

Ad hoc committee only 'to study' dump effects

By O.G. NIEMAN
Editor-Publisher

The ad hoc committee being formed here to study potential effects of site characterization work by the Department of Energy will not address the issue of whether a nuclear waste repository should or should not be placed in this county, a spokesman stated Monday.

"We are realistic in assuming that if a site characterization study is done here, it will have a major impact on the business, governmental and social aspects of our community," said Joe Reinauer Jr., city commissioner.

"Our goals, then, are to identify, quantify, evaluate and seek compensation for any negative implications of this study," added Reinauer. The committee is scheduled to meet this week and adopt a plan of action.

Deaf Smith County is among the top three sites in the nation being considered for the first nuclear waste repository. The other two are in Richmond, Wash., and Yucca Mountain, Nev. Site characterization to further study the sites is planned by the DOE this fall.

The ad hoc committee here is composed of one representative from each taxing entity. It includes Troy Don Moore, county commissioner; John Fuston, school trustee; Reinauer, city commissioner; Frank Zinser, hospital board member; and Jim Bob Perrin, Walcott school trustee.

Reinauer says the committee must monitor the ongoing research that will be conducted and "communicate with one voice to DOE in dealing with any problems or negative impacts arising from this site characterization."

Moore said the committee is working at becoming a group sanctioned by each of the entities involved. "We're trying to find out what it takes to get a grant to study the impacts if the DOE does site characterization, and determining how we can prevent costs to the taxing entities."

Steve Frishman, with the Governor's Nuclear Waste Programs Office in Austin, told the committee that financial assistance is available to form the group. He said the committee should form under the Interlocal Governmental Cooperation Act to fund the legal work and develop a request for contracting bids on research and analysis.

Reinauer said it appeared that forming together under the interlocal governmental act, "we will be able to deal with DOE, the Governor's office, or private entities to help us accomplish our stated goals." He added that the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 provides for compensation for negative impact to communities and the entire cost of those compensations is to be paid, not from the Treasury or the taxpayers but, from a Nuclear Waste Fund generated from a levy on all nuclear waste generating projects in the U.S.

"We want to examine the potential effects to each entity represented and insure that the taxpayers of that entity are not burdened by these proposed studies," said Reinauer. One factor could be a loss of tax revenue from land that might be tied up in a characterization study.

City buys Fullwood property

Hereford City Commissioners Monday night voted unanimously to purchase the Fullwood building and land immediately north of the city hall for $85,000.

The city plans to use the 140 by 150 foot property, which includes the building, for temporary storage of trucks and fire fighting equipment while the new fire station is being built. The new construction will require that the old station be torn down.

In other action, the commission agreed to join the other entities of the tax district in giving a $15,000 tax exemption to property owners over 65 years of age. According to Fred Fox of the Deaf Smith Tax District office, the net difference of tax collected would be $11,099. He noted that about 80 percent of the persons over 65 which are taxed are on fixed incomes. He said the new valuation could mean a hardship to some of those persons.

The commission authorized the city to advertise for bids on an airport maintenance project. According to the district airports office of the Federal Aviation Administration, an inspection of the airport last month found rutting to be beginning on the northeast 700 feet of the parallel taxiway used by turbojet aircraft. The repair would entail stabilizing the base which has deteriorated due to moisture.

The inspection also noted a spot on runway 3 which needed repainting and of an area which needed to be cleaned.

It was reported that the city health department's trash collection fees were about $79,000 less than what costs ran for the past year. City manager Dudley Bayne said the year had several uncommon expenses, such as major repairs to the incinerator and conveyor and purchase of a new packer unit for one of the trucks. Those two expenses will occur about every 12 years.

The city will be making an analysis of expenses to make long term plans on possible rate increases.

Last Stop

Sunday's tour of the newly-remodeled Deaf Smith General Hospital ended with the invitation to enjoy free lemonade and cookies. Clowns passed out balloons to youngsters and grown-ups alike who were taken on guided tours of the more than 20 departments at DSGH.

TDA submits survey to DOE

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Department of Agriculture has told the U.S. Energy Department that new surveys show Panhandle residents are strongly opposed to locating a high-level nuclear waste dump in the region.

The departments' findings were submitted to the Energy Department on Monday. The DOE is considering a site in Deaf Smith County as a possible location for a national nuclear waste dump.

The other two areas being considered are in Nevada and Washington state, while a site in Swisher County also might still be considered, the agriculture department said.

Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said the new survey clearly shows that Panhandle residents don't want the dump.

"While DOE paperpushers fussed over some fancy computer model they use to count cows, we got on the phone and talked directly to hundreds of Panhandle residents," Hightower said.

"Our results are the only information available about how a representative cross-section of local residents believes a nuclear dump would affect their communities and their families," he said.

Four out of five residents in the counties proposed as a dump site said they wouldn't allow construction of a nuclear waste repository in their area if it were up to them, Hightower said.

In Crosby and Moore counties, a little farther away from the proposed sites, the proportion of residents opposing the dump was nearly the same, he added.

"Our earlier studies show that Panhandle residents are not suffering from a knee-jerk case of 'not-in-my-backyardism.' They are asking serious questions about who is going to buy food raised next to a nuclear dump, and they want to know what 70,000 metric tons of radioactive wastes will do to their land and water, and to their own health," Hightower said.

"About 60 percent of the local residents we talked to think it's 'very likely' that radioactive wastes from the repository would escape into their water, and another 20 percent think such a catastrophe is 'somewhat likely,'" Hightower said.

Local lawmen investigating rape, stabbing incident

Hereford Police and the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department investigated a reported rape and a stabbing incident over the weekend.

Reports indicate that an 18-year-old woman was sexually assaulted twice and then tied to a bed post. The woman was found by her aunt, who reported the incident to sheriff's deputies.

The victim told authorities she heard the door to her trailer open a few minutes before the attack, but when she went to the front of the trailer she found no one there and thought the wind had blown the door open.

An examination at Deaf Smith General Hospital revealed the woman had at least one cracked rib and possibly three injured ribs, the report said.

Sheriff's deputies are also investigating the stabbing, which occurred Saturday at the Labor Camp. The victim, Victor Martinez, 20, was treated and released at Deaf Smith General Hospital, then taken to the Deaf Smith County jail where he was arrested on a warrant for violation of probation. He suffered a laceration to his elbow, the hospital said.

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Joe Brown said Martinez had lost a lot of blood and was apparently unconscious when found by friends, who took him to the hospital.

Brown said Martinez did not name his assailant.

Hereford police made seven alcohol-related arrests over the weekend and Monday, as well as one for assault and two for driving while license suspended. One DWI arrest resulted from a traffic accident Monday night on Highway 385. One minor injury resulted from that mishap.

Investigations included several for minor theft and burglaries, a dog bite and several domestic disputes.

There were two incidents of windshield being smashed, one resulting from a longstanding feud and another apparently broken by a jealous girlfriend.

Both the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and the Sears store reported vandalism from Sunday night drinking parties in their parking lots. The back window of the Sears Store was broken and beer bottles scattered about, and carefully tended Bluebonnets growing in the Chamber's flower bed were stomped.

Laboratory Talk

Laboratory procedure was explained by Debbie Walker during Sunday's tour of Deaf Smith General Hospital. The tour was held to show off the newly-remodeled departments, and acquaint local residents with the many services available at the county's hospital. More than 400 persons went on guided tours of the facility.

Surprise Dedication

Retiring City Manager Dudley Bayne (center) was given one more retirement gift Sunday—the fire department's newest truck was dedicated to him. The surprise announcement was made by Fire Chief

Former TI employees under probe

DALLAS (AP) — Former Texas Instruments employees are under investigation in connection with the theft of more than $20 million worth of trade secrets from their former employer, it was reported today.

The Dallas Times Herald, quoting unnamed sources, said the investigation led to a 26-hour search last week at a north Dallas company, where computer programs and documents allegedly belonging to Texas Instruments were seized.

The Dallas County district attorney's office will forward information gleaned in the raid to a grand jury, which will consider criminal indictments against at least three employees alleging they stole trade secrets, the unnamed sources told the newspaper.

The raid marked the first time the district attorney's office has seized computer software in the execution of a search warrant, the Herald said.

Sources said the investigation began after a confidential informant notified TI about a possible theft. TI officials contacted District Attorney Henry Wade, who ordered his special crime unit to investigate.

Last Thursday, after obtaining a search warrant, seven of Wade's investigators searched the offices and seized more than a dozen manuals identified as belonging to Texas Instruments, the Herald said.

Mechanic charged for scheme

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — When Wesley R. Beard wanted to drum up business for his auto repair shop, he'd litter Interstate 20 with old car parts and wait till a passing motorist came along to "break down."

The 45-year-old mechanic admitted in court Monday that he'd then show up with a timely offer of wrecker service or repairs to help out the unsuspecting driver.

That self-styled brand of advertising netted Beard a one-year prison term Monday and an order from state District Judge Billy John Edwards to pay $2,314 to his unwitting customers.

Beard's guilty plea came in a plea bargain that saw one felony criminal mischief charge reduced to a misdemeanor and the other three dismissed for restitution.

Edwards gave Beard a 180-day jail term and placed him on probation for a year, during which time Beard said he can make the restitution to former customers of his Beard's Auto Truck Repairs in Trent.

Beard admitted dumping a motor head, gears and other jagged pieces of metal onto the eastbound lane of I-20 on July 28, 1983.

At least six cars and trucks were disabled that night, and an investigation found several others had been damaged at the same location in recent weeks, Department of Public Safety investigators said.

Pickens loses Unocal takeover

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In his first defeat in three years of assaults on big oil firms, Texas oilman T. Boone Pickens Jr. has agreed to sell his Unocal Corp. holdings back to the company at a slight loss.

It was the first such setback suffered by Pickens, chairman of Mesa Petroleum Co. of Amarillo, Texas, and head of the Mesa Partners II investor group.

In previous forays against five other oil companies, the Pickens group earned $697 million plus $35 million in expenses by selling back those companies' stock at a premium price.

Pickens' surrender Monday was a major victory for Fred L. Hartley, Unocal's feisty 68-year-old chairman, who had vowed not to give in to Pickens' threats, as other oil barons have. Hartley has spent 46 years with Unocal, the parent of Union Oil Co. of California, and he played a major role in building it into the nation's 13th largest oil concern.

The defeat of Pickens could be a turning point in corporations' efforts to ward off unwanted suitors, especially professional raiders.

Unocal's stock didn't trade Monday at the request of the company. It ended last week at $46 a share. Mesa stock fell 25 cents to close at $16.37 1/2 a share.

Firefighter bill vetoed

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A bill allowing volunteer firefighters to collect damages if they were injured while fighting a fire, even if they were too drunk to legally drive to the fire, was vetoed Monday by Gov. Terry Branstad.

"It is threatening to the public, to other firefighters and to a volunteer's family and friends," Branstad said.

Officials of the Iowa Firemen's Association complained their bill was misunderstood.

"We're just trying to assure that we continue to recruit civic-minded volunteers," said Mike Schechinger. "I'm very disappointed with the governor's veto. It leads me to believe he's more concerned with his political future than the feelings of volunteer firemen."

Officials of towns that have volunteer fire departments had pushed for the measure, saying it was the only way to assure that smaller communities could have fire protection.

"A volunteer never knows when they're going to be called," Schechinger said. "They are sociable people and they like to participate in events."

American woman killed in Cancun

CANCUN, Mexico (AP) — Police said Monday they were conducting a thorough investigation of the shooting death of an American woman but no arrests had yet been made.

In Mexico City, officials of the U.S. Embassy said two American men were questioned by local police in connection with the death of Julie Brahm, 23, of Milwaukee. But they said the men had not been detained and no charges were filed against them.

Agent Beatriz Hernandez of the Judicial Police in Cancun said, "The case is being investigated in depth ... with all its details."

She said no arrests had been made, but all aspects of Miss Brahm's stay in Cancun were being examined. "So far it is under investigation," she said. "This takes time."

The embassy officials, who spoke on condition they not be identified for protocol reasons, said that Miss Brahm was apparently on her way from her hotel, Suites Marvella, to the Casa Maya where the men were staying when she was shot once in the head about 9 p.m. Thursday.

She was flown by air ambulance Saturday afternoon to St. Luke's Hospital in Houston where she died Sunday, authorities said.

Police have told embassy officials that there were no eyewitnesses to the shooting. The police had indicated earlier they believed that the woman's assailant, a man, may have left the area.

The officials said that police were conducting hotel-to-hotel checks in their investigation and had assigned 20 investigators to the case.

They Are The World

Some singing seniors assembled under the accompaniment of Jan Walser for a performance of "We Are The World" at the prom Saturday night. The group, called Project 85, formed and practiced especially for the prom. The Bull Barn was decorated to resemble the French Quarter of New Orleans in conjunction with the prom theme of "Mardi Gras."

Reagan meets Honduran chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Honduran President Roberto Suazo Cordova, meeting today with President Reagan, is expressing increasing concern about his country's role as a staging ground for U.S.-backed rebels trying to topple the government of neighboring Nicaragua. At a late-morning meeting, Reagan and Suazo were to discuss a recent Honduran crackdown on the anti-communist Contras operating out of Nicaragua. The two presidents also planned to have lunch at the White House.

Education issues settled; state budget writers face deadline

AUSTIN (AP) — House and Senate budget writers, who think they see a compromise on the 1986-87 spending plan just around the corner, worked until the wee hours today on their toughest job — higher education appropriations.

Still ahead of the 10-member conference committee, before its self-imposed deadline tonight, are knotty issues such as public welfare benefits, highway funds, indigent health care and state employee pay raises.

But Gov. Mark White reported Monday after a personal visit that the conferees have made "a great deal of progress."

Members of the committee named to iron out differences in Senate and House appropriation bills have been in almost continual session during their waking hours since Saturday morning.

Much of Monday was spent in recess while negotiators conferred behind closed doors with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Speaker Gib Lewis and other legislative leaders.

Finally, in a marathon session that began late at night and lasted into the morning hours, most of the higher education issues were settled.

One of the biggest money differences between the Senate and House bills was a $16.3 million Senate appropriation for the Texas Research Institute of Mental Sciences at Houston.

In a complicated compromise, the negotiators voted to accept Sen. Ray Farabee's motion to give the Mental Health and Mental Retardation Department $7.1 million over the next two years to take care of patients from phased-out TRIMS until the Houston Psychiatric Hospital opens in 1987 with a $15.4 million appropriation.

Much of the committee's time was occupied with discussion of "special items" for state colleges and universities, most of them requested in hopes of getting part of the $35 million offered by the state to promote high technology, aerospace and computer projects.

Allocations were made for two research centers to specialize in robots at the University of Texas at Arlington and Texas Tech. Programs allied with high-technology and robotics research were funded at UT-Austin and Texas A&M.

Rig capsizes in bayou

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP) — A drilling rig carrying 17 people flipped over in a bayou, tossing 10 people into the water and leaving at least some of the remaining seven workers trapped early today inside the overturned barge, the Coast Guard said.

Divers sent to the rig heard tapping noises from inside and at least two voices and worked with drills and cutting equipment to try to gain entry, said a spokesman for the ambulance company that took the distress call from the St. Mary Parish sheriff's office.

Honduran authorities privately this is their best defense against what officials here believe is Nicaragua's expansionist policies.

In return for large-scale U.S. economic and military assistance, totaling almost $600 million since 1983, Honduras has been asked not to interfere with the movements of the estimated 15,000 rebels operating in southern Honduras.

Honduras, for the most part, has kept its side of the bargain, offering clandestine assistance to the rebels.

But the congressional vote four weeks ago denying new aid to the Contras left Honduras in a vulnerable position and aggravated Honduras' doubts about the propriety of its role as the principal staging area for the rebel forces. This is believed to have contributed to Honduras' decision to crack down on the Nicaraguan insurgents.

Some Honduran officials see the close ties with the United States and continued acquiescence to the presence of the Contras as a provocation to Nicaragua, which has a far larger and more powerful army.

Still, Suazo values his relationship with Washington and is expected to sign a joint declaration with Reagan that reaffirms the U.S. defense commitment to Honduras, according to American officials.

Shortly after arriving here Monday for his two-day visit, Suazo met with Secretary of State George P. Shultz.

The United States is equally concerned about maintaining friendship with Honduras, mindful of that country's strategic location. The relationship has been disturbed in recent weeks, U.S. officials said, by Honduran attempts to extract more assistance from Washington than the circumstances warrant.

STEP units arrest 34

April was the biggest month yet for off-duty Department of Public Safety troopers working to get drunk drivers off Randall and Castro County highways.

According to Sgt. Harold Price, coordinator for Castro County, 34 persons were arrested for driving while intoxicated by STEP units during the month of April. STEP is a special enforcement program, funded by the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation, scheduled to continue through August of this year. The operation began in December of 1984.

Records indicate that 25 DWI arrests were made in Randall County during April. According to the DPS, those figures represent the highest monthly totals for both counties since the crackdown began.

"This number is in addition to the numerous DWI arrests made by troopers working regular shifts and other law enforcement agencies in the county," Price added.

Charges to be filed in criminal mischief case

The District Attorney's office was expected to file charges today resulting from an act of criminal mischief last November.

Deaf Smith County Criminal District Attorney Roland Saul said he would file charges in Justice of the Peace Court against John Faulkner, 37, charging him with throwing a canister of CS tear gas into a parked car belonging to James Self.

Saul said the criminal mischief charge is a third degree felony, with damage listed at more than $750 but less than $20,000.

Hereford police said Faulkner confessed to throwing the canister of tear gas into Self's car as it was parked outside a local church.

The gas caused a small fire and extensive smoke damage, and several firemen were taken to Deaf Smith General Hospital with irritated eyes.

my has taken over a key Contra headquarters just north of the Nicaraguan-Honduran border, forcing many insurgents to seek refuge at points farther inside Honduras.

For the past several years, the Reagan administration has been attempting to forge close political and military ties with Honduras, telling Hollowell's motion also provided $3.5 million the next two years for monitoring local school districts and providing assistance in curriculum changes, plus $1 million for research and technical assistance.

Hollowell said his proposal meant a saving of $6.1 million from the original Senate bill.

The committee also approved a 1986-96 budget for the attorney general's department that had been under discussion several days.

The approved version gives Attorney General Jim Mattox's office a total of $76.6 million over the next two years instead of the $74.4 million allocated in the House bill.

Price also pointed out that although the special units are concentrating on removing the drinking driver from the roads, they are also enforcing other traffic laws. Along with the DWS arrests last month, overtime troopers issued 239 citations and 251 warnings for traffic offenses.

"What we're trying to do is educate the public that being killed or injured by a drunk driver is not a natural phenomenon, it's not something we have to put up with," Price said. "With the new DWI laws, a drinking driver has more to lose than ever before."

"But regardless of what is said and written, or what the law is, some are going to drink and drive and we in the Department of Public Safety will attempt to remove as many of these impaired drivers as we can," Price said.

Fireworks blast kills 9 people

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Only two craters and the foundations of a farm shed remained today at the site of an explosion that killed nine people at what police say was an illegal fireworks operation.

The blast Monday scattered body parts, corrugated metal and pink tufts of insulation over hundreds of yards. Power lines were downed and windows shattered as far as a mile away.

Angelo Kissors, chief investigator for the Mahoning County coroner's office, said the remains of one body were found 471 feet from the point of the explosion.

4-H Around the County

By DAVY VESTAL
County Extension Agent

It's that time of the year to have fun with horses. The Deaf Smith County 4-H Horse club is having fun. There are horse shows taking place all over the panhandle and 9 Deaf Smith 4-H'ers are involved in these shows which pertain to halter showing, western pleasure, showmanship, reining, stake race, barrel racing, flag race and pole bending. Those are the events in which any 4-H'er can participate in at the horse shows. Presently the club is preparing for the Deaf Smith County Horse Show to be held May 25, 9:00 a.m. at the Cowboy Country Club.

What else is happening in the Horse Club - Parades, Grand Entries and Drill team performances. Something new in 4-H, the club is organizing a 4-H drill team and still needs more members. Marilyn Erlandson is the adult leader of the drill team and if you are interested in what's happening or want to participate call her at 364-0998 or Davy Vestal at 364-3573.

What else, play days, rodeos and just plain fun. The group is presently working on trail riding activities, many play day activities and much more.

The club is holding a parent-leaders adult committee meeting Tuesday, 7:00 p.m. at the Community Center to organize the adult part of the program, plan activities & elect officers. Anyone interested in horses or the 4-H horse program is invited to attend. For more information over the Horse Club contact Davy Vestal at the Extension office - 364-3573.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Registration scheduled June 3

Texas State Technical Institute-Amarillo will hold summer quarter registration from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on June 3, at the campus Resource Center.

Programs enrolling new students for the summer quarter are aircraft mechanics, auto body repair, auto mechanics, boot and shoe operations, computer electronics, computer science, construction, cosmetology, diesel mechanics, industrial instrumentation, interior design, laser electro-optics, machine shop, meat processing and marketing, mechanical electrical technology, professional truck operations, saddle and tack making, technical office training, transport refrigeration and welding.

Summer classes will begin at 7:30 a.m. June 4.

Any day now, the folks who substituted the word "workplace" for "desk" will be calling office windows "viewing systems."

In 1981, there were more than 11.2 million Roman Catholics in Canada.

Poppy Day Scheduled

Poppy Day has been set for Wednesday with headquarters located at Hereford State Bank. Money received from contributions will be collected by members of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 192. All money donated will be used by veterans and their families and recreation parties at the V.A. Medical Center in Amarillo. This year's poppy chairman is Pet Ott, at left, assisted by Clara Trowbridge, poppy committee member. Also, helping with the event is Mary Williamson, not pictured.

Ann Landers

See lawyer at once

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our neighbors own a pit bulldog. He is a mean, aggressive animal, has attacked our son and lunged at my husband when he was playing basketball in our backyard. A four-foot-high chain-link fence separates our property but the dog is able to jump over it.

When our son was bitten I took him to the owners to show them what had happened. They apologized, said they would pay for the tetanus shot and replace the boy's shirt that had been ripped. They also agreed to keep the dog tied up. They have done nothing. In fact, they have stopped speaking to us.

Our children cannot play in our own backyard because the neighbors refuse to keep the dog tied up. Believe me, we are not dog haters nor are we looking for trouble, but that animal seems to be controlling our lives. What can we do?—A CONCERNED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: The dog sounds dangerous and your neighbors appear to be totally irresponsible. To be deprived of the use of your own backyard and live in fear is ridiculous. See a lawyer at once and get this problem resolved.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Six weeks ago I concluded 13 months of therapy with Dr. X. (I'm 35 and sought help after a devastating divorce.) I feel terrific now, thanks to this doctor and the support of wonderful family and friends.

Dr. X invited me to dinner a few days ago. I was delighted. We are both single, have a lot in common and I find him charming. A friend has informed me that it is highly unethical for a doctor to invite a patient out, even though the therapy has been terminated. I was warned that the doctor could get in trouble with the licensing board since it might be assumed we "got involved" when he was treating me.

I don't want to damage this doctor professionally. He has been awfully good to me. What are the facts?—NEED INFO IN ROYAL OAK, MICH.

DEAR R.O.: Your friend is mistaken. Patients are verboten. Former patients are OK. I hope you continue to accept his invitations and have a wuunnderful time.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 55, female and poor. Never in my wildest dreams did I ever think I would find myself in this spot.

My husband was a well-paid executive when a merger and company reorganization made him jobless. Less than six months after he lost his job he died of a heart attack. I was left with no medical insurance, no life insurance, and like many of my generation, not enough education to get a decent-paying position.

Too many people do not realize to what extent their fortunes depend on a job. When it ends, so does medical insurance and life insurance for many of us. Medical bills ate up what was left of our savings.

My big mistake was not getting an education. I married young and never occurred to me that one day I might have to support myself.

Please wise up the young women who read your column. I wish there had been an Ann Landers around to warn me.—TOO LATE SMART IN ATLANTA.

DEAR T.L.S.: All females should be trained to support themselves—early on. The notion that men are going to take care of us is as obsolete as the buggy whip. Self-reliance and independence are two of the most beautiful words in the dictionary.

Got those wedding bell blues over cost...guest list...what to wear...and other details? Ann Landers' "New Bride's Guide" will help. For a copy, send $2.00 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Chapter celebrates with birthday party

On Thursday members of Alpha Iota Mu met at the Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center to celebrate the end of the year with an annual birthday party. Secret sisters were revealed and gifts exchanged.

The social committee, headed by Kay Williams, planned the party. Beckie Fry, chapter member, catered the dinner which consisted of sandwiches, salads, fruit on skewers and strawberry shortcake. The tables were decorated with bright multi-colored striped plates, napkins and cups and balloon bouquets.

Following the dinner, there was a brief business meeting where the outgoing president, Michelle Brisendine, was presented this year's scrapbook by Fry and the scrapbook committee.

Janis White was installed as recording secretary and Connie Matthews was installed as chapter advisor. The new president, Nancy George, distributed committee assignments for next year and it was announced there would be an ice cream social May 31.

Other members present included Marge Bell, Holly Bixler, Jackie Fangman, Louann Eubanks, Lisa Gelatt, Dona Hendrickson, Carol Kelley, Ruby Lee, Jan Ramaekers, Ruby Sanders and Melinda White.

Luciano Pavarotti was born in Modena, Italy, on Oct. 12, 1935.

Astros suffer 3-1 loss to Rhoden, Pirates

By ALAN ROBINSON
AP Sports Writer

No offense, but with Rick Rhoden of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Joe Niekro of the Houston Astros facing each other Monday night, few runs figured to be scored.

That's exactly what happened as two of baseball's hardest-luck pitchers opposed each other — which may be why Rhoden himself decided to get into the swing of things.

Rhoden yielded only four hits over six innings until being lifted as a precaution because of tightness in his pitching arm and also contributed a key single as the usually punchless Pirates managed a 3-1 victory over the Astros.

Rhoden has pitched more than well in his last four starts, compiling a 1.93 earned run average, yet has only a 3-4 record to show for it — mainly because of the Pirates' inoffensive offense. On May 10 against the Los Angeles Dodgers, for example, Rhoden yielded only one run in 7 1/3 innings, yet wound up a 1-0 loser.

Padres 2, Mets 0

The New York Mets got a refresher course on the well-known dangers of letting a pitcher off the hook, courtesy of LaMarr Hoyt.

Three batters into the bottom of the first inning Monday, the Mets had a double, a single, a stolen base, and a walk off Hoyt. They had the bases loaded and nobody out, they had Gary Carter up with a 3-0 count, and they had Greg Booker warming up in the Padres bullpen.

A couple of hours later, LaMarr Hoyt was retiring the Mets in the ninth, wrapping up a four-hit shutout that beat New York 2-0.

New manager's first home game

Rangers win one for Bobby Valentine

The Bobby Valentine-led Texas Rangers opened at home to rave reviews as they gave their new manager a win that matched their best comeback ever.

The beleaguered Rangers had to overcome a 7-0 deficit before their stunning 8-7 victory over the Kansas City Royals Monday night in American League baseball action.

"That's great," Valentine said of matching the come-back record the Rangers set April 10, 1983, when they rallied from 7-0 to beat Boston 9-7. "Maybe we'll break it before the year's over."

The Rangers capped the comeback when Curtis Wilkerson scored the winning run with one out in the ninth on a wild pitch by Kansas City reliever Joe Beckwith, 1-2.

Wilkerson led off the ninth with a

HHS football scrimmage set today

The annual Maroon & White Spring Game for Hereford high school football players is scheduled at 7 p.m. tonight.

The controlled scrimmage will be played at La Plata Field.

Coach Jerry Taylor, head coach of the Herd football squad, reports that 97 athletes who will play in the 1985 season will participate in the scrimmage.

He lists 26 seniors, 24 juniors and 47 sophomores who will play in tonight's scrimmage.

A special scoring system designed for the defense will be used, and each player will play just one way, on either offense or defense.

A scrimmage for sophomore players, in which players were to play on both offense and defense, was scheduled for 3 p.m. today, also at La Plata Field.

single and advanced to second on catcher Jim Sundberg's passed ball. Rookie centerfielder Oddibe McDowell sacrificed him to third, and the Royals intentionally walked Toby Harrah and Buddy Bell to get to a slumping Larry Parrish.

Beckwith's first pitch sailed over Parrish's head to the screen, allowing Wilkerson to score the winning run and making a winner of Dave Schmidt, 2-2, the third Ranger pitcher.

The Royals wasted little time in taking the lead as they scored in the top of the first. Willie Wilson led off with a double, advanced to third on a groundout and scored on George Brett's fly ball to center.

Kansas City added four runs in the second and one in the fourth on Sundberg's third home run and one in the fifth on a walk to Steve Balboni, a double by White and Darryl Motley's sacrifice fly to take a 7-0 lead.

The Rangers got on the board in the bottom of the fifth on Gary Ward's solo homer to center, his third of the year.

Texas tied the game with a six-run sixth. McDowell popped up but wound up on second when Concepcion misplayed the ball. Harrah singled him to third and he scored on Bell's single to center.

After Parrish fouled out to third, Ward doubled, scoring Harrah. Cliff Johnson followed with a single to score Harrah and Ward, and Pete O'Brien hit his fourth homer of the year, to tie the game.

Twins 5, Red Sox 2

No matter how many saves Curt Wardle gets in his major-league career, he'll always remember the first one.

"I was real nervous," Wardle said Monday night after he notched save No. 1 by preserving the Minnesota Twins' 5-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The rookie reliever was summoned after the Red Sox loaded the bases with none out in the ninth inning against Ron Davis.

Wardle retired pinch-hitter Reid Nichols on a short fly ball, and then struck out Wade Boggs and Dwight Evans to end the game in Minnesota.

Blue Jays 6, White Sox 1

Jimmy Key pitched a four-hitter in his first complete game in the major leagues to please a Victoria Day holiday crowd of 44,715 in Toronto. It was the second-largest crowd in the Blue Jays' nine-year history.

Jesse Barfield drove in three runs, two with a home run in the second.

Angels 7, Tigers 2

Bobby Grich and Bob Boone drove in two runs apiece with two singles to help California break out of its recent hitting slump.

The Angels, batting just .217 in their previous 15 games, rapped out 10 hits against Detroit starter Walt Terrell, 4-1, and reliever Juan Berenguer.

Weight loss scams in abundance

Summer's right around the corner - if you're trying to lose pounds so you can get into that bikini, or - if you just want to look super in shorts, be sure to take a sensible approach toward weight loss. Don't fall for promotions which might take your money and leave the excess fat. The abundance of weight loss scams has caught the attention of the U.S. Senate and the Texas Attorney General. Both are vigorously investigating these "profitable promises."

Meanwhile Texas dietitians remind weight conscious consumers that sensible weight loss involves a combination of wise food selections and regular exercise that's right for you. An adequate diet can be purchased at an ordinary grocery store - and that doesn't mean celery and sparkling water! A variety of fresh fruits and vegetables, whole grain breads and cereals, low fat dairy products and lean meat, fish or poultry is the foundation for an adequate diet - there's no need to starve or try to survive on bottles of food supplements. Skipping meals doesn't help either. This practice is likely to increase appetite and cause you to overeat when you do have a meal.

For additional information about weight management that really works, consult a Registered/Licensed dietitian in your area. Where can you find one? Contact your local hospital, health department or the community resource service at your local library. Some cities have Dial-A-Dietitian services - look for a listing in the phone book or read your local news paper for Dial-A-Dietitian news columns. These columns always have a phone number which you can use to get referrals.

Aprons given to mothers

Young Homemakers of Texas met recently at La Plata Junior High School to make aprons for their mothers. Patterns and instructions were furnished by Dalene York.

The aprons were then given to members' mothers during a special luncheon at the E.B. Black House.

The chapter's advisor, Mrs. M.T. Burelsmith, was given a plant in appreciation for her work with the group.

Paula Hamby presented a program on flower arranging.

Guests recognized included Dixie Matthews, Vi Taylor, Pa Meiwes and Pat Lawson.

Members present included Melinda Henson, Brenda Meiwes, York, Gail Blain, Linda Ward, Dawn Wright and Burelsmith.

Military Muster

Marine Pfc. Michael R. Bowles, son of Edward R. and Juanita H. Bowles of 202 Northwest Drive, recently reported for duty with 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa, Japan.

The scallop swims from place to place by clapping its two shells forcefully together.

Superior Rating

A cabinet constructed by Javier Buentello won a superior rating at a recent state industrial arts contest. Buentello was among several HHS students winning at the regional and state level.
