Senate spent Thursday revising budget plans

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate has agreed to raise the national debt above $2 trillion, after including an amendment to gradually stop the overspending that's been adding $200 billion a year to the government's ocean of red ink.

But the Treasury, which has run out of borrowing power and used up its cash reserve, remains on the edge of insolvency. The debt ceiling increase won't take effect until the House and Senate can settle their differences over the deficit-reduction amendment.

revising details of the deficit-cutting plan of Sens. Phil Gramm, R-Texas. Warren Rudman, R-N.H., and Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., which was first approved Wednesday.

That accomplished, the lawmakers voted 51-37 to approve the Reagan administration's request for a new debt ceiling of $2.078 trillion, more than double the national debt when President Reagan took office. They then rushed away for a long Columbus Day holiday weekend.

Now, he said, the Italian government "has to decide whether to extradite or go ahead with trial."

Told that the Italian constitution forbids extradition of suspects to countries where they could be sentenced to capital punishment, Speakes said, "I don't think we're in a position to be able to give assurances" to Italy that the death penalty would not be sought.

On Thursday, President Reagan noted that, if the four were tried in the United States for the hijack murder of Leon Klinghoffer, "that would mean capital punishment" if they were found guilty and given the maximum sentence.

Asked about the decision by the Egyptian government to cancel the sailing permit of the ship, the Achille Lauro, from Port Said, Speakes said without elaboration that "that decision was up to the Egyptian government. I don't think the United States is further involved in that."

He later added, "Once again, it's in an Egyptian port and an Italian ship and I don't know if any of the U.S.

Asylum policy sets new course for U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Without ed in the hijacking of a TWA jetliner firing a shot, U.S. warplanes forced an Egyptian plane carrying four Palestinian hijackers to land in friendly territory as President Reagan committed American muscle to fight terrorism with a declaration, "we will do this again."

"There can be no asylum for terrorism or terrorists," White House spokesman Larry Speakes said Thursday night in announcing the hijackers of the cruise ship Achille Lauro were in U.S. and Italian hands.

His decision could set the United States on a new course.

An exultant Speakes, declaring he spoke in Reagan's name, sent a clear signal that "the international ly. The Gramm-Rudman-Hollings scourge of terrorism" would be met with American might.

"There is no doubt in our mind. If the opportunity presents itself, we will do the same thing again," Speakes said. "We cannot tolerate terrorism in any form. We will continue to take every appropriate measure available to us to deal with these dastardly deeds."

Terrorism has taken a heavy toll of Americans. Diplomats and Marines have been killed in troublespots around the globe.

help September drop

WASHINGTON (AP) - Wholesale prices, driven down sharply by lower automobile prices, fell 0.6 percent in September, the Labor Department said today.

It was the third decline in the last four months and means wholesale prices have declined at an annual rate of 0.1 percent so far this year. Wholesale prices had declined 0.3 percent in August.

Analysts are projecting that the government's Producer Price Index could show the smallest rise in decades, and indeed the current pace for the first nine months would be the first yearly decline since the 0.2 percent decrease in 1963.

Wholesale prices increased 1.7 percent in 1984.

Retail inflation is running at an annual rate of 3.3 percent so far this year, the lowest in nearly two decades.

The September index showed food costs declining 0.9 percent following

Roger Eades, campaign chairman, reported the total had climbed to $30,000 this week, representing about 23 percent of the United Way goal of $130,625. "It took workers a couple of weeks to make their contacts, so maybe the contributions will start adding up at a faster rate,"

State needs teachers for deaf

AUSTIN (AP) - There is a critical need for qualified teachers of the blind and visually impaired in Texas, according to Dr. Jane Erin, University of Texas special education faculty member.

There are about 1,500 Texas school children who are legally blind,

Yet there are from 50 to 100 vacancies in the 220 jobs in public education to teach these students.

She said UT students with a bachelor's degree in education can be certified to teach visually handcipped students by completing 21 hours of graduate instruction.

Treasury benefits from stocks

AUSTIN (AP) - Treasurer Ann Richards says the state tresury earned $1.6 million from its first sale of "lost" securities.

The sale took place to clean out corporate stocks and bonds that have been accumulating in the treasury since the unclaimed property law was passed in 1961.

"This is the first time the state treasury has sold unclaimed securities," Ms. Richards said. "As in the liquidation of all other unclaimed property, the sale was held only after attempts to find the missing owners of the property had failed."

If the owners of the securities ever surface, they can file a claim with the treasury for the stocks and bonds that have been sold.

Hobby names three to drug force

AUSTIN (AP) - Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby on Thursday announced three appointments to the task force on alcoholics and drugdependent persons. The task force members are Chilo Madrid, El Paso, and Sens. Gonzalo Barrientos, D-Austin, and Hugh Parmer, D-Fort Worth.

"These gentlemen have an understanding of the complexities involved with certifications, licensing and commitment procedures. The task force has the sensitive responsibility of recommending changes in these procedures," Hobby said in a statement.

First city reports quarterly earnings

HOUSTON (AP) - First City Bancorporation of Texas, the nation's 26th largest commericial banking organization, reported a third quarter net income of $10 million, down from $15.9 million in the same period a year ago.

First City attributed the decrease in earnings to provisions made for loan losses. The bank set aside $60.7 million for loan losses in the third quarter, compared to provisions of $54.1 million in the same period of 1984.

The bank considered the increased loan loss provisions "necessary and prudent" because of the troubled energy industry, J.A. Elkins Jr., senior chairman of the board, said in a release

LIVINGSTON, Texas (AP) - A state district judge says he will soon whether to postpone the Nov. 18 trial of a junior high school principal accused of killing the football coach in an alleged love triangle involving the school secretary.

Houston lawyer Dick DeGuerin on Thursday asked Judge John Martin to grant a delay in the trial of Hurley Fontenot, principal at Hull-Daisetta's Woodson Junior High School, because of delays in reviewing evidence gathered by prosecutors.

Fontenot, 48, of Raywood is charged in the shooting death of coach Billy Mac Fleming. Fontenot has pleaded innocent and remains free on $50,000 bond.

Innovator Orson Welles dies at 70

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Orson Welles, a "king" discarded by Hollywood, is dead of a heart attack at 70, leaving a legacy of more than 60 films, including the great "Citizen Kane," which revolutionized cinema.

Welles, whose 1938 radio tale of invaders from Mars panicked listeners nationwide, rode that success into Hollywood where at age 25, he stunned the film world with his first feature, "Citizen Kane." He wrote, directed and starred in the story based on the life of newspaper tycoon William Randolph Hearst, won the Oscar for writing and was nominated for directing and acting.

Welles died Thursday at the Hollywood home of a friend, Aleksandar Devcic, police said. His physician, Dr. Thomas Dailey, said Welles died of a heart attack after a long battle with diabetes.

What a shame, and I mean that literally, that one of the finest talents motion pictures has ever had was rejected out of hand," said filmmaker John Huston. "It's been years since any studio offered rson an opportunity to direct, and it's the world's loss.

U.S. demonstrates military might

WASHINGTON (AP) - High over the nighttime Mediterranean Sea, four U.S. Navy F-14 jets from the aircraft carrier Saratoga circled south of Crete, waiting for their quarry - a chartered 737 carrying four Palestinian hijackers.

Lauro and Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger rushed from his Maine vacation home to a post-midnight Pentagon news conference to praise his troops. "The work of the Navy planes and the carrier cannot be commended too highly," said a happy Weinberger. "It is a difficult task on very short notice both to assemble planes and make an intercept."

final approval and the carrier's warplanes were launched along with radar planes and tankers for refueling. Weinberger said the F-14 Tomcats streaked south across Crete and circled, waiting for the chartered Egyptian 737.

It carried the four hijackers suspected of killing a 69-year-old crippled American, as well as two other Palestinians, four Egyptians, and the plane's crew, Weinberger told the news conference.

The F-14s intercepted the 737 at 5:30 p.m. EDT and the two sides began talking on their radios. The Egyptian crew radioed to Tunis for landing approval, but was rejected. Another call for an OK to land at Athens was also turned down.

At that point, the 737 "accepted our intercept and agreed it would be taken by us to a NATO base" in Sicily, Weinberger said. No shots were Weinberger refused to answer one of the biggest questions remaining from the incident: what the F-14s would have done had the Egyptian plane refused to follow to Sicily.

"That's a hypothetical question,"

Weinberger said, declining to go into detail about the "rules of engagement" guiding the Navy pilots.

The F-14 is one of the Navy's most potent planes and normally carries both cannons and rockets.

Guided closely by the F-14s and followed by the other Navy planes, the 737 was escorted for 75 minutes until it landed at the joint U.S.-Italian NATO base at Sigonella. There the six Palestinians were arrested and the Egyptian crew was told it could take its plane back to Cairo, Weinberger said.

The Reagan administration has the Saratoga steamed on normal threatened to act before against terrorism and has been under pressure by critics here to do something.

This time, the United States was Reagan ordered preparations ready, Weinberger said. "We were prepared to take against against the ship (the Achille Lauro) and we were said, and the order was sent to the prepared to do that effectively and

But when the 737 touched down at Two hours later, Reagan gave the Sigonella, specially trained American troops were reportedly on the base, although there were conflicting stories about whether they were Navy SEAL commandos or members of the super-secret "Delta Force" anti-terrorist team.

Another big unanswered question was how much, if any, help the United States had from Egypt. Speakes said Egypt was not a party to the operation and Weinberger declined to go beyond that comment.

But the Pentagon leader did say we had very good intelligence." The fact that the F-14s were launched even before the 737 left a military airbase outside Cairo and the Navy jets were waiting over Crete indicates the United States had been closely watching its target.

Weinberger disputed the contention that the United States had not acted before against terrorists.

"We're seeing an increase in both crime against illegal aliens by illgal aliens and vandalism and crime in border communities," said Roger Brademuehl, assistant commissioner of the Border Patrol.

Also increasing is the number of family groups - roughly 174,000 women and children were arrested

But most of the September drop in the overall index was due to a 3.8 percent decrease for passenger cars and a 2 percent decline for light trucks both a reflection of the industry's traditional end-of-model-year sales coupled with low-interest financing.

The 0.6 percent decline in September was the sharpest onemonth drop since the 0.7 percent decline in January 1983, and caught most analysts by surprise even though they foresee no surge in wholesale prices for the remainder of the year.

Changes that show up in the producer price measure are a good barometer of how food, energy and other commodity prices will move at the retail level. However, the Consumer Price Index, due out later this month, checks a broader range of items and generally does not follow the PPI's tendency to bounce around sharply from month to month.

The Labor Department offered these specifics on September wholesale price activity:

Reduced prices for pork and fresh fruits and vegetables accounted for most of the food price decline. Beef and veal and fish prices also moved down but eggs and coffee and chicken cost more.

Gasoline prices fell 2.2 percent in September and barely offset rises for both natural gas and heating oil to account for the overall slight decline in the fuel component. Heating oil prices jumped 10.7 percent in September after declines the two previous months, and natural gas inched up 0.5 percent, also coming on the heels of two declining months. Those figures are not seasonally

Before seasonal adjustment auto prices plunged 8.1 percent last month and light truck prices fell 7.1 percent. Auto prices had fallen only 0.2 percent in August and truck prices 0.7 percent. Because lower auto prices are anticipated this time of year, the seasonal adjustment formula tempered the impact on the overall figure.

- Capital equipment fell 0.6 percent after seasonal adjustment, following a 0.2 percent rise in this year, up 14 percent from last August. Auto costs accounted for year. much of that, along with declines for businesses purchasing agricultural machinery and woodworking tools.

If last month's 0.6 percent decline held steady for 12 straight months. the yearly rate would be a 6.7 percent decline. The actual annual rate provided by the department is based on a more precise calculation than used to report the monthly percentage change

In all, the Producer Price Index for finished goods stood at 290.2 in September, meaning that goods costing $10 in 1967 would have cost $29.02 last month.

HHS Maroon junior varsity ties Amarillo

The Hereford High School Maroon junior varsity football team battled to a 16-16 tie with Amarillo High School in a game played Thursday in Amarillo.

Hereford Maroon, which now has a 2-2-1 season record, held a 16-0 halftime lead.

In the first quarter, fullback Bobby Medina scored with a 15-yard run, and quarterback Chris Bullard passed to split end Chris Johnson for the two-point conversion.

Medina rushed 10 yards for a second quarter touchdown for Hereford Maroon. An extra-point kick was not good, and Hereford Maroon led 14-0.

Red Raiders host Razorbacks Saturday

The two teams in the Southwest Conference that use the wishbone offense will battle it out on the gridiron Saturday night when the Texas Tech Red Raiders host the Arkansas Razorbacks.

Kickoff for the Red Raiders' last night game of the season is 7 p.m. at Jones Stadium.

Texas Tech was edged by Texas A&M last week when the game was determined in the last minute and a half. Tech scored to cut the A&M lead to 28-27, but was unable to get any kind of extra-point play off in time before being penalized.

The Red Raiders went for a twopoint conversion and failed.

Coach Jerry Moore of Texas Tech said, "I played it over in my mind 100 times Saturday night. The smart thing to do would have been to kick it but I got caught up in the emotion of the players and the fans and we weren't able to get the play off. It was a poor decision on my part."

About Arkansas, which walloped TCU 41-0 last week, Moore said, "They aren't as big as the last two teams we have played, but they make up for it with excellent quickness.

Dodgers dominate Cardinals

By KEN PETERS AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The Los Angeles Dodgers' secret to dominating St. Louis in the first two games of the National League playoffs isn't much of a secret. The Dodgers simply don't do anything wrong.

"Everything they're doing is right," said Cardinals shortstop Ozzie Smith after the Dodgers won the second game of the best-of-seven series 8-2 Thursday night.

"It couldn't happen at a better time for them. They're pitching very well, hitting very well, fielding very well. What else can you say?"

The Dodgers, who won the opening game 4-1 on the strong pitching of Fernando Valenzuela and reliever Tom Niedenfuer, could wrap up the NL pennant by taking two of the three upcoming contests in St. Louis on Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Landreaux and Bill Madlock each had three hits in a 13-hit Dodger attack.

Hershiser said his early pitching problems were caused by being too pumped up for his first-ever playoff appearance.

"The type of energy I felt, it wasn't nervous energy," said Hershiser, 19-3 during the regular season. "I wasn't scared or shaky. It made me feel so strong I thought I could throw the ball through a wall. That's not good for a sinkerball pitcher.

after his trip around the bases in the third inning.

"Driving in the run wasn't as important to me as being able to run the bases," he said. "That took some of the strength out of me. I seemed to get in a good groove after that."

The Dodgers, meanwhile, were piling up runs against Andujar. His downfall began when, after allowing Steve Sax's one-out single in the third, he tried to pick him off first and threw wildly, with Sax winding up at third.

Hershiser twice failed to lay down squeeze bunt but then slapped a high bouncer over the head of drawnin St. Louis third baseman Terry Pendleton.

"He (Andujar) started off with very good stuff," St. Louis Manager Whitey Herzog said. "But for some reason he made that throw to first despite the fact we were going to get an automatic out when Hershiser

"Then he came in with that pitch to Hershiser," Herzog said, shaking his head.

Sax said of Andujar's error: 'Sometimes it just takes something like that to trigger one team or rattle the other.'

The Dodgers got a lift in the top of the first when catcher Mike Scioscia gunned down speedsters Vince Coleman and wwillie McGee as each was trying to steal second. Tom Herr followed with a two-out double that probably would have scored both runners, but instead the Dodgers got out of the inning unscathed.

"It really fired our team up," Los Angeles Manager Tom Lasorda said. "Scioscia made some great throws and that really helped."

Heading back to St. Louis, the Cardinals admit they're down, but not

"We are kind of digging a hole for ourselves," right fielder Andy Van Slyke said. "We definitely have the attitude that we have to sweep them in St. Louis because this ballpark hasn't been nice to us, and we don't HOUSTON (AP) - Sunday team meetings of the Rice University football team are generally a test of Coach Watson Brown's psychological skills.

"I don't know when I'll get the nerve to put Quentis in but he's going to play against TCU whether we're

"A lot of our game plan went out the window when we lost those two players," Brown said of Stinson and Overton, "We'd planned on using Kerry to run the option and Elliston to go deep."

Brown is beginning the disruptive process of shifting players to fill the injury gaps.

TCU, reeling to a 2-2 record after seven players were dismissed for rules violations, run the option offense that has given the Owls problems. The Owls yielded 406 rushing yards to the option attack in a 59-17 loss to Air Force.

THAT'S INCREDIBLE! OR IS IT?

Agrippa said to Paul, "Go ahead. Tell us your story." So Paul, with many gestures, presented his defense:

"I am fortunate, King Agrippa," he began, "to be able to present my answer before you, for I know you are an expert on Jewish laws and customs. Now please listen patiently! As the Jews are well aware, I was given a thorough Jewish training from my earliest childhood in Tarsus and later at Jerusalem, and I lived accordingly. If they would admit it, they know that I have always been the strictest of Pharisees when it comes to obedience to lewish laws and customs. But the real reason behind their accusations is something else - it is because I am looking forward to the fulfillment of God's promise made to our ancestors. The 12 tribes of Israel strive night and day to attain this same hope I have! Yet, O King, for me it is a crime, they say! But is it a crime to believe in the resurrection of the dead? Does it seem incredible to you that God can bring men back to life again. I used to believe that I ought to do many horrible things to the followers of lesus of Nazareth. I imprisoned many of the saints in Jerusalem, as authorized by the High Priests; and when they were condemned to death, I cast my vote against them."

Students challenge prices at state fair

DALLAS (AP) - The "Texas Star" ferris wheel isn't the only thing reaching new heights at the Texas State Fair, some Dallas schoolchildren contend.

Acts 26:1-10

Dallas 13-year-old Elizabeth Valdez, armed with 169 letters from other youngsters confronted city officials with complaints that state fair prices are too high for kids. "My brother and I save pennies every year," Elizabeth wrote in her own letter. "This year we saved $53 worth of pennies and it isn't even enough to get on three rides." For example, she said, "it costs $1 to purchase one dart at most booths. Whatever happened to $1 for three darts? "... Please consider some ways to lower State Fair prices," she concluded.

Suzzanne Webster really showed disgust writing, "I surely won't want to go to it next year. I'd rather go to school." A letter from student

Phillip Brannon said: "My whole family was mad about paying coupons for food ... My father bought forty dollars worth of coupons. After we ate lunch and rode about three rides we were out of coupons."

Byron Mitchell threatened: "I won't eat the food if you don't lower the prices."

By the time I came out of the fair, all I had done was eat french fries, drink a Coke and see a boring sideshow."

Laura Vaden wrote, "The only way that I see someone would be able to go to the fair is not go ... just just thinking about the prices and especially paying them spoild the day."

manager Wayne Gallagher said he agreed that prices are high, but said he is powerless to do anything about it.

He said fair officials in the past had "strongly suggested" ceiling prices for the food, but a vendor filed a federal lawsuit alleging price fixing.

"I think prices on everything are too high. I think fairs are something kids should be able to come out and enjoy," said Gallagher, who asked his staff to research the prices and told Valdez he'd meet with her Tuesday.

Students have low test scores

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) - In the wake of a state battle defending teacher training exams in federal court, minority students scored poorly on the most recent skills test.

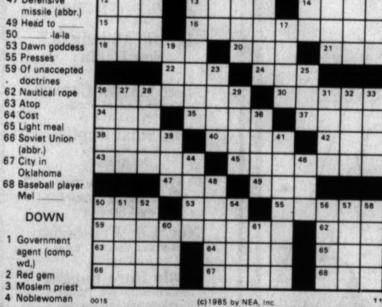

Only 17 percent black and 27 percent Hispanic students who took the Pre-Professional Skills Test passed it, results showed. Those figures compared to a 66 percent passing rate for white education students and a 57 percent passing rate overall.

More than 7,000 college students, sophomores, took the staterequired exam in June which students must pass to be admitted to any of the 65 state teacher training institutions.

The results were released in the midst of the state's appeal of a ruling from U.S. District Court Judge William Wayne Justice of Tyler. Justice suspended use of the test on Aug. 27 citing potential discrimination against minorities.

Minority scores on the exam, given three times a year,
