

COMMUNITY BUILDERS: Jennie Thompson Forty-Three Years Not Too Long in Hereford; Says Pioneer of Plains

Forty-three years is a long time for one to live in the same town, but "Aunt Jennie" Thompson thinks it has not been too long. "I made up my mind," she says, "when I moved to the Plains and to Hereford from 'the sticks' that I would like them, and I have learned to love them both."

Eliza Jane Morris was born in Collin county in 1857. The territory surrounding the Morris' home was all prairie country, and little Jennie was astonished beyond words when at the age of twelve she moved with her family to the East Texas woodlands where "for the first time I saw houses built right in the timber."

Mr. and Mrs. Morris and their seven children moved to Cooke county in a covered wagon pulled by mules. They camped overnight on Sandy creek near what is now Whitesboro.

Coming into the little milling village, the Morrises were to find that their new home was a town without a name. There was at that time in Missouri an outstanding race horse named Dexter, so Jennie's father named the little town Dexter, succeeded in getting a post office there and became the first postmaster of Dexter, Texas.

The Morrises built a log cabin and settled down in the newly-named town with a nation of Chickasaw, Choctaw and Cherokee Indians living just across the river. Aunt Jennie recalls that the Indians came and went as they pleased, coming to Dexter especially to buy whiskey. Asked if they caused any trouble, Mrs. Thompson replied, "Oh, no, they were all tame. They mixed freely with the whites, even belonging to the same churches—except a few 'old tubbles' who didn't want to have anything to do with the white folks."

In 1871, Jennie married A. J. Thompson, a former Louisiana schoolteacher. Upon Mr. Thompson's election as county assessor and clerk of Cooke county in 1878, the young couple moved to the county seat, Gainesville, where Mr. Thompson filled his office for 16 years.

The year 1903 saw the Thompsons moving from Gainesville to Hereford. Instead of taking a covered wagon, this time Aunt Jennie moved by train. The trip took the couple approximately a day and a half, they being forced to spend the night in Amarillo because of the awkward train schedule.

They found Hereford a small cattle town with a few business houses—some of them brick, but most of them of the false-front frame variety—and two hotels, the Northern hotel and the Hereford House. What is the present residential section was, for the most part, rolling pasture land, according to Aunt Jennie.

The Thompsons bought from Judge John Connell a ranch of about six sections 16 miles northeast of town. The ranches were all fenced in this territory by then, says Mrs. Thompson, and in coming to town, as they did a few times a month, they spent half of their time opening gates. All their traveling was done in buggies and carriages. There being no roads, the way to town came

Right-of-way Easements Tie Up 51 Paving

Deaf Smith County Commissioners, in session Monday, entered into an agreement with the Texas Highway Commission to furnish a 120-foot right-of-way on the 13½ mile middle section of Highway 51 between Hereford and Vega.

This un-completed section of the highway right-of-way extends from 11 miles north of Hereford to one mile south of the Oldham county line.

The Highway department is ready now to let contracts for paving of the two ends of the Hereford-Vega section of Highway 51 as soon as right-of-way easements can be completed, Judge Fred W. Baird said.

The department has been ready for months to let contracts on 9 miles at the Hereford end of the highway, as well as the section from the Oldham county line to Vega, and is waiting only on completion of easements.

Three or four tracts along this route are holding up the entire project, Judge Baird said.

There is no opposition to the highway program, he pointed out. The hold-up has been caused by the indifference of a few individual land owners along the route who will not go to the trouble of signing easements.

One small tract, for example, affecting only a few hundred feet of the right-of-way, is being held up because the owner has never gotten around to signing an application to the Federal Land Bank, which holds a lien on the land, for release of the small strip needed for the right-of-way.

The state will not proceed with letting of contracts on any of the road until all right-of-way easements have been secured.

Fireman Injured As Train Crash Narrowly Missed

A serious train crash was narrowly averted last Friday afternoon in the Santa Fe yards here when a switch engine pulled onto the main line in the path of a through freight.

J. H. Bennett of Amarillo, fireman on the freight, was injured when he jumped from the cab near the Hereford freight depot as a crash appeared imminent.

The engineer stayed with his train, however, and braked the speeding freight to a stop with a few feet to spare in time to avoid a crash. No other members of the train crew were injured.

Bennett was taken to the Deaf Smith County Hospital where he was treated for cuts and bruises, and a sprained ankle. He was released later in the day.

Responsibility for the near-wreck was not announced by Santa Fe officials.

Mrs. F. S. Smith and son Bruce recently returned from a three weeks stay with her daughter Mrs. J. W. Throckmorton, in Oklahoma City. Another daughter, Miss Christine Smith, who is employed in Oklahoma City, returned to Hereford with them to spend her vacation here.

Ballots Ready at Office of County Clerk This Week

Absentee balloting for the July 27 primary election began Monday, and will continue until midnight Tuesday, July 23, three days prior to the date of the election.

Several applications for absentee ballots had already been received Monday afternoon, County Clerk Robert Thompson reported.

Any voter who expects to be absent from the county on the date of the election should make application with the county clerk before the deadline on the 23rd for an absentee ballot.

Rules are simple: Any qualified voter is entitled to vote absentee.

If the voter is out of town, he may submit his application in writing to the county clerk for an official ballot. A separate application must be submitted, and signed, by each elector.

The application, if mailed, must be accompanied by poll tax receipt, exemption certificate, on an affidavit in writing that same has been lost or mislaid.

Members of the armed forces, or ex-servicemen who have been discharged from the service within 18 months prior to the date of election, may vote without any exemption certificate.

A voter may apply in person at the county clerk's office in the county of residence and receive his ballot. The ballot must be marked in the presence of the clerk, and no other person except witnesses authorized to assist the voter in event of physical disability may be present.

Fantastic Plot to Destroy Wheat Provides Big Sensation But No Fireworks on Fourth

Most fantastic news story of the year... the rumored Fourth of July sabotage of the nation's wheat stores... jumped from the comic strips to the front page last week-end as elevators throughout the wheat belt were placed under heavy guard during Independence Day holiday.

Denounced on the afternoon of the Fourth by the FBI, the rumors nevertheless came through sources authoritative enough to place every grain storage center in the country on the alert.

Hereford elevators were under guard from July 2 through the 4th, but the vigil was gradually relaxed last Thursday afternoon when the FBI denial was sent out.

Local elevators received warnings from officials of the Santa Fe Railway Company and the Amarillo Grain Dealers Association as early as Tuesday of last week. The warnings were to the effect that a plot by unidentified "radical elements" on the Pacific coast to sabotage the grain supplies of the nation during the Fourth of July holidays by incendiaries and explosives had been uncovered.

The "radical elements" were never identified, but rumors said the plot to destroy the wheat was to halt shipment of grain abroad.

As City Marshall Bruce Wooddell said, the story was almost too fantastic to be believed, but potentially too dangerous to be ignored.

In Hereford, as well as throughout the nation, guards were placed at all elevators, and a strict watch was kept for suspicious characters.

Four widely separated granary fires during the period, one at Quanah, Texas, added urgency to the warnings. However, none of these blazes have been established as being caused by sabotage.

Arrest of two army deserters in this county a week prior to the warning had accented the potential danger. The two men, both armed, had been arrested at gun point in the northwest part of the county by Deputy Sheriff C. S. Davis and city officer Bruce Wooddell, but beyond the fact that they were wanted by the army for desertion, no connection between (Continued on Page 8)

Demonstration Club Women Receive Thanks for Aid from Filipinos

A letter from Miss Presentation Atienza, director of Home Demonstration work in the Philippine Islands, brought thanks to home demonstration club women of Texas for their gifts of clothing and food on the anniversary of Philippine Independence July 4.

Nick-named "Presents" by the Texas women who forwarded thousands of packages of clothing to her for distribution among needy Filipinos, Miss Atienza wrote:

"It was very glad to get your letters and you can never imagine how grateful are the members of the division for what the Texas farm and ranch women are doing in connection with the soliciting of relief goods for us here.

"Needless to say everything we had was gone to the fire... books and literature destroyed, kitchen equipment burned. So now we are trying to rebuild our home extension work by gathering materials and literature.

"I appreciate the interest you have shown in helping us." Deaf Smith county women, through the office of the county Home Demonstration agent, sent many packages of clothing, school, Jacksonville, Florida. He holds the American Theater and Victory ribbons.

MOTOR OIL
OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE

Breathes there an American who isn't checking on cars? Chief question is, "What's different for '46?" An OIL-PLATED engine brings you this swell difference: it will escape lots of carbon and sludge by escaping lots of wear. That special type of wear-defense—internal OIL-PLATING—will likewise favor your oil and gasoline mileage.

You can have an OIL-PLATED engine in any car—in the newest or oldest—just simply by making sure to use Conoco Nth motor oil; that's all.

The difference in Conoco Nth oil—patented—is its added ingredient that OIL-PLATES. This is done in a magnet-like manner—by making metals attract and hold lubricant. And that's what puts inner engine surfaces under cover of OIL-PLATING. It stands in wear's way; acts to prolong that new car feeling... And it will act to prolong any older car's usefulness. So if that's your particular problem, change now to Conoco Nth oil—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

To the People of the 69th Judicial District:

Should the District Judge be selected by the Governor or elected by the people?

So far in the history of the 69th Judicial District the Judges have been only those who were originally appointed by the Governor to fill a temporary vacancy. These vacancies resulted from the original creation of the district, and the death or resignation of a former judge.

It seems sound reasoning that prompted the framers of our State Constitution to provide by Section 12 of Article 4 that "... Appointments to vacancies in offices elected by the people shall continue until the first general election."

Equal wisdom seems to have prompted the inclusion in Section 27 of Article 5 of our State Constitution the provision that the first general election "... shall be to fill the unexpired term only."

The good fortune of securing the appointment has always given the incumbent a great advantage over any other aspirants to this office. This has resulted in only those who the Governor appointed to fill out the term of a vacancy having an opportunity of serving in that office.

It is a well known fact that in Texas the public officers are usually selected in the July primaries, and it is at that time that most of the people vote, rather than in the November general election. The former District Judge did not resign until after the primary election in July 1944. In the general election in November 1944 only a small per cent of the voters of the District voted for either of the candidates for District Judge.

When the last appointment of District Judge was made I was serving with the 2d Infantry Division on the Normandy beachhead. Consequently I did not have a chance at the appointment, nor to run for the office in November 1944.

If you believe me to be qualified, or worthy of a chance to show whether I am qualified for that office, I will be grateful for your support and vote to give me a chance to serve you as District Judge. If elected, I will have no commercial or other interests that will conflict with my duties, and I promise to devote my entire time to the prompt dispatch of the business of the office.

"THE TRUTH ABOUT DDT"
(Note—This article was prepared for the Garden Club by Mrs. E. W. Harrison and contains a timely warning as well as information concerning its use.)

DDT was first synthesized in 1874 but it was only 4 years ago that samples were sent to the United States. When stories of its miracles in the Army and Navy became known civilians began to clamor for its use, and available people want to understand the way it acts, how much to use and how to apply it.

DDT is not intended to replace other valuable insecticides that bring about death when it strikes the insect, for they have their place. It does not have to touch flies or other insects to produce results. When it is made into a solution and applied on a wall or surface, a fly only needs to pause on rest on the jitters and he soon takes the minutes to three hours later. After walls or ceilings are sprayed one need not repeat the application for 6 months. A 5% solution should be applied with mop, brush or sponge to walls, ceilings, screens, doors, electric light cords and fixtures. Apply the spray to absorbent surfaces at the rate of 1 quart to each 250 feet. A 10% solution is needed for cockroaches.

In sufficient quantities DDT is a poison, but no more so than many other insecticides. One should pay it the same respect when using as we pay to arsenic of lead and avoid inhaling the fumes for a long period of time. Wash it off with soap and water if you get any of the solution on the flesh. It does not claim to be a sure shot for flies, mosquitoes, bed bugs, three kinds of human lice, gnats, moths and fleas. There are at least 14 pests so far tested against which it seems effective.

Its use in the garden becomes a little difficult for it is a tough sticker and when used on cabbage, lettuce or leafy foods, enough may remain to become a poison.

It will kill good insects as well as bad. For instance, tomatoes, squash, cucumbers, apples, cherries, pears and berries all need the honey bees for fertilization. DDT should not be used when the plants are in bloom. It is not harmful to birds when used in small amounts but if spread on the surface of lakes it may kill the fish.

The thing to do is to study the label on the bottle and find out just what percent solution you need for each purpose. Be sure you know how to handle it be very careful to observe cautionary warnings concerning incorrect application.

Shippers Urging Congress to Act on Bulwinkle Bill

The Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce recommended passage of the Bulwinkle Bill on June 14 after adopting amendments to meet certain objections to the bill as it was passed by the House of Representatives by a vote of 277 to 45 on December 10, 1945.

One of the principal amendments added by the Senate Committee to the House Bill is a more precise statement of the standards governing the Commission in granting on dusts or mists. 2-Cover all food when spraying in the kitchen. 3-If oil solution is spilled on the skin, wash well with soap and water. 4-Do not spray oil-based products near a fire. 5-Do not smoke while using product. 6-Color white powder if kept in house to avoid mistaking for flour or cornstarch.

DDT is a synthetic chemical made from alcohol, benzene, sulphuric acid and chlorine and comes in the form of a white crystal. When we buy it it is ground into a white powder which is mixed with talc or chalk to make a dust, or dissolved in an oil carrier such as deodorized kerosene to which solvent is added, or made into an emulsion which contains a solvent and an emulsifying agent; or it is mixed with a wetting agent so that it can be used in water.

The oil-base spray is considered the best for inside use, despite its being inflammable. The water spray leaves a fine dust which is distasteful to housewives. The water spray is good to use in barns, chicken houses and stables. It is also used for ants and termites. It will rid dogs of fleas but it isn't recommended for use on cats.

withholding approval of agreements submitted by the carriers. As a further safeguard, the Committee adopted an amendment to give the I. C. C. the right to call for reports from carriers' rate conferences and other organizations which require its approval, and the right to inspect their books, accounts, files and records.

Another amendment adopted in the House bill that no agreement shall be adopted unless "there shall be accorded to each party the free and unrestrained right to act contrary to and independently of the determination" of a carriers' conference or other organization.

Extensive hearings were held in the House and Senate in which testimony supporting the bill was virtually unanimous from shippers and shippers' organizations and from all sections of the country. The bill was also supported by the Interstate Commerce Commission and almost all of the state regulatory commissions.

Before the House and Senate Committees suggestions for clarifying amendments were offered by the Interstate Commerce Commission and other public regulatory bodies, and by shippers' organizations. The bill as it passed the House, with the further amendments adopted by the Senate Committee, represents very largely the consensus of shippers and regulatory bodies, as formulated and expressed by the House and Senate hearings and consideration.

The effect of the bill is not to withdraw the business of transportation from the application of the anti-trust laws but to make clear the intent of Congress that, in so far as the Interstate Commerce Act extends, the regulation of carriers to which it applies shall be under that Act.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:—

A Statement of Price Policy on Purina Chows

It is true that our prices on Purina Chows have increased since the end of OPA ceilings on July 1 . . .

BUT . . .

. . . These new higher prices are due entirely to the increase in the cost of feed ingredients. All ingredients have risen sharply . . . some as much as $37.50 a ton.

. . . This increase in the price of Purina Chows is not as large as the increase ingredient costs. New prices reflect only a part of the out-of-pocket increase to Purina.

. . . The new prices on Purina Chows do not include a single cent per bag or per ton more profit for Purina. The profit margins on Purina Chows have never been up to the full amount allowed under OPA and will not be raised now to margins previously permitted.

We Are Proud to Follow PURINA'S Policy

As authorized Purina dealers we are pledging ourselves to follow the manufacturer's lead. We know that our first responsibility is to our customers — we want to keep prices down as much as possible. We are not increasing our margins — we will not be short-sighted and take advantage of the present situation at your expense.

True, feed prices will go up or down as prices of ingredients vary — but we promise as always to do our best to supply all the Purina Chows we can get at the best price possible.

Wide Variety of Travel Books For Vacationers Featured by Library

Vacationers who are planning to see America this summer will be interested in a wide selection of travel books on the shelves at the County Library.

And even those who are planning to "sit this one out" may find vicarious pleasure in reading about some of the scenic wonderlands in the broad expanses of the U. S. A.

If the vacation bent is toward the mountains, there are several volumes of "The American Mountain Series" on the library shelves. One, "The Rocky Mountains," by Wallace W. Atwood, third volume in the series, is copiously illustrated with photographs and maps of scenic beauty spots in the Rockies from the Grand Canyon down in Arizona to Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies.

The book is not only a good guide to countless vacation spots through the Rockies, but contains a lot of information on tourist accommodations, the national parks, and best routes for the traveler.

"Last Mountains" by Robert Ormand Case and Victoria Case, is the story of the Cascades. . . Ranier, Hood, Glacier, and a hundred other peaks and glamour spots bordering the western coast.

At the opposite extreme is "Deep Delta Country" by Harriet T. Kane, a book in the "Folkway Series" about the Mississippi Delta country and glamorous New Orleans.

"Pine Stream and Prairie" by Gray is a fascinating index to the forests lakes and mountains of one of America's most famous playgrounds. Minnesota and Wisconsin.

For those hardy souls with good tires who are planning a trip to one of the farther corners, "Northwest Gateway" by Archie Binns provides an introduction to the great northwest, Washington and Oregon, centering particularly around the port of Seattle and Puget Sound. Its one of "The Seaport Series," the only volume of this group now in the library.

A number of volumes of the "Rivers of America" series provide a panorama of the United States. Among them are "The James" by Niles, "The Missouri" by Stanley Vistal, and "The Shenandoah" by Julia Davis.

Wherever you're planning to travel this summer, chances are there are books in the library which will give you a bit of history and a few suggestions about what to look for in your chosen playground.

For more current reading and the particular benefit of angles and nimbods, there are copies of "Field and Stream" and "Nature Magazine," among others o the magazine racks and in the files.

Regional Office Of V. A. Snowed Under by Work

LUBBOCK, July 8—Robert Sisson, Veterans' administration regional office manager, in an address before the 5th Division, American Legion Convention, Sunday, June 30, frankly and honestly told the Legionnaires that the West Texas VA regional office was laboring under a reservoir of work inherited from other VA regional offices who formerly served this area.

"In going through these transferred files our first responsibility to the veterans of this region will be to answer their correspondence—which, in too many instances, we have found to be long past due. We ask your tolerance while we of this VA regional office use every means at our command to reduce this reservoir, and place our operations on a current basis. The adjudication division is progressing rapidly on initial claims and in doing a job to command your respect," Sisson emphasized.

"The Veterans administration prides itself in being the largest Federal agency in existence, which has for its sole purpose sympathetic and understanding their dependents. Ours is not a program calling for blood, sweat and tears, but one which calls for vision, ingenuity, sweat and smiles.

The administration of this VA office, in cooperation with all service organizations, as well as the masses of the people, will be done in keeping with the mandates and wishes of the Congress. We want every veteran and his dependents to have everything coming to them under the law—and that at all times, a service officer appearing in behalf of a veteran from any community within our jurisdiction will receive the courteous and undivided attention of a Rating Board at the Lubbock VA regional office," Sisson concluded.

Lyle Fluitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Fluitt, left Saturday afternoon for Austin, where he will resume his studies at the University.

Well Known Man Felt Like Swollen Balloon; Full of Stomach Gas

Recently, a well known man stated that he used to feel like a swollen balloon after every meal. He would bloat full of gas and spit up acidulous liquids for hours after eating. Was terribly constipated. This man is one of the hundreds in this vicinity who now praise INNER-AID. He states he was amazed at the results when he took this medicine. Now he eats what he wants without gas or bloating, and bowels are regular for the first time in years. He feels like a new man.

INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Deaf Smith County. (Adv.)

Miss Juanita Beauford Becomes Bride Of Hicks Roberson in Home Ceremony

Miss Juanita Beauford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beauford, and Hicks Roberson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Roberson, were married Sunday morning at 8 o'clock with Rev. R. H. Cagle, pastor of the First Baptist Church, reading the double-ring ceremony in the home of the bridegroom's parents before an altar arrangement in front of the fireplace. The mantel and fireplace were banked with greenery with tall white baskets filled with white blossoms tied with bows of blue satin ribbon, at either side. Donald Henslee sang the prenuptial solo "Through the Years", accompanied by Miss Thelma McMinn who played Gershwin's "Summertime" and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" as a musical prelude to the ceremony.

At the first strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, the bride and her attendant, Miss Doris Hooker, began to descend the wide stairway at the south side of the living-room. Miss Hooker was dressed in a pastel blue street length dress with white hat and accessories and she carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations. The bride wore white brocaded crepe made with short full skirt, low neckline and short sleeves, with a white lace picture hat and carried a sheaf of white carnations showered with white satin streamers knotted with tiny white blossoms. She carried out the age-old traditions with something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue.

She was given in marriage by her father who met her at the altar arrangement and best man was Jack Knox. As the bridal party assembled the bride's parents, the bridegroom's parents and another son Donald Roberson, formed a semi-circle background for the ceremony. Ushers were Jack Boydston of Lubbock and Clifford Estes.

At the reception the table was laid with an Italian lace cloth and centered with white sweet peas and blue cornflowers in a round bowl on a mirror. The table was lighted by blue tapers in crystal candelabra and the three tiered cake, topped by miniature bridal couple, at the silver coffee service and Miss Seletta Robinson was in charge of the guest register.

When the couple left for Denver and other Colorado points on a wedding trip the bride wore a powder blue gaberdine suit made bolero with white satin blouse and off-the-face blue hat. She wore a corsage of deep red roses.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Roberson are graduates of Hereford High School. He recently received his discharge from the U. S. Army after serving 38 months, 20 months overseas in the European theater with the Field Artillery. Upon their return they will make their home here. He is associated with his father in stock farming.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames W. C. Fowler, Carroll McMath, Travis Caraway, Clinton Jackson, Clarence Schulz, R. A. Singer, George Hudson, and J. W. Hulse. Special guests were Mrs. Clarence Anderson and Mrs. Clay Hughes.

Week-End Rains Bring Over Two Inches Moisture Here

Scattered showers over a three-day period last weekend brought more than two inches of rain to the Hereford area, and slowed potato and wheat harvests over most of the county.

No hail damage was reported. A rain Thursday afternoon brought .60 inch of moisture in Hereford, and heavier rains were reported to the north and northwest ranging from one and a half to two inches. The rain extended more than 20 miles northwest of Hereford.

Most distant reports of moisture were from Fred Collett in the northwest part of the county, and Tom Boyd, southwest of Adrian.

A near-cloudburst in Hereford Friday afternoon brought .90 inch of rain in less than 30 minutes, and was accompanied by some scattered hail. The storm apparently was localized, however, and did not cover a large area outside the city.

Sunday afternoon another shower recorded .53 inch of moisture in Hereford but again covered only a narrow strip.

No general rains have been received over this area during the year and while hit-or-miss showers recently have aided row crops, many areas are still in need of moisture.

The rainstorms Saturday afternoon caused miniature floods in Hereford, particularly on Highway 60 east of Main street, where water running across the highway west of Lake Park, where city storm sewers were temporarily flooded.

Temperatures over the week-end were generally high, except for temporary relief brought by the showers.

'Miracle' Happened

Claude Berger, 64, who lost power of speech and hearing during an attack of scarlet fever at age 3, looks excited because he's just uttered his first words in all that time—"I feel fine"—following a fall while stacking boxes at a Seattle, Wash., Army depot. Shock restored both speech and hearing.

In the case of servicemen, affidavits or acknowledgements must be taken before a notary if in the United States; but men in foreign service may make such acknowledgment before any commissioned officer in the U. S. service.

Ballots to be filed as absentee must be in the mail before midnight of July 23.

directly through the pastures, "And," remarked Aunt Jennie, "There were no stumps to interfere with driving! There were plenty of old lakes made from buffalo wallows, but there was seldom any water in them."

It was during this time, that Aunt Jennie saw built in 1905 the Palo Duro church, the first church outside of the town of Hereford in this territory.

After three years on the ranch, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson moved into town, buying the home where Aunt Jennie still lives on what is now East Eleventh street. Mr. Thompson lived only one week after leaving the ranch.

Mrs. Thompson has always taken an active part in affairs around her, especially in church work. In Gainesville, she served as treasurer of the Ladies' Missionary union. In Hereford she has helped in the work of the Women's Missionary union and the Red Cross. It was in her home during World War I that neighbor women met each week to sew for servicemen. She was also a member of the Mothers' club, which was a forerunner of the present Pioneer club.

Outstanding in her memories of the development of Hereford are those connected with the replacing of the old Deaf Smith county court house, which had been moved here from La Plata and which is now St. Anthony's parish, with the marble structure now standing.

Aunt Jennie has two children, A. O., who lives in Hereford and Ed, a resident of Gainesville. Two grandchildren, Mrs. Major Schroeter and Mrs. Troys Carmichael, live in Hereford; a third is in Evansville, Indiana. Of her four great grandchildren, three are here, one in Indiana. After nearly a half century in and near Hereford, Aunt Jennie says, "I think the people here are the grandest on earth."

Tonic of Iron Is Recommended for Yellowing Trees

For those maple and poplar trees that are showing all the yellow leaves around town, Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, County Home Demonstration agent, recommends a good stiff dose of iron tonic.

The soil in this area is generally deficient in available iron, Miss Oliver explains, and both maple and poplar need a lot of it.

Two parts of wettable sulphur, one part of iron sulphate (copperas) ten parts of barnyard manure (for general soil building) put into the soil around the trees should do the job. The ingredients are inexpensive, and the results worthwhile.

Yellow leaves produce no plant food, and a tree whose leaves are yellowing is showing symptoms of simple starvation.

A solution of one-percent iron sulphate sprayed on the leaves will have immediate, but temporary effect. This year's crop of leaves will become green again after a few applications, but new leaves put out by the tree will suffer the same malady unless available iron is put in the soil. Be careful, in using a spray, that the solution is no stronger than one percent, a two-percent solution kills.

"But don't laugh if some old hand tells you to drive old nails into the tree trunk, or to bury pieces of scrap iron around the roots," Miss Oliver said. "That's one way of getting iron into the soil and to the tree."

"Of course," she added, "the tree may die before it gets enough iron from that source."

The iron salts, placed in the soil, provide needed iron much more rapidly and effectively, and cost little more in either time or effort.

Almost as fantastic as the story of the plot itself was the story, unconfirmed and unofficial, of how it was discovered. A letter to a dead man provided the tip-off. According to the story, a letter had been written by one of the "plotters" in Kansas to a man on the Pacific coast detailing plans for the sabotage. The addressee had died before the letter was delivered, and contents of the letter were discovered and reported by persons going through the effects of the deceased.

The FBI denial, and failure of any widespread outbreak of fires among grain elevators to materialize, ended the three-day sensation. No explanation has
