Route of the detour on Highway 33 east of Hereford has been outlined by road officials. Traffic will travel on the present road a mile east of Hereford to the old Gallagher place where the detour will turn north, traveling four miles to the Progressive school, at which point it will turn east again, following the graded road to Dawn. The detour will be plainly marked. Barricades will likely be put up Monday of next week to divert traffic. This detour will be used until construction reaches the point of origin, after which traffic will go north from Hereford on the road which enters the city on the east side.

Our experience shows that the amount of reemployment and wage increases in establishments employing not more than five persons in towns of less than 2500 population is not enough to offset the hardship entailed. This should relieve the farmer of retail mark-ups due to increased expense. Our past experience also shows wide misinformation about the extent of wholesale and retail price in-creases. Now that most of the great codes are in, it will be much easier than before not only to investigate but actually to prevent undue wholesale price increases. The President has directed that this be done at once.

"But most of the complaints reeived now are of retail profiteering. A complete plan has been worked out for fair hearings by complaint boards. By these means we believe we can protect the pub-lic, including the farmer, against price increases which do not come as a direct result of the cost of re-

It is time for you to think about your Christmas presents. Use our lay-away plan, pay a little at a time, and the gift will soon be yours.

"The Heavier the Shelf --the heavier the pocketbook, these days!"

It used to be that "laying in a supply" meant tying up money that could be used to better advantage and day-by-day buying was the wisest thing. But today, with future price uncertainty, it's a wise housewife who takes advantage of Piggly Wiggly opportunities where it is possible to stock up at "quality prices."
