County will honor EDC commitment

By KAY PECK
Staff Writer

Still trying to tighten the budgetary belt every notch possible, Deaf Smith County commissioners reviewed funding for the local Economic Development Council (EDC) during Monday's regular meeting.

"I thought we were approving funds for the hiring of a director, who didn't get hired," said Commissioner John Stribling.

Bud Eades, acting EDC director, explained that the council decided against hiring a director because of the uncertainty of future funding. Eades is serving unpaid as EDC director.

The decision against the proposed tax increase has left commissioners struggling to live within an extremely limited county budget.

"If the county doesn't have the money to replace vehicles with 120,000 miles on them, do we have the money to fund this (EDC)?" Stribling said to his fellow commissioners.

Earlier this year, the county committed $48,000 to help fund the EDC. The EDC was established to encourage economic growth in Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

Commissioner Troy Don Moore pointed out that the EDC is a potential solution to declining funds for local taxing entities. If new or expanded business and industry can be drawn to the area, this will increase the base of taxable property.

"Anything you start takes a little while to get off the ground. I still have hopes for this (EDC)," Commissioner Moore said.

Tom LeGate, speaking on behalf of EDC, explained to commissioners that economic development is not something that can be achieved in the short term.

"I think some pretty sound effort has been put into economic development, but you're not going to see any immediate results. If we stop now, you're not going to see any results," LeGate said.

Commissioners also expressed awareness that a commitment has been made to the EDC.

"Personally, I'm not in favor of reneging on a commitment we already made," said Commissioner Austin Rose Jr.

Current funding for EDC will continue as agreed, the commission decided. Fiscal problems may limit the county commission's receptivity to any requests from the EDC for future financial support.

A proposal for area-wide 9-1-1 emergency telephone service was approved by commissioners during Monday's meeting. Wayne Hughes, a representative from the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission (PRPC), served as a spokesman for the proposed system.

Commissioners approved a resolution authorizing a 50 cent per access telephone line surcharge to fund the service. They also approved a contract authorizing PRPC to administer the area-wide service.

Funding of the system would come from a $6 per year (50 cent per month) charge to each access telephone line in the area. Hereford and Deaf Smith County have 7,549 access lines. An access line is the main telephone line leading to a home or business, not extensions from that single line.

After local authorities from the 24 counties in PRPC's 9-1-1 system approve emergency service, the proposal will be submitted to state officials. Hughes indicated that PRPC should have some idea when the 9-1-1 system can actually be put into service in Deaf Smith County by the first quarter of 1990.

One appeal to the 9-1-1 system is a monitor which will display the seven digit number of the calling party as soon as an emergency call is received. Hughes said that the caller is unable to speak in approximately ten percent of all emergency calls.

The dispatcher can use a cross-reference to attach an address to a phone number in instances where a caller cannot speak. Police can then be dispatched to the scene.

This has proven to be an effective system in the 9-1-1 service already in place in Potter and Randall Counties.

"One of the first live-saving calls they had was from a three-year-old child," Hughes said.

In the case of rural customers, PRPC plans on updating addresses provided with phone numbers. Emergency personnel frequently need more than a rural route and a box number. Area rural residents can expect to be receiving a questionnaire in their telephone and/or electric bills asking that they provide more detailed directions to their country home.

Commissioners scrutinized the methods in obtaining the approximately $60,000 in bond used each year in feeding Deaf Smith County prisoners.

Deputy Hope Garza, the officer in charge of food purchases, explained that she had three main food suppliers that submitted price lists each week. In addition, she conducts comparison shopping through local grocery stores and occasionally purchases produce directly from farmers.

"I don't want any of the fancy stuff. We just want nutrition," Garza said.

After reviewing Garza's methods, commissioners expressed approval.

"Sounds like she's doing a good job of taking care of our money," Commissioner Stribling said.

If everyone were as conscientious as Hope is, we'd all be better off," said County Judge Tom Simons.

In other business, commissioners approved a contract with the Texas Department of Human Services for $9,000 of state funds to be utilized in social services.

Permission was granted for advertising for bids for an outside independent audit and for printing and office supplies.

Bowling alley rolling

A bowling alley and indoor miniature golf course came one step closer to Hereford on Monday when Tracy and Glenda Minson (seated) of Mangum, Okla. signed a loan agreement with Scott Bentley, loan officer at First National Bank. The Minsons plan to locate their facility at 125 West Park Ave.

Man sentenced on drug charges

A man arrested at a Hereford motel on June 7 in a drug raid pleaded guilty to two drug charges Monday in 22nd District Court in Hereford.

Alfonso Magdaleno Hernandez, 46, was sentenced to 99 years in the Texas Department of Corrections on the two counts. He pleaded guilty to possession of heroin with intent to deliver and to possession of cocaine with intent to deliver.

The sentences are to run concurrently.

Law enforcement officers received information on the afternoon of June 7 that Hernandez was selling drugs out of a motel room. A search warrant was obtained, and officers raided the man's hotel room that evening.

Upon searching the room, they found about two grams of cocaine and 32 balloons of heroin.

Soviets might have interfered in Bloch case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets are showing extraordinary interest in the spy investigation against State Department official Felix S. Bloch — even taling him and the FBI to New York — despite a U.S. warning not to interfere.

The unusual Soviet surveillance shows "they have a lot invested in this," said a government source familiar with the case.

The United States cautioned the Soviet Union against trying to smuggle Bloch out of the country, it was learned Monday evening. The warning came weeks before news organizations reported that the 30-year career diplomat was suspected of spying.

Still, Bloch and a caravan of FBI agents were followed by Soviet Embassy personnel on Saturday from Washington to a New York City suburb, the government source said.

Formerly the No. 2 official in the U.S. Embassy in Vienna, the 54-year-old diplomat was placed on leave with pay on June 22. He has surrendered his diplomatic passport and his State Department credentials, but has not been charged with any crime nor has his travel been restricted.

Nevertheless, President Bush on Monday called the allegations "a very serious matter."

Two U.S. sources said Monday that Bloch had been videotaped handing a briefcase to a Soviet agent in Paris earlier this year. ABC News reported that the same agent later telephoned Bloch to warn him he was under suspicion, saying, "A bad virus is going around and we believe you are infected."

The call came while Bloch's telephone was tapped by U.S. agents but before the FBI first tried to interview him on June 22, the network said.

The sources spoke on the condition of anonymity.

Bloch is refusing through an attorney to be questioned by the FBI but submitted to a brief interview by State Department security officers early in the investigation, according to a government source who, like others providing details on the case, spoke only on condition of anonymity.

Counterintelligence experts said even if Bloch were a spy, it was too soon to know what secrets he compromised.

But they said the damage could be far different than that inflicted in other recent spy cases, such as those of the John Walker ring in the Navy or National Security Agency technician Ronald Pelton. They were low-ranking American officials who compromised coding equipment and spying techniques that are very costly to replace.

Unlike the military or U.S. intelligence agencies, which have been forced to deal with a number of recent spy cases, the State Department's foreign service has prided itself on being comparatively free of such problems.

The last was in 1961 when Irvin Scarbeck, second secretary of the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw, was convicted of passing secrets to the East. The most famous State Department spy case involved Alger Hiss, convicted in 1950 of lying to Congress about passing secrets to Whitaker Chambers.

Bloch most recently has been director of the Office of Regional Political-Economic Affairs on the State Department's European desk. Before that, while in Vienna, he at one point lobbied to keep Austrian Prime Minister Kurt Waldheim off the "watchlist" of people banned from the United States for Nazi activities during World War II, a government source said.

Waldheim eventually was placed on the list in April 1987, a move that infuriated many Austrians.

After Bloch fell under suspicion, the Soviets were informed through diplomatic channels, in a message described as "discreet," that U.S. relations with Moscow would be damaged if they tried to make off with the diplomat, a U.S. official disclosed.

"So far, they have observed the admonition," said the official.

Probe begins in IRS policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A yearlong probe of alleged misconduct by senior officials of the Internal Revenue Service raises serious questions about the agency's ability to correct wrongdoing by its own leaders, House investigators say.

"Is it possible for the IRS to police itself internally at the senior official level? That's an area that really needs to be looked at," investigator Len Bernard, of the House Government Operations subcommittee on consumer affairs, said in advance of his testimony before the panel today.

Bernard noted that one of eight misconduct cases he and other subcommittee aides have been probing involved senior officials up to the level of deputy assistant commissioner.

Most attention has been focused on allegations that a former boss of the criminal investigation division in Los Angeles was offered a bribe by Guess Inc., a jeans manufacturer, to get an investigation of a rival, Jordache Enterprises. The IRS cleared that official, Ronald Saranow, last year.

Subcommittee investigators have checked several cases in which IRS employees who called attention to misconduct inside the agency were subsequently demoted or forced out.

The subcommittee, chaired by Rep. Doug Barnard, D-Ga., called for three days of testimony from the IRS, present and former IRS employees and the General Accounting Office.

The IRS has declined comment on the allegations, citing laws that prohibit disclosure of information about individual tax cases or about employees under investigation.

In recent interviews, however, top IRS officials defended the agency's record in policing itself.

The agency has an inspection division of 1,300 people to police 120,000 IRS employees, noted Senior Deputy Commissioner Michael J. Murphy, and a criminal investigation division of 4,700 to watch over the conduct of more than 100 million taxpayers.

The inspection division conducts about 2,000 investigations of allegations against employees each year, and about 48 percent of the cases involve complaints from other employees, said Teddy R. Kern, assistant commissioner for inspection.

The IRS is one of the few federal agencies that require employees to report wrongdoing by colleagues. Kern said President Bush soon will seek to impose the same requirement on all federal employees as part of his ethics-in-government recommendations.

"We do look pretty strictly at responsibilities and the code of conduct" that all IRS employees must sign, Kern said.

"If during an investigation (of IRS employees) we come up with any violation of federal law... we will refer the case to the U.S. attorney, or if it is on an executive or high-level official, we will refer it to the Justice Department," Kern said.

Search resumes for plane parts

SIoux City, Iowa (AP) — Investigators ordered another aerial search for key parts of United Flight 232's rear engine and planned to visit the General Electric Co. plant where the engine was made.

The team from the National Transportation Safety Board said they expected to wrap-up their work this week at the Sioux Gateway Airport, where the DC-10 crashed-landed last Wednesday after its rear engine blew apart.

Meanwhile, United Capt. Al Haynes, the pilot credited with keeping the jetliner aloft after most control had been lost, was scheduled to be released from the hospital and meet with reporters for the first time today.

The death toll from the crash rose to 111 on Monday. Of the 296 people on board, 185 survived, including 10 of the 11 crew members. More than 30 people remain hospitalized.

The investigation into the accident has been hampered because the rear engine, one of three on the DC-10, flew apart over farms in northwest Iowa.

On Monday, teams searched a 16-square-mile section of corn and soybean fields about 60 miles away from the crash site in hopes of finding missing pieces of the engine.

While some debris was recovered, key sections have yet to be found including a 400-pound disk from the engine, NTSB investigator Robert MacIntosh said Monday night. Officials ordered another round of aerial photography.

Other investigators will travel to a General Electric Co. plant in Cincinnati where the rear engine was made.

Teach children to behave

Parents who are embarrassed by their young child's behavior in public have obviously not done their homework, according to a specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Because children are not born socialized or to mind in public, they have to be taught social rules at home," said Dorothy Taylor, family life specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station.

"Threats to go to the car or to go home, pinching or kicking a child under the table or to ignore a disruptive, attention seeking child reflect the parents' inability to take charge of the situation," she said.

Taylor said that most parents have been or will be embarrassed in public at some time by a child's behavior. She suggested several steps to minimize these occurrences.

"Plan public times or expeditions to take advantage of 'up time' for the child," she said. "Avoid taking a hungry, sleepy or tired child anywhere but to home and his/her bed."

Taylor said, "In a restaurant, make sure young children have something to eat immediately, such as crackers. Too much snacking, however, can ruin his meal. Practice good table manners everyday at home. Prior to going out, tell the child what to expect and exactly what you expect of him."

She also suggested making common sense rules, such as young children should sit in shopping carts or in strollers, children should walk with the parent and never run, everybody should hold hands when in traffic areas, children practice keeping their feet on the floor and their hands to themselves, especially in stores with breakable items.

Parents should accentuate the positive, the extension service specialist said. Tell children you know they will try to be good. Let them know you'll remind them gently if they forget. "A quiet whisper will do more good than all the threats in the world," Taylor said.

"Controlling one's behavior is tough, especially if you haven't had many years to practice. Promise the child a reward for helping you and everyone else have a pleasant time," she said.

"When a child needs correcting, take him aside--leave," Taylor said. "Throwing a fit is an historical, worldwide event known best by children. Removing him from his audience removes his support or power, and parents can take charge again."

"Parents are responsible for their young child's behavior," Taylor said.

"Some children make parents' jobs easier than others. Taking children anywhere involves constant thought and attention. If you don't want to be bothered, you'd better not take children with you. It's a certainty, everybody loves a good child, but everybody notices a bad one's parents."

Bride-elect honored

Janet Princ honored with bridal shower

A bridal shower was held for Janet Princ, Aug. 19 bride-elect of Richard Kendrick, Saturday, July 22, at the E.B. Black House.

Greeting guests with the honoree were her fiancé; his mother, La Nell Kendrick; and grandmother, Ina Mae Bennett.

The honoree's Little Sister with the Big Brothers/Big Sisters Organization, Carla Betts, invited guests to register.

Jessie Ann Davis served an assortment of fruit, cookies, nuts, mints, punch and coffee from a table decorated with silver candelabra and a fresh floral arrangement of pink roses accented with the bride-elect's chosen colors of mauve, light pink and gray.

A Kitchen Center was given to Miss Princ by the hostesses: Phyllis Dudding, Bonnie Carlson, Patti Dirks, Lori Seeding, Jo Solomon, Jo Lee, Ann Washington, Nell Hudgens, Peggy Hyer, Louise Vogler, Marilyn Bell, Kee Ruland, Janet Lovvorn, Wanda Nall, Ellen Collins and Alva Lee Peeler.

Military Muster

Pvt. Jorge A. Galvez has completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Galvez is the son of Amelia L. Galvez of 309 Ave. F, Hereford.

His wife, Susan, is the daughter of Angel E. Gonzales of Weslaco.

Mr. Galvez is a 1982 graduate of Hereford High School.

PORTSMOUTH, R.I. (AP) - It wasn't kryptonite but champagne that actor Christopher Reeve used to commission his new sailboat.

Reeve, 36, who starred in the "Superman" movies, is an avid sailor. He first saw a version of his new 46-foot boat at the 1988 Newport International Sailboat Show, but his $500,000 craft was custom-designed with room in the galley to accommodate two cooks. The forward galley was enlarged to accommodate Reeve's 6-foot-4-inch frame.

Reeve named the boat Sea Angel in honor of the "guardian angel" that he says watches over him in his quest for adventure.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: In the past year, my husband and I became the parents of a beautiful baby girl. Her skin color and nationality are different from ours. She came to us through adoption.

Before she arrived, we braced ourselves to face the disapproval and prejudice of family, friends and strangers, but happily there has been less than we expected.

Here are some of the hurtful things people say because they do not know how to react. If you print this letter, Ann, I'm sure it could help others who will need to know what to say in the future. Please don't say: "Now" I'll bet you get pregnant." People adopt for reasons other than infertility.

"Does she speak English?" Of course not. She's an infant. And, "Will she have an accent?" Of course she will. She'll sound like us--Bostonians.

Please don't say, "I really admire you for adopting." Adoption is not an act of charity. In fact, our motives were quite selfish. We wanted a baby. "Isn't she a lucky little girl." No, we are the lucky ones.

"Are her parents dead?" Her parents are alive and well and standing right in front of you. If you mean her birth parents (please, don't say "real" parents), that is private information, which our daughter may choose to reveal to you some day, but which neither I nor anyone else has any business discussing.

Do say: "Tell me about her arrival." We love telling the story, just like some parents love telling the story of the trip to the hospital when their child was born.

Finally, if you really want to know more about adoption, write to Adoptive Families of America (formerly OURS Inc.), 3307 Highway 100 North, Suite 203, Minneapolis, Minn. 55422, a nonprofit adoptive parents support organization.

Thanks for helping us as well as other adoptive parents whose children come from a different culture. Most people mean well, they just need a little educating.--Carol N., Medford, Mass.

DEAR READERS: Remember the poem I printed to help people remember that the male Francis is spelled with an "i" and the female Frances is spelled with an "e"?

I asked for the same help for people named Marion and I was swamped. The winner is Virginia Buckner from Salt Lake City. Here's her ditty:

To spell Marion is a puzzle
So let's clear the blotter.
With an "o" it's a son
With an "a" it's a daughter.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The enclosed appeared in our church bulletin and I thought you might find it interesting enough to share with your readers.--C.C. (The Bronx)

Cowboys start camp at full speed

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - Training camp under Jimmy Johnson is going to be drastically different than the 29 years under Tom Landry.

That fact was dramatically underscored on the first day of practice Monday when the Dallas Cowboys worked in full pads and helmets and concluded the session with a "nutcracker" drill. "Let's see what you got," Johnson shouted as the running backs crashed between the tacklers. "Get the job done. I don't care how you get it done, but get it done."

In past years under Landry, the Cowboys worked slowly into contact after several days in shorts. Landry stood in the middle of the field with a bullhorn directing the action.

Johnson was in the face of his players from the start with praise and criticism. He alternately dashed from offense to defense, repeating the phrase "make the most of your opportunities."

At one point, wide receiver Everett Gay dropped a pass, and Johnson was on him in a second.

"Everett, you're thinking more about getting hit than you are catching the football," Johnson said. "Concentrate on the catch. Don't worry about the hit."

Johnson huddled the team around him after the hitting session. "For every one of you, there is a sense of urgency," Johnson told them. "For us as a team, we don't have time for you to screw up. Don't be satisfied unless you get the job done."

Johnson said it was "fun" to get on the field in pads after three mini-camp in shorts.

"This was real football, this is what I enjoy," Johnson said. "We had great enthusiasm. I think our players are hungry for a winner. I think they are willing to do things differently. They were in a rut and need to check their hole cards."

The Cowboys begin two-a-day workouts today and have scheduled a Wednesday scrimmage against the Los Angeles Raiders.

Johnson made it plain going into camp that he expected his team to come ready for contact.

"We want to find out what we got," Johnson said. "We have some running backs who look good running against air. Now we want to see if they can break some tackles."

From three tough mini-camps, the players already know what awaits them: Call it "Camp Contact."

"It's going to be harder than hell," said offensive guard Nate Newton. "It's going to be rough. We know what to expect because we went through it in mini-camp."

Wide receiver Michael Irvin, who played under Johnson at Miami, said Johnson "is going to pour it on. Mr. J can be tough."

The Cowboys came to an agreement Monday with draft choices fullback Daryl Johnston of Syracuse (second round), guard Mark Stepnoski of Pittsburgh (third round), defensive end Tony Tolbert, Texas-El Paso (fourth round), and defensive end Rhondy Weston of Florida (third round).

Johnston is expected to make a strong bid for the starting fullback job.

"It was imperative that I be here for the first practice," Johnston said. "I didn't want to fall behind."

Three free agents were cut on Monday, including wide receiver Jeff James of Stanford, defensive back K.C. Clark of San Jose State, and guard Doug Marrone of Syracuse.

Owner Jerry Jones is expected to be in camp on Wednesday for the clash with the Raiders.

"Jerry didn't want to miss it," Johnson said.

Jones was still talking contract to quarterback Steve Walsh, the No. 1 pick in the NFL's supplemental draft.

Johnson said Walsh, whom he coached in college at Miami, wouldn't be in camp until he had a contract. Walsh is asking a contract similar to the $11.037 million which top draft pick Troy Aikman received.

"I would hope that we would be close to signing Steve by the middle of the week," Johnson said. "We've had three solid offers for him. There is still a chance of a trade and we prefer to do something now if something is going to happen."

Johnson said talks with veteran quarterback Steve Pelluer were still at a stalemate.

Pelluer is asking some $750,000 per year and the Cowboys have offered $450,000.

The Cowboys underwent physicals on Monday morning.

"It's the only restful morning we'll have for some time," said Newton who must pare down to 315 pounds by next Thursday or be fined.

"I'm not telling what I weigh right now," he said.

Angels' edge Oakland, 5-4, take one-game lead in AL West

By The Associated Press

Bryan Harvey really shined in the first showdown between American League West leaders California and Oakland.

"That was the best forkball I've had all year," he said. "I was lucky enough to throw it over the plate."

Harvey came in to protect a 5-4 lead with two outs in the eighth inning Monday night, got Dave Henderson on a flyout, and then caught Jose Canseco, Tony Phillips and pinch-hitter Ron Hassey looking at third-strike forkballs in the ninth, gaining his 13th save.

"I didn't want to throw up a 3-2 fastball with Canseco at the plate," Harvey said. "He's got a chance of tying it up if I lay one in there."

Chili Davis homered off Gene Nelson, 2-5, to snap a seventh-inning tie and Jack Howell homered in the eighth as California won its sixth straight and stopped Oakland's five-game winning streak.

Davis' home run, his 12th, was his first since July 1. Howell's home run, his 13th, broke a 1-for-26 slump.

"That's a week of oh-fers all built up into one last hack," Howell said. "I've had a tough week. It was nice to see it go out."

In other games, Cleveland beat New York 7-3, Milwaukee beat Detroit 10-0, Chicago beat Seattle 5-4 and Toronto beat Texas 6-3.

California won at Oakland for only the second time in 11 games and took a one-game lead over the Athletics.

"We have a lot of respect for the Angels," Athletics manager Tony La Russa said. "They played hard and so did we. Today, they were one run better. But we've had our share of one-run wins."

Willie Fraser, 3-5, allowed two hits and one run in 2-3 innings.

Indians 7, Yankees 3
Rookie Joey Belle's grand slam off Eric Plunk snapped a seventh-inning tie at Municipal Stadium and sent New York to its seventh consecutive loss.

Cleveland has won five of its last six to move from 10 games back to 5 1/2 games behind first-place Baltimore in the AL East.

Lee Gueterman, 2-4, walked Dion James with one out in the seventh and Joe Carter singled and took second. Pete O'Brien was walked intentionally and Belle hit Plunk's 1-1 pitch deep over the left-field wall for his second home run.

John Farrell, 6-9, allowed three runs on nine hits in seven innings and Jesse Orosco finished.

Brewers 10, Tigers 0

Chris Bosio, 11-6, pitched a three-hitter over seven innings as visiting Detroit lost its sixth straight and 16th in 18 games.

Jack Morris, out with chips in his right elbow, made his first appearance since May 22. Morris, 2-8, gave up nine hits and seven runs in 5 1-3 innings.

Robin Yount extended his hitting streak to 14 games and Greg Brock had three hits for the Brewers, who had 13 hits and won for the fourth time in five games.

White Sox 5, Mariners 4

Carlton Fisk singled with the bases loaded and two outs in the ninth inning at Comiskey Park as Chicago won for the ninth time in 10 games.

Mike Jackson, 3-4, walked Dave Gallagher to lead off the ninth. Gallagher took second when Steve Lyons sacrificed against Keith Comstock and went to third on Comstock's throwing error to first. Harold Baines was intentionally walked and Mike Schooler got two outs before Fisk singled on a 0-2 pitch.

Vega tourney planned

Entries are now being accepted for the Oldham County Round-Up Class D Softball Tournament scheduled for Aug. 11-13 in Vega.

Entries are limited to the first 16 teams with an entry fee of $100 per team.

Local cowboy holds second at Cheyenne Frontier Days

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) - A Texas cowboy tied a Frontier Days arena record when he wrestled a steer down in 6.2 seconds during the third day of competition at the 93rd annual "Daddy of 'Em All."

Wade Lewis of Hereford is second after the second go-round in the steer roping. Lewis' total time is 35.4 seconds, .4 seconds behind leader Harold Bumgardner of Big Horn, Wyo.

"I'm really tickled, I tell you what," said Dan Courmier of Oakwood, standing 6-foot-6 at 260 pounds, after tying the record.

"Nine times out of 10 something goes wrong, but this was the 10th," he said Monday.

The cowboy's time tied a 1985 arena record set by Terry Lee Thompson. Courmier nudged Joey Roberts from Farmerville, La., into second place with his 6.3-second time.

"It was a good looking steer - looked like he could throw 'em fast," Courmier said. "I had to let him go and see what happened. I was feeling real fortunate to get by him and tie the record."

Monday's performance marks Courmier's third year as a professional. He finished seventh in steer wrestling at the National Finals last year.

Coming out of the same chute earlier in the day, Guy Allen from Lovington, N.M., roped his steer in 15.8 seconds, giving him the fastest time so far in the second go.

"The steer ran straight, the horse ran straight and they all met in the middle," said Allen, who has roped at the "Daddy of 'Em All'" for 12 years. Allen's average time was not enough to put him in the top five so far in the second go-round.

In a women's exhibition bull ride, Jonie Jonckowski had the best ride with a score of 77.

"It was euphoric," said the world champion bull rider of the Women's Professional Rodeo Association.

Jonckowski, from Billings, Mont., had not ridden a bull since last October when she broke her arm in a bull ride.

Alberta, Canada. Clint Johnson of Spearfish, S.D. had the best score of the day with a 78, giving him a fourth place tie in the first go round.

With scores of 79 in the first go of the bareback bronc, Robin Burwash of Canada and Clint Corey of Rochester, Wash., tied for fourth place on Monday. Their scores were not high enough to beat Merle Temple's 84 score set over the weekend.

In the bull riding event, no cowboys could get higher than a 76, too low to even place on the top five of the first go. Ken Stillman of Auburn, Calif., maintains the first go round lead with an 80.

Jays give Ranger rookie rude welcome

ARLINGTON (AP) - The Toronto Blue Jays had a nervous 19-year-old rookie just where they wanted him and they weren't about to let him off the hook.

The Blue Jays hit a season-high four homers and shelled Wilson Alvarez in his Major League debut Monday night with a three-run first, snapping the Texas Rangers' four-game winning streak, 6-3.

"We've been struggling all year so anytime we can jump on somebody, we'll take it," said Toronto's Fred McGriff, who hit his 26th homer of the season in the third. "He (Alvarez) was probably a little nervous."

Tony Fernandez and Kelly Gruber homered in the first off Alvarez, 0-1, and McGriff and Manny Lee added round-trippers in the third off reliever Ceciliano Guante to back the four-hit pitching of Todd Stottlemyre, 2-4.

The first five Toronto batters reached base against Alvarez, the youngest player currently in the majors and the youngest pitcher to make his first big-league start since 18-year-old Jose Rijo debuted for the New York Yankees in 1984.

Alvarez was obviously nervous in his debut. After the game he remained in an area off-limits to the media and at first refused to come out to answer reporters' questions.

Later, he spoke in Spanish to a reporter for The Associated Press.

"I was very afraid at first because this was my first game," Alvarez said. "But next time I won't be so scared. I'll do good."

Last Saturday when the Venezuelan native was called up from Class AA Tulsa to replace Charlie Hough in the Rangers rotation, he said, "I'm not ready, not for the big leagues."

Alvarez started out throwing strikes to the first three hitters, then walked

George Bell and McGriff.

That was enough for Rangers manager Bobby Valentine, who called Guante from the bullpen.

"It appeared to me that he was rushing his fastball, then slowing down on his off-speed pitch. So you could tell what was coming," Rangers catcher Jim Sundberg said.

"He was throwing his fastball over the plate," Valentine said. "But he seemed to be telegraphing his off-speed pitch. They hit two change-ups and an off-speed pitch. They were right on his pitches."

Alvarez threw 12 balls and 14 strikes in his brief outing.

Texas came back in the bottom of the first on Rafael Palmeiro's two-run homer to right which glanced off the foul pole. Palmeiro had gone 32 games without a homer, hadn't homered at Arlington Stadium since May 4 and was hitting .194 over the previous 51 games as his averaged dropped from .361 to .292.

Meanwhile, the Blue Jays were generous in their assessment of Alvarez.

"It was a tough outing," Toronto manager Cito Gaston said. "But the kid's got to start somewhere. He pitched good before this. He might have been a little nervous. But it looked like he has a good arm. He'll be alright."

Stottlemyre gave up two earned runs in seven innings before Tom Henke came on to pitch the final two innings and earn his eighth save.

"He has more control of himself now," Gaston said of Stottlemyre. "Before, he could get quite upset. Tonight I thought he pitched the last three innings better than he did the first three."

Giants down Braves on Mitchell homer

By DICK BRINSTER
AP Sports Writer

Ordinarily, one would expect the San Francisco Giants to fill reporters' notebooks with praise for Kevin Mitchell, whose 33rd home run had given them another victory.

But the man who leads the major leagues in homers and RBIs took a back seat to the pitcher he'd just beaten, Atlanta's John Smoltz.

"He's the best young pitcher in the league," Giants manager Roger Craig said following Monday night's 2-0 victory over the Braves. "Boy, he's got a great arm. He'll put you in a slump if you're not already in one."

Mitchell's homer in the fourth inning was one of just three hits allowed by Smoltz, 11-7, who struck out a career-high 10 batters and retired the last 17 in pitching his fifth complete game.

Smoltz had an 0-2 count when Mitchell hit the ball over the fence in left-center at Atlanta Stadium.

"It was not a bad pitch," Smoltz said. "But you can't say it was a good pitch for he hit it out. I had made him look bad with the same pitch before."

Mitchell, who has driven in 87 runs, was ready in case Smoltz didn't go by the book and waste the 0-2 pitch.

Elsewhere, it was Montreal 4, Philadelphia 3 in 12 innings; Chicago 3, St. Louis 2, and Pittsburgh 7, Los Angeles 4.

Cubs 3, Cardinals 2

Two key bunts - including a suicide squeeze that put Chicago ahead to stay - by winning pitcher Mike Bielecki and sloppy defense by St. Louis helped the Cubs to their third straight victory.

Bielecki laid down his squeeze in the fifth inning following tentative plays by first baseman Pedro Guerrero and center fielder Willie McGee that allowed baserunners to reach base and advance to set up the squeeze. The loss ended the Cardinals' four-game winning streak.

"I can't hit, so I've got to be able to do something," said Bielecki, batting .025.

Jose Oquendo of St. Louis extended the longest hitting streak in the majors this season to 22 games with an infield hit in the fourth.

Expos 4, Phillies 3

Two Philadelphia errors set the stage for Tim Wallach's game-winning hit that gave homer-happy Montreal its fifth straight victory.

Andres Galarraga hit a one-out single off Greg Harris, 1-2, and stretched it to second base when Tom Herr dropped the throw from center fielder Len Dykstra. Tim Raines was walked intentionally and Hubie Brooks reached on an error by Harris before Wallach singled to left on the first pitch to extend Philadelphia's losing streak to five games.

Von Hayes had tied the game with his 15th homer, leading off the ninth against Tim Burke.

The Expos, who have hit 10 home runs in their last three games, got solo shots from Rex Hudler and Brooks off starter Dennis Cook.

Pirates 7, Dodgers 4

Celebrating his 25th birthday,

Barry Bonds went 3-for-3 with a homer, drove in two runs, scored three and stole a base as Pittsburgh gained a 3-3 split of the rare six-game series.

Gary Redus was hit below the left eye by Tim Crews of Los Angeles in the seventh inning. The benches cleared briefly before Redus was carried off on a stretcher. He was released from a local hospital. The Pirates' team physician said he did not believe any bones were broken.

The Pirates, who won for only the fifth time in 17 games, dealt Mike Morgan, 6-11, his seventh loss in eight decisions.

Sherrod team wins Buff golf

The team of John Sherrod, Jack Lackey, Cora Teters and Willie Daughters of Canyon carded a three-stroke victory Monday in the Buffalo Thunder Golf Scramble at Pitman Municipal Golf Course, posting a score of 28 for the nine-hole event.

West Texas State University head football coach Steve Graf said the scramble, which was one of four held in the Panhandle area to benefit Buffalo football, had an impressive turnout and provided the WT staff an opportunity to meet local boosters.

Four teams shot 31 with Jim Bullard, David Workman, Max Moss and Brent Self being awarded second place on a scorecard playoff, carding an eagle 3 for the hole.

Others at 31 were John Teters, Jim Rowton, Al Miller and WT running back coach J.R. Compton; T.R. Sartor, Larry Walterschied, Carey Black and Buff offensive line coach Jim Conger, and Mike Butler, Scott Carr, Dan Warrick and WT quarterback coach Todd Mayfield. Prizes for the scramble were $50 in reserved seat tickets to WT games for members of the winning team and 10 general admission tickets for each member of the second place team. Door prizes were also handed out at a barbecue held at the Knights of Columbus Hall after the scramble.

Graf teamed with Hereford High School head coach Don Cumpston, John Stagner and Al Broman to shoot a 35, good for last place and prizes of individual crying towels.

Curator ready for White hanging Babbling Brooks

AUSTIN (AP) - Experts who are restoring the Capitol may test public sentiment about making the last first, and the first last, when it comes to portraits of past governors.

Currently, paintings of the most recent governors are hung around the Capitol rotunda on the first floor. The paintings increase in vintage to the fourth floor, the highest.

Because of that configuration - and due to a condition study of Capitol paintings - the 47 portraits of past state governors and presidents of the Republic of Texas were removed from around the rotunda Monday.

Capitol Curator Bonnie Campbell said she had heard former Gov. Mark

White's portrait is finished, and the frame was being worked on, so she had all the paintings shifted one space in order to accommodate his.

"I figured since we had to take them down for the survey, it would be logical to go ahead and shift them over now. There'll be a space waiting for that portrait," she said.

The current grouping, which may date to the 1960s, is a reversal of the way the paintings previously were arranged, said Ms. Campbell.

During the ongoing restoration of the Capitol, officials may test the sentiment about going back to having the oldest governors' paintings hanging on the first floor, she said. That would allow new governors' portraits to be added without moving all the others. "It would be easier. You wouldn't have to shift them," she said.

There are about 10 spaces left in the rotunda, and Ms. Campbell said officials are not yet worrying about what they will do when those are filled.

"That's easily 40 to 80 years away ... so it's not an immediate concern," she said.

So far, the only duplicate portrait is of Miriam A. Ferguson, who served, in 1925-1927 and 1933-1935. Gov. Bill Clements, elected in 1978 and again in 1986 for four-year terms, also will have two portraits, said Ms. Campbell.

The portraits from the rotunda are among about 275 paintings in the Capitol being checked by a conservator, said Ms. Campbell. The last time their condition was checked was in 1981, and officials want to begin a cycle of looking at them every three to five years.

It is not odd that White's portrait is not yet completed, although he left office in January 1987, added Ms. Campbell.

"It's not surprising to me, because when you realize that the governor needs to select an artist, make the arrangements to sit for the portrait several times, get the artist's schedule and the person's schedule together, and then the frame - it doesn't seem unusual to me," she said.

USSR minister visits England

LONDON (AP) - Soviet Defense Minister Gen. Dmitri Yazov arrived today for a four-day visit to Britain, marking what British officials say is the first trip by a Soviet defense minister to a NATO country since World War II.

Yazov, accompanied by six top army, naval and air force commanders, flew in from Moscow on an Aeroflot jet and was met by Soviet Ambassador Leonid Zamyatin.

He made no comments and was driven directly from Heathrow Airport to the Defense Ministry in London for a formal welcome.

British Defense Secretary George Younger, who announced his resignation in a major Cabinet shuffle by Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher on Monday, was staying on until the end of the week to host Yazov.

"This is the beginning of an official, high level Soviet-British defense relationship," said a senior British official, speaking on condition of anonymity.

Younger and Yazov were to hold a joint news conference this afternoon after several hours of talks and a meeting with Mrs. Thatcher.

On Wednesday, Yazov is to visit a Royal Air Force base in Scotland to inspect Phantom and Tornado fighters which sweep NATO's northern air flank for Soviet intrusions, and an aircraft carrier, HMS Invincible.

He will also visit Britain's main military academy, Sandhurst, near London, and a paratroop training base in southern England.

The trip is part of increased East-West military contacts under Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev's policy of reduced confrontation with the West.

It comes only two months after Britain expelled 11 Soviet diplomats and journalists, charging they were spies. The Soviet Union retaliated by expelling 11 Britons.

The British official said talks with Yazov will focus on probing the Soviet Union's new defensive military strategy and seeking his views on President Bush's latest arms control proposals, announced at a NATO summit in May.

The average American household does six loads of wash a week.

By JOHN BROOKS

I got to take my first-ever ambulance ride on Friday night. Our sports editor, Sam Waller, told me last Friday that I needed to read Lewis Grizzard's column in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Well, I was too busy, or some other excuse, and didn't get a chance to read it.

I should have read it. Mr. Grizzard, who has helped me through the post-marriage blues, said that one of the things he would never do is ride in a dunking booth. One of the things I'll never do again is ride the board in a dunking booth. Last Friday night was my last time.

Last Friday was not my first time on the board, one of the biggest fundraisers you can have, right next to cow-patty bingo or a raffle for a half-beef.

County Commissioner Troy Don Moore, County Judge Tom Simons and County Sheriff Joe Brown had ridden the board with no problem.

I got up there to take my turn. I went under about a half-dozen times with no problem. Swallowed a little water, but it wasn't bad. I had ridden a dunking board a thousand times before, and I always swallowed a little water.

Then I went under again. I don't know what happened, or what caused it, but when my feet hit the bottom, the bottom half of my right leg went flying out. The top half of my right leg wanted to go straight down.

I struggled to the surface. No one wants to drown in a four-foot-deep tank in front of a bunch of people, and I didn't know if the people lined up to throw at me would come pull me out, much less do mouth-to-mouth.

I guess I had a pretty shocked look on my face, since someone told me afterward they knew right away something was wrong when I came up.

The first thing to do was to try to get me out of the tank, which was quite a show, I'm sure. A crane was considered for the job, but no one could find one immediately. Anyway, I was helped out of the tank and stood on my left leg on a chair that had been placed outside the tank.

Now the tough part. I could only stand on one leg, and I had to hop from the chair to the ground, one-legged. That, with a lot of help, was accomplished.

Then we tried to find a way to back a pickup into the area, but that was more difficult than finding the crane. Rex Lee, who heads up the ambulance service and was there working, had come over to help and suggested that we call an ambulance. They could wheel a cot out of the ambulance, put me on it, and take me to the ambulance.

So they did, and I did.

I got to meet some really sharp nurses in the emergency room, and I had wanted to meet our new orthopedic surgeon, Dr. Dennis Finley. I met him. It wasn't the way I wanted to meet him, but I have gone through worse to meet people.

I don't know how badly my knee was hurt: while you're reading this, Dr. Finley is checking it over again.

But I think you've had your last-ever chance to get me on the dunking board.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion, $2.80 minimum, and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy charge, straight word ads.

| TIMES | RATE | MIN. |
|-----------------|------|------|
| 1 day per word | 14 | 2.80 |
| 2 days per word | 24 | 4.80 |
| 3 days per word | 34 | 6.80 |
| 4 days per word | 44 | 8.80 |

CLASSIFIED-DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in standard lines with captions held or under type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $1.95 per column inch, $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALS

All rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

West Texas State to host cult seminars

West Texas State University will offer a seminar on cults and ritualistic crimes from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 2.

The seminar is open to educators, judges, law enforcement officers, social service workers and other interested community service personnel.

Workshop topics include freedom of religion, destructive religious cults, ritualistic abuse of children, Afro-Caribbean religions, heavy metal music, satanism, and profile of a victim/participant.

Registration fee is $15. An abbreviated presentation designed for parents is scheduled from 7-9 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 3 in Mary Moody Northern Hall on the WTSU campus. Admission to the program is $2 and may be paid at the door.

A three-day instructional seminar on cults and the investigation of ritualistic crimes will be offered to criminal justice personnel Aug. 2-4. Registration fee, which includes workshop materials, is $20.

Seminar presenters will be Detective Corporal L.D. Adair, Detective T.W. Fahlander and Detective Corporal E.A. Rendleman.

All three work in the detective division, juvenile section of the Lubbock Police Department and have at least 12 years of law enforcement experience.

"The purpose of the seminar is to educate people on the potential problems their children may face because of cult involvement," Melanie Kritser, program coordinator, said. "It is not intended to cause a panic situation but, like drugs and alcohol, it is something we can't ignore."

It is estimated that as many as 3,000 cults exist in the United States and that cult membership totals three million Americans. Children and young adults are becoming increasingly involved even in small communities making it more important than ever to recognize evidence of cult participation, mind control, and recruiting tactics.

Individuals interested in attending the parents' program are welcome at the door, however, preregistration is encouraged for those wishing to attend the Aug. 2 one-day seminar and the Aug. 2-4 school. Arrangements may be made by contacting University Police, West Texas State University, WTSU Box 295, Canyon, Texas 79016 or by calling 806-656-2300.

Accent on Health

The recent recurring rains that drenched parts of Texas have been a mixed blessing, according to health officials.

The best news has been that by the end of June, most populous areas, especially those in East Texas and the Gulf Coast had counted nearly twice the rainfall recorded last year, when drought conditions prevailed.

On the tragic side, several people are known to have drowned, and others lost property in severe flooding. Now, unusually dense swarms of mosquitoes, hatched in standing water left by the storms, are creating alarm in some areas.

Key Vaughn, at the Texas Department of Health (TDH) in Austin, said the mosquito problem has prompted many requests for TDH assistance in eliminating the pests. "What people do not understand is that in Texas, mosquito control is the responsibility of their local governments-city, county, or designated mosquito control districts. We are advising callers to contact local authorities for details about spraying, or other control measures in their areas."

Vaughn, who is chief of the Vector Control Branch of the TDH General Sanitation Division, added, "The other thing we are emphasizing to callers is that although the infestations being reported are making whole cities miserable, these swarms have so far not caused any disease outbreaks. The species which seem to be most plentiful are pests what we sometimes call "day biters" - and are not disease vectors." To date this year, no human cases of encephalitis have been reported in the state, Vaughn explained.

Vaughn said that of about 83 varieties of mosquitoes native to Texas, only about four or five are serious disease carriers. TDH monitors outbreaks of mosquito-borne diseases, such as dengue and encephalitis, and assists local health authorities in controlling mosquitoes when outbreaks occur. At the same time, the department's mosquito surveillance program collects and classifies mosquito samples from across the state to identify any concentrations of disease carriers. This year alone, the TDH Bureau of Laboratories expects to classify more than 82,000 adult mosquito specimens.

"With regard to the swarms reported so far," Vaughn said, "whether a local government chooses to spray a whole community to relieve the pest problem is its own decision. But there is a lot that private citizens can do to reduce the number of mosquitoes on their own property. Since mosquitoes must hatch in standing water, citizens should empty-or get rid of-any outside containers where water can collect."

Old tires, outside flower pots, and holes in tires are infamous for holding enough water to hatch mosquitoes. Also, people should change the water in pet dishes, children's wading pools and bird baths at least twice a week. In addition, accumulated water in gutters should be flushed out, and all window and door screens should be in good repair.

"If there is any consolation for people living where these pests are most concentrated, it is the fact that as the weather changes and breeding places disappear, the swarms could be gone almost as quickly as they appeared," Vaughn said.

Social Security

The Social Security trust funds continued to increase in 1988 and will do so for many years into the future according to the board of Trustees of the Social Security Trust funds, Jim Talbot, Social Security manager in Amarillo, reported recently.

Studying a range of economic and demographic estimates, the trustees determined that the trust funds which pay retirement, survivors, and disability benefits will be adequately funded well into the next century, Talbot said.

During 1988, about 128 million workers made contributions to the trust funds. At the end of September, 1988, 38.5 million persons were receiving monthly benefits under the retirement, survivors, and disability programs. Administrative expenses represented about 1.2 percent of benefit payments in fiscal year 1988.

Income to the retirement, survivors, and disability insurance trust funds in fiscal year 1988 was 258.1 billion, while outgo was 219.3 billion. Thus, the assets of the combined funds increased by $38.8 billion during the fiscal year.

Treat your family to grilled pork

© Your family has probably enjoyed numerous cookouts this summer. Chicken, hamburgers, hot dogs and steaks—they're all great on the barbecue.

Pork is also perfect for grilling. Pork loin, rib or butterfly chops, blade steaks, loin roasts, spareribs, smoked ham, sausage and ground pork are just a few cuts which are delicious when barbecued.

Some of the same techniques of indoor pork cookery apply to cooking on the grill. To keep the temperature low enough for slow and thorough cooking, start your fire 20 to 30 minutes before placing the meat on the grill. Use a meat thermometer for perfect pork roasts or other thick cuts.

Roasts can be cooked either by placing the meat directly on the grill or by using a rotisserie. A drip pan placed under the roast will help prevent flare-ups. The pan can be made of aluminum foil and should extend three inches beyond both ends of the meat. It should be about 1 1/2 inches deep. Coals should be arranged around the pan.

To use a rotisserie, insert the rotisserie rod lengthwise through the center of the cut. Test for balance by rotating the rotisserie rod in the palms of your hands. Fasten the meat securely with rotisserie prongs so that the pork turns with the rod.

Proper utensils can also make a difference when grilling pork. Use tongs, rather than a fork, to turn your pork, in order to prevent loss of its flavorful juices. A long-handled pastry brush is ideal for basting.

A grilled pork recipe that's sure to make your mouth water is Barbecued Blade Steaks Dijon.

BARBECUED BLADE STEAKS DIJON

- 4 pork shoulder blades, cut 1/2-inch thick (about 3 lbs.)
- 4 oz. Dijon-style mustard
- 1/2 cup cooking oil
- 1/2 cup dry red or white wine
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 tsp. dried rosemary, crushed
- 1 tsp. dried basil, crushed
- 1/2 tsp. dried oregano, crushed
- 1/4 tsp. pepper

Arrange blade steaks in a 13x9x2-inch baking dish.

For marinade, combine mustard, oil, wine, garlic, rosemary, basil, oregano and pepper in small bowl. Pour marinade over steaks; turn steaks several times to coat.

Cover steaks and marinate in the refrigerator for 8 hours or overnight. Drain, reserving marinade.

Place steaks on grill about 6 inches above medium coals. Cook for 15 to 20 minutes on each side or till done. Baste steaks with reserved marinade a few minutes before end of cooking time.

Makes 4 servings.

Hints from Heloise

AIRLINE RESERVATIONS

Dear Heloise: I have a suggestion for your readers that would save them a lot of time and frustration. When ready to travel, do it through a travel agent.

A good travel agent will search for the lowest fares with no bias to a particular airline, and find the lowest fare applicable to the dates of travel. A computerized agency has access to all airlines and can assign seats as well as boarding passes.

There is a major misconception that travel agencies charge more than an airline would. It is simply untrue. Travel agencies make commissions from the airlines, hotels, cars, cruises, etc. that they sell. So sit back and let a travel agent work for you. — Leslie Amato, La Mirada, Calif.

You are right! I've said it before. My travel agent Linda Carrol has saved me hours and hours of time, not to mention money. Give them a call and let them work for you. — Heloise

Send a money- or time-saving hint to Heloise, P.O. Box 795000, San Antonio, TX 78279. I can't answer your letter personally but will use the best hints received in my column.

Alleys place in dance, twirling competition

Gina and Aimee Alley, members of the Lone Star Ladies dance twirl team, were cited recently for their individual and team performances.

The sisters comprise the team along with Kristee Turpin, Kimmi Schmid, Allison Smith, Kelly Smith and Robbie West of Canyon and Shelly Graves and Melanie Batenhorst of Stinnett. The team competed at the National Baton Twirlers Association Texas State Twirling Contest held in San Antonio earlier this month.

The Lone Star Ladies were recognized as Junior Small Dance Twirl Team Champions and Junior Halftime Showteam Champions.

On an individual level, Aimee won first in intermediate fancy strut and intermediate solo and second in advanced solo. She was first runner-up in the intermediate preteen pageant. Aimee, along with Turpin and Allison Smith, won preteen trio.

Gina Alley teamed up with Kelly Smith to win the junior duet twirl. They will defend their National halftime Showteam title at America's Youth on Parade set this week at Notre Dame University in Notre Dame, Ill.

Gina also placed second in beginner two baton and in intermediate solo; and third in intermediate fancy strut. She was first runner-up in the intermediate junior pageant.

Rhena Cooper of Canyon serves as the girls' coach. Aimee and Gina are the daughters of Larry and Eileen Alley of 545 Westhaven.

Check equipment before canning fruits, vegetables

Before you start canning the summer's best fruits and vegetables, check your equipment to make sure it's in top-notch shape. Look over these points:

BOILING WATER BATH CANNER

Any metal cooking utensil that is deep enough to hold pint or quart canning jars set on a rack, plus 1 to 2 inches of boiling water above the jar tops, will serve as a boiling water bath canner.

- Do use a rack; jars must not stand directly on the bottom of the pan.

- The container should have a close-fitting lid.

- Kettles specifically designed for processing are available.

STEAM PRESSURE CANNER

The pressure canner is a heavy, seamless kettle with a rack and locking lid with seal, pressure lock and safety valve. Do not use a pressure saucepan for canning.

- Check dial-type pressure gauges yearly for accuracy. County extension agents often have free testing clinics. Or, you can check the gauge with a special maximum temperature thermometer made by the Taylor Instrument Co.

- Weighted or rocker-type pressure regulators are not adjustable and usually remain accurate.

- Make sure all vents and openings in the lid are clean. Clean them with a string or a fine wire before each use.

- Clean and check the removable flexible gasket inside the canner lid for cracks and flexibility. Replace old, hard gaskets; they will not form a good seal.

- Check the over-pressure plug. Some need to be replaced every few years.

MISCELLANEOUS EQUIPMENT

- Use standard home canning jars only. Make sure they're free of hairline cracks or small nicks in the rim. After 10 to 13 years of use, consider replacing jars.

- One-use jars, such as mayonnaise jars, may break during processing.

- Buy new lids for two-piece caps annually. Screw-bands may be reused. Zinc caps and rubber rings no longer are recommended for any food.

- Nice to have: a magnetic wand for removing caps from hot water, wide-necked funnel, jar lifter, 4-ounce jelly and jam glasses for gifts.
