Are they stockings or aren't they?

According to the beauty experts, you will never know if the lady is wearing the new leg make-up designed by cosmetic manufacturers to remedy the shortage of silk and nylon hose. The Beauty Mart has in a stock of the new painted on stockings, and the girls say that in the interests of realism seams may be painted on (crooked to make it really realistic) with an eyebrow pencil. Ladies ought to get a kick (no pun intended) out of banging their shins on such once ruinous snag producers as chairs and table legs.

Further items on the clothing situation: We learn from a government bulletin that such things as dolman sleeves, long coats, wide belts and full skirts are "out" for the duration. A postscript announces that babies are not affected by these regulations. Anyway, it's nice to know that baby can wear puffed sleeves, a three inch belt, patch pockets—in fact a zoot suit with a reef pleat—and remind the older generation of the good old days.

Imogene Whitehead and Francis Wilson returned early Monday morning from California where they visited their brother, Gayle Higgins and family, and Mrs. Wilson's husband, Aviation Cadet Kermit Wilson. Also in the group were Mrs. Ky Higgins and Charles Homer Whitehead.

Deaf Smith County poultry raisers agree that the clinic held last week at the West Texas Feed and Seed Company was a real success—with just one draw back, it did undesirable things to the appetite for fried chicken.

New Rulings Complicate Regulation "W"

Credit Regulation "W" and the red tape connected with it today found most business men in this area at a loss to completely understand the new law, which became effective June 1. Bankers, installment houses, and retail credit merchants are included in the regulation, which in their words "would hog-tie a Philadelphia lawyer".

All persons dealing in credit extensions of any type must be licensed, or registered, in compliance with the new regulation. Registration blanks may be secured from the Federal Reserve Bank, Dallas, along with free copies of the booklet, "Consumer Credit". Registrations are made without charge—but are necessary for any person who sells on charge accounts, instalments, etc.

Section 5-C of the new regulation says that a charge account shall be deemed in default if any article for which credit was extended in such account has not been paid for in full before the 10th day of the second calendar month following the calendar month during which such article was sold.

Charge accounts in default result in the dealer no longer extending credit for any charge sale or installment sale until the default has been cured by payment in full, or by written agreement under specific rulings of the new regulation, which are outlined in the booklet, "Consumer Credit".

Suicide Verdict In Jones Death

A verdict of suicide was turned in this week on the death of Malcolm L. Jones, 46 years old, who died Monday night.

Jones' body was discovered at 9:20 o'clock Monday night, by Alvin Carroll, caretaker at the City Hall, who called county officers to report that Jones had hanged himself, using a blanket from a bunk and fastening it to the bars in the jail cell. He had been in jail only a few minutes.

Officers tried artificial respiration, but Dr. R. R. Willis reported that Jones had died of a severed spine, probably immediately.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the First Christian Church, where Rev. H. M. Redford was in charge. (Continued on Page 10)

Union Services At Meih. Church Sunday

Union Services of the Methodist, Christian and Presbyterian Churches were held Sunday at the Christian Church and meetings this Sunday night will be at the Methodist Church, where age group meetings will start at 8 o'clock with preaching services at 8:30.

Special feature of the program last Sunday was a song by Charles Ferguson of Los Angeles, who is here visiting his mother, Mrs. C. C. Ferguson. Mr. Ferguson also sang at the morning worship service at the Presbyterian Church and at the evening service at the Baptist Church.

Young people of the three churches met on the lawn at the Presbyterian Church last Friday night for a picnic, the first of the social activities planned for the summer; and sponsors of the youth's group urge all young people of the community to join in the summer activities.

Hereford Credit Union Buys Three War Bonds

The Hereford Federal Credit Union last week purchased three $500 war bonds, it was announced this week. The Credit Union, which has served as a savings bank and a borrowing source for many Hereford people for the past several years, has had an enviable record of growth and community service.

Members of the Board of Directors are C. J. Paddock, president; Fred Baird, vice-president; Dyalthis Brady, treasurer and manager; and Mrs. P. H. Gilliland and Mrs. C. A. Skelton, directors.

"You might say the harvest has not really started yet."

That is the general opinion of Hereford grain dealers who reported this week that only a small part of the bumper wheat crop in Deaf Smith and surrounding counties has started to move to the elevators and farm storage bins.

Rains Stop Work

Rains on Tuesday slowed up harvest in the West part of the county and hail in the section from Westway on west did severe damage in some fields but damage was much less widespread than in the hail which fell on Sunday, June 14. In both hails only a small part of the crop in the entire county has been affected and some farmers who have started to harvest crops which were damaged in the first storm report that damage was less severe than they at first thought.

Tests Will Be High

Tests on most wheat in the territory will run 60 and better as soon as the wheat is dried out, grain dealers state, warning again against too early cutting of wheat which will result in higher moisture content and lower price on the grain. Grain of higher than 14 per cent moisture content cannot be accepted for a government loan, which will bring the farmer several cents more per bushel than the local market price. Elevator men are having trouble with getting terminal storage facilities and the local storage situation is still doubtful but warehouses, vacant (Continued on page 10)

Employment Service Makes Connections With Farmers, Laborers

Offices of the employment service are now open in the building next door (north) to the Texas Theatre, and J. J. Boley, director in charge, asks that persons wanting work or farmers wanting to hire labor get in touch with this office where contacts are made.

The employment office is a free government service designed to help keep a steady labor supply during the busy harvest months. Thus far, labor supplies have been sufficient, but the harvest was slowed-up this week by heavy rains in parts of the county.

The office here will be open for several months and will help with labor problems during potato harvest as well as during wheat harvest.

Still Time To Plant Row Crop And Price Good

There is still time to plant maize and heigira, and the prospects for a good row crop price should encourage farmers to plant.

A. R. Bateman, county agent, made this announcement this week, stating that even before the rains, the planting of row crop would have been a good investment for irrigation farmers.

Row crop acreages in East Texas will bring in only a fraction of their normal yield because of the heavy floods which have done much damage to crops all spring. With this East Texas grain off the market, the price for the local crop will be the best in many years.

The first of this week the county agent estimated that there was probably not more than 10,000 acres of row crop up in the county as compared with approximately 140,000 acres at this time last year. However, with the improvement of moisture conditions row crop prospects have improved greatly and if the entire county will take steps against the grasshopper menace, the chances are still good for an average row crop harvest the county agent believes.

Hail, accompanied by heavy rains, again Tuesday hit part of the Deaf Smith County bumper wheat crop, leaving heavy damage in the Westway sector and farther toward the western part of the county.

Rain varied from one and one-half to nearly three inches in the sections hit by the storm, with hail very light around the Westway Store and getting heavier farther west.

Among farmers who reported losses were Kelly Gray, 60 per cent; Tom Carter, 50; G. W. Wilson, six bushels to the acre; D. Culpepper, Jack Grady, Burden Sowell and the Winfrey's all report heavy losses. H. R. Overstreet reports complete destruction of his wheat. Jim Bookout estimates his loss at 15 per cent.

At the Frank Williams place, wheat was damaged badly and hogs were killed by the hailstones.

Harvest was stopped for several days in the western part of the county, where yields Monday (Continued on Page 10)

Army Emergency Relief Committee Appointed

Officials of the American Legion, the Office of Civilian Defense and the Red Cross this week announced the appointment of an Army Emergency Relief Committee for the county to help carry out the responsibilities of all these organizations in helping the dependents of men in any of the U. S. armed services.

Members of the committee, announced today, are Harry Taylor, chairman; Mrs. Billie Watts, Hershel Miller, Mrs. Ralph Smith, Henry Allmon, Troy Moore, Owen J. Stagner and Mrs. O. L. Massie.

Official announcement of the appointment of the committee states that their duties shall be to assist in the care of dependents of those members of the military forces lost in action and in cases of unusual hardship of military personnel.

Only Cooperation Will Rid County Of Hopper Plague

Grasshoppers right now represent the biggest menace to row crop and gardens in Deaf Smith County.

That advice comes from the office of the county agricultural agent, where it is pointed out that only a concerted drive by all farmers in the county can get rid of the hoppers.

"We have arranged to keep an adequate supply of poison bait," says County Agent A. R. Bateman. "But we will not be able to get rid of the hoppers unless we all work together on this job."

This week it was reported that the grasshoppers had begun to damage the potato crop slightly, and already damage to gardens and flowers is bad in some parts of the county.

Non-resident land-owners need to take on their share of responsibility in poisoning the hoppers. Mr. Bateman says, adding that immediately after harvest will probably prove the best time for large scale poisoning operations.

Father of Hereford Men Dies At White Deer

Funeral services were held in White Deer Thursday for Joseph Newton Hodges, father of Walter and Vesta Hodges of Hereford.

Mr. Hodges died at the age of 89 following a short illness. He had been a leader in the Methodist Church for years. His two sons and their families attended the services which were held in the Methodist Church with the Rev. Don Davidson officiating.

Besides the sons here, Mr. Hodges left several other children and several grandchildren.

June 30th An Important Day In Rationing

June 30 is an important date as far as price control and rationing is concerned. Two announcements made by the War Price and Rationing Board this week will effect most businesses in Hereford.

The board announced, first, that all institutions as cafes, drug stores, boarding houses, confectionaries, etc., will register Tuesday, June 30 for sugar for use in July and August only. The only information needed is the amount of sugar on hand, the board states.

Also on June 30, all retail merchants will have to have filed with the board, copies of their maximum price lists on cost-of-living commodities. June 30 is the last day for filing these lists.

The board wishes to remind housewives that as yet there has not been set any final date on registration for sugar for rationing purposes. This registration will be handled any day, though the board would appreciate the help of housewives in not trying to register on June 30, the date for registration of institutional users.

The ration office in the courthouse is open from 9 until 12 and from 1 until 5 every weekday except Saturday, when the office closes at noon.

Early Delivery Expected On CCC Wheat Bins

Pre-fabricated wheat bins began to be shipped into the wheat producing area last Tuesday, officials of the Deaf Smith County ACA said this week in announcing that they expect the bins to be arriving here within a very short time.

Deliveries are now being made every day on the CCC wheat bins, and when deliveries start in Hereford all bins which have been ordered by local farmers will probably arrive within a short space of time, government officials believe.

In the meantime, they advise farmers that the granaries are being produced rapidly and that every effort is going forward to help the farmer provide adequate storage space for his crop.

65,000 pounds of scrap rubber had been turned in at Hereford filling stations this week, in a response which dwarfs contributions to any previous salvage drives held here. Tuesday, June 30th, is the last day of the period proclaimed by the president for national scrap rubber collection but indications from most of the nation were that the collection exceeds most expectations. No report on the collection for the nation as a whole will be available until released by the White House, but response throughout the Western States is excellent.

The scrap rubber drive, catching Deaf Smith County in the midst of a huge wheat harvest, has nevertheless received good co-operation from local people, most of whom feel that a huge collection of scrap rubber will serve to postpone gas rationing in gas producing areas.

No private interests can be considered more important than co-operation with the drive to keep American armies rolling on rubber and to keep the rubber-mounted transportation equipment of the nation going at least part of its normal pace.

Filling stations will pay the government fixed price of one cent a pound for scrap and will in turn be reimbursed by the government. All profit in selling the rubber finally to rubber reclaimers will go to the U. S. O. Reclaiming facilities are not vast and scrap stock piles may not be utilized immediately, but most persons feel that the purpose of the drive at this time is to get an accurate inventory of rubber scrap on hand, so the government can decide the necessity of gasoline rationing to conserve rubber.

Housewives in many cases were giving their premises a second spring cleaning to unearth every ounce of rubber material. In some cities, boy scouts are combing the ditches by the highways and country roads, where they report the stock of rubber scrap is surprisingly high.

Registration Dates Set To Fit Harvest

Because of the fact that harvest is now in full swing and to make registration as convenient as possible the harvest schedule, members of the local selective service board this week announced that the 18-20 year old youths may register at the Selective Service office on Saturday and Monday, June 27 and 29, if those dates are more convenient than the regularly scheduled registration date, Tuesday, June 30.

The regular registration will be held Tuesday at the office of County Clerk Robert L. Thompson, a announced last week, and government regulations require that men who have attained their 18th, 19th or 20th birthdays on or before June 30, 1942, and have not heretofore been registered under the selective service act of 1940, shall register on June 30.

The local board hopes that by setting aside three days for the registration they will be able to take care of all men at the most convenient possible time.

Two Hereford Girls Enter Nurse Training, Amarillo

Both girls graduated this year from Hereford High School and both have enrolled for the three year course which includes two years of college work and upon completion, entitles the students to a degree in nursing.

No. 5 Sugar Stamp Good for 2 Pounds

The number 5 Sugar Stamp is valid for two pounds of sugar anytime from June 28 to July 25, the county war price rationing board announced this week. Heretofore, stamps have been valid over a two-week period and have been good for one pound of sugar, so the new ruling does not increase the sugar ration.

The number 6 stamp will be good for two pounds of sugar from July 26 to Aug. 22, the announcement stated.

4 T sugar
1 t baking powder
6 T milk
1 1-4 c cake flour (measure after sifting once)

Lastly fold in the beaten egg whites. Bake in a sheet pan, 11 in x 7 in x 1 1-2 inches, which has been lined with greased waxed paper. Bake at 350 degrees F. Extracts may be omitted as honey gives a distinct flavor to cakes. Let stand in pan 15 minutes before removing.

When It's Love They Always Get Their Man

New Orleans—This is a problem that stumps a lot of policemen.

Take a woman out to the target range, put a pistol in her hand, and she can't even nick the white of the target.

But when "she shoots him because she loves him," she never misses.

Sergeant Preston Friloux, the city police instructor for the last 12 years, should have some idea about it, but declares:

"I just can't make it out. It seems they close their eyes, point the muzzle of a gun at their target pull the trigger, and bingo—the object of their affections hits the floor.

"And the bullet nearly always hits a vital spot. But I've taken many of 'em to the police pistol range, put a revolver in their hands and watched 'em go to pieces. They were unable to hit the white of the target from 10 feet away. They seemed too timid and frightened.

"I haven't heard of any that missed the mark when they were shooting at the real thing.

Clerk Patrick O'Brien, a 24-year veteran who has "handled more women shooting than I can remember," said he'd found that "in most cases only one bullet does the job," but added, "Don't ask me to explain—it can't be done."

He picked up, as an example, the record of a shooting in which a man was killed by one shot fired by a woman who had never even discharged a cap pistol before.

George Reyer, superintendent of police who has "broken" many a bank robbery, can't crack this case.

"I've often wondered about it," he admitted "but it's beyond me. There must be a reason. Our record room is filled with reports of women picking up a revolver for the first time in their lives and putting a bullet into a man. They don't ever miss."

John J. Grosch, chief of detectives, passed it off with:

"They're just natural born marksmen when they want to shoot him because they love him."

Mrs. O. Wilder and Mildred were called to Brownfield last week by the serious illness of Mrs. Wilder's mother, Mrs. Isaac Lloyd. Mrs. Lloyd was living with her son, A. J. Lloyd. She passed away soon after Mrs. Wilder and Mildred reached there. Mrs. Lloyd has often visited in her daughter's home here where she made many friends. Our sincere sympathy is extended to the family.

Grasshoppers are playing havoc with some gardens and fields and yards. Mrs. Moody Stephan says a cloud of them descended on her flowers and yard last Thursday and in three hours only some stems were left of her flowers. Mrs. Henry Allmon and Mrs. Maurice Tannahill complain that hoppers are thick in the yards and are eating all the leaves from shrubs and flowers. Merlin Kaul's hybrid corn seems to have had a special appeal also for they have gotten most of it. Mrs. Kaul thinks that her young turkeys have helped keep them down in her garden but finds potato bugs doing a lot of damage.

Muriel Otts was ill last week with measles.

An airplane seen south of the Merlin Kaul home Monday evening at first seemed to be practicing smoke screens. However, it was noticed that the screens were all made over a large potato patch on one of the former Joe Evans farms. The conclusion reached is that the plane was being used to spray the potatoes.

Elwyn Hartman has returned home from the Marine Base at San Diego, Calif. Elwyn is waiting for his medical discharge. He was in the hospital at the base for 4 1-2 months.

Harvesting which started here Monday morning was stopped Tuesday by a storm of rain, hail, and wind. Reports from wheat harvested Monday gave estimates from 35 to 44 bushels per acre, all this on non-irrigated land.

The rain Tuesday morning varied, ranging from 1 1-2 inches in the eastern part of the community to more than three inches in the west part.

Farmers in the west portion were hailed-out. This includes the farms at and near the Dea Culpepper place and on north Grady Wilson, J. A. Roe and Buren Sowell report considerable damage. Near the Westway Store, the hail was not so severe and became less as the storm moved east.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. Buren Sowell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Miller visited last Thursday night in the Albert Zinzer home. The visitors were surprised when Mr. Zinzer introduced them to his bride of a month. They found Mrs. Zinzer charming. She served delicious refreshments to the guests at the close of the evening.

Santa Fe and your WINTER WHEAT

Once more the miracle of the winter wheat harvest is with us. Nature has been kind, in Santa Fe territory, and another bumper crop is indicated. Prices, too, are good.

That is a happy prospect, but it brings serious problems with it—both for you who raise the grain, and for us who move it.

You face a shortage of harvest labor, and a serious lack of storage space, at terminals and in rural bins, because of the unprecedented carry-over of old wheat. We face the job of moving a vast grain tonnage, in a short time, on top of the greatest railroad traffic load in history.

For example, in April, 1941, Santa Fe freight cars moved 108,131,891 miles. In April, 1942, that mileage had leaped to 142,823,878. A great part of that 32% jump represented war freight, that must move first.

Santa Fe pledges every possible help in moving 1942 wheat to points where it can be accepted and placed for use. Of you we ask prompt loading and unloading, and that no car be used for storage, even temporarily. Let's pull together and whip this war-born transportation problem, as we have so many others in the long years we've worked together.

AT YOUR SERVICE—Talk over your transportation problems with your Santa Fe representative. He'll be glad to help with practical suggestions.

From where I sit...
by Joe Marsh

MAYBE I shouldn't admit it, but there are a few things about this writing job I really like.
First, I like the part where... after all the writin' and the routine is done... I just set back and think about things in general. (Oh, yes, that's part of the job, too.)
Doesn't matter much what I think about. Sometimes I concentrate on one thing. Sometimes I think of lots of things, one right after the other.

After all... when you stop to think about it... beer is a simple, natural thing. I read somewhere that all it's made of is good, wholesome farm grains and water and a little yeast... with hops for flavor. Nature's process of fermentation and the age-old art of the brewer does the rest.
I guess that's why beer is so wholesome. It really is the beverage of moderation. You just can't imagine anybody getting into trouble drinking a few glasses of beer.

Usually, when I get to thinkin', I send down for some beer. Seems a glass of beer not only touches the spot but it also sort of helps the thinkin' mood along.
It's such a peaceful, friendly beverage. Sort of honest and human. And it tastes good.
I like to hold my glass of beer up to the light and look through it. That beautiful, golden-amber color kind of fascinates me. Reminds me of the sunny barley fields where beer gets its start.

Well, here I am... going on and on thinking and talking about beer. Probably could go on for hours. That's the way I am when I set back and get to thinking about things.
And by the way, taking it easy and "just thinkin'" is fun. Try it sometime... quiet and comfortable like.

HEREFORD

BULL

By Jimmie Gellentine

The war news is definitely bad. Probably the past week has brought more bad news than even the attack on Pearl Harbor. A lot of people have been figuring that the war might be over by January, 1943, and things looked pretty good up to the past 10 days. With the fall of Tobruk and the siege of Sevastopol, it seems highly possible that the Nazi forces may reach one, or both, of two great oil fields. This may prolong the war five years—ever longer. The Axis is in desperate need of oil. Their second greatest need is food. However, to carry on a mechanized war, they must have oil first. If they do get the oil, it will be a matter of starvation which will finally get them.

Many people are criticizing the British for their failure to fight to the last man in Tobruk, as the Americans fought in Bataan. Maybe this criticism is just, maybe not. To say the least, the fall of Tobruk is the most serious blow which has befallen the Allies since the United States entered the war.

Our wheat crop this year, along with other yields over the nation, can mean much toward final Allied Victory. We may not need the wheat now—but the time will come, just as it has always done before. It is up to us to save every bit of wheat we can. Several men have told me that the terminals are trying to steal this 1942 crop. They say the terminals report that they have no room to store wheat, but they will turn around and offer to buy it. These men say if the terminals can store the wheat which they purchase, they can also store it for the farmer. This is certainly logical.

Provided this situation exists, the elevators should get with the farmers and wire President Roosevelt. This action is certainly not in keeping with the sacrifices being made over the country. It could become a national catastrophe if half of the 1942 wheat is dumped on the ground and lost because a few greedy men are trying to make an unjust profit.

I do not believe the government will allow this situation to exist very long. If there is any terminal storage, it stands to reason that it should be used—and a flock of telegrams direct to President Roosevelt will clear the matter up. Of course, if there is not space in the terminal elevators that is a different situation. If the farmers will find out about this definitely, they can get some action—but it is something they will have to do themselves. I knew a woman once who saved a section of land by sending President Roosevelt a telegram during the depression.

Dyalthis Bradley was the "happiest one" Wednesday morning. She was fishing with a small No. 8 hook and a grasshopper and hooked a five-pound Channel Cat. She was using a light fly rod, but somehow managed to land the fish. This is one of the first Charinel Cats caught in Tierra Blanca this season—and it was sure a dandy.

Ray Conaway says that Harry Danforth finally got his money back from the Montanower Company, and that Harry was getting from ear to ear. They made a deduction of $4.00, which he expected—but he is happy anyway. This makes me madder than ever. Bob Thompson, Alton Miller, Roger Corbett and I started to ship our mower back, but we figured that it would only lead to complications. We just kept the thing and lost our money, because we figured we knew all the answers. No matter what you do, it seems to be the wrong thing.

Here's a new joke that came out in a recent magazine. Two drunks were sprawled out on their bed in the hotel room. One had a flashlight which he was focusing on the ceiling.

"O! Pal," he said, "I betcha you can't climb up that light."

"Yesh I can," came the reply, "but I ain't. I know you. Jush when I got to the top, you'd turn it off."

Everything seems to go wrong.

for the Bull column this week. After all, people are sincerely interested in things like black eyes, especially when they see on someone they don't like too well, anyway. I sure figured that I had something to write about. You can imagine my disgust when I got up Sunday morning, rushed to the mirror—and found my eye was a little swollen, but otherwise normal.

4-H CLUB GIRLS HOLD MEETING

4H Club Girls met in the home of Bettye Jean McBrayer last Thursday afternoon for a demonstration on bedroom improvement. A discussion on whole wheat breads was also held. Members of the club planned a hike and picnic for July 23, definite arrangements to be announced later.

Mrs. E. C. Jordan and daughter, Janie, of Amarillo, spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marrs, Jr.

Let's Cook Something

A frozen delicacy in the heat of the summer has always represented the last word in luxury. Epicures have not changed their views much on that since the days when slaves bore great chests of snow from the mountain tops to chill the wines of the Caesars.

Many women are working out dessert recipes that contain a minimum of sugar. Mrs. W. L. Davis is responsible for this ice cream recipe which contains no sugar at all. It is very, very good and smooth in texture. You'll like it.

CREAMY ICE CREAM

- 2-3 can Eagle Brand Condensed Milk
- 1-2 cup water
- 1-2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1 cup crushed canned sweetened peaches or apricots

Blend the Eagle Brand milk and water and allow to partially freeze in refrigerator tray. Remove from refrigerator and pour in large bowl and beat well. Add whipped cream, folding into mixture slowly. Add the vanilla and the crushed fruit. Pour in tray and return to refrigerator, stirring again when about half frozen, and allow to freeze firm.

Any fruit may be used or none at all if you like plain cream.

Here is another recipe using sweetened condensed milk instead of sugar that Mrs. Davis recommends:

CHOCOLATE CREAMS

- 1 large can sweetened condensed milk
- 4 tablespoons cocoa
- 4 cups shredded coconut

Combine milk, cocoa, coconut, and a pinch of salt, and mix well. Drop by teaspoons on a greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350 degree F.) for 10 minutes.

These are lovely for parties or to have on hand when unexpected guests arrive.

Groom Wears Khaki

Sgt. Joe Edgar Buckner evidently feels that the bridegroom gets a dirty deal in most newspaper wedding stories, and so made up for the usual ignoring of the bridegroom in the letter sent to his parents this week describing his marriage on June 1.

CHDA Notes

Coffee jars now have a double life. A new type of lid permits the conversion of coffee jars into ideal containers for home canning. A composition-lined metal disk, made to fit inside the regular screw cap which comes on the jar of glassed coffee, this lid eliminates the use of rubber rings, thereby, saving rubber.

The South Hereford Demonstration Club has voted to study the making of slip covers and reupholstering of furniture at their July meetings. Members have been notified to bring materials to the Sales Pavilion for their regular club meeting with the agent in July.

There have been a steady stream of requests for the pamphlet on "Vitamized Cookery" given to this office by the Texas-New Mexico Utilities Company. About 200 copies of the article by the Westinghouse home-economist were left with us, and practically all of them have been called for.

We have prepared more mimeographed copies of the bulletin on "Ways to Save Sugar When You 'Put Up' Fruit," and we hope to be able to meet the demand for this very useful information.

Following are excerpts from a letter from Dora R. Barnes, Clothing specialist for Victory Demonstrators, which gives ideas for clothing conservation for all patriotic homemakers.

"It's a good idea to be in step with war styles by streamlining your summer and fall wardrobe."

That means you will want to abide by the regulations set by the apparel division of our War Production Board. You won't find these regulations a handicap. They'll save materials and streamline our styles.

For instance, you won't be having dolman, balloon, leg-of-mutton or other large sleeves. They're prohibited, and there'll be no cuffs on sleeves. That doesn't mean we won't have pretty sleeves. Cuffs aren't essential — and smaller sleeves have a much more slenderizing appearance than dolman sleeves.

Belts may not exceed two inches in width. This is a boon to short-waisted people, for wide belts are unbecoming to them.

Pay attention to this: They tell us we must not use wool on wool. In other words, we mustn't line a woolen garment with wool or yokes with a double layer of fabric. Pockets must be made of something besides woolen cloth.

In war-time we'll be having set-in fath set-on pockets. They will save wool. They're just as pretty and not nearly so likely to catch on a doorknob and tear.

No turned up cuffs on slacks, is the rule and the legs may be no more than 19 inches around the bottom. That means there'll be little to catch and trip us.

Goodbye Fullness: Hems in dresses may be no deeper than two inches. And your skirt must not be more than two yards around the bottom. Jackets to our suits must not be more than 25 inches in length. Likely we'll be wearing boleros and short jackets which are pretty.

There are some exceptions: These new regulations do not apply to prospective mothers, babies, any person of abnormal height, weight or other special physical qualifications.

Men's Clothing Streamlined Too: Under the new regulations men's clothing will give up some of the buttons used for decoration only, and double-breasted coats are out. Coats will be shorter and Victory suits will have no cuffs on the trousers. Cuffs cut off this year's suits will be reworked and will make 250,000 more suits than there would have been otherwise.

Streamlining women's clothing means we can have 15 percent more clothes from the same amount of material. Nice saving, isn't it?

Sure — that old stretched-out girdle you're hoarding in the bureau drawer is mighty comfortable on a hot day. But the rubber in it can be used to make it mighty uncomfortable for the Japs.

Sign Up Now For Nutrition Course

Some interest has been manifested in the proposed Red Cross nutrition class here but it is hoped that more women will sign up for the course before work starts.

This announcement was made this week by E. C. Eubanks, chapter chairman, who urges women interested in taking the course to get in touch immediately with Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, who will be the teacher.

"Express your preference for a time of meeting when signing up for the course" Mr. Eubanks says, explaining that classes will last two hours and that there will be ten lessons in the course. Miss Oliver has indicated that she might teach the classes from 9 until 11 o'clock in the morning or from 8 until 10 at night.

Completion of the nutrition course will prepare students for an advanced, ten hour course which is direct preparation for canteen work.

"The nutrition course is actually the most important and useful of the Red Cross war program classes," according to Fred Baird, treasurer of the local chapter, who points out that whereas first aid and home nursing answer only emergency needs, the nutrition course can prove valuable in the every-day work of the home-maker.

How to Harness a Horse —When You Get One

Harnessing a horse is virtually a lost art—but one which may have to be reclaimed a lot faster than the nation's old aluminum pots and pans.

Noting the increasing difficulties of personal automotive transportation, the safety education department of a large insurance company has combed old records and has issued, in the lighter vein, the following instructive bulletin:

"Before we get into the technicalities of how to harness a horse—when you get one—it seems desirable to set forth a brief glossary of technical stable terms which, if not defined, might be as incomprehensible as Sanskrit to the average motorist. You should, therefore, be familiar with the following terms:

"Stall—the horse's garage.

"Hames—steel neckties which the horse wears in his collar.

"Saddle-pad—that which the horse wears on his back. Difficult to define, but necessary, very necessary.

"Crupper—harness loop which fits around the base of the tail.

"Breast Collar and Traces—a sort of a power transmission belt.

"Bridle, Bit and Reins—the steering gear.

"Girth—girdle, worn by male and female horses.

"Terrets—this one baffled us, too.

"Shank's Mare—a pseudo-horse. Unharnessable.

"Now, having gotten that out of the way, let's go out to the barn and get to work. A word of warning, though: Just as a word description of how to tie one's shoestrings would be more involved than the actual process after one has done it a few times, harnessing a horse is not so difficult after one knows how. The procedure is as follows:

1. Untie the steed and back him from his stall to the barn floor.

"2. If he will "stand without hitching," O. K. If not you will have to snap the two ropes that you will find there into the side rings in the halter.

"3. Take the saddle-pad and appurtenances and place it in position.

"4. Take the crupper and put the tail through it. This is done by folding back the long hair that extends beyond the fleshy part of the tail and putting the folded tail through the crupper.

"5. Seat the crupper in place by pulling the back strap taut.

"6. Fasten the inside girth.

"7. Take the breast collar, with the traces, and the bridle "assembly" in your left hand. Remove halter and slip breast collar over head and neck. (Horse's head—not yours.) If a hames collar is used instead of a breast collar, that is "something else again." The solid collar must be slid over the horse's face upside down and turned into position just as it reaches the smallest part of the neck. The hames are then put in place and fastened by the strap at the bottom. The traces are permanently attached to the hames so you can't go wrong there.

"8. Holding the bit in left hand and top of bridle in right hand, put the bridle on. (This requires for finesse. If the horse yawns at the opportune moment, your job is easy. Otherwise, the upper and lower jaws must be pried apart gently and the bit put in position.) Then the left ear is inserted in the proper place and then the right.

"9. Fasten the throat-latch. This is the strap that goes around the jaws. Don't get it too tight or you'll choke Dobbin.

"10. Lead horse in position in front of buggy. Draw slowly forward, putting the shafts through the shaft-loops which are on either side of the girth.

"11. Fasten the traces or tugs to the wiffle-free, putting them through the loops that you will find on the shafts.

"12. Fasten hold-back straps. These should be not too tight nor too loose. (Better get some expert advice on this point.)

"13. Fasten the outer girth.

"14. Loosen reins from bit and run them under the breast collar and through the terrets. Buckle ends.

"15. Fasten the check rein. Gaddap!

"If this is too complicated and you have decided to take up walking in a big way, you will want to read our next bulletin, 'Putting One Foot in Front of the Other'."

Yields Exceed Expectations
Not enough wheat has come in to get any idea of the average yield in the territory, but most farmers are finding that their yields are running higher than they had at first estimated. Some fields in the western part of the county were running from 30 to 40 bushels to the acre before cutting was stopped by the rain Tuesday.

Gather Eggs Often And Keep 'Em Clean

Produce infertile eggs, keep 'em clean, gather them at least three times daily, and more Texas eggs will reach the consumer, says George P. McCarthy, Poultry Husbandman of A. and M. College Extension Service. After gathering, cool them promptly in an open wire mesh, or wicker basket which allows the air to circulate between the eggs. Placing the basket in a cool, slightly moist room, helps the eggs to keep their quality.

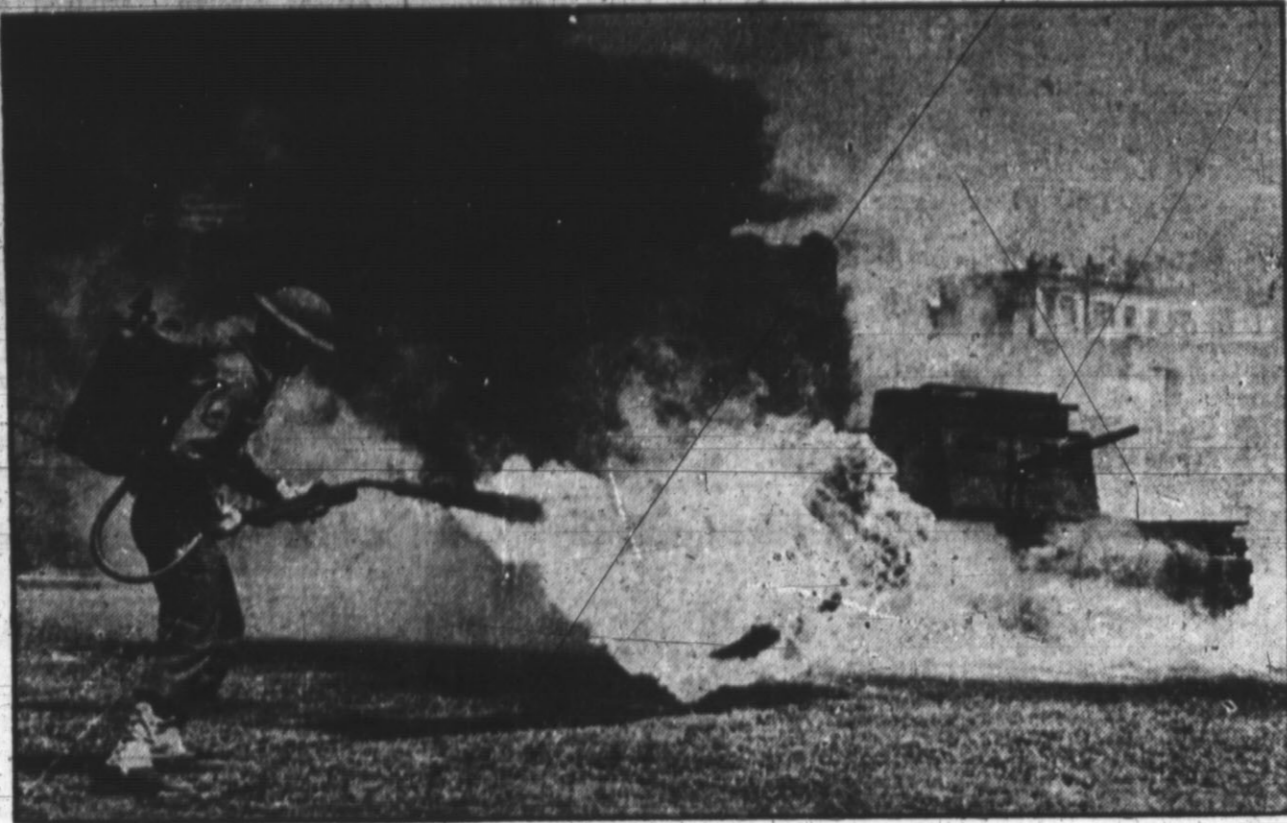

As fertile eggs tend to spoil rapidly, McCarthy suggests removing all roosters from the flock when the hatching season is over. He also warns that overcrowding in a flock will do as much harm as the outbreak of a disease, and often is a contributing cause to coccidiosis. Shortage of housing space can be relieved by building a range shelter or brush arbor, which permits pullets to roost in the open beneath a roof to protect them from rain or hail.

"If you are feeding a good mash and they have a good green range, you won't recognize them as the same pullets after a couple of weeks."

Management is a highly important factor in obtaining satisfactory production from a poultry flock. If the hens are not eating as they should, are pale and losing weight, and feathers are rather dry and brittle, they should be treated for intestinal parasites, McCarthy says.

Floor line ventilators in summer are one of the best things to have in a poultry house. It makes the house cooler, "and a flock of chickens which are comfortable can be expected to produce."

As careless handling and packing are responsible for most breakage, McCarthy suggests packing all eggs in standard cases, with the small end pointing downward. Cover the top of the case with a pad of excelsior because it is the top layer which most often gets crushed.

Nickel-In-The-Slot Milk A War Innovation

Coin-operated milk vending machines would do much to solve dietary problems of persons now training for war jobs, executive members of the Texas State Nutrition Committee agreed at a recent meeting in Fort Worth.

Thus far little attention has been given to food needs of these trainees, and proper food available on the job is necessary if they are to maintain efficiency and make the greatest war contribution, the committee was told by Ruth Huey, Austin state director of vocational-homemaking. Canteen workers will be asked to help feed these people adequate meals, Miss Huey said in seeking aid from state, county, and municipal nutrition committees.

By next fall homemakers will find only about four sizes of cans on the grocers' shelves, Martha Rogin, OPA consumer representative from Washington, D. C., forecast for the committee. She discussed also the new maximum price regulations as they relate to consumers.

Continuing benefits of the community school lunch program throughout the summer in localities where there are underfed children was recommended by the executive group. The committee also considered setting up a service for preparing patriotic menus for women's clubs and other organizations. War-time refreshments especially should be rich in vitamins and minerals as well as calories, it was agreed.

Following the meeting, the chairman, Mildred Horton of the A. and M. College Extension Ser-

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION BY W. W. REID

"We must accept global planning or perish," said Dr. Charles W. Iglehart, Far Eastern counsellor to the International Missionary Council, in an address at Union Theological Seminary. "We have no choice but to lift the earth's resources out of the grasp of selfish or private hands and put them in trust for all with balanced planning and equitable distribution. Our organs of finance, our systems of world trade, our management of world police, our international law, our regulation of population movements, all these and many other aspects of our complex modern living must go under planning and controls on a world scale. There is no alternative except recurring world wars. If we accept the challenge to a new way of world thinking and sharing and living, we shall have solved Japan's problems and our extinction by American and British "orphan mission funds" provided by American and British churches through the International Missionary Council. This fund continues to aid the Paris Missions in Basutoland, Barotseland, the Camerouns, the Gabon in Africa; and also the missions in New Caledonia, and Tahiti, in Oceania.

Dr. Lynn Harold Hough, dean of Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J., will leave shortly by plane for London, England, where for six weeks he will be the guest-preacher to the congregation of the City Temple, one of England's most famous churches. Because its own edifice was badly damaged by bombing in the early days of the war, the City Temple congregation is now worshipping in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. Dr. Hough has been an annual preacher in London for many years.

Dr. H. H. Kung, China's noted Christian financial minister, some years ago organized the National Child Welfare Association of China, and is now its president. During the present war period, the Association has 18 camps and homes for the care of children. Six thousand four hundred forty-seven children are cared for in these centers. The Chinese government provides funds for the care of some of them; and the Church Committee for China Relief (American) assists in the support of others. A kindred organization is the Wartime Children's Protective Association, founded by Madame Chiang Kai-shek. It has gathered thousands of refugee children off the streets and roads. In eleven provinces it conducts 46 nursery schools for 7,104 children - partially supported from America.
