Handicap access to be tried at intersection

By SHAWN COCKRUM
Staff Writer

The Hereford City Commission elected Monday night to make the intersection of Third and Main Streets accessible to the handicapped.

Approved renovation would include the installation of four sunken ramps to be placed on each corner of the intersection and two parking spaces specifically for the handicapped.

On a request from Mrs. Keith Ann Gearn of Hereford, the commission elected to use the Third and Main intersection as an experiment in order to judge the feasibility of making all the downtown intersections accessible to the handicapped.

"If this intersection works out, we will then renovate the other intersections in the downtown area," said city manager Darwin McGill. "If this experiment does not work, the city will have to put the intersection back in the same condition it was."

Ramps, parking spaces

The city will open the construction for bids and work will begin as soon as the city finds an adequate company.

In other business the commission approved bids from Town West Ford of Amarillo for a half ton Ford pickup to be used by the Water and Sewer Department for $8,397.47.

The commission also accepted a bid from Stagner-Orsborn Buick-

Pontiac-GMC of Hereford for three 1986 cab and chassis to be used by the Street Department for a price of $18,475.

Also approved was the bid of Troy's Work Clothes Rental of Amarillo for uniform rentals. The bid was for $6 per week per employee. The next lowest bidder was Hereford Uniform and Linen with a bid of $7.50 per week.

The commission also accepted a resolution suspending the Southwestern Public Service rate increase request. Troy Waddel of SPS recommended that the commission accept the resolution to suspend the rate increase because SPS is experiencing a lowering of fuel costs to the sum of 7 per cent. To the average consumer this translates into a .02 of a percent decrease in their monthly electric bill.

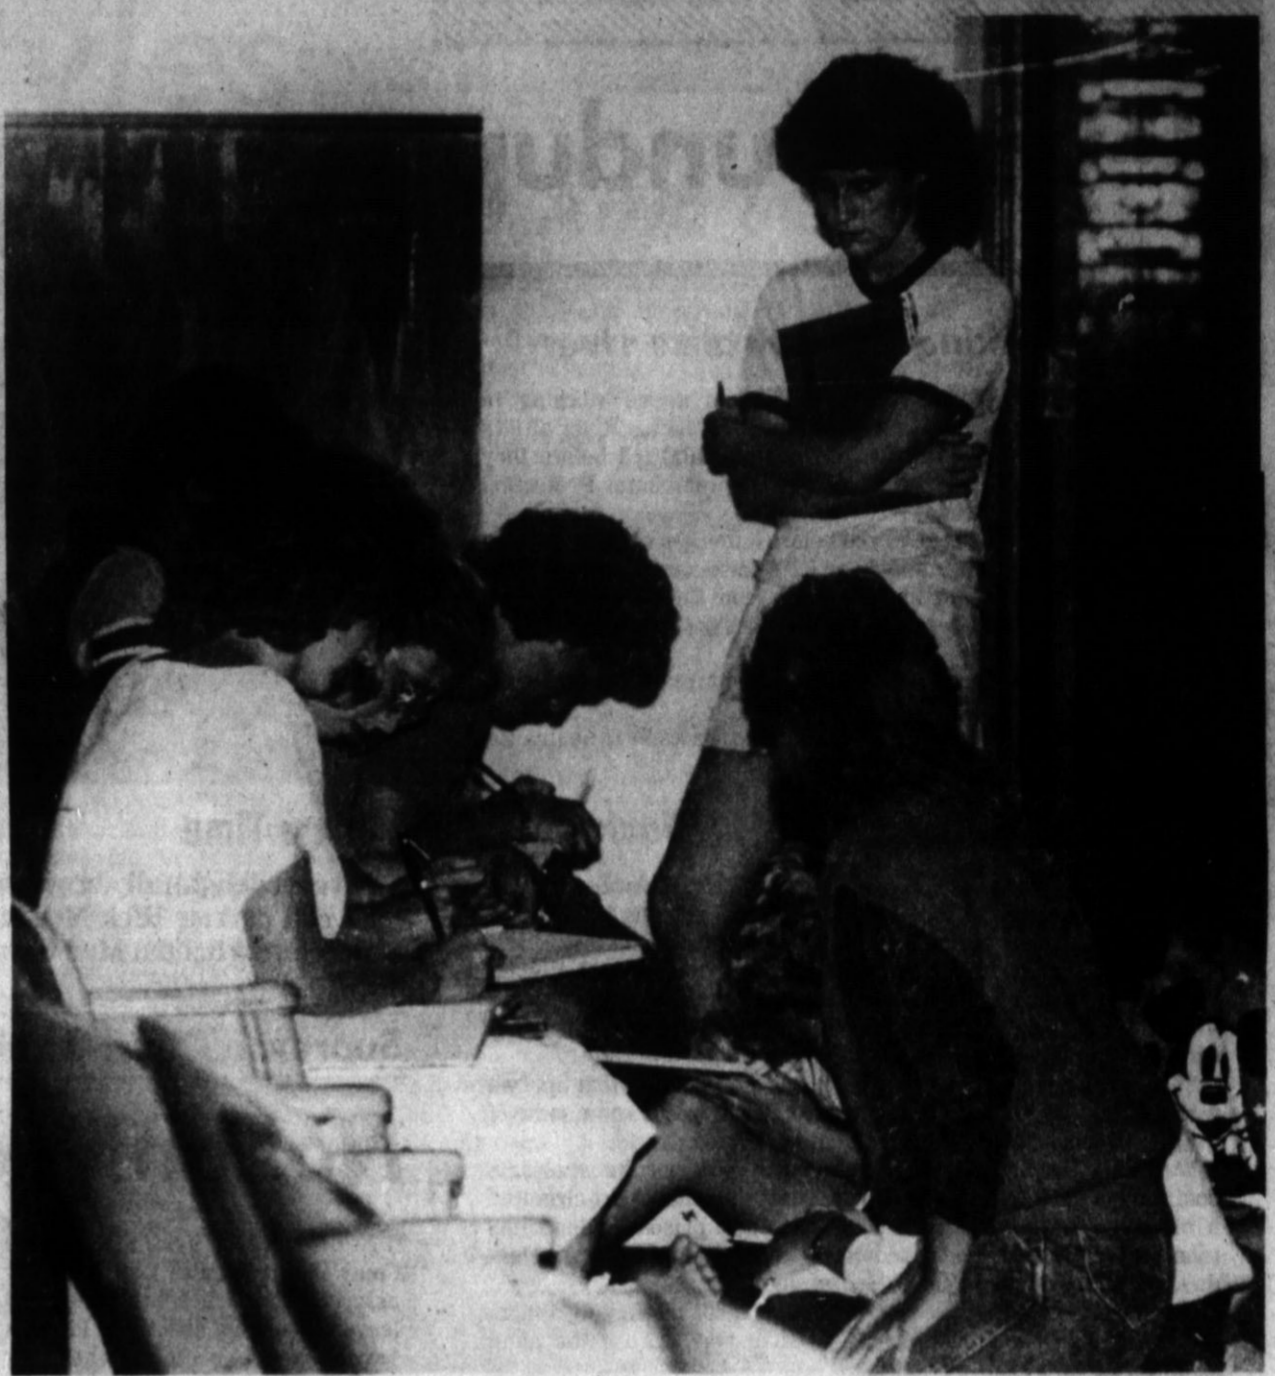

Commissioners also decided not to enter into a contract with Dr. Ralph Erdmann, a criminal pathologist from Amarillo. Dr. Erdmann's proposal is that Deaf Smith County pay a monthly retainer fee of $100 plus a $500 fee for each autopsy. The county voted to enter into the contract only if the City of Hereford would pick up half of the cost. The city elected not to pay half of the fee since the city residents would be paying twice. The commissioners agreed that the county should be responsible for the retainer and any additional fees.

The commission motioned to authorize the mayor to ratify the easement at the Sugarland Mall. As it currently stands the easement lies five feet under the building. The mayor will correct the easement and an additional 10 feet will be added to the west.

Lester Wagner was approved to take over as assistant municipal judge for the retiring B.F. Cain.

Commissioners also elected to

School has electrical fire

The Hereford Fire Department responded to an electrical fire at the Bluebonnet Elementary School Monday. Apparently, water from the air conditioner on the roof leaked down onto the main switch box causing the fire. There were no injuries reported and damage was estimated at over $1,000.

Cheese give-away Thursday

There will be a butter and cheese give away Thursday beginning at 10:00 a.m. at the Hereford Bull Barn. All interested parties must bring either proof of income or their food stamp card.

Recipients must furnish sacks or boxes and parents are responsible for their children.

Pathology contract offered

A contract is being offered to an Arkansas physician to become a full time pathologist for Deaf Smith General Hospital. Currently the hospital and Dr. Don Simpson of Little Rock, Ark., are seeking to reach contractual agreements.

Congress focusing on trade problem, unemployment

WASHINGTON — Import competition that is wiping out American jobs is a major concern in Congress this week, with the House Ways and Means Committee holding a showcase hearing on the burgeoning trade gap.

U.S. Trade Representative Clayton Yeutter could come in for tough questioning from the panel's Democrats as he joins top business and labor leaders at today's session.

AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland is also among witnesses testifying the day after the Commerce Department reported the trade deficit hit a near-record $31.8 billion from April through June this year.

That means that for the first time in 71 years, Americans now owe more to foreigners than foreigners owe to Americans.

Democrats increasingly see the trade issue — which some call the jobs issue in a new guise — as fodder for the 1986 campaign trail.

"Some of my Democratic colleagues hope the president will keep his head in the sand long enough to cost Republicans the Senate majority in 1986 and the presidency in 1988," Rep. Cecil Heftel, D-Hawaii, told the Senate Finance Committee's international trade panel last week.

But he said it would be "too high a price to pay" for inaction.

President Reagan in recent days has promised speeded up moves by Yeutter to persuade trading partners to lower trade barriers. He has agreed to join GOP congressional leaders in writing a comprehensive measure designed to stimulate exports and thus stem an estimated $150 billion U.S. trade deficit.

Reagan also could make his second trade speech in two weeks, the White House says, as he moves to contain protectionist pressures in Congress.

More than 300 trade bills are in the congressional hopper, and many would impose protectionist steps. Spearheading the protectionist drive is a bill to toughen already strict quotas on textile and apparel imports. It is expected to emerge this week from the Ways and Means Committee's trade panel after months of industry and labor pressure.

In a brief question period Monday with regional editors and broadcasters, Reagan refused to say whether he would veto legislation protecting U.S. textiles.

Elsewhere in Congress, the House planned to begin debate late this week on a massive new farm bill designed to replace the law that expires Sept. 30. The legislation sets levels for crop subsidies and farm income supports for the next five years. It also provides continued authorization for the food stamp program, agricultural research, export incentives and overseas food aid.

While the measure provides for a gradual reduction in commodity support levels, as requested by Reagan, administration officials say it re-

No fuss, rose is for us

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roses are red,
Marigold lovers are blue,
The Senate has spoken,
Other flowers won't do.

Amid a flood of rhyming rhetoric that would make a poet blush, the Senate voted Monday to make the rose America's national flower.

The resolution was approved without dissent and now goes to the House for consideration.

The legislation itself went on and on about the wide range of features that make the rose the natural choice as the "nation's floral emblem."

Reagan slates news conference tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan will hold a nationally broadcast news conference tonight, his first formal White House meeting with reporters in three months.

The half-hour session beginning at 8 p.m. EDT in the East Room will be carried by the major television and radio networks.

Presidential spokesman Larry Speakes had said at the outset of Reagan's second term that the president would hold more frequent news conferences than he did during his first four years, when he held fewer such sessions than any other recent president.

Half-hour session planned

Less than a month after his most recent news conference, held June 18 during the TWA hostage crisis, Reagan unexpectedly underwent surgery to remove a cancerous tumor from his colon. He spent several weeks recuperating, both in Washington and during his August vacation in California, before resuming his Oval Office schedule after Labor Day.

Although Speakes said the question-and-answer sessions would be held every four to six weeks, Reagan stuck to that schedule for only two months, then let three months lapse between news conferences in March and June as a controversy swirled over his visit to the German military cemetery at Bitburg, where Nazi SS troops were buried.

During a brief question period following a White House luncheon Monday for regional editors and broadcasters, Reagan disclosed he has spoken frequently to former President Richard Nixon in preparing for his November summit meeting with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

Reagan said he agreed with Nixon's assessment that "we want peace; the Soviet Union needs peace."

On another subject, Reagan refused to say whether he would veto legislation pending in Congress to protect the U.S. textile industry from foreign imports.

Insurance board recommends decrease in auto rates

AUSTIN (AP) — The staff of the State Insurance Board today recommended a 1.3 percent average statewide decrease in automobile insurance rates. The industry requested a 10.6 percent increase.

The proposed decrease would reduce rates by about $35 million statewide, while the industry proposal would raise rates by approximately $288 million.

The board has scheduled a Thursday hearing on automobile insurance rates.

Carl Lee of the Insurance Information Institute said the different proposals reflect projected profits. The staff proposal would allow .35 percent profit, and the industry is asking for 5 percent total profit.

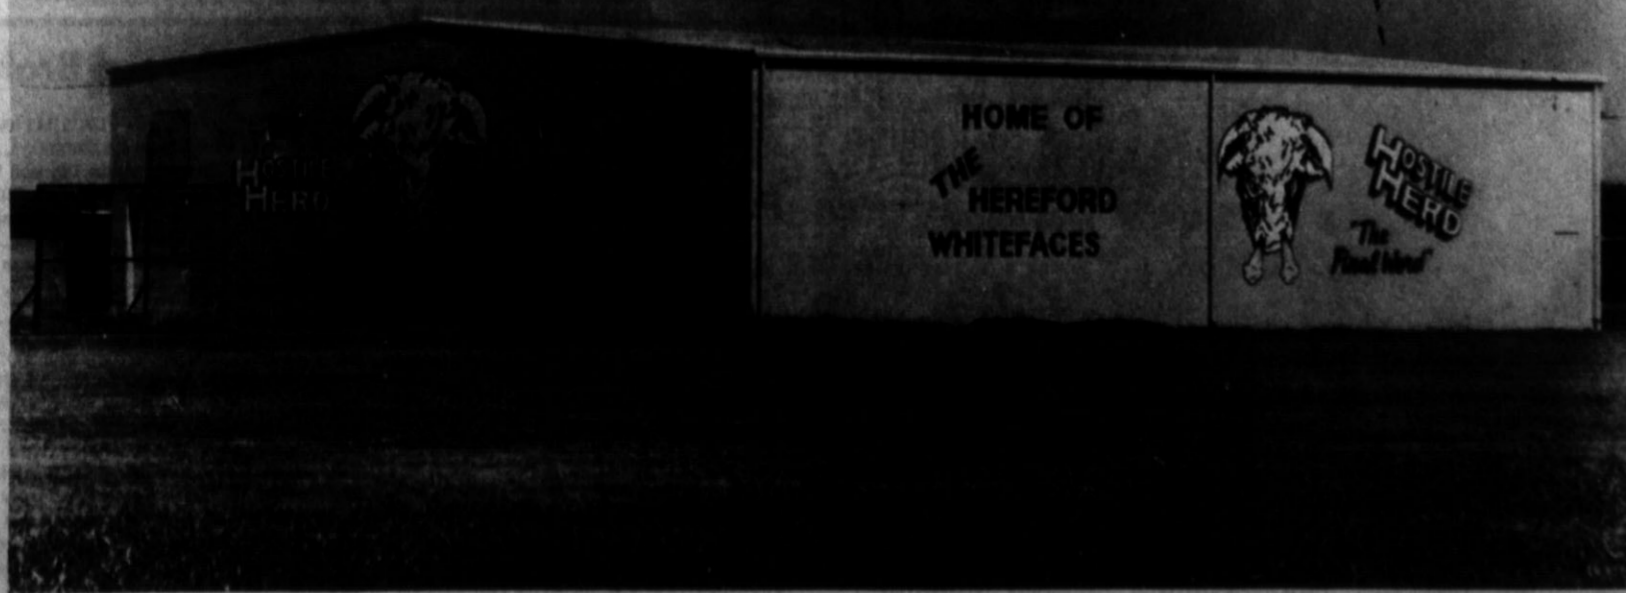

Lee said the industry figures also reflect that hospital bills and auto repairs are rising at a rate above the annual rate of inflation.

Charles Wirth, chairman of the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office, said both motor vehicle fatalities and injuries were up slightly in 1984, reversing the declining trend in recent years.

Texas' mandatory seat belt law went into effect Sept. 1, and Wirth said, "There is no doubt that the implementation of the mandatory seat belt law use will help reduce injuries and the cost of insurance."

However, he said, court decisions would increase costs. He mentioned

Crews working to neutralize river

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Cleanup crews working to neutralize the sulfuric acid that leaked into the Medina River after a train derailment hoped to have the waters stabilized before they merge with the San Antonio River, an Environmental Protection Agency official said Monday.

"Hopefully, it will be neutralized before it merges with the San Antonio River," said Pat Hammack, an EPA spokesman from Dallas.

The two rivers merge about eight miles from the site of the derailment, that sent 21 acid-bearing cars crashing to the riverbanks late Saturday.

About 300 people were evacuated from the immediate area until early Monday.

Officials said they dumped tons of lime into the water to neutralize the acidity.

Inmates thank officials for lockdown

ROSHARON, Texas (AP) — Some inmate gang members within the Texas Department of Corrections thanked officials for a recent lockdown and severe restrictions of 13 prison units, officials say.

"We had inmate gang members coming up to us and saying, 'Thank you, if you hadn't done something we would have been pulled into it,'" said Capt. Steve Holloman of the Texas Department of Corrections' Ramsey I Unit in Brazoria County.

"Gang members told us that if we had not locked them up, 'we would have been given a hit and had to carry it out.' I know some of the guys would have carried the hit out," Holloman said.

Wardens, TDC investigators and guards said that the wholesale confining of one-half of the TDC's 38,000 inmates has short-circuited a bloody gang turf battle that has left eight prisoners dead this month. About 7,000 inmates remained locked in their cells on Monday, prison spokesman Charles Brown said.

However, prison employee involvement in drug trafficking and inmate rackets is a growing problem that may eclipse the gang fighting, officials said.

"Right now, the inmate relations are not all that bad," said Ramsey I Assistant Warden Bruce Thaler. "Our biggest problem is with employees running these narcotics to the inmates. It's scary."

Holloman said the gangs are fighting over control of prison rackets, mostly marijuana and heroin trafficking. Trafficking is made possible by employees who will act as "mules" to bring the drugs inside the prisons, he said.

Supreme Court Justice says

Not only lawyers should run government

AUSTIN (AP) — U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor asserts that people who sit back and leave lawmaking strictly to lawyers have no right to complain when they don't like the result.

Ms. O'Connor, the first woman appointed to the Supreme Court, said Monday, "With the proliferation of lawyers and law schools in the United States, many Americans have begun to assume that government may be the exclusive province of the legal profession. Now that's a dangerous assumption."

"To be sure," she told a University of Texas audience, "lawyers are often highly skilled in drafting legislation. Because of that skill — and most lawyers enjoy talking — attorneys often run for and occupy public office.

"But it would be a mistake to conclude from this that only lawyers should serve as members of Congress or of a state legislature or participate in other governmental bodies.

"So, although some of you may have assumed that you have to go to law school to go into politics, I urge you to reconsider your assumption. ... Even if you are not the sort of person who is comfortable debating public issues, you still can and should play an important part in shaping public policy," Ms. O'Connor said.

"As a graduate of this university, you may know far more than any lawyer about the concrete problems of science or psychology or have a far keener insight into human behavior as a result of your study of history or literature," she said.

"If you just keep quiet and still. If you leave legislation entirely to the lawyers, then you will have no right to complain when the laws fail to adapt to technological change, do not account for the diversity of human behavior or simply come out in a way you don't like," she said.

As for the Supreme Court, Ms. O'Connor said, "The public rarely notices but even when the Supreme Court rules on a constitutional question, the court often defers to a Legislature in that ruling.

"It is possible, I suppose, that the court could attempt to impose its own values on the state or nation by publishing opinions containing detailed prescriptions for every aspect of a citizen's life. But the court rarely does this and for good reason. Courts enjoy neither the freedom nor the authority to engage in unrestrained and open-ended interpretations of American values."

"For example," she said, "when a case raises what we call a political question, the Supreme Court declines to review it at all even though it presents legitimate constitutional issues. And we abstain in the cases both because they present questions uniquely within the province of other branches to decide and because manageable judicial standards are lacking."

Baptists consider African investments

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Southern Baptists should retain investments in South Africa to keep a voice about eliminating that country's policy of apartheid, a church official says.

"I think we can do more good by staying with the companies that are already there and see to it they are making conscientious efforts to improve the conditions of blacks," Hollis Johnson, executive secretary-treasurer of the Southern Baptist Foundation, said Monday.

"If we sold the stocks, we'd have no right to go to a company and tell them how to run their business there," Johnson told the Southern Baptist executive committee's finance group, which is meeting here through Wednesday.

He said about $5 million of the $40 million the foundation manages for several agencies of the Nashville-based Southern Baptist Convention is tied up in firms with links to South Africa.

Although the foundation has invested in 10 firms that do business with South Africa, Johnson said no more than 1 percent of each firm's total business is conducted in that country.

"Many companies there are trying to make improvements and put pressure on the government," he said. "I'm saying we should urge those companies there to do what's right."

Harold Bennett, who heads the 69-member executive committee, said the investment issue is one of several to be considered by the panel, which conducts business of the 14.4 million-member Southern Baptist Convention between annual sessions.

Pardons reveal many thefts

AUSTIN (AP) — Officials of Austin Cablevision say that since the new state law has taken effect making theft of cable television service a crime, they've heard a bunch of excuses.

One person who admitted stealing service was so afraid his theft would be discovered that he disconnected it every morning before going to work and reconnected it every night when he got home.

Several others called the cable TV company to say they "woke up one morning" and discovered they were getting pay channels for free.

Kathy Chance, vice president of business affairs for the cable company, said Austin Cablevision's amnesty program expires Sept. 30.

"We've been receiving about 100 calls a day. About a third of the calls are from people who want to pay for the service, a third are from people who want it disconnected and the last third are from people who are just curious and are asking questions," she said.

Under the new law, people caught stealing cable programs can be sent to jail for up to six months and fined up to $1,000. The law does not apply to people who own satellite reception dishes.

Ms. Cance said Austin Cablevision will work with the police theft detail and the county attorney's office to find and prosecute cable thieves once the system's amnesty program ends.

The Austin system includes about 100,000 paying customers, with about 15,000 people who subscribe but receive more service than they pay for, officials said.

In addition, about 25,000 pay no fee but receive some or all of the system's services, Ms. Cance said. Cable theft costs the company several million dollars annually, she said.

Parents/teachers meeting to be held Thursday

Aikman Primary School will be holding its first Parent Teachers Association meeting Thursday, Sept. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

An open house will also be on the agenda along with a program presented by the third grade. All parents and students are encouraged to attend.

Lois Gililand, left, former Deaf Smith County Museum director, and incoming director Juanita Phillips were honored at a reception Sunday afternoon at the E.B. Black House. Gililand, who was director for 11 years, was presented a plaque to commemorate her service. Phillips assumed her post Sept. 3.

REAGAN

But, a week before he is expected to lay out a new trade policy, the president said he continues to oppose protectionist measures designed to save jobs in one industry, because they only tempt retaliation by foreign governments and cost people jobs in other industries.

"With protectionism, to favor one industry over another, no one ever looks over their shoulder to see the retaliation that throws other people out of their jobs," Reagan said.

"The American farmer knows that most of all," Reagan said. "The easiest way to retaliate is against farm exports."

mains too expensive.

In the Senate, Agriculture Committee members hope to complete work on their version of the farm bill this week, tackling the thorny and expensive issue of the size of direct income subsidies to growers of wheat, corn, cotton and rice.

Meanwhile, the Senate could take up a measure to extend the nation's "Superfund" toxic waste cleanup effort, raising its funding to $7.5 billion over five years. Money for the program was set at $1.7 billion in 1980 legislation that expires at midnight Sept. 30.

The House, however, has fallen behind in deliberating its $10 billion version of the Superfund bill.

Leaders concede little chance remains of approving the measure by the Oct. 1 deadline. Before it comes to the floor, action is needed in three committees, including the Ways and Means panel, whose members are awash in tax and trade matters.

Ann Landers

Contact support group

DEAR ANN LANDERS: There is a very serious problem in our house. My sister, who is 30, was diagnosed as a schizophrenic nine years ago. She is on medication, her condition has stabilized, and she visits the local mental health center regularly.

A year ago my 26-year-old brother started to exhibit the same symptoms. He is extremely paranoid, convinced that someone is after him and stealing articles from his room. Occasionally he accuses me, then suddenly the article reappears.

Obviously this tragic illness runs in our genes. I have three normal, healthy brothers who are happily married and have children of their own. I am a 22-year-old woman, working part time and carrying a full load in college.

Two mentally ill individuals under the same roof is like a never-ending nightmare. It has been a strain on everyone. I am considering taking a full-time job and moving out, which means putting my remaining two years of school on the back burner.

My parents will not hear of it. They want me to finish school and live at home, but I don't know if I can hack it.

I feel I must get away to keep my sanity and live a normal life. At the same time I'm concerned about my parents carrying the sole burden. They aren't getting any younger, and my dad has been in poor health the past few years.

We try to maintain a normal home environment, although pretending that nothing is wrong doesn't solve any problems.

Please point me in the right direction. I'm out of answers and out of hope.—DISTRESSED SISTER

DEAR D.S.: You sound like a bright, well-balanced young woman who has a clear understanding of the problem. The expert with whom I shared your letter, however, believes you are not at risk.

Your compassion for your parents is admirable. At the same time, you have the right to consider what is best for you. Your home environment is extremely stressful and, while you should help your parents, you need not be the sacrificial lamb.

Contact the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill. It has excellent support groups for relatives and friends of schizophrenics. There are chapters all over the U.S. and Canada. Write to the headquarters for more information. Here's the address: The National Alliance for the Mentally Ill, Suite 500, 1901 N. Fort Myer Drive, Arlington, Va. 22209-1604. If there's a group nearby, join it. If not, start one.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please stop telling people to let the phone ring 12 times before hanging up. I live in a small apartment and if I don't answer after the fourth ring I am (1) not home (2) in the bathtub (3) in bed (4) do not wish to be disturbed.

Ask your readers to take the size of the dwelling into account. If the house is very large, 12 rings may be necessary, but certainly not in a small apartment.

Nothing is more annoying than trying to sleep, bathe or make love when the phone keeps ringing. Sing me—IF IT'S IMPORTANT THEY'LL CALL BACK

DEAR IF: You make a good case. You'll get no argument from me.

Ann Landers' booklet, "Sex and the Teenager," explains every aspect of sexual behavior—where to draw the line, how to say no, the various methods of contraception, the dangers of VD, the symptoms and where to get help. ## El Llano Study Club meets for brunch

Members of El Llano Study Club were entertained with a brunch at the Hereford State Bank Community Room Saturday morning.

The yearbook committee, consisting of Jean Ballard, Jean Dowell, Delores Foster and Donna Jones, were in charge of arrangements.

A business meeting was conducted by Kathy Johnson, president. She reported that her family had visited former member, Rhonda Wagner, who has moved to Springdale, Ark.

Club pals were revealed and members reported on what they had done this summer.

Johnson closed the meeting with a devotional.

Members present included Karen Abney, Sue Amstutz, Opal Bookout, Roberta Caviness, Elizabeth Cesar, Mozelle Childers, Jane Coplen, Alice Eades, Billie Farr, Ursalee Jacobsen, Leona Kimball, Donna Warrick, Avis White, Johnson and hostesses.

Breakfast patio party held Saturday

Members of La Madre Mia Study Club opened their new club year with a breakfast patio party Saturday morning in the home of Lucy Rogers. Serving as hostesses were Frances Berry, Mary Herring, Mysedia Smith, Marlene Watson, Rogers and Tricia Sims.

Secret pals were revealed and Ruth Taylor and Betty Martin were welcomed as new members. Betty Lady became an active member again.

Also, during the business meeting, chairmen of various committees gave reports and it was decided that the club's annual home tour will be Dec. 8 from 2-5 p.m. with Mary Beth White serving as chairman.

New yearbooks were distributed to each member with Tricia Sims presiding.

Other members present included Joyce Allred, Carolyn Baxter, Ruth Black, Francine Bromlow, Beverly Bryant, Sharon Hodges, Betty Lady, Betty Martin, Gladys Merritt, Lavon Nieman, Bettye Owen, Georgia Sparks, Betty Taylor, Ruth Taylor, Mary Beth White and Judy Williams.

Women attend Area I Convention

Melinda Henson, Linda Ward and Mrs. M.T. Burelsmith were among those from Hereford Young Homemakers who attended the recent Area I Convention at Wayland Baptist University in Plainview. The convention theme was "YHT Cares."

The morning business meeting included a discussion concerning the changes of areas to regions there by increasing the number of counties in each region.

An informative and factual program on "Rape Awareness" was given by Peggy Eversol of the Plainview Rape Crisis Center at the morning session.

The meeting was adjourned to McClung University Center for the awards luncheon and fellowship of sister chapter members.

During the luncheon, the Hereford chapter received a second place ribbon and check for the name tag competition.

The afternoon session included a program entitled "Bringing Miracles Into Reach." It was presented by Jacque Hastings of Lubbock General Hospital.

Following a short break, Zaphryn Green from Our House Gifts presented a program on "Fun and Festive Table Settings."

Donna West, Area I president, offered closing remarks and invited chapter officers and advisors to a tea.

The local chapter extends thanks to Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative and Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Weemes.

4-H Around the County

By DAVY VESTAL
County Extension Agent

The 1984 4-H Recruitment night was held this past Thursday in the Community Center. The night was very rewarding in the fact that 22 new 4-H'ers were enrolled into the organization.

Around 125 people attended the event and heard 4-H specialist, Robert Devin from Amarillo speak on the opportunities provided by 4-H. Also speaking to the group were Greg Urbanczyk, Camille Betzen, Brandy Matthews, Joel Sturgeon, Rickie Vogel, Jeff Hicks, Pam Price, Kristi Powell, Jason Garrett and Chris Urbanczyk.

Each of these 4-H'ers discussed special projects they have been involved in over the past year. All 4-H Clubs were on hand to discuss the activities offered by their club and show pictures of events.

The Showmanship Club had two members participate in the West Texas Fair in Abilene Sept. 7. Rickie Vogel exhibited the Grand Champion steer of the show while also placing calves at first and second in their classes. Chris Connally placed third in his tough class of heavy weight steer.

Around 170 steers were exhibited at the fair. The club had 24 lambs and seven steers show this past Monday at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. Results will be printed later.

The 4-H Horse Club is preparing for an intensive horsemanship training

YMCA co-ed church league

St. Anthony's I wins softball tournament

St. Anthony's I won the YMCA co-ed church softball tournament championship Sunday, adding the tournament title to its regular season league championship.

St. Anthony's I, which lost a winner's bracket game to First Christian 20-7 on Saturday, advanced back to the championship game by defeating St. Anthony's II on Sunday, 5-4.

The St. Anthony's I team needed to win two championship games, since it had a loss in the tournament, and did just that, defeating First Christian 14-3 and 17-9.

In other action in the winner's bracket last weekend, St. Anthony's I beat Wesley Methodist I, 9-2.

Other results from the loser's bracket were: Frio Baptist 10, Temple Baptist 2; Avenue Baptist 6, Wesley Methodist II, 5; St. Anthony's II, 9, Frio Baptist 2; Wesley Methodist I, 7, Avenue Baptist 4; and St. Anthony's II, 15, Wesley Methodist I, 6.

In the first championship game Sunday, the score was tied 1-1 after the first inning. Danny West hit a home run for First Christian in the top of the first.

St. Anthony's I got a run across the plate in the bottom of the first when Brenda Reeh doubled, and Darwin Manning and David Zinser both singled.

First Christian gained a 2-1 lead in the top of the third inning. Larry Ritter hit a triple, and Cindy Fields hit a single.

In the bottom of the third, St. Anthony's I moved into the lead for good when it scored three runs for a 4-2 lead, enroute to its 14-3 victory.

Hits for St. Anthony's I in that inning were singles by Richard Stengel and Renee Zinser, and doubles by Ruben Vargas and Brenda Reeh.

St. Anthony's I built up its lead to 11-2 in the fourth inning. Six straight singles were hit in the inning, by David Zinser, Lana Kosub, Kirk Proctor, Linda Barnett, Richard Stengel, and Renee Zinser. Brenda Reeh later hit a double.

David Zinser scored on a double by Lana Kosub to give St. Anthony's a 12-2 lead in the fifth inning.

First Christian scored its other run of the game in the top of the sixth inning. Danny West doubled and scored on an RBI groundout by Ron Cagle.

In the bottom of the sixth, St. Anthony's I added two runs. Hits were singles by Ruben Vargas, Brenda Reeh and Darwin Manning.

The second championship game began with a scoreless first inning before St. Anthony's I built up a 14-0 lead in the next three innings.

David Zinser tripled and scored on a single by Belinda Gearn in the second inning.

Hits for St. Anthony's I in the third inning, which led to five runs scored, were singles by Richard Stengel, Renee Zinser and Brenda Reeh, and a home run by Kirk Proctor.

Eight more runs were scored by St. Anthony's I in the fourth inning. The order of the hits in this inning were singles by Ray Schlabs and Linda Barnett, a double by Richard Stengel, a single by Renee Zinser, a double by Ruben Vargas, and singles by Brenda Reeh, David Zinser and Kirk Proctor.

First Christian scored its first run of the game in the top of the fifth inning. Donnie Rhyne singled and Dale Broadstreet doubled.

In the bottom of the fifth, St. Anthony's I increased its lead to 16-1 when Richard Stengel singled, Ruben Vargas tripled and Brenda Reeh doubled.

A three-run homer by Danny West of First Christian in the sixth inning cut the St. Anthony's I lead to 16-4. Bobby Fields doubled, and Christie Kulp singled, before West hit his home run. Later in the inning, Ron Cagle doubled and scored on a single by Donnie Rhyne.

A double by Ray Schlabs, and singles by Linda Barnett and Richard Stengel gave St. Anthony's I a run in the bottom of the sixth for a 17-5 lead.

The final score of the game was 17-9 after First Christian scored four runs in the top of the seventh inning.

Danny West drove home three of the runs with a home run, scoring Kippi West, who had singled, and Bobby Fields, who had doubled, ahead of him. Kippi West opened the inning with a single and scored.

Co-ed Softball Tourney Champions

Jim Hillwig emerges as football contest winner

Three entrants missed only two games in the weekly Brand Football Contest this past week, with Jim Hillwig emerging as the $25 winner on the basis of his guess on the tiebreaker score.

Forced to settle for second and third places were David Spain and John David Bryant, who get $15 and $10 in Hereford Bucks.

A total of 204 entries were received in last week's contest. The new weekly game is included in today's newspaper. You could be a winner and get the opportunity to compete for the grand prizes at the end of the season. Turn to the contest pages, follow the easy rules and get your entry to the Brand office by 5 p.m. Friday!

A total of 13 people missed only 3 of the 25 games listed last week. These entrants were Carol Armor, R.L. Blakely, Ted Goldsmith, Kent Walterscheid, Dorothy Berend, George Ochs, Mike O'Rand, Brian Baker, Ed DeLozier, Marler Loerwald, Cal Jones, Terese Banker, and Jeff O'Rand. Another 25 entrants missed only four of the games.

By The Associated Press

FOOTBALL
NEW YORK (AP) — Auburn and Oklahoma remained 1-2 in The Associated Press college football poll, while Southern California moved up to third place and Michigan ousted Notre Dame from the Top Twenty.

Auburn celebrated its first week as the No. 1 team by defeating Southern Mississippi 29-18 Saturday. The Tigers received 23 of 60 first-place votes and 1,137 of a possible 1,200 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A complete recovery was predicted for University of Tulsa football player Marcus Anderson, who was in stable condition after a neck injury ended his football career.

Anderson sustained two broken vertebrae in his neck when he tackled Texas Tech wide receiver Wayne Walker in the final minute of Tech's 21-17 victory Saturday.

Easley Memorial tennis tourney set this weekend

The Hal Easley Memorial Tennis Tournament is scheduled for Sept. 21-22 at Hereford Country Club.

Entry deadline for the tournament is noon on Wednesday. Entry fee is $15 per person, with entry fees to be placed in savings bonds for Megan and Tanner Easley. Donations will also be accepted.

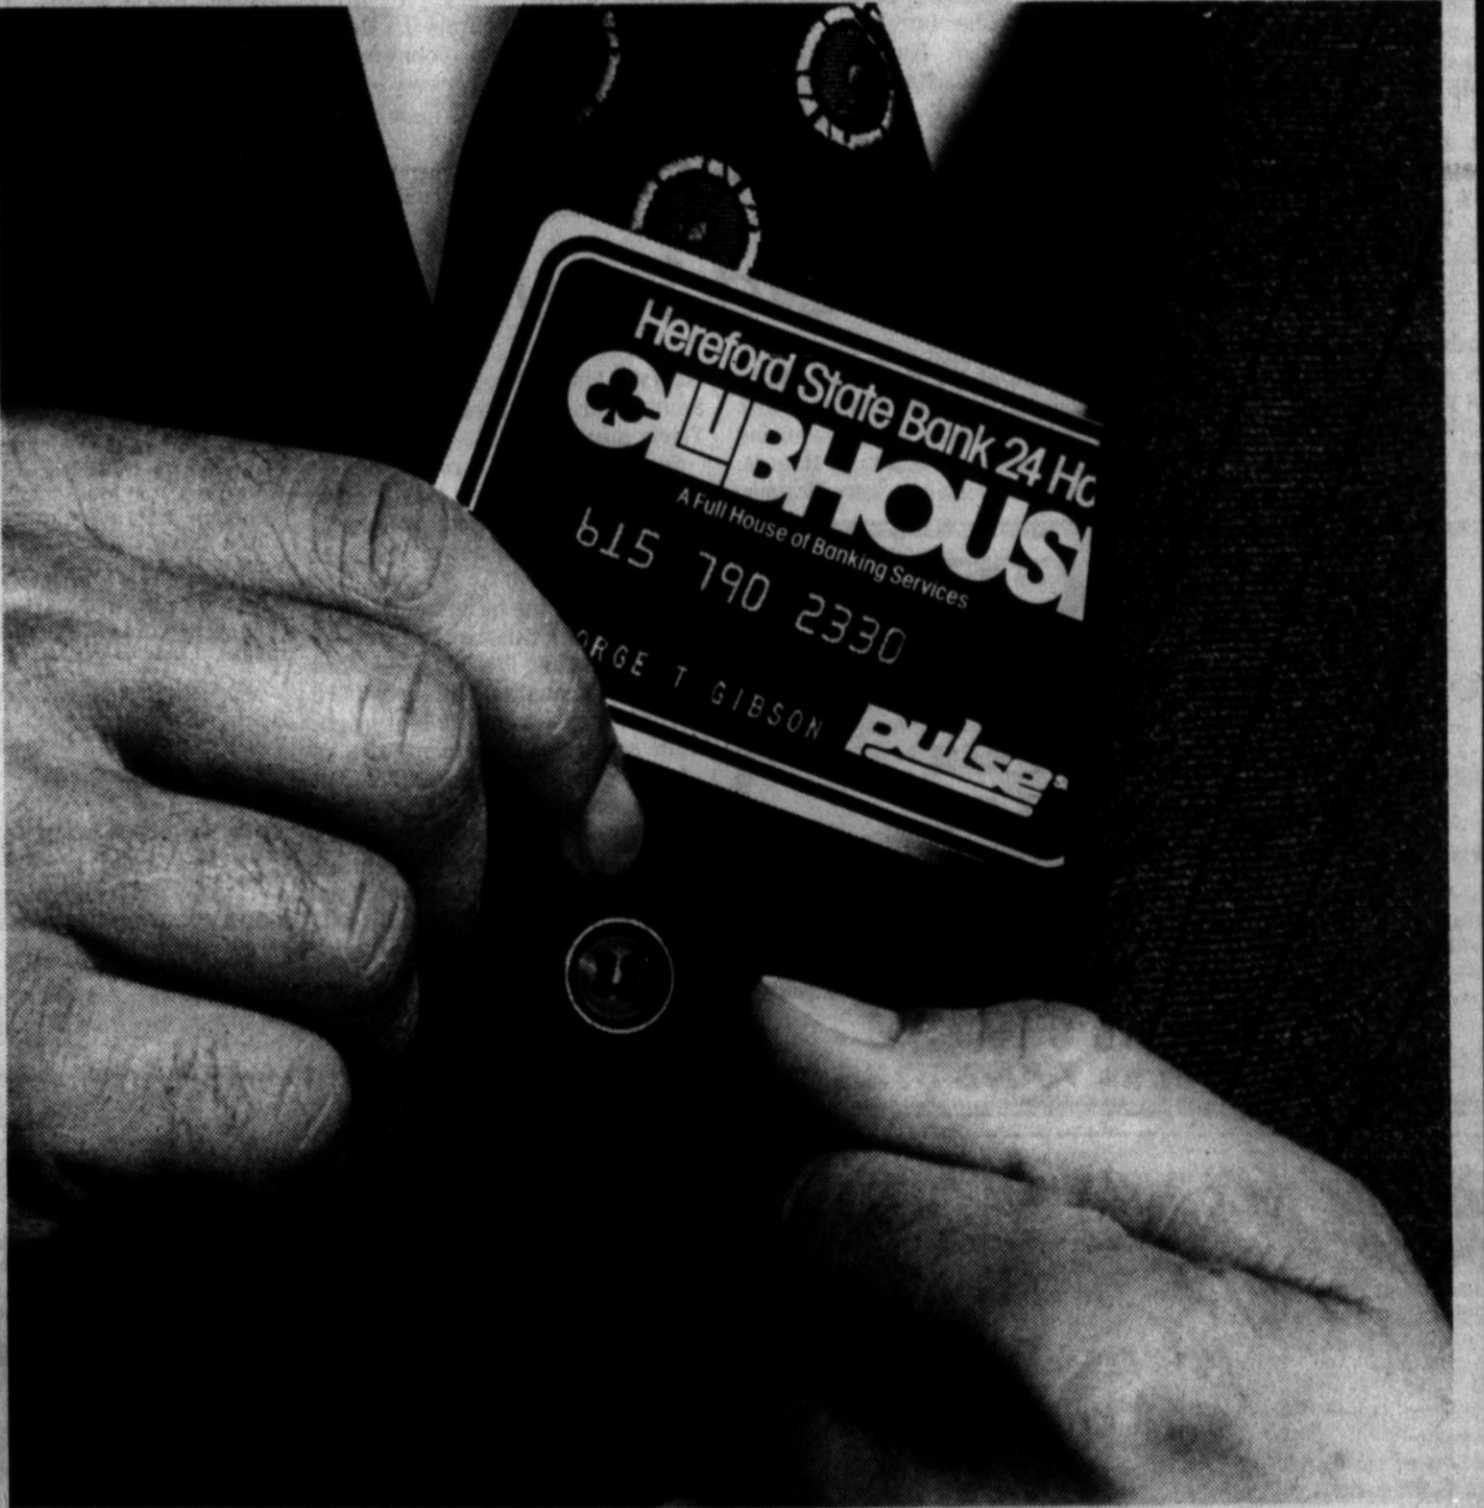

Entry fees will be collected when entrants check in for the tournament. The tournament is open to all members of the Hereford Country Club.

The tournament will have a mixed draw, with class A, class B, class C (beginner) and novice divisions.

HHS girls win Brownfield cross country meet

Hereford High School runners Nancy Garza and Selma Moreno placed first and second in the Brownfield girls' cross country meet Saturday, leading their team to a first place finish.

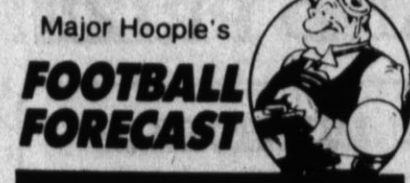

Garza, a sophomore, won the race in a time of 13:47.1, and Moreno, a senior, was timed at 13:53 in her second place effort.

The Hereford girls had a team total of 56 points, 36 points ahead of Muleshoe and Lubbock Coronado, which tied for second with 92 points. Abernathy was fourth, Lubbock Monterey fifth and Abilene sixth.

In the varsity boys' cross country meet, also at Brownfield Saturday, Hereford's best finish was 43rd place by sophomore Arturo Martinez in a time of 19:32.

The top five teams in the boys' meet were Boys Ranch with 44 points, Muleshoe with 82 points, San Angelo Central with 92 points, Lubbock Monterey with 105 points, and Brownfield with 120 points.

Other placings for Hereford in the varsity girls' meet were: Carolyn Rieves, 12th place, 14:52.4; Francis Flores, 17th place, 15:01; Terry Valdez, 30th place, 15:36; Eva Medrano, 43rd place, 16:09; and Della Rodriguez, 48th place, 16:22.

Major Hoopie's
FOOTBALL FORECAST

By Maj. Amos B Hoopie
Pigskin Genius

Egad, friends! This week it's the Big Eight vs. the Big Ten in college football. Nebraska and Colorado of the Big Eight play host to, respectively, Illinois and Ohio State of the Big Ten. With mixed results.

In Lincoln, Neb., it's the running of Cornhusker Doug DuBose against the passing of Illinois QB Jack Trudeau. Both teams were upset in their openers, but now they have things under control.

We look for the Huskers to triumph, 27-24, in a bruising battle.

In Boulder, Colo., Earle Bruce's offensive-minded Buckeyes will be slowed by the leg injury to premier running back Keith Byars. But Ohio State has enough overall power to out-point the Buffaloes where they roam, 35-7.

A trio of contests share top billing in the South: The Georgia Bulldogs tangle with Clemson (CBS-TV), the Florida State Seminoles entertain Memphis State (WTBS-TV) and South Carolina hosts always-dangerous Michigan.

The Bulldogs, who have found a QB in Wayne Johnson, figure to have a better balanced attack than they have shown in the early games. In a squeaker, give it to Georgia 17-14.

Florida State's offense is too much for Memphis State to handle — the Seminoles will roll to a 38-7 victory.

South Carolina's Gamecocks boast the finest tandem of running backs in the nation. Kent Hagood and Thomas Dendy. This pair, along with QBs Allen Mitchell and Mike Hold, spells doom for Michigan. The Hoopie System sees it 35-21 in favor of South Carolina.

In more key games, Notre Dame will dump Michigan State 31-21 and Pittsburgh will edge Boston College 31-28. Robbie Bosco, who enjoyed one of his greatest efforts in their Meadowlands opener against BC, will bring his BYU Cougars across country again to trample Temple 42-21. And rugged Rutgers will duplicate its '84 triumph over Army, trimming the Cadets by the identical 14-7 score. Har-rumph!

Cowboys quarterback nurses sprained thumb

White listed as questionable

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys are pondering their disaster in Detroit while quarterback Danny White nurses a sprained right thumb and wrist.

White is questionable for Sunday's National Football League game against the Cleveland Browns. His thumb was X-rayed on Monday but there was no fracture detected.

White was injured in the first half of Dallas' 26-21 loss to the Detroit Lions Sunday. He left the game with Dallas trailing 26-0. Replacement Gary Hogeboom threw two touchdown passes and ran for another score.

"Danny may practice Wednesday, but doctors will just have to wait and see how he is looking," said

Cowboys' spokesman Doug Todd. "Danny is listed as questionable right now."

White, who suffered two interceptions against the Lions and fumbled another time when an offensive lineman stepped on his foot, missed most of the preseason with a separated rib cartilage. He wears a flak jacket to protect the injury.

"Usually a sprained thumb heals fast," said White. "I think it will be OK."

White said he suffered the injury when he hit a Detroit player in the chest with his follow through on a pass.

"By the third quarter it was really hurting," said White.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry wasn't contemplating changing quarterbacks because of the Cowboys' disaster after a 44-14 Monday night victory over Washington.

He said White was his No. 1 quarterback unless injury or a dramatic drop in performance made a change necessary.

"Danny was trying to make something happen," said Landry. "He didn't have much of a chance. When you try to get the offense going sometimes you are going to make mistakes. I don't think I'm going to have to make any changes if I know this team."

Hogeboom, who had contemplated asking for a trade, was being very low profile.

"I'm taking it week by week and I'm not going to worry about it," said Hogeboom. "Everything is up to Coach Landry and who starts at quarterback is his decision."

White said he knows how Washington quarterback Joe Theismann felt last Monday night when he threw five interceptions.

"Joe said everything that could go wrong did and that's what happened to us against Detroit," White said.

Landry added "White didn't have a lot support Sunday. But he didn't do a lot with the support he had."

Both the AFC and the NFC of the National Football League had an average gain of five yards per play in the 1984 season.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

GENERAL ELECTION

NOVEMBER 5, 1985

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Sections 1 and 2 of House Joint Resolution 6 propose a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development bonds.

The additional bonds to be issued will be dedicated for deposit in the Texas Water Development Fund, with $190 million of those bond proceeds to be used for water supply loans and facilities acquisition and with $400 million of those bond proceeds to be used for state participation in the acquisition and development of facilities for storage, transmission, transportation, and treatment of water and wastewater. Of the remaining bonds authorized, $190 million will be dedicated for use in water quality enhancement projects, and $200 million will be dedicated exclusively for flood control projects.

The amendment would also allow the legislature to provide for the creation, administration, and implementation of a bond insurance program to which the state pledges up to $250 million of its general credit to insure payment of the principal of and interest on bonds or other obligations issued by political subdivisions of the state for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, recharge, chloride control or desalinization. Unless authorized to continue by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house of the Legislature, the bond insurance program will expire on the sixth anniversary of the date on which this section becomes a part of the constitution. Bond insurance issued before expiration of the program will not be affected by such expiration.

The amendment would authorize the legislature to create and appropriate money to special funds in the state treasury to make grants, loans, and other financial assistance available to governmental entities for certain enumerated water planning purposes. Also, the legislature would be permitted to extend the benefits of constitutionally approved water projects to nonprofit water supply corporations.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development Bonds, to create special water funds for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, subsidence control, recharge, chloride control, agricultural soil and water conservation, and desalinization, to authorize a bond insurance program, and to clarify the purposes for which Texas Water Development Bonds may be issued."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Section 3 of House Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the Texas Water Development Board to issue and sell Texas agricultural water conservation bonds in an amount not to exceed $200 million, if authorized to do so by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house of the legislature. The Texas agricultural water conservation bonds would be general obligations of the State of Texas, and would be paid from the first money coming into the state treasury in each fiscal year. The amendment would allow Texas agricultural water conservation bonds to be issued and sold only for four years after the date on which this Act becomes a part of the constitution.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance and sale of $200 million of Texas agricultural water conservation bonds."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to authorize a city or town to spend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of water laterals on private property if such relocation or replacement is done in conjunction with or immediately following the relocation or replacement of water mains serving the property. Any legislative enactment permitting the expenditure of funds for such purposes would authorize the city or town to fix a lien on the property, with the owners' consent, for the cost of relocating or replacing the water laterals, and would provide that such cost shall be assessed against the property, with repayment by the property owner to be amortized over a period not to exceed five years at the rate of interest set by law. Such liens could not be enforced until after five years from the date the liens were affixed.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to enact laws permitting a city or town to spend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of water laterals on private property."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the use of the proceeds from the sale of permanent school fund land to acquire other land for the permanent school fund. Currently, the constitution requires that proceeds from the sale of such land be invested in certain bonds and other securities.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing proceeds from the sale of land dedicated to the permanent school fund to be used to acquire other land for that fund."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 89 proposes a constitutional amendment that would enable the legislature to regulate the provision of health care by hospital districts by determining the services the district must provide, by setting requirements a resident must meet in order to qualify for services, and by determining any other relevant provisions necessary for providing health care to residents.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to regulate the provision of health care by hospital districts."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would enable the State of Texas to enter into an agreement with another state to confine inmates from the state of Texas in penal or correctional facilities of the other state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to permit state prisoners to be placed in penal facilities of another state pursuant to an interstate agreement."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 27 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the commissioners court of Chambers County to divide Chambers County into not less than two and not more than six justice precincts. Under current constitutional law, Chambers County may be divided into not less than two and not more than five justice precincts.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing Chambers County to be divided into two to six precincts."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 9 proposes a constitutional amendment that would grant an additional $500 million in bonding authority to the Veterans' Land Board for the veterans' housing assistance program. Under the current constitution, the Veterans' Land Board is authorized by Article III, Section 49-b-1 to issue and sell not more than $800 million in bonds, $500 million of which may be used for the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund. This amendment would increase that authorization to permit the issuance and sale of up to $1.3 billion in bonds, $1 billion of which would be used for the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund. In addition, the amendment would remove the current definition of "veteran" from the constitution and permit the legislature to redefine "veteran" as the changing times and circumstances require.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing $500 million in additional bonding authority for the veterans' housing assistance program and changing the definition of those veterans eligible to participate in the veterans' land program and the veterans' housing program by authorizing the legislature by law to define an eligible veteran for the purposes of those programs."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 72 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature either to enact a statute or to attach a rider to the General Appropriations Act to require prior approval of the expenditure or emergency transfer of any funds appropriated by the legislature to state governmental agencies.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to protect public funds by authorizing prior approval of expenditure or emergency transfer of state appropriations."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 19 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to provide for the issuance of general obligation bonds, the proceeds of which would be deposited in a fund to be known as the farm and ranch finance program fund. The fund would be administered by the Veterans' Land Board and would be used to make loans and provide other financial assistance for the purchase of farm and ranch land. The amount of bonds outstanding at any one time would be limited to $500 million. The principal and interest that becomes due on such bonds in each fiscal year would be paid from amounts remaining in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year, with the balance due to be appropriated from treasury revenues in the fiscal year when such amounts become due.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds to provide financing assistance for the purchase of farm and ranch land."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 16 proposes a constitutional amendment that would define indictments and informations as instruments charging a person with the commission of an offense, and would delete certain technical requirements as to the form of writs and processes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment relating to the manner in which a person is charged with a criminal offense and to certain requirements applicable to state writs and processes."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 10 proposes a constitutional amendment that would grant the Texas Supreme Court and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from federal appellate courts. In addition, the two courts would promulgate rules of procedure relating to the review of those questions.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment granting the Supreme Court of Texas and the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from a federal appellate court."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 14 proposes a constitutional amendment that would create a board with responsibility for the reapportionment of judicial districts, subject to legislative approval. The amendment would provide for the continued power of the legislature to provide for judicial reapportionment, and would provide that reapportionment will be the responsibility of the Legislative Redistricting Board if the Judicial Districts Board fails to make a timely reapportionment. The amendment would provide for the creation of judicial districts smaller than a county in counties where the creation of such districts has been approved by the voters at a general election. The amendment would provide for more than one judge for a judicial district. The amendment would rename supreme judicial districts as courts of appeals districts. The amendment would provide that the jurisdiction and terms of court of district and county courts may be as provided by law. The amendment would provide for the jurisdiction of justice courts, which may have additional jurisdiction as provided by law. The amendment would provide for rules of judicial administration and civil procedure to be promulgated by the Supreme Court, and would provide that the legislature may delegate additional rule making power to the Supreme Court or to the Court of Criminal Appeals. The amendment would provide that courts and judges in existence at the time of its adoption remain in existence until otherwise provided by law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the reapportionment of the judicial districts of the state by the Judicial Districts Board or by the Legislative Redistricting Board, and providing for the administration and jurisdiction of constitutional courts."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 27 proposes a constitutional amendment that would abolish the office of County Treasurer in Andrews County and transfer the powers and duties of that office to the County Auditor. The amendment would also abolish the office of County Treasurer in El Paso County if, at the statewide election at which this amendment is submitted to the voters, a majority of the voters who vote in El Paso County favor the amendment. The functions of the office of El Paso County Treasurer will be performed by a person employed or designated by the El Paso County Commissioners Court. The amendment also provides for the abolition of the office of County Surveyor in Denton, Randall, Collin, Dallas, El Paso, and Henderson Counties upon approval of such abolition by a majority of the voters who vote on the question at an election called by the commissioners court of the county. If the office of County Surveyor is abolished in any county, the commissioners court may employ or contract with any qualified person to perform the duties of the office.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide for:

- (1) the abolition of the office of county treasurer in Andrews County and El Paso County;
- (2) the abolition of the office of county surveyor in Collin, Dallas, Denton, El Paso, Henderson, and Randall Counties."

DR. GOTT

Peter Gott, M.D.

Heavy periods and fibroids

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a 38-year-old female. About three years ago my periods got progressively heavier, lengthier and more painful. They are now eight to 12 days long, with flow of one-and-a-half to two pints. My gynecologist found a small fibroid tumor, but isn't concerned. Do you have any insight into this problem?

DEAR READER — Fibroids are benign growths arising from the inner surface of the uterus. They are common in middle-aged women. Except for contributing to heavy menstrual flow, they do no harm until they become quite large. Their behavior is quite unpredictable; they may suddenly "degenerate" and disappear.

I am sure your gynecologist will wish to monitor the size of your fibroid, using periodic ultrasound or ultrasonic examinations. If your heavy periods persist, you will have to consider a uterine scraping (also called a D&C) and fibroid removal. Meanwhile, supplement your diet with hefty amounts of iron during your menses; in this way, you may be able to avoid the iron-deficiency anemia that results from excessive menstruation.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is excessive iron in drinking water harmful to adults or young children?

DEAR READER — We all ingest iron in food, drinking water and (sometimes) our vitamins. Too much iron can be unhealthy. Your term "excessive" requires, by definition, a "yes" answer. However, the definition of "excessive" varies, depending on how much iron is being consumed from other sources. Call your local health department to find out the safe limits for your community. Also, you may wish to have the iron content of your water analyzed by an independent lab. Ordinarily, by the time large quantities of the mineral appear in your water, the tap water will be yellow or brown and will harm your white laundry to a greater extent that it will upset your body.

If there is significant iron in your water, there will be additional compounds present, too. You may wish to investigate the presence of hydrocarbons, lead and other substances that are more hazardous than iron.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Could a flu shot have caused a collagen disease called dermatomyositis and vasculitis?

DEAR READER — Influenza vaccine has not been reported to cause collagen diseases.

DEAR DR. GOTT — This is a pretty bizarre question. What happens to a person when he get electrocuted?

DEAR READER — A great many bioelectrical events happen when a living body is subjected to high-voltage electricity. The human system is, for all practical purposes, a bag of salt water containing variously charged particles. So, one of the effects of electrical stimulation is migration of particles, much the same way an electroplating process separates elements in a mineral bath. Another effect is severe burns where the electrical charge enters the body and exits from it.

However, the main effect of electrocution is the sudden interruption of all electrical circuitry in the system. We depend on tiny electrical charges to live; the heart is powered by a natural pacemaker, and the brain and all living tissue use minuscule electrical currents to function. A massive electrical jolt will override all lesser circuits, causing systemic short-circuiting and blackout.

The controlled use of electricity is actually beneficial in certain medical situations. Delivery of a current to the heart alone can stop it (before open-heart surgery), start it up again (after surgery) and sometimes re-regulate the heartbeat (defibrillation) after a heart attack or other cardiac trauma. High voltage applied to the brain alone is called electroshock therapy and can be useful in treating certain forms of severe depression.

Electrocution usually causes death by stopping the heart and totally disrupting all brain activity. It's interesting that short-lived high-voltage electrical currents — like lightning — cause "death," but if the victim is immediately resuscitated, he may "return." In most cases, none the worse for wear.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Sometimes when a doctor prescribes a drug, he doesn't bother to tell you the whole story: side effects, whether to take it on a full or empty stomach, what foods interfere with absorption, etc. Are there any good sources for that information that might be available at my local library?

DEAR READER — The best resource for finding out about drugs is your local pharmacist. These professionals are knowledgeable about the medicines they sell and are usually quite willing to discuss the issues you have raised. In addition, all prescription drugs are supplied with an extensive review, called the package insert, which is yours for the asking when you fill your prescription.

Information about medicines is also available in a compendium of modern drugs — "The Physicians' Desk Reference" — and in a publication called The Medical Letter. Finally, you may actually write the manufacturer of the drug; each company has the equivalent of a consumer-relations department, which will send you data about its products.

DEATH ROW

Sharp increase in executions

The execution of criminals in the United States grew sharply in 1984, with a record number of inmates on Death Row — and those upward trends have continued into this year.

Young Mothers Study Club opens club year recently

Members of Young Mothers Study Club held their first meeting of the fall season recently at K-Bob's Steak House.

During the business session, club officers explained their duties and discussed some of the programs and projects being planned for the coming year.

The next meeting was scheduled Sept. 23 at the Community Center. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Welcomed as special guests were Rene Leavitt, Betty Coneway, Kelli McCabe, JoAnn Carnahan, Shelly Brock, Jackie Murphey and Vicki Wilson.

Members present included Georgia Auckerman, Lisa Blakely, Kathleen Brockman, Tracy Coker, Carla Hollinger, Vicki Kriehauser, Jane Landers, Alice Lockmiller, Jeanne Lomas, and Pam Wagner.

THEIR FEATS

NEVER FAIL US.

Five days a week, 52 weeks a year in every kind of weather, Hereford Brand carriers come through. And that's quite a feat. Without their hard work and dedication, the efforts of reporters, printers, columnists and executives would be in vain.

That's why this week -- National Newspaper Week -- we salute the 30 young boys and girls who bring the Hereford Brand to you each evening. These independent sales people learn traits not only important to his or her own business as a carrier, but more importantly for their next job.

So the next time you pick up your paper, think about the person who brought it to you. The path they made to your door that evening is just a "beginning feat" for them.

THE HEREFORD BRAND

We reach thousands every day!

MATURE CHANGES
WASHINGTON (AP) — The aging of the American population could cause sweeping social and economic changes in the future, notes Family Practice News.

The medical publication reports there were 27.4 million Americans aged 65 and older in 1983, the latest year for which such figures are available. The total represents 11.7 percent of the nation's population.

By 2020, they are expected to increase to 64 million, or 21 percent of the population, according to the journal, which notes the elderly themselves are aging with ever-larger proportions in the over-75 and over-85 age groups. By 2050, there are expected to be as many as 16 million Americans over age 85.

This growth comes at a time when lower fertility levels are leading to a smaller growth in the number of people under age 65, leading to a drop in the "support ratio" — the number of working age people compared to the number of elderly.

ABC's 'Family Honor' begins tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — "Our Family Honor," ABC's new series that begins tonight, is a lot like "The Godfather" meets "Dirty Harry" and together they act out "Romeo and Juliet."

Although "Family Honor" does its imitating with some class, there is too much predictability and contrivance. Alas sweet Romeo, we've seen it all too many times before.

The action-laced drama focuses on the numerous entanglements between two powerful New York families — one specializing in breaking the law, the other in upholding it. Not surprisingly, ABC has gone for the stereotypes. The guys behind the badge are Irish. The ones with the illegal businesses are Italian.

Kenneth McMillan stars as Patrick McKay, whose family members have been cops for years. Patrick is the new police commissioner. His son, Frank, is a hot-headed, rule-bending detective played robustly by Tom Mason. Another law-enforcement son was killed in the line of duty by the Danzigs, the mob family.

Eli Wallach plays Vincent Danzig, the patriarch of the crime clan. He and Patrick McKay were boyhood chums in the old neighborhood until different callings pulled them apart. Vincent's son, Augie (Michael Madsen), is a bumbler trying to run the Danzig empire.

The Danzigs are not one big happy family, despite the dinner-table conviviality. Vincent's wife is not thrilled with being ignored on business matters. We don't share, she nags. We share a bed, he says.

There is another Danzig son (Michael Woods), but he's trying to go straight. He's changed his name to Jerry Cole and is a banker living with his girlfriend, Liz McKay (Daphne Ashbrook). With a nod to William Shakespeare, Liz happens to be a McKay granddaughter and newly graduated from the police academy. She also doesn't know about Jerry's hidden heritage.

Liz is at the center of two conflicts. She's being hassled at work by her male co-workers. So, when she thinks her colleagues' investigation is lax, she decides to prove her worth by conducting her own after-work inquiry into a death. Trouble is, her policework just doesn't ring true.

Liz also rebels at any perceived paternalism or protectionism from her grandfather the commissioner or her Uncle Frank, who has become a surrogate father ever since Liz' father was bumped off.

Frank is a vigilante cop in the mold of Clint Eastwood's "Dirty Harry." Wearing a Columbo-type raincoat but appearing much neater, he holds a shotgun on a would-be attacker and sneers: "Give me a reason." Frank is tough and honorable, but his recklessness and shoot-first-and-ask-questions-later philosophy get him into trouble.

He has an interesting, multi-faceted relationship with his father the commissioner. Their on- and off-the-job bonds make for some effective human drama. Patrick compliments him on a good bust, then threatens him with a two-week suspension the next time he doesn't follow procedure.

"Family Honor" is a sincere effort and well-acted, but the good vs. evil battles between the McKays and Danzigs will be hard to sustain each week.

Classified advertising rates are based on a minimum of 20 words. One day is 12 cents per word or $2.00 minimum. Rates below are for consecutive issues, no copy change, and apply to solid ad lines only.

TIMES	RATES	MIN.
1 day per word	.13	2.00
2 days per word	.22	4.40
3 days per word	.31	6.30
4 days per word	.40	8.00

5th day FREE

Add 5 cents per word for additional days: 10 days (2 free) is 15.00 minimum; 15 days (3 free) is 22.00, month 27.00.

Classified display rates apply for special captions, paragraphing, bold type or larger type, and ads not set with full lines. $2.00 per column inch, $2 a column inch for additional insertions, or $1.75 a column inch per month.

LEGALIS

Advertising rates for legal notices are $3.50 per column inch for the first insertion and $3 per column inch for consecutive issues.

Deadlines for classified ads are 3 p.m. daily for the next day's edition; 3 p.m. Friday for Sunday's edition.

Cash is required on advertisements under $10.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in Classified Ads and legal notices. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. In case of errors not the fault of the advertiser, an additional insertion will be given.

Hard work keeps him going

ROSHARON, Texas (AP) — It's Monday afternoon, and Rubin Banks is resting in the shade of an old barn. The barn smells of wood smoke, and the walls look like they aren't going to stay upright much longer. It's hot outside, so the mosquitoes are buzzing around in the shade of the barn. Banks doesn't seem to mind the smoky smell, the bugs, or the run-down shape of the barn where he works. As far as he's concerned, it's

"his" barn. Well, sort of his. Banks has been working at the same place in Rosharon for 26 years. Or maybe it's 28. Even people in the accounting office of Teas Nursery in Bellaire aren't sure. Teas hired Banks to take care of the trees and grounds at the Rosharon nursery, which is across the highway from the Darrington Unit of the Texas Department of Corrections. He works there five days a week and half a day on Saturday. He gets up at sunrise so he can be at work by 6:30 a.m. He used to walk the three miles every day, but many people have come to recognize the short, stooped figure shuffling along FM 521, and they stop to offer him a ride. He doesn't have a driver's license. Never did. No sir, never had a need for one. Not in his 90 years. Or maybe it's 94. Again, nobody is exactly sure how long Banks has been around. Except Banks. "That's right. I turned 94 on July the 26," he said with a smile that exposed the gaps where his front teeth used to be. Some of his relatives dispute his claim of being 94. But it doesn't do any good to argue with him. It was the same way when they tried to tell him he shouldn't be walking up and down the highway to work. He had it in his mind to work, and there was no way he was going to stop.

Most of the relatives gave up trying to talk him out of it 10 years ago, when he was a youngster of 80 or so. "When they tell him he shouldn't keep going up there he says, 'Oh no, I got to go to work,'" said his great-niece Josie Lee Banks. "He's just been there so long, it's a part of his life. He just come accustomed to working there."

Banks has worked all his life. He said that's why he has lived so long. It's in his blood. He was born in Rosharon, the second of five children, and stayed until he was 14. It was mostly white folks around here then, he said, good folks, most of them. He left at 14 to work the cotton fields in West Texas, mostly around Odessa. He went from farm to farm, always keeping busy, always working hard. While working the fields in Yoakum he met Velma, whom he would later marry. But for a long time he just floated back and forth, working wherever someone needed a hand. Eventually he returned to Rosharon, sometime around 1927.

"I moved back 'cause I loved my momma," he said. He brought his wife and four boys, and lived on land owned by Frank Turner, where he said he stayed for 18 years while he raised his boys and the three other children who were born after the family moved to Rosharon. Banks' eyes seem to look back in time while he recounts stories from those years. His youngest daughter, Lucy, now in her late 50s, still lives in Rosharon. "He was a strict father, but he always stuck with us," Lucy said. "We worked hard dry farming, cotton, raising chickens and pigs anything you can name, we raised it." Lucy said all her brothers and sisters grew up with an appreciation for hard work, which Banks helped instill. "He was always working hard for us," she said. "We didn't go hungry much. We did real good."

Banks can't think of any reason why he has lived so long, or why he still is healthy enough to work almost every day. "I used to smoke a bit," he said as he sipped a warm beer. "One day a fella told me I should quit. I said, 'How old are you?' He told me he was 48. I said 'You ain't any older than my youngest boy. Why are you telling me I should quit?'" But he did quit. One night about five years ago he just put away all the tobacco. He said he's glad he did it. "You can give up anything," he said. "You just have to want to give it up." Banks spends his time watering trees and making repairs on the nursery grounds. "Somebody must have wanted a gate mighty bad," he said. But he takes it in stride. Banks has had a few things stolen from the nursery, including a lawn mower and several pear trees. He doesn't get mad at anyone, but he can't figure out why somebody would want to steal those things.
