Soviets regain role as top arms exporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — After trailing the United States in 1983, the Soviet Union regained its role as the world's leading arms exporter last year with sales of $9.4 billion, the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency says.
 U.S. sales for 1984 totaled $7.7 billion, according to a new report, "World Military Expenditures and Arms Transfers."

The report, released Thursday, also said the U.S.-Soviet share of arms sales worldwide dropped below 50 percent for the first time ever, with the United States accounting for 22 percent and the Soviets 26.9 percent.
 The declining share of the two superpowers reflects the increased arms-selling role of Soviet allies in Eastern Europe as well as France, Great Britain and Italy. Although the report did not provide figures, it said France for the first time sold more weaponry to developing countries last year than did the United States.

For many years, the United States ranked at the top of the list of arms exporters. But the Soviets have outstripped the United States in five of the past seven years, according to the study.
 The report also said:
 —The Soviet Union, with 4.4 million, and China, with 4.1 million, had by far the largest number of military personnel worldwide in 1983. The United States was third with 2.2 million. The global total was 28.4 million.

 —The countries that earmarked more than 30 percent of their respective gross national products on military spending in 1983 were concentrated in the Middle East. In this

Spy's defection may cost much information

LONDON (AP) — The defection of a top Soviet agent enabled British authorities to unmask 25 other Russian spies, but may cost the West its most important source of information inside the KGB, British and Danish officials said.

The British government announced on Thursday the defection of Oleg A. Gordievski, identified as the chief British operative of the KGB, the Soviet secret police and espionage agency.
 Simultaneously, it said 25 Soviet nationals identified by Gordievski were being expelled for alleged espionage activities.
 Officially the political counselor at the Soviet Embassy, Gordievski had served at the Soviet Embassy in Copenhagen in the 1970s. Danish officials revealed Thursday that he had established contacts with their counter-espionage at that time.

Minister of Justice Erik Ninn-Hansen said in a television interview the Soviet diplomat had been "an extremely important source of information to our security."

Holding skunk was her oddest task

By SANDY PANKEY
 Lifestyles Editor

"I guess holding the hind legs of a skunk while it was being 'de-cented' was the most unusual task I have ever had to perform while being employed," Lois Gililland reminisced.

Maybe Gililland's position as executive director of Deaf Smith County Museum hasn't been quite that outrageous, but she said she has had her "interesting" moments.

Gilliland officially retired Sept. 1 but is staying on to help her predecessor Juanita Phillips learn the ropes.

The women will be honored by the public during a reception from 2-5 p.m. Sunday at the E.B. Black House. The event is being hosted by the Deaf Smith County Historical Society Board of Directors with Mary Kay McQuigg and Ella Marie Viegell serving as special events chairmen.

Gilliland was hired in January of 1975 as director by the Commissioners Court. "I was probably the only job applicant," she laughed.

In reality she had the necessary credentials, among them being her love for history and her avid interest in the pioneer families of this area even though she was a native of Colorado.

"I came to Canyon with my family when I was 10 years old," she explained, "and attended fifth grade through college there. I graduated from what was then known as West Texas State Teachers College.

"I moved to Hereford and taught school. It was during this time that my mother became a housemother at WT. McCaslin Hall is named after her," she added. "She served as housemother in the cooperative home for over 18 years."

"You have to remember that at that time were living in the depression and many young people didn't have the funds to attend school."

"The girls lived in the dorm and worked for part or most of their school tuition. They cooked and cleaned, too."

"Other expenses they incurred at school were covered if they could bring produce from home. It was definitely a different era," Gililland recalled.

While teaching at Hereford High School, she met her future husband Jack, who was then a practicing veterinarian.

"My roommate and I rented a duplex from his mother so it was more or less inevitable that we meet. Besides the young men in town always checked out the new school teachers," she laughed.

"After we married, I quit teaching and didn't have a paid job again until I became museum director," she quipped.

The years between 1943 and 1975 were spent helping her husband at his clinic, doing volunteer work and raising her family.

The couple have two children, a daughter, Mary Beth Johnson, who lives in Waterford, Wis., and a son, B.J., who is a partner with Gililland-Nieman Associates, Inc., in Hereford.

"I made the usual rounds of PTA meetings, served as roommother for both children, attended Camp Fire functions and watched ball games," Gililland said.

She was also actively involved in the First Baptist Church where she taught Sunday School and was a volunteer with the American Cancer Society, and the Red Cross and helped with numerous fund drives.

She is currently a member of Bay View Study Club, Los Ciboleros Chapter of NSDaughters of the # Chain store to test seat belts for carts

DALLAS (AP) — Just as Texas motorists are getting accustomed to a new mandatory seatbelt law, the Kroger supermarket chain is trying out seatbelts in shopping carts for kids.

The grocery chain said three of its Dallas stores are putting seatbelts in 50 carts at each store.

Kroger spokesman Peter Larkin said the company would test the belts for several months before deciding whether to put some seatbelts in each of its 68 area stores.

He said the cost of doing that would be about $10,000.

"First we want to test the belts to measure customer reaction, see how they hold up and test the design of the belts," he said.

Larkin said there wasn't any particular incident that caused the company to try out the kiddie safety belts, but children do "get rambunctious and do fall over in the cart or fall out occasionally."

"This should help keep those minor accidents from happening," he said.

Parade, coronation, dances set

Fiestas Patrias kickoff tonight

Local residents will join in celebrating the rich Mexican heritage of the Southwest with the Fiestas Patrias this weekend.

Sponsored and organized by the San Jose Catholic Church, Hereford's Fiestas Patrias celebration will kick off Friday evening and will continue through Saturday night with members of various organizations helping to conduct activities and selling Mexican food during the events.

On the agenda of the Fiestas Patrias are several events ranging from a parade to musical entertainment and dances.

The Fiesta officially begins with a dance celebrating Mexican Independence to begin at 8 p.m. at the San Jose Church Hall.

Representing all Mexican people, Corina Garcia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Garcia, Sr. was elected to be the Fiestas Patrias Queen for the 1985-86 year.

The Grande Bailes De Las Fiestas will feature the grand march and coronation of the queen at 9 p.m.. The national anthems of Mexico and of the United States of America will be sung at 11 p.m. and midnight. Los Nortenos de Chich. will be the band. Tickets are $5 per person.

The Fiestas Patrias parade will begin at 3 p.m. Saturday going on a route from the Hereford High School parking lot, west on Park Avenue, down Main Street, and ending at Second Street.

The queen will make her first appearance at the Fiestas Patrias parade with her escort, Joe Mendez Jr. on a lush white and rose flowered float with an arched trellis that women of the church decorated.

Attendants holding the queen's cape will be Joe Anthony Garcia III and Raquel Villarreal.
 Riding atop flowered cars will be Rosemary Castillo as Ms. Texas; Elisa Castillo as Ms. Mexico; Yvette Vallejo as Ms. USA and Delma Garcia as Ms. Bluebonnet.

Gloria Zuniga, Fiestas Princess who was runner-up to the queen, will be following on a float of her own. Ferman Olivarez will be her escort.

Others to appear will be Cindy Vallejo as Ms. Yellow Rose; Gloria Rocha as Ms. Fuschia; and Ms. Red Rose, Belinda Pesqueda.

Concluding the Fiestas Patrias 1985 on Saturday will be a dance at Debrun Warehouse one block east of the big bull barn.

There will be a display of both Mexico and U.S.A. flags proclaiming "Viva La Independencia" with Los Sunshiners, Los Nortenos de Chich and La Brisa Marina Band playing for the event.

Tickets will cost $7 per person and $13 per couple in advance, and $8 per person and $14 per couple at the door.

Food booths will feature home-made tamales and other authentic foods and the public is welcome to attend.

The queen is chosen by election of the people. "Cannisters are placed in stores, selling food at food booths, and sponsoring dances are the fund-raisers the queen candidates organize in order to raise money for the church," said Jose Garcia of First National Bank, who is in charge of the activities held every year.

Candidates start working on fund-raising events as soon as April and the girl who raises the most money on her fund drive wins the title.

John Fuston was first on the scene to assist in catching water coming through the roof and ceiling, then Ray Schlabs Jr. came running with plastic and wood strips. Glen Hendrickson saw the activity and reported with his ladder, and the three men went on the roof to lay the plastic.

When O.E. went into his house for other materials and returned, Carey Black had joined the trio working on the roof in the rain.

The job was well done, reports Durham. Thanks, O.E., for reporting about these "good neighbors of the night!"

Hereford's Whitefaces go to Amarillo tonight to take on District 3-5A favorite Palo Duro, and a host of Herd fans are sure to follow. The Herd gave state-ranked San Angelo a tough battle before bowing by 25-13 in the opener last week, prompting Palo Duro Coach Doug James to call Hereford the "most under-rated team in the state."

The Herd missed starting linebacker Curtis Cotten in the opener, and he won't be ready for action for a couple of weeks. Brett Clements broke a bone in his hand in the first game, so the Whitefaces will have to get strong linebacking performances from their back-up players. It should be a great game and a large crowd is expected at the game tonight.

Ann Landers

Situation isn't unique

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I can't believe this crazy thing has happened, but it has. Am I some kind of a nut?

I am a professional woman in my mid-40s and have been married over 20 years. My daughter is a freshman in high school and the boys are just discovering her. She is not allowed to go with boys in their cars. I drive them in mine or they come to the house to visit.

One particular boy is a senior in high school, over 6 feet tall, very tan, blue eyes and blonde hair. His mother is remarried and he lives in a trailer with his father who works the third shift. At various times when he has come to the house he seemed very troubled and needed someone to talk to.

As we chatted I often patted his arm or shoulder as a consoling gesture. He is a shy person but responded in a positive way. Soon he was putting an arm around me and hugging hello and goodbye.

Last week he stopped over when my daughter was at a slumber party. We had a soft drink, he was telling me about summer school, how he had fixed his car, described a video he had seen — all kid stuff — light conversation. When we reached the door he said, "I'm going to do something that I've been wanting to do for a long time, but I don't want you to get mad." With that he kissed me full on the lips! I was shocked and just stood there. I made no effort to stop him. I have to admit I enjoyed it a great deal, but I made light of the incident and said, "No more sugar tonight — shoo, shoo, be on your way."

But the truth is I have been unable to think of anything but having that kid's arms around me and kissing me. I realize this sounds absolutely crazy. I don't know what has come over me.

I have avoided him when he comes to see my daughter because I don't know how to deal with my feelings. I don't blame the young man. I feel as if I have lost control and don't know what to do. There is no way I can talk about this with anyone. I'd sound like a mental case. What can I do? I am absolutely obsessed with this kid. He is in my thoughts constantly. I can't believe this is happening. Have you ever heard of anything so bizarre?

Here I am, a woman who has never cheated on my husband, and I've gone bonkers over an 18-year-old. Please be there for me as you have been there for so many others.—OFF THE WALL IN WASHINGTON

DEAR WASHINGTON: First, stop thinking of your situation as unique. I have received similar letters from women who found themselves in the same spot.

Certainly this is nothing that can be discussed with a relative or friend. You need a professional to unload on — someone who can listen and explain the extent of damage that would result if you should give in to your yearnings.

It could wreck your marriage, destroy your relationship with your daughter and ruin your reputation.

A competent counselor can calm you down and help you to think rationally. Ask your family doctor to recommend a therapist. The nature of the problem need not be disclosed.

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom," could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50 cents with your request and a long stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

HHS junior varsity grid teams suffer losses

The Hereford High School Maroon junior varsity football team held an 8-0 halftime lead Thursday at Clovis, N.M., but lost the contest 15-8. Clovis scored a touchdown in the third quarter and another in the fourth quarter to defeat the Maroon team.

In other junior varsity action, the HHS White junior varsity was shut out by Caprock, 20-0, in a game played in Hereford Thursday.

The Maroon junior varsity's first-quarter touchdown was scored when Kyle Streun caught a six-yard touchdown pass from Raymond Romo.

Romo then passed to Bobby Robbins for the two-point conversion, giving Hereford an 8-0 lead.

"The Maroon junior varsity played a very hard fought game. Their effort will pay off in later experiences," said Coach Eddie Richardson.

Next week, the White junior varsity will play at home against Clovis in a 5:30 p.m. Thursday contest. The Maroon junior varsity will play at Palo Duro High School, at 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

This week's games were the first of the season for each team. On Sept. 5, the Maroon and White teams combined to play against Amarillo, defeating the Amarillo High School junior varsity 34-14.

Stanton ninth grade defeats Plainview Blue

Two Stanton Junior High School football teams opened the 1985 season Thursday, with the ninth grade team defeating Plainview Blue 28-6 and the eighth grade team losing to Valley View 16-0.

Next week the Stanton ninth grade team will play at home against Houston at 4:30 p.m. Thursday. The eighth grade has an open week.

Stanton moved out to a big 16-0 lead in the first quarter of the ninth grade game Thursday, and held a halftime lead of 16-6 over Plainview Blue.

Keith Brown scored the first Stanton touchdown with a 12-yard run, and Pat Mercer ran for the two-point conversion.

Dan Klepec caught a 31-yard touchdown pass from Mercer for the second touchdown of the first quarter. Brown rushed for the two-point conversion.

Plainview scored with a six-yard run in the second quarter for its lone touchdown of the game.

Mercer made the score 22-6 in the third quarter when he rushed six yards for a touchdown.

In the fourth quarter, Brown intercepted a Plainview Blue pass and returned it 76 yards to the end zone. Stanton failed in both of its extra-point attempts of the second half.

In the eighth grade game, Stanton trailed Valley View 8-0 after one quarter of play in the 16-0 loss to Valley View. Valley View scored its other touchdown with 26 seconds left in the game.

Stanton Coach Pat Liles notes that Don Hathaway rushed for 54 yards in 11 carries, and that the pass receptions included a 15-yard catch by Jason Leub and an eight-yarder by Zane Watts.

"Robert Marrian played a very good defensive game," Liles said, noting that Marrian had 15 unassisted tackles in the game.

Two La Plata football teams begin season

The 1985 football season opened Thursday for the La Plata Junior High School eighth and ninth grade football teams.

The ninth grade team led Bonham of Amarillo 8-0 in the first quarter of a contest played in Hereford, but lost to Bonham 14-8.

La Plata's eighth grade team fell to Canyon 20-6 in a game at Canyon.

Jason Scott completed a 30-yard pass to wingback Frankie Murillo for the La Plata ninth grade touchdown against Bonham. Scott then passed to tight end Brad Smith for the two-point conversion.

"The touchdown came on a good drive with Scott and Kyle Andrews carrying the ball," Coach Ed Coplen said.

Coplen said players having an outstanding game included Andrews, a running back, offensive linemen Todd Collier, Bryan Watts and Jerry Jimenez, and defensive players Joe Medrano and Brad Smith.

Bonham scored a touchdown in the second quarter, and added a touchdown and two-point conversion in the third quarter.

La Plata and Canyon were tied at halftime in the eighth grade game Thursday. Canyon then outscored La Plata 14-0 in the second half for a 20-6 victory.

La Plata gained a 6-0 lead in the first quarter when quarterback Robert Cavin completed a 30-yard pass to Gene Hillwig, a split end.

"We had a very good effort from everybody," said Coach Tommy Bowling. "Gene Hillwig made a nice run for the touchdown after catching the pass."

Canyon scored its first touchdown in the second quarter, and then added one score in each of the last two quarters.

Both the La Plata eighth and ninth grade football teams will be in action next Thursday.

The ninth grade team plays a road game against Bowie at 4:30 p.m. Thursday, and the eighth grade team plays at home against Friona at 6 p.m. Thursday.

Bass leads Houston past Giants, 5-2

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

Playing regularly has helped Houston Astros veteran Kevin Bass relax at the plate, improve his batting average and feel more secure about his future.

"I'm much more relaxed at the plate because I know I will play tomorrow," Bass said after knocking a triple and a double and driving in a run to lead the Astros to a 5-2 victory Thursday over the San Francisco Giants.

"In the past I've tensed up thinking that this will be my last game I don't produce," he said.

The win is Houston's 12th in their last 14 games.

Bass, who is second on the team in home runs with 13, is tied for second in RBI with 54, while hitting .258 in 449 at bats.

He has been a key factor in the Astros' September hot streak, hitting .352 in his last 13 games.

Rookie Charlie Kerfeld, 2-2, pitched seven innings, giving up one run on six hits while walking one and striking out three.

The Giants took a 1-0 lead in the first when Ron Roenicke doubled, took third on Joel Youngblood's infield single and scored on Dan Driessen's fielder's-choice grounder.

Houston tied the game in its half of the first when Bill Doran reached on shortstop Rich Adams' throwing error and scored on Bass' double.

The Astros took a 3-1 lead in the fifth, when Bass hit a two-out triple and scored on Jose Cruz's single. After a walk to Glenn Davis, Mark Bailey singled in Cruz from second.

Houston added two runs in the seventh. Glenn Davis drove in one run with a single and Bass scored on a passed ball by catcher Bob Brenly.

Dan Gladden knocked in the Giants' second run in the ninth with a fielder's-choice grounder.

Mets 7, Cardinals 6
Keith Hernandez couldn't have picked a better time to break out of his slump.

"I was hoping we'd get something going for me (in the ninth inning)," said Hernandez, who hit a run-scoring single to lead the New York Mets to a 7-6 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday in a tense battle of National League East Division contenders.

The victory in the rubber game of the three-game series lifted the Mets into first place over the Cardinals by a game.

"That was a big win for us," said Hernandez, who was 0-for-11 before his big hit before a largely delighted crowd of 46,295 at Shea Stadium.

The Mets blew a 6-0 lead and came back in the bottom of the ninth after the Cardinals had tied it in the top of the inning on Willie McGee's solo home run.

Meanwhile, the National League West-leading Los Angeles Dodgers saw their lead drop to 8½ games with an 11-6 loss to Atlanta while second-place Cincinnati was beating San Diego 2-1.

Braves 11, Dodgers 6

Brad Kommsink capped a six-run third inning with a three-run homer as Atlanta defeated Los Angeles and salvaged the finale of a five-game series.

The Braves trailed 5-0 and were in danger of being swept in a series for the eighth time this season before staging their rally in the third inning.

Zane Smith, 7-9, who pitched three scoreless innings, was the winner for the Braves in relief of starter Joe Johnson.

Pirates 10, Cubs 2

R.J. Reynolds hit a three-run homer, Mike Brown added a solo shot and relief pitcher Don Robinson capped a six-run eighth with a grand slam of his own to lead Pittsburgh over Chicago.

Reynolds' homer, his first since June 22, 1984, came against Dennis Eckersley, 8-6, in the third inning. Brown led off the fourth with his second homer of the season.

Robinson relieved Rick Rhoden, 9-13, in the eighth and personally put the game out of reach with his first homer of the year and first slam of his career.

Reds 2, Padres 1
Buddy Bell and Tony Perez knocked in first-inning runs and Jay Tibbs scattered seven hits in eight innings to lead Cincinnati over San Diego.

Reds player-manager Pete Rose, who broke Ty Cobb's all-time hit record Wednesday night, sat out Thursday night's game because he got little sleep overnight.

Andy Hawkins, 17-6, allowed six hits while taking the loss, the Padres' 10th in their last 13 games.

Expos 6, Phillies 3

Hubie Brooks snapped an 0-for-13 string with a fifth-inning grand-slam homer in leading Montreal over Philadelphia.

Winner Floyd Youmans, 3-2, gave up two runs and four hits over five innings, striking out three and walking seven. Jeff Reardon notched his 34th save, pitching the final two innings.

With the score tied 1-1, Brooks' 11th homer came against Shane Rawley, 11-7.

We also want to cordially invite the public to stop in and see our very fine new home.

Thanks Again,

Now You're Cookin'

By CINDY SMITH
Staff Writer

If you're looking for an experienced cook, look to Ramona Torres — the oldest cook at San Jose Catholic Church — and her authentic Mexican recipes she's using this week for the Fiesta Patrias.

Being taught by her mother, Torres says when it comes to cooking she likes everything — and she's good at it too!

Torres also cooks for weddings. When cooking for weddings, Torres cooks according to what the family prefers, usually a meat, two vegetables, and a salad.

Torres suggests brisket, chicken mole, or carne asada as the meat to serve at a wedding.

A choice of mashed potatoes, potato salad, lettuce salad, and beans and rice are served to compliment the celebratory dinner.

Torres, experienced in cooking large-quantities, charges $25 for each course.

Torres also enjoys cooking tamales and is well-known for her menudo, too.

Because Torres is the oldest cook at San Jose Catholic Church she is in charge of the kitchen when preparing the church fund-raising meals that are served every Sunday.

First, the menudo is prepared.

MENUDO

Since the menudo (minute pieces of stomach lining) is cut and cleaned the day before, Torres instructs the women to add spices such as garlic, cummins, and chili powder to the soup.

Pigs feet are boiled the day before to add with hominy to complete the dish.

At San Jose Catholic Church there are three different groups of women who volunteer their time and effort every week to open the San Jose Kitchen.

"Most of the ladies who prepare the food each week are members of the Guadalupe Organization," said Gervacia Gaiten, vice president of the Guadalupe Society. "The G.O. is an organization that raises funds for the church through 'Our Lady of Guadalupe'."

The menu at the San Jose kitchen consists of Menudo which is $2.50 for a rather large bowl, and mexican plates featuring carne guisada, rice, beans, and salad and costs $2.75 a plate. Children's plates and take out plates are also offered.

CARNE GUISADA

Carne guisada is steak cut into pieces with gravy.

According to Torres, the same spices as in menudo are added along with bell pepper and tomato seasonings.

RAMONA'S RICE

41 pounds of rice are prepared each week at the San Jose Kitchen.

Ramona Torres's rice is always thoroughly browned before cooking. To brown the rice she uses a little bit of lard in the skillet.

Three garlic cloves are added, along with a 1/2 cup of chopped bell peppers, a large can of peeled tomatoes and "enough water" says Torres. "One thing not to do when making rice," said Consuelo Castaneda, president of the Guadalupe Society, "is not to ever stir the rice when it's boiling."

"The rice is turned off just before it is done and leave it covered to finish cooking by itself," said Torres.

CHICKEN MOLE

Cooking chicken mole for a wedding, Torres boils 24 chickens (cut into chunks) just to softening point.

Add two cans of mole bueno (chili powder and other Mexican spices), garlic, and cummins.

Torres then browns some flour to thicken into gravy. The same amount of water is used for both the chicken and the gravy.

On Sundays, the women are at the church by seven a.m. to get the meal rolling. The food is prepared and the serving line starts getting longer.

The San Jose Kitchen serves it's purpose in raising funds for the church.

The money raised will presently fund a new sunday school building at the San Jose mission.

In keeping the Fiestas Patrias theme, the public is welcome to try the authentic cooking as the San Jose Kitchen is open as early as seven a.m. every Sunday.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT
OVERLAND PARK, Kan. (AP) — Female managers and supervisors are most likely to be the victims of sexual harassment on the job, a recent survey shows.

More than a third of the women managers surveyed said they had been victims, compared with about a fourth of the secretaries responding.

"The stereotype is that secretaries are the main targets of sexual harassment," said Bernard P. Erdman of Padgett-Thompson, a business seminar firm that conducted the survey. "The problems that women managers have aren't as well known."

More than half of the female managers surveyed said they knew someone who had been sexually harassed in the workplace, and more than four out of 10 said they had observed such harassment on the job.

VA changing income reporting procedures

Approximately 1.5 million Veterans Administration pensioners and recipients of parent's Dependency and Indemnity Compensation will receive notices with their September checks informing them of changes in VA's income reporting procedures.

VA Administrator Harry N. Walters said the notice explains the new Eligibility Verification Report which replaces the old Annual Income Questionnaire.

Walters pointed out the new system does not relieve pension recipients of their responsibility for reporting income changes when they occur.

In implementing recommendations made by a task force last year, VA will not cycle income reports throughout the year and will decentralize processing to regional offices throughout the country. The agency will also replace punch cards with full page forms since more than income information is requested.

The first eligibility verification reports will be mailed on Oct. 1, 1985, to those receiving protected pension and Dependency and Indemnity Compensation benefits and to Improved Pension recipients who have a foreign mailing address.

Beginning Dec. 1, 1985, and running through Sept. 1, 1986, the income report forms will be mailed to the remaining pensioners nationwide at a rate of approximately 70,000 each month.

Waco VA Regional Office Director Stephen Lemons indicated that approximately 109,000 will be released in Texas during the twelve-month period beginning October 1985.

Completion of the questionnaire is required by law and failure to return it by the date shown on the form may result in interruption of benefits.

Help in completing the new forms is available from the VA Regional Office in Waco or from any of the major veterans' service organizations. Assistance is also available by calling the VA toll-free number listed in local telephone directories or by calling 1-800-792-3271.

Local Church News

CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER DAY SAINTS

The young men and women of the church are planning a dinner and swimming party at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Garth Thomas.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

For the regular 10:30 a.m. Sunday morning worship service, the Rev. Bruce Kochsmeier will preach on "The Fight of a Lifetime." The scripture lesson will be Genesis 32:22-32.

The junior high fellowship will meet Sunday evening from 5:30-7 p.m. The senior high fellowship is set from 7:30-9 p.m. that evening. Programs for both will be "The Mystery Show."

The prayer group will meet at the church Monday at 6 p.m.

The women of the church are all urged to attend the Circle Bible Study at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 18. The Rev. Kochsmeier will lead the study.

Immediately following the football game Friday, Sept. 20, there will be a pizza party at the home of David and Joanne Bone, 307 Elm, for adult fellowship. Everyone will donate for the pizza.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Butch White has accepted the position of outreach director of the Sunday School for 1985-86. He will be leading the congregation to reach new people for Sunday School and the church.

An after game fellowship is planned Sept. 20 immediately following the game with Lubbock High. David Dale, a contemporary Christian vocalist from Lubbock, will be featured.

"Family Recreation - The Picture of a Family Night" will be held Saturday at 4 p.m. The evening will start off with a Polaroid scavenger hunt. Two entire families will be going together to form a team. Each family or team is responsible to bring a Polaroid camera and a flash (the church will furnish the film). The pictures to be taken are a secret but the family team accumulating the most points will win the secret prize.

After the scavenger hunt, everyone will come back to the church for refreshments and then watch the movie "Greater Than Gold."

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

A variety program will feature talents of First United Methodist Church members and guests at the September Family Night supper Sunday, when the annual All-Church Roundup will be observed.

Each family will bring a dish for supper which will begin at 6 p.m. in fellowship hall. The program has been arranged by a committee with Bobby Boyd as chairmen. Troy Don and Kathy Moore are in charge of supper arrangements.

Quartets, one of men and one of women, will sing. The Jubilate Ringers, an adult handbell choir, will be heard and the Hereford Senior Citizens Kazoo Band has been invited to play. Charlie Bell will be an instrumental soloist and Noel Avery will contribute an unusual number, a handbell solo. Senior and Junior Youth Fellowship groups will add to the melange of talents.

The evening Roundup will mark the start of church activity after summer holidays. It will climax a day which observes Christian Education Sunday, starting with Sunday School classes at 9:45 a.m.

In the morning worship service, at 10:55 a.m., all church school teachers and administrators will take part in an annual dedication service. Bibles will be presented to members of the third grade Sunday School class.

Youth Fellowships will have a joint meeting at 5:15 p.m., when new counselors for the year will be introduced, preceding supper at 6 p.m.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The public is invited to a program entitled "Keeper of the Home" at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the church. It will be presented by Janie Smith of Clovis, N.M.

Reservations may be made by calling the church at 364-0373. A donation of $1 will be collected to cover expenses.

Refreshments will be served during the evening and a nursery provided.

The program will present a Christian perspective on delegating responsibility to children, organizing kitchen closets and efficient housekeeping.

All members of Christians Womens Fellowship are encouraged to attend and bring a friend.

The church's annual Fall Carnival is set for Halloween Thursday, Oct. 31 at the church.

There will be a poster contest promoting the carnival. There will be four categories including kindergarten through first grade; second through fourth fourth grade; fifth through junior high; and family effort. Posters are due by Oct. 10.

Also, during the event, a noon meal and supper featuring Mexican dishes will be served. The kitchen committee needs volunteers for cooking, etc. Contact Glenda Keenan for further information.

A main attraction of the carnival will be the country store which will feature handmade items, Christmas decorations and wooden toys. A special section this year will be crafts made by men. Shirley Carlson is chairing the committee.

UNITED PENTECOSTAL

Sunday will be Pastor Appreciation Day.

FIRST CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

The annual Mud Bowl has been scheduled at 2 p.m. Saturday. Mud Bowl V will be held on the lot located just north of the church. It'll be football played like no other way, in eight inches of mud.

All teens are encouraged to come to this unique event.

Tryouts for this year's teen ensemble will be held at 5 p.m. Sunday at the church. The ensemble will be ministering this year in several youth revivals as well as in the church. Ensemble members do receive scholarships to Haiti missions next summer.

The seminar will continue most of the day Saturday, Sept. 21, and again on Sunday at noon. A pot luck dinner with families will be served at the conclusion of the seminar.

The cost is $15 ($10 if you already have a "See You At The Top" book). Virgil Slentz and Ted Taylor will be leading these special sessions.
