AROUND A Town

Sights and Faces Seen

This is good potato weather—at least E. B. Posey claims it is. Which is an optimistic thought to hold in mind as you get a west wind thinning treatment for your hair and watch the wind do a combination burn and whip job on that Victory Garden.

The bunch over at the AAA office are not taking any bets and have made no pool on the possibilities, but Joe Ellis said this week that records of the office show that the first wheat loan of the season has been made on the same date—June 27—in 1940, 1941 and 1942; and now they are crossing their fingers to see if 1943 will repeat.

E. L. Donner has run across the lowest thief of all. He carried a large bouquet to the cemetery and placed it on his daughter's grave. Next afternoon, Mr. Donner returned to the cemetery to discover that eight of the roses had been removed from the bouquet. He says other people have encountered the same experience.

Killing 201 rats in one day sounds almost like casualty figures from the Russian front (with no apologies to the Nazis) but that is the record set up by the H. E. Millers of Dawn who had an old time rat killing one day last week and counted 201 as the total decrease in rat population.

"We cover the news" is going to be the slogan of the ladies of the Progressive H. D. Club; because hereafter they are going to write the brand's Progressive news when they have (Continued on page 10)

USO Budget Approved

The budget submitted to regional USO headquarters by the Hereford USO Council has been approved. It was revealed today in a letter received by Robert Thompson, council chairman.

The budget, though approved by regional headquarters, will have to go through to national offices of the USO before permanent approval is given. The regional director, Dr. W. W. Jackson, also stated that estimates and plans for renovation of the building had been approved and this phase of the program should be cleared up rapidly.

The budget submitted by the local committee called for monthly expenditures of $310.

Animal, Mystery Stories Top List of Juvenile Taste at County Library

"Superman" and "Action Comics" may make up a large part of the literary diet of the younger generation, but don't get the idea that they never read better books.

Action and Plot
That is the opinion of Mrs. Clara McLean, librarian of the Deaf Smith County Library, who believes that the youngsters will read good books—provided the plot is exciting, the action is fast and the only love story involved is the love of a boy for his dog. The county library just last week received about 150 new books for the juvenile section, and to testify to the success of the "action-plot" literary school, there were few of the new books left in the shelves by Monday.

Most of the new books were for sixth and seventh graders, who make up just about the most enthusiastic group of library patrons, and the principal types of stories are those about Indians and pioneers, just about equally popular with both boys and girls, though the girls also like what Mrs. McLean calls "vocational" stories, and their interest signifies the continued importance of the "Career girl" as an American type.

"It would be impossible to have too many animal stories," says Mrs. McLean. "The little boys definitely prefer them to

B&PW Collects Books for USO Reading Room

Books for soldiers—books which will eventually go into the reading room of the Hereford USO and until that time will be used in the reading rooms of service men's clubs already opened in the city—are going to be collected by the local Business and Professional Women's Club, according to an announcement today by Miss Virginia Bowman, chairman of the B & PW book drive.

"We realize that many persons have already given books in the recent Victory Book Campaign," says Miss Bowman, "but at the same time we believe that the people of Hereford and surrounding communities will be glad to give their book shelves another cleaning and give the boys some of these books."

Requirements for books are simple. Give a book which you yourself have liked. Mystery and adventure stories are always in demand, book club selections are popular; and non-fiction, subjects of current interest are generally popular with the soldiers. Don't ignore pocket-book and other cheap editions of popular novels and non-fiction.

Books must be in good condition, as the B & PW will not have facilities to mend books. And don't give "woman's magazine fiction"—most men don't like it.

If you have books, bring them to Miss Bowman at the Hereford Creamery, or call her at No. 680. Club members will collect the books one day the latter part of next week.

Potato and Vegetable Growers Must Fill Out Form for AAA Payments

A form has been mailed to all potato and vegetable growers in Deaf Smith County and the form must be turned in to the county AAA office not later than July 1 in order for the grower to be eligible for the special payments granted Irish potato and fresh vegetable growers under this year's AAA program.

To be eligible for payments on either potatoes or fresh vegetable crops, the grower must plant 110 per cent of his goal; with payments to be made on the amount planted over 90 per cent of the goal. In other words, the special payments are made only on the 20 per cent above the minimum 90 per cent planting. Payments on this 20 per cent of acreage will amount to $53 an acre on potatoes and $50 an acre on fresh vegetable crops, but will be made only if the farmer fills in the required form by July 1.

any other kind of books, so I buy most of the new ones and try to keep a good supply of such old favorites as the Will James stories."

Mysterics A Problem
"Our younger mystery lovers are a problem," the librarian points out, adding that the children are just as fond of mysteries as are their mothers and fathers and it is hard to find mystery stories suitable for them. However, a fairly large selection of juvenile mysteries tends to keep the kids on their own side of the library and out of the adult mystery fiction, which might be on the rough and glory side for supposedly tender, youthful sensibilities.

One noteworthy fact about nearly all the new juvenile books is the fact that they combine good writing and a good story with illustrations which will train the child for an appreciation of art. Starting with the picture books for the youngest children, all the new books feature illustrations which are a real artistic addition to the story.

Circulation of juvenile books has been high ever since school closed for the summer vacation, and the library anticipates a continued "run" on children's books for the rest of the summer months.

Let's Be Sensible

(An Editorial)

It is regrettable that a seeming disagreement exists which has led toward ill feeling between some citizens of this community and some of the personnel of the Hereford Internment Camp. In this matter, The Hereford Brand has endeavored to maintain neutrality and to act as sort of umpire—and to our way of thinking, we have tried to be fair.

Frankly, we should have known better; a newspaper, it appears isn't destined to remain neutral. Or, perhaps, "we" never knew before how it felt when both sides of the grandstand began throwing pop bottles at the umpire.

The publishers of The Hereford Brand like to consider this newspaper a medium of service to the United States of America and to the community which we serve. In our opinion, a newspaper properly operated, as any other service organization, is composed of numerous individuals, each trying to perform his respective duty in the publishing of the paper, disseminating news and information to the people—and these interested individuals are entitled to exercise their own beliefs and attitude on any public matter uninfluenced by any other person connected with such organization. Such a newspaper will publish interviews and news items, coming from reliable sources, with which the newspaper, including its personnel, does not necessarily agree. Likewise, letters from individuals will be published in the paper concerning matters which some of its citizens believe to concern public interest, nor is it necessary that any letters of controversial nature reflect the opinion of a newspaper.

Perhaps The Hereford Brand made a mistake in adhering to a request by the U. S. Army to use its columns. Again, we may have erred in allowing our columns to be used for an open letter of a personal and controversial nature. Judging by results, we apparently made a mistake somewhere along the line.

Last week we were presented with letters regarding both sides of this case. All of these letters involved persons not referred to in the previous material published, and all of them were, in our opinion, libelous. We refused to print the libelous portions of these letters—but said we would print such portions which entered the immediate controversy, and such portions to individuals or groups of individuals not already concerned, which were not libelous. We further asked the proponents of these letters to consider whether the letters would contribute in any manner to the war effort, and if not to refrain from printing them.

A great many things could be said on both sides concerning the question as to whether or not Hereford has done its best to afford proper treatment of our soldiers stationed at our camp. We do not care to discuss either side of this question, but wish to urge our people generally to do all that is possible to be done toward proper treatment and cooperation with the new citizens of our community. We say new citizens, certainly the soldiers and officers are a part of our community and are entitled to be heard in public matters, which affect them and the morale of the command located in our midst. Out of fairness to these men we feel certain that every individual would much prefer active foreign duty to being located in a non-combat zone in the United States. We have found that this is the spirit of practically all of our fighting men, but they are subject to being stationed or sent abroad according to the will of the Commander in Chief and his staff.

We only think it fair to also state that the actions of our Commanding Officers are governed by military rule and regulation. It is his duty at all times to look after the morale of his men, which includes recreational facilities on and off duty; proper health and sanitary conditions in camp or wherever they may be present, his actions along this line being governed by military sanitation experts. Military regulations further forbid a Commanding Officer to make controversial or political statements or to even answer what might be considered a personal insult.

Above all other things, this community needs, wants and deserves a U. S. O. center which will accommodate enlisted men on leave, offering them entertainment of the type found in other U. S. O. centers over the entire nation. We understand that plans are being completed for such a recreation point—and if it is not forthcoming within a reasonable length of time we stand willing and ready to go to bat 100 percent for its installation.

We know both individuals concerned in previous material published in this newspaper and we sincerely believe, despite their difference of opinions, that each of them is interested in the same goal—that of bringing victory and peace to the United States as rapidly as possible.

This newspaper is not controlled by the clergy. This newspaper is not controlled by the Army. This newspaper is not controlled by any individual outside of our organization. Therefore, we feel free to eliminate this controversy from our columns. We know that many of our readers will appreciate this announcement, especially the 200 men in the armed service from here who get this paper each week.

The spreading of rumors contrary to the war effort has been branded by our government as "fifth column activities"; bickering and lack of cooperation were cited by the war department as one of the direct causes contributing to Japan's successful attack on Pearl Harbor, in which a large portion of our Pacific Fleet was destroyed. Certainly no one can say a commendable word for such activities. With these things in mind, The Hereford Brand asks the citizenship of this community, both old and new, to join in a unified effort toward winning the war as soon as possible.

Two Herefordites Among Texas Tech Graduates

Mrs. Christine Warren Stewart of Hereford and Lawrence Bernard Wilder, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wilder of the Jumbo community, were among the 284 graduates who received degrees at the annual commencement at Texas Technological College on Monday.

Mrs. Stewart received an MA in English, in which she did graduate study at Tech last year. Wilder received a BS degree in mechanical engineering and expects to go into some phase of war activity soon.

P. H. Dyers Have Two Daughters in Uniform

It's daughters in the service for Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Dyer of Jumbo, who now have two daughters in WAAC uniform.

Lucille Dyer joined first, has now completed her basic training at Camp Monticello, Ark., and evidently put up such a good sales talk that she convinced sister Billie of the advantages of being a WAAC.

Lucille is now at a WAAC training school at Alamogordo, N. M., and Billie is taking her basic training at Ft. Devens, Mass.

Wheat Loans Will Not Be Approved Until Land Is Measured

Farmers were reminded this week that to be eligible for a wheat loan, they must have planted and 'turned in' measurements on "war crops" for the farm.

N. E. Gass, AAA committee chairman, made the announcement and pointed out that farmers will have to hurry if they expect to get the required papers filled out in time to avoid delay in getting the wheat loan.

Prior to this year, AAA personnel measured the land to determine compliance and eligibility for loans; but this year, because of manpower shortage and to get quicker service the responsibility for measuring was turned over to the farmer; and Mr. Gass emphasizes that delay in getting a wheat loan will be the farmer's own responsibility if he fails to get the measurements in and on time.

Rate of the loan has not yet been announced, according to employees at the local AAA office, but harvest is expected to start probably by the last week in June and some fields may be ready for the combine even sooner.

DEALERS CANNOT TAKE LOOSE SHOE STAMPS

Warning all shoe dealers not to accept loose shoe stamps on over-the-counter sales, the Office of Price Administration, pointed out that such practice is contrary to the regulation.

"We have been informed that some merchants are accepting loose stamps No. 17 if the purchaser has the book with the loose stamps," the OPA notice said. "This is of course incorrect."

Coat Hanger Situation Gets Really Serious

Hereford dry cleaners stated this week that the coat hanger situation is really serious—so bad, in fact, that they are now unable to buy the paper coat hangers which have been substitutes for wire hangers for some time.

The cleaners therefore are asking customers to send a hanger with every article of clothing sent to be cleaned. If no hanger is sent with the clothes, they will simply have to be sent back without a hanger.

This is a measure which has already been taken in many cities and the Hereford cleaners ask customers to cooperate in this matter.

Summerfield Boy Dies At Amherst

Funeral services were held last week for Claude A. Euler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Euler of Summerfield, who died May 23 in a hospital in Amherst.

Claude was born Nov. 18, 1932 in Hereford and had lived in the Summerfield community all of his life. He attended the Summerfield school and was a popular member of the student body.

Survivors are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Euler, two sisters, Betty and Jeanette, and one brother, all of Summerfield.

Rev. Marcus Rexrode, pastor of the Summerfield church, conducted the funeral service which was under the direction of the Black Funeral Home of Hereford. Burial was at Kydo, Okla.

Hereford Legionnaires, in charge of Flag Week celebration here June 8 to 14, this week stated that the entire Flag Week program is built around the idea of paying purposeful tribute to the flag by purchasing War Bonds and Stamps, over and above normal purchases for the week.

"The idea," says Bill Smith, who is in charge of the local program, "is to do without some things we actually need and put that money into War Bonds and Stamps."

"By saving through sacrifice," Mr. Smith points out, "We are putting that money where it is needed, on the firing line where our flag is being advanced by the sacrifice of our boys in the service."

Merchants of Hereford will be asked to display the flag every day during Flag Week and present plans call for the assessment of fines—to be paid in War Bonds and Stamps—for failure to display the national emblem.

The national goal for Flag Week is the sale of 100 million dollars worth of War Bonds and Stamps, above and beyond normal purchases for the week. The local sponsors will make a careful check of sales here and compare with average weekly sales (Continued on page 10)

Arlie Dean Buys Ranch At Nara Viso, New Mex.

Arlie Dean, prominent Deaf Smith County rancher, has recently purchased the ranch of W. M. Stoval at Nara Viso, N. M. and Mr. and Mrs. Dean expect to move to their new property soon.

The Stovals, formerly of Hereford, have not yet made definite plans for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dean will occupy the Dean ranch home at Ward.

18-Year-Olds Must Register For Draft

The Deaf Smith County Selective Board reminded 18-year-olds this week that they are required to register for the draft as soon as they reach their 18th birthday.

No specific date for group registration is set and every boy in the county is supposed to register at the local office in the courthouse as soon as he reaches his 18th birthday.

Rites Held In Crosbyton For Mrs. Dement

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church of Crosbyton last week for Mrs. Una McClain Dement, 87 years old, who died May 24 at the home of her son, B. C. Dement, in Hereford. She had made her home here for the past four years, and her death followed a month's illness as the result of a fall.

Born August 3, 1856 in Scott County, Ark., Mrs. Dement had made her home in Oklahoma from 1900 until 1924, when she moved to Crosbyton.

She had been a member of the Baptist Church since she was 18 years of age and her religion was revealed in every phase of her daily living.

Survivors are two sons, B. C. Dement and P. J. Dement, both of Hereford; four daughters, Mrs. Maud Taylor, Clovis, N. M., Mrs. W. H. Magness, Telephone, Tex., Mrs. W. H. Brents, Crosbyton and Mrs. A. C. Jones, Sugarloaf, Okla., a brother, Andrew McClain of Pateau, Okla.; 34 grandchildren and 44 great grandchildren.

Rev. Noah V. Guice, pastor of the Crosbyton Baptist Church, was in charge of the funeral service and burial was in the Crosbyton cemetery.

All county quotas on rationed farm machinery were cancelled this week by the Texas USDA War Board, which issued a statement pointing out that purchases of farm machinery are no longer restricted to the county in which a farmer carries out his operations. He may purchase from any dealer in the state, under the new regulations.

Farmers must, however, locate the machinery they wish to purchase and obtain a purchase certificate from the county farm machinery rationing board before making purchase.

Committees are not permitted to issue purchase certificates unless the machinery first is located by the producer, according to the USDA board's announcement, which explains that the purpose of this ruling is to prevent issuing certificates in excess of available supply.

Tag requirements also are abolished and machinery is tagged to specify the state in which it is to be sold. Previously, machinery was tagged by counties and could be purchased only when machines were to be used in the county for which they were tagged.

State quotas remain in effect but break-down by counties no longer will be necessary under the revised program.

Amarillo AAF To Stage Big Salvage Drive

The mobile salvage unit of Amarillo Army Air Field started an all-out drive to collect every ounce of scrap metal in 21 Panhandle counties this week, according to an announcement from the field which states that Brigadier General H. S. Burwell, commanding general of the field, has instructed Major R. C. Lueck, director of the mobile salvage caravans, to approach every farmer and rancher for scrap donations.

The mobile salvage collection unit consists of 60 soldiers, 13 army trucks, cranes, cutting torches and all tools necessary to cut and cart the scrap; and the new collection plan is expected to help farmers who have been unable to junk and deliver accumulated piles of scrap to established depots.

In an appeal directed to Panhandle farmers and ranchers, Major Lueck said:

"Our boys must have more arms, more tanks, more planes and many other fighting implements. Your scrap metal donations will help make these things which will finally guarantee the complete destruction of the axis partners."

Exact date of the visit of the mobile salvage unit to Deaf Smith and surrounding counties will be announced later.

The allotment of sugar is three pounds per month per head.

Texas Led Nation In Second War Loan Campaign

Texas' man in the street paced the entire nation in the purchase of war bonds in the Second War Loan drive.

Frank Scofield, State War Bond Administrator, disclosed Monday that bond sales to individuals, partnerships and personal trust accounts nearly doubled the fixed quota.

Sales to small investors totaled 199 per cent in the 11th Federal Reserve District which comprises all of Texas and parts of Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. Texas has 254 of the 311 counties making up this district.

The district had a goal of $400,000,000 for all bond sales in the war loan drive. It handed Uncle Sam a cool $572,451,600 to make it hot for the axis in translation of bonds to armament and ammunition. This means the goal was oversubscribed by 43 per cent.

Banks, institutions and governmental departments invested heavily in the war loan drive, but the individual investor—the man in the street—emerges as a great factor in its success, the No. 1 Bond Salesman declared.

"This shows beyond a doubt that the average man has wholeheartedly accepted his responsibility in the people's war", Scofield added.

"Uncle Sam needs everybody in this all-out war. He called for that help and he got it. The average man has rolled up a victory of his own on the home front.

The Atlanta Federal Reserve District ranked next to Texas in bond sales to individual investors, attaining a goal of 189 per cent. The Minneapolis district was third and Kansas City fourth.

Miss Patci Ruth Batton Becomes Bride of O. G. Hill Jr. Sunday

A beautiful spring wedding which took place at the E. B. Black home at five o'clock Sunday evening was that of Miss Patci Ruth Batton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Batton, and O. G. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hill of this city.

The service was read before the large south window in the living room against a background of palms and baskets of purple and white larkspur that flanked an arch of greenery decorated with wedding bells tied with white satin ribbon. The kneeling cushions were of white taffeta. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Sharp, pastor of the San Jacinto Methodist Church of Amarillo.

The rooms were lighted entirely by candles, tall pyramiding candles illuminating the living room and cathedral candles lighting the reception hall. Lighting the candles were Linda Stokes and Starr Odell. Before the ceremony Mrs. Hill, the bride-groom's mother, sang "Through the Years" by Youmans, accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Stanford. Mrs. J. D. Neill of Higgins, sister of the bride-groom, played the wedding marches.

Mrs. T. A. Hibun of Austin, the bride's sister, was matron of honor and wore a gown of iridescent taffeta. She carried a white Bible, gift to the bride from her grandmother, Mrs. Nettie Kindel of Carlsbad, N. M.

The bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Robertson and Mrs. Charles Hill, wore floor length dresses in blue and pink. They carried old-fashioned colonial bouquets of pink roses.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore white marquisette over white satin, made with bodice effect and square neck trimmed in lace. The sleeves were long and full and also trimmed in lace. The full skirt fell into a short train in the back. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a sheaf of white carnations tied with white satin ribbon.

For something old she wore an heirloom cameo ring and her "borrowed something" was the orange blossom wreath worn by Mrs. W. J. Stanford at her wedding. Blue satin markers in the Bible completed the traditional custom.

Foster Hill, brother of the bride-groom, served as best man and groomsmen were Charles Hill and Elvin Wilcox.

Reception Held
Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held for the guests and bridal party. Centering the table laid in white linen, was a wedding ring of orange blossoms with four white tapers rising from the flowers. Mrs. Earl Brown of El Paso, aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl at one end of the table and Mrs. George McFadden of Roswell, also an aunt of the bride, presided over the cake at the other end of the table. Lynn Morrow presided at the guest register. Informal music during the reception was given by Margaret Barber.

Leave On Trip
After the bride cut the first piece of cake, the couple left on a short trip after which they will go to the Yellow House (Hill) Ranch near Littlefield to make their home. The bride's going-away dress was a beige and brown gaberdine suit with matching accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Hill graduated this month from Hereford High School. Mr. Hill is also a graduate of Hereford High School and attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock. He is associated with his father in the cattle business.

The out-of-town wedding guests included; Betty Jean Caperton and Jean Luna of Portales, Mrs. H. T. Hornbuckle of Odessa, Miss Ida Moore, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hewitt and daughter Janeth, Mr. and Mrs. J. H.

Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rumbach, Linda Beth Stokes, Star Odell and Bobby Foust, all of Littlefield, Mrs. Lillie Batton, Long Beach Calif., Mrs. Nettie Kindel, Carlsbad, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. George McFadden and sons Gerald and George of Roswell, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown and Miss Mary Jane Edge of El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hibun of Austin, R. I. Foster of Raton, N. Mesdames Brumley And Wilson Are Co-Hostesses for Garden Club Meet

The Hereford Garden Club met for regular session at the club rooms at the court house Friday afternoon. Mrs. Homer Brumley and Mrs. Liston Wilson were hostesses. Flowering shrubs were featured in the flower arrangements for the day with red honeysuckle, mock orange blossoms and baby's breath making an attractive combination.

Mrs. N. E. Gass was leader of the program, opening the discussions with a paper on "Murder in the Garden." She also read a paper on "Natural Habitat and Cultural Requirements of Dianthus" prepared by Mrs. J. R. Allison. Mrs. Earl Springer gave an interesting discussion on Herb Gardening in the Victory Program.

In a series of "Did You Know?" questions brought out in roll call, members learned that Mrs. Essie Cardwell is the owner of a lovely bed of "pink violets", that crepe myrtle will do well in a shady place, and grows well in almost all types of soil, that pink are very lasting as a cut flower, that ruffled petunia cuttings may be taken in the spring from house plants. Place cuttings in sand and keep covered with paper for two weeks, with plenty of moisture. Glads should not be planted later than July. It is desirable to plant larger bulbs first and the smaller ones last for the best display of uniform blossoms. Dahlias make a surprising growth if well watered. Let the water run on them for an entire day very slowly. Fast watering or the sprinkling method is not good for them. To preserve cut flowers, use a slanting cut and soak flowers overnight if possible. Crush and pound stems of all woody shrubs and plants such as rhododendrons. For restoring fresh flowers which have wilted, place in cold water to which has been added one-half cup of vinegar to a quart of water. Spray flowers and foliage with a fine spray daily.

After the club session members went to the Garden Club park plot and set out iris roots and chrysanthemum cuttings. Those attending the meeting were Mesdames D. H. Alexander, Lyle Blanton, C. D. Garnahan, C. C. Ferguson, E. E. Fridley, N. E. Gass, P. H. Gilliland, W. C. Hromas, John Jacobsen, F. M. Kester, Jim Lipscomb, A. L. Manjeot, F. H. Oberthier, John P. Slaton, Earl Springer, E. Ramey, Robert Wagoner, A. O. Thompson, and the hostesses.

Rev. J. T. McKissick of Abilene left Monday after spending the weekend in Hereford. He filled the pulpit at both morning and evening services at the First Christian Church and visited in the home of his brother-in-law, Jeff Gilbreath.

MRS. HUCKERT ENTERTAINS CLUB

New Deal Club members enjoyed an afternoon of contract games with Mrs. Frank Huckert as hostess at the home of Mrs. Joe Huckert Friday afternoon. Mrs. Meade Halle played with members, and high scores rating the defense stamp awards were made by Mrs. Jack Bradley and Mrs. Judson Skaggs.

After the games a salad course was served to Mesdames Willis Edelman, Sylvester Slagle, Judson Skaggs, Troy Moore, Jack Bradley, Meade Halle, Ralph Hastings and the hostess.

Those taking part in the recital were Jacqueline Newell, Patsy Ann Slagle, Mary Louise Gady, Susie Rogers and Ruth Tucker.

Soldier And Bride Announce Marriage

Corp. and Mrs. Jesse Long plan to make their home in Hereford. He is stationed at the Hereford Internment Camp.

The young couple have announced their marriage which took place Thursday evening at 6 o'clock on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ireland.

The ring ceremony was read by Rev. James Aiken, Jr., pastor of the Presbyterian Church, in the presence of neighbors and friends. The bride wore an attractive tailored dress in powder blue and she carried a bouquet of Los Angeles roses.

Mrs. Long is the former Miss Mary Moody of Greenville, S. C., and she arrived here Thursday.

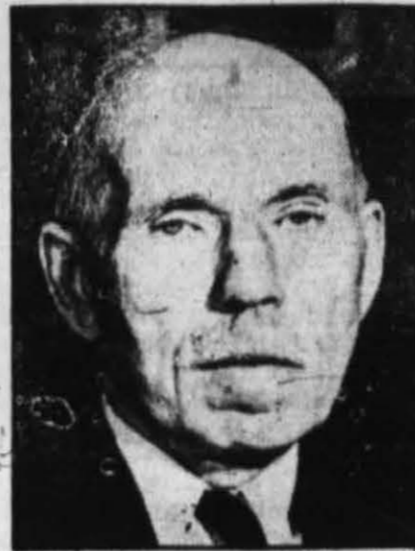

At present they are located at the E. S. Ireland apartment.

CHDA NOTES

No ration worries were attached to the "farm dinner" enjoyed by the Aldon Hawks family on Sunday, May 23. On the menu were English peas, strawberries and lettuce from the Hawks' garden, round steak from their freezer locker, stored carrots and stored potatoes—and of course plenty of milk and butter, produced on the farm. And a household tip from Mrs. Hawks is that she finds the powdered sweet potatoes now on the market are delicious in corn bread.

According to a letter from Geo. P. McCarthy, extension poultryman, now is the time to start your first job of culling those striking hens in the laying house. You should be able to remove about ten per cent of the loafers this month and perhaps as many next month, and culling is not a hard job and won't take much time. If you have Leghorns, the job is very easy;

Co-Discoverers

(U. S. Navy Photos From NEA) Dr. A. Hoyt Taylor, top, and Leo C. Young, Navy research scientists, are co-discoverers of the principle of radar, the radio detecting and ranging system so vital to successful conduct of sea warfare. They made their discovery two decades ago, and the Navy just recently announced their names.

If some of the other breeds, like Barred Rocks or Reds, it is a little more difficult but not impossible. Here is how you can do it fast and fairly accurately and at the same time not upset production.

Pen your birds in the house and get a good catching hook. Walk around among the hens so as not to disturb them and keep that good chicken eye open for loafers. If you spot one with a shriveled comb pick her up and examine her. If she is a low producer, cull her. If she is still in good production, turn her out so she won't confuse you again and cause repeated handling. These that are molting should be culled. If you spot one with yellow pigment in the beak and shanks, pick her up—chances are she is a loafer. Look for those with saggy abdomen, this is a good indication of an egg organ breakdown. Watch for those birds that have a bad diarrhea. If you spot a few pale, weak-looking hens, get them out. Now while you are looking them over, keep a sharp lookout for any birds showing grey eyes. It is a wise practice to sell these.

Though the rules for obtaining canning sugar are a little different from those in effect last year, the guiding rule for the use of the sugar is the same: Allow one pound of sugar to each quart of finished fruit. If desired, five pounds of sugar per person may be requested for making preserves or jellies or fruit butters, but this must be included within the 25 pound canning sugar allowance which is the maximum allotment for each person.

It usually takes 3-4 to one cup of liquid to each quart jar of fruit, to fill in around the solid food and to cover it well.

The sugar ration allows about 1-2 cup of sugar to use in each quart jar as an average.

Here are pointers from the home economists for canning the berries, cherries and other summer fruits as they come along, so that the fruits, the sugar ration and the home canner herself may all keep in step.

1. Shift the sugar to fit the fruit. Sour fruits may demand—and get—more than the average. In that case, you will count on giving short-rations of sugar to some of your very juicy and sweet fruits. Often you can taste the natural flavor of sweet fruit better when less sugar is used.

2. Put up some fruit without sugar, if necessary. It's true that a little sugar helps canned fruits to hold color and flavor. But the sugar isn't essential to keep the canned fruit from spoiling. Fruit for pie making is often canned without sugar, by choice. So is fruit for diabetic diets.

So, if you have more good fruit than sugar at any time this summer, don't let it go to waste. Can the fruit and mark the jars plainly to indicate "no sugar." Then you can open them and sweeten the fruit to taste when the family can best spare the sugar from its weekly ration.

3. Precook fruit for canning. You can heat the fruit in fruit juice or sirup or water. Adding sugar before heating the fruit will draw out the juice. Some fruits thus treated yield enough juice of their own so that no additional liquid is needed.

There is good reason for heating the fruit before it goes into the canner. Precooking shrinks the fruit, helping you to get more into each jar, which is good wartime economy of glass jars and metal caps and shelf space. However, never cram the fruit in tight. Allow a good proportion of liquid to each jar.

4. Thin or moderately thin sirup is in step with the sugar ration. For thin sirup use one cup of sugar to three cups of water or juice. Really sour fruits require medium thick sirup—1 cup sugar to one cup water or juice.

5. To extract juice: crush and heat some of softer, juicy fruits to boiling. Use very low heat or set the pan over hot water so the fruit won't stick. Be sure the fruit used for juice is as perfect as any fruit you pick up. Cut out any traces of bruise or decay. When the juice flows freely, strain it. Sweeten to taste, if desired.

6. In place of sugar, use if you wish some of the mild flavored sirups such as honey or corn sirup. Use honey to replace up to half of your sugar, or corn sirup to replace up to one-third of your sugar. A larger proportion of the sirup would mask the delicate fruit flavor.

7. Three don'ts to end with: Don't use in your canning any sirups that have high flavor of their own, such as maple, sorghum or molasses. Don't use brown sugar. Don't use saccharine in canning; if you wish to use saccharine to sweeten canned fruit, add it just before serving or the fruit may take on a bitter taste.

Here Are a Few Advantages of Ordering Your Repair Parts Now

1. You stand 1000 times better chance of getting delivery Now — because many parts are in stock and the least-minute orders will go begging.
2. If your parts have to be manufactured at the factory, it is absolutely essential that they be ordered early.

The government realizes the importance of food to the war effort and is trying to allot essential repair parts — but they do not want to tie up critical materials in unused parts to lie idle in bins, while they could be made into fighting equipment for soldiers.

It's tough on you... it's tough on us, but it is one of those sacrifices we are all willing to make in order to win the war. It is your duty and our duty to help all we can — so no matter where you trade, here or with some other dealer — place your order for Repairs Now, or as soon as possible.

Madison Square Monument To Tex Rickard

By I. C. Brenner
Many may yearn to look out from the 103rd story of the Empire State Building, climb to the torch of the Statue of Liberty or, if of the gentler sex, comb the swank shops of Fifth Avenue for frocks. But when I find myself in New York, it's Madison Square Garden for me! It is a place of glamour and thrill and the other night was the 57th time I was in that vast auditorium watching a fight. It was between Lightweight Beau Jack and Bob Montgomery, and I was a mere dot in that sea of 19,000 faces.

To me, standing in the Eighth Avenue lobby, its walls covered with pictures of pugilistic greats, past and present, and its floor worn smooth by the feet of red-bloods and blue bloods, is as glamorous as sitting by the ringside watching the bout itself. There is something about it that makes a man long to wear his best, be at his best and to have his best girl there beside him, dressed to kill. It is a show with a capital "S" and the audience is the "observed of observers." Everyone is on the lookout for celebrities and they are there. Among the regular attendants are Jock Whitney, Bernard Gimbel, Blossom Seeley, Stanton Griffiths, Benny Fields, Jimmy Walker, Police Commissioner Valentine, Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney and many others.

ACTION AND COLOR
But the people. There they are, banked to the ceiling, staring down at the intense square of light that floods the ring and the two battling men within it—What a spot of action and color. It was on the roof of the original Madison Square Garden at Twenty-sixth Street and Madison Avenue now the site of the huge New York Life Insurance Structure, that Harry K. Thaw shot and killed Stanford White, architect of the Garden. The present building on Eighth Avenue, extending from Forty-Ninth to Fifth Street, is the creation of the late Tex Rickard, greatest boxing promoter of all time. When Rickard died in 1929 Jimmy Johnston directed the Garden's promotional ventures for some six years. He in turn was succeeded by Mike Jacobs, this era's most successful sports promoter. Ned Irish, of basketball fame, is current president of the Garden in the absence of John Reed Kilpatrick, now serving as a Brigadier General with the United States Forces.

The garden cost five and a half million dollars and opened for the six-day bicycle race Nov. 25, 1925. Within the gigantic structure the greatest sports events in the world take place: Boxing, wrestling, hockey, tennis, indoor baseball, soccer, rodeos, basketball, bicycle races, horse shows, track and field meets, dog shows, sportsmen's shows, political meetings, the ice show and, of course, the circus.

The largest gate record indoors was the Jack Delaney vs. Jimmy Maloney fight in 1927—$201,613. The Henry Armstrong vs. Fritzie Zivic bout drew the biggest attendance—23,190.

TWENTY EIGHT BOUTS
Twenty-eight world championship bouts have been held at the Garden, among them, notably, Bob Olin vs. Maxie Rosendbloom, Barney Ross, Gual-canal hero, vs. Jimmy McLarnin, Tony Canzoneri vs. Lou Ambers, Lew Jenkins vs. Sammy Angott, Willie Pep vs. Chalky Wright, etc. Joe Louis, in the successful defense of his title here, has fought such men as John Henry Lewis, Johnny Paycheck and Buddy Baer.

Visitors are always welcome to be shown about the Garden. Sometimes it has to be gently explained that the Garden is not a garden as folks far away have pictured it. Western seed and plant houses mail in lots of advertising material and may even send sample seeds. One old couple who came a visiting were really disappointed. Having looked dutifully around with moderate interest, they finally asked, "Now, please, let us see the garden."

More Canned Food For Civilians

Civilians will gain 30 million cases of canned fruits and vegetables as a result of reduced government requirements. The reductions are mainly for corn, peas, spinach, tomatoes, snap beans, fruit cocktail, sweet cherries, peaches, pineapple, and pineapple juice. Since the 1943 production is not known, current point values for these items will not be immediately affected.

Use 10 Lbs. Magnetic Spray Wettable Sulphur to 100 Gallons of Water

USE LIQUID LIME-SULPHUR
(1/4 Gallons to 50 Gallons Water)

Recent information from the potato districts of Colorado states that the dusting sulphur is recommended for psyllid control and that wettable sulphur has been added to the list of materials to be used as a spray. From the many reports that we have received, the following advantages of wettable sulphur are noted:

- The cost for the finished spray, where Magnetic Spray Wettable Sulphur is used, is only slightly higher than Liquid Lime-Sulphur spray. The cost of course, is considerably less than for Dry Lime-Sulphur spray. The cost, using 3M Magnetic Micro-Measured Wettable Sulphur is slightly less than Dry Lime-Sulphur. The recommended rate of Wettable is 10 pounds per 100 gallons of water.
- Wettable sulphur can be readily combined with insecticidal or fungicidal materials, such as Cryolite and Cuprocid to make a combination spray.
- Wettable Sulphur has been reported to be equally as effective as liquid Lime-Sulphur for control of psyllids.
- Wettable sulphur has been known for years to be a safe spray and does not cause foliage burn, which is not always the case with Lime-Sulphur.
- Wettable sulphur is safe to use and does not cause discomfort to the operator.
- Wettable sulphur comes to the user in a dry form and is easily transported, handled and stored without deteriorating or lumping.

Three Common Mistakes In Ration Applications

A preliminary survey of applications for the War Ration Book No. 3 in the Lubbock district this week revealed that West Texans, on the whole, are filling out forms correctly, however, they have gotten "off the track" in some instances.

Applications must be mailed between June 1 and 10 with the applicant giving his address as the one he will be using between July 15 and July 21, 1943. Persons not reasonably sure what their address will be on that date are asked not to submit their application until later when a plan will be announced.

The forms already received show that a number of persons are ignoring the little box on the front of the application which says "Put Postage Stamp Here." Heads of families are filling in their own names in the middle of the card correctly but are forgetting to place the date and their signature on the bottom line. Where this mistake has been made, application forms are being returned to the customers for correction.

Let's Cook Something

With war-time rationing practically in charge of every thing we eat, it's easy for guests to catch you without a thing in the house to eat. Here is Mrs. W. A. Teter's answer to that problem a quickly made white cake that is based on never failing principles, and if you are a little lazy you might like to know that it is made entirely with the hands, no spoons to wash at all. Mrs. Teter got the recipe from a friend in Woodward, Okla., and she serves it with refrigerator desserts or tempting iced drinks.

Never Failing White Cake

- 1-2 cup butter
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 cup sweet milk
- 2 cups cake flour (measured before sifting)
- 2 level teaspoons baking powder
- pinch of salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 4 unbeaten egg whites.

Mixing all ingredients by hand, begin by creaming the sugar and butter. Add milk and flour alternately, beginning and ending with the flour. Add baking powder, salt and vanilla and add the unbeaten egg whites one at a time, beating thoroughly after the addition of each egg. Bake in loaf or layers in moderate oven, and top with melted marshmallows, sprinkled with coconut.

Red Stamp Value Down In June

Blue stamps, used for the purchase of canned foods, will have about the same value as they had in May, but prepare to part with more of those little red stamps when you visit your butcher shop this month, for values of most meat cuts have gone up in terms of points, and a few new items have been added to the rationed list. The new point values become effective Sunday, June 6.

Most steaks are now 11 and 12 points per pound, as compared with an eight point average on the old list; and roasts in June will demand anywhere from eight points a pound, for chuck to 11 points for round tip. Stew cuts range from five to seven points a pound; and hamburger has gone up from five to six points a pound.

Veal steaks and chops are also demanding more points as will pork roasts and chops. CREAM CHEESE RATIONED New to the ration list are cream cheese, which will call for three points a pound, and cottage cheese which will have the same point value.

No change has been made in the point value of butter, margarine and vegetable shortening.

Around Town

(Continued from page 1) their regular club meeting. Progressive has been without a correspondent for some time, and boys from the community who are in service, both in the states and overseas, have written home to say that they miss the news of their own community. So club members have taken over the job of community correspondents—and with five or ten newshounds on the job, they ought to get some good stories.

Burl Elliston is providing ammunition (B-B's) for his two young grandsons to use in guarding his cherry orchard from the birds. A good idea, if you can decide which is the biggest menace to cherries—birds or two young grandsons.

With the shortage of good mechanics in industry, why does Mrs. Jimmie Aiken confine herself to the home—and the family car? Right on Main yesterday afternoon, the Aikens were having car trouble; and while Jimmie sat nonchalantly at the wheel, Mrs. Aiken got out, pulled up the hood and did something intelligent to some of the gadgets—at least it must have been the right thing to do because the car started.

OPA Clarifies Sugar Canning Regulations

To clarify the sugar canning program of the OPA, a news release from the district office pointed out again this week that stamps 15 and 16, from War Ration Book 1 are good for a total of ten pounds of sugar. They may be turned in at the store where the purchase is made and will be honored unless the ration book shows that sugar has already been obtained through the local boards and both amounts will exceed 25 pounds. Otherwise, stamps 15 and 16, which became valid on May 24, will be good through October 31.

Consumers who require more than ten pounds of sugar per person for canning should go to their local board and make application. However, extra sugar for both canning fruits and making jams and jellies must not exceed 25 pounds per person during the specified period.

The regular current ration of five pounds of sugar for a period of two and one-half months for table use per person will continue and is not to be confused with the rationing stamp No. 13, which became valid June 1, will be good for five pounds through Aug. 1.

Miss Helen Drew, north plains hospital council representative of the American Red Cross, was in Hereford recently to start local organization of a project to help provide recreation equipment for army hospitals in the area. The 16 counties of the north plains district will provide recreational service for the four army hospitals at Amarillo, Pampa, Dalhart and Hereford, and according to plans suggested by Miss Drew, a local council in each community will direct activities there.

The new plan will offer wide opportunities for service by a Junior Red Cross, and will also give service openings for many interested citizens. Several local citizens are planning to attend the Red Cross meeting in Amarillo, Tuesday, June 8, when more complete plans for the program will be outlined.
