

Around Town

Sights and Faces Seen

When Southpaw Billy Smith got into the Navy, he probably won't be able to march or at least will want to do it all on his left foot. That is, it seems entirely possible with Bill's left-handed experiences during the past week. Last Tuesday, he married Maye Wilkins (she's left-handed). He bought the license from Willie London, who is also left-handed; and Rev. Jimmie Aiken, the officiating minister at the ceremony was—you guessed it—left-handed.

Jno. McLean gives us this clipping which shows why YOU ought to do your part right now in this scrap drive:

"If we don't get busy, there will be plenty of scrap. The enemy will provide it, with bombings, and we will be picking pieces of scrap off the streets and out of the bodies of American citizens."

J. M. Hopwood, President, War Materials, Inc.

Nowadays the real job is to find the bacon—not to bring it home. Take it from Mrs. G. M. Hudson who said last Saturday that there was absolutely no bacon in town.

There may have been a few unhappy "sure thing" betters, but for the most part those pleased faces which showed up in town Monday after the Cards won the World Series simply reflected the natural delight of the American people in the victory of an underdog.

The Whitefaces may have a more loyal roster than Mrs. A. L. Manjot, but we haven't seen him yet.

Mrs. Dorothy Ross is leaving this week for Lowery Field, Denver, Colo., where she will see her son, Floyd, get his aerial photographer's wings. Mrs. Frank Gyles will be in charge of the Hereford Credit Association office while Mrs. Ross is out of town.

M. U. May of Dimmitt was in Hereford yesterday buying some supplies and doing a little promotion work for the Castro County Fair, scheduled for tomorrow at Dimmitt. There will be a good livestock display, home economics exhibits, a free football game (Dimmitt and the Plainview B team) at two o'clock, and a rodeo and parade.

J. W. Kellogg Killed On Hunt

J. W. Kellogg of Tulla, owner of Kellogg's Variety Store in Hereford and for several years active in business life here, was accidentally shot and killed Sunday morning in mountainous elk country north of Meeker, Colo.

Kellogg was shot through the upper chest by Jim Wymore of Salina, Kan., member of another hunting party, who apparently either mistook the movements of the horse Kellogg was riding for those of an elk, or fired at an elk not knowing the other hunter was in the line of fire. The accident occurred about 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Kellogg was unconscious when found but regained consciousness shortly before he died.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. J. Hoyt Boles from the First Presbyterian Church of Tulla this afternoon at three o'clock. Burial will be in the Rose Hill Cemetery at Tulla.

A daughter of Mr. Kellogg, Mrs. Van Barbour, lives in Hereford.

Proclamation

By The GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME:

WHEREAS, the prevention of fires is of vital importance to the success of the nation's war effort; and

WHEREAS, the production of materials essential to the prosecution of the war by our nation is taxing the capacity of industrial plants, and curtailment of production because of fire becomes a menace to our own safety; and

WHEREAS, war production has made it necessary to stop the manufacture of many lines of civilian goods, including building materials; and

WHEREAS, throughout its history the State of Texas has suffered loss of lives and property due to fire; and

WHEREAS, statistics on fire losses reveal that the cause of fires, to a large extent, can be controlled by intensive education and intelligent law enforcement; and

WHEREAS, due to the national emergency during time of war, the safety of human lives, and in the interest of sound economy, it is the patriotic duty of every citizen of Texas to aid in the prevention of fires;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Coke Stevenson, Governor of the State of Texas, hereby proclaim the week of October 4 to 10, 1942, as FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

In Texas, Citizens of Texas, particularly civic, school, Civilian Defense, and municipal organizations, are called upon to emphasize the danger of fire and to encourage the adoption and enforcement of fire prevention rules and regulations in an effort to lessen the disastrous consequences of fire.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the State of Texas to be affixed hereto on this 15th day of September, A. D., 1942.

Methodist To Have School of Evangelism

Rev. B. L. Nance will arrive this week to conduct a two-week School of Evangelism at the First Methodist Church where services will start Sunday. Special revival services will be held on Sundays at 10:50 a. m. and 8:00 p. m.; Rev. Nance will lead in a program of visitation evangelism and the pastor, Rev. Marvin B. Norwood will conduct a study course on "Methodism at Work."

Bishop Ivan Lee Hold of the Dallas area will preach at a dedication service Sunday morning, Oct. 18, when Hereford Methodists will celebrate the completion of payment on a $10,000 church debt, $6,500 of which has been paid off this year. The dedication service will be in the form of a Home Coming and ladies of the church will serve dinner to members and visitors in the church basement at noon.

During the past three years nearly 200 new members have been added to the Methodist church rolls, $7,500 has been paid on indebtedness and gifts to missions and benevolences has increased nearly 100 per cent, the pastor states.

Demonstration Clubs Go On Recipe Hunt

Deaf Smith County home demonstration club members are going on a recipe hunt. They especially want sugarless recipes and recipes using whole-wheat products, but they are eager to get a copy of a favorite recipe from every housewife in the Hereford territory. Anticipating meat rationing, the clubs would also like to have recipes for dishes using meat substitutes.

The recipes are needed for the cookbook which the clubs plan to publish soon, and Mrs. Merlin Kaul urged this week that housewives turn in a favorite recipe to her or leave a copy at the office of the county home demonstration agent within the next two weeks, so the club can start figuring on publication costs.

"We want this cookbook to represent the territory," Mrs. Kaul says, urging that women turn in the recipes immediately.

A Few Drivers Licenses Not Yet Renewed And November 1-Closing Date

If your old driver's license has not been renewed, make application for renewal before Nov. 1, says J. O. Reese of the State Highway Patrol.

Renewal forms may be secured at the sheriff's office, Mr. Reese says, and the state license inspector is here on Tuesday each week to give driver's examinations.

Most licenses in the county have already been renewed but a few drivers have not yet filed renewal applications.

Eight Men Enlist In Armed Forces

Percentage of voluntary enlistments of Deaf Smith County men in the armed services was up sharply this week as eight men enlisted in various branches.

The following men have been accepted in Army Air Corps, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard:

- Samuel Lloyd Harman, Jr., Air Corps, specialist.
- Ray Thomas Brown and Richard P. Barnard, Marine Corps.
- T. B. Bailey, Coast Guard.
- Ray W. Morrison, Navy.
- Bill Alexander, Montgomery, Army Air Corps Reserve.
- Lige Cawthon, Navy.
- R. A. Daniel, Air Corps specialist.

Scouts Receive Badges, Promotions Monday Night

J. W. Jackson received his tenderfoot badge and Felix Pyka was made a patrol leader of the Pine Tree Patrol at the regular Monday night meeting of Troop One this week.

J. W. Jackson, who received his tenderfoot badge, was ordered to wear it upside down for 24 hours or until he had done a good turn. Edward Roberson received his service star for three years' service in the Troop and Thurman Williamson received his fifth service star.

The court of honor, originally scheduled for Oct. 8, has been postponed until Oct. 22.

Classifications From Local Selective Service

Classified this week by the Deaf Smith County Selective Service Board were the following men:

- I-A
John Gordon Higgins, George W. Griffith, Elton C. Hopson, Gus Pedde, George E. Hurst, Thomas C. Guffee.

- II-A
John McQuarter Farr. (Registrant, classified I-A by local board, took case to Appeal Board No. 9 in Amarillo, which classified him II-A for six months).
- Anthony Forest Marnell, same as above.

- I-C
(Already in Service)
Wallace H. Miles, Bruce Washington Jones (enlisted), Cecil O. Snellgroves, James H. Bayne (enlisted).

Lance Takes Part In Solomons Battle

Pfc. Earl Lance, Jr., of the U. S. Marines writes that "we pulled Pearl Harbor on the Japs" in the initial attack on the Solomon Islands, in which the Hereford took part.

In the first attack, according to a letter received this week by Lance's parents, the American forces bagged eight Jap planes. And the next day, "48 planes left from a base, seven were downed by our aircraft before they reached us—and we knowed down 20 and 12 were downed while they were leaving". Some of these planes were shot down within 50 yards of Lance's ship, whose guns accounted for five Jap losses. Lance reports that in the Naval battle which followed the first stages of the Solomon's battle, the American forces took a heavy toll on the Jap fleet, with only slight American losses.

Pointing out that this was the first American offensive since the start of hostilities, Lance writes, "you can see the American fleet is doing all right for herself and probably more so in the future."

Lance is probably still in the South Pacific, and when he wrote this letter on Aug. 11 had not been on land except for four hour liberty spots on an island, since he crossed the equator—evidently several weeks previously. He hopes to get back to the States in time to spend Christmas with his family.

Victory Concerts To Boost Stamp Sales

Victory Concerts, the latest means of advancing sale of War Stamps and Bonds, will start here next Thursday night, Oct. 15, when the High School Band will play a concert starting at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium. The first concert will be sponsored by the high school F. H. T. Club and subsequent concerts will have sponsors in school and community organizations.

Complete Victory Concert schedule is as follows: Oct. 15; Nov. 19, Dec. 17, Jan. 21, Feb. 18, and Mar. 13. All concerts will be at the high school auditorium and will start at 8 o'clock p. m.

Proclaimed by Governor Stevenson, Victory Concerts have proved successful in other towns in promoting stamp and bond sales; also, according to the governor's proclamation, the concerts will be morale builders and help answer the need for community recreation.

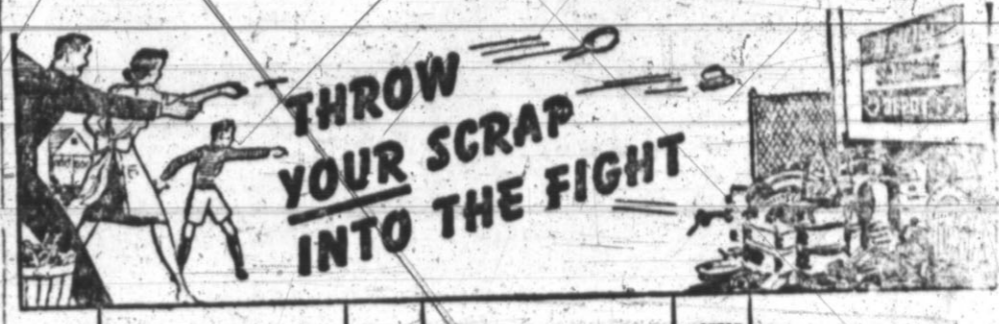

Stamps and bonds will be on sale at the high school auditorium and purchase of a stamp or bond of any denomination will give admission to the concert.

Still Over Quota
Claude Ricketts, chairman of the county bond sale committee, announced this week that sales are still running ahead of the quota. In the month of September, cash sales amounted to $29,268.25, as compared to a quota of $21,600.

Farmers Log In Signing Parity Payment Papers

There are still many farmers in Deaf Smith County who have not yet signed parity payment applications, according to F. G. Collier of the County AAA office. These applications need only the farmer's signature to make them ready to go through for payment, Collier says, urging that farmers come by the office immediately and sign up for parity payments.

Mrs. Dyar's Sister Dies In Amarillo

Mrs. Harry Johnson of Amarillo died at her home Tuesday night following a several month's illness. Funeral services were scheduled at the First Christian Church this afternoon at two o'clock.

Mrs. Johnson was a sister of Mrs. C. H. Dyar and lived in Hereford for several years with her parents, the late Rev. and Mrs. T. G. Nance. Besides her husband she leaves two children, Betty Johnson and Harry, Jr.

Baptist Revival To End Sunday

Church officials this week urged all Hereford people to attend the remaining sessions of the Baptist revival which closes Sunday night.

Dr. McKinley Norman, evangelist, has been bringing some excellent messages and several additions have been made to the church this week, officials state.

Dairy Forced To Cut Out Milk Deliveries Here

Stating that because of the increased price of labor he has been unable to keep up delivery service at the regular standard to which customers are accustomed, Dick Walker of the Cream O' Plains Dairy announced this week that all delivery service—both wholesale and retail—will be stopped effective Saturday, Oct. 10.

Milk will be kept at the dairy's cold storage lockers, across the street, east, from the courthouse and all customers can call there for milk of the same grade and quality which has been delivered. Prices will remain the same, which, Mr. Walker points out, is three to four cents lower than in neighboring towns.

In fact, since the price of milk comes under ceiling price control, the local dairy has been unable to raise prices enough to take care of the greatly increased wage scale necessary to compete with war project wage levels.

Rain of — Inches Falls Here Friday Night

It rained Friday night. Which is just about as definite as any careful reporter would want to be when the City's rain gauge showed .86 inches, and Snopks Bailey, official government observer at the State Park, reported 1.25 inches.

Maybe the City's weather gauge has a leak, or maybe Bailey's fell in the creek—or maybe it just naturally rains more out in the park.

But just to be on the safe side, say only, "It rained Friday night!"

tended the convention of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women held in Lubbock Sunday. They included Mrs. Gene Loerwald, Mrs. W. J. Albracht, Mrs. Agnes Cardinal, Miss Pauline Loerwald and Miss Adeline Koelzer.

General theme for the convention was "Inter-American Relations" with highlighting talks made by Bishop Fitzsimon of Amarillo and Dr. C. E. Quillen. During the business session Mrs. Gene Loerwald was named recording secretary for the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women.

Girl Weather Observers Wanted By Uncle Sam

Uncle Sam is looking for men and women — but especially the girls — to go to work in the weather bureau, Elmer Patterson, secretary, local Board of U. S. Civil Service examiners, announced today. Applicants should be at least 17 years old and have a high school education or its equivalent. They'll have to pass a mechanical aptitude test to qualify.

The fledgling weathermen (or weatherwomen) will be known as junior observers in meteorology, and will draw down $120 a month while they're in a three month's course of instruction on weather observing, weather coding, and the plotting of weather data on maps.

Interesting Program Marks First County Federation of Clubs Meet

The first quarterly luncheon of the club year was held by the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs at the First Christian Church Monday. Hostesses clubs were Garden Club, Summerfield Study Club and L. A. E. Club.

During the luncheon hour little Miss Joyce Ann Miller of Friona entertained with three vocal numbers accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John Jacobsen, Jr. She sang "Little Boy Blue," "We're All Americans" and "The Slumber Boat."

The program for the afternoon was sponsored by the Garden Club, Pioneer Club and Ford Study Club. Mrs. A. L. Manjeot was chairman of the program which had for a theme "Thought For Fall."

In a timely and instructive discussion Mrs. Homer Brumley spoke on "Putting Your Garden to Bed." Mrs. P. H. Gilliland gave a comprehensive and interesting talk on "Education for Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness."

After the program Mrs. Robert Vogel, county federation president, conducted a business meeting when chairman for the remaining programs of the year were announced. The Dec. 7 meeting will have Mrs. Liston Wilson as chairman, Mrs. A. J. Schroeter will serve as chairman for the March 1 program, and Mrs. H. L. Broadwell will be chairman for the May 3, and concluding program.

Band Group Has Business-Social Session Thursday

The monthly business and social session of the Band and Orchestra Parents Association was held Thursday night at the high school.

Mrs. T. W. Roberson, president, presided at the business meeting and members voted to sponsor a band concert once each month to feature the sale of war bonds and stamps. This action was taken after director Ralph Smith read a letter from Governor Coke Stevenson requesting the group to sponsor such programs.

Halloween decorations were used for the forty-two party which followed the business meeting. Orange shaded flowers in black vases suggested October time and refreshments emphasized the orange and black colors.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mesdames R. G. Blue, Bonnie Brumley, Hugh Bookout, J. J. Buckner, Fred Barrett and Hall Beavers.

North Hereford Club Will Tour Business District

Members of the North Hereford Home Demonstration Club voted to make a tour of business firms of Hereford at the time of the next regular meeting on Oct. 15. Members of the club will meet at the court house at 2 o'clock and make the tour in a group.

The regular meeting of the club was held at the home of Mrs. Otto Olson Friday afternoon with Mrs. Louise Olson as assistant hostess.

Miss Doris Leggett and Miss Sadie Lee Oliver spoke on the various methods of preserving food for winter and Miss Oliver described Mrs. Lee Cocanougher's ventilated pantry.

A report on the cook books now being compiled by the club, was given by Mrs. R. A. Fullwood, and members voted to send money contributions to the Social Center in Amarillo for the purpose of buying cookies for the soldiers. Mrs. Earl DeHart displayed a lap robe recently completed for the Red Cross.

After a recreational period conducted by Mrs. G. A. Frye, refreshments were served to Mesdames R. A. Fullwood, W. H. Jewell, John Miller, Grady Parsons, Jerry Albracht, Geo. Parker, Earl DeHart, Oscar Vaughn, Frank Wilde, G. A. Frye, Joe Bodkin, Misses Doris Leggett, Sadie Lee Oliver, Evelyn Bell, Nancy and Christine Olson and the hostesses.

Summerfield Club Has Meeting In O. B. Sumner Home

Summerfield Study Club met at the home of Mrs. O. B. Sumner Thursday afternoon with Mrs. B. E. Roberson acting as assistant hostess.

Mrs. Ray Johnson was leader of the program. She discussed "Town Meeting Tonight" taken from the Atlantic Magazine. She told of the purpose of the town meeting quoting from George Denny who says, "It is believed that the principles of the early town meeting can do more than any other one thing to help Americans reason together with honesty and integrity about their common problems. We have too much knowledge without wisdom, reason without faith. This was the symptomatic of ills which have yet to be diagnosed, because we have been so far, unwilling to face all the facts honestly. The power of the program 'Town Meeting Tonight' comes from real study of real situations and discussions based on that study." Mrs. Jim Clark gave a dis-

FIRE INSURANCE

Texas fixes the Fire Insurance rates for all classes of property. All Fire Insurance Companies must comply with these state rates.

Most of the larger stock fire insurance companies operate in fleets; that is a large fire insurance company owns several smaller companies, which operate under different names.

Mutual fire insurance companies operate in pools. The companies in the pool are each liable for the obligations of each neighbor.

The only real difference between a Stock Fire Insurance Company and a Mutual is that whatever profits there are in stock companies goes to its stockholders; and in a mutual these profits go to its policy holders.

Each class is good. Each puts up reserves and maintains surpluses to protect the Policy Holders.

I represent the only Old Line Mutual Fire Insurance Company in Hereford. It is backed by assets of more than Eighteen Million dollars. On good brick business houses, the annual dividends run from 35 per cent to 40 percent.

On all dwellings within 1000 feet of a fire hydrant, we advance a 25 per cent dividend when you pay your premium.

If you are insured with me and have a loss, I'm the fellow who adjusts your losses.

If you can save 25 per cent to 40 per cent of your Fire Insurance Premium, and have the best protection, then that is good business. A good many people here are doing this; and some are buying War Stamps and Bonds with the money saved. See me and let me show you.

Each year a group of rugged individuals gather on the old T-Anchor headquarters near Canyon to recall days when the cowboy was symbolic of our West Texas Plains. Chiefly, the group consists of men who rode range for the world famous ranoh, and of their families. However, the few outsiders who attended the reunions consider it a great privilege—and it becomes an occasion which they long remember.

On August 27 the annual reunion was held and a large delegation represented this community as usual Chas. E. Coombes of Stamford was the principle speaker of the occasion, and his talk was so interesting, colored with a tinge of old-time cowboy lingo that it went on record as one of the best in history of the organization. With the assistance of Jim Hill, we have been able to secure a copy of the talk. It is printed below.

and the column is this week dedicated to those men of our community who once rode, worked and sweated on the T-Anchor range, men who made possible life as we know it today.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

"For the gracious and flattering introduction I have just received I am very grateful to John McCarty, your efficient master of ceremonies and to you.

At the last moment it seemed I did not have time to make the trip up here. So, I called Mr. Timmons and tried to beg off. He insisted that you would be disappointed if I failed and I came on and I am glad I am here. A story may illustrate how Mr. Timmons felt about it.

Up in the mountains of Arkansas a mountaineer observed his neighbor going by one morning with a bunch of hogs, and said: "Say Jim! Where are you going with them hogs?" Jim replied: "I am taking them up into the mountains to the acorns." "Well," said the mountaineer, "I notice you take them up into the mountains every morning and bring them back every afternoon. Why don't you just leave them up there and save time?" "Save time, hell!" said Jim. "What's time to a hog?"

It is a great honor and privilege to speak to this fine group of ranchmen, cowboys and their families and guests. I greet you as the makers of West Texas history.

HOWDY!

Howdy is a word coined in the mints of paradise and freighted with the sweetest sentiments of love.

It is a salutation coextensive with the habitation of the English speaking people and has joined the hands and hearts of friends in every clime.

It is confined to no sect or society, but is in common usage alike with high and low, rich and poor.

It is glad some, hearty and healthful, sweet, harmonious and beautiful.

Howdy! See how it sounds? It takes the place of words of similar import in other languages and in lieu of the holy kiss in ancient religious circles.

It has a ripple to it like the laughter of children and vibrates a chord of the human heart.

It has a warmth like that of the glowing morning sun as it sends its gladdening rays over the earth and is as soothing as the gentle zephyrs of an evening breeze.

It means one thing to a friend, another to a lover, one thing to an equal and another to a superior; but in every circumstance and condition in life, it is still the echo of the human heart, the dear word of our mother tongue.

It is a word of welcome, of hearty hospitality.

It is enquiring, searching and sentimental, simple, comprehensive and sublime.

To each of you with all the word implies, heartily, enderly, yes, kindly, I greet you with howdy.

After all I am here of my own accord, in response to your generous invitation.

In the mountains of Arkansas a hunter was in hot pursuit of a wildcat when the wild cat ran in a cabin on the side of the mountain. When the hunter came up the old mountaineer was sitting on his front gallery smoking his cob pipe. The hunter, enquired, "Did you see a wild cat go this way?" "Yes," said the mountaineer. "Where did it go?" said the hunter. "In that that cabin," replied the mountaineer. "Who is in there?" asked the hunter. "Nobody but the old woman," answered the mountaineer. "Well," said the hunter, "Aint you going to do anything about it?" "Hell, No," replied the mountaineer, "he went in there of his own accord."

Most of my stories are in pairs, one for the men and one for the women. The one I have just told was for the men. Now, I will tell another one for the women.

At the close of his days labors one of these dictatorial, self-assertive, have your own way kind of husbands returned home to a quiet, unassuming, self sacrificing sweet little woman who met her husband at the door and kissed the old devil. Then she removed his coat and helped him on with his smoking jacket, escorted him to an easy chair by the fire, removed his shoes and put his slippers on him, gave him the evening paper to read, and then sat down on a stool at his feet to anticipate what his next requirement might be. In a few moments he heaved a sigh, and she said, "What is it dear?" "I was just wondering," said he, "how I am going to get my coat on over my wings, when I get over on the other side."

"That will not be your worry," said she, "your worry will be to get your trousers on over your tail."

The early day cowpuncher blazed the way for our present civilization and development. The cattle he raised fed the armies while he fought the battles of Texas Independence. That accomplished, he occupied the borderland between the early settlements and the habitation of marauding Indians. He was the unrelenting foe of the hostile Red Man and the outlaw, and under his code of laws, summary justice was administered. He followed the trail herd to the marts of trade from which some returned to beloved Texas while others helped to civilize the States of the great Northwest. When the open range changed to the drift fence area and later to fenced dominions he still held his own as the hardy pioneer and the man of destiny. He receded with the frontier until the frontier was no more and then took his place as a citizen of an empire he had carved from a wilderness.

The Texas Cowboy is the most unique character in all history and as different from others as is an inhabitant of another world. Unique in that he keeps his own company, does his own thinking, and acts pursuant to his own will. His education is most liberal. He guides his course by the North Star, studies the firmament of the heavens, the formation of the earth, the topography of the range, the faces of men, and the flesh marks, as well as brands, of cattle and horses.

A still of the bronze warriors him of approaching storm and by his observation of the movements of cattle he senses the stampede of the vast herd.

He rides through the rain, the wind and the storm and amidst ominous peals of thunder watches the lightning flash from horn to horn and hoof to hoof of the drifting cattle.

He cuts the round-up by the brand on a horse trained to human intelligence; that stands on its hind legs and sways from side to side until the selected animal is headed out and driven to the cut.

From a life of hardship and privation and daily exposed to danger he learns self discipline and courage. He never sells his birthright for a mess of pottage and there is no place in his work for a drowsy train or a bungling hand. He thinks quickly and acts accurately and self-reliance is stenciled upon his weather-beaten face.

The cowpuncher is without polish but under a rough and rugged exterior beats a big heart and lives a courageous and generous soul. He is honest, because nature, with which he is most closely associated, never misled him nor told him a lie.

He studies faces as another would books and unconsciously reads character through the features and understands unspoken words.

An attentive listener to the harmonies and symphonies that fill the great outdoors with notes more perfect than fall from the throat of the prima donna, the strings of the violin, or the peal of the organ, he dwells in realms of glorious and rapturous music.

His poetry and songs are committed to memory, but rarely to the printed page, and are handed down to posterity from mouth to ear and college men are put to the task of collecting and preserving them.

From the ranks of the Texas Cowboy have come men whom the world can never forget. Among the poets, Larry Chittenden and Walt Cousins; among the great musicians David Guion; among the pen artists, J. Frank Doble, Will Rogers the unparalleled apostle of fun and good will, had an experience as a Texas Cowboy.

In his Cowboy's Christmas Ball Larry Chittenden describes our country thus:

"Way out in Western Texas where the Clear Fork's water flow,

Where the cattle are abrowsing and the Spanish ponies grow,

Where the coyotes come howling round the ranches after dark,

And the mocking birds arguing to the lovely "medder" jark;

Where the possum and the badger, and the rattle snakes abound,

And the monstrous stars are winking o'er a wilderness profound."

Outside of Texas two great artists have portrayed on canvas the scenes of nature—Charles Russell and Will James, both deceased, the latter of whom put ponies on paper at Pryor, Montana—and delineated the character of men and horses.

By intimate association the cowboy comprehends the mineral, vegetable, animal, moral and spiritual kingdoms as they unfold to him hidden mysteries of created things.

He begins his education in the school of Nature with observation and experience as his chief instructors and finishes in the University of Creation, majoring in Astronomy, Geography and Physiognomy, on which is based his unwritten Master's Degree.

Usually born of frontier parents in the wide open spaces, the cowboy spends his life in similar surroundings. He is nurtured in the lap of nature, grows to man hood in the great outdoors of life, spends his allotted time under the canopy of Heaven, and at last unrolls his bedding, wraps the draperies of the Eternal about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams, confident of an awakening at the dawn of a new day.

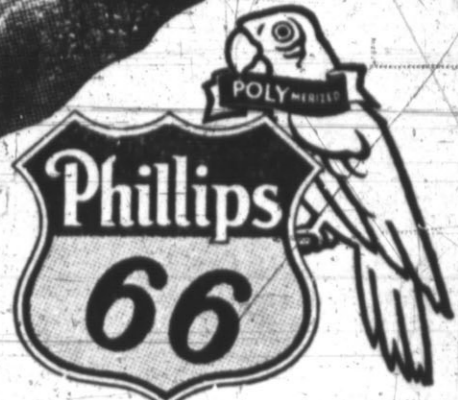

The greatest characters I have ever met have been the pioneer women of this section. They withstood greater hardships and privations than the men, and besides that had to put up with the men. But for their courage, unselfishness and sacrifice the frontiersmen could never have PUBLIC MILEAGE SNATCHER NO. 1 is not the thief who puts one car out of commission by stealing a tire.

Speed! That's the name of the Nation's tire thief.

Speed robs the heavy-footed driver of one-third to one-half of the essential mileage remaining in his irreplaceable tires.

Speed hastens the day when cars must be laid up because rubber is lacking... bringing almost fantastic dislocations in our economic life and in our ability to hold war production at maximum.

Remember that tires last only half as long at 55 miles an hour as at 35!

So today... right now, as you read this message... make a solemn promise to yourself: "Until we win the war, I will never drive over 35." Say it again, and let the words sink in: "Until we win the war, I will never drive over 35."

To help keep your car from becoming a "dime orphan," stop at the Orange and Black 66 Shield. That is where you get Phillips 66 Poly Gas, famous for pep and mileage, and Phillips 66 Motor Oil, 100% paraffin base.

And that is where the Phillips 66 Service Man is ready with a variety of services which make tires last longer and go farther. He checks inflation. Inspects and corrects cuts and bruises. Rotates tires from wheel to wheel. He helps you:

CARE FOR YOUR TIRES... FOR YOUR COUNTRY

Phill-up with Phillips for Greater Mileage

"The bravest battle that ever was fought, Shall I tell you where and when? On the maps of the world you'll find it not, 'Twas fought by the mothers of men. Nay not with cannon or battle shot, With sword or nobler pen, Nay not with eloquent words or thought, From mouths of wonderful men. But deep in a walled-up woman's heart, A woman that would not yield, But bravely, silently bore her part, Lo! there was the battle field."

Even the chivalry of the old South never excelled that of the plainmen toward these wonderful women of the rolling prairies of the West. All hail, to these queens whom we love and respect. Without boasting, I may be permitted to say that, I have been a cowboy on a large ranch, a lawyer practicing over a wide territory, a District Judge of an extensive district, Mayor of an important city and President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the greatest regional commercial organization in the world. I have lived in cities and towns from El Paso to Fort Worth, and from Dalhart and Canadian to San Antonio. In these several capacities and with these opportunities, covering an half century, I have met and made friends with the finest people God's sun ever shone on. I have tried to express my relationship with these good people in verse. I call the poem affinity.

There's a thought in the petals of flowers A theme in each blade of grass; Those blooming beneath my bowers, Those along the road I pass, I may impart these thoughts to others, Or stow them away in my mind, I may dwell on their beauty and colors, Or leave them all behind.

But the friends I've made as I journeyed, And the impress of their lives on mine Cannot be valued or measured, And eternity alone shall treat, Nor left in the march of time, Of the share of me each shall be, For I am a part of the folks I meet And they are a part of me.

No present day address is complete without some reference to present World conditions and the plight of the posterity of the West Texas pioneer.

Over a period of years the patience of this Nation was sorely tried by outlaws which we called public enemies. They had to be overpowered, and some imprisoned and some electrocuted, that law, order and peace might prevail in this country. Now we have outlaws of greater criminal tendencies who are public enemies of the world and who are guilty of every crime known to the penal code of civilized nations and every offense known to international law, and who have violated treaties of peace, have preyed upon the defenseless and unfortunate, are malicious and treacherous in all their dealings and who have disturbed the peace and tranquility of the world. They must be overpowered and with their followers blasted into eternity. West Texas boys are performing their part toward this end and the sons of these early settlers will and must take the lead in re-establishing freedom, righteousness and peace. It is no longer a matter of national defense. It is no longer national aggression, a fight for the finish and the survival of the fittest.

The history and traditions of the West must be sustained. The plainmen must not have

Check Your Lighting For The Duration

War priorities have made it necessary for floor lamp manufacturing companies to substitute materials for the metal they heretofore used in the manufacture of I.E.S. floor lamps. We were fortunate in securing a limited number of ALL METAL I.E.S. FLOOR LAMPS before war priorities took effect.

Surveys reveal that every home should have several more floor lamps for proper lighting than they now have. Check your home and see that you have plenty of I.E.S. floor lamps to give you proper light for the duration.

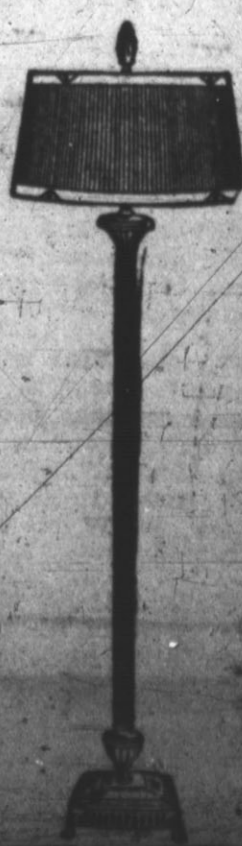

Take advantage of the opportunity now offered you on these 1942 model all metal I.E.S. floor lamps.

F. B. I. Cracks Axis Spy Ring

Penetrating and working inside subversive organizations, often at the risk of their lives, G-Men gathered the evidence for a nationwide roundup of alien enemies, says The March of Time in "The F. B. I. Front." Because of this foresight, F. B. I. Director J. Edgar Hoover's men, far from being caught napping by Pearl Harbor, were enabled to act promptly, cut wartime sabotage to a minimum. This March of Time shows October 21st and 22nd at the Star.

Muddy Field Fails To Slow Herd In 32-0 Win Over Dumas

The Whitefaces plowed and slid their way to a 32-0 victory over the Dumas Demons last Friday night, when a muddy field seemed only to provide a race-track for the fast-moving Hereford backfield.

Quarterback Don Roberson scored in the first quarter and in the second period the Whitefaces romped down the field for 19 points, scores being made by Olson, Russell (who received a pass from Red Merrill to go over for the score) and Merrill. Russell kicked the extra point on Olson's and Roberson's scores.

The Demon defense tightened up in the third quarter when the Whitefaces were held scoreless, although Dumas never got into position to make a real scoring threat. Lloyd Olson made his second touchdown of the game in the last quarter.

The Hereford backfield provided its own blockers and tacklers to give the line plenty of assistance, and the Herd seemed able to crash through the Dumas defenses almost at will. A slippery field and a slippery ball made a passing attack inadvisable, especially since the line play was clicking off according to plan and few passing combinations were tried; though one touchdown came by air mail. "Off-side and backfield in motion penalties pushed the Whitefaces from the shadow of the Dumas goal posts during the third and fourth quarters when the Herd piled up more penalties than they have received in any previous game this season. Both Merrill and Roberson played at quarterback and doubled at halfback posts, in addition to which Williamson, Worley and Weems, the regular halfbacks, all played part of the game.

In the line Higgins, Hopson, Henington, Diehman, Geo. Olson, Sparks, Suttles, Johnson and J. W. Robinson were subs who played during the last half. Regular linemen who started were Russell, Rudd, Hussey, Dameron, Brock, Manjeet and Hill.

Commodity Rolls Cut 49 Per Cent Within Past Year

Austin—Texas commodity rolls have been cut over 49 per cent this year. J. S. Murchison, executive director, State Department of Public Welfare, announced today. During August 1941, 105,201 families in Texas received commodities as compared with 53, 478 families receiving the benefits of the program during August 1942.

state. This food is redistributed through two outlets: the commodity distribution program and the community school lunch program. Both programs are operated by the state as one unit.

During March 5,100 school participated in the community school lunch program in Texas as serving over 369,000 school children. Federal and state officials are expanding the program so it will be possible to serve every undernourished school child nutritious noon-day meals by the end of this school term.

"Texas farmers are doing a magnificent production job under the 'Food for Freedom' campaign. Production goals this year will reach a new high. The community school lunch and commodity distribution programs are part of our Government's 'all out' food requirements program. These programs assure the government and Texas farmers a steady and continuous outlet for their record food crop. In total war it would be criminal to waste precious food; the school lunch and commodity distribution programs see that no food is wasted." Murchison explained.

SOCIETY

Bay View Club Launches Study For Year With "Biography" Program

The Bay View Club launched a study program for the year with a biography program Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. A. F. Parker.

The program, one of four to be given consecutively, began with Thomas Jefferson and his place in American history. The second of the series will deal with modern conservation in its various forms; the third will deal with political and governmental affairs and the fourth will have to do with modern women and the Jews of this nation. Each program will be brought up to date through comparison and contrast with the present times.

Thursday's program opened with roll call given by Mesdames D. H. Alexander, Ray Barber, H. L. Broadwell and Essie Cardwell, who discussed the history of the colonies from 1770-1826.

Mrs. E. B. Hedrick gave an interesting and instructive paper on "The Life of Jefferson," leading up to a comprehensive "Comparison of Jefferson and Roosevelt" presented by Mrs. J. W. Kirby.

Brief discussions bringing out the trend of the time and customs of that period, were given by Mrs. J. P. Slaton who discussed "The Great Meadow" by Elizabeth Roberts Maddox, and Mrs. Bob Wilson who gave the discussion of "The Tree of Liberty" by Elizabeth Page.

Mrs. Travis Dameron, president, presided over a business session when discussions were held on the club's part in the war bond and stamp drive.

Members present were Mesdames D. H. Alexander, H. L. Broadwell, Essie Cardwell, H. G. Conkwright, Colby Conkwright, Travis Dameron, E. W. Harrison, G. W. Heard, E. B. Hedrick, A. M. Jones, Knox Kinard, J. W. Kirby, Paul Mathers, John Olson, F. T. Roloson, G. A. F. Parker, J. P. Slaton, and Bob Wilson.

Program Given By La Plata Study Club

La Plata Study Club met on October 6th at the home of Mrs. Troy Moore. During the business meeting, emphasis was put on the scrap drive, Mrs. Meade Haile, president, presided.

An interesting program was given on Argentina and Uruguay by Mrs. Elmer Patterson read a paper prepared by Mrs. O. H. Cuiperper on "Paises del Rio de la Plata" (Lands of the Silver River) using chapter III of Katherine Carr Rodell's South American Primer. Mrs. Liston Wilson reviewed a short story "Fiesta in November" taken from the book of the same name, which is a collection of short stories by South American writers.

Members present were Mesdames Willis Edelman, Meade Haile, Frank Huckert, Lynn Kester, Charles Newell, Elmer Patterson, A. J. Schroeter, T. E. Seiger, Jr., Loraine Sisk, Urlin Streu, R. R. Wills, Liston Wilson and the hostess.

Auxiliary Meetings Are Held Tuesday

Grouped sessions of the Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church were held Tuesday afternoon.

East Side Group met at the home of Mrs. C. C. Ferguson with Mrs. C. F. Kerr in charge of the lesson. The theme studied was "Purpose For Living" taken from the new study book by F. Gillis.

Basil Matthews, Mrs. E. H. Norton gave the devotional lesson. West Side Group met at the home of Mrs. John Olson. Mrs. Lee Conklin conducted the lesson on "Interpretation of Christian Living." Mrs. Henry Hastings gave the devotional talk.

Group Three was entertained at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hastings. Mrs. N. E. Milburn conducted the lesson. She discussed the nature and beliefs of various religions.

Announcement at all three sessions was made concerning the jam and jelly shower which will be featured at the next Auxiliary meeting on October 20. The shower will be in the form of gifts for the Children's Home in Amarillo and is sponsored annually by the local organization.

Mrs. Wes Brady Is Hostess For Kinship Group

Mrs. Wes Brady was hostess for members of the Kinship Circle at her home on West Third Street Saturday. Mrs. Doyle Rose was assistant hostess.

Attending the covered dish luncheon at noon were Mesdames L. R. Brady, L. H. Shore, Johnnie Womble, R. L. Thompson, Baker Womble, Egbert Brady, Miss Ethel Womble, Miss Nona Dean Rose and the hostess.

Others attending the afternoon get-together were Mesdames G. O. Phillips and Linda Earl Phillips and Margaret, Carl Williams and Carolyn and Sallie Womble and Elaine Thompson.

Quilting provided the interest of the day and a short program was presented in the afternoon with Mrs. Baker Womble in charge. Guests surprised the hostess with a shower of gifts for her new home.

Class Is Entertained

Fidella Matrons Sunday School Class met at the home of the teacher Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, last Friday for a business and social meeting. A Bible lesson was studied. During the business session new officers were elected. They were: Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, pres.; Mrs. D. C. Kinsey, first vice-pres.; Mrs. Roger Corbett, second vice-pres.; and Mrs. Claude Longbottom, secretary-treasurer.

Members present included Mrs. Roger Corbett, Mrs. Jack Kirksey, Mrs. Aubrey Daniel, Mrs. J. B. Sowell, Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, and the hostess. One visitor was present, Mrs. Reber Howten, mother of the hostess.

Party Arranged On Birthday

A surprise party was arranged recently for Miss Mary Elizabeth Stanford, celebrating her birthday, by her mother, Mrs. W. J. Stanford, at their home on West Fourth Street.

A buffet supper was served from an attractively appointed table, centered with dahlias arranged with figurines.

Those seated at small tables laid for four included Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Sims, Mrs. Nora Alice Ray, Mrs. Elizabeth Womble, Dick Barnard, the honoree and Mr. and Mrs. Stanford.

L. A. E. Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Jim Higgins at her home on Twenty-Five Mile Avenue. Using the quotation, "You better live your best, act your best and think your best today for today is the sure preparation for tomorrow" the theme "A Picture in a Large Frame" was carried out.

Roll call brought out items concerning "Youth and Defense" and Mrs. Geo. Suggs reviewed the book, "Amazon Throne" by Bertha Harding. The story has to do with historical facts in the lives of presidents of Brazil, dating from 1700 and the time of the first Don Pedro.

During the business session the following department chairmen were appointed: Mrs. A. Peterson, war service; Mrs. Jim Higgins, American Home; Mrs. Bill Hutson, public welfare; Mrs. Jim Lipscomb, American citizenship; Mrs. Jack Dean, education; Mrs. T. W. Roberson, fine arts; Mrs. Robert Veigel, international relations; Mrs. Bob Higgins, legislation; and Mrs. Arlie Dean, junior department.

Those present were Mesdames Arlie Dean, Jack Dean, Altus Higgins, Bob Higgins, Bill Hutson, Jim Lipscomb, T. W. Roberson, Geo. Suggs, Robert Veigel and the hostess.

ON THE HOME FRONT Restrictions Extended To New Materials

Controls and restrictions, which have been brought on by war needs and shortages, in many types of materials and commodities, in the last week have been extended to other types. Among those commodities and materials, recently brought under stricter control are a variety of things — from hairpins to casket handles and from meat to men's rubber footwear and used tires and tubes. Probably of the greatest immediate effect was the Office of Price Administration "freeze" order forbidding the purchase and sale of used tires and tubes contrary to the provisions of the order pending the announcement of a rationing plan. Actual rationing of the used tires and tubes, mileage rationing through the control of gasoline marketing, and plans for regular inspection of all tires in use are a part of the overall objective to stretch as far as possible the irreplaceable rubber assets of the nation. In addition to these, additional conservation measures call for a national speed limit of 35 an hour and individual care of all tires and equipment. The rubber shortage also is reflected in the order calling for rationing of men's rubber footwear and rubber workshoes. Stocks of six types of rubber boots and shoes were ordered frozen pending an inventory and start of the rationing plan this week. Now, County War Price and Rationing Boards are available to workmen and company purchasing agents who need the certificates required to make purchases. Women's and children's rubber footwear are not covered by the OPA's orders and may be bought without restrictions. The shortage of most importance probably to the average family is in the nation's meat supply, which has been increasingly evident in the last few weeks. This is a different type of shortage than has been experienced with supplies with metals and other materials. We have a greater supply than ever before. But due to the fact that we are feeding millions of men in our armed forces better than they were accustomed in peace time, due to the huge needs of our lend-lease allies, and due to the fact that our better-paid civilian population is eating more meat, the demand also is greater than it ever has been. As a forerunner to actual card rationing of meat which possibly will come by February, orders have been issued by the OPA to slaughter and packing houses to limit their deliveries for civilian use to specified percentages during the remainder of this year. Although these orders apply only to wholesale deliveries, civilian consumers are urged to start rationing their own consumption on a voluntary basis to 2-2 pounds per person per week. On the hairpin front, reduction in production to conserve metal means that in 1943 women will have to get along with one fourth of the bobbins and hairpins they used this year. Also, because of the needs of the armed forces and lend-lease, housewives and other civilians will get only about 90 per cent as much fats and oils that go into shortening, mayonnaise, and salad dressing; 80 per cent of the normal amount of paints, varnishes and lacquers, and 70 per cent of linoleum, oil cloth and other coated fabrics. There'll also be less pepper and some other spices. There will be fewer frills and merchandising inducements. Pick-up and delivery service will be cut to the bone.

barbarism, God and the devil. It is my sincere belief the result will be the survival of the fittest. "One hundred and thirty million people, armed in the holy cause of liberty, and in such a country as that which we possess, are invincible to any force which our enemies may marshal against us. Besides, we shall not fight our battles alone. There is a just God who presides over the destinies of nations who shall raise up friends to fight our battles for us and with us. We have no election. If we were base enough to desire it, it now too late to retire from the contest. There is no retreat but in submission and slavery." For many years to come, perhaps, the American people have a rough and rugged road to travel. A journey in which many lives will be lost, the lives of the youth of our land, the bravest and best of modern civilization and culture. We shall be required to travel on our knees. Our boys and our neighbors' boys are now in the heat of battle, in the greatest struggle in history. Many of them have been slain, many wounded and many are prisoners, tortured and starved in foreign lands. Our enemies in concentration camps in America are living on the fat of the land and the prisoners of war we have captured are decently treated while our boys on the battle front are eating mule meat and fighting for our freedom and liberty. "Why stand we here idle? Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take but as for me give me liberty or give me death." In every sphere of action, soldiers, sailors and civilians must all fight until our last armed foe expires. Fight for our altars and our fires. Fight for the green graves of our sires, God and our native land. There are more than 470 proven gas fields in Texas. Brand Ads Get Results! To Relieve Misery of COLDS Take 666 LIQUID, TABLETS, SALVE, NOSE DROPS

HEREFORD BULL (Continued from Page 5) lived in vain. Their courage and fortitude must be followed by their sons. There was a time when our country was divided by the Mason Dixon line. Now, there is no North, no South, no East, no West. We are a united people under one flag that has never known defeat. The feeling that existed at one time between the North and the South is illustrated by this story. A Southern boy returned home from an Eastern University for the Christmas holidays bringing with him one of his Eastern schoolmates. He had an old uncle that was old enough to be deaf and honest and truthful. The boy said, "Uncle, I want you to meet my schoolmate." "Eh," said the uncle, hand to ear. "My schoolmate," said the boy. "Yes, yes, schoolmate," said the uncle. "His name is Jim Pickett," said the boy. "Eh," said the uncle. "Jim Pickett," shouted the boy. "Yes, Jim Pickett," answered the uncle. "He is from Connecticut," said the boy. "Eh," said the uncle. "From Connecticut," shouted the boy. "Yes, from Connecticut," said the uncle. "By the way, uncle, he is the son of a Bishop," said the boy. "Eh," said the uncle. "The son of a Bishop," shouted the boy. "Yes," said the uncle. "All them damned yankees are." There is no such feeling now. The youth of today could not locate the Mason and Dixon line. In fact it was obliterated during World War No. 1. May I paraphrase some quotations from President Lincoln, Patrick Henry, and others, for my conclusion. "One hundred and fifty years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created free and equal. We are now engaged in the war of survival testing whether this nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated shall long endure." It is a contest between truth and falsehood, good faith and treachery, justice and oppression, virtue and vice, individualism and collectivism, civilization and

ON THE OFFENSIVE you've got to be on the instant. Eager fighters, frisky jeeps, and all that's going along, must get going together—exactly at Zero Hour. But on the home front these brisk mornings, will your own precious car and its engine lubrication get going together—without deadly oiling delay? You can be as sure as shootin' with your engine OIL-PLATED for Winter by patented Conoco Nth motor oil . . . oil that OIL-PLATES! Even while the speedometer snoozes at 00 miles an hour—and you're still snug in your "kivers"—the chilly insides of your OIL-PLATED engine will already be coated by lubricant. Protective OIL-PLATING is really sort of "magnetized" to piston rings, bearings, and straight up the cylinders, by Conoco Nth oil's strong "power of attraction"—created by an added modern synthetic. This keeps the OIL-PLATING from all draining down to the crankcase overnight—over week-ends—and longer. No complete lack of lubrication then, at 00 miles an hour—starting up cold. No long needless risk till cold oil comes inching along through passages as slim as spaghetti.

You're off safely, because OIL-PLATING safely stays on—ready to lubricate before any oil can circulate. This season don't merely change oil. It's fully as simple and inexpensive to change to an OIL-PLATED engine. Just change to patented Conoco-Nth oil at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Patriotic Program Opens Study or Music Study Club Members Opening the club's study program for the year which has been built around a miscellaneous course of study, members of the Music Study Club met at the home of Mrs. G. A. F. Park...

Featuring quotations from eminent Americans, given by the members, Mrs. Gilbreath gave background for musical numbers presented later on the program...

Calling attention to the fact that through all history, music and song have fortified the morale of the people, she mentioned "God Save the King," "America," "The Marseillaise" which united the French nation and carried the nation to victory in their fight for freedom...

Tables were decorated with low bowls of deep purple petunias spaced at intervals and place cards repeated the colors of the flowers. Patsy Ann Slagle was toastmaster for the occasion and Dale Barley gave the invocation...

Musical numbers included: "Victory Song" (Theme 5th Symphony) Beethoven—sung by Mesdames S. P. Rosson, T. W. Roberson, H. L. Broadwell and A. C. Thompson with Mrs. W. J. Stanford accompanying; "Liberty Bell March"—Sousa, played by Mrs. H. A. Close...

Calliope Club Has Book Review Thursday Night

Members of the Calliope Club heard Mrs. W. C. Pitman review the book "Cross Creek" by Marjorie Kinan Rawlings at the meeting held Thursday night at the home of Mrs. J. R. Allison...

Describing the Creek folks, Mrs. Pitman quoted the author who says, "The Creek doesn't amount to anything. The people don't amount to anything. But if you're sick and have no money they'll cook for you, they'll doctor you, and if you get past their doctoring, they'll send for the doctor and pay his bill and if you die, they'll take up a collection and bury you. I figure it's just as close to Heaven here as any other place."

A short business session was conducted by the club president, Miss Lois McCaslin, and Mrs. Wayne Evans was welcomed into the club as a new member.

These present included Mesdames Alton Frazer, J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., W. C. Pitman, Jimmy Holston, David Rodgers, John Sims, Jimmie Gillentine, Misses Nancy Conkright, Mary Kate Brotherton, Katherine Kirby, Lois McCaslin, Eloyse Pitman, Declinae Kamey and the hostess.

Junior Choir Elects Officers And Honors Parents At Banquet

With fathers and mothers as honor guests, members of the Junior Choir of the Methodist Church entertained with a program-banquet at the church Thursday night.

Tables were decorated with low bowls of deep purple petunias spaced at intervals and place cards repeated the colors of the flowers.

Patsy Ann Slagle was toastmaster for the occasion and Dale Barley gave the invocation. Catherine Davis entertained with an appropriate reading and a sextette in costumes carrying out the theme of their song, sang Reuben and Rachel. Those singing were Mary Helen McGilvary, Mary Jo Mathies, Jacqueline Newell, Jonnie Sexton, Jearinne Sowell and Billy Ray Johnson. Barbara Ann Burney played a piano solo followed by a reading given by Billie Ray Johnson and a vocal solo by Elaine Thompson.

Rev. M. E. Norwood told of the purpose of value of a Junior Choir and Mrs. H. D. Reed, director of the choir, told of plans for the organization during the coming months.

Mary Jo Mathies, retiring president, presented incoming officers with corsages as they were inducted. New officers include: Patsy Ann Slagle, president; Jonnie Sexton, vice-president; Jacqueline Newell, secretary and Barbara Ann Burney, treasurer.

When early fall days find you particularly busy it is a good time to plan a one-dish meal. It doesn't sound very generous for hearty appetites sharpened by a tang of frost, but abundant helpings with a vegetable salad or a fruit dessert with hot coffee makes such a good meal that nothing else really is wanted.

Comanche Casserole is a dish justly famous among cowboys on the plains, whose outdoor lives demand hot nutritious meals. Mrs. Rosa Speer is a wonderful cook and she literally has thousands of recipes. Here is one of her most prized ones, and one which was originated by a cowboy.

COMANCHE CASSEROLE

- 1-2 lbs. good hamburger meat
- 1-2 cup bread crumbs
- 1-2 cup diced celery
- 1 onion
- 1 tablespoon parsley (optional)
- 1 green pepper
- 1 clove of garlic
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1-2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup tomato juice or tomatoes

Mix all thoroughly together and form into balls about the size of a walnut. Brown in fat, dredge with flour and brown again. Leave in skillet or place in casserole and pour over the balls one number two can of tomatoes, add 1 tablespoon of chili powder and simmer on slow fire for 1-2 or 2 hours. Have ready 2-3 box of spaghetti, cooked and drained, add to the casserole mixture and then add 1 cup grated cheese and a little of the tomato juice if added moisture is needed. Allow this to simmer about 1-2 hour and it is ready to eat.

Is It Really As Easy As This?

Well, for the beginning sentence I'll say—no, I won't either. That wouldn't be original. I'll probably get an inspiration in the study hall, it's so orderly and discreet. Oh, oh, Mr. Emmons has to make another announcement about how noisy we are. I wonder why he looks at me when he says we shouldn't whisper so loud. That reminds me; I've got to study my shorthand this period. Miss Ramey says we should always read it aloud if possible. Hmmmm, I wonder what it would sound like if everyone in here started reading their lessons aloud.

Now, let me see—That little dot stands for "a" article. Oh, yes, I'm supposed to write one. There goes the bell and I haven't even started it. Maybe I can think of something while I'm going to my locker. My goodness, I just know Miss Crawford saw that terrible look on my face. She probably thought I was thinking something awful and sure enough I was. It's funny how the expression on one's face betrays his thoughts. Hey, there's Miss Rigler locking her door, and I should have my article in by now. I'll just have to tell her all about how I wrote a very good one but somehow it got lost. I'll tell her I had it typed off and laid it with some newspaper clippings and when I started to look for it, I couldn't tell my article from the rest. I hope she believes my story, and being the type of person I am, I know she will.

Do You Remember When

Jean France was elected football queen from the Senior Class of 1940-41? Hereford went to Phillips by way of a special train to play a ball game? (We won't spend much time on the details of the game, but, anyway, the trip was lots of fun.) Hereford hasn't had a Russell on its football team? Billie Self, Rena Rae Renfro (Noland), and Polly Dixon were the leaders of a very enthusiastic Pep Club?

Kathryn Henderson was elected Tri-Hi-Y president for 1940-41? Janie Jordan, Margaret Higgins, Evelyn Benson and others belonged to the J. B. K. club? (Some said it stood for Just Been Kissed; others didn't know.) Kathryn Acker and Mary Pace broke their collar bones tumbling in gym class? Joy Worley ran eighty-five yards for the only touchdown in our game against Friona in 1940? The last Sadie Hawkins' Day when Virgie Lee Sparks and O. G. Hill, Jr., were Daisy Mae and Lil Abner? The staff reporters turned in some interesting articles, such as those written by Mary Jane Morgan when editor of the "Round-up."

Election Is Held

Today is the big day in the realm of high school politics, for there's an election on! Each fall in a student election, conducted by the advanced civics classes, the president and vice-president of the student council are elected. Likewise, the editor, assistant editor, business manager and assistant business manager of the "Round-up" are chosen.

Today the students are voting for Daniel Russell or G. P. Owen as president of the student council. Robert Teter or Marcella Blue as vice-president, Nona Deen Rose or Phyllis Radovich as editor, Ruth Tucker or Quentin Williams as assistant editor, Felix Pyka or Wanda Whitaker as business manager, and Arline Millard or Kathryn Acker as assistant business manager.

They Just Take It But Don't Like It

The freshmen just grin and bear it, when they are called "fish" or even "slimy fish" but when they hear such things as "These freshmen will never learn?" or "We can't do anything for all these fish," it makes them fighting mad. The Sophomores, or even the Juniors, may feel that they have a right to make wisecracks about the freshmen. It seems that after three years the Seniors should be tired of it, but maybe they just hate to be different.

If you have formed the impression that the freshmen dislike Hereford High School, you are all wrong because they like it fine; however, these "fish" under discussion may turn out to be gold fish or even sharks instead of the common mountain trout that some people think they are. Besides, you must remember that even a mountain trout sometimes bites.

Jr. Red Cross Organizes

The Hereford Chapter of Junior Red Cross is reorganizing this year in a country-wide drive all next week. All students, boys or girls, are urged to join and concentrate their efforts on the many important duties of this organization. A program has been planned for all week, and all students are asked to participate. If every student will help, the school will make a success of this organization. Miss Kathryn Davies is the sponsor, and under her direction, the members hope to make the club well-known.

Arline Millard: "Do you like hamburger balls?"
Ellen Posey: "I don't think I ever attended one."
Billy London: "Did you ever see a pig wash?"
Marcella Blue: "No, but I saw pig iron."
Madelle Beavers: "How do you wish to sleep, Helen Ann, head first or feet first?"
Helen Ann Pittman: "Well, if you don't mind, Madelle, all of me will sleep at the same time."
George LeGrand: "Since I met you I can't eat, I can't sleep, I can't drink."
Frances Gollehon: (shyly) "Why not?"
George L.: "I'm broke."

Library Has New Books

Something new has been added to the library. It is a set of "World Book Encyclopedia." This set has eighteen volumes with the nineteenth volume a guide to the use of the Encyclopedia. This was written especially for young people, and the articles in it are brief and well illustrated. The books are very attractive with a red binding. Since this one is the 1942 edition, it contains the latest developments on every subject. This late treatment is especially important in such fields as aeronautics.

The library reading room also has a late edition of the "Americana Encyclopedia." This is a set of 30 volumes with brief information on many subjects. These should be used by the students as a reference tool and for pleasure. They are there for your use; so use them! There are many magazines in the library, but two of them, "Popular Science" and "Flying and Popular Aviation," are most popular with the students. A new magazine is "Occupations," which is for vocational guidance. The first issue has articles counseling youth about war jobs. There is also information concerning openings in the Marines, Navy, Coast Guard, and Army. This information will be especially interesting to those students who will graduate this next spring.

"All That Glitters," Etc.

If there has ever been any doubt in your mind as to who the Seniors are, your worries are over. "By their rings ye shall know them." If you want to make a Senior happy, just ask him to let you see his ring; or, better still, ask him to let you try it on. The rings really are very pretty, and the premiums that came with them are attractive, too. Friday afternoon when the rings were being given out, there was such excitement that it was hard to keep the Seniors "down on earth." Anyone who saw Billy Hutson soon after he got his ring can tell you what a real thrill he had.

Central Chatter

Jackqueline Reddock, who was in 8A, has moved to Phoenix, Arizona.
Homer Smith, who was in 8B, has moved to Lubbock, Texas.

Until this week, 7B had the most pupils in Central. We were sorry to lose three students: Thurman Gibbs, Granvel Otis and Billy Joe Busby. We are happy to have one new pupil, Billy Ray Scroggins.

Othel Barnett is a new pupil in 7A, from Morton, Texas.

Virginia Cagle is a new pupil in 5B; she is from Texarkana, Texas. The policeman of the room is Ruth Ann London.

Everyone in 8A is learning to spell (and how).

Joe Lyons (Scout)—I had an awful experience at camp this summer.

Friend-- What happened?
Joe-- I thought I saw a snake but it turned out to be a stick; and the stick I picked up turned out to be the snake.

In Other Camps

"Rock-a-bye seniors
On the school top,
As long as you study,
Your grades will not drop,
But if you stop digging,
Your standard will fall—
Down will come Senior,
Diploma and all."
—Hi-Times

Due to the illness of C. W. Beene, band director, there will be no regular band organization this year in Dalhart.
—Hi-Times

Only 35 members are reporting for band practice at present, but 45 students are being trained for the choir. Apparently this situation is due to the fact that no instruments are needed for choir membership, and choral singing carries one credit, while band grants only one half credit.
There are eight lettermen on the squad.
—Tulla Hornet

Juanita Beauford: "I always say what I think."
Wanda Smith: "I wondered why you were always so quiet."

Pre-Flight Prof.

The "Round-up" is glad to present another new teacher, Miss Lucy Hedgecock, who comes from near Berger. She is instructor in pre-flight, general science and girls' physical education. In answer to the question, "How do you like the students and teachers of Hereford High School?" she answered, "They are the best with whom I have ever been connected."
Miss Hedgecock acquired her training at W. T. S. C. Canyon. She is a Physical Education major. She is interested in all sports, especially swimming. She has obtained her private flyers license and has had 50 hours of experience in the air.
Her particular annoyance is people who snore; so you students who are in her classes had better stay awake.

Selling Rope Halters Starts Successful Year

Electing officers for the year provided a peppy beginning for the F. F. A. Those chosen were: J. W. Merrill, president; Billy Hutson, vice-president; Lloyd Manjot, secretary; V. C. Hopson, treasurer; Charles Skelton, reporter; Earl Hussey, watch dog; Walter Beckman, parliamentarian; Kenneth Rudd, historian.
The F. F. A. boys have been making rope halters during the last week. They sell these halters to the different cattlemen of Hereford. Anyone who wishes to buy some good rope halters should see one of the F. F. A. boys. They charge forty cents per halter. Thus the F. F. A. has started a very successful year once more.

Ode To A Paper Clip

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Just why paper-clips are so dear.
In the year forty-one, the month of December—
Surely each of you must remember—
How a certain country started a war,
How you didn't think they'd go very far—
But that country did more than you thought it could do,
And more than America thought it could too.
And if we're going to beat this enemy,
We're going to have to save, don't you see?
'Cause beating a Jap isn't a snap
If we don't have all the things we need.
So with you I do plead,
Save everything you possibly can
To help us beat our foe, Japan.
Yes, I heard you say
The other day--
"But such a thing as a paper-clip,
How can it possibly help us whip Hirohito and Hitler, too?
Why, what can one little paper-clip do?"
Just one little paper-clip can't do a big job,
But if you were to get a whole gob
Of paper-clips, and other things too--
You'd have to count what they couldn't do!
And so I implore you, save, if you will--
So that another Jap we can kill.
Even though it be a rubber ball or a paper-clip,
Save it, it will help us lick The Japs and the Jerrys, too
That's just what it will do.
—Felix Pyka

Group Discusses Characteristics Of Ideal Girl

"Three," "Two," "Two," "Three," "Three." No, the Tri-Hi-Y girls weren't playing a game at their regular meeting held in room 23, on September 29, Tuesday, at 7:30 P. M. The president called the meeting to order, and as the secretary called the roll, the club members answered by saying "three" if they were on time, present and had attended at least one church service, or "two" indicated that they had not attended church. The secretary read the minutes, and the president then welcomed Marie Compton as a new member.

The president urged all new or future members to have a conference with Miss Crawford in order to learn the full purpose of Tri-Hi-Y. All the girls who have put plants signed the "flower list" specifying what kind and how many they had. The induction service is to be held October 13th. The chairman of the library shelf committee urged all girls to bring at least one article for the shelf. The president then turned the program over to Margaret Barrett, program chairman.

Margaret Barrett gave an introductory talk on "The Kind of Person I Want To Be." The group sang "Take My Life and Let It Be." Wanda Lloyd gave the Scripture, the first Psalm, and an explanation of it. Carle Rae Frye gave a short story of Helen Keller's life. Ellen Posey told of Booker T. Washington's success in life; and Beverly Fraser gave an interesting account on Clara Barton and her life work. The group then discussed what characteristics an ideal girl would possess. The meeting closed with the Tri-Hi-Y benediction.

Found on a freshman's registration card: "Name of parents: Mama and Papa."

Donald Roberson: "I wish I had a million dollars. I would go to the movies every day then."
Jo Lynn Morrow: "You'd take me with you, wouldn't you, Donald?"
Donald: "Now, if you're too lazy to wish for yourself, you can stay at home."

Mrs. Holston: "Will you boys in the back of the room please stop exchanging notes?"
L. H. Lookingbill: "They aren't notes; they're cards. We're playing bridge."
Mrs. Holston: "Oh, I beg your pardon."

Whitfaces vs. Panhandle Tomorrow

New Members Initiated Into H. H. S. Pep Club

Having for its purpose the initiation of new members, the pep club met last Monday night. There was only a short business meeting in which the new uniforms were discussed.

The program was as follows: Margaret Olson gave the "History of the Pep Club"; Juanita Wiseman told the new members about the "Organization of the Club"; Arline Millard told "What the Pep Club Means to Me"; Phyllis Radovich gave the "Characteristics of a Good Member," and Robina Culpeper led the new members in the Pep Club Oath and welcomed them into the club. Madelle Beavers gave the response. The new members gave a yell for the old members, and then refreshments were served.

Seniors Reveal Talents

An important item of business decided by the Senior class last Wednesday at their class meeting was that Nona Deen Rose and Phyllis Radovich would be candidates for editor of the "Whitface Round-up," and Wanda Whitaker and Felix Pyka candidates for Business Manager.

The program chairman, Phyllis Radovich, attempted to discover talent in the renowned group and found it in three bashful little children who turned out to be Texie Reynolds, Danny Russell, and Marie Compton. Texie sang "Mom, I Miss Your Apple Pie." Dan Russell then whistled and pantomimed the story of Alice and the three bears. Marie Compton was giving a reading on Little Miss Muffet when she was interrupted by a bell, and a very rude one at that.

Beene Leads Devotional

"Trusting in God" was the devotional subject given by Bruce Beene at the regular meeting of the Boys' Hi-Y last Tuesday. G. P. Owen led a current events discussion on such subjects as "First Aid," "Airplane Spotting," "Gasoline Rationing," and other related subjects. There was no business, but Mr. Hudson gave to the visitors the requirements for becoming a member. They are: attending three meetings, paying twenty-five cents fee for membership card and having a conference with the sponsor.

The Whitface team has won its first three games, two of which have been conference games. The students of high school and the townspeople have backed the team one-hundred percent. The boys have played good clean games every time.

Friday, for the first time this season, the Whitface team plays an out-of-town game. The game is at Panhandle, and Coach Stanton says they have a team with good ground and air attack.

Most of the fans will be unable to attend the game, but, Whitfaces, while the games is being played, the people at home will be hoping that you win with a victory equalling that of any of the previous games.

Mind Your P's and Q's

Have you noticed how crowded the halls have been this year? It is almost impossible to get from one end of the hall to the other. Students often forget that they are being discourteous when they nudge one another in the rush between classes.

The boys in school could open doors for the girls and let the girls precede them going into the room. New students need someone to show them around school, and old students could be very helpful in giving them instructions. Then, in return, new students should thank them in a courteous way.

For the past two years, the Tri-Hi-Y has sponsored a courtesy contest for the benefit of the students. It has brought about more courteous students and done away with many rough antics in school. The contest will be carried on again this year and the most courteous students chosen from each class. At the end of the school year, the most-courteous boy or girl in high school will be given a prize. So mind your p's and q's and say "Thank You" or "Pardon me" whenever there comes a time for it.

Horizon Club Formed

The Horizon Club, an extension of the Camp Fire Girls but for those of high school age, was organized September 30, under the direction of Mrs. Urlin Streu. The officers chosen are: Marian Plummer, president; Juanita Beauford, vice-president; Betty Ann Dunlap, secretary-treasurer; Betty Jane Robinson, parliamentarian; Barbara Smith, reporter.

Kermit Wilson Completes Basic Training Course

Aviation Cadet Kermit Wilson, who enlisted in the Army Air Corps March 7, recently completed his basic flight training course at the Chico (Calif.) Army Flying School and is now ready to take the final phase of his flight training at an advanced flying school at Phoenix, Ariz.

In the course just completed, Cadet Wilson has learned cross-country flights, formation and night flying.

Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Wilson, is a graduate of Hereford High School. He was joined in California last month by his wife.

W. B. Wilson Promoted To Rank of Ensign

W. B. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Wilson, has recently been promoted from chief boatswain's mate to ensign and is being sent to Princeton University for three months' study before being given a new assignment. Wilson enlisted in the navy six months ago and has been stationed in New York City. He and his wife visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Wilson, here for a few days last week.

Merlin Conklin To Receive Commission

Merlin Conklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Conklin of Hereford, will receive his second lieutenant's commission as a pilot in the Army Air Corps at ceremonies to be held tomorrow at Kelly Field.

Conklin is a member of a single engine fighter pilot class.

According to Army Air Corps news releases, 310 fledgling flyers from Texas are included in the group who will graduate from various air schools in the Gulf Coast Training Center, and all of the men have requested immediate action.

Conklin is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended Texas Tech.

Baumann Gets Silver Gunner's Wings

Harlingen Army Gunnery School—A member of the largest class yet to graduate from the nation's largest aerial gunnery school is Roger Baumann, who was employed in Hereford by the Texas-New Mexico Utilities Company until his enlistment in the army in March. Automatically promoted to sergeant on the day he received his diploma as an aerial dealer in sudden death, he was also presented with a pair of silver gunner's wings, combat air crew insignia.

Baumann expects to be sent to Ellington Field, Houston, for further training. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Baumann of Cushing, Ia.

The Adrian Parent-Teacher Association will meet Oct. 13 in the high school auditorium. "United We Stand" is the subject to be used in a quiz program. "Know Your Community" "Observance of Texas P. T. A. Birthday" and special music will be other phases of the evening's program.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Richardson left Friday morning for Alhambra, Calif., where they will visit his mother.

Main problem today seems to be to get the airplanes into the air while keeping the cost of living figures on the ground.

The woman down the street says her son doesn't have any trouble learning to play the saxophone except with the neighbors.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Lylabeth Blanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Blanton, is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital in Fort Worth. She underwent a major operation yesterday morning following ten days of treatment in the hospital. Mrs. Blanton, who accompanied her to Fort Worth, remained for the operation.

In Amarillo Saturday were Miss Jonnie Estes and Miss Winifred Williams. They returned Sunday. Amarillo visitors also on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Evans who were receiving medical treatment, Mrs. N. E. Glass and Miss Ella Alkman and Mrs. Tom Carter and son, Tommy Jim.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Milburn spent several days last week visiting relatives in Altus and other points in Oklahoma.

Dr. Howard Eberle left yesterday for Dallas after visiting here with his mother, Mrs. F. J. Eberle, and sisters, Misses Mary Virginia and Genevieve Eberle, since Sunday. Dr. Eberle is a lieutenant at the Naval Air Base at Grand Prairie.

McCracken, transportation chairman of the drive, will see that a truck calls for your collection within the next few days. The drive is expected to last through Oct. 17, with the campaign going into high gear on the last three days—the 15th, 16th and 17th. Jno. McLean was appointed chairman of a committee to see that adequate manpower is available to move any large scrap which the children will be unable to handle. Pointing out that citizens who do not wish to sell their scrap or give it to a school child may donate it to the community scrap pile, Schroeter said that proceeds from the sale of this scrap pile will be used for worthy war charities. This scrap pile is on the vacant lot back of Jack Hagar's Shoe Shop.

A total of 225 tons of scrap has been collected in the county since August 20, according to Salvage Committee figures. Using the pledge cards recently signed by farmers as a yardstick, this leaves still approximately 275 tons of scrap on the farms of the county. And there are many tons left in the city, where no organized drive has yet been made.

Salvage committeemen and your government urge that you get this scrap collected and have it ready when some school child in your block or in your rural community contacts you. On this page of The Brand is a com-

The Nation's steel mills are running out of scrap. They haven't enough on hand for even 30 days more. When this is gone they may have to shut down—for all new steel is 50% scrap. Get your scrap ready to turn in now!

WHOSE BOY WILL DIE BECAUSE YOU FAILED?

Or maybe you don't care!

We think you do. We feel that our whole community is ready to rise up and bring in the scrap as soon as you get a chance. So you're going to get that chance!

Next week we're starting the biggest drive you've ever seen, to get in this precious material. And you're going to pitch in, too, because this situation is serious.

Start looking around your place for scrap today. If you've got a son in the service, do it for him. Do it for the neighbor's boy—for those fine young chaps you just passed, out on the street.

Above all do it for your country... and do it now!

THINK about it as revenge—a way to get back at the scum who have attacked us. Or think about it as a little more protection for our fighting men—something you, yourself, can do to bring as many as possible home alive.

But think about it now—for the scrap in homes, farms and factories has got to be moving to stockpiles within the next few weeks or it may be too late!

Maybe you don't know what it means to have production fall off. Maybe you can't imagine how it feels to be hunkered down in a foxhole wishing for just one more clip of cartridges. Or to see the enemy rolling through your lines because you didn't have just a few more tanks.

Effective October 10th No More MILK Deliveries

(Wholesale or Retail)

Because of the difficulty of getting labor and because the price of milk (now fixed by ceiling price) makes it impossible for us to pay wages in competition with defense projects and other businesses, we are having to cut off ALL milk deliveries, beginning

Saturday, October 10th

Get your milk at our Cold Storage House, across the street, east from the courthouse. It will be the same price and the same high quality which you have received in the past.

We want our customers to understand that this move is being forced upon us. It is just one of the changes which war-time conditions have brought about—and we hope to get to talk to each one of you and explain why we are forced to curtail deliveries.
