

Miniature Ice Storm Hit City In Delayed "Easter Weather"

Around Town

Sights and Faces Seen

Mrs. Alec Thompson picked her flowers just in time and Wednesday afternoon she brought a very beautiful bouquet of daffodils and jonquils to the Brand office. Mrs. Thompson, president of the Seventh District, and Miss Mattie Mae Swisher plan to attend the convention of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs in Belton next week.

Packard Milling Company has really put a record on these defense bond purchases. Employees have signed up 100 per cent to buy stamps and bonds, and purchases amount to about $50 a week.

And we heard that somebody presented Mayor Paddock with a water gun Tuesday—and some other wise guy suggested that water should be served to each voter.

Bob Fullwood was really pleased yesterday to hear that his son, Lt. Edward Fullwood, had made it safely across the Pacific, to just what destination Bob did not know. Ed is connected with the repair department of the signal corps.

"He repairs radios and telegraph sets," says Mr. Fullwood, adding, "He could have done that before he ever went to college."

Hen Outraged When Kittens Impose On Mother Love Instinct

Turkeys are bad enough, but to ask a self-respecting hen to mother four yowling kittens is stretching the mother love instinct too far. At least that seemed to be opinion of the setting hen whose outraged clucks were heard by Mrs. R. R. Fitzer of Dawn last week.

The hen had a setting of turkey eggs and Mrs. Fitzer, feeling in the nest expecting to find small turkeys was astounded to find the kittens, on top of the eggs and under the hen, who was very unhappy about the whole thing.

Mother Nature does wonderful things, according to the corny song, and when she plays April Fool jokes she goes into it on a big scale.

Detroit Man Conducts Health Study Here

Attracted by news stories of Deaf Smith County's low tooth decay rate, Bill Tracy, pattern maker in the Packard Motor Car plant in Detroit, Mich., was in Hereford last week carrying out investigations in connection with his hobby of health research.

Tracy, self-styled student of nature, is convinced of the value of epsom salts in body sanitation and the prevention of many diseases and came here when he read that Hereford water has approximately five times as much magnesium as ordinary water and magnesium is one of the main ingredients of epsom salts. He took samples of water as well as some other products of this county which he will have analyzed.

The Detroit man has been interested in health research since 1927, has been actively engaged in his present study since 1936.

Rain, sleet and snow brought a total moisture count of 1.1 inches to Hereford within the past two days in a delayed session of "Easter Weather."

Accompanied by cold winds, the moisture froze and brought a miniature edition of the 1940 ice storm, with considerable damage to light, telephone and telegraph lines. Long distance telephone communications were out, with no lines open, even to Amarillo, yesterday, and telephone linesmen were searching for breaks in the line. Telegrams were having to be relayed by mail and bus and train connections were haphazard.

Clearing and warmer weather Thursday morning seemed to spell the end of the ice storm, and farmers of the territory were glad to receive the moisture, which the wheat had been needing.

Damage to trees, flowers and gardens had not been calculated this morning but did not seem to be as serious as was at first thought.

Marketing Quota Considered In Vote On May 2

Uncle Sam already has his hands full and should not have to worry about a problem farmers can decide for themselves, J. T. Gilbreath, chairman of the Deaf Smith County AAA Committee, pointed out this week.

Solution of the problem is marketing quotas, which will be decided at community ballot boxes, Saturday, May 2, when wheat farmers vote in a national referendum.

"We must produce the feed and food it will take to help whip international gangsterism instead of spending time, labor and money raising crops we don't need," the chairman said in explaining that a two-year wheat supply is in sight and the United Nations are in desperate need of meat, milk, vegetables, eggs, fats and oils.

Wheat marketing quotas, divide a limited market equally among all wheat producers.

Also at stake in the referendum is the 85 per cent parity loan program which is one of the principal reasons for the (Continued on Page 10)

Mrs. Logan Ware Returns Home—Is Much Improved

Mrs. Logan Ware returned home Monday night after spending several months in Dallas for medical treatment. Coach Ware went to Dallas for her and reports that she stood the trip in fine condition.

Mrs. Ware was injured in a car wreck last October and since that time she has spent most of her time in hospitals, first in Canyon and then in Dallas. Now she is able to be up and about and while she will have to depend upon crutches for a few weeks she is optimistic concerning rapid recovery from now on.

Mrs. Ware has lost none of her cheerful determination to get well during the past months of confinement and if happiness at being home again has anything to do with it she will make rapid strides in that direction.

Food Sale Saturday Benefitted H. D. Clubs

Mrs. W. H. Russell, Mrs. Claude Bogle and Mrs. Merlin Kaul were in charge of the food sale sponsored Saturday by the GHD Council and state that the finance committee netted $13.85 for their work.

The county council plans to send three delegates to the district meeting in Amarillo in May, and the finance committee is raising money to help with the expenses of these delegates and also to provide transportation to Amarillo for members of the county chorus, who will sing at the meeting.

Re-Elected

C. J. Paddock, who Tuesday was re-elected to head Hereford's city administration, in a vote which reflected the highest pitch of political interest shown in the city in the past ten years, Commissioners N. E. Gass and Vern Witherspoon were also re-elected.

Pat Filbin In Commission Race

P. H. (Pat) Filbin this week authorized the Brand to announce his candidacy for the office of commissioner in precinct two, subject to the action of the July Democratic Primary.

In making his announcement, Mr. Filbin made the following statement:

"I moved to Deaf Smith County in 1937 after travelling some 10,000 miles over several states looking for a place to locate. I was looking for a place with a bright future and now I know my judgment was right in choosing Deaf Smith County."

"I am a landowner and a taxpayer and have been since moving here. I came here as a builder and a 'do-er' to make my home and to help develop the resources of the county and to make it a better place in which to live. In these five short years, I have seen vast improvements take place—new elevators, new mills, a new post office, new store buildings and other great improvements, including the paving of Highway 60 and the construction of our R. E. A., which is second to none in the entire U. S. A.; yet I feel there is still much to be done and if elected as one of your commissioners, I will continue to do my best to be a builder and a 'do-er' for the good of all."

Paddock & Commission Are Re-elected

Blitzkrieg Promised On Paving Job On 51

An engineer of the State Highway Department now has his offices in Hereford and states that work is expected to start soon on the construction of 4.2 miles of paving on Highway 51, from a point 1.2 miles south of Hereford to the Castro County line.

The contract has been let to Bell and Braden of Amarillo, and according to the state engineer, plans call for a road building "blitzkrieg" to get the construction completed in record time.

The offices of the state engineer are in the grand jury room of the court house.

New Bridge To Incorporate Safety Features

Notice was filed last week for the submission of bids on the rebuilding of the south main street bridge, and Deaf Smith County commissioners hope to have in the re-built structure one that will withstand the worst spring floods that the Tierra Blanca has to offer.

The new bridge will be 152 feet long as compared to the present 70 foot length and will slope up to each end with the structure incorporating features which will prevent the wash out of abutments.

The present bridge will be removed, though some pilings of the old structure will remain.

Plans for the new bridge also include the building of a sidewalk for the convenience and safety of pedestrians.

A. P. Donnell, 91, Injured In Fall

A. P. Donnell, 91, father of Mrs. D. H. Alexander of Hereford, was seriously injured Friday morning at his home in Silverton when he fell and broke his right hip. Early Friday morning Mr. Donnell had lighted a gas heater in his room and in turning around he slipped and fell against a chair.

His son, Dr. Chas. Donnell of Canyon, removed him to a Canyon hospital and at the present time he is reported to be resting well. Mr. Donnell has visited his daughter here many times. She has spent much of the time with her father in Canyon since his injury.

357 Men Receive Order Numbers

Order Numbers were assigned this week to the 357 men registered in Deaf Smith County in February for selective service. Order numbers in this registration start at 10,000, and Anton Grotgut, with an order number of 10,001 is No. 1 in this county. These numbers indicate the sequence in which men will be called. But the classification of each man will depend on the individual case; the questionnaires will determine that.

Charms Of Iceland Come Out Minus In Book Of Returned U. S. Marines

There may be some good points about Iceland, but the marines never found out what they were, according to Cpl. Jack Smith and Pfc. J. C. Vaughn, now spending furloughs in Hereford with their families and just returned from the U. S. North Atlantic base. "Right now," Smith says, "I can't think of why I would ever want to go back, but of course when I was there, it was just part of the job to take it."

Among other things that the boys had to take was a climate which hadn't a redeeming feature. Coming from the Texas Panhandle, Vaughn and Smith thought they knew something about wind—but the wind in Iceland makes our own March gales look like a light breeze. The winds reach speeds of more than 100 miles-an-hour, Vaughn declares, and when temperatures get down to 15 or 20, it makes those parkas, heavy coats and fur-lined overshoes in the winter uniform really feel good.

Iceland, so far north, has long nights and days, with the sun hanging in mid sky all day except for about an hour in the summer time. And in the winter the nights are just as long. Only beautiful feature of the weather is the northern lights, which, Smith says, get pretty monotonous after the first few days.

And in the summer time, there are rainbows, nearly every fifteen minutes.

Uncle Sam Is Santa Claus

The island itself is made up of volcanic rock and ice with very little tillable ground and the natives make their living from fishing, sheep raising and a little trapping. That is, they used to make a living that way until the advent of that old Santa Claus, Uncle Sam; both Vaughn and Smith agree that Icelanders now make a living from the U. S. Government in various ways.

There is, of course, a good deal of construction and road building going on and many natives are employed in the work. Shopkeepers in Reykjavik (pronounced Ra-ja-vik) the main city near which the marines were stationed, soon learned to raise their prices to take care of the high exchange rates of American money—about $1.50, U. S., being equal to $10 in native money.

Natives Get Smart

"At first those natives liked nickels; they'd take them in preference to any other coin," Vaughn declares, "but they got smart in a hurry."

Of the people, Smith explains that they consider themselves Danish and speak a language (Continued on Page 10)

Bring In Scale Tickets For Scrap Payment

The scrap iron pile collected by Deaf Smith County citizens in the past several weeks was sold to O. H. Gulpepper of the Hereford Wrecking Company this week, and S. P. Rosson, chairman of the citizens scrap iron committee asks that all persons who brought in scrap bring or send their scale tickets to him within the next few days. One hundred and thirty tons of scrap were collected.

"We have to have these tickets in order to make payment for the scrap and also to give the prizes in each school district," Rosson says.

Price received for the scrap was $9.50 a ton.

The drive is over but persons still having scrap should sell to junk dealers and get the salvage material into war industry channels.

Tree Stocks Are Available Now Until April 15

Deaf Smith County farmers have an opportunity to get trees, a choice of selections in 14 varieties, all suited to this climate and available for shipping cost according to A. R. Bateman and Miss Sadie Lee Oliver of the agricultural extension service.

These are trees now at the shelterbelt stations in Chickasha, Okla., and Childress, Tex., and are being shipped out because of the closing of the stations whose personnel and equipment will now be used in California, where the government is experimenting with guayule and other rubber producing plants.

The trees are of varieties suited to field shelterbelts, farm orchards and postlots or woodlots, and farmers who want some of these trees are asked to see Miss Sadie Lee Oliver. Since about 50,000 trees make a truck load it will be necessary to pool orders.

The trees are planting stock size. They are top-pruned in the field to a height of approximately 18 inches; although this may be somewhat less on some species. These trees must be removed from the government stations by April 15.

Mrs. Seed's Father Dies In California

Word was received here last week of the death of Chas. Mieur, father of Mrs. C. W. Seed of Hereford, in Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. Mieur died suddenly following a short illness. He was 76 years old.

Miss Helen Seed left immediately for California to attend funeral rites and will remain for some time with her grandmother who is ill.

Names Omitted From Easter Page Last Week

Because of an error at the Brand office the names of Rosson-Hays, Cecil Wilkins, John McLean, Star Theatre and Bob Thompson were omitted from the list of co-operating merchants on the Easter page.

All of these business men had asked to give prizes in the Easter Egg hunt, and in cases where the error was discovered in time, they gave prize eggs even though their names were omitted from the list.

In an election marked by the highest peak of political interest shown in Hereford in the past ten years, Mayor C. J. Paddock and Commissioners N. E. Gass and Vern Witherspoon were returned to office Tuesday, defeating the opposing ticket by decisive margins.

Actual figures on the vote were:

For Mayor, C. J. Paddock, 226; W. E. Dameron, 150; For Commissioners, N. E. Gass, 267; Vern Witherspoon, 212; G. W. Bramley, 128; T. W. Alderson, 139, and Harold Close, 2.

In sharp contrast to recent city elections which have been going by default, the election Tuesday showed a near record turn-out of qualified voters, of whom the city records show only slightly more than 400.

The City water rate was the issue in the campaign which sprang to life only a few days before election and the vote was (Continued on Page 10)

Redford To Be County Navy Relief Chairman

The Navy Relief Society-Citizens Committee in Deaf Smith County will be headed by Rev. H. M. Redford, it was announced this week by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, Texas Chairman for the Navy Relief Drive. Every county in Texas is being organized to raise funds for the families and dependants of men serving in the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard and Texans are being asked to contribute $210,000 toward the national quota of $5,000,000 for Navy Relief.

Mr. Redford, who served in the Navy in the last war, is selecting his committee this week and states that organization will be complete with the drive ready to go on here by Navy Appreciation Week, which starts April 19.

The Navy society takes care of emergencies and family needs not provided for by the government and affords citizens a chance to contribute to the help of men who are now in the midst of battle.

Black Company Celebrates Anniversary

The E. B. Black Company started its 41st year of business in Hereford this week and the date marked the anniversary of the oldest business house in town.

Mr. Black came to Hereford from Cleburne in 1902 and has been actively identified with the business and civic life of the town since that time. The old Beach and Orr furniture store, which he bought, had been in business about a year, or almost since the birth of the town.

The Black Company started out as a furniture store and later branched into an undertaking business also. Mr. Black, who only last month sold most of his Hereford herd, was for many years a prominent ranchman of the territory. He has also been prominent in his church and in city government, having been mayor of Hereford.

Reproduced in the Black Company advertisement this week is Mr. Black's first advertisement in the Hereford Brand. He can boast of never missing a paper since that first advertisement.

MILK AND EGGS

Help Build Strong Bodies From The Texas Food Standard For a Good Diet I Need to Include Milk—

Daily: 1 pint to 1 quart (Children under 16 need 3/4 to 1 quart). For 1 Week: 3 1-2 to 7 quarts. For a Good Diet I Need to Include Eggs—

Daily: 1 egg (Dried beans, peas, or nuts may sometimes be substituted for eggs or meat; as a protein food for adults.)

For 1 Week: 7 eggs. IN BUYING MILK I SHOULD REMEMBER TO:

Be sure that the milk is safe. Buy grade A pasteurized milk if possible.

Encourage bottle top protection.

Ray milk may be made safe by bringing it to a boil quickly, cooling quickly, and storing, covered, in a cool place.

Check on source by personal visits to dairy or creamery and by records of the Health Officer of the county.

Provide a shaded, protected place for milk to be delivered. Store quickly in cool place.

Keep milk cool and covered. Rinse the bottle before storing.

Sterilize utensils used for milk. When straining milk, a filter paper strainer is better than a cloth strainer.

Buy milk, skim milk, and butter milk by the gallon of a large quantity can be used. They are cheaper by the gallon.

IN BUYING EGGS I SHOULD REMEMBER TO:

Buy eggs by grade whenever possible. Medium-size eggs weigh 24-25 oz. per dozen.

Ask whether eggs have been candled. They are more dependable than those that have not been candled.

Find out whether eggs are infertile. They keep longer than fertile ones.

Inquire about prices of storage and fresh eggs. Storage eggs may be cheaper than unstored eggs and just as satisfactory for some purposes. When there is a locker storage available, eggs may be separated and the whites and yolks frozen and stored. They are satisfactory in cooked products.

Consider that the color of the shell is not an indication of quality. The color of the yolk is due to the hen's feed. A light color does not indicate freshness. Color is not an indication of the amount of Vitamin A.

Leave a standing order with a producer if possible. It saves marketing time and may be economical.

Be willing to pay more for eggs of high quality and even size than for eggs of less high quality and uneven size.

IN USING MILK I SHOULD:

Be sure to include the recommended amount in the diet. If income decreases, let milk be among the last foods to decrease. Never use less than half the recommended amount.

Keep in mind that the following amounts of milk products are equal to 1 qt. of whole fluid milk:

17 oz. of evaporated milk plus an equal amount of water. (1 tall can contains 14 1-2 oz.)

1 1-5 cups of powdered whole milk plus 3 1-2 cups of water.

1 qt. of skim milk plus 1 1-2 oz. of butter.

1 qt. of butter-milk plus 1 1-2 oz. of butter.

1-4 lb. cheese.

Make cocoa or fruit-milk beverages if the family does not like milk to drink. Use milk in sauces, pudding, custards, frozen desserts, etc.

IN USING EGGS I SHOULD:

Ask for or select clean eggs. Store them in a dry, cool ventilated place. Use only fresh, clean, unwashed eggs; eggs when storing them in quantity to keep for a long period.

Wash spoiled eggs, if any, as purchased in small quantity before storing in a refrigerator or other cool place.

Use eggs of medium size in flour mixtures, because standard recipes have been planned for this size egg.

Measure egg whites for angel food cake instead of using a definite number of egg whites.

Cook eggs both on top of the stove and in the oven at a fairly low temperature, because high temperature makes them tough.

Add hot ingredients to beaten eggs slowly; not eggs to the hot ingredients.

Measure egg of medium size

Likes Air Corps Branch

Pvt. G. W. Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lutz and brother of Mrs. J. H. Wagoner of Hereford, figures he was really lucky to get in the air corps, though he made no request for that branch of army service when he was inducted.

Lutz was in the group of draftees who left Hereford in March and is now stationed near Bakersfield, Calif., where his training so far has been mostly drill and taking the "shots" given all draftees.

He says he even likes the non-coms in the air corps.

Bud Brady On Furlough

Bud Brady of Medill Field, Fla., arrived last week to spend a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Brady. Bud has been accepted for aviation cadet training, which he will start as soon as he is called back to his army post.

On the trip home he came to Houston by bus and flew to Amarillo; when he is called back to duty he will make the whole trip by air, since he will have only 24 hours' notice to report.

Bud says that he has lost 25 pounds since joining the army but has gained back 15.

Parachuters Train By Hike

Frank Brashear, brother of Mrs. W. S. Rice of Westway, thinks that the system is somewhat out of joint when a parachute trooper has to train by hiking 24 miles in foot deep mud. In fact, he thinks the trials of that celebrated "yoo hoo" regiment were greatly over-rated; but he'll be through with the hiking soon and ready to start real parachute training.

Brashear joined the army at Ft. Sill in January and is now stationed at Camp Roberts, Calif. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Brashear of Corpus Christi, formerly of Hereford.

Hicks Made Highest Grade

Mrs. Cliff Hicks read last week of the record made by three Hereford boys on army intelligence tests and says it just confirms her opinion that Hereford boys are smarter. She backs up her assertion with the record made by her son, Elmo, on tests at the Naval Training Station in San Diego. Elmo made the highest grade in his company.

He is a carpenter in the naval reserve.

Attends Picture Shows But All Part Of Job

Pvt. John W. Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Schneider, thinks that training for a lineman in the signal corps seems to consist of just about everything but climbing. First he marched until his feet were worn off "clear up to the knees," and now he is going to picture shows—in four hour stretches while the army explains to him all about the equipment he will use.

Schneider is stationed with the 90th Signal Corps at Camp Barkley, Tex., at Abilene.

Moved Three Times In Two Months

Pvt. Wm. E. Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dixon, has seen plenty of changes of address since he joined the army air corps in February.

Pvt. Dixon was first sent to Scott Field, Ill., after which he was transferred to Sheppard Field, Tex., and now he is back in Illinois, this time at Chanute Field, where he is attending a mechanics school.

Chanute Field is Dixon's favorite of the places where he has been stationed. The reason is simple—he says the food is better.

CHDA NOTES

By Sadie Lee Oliver

GOOD NEIGHBOR DEPT.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seed brought in a basket full of tall bronze-leaved canna roots, which are being planted by Mrs. V. E. Dodson of Progressive in the yard at her new home. The seeds also have some sumac which they would like to share.

Mrs. Arch Dobbins has some annual phlox which she will be glad to share with some other flower growers. If you saw Mrs. Dobbins' flowers in the Flower Show last fall (they were the flowers grown at the City Water plant) you know she has some very beautiful ones.

J. B. Elliston left about a gallon of parsnip seed at the office of the CHDA last week and it is now packaged for distribution. Mr. Elliston has parsnip plants at his house—also onions and perennial asters.

NEW BULLETINS
A bulletin on Poultry Cooking is not only very attractive in make-up but contains the kind of practical information which housewives demand. Mrs. J. T. Guinn, of Messenger got one of these bulletins and liked it so much that she ordered one for her mother and for each of her two married daughters.

Also new, and on the practical side are bulletins on Dried Fruits in Low Cost Meals, Dried Vegetables in Low Cost Meals, Dried Beans and Peas in Low Cost Meals.

STILL DIG PLANTS
The County Demonstration Agent will still be glad to help you dig plants and make plans for your yard improvements. Remember, the date is any pre-ty Saturday when regular club meetings have not been scheduled.

ITS BINDWEED
That small-flowered morning glory which has been making its appearance so many places in the county is a Bindweed—and very hard to get rid of, as you have probably already discovered.

In fields the best treatment is supposed to be clean cultivation or summer fallowing. After the weed has been weakened, cover crops such as sorghum, sudan and alfalfa will help combat it. A paper mulch is recommended treatment for small areas.

Sodium Chlorate may be used as a spray or sprays of arsenical compounds are also used.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

BEST storekeeper I ever knew was a fellow named Sam Abernethy. Sam's specialty was to take over some run-down store (that somebody else had given up as a failure. Then Sam would turn it into a gold mine.

"But the most important thing of all," he used to say, "is to remember who's Boss!"

"You may think you are Boss of your business... but you're not. The Public, your customers, are the real bosses... and you've got to run your business the way they want it."

That little statement of Sam's made a big impression on me... particularly since it certainly seemed to work so well in Sam's case.

And Sam isn't the only one. I see the beer industry feels the same way... certainly, the brewers believe in running their business the way you and I would like to see it run.

Folks like us like to see beer sold in clean, quiet, decent places.

Well... the brewers feel the same way about it. They don't want their beer sold in wrong surroundings. They know it doesn't pay. And they know it hurts the good name of beer.

I was reading the other day how the brewers and the beer distributors work together and cooperate with law enforcement authorities. The idea is to make careless beer retailers clean up their places and practices... or close up.

It's a good plan... and it seems to me it ought to work. I understand it is already in operation in a number of states and is being extended.

It's a mighty fine thing when a great industry has the gumption to do a job like that on its own initiative. And if Sam Abernethy was right, the brewers should be mighty successful... because they're running their business the way the public wants to see it run.

We All Laid Up Our Cars for the Duration of the War

SUPPOSE, because of the war, all 29,000,000 private automobiles vanished from the road tomorrow? How would the nation get to work to do the job that must be done to win the war? How would defense workers reach their plants on time — eight, ten, twenty miles away? Who would take the children to school and carry home the family food?

Without cars there would be immediate demand for more buses, more trains, more delivery trucks. Stores that feed and clothe America would be forced to deliver their products—at increased prices. To provide transportation for the nation would mean that steel, rubber, power—desperately needed for planes and tanks and ships—must be diverted to civil use.

You have been wanting to do something for America. And, this is one important patriotic thing you can do: KEEP YOUR CAR RUNNING FOR THE DURATION OF THE WAR.

If every car owner should contract with himself to cut in half the weekly driving of himself and family, he would double the essential transportation now available in America's family cars.

Patriotism does not demand that you lay up your car. Just the opposite. Real conservation requires you to keep your car in service for the duration of the war. Don't think of it as a "pleasure car." It's a war car now.

It's History of Jazz

A history of jazz music, but no dead textbook stuff is "Birth of the Blues," Star Theatre attraction, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, which stars Bing Crosby and Mary Martin in a cast which also features such fine players as Brian Donley and little Carolyn Lee, all sharing honors with such famous blues songs as the "Memphis Blues," "St. James Infirmary Blues," and "St. Louis Blues," together with many other old Dixieland favorites. And the story itself is up to the standard set by the music.

HEREFORD

By Jimmie Gillentine

Some people don't recognize "Luck" when it happens to them. Last year the fruit crop in this area was outstanding. Every one grew peaches, cherries, plums and pears—even W. C. Pitman managed to produce a few scrawny peaches. The bad thing about this is the fact that it went to W. C.'s head. He heard some of the old timers say that freezes, such as the one Tuesday and Wednesday, usually got the crop and he has been taking steps to prevent such damage. He read somewhere about smudge pots, so he rigged up some and for the past week has been burning them under his trees. He even gets up in the middle of the night to see if they are still going. W. C. thinks he is "the stuff" when it comes to growing fruit. Personally, I think he is just plain lucky and I can prove it.

People are now complaining because they don't get the early morning broadsides, due to the fact that the City Election is over. Did you ever stop to wonder what would happen if such "carrying-on" happened in Germany?

This week I was looking in the old files for the first advertisement ever published by E. B. Black, and came across the following item: "A clean newspaper is like charity—it covers a multitude of sins. If we should print half the news, it would be for one week only. The next week there would be a fresh grave in Potter's field, a new obituary on the hook and a strange face in heaven." Finally, we found Mr. Black's first ad on April 11, 40 years ago—and he is probably the only man in Texas who can boast that he has not missed having his advertisement in a single issue of his hometown paper since that time. Mr. Black also had the first motor-drawn hearse in the Panhandle, and stands today as one of the most progressive and successful citizens in West Texas.

Pretty soon I am going to accomplish an outstanding feat. I am going to get O. E. Sherman's goat. He lost one of his milk goats a few weeks ago and then ran a "Lost" ad. He found the goat, but he won't pay for the ad and if he doesn't jar loose pretty soon I am going to confiscate the goat. If you are interested in buying some goat milk see me early and make arrangements.

I hope this doesn't turn out like the time Jim Witherspoon took over a circus. The way I heard the story Jim had the whole Tierra Blanca creek lined with tigers, lions and monkeys. The animals ate so much that it kept Jim busy feeding them. He bought up all of the dilapidated horses in this section to feed the lions—and finally worked them off on a zoo somewhere. However, goats eat cans, rags and such like, so I guess I will be safe.

A thing of beauty keeps you broke all the time.

"Spiritual Guidance" Discussed For Junior Pioneer Club Group

Mrs. Ralph Hastings was hostess to members of the Junior Pioneer Club Tuesday evening at her home on East Fifth Street.

After roll call Mrs. O. H. Culpepper gave a three minute review from the Federation News. "Spiritual Guidance" was the theme for discussion. Miss Genevieve Eberle and Mrs. Lilburn Ray made talks on the subject.

In discussing "The Child's Religious Ideas" Mrs. Ray listed the following seven points: "Let the child open his heart—don't rush him; depend on the instinct of the child; Avoid mistakes of confounding conversation on 'religion' with religious conversation; Faith in God's law of growth; Manifestation of child's comprehension; Deal most carefully with the child's consciousness of God; and the use of natural conversation for direct instruction which includes the truthful answering of questions."

Miss Eberle talked on "The Family and the Church" tracing the history of the family as a social institution and pointing out that the main function of the family as a unit is the nurture and care of the children. She stated that the religious function of the family is responsible for establishing the moral and ethical tradition of a society into which a child is to take his place and it largely determines the character of American people. In structure, religion forms a pyramid with the individual as the apex, then the family, then the community church and the regional or national church organization.

The next meeting will feature a "Health" program.

Those attending included Mesdames O. H. Culpepper, Wayne Evans, Meade Halle, Frank Huckert, Lynn Kester, Alton Miller, Elmer Patterson, Lilburn Ray, Ralph Roden, A. J. Scholter, R. S. Scott, Urlin Strey, R. R. Wills, Liston Wilson, Misses Genevieve Eberle and Edna Daughette and the hostess.

In the contract games which followed the dinner high scores were made by Mrs. Jimmie Gillettine and H. A. Close.

Easter Motif Featured At Seated-Tea For Former Hereford Resident

A lovely Saturday party was the seated tea given by Mrs. W. J. Stanford and Mrs. C. H. Dyar complimenting Mrs. C. H. Dillehay, formerly of Hereford and now of Vernon. The tea was given at Mrs. Stanford's home and the hostesses were assisted by Miss Mary Elizabeth Stanford.

Close friends of the honoree and members of the Music Study Club who were co-workers with Mrs. Dillehay when she was president of the club were invited to call from 4 to 5 o'clock and from 5 to 6 o'clock.

The Easter motif was carried out in decorations and in table appointments for tea. Spaced about the living room were bouquets of forsythia golden bell and jonquills. The tea table in the dining room was keynoted by delicate shades of flowers in pink and blue orchid and yellow. An oblong arrangement of hyacinths in those colors blended with tea/dainties and appointments. Icing on the cakes matched the pink, blue, orchid and yellow shades of the flowers. Mrs. Dyar presided at the silver tea service.

Mrs. Dillehay, with Mr. Dillehay and their two daughters, Doris Elaine and Virginia Ann, spent the Easter vacation visiting with friends in Hereford. Mr. Dillehay was superintendent of the Hereford Public Schools for fifteen years, and is now superintendent of schools in Vernon.

Miss Sadie Lee Oliver gave a demonstration in making whole wheat coffee cake and a talk on victory gardens.

Members were asked to go to the Red Cross rooms and quilt on the quilt which is being donated by the club. Mrs. Fred Barrett will be hostess for the next meeting on April 17.

Those present were Mesdames R. A. Fullwood, W. M. Cogdell, Otto Olson, Oscar Vaughn, John Kropff, W. H. Russell, Marshal Wilson, Fred Saltzman, G. A. Frye, Chas. Robbins, Geo. Parker, Misses Evelyn Bell, Sadie Lee Oliver and the hostess.

Let's Cook Something

BAKED POTATOES WITH MILK AND HAM

Peel large white potatoes and slice the round way. Place a layer in a greased baking dish, add salt and pepper to taste and then add a thin sliced layer of raw ham. Repeat a layer of each until baker is nearly full, ending with ham on top. Cover all with sweet milk and bake in moderate oven until the potatoes are tender and the ham is browned.

You might as well be a Pollyanna about priorities. You might as well—because they are here—on foods as well as on rubber, silk and metal. That doesn't mean you will have to do without, but it does mean that you will have to use substitutes and you will have to think of ways to combine foods in order to meet higher costs of living. Since meat has gone sky high, recipes using smaller portions but still satisfying to the taste are in demand. Mrs. Wilbur Kramer, who has been visiting here, brought this one with her from Louisiana. It sounds good and it tastes wonderful.

Easter Banquet Is Highlight For Junior Choir Members And Parents

A full program was arranged for the Easter banquet given for members of the Junior Choir at the Methodist Church social hall Thursday night. The choir members presented the program for the banquet which also complimented parents.

The large "U" shaped table was decorated with an arrangement of Easter lilies and tall white tapers. A line of tiny Easter Eggs in pastel shades traced the center length of the table with large Easter Eggs in those shades placed at each plate for favors. Place cards, also in pastel shades, had the program and menu printed on the inside.

Bedford Forrest was toastmaster for the occasion; J. L. McFarlin gave the invocation; Jesse Click welcomed the guests, and Mrs. Clyde Cocanougher gave the response. An Easter playlet with characters in costume was the highlight of the entertainment. Built around a lighted cross the playlet told an Easter story as the children sang. Taking part in the playlet were Ina Lou Norwood, Barbara Burney, Alice Jean Ruth, Betty Jean Wade, Patsy Slagle, Mary Jo Mathies, Madeline Beavers, Katherine Davis, and Patsy Sanders.

Mrs. H. D. Reed, choir director, told of the purpose and aims of the Junior Choir and of the interest of the children in the organization.

Parents were introduced and little Marilyn Barkley entertained with special music.

Parents attending were Messrs. and Mesdames Ernest Wade, O. L. Rutherford, Elmer Mathies, S. H. Slagle, R. P. Conaway, Leo Forrest, J. L. McFarlin, G. W. Newsom, Chas. Newell, R. C. McGilvary and H. D. Reed and Mesdames O. L. Click, L. W. Carlyle, Homer Hamilton, Clyde Cocanougher, Tom Sanders, Arthur Davis, Ray Johnson, Mrs. Barkley and Rev. and Mrs. M. B. Norwood.

Besides those on the program, members of the Junior Choir attending were John Newsom, Gilbert Carlyle, George and Lillian Hamilton, Jacqueline Newell, Elizabeth Cocanougher, Cherry Ann Forrest, Billie Ray Johnson, Dale and Beverley Barkley, and Margaret Norwood.

How this oil with its modern synthetics—man-made betterments—triumphed in the Certified Death Valley Test. Why it out-mileaged five others more than 2 to 1 . . .

A PEBBLE starting an avalanche that wrecks a town can illustrate one big thing to you about getting full mileage from your oil change this Spring. (Spring change is a serious "must," all authorities warn you.)

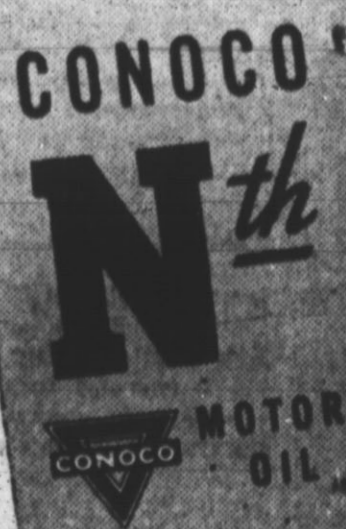

Now folks in the hills take care not to give pebbles any start. And by changing to Conoco Nth motor oil you are taking care not to let thickening sludge get a start in your crankcase. The added modern synthetic . . . man-made Thiathene inhibitor in Conoco Nth . . . is aimed to inhibit or ward off the very start of bad "jelling" that often drags down mileage these days.

And still another synthetic in Conoco Nth has long been noted for its magnet-like way of attaching OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces. OIL-PLATING isn't all constantly draining down. Then instead of plain fluid-type oil film alone, which comes and goes, your engine can have this steadfast OIL-PLATING besides . . . Oil film sliding between OIL-PLATED engine parts!

What's gained in engine life and oil mileage? You can judge from the impartial Death Valley Test. Conoco Nth ran up more than twice the mileage averaged by five big-name quality brands—each run till engine was ruined. Conoco Nth out-mileaged the next-best by 74% and another by 161% . . . certified.

What's the best oil mileage you'd hope for in your own car? See if Conoco Nth doesn't deliver. Your Conoco Mileage Merchant knows your correct Spring grade. Change today. Continental Oil Company

Don't Forget Courtesy

It seems that some of the high school students have not yet realized the importance of being polite. Boys and girls, the older as well as the younger, all need improvement on manners. Some young people have forgotten how to say "Pardon me" or "Thank you." Is it that they don't know better, or are they careless? Generally, they are just forgetful about those kindnesses.

Are You a Good Buyer

How do you rate as a consumer buyer? All people who buy goods of any kind are consumers. Do you realize that your buying habits can have a great influence on the economics of the nation? Do you buy wisely and intelligently, or is your buying of the haphazard, spur-of-the-moment buying? Perhaps you do not know how your rate as a consumer buyer, when you are getting your money's worth, or whether a bargain is always a bargain. Some aids for consumer buying are: first, know what you want before entering a shop; how much you want to spend, what quality you desire, etc. Plan your buying while at home where you can make your decisions uninfluenced by the opinion of salespeople. Second, read all labels on all goods; study them carefully, and refrain from purchasing articles which are unlabeled. Third, patronize business houses that are related, clean and sanitary, and whose management is interested in satisfied customers. Fourth, profit by your former experi-

Senior Personalities

Donald Ray McCullough opened his hazel "peepers" December 25 (guess when that is), 1925 at Lawton, Okla. He claims to look down from 6 feet 1 3/4 inches and weighs 142 pounds. His eyes are hazel as previously described and his hair is brown. Donald Ray likes candy very much, but greatly dislikes hard algebra problems. Before we neglect to mention it, he is also the baby of the Senior Class, being the last to open his eyes on the cruel world. He has been a member of the Staff, member of the band for 5 years, member of the orchestra for 4 years, Glee Club member, formerly belonged to the Boy Scouts, has been a debater, a member of the Hi-Y. He was editor of the class paper, his sophomore year and the same year was a representative to the I. L. P. C. at Austin. During his Junior year, Donald Ray won a second rating at the National Contest of Music in Waco. This year he attended Officers' Camp at the Hi-Y Encampment. His record of perfect attendance and no tardy records for 4 years is unusual. Donald Ray plans to attend Texas A & M and study to be a mechanical engineer.

Betty Jo Potter was born January 8, 1923, in the city of Panhandle, Texas. She has blond hair (one of those rarities in school) and blue eyes. She stands at 5 feet 7 inches and weighs 122 pounds. As most blondes, she has a fair complexion. Her hobby is recalling names of people she has met, and she likes Spanish and History as courses in school; also she likes friendly people. She dislikes conceited people. She was a member of the Glee Club for two years. After graduation, she plans to attend college, but is uncertain as to which one. She wants to train to become an English, History, or language teacher.

Helen Reinart was born June 14, 1925, in the populous little town of Hereford. She has big blue eyes, auburn hair, and fair complexion. She stands at 5 feet 7 inches and weighs 113 pounds. She really likes dancing and reading, enjoys this hobby anytime. She is simply "cuh-razy" about pickles and hates honey. Helen does not plan to attend college and says, if necessary, she wouldn't mind driving a tractor after graduation. Helen makes good grades and enjoys her school work, especially this, her senior year.

Leo Rudd was born February 20, 1924, in the fastest growing little city of the Southwest, Hereford, Texas. He has light brown hair and blue eyes. Leo is 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 168 pounds which puts him in line with the "tall seniors." He likes to read and enjoys speech work in school. A special hobby of his is collecting names, and he enjoys making new acquaintances. Leo has been a member of the F. F. A.

Mr. Anderson: "Lols, can you give me Napoleon's nationality?"
Lols Henderson: "Course I can."
Mr. Anderson: "Yes, that's correct—Corsican."

Evelyn W.: "Could you marry a girl with a picture face?"
Harold Harvey: "Sure, if she had a pretty good frame."

ence in buying. If that "mighty nice" can of peaches was not good, don't buy that brand again. If the rockers break on that "Kozey" chair, why buy a "Kozey" table?

SCHOOL DAZE

Have you ever noticed what the school kids write on their notebooks and book covers? Well, your roving reporter has; so he will tell you.

Some bright Freshman wrote "Open all night" on his book but a brighter Sophomore wrote "Closed during working hours," and the brightest one, a Senior, put "Closed Saturday, Sunday, School days, and Holidays." Some one, we don't know who, has on his books the classes birthstones: "Freshman, Emerald; anything green; Sophomores, Moonstone—they fall in love about this age; Juniors, Grindstone—Ask the Juniors why; Seniors, Tombstone—4 years would kill anybody."

A certain Sophomore has a want-ad column on his English book, "Lost—One good, unused brain cell. If found please return to the Biology lab." You will always find initials on some body's notebook, and on a Junior girl's, we found these: G. M. J. L.; W. W.-D. R.; L. L.-F. H.—etc.

These Freshmen haven't grown up yet. On one notebook we found "Who's Yehudi?" Evidently they don't know he's the man who wouldn't walk a girl home, even if she had a rubber tire around her neck. The Sophomores catch on to fads very quickly. One girl wrote on her notebook "Dip me in rubber and call me priceless." Nearly every football fan in H. H. S. writes "Yea Whitefaces" on his books. Some are more definite. One Senior girl always writes "Yea, Davis" on her books. Then there are some students who don't have anything written on their books but "English III, Fourth Period."

Juniors Hear Report

About the only real business at the Junior meeting last Wednesday was the treasurer's report by Kathryn Danforth, who read the amount paid by each student in class dues, up to March. Miss Foster reported on the expenses of the banquet and asked everyone who had a record to get it from her as soon as possible, which still goes.

Lack of business "forced" the meeting to close, and there being no program, the students were free to study for six weeks' tests.

Public Opinion

Self-Control Is Basis Study For Tri-Hi-Y

Everyone should learn to have more self-control. A person needs to control not only his temper and emotions, but also his body so that it will give him the best service.

Mary Lookingbill led the Tri-Hi-Y program on "Self-control" Tuesday evening, March 31. The program opened by the entire group singing "I Would Be True." Margaret Barrett read the scripture, Nona Deen Rose gave a talk, "Our Body as the Temple of God." In this talk she brought out the fact that we need to keep our bodies clean at all times. We should want our bodies to look their best. Good health habits, such as going to bed early should be practiced. If one does this, he is going to look better and feel much better.

Mary Lookingbill read an article, "Victory for Physical Fitness." Rachel Ireland and Ruth Temple Hastings played a clarinet duet, "Abide With Me." Lilye London and Mary Ellen Henslee gave a skit demonstrating a girl talking to her grandmother about one of her "passing fancies." This fancy happened to be the girl's falling in love with older men. Her grandmother told her not to worry because this was natural, and she would forget this as she grew older.

Miss Crawford gave an interesting talk on "Temperance," discussing the amount of drinking done in the United States and its effect on the individual and on the nation as a whole.

HINTS OF SPRING

VERA REA
The blossoms on the peach tree,
The tingling in the air,
Warm breezes as they greet me,
Hint that spring is in the air.

The whistling of the old folks,
The jolly things they say,
The lightness of their carefree jokes,
Tell us that spring is on the way.

The little children skipping,
Girls with ribbons in their hair,
The honey-bees a-nipping
On the flowers here and there.

The sparrows in the tree tops,
Singing after their night's rest,
The melting of the dew-drops,
In nature's soft caress.

Green coloring of the grasses
Waving over hill and plain,
Is Nature's way of telling us
That spring is here again.

Have You Noticed . . .

Mary Ann Acker's cute little pin?

The gift the Seniors gave Miss Crawford?

That Miss Rigler primps at the end of every period?

That Miss Ramey erases the blackboard in the study hall every morning?

That practically every locker is not always tidy and the doors hang open?

That the halls seem to be a place of gossip every morning before 9:30?

Some of the girls' new hair cuts?

The museum in Mr. Anderson's room?

That the Seniors can hardly wait until school is out?

That the period from 9:00 to 9:30 is always quiet and peaceful in the study hall?

That Mr. Stanton always "loafs away" 5th period in the library?

Three certain girls always visit the post office before and after school? (too bad, we don't have someone to write us.)

That a certain junior girl writes notes to a certain freshman boy?

That some of the students have spring fever?

That some girls always have to go to town at noon?

That Mr. Ware looks unusually happy because Mrs. Ware returned with him after Easter?

That the Glee Club practices in the auditorium nearly every day?

Miss Hall's attractive, finger-nails?

Officer: "What's your name?"
Draftee: "Quitz Jones, sir."

Boys To Commence Football Training

Today, Thursday, April 9th, the football boys start spring training. The training will last thirty calendar days. Probably there will be some bad weather and some days they cannot practice. They hope they will have some pretty weather so they can practice, so as to have a good football team next year.

The players for next year and their position are as follows: Centers—Earl Hussey, Billy Dameron, Billy Boone Whitaker and Charles Skelton; Right Guards—Billy Kendall, George Olson and Leo Ohlig; Left Guards—Ted Higgins, Tom Wilson, Ernest Ford, C. W. Reeves and Carl Henington; Right Tackles—Lloyd Manjeot, V. C. Hopson, Calvin Ford, J. W. Robinson; Left Tackles—Kenneth Rudd, Carl Johnson, Todd Herrington and David Phillips; Right Ends—Foster Hill, Leroy Suttle and Wallace Huff; Left Ends—Daniel Russell, L. H. Lookingbill, Eugene Sparks, Lee Roy Boyer; Right Half—George Weems, Thurman Williamson, Leroy Foster, Harold Clark; Left Half—J. W. Merrill, Clyde Brock, Carroll Lisenbe, Elvin Wilson; Full Back—Lloyd Olson, S. D. Foster, Billy London; Quarter Backs—Donald Roberson, Billy Gene Massey.

Coach Ware says some of these boys will drop out before long. Good luck to the boys who make the football team for 1942-43.

What's To Become of Us?

Six more weeks! Then what? Have you been thinking seriously about what you will do when school is out? Do you already have plans?

Some of us will be leaving and some of us will never see others again. Some of us will continue school, and others will go to work.

But what about our boys? Some of them will join Uncle Sam's boys in khaki. Some will be sent to foreign fields never to return. Boys that we have grown up with, that we have known all our lives, are going to war.

And what are the rest of us going to be doing? Going to school? Going to work? Getting married? Whatever, it is, let's remember that there is a war going on. Let's do our part.

H. H. S. Has Visitor From Hardin-Simmons

E. B. Posey, Jr., who is a Junior in Hardin-Simmons, Abilene, visited in high school last week. Even though E. B. graduated from H. H. S. in 1939, he still thinks this is an A-1 school. He is majoring in secondary education with emphasis on mathematics and English. He is a member of the famous Cowboy band and also a member of the Alpha Chi, a scholarship society. To be eligible for membership in this organization, one must have an average of 85 and be in the upper ten percent of the class; only Juniors and Seniors are entitled to membership. Besides maintaining a high scholastic record, E. B. is defraying his expenses by being night bookkeeper at the Longhorn Creamery. He says if the armed forces don't get him too soon, he hopes to get his degree and possibly teach. Luck to you, E. B.

Band Takes Trip

The Whiteface Band went to Amarillo Monday to participate in the All Army Day Parade. The parade was to honor three six star mothers and one seven star mother. To the best of knowledge these are the only 6 and 7 star mothers in the United States.

There were other bands from different parts of the Panhandle and many colorful floats in the parade.

This trip was the first the band had taken in a long time, but they have not been idle by any means. The band is now working on their pieces for the music contest in Amarillo the last of April. Last year at the contest the band made a first rating, and they hope to equal this again this year.

Miss Davies: "What is etiquette, S. D.?"

S. D. Foster: "Etiquette is the noise you don't make when you are eating."

Wilfred Herr: "Betty Jo Potter is a wonder. She actually talks with her eyes."

Luther Worley: "Yes, and I suppose that when she feels like using strong language she just gives a cursory glance."

Anthony H.: "Women endure pain much better than men do."

George T.: "Who told you that, the doctor?"

Anthony: "No, the shoe dealer."

a victory for present city policies. Mayor Paddock and Commissioners Gass and Witherspoon expressed their appreciation to Hereford voters for the confidence placed in them and stated that they would continue to fulfill their duties in the city administration in the interest of efficiency and good government.

Charm Of

that is a sort of mixture of Danish and German. They don't believe in baths, or else they just don't have any facilities for personal cleanliness, and the Hereford boy says that one of the best things he saw when he got home was just clean American people.

Eskimo Nell Is Toothless
The Icelanders live on a diet of fish, potatoes, sheep and horse-meat—which is the sort of food you will find in public eating places in the town. Considering the diet, it's no wonder that the Icelanders begin to lose their teeth when they are about 20. But it's pretty disillusioning to see what looks like a pretty girl and then have her break loose in a snaggle-toothed smile, according to the returned marines, who say that if they came from the locality with the best dental health in the world, they certainly were sent to the worst.

"Of recreational facilities there just weren't any," Smith and Vaughn say, pointing out that just about the only recreation offered were movies, English and American, and of definitely ancient vintage. "Some of them were three years old—the new ones," Smith declared.

Vaughn says that some of the boys got up a band and they had dances, handicapped by the fact that none of the native girls danced. But they learned fast and wanted to "jitterbug" because they thought that was the American thing to do.

Thought Americans Gangsters
Evidently the native girls and all the Icelanders got their idea of Americans from movies. "They thought we were all gangsters or millionaires," say the Hereford boys. "And they were just about as hostile as if we had been gangsters and they charged us like we were millionaires."

Won't Go There Any More
Smith, who is in the infantry in a rifle company, was in the first marine contingent to arrive in Iceland and he will leave Sunday for San Diego, where he will help train recruits. This was his first visit home in the 19 months since he joined the marines and he has spent the past week here with his mother, Mrs. Vera

Smith.
"What was the first thing I wanted to do after I got back to the States?" says Smith. "Well, we had all kidded a lot about that, but I think I really wanted to just stand on the street and know that anybody I spoke to would answer in my own language."

Vaughn, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wood Vaughn, is a wireless operator. He has been in the marines for 14 months; says the marines are O.K. but for his next foreign service he would like to go to Australia or somewhere that's a little more like home.

SINCE THAT TIME

Things have changed . . . again and again . . . the old surrey gave away to the automobile and a lot of folks thought the country was ruined. Then the airplane came along and some people figured we were going to the dogs for sure. Somehow, the country managed to progress, though. We have seen this old United States weather three depressions—and it would be impossible to count the sandstorms we have seen since this business started.

When E. B. BLACK CO. was just at the age of "Sweet Sixteen" a fellow, called The Kaiser, got big ideas, and things looked pretty bad for quite a while. However, we all took our belts up a notch and went to work—and the rest is history. Again, our country is in trouble . . . just because a paper-hanger got big ideas. During this time, we've seen a lot of people and we have come to know what Americans stand for, what they believe and what they can do when they buckle down to the job—and we're telling you that things will turn out right.

DURING ALL OF THIS

E. B. BLACK CO. has always tried to live up to the ideal of selling merchandise at Fair Prices and of treating our customers as our friends, and upon this occasion, we want to say,

"THANK YOU"

. . . and to assure you that we hope to continue serving you in an efficient manner with dependable merchandise.
