

Agriculture Department Asks Growers to Help Solve Spud Problem

COMMUNITY BUILDERS: Mrs. W. B. Dameron

Tarantulas and Water Dogs More Plentiful Than Fuel Around Pioneer Panhandle Ranch

A Deaf Smith county resident who arrived in Hereford through following the old pioneer spirit of "go farther West," is Mrs. W. B. Dameron. To most of those who know her, she is known affectionately as "Mother" Dameron.

Sarah Elizabeth Dameron was born November 29, 1888, in Cooke county, Texas. She was the daughter of young Confederate soldier Gilbert Barnard and his wife, Martha Wilson Barnard. Sarah's parents were land owners and stock farmers.

Miss Barnard attended classes in a county log schoolhouse three months of the year. It was there that she fell in love with her teacher, William Bruce Dameron, a young man who had come to Texas from North Carolina to make his fortune in the Southwest. Her wedding was performed at her home on January 30, 1879, and according to the custom of those days, it was followed by a wedding supper and square dancing afterwards.

The couple first made their home at Bloomfield, Texas, later moving to Gainsville in 1889. Mr. Dameron managed a general store among the Indians at Russett in the Indian Territory. His merchandise he hauled by wagon ferrying it across Red River. Mrs. Dameron recalls many times when he came near losing his goods because of quicksand and high water in the river.

As a merchant, Mr. Dameron made a trip to the Panhandle in the early 1890's, filling on land five miles northeast of the present town of Dimmitt. Other land he bought for $1.00 per acre. So in the spring of 1900, the Damerons shipped their household goods and lumber for wagon to a new home to the Plains by train. Says Mrs. Dameron, "My husband and the five oldest children came to the Panhandle from Gainsville by covered wagon, fully equipped with chuck box in the rear, and water keg on the side." "Mother" Dameron came by railway with her son Travis, who was a baby then. The wagon trip required two weeks with young Elmer riding horseback and looking after the dog.

"The Damerons' first home here was a two-room 'shack' papered with old newspapers. The tarantulas and water dogs were plentiful, according to Mrs. Dameron, and she states, "We used prairie fuel, for it was a long, hard trip to Hereford's coal yard."

"Much of our first year here on the ranch," she explains, "was spent digging 'loco weed' for which our East Texas horses and mules had developed a pronounced taste. They got crazier every day, and we were trying to keep them sane enough to pull the plow for our first year's crop."

The Damerons' only experience with sheep began when they purchased about two hundred head and brought them to the ranch. It ended not long (Continued on Page 8)

MOUNTAINS OF SPUDS POSE PROBLEMS

Part of Long Island's bumper crop of potatoes shown piled in an open field at Riverhead, New York, where a critical shortage of boxcars and a glutted potato market has left them rotting. Deaf Smith County, Texas, narrowly missed a similar situation this summer.

Worley Says Congressmen Not Optimistic Of Marshall's Chances to Solve Chinese Puzzle

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of reports by Congressman Eugene Worley on an inspection trip by a group of Congressmen and Senators to the Far East.

China has the worst inflation of any nation in history. Their government is anything but stable which accounts largely for the lack of confidence in the Chinese dollar. The exchange rate is about twenty five hundred dollars to one; that is, one American dollar is equal in value to about twenty five hundred Chinese National Currency dollars. To give you an idea of the prices, a local telephone call in Shanghai was two hundred and fifty Chinese dollars. An average meal at a restaurant or hotel ran nearly four thousand dollars. A garden variety lettuce salad cost over a thousand dollars. A cup of coffee, when you could get it, ran one thousand dollars.

Incidentally, all American people were cautioned not to eat any raw vegetables. It wasn't safe to eat them until they'd been cooked or boiled. Too, we were warned against drinking water or even washing our teeth with it unless it had been boiled. In the internal affairs of the Chinese government, I cannot say that all Chinese officials are honest. It seems to be an old Chinese custom for an official to indulge in what we over here would consider the worst form of graft but what they consider nothing but a standard custom. It is their "squeeze." For example, a number of high-ranking Nazis who had been sheltered when the Japanese occupied a part of China were supposed to have been deported back to Germany. However, through very reliable sources of information we learned that a number of the wealthier Nazis had "paid off" and in reality had not been deported from China.

Leaving China, the Committee flew to the capital of China, which is Nanking—about 600 miles in the westward interior. There is the headquarters of Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek and where General George C. Marshall is trying desperately to arbitrate the differences between the Kuomintang, which is the Nationalist Government Party, and the Communists. Marshall gave the Committee a detailed story of the whole picture and the very real obstacles which have so far prevented any compromise between the two forces. The philosophies of the two sides are about as far apart as night and day. There is no question but what Moscow is actively interested in seeing that the Communists take over the government of China and Russia has aided the Communist cause materially by "leaving" most of the captured Japanese war materiel where the Communists could help themselves. While the Communists at the present time are relatively few in number, they control an area in which one hundred million Chinese live. On the other hand, the Nationalist Government controls an area in which three hundred and fifty million Chinese live. No one is very optimistic that General Marshall, in spite of his great record and unquestioned ability, will be able to get the two factions to compromise and devote their energies to rebuilding China and securing a stable government. Oil and water won't mix any easier than the two conflicting philosophies and based on late news from over there the Nationalist Government seems determined to launch a full scale attack against the Communists. Even while we were in Nanking, battles between the two forces were going on in that area. (Nanking, like many other Chinese cities, is surrounded by a tremendous wall as protection against enemies.)

After conferences at Nanking, we took off for Peiping, which used to be called Peking and which was formerly the capital of China. We took off in a four engine cargo plane generally referred to as a "bucket job" because a wing flap was damaged when our own plane landed at Nanking. We encountered a good bit of rough weather and mountains on our trip north to Peiping, which is nearly 700 miles.

PFC Claude Williams has received his discharge from the Marine Corps, and is now at home. He is the son of R. A. Williams.

County Agent Calls Meeting Of Potato Growers Today

A meeting of all potato growers in the Deaf Smith county area has been called by County Agent Hugh L. Clearman for this afternoon (Thursday) at three o'clock at the courthouse in Hereford.

The meeting has been called for the purpose of discussing the 1947 potato program and the possibility of sending a representative to a conference in Washington on September 18 and 19.

The Department of Agriculture announced from Washington Tuesday that the 1947 potato price support program will be extended only to farmers who plant within acreage restrictions.

"Potato acreage goals will be set for individual farms to insure production in accordance with needs," the department announced. "Only farmers who plant within acreage goals will be eligible for price support."

Local potato growers are being called on by the Department of Agriculture to help solve next year's spud problem, since the 1946 crop has already left Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson with a No. 1 hang-over.

A meeting will be held in Washington on September 18 and 19 for the purpose of getting the views of the people who are actually producing potatoes on what type of program should be set up for 1947, and local potato growers have been asked to send a delegate to the conference.

J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, set out part of the problem in a letter to County Agent Hugh Clearman this week.

Subsidy Un-workable?

Quoting a letter from Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Hammond pointed out that "the Fruit and Vegetable Committee (of the AFBF) is recommending that we have quotas on potatoes for 1947. The Steagall amendments make provision for 90 percent of parity for two years after the war, but it is the thinking of some of the folks that uncontrolled production, where surpluses are piled up, might make it impossible for the government to carry out the mandates of the Steagall amendment."

O'Neal pointed out that the Board had expressed a belief that a "feasible program of acreage control could be worked out" and suggested that advisers be called into conference to assist in determining such a program.

Recommend Quotas

The board's recommendation, as presented to the Department of Agriculture, was "that the Fruit and Vegetable committee recommends that the Farm Bureau take a position requesting the inclusion of a provision in the 1947 support program on potatoes which would limit eligibility to support to growers whose acreage planted in 1947 did not exceed the average of their 1941-45 acreage."

Last year's record potato crop forced the government to buy, under the support program, thousands of tons of unmarketable spuds after the bottom had dropped out of the flooded potato market in mid-harvest.

No Aid to Famine

The huge surplus of potatoes could not be channelled into the foreign market, where famine was threatening millions of people, because they could not be shipped by boat without spoiling, and dehydration boosted the cost of spuds far above the price which foreign countries could afford to pay.

All but about two percent of (Continued on page 8)

some FARM LOANS don't fit so well either . . .

Too many farm loans are made today as though every farmer's needs are the same as his neighbor's. Or, what is just as bad, terms are based on the lender's bookkeeping system, not on your requirements. Now, through our special arrangement with The Equitable Life Assurance Society, farm loans from this bank are tailor-made to fit your individual needs as they should be.

WHAT ARE YOUR SPECIAL NEEDS?

- Do you want to pay more in the beginning and less as you grow older? Choose one of the 5 new Diminishing Payment Plans.
- Do you have heavy obligations now and want the smallest payments possible? Select one of the 5 Constant Payment Plans.
- Are you certain you can pay off your loan during the next few years? Take your choice of 4 short-term plans.

Each plan can be adjusted to meet special situations. Payments can be made when crops or livestock are ready to sell. And, if you change your system of farming and want to pay at some other time, that will be cheerfully arranged without penalty or cost to you.

All of these plans have the Farm Income Privilege to help you own your farm free and clear sooner, and the Prepayment Reserve to protect your investment.

Don't be satisfied with an ordinary loan when you can have one from this bank that gives you more, yet costs less. Ask for full details. No obligation.

★ World-wide in its distribution, whooping cough is endemic in large cities, becoming epidemic on a large scale every two to four years. The seriousness of pertussis, especially in young children, is evidenced by the mortality rate—about 26 percent in infants less than one year old.

Children should be vaccinated during the first year of life. Do not wait for an epidemic. It takes several weeks after vaccination for the body to produce antibodies. Ask your physician now about protection from whooping cough for your baby.

We carry fresh stocks of vaccine under refrigeration at all times.

Arkansas River Route

By DR. LEROY HAFEN
Denver, Colorado
State Historian of Colorado and Author of "Overland Routes to the Gold Fields" and "Other Books"

Up the Arkansas River trail in the spring of 1858 came pioneer prospectors to search the Rockies for gold. Near the site of Denver they panned for color in Cherry Creek and other streams; but after about ten days the majority were disgusted and ready to give up.

Green Russell, determined to continue the search, stood out by himself and said: "Gentlemen, you can go back, but I'll stay if just two men will stay with me." Twelve men, one by one, stepped to his side. The other ninety-one turned back. Later that very day, July 6, the persistence and faith of the thirteen were rewarded. The Russell men found a paying placer on Dry Creek, on the southern outskirts of modern Denver.

While good wages were being made here, passing traders from Fort Laramie hauled a sack of the gold-bearing gravel back over this trail to Kansas City, where it was panned by experienced California miners. On August 26, 1858, a Kansas City newspaper blazed these headlines: "THE NEW EL Dorado!! GOLD IN KANSAS TERRITORY!! THE PIKE'S PEAK MINES! . . . Old mountain travelers just in from Pike's Peak. They bring several ounces of gold . . . John Cantrell, an old citizen of Westport, has three ounces which he dug with a hatchet in Cherry Creek and washed out with a frying pan."

The glorious news spread across the nation; welcome news after the disastrous Panic of 1857. Venturesome gold seekers who dared to winter in the wild country crossed the plains in the fall of 1858; but the great "Pike's Peak or Bust" gold rush did not occur until the next spring. In covered wagons, on horseback, afoot, pulling handcars or pushing wheelbarrows, the eager fifty-thousand stampeded to the gold fields. Some followed the Arkansas River route, some the Platte, and some the Smoky Hill. A few found wealth in the mines; many suffered disappointment.

Though the gold fever subsided, the western trek over the prairie trails never abated. In the same tracks came farmers, homeseekers, business men, and dreamers to found a western empire.

Church Vows Said by Two Couples in Double Wedding Ceremonies Sunday

The Summerfield Baptist Church was the setting at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon for the double wedding of Bonnie Larrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Larrick, and Harold Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Britt Clark and Doris Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Roberts of Vega, and Vernon Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Wilson of Westway.

The single ceremony was read by Rev. Marvin Boyd, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Hereford, before an altar arrangement of tall baskets of pink and white asters, white gladioli and seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers. Pyramiding candles burned on the altar which was entwined with lacy white-blossomed matrimony vine. Billie Johnson and Jim Suttle lighted the tapers.

Miss Thelma McMinn, who played her first wedding march for one of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Britt Clark, at their wedding 22 years ago, gave the traditional wedding music.

Each bride was given in marriage by her father and they wore identical suits of soldier blue wool with nail-head trim, brown accessories and feather-trimmed hats. Each wore a single purple orchid.

Miss Larrick's attendant was Miss Betty Doak. She wore a street-length dress of pink crepe with white aster corsage. L. J. Clark was his brother's best man.

Miss Robert's attendant was Miss Helen Jo Wilson sister of the bridegroom. She wore a dress of beige wool with gold trim, and a pink rosebud corsage. Mr. Wilson's best man was Eugene Sparks.

Reception Given

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs.

Clinton Jackson, S. L. Easley, Debbs Knox, Lisle Woodford, Tom Boyd and the hostess.

J. E. Larrick with the bridal couples and their parents greeting the guests.

The refreshment table which repeated the bridal theme of pink and white in decorations, featured a double, tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bridal couples. After the first slices were cut by the brides and their bridegrooms Miss Betty Doak and Miss Helen Jo Wilson served cake. Others assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Herman Ford, Mrs. A. B. Christian, Mrs. Florence Parr and Mrs. Marion Rutter.

After the reception both couples left for an extended wedding trip to points in New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma.

For traveling Mrs. Clark chose a beige dressmaker suit with brown accessories and Mrs. Wilson wore a black and white checked suit with black accessories.

Upon their return from the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Clark will make their home in Hereford. He is employed in the REA offices. Both are graduates of Hereford High School. He was in service 2 1/2 years as an aviation electrician's mate with 18 months spent in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson plan to live on a farm in the Westway Community. Mrs. Wilson attended Crosbyton and Hereford Schools and he attended schools in Hereford. He was in service 26 months with most of that time spent in sea duty on an air-craft carrier.

Out-of-town guests at the double-wedding included Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Curry and daughter Kay, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McDonald, all of Crosbyton. Mrs. Claudia Brown and family of Canadian, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fields, Amarillo and Mrs. Etta Edens of Colorado Springs.

Social Affairs Given

Among social affairs given to compliment the two couples was a lovely shower and gift party given at the church Friday night. Flowers in late summer colors and varieties decorated the church and attractive decorations marked the refreshment table. Hostesses were Mrs. L. B. Lookingbill, Mrs. Chas. Noiland, Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill, Mrs. Ray Johnson and Mrs D.C. Walser.

After the rehearsal at the church Saturday night the entire bridal group was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clark, uncle and aunt of Mr. Harold Clark.

"Bad Lands" Into Good Meat

 Vision and resourcefulness in the rebuilding of various kinds of abandoned and unproductive lands may pay dividends. The return of such "bad lands" to profitable use is equally important to producers and to us at Swift & Company. Because "what helps agriculture helps all of us." Here is a story of such vision. Here is an example of one man's initiative.
 Like a farm torn up by a giant's plow, 600 acres of Illinois strip mine land stood bare. It was apparently worthless. That was in 1938. Today those once-bare ridges are knee-deep in grass and clover. Each rugged acre makes more than enough grass for one steer. And it's getting better each year.
 The year after the land was mined for coal, a few volunteer sweet clover plants took root. They flourished in the lime-rich soil. Byron Somers of Canton, Illinois, who farmed adjacent land, noticed them. He bought the "bad land" for $5 an acre. With a hand seeder, he walked the ridges and sowed sweet clover. The next year he had a good stand. This added some nitrogen and humus to soil already rich in phosphorus and potash. Further seeding of a grass legume mixture is done each year by airplane. Brome grass has got a start, and now his pastures will be even more productive. In addition to grass, plenty of drinking water for the cattle is held in the little valleys.
 Since being returned to usefulness, this land has averaged a net profit of $7 an acre each year. Similar Illinois land has recently sold for $25 an acre.
 This is only one example. Every state has unproductive lands. Many other men have returned them to use—and profited. Huge areas still offer a challenge and an opportunity to American producers everywhere. Your opportunity, too, may be indicated by such a little thing as sweet clover growing on abandoned land.
 It's extra care that cuts shipping fever losses among feeder cattle. Vaccination also will produce a measure of immunity. After cattle reach the feed lots, provide them with shelter from cold winds and rain. Give them light, bulky feeds such as whole oats and roughage. Cattle fall easy prey to shipping fever when they are run down, due to fatigue, exposure, or irregular feeding. If animals do fall sick, isolate them promptly and call a veterinarian.

More Beef from Less Feed
 Nevada Bulletin No. 162
 Nevada experiments indicate it is particularly advantageous to ranch owners if calves are born at such a time and grazed in such a way that they develop into feeders of satisfactory selling weights at the youngest possible age. The bulletin advocates ranchers planning their breeding season so that calves are born during the months of March, April, and May. Calves born during these months usually are of sufficient age and maturity to wean before winter sets in. During the winter months it is suggested they be fed all of the good "lame" grass and clover hay they will clean up without waste. They should be placed on good range in the summer and on irrigated pasture during the fall. Then they will be ready to market as feeders at 17 months of age. Under these conditions, they are held on the ranch only one winter and may be expected to weigh from 700 to 750 pounds.
 When calves are born in other than the spring months, a large percentage of them must be fed on the ranch throughout two winters before they make satisfactory selling weights. Records show that cattle carried on the ranch for two winters have reached an average of 27 months of age at selling time and weigh approximately 875 pounds. Even though these cattle are practically a year older than seasonally bred cattle, they average only 150 pounds heavier than the younger animals. This is because calves born late in the year make only a poor start when winter sets in.
 The most rapid as well as the most economical gains are made by younger animals. Gains gradually decline as cattle approach maturity ages unless they are placed on extensive feeding rations.

Geography of Meat Production and Consumption
 The United States by rail is approximately 3,000 miles from East to West. It is about 2,000 miles from North to South. Not all of its 1,934,326,280 acres produce agricultural products. Neither do all of its square miles have the same number of people. The western part, including the Corn Belt, is the great food producing area. The East is the section in which most of the people live.
 Approximately two-thirds of the livestock is produced west of the Mississippi River. Approximately two-thirds of the people live east of it. More specifically, about one-third of the people live in the area from Pennsylvania northeast into New England. Thus there is a great distance between the producers of livestock and the consumers of meats. This makes it necessary to have national concerns like Swift & Company in the slaughtering of livestock, processing, handling and selling of meats. The products handled by meat packers average to move more than one thousand miles from producer to consumer.

You BET There's Competition!
 Recently I spoke to a meeting of livestock producers. When I had finished talking, the chairman asked if any persons in the audience wanted to ask questions. Immediately one livestock man stood up. "Is there any competition in the buying of our livestock?" he asked. Naturally, my answer was, "Yes." I went on from there to an explanation...
 One of the best evidences of competition is found in United States Government figures. They show that there are more than 3,500 meat packers in the United States. Also there are 22,500 other commercial slaughterers of livestock. Surely this means much competition. Of course, Swift & Company does not come in competition with every one of these 26,000 slaughterers at every point at which it buys livestock. However, there is no place in the United States but what Swift & Company does come in competition in the buying of livestock with one or more of the 26,000 slaughterers.
 Here's another fact about competition. At practically all markets in the country there are order buyers. During a year they buy up to hundreds of meat packers. No individual buys for several hundred on any one day. But when the meat packers whom they represent need livestock, these order buyers are out competing with Swift & Company and every other buyer in the market.
 The foregoing are just two examples of the many to be found indicating the ever present competition in our business.

Congratulations for New Air Race Mark

Alvin M. "Tex" Johnston of Niagara Falls, N. Y., receives a kiss from his wife for winning the Thompson Trophy Race and $19,500 prize money at National Air Races in Cleveland. The 32-year-old Bell Aircraft test pilot whipped his P-39 around the pylon-marked course in an average speed of 373.908 mph, breaking the record of 283.419 set by Roscoe Turner in 1933.

The wife contends that she would be an easy sucker for a counterfeit money passer, inasmuch as she hasn't had her hands on enough money since she married, to know what the stuff looks like.

Used Car Buyers Warned to Get Ownership Proof

AUSTIN, Sept. 5.—Buyers of used cars were warned Thursday to secure from the seller acceptable proof of ownership as the State Highway Department moved toward wiping out traffic in stolen and mortgaged motor vehicles in Texas.

"All County Tax Collectors have now received instructions to hold the line in requiring proof of ownership on all applications for vehicle titles," E. J. Amey, Director of Motor Vehicle Registration announced. Applications for Texas titles are made through local Tax Collectors under the present law.

"Properly assigned certificate of title from any of the thirty States having a title law similar to Texas is the best evidence of ownership. The purchaser should insist upon receiving a release of any lien recorded on a Texas title or a title issued by any other state," Amey stated.

Outlining minimum acceptable ownership proof of vehicles brought into Texas from any of the seventeen non-title States, which includes Louisiana, Amey announced, "We will accept a 1945 license receipt from Louisiana or other non-title State and the current receipt if both are in the name of the person applying for the Texas title."

"Bills of Sale showing all changes in ownership must supplement such 1945 license receipt, if applicant for a Texas title is not the same person in whose name the receipt is issued," he added.

Strict enforcement of the Texas title law was endorsed at a recent meeting of car dealers, enforcement officers, tax collectors and representatives of finance and insurance companies. The meeting had been called to determine if present requirements for title were meeting

A taxicab is a machine to get you places . . . and translates miles into money. Delays are costly! . . . That's why taxi drivers are so fussy about their tires. Before B.F. ### South Plains Fair Has Two Free Days For School Aged LUBBOCK, Texas, September 7, 1946.—Fair officials have set aside two big days of the six-day 29th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair for the students of the South Plains School Days are October 9 and 10. Students from schools south of a line drawn along the southern border of Lubbock county and from Lubbock county will attend the Fair free on Wednesday, October 9. Those from north of the line will be admitted free, the next day. Lubbock city pupils will be guests of the Fair on Tuesday, Lubbock Day.

All students will be required to pay a government tax of 5c if under twelve years of age and 10c if over twelve as they enter the Fair grounds. This is required by federal law.

with the approval of all concerned.

Numerous stolen and mortgaged cars bearing license plates from non-title States have been sold in Texas," Amey stated. "Purchasers of such vehicles are unable to obtain valid titles in Texas and the vehicles are subject to seizure by their lawful owners."

The National Automobile Theft Bureau has estimated that the current requirements of the Highway Department have reduced sales of stolen cars in Texas by half.

Veterans Can Pay GI Insurance With Terminal Bonds

Former enlisted personnel in the armed forces who are now drawing terminal leave pay authorized by Congress can apply bonds issued in such payment toward premiums on National Service Life Insurance policies.

The terminal leave pay act provided that the bonds issued as terminal leave payment, which are not negotiable and can not be cashed for five years, may be applied immediately to the payment of NSLI premiums, VA reported.

VA emphasized again that all persons who served in the armed forces between October 8, 1940 and September 2, 1945, are entitled to apply for new NSLI. The total amount which may be carried by any applicant may not exceed $10,000.

The application may be filed at any time and will be granted upon proof that the applicant meets the required health standards. This is a definite change from the previous provision which limited all veterans to the amount of insurance they had while in service.

Information concerning all problems about National Service Life Insurance can be obtained from the nearest VA office or by letter from the Insurance Service, Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 10, 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas. The latter address is for all veterans living in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Tech to Offer Advanced ROTC Courses Starting This Fall

LUBBOCK, Sept. 10—Advanced courses offering instruction built on experiences of World War II will be given by the corps of engineers, signal corps and aviation branch of the War Department at Texas Technological College this fall, Tech officials announce.

Lt. Col. Robert P. Rlordan of Atus, Okla., veteran of four years overseas flying, has arrived on the campus to head the aviation work. He will have an assistant to be assigned soon.

Lt. Col. Ludlow C. Adams will head the ROTC unit and will be professor of military science and tactics. He is a veteran of the engineers corps. Maj. John M. Goodman will be in charge of signal work and serve as assistant professor of military science and tactics.

Students in advanced courses will receive about 60 cents a day in ration commutations and students in elementary ROTC work are to be provided uniforms.

Colonel Adams said he had been authorized to accept for enrollment students in all divisions of Tech. He also pointed out that World War II veterans will receive credit for two years of ROTC work, if enrolled in it, the time being boosted from one year since issuance of Tech's annual catalog.

Plans are being made for expansion of the ROTC building on the campus to care for the enlarged program.

after when the entire herd perished in a blinding snow storm. "We decided to stay in the cow business," says Mother Dameron.

In stating that hired help was hard to find in those days, Mrs. Dameron recalls this incident. "Badly in need of a ranch hand, Mr. Dameron picked up a man in Hereford and took him to the ranch, believing his work problems solved. I fixed up a lot of food for the men to take to the ranch—among other things a big pound cake. The new hand explained to Mr. Dameron that he could not sleep after 4:30 a. m.; therefore, he would get up, feed the stock, and start breakfast. Taking an extra nap the next morning, Dad awakened to find the man and the cake gone. Just transportation, lodging and food on a hobo's southern trail!"

Mrs. Dameron's present home was built in 1901. The first building on this site was an old barn which was originally the store and post office building at old La Plata. It had been moved to Hereford in 1895. "I believe I am correct," says this pioneer, "in saying that the first two-story brick business house in Hereford was built by my husband at the corner of 3rd and Main streets." This building, now occupied by Ruth-erford's Store, was known for 40 years as the Corner Drug.

Mrs. Dameron regards her hobby as the love of planting and watching beautiful plants grow. The passerby today still sees the fruits of her work with plants; all those growing about her home now except the outer border of trees were planted by her. Her family is especially proud of the blue spruce tree which stands in a heart-shaped plot in front of her home and was bought with some of the gold-pieces she received on her Golden Wedding anniversary date. Among her collection of plants are a Rocky Mountain pine and a pampas grass stalk.

Of her seven children, four are in Hereford—Mrs. A. M. Jones, W. E. Frances and Travis, Laban G. Dameron lives in Denver, Colorado; Mrs. W. C. Witherspoon, Dallas; and Mrs. J. E. Lester, Pueblo, Colorado. Mrs. Dameron is a member of the First Christian church. She is fond of listening to the radio. She lists among her favorite programs that broadcast by Tom Brenneman when the eldest guest is interviewed and presented with an orchid. She has done much fancy work including crocheting, quilting and rug making. Also, in the days of the Deaf Smith county fairs, she collected many blue ribbons for flowers and canned goods.

A resident of this county for 46 years, Mother Dameron still maintains, "This is the best place on earth to live."

Agriculture

the surplus spuds have finally been disposed of by sale to distilleries to be made into alcohol. This transaction lost money for the Department of Agriculture, but the U. S. Treasury got it all back with some to spare, in the form of taxes.

This year's record spud crop multiplied the problems of disposal, when, despite efforts on the part of the Department of Agriculture to discourage potato planting, good growing conditions and increased planting boosted yields far above estimates.

Surplus potatoes have been bought at support prices by the government again, and a big portion is again going to distilleries, where the loss will be taken up in taxes on alcohol.

However, the Department believes that some controls must be placed on spud production for 1947 if a major market disaster is to be averted.
