Single Firm Gets All For $15,000

Bids totalling more than $15,000 were accepted for cafeteria and classroom furniture early Wednesday morning by Hereford Rural High School District trustees. The action climaxed a five-hour meeting that ended about 1 a. m.

American Desk Company swept the bidding for all furniture. Bids were accepted for eight classrooms for the northwest elementary school, five classrooms for the new junior high addition and chairs and tables for 400 persons in the new cafeteria.

Committees of teachers and school administrators earlier had made first, second and third choices from furniture displayed by manufacturers and distributors. They had no knowledge of the bid price of the items, acting solely on appearance, durability and functional use.

For the elementary school, board members took the second

Linda Hair, class valedictorian; Nona Marie Strange, class salutatorian

Linda Hair, Nona Strange Top Grads

Graduating Hereford High School senior Linda Hair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hair, 209 Star, was named valedictorian of her class this week after school administrators made a careful check of her grades as compared to that of Nona Marie Strange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Strange, 203 N. Bennett, who was named class salutatorian.

High school principal Bill Stanford said as the grades of the two students were so close, it was necessary to contrast their grades back through their freshman year. In her freshman year, Miss Hair had a slight edge over Miss Strange grade-wise.

Usually, Stanford said, it is necessary only to check students' grades through their junior year to name a student to the top scholastic post.

However, both had 14 A's and no B's through the fall semester of their senior year, and members of the class agreed to permit a study of the two students' grades in their freshman and sophomore years to break the tie.

Their sophomore grades likewise were approved by the C-C Committees.

Overseas Study This Summer for Miss Wingert

Anne Wingert, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Wingert of 305 Star, has received word from the American Field Service that she will study this summer in Germany.

Anne, who is a junior in Hereford High School, was chosen this year to participate in the Anne Wingert American Field Service summer program for study in a foreign country.

C-C Committees Make Proposals

During the regular monthly meeting of the directors of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday, measures recommended by the Industrial and Livestock committees were approved by the board.

Two committees of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce have approved recommendations to be put before the C of C Board of Directors during the next board meeting.

The Industrial Committee met Monday morning to adopt a recommendation to the board that $250 be appropriated to purchase the services of Bert Blanton of Dallas, who heads an industrial location service there, to make a six-week trip through the industrial areas of the north and east to contact industries future.

Livestock Committee met last week and approved a recommendation to the board that a $700 appropriation be made to aid in sponsoring a three-point program of work for this year.

The recommendation was made with the specification that feed-lot operators and commercial cattle raisers in the area match the amount to raise the $1,400 needed to carry out the proposed program.

The program includes the issuing of a brochure containing cattle industry information in this area and a directory of breeders, commercial herds and feed lot operators.

Also proposed is the erection of signs on the five highways leading into Hereford, stating "Hereford, Texas—The Hereford Capital."

The third part of the program is the sponsoring of a tour of

Gallagher Wins FFA Talent Test

Hereford chapter member Eddie Gallagher won first place in the Area 1 Future Farmers of America talent contest Saturday in Amarillo.

His piano solos won first place from among a field of seven district talent winners competing at Amarillo High School. He will represent Hereford and Area 1 in the state FFA talent contest at Austin in July.

Three Hereford chapter members, Jody Bezner, Pete Plank and Jimmy Conkright passed tests to qualify for the Lone Star Farmer degree, highest award given for high school FFA boys.

A 1958 graduate of Hereford High School, Layton Sawyer, qualified for the American Farmer Degree, the highest award given in FFA. Applicants must have been out of school one year to take the tests. Sawyer qualified as the fourth highest individual in Area 1.

John Hammett of Hereford represented the district in the Area public speaking contest.

Hereford contestants were accompanied by Jess Robinson and Wade Thompson, high school vocational agriculture teachers and chapter sponsors.

Expect 150 For Shrine's 4th Free Children's Clinic

More than 150 children from a five-county area are expected for Hereford's fourth annual free diagnostic clinic Saturday, according to Troy Moore, president of the sponsoring Oasis Shrine Club.

Object of the annual one-day affair is to examine and diagnose handicapping and crippling illnesses for children of all races, creeds and economic backgrounds.

Maximum age limit for examination is 18 years, Moore said.

More than 30 local and out-of-town doctors and specialists will donate their time and services to the clinic, which will be for examination only. They will make recommendations for further treatment.

The Oasis Shrine Club will help children of needy parents to gain admission to state or national hospitals for specialized treatment.

All examinations will be conducted at the Hereford grounds.

Around Town

Should a person's name be given the new Hereford elementary school? Hereford school trustees Tuesday asked that the public submit names for the northwest grammar school. Suggestions may be turned in to The Brand or Superintendent Fred Cunningham. Trustees talked about educators, pioneers and location, but agreed the public should be given a chance to make its wishes known. If no suitable suggestions are received, the school probably will be named "Northwest Elementary" to describe its location.

If Little League officials Monday had gotten their hands on the person who flooded the playing field and let four feet of water into a dug-out, most likely we would have had a headline, "Mob Lynches Man After Water Dispute". As it is, the Yankees will play the Giants Thursday, with minors starting.

Clean-Up Drive Starts Saturday

Community efforts to clean-up, fix-up, paint-up are getting underway this week, with the first burst of activity set for Saturday.

Seven groups are making efforts to contact every residence in Hereford this week to ask cooperation in the spring spruce-up drive.

Saturday, Boy Scouts will converge on vacant lots and clean them up while members of Hereford men's civic clubs will paint a house of a local resident to boost local efforts.

Making personal contacts this week to enlist individual aid are members of the Pioneer Study Club, Hereford Business and Professional Women's Club, Hereford Garden Club, Garden Beautiful Club, L. A. E. Study Club, Lone Star Study Club and Camp Fire Girls. Mrs. Richard

POSSIBLE 3-WAY TIE

Herd Upsets Lobos, 11-7, To Cloud Loop In Finale

Saturday is important to the Hereford Whiteface baseball team although they won't be on the field. Pounding out a decisive 11-7 victory over Levelland Tuesday, the Herd finished district play with a 2-2 record and a chance for a three-way tie.

Last Saturday, the Levelland-Dumas game at Dumas was rained out. It has been re-scheduled for Saturday. If Dumas wins, all three teams in the district would have 2-2 slates and a coin-toss would decide the loop winner.

Levelland now has a 2-1 record while Dumas is 1-2.

Tuesday's win gave Hereford a 5-12 record for the year, with back-to-back wins to close the season.

Picked to walk through district competition, Levelland was held to just four base hits, by two Herd hurlers, Jimmy Collier and Donnie Marcon-tell.

The Lobos got one run in the

Quarter Horse Show Saturday

More than 100 horses are expected to be entered in the sixth annual Hereford Quarter Horse Show Saturday in the county Bull Barn.

Sponsored by Hereford Riders, Inc., a record of 111 horses were entered in the huge show last year, and even more are expected to be judged this year.

Judging will begin at 1 p. m. but all horses entered must be at the Bull Barn by 11 a. m. All stallions, mares or geldings that are registered in the appendix registry are eligible to participate in all approved halter classes through their third calendar year.

Appendix horses do not necessarily have to have registered sire and dam. It was announced, Buster Cole of Goldsmith will be judge and Bill Kendall of Hereford is horse show chairman.

After the third calendar year, stallions and mares must have a registration number. Geldings may continue to show on appendix certificates.

The show is approved by the American Quarter Horse Association.

Joe Reinauer was named Chapter Star Farmer and Bill Ponder received a plaque as outstanding member in scholarship at the Foundation Awards Banquet held by the Hereford chapter of Future Farmers of America Tuesday night.

About 300 members, parents and teachers attended the banquet at Shirley School, which climaxed the school year for the group.

Charles M. Smallwood, head of the department of agriculture at West Texas State College, was keynote speaker, and local FFA members Pete Plank was master of ceremonies.

Reinauer reviewed the highlights of the chapter's year. Musical entertainment was furnished by FFA members Billy Loyal, Walker Parris and Eddie Gallagher.

C of C Starts Intense Campaign For Members

Amarillo Chamber of Commerce Manager Jack Lacy was guest speaker at the kick-off breakfast held for members of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce membership drive committee in the Jim Hill Hotel Tuesday morning.

The committee started an intensive drive for membership and increased dues among Hereford businesses Tuesday, and the $5,000 goal project will extend through Sept. 1, according to C of C Manager Bill Thompson of Hereford.

The 86 participants in the drive were divided into two leagues, which were subdivided into two-man teams. The team receiving the most points by Sept. 1 will receive four tickets to the 1959 World Series and $100 for expenses.

The "major league campaign" was divided into the National and American leagues. Thompson said a team must score a minimum of 100 points to be eligible for the baseball tickets.

Scoring will be determined by a "home run", acquiring a new member with money or a signed bank draft submitted with the application, four points; a "triple", an increase in dues by a present member, three points; a "double", acquiring a new member with no money or bank draft submitted with the application, two points; and a "single", making a contact with no membership or increase in dues sold, one point.

The membership drive was set up by the C of C after it was announced that there was need for a $5,000 increase in the group's operating budget. It is the first membership campaign in four years.

In his talk to the group, Lacy urged the sharing of ideas to make this community more successful through the Chamber of Commerce. He explained that the "magic element" which makes a community grow is its people.

He suggested a four-point program which drive participants should point out to prospective and present members when they make their assigned contacts.

He said the program includes the establishing of long range goals, the sharing of ideas, the setting up of civic values and energy exerted by members.

Lacy stated that the Chamber of Commerce is the only organization in the world that could guarantee a return on the first on a walk, two passed balls and a single. Hereford went out front in the last of the first 3-1. Donnie Renfro singled, Collier got a triple, Ken Clearman singled, Ronnie Botkin and Billy Baker walked, Charlie Burrus singled and Charlie Thomas walked.

Levelland went ahead 4-3 in the top of the second. Collier gave up three walks, a single and hit a batter before Marcontell relieved with two out. After walking one, he struck out Tommy Harris to put out the fire.

In the bottom of the second, the Herd went ahead again 5-4, getting two runs on four hits. Renfro tripled, Collier was hit by the pitcher, Clearman doubled and Botkin and Baker singled.

It got to be tied up at 5-5 in the third when the Lobos got a run on a hit batter, two walks, a pair of passed balls and an error.

Hereford put the game on ice in the fourth after blanked the Lobos. Ken Clearman blasted a homer to left center with two out and none on. Botkin and Baker walked and Dan McDowell slapped out a solid double to push in two runs as Hereford led 8-5.

Two runs in the fifth closed the gap for Levelland. Two singles, a walk and an error brought the runs home.

Hereford widened the gap in the fifth on three walks, a single, a sacrifice and a passed ball.

Marcontell got tough on the mound in the last two stanzas to preserve the victory. He struck out two in the sixth and three in the seventh.

Starter Roy Sage was tagged with the loss for Levelland. He worked three and two-thirds innings, giving up eight runs on nine hits. He struck out one.

walked five and hit one batter. Ace hurler Jimmy Harris relieved Sage but lasted just two-thirds of an inning. Facing six men, he gave up three runs on one hit, walked five and struck out one. It was sweet revenge for the Herd, who had been completely ineffectual against Harris in their first meeting. Roger Brown finished the last one and two-thirds innings. He gave up two hits and struck out two.

Collier worked one and two-thirds innings for Hereford. He gave up four runs on two hits, walked four and hit one batter. Marcontell hurled five and one-third innings, giving up three runs on two hits, while walking seven and striking out ten. He also hit one batter.

Clearman was the big gun for Hereford, hitting four for four, including a homer and a double, while batting in five runs. Renfro and McDowell each had two hits in four trips.

Mayor Woodrow Wilson today proclaimed May 16 through May 23 as "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up time" in Hereford and urged every citizen, child and adult, to participate in the program.

Mayor Wilson pointed out that the aims of the campaign include everyone: prevention of fire, safeguarding health, promotion of safety, building the ideals of good citizenship and improvement of property.

"In asking the cooperation of every citizen, I remind you that this is the time to take stock of our community appearance. If everyone — homeowner, retailer, industrialist and government — puts forth an all-out effort, our community will retain and increase its reputation as a progressive city, one that is safe and beautiful, and a healthy place in which to live," Wilson said.

"For yourself, your family and your city, Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up," he added.

Miss Alexander Tells Rotarians Of Denmark

Eugenia Alexander, Hereford High School student who recently returned from Denmark, where she was an exchange student, was guest speaker of Hereford Rotary Club in the Jim Hill Hotel Monday noon.

Miss Alexander told of the country and its people, and showed colored slides to conclude her talk. She was introduced to the Rotarians by Mrs. J. J. Durham, high school homemaking teacher and county director of the American Field Exchange Service.

Miss Alexander said "20 Denmark could be put into Texas," but added that the Danes did not like to admit that as that they are very proud of their country and are very patriotic toward it.

She said the Danes think that Texas is still made up of "cowboys and Indians". The government of that country is a kingdom with an elected parliament, she said.

The Danes are often hostile toward American tourists and visitors, she said, as they feel that the visitors are only souvenir hunters. They like the American system of government, she said, but are very prejudiced against Germans because of World War II.

She said the communists make an issue of the "Little Rock situation" in American, in relation to racial matters.

Miss Alexander explained that there is little social and religious life in Denmark, and that family life is dominant. She said the Danes go to church twice a year, as a general rule — on Easter and Christmas day.

She said compulsory education ends in Denmark when the student reaches 14 years of age. They then have a choice, she pointed out — they may go on to school in "gymnasiums" or serve apprenticeships. About 85 per cent serve apprenticeships and the other 15 per cent continue their education.

She showed slides of her trip and six-month stay in Denmark and pointed out places of interest and explained family life in the home where she stayed.

Optimists Hear Coach Williams

Hereford High School football coach Bobby Williams was guest speaker at the noon meeting of Hereford Optimist Club Tuesday.

Williams reviewed the past football season and gave a preview of his team for 1959. He expects from 70 to 80 boys to show up for the first varsity and "B" team practice sessions.

Explaining that it cost about $115 to suit out each boy on the team, Williams said it is the practice of the school to limit practice sessions to two hours a day. No injuries among the players resulted from lack of conditioning last year, he pointed out.

Williams said his line will be "speedy and smart" and that he expects a good backfield. Ten games, four of them here, have been scheduled for the coming season. The first game will be with Canyon.

It was announced that the three-day District 7 convention of Optimist Clubs would be held in Amarillo, beginning Thursday. The Thursday schedule includes an early bird party, a buffet luncheon and an informal dance.

Friday schedule includes zone breakfasts, business sessions, International luncheon, ladies luncheon, ladies fashion show, a trip to Boys Ranch, a barbecue and a hospitality hour and dance.

The concluding day of the meeting will include a breakfast, business sessions, Governor's banquet and the Governor's ball.

Local Pastor To Speak At Wayland Baptist Exercises

For the Golden Anniversary Commencement ceremonies at Wayland Baptist College, the Rev. Howard Scott of Hereford will be a speaker, according to announcement from President A. Hope Owen. Honorary degrees will be conferred on speaker May 25 at the commencement exercises for 59 graduating seniors.

The Rev. Scott, pastor of First Baptist Church in Hereford and a Wayland trustee, will preach the baccalaureate sermon at 10:50 a.m., Sunday, May 24, in the new sanctuary of First Baptist Church in Plainview. He is a graduate of Howard Payne College and served as educational director of First Baptist Church, Brownwood, and as pastor of First Baptist Church, Clarendon, before going to Hereford.

Richard M. Morehead, one of Wayland's outstanding graduates of the junior college period, will deliver the commencement address at 8 p.m., Monday, May 25, at Plainview High School Auditorium. After graduation from the University of Texas school of journalism, Morehead worked for United Press, but for some years has been correspondent for the Austin-Bureau of the Dallas Morning News.

Since 1954, he has been correspondent for Southern School News, a monthly report on the progress of desegregation, and is also correspondent for Newsweek, Business Week and other magazines. In 1955 he was a repeat winner of the State Bar

Reinauer.....

Rotary Club's Junior Livestock Show the first part of this year, Reinauer said.

Among the awards members won for the chapter are: second place in the Area I crops contest, first place in the Amarillo District farm radio contest; first place in grass judging in Amarillo; first place for talent team in the Amarillo District;

First place in egg grading at Texas Tech; third place in livestock judging in Amarillo District contests; first place in public speaking in the Amarillo District; first place in the Area I talent contest; and second place in the crops contest at Texas Tech.

Smallwood, in his first year as head of the WTSC agriculture department, commended the local chapter on its record. He said the members should strive to become adult leaders in agriculture, "a field which probably has the greatest problems today that it has ever had."

Leaders, he said, must have sound judgment, sound liking in everybody, willingness to accept responsibility and be free from prejudice. He added that they must "deal fairly", develop a desire for facts and truth and be man enough to take the blame when something goes wrong.

A leader, he pointed out, must be perpetually sound in thinking and doing. He told the FFA members the best way they could honor their parents was to become adult leaders.

Bake Sale Slated By H. D. Club Saturday

By ARGENT DRAPER
Have you been by to see the Irises at Audrey Thompson's? They are a sight to behold and you should favor yourself and your family by going by 208 Ave. E. Mrs. Thompson will not think you peculiar as she is accustomed to people driving around looking at her yard.

Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, who lives out west of Westway, tells me that she has 70 kinds of Irises. Her's are not in full bloom yet, but the ones that are blooming are lovely.

I have noticed that there have been a number of Arizona Cypress that have died the last few months. They have probably frozen in one of the last spells of cold weather which we had.

You know, the specialist from Extension Service has warned us all along that Arizona Cypress would freeze this far north. Too, there are some poisons that would probably kill these trees; however, it is not likely.

Notice to Home Demonstration Club Women: The Bake Sale which Progressive Home Demonstration Club is sponsoring will be held Saturday, May 16, at Cooper's Market. This is to remind you that this is your opportunity to help in the campaign to send Faye Plank to the state meeting at Galveston.

You know, Faye has been appointed as a member of the State 4-H Committee. This is a big honor; however, the association does not pay the expenses of committee members. If you want to help with the Bake Sale, take something to Cooper's Market early Saturday morning.

This recipe was given to club women by Mrs. Dale Coleman, who served a few months as your Assistant Home Demonstration Agent. In one of the demonstrations she gave on meals for the freezer, she included this recipe:

DATE-NUT-TORTE
6 to 8 servings
3 eggs, beaten add
3/4 cup sugar, beat until light
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla, fold in
1/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 1/2 cup dates
1 cup nuts
Pour into a well greased shallow pan, (9" x 9"). Bake 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Cool on rack.

DO NOT OVERBAKE.
This may be frozen. When ready to serve, place foil wrapped torte in oven 300 degrees for 20 minutes.

Serve with whipped cream or vanilla sauce.

It is very important that this is not over-baked. It should be moist and chewy. Many cooks are tempted to bake this torte to a crisp because it is still soft after baking 30 minutes. If it is baked until it is solid, it will be too dry.

Mrs. Ira Ott and the other club women in the Wyche Club have found this Date Nut-Torte very convenient to use and very popular with the families.

U. S. Air Force Offers College Graduates Direct Commissions

Direct commissions in the U. S. Air Force are now available for young men between the ages of 20 1/2 and 27 1/2 who have a BA or BS degree from an accredited college or university. The direct commission program is open to both single and married men.

Each officer selected will be placed on temporary duty at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, where they will undergo three months of training in military and academic subjects. From Lackland AFB they will go directly to a duty assignment or to further specialized training.

Too, young men entering this program may apply for navigator training. Prior to the Officer Training School Program, married men could not apply for flying training, but under the new program, dependents are no bar to application.

Young men interested in this program should contact Sgt. Glen K. Ryan by writing PO Box 601, Clovis, N. M., giving their name, address, age, school, major subject, or call Porter 2-0114, Clovis, and make arrangements with Sgt. Ryan to see you.

Farmers Should Check Vehicles Against Violation Of Provisions

Director D. T. Harkrider of the Texas Highway Department Motor Vehicle Division urges owners of pickup trucks or other vehicles registered under special "farm truck" licensing privileges to check closely against possible violation of provisions of the Texas Motor Vehicle Law.

by persons residing in rural areas who use farm trucks for transportation to non-farm employment. "Although a large number of people are unaware of it, the use of trucks bearing special Texas 'farm truck' plates for transportation to another job are as much in violation of the law as those using such trucks for commercial hauling," Harkrider said.

Harkrider said an investigation was planned on widespread abuse of a lower license rate provision for farm trucks. Under the law, bona fide farmers may register their trucks and other farm vehicles at a 50 percent fee reduction provided that such vehicles be used primarily in connection with farming pursuits and only essential family transportation. Persons registering vehicles as farm trucks must sign an affidavit attesting to qualifications under the law.

He added, however, that his department is "not anxious to prosecute innocent offenders who may have been wrongly informed as to restrictions accompanying the special farm plate," and said such persons can exchange their farm license plates for regular truck plates at County Tax Collectors' offices by paying the difference in registration cost, "provided they do so immediately." Harkrider said the Motor Vehicle Division will intensify investigation of violators "in two or three weeks".

Harkrider said the most widespread infringement has been

The Dorothea Prowell 4-H Club met recently in the home of Karen Shearhart, with Mrs. Jeanette Hadaway presenting a demonstration on color, line and dressing appropriately.

Harkrider said registration of vehicles as "farm trucks" had increased steadily since the legislature in 1957 set out definition of permissive use of such vehicles. Misinterpretation of that definition, he said, has been the cause for wide-spread violation. Harkrider said re-orders for farm truck plates from tax collectors this year indicate a vast increase in such registrations for 1959. He urged that persons "who know themselves to be in violation of the law immediately take steps to right a wrong to the vast majority of bona fide farmers who appropriately benefit from this law."

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Special Sessions Question Faces Current Legislature

By VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN — Senators and Representatives will have only a brief breather between regular and special sessions of the Legislature. Gov. Price Daniel announced that lawmakers would convene again the first of next week.

Big question around the Capitol now is how many special sessions will be needed to solve the state's tax problem.

Since the lawmakers failed during their 120-day regular session, to erase the $65,000,000 deficit and balance the budget for 1960-61, that chore will be number-one on their agenda. And most observers think it will take at least two, and maybe more, 30-day special sessions to iron things out.

Only matters specifically offered by the Governor may be considered during a special session of the Legislature, and all legislation started during the regular session must start over, practically from scratch. Revenue-raising proposals will have to be introduced again in the House, heard in committee, etc., before they can go to the Senate.

Any college graduate could teach school in Texas — at least for a year or two — under a House-passed bill.

Bill would grant a teacher's certificate good for one year to any bachelor's degree holder, whether he had had teacher training or not. Certificates could be renewed twice. After that, the applicant would have to take 12 semester hours of teacher education.

Miss Maud Isaacks of El Paso, herself a teacher for many years, sponsored the bill. Professional educators were divided on the merits of the plan.

Some said it would increase qualified personnel; others, that it would attract to Texas' the misfits and ne'er-do-wells from "all the freshwater colleges" in the nation.

In the final days of a session, there usually isn't time to revive a bill that gets pushed aside. Among the bills whose setbacks were interpreted as death for this year are these:

MILK IMPORT REGULATIONS, sponsored by Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo. House supporters, couldn't muster the two-thirds majority to take the bill out of order. Proponents said the restriction on milk brought across the state line was needed for health reasons. Opponents called it a trade barrier that would raise the price of milk.

BROADENING THE COMMON PURCHASER OIL LAW, by Sen. Hazlewood. Senate refused to take up the bill which would require pipelines to provide connections to new fields or transport the oil to market by truck.

BAN ON SUNDAY AUTO SALES, by Sen. George Park

house of Dallas. It passed Senate, but House refused twice to take it up.

BAN ON NUDIST CAMPS, by Rep. James Turman of Gober. Senate passed, but House refused to call it out of committee. Committee had referred it to the Attorney General who said it would be legal.

HIGHWAY ZONING — Both houses moved quickly toward passage of a bill to protect smaller roads from heavier truck loads.

Governor Daniel asked for such regulation when he signed the bill to increase permitted truck loads from 58,420 to 72,000 pounds.

Proposed bill would allow the State Highway Department to zone state highways and farm roads for lighter truck loads and gives same authority to County Commissioners for county roads.

Whether the State Board of Insurance should operate full-time or part-time was an issue expected to carry over into the special session.

House made its preference clear by putting full-time salaries in the House appropriations bill and by passing a bill specifically providing for a full-time Board.

Senate version of the appropriation bill provided for what would amount to about one-third time salaries ($5,000 a year) for insurance Board members. Many senators opposed a full-time Board in addition to a full-time Commissioner when the Department was re-organized two years ago. Since then, they have been angered because the Board retained William A. Harrison as Commissioner after the Senate had disapproved him.

Since no conference committee was appointed to adjust differences between the two houses' appropriation bills, it was obvious the insurance hassle could not be resolved in the regular session.

The much discussed and battered bill to permit the state of Texas to advertise its tourist advantages finally was approved by both houses of the Legislature before adjournment of the regular session.

As passed, the bill puts into effect the constitutional amendment approved by a close margin by the voters at the election last November. It differs in one important respect, however. It does not provide that industries shall match state funds — which was the sales pitch that was used to effect passage of the amendment by Texas voters.

Designated to handle the program is the Governor, the Chairman of the State Highway Commission, and the Chairman of the Texas Industrial Commission.

SHORT SNORTS — House passed a resolution opposing federal regulation of wages to imported farm labor. It was sent to the U. S. Dept. of Labor and to Congress. Some called it the "get your cotton picking hands off our cotton picking hands" measure. Senate approved the House-passed bill to allow for abolishing the office of county school superintendent in counties not needing one. But it was amended so it applied to only two counties, Young and Parker. Number of persons receiving unemployment payments in Texas is one-third fewer this month than in the recession spring of a year ago. Texas Employment Commission reported 58,410 jobless now compared to 90,946 in May, 1958. It was a rough session for a presiding officer, but House Speaker Waggoner Carr had "his day." Many colleagues paid tribute to Carr on Speaker's Day, and Carr and his family received numerous gifts.

Cowboys Dancing On Roof Once A Problem In Canyon

CANYON — Randall County officials doubtless face current problems but they are no longer bothered with one-early day worry — cowboys dancing on the courthouse roof.

The county this year celebrates the 50th anniversary of the completion of its present courthouse but the trouble over the dancing cowboys dates back to the 1890's.

The first courthouse, a frame structure erected in 1890, had a flat roof.

C. Boone McClure, director of the Panhandle - Plains Historical Museum in Canyon, says that many old timers have told him that on Saturday nights cowboys would come to town and that dances were held on the courthouse roof.

The wear and tear didn't show up in the minutes of the commissioners' court until May 9, 1893. Two of the commissioners, appointed to study the problem of the roof, reported that a new one had been installed at a cost of $140.

But on May 16, 1895, the commissioners court took drastic action.

It ordered the sheriff, J. M. Cooper, to "prohibit dancing in the courthouse in the future. It is further ordered by the court that the sheriff shall prohibit any person or persons from taking up or moving benches which are fastened to the floor of the courthouse."

The rooftop dances and the ripping out of benches were not the only problems facing the early-day commissioners courts.

There was the matter of paying bounties for scalps of panthers and lobo wolves. A problem of providing a water supply for the courthouse was solved without too much effort. The court just authorized the county clerk to provide two barrels for the courthouse with a bucket for each barrel.

To keep horses off the courthouse square, the court in 1891 paid out $112.50 for fencing.

Two months later an election was ordered to determine whether "hogs should be allowed to run at large." Result of the election was never noted in the minutes of the court. But since the recent check showed no hogs running loose in the vicinity of the courthouse, local historians assume the measure was approved.

World Series Tension Shared With Husband

By WILBUR JOHNSON. OKLAHOMA CITY — Most baseball wives share their husband's nervous tension before a World Series game.

That's the word of Mrs. Warren Spahn, wife of the Milwaukee Braves' southpaw pitcher who beat the New York Yankees twice in the 1958 series. Mrs. Spahn says she worried each night before Warren pitched. She would lie awake counting hitters instead of sheep. She would be exhausted by the day of the game.

On the other hand, she said, her husband had no trouble sleeping. "In fact, I had to wake him two or three times on each of the three days he pitched," she confided.

"On the night after each game I had no trouble sleeping but Warren stayed-awake replaying every pitch and every hit."

Lorene Spahn, a personable woman with deep brown eyes and brown hair, describes the excitement of a World Series or crucial regular season game as a partnership-family deal.

Their 10-year-old youngster, Gregory, even missed the World Series because, he said, "If I'm there, I make Daddy nervous."

Instead, he took his transistor radio with him while seeing the sights of New York. He knew every minute how the Braves were doing.

Mrs. Spahn said she does not get nervous while watching a crucial game.

"Usually friends sit with me and by the time I get there the national anthem has been played and somehow I just don't have time to worry," she related.

Spahn paid tribute to his wife while they were in Oklahoma City on a recent visit. He made the "first pitch" in Oklahoma City's United Fund Drive, addressing some 1,500 workers at a luncheon.

"She's my critic manager and to me 'Mrs. Baseball.' I'm sure I wouldn't be in baseball today without her and I want to pay tribute to her," he said.

The life of a baseball player keeps a wife pretty busy but Mrs. Spahn says she enjoys it all. During spring training and the regular season they live in Milwaukee, returning to their ranch home in Hartshorne, Okla., in October.

Gregory attends a private school in Milwaukee and a public school in Hartshorne. Fortunately, the same textbooks are used in both schools.

Mrs. Spahn is the Oklahoman in the family. She is from Tulsa. Warren was born in Buffalo, N. Y., but he has made his home in the Sooner state for many years.

Naturally an experienced traveler, Mrs. Spahn can pack a bag with the same zip her husband has on his fast ball.

"It used to take me two hours to pack but I've cut that time down—very sharply," she explained.

Recently, she said, Warren called her to come to Cincinnati where he expected the Braves to clinch the pennant.

"I went to town and got a dress that was being fitted; came back and packed while a cab driver waited," she said.

PROBLEM AND A PEA

RICHMOND, Va. — "Suspicion, fear and hate have laid their blight upon nations," says the annual message issued for observance on Feb. 1 of Baptist World Alliance Sunday. The message, signed by Alliance President Theodore F. Adams and other Baptist leaders, adds: "Great wealth, that could feed hungry peoples and build up backward countries, is being used to create means of destruction. We know that human-sinfulness is at the root of the trouble; that only God can cope with it. . . Pray therefore that His power may hold back the forces straining towards war and guide the nations and their leaders into paths of peace."

CHAPLAIN SHORTAGE

WASHINGTON — More than 100 vacancies for Roman Catholic chaplains exist in the armed forces, and the shortage is growing worse, says a report of the Church's Military Ordinate. The report said results of an appeal for more chaplains has been disappointing.

YOUNG MODERNS

Don't Sell U.S. Young Set Short

By VIVIAN BROWN

There's a lot of talk about young people hibernating at their fireplaces and around juke boxes, and not getting proper exercise. There are complaints that we've become a nation of teen-age jolly owners, and that our devotion to the four-wheeler is keeping us from using our legs.

Critics point to young people in other lands as good examples of healthy bodies because they use their own two feet for ordinary transportation (say a few miles) and a bicycle for their jaunts in the country.

Anyone who has had occasion to ride a ski train, to visit a roller or ice skating rink in season or to swim at resorts knows that American young people are just as active as teen-agers from across the ocean. It's just that we have a great number of interests, and perhaps we are not all interested in the same things.

Take the American bicycle, for instance. Europeans must go some to compete with our fascination for the two-wheeler, judging by a recent survey of colleges. At Vassar College, for instance, there are 1,100 bikes and 1,300 students.

There are 1,986 bikes among the 2,150 students at Smith. The University of Michigan boasts 4,500 bikes, Princeton houses eties for impressing a lady fair. Every year Yale boys, members of The Trumbull Beer and Bike Society, race from New Haven, Conn., to Poughkeepsie, N. Y., 77.3 miles away in teams where they meet with the girls from Vassar at the finish line. The winning team is feted that evening at a dance at Vassar College.

Bicycle riders aren't always the cautious little gentlemen one would presume when in traffic, however, so it seems the time may be ripe before the big spring road jam to offer some safety rules:

Bicycle riders should observe the same red and green lights and traffic regulations as automobiles. That goes for one-way streets, stop signs and hand signals. They should not weave in and out of traffic or swerve from side to side.

There are always the stunt men, however, who hitch dangerously onto other vehicles, endangering lives of others, or who carry riders or heavy packages which may obstruct their vision or prevent proper control of the bicycle.

If bicycles are to be used at night, white front light and red danger signal at the rear are necessary, and it's a good idea, too, to wear white or light-colored clothes.

...how quickly tomorrow becomes today and today fades into yesterday. Yesterday this old stern wheeler was a part of today. Like our plans and ambitions for tomorrow it drifted into yesterday. Brother, yesterday is too late... we only have today. The gang planks will soon be raised, the lines cut and off we go into yesterday... into eternity. Today you will say 'so-long' to souls you will not see tomorrow... suddenly it's too late. Now, even today is almost gone. How about stopping in at church next Sunday. Last Sunday is now too late. Jesus said "NOW is the accepted time." "Don't let your todays and tomorrows turn into yesterdays. Unless the Lord gives you tomorrow you have none.

WINDFALL

FORT PAYNE, Ala. — For several months V. I. Prewett Jr. had contemplated tearing down the top section of a large brick smokestack at his hosiery mill. One of the considerations was the cost — $100. A windstorm settled the affair by toppling the chimney at the desired height.

SCRIPTURAL INVESTMENT

ROCKFORD, Ill. — A minister put the "Multiplied Talents" idea to work, and it paid dividends.
Rev. Max Hickerson, pastor of Central Christian Church, used the scriptural backing in Matt. 25:14-30 to induce his congregation to multiply a dollar into whatever they saw fit. The members backed him by increasing $250 to $1,000.
One man brought in $45 by spending his dollar for white gloves. He sold them and invested his money in more gloves until he came up with the contribution.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

Probing By Congressman Could Turn Up Pay Dirt

To the people of the 18th District:

It was nice to be home for several days last week. I only wish I could have stayed longer and visited more, but chances for doing that were vetoed by the press of matters pending in Committees and before the House.

So, it was back to Washington Wednesday night. By catching a late plane in Amarillo, making connection with a late plane to Dallas, I was able to get back to Washington by 5:30 a.m., EDT. This enabled me to get a few winks of sleep before reporting for work and voting on the measure pending in the House of Representatives.
There must be some kind of change going on in the world, because staying up all night and working all the following day is much more strenuous now than it was 10 years ago. Perhaps "fallout" may have something to do with it.

A very able and alert Congressman from Houston is doing some probing in one government department that could turn up pay dirt. I refer to Honorable Albert Thomas, who is chairman of an Appropriations Subcommittee.

In a recent investigation, it was revealed that the General Services Administration had a stockpile of strategic materials worth some 8 billions of dollars. These stockpiles have been justified in the past on the grounds of "national defense."

They were supposed to include highly strategic materials, including strategic minerals and metals. Because of the "defense" brand, the whole matter was highly hush, hush. A few years ago, as chairman of the Mines and Mining Subcommittee of the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, I moved for a complete investigation of these activities concerning minerals and metals; the reason being that many mining operations in this country were faced with bankruptcy because of the high cost of production here, as compared with the low cost of production in many foreign countries.

Efforts to stabilize the domestic minerals operations were being thwarted on the argument that it was not fair to subsidize mining activities if the products could be purchased for a lesser price from foreign sources.

This argument is excellent from an economic standpoint, looking only at the dollars and cents involved on a limited number of transactions.
However, a look at the entire picture would reveal that this country needs and must have a strong minerals industry, not only for the purposes of national defense, but for the proper utilization and exploration of our own natural resources, and to support our position in world trade.

the now is the time for all of us to be assured of a continuing peace and amicable trade relations with other countries, certainly it would be sensible to buy strategic raw materials at the cheapest price on the world market.

But, when these materials are indispensable in the maintenance of a proper national defense, the danger of a foreign source of supply being cut off, in the event of war, standing by itself, alone, justifies the proper development of sources of such strategic raw materials in this country.

Some thought that the building of an adequate stockpile would dispense with the necessity of developing our own resources of these materials. To me, it is much more important to develop an industry in your own country to provide the needs of the people, than to permit a segment of the economy to die on the vine simply because the material can be purchased from foreign sources.

The actual cost in either case will be about the same in the long run. However, in the first instance this country has a living industry that will provide much employment. If a country is going to follow the stockpiling theory, the stockpiles should not get too big, because it is all coming out of the taxpayers' pockets.

In the case at hand, it occurred to some of the Members of Congress several years ago that some of the people clamoring for more imports of these strategic materials might have some interest in the foreign sources. It was this phase of the program that I wanted to investigate.
My proposal did not meet with the approval of the GSA or the State Department. It was my feeling that if the American taxpayer was being required to supply the money for this vast stockpile, much of which came from foreign sources, certainly it was only fair that the source or origin of the strategic material be made available.

I was advised by the GSA that they could give me the name of the broker through which the material was acquired, but could not give me the names of the owners of the mines where the material originated.

They also told me the information concerning these operations was classified and must be given to me under those circumstances. Some suspected that the owners of the source of these materials in foreign countries might be some folks in our own backyard.

If such is the case, the veil of secrecy should be lifted. Eight billion dollars is entirely too much money to be tied up in such a stockpile without the taxpayers knowing who got the money.

MAKE IT A "HOLIDAY" WEEKEND WITH A LONG DISTANCE CALL

Last year, many of us had a three-day weekend because Decoration Day fell on Friday, and it'll be the same way next year when it comes on Monday. But this year, the calendar threw us a little curve and Decoration Day lands on Saturday. This cuts out the chance for a three-day holiday, which means there's not enough time for an out-of-town trip to see friends or family.

Since a holiday is a family get-together day, several of my friends have told me they still plan to "get together" with a long distance call over the week-end.
"It's the next thing to visiting in person," one fellow told me, "and we can make quite a few out-of-town calls for the cost of traveling over the weekend."

It makes sense to me, and I hope many of you will perk up your Decoration Day weekend here in Hereford with a long distance call to friends or family.
As you know, rates are lower after 6 p.m. weekdays and all day Sunday. And when you call, call station-to-station. That way, you'll be able to make three calls for about the price of two. That's a real saving!

IT'S FUN TO PHONE

How often do we use the phone "just for the fun of it?" Have you ever stopped to think how many times a telephone call has been the beginning of a lasting friendship, or a pleasant evening with neighbors?
People often tell me of calls they made "just to visit." You've probably done the same. Chances are good you'll do it again.

Why? That's easy. Because it's fun to phone.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Watch Dale Robertson in Tales of Wells Fargo on NBC-TV Monday Nights

Along with the most talked about style on the road today goes performance new even to owners of previous Buicks... and too great for you to miss.

Buick '59 is livelier yet smoother, more powerful yet thrifter, as any previous Buick owner will tell you. And credit goes to the turbine smoothness of Buick transmissions, plus the new responsiveness of Buick "Wildcat" engines.

At the wheel, too, you'll find new handling ease and finned-brake sureness that owners put high on their "most liked" list.

But that's far from all these owners tell us. They talk about new operating economy from the most efficient power plant on the road today. About quality of finish and detail, and of quietness that even beats the best of Buick heretofore. They speak of reliability... and they speak of the pure pleasure of owning a Buick '59... in ways that warm the heart.

But the best spokesman for Buick '59—and what it can do for you—is a Buick itself. Why not go to your Buick dealer and get the inside story, today?

Capitol Guide Considers Himself As An Educator

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A veteran Capitol guide who came here from Texas views his role as that of an educator.

He is Carl Miller, 67, a dark-haired, lanky six-footer, a former high school teacher and newspaperman, a one-time aide to Rep. Wright Patman and former Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel. His newspapering was in Texarkana.

Wearing a clean white patch over a sightless eye — he was hit by a ricocheting bullet fired by a fellow squirrel hunter in his native Kentucky hills — Miller is a familiar figure about the Capitol as he leads groups of 20 to 40 tourists through the maze of historic corridors.

When you hear the questions most frequently directed at him, and they pop up with every group, it's easy to see why he looks on his job as that of an educator or instructor.

Incidentally, guides pool the 25 cent fees and divide the total, which reportedly nets them about $7,500 annually.

"Probably the most often asked question," Miller said, "arises when we lead a group into either the Senate or House chamber and they see a senator or congressman speaking to only a handful of members.

"We're asked 'Where are they?' and 'Why aren't those who are here paying more at-ention'?"

Miller and all the other guides have a ready explanation. In fact, Texas' own Sen. Lyndon Johnson, well aware of these critical questions by the public, reportedly suggested that the guides clear up confusion on this point.

Here's the explanation: Members of both bodies are kept continually informed as to what is taking place on the chamber floors. If it is an important measure under consideration they are apt to be on hand in good numbers, especially if a vote is approaching. Frequently committees are meeting when the House or Senate is in session, although this situation usually occurs only when a pressing matter needs to be taken up by the committee. Some sessions of both the Senate and House are set aside for relatively unimportant matters.

Others involve time being granted for an individual representative to talk about economic or other problems which are peculiar to their own district. And, especially if he is a freshman congressman or senator, he may find himself talking only to empty chairs except for the presiding officer and perhaps one or two other colleagues.

"One of the historic spots in the Capitol on our tour is the 'President's Room in the Senate wing," Miller continued. "Folks continually ask if that is the president's office, and are surprised when we tell them the president seldom comes to the Capitol, that his office is down at the White House.

"Another frequent question is 'Where does the Congress meet?' and they ask it even after we have taken them into both the Senate and House galleries. We then explain how a law is enacted by going through the two bodies separately."

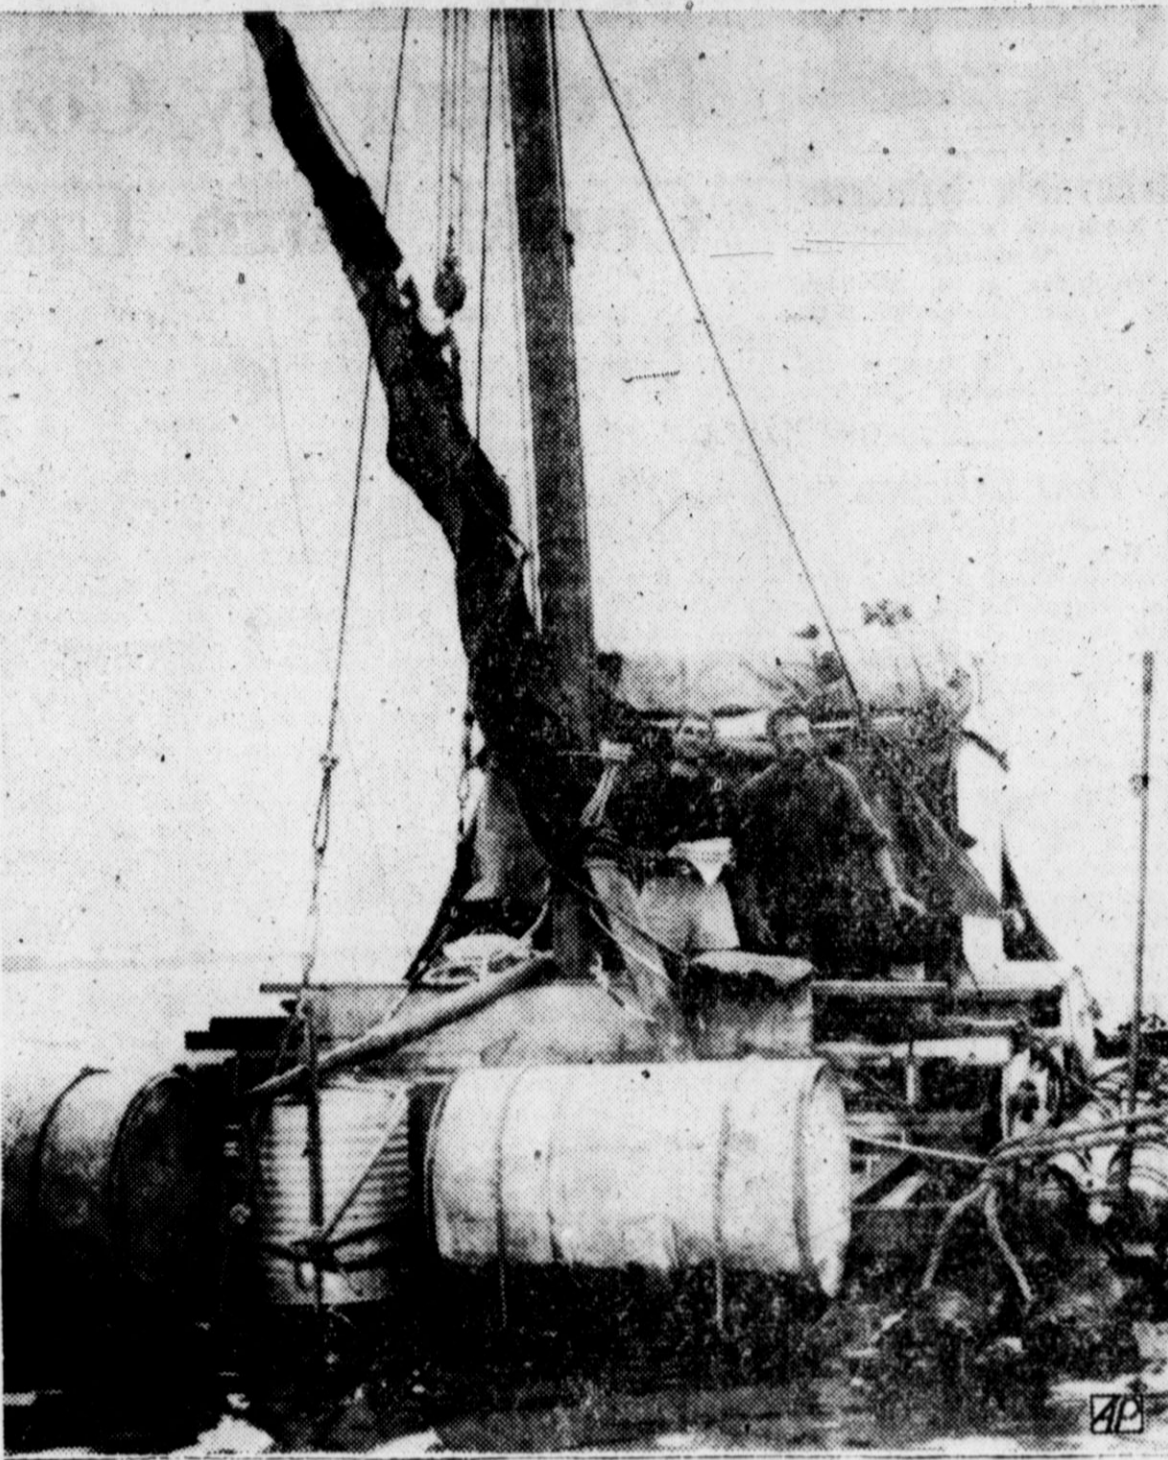

Tourists are required to check their cameras at a corridor desk before entering either chamber, and some are certain to ask why they can't take pictures inside.

"We explain that it would be undignified and disconcerting to have flash bulbs popping away when the lawmakers are trying to concentrate and debate some important issues," Miller explained.

Since the recent public furore over nepotism, he observed, some tourist in nearly every group will make a wise crack as he looks down on the legislators and say, "There's Rep. So and So. Where's his wife?"

"Most of the time the folks are in a pleasant vacationing mood, and like to mention their home state.

"They like to tell the others around them if they happen to have known some famous per-

Greater Recognition Of Reserve Units Ordered

AUSTIN — Recent amendments to the Selective Service regulations provide for greater recognition by local boards of service in the Reserve and National Guard, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state director of Selective Service, said recently.

The changes reflect a policy of not inducting men satisfactorily participating in military training programs while sufficient numbers are available who are not taking part in any such training.

The changes in regulations were made by the President in Executive Order No. 10809.

Under the amended regulations, men who acquire deferments or exemptions on initial entry into the National Guard or Reserve keep those deferments or exemptions on transfer to another component so long as they continue to serve satisfactorily.

Some initial enlistments in the Reserve provide that men can discharge their military obligation by eight years of satisfactory service including not less than three months of active duty for training.

The amended regulations also provide for the retention of this opportunity on transfer. These changes reflect provisions of Public Law 85-722, approved during the last Congress.

The amendments to the regulations also authorize the deferment of Guardsmen or Reservists for satisfactory participation in the Standby or Retired Reserve. Previously, only satisfactory participation in the Ready Reserve was basis for deferment from induction.

Another amendment provides that a man who ceases to be member of any Reserve component after six years of satisfactory Ready Reserve service shall be considered as having completed service.

FLOATING SCHOOL

NEW YORK (AP) — A 22-room elementary school in New Orleans appears to float in mid-air without visible means of support. It provides facilities for 800 students on less than one-sixth the ground usually required for schools.

Steelways, official publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, says architect Charles R. Colbert mixed fantasy with economy in developing the Phillis Wheatley School. The building has elevated classrooms on either side of a series of bare steel trusses, 12 feet above the ground.

The magazine says this type of construction required 10 per cent more steel, but cut overall building costs by 15 per cent.

AURIESVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Seeking spiritual refreshment, 576 Roman Catholic priests participated in priests' retreats in 1958 at the Sacred Heart Retreat House for Priests here. They came from 55 U. S. dioceses, and ranged from bishops to friars.

son memorialized in Statuary Hall. That's especially true about Will Rogers. Tales and legends are building up about him like it is with Lincoln. The stories seem to get better all the time, and no one disputes them.
