and college, he was both an outstanding athletic and student.

He was graduated from Southwestern Teachers College at Weatherford, Okla., with a bachelor of science degree in biology with majors in history and industrial arts.

After graduation, he became a school teacher. In the Oklahoma school system, he has served as a principal, coach and school superintendent as well as a teacher.

Holt bought his first farm in 1936, but continued his teaching duties. In 1951 he sold a part of the farm for an implement business. He traded that for the Deaf Smith County farm he now operates.

On the irrigated land, Holt grows at least ten crops. These include alfalfa, carrots, lettuce, grain sorghum, sugar beets, wheat and potatoes.

County Board Talks With Text Committee

In an unprecedented action, the Deaf Smith County School Board requested a meeting with members of the Hereford Rural High School textbook committee.

County board president Leo Forrest emphasized that the county board was merely seeking information and had no intention of imposing any restraints upon the committee.

After a short period of discussion, the county board said that it was completely satisfied with the books chosen and endorsed the action of the committee.

Forrest traced the action which leads to the selection of textbooks in public schools for Texas. He said that the Texas Education Agency appointed a 15-member textbook committee, made up of teachers and administrators.

The committee eventually recommends not less than three nor more than five books for each subject. Each school district's committee then selects the book it favors for each subject.

This is done on a rotation basis, with books for different

But that was all, as Borger started playing air-tight ball.

In the fifth, the Bulldogs tackled on two more for good measure. Simpson got on by error and took second on a passed ball. Johnny Wilson doubled in the runner and then scored on Jarrett's single.

Joe Robinson, a lanky sophomore, went all the way for Borger and allowed just five runs on six hits. He struck out 12, walked five and made one wild pitch.

Haney started for Hereford and lasted one and one-third innings. He was tagged for eight runs on three hits, struck out two and walked two. Casas came on in relief for four and two-thirds innings. Holt...

(Continued from page 1) selecting Holt for the award were Aubrey Cook, chairman, Jim K. Wiman and Kassahn. Reinauer, who was selected in December for the conservation award, has long been interested in the application of soil conservation practices on the 16-240-acre ranch he and his brother operate in the southwest part of Deaf Smith County.

They first became cooperators with the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District in 1944. Their ranch consists of over 13,000 acres of rangeland and 2,700 acres of dry cropland.

Through the years, he cooperated with SCS technicians in developing a sound conservation program. However, due to changes in agriculture and drought, he was prevented from applying the plan as quickly as he wanted.

In March, 1960, he developed a Great Plains Conservation Program Contract to speed up the application of his conservation program.

His main concern was over the improving of pasturelands and erosion prevention on croplands.

He had seen during the 1950's the overuse of wind and water erosion on cultivated lands. Through the application of sound practices, Reinauer has been able to improve his entire ranch.

With the accelerated program in operation, he has developed better water storage facilities and cross-fenced pastures to prevent overuse. On the cropland, Reinauer began a sound cropping system and stubble mulching to aid in protecting the land from erosion.

He has built diversions to break up water concentrations and constructed standard terraces to prevent washing and hold rainfall on the land.

In presenting the award, Don Newman, of the SCS, praised Reinauer as being "a man who has done much to conserve soil and water for the use of future generations."

Presentation of the award to Reinauer was made by Luther Leslye, a director of the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District.

Participating merchants will pay a small promotional fee, which will be used to pay the cost of newspaper and radio advertising for the event. They also will provide management and cashiers for the three-hour period.

Through the coordination of Kenneth Hart, the junior and senior classes will be assigned to certain stores to handle all sales.

Those attending the meeting heartily approved the plan and felt that it would be a big help to the classes and would also provide a better understanding of business by the students and improve relations between the school, the business people and the community.

MOTHER KNOWS BEST
FALLS CITY, Neb. — A calf found in a Hiawatha, Kan., sale barn was identified as one stolen from the Dick Majerus farm near Rulo, Neb.

But Majerus wasn't sure, so Sheriff Irvin R. Gates decided to leave it up to the calf's mother.

The month-old calf was turned loose in a pasture on the Majerus farm and ran up to the first cow he saw. It butted him away. But another cow welcomed the calf, washed his face with her tongue and gave him supper.

That convinced Majerus and three witnesses the sheriff brought along for the test.

MAYOR GETS THRONE
TEMPE, Ariz. — Don't blame Tempe City Council candidates if they suddenly decide to run for mayor.

The city purchased new chairs for the councilmen and mayor. The six councilmen received regular swivel chairs. For the mayor, there was a high-back chair with left and right turn features. The mayor's chair also rocks.

Wash and wear fabrics are divided into three groups. These are (1) resin-treated cottons, (2) 100 per cent man-made fibers, and (3) blends of the two. Each group has its own recipe and must be used if satisfactory results are to be achieved.

"If it's washable, you can wash it in the washer. That includes filmy lingerie and hosiery. Since nylon is a scavenger so far as dyes are concerned, white nylons should be laundered separately. To restore whiteness to yellowed nylons or blends, the following recipe is given. Thoroughly dampen garment with water, and pour a liberal amount of liquid or squeeze it through fabric to make sure it is evenly distributed. Let soak twenty minutes then launder as usual. Continuing, Mrs. Lewis stated, "There are about six basic laundry recipes. For such articles as white cottons and linens the water should be hot (at least 140 degrees), the agitation or spin should be on the regular set-a-time period of 10 minutes or an all-purpose type of detergent should be used. Use of bleach and rinse conditioners is optional. This recipe is used on plain untreated cotton work clothes made of such fabrics as denim or khaki.

"All these articles will stay soft and fluffy when dried in an automatic dryer on "regular fabric" settings. Knit articles, such as tee shirts, have a tendency to shrink when over dried, so should be removed from the dryer while still damp.

"Another recipe to remember is for colored cottons and linens that might fade in hot water. This recipe calls for warm water and the all purpose detergent and the ten minute time set. Use this recipe for colored towels, linens, clothes, slip covers, socks, etc. These articles dried at regular fabric setting stay bright. Most will sun fade when hung outside to dry. Foam pillows, bath mats or shag rugs with rubber backing, also washable shoes may be washed with this recipe, but all must be air dried.

"Laundry Aids" Was Topic Of Cultural HD Club Meet

The Cultural Home Demonstration Club met at 2:30 p.m. on Mar. 9 in the home of Mrs. C. E. Johnson for the regular meeting.

Mrs. J. G. Gandy, president, called the meeting to order. The opening exercise, a poem called "He's Growing Up" was read by Mrs. Grady Parsons. "A laundry problem I have" was the answer given to roll call by 11 members and one guest.

Mrs. Art Lewis presented the program on "Laundry Aids." With today's finishes, fabrics, and modern equipment, grandma's washday methods won't work. Her laundering and cooking methods were hit-and-miss with a dab of this-and-that. Washing clothes can be compared to baking a cake. The correct recipe for both gets perfect results every time," stated Mrs. Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Clark of Andrews were weekend guests here. They attended church services at the Central Church of Christ and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Martin. They also visited in the Chester Wiggins home at Summerfield.

Mrs. Bill Moore and son David of Dalhart were guests last week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Plank.

Dick Plank flew to Dallas last weekend to attend the State 4-H Executive Council meeting. Plans were made for the state 4-H Club Roundup at College Station in June. Also discussed were plans for the state Council meeting, which will be held the latter part of June.

World Day of Prayer was held Friday, March 9, at the Wesley Methodist Church, beginning at 3 p.m. under the auspices of the United Council of Church Women. A large crowd attended.

Council officers include Mrs. Ronald Babione, president; Mrs. James Arney, first vice president; Mrs. L. W. Tooley, second vice president; and Mrs. O. H. Culpepper, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Ed Wilson Jr. and Cindy and Patsy Stoy went to Questa, N. M., last Friday to spend the weekend with Ed Wilson, who is looking after potato planting there. They had planned to join the Hereford skiing group at Red River on Saturday but the heavy snowfall made the roads hazardous so the girls just entertained themselves on the snowy hills around Questa on Sunday.

Mrs. and Mrs. Gid Brown spent the weekend skiing at Red River. They, with many others from the area, took advantage of the snow in New Mexico and the school holiday to try out the ski courses. A youth group from the Presbyterian Church joined the group from the Methodist Church at Red River. There were reports of several sprained knees, ankles, blisters, and bruises but none serious. Besides skiing most of the group enjoyed the visit to Taos on Friday where they visited the museum, the oldest church in the United States, the Indian pueblos and other points of interest.

Sandra Moore and Jenny Thomas of McMurry College, Abilene, accompanied Sandra's aunt, Mary Byrd Christopher, to Hereford last Friday night where they were guests of Sandra's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Moore, Cy and Mandy. This weekend the Moore's are visiting Sandra in Abilene. They went to Stamford on Friday where they visited Mrs. Moore's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. F. R. Pickens. They will attend Sunday School with Sandra Sunday morning. She teaches a class of young adults at the State Hospital.

Mrs. Dick Gholson was called to Los Angeles, Calif., this week by the serious illness of her brother.

OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK
One of the most delightful fiction releases in recent months is Naked In Piccadilly by E. Salazar Chapela. This is the author's first book to be translated into English, although he has an excellent reputation in Spain and South America.

And one of the best parts comes at the end and you realize that you have been reading a translation. A really remarkable job was done by Patricia Crampton, who did the translating.

Charles Pim was a gross, unattractive man during his first life in London. He was henpecked by his wife Diana, bullied by her relatives. He was ignored and cheated by his father-in-law, for whom he worked. He did his job as a realtor and manager of rental property, but got credit from no one.

That all changed when Pim left his wife and went to war. With the flash of a bomb, Charles Pim was dead.

But life wasn't dead. Charles emerged from a long hospital stay as a handsome, strong, clever man. With the aid of handsomely forged documents he becomes George Tillbury, an Australian who met Pim during the war and become beneficiary of his estate.

Tillbury thus salvages what he needs most from his former life: the fortune without the failings; the woman without the responsibilities; in short, he has now a good eye for business, women and stargazing.

The reader joins Tillbury at each crucial turn in his new life. Will his attorney know him or his ex-wife, or his business associates, his former father-in-law, or even one of his old customers?

Life is a constant challenge for George Tillbury, but he loves every minute of it... particularly when he can be with a little French girl he met upon arriving in London. He is delighted when Diana starts an affair with the handsome man who has come to work for her father.

This is a "Walter Mitty" sort of book, and excellently done. Any reader will find that he is closely associated with one of the characters in the book. And almost everyone will speculate idly about returning to familiar places with a new face.

Although Naked In Piccadilly is E. Salazar Chapela's first book to appear in English, we hope it will not be his last.

AT THE TOLL HOUSE

EATONTOWN, N. J. (AP) - Life can be lively for the highway toll collector. A tally man on the Garden State Parkway was offered his prescribed quarter by a monkey perched behind the driver's seat. Another time a motorist tried bribing his way through the toll gate with one of the deer he was carrying home from Canada. Then there was the toll paid from on high. A Navy blimp dropped startled collectors a white handkerchief. Inside was a quarter with the message: "The Navy always pays its way."

Dry-snow avalanches are faster than wet-snow snowslides. The dry-snow varieties create a vacuum in their wake.

One thing I cannot understand is the lack of an amateur theatrical group in Hereford, and I have a couple of reasons. In the first place, it isn't much like this community to sit idle while a new fad sweeps the country; second, we have a heck of lot of fine talent. Based on royalty payments and actual registrations, the amateur play acting business has more than doubled in recent years. These groups number around 25,000 in the United States, not including school productions and the like. The new outdoor theatre in Canyon will, no doubt, attract wide regional interest along with anticipated tourist boom for the area.

Mrs. J. A. Pitman took off Saturday for Toyko and points east with a group of Amarillo friends, including Mrs. Don Taylor, the former Eloyse Pitman. All in all, it sounds like quite a trip.

Warm, spring days this week also put several local fishermen in a mood for travel. Bill Roberts was telling about his father, who lives in Plainview, and who returned recently from Lake Falcon, down on the border. Mr. Roberts made seven casts, and took seven bass; the smallest was 1 1/2 pounds and the largest was 4 1/2 pounds, all of which impressed Worth Covington very much. Mr. and Mrs. Neil Cooper probably heard the same story, because they were packing things in preparation for a hurried trip to Falcon. Even Pat Wederbrook was talking about fishing, and I doubt if he caught a fish in his life.

Harry Caylor says to keep your eyes on the 18-year-old Wleck youngster from Umbarger, who went to the Red Sox for $35,000. Wleck banged out a homerun Wednesday, and Harry figures he has a good future in the major leagues.

Earl Evans called to announce that they will have an Elks Club organization meeting 7:30 Monday evening at 345 East First Street. Work started on this project a few months back, and Evans says there has been much interest. All interested persons are urged to attend the planning session.

Friends of R. C. McGilvary were glad to welcome "Mac" back to his favorite loafing haunts this week, following discharge from the hospital, where he underwent surgery. Mac doesn't claim to be as good as new, but says he is feeling much better. Grant Fuller was telling me that what you do is maybe not so important as whether you get caught or not, and I guess he is right. Very few people could go over a court docket and not find at least one crime which they had committed and gone unpunished. This would especially include running stop signs, speeding, loitering, and the like.

I hear many people talking about the upcoming vote on horse racing and pari-mutual betting in Texas. "Texas, of all places," some contend, "should be a racing state." This is good and fine for some people, but I was in Dallas when they had legalized betting on races in Texas — and I remember how it bled a lot of people, always those who could least afford the loss. Shine boys, manicurists, waitresses, bus boys and hundreds of others literally stayed "in hock" all of the time. It got so bad that even the merchants were complaining because folks had nothing left to spend for food, clothing and necessities; business was really taking it on the chin, and the merchants were screaming to high heaven. The chief reason it was voted out was due to economic conditions, rather than morals or ethics.

The way things stand, it isn't far to Raton or Ruidoso especially for those who can afford to "drop a few bucks" — and I think our part of the country would stand to lose much, especially during the vegetable season.

I notice by the Thursday Brand where Hereford is beginning to integrate Negro students on the grade school levels, having previously integrated the junior high and high school divisions. The grade school integration was delayed at specific request of Negro parents and leaders, who felt it would be too rough on the Colored students. At that time the trustees felt that it would be expensive to maintain a separate Negro school, but they pretty well agreed with the Negro delegates and pursued the course as outlined by the group. What's more, it has worked out much better than in many other places, where total integration created wide dissatisfaction — such as Little Rock, for instance, along with Dallas and scores of other Texas cities and towns.

Husband: "I wasn't yawning, dear; I was trying to say something."

Sign on drug store fountain: "Teen-age spoken here."

Patient: "Some of the consulting physicians do not agree with your diagnosis of my case."

Doctor: "I know they don't, but the autopsy will prove I'm right."

4-H Boys Club Tours Amarillo Milk Plant

Friday, Mar. 9, members of the Dawn Boys 4-H Club made a tour of the Borden's milk processing plant in Amarillo. They learned the close relationship between the farmer and the business, in this case, a milk plant.

The plant manager showed the group through the plant and explained the function of each process and machine. He explained how the milk was bought at the farm and hauled to the plant in bulk tanks and how it was tested to meet strict requirements before being unloaded.

If one farmer's milk does not meet the requirements, the whole truck load will be rejected. This affects the whole plant in that they employ the same number of men but put out less milk per working hour. Making the trip were Gary and Ted Richardson, Stephen Hoffman, Glen Poland, Robert Galley, Jack Thomas, Dick Plank, Kevin and Steve McAndrews, Tommy Betzen, Jon David and Dion Miller, Paul English, Mrs. Earl Plank, Mrs. H. H. Miller, Mrs. Lester English, Mrs. J. W. Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hoffman.

COLD DAY IN ARIZONA
PHOENIX, Ariz. — Air Force Capt. David L. Elliott once said it would be a mighty cold day in Arizona when he got married — and he stuck to his word.

Jan. 20 it snowed in Phoenix for the first time most residents could remember. That day Elliott and Betty Alice Erickson were married.

SCD Lists Measures For Increasing Pheasant Count

Area hunters, farmers and ranchers as well as many residents are excited about the continued growth of the pheasant population in the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District.

Much can be done by district farmers and ranchers, said Fred Chaney, range conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, to increase the population of the game bird to the point that a hunting season of reasonable length will become a reality.

Last fall in Deaf Smith County pheasants were hunted for the first time. However, the season was limited to four days during two weekends.

Food, cover and water distributed within the area that a pheasant will travel during a day are the essentials to increasing the bird population, Chaney pointed out.

It is known that the birds will travel between a half-mile to one mile, he added.

Food is relatively abundant in the district, he continued, and water can be obtained from irrigation ditches, dew and food with a high moisture content.

Among the foods Chaney listed are "succulent leaves, sprouts and insects."

The only other requirement for continued growth of the pheasant population — adequate year 'round cover — is limited in this county, Chaney said.

The pheasant, in order to exist in an area, must have cover, he commented. This must provide concealment for the nest and young, shade from the hot sun, and shelter from cold, wind, sleet and snow.

The cover provided must also provide escape routes and protection from predators such as coyote and badger, he added. "If located close to food, most of our cover is adequate during the late spring, summer and fall," he said. "The critical seasons are winter and early spring."

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Joe Sanders, a member of the Arizona Indian Association, testified at a U. S. Civil Rights Commission hearing —

"Speaking from an Indian point of view," he said, "I hope you don't louse up your immigration policies as badly as we did."

Chaney suggested the planting of such locally adapted plants as Russian olive, multi-flora rose, Western Sand Cherry, Quailbush, wild plum, Nanking Cherry or Russian

mulberry close to the sources of food. He also pointed out that red cedars, Arizona cypress and Austrian pine can be used for wildlife plantings as well as windbreaks. Most of the plants, he added, can now be obtained "balled and burlapped." This conditioning contributes greatly to the success of establishing these plants.

In locating areas for planting cover, Chaney suggested places which received additional moisture such as depressions or sites that can be irrigated. Additional information regarding the planting of cover and food for pheasant and other wildlife can be obtained by contacting the Soil Conservation Service, he added.

Guest Night Hosted By La Plata Members

La Plata Study Club members and guests gathered at the Hereford Community Center on Tuesday, Mar. 6, for the guest night program.

Mrs. Elmer Patterson was the program chairman for the evening, presenting James Hinkley's speech class in a play called, "Sorry, Wrong Number". The play was communicated to the audience in two ways, through acting and the use of pantomime.

Kathy Boston played the part of a highly neurotic woman who anticipated her own violent death. The cast supported Miss Boston as her intense anxiety terminated in the climaxing scene of the play when Miss Boston's worst fear was realized — a scream told the audience that Miss Boston's murder was accomplished.

High school students in the cast were Kathy Boston, Glenda Furhmann, Charles Mims, Roger Albracht, Gillian McArthur, Jim Dzuik, Carolyn Watkins, Janice Higgins and David Kendall.

The Business Women's Group of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church met for the regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Glen Nelson on Tuesday evening Mar. 13, at 7:30 p.m.

Opening prayer was led by Mrs. C. Ora Cockrell, president. Mrs. Cockrell presided at the business meeting, with Mrs. Thelma Jersig, secretary, reading minutes of previous meetings. Mrs. Ray Cowser gave a report on the general council of CWF; an unusual program given by Mrs. Bill Dameron called "Diet Fed to The Body and Diet Fed to The Mind," flower contract, nominating committee reports, and blankets sent to Church World Service.

"Behind Was Private Solitude" by Wallace Fridy was the devotional presented by Mrs. Cockrell, stressing the intercommunications between friends as one of the most necessary relationships in our lives in furthering Christ's society.

The program was given by Mrs. Cap Oldham, which was the first four chapters of the book God Our Contemporary by J. B. Phillips, the scheduled book of study for the year. The book is a study of relationships between Christians and non-Christians, pointing out the view of the agnostic toward Christianity.

Mrs. McDowell Reviews John Steinbeck Novel

Mrs. Marie Cline and Mrs. Marie Sears served as hostesses to the members of the Hereford Business and Professional Women's Club on Monday evening, Mar. 5, at 7:30 p.m. at the regular meeting held in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank.

Mrs. Mary Helen Askew had charge of the program, introducing Mrs. Ansel McDowell who reviewed the book, Winter Of Our Discontent, by John Steinbeck. She stated that the novel was as powerful in its very different way as anything the author had ever done. The author took the lives of one family and their friends, took their society apart, showed its frightening shame and shortcomings, and measured it against true human decency.

"Ethan Allen Hawley, an heir to the upright New England tradition, is the focus of the story, which takes place between Good Friday and just before the Fourth of July, 1960. Ethan, whose forebearers had numbered sea captains and men of property, is working in a grocery store. His wife is restless; his teen-age children, along with all the other problems of their age-group, are impatient for more of the worldly goods they see about them.

"Ethan is aware of the shady tricks, the cheating and underhandedness, that seems to permeate life today in matters of money and success. He knows, too, that the way to wealth of many of the town's respected ancestors would not bear close scrutiny. Why not have some of it for his loved ones?"

"He decides to take a holiday from his own scrupulous standards; to trade temporarily as he thinks, 'a habit of conduct' for a 'cushion of security.' He never assumes a mask of righteousness for what he is doing, but he knows what he wants and goes after it with great ingenuity.

Verna Joy Pickens Weds Joe Rex Smith March 8

Miss Verna Joy Pickens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Pickens of the Ford Community near Hereford, and Joe Rex Smith of Vega, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith of Guthrie, Tex., exchanged wedding vows on Thursday evening, Mar. 8, at 7 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents.

The Rev. J. P. Cole, uncle of the bride and a retired Methodist minister of Stamford, Tex., read the double ring ceremony before an improvised altar made of a centerpiece of white carnations, larkspur and ivy plants. The home was decorated throughout with flower arrangements of white and orchid, the bride's chosen colors.

Mrs. B. W. Carthel of Black, pianist, played "I Love You Truly," "Indian Love Call" and other traditional wedding selections.

Miss Geneva Spinherne served the bride as maid of honor. She wore a dress of orchid chiffon over taffeta, fashioned with puff sleeves, scoop neckline and wide cummerbund.

Richard Burchfield of Vega served the groom as best man. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length formal wedding gown, fashioned with fitted bodice of hand clipped, chantilly lace and a full skirt of nylon tulle over taffeta. Panels of re-embroidered chantilly lace, trimmed with seed pearls, cascaded down the skirt to the hemline. The softly scalloped neckline was outlined with seed pearls accented by long lace sleeves tapering to petal points over the hands. She wore a fingertip veil of white silk illusion falling from a tiara of seed pearls and sequins.

The bride's mother, Mrs. I. H. Pickens, wore a dress of blue lace over taffeta, complemented with gold accessories. The groom's parents were unable to attend.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Refreshments were served from the bride's table that was laid with a hand crocheted cloth and a centerpiece of white and orchid larkspur and carnations. Thirty Entries Win Superior In Junior Music Festival

The Junior Music Festival of the National Federation of Music Clubs of District One, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, was held in the First Baptist Church of Hereford on Friday, March 9.

20th Century Influence In Music Is Program For Dawn Music Club

The Dawn Music Club met Tuesday afternoon, Mar. 13, in the home of Mrs. Jim McCabe. Mrs. Clarence Betzen was assistant hostess.

Mrs. W. H. Gentry was the leader of a program on "Twentieth Century Influence In Music" from the book How Music Grew by Bauer and Peyer. Mrs. Gentry stated that "The greatest influences came from the compositions of Debussy in France and Scriabin in Russia. Debussy seemingly broke all the rules of tradition in composing, he gave something new in their place, not in the spirit of experiment but of sincere conviction. His music is vague and dreamy and his use of the whole-tone scale and the pastel shades of music were so much a part of him that to employ them today shows a lack of originality."

"Scriabin of Russia broke away from fixed scales and tonality, and opened new musical roads. He built new chords in intervals of fourths. It is thought by some that the Sonatas of Scriabin are destined in the future to occupy a niche of their own, together with the Preludes of Bach, the Sonatas works of Chopin."

Musical selections on the program included the singing of the Hymn of the Month, "Make Me A Captive" by Martin. Mrs. Ray Polan gave the story of the hymn, the author and composer. "The Christ of the Cross," Huston, was sung by (Continued on page 2)

Dr. Edwards Is Speaker For La Madre Mia Guests

Dr. Lena Edwards missionary to the Latin-American migrants, spoke to members of La Madre Mia Study Club and their guests Thursday evening, Mar. 8, in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank.

Dr. Edwards shared with the club the reason why she chose

Hereford. She then outlined the basic situation as it exists now at the Labor Camp, and what measures have been tried to help the people. She reminded the club that home economics classes failed because they were impractical for two reasons: (1) No need to learn how to wax floors when the only floor is dirt or rotten boards; (2) no need to polish furniture when they have no furniture. Dr. Edwards conceded that children from San Jose Mission School are not as well educated as those in public schools, but added that there are several factors causing this situation, and does not imply slowness or dullness of mind of these children. She emphasized the significance of the ultimatum issued by former Judge D. D. Zimmerman in forcing the migrant children to go to school.

The missionary concluded her talk by outlining three projects that she wants to see completed at the camp: a maternity hospital, credit union, an industrial co-op, preferably a children's clothing factory. She urged club members to write State congressmen to effect legislation stopping the bracero laborers, contending this imported labor hurts more than it economizes.

Joint Sorority Meeting Held By Beta Sigma Phi

Texas Kappa Iota Chapter of Hereford's Beta Sigma Phi met Mar. 6 in the Club Room of the Hereford Community Center.

Plans were completed for the Preferential Dinner to be held Mar. 17 in the Community Room of the First National Bank, honoring the husbands of the members and the new rushes and their husbands. Committees were appointed to work on the details for the Spring Style Show on April 6, to be sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi sorority, the Exemplar Chapter Xi Epsilon and Ritual of Jewels Chapter Kappa Iota.

Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth, program chairman, showed the film, "Tenderfoot In Europe," to a joint meeting of both chapters.

Mosaic Art Is Discussed At Veleda Study Club Meet

The Veleda Study Club members met Tuesday evening at 8 p.m., Mar. 13, in the home of Mrs. Charles Hoover.

The program on "Mosaics" was given by Mrs. Jess Robinson. She said "Mosaic" is a new hobby from an ancient art. It first came to life over 5,000 years ago. It was first found in Egypt, then in Greece and Rome. It was in the Roman Empire that mosaic became such a work of art. Romans made most of their mosaics from little pieces of colored marble. During the Byzantine Empire, chipped glass was used to make mosaics so they would catch the light, making them particularly beautiful.

"The art form was forgotten and it was not until after World War II that it was revived," she said. "Anyone with a sure hand and a sense of color can make mosaics. The chief principles of mosaics are lines—complete element that holds the design together; shape—constructive element; texture—rough, smooth, dull or shiny, making up the texture; and the color."

"There are many ways to introduce mosaics into the home. You can use them to accent or blend with the color scheme; using them as room dividers, for tabletops, ash trays, plaques etc. It is better to have indirect lighting rather than direct lighting where they are displayed." Mrs. Robinson continued by saying, "Mosaics are one of the easiest things to care for as they are washable; stain-proof, and neither hot nor cold can injure them. Mosaics can be made from all kinds of materials: marble, glass, wood, shells, beads, pebbles, tile, and many others." Examples, shown by

Christian Mothers Hold Annual Lenten Meeting

The Confraternity of Christian Mothers, St. Anne's Society of Hereford, held its annual Lenten meeting on Sunday, Mar. 11, at which time the new officers were installed.

Father Angelus Delahunty, Spiritual Director, gave a short message to the group, reminding them of the important role the mother has in the world today. He then installed the new officers: Mrs. Andrew Kershen, president; Mrs. S. T. Loerwald, vice president; and Mrs. Leonard Walterscheid, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Frances Diller, outgoing president, thanked all the members for their cooperation during her tenure of office, especially her co-officer, Mrs. Walter Warren, vice president; and Mrs. A. C. Stengel, secretary and treasurer.

A Day of Recollection is being planned for the ladies of the parish for July 26, the feast day of the Patron Saint Anne. Refreshments were served to Father Angelus and approximately 45 members who were present. Mrs. S. T. Loerwald won the door prize, "A Mother Love" prayerbook.

FRIONA VISITORS
Mrs. Preach Collier and daughter of Friona were Hereford visitors on Thursday afternoon, Mar. 15.

Mrs. Robinson were done by several local women, showing many types of materials in making the items. Refreshments were served to Mesdames Don Baugous, Bill Brady, Gid Brown, Wendall Burdine, Hugh Clearman, Charles Hoover, Kenneth Malone, George McCaskill, Jess Robinson, Robert Strain, Don Johnson, John Seiver, H.A. Tuck Jr. and Dale Barkley.

Communism And Agriculture Are Two Things Which Will Not Mix

Recent announcement that Premier Castro will ration food in Cuba comes back as no shock to most farmers in this area. The time element was the only surprise, because the situation did arise much sooner than most people anticipated.

Communism and agriculture are two things which apparently will not successfully blend. Needless to say, the American system in Cuba was far from perfect, but the Cubans did at least have plenty of food, even boasting surpluses in several categories.

In the few short months communism has dominated our neighboring country thousands of people now go to bed hungry each night; in this respect, they have joined millions of other communists in Russia and Red China, Poland and other red nations and, worse still, there is no relief in sight. When Mr. Khrushchev visited the United States, we recall that he was not too interested in industry, manufacturing, mining, oil or atomic progress. Instead, he made a bee line for Iowa, and spent a huge portion of his time studying farm conditions and farm production.

Perhaps farming is so basic a profession that people can see more clearly what happens under communist economy. Hungry people with starving children, somehow, do not like to take the food they have grown and pass it out among comrades that they have never seen; they can see, on the other hand, that they are being robbed of the fruits from their labor and efforts.

Regardless of the reason, the situation does exist, and the fact that Cuba reached the average communist hunger can be attributed only to the system, despite Castro's buck-passing talk about embargos and American tyranny. It did happen sooner than most of us expected due, in great measure, to general mismanagement and inefficiency of Castro's regime and his staff of inexperienced officials. The condition, it seems to us, should be stressed and emphasized all over South America time after time; this alone should be sufficient to curb the spread of communism on this continent.

Yes, America does have problems. We have too much cotton. We have too much wheat. We have too much milk; too much milk, too many potatoes, too much beef. We even have too many wagons and too many cranberries. This is bad but, we ask you, is it bad enough for us to ever consider trading for a system which, instead, invariably produces too little?

Good News For Middle Aged

Hal Boyle, the Associated Press columnist, has commented that at last the country has what it has long needed—a good middle aged hero.

He was referring to astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., who fills the bill perfectly.

By orbiting the earth three times in his historic flight he did more than lift America's scientific prestige around the world—he made every middle-aged man in the nation stand half a head taller and feel like there was a place in the world for him after all.

We have felt the past few years that there was too much emphasis upon youth. Along comes John Glenn, who is 40, has some wrinkles, partially bald, yet in excellent physical shape.

If he had applied for a job, half the firms he visited would have automatically rejected him because of his age. Men over 40 are regarded as "too old."

But John Glenn at 40 is able to keep in condition by running two miles a day and performing all sorts of feats of strength, skill and endurance. His physical qualities, combined with the tempering judgement of maturity, was an ideal combination in a man confronted with a complex task of getting adjusted to space flight and returning to earth in his capsule.

People cling desperately to youth and have for many generations. Perhaps we should readjust our thinking—maybe life does begin at 40, after all!

Decline Seen In Area Crime

A marked decline in criminal arrests should come as good news to the citizens of Hereford.

This is especially true in view of the fact that the record is based on diligent law enforcement, and not on lax police officials, which is the case in many small cities.

Law enforcement officers are further inclined to attribute the improved condition in Hereford to the city's 90 percent conviction rate on violations, and this thinking has some merit, because it indicates that the people of the community are behind the city and county law enforcement groups.

Like most citizens, we feel that laws should be enforced without favor—or removed from the books and replaced with others which might be more applicable. The only way to achieve this situation is through diligent and untiring police work, supported by the people, which seems to have been the goal in our community.

BROOKFIELD, PA., JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRAT: "In some kind of an economy (2) drive the United States Post Office Department is clamping down in no uncertain terms on mailing technicalities that will affect practically every citizen in the country and cause them inconvenience and annoyance. But Mr. Khrushchev's Communist propaganda, by the millions of pounds is still accepted and distributed free throughout the United States . . . and Mr. Kennedy says we shouldn't stop it . . . doing so might be an obstacle to the distribution of U.S. mail in the Soviet Union! My, oh my!"

FARMING, N. J., HOWWELL BOOSTER: "The Communists tell the Russian people that America is the worst place in the world, that half of us are starving to death—in the very next breath they are bragging that in the next couple of years they will catch up with our standard of living."

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

The faith of an uneducated youth led St. Patrick from slavery to sainthood. Captured in a pirate raid on Britain at the age of 16, he was taken to Ireland. "Every day I had to tend sheep," he wrote, "and many times a day I prayed—the love of God and His fear came to me more and more, and my faith was strengthened."
Escaping to Gaul six years later, he dreamed of bringing the love of Christ to his captors. He studied for the priesthood, was consecrated Bishop, and returned to Ireland. There he converted the country to Christianity, improving the lot of slaves, uniting ethics with law, denouncing hatred and bloodshed, and giving "Him thanks who hath strengthened me in everything."

Phony 'Must Sell' Ads For Cookware Are Ruse

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce today exposed a vicious new racket—the use of official-looking "Public Notice" advertisements in classified columns to sell cookware sets.

Bill Thompson, Manager of the Chamber, said that The Public Notice headings are similar in style to legal notices and lic-notice advertising." The copy notes that several tons of brand new cookware with a "list price" of $199.50 must be sacrificed for $35, impliedly to satisfy creditors' claims.

"Actually," Thompson stated, "this is merely a ruse to hoodwink the public." In a typical example of "public-notice advertising," the copy notes that several tons of brand new cookware with a "list price" of $199.50 must be sacrificed for $35, impliedly to satisfy creditors' claims.

"Other versions recently investigated by the National Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated, include the sale of cookware from a hotel suite for a few days by hit-and-run salesmen who claim to be disposing of their goods at a sacrifice because their companies are no longer selling by means of home demonstrations," Thompson said.

Another fictional version requires the promoter to dupe a warehouse or freight carrier into publishing an ad offering cookware at an alleged bargain price because it is "unclaimed freight."

Still other reasons for bogus disposal sales represent that the "Distributor is giving up franchise," or that goods offered were "not picked up by our agents," or that the merchandise would have to go at a "sacrifice in order to settle this estate," etc.

"Whatever the reason," Thompson pointed out, "misuse of the 'distress' appeal in merchandising is a scheme to flim-flam the public and betrayal of public confidence in advertising."

The National Better Business Bureau has alerted newspapers to be on guard against phony "must liquidate" advertisements and fictitious price claims in the sale of cookware sets and to require mail order or other promoters offering such copy to validate it with competent evidence.

LABOR DEPARTMENT SUES FARM ASSOCIATION

Two civil suits, one seeking a permanent injunction against alleged violations of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (wage-hour law) and other seeking to recover unpaid wages under the same law, have been filed in U. S. District Court in Lubbock against West Littlefield Cotton Growers Association. The suits were filed by Arthur J. Goldberg, secretary of labor. The suits, which do not involve Mexican Nationals, involve administrative employees of the association. The injunction suit seeks permanently to enjoin the association from alleged failure to pay minimum wages, failure to pay overtime after 40 hours and failure to keep adequate and accurate records of employees' hours of work and rates of pay. The other suit seeks to recover unpaid minimum wages and overtime payments allegedly due an employee.

CITY ATTACKS WATER PROBLEM

Beset by water problems, as much of engineering at the moment as of supply, the city this week began a vigorous campaign to afford an ample supply at least by mid-summer. Problems include engineering, finance and materials for one or two new wells, locations for which have been made and the best means of tying them into the city's water system. Councilman Henry Willis, who is the water man on the board of aldermen, said Wednesday he had begun working already on the various angles and hopes to have a report for the council to work on by the time of their meeting Tuesday night.

JAIL NEEDS CITED

The Civic Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce met last Friday with the Bailey County Commissioners and discussed with them the need of humane jail facilities as well as courthouse improvements for the county. The Commissioners agreed that action was definitely necessary and agreed to undertake a study of the situation and have an architect make an estimation of what the cost might be, after it is decided what action needs to be taken. The inadequacies of the jail and courthouse in general have been discussed in recent years but nothing concrete has ever been done.

HOSPITAL PUT IN OWN DISTRICT

The brightest ray of hope for the long-suffering new hospital project for Castro County came last week when a letter informed Judge Raymond Wilson that Castro County had been classified as a hospital district of its own. This means that Hill-Burton funds to match the $225,000 bond issue approved by Castro County voters in July, 1960, will probably be forthcoming in September. This means there is a possibility of the new hospital being completed here in the summer of 1963, although such an estimate is pure speculation.

COUNCIL APPROVES ZONING BALLOT WORKING

Working of the ballot for the straw vote on zoning to be marked by voters in the April 3 city election drew considerable controversy at Tuesday evening's city council meeting. City Attorney Bob Lemon, acting on direction of the council which had decided on having the vote at the last council meeting, presented a proposed ballot. Councilmen Walter LaMaster and George Clennan objected strenuously to space at the bottom of the ballot which reads: "If you desire to do so, you may express any ideas on zoning in the space below." The other members of the council said they felt that the zoning commission could make use of the ideas suggested and could possibly change features objectionable to a number of citizens. Also objecting to the working ballot was a group of anti-zoners. In a vote, the council split two to two with the tie-breaking vote cast by Vice Mayor Homer Gurley.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm looks at this week, but not for long.

Dear Editor:

I'll admit before I get started that some people will say a farmer hasn't got any business trying to solve the educational problem when he can't even solve the agricultural problem, but actually the very time to switch to some other problem is when you can't handle your own.

I read in a newspaper last night that educators have been looking closely at the educational system in this country and in a meeting in Chicago the other day an expert from the U. S. Office of education said the traditional 12 years of public education should be increased to 14.

He said the reason is that 12 years is not long enough to prepare a boy or girl for modern life, even if they're going on to college.

"The present 12 year program of elementary and secondary education is not strong enough for an era in which the body of man's knowledge doubles every 15 years," he explained.

I have been thinking this over and have come to the conclusion that this expert is wrong. The way I figure it, if the body of man's knowledge doubles every 15 years, a 14-year school period is far too short. If a boy learned everything there was to know in 14 years, the year after he graduated he'd still have it to do all over again, as the body of knowledge would have doubled by then. Even if he stayed in school all his life and made 100 on every subject, on every report card, he couldn't keep up and would die a comparatively ignorant man.

Also, if total knowledge doubles every 15 years, what about the teachers? If they don't stay in school themselves full time, 12 months a year, no time out for teaching, every 15 years they're 100 percent behind.

And also, when you consider the fact that knowledge is mounting up even on Saturdays and Sundays and during summers when kids aren't even in school, you can see it's impossible for anybody to ever be truly educated for longer than possibly ten or fifteen minutes at a time.

In the future, I think I will stick with solving the farm problem.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Deadline Nears In Wool Program

The 1961 wool program incentive payments, to be made this summer, will cover only wool and unshorn lambs which are marketed on or before March 31, Faust Collier, office manager of the Deal Smith County ASCS, reminds growers. This is the closing date for the 1961 program, which extends from April 1, 1961, through March 31. Growers will have 30 days after the closing date in which to file their applications for payments. Payments to producers for the 1961 marketing year will follow the same methods used in previous years. Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's cash returns from wool sales. The percentage, to be announced later, will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool during the marketing year up to the incentive price of 62 cents per pound. Lamb payments will be made to each producer who sells lambs that have never been shorn. The payment will be at a rate per hundredweight of live animals marketed to compensate for the wool on a basis comparable to the national average incentive payment per pound of shorn wool.

Collier emphasized the importance of keeping adequate records on sales, which must support the information on payment applications. Producers' sales records for shorn wool should show name and address of buyer, date of sale, name and address of producer, net weight of wool sold, and net proceeds to producer after normal marketing deductions.

North Hereford HD Club Discusses 4-H Club Work At Meet

The North Hereford Home Demonstration Club met on Thursday, Mar. 1, in the home of Mrs. Clyde Smithers.

Mrs. John Gooch read a brief essay on the "Five Most Important Words" from the Cub Scout Magazine after the meeting was called to order. Roll call was answered by the members' ideas for strengthening relations between parents and youth.

Mrs. C. L. Whitehead, program leader, introduced Mrs. Gaylon Bryan, whose program was about 4-H club work. Mrs. Bryan is the leader of the Merry Maidens 4-H Club. She asked the club to help encourage the girls to participate in more demonstrations as this helped them to gain self-confidence in what they were doing and in speaking before groups of people. She reminded the club of its responsibilities to 4-H work. In closing, Mrs. Bryan discussed the three annual scholarships and the requirements that must be met to be eligible for one.

The report from the HD Council was that the District meeting will be April 12 in Pampa. Reservations need to be in by April 5. Mrs. R. A. Fullwood was elected to be the club's nominee for "Woman Of The Year."

After adjournment, refreshments were served to Mesdames Gaylon Bryan, C. L. Whitehead, A. E. Hodges, O. L. Williams, Clinton Ward, Mary Bodkin, O. C. Williams, Martin Wagner, Doice Nivens, Allen Klein, John Gooch, Otto Olson, David Watson, Otto Massie, Harold Finch, R. A. Fullwood, W. C. Davis, Miss Roberta Campbell and the hostess, Mrs. Clyde Smithers.

Those attending were Messrs. and Mesdames Arthur Howe, W. B. Rinley, Clancy Worthan and Sharon, Jack Williams and family, George Zetsche, Ann and Kay, David Downey, W. B. Hukill, Wes and Paula, B. H. Hutson, E. A. Guinn, E. D. Sawyer and Layton.

The president, Lynda Armstrong, was the presiding officer. Miss Loreta Fowler, guest speaker, presented the program on "Biscuits for the Bake Show." A demonstration on the baking of biscuits was given. Each of the girls judged the biscuits after they were baked. The judging experience will help the club members in choosing good biscuits to display at the bake show. Subjects were discussed for the demonstration contest.

Study Club Members Quote Proverbs For Answer To Roll Call

Members of the Valeda Study Club met on Tuesday, Feb. 28, in the home of Mrs. Hugh Clearman.

Roll call was answered with the quotation of some proverb that each member applies to her own life. Among those quoted were: "This too shall pass," "Live one day at a time," "Do unto others as you would have them do to you," and "Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow because your husband (or wife) might do it in the meantime."

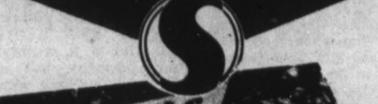

The program on "Psychosomatic Medicine" was presented by Mrs. Don Baugous. She spoke of the power of the mind to make people well. She gave several case histories of those who had a determination to get well and those who did not. In illnesses caused by stress, removing the cause of the stress often removes the illness. Sixty per cent of patients who go to doctors do not need medical care. She said in comparing people that, one person says to his doctor, "I place myself in your hands, make me well." While another person says to his doctor, "I will do what you say and get well."

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Don Baugous, Bill Brady, Gid Brown, Wendell Burdine, Kenneth Malone, Gerald McCaskill, George Ritter, Jess Robinson, Robert Strain, Don Johnson, Gene Matthews, H. A. Tuck Jr., Dale Barkley and the hostess, Mrs. H. H. Clearman.

Confusion Caused By Race For Congressman-At-Large

By Vern Sanford
State campaign headquarters for candidates for Congressman-at-large report that considerable confusion exists about this particular race.

Many voters seem to think that the various candidates for Congressman-at-Large are running against present office holders. Namely the Congressman now representing the various Congressional districts in the State.

This is a statewide race wherein Texas gets an extra Congressman — representing all the people in Texas, not just a district.

This office is being created because the population of Texas has increased sufficient to entitle it to an additional representative in Washington.

The Texas Legislature has the right to re-district the state to provide for an extra Congressman. But the Legislature has not yet done so. Alternative therefore is to create a statewide position.

Therefore, the following candidates are competing against each other for this high post office holder:

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY
Judge Woodrow Wilson of El Paso; Manley Head of Austin; Warren G. Moore of Tyler; Joe R. Pool of Dallas; Charles H. Stevenson Jr. of Corpus Christi; Russell T. Van Keuren of Houston; and Phil Willis of Scurry.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY
Desmond Barry of Houston; Giles E. Miller of Dallas; and Joe B. Phillips of Lubbock.

A Congressman-at-Large race is not without precedent in Texas. The same thing happened in 1952. Martin Dies was elected and served from 1952 to 1958.

THUNDER FROM THE TOP
When GOP's from all over the state gathered in Austin for the State Republican Executive Committee meeting Monday, democratic pressure to hold primaries in every precinct was a topic of conversation.

Jim Leonard, GOP executive director, criticized the SDEC for urging county clerks to refuse to place Republican candidates on the November ballot unless the Republicans held a primary in every precinct. Leonard charged that it was the same as asking them to break the election laws.

He likened the democratic announcement to "thunder from the top," and called the issue a tempest in a teapot and a compliment to the growth of his party in Texas.

TEXTBOOK CHOICES POSTPONED

The State Board of Education voted to postpone the decision of whether to reorder high school solid geometry, economics and shop texts, as well as one on driver education, until the matter of revising these courses is decided.

Several board members also asked a committee to read the economics textbook, because they objected to its content. Objectors all were attorneys.

Penrose Mecalfe of San Angelo asked to hold up on the driver's course text, because he questions a recent decision to change this class from eighth to ninth grade.

He said some West Texas superintendents want it kept in the eighth grade, since most of their students drive by that time, anyway. He will ask for a vote at the April meeting to put the course back in the eighth grade.

WATER WORK DIVIDED
After 10 years, Vice President Lyndon Johnson finally got an answer as to who will do what toward implementing the $4,000,000,000 plan to provide for Texas water and soil conservation, flood control, navigation, water supply and irrigation projects.

Federal agencies now have agreed that the Army Corps of Engineers and the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation each will take on about $1,000,000,000 worth of dam and conveyance construction; local and state agencies will assume $1,000,000,000 worth of work; and the U. S. Soil

PRESENTATION OF A CHECK for the purchase of a new organ was made last week with the Rev. V. M. Marcontell, left, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, accepting in behalf of the congregation. The organ is a gift to the church from Mr. and Mrs. R.R. Jackson, 441 N. Miles. Watching as her husband receives the check is Mrs. Marcontell. (Staff Photo)

Conservation Service will handle $200,000,000 worth of small dam and soil conservation work. Balance of the project is navigation, irrigation, recreation and local flood protection.

Agreement still needs approval at the Washington level, but for the first time in its history, Texas has a water plan and water agencies and engineers have come to an understanding on Texas' future water needs.

The Texas Water Commission endorsed the work division agreement.

REHABILITATION CENTER HOLDS ON
Gov. Price Daniel reports that directors of the Texas Rehabilitation Center at Gonzales have rescinded their order to close the center. They will keep it open at least until May 5, to wait the outcome of a campaign to raise $100,000 through private donations.

Governor Daniel called for public support of the drive, and said he will recommend action by the Legislature to continue the services the center offers to victims of crippling accidents and diseases.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

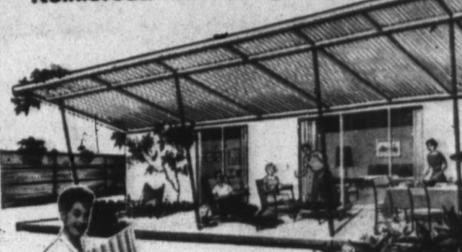

April 27, 1891. Commissioners' Court, Deaf Smith County, Texas, Hon. J. R. Dean, County Judge, and commissioners Powers, Jones, Skeins and Miner present, the following proceedings were had:

The election returns of the special election held to determine whether a tax of Six Cents on the $100 should be levied for school purposes, being opened and returns counted, it was found that twenty one ballots had been cast for said school tax and one ballot against said tax. Precincts Nos. 2 and 3 did not send in any returns and the supposition is that there had been no elections held at either place. It was ordered that said amount of 3/5 mill on the dollar be and it is hereby ordered that said amount be levied for school purposes. On motion the officers of the elections held at LaPlata and Dawn were allowed two dollars each per day and George R. Jowell was allowed two dollars for bringing in the returns.
