

The Bench Warmer

Fans who failed to join the chilly throng in Dalhart's Memorial Stadium last Friday night missed a bang-up good football game. The weather was cold, but the game was hot as a firecracker most of the way—and so were the Dalhart Wolves. Ed Bishop of the Dalhart Texan staff, who was covering the game for the Daily Texan, claims that the Wolf-pack turned in their best performance in several seasons.

It wasn't enough to stop the stampeding Whitefaces, but it certainly slowed them down. Only once, after the kick-off in the second half, did the Whiteface T hit on all four cylinders for a sustained drive. Then it required just five plays to carry the ball the length of the field for the final touchdown.

The Whiteface wingmen, Lueb and Higgins, turned in the outstanding performance of the game. Charging hard on every play, they were frequent and unwelcome visitors in the Dalhart backfield; and Lueb, almost single-handedly, accounted for the first Whiteface score when he not only blocked the Wolves' kick but scooped up the ball on the dead run and deposited it safely in the end zone for the counter. The only thing that kept Higgins from doing the trick was the fact that the punt was angled in the other direction, for both ends were converging on the punter in a dead heat.

Jim Worrell, who played a whale of a game himself, brought a groan from the Whiteface stands when he was carried from the field with an injured leg in the last period. The big fullback was back in the game before the final whistle, however, just to prove that he could still get around. Worrell's leg, incidentally, gave way under the weight of the Wolves' 226-pound tackle, Allen Felts, who's a bit of a man mountain.

The Whitefaces will be idle this week-end while the rest of the conference fights it out. The Benchwarmer, after predicting

Homer Fox Picks All-American Legion Team for Grid Game

By HOMER FOX

On November 11 the VFW and American Legion lock horns in a football classic that will probably be long remembered, and I am sure that the results will be a long time felt.

I am picking this line-up from the American Legion (without any authority from anyone) because I know that they have the stuff—I mean a lot of stuff: W. J. (Bill) Smith for fullback—and if anyone can think of a fuller back, please let me know. Tubby Robinson and Pud Hughes for half backs. Course these two guys are carrying a lot more than half-backs, but they will do to start anyway.

Jim Lipscomb at quarterback—to start. They say it takes a smart guy to run the team. Jim has been in the Post Office so long I am a little afraid he can't make it, but you have to prove everything to him.

At Center I will start either Oscar Altman or Roy Shuck. The bigger the man the bigger the hole at center when he falls down. Anyway I want to try it. We have a lot of guards. Most any of these old boys have worn an MP on their arms some time or other and are qualified, but I think I will start Jim Black and Britt Boyd.

At tackle, Jake Boydston and John Benfro. These two boys are fast thinkers and don't mind being kicked around.

And last but not least is the biggest job, the two Ends! Boy

EDITOR'S NOTE: Homer Fox, sometime sports commentator, was invited by The Brand to pick an All-American Legion football team for the coming Legion-VFW Armistice Day gridiron battle. In his own inimitable style, B'r'er Fox comes through with a winner—or something. Here it is:

oh boy, we have a surplus. There are more ends in this line-up than anything else. Ira Ott, Dick Miller, George LeGrand, Hall Beavers, Glenn Weir, Cliff Estes, C. C. Acker, Walter London, Art Manjeot, John Stork, Glenn Boardman, Jim Young, Noah Ewton—and we may use all of them. Anyway we have to start with ends and wind up with ends and we can do just that with this bunch.

Course we are going to have to use a lot of football sense in this game 'cause these VFW kids are going to be hard to beat. We have a lot tricks up our sleeve, tho. We will have Tubby Bill Smith holding their stomachs every time the ball is snapped, just like they had a terrible bellyache which they may have before long, and after a while one of them will bury the ball in his stomach and cross the goal line. Course this won't work over a couple of times until they will catch on.

I figure we might get at least one touchdown by stealing the referee's whistle, and another good trick is to get a down marker painted with just 1 and 2 on it. Of course this is going to have to be handled pretty smooth, but I figure we can run over this guy and change it in the mix-up.

We may use a Z formation, with the bottom rather long and just use one end at a time. Then when we substitute, we wouldn't have to roll the meat-head so far.

Don't know yet about signals. Thought about using Frank Smith at Quarter and let him write out the plays in each huddle, but half these flatheads couldn't see it without their specs, and this ain't no place for specs. P. L. Dishman will be a substitute back and may be able to handle the signal problem. Cecil Wilkins is another one that can get them told if anyone will listen—but I really s'fink the best deal yet is to use Bill Ohlig if we can get the meathead to bring his bugle-in and toot the signals. But if he makes a mistake and blows Mess call, someone will get run over sure as thunder.

Might use Sank Ramey if we can find a Spanish suit and Guitar. Sank has a voice like a turnip, and would be fine if some of our own men don't swoon. Once that bucket-head gets started, though, he is hard to stop.

Hereford and Canyon Lead In District 1-A Grid Standings

Hereford's Whitefaces and Canyon's Eagles emerged as the only unbeaten teams in District 1-A conference play after last week-end's gridiron get-togethers. Both have lost one game to non-conference opponents, and each holds two conference victories.

The Whitefaces, still top-heavy favorites to repeat as conference champions this week, will be idle this week-end and will devote their breathing spell to getting into shape for the Dumas game, which will be played on Whiteface Field on October 25.

The Eagles journey to Friona Friday, and should have little difficulty remaining in the un-

Lueb, Rogers Capitalize On Fast Breaks

The Whiteface Herd took another hurdle in their race for another District 1-A championship Friday night when they dumped the Dalhart Wolves 19 to 6 in Dalhart's Memorial Stadium.

The Wolves, rated as underdogs in the contest, put up a surprisingly game fight and gave the Herd a hard run for the victory, but failed to pack the necessary power to halt the Hereford drive.

Turning point of the game came midway in the second period after Johnny Martin, the Wolves' fleet halfback, had raced 90 yards from the shadow of his own goal line on a sparkling touchdown run to tie the score at 6-all. Johnny Rogers, the Whiteface quarterback, broke up the game seconds later when he took the Dalhart kick-off on his own 30 yard line and raced back through the entire Wolf-pack, behind perfect blocking, to score standing up. Jim Worrell's kick was good, and the Herd went into the lead 13-6.

The Herd scored first early in the second quarter when Raymond Lueb, Whiteface end, crashed in to block Martin's punt back on the Wolves 30 yard marker, then seized the ball and raced into the end zone to score. Worrell's kick-for-point was blocked, and the Herd held a 6-0 lead.

The Herd scored again early in the third quarter with a dis-

Farm Prices Holding Steady During Week in Southwest States Markets

SWING OF SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS
Cotton turned downward from its peak, but grains climbed higher and livestock, poultry, eggs and other farm products remained steady to stronger at most southwest markets last week, USDA's Production and Marketing Administration reported today.

Strong cotton prices last week almost reached 39-cents, but later receded, and the close was irregular.
Sorghums gained 30 cents a cwt., corn 5 cents a bu., oats 4 cents, wheat 3 cents and barley 2 cents. Scant offerings of feed coupled with urgent demand kept prices firm. Farmers in many instances traded their cottonseed for meal. Hay held steady.

Southwest fruits and vegetables brought steady to higher prices last week at most shipping points and consumer markets. Colorado reported light haulings of onions and potatoes due to wet fields helped strengthen prices. Sweet Spanish onions brought 65 to 85 cents a 50-lb. sack, depending on size, and washed dark Red McClure potatoes $1.85 to $1.90 a 100-lb. sack. Louisiana sweet potatoes were up 10 to 20 cents a bushel over the previous week's close at $2.50 for U. S. No. 1 Porto Ricans. Even at this price most haulings were going into storage. New Mexico and Arkansas apples held steady.

New Variety Of Winter Wheat Is Rust Resistant

COLLEGE STATION, October 12—A new variety of rust resistant soft winter wheat called Austin wheat has become so popular since its first distribution to Central Texas growers in 1942 that an estimated one million acres were grown in 1946. Outstanding desirable characteristics of Austin as compared with older commercial varieties are its high resistance to leaf and stem rust and to loose smut.

Austin wheat was developed from a cross of Mediterranean, a soft winter wheat of desirable milling and baking characteristics, and Hope, a rust resistant spring wheat by E. S. McPadden and J. M. Atkins, agronomists at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.
This new variety has been included in nursery plant variety tests at the Denton substation since 1937. It was seriously damaged in 1943 by a late spring freeze when old standard varieties were not damaged. However, except for the 1943 season, it has outyielded Denton and other Mediterranean strains every year. It has done well in tests of wheat at Temple, College Station, and Beville. It is recommended for the Central Texas area from Fort Worth and Dallas southward to the Gulf Coast area of the State.

Austin wheat has milling and baking qualities similar to those of its Mediterranean parent. It has a slightly lower flour yield than Mediterranean. The protein content was equal to Mediterranean and the ash content lower, which is desirable. In baking trials, Austin made better cookies but slightly poorer cakes. In bread-making tests, Austin was slightly lower in absorption and loaf volume, but both varieties baked acceptable bread.

More telephone service than ever...

FOR MORE PEOPLE THAN EVER...

We've put in more than 190,000 telephones in Texas in the first nine months of this year—nearly twice as many as we connected in the first nine months of 1940.

We're handling a million and a half more local calls a day than a year ago.

And 13 per cent more long distance calls. (Nearly twice as many as before the war.)

Putting in all those telephones and taking care of all those extra calls—regardless of shortages of materials—is one of the biggest jobs the telephone company has ever done.

Best part is that service has remained good on most calls despite heavier-than-ever volumes.

There are some delays but we're working on them—just as we're working hard to serve people waiting for telephones. Service will be better than ever, for everyone, as soon as new equipment can be made and installed.

Story of a Pioneer Woman, II:

Mrs. Connell Moves to Hereford And Finds Life in Jail Pleasant, Prisoners Likeable

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of three articles by the late Mrs. Ed Connell, the "story of a pioneer woman." The third and last will appear in The Brand next week.

By MRS. SOPHIA CONNELL

In the fall of 1896 we moved to Tombstone on the XIT ranch. I thought the name sounded so cheerful and it proved to be about as cheerful as the name. Emmett Powers was our nearest neighbor. One time Elizabeth was awfully sick. I had been worried about her for two days and nights. On the third morning, about sun-up I heard someone sitting up to the porch. It was Mr. Powers and I asked him why he came so early and he said he had just been thinking about us and wondered if we were all right. He looked at Elizabeth and then went to Hereford and wired Dr. Pierson. He had the Doctor there before sun down. Dr. Pierson soon had her comfortable. That night Mr. Aten and several cow boys came in, so we were not so lonely any more. Dr. Pierson made me go back to Amarillo with him the next day, then Elizabeth and I went on to Bartlett on the train. My second child, Douglas, was born there February 15. Mr. Connell came after us in March.

When we got to Hereford Mr. Aten had left word for us to come to Bovina. The snow was so deep we could not get out to Tombstone from Hereford. A buggy met us in Bovina and we went to the Escabado ranch. We stayed there until the weather moderated, then went to Tombstone. We passed many happy days there. I liked the XIT cow boys and they loved my two children. Some of them were Frank Griffith, Oley Witherspoon, Fleming Turner (Terra Blanca Kid) and Johnnie Thorpe; Mr. Allen ran the windmill wagon.

We moved to Hereford in October, 1900 and lived across the street from the court house. Our third child, Eddie, was born there the 11th of November.

We moved out to Rock Lake in February 1901 and stayed there until the next fall, then went over into New Mexico prospecting. We were in a brand new wagon, with a chuck box on the back end. We had a good camping outfit and camped out for two weeks, while we were looking for a ranch. We finally bought the old Montague ranch and put our wagon and mules in for first payment. This place was six miles from the Texas New Mexico state line and seven miles from Endee, New Mexico.

We moved on Sunday and got into an awful storm and hail and I thought we would all get killed. I prayed and promised the Lord if He would save us that I would never move on Sunday again. That is one promise I have never broken.

I had real pioneer experiences while living in New Mexico. I was terribly ill once and a neighbor came ten miles to take care of me. She was Mrs. Jim Johnson, and was a splendid doctor and nurse.

The Harlins were our nearest neighbors. Mrs. Harlin died while I lived there. She had been sick about three months and we never did know what was wrong with her. Her daughter and I took night about taking care of her. I lived six miles from her. We had one Doctor with her, I believe it was Dr. Estes. Mrs. Fulwood preached her funeral service and it was the sweetest, most impressive talk I ever heard. Mr. Harlan and the two boys and girls continued to live there and they were so much company to me. They live in California now.

Mr. Connell was cattle inspector when we lived at Endee and was in Hereford most of the time. The three children and a little twelve year old negro boy and I were alone. The railroad from Amarillo to Tucumcari, New Mexico, was built through while I lived there and I decided I would make some money, so I had Mr. Sissell, an old Hovey cow puncher, to pen me twenty-five wild cows. He was working on that side of the ranch for a week and he roped them night and morning for me. He put a snubbing post in the middle of the lot and would tie them for me and I would do the milking act. All of them became gentle except one. Every time the negro boy would pull the rope off her she would "make him climb a fence," so I finally turned her out. We peddled milk and butter from San Jon to Truxillo (12 miles). I remember each foreman yet from the railroad camp. Many days I would make five dollars. I thought I was getting rich fast. I had to give it up however, for I got awfully sick. That was one time I thought I was going to die. Old Marthy Garcia saved my life. No trained nurse in the state could have given me better care. She finally got Dr. Estes.

My sister sent me the Saturday Evening Post and the Ladies' Home Journal and I took two weekly papers. I would go to Endee once a week and get the mail and that night I would put the children to bed early and set my kerosene lamps by my bed and read nearly all night. I have never enjoyed reading since like I did then.

Mrs. Fulwood started a Sunday School at Endee and the first Sunday the crowd planned a dance for the next night, so she gave it up as a bad job and never tried to have Sunday School again.

We moved a housekeeping outfit to Hereford, May 10, 1904. I drove the buggy and Mr. Connell drove the wagon. We stayed all night at Tombstone and got to Hereford the next day. We rented a little house across the street from D. R. Gass. Dr. and Mrs. Robinson lived on one side of us and Mr. and Mrs. Twyman on the other. Aunt Anna Johnson lived close. On May 17, twin boys were born to us. I had planned to go back to the ranch, but when the baby was two babies instead of one I gave up the idea. We named them E. F. and Ira Aten. My mother and sister came the next day and when they went home I had full charge of them. Mrs. Gass gave me a lot of good advice for she had reared twins. The neighbors were all good to help me. We bought a little three-room house that was where the Christian Church now stands. We had been living there about 18 months when Elizabeth died. We took her to Bartlett to bury her. Her death was our first real sorrow. Albert Morris moved our furniture out while we were away. He rented the old Grayson Bell place for us and had everything all fixed up nice for us when we got home. We later bought the place. Mr. Connell was sheriff at that time, so we only had lived in our home a few months, then we moved to the jail and lived there four years. During this time my baby boy was born, we named him George Muse and we moved back to the jail from our home after he was born.

I never liked to live at the jail for all the prisoners were innocent in my sight. They would tell me their tale of woe and I would sympathize with them. I could see good in every prisoner we ever had with the exception of one. The hardest thing was for me to stand helplessly and let them take the men from the jail to the penitentiary. The pen agent would chain the men together and I would put the children back in the kitchen where they could not hear the chains but when the prisoners would call to tell us good bye we would all have a long crying spell.

One prisoner was sent from the Deaf Smith County jail to the pen, whom we liked particularly. Several years later we had moved to our home and on a bleak, cold day someone knocked at the door and there stood a dressed-up, smiling man. I thought he was some of the kin folks. He was our prisoner, who had served his term in prison and was on his way home, which was in New Mexico. He said he wanted to stop by our house and eat some hot biscuits. Mr. Connell was away so he stayed several days until Mr. Connell came home.

The thing that hurt me the worst while we lived at the jail was when the prisoners' wives and children would come to see them. I never could turn them out. So many of them had no money to go to the hotel, so I always took care of them.

George Muse was a deputy sheriff and county commissioner while we were at the jail and he made his home with us. The twins thought Mr. Muse was made of nickles and dimes. They always knew where to get spending money. When my son George wanted a new suit he would take Mr. Muse by the hand and lead him to the D. R. Gass & Son store and to the rack where his suit hung.

Some of my neighbors at the jail were Mrs. George Dent, Mrs. C. S. Richards and Mrs. J. S. Jones. Mrs. Richards was so sweet to me and took care of me when Lulu, our baby girl was born, July 5, 1909. Lulu has always had lots of fun telling people she was born in jail.

A FARMER TOLD ME

"Electric Service is my BEST Hired Hand..."

It's no wonder that farmers praise the advantages of electric power. Electricity has scores of uses on a modern farm and provides reliable, efficient power at extremely low cost.

For milking, incubation and brooding, light to work by, power for a work shop, there's nothing to match it. And today, electricity is cheaper than ever before. It's always ready 24 hours a day and doesn't register on the meter when not working for you.

We're proud that in our 22 years of service we've been a pioneer in building ahead for the future. Our 12 million dollar expansion program is bringing the advantages of dependable low-cost electric power to more and more farmers in the entire Panhandle-Plains Pecos Valley area.

Forces of Attraction Make the Tide "Come In"... and OIL-PLATE Your Engine!

EVERYONE knows that tides are caused by the strange force of attraction exerted on the sea by the moon.

Utilizing molecular attraction (basic force that holds things together) Conoco scientists bring America's motorists new and better oils. In fact, a special ingredient of Conoco Nth motor oil is bonded to working surfaces of your engine by an attraction so strong that cylinder walls and other parts are OIL-PLATED.

And because molecular attraction holds CONOCO OIL-PLATING up where it belongs... prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight... you get these benefits:

added protection when your engine starts up

added protection from corrosive action

added protection from wear that leads to fouling, sludge and carbon

Mrs. Bartley Dowell was matron of honor. She wore a beige wool dress with matching hat and her flowers were bronze and yellow mums. Mrs. Billy George of Portales, N. M. and Mrs. R.L. Dowell Jr. served as brides matrons. Mrs. George wore a rose crepe dress and Mrs. Dowell wore aqua jersey. Both wore lower calico matching their dresses and bouquets were in all white. "Parents And Their Children" Is Topic For Child Study Club Meet

An interesting program with a word to the parents themselves as the theme, was presented at the Child Study Club meeting held at the home of Mrs. Marlin Gilliland Thursday evening. Mrs. Earl Springer presided over the business session when plans to organize a new Child Study group were discussed and plans were made for further arrangements for a club to be discussed at the next meeting October 24. Mrs. Marlin Gilliland and Mrs. Carroll Whiteside reported progress made of a committee to study health problems in the local schools. The program was given by Mrs. W. F. Harlow who talked on the subject "You're Proud of Your Children, But Are Your Children Proud of You." She portrayed scenes from real home

Mrs. Clyde Cave Reviews "State Of The Union" For Calliopean Group

Mrs. Clyde Cave gave a comprehensive review of the Pulitzer Prize Play, "State of the Union" by Howard Lindsey and Russell Crouse when the Calliopean Club met with Mrs. Elizabeth Womble Thursday evening. "Many feel that the presidential campaign of 1940 furnished the inspiration for the "State of the Union" in which they seem to sense the influence of Wendell Wilkie on the presidential candidate in the play. Whatever the inspiration for the book, the great merit of the play lies in the fact that it can combine literature and highly professional comedy with a serious indictment of a system that allows special interest to contravene the will of the people in electing public officials." Mrs. Cave said as she introduced the story of the play. Summing up the play she said in part; "We need the honesty that is the beginning of wisdom, for we are in a moment of history that may very well decide whether we are fit people to live in the world that we have created, or whether we are hell-bent upon destroying ourselves and all beautiful things we have fashioned." Members of the club present were Mesdames; Richard Barnard, L. B. Barnett, Pete Cowart, Wayne Evans, W. C. Pitman, Clyde Cave, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Paul Foster, J. E. Kirby, Carl Ferrin, Paul Conaway and the hostess. He is a wise man who leaves his wife alone when a line full of clothes comes down in the mud. We were served a steak the other day which the chef said was "ze piece de resistance." And it sure did resist.

Shower Given Bride-Elect

Mrs. John David Dowell, who before her marriage Thursday was Miss Barbara Smith, was complimented on Monday evening October 7, at a miscellaneous shower in the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall. The bride-elect's chosen colors, yellow and gold and white, were featured in all decorations. The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth and decorated with yellow tapers in crystal holders. Individual cake squares were topped with tiny rosebuds traced in yellow icing and other refreshment dainties picked up the yellow and white colors in the flower centerpiece. An informal program of music was presented by Mrs. T. W. Roberson and Mrs. Carroll Whiteside. The house party included the hostesses who were Mesdames; Carl Jennings, Jack Kirksey, W. J. Smith, V. C. Hopson, O. T. Bailey, Ralph Smith, Nelson McRight, Elmer Mathies, Robert Gollebon, J. B. Harlin, Arthur Thompson, Dennis Barnard and A. L. Manjeot.

The receiving line was made up of the bride-elect, Mrs. Billy George of Portales, N. M., Mrs. Stanford Smith, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. W. B. Dowell Sr., mother of the bridegroom-elect; Mrs. W. B. Dowell and Mrs. R. L. Dowell Jr. Others attending were Mesdames; O. M. Dickey, A. O. Thompson, T. W. Roberson, Doyle Rose, H. D. Wilkins, J. B. Sowell Jr., G. E. Harris, Ralph Sears, James Edmondson, Abe Martin, George Millard, W. A. Dobbins, George Robertson, W.O. Witherspoon, Allen Powelson, Walter Easter, Bill Jones, Roger Corbett, J. H. Lomas, H. V. Williamson, Carol Whiteside, J. E. Cockrell, and Misses Beverley Barkley and Doris Campbell. Many gifts were sent by those who were unable to attend the party.

Bench Warmer

three out of four games correctly last week (the Canyon Eagles crossed us up by beating Tulla's favored Hornets) isn't setting up shop as an expert, but will go on the limb with some guesses this time. The Eagles move to Friona Friday, and should win in a walk. The Tulla Hornets meet Dimmitt's Bobcats at Dimmitt, and the visitors get the nod by a fair margin. Dalhart's Wolves journey to Dumas for a lot of trouble. The BW will bank on the Demons to take this one.

Hereford Football Mothers are sending out an SOS. They need cups—not silver and gold loving cups, but just plain old-fashioned coffee mugs. Mrs. J. E. Dyer, leader of the group, has asked the Benchwarmer to make a plea for help. The Mothers are serving dinner to the team after all home games, and the shortage of paper cups being critical, are in desperate need of the china variety. If you have any extras, send them to school by some of the children and they'll be collected there, Mrs. Dyer says.

Whitefaces Rout

play of power which carried the ball from the kick-off on the Whiteface 30 into pay-dirt in just five plays. Jim Worrell smashed over tackle from the 20 yard line for the touchdown, then failed to convert when his pass to Lueb was incomplete. Accurate quick-kicks by Jim Worrell, who consistently hit close to the coffin corner, kept the Wolves in deep water through most of the game; and Worrell's kick-offs from placement all fell within the shadow of the goal posts. Lueb and Higgins, the Whiteface ends, turned in a stellar performance, spending most of the evening in the Dalhart backfield.

The Wolves running game proved more effective than expected, and the Dalhartans showed a lot of power but were unable to sustain their drives long enough to get into pay territory. The Wolves gained 176 yards from scrimmage, to 211 for the Whitefaces.

Hereford netted 7 first downs to 5 for Dalhart, but collected 45 yards in penalties to 10 for the Wolves. Eight passes were tossed by the Wolves, 1 by the Whitefaces, with no completions. The Herd fumbled five times, recovered three. A crowd of 1500 people braved frigid weather to witness the game. The Whitefaces were backed by the Hereford High School band and pep squad, and a sizeable crowd of local fans.

Hereford And

beaten ranks over the week-end. The Friona Chiefs, winners in only one game this season (against the Lockney Longhorns of District 4-A) have lost two conference starts to Hereford and Dumas. Dalhart's Wolves, beaten last Friday by the Hereford Whitefaces, will journey to Dumas Friday; and the Tulla Hornets will play at Dimmitt. In last week-end's games, the Dumas Demons defeated the Friona Chiefs 26-0 in a tilt at Dumas, and the Canyon Eagles topped the favored Tulla Hornets 20-14 at Canyon, while the Dalhart Wolves were losing a 19-6 decision to the Hereford Whitefaces.

Dimmitt's Bobcats, playing a non-conference game at Sudan, took a 26-7 beating from the Hornets. The Dumas-Dalhart tilt this week-end should be a close one, with the edge going to the Demons from Dumas; and the Tulla Hornets will be heavy favorites to defeat the Dimmitt eleven. The Whitefaces, if they perform according to schedule and drop the Dumas Demons next week-end, will meet the high-flying Eagles from Canyon on November 1 at Buffalo Stadium in Canyon in a game which most dopesters now figure may decide the loop title.
