Culpepper voted new HISD board president

During 5-hour meeting

By JERI CURTIS
Managing Editor

On a 3-2 vote, Marilyn Culpepper was elected president of the Hereford Schools board of trustees during a five-hour meeting Tuesday night.

John Fuston, Culpepper's opponent in the president's race, was elected vice president and Cal Jones was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

After election of officers, the meeting had a short recess to move from the board room into the Hereford High cafeteria in order to accommodate the crowd.

The board allowed an informal change in the agenda so that the curriculum report could be made. Mel Holubec, Hereford High biology teacher, and two students gave a slide presentation on the biology II class trip to Port Aransas, Texas, during spring break.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooper signed up to make public comments concerning priorities of the board. Mrs. Cooper questioned the decision to build a recreation building at the stadium, on what she termed "the right side of town" while Shirley Elementary needs playground equipment, and Aikman and Northwest remain without air conditioning. She also asked the board to consider again and make public the progress on its study of the controversial teacher survey.

Mrs. Cooper added that she would continue to bring up the topics until she saw "some results." She additionally showed the board a catalogue with playground equipment in it.

Her husband suggested that the air conditioning at the other schools be turned off until the energy savings amounted to the cost of installing new air conditioning the schools lacking.

Later, when the general reports on taxes, transportation, lunchroom and enrollment were given, Fuston wanted to address a few of the questions that the Coopers had asked. Mrs. Culpepper said that he could not since that was not on the agenda. Fuston requested again and Mrs. Culpepper excused herself and the board to another room to settle the "procedural problem."

Later, Mrs. Culpepper said she just wanted to stop an argument between board members and was not aware of a violation of the Texas Open Meetings Law. That law provides for executive session to be called for various discussion, however it was not known by several board members which section, if any, covered such a discussion as was held Tuesday night.

A career ladder committee was formed of John Dominguez, Raymond Schroeter and Marc Williamson to consider what teachers would be considered for the career ladder.

James Self came before the board to ask the insurance committee to consider allowing him to offer a payroll deduction plan for teachers and other employees.

The board approved the Walcott school appointment of Ernest Brown to the Deaf Smith Tax Appraisal District.

A consideration to move the absentee balloting was made. Steve Coneway will be researching a convenient place which will be accessible to the elderly and handicapped voters. The school administration office has been used for the absentee voting.

A new time for school board meetings was set for 6 p.m. instead of 5 p.m. Several persons had requested a later time so that families could be taken care of before the

Critics claim over-reaction

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The aerial assault on a radical group's house that left six people dead and a neighborhood ablaze was appropriate although it "did not turn out as intended," the mayor said, but critics said police overreacted and should have been aware of the danger of fire.

All or parts of six charred bodies, two of them children, were removed Tuesday from the ruins of the house formerly occupied by the group MOVE. Authorities said the search for victims would continue today.

Fire Commissioner William Richmond described the unidentified remains "as two male adults, one female adult, parts of another adult, one female child, and multiple parts of at least one other child."

Mayor W. Wilson Goode denounced MOVE as a group "dedicated to the destruction of our way of life" and promised the estimated 225 neighborhood residents who were displaced by the fire that the city would pay to rebuild their houses. Damage is estimated at $5 million.

MOVE follows a philosophy espoused by its founder, Vincent Leaphart, who later took the name John Africa. Its members, who use the surname Africa, eschewed contact with bureaucracy and kept scores of dogs and welcomed rats into their home as part of their back-to-nature outlook.

Some residents said the police overreacted and should not have used a helicopter to bomb the house, which authorities believed contained explosives.

Police surrounded the MOVE rowhouse in a neat, working-class neighborhood Sunday night and evacuated 200 homes. When they tried to evict MOVE members Monday on charges including possession of explosives and harassment of neighbors, MOVE refused and a gun-battle ensued.

Shultz, Gromyko agree to talks

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State George P. Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko pledged to put super-power relations on a firmer foundation during a six-hour meeting marked by "a lot of differences."

The meeting Tuesday lasted twice as long as scheduled, and Shultz told reporters afterwards that: "We spent a heavy proportion of our time on the subject of arms control."

Soviet spokesman Vladimir Lomeiko said Gromyko told Shultz there could be no progress on arms control talks in Geneva unless there was "strict adherence" to an agreement between the two men that led to the start of the talks.

Shultz and Gromyko agreed to reopen arms control negotiations on the basis that both offensive weapons and space-based defenses would be discussed. The Soviets have accused the United States of refusing to bargain on the space weapons issue during the first round of talks, but U.S. officials have denied that.

The Soviets said in a statement that Gromyko had renewed Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev's Easter Sunday call for a moratorium on design, testing and deployment of space weapons. The Soviet news agency Tass said Gromyko expressed concern over "the nonconstructive stand" of U.S. negotiators in Geneva.

Today, Shultz and Gromyko were scheduled to take part in ceremonies marking the 30th anniversary of a treaty that established a free and neutral Austria. The agreement, after 10 years of post World War II allied occupation, marked a rare instance of U.S.-Soviet cooperation.

Spokesman for both sides refused to discuss the possibility of a summit meeting between President Reagan and Gorbachev.

However, they freely pointed out issues on which Shultz and Gromyko had clashed.

School districts worried about oil ruling

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — School officials are worried about the money their school districts will lose because of a state agency ruling involving "white oil," a water-white liquid produced by chilling natural gas.

But bankers in the area downplayed the impact, saying it won't mean the end of oil fields in the Panhandle.

The Texas Railroad Commission voted 3-0 Monday in favor of Phillips Petroleum Co. and against independent oil men, who are drilling natural gas and turning it into "white oil."

"I think that we just dropped $100,000 (about 10 percent of the annual budget)," said Rex Peeples, superintendent of Groom Independent School District. "Fifty-five percent of our minerals will be declared ineligible."

"We're going to have to start scaling down our program," he said.

Phillips Petroleum has been in a debate with independents for 3½ years over the white oil issue.

Phillips has argued that white oil should not be considered crude oil and is actually natural gas.

Producers are allowed to drill one oil well every 10 acres. But only one gas well can be drilled for every 640 acres.

Independents own the oil rights in the huge eight-county Panhandle field, while Phillips and other major energy companies control the natural gas rights.

An oil well is defined as a well that produces one or more barrels of oil per 100,000 cubic feet of natural gas.

Phillips claims the independents achieve that ratio only with "LTX" refrigeration units.

The railroad commission ruled that wells with LTX units must be retested within 75 days and shut down if they do not meet the present gas-to-oil ratio.

Tom Harkey of the White Deer Independent School District superintendent, said his district could lose up to a quarter of its yearly budget because of the ruling.

"We could lose as much as $300,000 to $600,000," he said. "It could have a pretty devastating effect."

Harkey said 45 percent of the district's local tax base comes from independent oil drillers and mentioned the possible need for a tax increase.

"We're just waiting for the bad news. It's very difficult to figure out a budget for the coming year when you don't know how much tax money you're going to have," Harkey said.

Jim Holmes, superintendent of Panhandle Independent School District, said it would be days or weeks before the full impact of the commission's ruling is known.

"Obviously, it's going to be very detrimental unless it's overturned," he said. "Everything's pretty sketchy at this point."

But several bankers said the Panhandle oil fields will survive as they did before production of white oil began.

"We do not feel this is the end of the oil fields here," said Charles Cooke, president of First National Bank in Borger.

While the railroad commission ruling could mean several hundred oil and gas producers in the Panhandle can no longer derive revenue from wells equipped with the LTX units, Cooke said the impact of the decision could be smaller than many thought.

"They're just aren't that many

Expensive blueprints missing

Original blueprints valued at $5,000 and four boxes of building staples valued at about $80 were reported missing Tuesday from the site of the Hereford High School building trades class project at 1201 La Plata. According to the police report, the burglary occurred between 4 p.m. Monday and 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Tuesday afternoon it was reported that a bus parked at the Hereford Church of the Nazarene had 17 windows broken.

Police arrested one adult for shoplifting a carton of cigarettes from Priceless grocery store, took two domestic disturbance reports, and filed a report on harrasment.

Farmers' mass set Thursday

Bishop Leroy Matthiesen will join with clergy from the Hereford and Vega Catholic churches for a Farmer's Mass at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. The mass will be held on the Carl Strassus farm, 17 miles north of Hereford on U.S. 385.

The service will be an open air worship to ask blessings on this agricultural area, according to Fr. Joe Egan of St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Decorating for prom begins

Parents of seniors are needed through Friday to help decorate the Bull Barn in the "Mardi Gras" theme of the annual prom. Parent workers may come at their convenience to help since the decorating will be done during the day and night.

Parents and guests may come view the finished project from 10:30 p.m. until 1:30 a.m. on Saturday.

Texas inmate put to death

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Texas prison inmate Jesse de la Rosa, professing love for his step-mother and asking forgiveness for his sins, was put to death by injection early today for the 1979 slaying of a San Antonio convenience store clerk.

De la Rosa, 24, was pronounced dead at 12:17 a.m. CDT, four minutes after a lethal dose of chemicals was injected into veins in both arms.

He made his final statement staring at the ceiling. He told his step-mother, Carmen, who was in the death chamber with him, "I love you."

"God forgive my brothers and sisters for sins I have committed," de la Rosa said in Spanish in his final words.

Texas beauty tired after winning

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — The newly crowned Miss USA, who has won every beauty competition she's entered, says she "can't wait" for her next competition — the Miss Universe pageant in July.

"I'm going for one more. I can't wait," Laura Martinez Herring said Tuesday, one day after being crowned Miss USA.

Miss Herring, of El Paso, told The El Paso Times she was tired Tuesday, but not so much so that the excitement of her victory had ebbed.

"I'm tired, but all the adrenalin of winning is still going through me," she said.

The 21-year-old brunette never had a moment to catch her breath after her record-breaking capture of the crown in Monday night's Miss USA Pageant in Lakeland, Fla.

Edging 50 contestants, Miss Herring became the first Hispanic and first naturalized U.S. citizen to win the title in the pageant's 34-year history. She was the second Miss Texas to secure the national title. Kim Tomes of Houston was the first in 1977.

"I feel very honored to be the first Hispanic Miss USA," Miss Herring told the Times. "Of course, I want to represent everyone. But I'm more than willing to give speeches in Spanish and to talk to Mexican-American communities."

Miss Herring's fatigue came from a full night of competition and then from celebration activities that had her climbing into bed at 3 a.m. Tuesday.

After the nationally televised pageant, she was ushered to the coronation ball, a VIP party and then a judges' breakfast. She was roused at 6 a.m. for a 7 a.m. breakfast-in-bed photo appointment after which came a poolside photo sessions, interviews and an awards ceremony at Imperial Lakes, a Lakeland resort condominium development, where she accepted a trophy and check for $25,000.

Then it was off to press conferences and more poses for photographers.

Miss Herring was to go to New York today, where she'll spend a week granting interviews and resting. Her first official Texas appearance as Miss USA will be in Houston next week. She doesn't know when she'll be able to return to El Paso.

"I'm looking forward to coming home for a while," she said. "But I really don't know when I can."

A native of Mexico who became a U.S. citizen at age 14, Miss Herring has entered only three beauty pageants. She won them all.

Now, she said, her sights on set on the Miss Universe pageant July 15 in Miami.

Self-examination can fight rapidly increasing skin cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — A five-minute, monthly self-examination can help fight a deadly skin cancer whose rate has more than doubled in 10 years, an expert in the disease says.

The examination can reveal the multihued, irregular blotch of "malignant melanoma" early enough that a cure is virtually guaranteed, said Dr. Darrell Rigel, co-director of the pigmented lesions section of the skin and cancer unit at New York University Medical Center.

Rigel is co-author of an article in the journal Ca, published by the American Cancer Society, on early detection of melanoma. The society said this week that the rate of melanoma has risen faster than that of all other cancers except lung cancer.

It attributed the rise to increased popularity of suntanning, because overexposure to solar rays can lead to skin cancers years later.

Expressed in cases per 100,000 population, melanoma rose from 4.1 cases in 1970 to 8.8 cases in 1981 among women and 4.3 cases in 1970 to 10.2 cases in 1981 among men, said Dr. Arthur Holleb, the society's senior vice president for medical affairs.

Despite the increase, melanoma remains much less common than other cancers. About 22,000 cases are expected this year, with 5,500 deaths. In comparison, 144,000 cases of lung cancer and 119,000 cases of breast cancer are projected for the year.

Rigel said that in addition to an annual skin exam by a doctor, people should be examining their skin monthly by age 21. "It takes five minutes of your time to do it effectively," he said.

For self-examination, the person should use a full-length mirror and a hand-held mirror to make the entire body visible. A blow drier on the cool setting can expose the scalp, the article says.

Early melanomas can be distinguished from harmless moles by remembering an "ABCD" rule, Rigel said.

The letters stand for asymmetry, border, color and diameter. Unlike common moles, melanomas may be asymmetrical, meaning they cannot be divided into matching halves with an imaginary line. Their borders are often uneven or notched, rather than smooth. They show mixed shades of color rather than a uniform hue. And they tend to be wider than a pencil eraser, Rigel said.

People who suspect that they have found a melanoma should see a doctor, Rigel said. In addition, any new mole on a person older than 40 is reason to see a physician, Rigel said. Experts also cite changes in the elevation, surface or consistency of a mole, changes in surrounding skin, or itching or tenderness in the mole.

To prevent skin cancers in general, the cancer society recommends avoiding the sun between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., when ultraviolet rays are strongest, and using protective clothing and sunscreen preparations.

Melanoma kills by spreading to other parts of the body, especially the brain, bone, liver and lung, Rigel said. With early detection, it can be removed before it begins to spread. The surgery is usually done under local anesthesia if the melanoma is caught early enough, he said.

Jury ready in $50 million lawsuit

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A seven-man, five-woman jury has been chosen to hear the trial of a $50 million libel lawsuit filed against The El Paso Times and a former El Paso mayor.

The panel was seated Tuesday evening after more than seven hours of jury selection in the case, which was filed in April 1980 against the daily newspaper and former Mayor Tom Westfall by another ex-mayor, Ray Salazar, and real estate developer Joe Foster.

Salazar and Foster contend the newspaper and Westfall conspired to ruin their reputations. At issue in the five-year-old lawsuit are statements made by Westfall and several news articles and one editorial that dealt with a land transaction between Foster and the city when Salazar was mayor. The articles were published by the Times during 1979 and 1980.

Two prisoners escape

CHICAGO (AP) — Two inmates, including one convicted of killing Washington cardiologist Dr. Michael Halberstam in 1980, have escaped from a prison here, according to the U.S. marshal's office.

The two apparently made their escape Tuesday night by breaking a window and a portion of the surrounding wall, then lowering themselves with an electrical extension cord, said Peter Wilkes, a spokesman for the office.

He identified them as Bernard Welch, 45, of Great Falls, Va., serving 143 years to life for the murder of Halberstam, and Hugh Thomas Colomb, 31, of Rutland, Vt., serving 48 years on various charges.

"Most of the plain old... operations will continue to operate," Cooke said.

First National has no direct involvement with companies that operate the units, but Cooke said he would expect to see some economic impact on those companies he deals with that service white oil wells.

The full effect of the commission's decision won't be known until after wells with LTX units are retested, said Floyd Watson, president of First National Bank of Pampa.

"If they can continue to produce wells that are mainly black oil, then we won't see nearly the effect," Watson said.

meetings. When new committees are formed on the board the persons to study policy will consider holding two meetings a month to avoid the length of the meetings.

The board voted to purchase computers for a junior high class at each school in order to comply with a state rule for computer competency classes in seventh or eighth grades.

Dr. Harrell Holder presented a report on several building proposals for the district.

Fuston was given full representation of the school board on an ad hoc committee of members of several entities which is studying the effects of the nuclear waste repository possibilities.

Forrest elected president

Richard Forrest was elected president of the Northwest Elementary Parent Teacher Association during an organizational meeting Monday night.

Serving with Forrest will be Dan Dudley, first vice president; Linda Krtinich, second vice president; James Self, treasurer; Lela Liscano, secretary; Teresa Munoz, historian-reporter; and Mary Garcia, teacher advisor.

Delegates to the PTA convention in Amarillo are Tom Jackson, Kathy Moore, and Pat Walch with alternates, Allen Cansler, Suzanne Stevens, and Margaret Marshall.

Appointments made were for Jo Ann Bone to be parliamentarian; Karen Flood, hospitality chairman, and Jan Dudley, room representative chairman.

The group plans to have six meetings next year.

Its purpose as a group is to promote the welfare of the children, to raise the standards of home life and create better parent-teacher relationships.

Benefit dinner planned

Boy Scout Troop 50 is having a beef barbecue catered by Savage's on Thursday evening to raise money for troop activities.

The chow line is open from 5 until 8 p.m. Adult meals will be $4.50 and kids under 10 will be served for $3.

Letter to the Editor

Dear editor:

As the end of the school year nears, I would like to thank the students who ride bus No. 33 for being so cooperative, behaving, listening, and being nice to me, the driver.

I drive 140 miles a day with these children on Route 1 and I would like to thank each one of their parents for them. I would like to give a special thanks to my student assistants, Bobby and Lilly, for helping me out on the route.

Ann Landers

Have head examined

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am in my 30s and this is my second marriage. My husband is in his 40s and this is his third marriage. The whole thing seems unreal. I never thought I wanted children until my biological clock began to wind down. Suddenly motherhood became very important to me.

I told Tim I wanted to have a child. He said I was nuts and asked that I not bring up the subject again. Tim said he couldn't stand a baby crying at night, and that a kid running around the house would drive him bananas.

For two years I cried myself to sleep every night and went to work with puffy eyes. It was a very difficult time in my life but somehow I got through it.

Suddenly everything changed. Tim's "with it" son and his "hip" girlfriend just had a child out of wedlock, and guess what? My husband thinks it would be a wonderful opportunity for me to show the world what a terrific mother I can be!

"Naturally, we wouldn't adopt the child," says Tim. "We'd just keep him until Junior and his girlfriend settle down and prove they are ready to accept the responsibility of parenthood."

It has taken me four years and a lot of hard work to become a reasonably successful interior decorator. The prospect of leaving my job for temporary motherhood stinks! I don't want to be tied down, nor do I want to be a nanny to my stepson's baby.

Tim and his family feel I am being insensitive. Do I owe it to my husband to take on a responsibility that will turn my life upside down? Please give me your honest opinion. I can't think straight anymore.—TOPSY TURVY IN SUNNYVALE.

DEAR VALE: If you knuckle under and agree to take the child you ought to have your head examined. Continue with your career and let Tim's kids accept the responsibilities that are theirs. P.S. Have you considered asking your husband to give up HIS job and show the world what a great, terrific father HE can be?

Poppy distribution scheduled May 22

President Geneva Holden conducted the business meeting when members of the American Auxiliary met recently in Legion Hall.

It was announced that the annual poppy distribution will be held May 22 with headquarters to be located at Hereford State Bank. Chairmen of this project are Pet Ott, Clara Trowbridge and Mary Williamson.

A memorial will be given to the First Christian Church in memory of Dollie Mae Rogers, mother of Carol Lohr.

Committee reports were heard from Lela Kemerer, community service chairman, and Trowbridge, finance chairman. Also, a recreation party is to be held every month at King's Manor Retirement home and the V.A. Medical Center in Amarillo.

The Auxiliary voted to give a scholarship to an eligible senior at Hereford High School.

A zone meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Legion Hall. Legion members and Auxiliary members are invited to attend.

Troyce Hanna reported on the Spring District Convention held recently at Vega.

The Legion joined the Auxiliary for refreshments served by Holden and Trowbridge.

Tea Party Time

The Deaf Smith County Museum is filled with history and all sorts of items to fascinate children. Of particular interest to Diana Detten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Detten is her new "friend" which is sharing a make believe cup of tea. A new feature of the museum is the Lomas-Hacker Barn which will be open for public viewing during the annual Deaf Smith County Historical Society meeting set for 2 p.m. Sunday, May 26, at the museum. Anyone wishing to join the society may do so during the meeting or by contacting the museum.

For poisonings

Prevention best treatment

Of the more than 1 million poisonings reported across the country each year, about 70 percent involve children under 5 years old.

Tragically, parents contribute to many of these incidents by neglecting to put poisonous household products and medicines out of the sight and reach of youngsters.

The Texas Medical Association warns that poisonings can involve everything from soaps, detergents, and certain plants to cologne, vitamins, and aspirin.

Severe poisonings can result from toilet bowl cleaners, auto battery acid, swimming pool chemicals, drain cleaners, dishwasher soaps, industrial strength cleaners, furniture polish, charcoal lighter fluid, gasoline, and pesticides.

TMA's Committee on Emergency Medical Services and Trauma says the best treatment is prevention and offers these tips:

—Do not store household products under the sink.

—Lock all medicines. Pour out-of-date medicines into the toilet and flush.

—Never transfer a cleaning fluid, solvent, or other poisonous substance into an unmarked container.

—Keep insecticides, paint, turpentine, gasoline, charcoal lighter fluid, and furniture polish in locked areas.

—Do not leave medicine, personal-care products, or cleaners in open areas or window sills.

—Always turn on a light when giving medications.

—Parents should know the number of the poison control center in their area. The statewide poison hotline number is 1-409-765-1420.

Defeat Philadelphia 106-98

Celtics take 2-0 series lead over 76ers

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD AP Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Although Larry Bird's shooting touch was on vacation for most of the game, the Boston Celtics had someone else to keep the Philadelphia 76ers at bay until Bird found the range.

Bird was 4-of-17 from the field for the first three periods Tuesday night, but Kevin McHale's 16 first-half points kept the Celtics close until Dennis Johnson and Robert Parish led a 32-18 third-quarter surge that put Boston in control.

Bird then found his shooting touch in the fourth quarter, scoring 13 of his game-high 24 points to keep the Celtics ahead en route to a 106-98 victory that gave them a 2-0 lead over the 76ers in their best-of-seven National Basketball Association playoff series.

While Bird finally got untracked, Andrew Toney, the 76ers' best shooter, never did stop clanging the rims, finishing 3-of-17 from the field and scoring only seven points.

"Until the fourth quarter, my shots weren't falling either," Bird said when asked about Toney's slump. "But I had guys who picked me up and he didn't. One guy's shooting isn't the biggest factor in deciding the game."

"I can't remember when I have shot as badly as this game," said Toney, who often has been a thorn in Boston's side with a deadeye jumper. "If I had made half of my shots tonight we would have won."

The series resumes with Games 3 and 4 in Philadelphia on Saturday and Sunday.

In the first 16 minutes of Tuesday's game, Philadelphia appeared to have enough to survive without Toney, using a 26-9 spurt to take its largest lead at 38-25. But McHale, who finished with 22 points, scored six during a 20-10 run that helped the Celtics trim the deficit to 52-46 at halftime.

"We were surprised that we were only down six at the half," Bird said, "and we came out in the second half confident that we could come back. We played very well in the third quarter. Too bad I wasn't involved in it, but D.J. and Robert did a great job."

Johnson scored 10 of his 22 points in the quarter and Parish added nine of his 13 points and eight of his game-high 16 rebounds as the Celtics turned the six-point deficit into a 78-70 lead going into the final period. With Bird finding the range, the 76ers could get no closer than four points in the last 12 minutes.

Julius Erving led Philadelphia with 22 points, while Moses Malone had 20 points and 13 rebounds. Clint Richardson, playing 30 minutes in relief of the downtrodden Toney, scored 15 points.

"We won't change our defensive plan against Toney, even if he's 1-for-20," said Boston Coach K.C. Jones. "Any time he steps on a court, he's capable of hitting anything."

Junior high golfers play in 9-hole rounds

Three golf teams, in which athletes from both La Plata Junior High School and Stanton Junior High School played for, competed in a nine-hole tournament last Friday.

A boys' "A" team, boys' "B" team, and a girls' "A" team participated in the round at the Amarillo Southwest Golf Course against athletes from Canyon and Valley View schools.

Hereford individual golfers placed first in each of the three divisions.

This Friday, junior high school golf rounds will be played at Pitman Municipal Golf Course in Hereford. The rounds are scheduled for a 4:30 p.m. start.

In the boys' "A" division, Kelby Hager was first with a score of 39 as the Hereford team placed second to Valley View.

The Valley View team had a score of 169, Hereford's score was 172, and Canyon was third with a 169.

Other Hereford individuals played in the boys' "A" round, and their scores, were: Jason Bullard and Todd Collier, each shooting a 43, and Jay Chapman and Todd Schroeder, each shooting a 47.

Amy Conway of Hereford turned in a score of 47 to finished first in the girls' "A" round.

All of the Hereford girls' golfers had scores better than or equal to the best round by any of the golfers from Canyon or Valley View.

Paula Moore recorded a score of 50, Brenda Martinez had a total of 51, and Naomi Grijalva shot a 57.

The best score by a Canyon girls' golfer was a 57, and the best effort by a Valley View girl was a 60.

Since Canyon and Valley View each just had three girls participating, no team scores were kept for the girls' round.

In the boys' "B" round, Scott Simon of Hereford shot the best round, a 44. Other Hereford boys and their scores were: Jason Scott, 46; Billy Burnam, 47; and Michael Berend, 51.

Hereford was second with a team score of 188, two strokes behind the Canyon "B" team. The Valley View "B" team's score was 202.

After the rounds in Hereford Friday, there will be one more day with junior high school golf competition. Those rounds will be played on Friday, May 24 at Hunsley Hills Golf Course in Canyon.

Second Place Women's Team

Nuggets run over Lakers 136-114

By KEN PETERS
AP Sports Writer
INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Los Angeles Coach Pat Riley said there might be a slight difference of opinion about the defense the Denver Nuggets used on Lakers' center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar in the second game of their playoff series.

"They played a very physical game," Riley said. "They keyed on Kareem. Some call it good defense ... and others call it karate."

Denver Coach Doug Moe's view, of course, tended to support the "good defense" view after the Nuggets downed the Lakers 136-114 Tuesday night to even their best-of-seven National Basketball Association series 1-1.

"What a game, what a game!" the elated Moe said of the contest that saw Abdul-Jabbar sent to the showers when he drew two technical fouls, the second for wrestling the Nuggets' Danny Schayes to the floor late in the final period.

"We were playing — they were the ones throwing elbows and tackling us," said Moe, whose club hosts the next two games, on Friday and Sunday.

Alex English scored 40 points, including 19 in the final quarter, as the Nuggets sprinted away after leading by just 89-86 at the start of the period.

The Lakers, plagued by poor shooting (47.1 percent) and turnovers (24) throughout the game, grew increasingly frustrated as the Nuggets took control in the fourth quarter.

That frustration erupted when Abdul-Jabbar, held to 4-of-16 shooting from the floor and 13 points, scuffled with Schayes, Denver's reserve center.

Abdul-Jabbar's automatic ejection for drawing two technicals came after Schayes and the Lakers' Earvin "Magic" Johnson tangled briefly under the Nuggets' basket. Abdul-Jabbar grabbed Schayes and rode him to the floor and held him there. No punches were thrown.

The cheerleaders of the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League are known as the Angels.

Abdul-Jabbar and Schayes had exchanged shoves a minute before the incident, with that resulting in the Los Angeles center's first technical.

Abdul-Jabbar, out of the game with six minutes to play and the Lakers trailing 113-97, quickly left the Lakers' locker room and was not available for comment.

"I was not out there trying to elbow people, particularly not Abdul-Jabbar," Schayes said. "He's the greatest player that ever lived."

"He was under the assumption that I was elbowing him in the face every time. Magic said I hit him in the face and then Kareem just came up and put a choke hold on me."

Johnson said: "He (Schayes) elbowed me in the chin and I went over to tell him and then it all broke loose."

Both sides seemed to think the incident would be forgotten by the next game.

"We're pros, we just come to do the job," said Riley. "Denver will be tough to play on the road, and I think this win will give them a little more confidence."

"One game has no connection with the other," Moe said.

He seemed to be one of those who gained confidence as the Nuggets bounced back from a 139-122 series-opening loss.

"I'm the supreme optimist, and even I was beginning to have my doubts," Moe said. "But we didn't win 52 games this season for nothing ... We're not chopped liver."

"It's a thrill for us," he said. "Who gave us a chance? There wasn't one person in the NBA who gave us a prayer that we'd win this game. They may come back and beat us by 50, but what the heck."

Dan Issel added 22 points for the Nuggets, and Calvin Natt and Elston Turner contributed 18 points each.

Byron Scott led the Lakers with 22 points and James Worthy had 17.

Astros record 17 hits, shut out Montreal 10-0

By The Associated Press
Astros Jerry Mumphy, Bill Doran and Craig Reynolds boosted their batting averages to help rattle a previously relentless Montreal pitching staff and give Houston a four-game winning streak.

Craig Reynolds led the way with four hits and Mumphy and Doran each collected three to aid a 17-hit Astro attack en route to a 10-0 victory over the Montreal Expos Tuesday night.

"You can't let up," said Reynolds. "We've done that in the past and it has cost us some ball games."

Reynolds inflated a .246 average into a .288 mark when the Astro shortstop recorded his fifth career four-hit game.

"I'm not swinging the bat as well as I have in the past," Reynolds said. "The ball is just falling in."

Montreal pitcher Joe Hesketh supported that idea and still believes the Expo pitching staff is solid.

"We battled tough last night," said Hesketh. "Tonight they were not hitting the ball hard, they just hit it into places where we didn't have men."

Mumphy, who came into Tuesday night's contest hitting .238, went 3-for-4 and collected three RBI to pull with three of Jose Cruz for the team lead in runs batted in.

Doran, who had hit home runs in his last two outings, came close again but tripled to highlight his three-hit performance and boost his average to .293. The Houston second baseman also extended his hitting streak to 10 games.

"We found some holes tonight, and Mumphy broke loose," said Astro Manager Bob Lillis.

In addition to 17 hits, rookie Ron Mathis, 2-1, the Astros' fifth starter, and second-year pitcher Mark Ross combined on a seven-hitter to shut down the Montreal attack.

"It's a tough situation, but I just try to stay in shape," said Mathis about being in the fifth spot in the rotation.

Houston took a 2-0 lead in the second inning when Phil Garner doubled, Mark Bailey walked and Reynolds lashed a two-run double down the right field line.

The Astros added two more in the third off losing pitcher Steve Rogers, 2-3. A leadoff double by Denny Walling, an RBI single by Mumphy along with Terry Francona's throwing and a run-scoring single by Bailey made the score 4-0.

Singles by Doran, Terry Puhl, Walling and Mumphy added three more runs in the fourth off reliever Ed Glynn and a leadoff triple by Doran and an infield single by Cruz made the score 7-0 after five.

Errors by U.L. Washington and Dan Driessen allowed the Astros to push across their final two runs in the eighth to complete the scoring.

The only pitcher in major league baseball history to win two straight MVP awards is Hal Hewhouser, in 1944 and 1945.

Cowboys coach says 'No'

Tom Landry to run for governor?

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Dallas Cowboys coach Tom Landry said he has "no great interest" in running for governor of Texas next year, but former Gov. Bill Clements said Landry told him he is considering such a race, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported today.

Clements, Texas' only Republican governor in modern times, said Landry is one of nine people who "have directly told me, 'Yes, I am thinking about making the gubernatorial race,'" the newspaper said.

Clements refused to discuss his conversation with Landry in depth, the story said.

The man who served as governor from 1979-82 before being beaten by incumbent Gov. Mark White, a Democrat, said he and his wife, Rita, had "a very delightful, long conversation" about two weeks ago with Landry and his wife, Alicia, during which the governor's race was discussed.

Landry said, "We were speculating on who might be running for governor, and (Clements) suggested I consider running. I have no great interest in running for any political office, although both he and I want a strong Republican to run."

Landry, 60, who has been coach of the National Football League team since its first season in 1960, added:

"I was flattered that he would want me to consider running, but I am coaching a football team and have two years left on my contract."

Although he said he would not rule out a future political race, Landry said former Cowboys quarterback Roger Staubach would be a more likely candidate. Staubach's name surfaced frequently as a possible GOP candidate for the U.S. Senate in 1982, when Sen. Lloyd Bentsen last ran for reelection.

H.O. "Bum" Bright, who has been active in Texas Republican fundraising efforts and who is the principal owner of the Cowboys, said he has heard nothing about a possible Landry candidacy and would be surprised if it became a reality.

Sports banquet set Friday at Walcott School

A sports banquet, which will be a covered dish supper, is scheduled Friday at Walcott School.

The event begins at 7 p.m. Friday at the school auditorium.

The main feature at the banquet will be the showing of a video tape of athletic events in which students at the school participated in.

All of the school's athletes will be honored. Basketball trophies and track meet ribbons will be awarded.

Schramm said Landry has made no mention to him of a possible race, "and picturing him as a politician would be a little difficult."

"He is interested in government and politics, but I've never heard him mention any interest in running for office," Schramm added.

If he did run, Landry would probably make a good governor, Schramm continued, and said Landry has "an ongoing contract" that would not keep him from making a political race.

Clements said if no strong Republican candidate emerges, he will consider making a second race against White.

The eight others who have told him of an interest in seeking the GOP gubernatorial nomination, Clements said, are former U.S. Rep. Kent Hance, who recently switched parties; U.S. Rep. Tom Loeffler; Amarillo oilman T. Boone Pickens; former State Sen. Bill Meier; former State Sen. Mike Richards; Harris County Judge Jon Lindsay; State Sen. J.E. "Buster" Brown; and former Texas House Speaker Bill Clayton.

Clements said Clayton, a Democrat, told him he is planning to switch to the Republican Party.

Clayton told the Star-Telegram he told Clements he is "considering" making a switch.

Clayton, a lobbyist in Austin, said he expects to make a decision on party affiliation and a possible political race only after the end of the current session of the Texas Legislature.

A buck in the hand is worth more than a garage full of Junk.

Paul Harvey

So you are going to have a baby. A pair never beat a full house, they say. Into such a world you are about to bring a baby. Next month, maybe. You are not human if you have not wondered through each long night...If it is right. Mothers have worried about that since a long time before you switched to low heels. You'll have to endure the mornings and the waiting and the dieting and the waiting and the wondering and the waiting...alone. But in worrying, you have lots of company. When Nancy of Kentucky entered the valley of the shadow what was there for her baby? The British were shooting at us in a prelude to war... A former candidate for president and member of the Senate was being tried for treason. Her husband was an illiterate, wandering laborer. But in the agony of poverty, war, and public scandal...Nancy Lincoln's baby was born. Suppose you had been Mary, a slave girl. To you, in Diamond Grove, Missouri, in 1864, it would have seemed the whole mad world was aflame. Civil war matched the cruel weapons of Grant and Lee. Sherman was shooting and looting his way to the sea. Had Mary known that six weeks later she and her boy child would be kidnapped by night riders and that she would never be heard from again...it would not have changed things. She would have had her baby. For, there were reasons George Washington Carver had to be. There were important reasons. We were at war with Mexico when tiny Tom Edison arrived in Ohio. The day he invented the electric light...out in Indian Territory...to two worried half-breed Cherokee Indians...a boy was born. He was named Will...Rogers. In Minnesota Edith was frightened, too. In 1898 the United States was barely struggling to its financial feet when the battleship Maine blew up and the Spanish-American War exploded with it. At the height of the storm Edith's child was born - Charles Mayo of Rochester. It was uncertain adventure for Harry and Catherine Crosby of Tacoma, Washington. Then, too, there was a war to be won. But more, there was a song to be sung. And Bing was born. That is what I am trying to say. That is the whole of it...That there is an important job to do...For a teacher, preacher, mechanic...For a barber, carpenter, doctor or somebody to grub out the sewers. It is important. For it is the soul of man that has to be tried. And eternity is being populated. Each must test his wings alone...Until he flies. Then they will take this small world from us and give u the skies. But we have to be here, first. That is why what you are about to do is so important. For each woman there is this personal Garden of Gethsemane. She goes there for strength. I have not tried to tell you it is easy...Only that it is terribly important. None, holding your hand, can erase the terror...Born of the lateness of the hour. And the stories of old women. Always old ones. Often childless. Impatient, tired, you will, of course, be worried. Since long before Mary, mothers have been anxious for their offspring. But have borne them in stables and hidden them in bulrushes. Have born them unattended in the bouncing bed of a Conestoga wagon racing to out-distance savages...In unheated frontier cabins...Or...just as alone...midst the antiseptic whiteness of great hospitals. A while of moonlight and roses...A lifetime of dishwasher and diapers...Toys that will not run...noses that will not stop... And women...back into the garden...and again... Barefoot over broken glass... Humming a lullaby. 1985, Los Angeles Times Syndicate
