Home Demonstration Clubs Celebrate 33rd Anniversary of Movement Over the Nation

Annual Activities of One County H. D. Club Make Impressive List

Here is a brief summary of the activities carried out by one Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration club during an average year. This report, based on the activities of the Progressive Club, might, with minor changes, apply to any of the clubs in this county.

The club remembers, in some way, those in hospitals, those who are ill, children who are ill, and welfare cases in their own community.

Showers are planned for brides, or new babies, and for farewells to members of the community moving away.

Friendship quilts are made for brides, for each club member who leaves the community, and for neighbors who are not club members who move away from the community.

The club during the war, has regularly packed boxes for soldiers from the community overseas or at camps in the States.

"We have parties," the report reads, "when we wish, when our soldier boys leave, when they are at home on leave or furlough, when they come home, and farewell parties for friends leaving the community."

Other entertainments sponsored by the club include hay rides for young folks, swing games for young folks, Halloween entertainment, Thanksgiving dinner, Christmas Program and community tree, Christmas party for husbands, New Year's Dinner at schoolhouse, Valentine party for children, and an annual Community picnic.

Funds are raised through pie suppers, box suppers, carnivals, and subscriptions to papers.

Expenses include a $5 donation to the Red Cross, electric bills for the schoolhouse, and repair on the schoolhouse.

Attend Music Meet

Miss Mattie Mae Swisher and Mrs. A. O. Thompson left Sunday for Austin where they will attend the Texas Federation of Music Clubs Convention. They were joined in Amarillo by Mrs. I. D. Cole and in Lubbock by Mrs. O. T. Williams, a former resident of Hereford, and by Mrs. Raymond Marshall, president-elect of the Seventh District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

Mrs. Ray Barber, formerly of Hereford and now of Amarillo, was in Hereford Thursday to attend the final meeting of the Bay View Club held at the home of Mrs. Howard Gault.

Three and a half million rural women throughout the United States and its territories have joined this week in celebrating National Home Demonstration Week on the 33rd anniversary of the Home Demonstration Club movement.

Theme of the week's celebration is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World."

In Texas, however, the observance differs considerably from that in the other 47 states. Club women and 4-H club girls are working actively in the program to help re-build war-wrecked homes in other parts of the world.

Miss Maurine Hearn, who is in charge of the home demonstration program for the A. & M. College Extension service, has asked Texas women and girls to join the Texas home demonstration staff in a gift of gratitude for "the things home demonstration work has brought to them."

Each women's and girls' club in the state has been asked to give one or more of several kinds of gifts, either to their fellow club members in the Philippines or to families in Europe and the Far East.

For famine relief, each club is asked to give one or more cases of canned food. Needed most desperately are evaporated or condensed milk, meat, fish, peanut butter, baked beans, baby foods, stews, soups, and fruits. In the Philippines, the great

Miss Oliver Ends Eighth Year as County Agent

As Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration club women celebrate National Home Demonstration Week this week, Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, county Home Demonstration agent, is observing the eighth anniversary of her work in this county.

Miss Oliver came to Deaf Smith County to begin organizing the local clubs on May 10, 1938.

At that time, she had served four years as CHDA in Hemphill county, and was rated "one of the best qualified agents in the Extension Service." Her reputation has not suffered by her work here during the last eight years.

For 14 years, she was an instructor in the Department of Rural Arts at Texas College for Women (then C. I. A.) in Denton, training women for service as home demonstration agents in Texas.

She graduated from TSCW, and took her Master's Degree at Ohio State University. She has also done graduate work at Cornell University in her specialty, which is landscaping, and in California.

She is alternately a member of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce and the Business & Professional Women's Club.

One of her major projects in this county, and one which is most obvious now, is the landscaping of farm homes and the planting of windbreaks. Among the windbreak plantings under her direction as demonstrations are those at the homes of Mrs. Bess Werner, the Merlins Kauls, and the Paul Ruddy at Westway; the Thiele farm, the Ira Ott and Nollie Elliston places at Wyche; the R. J. Coleman place at Messenger; the Moody Stephan farm at Summerfield; and the N. D. Bartlett farm at Westway. Most recent demonstration planted is at the new George Heard home south of Hereford.

Methodist Hear Children's Leader Speak

The regular Fellowship Luncheon was held at the Methodist Church May 1 by members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service with Messdames J. B. Jones, Ed Warren, W. C. Hudspeth, J. W. Thomas and Marvin Boyd as hostesses.

A May-Day theme was used for the luncheon tables with colorful ribbons winding around dainty little may-pole centerpieces. Honeysuckle, roses and iris picked up the colors of the ribbons forming a line through the center of each table.

As the program featured Mrs. Uel Crosby Seymour, who is secretary of children's work of the Northwest Conference, spoke on the Children's Work of the Conference.

Mrs. S. L. Easley gave the devotional lesson on the relation of parents, the church and the community to the children of the community. Mrs. Homer Brumley introduced the speaker.

need is for summer clothing, Miss Hearn said. Distribution of clothing will be handled by Miss Presentation Atienza, Filipina home demonstration agent.

Deaf Smith county clubs are joining in the program, Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, Deaf Smith county home demonstration agent, reports. Clubs are asked to give, for Philippine relief, one or more cotton garments per club member, one or more bath towels, or two or more feed sacks per club member, with needles and thread attached.

Local clubs may bring their gifts of clothing and food to the County Home Demonstration Agent's office in the basement of the courthouse.

Churches Will Hold Mothers Day Services

Nearly all churches of the city, and a number of clubs and other organizations, are planning special observances of Mother's Day Sunday.

Special recognition will be given to the mothers of Hereford Sunday in morning services at most churches. In private homes, flowers and gifts will be the order of the day.

Two annual Mother's banquets have been given already this week; the first, an annual Mother-daughter banquet, by the Tri-Hi-Y on Monday night; and the second, the annual Hi-Y Mother-Son banquet, last night.

A Mothers Day concert is scheduled by advanced students of the Voco Club at the First Methodist Church next Tuesday evening.

The Homemakers Class of the Baptist Church will entertain tonight (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Louie Olson, with their annual Mothers Day program and party. The Dorcas Class will be honor guests.

At the churches Sunday, the following plans have been announced:

Assembly of God: Special music and a Mother's Day sermon at the 11 o'clock service. Rev. S. E. Eldridge is the pastor.

First Baptist Church: Mother's Day sermon by Rev. R. H. Cagle, and special music by the choir.

HERE IS HOW...

PAYMENTS ON YOUR

FARM LOAN

CAN DO DOUBLE-DUTY...

Patriotic farmers work long hours to get a job done. It's this "double-duty" that means the difference between a good crop and just a fair one.

It's double-duty performance too, that tells the difference between ordinary farm loans and the new, long-term loan with the PREPAYMENT RESERVE now available at this bank.

In an ordinary loan, extra payments on principal reduce future interest charges, and no more. They stop working for you then and there.

Extra payments on your loan from this bank not only give you full interest saving—they also build, at no cost to you, a reserve for paying interest and principal in less favorable years.

Don't be satisfied with an ordinary loan! Insist on one that makes your extra payments do "double-duty."

Now, through our special arrangement with The Equitable Life Assurance Society, you can obtain farm loans from this bank with this unusual feature and other advantages listed below.

CHECK THESE ADVANTAGES

- 1 Prompt, friendly local service—No red tape... Deal with people you know.
- 2 Pay any amount at any time from farm income—the famous Farm Income Privilege.
- 3 No extra charges—No stock obligations. No fees and no commission to pay... only the usual abstracting or title policy and recording expense.
- 4 4% guaranteed 40 years—Take your choice of 14 different plans.
- 5 Save time and money—Make the payments on your loan here at this bank.
- 6 Prepayment Reserve—Save interest on your extra payments while they build a reserve to tide you over lean years.

FHA Girls Attend Pampa Meeting

One of the highlights of the end of school festivities for Future Homemakers of America was the trip to Pampa April 27, to attend a district meet when 556 girls from Panhandle towns gathered for a day's session.

The morning program included a welcome from the Supt. of Schools, Knox Kinard, whose welcome seemed all the more sincere since he was superintendent of Hereford schools just last year and knew all the members of the Hereford group well.

Entertainment features included selections by the Pampa A Capella Choir, introduction of guests and lunch in the high school Cafeteria. In the afternoon group singing opened the session followed by skits from the Amarillo clubs, vocal and piano solos, tapdancing and a playlet. A style show climaxed the events with Bettie Jo Carnahan and Joanne Jett from Hereford modeling.

Those from Hereford making the trip were Alice Jo Cox, Rosa Ellen Ford, Nina Bell Greeshun, Leta Dene Springer, Martha Thomas, Beth Morris, Joanne Jett, Bettie Jo Carnahan, Bety Smith, Pat Scott, Mary Helen McGivary, Elaine Thompson, Mrs. Sam Hoch, sponsor and Mrs. C. D. Carnahan.

Deaf Smith Farmers Answer Pleas for Stored Wheat; 7,656 Bushels Monday

Local Mills Are Feeling Pinch; Packard Closed

They Just Can't Raise Enough This Way

A plea for stored wheat, backed by an offer of a 30-cent per bushel bonus, brought 7,656 bushels of stored grain in to the elevators Monday, F. C. Collier, local ACA secretary, reports.

"That's more wheat than we thought there was in this county," Collier said, adding that he couldn't make a guess as to how much might be left still in farm granaries.

The urgent plea, and the bonus, are the result of critical food situation in Europe and in Asia which is threatening millions of people in those countries with starvation.

To get the wheat out of storage bins and into the elevators, a 30-cent bonus over and above OPA ceiling prices has been offered by the government. Forms for claiming the bonus are now available at the local ACA office.

The United States has been unable to meet its commitments for grain export through the UNRRA, and with the situation growing more critical daily overseas, urgent pleas are being made through the Department of Agriculture for all available grain.

Texas Quota Half Million
Texas quota this month is 500,000 bushels of wheat.

"It is going to be very difficult to reach our assigned goal of 500,000 bushels for Texas," B. F. Vance, state director of the Agriculture Extension service, says, "and we are depending on the loyalty of the wheat producers and the sincere effort of the county and community committeemen to get as much wheat as possible delivered under this program prior to May 25. Every possible means should be used to inform wheat producers of the program as soon as possible."

Deadline for collecting the 30 cent per bushel bonus is the 25th of this month.

In cooperation with the program, C. A. Purcell, city sanitarian, has circulated all local restaurants asking the owners to cooperate by cutting down on the amount of bread served. Open-face sandwiches and other cuts, are being urged on the restaurants in an effort to conserve grain food.

Local Mills Feel Pinch
Local flour mills are already feeling the pinch of the grain

Spring planting with bullock power and an old-fashioned hand plow is one reason food lack for Europe's war-ravaged millions is so serious. This German woman is breaking ground for the 1946 crop—but it can't possibly be enough!

Packard Mills have been shut down for more than a week, and report that, except for the possibility that some grain may be milled for the government for export, there is little likelihood that any more will be milled for local consumption until the wheat harvest begins to send more grain to the elevators.

Fraser Mills were still in production this week, and, though grain supplies are low, are still milling a small quantity of flour for local sale. Fraser, however, reports that government orders for export flour will probably keep the mill in operation until wheat harvest.

We're doing all we can to serve people waiting for telephones

1. As quickly as we can get it, we are wiring the precision, intricate machinery that handles your calls at the exchange. This takes time and skill. We must do years of work in the next few months.

2. In a great many places we also need outside cable and wire. We plan to have this in and ready when the new equipment in the telephone office is completed. Where we can, we are wiring homes in advance for telephones, ready to connect them the moment we are able.

Meanwhile, we are trying every way we know to stretch the service... and we are temporarily squeezing in everyone we can with party lines, hooking more telephones to already loaded switchboards and dial equipment, putting disconnected lines back into service faster. If for a while telephone service is not always as fast as you'd like it, it is because of this crowding.

We repeat: The telephone company is doing all it can to provide service for waiting customers. We're looking forward to the day we get in touch with you to arrange the details of installing your telephone.

Social Security Board Asks Help From Employers

According to the statement of J. R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo Field Office of the Social Security Board, there has been an increase in recent months in the number of employees in this area for whom wages have been reported without a record of the employee's social security number being shown. "No employee," Sanderson said, "can receive credit for wages reported for him until his correct account number is ascertained."

Each employee, therefore, especially if he changes jobs frequently, is urged to see that each employer for whom he works has the local Chamber of

Chamber of Commerce Office Is Moved to New Location

Offices of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, Inc., have been moved from the City Hall to offices formerly occupied by Attorney Ray Cowser upstairs over the Close Drug. Cowser has moved his office to another suite in the same building.

The shift was made last Friday and Saturday.

The Chamber of Commerce will set up temporary headquarters in this location until a suitable location can be found on the street level, according to secretary E. B. Posey.

Posey pointed out that the growth of the city, and of works is furnished an exact record of his name and social security number. Failure to furnish the employer this information amounts to the same thing as making in a premium on an insurance policy without stating whom the premium is from.

In order to save needless waste of time and expense, all employers are urged to demand that they be furnished a record of the social security number of each new employee before he is placed on the payroll.

Any questions on the Federal Social Insurance program in the Texas Panhandle area should be addressed to the Social Security Board Field Office, Amarillo, Texas.

"We're switching to a Servel!"

says JOAN BENNETT famous star of screen and radio

"It'll be a silent Gas Refrigerator for us! Good-bye, noise! Good-bye, repairs!"

When you choose your new refrigerator, you—like Joan Bennett—will want to remember what America's 2,000,000 happy Servel owners discovered. It pays to pick the modern gas refrigerator—because of its big basic difference. Servel freezes with no moving parts. A tiny gas flame does all the work. There's nothing in the freezing system that can wear or get noisy—ever. So a Servel Gas Refrigerator stays silent and lasts longer.

County Library Lists Books Recently Added to Shelves

Looking for a good book? Try the Deaf Smith County library. Mrs. Clara McLean, librarian, reports that a number of new books, both fiction and non-fiction, have been added to the library recently.

If you're interested in doing some research on history in the making, there's a new book on the United Nations problem child, "Traan."

Or if the labor shortage is adding to your domestic problem and you're playing carpenter, as many are, in an effort to re-build or repair the old homestead, there's a new book by Wilson on "Simplified Carpentry Estimating"; and for the housewife, another by Patton and Vaughn on "Furniture; Finishing, Decoration and Patching."

Sniper 'Eye' That Sees at Night

The "Sniperscope," one of the war's carefully guarded secret weapons, gets a lot of credit for helping our boys outscore the Japs so heavily in the casualty department. The gadget directs an invisible beam of light into the night, enabling the sniper to see his target when his target can't see him. Nearly a third of the Jap casualties on Okinawa were due to the "Sniperscope." It is shown being demonstrated in an armory at New York.

For delvers in Texas lore, there are some new additions on the Texas shelf: Barrett's "Tempered Blades," Peyton's "San Antonio," and Stillwell's "Hunting and Fishing in Texas."

In the non-fiction field, two new additions which will be popular are MacDonald's best-selling "The Egg and I" and the autobiography of William Allen White. Other non-fiction books include "Starling of the White House," Wm. Seagraves, "Burma Surgeon Returns," "One World or None," "Farmer Takes a Wife," and Dean and Breimer's "Book of Houses."

Popular titles listed in "What America is Reading" include the following books of fiction: "Arch of Triumph" by Remarque, "King's General" by Du Maurier, "David and the King" by Schmitt; "Black Rose" by Costain; "Before the Sun Goes Down," Howard; "Bulwark," Dreiser; "Written on the Wind," Dreiser; "River Road" by Keyes; "The Turquoise" by Seton; Terby's "Foxes of Harrold"; and Franz Werfel's prophetic "Star of the Unborn."

Other new fiction includes "Life Line" by Bottoms; "This Side of Innocence" by Caldwell; "Forever Possess" by Phillips; and Richter's "The Fields."

On the non-fiction shelves are such new arrivals as Haynes "Southern Horizons," Shuler "Rucks and Rivers," Gould "Yankee Storekeeper," Hanson "Spin a Silver Dollard," and Adamson's "Eddie Rickenbacker."

Many current magazines are available in the reading rooms. The latest titles in that section are "Architectural Forum," "Business Week" and "The U. S. News." Approximately 100 national magazines are on the racks.

The Library, located in the basement of the county courthouse, is open from Monday through Saturday from 9 a. m. until noon and from 1 p. m. until 5:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Mercer have gone to Louisville, Kentucky, to visit his parents. While there they planned to attend the Kentucky Derby. Mr. Mercer has just recently been discharged from the armed service.

A. & M. College Withdraws Bid for POW Camp; Experiment Station Is Doubtful

A & M College has withdrawn all applications for the Hereford Prisoner of War Camp property, though holding open a slight possibility that an experiment station may be established in this area, Gibb Gilchrist, president of the College, informed Wayne Evans, president of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, in a letter last week.

A & M, earlier in the year, had expressed interest in acquiring the POW camp site for use as an agricultural experiment station, and several delegations of professors and officials from the college had been sent to Hereford to canvass the situation.

The City of Hereford, after delaying action in deference to a decision from the College, finally made application for the camp site last week for the three-fold purpose of establishing a camp for transient labor, solving the veteran's housing problem, and making provision for a potential municipal airport; but gave a nod to A&M in the application by offering to provide whatever facilities the college might desire at the campsite.

Gilchrist, however, in his letter to Evans, cleared the decks as far as the college might be involved in the bidding for the property.

"We have gone into great detail with reference to the advisability of the college taking over the POW camp at Hereford," he said. "We do not find a practical justification for taking over the camp, hence we wish to release you completely from any obligations to us concerning it."

Gilchrist still held open the possibility that an experiment station might be established in the future.

"We are of the opinion," he stated, "that you have some research problems in that area, particularly as they refer to vegetable crops, on which no experimental work is being done under conditions typical of your own."

"If there is general interest in such work covering a large area in your section of the state, we want to do what we can in helping answer such problems. About 160 acres of land would be needed for such work, together of course with water

Liberation Is Bitter Tea in Formosa

STILL loyal to China after 51 years of Jan rule, Formosans view with bewilderment their new freedom—for it is bringing worse hardships than war! But they're rebuilding, as the picture above, of Kilrun, shows. It's one of the first pictures taken in Formosa by an Occidental since the western world was barred by the Japs in 1938. It shows rubble being cleared away from buildings blasted by our bombers. Oxen and elbow grease supply the power. But while rebuilding, Formosa's dependants of ancient Chinese pioneers, are bitter about the way things are going under the new Chinese rule: the island's rice, sugar, coal carted away, black markets and a crime wave flourishing, famine and unemployment. So Formosans don't look on liberation as a blessing—they resent it, and blame the United Nations for letting such conditions exist.

"If there is interest in a branch experiment station," Gilchrist advised, "someone should sponsor the idea, getting expressions from the area which would indicate that the physical facilities and support for the project would be forthcoming. The establishment of such station would then be a matter which would be passed on eventually by the legislature.

With this academic double-talk, President Gilchrist completely ignored the fact that, early this year at the request of A & M, a number of cities over the Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico, including a few in the Oklahoma Panhandle, prepared briefs and resolutions supporting the proposed experiment station and A & M's application. These were sent to members of Congress and officials in the War Department and Surplus Commodities administration.

"My opinion is," Gilchrist added in his letter to Evans, "that the POW camp should be disposed of, and it seemed to me that the labor camp idea was an excellent one."

Gilchrist's letter was dated from College Station on April 30.

In preparing the city's application for the campsite a few days earlier, Mayor E. S. Ireland had notified A & M of the decision and reasons for same, and had expressed the opinion that, should the college decide to establish the proposed experiment station, the city, if it succeeds in securing the campsite, would be able to provide the necessary facilities.
