

Lifestyles

Garden club installs officers at luncheon

The Garden Beautiful Club met at "Something Special" for a luncheon and installation of officers.

After the luncheon President Nadine Hill presided over the meeting, asking for garden hints from the members. One hint to remember is that gardening is therapy for health, both physically and mentally.

Argen Draper was introduced to the club by Louise Axe. She presented the installation of officers by calling it the "Bill of Rights" for club members stating each member had the right to expect cooperation, love, and faith from each other. A gift was presented to Draper. New officers elected were Jeane Dowell, first vice president; Louise Axe, second vice president; Helen Spinks, third vice president; Hilda Havens, president; Jerry Jackson, secretary; Bobby Metcalf, treasurer; and Audine Dettmann, reporter.

Committees were appointed by Jeane Dowell, president, for the next year.

Members present were Ruby Carmichael, Dottie Darden, Phung Emmons, Rosilie Gilbreath, Marguerite Newell, Dorothy Noland, Pat Northcutt, Bessie Story, Inez Witherspoon, Winnie Wiseman, Margaret Young, Doris Bryant, Marguerita Cole, Hill, Dowell, Axe, Spinks, Havens, Jackson, Metcalf, Dettmann and guest, Argen Draper.

Barbecue products featured this month

May is National Barbecue Month and consumers should find attractive discounts in meats and other barbecue products.

Dr. Dick Edwards, a food marketing expert with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the Memorial Day weekend, long popular for cookouts and barbecue, also marks the beginning of the summer food season.

"Round steak will be priced from $1.69 to $1.89 per pound during the special May promotions," down from about $3 per pound in April, Edwards said. "Sirloin steak will sell from $2.19 to $2.39 per pound (down from $3.50), and ground beef will be priced at 99 cents a pound (down from about $1.79) when purchased in five pound packages."

"Beef brisket, a favorite of most serious barbecuers, will be marked down to $1.09 during May promotions," he said. "This price will be for the "parker trim," which often yields only about 50 percent of grillable meat when the fat is trimmed."

Edwards said many stores will have their own trimmed brisket priced from $1.79 to $1.99. "You may want to check this cut out since the cost per pound usually is less than the packer trim."

Pork products also will be priced lower in May.

"Pork ribs and chops are the cuts that fit the outdoor season and will be reduced most drastically," he said.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - Nancy Reagan told 15,000 schoolchildren who packed the Rose Bowl for an anti-drug rally they are the "true pioneers in the fight against drug and alcohol abuse."

"The tide is turning in the way young people are thinking about drugs," said the former first lady. "I know that the future of America is in good hands - the hands of the drug-free generation."

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors presented her with a plaque for her anti-drug efforts.

The students, clad in T-shirts bearing her "Just Say No" anti-drug slogan, were entertained during the 90-minute rally Thursday by off-road racers, the U.S. Marine Corps Band and drug-sniffing police dogs.

Bride-elect honored

A bridal shower was held for Jill Walterscheid, bride-elect of Willie Jagers, Sunday afternoon in the home of Rosalia Gilbreath. Greeting guests with the honoree were, from left, Mrs. Gilbreath; the bride-elect's grandmother, Elizabeth Walterscheid; her mother, Mary Ann Walterscheid; and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Jane Joyce.

Walterscheid honored with bridal shower

Jill Walterscheid, bride-elect of Willie Jagers, was honored with a bridal shower Sunday afternoon in the home of Rosalia Gilbreath, 500 Western.

Serving refreshments were the honoree's sisters, Gail and Joyce Walterscheid, Connie Pike and Debbie Bradley.

Assorted cookies and fruits were served from a table covered with an embroidered cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of white lilies, ivy and baby's breath flanked by crystal candlesticks holding royal blue candles.

Hostesses were Judy Detten, Geraldine Schlabs, Roberta Last, Regina Warren, Bernadette Kalka, Joann Jesko, Mary Schlabs, Carol Gerke, Sylvia Pactzold, Rosalia Gilbreath and Nancy Pactzold.

L'Allegra Study Club officers elected recently

The home of Dee Ann Trotter was the sight of L'Allegra Study Club's recent meeting. The nominating committee submitted a slate of officers to fill the respective club offices for next year.

The slate was voted on and approved. New officers are Sylvia Khuri, president; Jan Weishaar, vice president; Dee Ann Trotter, recording secretary; Margaret Carnahan, corresponding secretary; Kay Lynn Caviness, treasurer; Diane Hoelscher, assistant treasurer; Joyce Lomas, historian; and Patsy Hoffman, parliamentarian.

The program entitled "China" was given by Margaret Formby of Hereford. The Formbys took the trip in the fall of 1988 as an Associated Press Board meeting tour. Formby gave a comprehensive presentation of China, its geography, people, culture, economy, traditions and landmarks. She pointed out that China is undergoing a process of change and the ramifications of such a change. Several artifacts from the Far East were on display for members to view.

Patsy Hoffman, president, presided over to business meeting. A report was given on L'Allegra's recent annual plant sale which was a success.

Poppy Head served as cohostess. Members present were Carnahan, Caviness, Janice Conckwright, Judy Detten, Kitty Gault, Head, Hoelscher, Hoffman, Barbara Kerr, Khuri, Mary Kay McQuigg, Selsey Metz, Karen Payne, Hilda Perales, Brenda Reinauer, Trotter, Ella Marie Veigel, Judy Wall and Weishaar.

At the rate we're going we will need 500 new trash dumps every year.

Accessories topic of program

The Wyche Extension Homemakers Club met recently in the Hereford Community Center with a program given on accessories.

Each member was asked to bring scarfs, jewelry, and flowers to demonstrate at least two ways accessories add to a wardrobe.

Carol Odom, president, conducted the business meeting and Marcie Ginn gave the council report. The members answered roll by "What I Do When I Do As I Please."

Audrey Rusher will host the next meeting May 17. Each member should bring a salad recipe. A salad luncheon will be held from the recipes on June 7.

Clara Trowbridge was hostess to Virgie Duncan, Pet Ott, Brenda Rusher, Louise Axe, Dorothy Lundry, Louise Packard, Shirley Brown, Coreen Odom, Throwbridge, Ginn, Odom, and Rusher.

29 Minutes
or the next one's
FREE!
$16.95 plus tax
Oil change, lube, fluid level checks and inspection.
Stevens
Chevrolet Oldsmobile
N Hwy 385 364-2160
Mr. Goodwrench
QUICK LUBE plus
Paris

Paper grocery bags are made only from virgin paper. Try taking your bags back to the store and reusing them. Or better yet, bring cloth or string bags for your purchase.

Card of Appreciation
I would like to thank everyone who supported my campaign for the hospital board seat. The voters, contributions, publicity, signs and handbill distribution, etc.
Donita Rule

To Better Serve You, We Now Have A TOLL FREE Number
1-800-999-2207
Eye Surgery Center
Eastern New Mexico Eye Clinic
Dr. Dik S. Cheung, M.D.
1820 W. 21st Street - Clovis

WOW! The moment has finally come!
La Mexicana
announces its
Grand Opening
Tuesday, May 8
Doors will open at exactly
6:00 pm til 10:00 pm
We invite you to come and enjoy our delicious Mexican Food!
NEW LOCATION
1803 E. 1st Hwy. 60
(Formerly, West Texas Western Store)

Mother's Day Special!
FREE Serger
with the purchase of a Memory Craft 7000
The new Memory Craft is so versatile with so many convenience features you'll marvel at your own creativity.
• Super Memory Capacity!
• Computer Thread Control!
• Easy to Read Visual Screen!
• Infinite Speed Control Lever!
• Upper and Lower Case Script Alphabet for Monogramming!
FREE! NEW HOME Serger
2 needle, 3 or 4 thread serger, convertible!
• Electronically controlled!
• Extra Strength seams!
• Instant tension release!
• Best built - superior performance!
FREE with the purchase of a Memory Craft 7000.
Special Specials
Singer
• New Featherweight.....$119.95
• Singer #4171.....$279.00
Viking
• #190 Computer.....$399.95
• Viking #6490.....$599.95
Plus many more specials!
McKnight Home Center
226 N. Main NEW HOME AUTHORIZED DEALER 364-4051

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: After 30 years of marriage, my husband and I decided to make out our wills. I assumed that we would go the usual route, name one another as beneficiaries and leave everything to our children if we should die together.

I was wrong. In the lawyer's office, my husband announced that if he died first, he wanted to leave everything to our children, because I would probably remarry and he didn't want another man to live it up on his money. We nearly split up over this. I gave him six beautiful children and am a devoted wife. I also have contributed financially to our marriage, holding part-time jobs all through the years. It was devastating to learn that he doesn't love or trust me enough to leave me financially secure.

After much discussion, he agreed to leave me everything if I promised to divide the money among our children if I should remarry. Reluctantly, I said I would, but I am very bitter.

My friends think he was totally wrong. He insists, however, that most husbands would want the same deal. What do you think? -- Still Bitter in Madison

DEAR STILL: Most husbands? Not really. Only the small-minded, ungenerous ones. A loving man would want his wife to be comfortable and happy in a second marriage. If you are still bitter by the time you read this, please get counseling and ask him to join you. You need to work through the anger, or it could ruin your life.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: All through school, I was an A student. I now hold a position that requires a high level of intelligence, so I know I am not stupid.

But, whenever I go off the beaten path, I become confused. Most of the time I can find my way to the places I must go, but I always have trouble finding my way back.

Shopping in a mall is a disaster. No matter how hard I try, I am unable to locate the door I came in, and I keep going around in circles.

When I was in third grade, I had a terrible time learning directions. I remember my teacher taking me by the hand and walking me around the room. She tried to help me by pointing out that the windows faced the east, but as soon as I left that room, I was sunk.

Is this an illness? Can anything be done to help people like me? -- St. Louis

DEAR ST. L.: Make that US. I am hopeless when it comes to finding my way around, and I've tried everything short of dropping pebbles.

This is not an "illness." It's a deficiency. Some people are tumbleweeds; others are homing pigeons. I'm sure it has to do with a "built-in" compass that some people have and others don't, like being able to yodel or wiggle your ears. So, cheer up. It happens in the best of families.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently, my granddaughter remarried. She had a small chapel ceremony and said she was inviting only the immediate family. According to her definition, this means mothers, fathers, children and siblings. I, the grandmother, and my husband, were not invited.

There was a small gathering at their apartment after the ceremony. Several cousins and friends were invited. We were not.

Miss Landers, will you please tell me, are grandparents "immediate" family or not? -- D.M. in L.A.

DEAR D.M.: Grandparents are as "immediate" as you can get. If it weren't for grandparents, there would be no family.

What can you give the person who has everything? Ann Landers' new booklet, "Gems," is ideal for a nightstand or coffee table. "Gems" is a collection of Ann Landers' most requested poems and essays. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $4.85 (this includes postage and handling) to: Gems, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada, send $5.87.)

AMERICA'S EXTREMES WASHINGTON (AP) - The smallest county in the United States is New York, N.Y., also known as Manhattan Island, at 22 square miles.

The largest county is San Bernardino, Calif., which covers 20,102 square miles.

The nation's highest city is Climax, Colo., at 11,560 feet. The lowest is Calipatria, Calif., which is 184 feet below sea level.

Bride-elect honored

A bridal shower was held recently for Tammy Hardin, June 16 bride-elect of Ronnie Wayne Gilmore. Guests were greeted, from left, by the bride-elect's grandmother, Fredda Hardin; the prospective groom's mother, Denita Gilmore; the honoree; mother of the bride-elect, Barbara Hardin; and grandmother of the bride-elect, Vera Dell Davis.

Bridal shower held for Hardin

Tammy Dawn Hardin was honored with a bridal shower Saturday, April 21, at the home of Joyce Allred. The honoree and Ronnie Wayne Gilmore plan to exchange wedding vows June 16.

Welcoming guests with Miss Hardin were her mother, Barbara Hardin; and her grandmother, Vera Dell Davis; the prospective bridegroom's mother, Denita Gilmore; and Fredda Hardin.

Allred registered guests and Anne Marie Kelley, Beth Gearn, Kayla Schilling and Oleta Tisdale served refreshments of miniature muffins, sausage balls, miniature cinnamon rolls, fruit basket, coffee and spiced tea. The table was covered with a peach and seafoam green cloth depicting a Southwest flair and accented by antique pewter and a silk flower centerpiece.

The shower honoree was presented a Southwest king comforter, sheets and shams by hostesses: Joyce Allred, Joan Petty, Oleta Tisdale, Martha Rickman, Junnell Vincent, Joyce Duggan, Rue Ford, Beth Gearn, Barbara Cochran, Betty Martin, Barbara Manning, and Jo Ann Hill.

Comics

BLONDIE

by Dean Young and Stan Drake

Marvin

By Tom Armstrong

BEETLE BAILEY

By Mort Walker

Barney Google and Snuffy Smith

By Fred Lasswell

The Wizard of Id

By Brant Parker and Johnny Hart

India ink is not from India and never was. It's from China.

Mizzou hoops face NCAA charges

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Two of the 15 allegations against Missouri may put Norm Stewart's basketball program in particular peril.

As expected, the NCAA is charging the Tigers with having an agent help them recruit a specific area. The area would presumably be Detroit and could constitute a serious violation since so many of Stewart's finest players have come from there. Secondly, NCAA-watchers learned long ago the Enforcement Department dislikes being lied to. And allegation No. 13 says a member of the athletic department "... provided false and misleading information ... acted contrary to the principles of ethical conduct ..."

And, "... demonstrated a knowing and willful effort on his part to operate the university's intercollegiate men's basketball program contrary to the requirements and provisions of NCAA legislation by his involvement in this case."

All names were carefully blacked out in the copy of the inquiry distributed at a news conference Monday. But all key staff members on hand during the years in question, roughly 1985-89, are still in place.

Stewart, who has directed the basketball program for 23 years, acknowledged some of the allegations are true. But he, Chancellor Haskell Monroe and athletic director Dick Tamburo all refused to answer specific questions regarding the charges.

"With regard to the specific allegations contained in the letter of inquiry, I cannot comment much other than to say that the allegations are merely allegations. They are not conclusions," Stewart said in a statement.

"Some of the allegations we have already admitted," he said, apparently referring to assistant coach Bob Sundvold, who was suspended temporarily by Missouri after allegedly buying airline tickets for recruit P.J. Mays of Cincinnati.

"As you know, Bob self-reported his infraction regarding an airplane ticket to the athletic director. ... Once the NCAA investigation started, Bob helped obtain written statements from key witnesses and he then turned those statements over to the NCAA for its use."

The bulk of the charges appeared to be the usual NCAA investigation fare - unauthorized entertainment and transportation of recruits, giveaways such as videotapes, etc. Missouri, the only Big Eight school never penalized by the NCAA, hopes to appear before the Infractions Committee at its Aug. 11-14 meeting in Colorado Springs, Colo.

"Where we have made mistakes which resulted in certain allegations, we will admit them," said Stewart, who is sixth in career victories among active Division I coaches with a 552-273 record.

"Some of the allegations, however, are not true and we will contest those before the committee," Stewart added. "I am confident the committee will conclude that no infractions occurred with regard to those allegations which we contest."

The investigation began in February 1989, the same month Stewart, 54, underwent surgery for colon cancer.

School officials said that with their internal probe completed they are confident they can file a response to the NCAA inquiry in time for the August meeting.

Stewart said the NCAA allegations do not include academic fraud or big outlays of cash to recruits.

"I feel there is a significant difference between a program that deliberately tries to unfairly gain a competitive advantage, and a program that inadvertently commits an infraction," he said.

Missouri was ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press poll for four weeks last season and won the Big Eight championship. Stewart said the investigation came at the worst possible time.

"I held an interview with the NCAA two days before this year's game with Kansas, when they were ranked No. 1," Stewart said. "There was a final round of interviews involving me and my staff two days before the Big Eight Tournament."

Monroe said the university's internal probe, which cost almost $300,000, may have come across two other allegations.

Fittipaldi ready to defend Indy crown

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Emerson Fittipaldi was the reigning Formula One champion when he first visited the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. It was a decade after that before he first raced at Indy, and another five years before he became its first $1 million winner.

On Saturday, he hopes to achieve another personal first - earning the pole position for the May 27 race.

"It's great to be back as defending champion. The pressure just makes me work harder," said the 43-year-old Brazilian, a two-time F-1 champion who came out of a two-year retirement in 1984 to join the Indy-car circuit. "I have to work harder this year to try to win again. I know it's going to be very difficult."

No driver has won consecutive Indys since Al Unser in 1970 and 1971. Ironically, Fittipaldi this year replaced Unser on the Penske Racing team.

Mears raised the top speed in practice this week to 224.389 mph on Monday.

Arie Luyendyk improved his best lap to 222.816, Mario Andretti went to 222.041 and Al Unser Jr. to 220.297. Fittipaldi, who had a fast lap of 222.607 on Sunday, reached 222.211 in that car and 219.888 in his backup car.

Four-time Indy winner A.J. Foyt made his first appearance of the week and took only four laps. His top speed was 158.420.

Fittipaldi first came to Indianapolis in 1974 to test the McLaren cars but declined to join the Indy circuit because of conflicting Formula One commitments. By the early 1980's, what he called the "politics, the aggravation, the fights" involved in Formula One racing drove him out of the sport.

He retired for two years, then returned in 1984 to race in the United States. He was fifth in his Indy-car debut at Long Beach and has won 11 of 87 starts since then. Last year, driving for Patrick Racing, he won at Indianapolis, Detroit, Portland, Cleveland and Nazareth and finished among the top five in seven other races.

His victory at Indianapolis was worth a record $1,001,604 - the largest payoff in auto racing history - and he earned a record $2,166,078 for the season. He left Patrick to join the Penske team and was reunited with Teddy Mayer, a former McLaren manager who now is a director of Penske's British operation and runs Fittipaldi's pit crew.

"It was great to work again with Teddy after so many years. I worked with him in Formula One, and it's great," Fittipaldi said. "I'm very pleased with the way the team is working. I knew Roger (Penske) always had a great organization, but only working together inside the organization I realized it was even better than I expected. That's good news, that's great."

Spurs keeping the faith

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An hour before each home San Antonio Spurs game, a handful of basketball players retreat from the gleaming lights and the hardwood floor of HemisFair Arena and gather in a small back room where harmony replaces rivalry.

In this sparsely furnished makeshift chapel, team owner Red McCombs, Spurs players and visiting team members get together for prayer and meditation.

"You see guys in the chapel who in a few minutes are going to be banging each other around," said McCombs, who often attends the pre-game services with his wife. "Those moments in the chapel are inspiring."

Among the visiting players who have joined several Spurs in the house of worship are such NBA All-Stars as A.C. Green of the Los Angeles Lakers, Kevin Johnson of the Phoenix Suns, Kevin McHale of the Boston Celtics, John Stockton of the Utah Jazz and Johnny Dawkins of the Philadelphia 76ers.

All have spent quiet moments in the chapel, holding hands in fellowship.

Some Spurs players say the services help them better deal with what happens on the court. And they say faith in God helps ease the pressure to win games and the sudden onslaught of media attention that comes with success.

"It can't be about ego or about winning a basketball game," Spurs guard Johnny Moore said. "We have to be aware of our gifts from God. We're just stewards playing to God's glory."

Spurs forward Terry Cummings, an ordained minister in the Black United Pentecostal Church, says his faith in God gives perspective to his life on and off the court.

"The biggest thing is, it gives you balance," Cummings said. "We have a good chapel service, but I haven't been as involved with it this year as before because of all that's been happening."

Whether the team's winning ways are a result of a divine blessing or miraculous ball handling and unwavering determination, the team's chaplain nevertheless is pleased with the results.

"This year has been a whole lot easier to deal with than last," said the Rev. Joe Fahl, the Spurs' chaplain for three years. "Last year was very discouraging for them."

The team finished last season 21-61, but this year had a 56-26 regular season record, marking the best single-season turnaround in NBA history. San Antonio now is battling the Portland Trail Blazers in the semifinals of the Western Conference playoffs. They play the Blazers tonight in Game 2 and return to San Antonio for Game 3. Portland leads the best-of-seven series 1-0.

The Spurs' 20-minute non-denominational services include a sermon that Fahl often links to athletics, competition or the lifestyles of professional athletes. When Fahl speaks about "playing by the rules" he usually isn't referring to basketball.

"The Bible makes many comparisons between the lifestyle of an athlete and how a Christian should live," he said. "To win as a Christian takes discipline and the strength to know what are those things you need to set aside."

Fahl doesn't dodge the topic of drugs, which he says is just one of the many temptations dogging wealthy professional athletes.

"There's nothing wrong with making a lot of money," Fahl said. "I caution them about how money can corrupt and that it does not alleviate personal struggles."

As the club's spiritual director, Fahl also organizes prayer meetings for the Spurs' front-office staff. Secretaries, ticket office employees and administrators meet at least once a month for 7:30 a.m. services.

"More than 50 percent of our staff is involved in church activities," said Russ Bookbinder, Spurs executive vice president. "An organization usually reflects what's at the top."

Charlie's
Tire & Service Center
Now providing you with HUNTER
Total 4-Wheel Alignment
Quality Tire-Quality Service
Tractor On Farm Truck On Road Passenger On Road Shocks Computer Spin Balancing Grease Jobs Front End Alignment Bearing Pack Oil Change Brake Repair
501 West 1st 364-5033

Dr. Milton Adams
Optometrist
335 Miles
Phone 364-2255
Office Hours:
Monday - Friday
8:30-12:00 1:00-5:00

A.O. THOMPSON ABSTRACT COMPANY
Margaret Schroeter, Owner
Abstracts Title Insurance Escrow
P.O. Box 73 242 E. 3rd Phone 364-6641
Across from Courthouse

REWARD!

Shop These Hereford Merchants & Reap Rewards!

STORMY WEATHER CAN COME IN THE SUMMER!
Protect your house with storm windows, storm doors, or car awning too.
Please, call TODAY for references to my work or a FREE estimate!
RICHARDS SIDING
"For Quality Steel Siding Construction"
Owner - Leon Richards 364-6000

MOM
Travel, adventure, romance, humor, inspiration, cookbooks, gardening, biography, non-fiction...
Dillar-A-Dollar BookStop
214 N. 25 Mile Ave. 364-8564

Compare our prices before your buy!
ACCO 6-OUTLET POWER STRIP
Power up! 6-outlet power strip with built-in master on/off switch, 6-foot grounded power cord and circuit breaker for overload protection. 15 amp capacity.
The OFFICE CENTER INC.
"The Only Name You Need To Know In Office Supplies!"
364-0430 144 W. 4th

STOCK NO.	LIST PRICE	1 EA.
T1-ACC-50688	17.95	11.95

A competitive alternative to your current link with the outside business world!
W.T. SERVICES INC.
Dimmitt Hwy 364-3331

Edward D. Jones & Co.
MEMBER NYSE • SIPC

GOVERNMENT GUARANTEED BONDS 8.5%	TAX-FREE BONDS INSURED • AAA 6.9%	STOCK OF THE MONTH: EASTMAN KODAK
--	---	---

IKE STEVENS • 508 S. 25 MILE AVE. • 364-0041

$SAVE 50%
Promote your product, sell your services, build your business and save nearly 50% on advertising - use the Marketplace. Call for details.
The Hereford Brand 364-2030