FIVE NAMED TO HOSPITAL WELFARE UNITS

Two Boards Get Members

Loerwald Retained By Comish

By DUDLEY LYNCH
News-Editor

County commissioners named appointees to two subordinate boards Monday, going against the recommendation of the Deaf Smith County Hospital's board of managers in one instance.

Both boards — the hospital board and the child welfare board — have been nettlesome topics in recent weeks for the commission.

In re-appointing one member and designating two new ones, the commission dropped the procedure of naming a physician to the hospital board. It did, however, recommend that the doctors' chief of staff be made an advisory, but non-voting, board member.

For 2-Year Terms

Re-appointed to a two-year term was Ed F. Loerwald, partner in a Hereford blacksmith firm, Loerwald, 224 Star, is presently secretary-treasurer of the board.

The two new members are A. H. Cook, a farmer who lives south of town on U. S. Hwy. 385; and John D. Pitman, president of Pitman Grain Co. They too will serve two-year terms.

Outgoing board members, whose terms expire today, are Dr. A. T. Mims and Ira Scott. The vote of the commissioners was unanimous after an hour of discussion, mostly in a closed session.

The two appointments to the child welfare board will fill the positions of two former members — one who is presently a county commissioner, Donald Hicks, and another, Bruce Coleman, who takes office Friday. Both recently resigned.

Vote Unanimously

Named to three-year terms, effective tomorrow, were Edgar D. Skypala, 510 N. McKinley, a dairy products distributor; and Garland S. Solomon Jr., 240 Ave. J, a farmer.

In the Dec. 14th meeting of the commission, a "rotation" plan worked out for the welfare board two years ago was suspended for the second year in a row. The action was vigorously discussed, County Judge H. C. (Hank) Williams was placed in a tie-breaking position. The net result was the retention of Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., member of the board for 10 years and present chairman.

The commissioners, however, were in agreement Monday in naming the new board members.

Give Full Attention

Commissioners thoroughly combed the implications of the hospital board appointments but, after re-reading a letter from the board requesting that the present members be retained intact, decided it would be to the county's best interests not to appoint physicians to the board.

County General Fund In 'Black' After Years Of Large Deficits

Glancing through the long, involved monthly budget report, county commissioners came up with a figure Monday they point to with pride.

The general fund, the financial enigma of most counties in Texas, was in the black at the end of November.

"The court has been working for several years to pull the county out of the red," said outgoing commissioner J. T. Guinn, who, with commissioner Charles Sowell, participated in his last court meeting before going out of office.

The budget report showed the county has moved from $28,433.72 in the deficit column, the figure on Nov. 30, 1963, to $15,867.04 on the "plus" side of the ledger as of Nov. 30 of this year.

Commissioners attributed the favorable financial picture, which has been as much as $60,000 in the hole and has been on the debit side for the past

Double Stripe Shouldn't Be Crossed At Bank Entrance

By PHIL DUNCAN

Police Chief Marshall Padgett still isn't happy — and the chances are that the town's motorists aren't going to be either until he cheers up.

He hopes a year-end reminder, and emphasis that the rate of 1964 traffic accidents increased proportionately with the city's growth, will induce drivers to show increased regard for others and will prod the carelers to a more conscientious effort.

The chief, who normally is a doggone nice fellow, has said all this before. But he's repeating it again.

Too Many Accidents

"We are having entirely too many accidents in Hereford," Padgett said after glancing over accident reports for 1964.

"There are many violations people are committing in the city that we are observing as we attempt to slow down the rise in the minor accidents," Padgett said.

Padgett explained any time a double stripe is marked on the street it is illegal to cross it with a motor vehicle.

Bankers Predict Steady Expansion For Hereford

Two of Hereford bankers checked the prevailing economic winds this week and prognosticated that 1965, all the "wherefores and thereins" being equal, should bring the community another 12 months of "normal, steady growth."

Some of the more interesting off-the-cuff observations:

Farmers who heavily invested in sugar beet harvesting equipment will have that capital improvement out of the way, and find more spending money in their pockets as a result.

Cattle Market Up

Cattle prices, which during the last two years have all but humped at the bankruptcy level, have begun to show some favorable stirrings.

Building may show a tendency to "level off," but increased commercial activity is a definite possibility.

As far as agriculture in general is concerned, mused Joel Hodges, executive vice-president of Hereford State Bank, "our production is constant. We don't have the dry weather element. And the prices look like they will be about the same."

A possible exception is the cattle market, he said, which is just beginning to emerge from an 18-month period when "every feeder lost money."

"These cattle coming out in the last three months have been making money," Hodges said.

Need Wet Spring

"Basically our cattle conditions here depend on the range conditions. It will depend on a wet spring." He noted also that the Western Livestock Journal came out with a number of optimistic quotes from the bigger cattle feeders. "That's the first note of optimism that I've seen from anybody in a long time," he remarked.

A plateau of normalcy in the beet industry should be reached during 1965, Hodges surmised. The paying off of equipment added to the farmers' lineup of machinery, should "release more spending money. Our major building program from the sugar beet expansion is over," he said. And not to be overlooked is the increased acreage — and cor-

Flames Damage New Residence

Hereford's Volunteer Fire Department answered a call at 418 Barrett Tuesday afternoon, when a spark from a spray painting machine ignited paint and set fire to the house, under construction at that address.

Damage was estimated at about $1,000 by Jessie Barrett, owner.

The fire was nearly out before the fire units arrived, but not before the interior of the house had been scorched by the flash fire.

Painters, inside at the time of the blaze, rushed out the front door and escaped injury. Most of the windows in the front were broken by intense heat, and all wood trimming in the house was scorched severely.

Area Farmers Seek Posts In Water District

Absentee voting for a precinct director and two county committeemen for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation No. 1 continued this week prior to the actual election on Jan. 12th.

Running from Deaf Smith County for director of the four-county Precinct 4 is Andrew Kershen, who farms west of Hereford and recently received serious injuries in a mechanical accident. He is still seeking the post, however.

Five Age Running

Counties in the precinct include Deaf Smith, Armstrong, Potter and Randall.

Two of Deaf Smith county's committeemen positions will be filled. Running for the precinct 4 post are Billy Bob Moore, who is seeking re-election, and Harold Dean Fowler, both of Wildorado. Seeking the precinct 3 place are Billy Wayne Sesson, Rt. 5, Hereford, and George Ritter, Rt. 5, Hereford. The outgoing committeeman here is Clinton Jackson.

Any county resident who has a valid 1964 poll tax receipt is eligible to vote for the director and those living in precincts 3 and 4 may vote for committeemen. Absentee ballots are being cast at the Hereford field office, 317 N. Sampson. Absentee voting continues through Jan. 8.

Voting on Jan. 12 will be at the courthouse.

Other county committeemen are L. E. Ballard, J. E. McCathern Jr., and Charles Packard.

Hereford Breaks Building Record For Third Year

New Construction Hits $4.6 Million

Construction in Hereford in 1964 shattered the all-time high established in 1963 with total construction for the year hitting $4,644,380. It was the third consecutive record setting 12-month period.

The previous record high was established in 1963, when permits issued for the year totaled $4,379,000. This represented a rise of $264,650 over the previous year.

The year of 1962 had been a banner year for building as the trend began in the last three months of the year and totaled $1.7-million for the 12 month period.

Officials felt at that time the building trend would slack off in 1963, but were mistaken as the permits climbed nearly $2.5 million higher for the year and were nearly $3-million-higher in 1964.

Houses Galore

Houses dominated the building scene in 1964 with 230 single family housing units constructed in the city, with costs on the units averaging $17,000 per unit. Total number of family units constructed in the city during 1964 totaled 313. In 1963, 368 family units were constructed. The decline was believed due to the number of multi-family apartments constructed in the city in 1963.

Largest month for building was November, when permits for more than $790,000 were issued.

Largest In History

The largest portion of this, however, came when permits for $589,000 were issued to the Hereford Independent School for the construction of a new school, an addition to Aikman School and construction of a bus barn at the high school.

This was the largest month for construction permits in the history of the city.

The year jumped off to a big start with $434,750 issued in permits for the first month of the year. The largest portion of the permits in January were accounted for by the construction of the new wing and hospital at Kings Manor. This permit was for $136,000.

February was a big month for building with permits for the month totaled $365,500. The largest item was $30,000.

March Keeps Up

The trend did not fall off in March. The permits continued to boom with $311,060 issued, and again in March residences dominated the scene with the

CLOVIS POLICEMAN INVOLVED

Infant Chokes To Death, Officer Hurt In Late Tuesday Mishaps

Tragedy struck a visiting Breckenridge family here late Tuesday afternoon only minutes after a Clovis motorcycle patrolman was involved in what could have been a fatal crash southwest of Hereford on U.S. Hwy. 60.

The 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Panther of Breckenridge was pronounced dead at Deaf Smith County Hospital about 5:40 p.m. A doctor said the infant choked to death on a marble.

In satisfactory condition Wednesday at the hospital was Charles Cumiford, 28, of Clovis. Hospital Administrator T. E. Seigler Jr. said the patrolman sustained a possible basal skull fracture and bruises about the face, particularly around the left eye.

He was injured when his motorcycle slammed into the side of a pickup truck driven by a Hereford man, Lee Alvin Myers, 49, Rt. 1. Neither Myers or Cumiford's partner, Bill Krumnow, also a Clovis officer who was riding behind Cumiford on another motorcycle, was hurt.

Plainview Business Symposium Put Off Until March By WTCC Group

ABILENE (Special) — Bee-man Fisher of Fort Worth, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, this week announced a change in dates for three business symposiums to be sponsored by the WTCC in Midland, Plainview, and Fort Worth. Originally scheduled January 6, 7, and 8, the symposiums will now be held on March 24, 25, and 26, Fisher announced.

Factors Involved

"Several factors are involved in our decision to move the symposium dates," Fisher said. "For one thing, we are going to attract the top business leadership in West Texas to these meetings, and by waiting until both the Congress and our own State Legislature are in session, we will have a better idea of how legislative developments are shaping up. It may well be that the ideas expressed by our West Texas business leaders will be of great interest and importance to our legislative representatives after both of these law-making bodies are in session and there is some indication as to how the legislative winds are blowing."

Eye Weather

"Then too, we feel that weather will be less of a factor in March than during January and that we are less likely to have severe cold spells with icy roads. "Some of our own directors have suggested that early January, with its heavy stress on the taking of inventories and the pressure of tax matters, may be less desirable than a time later in the year," Fisher said.

Fisher has appointed John Ben Shepperd, of Odessa, WTCC Oil and Gas Committee chairman, to serve as general chairman of symposium planning for March. A meeting of the general planning committee will be held in Abilene January 7, Fisher said.

Enrollment At LCC Set For Jan. 26th

Spring semester enrollment at Lubbock Christian College will begin Tuesday, January 26, according to Dr. Herman O. Wilson, Registrar.

Late registration will continue through February 3. Dr. Wilson said college officials were expecting an estimated record of 600 students. The previous record spring enrollment was set in the spring of 1964 with 467 students enrolled.

There will be no change in the host cities for the symposiums, Fisher said.

Scheduled to be featured speakers for the symposiums are Fisher, Shepperd, Ray B. Bowden of Fort Worth, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Grain and Feed Association; and Attorney Joe Kilgore, longtime Congressman from Texas.

Deer, Motorists Are Benefitted

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — An experiment at the Winamac State Fish and Game Preserve is saving deer and eliminating a traffic hazard, the Midwest Wildlife Conference was told here.

Kenneth Nettles of the Indiana Department of Conservation said a string of small mirrors erected along roads through the preserve greatly reduced the number of deer killed by cars at night.

The mirrors, developed in Holland, are fashioned of polished steel and arranged in pairs 10 feet from the highway and 66 feet apart. Nettles explained the mirrors reflect the headlights of approaching cars to the side of the road, frightening away deer, which may be about to start across.

Before the mirrors were installed a year ago, Nettles said 16 deer were killed by cars along the tested stretch of road. Only three have been killed since.

The experiment is believed the first of its kind in the U.S.

Retired Marine Fulfills Boast

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — In November 1926, a Naval examining board retired James E. Hall from the U.S. Marine Corps because of a bad heart. He didn't want to retire.

"I'll see all of you in your graves," he says he told the board.

Recently, Hall celebrated his 90th birthday at his home in St. Petersburg. "I've got all my teeth, all my toes and all my faculties, and I may live another 40 years," he said.

"I had a bad heart then (when he was retired) and I've still got it. I just learned how to live with it and it's never let me down."

At last count, he said, only one member survived from the examining board which retired him.

Doctor To Use Helicopter On Medical Rounds

MADISON, Ind. — Dr. William Keith Haney is looking forward to making night house calls this winter.

And the worse the weather the better.

Haney has purchased a helicopter and plans to use it to skip over ice-clogged roads in winter and the Ohio River flood waters which ripple here in the spring.

"I'll be 40 years old soon and I think everybody should learn something new when they reach that age," he said.

Haney's taste for flying came during World War II when he flew 35 missions as a B17 pilot.

He is a charter member of the Flying Physicians, 1,600 doctors who own their own planes and stand ready to fly into disaster areas to give medical aid.

Haney owns a four-passenger twin-engine plane used for long trips. But he adds, "Sometimes in the winter it's almost impossible for me to make a house call because of ice and snow. Now with the helicopter I can just hop to wherever necessary. And it'll be great for the spring floods."

He'll keep the chopper parked in a cornfield across the street from his home, where he lives with his wife and 6-year-old daughter.

She was born June 16, 1891, in Stephens Co., Texas, and married C. F. Rickels at Olney in 1910. In 1939 they came to Hereford, moving to a ranch in South Dakota in 1954.

Burial was in Timber Lake Cemetery, Timber Lake, S. D. Mrs. Rickels is survived by her husband, Frank; a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Reeves, Sioux Falls, S. D.; a sister, Mrs. Cecil McBrayer, Oklahoma City, Okla.; two grandsons and eight great-grandchildren.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Problems Could Push Session Into Summer

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Texas Legislators will be back in Austin on Jan. 12 to grapple with an array of problems which could keep them here throughout the summer.

Congressional and legislative redistricting, taxes and appropriations top the agenda of controversial subjects for the 59th session.

Many lawmakers feel they barely will come to grips with the redistricting issue before expiration of the regular session in May. Special sessions very likely will be necessary to settle this explosive matter in line with the one-man-one-vote theory laid down by court decisions.

Proposed expenditures for higher education and teacher pay raises look like top topics for debate in the spending area.

Other legislation sure to stir strong interest and hot tempers includes horse race betting, oil and gas lease pooling, water planning and development, mixed drink sales and judicial pay raises.

No significant change in the power structure of either house of the Legislature is likely. House Speaker Byron Tunnell is assured of another term and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith will begin his second term as president of the Senate.

There are only two new members in the Senate and 42 in the House.

CRIME RATE UP — Texas crime rate jumped nearly 12 percent in 1964, says the Department of Public Safety.

Rate increased from 2,261 offenses per 100,000 population in 1962 to 2,675 this year. This fact

Legislature may authorize Texas Land Development Board to lend money for developing underground water, but it may not authorize the board to guarantee bond issues for that purpose. (Opinion requested by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake.)

COURTS SPEAK — Texas 1969 "full crew law" requiring five-man crews on freight trains does not apply to modern diesel-powered trains operating in interstate commerce, Austin District Judge Herman Jones held.

Jones granted summary judgment to Southern Pacific Railway. Attorney General Carr brought suit.

Jones also entered judgments of $46,000 and $6,000 in slant oil well suits filed by Carr. Wells were located in Rusk and Gregg counties.

Attorney General now has recovered $1,081,195 from drillers and operators of oil wells alleged to have been divided in violation of State Railroad Commission rules.

APPOINTMENT — Joe G. Moore Jr., Red River County native and graduate of Clarksville High School who has been Governor Connally's chief budget examiner for the past two years, has been appointed to the governor's administrative staff.

Moore's primary responsibility will be to coordinate Connally's education program. His father, Grady Moore, served in the House of Representatives.

EMERGENCY PLANNING — Connally announced the appointment of a retired US Army officer, Col. Laurence T. Ayres, as the Executive Assistant for resources planning in Texas.

Ayres, a native of Arkansas Pass, retired in July of 1964 from his military post at Fort Sam Houston. He will coordinate plans for emergency use of all resources, working closely with Federal agencies having resources responsibilities.

TEXAS BANDS WASHINGTON-BOUND — Southwest Texas State College band of San Marcos and the University of Texas Longhorn band will represent the State of Texas in the Inaugural Parade following Pres. Lyndon B. Johnson's swearing-in in Washington, D. C., January 20.

State Democratic Chairman Marvin Watson of Dainingerfield, speaking for the official Inaugural Committee, announced the committee's selection.

Bands must raise their own funds to pay transportation costs.

NEW HIGHWAY PROJECTS — Texas Highway Commission authorized construction of a $211,400 farm-to-market Road on FM 496 in Duval County; widening of Buck Creek Bridge on US 83 in Childress County; and highway development studies for Eagle Pass, Del Rio and Seymour.

FM 496 project will run 12.4 miles from a point nine miles north of Jim Hogg County line. Bridge widening is a $65,000 undertaking.

US Bureau of Public Roads announced that there are more miles of roads in Texas than any other state — 236,464 miles, compared to California's 154,519; Kansas' 132,823, and Alaska's 6,230 miles.

PARKS POPULARITY UP — Parks & Wildlife Director J. Weldon Watson reports that authorized State Park improvements are well ahead of schedule.

Parks will be ready for what the department predicts will be the "greatest park year in history," says Watson.

State parks attendance for 1964 was 7,900,000 visitors, compared to 7,200,000 in 1963.

Development of a proposed LBJ State Park across from the LBJ Ranch in Gillespie County will further increase park attendance.

Watson now is conferring with a Tennessean who recently purchased the property along Ranch Road 1 for commercial purposes. New owner planned to build a motel there.

Your Red Cross In Action

By Corinne J. Neely

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY REPORT: High School, Stanton Jr. High and Aikman Jr. Red Cross had Christmas projects and all schools had a part in carrying them out in use of their funds to supplement needs.

High School took care of a needy family with a basket of Christmas dinner; Stanton Jr. High made 100 place mats, nut cups and other decorations for the Amarillo Air Force Base Hospital and filled 20 Christmas stockings for them. In their year-end project they made a large number of cross-word puzzles and joke books and brought in books and magazines to go to the base.

All schools had part in a $25.00 check sent to Boy's Ranch for one suit for a boy as a over all project in community work.

Aikman School made a 100 nut cups for King's Manor, West Gate Nursing Home and Hereford Rest Home. These were filled with candies and delivered by a Gray Lady on the 24th.

The Gray Ladies completed two Christmas plans when they followed through with the gifts for shut-ins following their early December Luncheon. These were delivered by Bess Saucy and others who had special plans for their gift. All Gray Ladies made Christmas cookies to be delivered to King's Manor and West Gate for the holidays.

LOOKING AHEAD TO THE NEW-YEAR 1965: Mother and Baby Care classes for three sessions in Home Makers Department in High School have been completed by Mrs. Earl Springer and she will teach a class for adults and couples in January if enough people are interested. Please call the Red Cross office on this class. Mrs. Durham, who heads the department for Home Making has completed three classes in "Aid to the Sick and Injured". Plans now call for a special presentation of both above classes certificates in January.

It is hoped that First Aid classes can be set up in January — and after a committee meeting of the instructors, announcement will made if classes are to be held this month.

January 13th plans will carry out the meeting originally set in December for the Consultants of this area which our chapter heads — Dick Strayer, Red Cross Field Representative of Amarillo will conduct this all day session and will be accompanied by the Home Service representative from our headquarters in St. Louis.

There will also be a Panhandle Association of Chapters meeting at the AFB in Amarillo this month.

Who's For Chocolate Cake?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you are wondering how new "no-melt" chocolate works out in a basic cake, we can report "just fine!"

We tried it in the following recipe for two loaves of chocolate cake, so convenient to have on hand. We served one loaf shortly after baking and stored the other in the refrigerator where it seemed to benefit from the hold-over.

The chocolate loaf is fine to serve plain or frosted with an after-dinner cup of coffee; or you can fancy it up with ice cream and a sundae sauce. Is this dessert the light or dark variety of chocolate cake? We'd say it was medium.

The recipe calls for butter-milk, but if there is none in the house, you may make a substitute. To do so, just pour 1 tablespoon of cider vinegar into a 1-pint measure; add enough milk to make 1 cup; stir and let the combination stand in a warm place for a few minutes before using.

NEW CHOCOLATE LOAF CAKE

- 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 2 cups sugar
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 3 eggs
- 3 envelopes (each 1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate product
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 1 cup finely chopped walnuts, if desired.

Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. Beat together the butter, sugar and vanilla until the consistency of mayonnaise; add eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add unsweetened chocolate product; beat to blend. Add sifted ingredients in 4 additions, alternately with buttermilk, beating until smoother after each addition. Fold in walnuts, if used. Pour into 2 ungreased loaf pans (each 9 by 5 by 3 inches) whose bottoms have been lined with wax paper. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 1 hour or until a wire cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean. Turn out on wire rack; remove paper; turn right side up; cool. Store tightly covered. Color of cake is medium dark and crack on top is characteristic.

School With American Curriculum Flourishes In 'Curtain' Shadow

By HAYS GOREY JR.
Associated Press Writer

VIENNA (AP) — "We always come out best when we meet the Communists face to face," says the new principal of the American International School here, only 40 miles from the Iron Curtain frontiers of Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

The principal, Gordon Parsons, added:

"What better way is there than in a school where people can meet and say what they want?"

Friona Man Gets Penalty For DWI

A 20-year-old Friona man, involved with four teenagers in a Christmas Day traffic accident south of Hereford, was sentenced to 10 days in jail and assessed a $100 fine Monday by County Judge H. C. (Hank) Williams.

Rayford Fred Wilkerson received a plea of guilty and entered a stem lecture from the judge before sentencing.

The other four occupants of the car, which was flipped on its side two miles south of Hereford, will be referred to various county judges at their hometowns, Williams said. This is required by law since they are juveniles.

The American International School has been a great success, demonstrating to Europeans how American education works.

The success made a large-scale expansion necessary and a new, $1,500,000 school plant opened in October. It is said to be the most modern in Europe.

Toronto-born Parsons came here from Palo Alto, Calif., where he was principal of an elementary school.

There he used to spend several days each year arranging a sort of international meeting for his pupils with the foreign students of Stanford University.

In Vienna he said, "We live like that all year long."

"This school smells, looks and feels like any school," Parsons said. "What makes it different is the student population."

The American International School has 414 students from 15 countries.

A regular American curriculum is given to each of the students.

Language classes are begun in the first grade. English-speaking children take German, the others take English.

Among those in the non-English speaking group are 25-30 children from Communist countries around Austria, children whose fathers are in the Western-diplomatic corps in Eastern capitals.

But there are also a few children from Communist parents at the school. One student is the son of the Polish Ambassador to Austria. There are also several Yugoslav students.

Parsons said, Vienna is a tremendously rich area culturally. If we need speakers for our course in comparative government, we can have American and Communist diplomats give each side of the question.

"Things are the same, yet different than in Palo Alto. We play touch football, but also soccer."

The American International School was begun after World War II as a community school by the larger-than-average American diplomatic corps here. It is a nonprofit organization held up by the boot straps by the American government," Parsons said.

He said the future was unlimited. "We have only tapped the surface. This school will be an entity in the European system for a long time."

Parsons suggested bringing American Field Service students

10-Year Project Fails To Meet Texas A&I Need

KINGSVILLE (AP) — Texas A&I College completed a 10-year building program last year only to find that enrollment had kept pace with construction and more buildings still will be needed.

Thus construction started a few weeks ago on the first building of a master plan that envisages a campus capable of teaching between 9,000 and 10,000 students annually within the decade.

President James C. Jernigan says the college is full now and provision must be made for future enrollments. Registration now stands at a record 4,231 which is 503 more than last year.

Aim at August

The first building in the new program, which will contain 13 classrooms and 35 faculty offices is to cost $328,837. Completion date is set for August 1965.

Also planned is a 98-bed addition adjoining the women's dormitories, to be completed by next September. This construction is waiting on approval of a federal loan for self supporting campus housing.

Also contained in the master plan are a building for earth sciences, a field house, another classroom building, and a library addition.

Speaking of Sports...

by PHIL DUNCAN
BRAND SPORTS EDITOR

More honors for Gene Drummond and George Muse were extended this week as the two Hereford gridgers were named to the AAA All-South Plains Team of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Drummond was one of two juniors listed on the top 22 boys, with Gary Gruben, standout guard from Tulia being the other.

Gene will definitely be an asset to the team next year and should be the best back in the district, as the Whitefaces are expecting the best team they have had in the past few years.

With all of the experienced players returning there is no reason why the Whitefaces should not fare very well in the district and this could very well include the District 1-AAA crown.

Football fans are preparing for their last big week of the season as they watch their favorite gridgers battle it out in the big bowl games tomorrow.

I was quite reluctant to stick my neck out last week and pick Texas over Alabama in the Orange Bowl, but I guess I might as well go all the way now.

In an attempt to pacify the local Arkansas fans for the mistake I made last week in saying Texas had less points scored on them than any bowl team, I will pick Arkansas over Nebraska in the Cotton Bowl by seven points.

Actually, the Hogs had only 57 points scored on them in their season and were the number two team in the nation in holding their opponents to fewer points.

After hurdling Texas by the one big point, the Razorbacks blanked their last five opponents in five straight bouts, while they scored 116 points. The hogs scored 221 during the season.

The Hogs will meet powerful Nebraska, who lost only one game of the 1964 season to Oklahoma. Bob Deraney's Cornhuskers have never lost a bowl game and if that is not an inspiration, I don't know what one would be.

I am going to pick Syracuse over Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl, which will be played in New Orleans tomorrow.

Syracuse lost to Boston College in the initial game of the season but Ben Schwartzwalder's Orangemen have greatly improved since the beginning of the season. They were upset by West Virginia and Oregon State, the latter two both bowl contenders.

On the other hand, LSU beat Kentucky and tied Tennessee. They also beat Mississippi — but then, who hasn't?

Michigan should be a clear cut choice in the Rose Bowl. One fluke upset by Purdue knocked them out of the National Championship as they came on as the most powerful team in the nation.

Michigan meets Oregon State in the Rose Bowl tomorrow. If you believe in comparative scores as an indicator, Northwestern beat Oregon State, 7-3. However, Michigan beat Northwestern 35-0. They also blanked Navy 21-0 — but then again, who hasn't?

Texas Tech looked good at some points against Georgia Saturday. Perhaps the Red Raiders were a little too proud of themselves when they would stop the Georgia team for a loss on some plays, and on the following play let the fullback drift through the line for 20 yards.

Texas Tech did have a good season this year, however, compiling a 6-3-1 record for their first winning season since 1955. The television announcer said Coach J. T. King had compiled an enviable record during his four years at Texas Tech. I wonder what kind of record he envies. King's record in the four years has been 16-23-1.

I was very glad I failed to make any prediction in the National Football League Championship. I figured the Baltimore Colts to be a cinch win over the Cleveland Browns. The Browns really looked good and found the key to the game in containing Johnny Unitas.

Jimmy Brown looked very good against Baltimore. Didn't Brown play against Texas one year in the Cotton Bowl, when he was at Syracuse?

The Orangemen beat Texas in the Cotton Bowl in 1959, but Brown could not have been playing that year.

What about Buffalo beating San Diego Saturday? That one had me fooled also. Well, you can't win 'em all. I did pick Tulia over Mississippi and Utah over West Virginia, so maybe I can come out of this season with a little pride left.

I wonder how teams with records like Oklahoma, Texas

Tech, Mississippi, Georgia ever got into bowl games. I always thought bowl games were for champions and not for people boasting 6-4, 6-3-1, 5-4-1 records like these teams have.

The officials of the bowls are apparently trying to add luster to their bowls by inviting the larger schools that have had poor seasons, and were not invited to a major bowl.

The Sooners were lucky to defeat Nebraska, 17-7. They did not show much form, however, when they lost to the Longhorns, 28-7, in the Cotton Bowl for the second year in a row at the same score.

After advancing into the semi-finals of the Annual Holiday Caprock Tournament in Lubbock Monday evening, the Herd dropped a match to Lubbock High School 61-35 Tuesday night.

The Herd looked real good in defeating Levelland Monday 66-58, but did not show any luster in dropping a game to Levelland.

The next scheduled game for the Herd will be Jan. 12, when they travel to Tulia for the first district game.

Maybe they will fare better after they start playing AAA teams instead of AAAA teams.

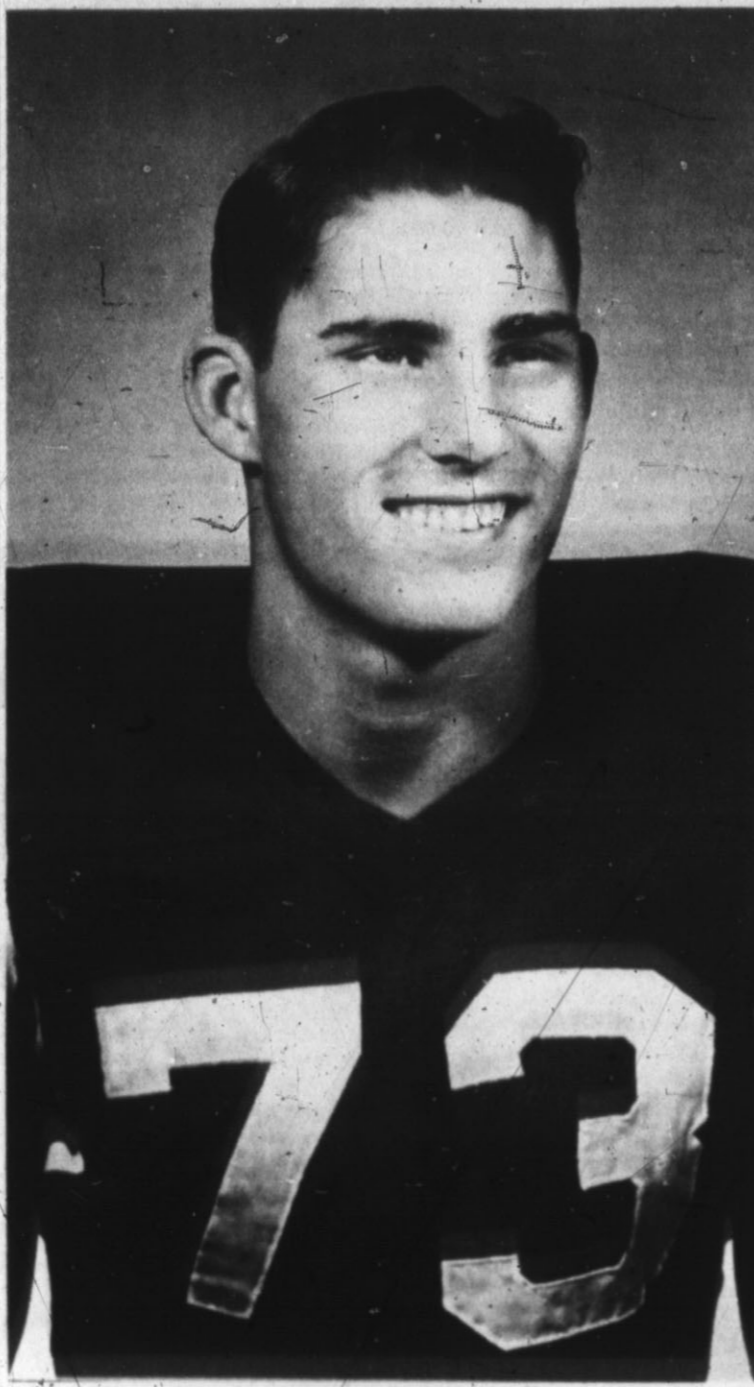

They are 5-6 for the season at the present time, losing five of those six games to AAAA schools.

Final bowl prediction for the week has Oklahoma University over Florida State in the Gator Bowl Saturday.

Florida has a good team, but

Gene Drummond and George Muse, Hereford's only two gridgers to win berths on the District 1-AAA All-District team, were named to the AAA All-South Plains team this week.

The selections, made by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, named the two local youths to the second team.

Drummond was the only junior selected for the team, other than Gary Gruben, Tulia, who was also named to the team as a guard.

James Miller and Ken Cansler, both of Tulia, were the only District 1-AAA players to be named to the first team. Bill Childers, Tulia, was the only other 1-AAA player to be named to the second team with Drummond, Muse and Gruben. Snyder, Tigers placed 17th.

players on the All-South Plains team, with their star halfback Leslie Brown making the grade for the second season in a row. Only one player to be named for the second consecutive year was guard Bill O'Neil of Seminole, who was a first team selection in 1963.

Jimmie Keeling, Tulia head mentor, was named head coach of the year for the All-South Plains AAA state.

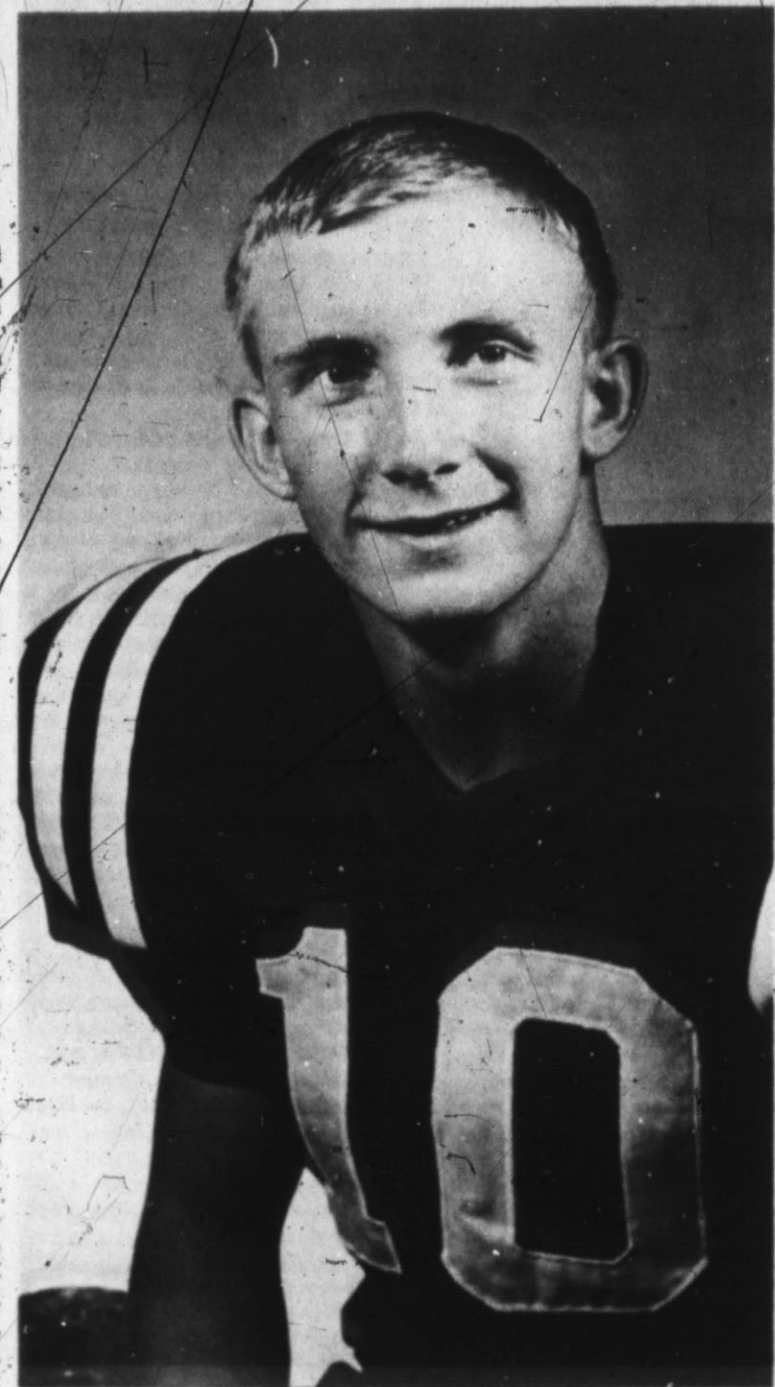

Keeling's Hornets finished with a 7-3 record for the season in their first year in AAAA after moving up from AAA.

The Tulia Hornets barely lost to District champion Dumas, 14-10, after leading 10-0 at one time in the game. Dumas was ranked No. 1 in the state in AAA at that time.

Conference Hurt Since 1915 By Poor Set Of Rules

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference's very first year — 1915 — was marred by eligibility trouble. Baylor's quarterback, Thomas M. Stonerdm, was found to have played at Carnegie Tech before coming to the Baptist school as a freshman. Baylor offered to forfeit the championship.

In 1933 Arkansas won the conference football championship only to have it taken away because one of its players, Ulysses Schuetter, had been on the team at Nebraska the preceding year.

But it was 1955 — 40 years after the conference was organized — that a school was put on probation. Texas A&M got stuck with a two-year term and was barred from bowl games because of recruiting violations.

Nine years later three conference members were put on probation, all in a period of six months.

At Lubbock in May Southern Methodist was handed a two-year probation with sanctions — meaning it couldn't play in a bowl game. At the same time Texas was given an indefinite term but was not ruled out of post-season play.

Then, at the winter meeting in Dallas, Arkansas was handed a probation similar to Texas. All of these penalties were for violating the recruiting rules.

The schools said they didn't knowingly or intentionally violate the rules.

There appears only one way to look at it: if the schools didn't knowingly violate the rules they must have been ignorant of the rules or got poor interpretations.

The Southwest Conference constitution and by-laws were quite clear on what a school could do in recruiting athletes. The only rule that was not technically definite was that which dealt with lavish entertainment.

It was left up to the school to decide how much could be spent on an athlete before it was considered out of the realm of reason. This shouldn't be difficult.

But the conference, at its winter meeting, decided to leave no doubt or loopholes. It defined lavish entertainment with figures.

For years this instrument has been used to give colleges their the Sooners were greatly improved at the end of the season and should really present Florida with a problem.

Herd Drops Tuesday Bout To Lubbock In Tournament

After beating down the Levelland Lobos Monday evening, 66-58, the Hereford Whitefaces dropped a one-sided decision to the 3-AAAA Lubbock High School Westerners 61-35.

Steve Hodges led the scoring for the Herd in the Lubbock game Tuesday evening as he hit nine points and the Lubbock team contained Robert Strange to six points as they did Joe Childers.

Robert Lemons hit for five points, while Gene Duval had four.

Roger Owen had three points and Charlie Moreno had one field goal in the game.

Four of LHS's players hit in the double figures to assist in swamping the Whitefaces.

The Herd made 12 field goals compared with the 24 sunk by the Westerners. They made 11 free throws compared with the 13 sunk by the Westerners. They were charged with 15 fouls while the Westerners were charged with only 13.

Monterrey High School of Lubbock also gained a spot in the tournament finals by battering Graham 56-18.

Hereford and Graham were both eliminated from the tournament after they lost the semi-final bout.

The Herd gained a position in the semi-finals by defeating 2-AAA Levelland 66-58 Monday evening in a hard fought battle. Senior Robert Strange had one of his better nights of the evening as he set the pace for the Whitefaces with 24 points, while team-mate Roger Owen hit for 10 points.

Strange had 10 field goals and had four free throw points to conclude his scoring for the evening.

Owen had four field goals and hit two free throws.

Other players scoring for the Herd were Joe Childers and Robbie Lemons with eight each, while Steve Hodges had seven, Charlie Moreno had four, Kenny Justice had three and Oliver Holmes had one.

Hereford had 26 field goals compared with the Lobos' 23. They had 14 free throws while Levelland had only 12. Hereford was charged with 22 fouls and Levelland was charged with 18.

High point man for Levelland was Willis with 21 points. Waters hit for 17 points.

Midland beat Levelland 101-56 in the semi-finals of the consolation bracket.

CUBAN CHURCHES
 ZURICH, Switzerland (U) — A Baptist minister from Cuba, the Rev. Uxmal Livio Diaz, says the departure of United States missionaries from his homeland amid political tensions has stirred a Christian resurgence. Contributions, membership and lay activity in the churches have increased to new levels of responsibility, he said, adding: "We live in a socialistic state with an atheistic outlook, but we have experienced that God is not absent from our country and his Lordship is not limited by time or place."

It's Possible:
 Stand On Floor,
 Paint Ceiling

By ANDY LANG
 AP Newsfeatures

If you've never done it, painting a ceiling while standing on the floor sounds a little ridiculous. But it is being done every day quite successfully.

I had heard about it for several years, but not until recently did I get a chance to try it out. Aside from the fact that my neck ached a little after I was through, everything worked out pretty much as everyone said it would. It took about one-fourth less time than ordinarily due to the fact that climbing up and down a ladder was eliminated, except for the painting of the strips of ceiling next to the walls.

To paint the ceiling in this way, you need a roller, plus a long extension handle. It takes a few minutes to get used to wielding this contraption, but after a while you have no trouble. The trick, if there is one, is to paint an area of the ceiling slightly ahead of where you're standing rather than painting the section directly above you.

The principles of painting a ceiling with a roller are the same whether you are standing on the floor or on a ladder or work platform. (You can get Andy Lang's detailed booklet, "Paint Your House Inside and Out," by sending 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Know-How, P. O. Box 964, Jamaica, N. Y., 11431.) You must put enough paint on the roller so that it will spread, easily, but not so much that it will drip while you are painting. Roll firmly and smoothly, but pressing too hard also will cause dripping and spattering. Work across the width of the room, rolling from a dry area into a wet one, blending in the laps. Don't spin the roller at the end of a stroke.

You'll need a ladder and a brush to paint a narrow strip next to the walls. Paint this strip as you go along, although if you are using latex paint, the stripping can be done all at one time, since this type of paint is less likely to show lap marks. Edging rollers are available to handle this strip painting if you wish. Some persons swear by an edging roller, others prefer a brush.

Each dip of the roller into the paint tray should enable you to cover an area about two feet long and four feet wide, using back and forth strokes. If you do not already have a roller and go out to buy one before tackling the ceiling, this information may help you: rollers made of lambswool are excellent for most oil paints, but not for enamels or latex paints. Synthetics are good for all types of paints. Mohair is especially good for enamels. Shortnapped rollers work better on smooth surfaces, longnapped on rough surfaces.

By HANS NEUERBOURG BERLIN (AP) - Wanted: Girls - and lots of them. They are needed in West Berlin, a city of a staggering male surplus.

The anguished cry for even more of the weaker sex is not a crazy notion. It comes from West Berlin city officials who are dead serious about it.

There are four women for every three men in West Berlin if you add up all age groups. But the ratio is almost reversed in marrying-age brackets. "West Berlin is the only city in Germany which has such a substantial surplus of young men," laments Manfred Omanowsky, a top official in the West Berlin labor administration. "More girls are vitally needed here."

WALL A FACTOR Like many others, this problem in Berlin has also something to do with the Communist wall that has divided the city since 1961. Tens of thousands of skilled workers who lived in East Berlin but were employed in the Western sectors could no longer commute after the wall went up.

To fill the gap, West Berlin city authorities, with a financial assist from the Bonn government, launched a recruiting drive to have West German workers come to the isolated city 150 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

Up till now, almost 70,000 have followed the appeal, many of them young, eligible bachelors. West Berlin grants them various benefits, including lower income taxes and one-per cent loans that can be "fathered off" - local jargon for the provision that they need not be repaid if the newcomer raises a sufficiently large family.

In the early post-war years, the male-female ratio for newcomers was 7-2. Now it is still 4-1.

MEN UNDATED "West Berlin industry, with its emphasis on garments, food and electrical engineering, has a great demand for girl workers," Omanowsky explains. "But I guess many mothers were afraid to send their daughters unescorted into such a big city."

No matter what the cause, the girl shortage has led to a situation in which one of four young men in West Berlin cannot find a date.

"Unless we find a remedy, the young men will leave West Berlin. The situation is a threat to West Berlin both economically and biologically. We are a city of over-aged people and we need more families."

"Sure, we have many women in Berlin. The surplus begins in the 30s bracket. Around 65, there are twice as many women as men in West Berlin," Omanowsky says.

"The cosmetics industry has made great progress in the art of rejuvenating. But which man in his 20s can be expected to marry a woman 10 or 20 years his senior?"

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

HAPPY NEW YEAR

... it is midnight, and the toll of the bells announce a brand New Year. It is time to begin again. God hands us 365 clean, new days and as we accept his proffer we must make valid resolutions to discharge all the responsibilities that automatically come with them. Our world is confused. Seeds of destruction are planted everywhere. It is not a time for indecision. May we resolve, right now, to get a clearer view of destiny to understand more of the meaning and purpose of life. May we have more time for God, and somehow, may He make us realize, He is in front of all our tomorrows. Happy New Year!

Con Man Misplaces A Cobra

By CONRAD FINK
Associated Press Writer

NEW DELHI (AP) — Like many cities, New Delhi has its share of slippery citizens out to make a fast buck. Some must rank among the best con men in the business today.

One of the most successful was a wizened little guy who worked both sides of the street in the American colony with a flute and basketful of cobras.

He would secretly deposit the vicious-looking snakes in the shrubbery of a prosperous house, then march up to the door to make his pitch. It went like this:

"Sahib, snakes very dangerous for children. I catch for five rupees (about $1) each."

The Americans, all having read Rudyard Kipling's tales about cobras, generally agreed — then gasped in astonishment as the shrubbery yielded five-foot-long cobras, which obediently slithered into the old man's basket as he tottered on the flute.

The snake charmer's downfall came one day when only four of his five pet cobras showed up as scheduled. Thinking the shrubbery was now safe, the American tried to dispense with the old man's services. But he wouldn't go.

"Sahib," he said, "I know there's another snake around here somewhere."

Use of Child Thieves
One of the oldest dodges among New Delhi con men is the use of children as thieves.

Police the other day arrested what a newspaper described as a "well-dressed pickpocket" who operated in New Delhi railway station. He identified himself as Guari Shankar — 10 years old.

There also are occasional cases of professional beggars kidnapping children and maiming them for use as come-ons. Foreigners are considered easy marks for this racket.

The variations seem endless — fortune tellers and astrologers who for a coin promise heaven and earth, bogus relief agencies that peddle charity tickets that are equally bogus, druggist who sell pills made of chalk.

According to government officials, not all the con men are on the streets — some are in the red sandstone government buildings of New Delhi.

Plenty of Complaints
Home Minister G. L. Nanda, pledging to cleanse the capital of corruption, announced a few weeks back that he personally would hear complaints if anyone had any and cared to come to his residence.

They came — an average of 100 a day, to squat on Nanda's lawn and complain about bribes, kick-backs, misappropriation, and government officials on the take. Nanda said half his daily mail contained other complaints.

Impressed, Nanda ordered chief ministers (governors) of all Indian states to set up similar hearings.

Among the most joyous con men are the sidewalk peddlers who have authentic good to sell — at a 200 per cent markup. They seem to love fast and furious bargaining as much as a healthy profit.

There is much wailing and gashing of teeth when these fellows meet a tourist determined to bargain for a better price. But often there is a glint of admiration in the peddlers' eyes as they are forced to give a little.

And the tourist who is willing to spend lots of time waving his arms and shouting in hard bargaining can walk away satisfied with his prize — reasonably certain he hasn't paid more than a 100 per cent markup.
