

AROUND A Town

Sights and Faces Seen

Summer is still the visiting season, and Alex Thompson for one is a complete believer in southern hospitality—says it greatly improves the bill of fare over at his house. If Audrey reads this, he was only kiddin'—which she probably knew he was, anyway.

The Red Cross is wrapping service kits and right now the principal item needed is small, paperbound books—mystery stories, or just anything you yourself have enjoyed reading. Mrs. Ralph Hastings is asking that the Pocket Books be left at The Brand Office for collection by the Red Cross, and she urges that donors bring them in just as soon as possible.

At least nobody can say that the boys "on the inside" are getting all the cigarettes these days. Frank Daniel is "rolling his own."

Despite the fact that the local ice plant is producing more than ever before, a lot of customers are learning to take "no" for an answer when they order ice in the middle of the day; for despite big production there just isn't enough to go around.

Until we find out different (or start getting to work earlier) Allen Powelson is nominated for the earliest coffee drink. (Continued on Page 12)

Grain Sorghum Harvest Poses New Problems

With 200,000 acres planted in row crop in Deaf Smith County and big yields predicted, despite the present need of rain, the problem of harvest and storage is looming large for farmers.

This latest headache of war time farm production was emphasized this week by County Agent A. R. Bateman, when he urged use of farm storage facilities whenever possible and the allowing of ample maturing time for the crop. Row crop, he points out, is hard to store and unless the stalks are allowed to stand in the field until the grain is dried out, danger of loss is great. Some varieties, particular Martin Maize and certain other types of Maize and Kaffir may be allowed to stand in the field for a long period of time. Maize stalks are sturdy, Bateman points out, and the feed is not likely to fall.

Elevator storage, the county agent said, will not be available unless the picture changes drastically in the near future. Approximately one-third of the wheat in the county is still to be shipped; but with only nine million bushels of storage left in such an important terminal as Fort Worth, it is obvious that there simply will be no place to move a bumper row crop.

Concerning other phases of the row crop harvest, Bateman says that present indications are for an adequate supply of trucks and combines; but his advice to farmers who have feed which can safely remain in the field is to be in no hurry about getting the crop harvested.

J. J. Fite, Pitman Partner Dies Monday

Funeral services were held Wednesday for J. J. Fite, 44, in Wichita Falls. Mr. Fite, who was well known in this area, died Monday night in Wichita Falls. Since Jan. 1, 1944, Mr. Fite had been a partner with J. A. Pitman of this community, in operating an elevator in Wichita Falls; until the partnership was formed he had been with General Mills for 20 years. Attending the funeral services from here were J. A. Pitman and David Rodgers.

There will be no advance registration of elementary school pupils, who will report Sept. 4 for their first day's school work at Central School.

Parents interested in helping their children arrange a course of study are invited to accompany the children when they come to register.

Tight Supplies Mean Strict Gas Ration Rulings

With supplies of gas and many types of tires at a new low, enforcement of rationing and conservation rules is going to be much stricter in the future.

This was the information given County Agent A. R. Bateman and AAA Secretary F. G. Collier at a district meeting of Extension Service and AAA officials with representatives of OPA and the Office of Defense Transportation in Amarillo, Tuesday.

According to the report, approximately 67 per cent of all gas now made is high octane and the reserve for civilian usage is practically exhausted. And although much synthetic rubber has been manufactured and it is proving generally satisfactory for tire making, the shortage of rayon fabrics and loss of skilled labor in the rubber industry has resulted in short tire supplies. Also, the local men say, the loss of tires during the landings and the current offensive in France has been heavy and consequently ration quotas on heavy duty truck tires for domestic use have been cut to the bone.

Investigations in a number of north Panhandle counties have showed what the OPA men call serious misuse of (Continued on Page 12)

Gov't. Permits 60 Cent Rise In Potato Prices

Good news for Hereford potato growers came this morning with the announcement of a 60 cent increase in the base price of No. 1's, making the price for No. 1's now set at $3.30, with "A's" bringing $3.40.

The lifting of the government price ceiling became effective this morning at one o'clock; and much added revenue for local growers is in prospect, as most estimates place the local potato harvest at less than 50 per cent complete.

According to reports up to yesterday morning 281 cars of potatoes had been shipped from Hereford by rail; and with approximately 60 per cent of the crop still to be shipped, railroad men are figuring on perhaps 700 cars to be sent from Hereford.

Slightly milder temperatures have been favorable to the potato harvest, but the labor situation continues to be tight.

Normandy Action Claims Life of Cy Andrew, Jr.

News that fighting in Normandy had taken the life of another local boy came last week when Mr. and Mrs. Cy Andrew of Jumbo community were notified of the death in action of their son, Pfc. Cyrus Andrew, Jr., 31, who was killed on July 12.

Pfc. Andrew, who was born at Wellington, had lived at Jumbo most of his life and attended school there. Before the war, he had served in the Army for 18 months; and he was again called to service in March, 1942. He had been overseas for several months and with an infantry division in France since early in June.

His many friends extend sincere sympathy to the family. Survivors, besides his parents, are five brothers, Virgil (Continued on Page 12)

New Machinery Quota Lists Released Here

New farm machinery quotas were announced this week by the county machinery rationing board, and an investigation of the list shows that a number of items have been removed from the quota list; although a certificate approved by the county committee is still necessary to secure purchase of these items.

The following schedule includes farm equipment which is still on a quota basis: Manure spreaders, combines, corn binders, corn pickers, mowers, side delivery rakes, hay loaders, pick-up balers and tractors.

Not on quota, but requiring a certificate, are potato planters, grain drills, power sprayers, potato diggers, ensilage cutters, garden tractors, deep and shallow well water systems, power pumps, irrigation pumps and farm milk coolers.

Western Cowpunchers To Meet in Amarillo

Annual Round-Up of the Western Cowpunchers Association will be held this year at the Tri-State Fair grounds, on Thursday, Aug. 24, it was announced this week by Herbert M. Timmons of Amarillo, secretary of the association, who says that the round-up is being held in Amarillo, instead of Wragge Park, the usual place, because of the labor shortage and easy availability at the Fair Grounds of shelter, utilities and other conveniences.

Cecil Walker is "outside man" for Deaf Smith County and those who wish may hand in their dues ($2.00) to him, or the dues may be mailed to Herbert Timmons, 1607 Hayden St., in Amarillo. The association wants to know approximately the number who will attend and this information should be turned in with the dues.

On the program will be an old-fashioned chuck wagon feed and John Snider barbecue. Music for dancing will be provided on both Wednesday night and Thursday afternoon, and those too young to dance can gather around the camp fire and "auger."

Sewing Room Closed Because of Shortage

The Red Cross Sewing Room will be closed for the remainder of this week because of a shortage of material to complete the hospital slippers now being made by volunteer workers.

Old woolen trousers—cleaned, ripped and pressed—are used to make the tops of these hospital slippers and there has been only a light response on the call for donations of these materials.

Housewives who do not have time or for some other reason have not been able to take part in the regular Red Cross sewing program, should find the contribution of these needed salvage materials a good way to help. Leaders point out, urging that more donations be made so that the work can continue.

B. Posey, secretary-manager, who urges that members mark and return their cards as soon as possible.

Appearing on the ballot are the names of Howard Gault, Wayne Evans, W. L. Davis, David M. Rodgers, Jr., H. N. Benson and C. M. Hicks; and three of the men on the slate will be elected to fill the places of Carl G. McCaslin, R. L. Thompson and T. E. Seigler, Jr., who will retire at the end of the present term.

Directors who will continue to serve next year are D. C. Kinsey, H. E. Henslee, R. C. McGilvary and H. A. Close.

Employment Service Representative To Be Here Monday

To discuss job openings in essential industry will be the purpose of a representative of the United States Employment Service, who will be at the Farm Labor Office in Hereford on Monday, Aug. 14. He will explain new phases of the WMC Labor Stabilization plan which recently went into effect, and will be at the local office from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M., according to the announcement.

All referral to essential employment must now be made in compliance with the stabilization plan, it is pointed out; however, any farmer or agricultural worker who has completed current farm work and wishes to devote a few weeks of his spare time to work in an essential industry, can be referred with the consent of the county agent. No statement of availability will be required when the worker needs to return to his farm job.

The employment service representative will be glad to discuss essential job openings with any interested individual.

C. M. Hicks Injured

C. M. Hicks, local contractor, was injured in a freak accident over some toys two small boys were manipulating in the street.

Mr. Hicks who is in charge of remodeling operations for the E. B. Black Furniture Company, had a runaway built from the walk to the pavement for wheeling loads of lumber. This was too great a temptation for two small boys who were playing with two toy cars on the street. As Mr. Hicks started up the runway with his arms full of building material he failed to see the cars and the general mix-up ended in bruises, torn muscles and ligaments and consequently crutches for Mr. Hicks. He has been able to discard the crutches now and is able to continue his work with the use of a cane.

Mr. Hicks said he didn't blame the little boys though, because if he had been in their place he would have liked to race his toy cars up and down that runway too.

Two Congregations to Worship Together Sunday

The Presbyterian and Methodist congregations will worship together Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, it was announced this week.

Rev. James Aiken, Jr., will preach at the service in the absence of Rev. Marvin Boyd, who was called to Abilene this week by the serious illness of Mrs. Boyd's father, Rev. C. B. Meador.

Greer H. Estes Killed in Action

Captain Greer H. Estes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Estes of Dimmitt, was killed in action in France on July 8, according to a War Department telegram received by his parents last week. His family have reason to believe that he had been in France since "D" Day, having received a letter from him dated soon after June 6.

Born June 29, 1913, in Dimmitt, Captain Estes had spent most of his life in Castro County. For several years he lived with his family in the Frio Community, a short distance south of Hereford; and he attended grade school at Frio. Graduating from Dimmitt High School in 1930, he attended West Texas State College at Canyon for two years before entering the University of Texas Law School, which he attended for three years and was admitted to the Texas Bar in 1939. He commenced the practice of law at Seagraves in Gaines County, and was living there when he was called into the Army in February, 1941.

He received his basic training in the Infantry at Camp Bowie, was recommended for officer's training in the spring of 1942 and was commissioned a second lieutenant in May, 1942. Promoted to first lieutenant, on Nov. 9, 1942, he received his captain's commission on July 24, 1943 and arrived in England in March of this year.

Captain Estes was a member of the Methodist Church, having joined the church in Hereford when he was seven years old. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge at Dimmitt.

Member of pioneer families of Hereford, Captain Estes was the grandson of the late John and Molly Estes and the late Crawford and Fida Greer. He was a nephew of Cliff Estes, Mrs. Carl Gilliland, and Miss Jonnie Estes, all of Hereford; and he had many friends here, who join with the family in sorrow at his death.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Estes of Dimmitt; a sister, Mrs. Helen Richardson, whose husband, (Continued on Page 12)

Bogle of Hereford; U. B. Bogle, Clinton, Okla.; and E. C. Bogle, Whittier, Calif., eight grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The City Commission is interested in getting a freak response from the public on the question of raising city taxes, it was revealed this week as the mayor and commissioners published a city financial statement and at the same time stated their position on the matter of raising taxes.

According to the statement, the alternative is between raising taxes or meeting current expenses from a surplus on hand.

Following is the statement of the city officials:
To The Citizens of Hereford:
Published in this issue of The Brand is a statement of the financial condition of the City as of April 30th, last, the close of the last fiscal year, and of all receipts and disbursements in both the General and Interest & Sinking Funds.

While this statement shows the city's finances to be in good condition, it reveals the fact, that during the past fiscal year, the total revenues of the General Fund fell short by $1,355.82 of meeting the expenditures of the year. In other words, the surplus on hand was decreased by that amount.

Now the question before the City Commission is—Shall we depend on our surplus to meet the deficiency this year, which is certain, or shall we increase the tax rate, and hope to add to our surplus instead? The general expenses of the City have advanced in the same proportion as those of every individual or business, and will be greater this year than last. Expenditures last year showed considerable increase over the (Continued on Page 12)

Before a flower decked altar at the First Baptist Church in Amarillo Miss Ethel Allred became the bride of Mr. Garland L. Mayo at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in a double ring ceremony read by Dr. A. D. Foreman.

John Josey, organist, gave the prenuptial music and played the traditional wedding marches.

HEREFORD

BULL

Practically every week some one calls up about some item which appears in our "Sons in the Service" column—and sometimes they are pretty mad, while others are very nice. Usually they want to know how we got our information and are looking for some more details.

Most of the material we get for these items comes from three sources, including releases from the outfit to which the service man is attached, from the local family, and direct from the man. As a general rule the articles which upset people are those which are released by the organization to which the boy is attached. Practically all service units maintain a service of this type, aimed at supplying information to the community. What we can't understand is why people get up in the air because The Brand carries an article about their boy, when you would expect them to be proud for the community to know about his accomplishments. Anyway, contrary to several suggestions, we don't sit around and make them up here in the office. On the other hand, we are always glad to give you any information we may have, but please remember that every one in the office has close relatives in the service, too, and that we are trying to comply with the wishes of the armed forces in publishing these releases.

Just received a letter from "Shorty" Stelzer, who is now in California. The main object is that her husband, Arnie Stelzer, S 2-c, wants his Brand address changed.

Shorty says, "Arnie's somewhere in the Pacific; he had a nice trip over and landed in Honolulu, but I don't know if he's still there or not. "Arnie said he was seasick, and in a big way, for a couple of days. He also says he can swing a wicked mop and paint brush now. If they'll just teach him to cook, I'll set him up in housekeeping after the war."

A new wrinkle on the help situation occurred the other day when a cook notified her employer that she was leaving and asked for a letter of recommendation. The lady thought for a few seconds, then wrote: "The bearer of this letter is leaving me after two weeks. I am perfectly satisfied."

Here are some pretty good Navy jokes from the papers published in various Boot Camps:

ALLAN CURTIS and ELLA RAINES are featured with Franchot Tone in one of the most intriguing mystery dramas to hit the screen in a long time. It's "Phantom Lady" and the week-end picture at the Texas. Franchot Tone deserts hero roles to play a convincing villain, and the rest of the cast turn in top performances in a suspenseful, ingenious psychological thriller.

Two Navy pilots shot down in the Pacific were floating on a rubber raft when they saw a Jap submarine rise to the surface. One pilot waved.
"That's the stuff," said his companion. "Get 'em close enough and we'll ram 'em."—Terminal Topics.

"Could have tomorrow off, sir, to help my wife with the housecleaning?"
"No. We're much too busy."
"Thank you, sir, I knew I could rely on you."—New Orleans Pelican.

A drunk watched a sailor enter a revolving door. As the door swung around a pretty young Wave stepped out.

"Now that's changing clothes fast," he muttered. "The Shore Patrol must be tallin' him!"—Hutchinson Habit.

"Does your husband talk in his sleep?"
"No—and it's certainly exasperating. He just grins."—HOCO Safety News.

Her lips quivered as they approached mine. My whole frame trembled as I looked into her eyes. Her body shook with intensity as our lips met, and my chin vibrated and my body shuddered as I held her closer to me.

The Navy Department wired a battleship skipper: "Move heaven and earth; get here Friday."

Just as they were becoming anxious, they received his reply: "Raised hell; arriving Thursday."—Navy Breeze.

THIS WEEK... AT THE USO

Last Friday night was like old times at the USO. There were about ten girls in during the evening and something doing all the time. Some of them made a batch of fudge, some played games and at ten o'clock they took the tables down and danced for an hour and a half to the music on the nickelodeon. Everyone seemed to have a good time. Garpo did card tricks all evening too. The same program will be in effect on Friday night this week.

Some of the boys want to play bridge on Thursday night. If you play won't you come on down and maybe we can have two tables of players.

Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Acker, and Mrs. Gyles have resigned as G. S. O. Sponsors. They served faithfully for a year and we appreciate the services of such loyal people. Mrs. Dunlap, Mrs. Blue, and Mrs. Fluit have graciously consented to take their places.

The dance Monday night was a small one but the music was strictly "on the beam" and about two dozen couples had a very good time. The men and girls were about evenly divided so there were no "wall flower-girls." Even Pop Fry had a good time.

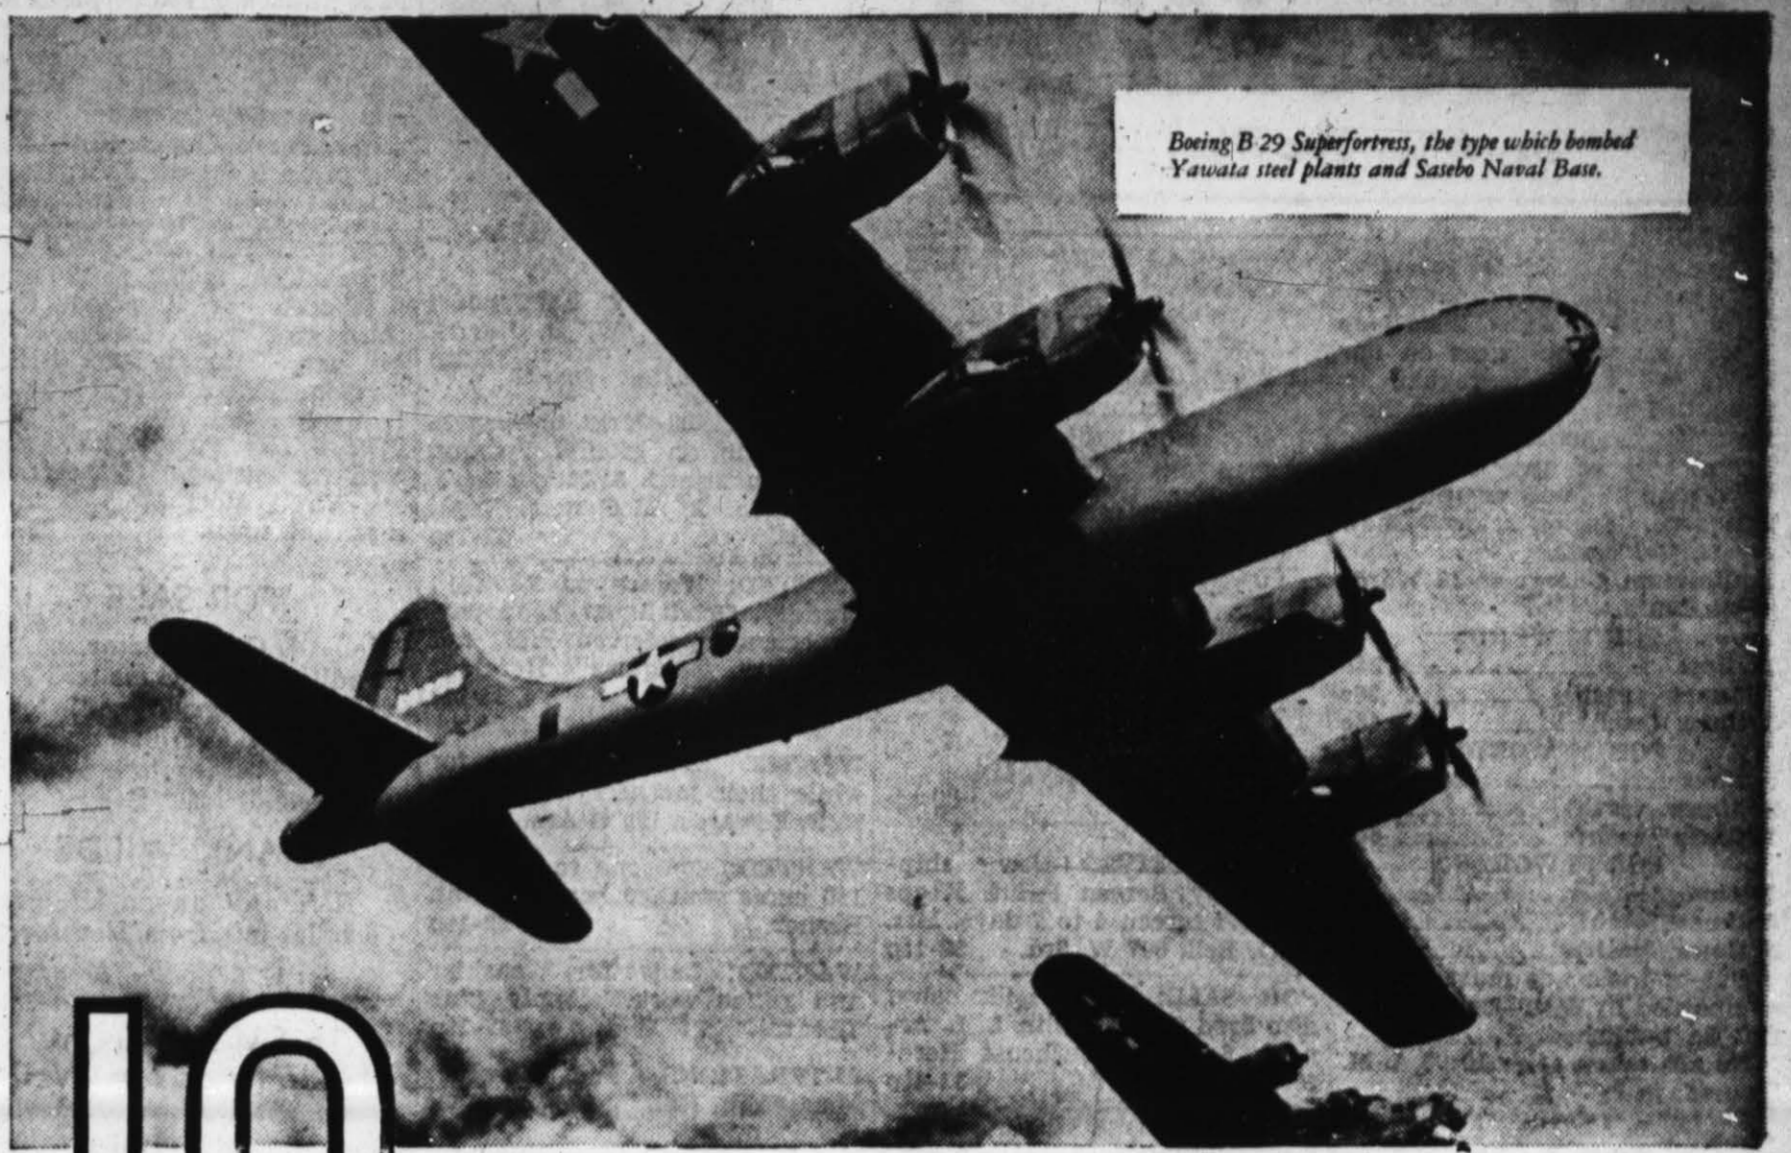

Mrs. Darwin: Hunter left Tuesday for Mississippi to be with her husband. We will miss her around here.

Fvt. and Mrs. Meacham and family left Sunday on furlough. We miss our little curly headed girls.

We received letters from Dick Minervini and Bob Tremallo on Tuesday. They have been transferred to the H & S Co. Bob is 10 LITTLE OCTANE NUMBERS that will help end the war sooner!

TODAY'S SUPER-FUEL is 100-Octane, as compared with 90-Octane pre-war. This difference of 10 octane numbers is definitely contributing toward hastening the day of victory, because these extra octane numbers represent extra fighting power... extra range and carrying capacity for our big bombers... extra speed for our fighter planes!

In thirty months, U. S. production of 100-Octane Aviation Gasoline has been multiplied ten times. Our facilities for producing this precious, fighting, super-fuel can now deliver 21,000,000 gallons daily. Think of it! This is a greater quantity of aviation gasoline alone than the combined total of all petroleum products available to Axis Europe.

Phillips Petroleum Company, among the first to take 100-Octane gasoline out of the laboratory and into mass production, is now one of the nation's five largest producers of 100-Octane, despite the fact that Phillips operates only in the Middle West.

This production achievement suggests how competently and completely Phillips is devoting itself to the war effort, with similar special emphasis on butadiene for synthetic rubber.

Until that great day comes, when you can say "Fill 'er up with Phillips"... and the service man cranks into your tank a new and improved Phillips gasoline... remember that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasoline, lubricants, and fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

They are patient about waiting

Because those Long Distance calls mean so much

A soldier has to line up... but we don't like to see him wait too long for a Long Distance call.

Would you mind helping a little by saving the wires from 7 to 10 for the serviceman?

That's when thousands of soldiers rush to the telephones at the camps and we know you'd like for them to have first call on Long Distance.

HOME CANNERS' QUESTIONS

Home canning season brings many a question to home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Here are some of this year's "Q and A Crop":

Q. Sometimes I have small amounts of fruits. Is there any reason why I shouldn't can jars of two kinds at once if both take the same amount of processing?

A. No reason why not, as far as processing goes, provided you are spry enough to have a saucepan of apples and one of plums ready boiling hot, so as to fill jars of each, and load the canner quickly.

Q. How can I figure in advance how much liquid to allow for canning fruit?

A. Amounts needed are bound to vary because some fruit yields so much more juice when heated than other fruit. Also, some fruit settles more compactly into jars. For a good proportion of liquid to solid food allow on the average 3-4 to 1 cup of juice or sirup for each quart jar.

Q. What will keep home-canned tomato juice from separating?

A. Some settling of solid particles is to be expected, and juice is easily shaken up to blend at time of serving. However, if good canning directions are followed closely, there should be less separation. Soft but sound tomatoes make good juice, but over-ripe ones tend to separate, and should not be canned in any case. Too much or too little heat also will cause solid particles to settle. Juice strained through a fine sieve will have less solid matter, but you lose some food value.

Q. How can I keep fruit, especially peaches, from darkening when canned?

A. Heating fruit before jars are filled and processed helps to prevent darkening. Raw-packed food heats more slowly during processing, and air in the tissues has more chance to cause darkening. Jars of fruit packed raw also lose more liquid during canning, and this may leave some fruit high and dry, so that it will darken. Allowing too much heat or too little during processing may also cause darkening—so follow directions closely. Darkening does not make canned fruit unfit to eat if it is otherwise normal.

Q. If jars of food fail to seal airtight, what should I do?

A. You have two choices: Use the food up promptly, or can it over from the start. If you re-process, take food out of the jars and reheat it; then pack into clean, hot jars; adjust jar tops and process for the length of time that kind of food requires. If a jar or top was at fault, be sure to use a perfect one. Remember in re-processing food you will get an over-cooked food of poor quality.

Q. Why is it so important to drive the air out of a steam pressure canner?

A. If air mixes with steam in the canner, the temperature will be lower than it should be, and some jars of food may not get heated as much as they need to destroy spoilage bacteria.

Mrs. Roy Landers of Olton, Ralph Johnson of Amarillo, Mrs. Guy Lawrence and daughters of Hereford, Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landers and Ross Joe.

This community extends sympathy to Mrs. Herman Gray in the loss of her father, B. W. Ellison of Crosbyton.

Q. Could I use a pressure canner as a boiling water bath canner when I put up fruit?
A. Yes; if the pressure canner is deep enough. Water must boil over jar tops several inches to provide thorough heating. When using a pressure canner in this way, set the lid on loosely; don't fasten. Leave the petcock wide open, so that steam escapes all the time the water is boiling.

Pooling Mandatory For B and C Drivers

Because of the shortage of cars, gasoline and tires, Ration Boards in the Lubbock Office of Price Administration District have been instructed to issue only 30-day gasoline rations for home-to-work driving to applicants who do not belong to a car pool. Before an applicant can receive additional rations he must prove that he has joined a car pool or has found it impossible to join or organize one.

Ely Fonville, District Rationing Executive, who made this announcement, stated that "Car pooling is mandatory for all 'B' and 'C' card-holders who use their automobiles for home-to-work driving."

Ration Boards will restrict rations, not to make gasoline rationing more difficult for their neighbors, but to save gasoline, tires, and cars. Car pooling is the most productive of all conservation methods, and this car sharing drive is nation-wide.

The bride wore a Copenhagen blue street length dress with white lace trim and white hat. All other accessories were in white. She is the daughter of Curtis Caraway of King City, Calif., but has made her home here with Mr. and Mrs. Jennings since she was five years old and attended Hereford schools.

Pfc. Shaw is stationed with the armed forces at Camp Howze at Gainsville and the couple will be at home there until he is granted a furlough when they will go to Illinois to visit his people. Mrs. Shaw plans to remain there with his parents for a time.

Resale of Used Farm Machinery Regulated

Sales of used farm-equipment and machinery by any person who has acquired it for re-sale have been brought under price control to protect farmers from overcharges. District OPA Price Executive J. B. Money has announced.

This action, he said, will protect farmers and farm equipment from speculators who have in the past acquired used farm machinery at or below ceiling prices and then re-sold the items at illegal prices, claiming that they were not retail dealers.

The amendment, effective Aug. 2, also provides that all persons selling farm equipment must keep acquisition cost and sales records available to OPA for inspection.

All new and used farm machines are subject to price control when sold by dealers, but only combines, corn binders, corn pickers, farm and garden tractors, motor or tractor operated hay balers, hay loaders, manure spreaders, side delivery rakes, tractor-mounted mowers, and a combination of any of the items listed with other items of farm equipment specifically designed for mounting thereon are under price control when sold by farmers or auctioneers for farmers.

These ten implements, regarded by OPA and the War Food Administration as the most urgently needed, when sold "as is" may not be sold for more than 85 per cent of the manufacturer's suggested retail price f. o. b. factory for items less than a year old, and for not more than 70 per cent of this original price if the article is more than a year old.

The Truth About the Lumber Situation

The broad statement that lumber is "frozen" and will no longer be available is not only misleading but false. Due to the unprecedented demands of our world-wide war fronts and the record-breaking industrial consumption incident to manufacturing and shipping war materials, the use of lumber for SOME CIVILIAN NEEDS must be curtailed.

The new lumber control plan (War Production Board Reg. L-335, effective August 1, 1944) regulates the distribution of lumber from mill to consumer. Retailers may sell only to the consumers and for the purposes specified in the order. We are allowed to sell a small quantity of lumber on what are called "uncertified and unrated" orders.

This "uncertified and unrated" class of consumers covers a MULTITUDE OF USES, including practically all home owners, small business and industries, service trades, etc.

People Who Can Buy

1. Provision is made for Lumber for ALL Essential Farm Needs. See us for full particulars.
2. Property owners who need lumber for repairs and maintenance.
3. Businessmen for operations in their business.
4. All departments of Federal, State and Local Government and hospitals.
5. Permission may be had from the War Production Board to build additions to houses and to business buildings where a definite need can be shown. Lumber is available for such permits when granted. We will be glad to assist you in preparing applications of this kind.

YOU CAN STILL BUY

ANY QUANTITY (without certificate) cedar shingles, posts, hardwood flooring, cement, brick, windows, doors, insulation, asphalt roofing, paint, or the HUNDREDS OF ITEMS OF BUILDING MATERIALS OTHER THAN LUMBER. Building material dealers can still sell lumber for MANY uses and can sell other materials and supplies for ALL USES.

Newsweek Describes
"Job by Experts"

The correspondent for Newsweek, national news magazine, accompanied the crew of Capt. Louie K. Wedel of Hereford on the raid over Mukden, Manchuria, the first daylight formation precision bombing raid by the B-29 superfortresses; and the Newsweek article (Aug. 7 issue of the magazine) not only gives a graphic description of the raid, but pays special tribute to the crew, everyone of whom is a veteran and top-trained in at least two jobs.

Captain Wedel, the bombardier, did an expert job at aiming his bombs at the industrial center at Anshan, southwest of Mukden. As the Newsweek correspondent points out in his first paragraph—"Nineteen minutes ago the bombardier waved his hand and turned his bald head around. 'They're away,' he said smiling broadly. Craning my neck over the pilot's head a few seconds later I saw a great sheet of flame and black smoke begin to billow skyward. Over the interphone from all corners of the great ship came congratulations for Capt. Louie Wedel, the bombardier. Gunners and others who had an even better vision of the target announced direct hits."

Wedel's pilot, Lt. Col. James V. Edmondson, commanded the famous Eleventh Bomber Group at Guadalcanal; the navigator, Donald O'Brien, is also a veteran of South Pacific Missions, as is Tech. Sgt. Red Herfernan; and the co-pilot, Eddie Winkler, has 2,200 flying hours in his log.

Complete Orientation Course

(Editor's Note: The following information came in an official release from Headquarters, Air Service Command, of the U. S. Strategic Air Forces in Europe.)

Two Hereford boys, Lt. Clifford H. Vaughn and Sgt. Donald B. Brotherton, have recently completed orientation courses designed to bridge the gap between training in the states and combat soldiering against the enemy in France. They took this training, which included lectures by battle-wise veterans, instruction in chemical warfare and tips on staying healthy in a combat area, at bases somewhere in England. Their next station will be one from which America's fighting planes cover our liberation of occupied Europe.

Lt. Vaughn, a son of Mrs. W. A. Vaughn of Hereford, was a student at North Texas Agricultural College in Arlington, Tex. He is co-pilot on an Army Air Corps heavy bomber.

Sgt. Brotherton, son of Mrs. Henry Alexander of Spur and grandson of Mrs. B. L. Branson of Hereford, is engineer-gunner on a Flying Fortress.

Completes Missions

(Editor's Note: The following information comes from an Army Air Corps public relations office "Somewhere in England.")

Lt. Walter H. London of Hereford is enroute to a well-earned rest after completing 35 missions as pilot of a B-17 Fortress.

At a service, command headquarters somewhere in England, Lt. London was "briefed" on the necessity of safeguarding certain vital information he gained

In Saipan Action

Pfc. Ernest Martin of the U. S. Marines took part in the landings at Saipan and in driving the Japs from the island, and in a recent letter to his mother pointed out that profane language was about the only way to describe the Saipan campaign.

Pfc. Martin, who has been in the Pacific for almost two years, is in a position to judge the toughness of battle action; for he has taken part in fighting on the Solomons, the Gilberts and the Marianas; and his family believe him to be in some of the action now taking place as American forces edge closer to Tokyo.

Potato digging is well underway in this community. During the extremely hot weather last week the digging could proceed only during the early morning and very late evening hours because the extreme heat damaged the potatoes so quickly. Mr. Warrick reported that even potatoes dug after sundown, one evening were blistered from the hot ground.

He Can't Give Samples

Having a prescription filled isn't like buying a dress where you may feel a sample of the material... or a new food where you may taste a sample. By its very nature, prescribed medicine cannot be sampled nor "shopped" for. You must accept it "as is" from the pharmacist and therefore, wisdom dictates that you have all prescriptions compounded in a pharmacy whose professional reputation guarantees quality and accuracy.

OPA Claims Tokens Being Hoarded

Hoarding of ration tokens has brought about a serious shortage of tokens in this District, the Ration Banking Section of the District Office of Price Administration has reported.

An appeal is made to all housewives to use all "loose change" in tokens before using other stamps from ration books, thus keeping tokens in circulation. Hoarding of tokens makes it necessary to manufacture more and more tokens. In addition to this needless expense, it ties up equipment and machinery needed for manufacturing other items.

All ration stamps, both for processed foods and meat, are valid indefinitely — hoarding doesn't help anyone. Keep your ration tokens circulating!

Conservation Exchange

News of the Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion District

Mrs. Eva Brown, has solved a stock watering problem by constructing a dam across a small draw on her 2,640 acre farm and ranch in the Bootleg community.

The dam was built across the draw, running through the center of the pasture; and a hole approximately 12 feet deep was dug just above the dam. The work was done in June and July of last year and the spring rains filled the reservoir which contains approximately 15 acre feet of water. It has furnished water for 175 head of cattle and horses all spring and summer.

"The stock pond has been worth much more to me this spring and summer than it cost me to build it and will continue to furnish water for cattle and horses during the remaining summer and fall months when water supply is limited," commented Mrs. Brown this week when asked if the lake is furnishing an adequate amount of stock water.

The construction work was done with Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion District heavy equipment which is available to county farmers and ranchmen. This plan has been followed by several ranchmen with good results. Assistance will be furnished by Soil Conservation Service personnel assigned to the Wind Erosion District by making application at the offices in the Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

Four county farmers have made application this week to the Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion District for assistance in improved methods of irrigation water application. The co-operators asking for this service are: Cecil Gunter in the North Hereford Conservation group, E. C. Reinauer in East Hereford group, Bruce Burney in Westway group, and R. G. Lewis in the Conkwright group.

Any farmer needing help of this type will receive assistance by contacting the conservation group leaders.

Miss Ella Mae Parsons of the US Cadet Nurse Corps at Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo, is spending her vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Parsons.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. King of Panhandle and Lela and Mary Wilmet of Ft. Sumner, N. M., were weekend visitors in the home of Mrs. E. J. Williams.

Miss Jessie Hopper has returned to her home in Huntsville, Ala., after spending several weeks here with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Kirby.

Mrs. Mary Bainum of Friona is spending this week in Hereford with her son, Mack Bainum, and family.

Ford Election To Set School Tax Rate Change

Property holders in the Ford School District were urged again this week to vote in the tax election scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 12, when the property owning voters will decide on the question of raising the school tax rate to $1.00 on the $100 evaluation.

Financial statements published in last week's paper gave voters the necessary information for casting their ballots, it is pointed out by County Judge Fred W. Baird.

Voting places will be at the schoolhouses at Ford, Progressive and Daniel and at the Cord Hammock residence.

Baird Attends Welfare Meeting in Amarillo

County Judge Fred W. Baird Saturday attended a district meeting of the Texas Social Welfare Association in Amarillo; and while he points out that most of the facts presented were applicable mainly to more populous counties, the idea of planning for coordination of all phases of welfare work will be applicable in Deaf Smith County as well as in more thickly populated areas.

Miss Louise Blackwell, Superintendent of the Potter County Child Welfare Board, made one of the best talks at the meeting, Judge Baird states; pointing out that the focus of welfare effort at present is on aid to children and the cutting of the juvenile delinquency rate.

"non-highway" gasoline, and considerable waste of truck tires through failure to use conservation methods. An investigation into the situation has been promised for other Panhandle counties, including Deaf Smith; and much stricter investigation of "non-highway" gas allotments will be practiced.

Unless better enforcement is secured, the final result may be the placing of gas allotments on a county basis, the speaker said.

Both Mr. Collier and Mr. Bateman stated that the speakers were careful to point out that misuse of non-highway gas and other abuses of the rationing and conservation program are the practice of only a "selfish minority" of the people. However, unless better enforcement is secured, the majority may suffer for the acts of the "selfish minority."

All speakers at the meeting emphasized the fact that rationing will continue to operate to give producers all the gas needed for farming operations. However, diversion of this gasoline to other uses must be stopped.
