CARNIVAL OPENS SATURDAY

All Exhibit Space Sold For Big Harvest Festival

A full house of exhibitors for the three-day Harvest Festival show has been assured this week.

Clubs or firms desiring to enter the parade are asked to contact Gene King, LeRoy Boyer, or any member of the Optimist Club.

Hereford's first annual Harvest Festival is set for July 30, 31 and Aug. 1.

Although parade entries still are slow coming in, Optimist Club members will make an intensive effort to line up additional floats and entries this week. Jaycees closed entries on the Harvest Festival Queen contest earlier this week, with 23 girls competing for the title.

Lone Star Amusement Company started setting up rides for the Lions Club carnival, in preparation for the opening on Saturday, July 25.

Invitations have been mailed for the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored dinner honoring the vegetable industry. This is set for Tuesday, July 28.

All supplies have been ordered for the big Festival barbecue, sponsored by the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs.

Plans for the three night rodeo performances are completed, according to the Hereford Riders Club.

Companies which have purchased booth space for the three-day exhibit in the Bull Barn include: Southwestern Public Service Company; Roberts Appliance; Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union; Blanton Butane; Asgrow Seed Company; Big T Pump Company; Pitman Grain Company; Clements Farm Store; two; Allied Oil and Hereford Butane; Heart Association; WAC Seed Company; Lockwood Graders; two; Streu Hardware; two; Associated Growers; The Ink 'Spot; Hereford State Bank; Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau; McDowell Pharmacy; First National Bank; Cream-O-Plains; Sealtest Dairy Foods; Hereford (Continued on page 2)

Williams Still Listed 'Critical'

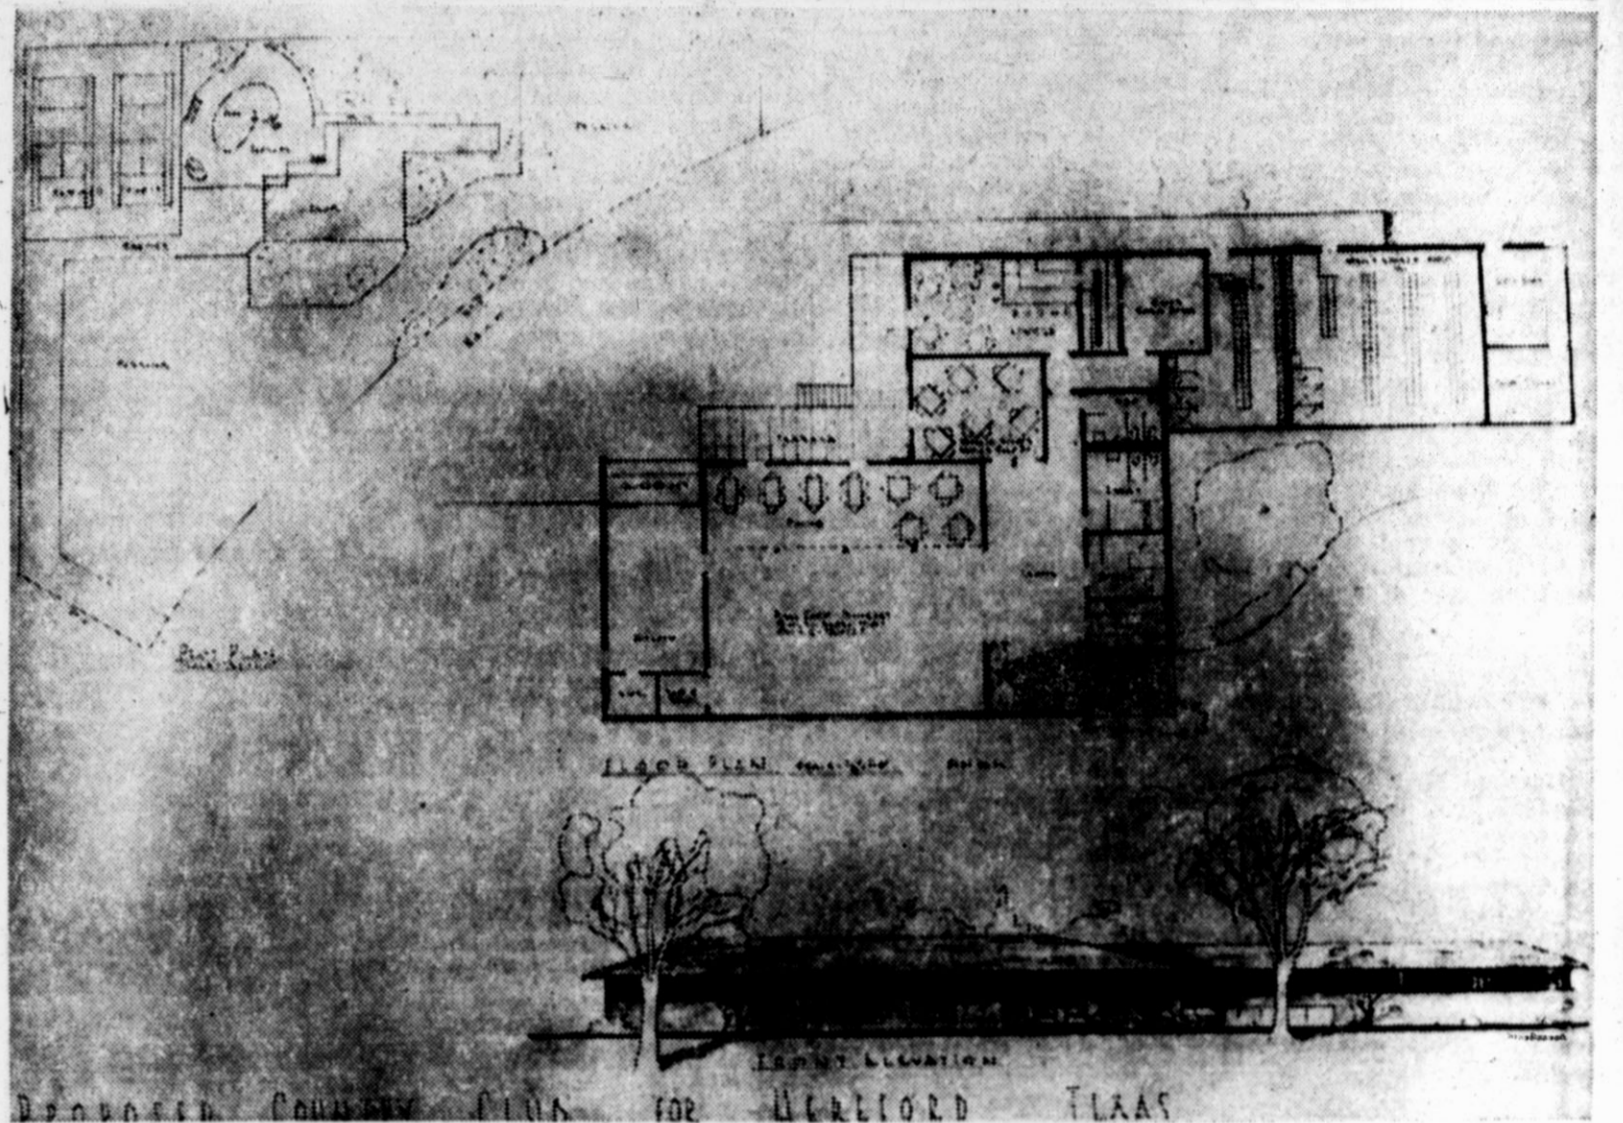

S. S. Williams, 139 Ave. B, was still in critical condition at St. Joseph's Hospital in Albuquerque, N. M., early this week following an automobile accident four miles south of Santa Rosa Saturday morning.

Friends of Williams in Hereford were notified that the injured man is scheduled to undergo surgery at the hospital later this week. Williams sustained a broken hip and fractured arm in the near head-on collision.

Williams was travelling toward his ranch near Encino, N. M., from Santa Rosa when a car driven by an armed force serviceman, who reportedly fell asleep at the wheel, swerved into the path of Williams' car.

The wife of the serviceman was killed in the accident. The couple was travelling toward Kansas. Williams was alone in his car.

Williams was taken to the Santa Rosa Hospital after the accident and transferred to the Albuquerque hospital later.

COUNTRY CLUB PLANS were released this week during a membership drive. At upper left is the plot plan, showing two tennis courts, swimming and wading pools and the clubhouse. Right center is the floor plan for the clubhouse building. At lower right is the architect's conception of the appearance of the front of the building.

Retail sales in Hereford and Deaf Smith County showed a healthy gain in 1958, according to figures just released. Figures for the past three years for the county are: 1956-$19,149,000; 1957-$20,350,000; 1958-$21,370,000. Sales for (Continued on page 2)

Pony All-Stars Dropped 5-1 By Childress Team

The Hereford All-Stars dropped the opener, 5-1, in the Pony League area tournament at Borger Monday night to Childress. Being out-hit and out-fielded, the Hereford team could only get five hits off the ground, while Childress made 11 hits to account for five runs. (Continued on page 2)

Ponies Lose 3-1

The Pony League baseball season ended when the Hereford All-Stars were eliminated from the post-season tournament by Borger, which beat them 3-1 at Borger Tuesday night. It was the second tournament loss for Hereford. Hitting was the major difficulty of the Hereford team, as players were only allowed four hits and could only translate one of these into a run. Jim Haney pitched the game for Hereford and gave up four hits to Borger. Each team made three errors.

City Approves Radio Building At Water Tower

Construction of a six-by-eight foot all-metal building near the new water tank northwest of Hereford for the housing of radio equipment for the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department was approved by the Hereford City Commission Monday night.

During a meeting in May, the commissioners approved the installation of an aerial atop the tank after Sheriff Charles Skelton pointed out that the high aerial would help clear up frequency trouble in radio operation. Skelton's request was submitted by County Commissioners.

City Manager Dudley Bayne announced at the meeting that the 400,000-gallon double ellipsoid elevated steel storage tank, to be located near the new elementary school in northwest Hereford, should be in operation in about two weeks.

Bayne said the painting crew should have the interior painting of the tank completed Wednesday. It will be filled sometime next week.

Awarded contract for the overhead tank early in March was Chicago Bridge and Iron Company's district office of Tulsa, Okla., which offered low bid of $53,430.

The new tank, with the two existing tanks in Hereford, will hold a 10-hour supply, or 130 gallons per capita, in overhead storage.

Wheat Market Vote Slated For Thursday

Type of marketing control program for next year's crop of wheat will be decided Thursday, July 23, when Deaf Smith County wheat growers cast their votes at five polling places. From 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., voting farmers and their wives will mark ballots in the County Treasurer's office and Commissioners' Courtroom in the county courthouse, Walcott Schoolhouse, Sims Community House and Palo Duro Church. Any farmer is eligible to vote who expects to produce more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1960, except a grower who participated in the feed wheat program in 1959.

Rites Held For J. A. Hanegan

Funeral services for Joseph A. Hanegan, 74, 107 Ave. J, were conducted Tuesday in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home with the Rev. H. V. Fields pastor of the Grace Gospel Church, officiating. Burial was in West Park Cemetery under direction of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mr. Hanegan died at 12:30 a.m. Monday in Deaf Smith County Hospital following a short illness.

He was born Oct. 2, 1884, in Nebraska, and married Miss Maggie Dixon on March 26. (Continued on page 2)

Former Resident Services Slated

Funeral services for Mrs. Elath Louise Elliston Lee, former Hereford resident, will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Doughty Funeral Home Chapel of Tucumcari, N. M.

Mrs. Lee, 60, died at 12:20 a.m. Tuesday in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo where she had been a patient about a week.

An effort to organize a Country Club in Hereford got underway this week, following an explanatory meeting Saturday night. By Wednesday morning, 101 families had put down $50 deposits. The drive for 300 members is to be completed within the next 60 days.

If the membership goal is reached, the group plans construction of a club house, two tennis courts and a swimming pool south of the John Pitman Municipal Golf Course. Organizers are seeking 300 family memberships at $500 each. Those interested in joining are asked to deposit only $50 at this time. At the end of the 60 days, this money will be considered as part of the membership fee or, if not enough members are secured, the deposit will be returned.

Country Club boosters have arranged a financing plan for the membership fee, with payments of $26.21 for 18 months. If the club is built, family dues will be not more than $10 per month, organizers say.

There are no officers in the present organization. Election will be held after the total membership is gained. Those interested in joining, or getting more information about the proposed club, are asked to contact the temporary office at the Robinson-Decker Insurance Agency. Final decision on location of the Country Club would be postponed until after the membership goal is reached and a board of directors elected. (Continued on page 2)

The Hereford Athletic Association will send a swimming team to the State Junior Olympic Swimming and Diving Meet in Lubbock on Aug. 21 and 22. The meet is sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union.

There will be 78 swimming events, from 75 to 400 yards in length, in the 27th annual meet, with many age groups. There (Continued on page 2)

State High Court Refuses City Suit Writ Of Error

Guilty Of DWI

Reimundo Deleon Falcon, 32, of Hereford entered a plea of guilty to a driving while intoxicated, first offense, charge in County Court Tuesday and was fined $75 and court costs and sentenced to five days in Deaf Smith County Jail. Falcon was arrested Sunday by Deputy Sheriff Domingo Perna on Highway 60, west of Hereford. County Judge Homer Henslee presided in court.

The Supreme Court of Texas last week refused to grant a writ of error applied for by W. E. Robinson of Hereford in his $22,500 suit against the City of Hereford for alleged permanent and total disability for performing future manual labor as result of a back injury he received in April, 1958, while he was a city employee.

Purpose of the writ of error was to have the Supreme Court reverse a decision of the Court Of Civil Appeals in Amarillo returned in May.

The Court Of Civil Appeals on

May 18 overruled appeal for rehearing in the case. During the preceding month, the Amarillo court affirmed the case, in which 69th District Judge Harry H. Schultz sustained the city's motion for summary judgment here on Sept. 13, 1958. Robinson filed an appeal for rehearing a week later.

Effect of the refusal to grant the writ of error in Austin was to affirm the decision of the Court Of Civil Appeals against the plaintiff. Decision was returned by the Supreme (Continued on page 2)

Area LL Tourney Play Starts Here

First of five post-season tournament games in Hereford for Little League baseballers gets underway at 8 p.m. Friday, July 24.

Meeting in the first game of the area play-offs will be teams from Muleshoe and Plainview. Earlier the two league champions in Plainview agreed to a city play-off, with the winning team advancing to the area tourney.

The Hereford Little League All-Stars will meet the winner of the Muleshoe-Plainview contest Saturday, July 25, at 8 p.m. for the area crown.

On the same days, similar area tournaments will be held in Borger, Childress and Levelland.

Winners of these play-offs will meet at Hereford on July 31 and Aug. 1 to determine the district champion.

Rites Conducted For T. A. Paul

Funeral services were conducted Monday for Thomas Arthur Paul, 66, 413 Ave. J, in the Temple Baptist Church of Hereford. The Rev. Russell Pogue, pastor of the Petersburg Baptist Church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Robert Laceywell, Hereford minister.

Mr. Paul died at 12:30 a.m. Sunday in Deaf Smith County Hospital following an illness of about seven years.

TIM-BER-R.—County Courthouse renovation operations were marked Tuesday by the absence of two trees fallen by J. W. Messer & Co. at the north side of the courthouse. Two powerful bulldozers and a laboring wench truck were required to uproot the stubborn 50 year old-plus elm. One of the trees is shown about one second before it thundered to the earth. Hereford for the same period are: $47,739,000; $19,236,000; and $19,879,000.
Many folks are buying at home, as the 1958 figures on effective buying income show $24,134,000 for the county and $13,623,000 for the city.

Fred Baird, school tax collector-assessor, told us an interesting story Monday about one of the two trees that were torn out to make room for the new jail. It seems that about 1934 the county hired a crew to trim the trees each year. Civic leader, the late A. W. Gregg asked permission to trim one of the trees each year at no cost to the county. Permission was granted and Mr. Gregg trimmed the huge tree immediately north of the courthouse for about five years. He was doing what he thought was the best thing for the county. Fred also told us that the small park at West Third and 25 Mile Avenue had been kept in shape for many years by Mr. Gregg and that the park now is officially designated as Gregg Park.

Hereford High homemaking students are making an appeal for donations of hamburger meat. This will be used in their carnival booth next week, with proceeds going to help finance their annual foreign student exchange program. If you have hamburger meat, or money for same, to donate call EM 4-3533 or EM 4-3843.

There will be no Toastmasters Club meeting Tuesday because of the Vegetable Industry appreciation dinner.

Thursday, July 23, is the day for wheat growers to vote on whether they want a continuation of acreage controls.

Understand a group of Levelland horse riders will start on a 20-day trek Aug. 1 from Burlington, Colo., to Levelland in a publicity stunt for the newly-designated U. S. Highway 385, known as the International Parks Highway. They should be in Hereford about Aug. 16, shooting for an entrance on Aug. 20 for the annual Levelland Rodeo.

Made a talk on news department operations at Rotary Club Monday. But I sure did have to cut down on my tales with Publisher Jimmie Gillentine in the audience as a visitor. Jimmie got in some fast digs for himself after it was over by telling some of the Rotarians who kid him the most. "If you think the news department is busy, you ought to see all the work I have to do!"

Don't fail to get out for one of the two Little League tournament games this week. Coaches, of course, would particularly like to have you on hand when Hereford plays on Saturday at 8 p.m. There are no second chances in Little League play-offs. You put all your eggs in one basket, to hatch an old cliché, and hope to win each one as it comes. These youngsters have had a fine season, working hard at learning the game and its sportmanship; they deserve your support.

Robinson, 54, claimed that he injured his back while lifting a heavy barrel in April, 1958, while working for the city.

Before Judge Schultz Sept. 13, 1958, City Attorney Earnest Langley presented a motion stating that "regardless of any matters alleged by the plaintiff, the plaintiff is not entitled to recover anything from the city as a matter of law."

Basis of the motion of the city was that "(1) his claim was not filed in time with the city and (2) the city is not liable for any damage that the plaintiff may have suffered because it is a governmental agency and is not responsible for the negligence of its employees."

In a four-point petition, Robinson cited the following as basis of his suit: Use of heavy barrels by the city instead of trash cans; negligence in furnishing him a helper; negligence in not warning him of the size and heavy weight of the barrel; and negligence in not furnishing him a safe place to work.

The petition asked for $10,000 to cover "conscious mental and physical pain, past and future"; it asked $300 to cover doctor bills, medical care and treatment; it asked $2,000 to take care of future hospital and medical care bills, and $10,000 to offset inability to continue work as a result of the injuries.

The game was played on a rain-dampened field, which hampered both teams and delayed the opening of the game an hour while workmen spread sand in a small lake in right center field.

The game started when Ted Barnes of Childress hit a double out into deep left field. C. Mitchell batted him in by dropping the ball over the right center field fence to give Childress a 2-0 lead.

Barry Gabbert acquitted himself well in the activities of the night by batting in the only Hereford score and getting credit for nine put-outs from his catcher's post. In the second inning, with Gary Kendrick on base from a walk, Gabbert hit a double to bat him in.

Tight fielding on the part of both teams kept the game scoreless for the next two innings but in the fifth inning D. Greer of Childress got on base by a fielder's choice. He advanced to second in a similar way and took third on a wild pitch. A. Shires parked one over the left center field fence to bat him in and put Hereford behind 4-1.

Mitchel used a single to get on base to score the final run of the game in the seventh inning. John Thornton occupied the hill for the winning Childress team, striking out 11.

Hereford used Gary Kendrick and Drew Kershen as pitchers with Kendrick getting the loss. The Hereford pitching staff eliminated seven batters by strike-outs.

Present plans indicate that the clubhouse and other facilities would be located on the south side of the municipal golf course, in the vicinity of the third tee.

The site, building and facilities will be completely paid off at the time construction contracts are let if the $150,000 sought is pledged.

This feature, boosters say, would enable the monthly dues to be lower than many other country clubs which had to finance building programs.

The concrete block and stone club house would include 5,631 square feet. One of the unusual features of the club would be the extensive public facilities available for non-members.

Country Club boosters have agreed to provide large locker rooms and golf shop in the clubhouse building to replace the small stone building which now serves as headquarters for the municipal golf course.

The east wing of the building would have a golf shop and club storage room, a men's locker room with 146 lockers and a women's locker room with 67 lockers. All of these facilities would be available for public use and maintained by the club.

Other clubhouse facilities would include a large room to be used for banquets, games and dining. Part of this room could be screened off for a smaller dining room. There would be a men's card room, a lounge, a combination room for ladies' meetings and for an-

Nine riding groups also have accepted invitations to ride in the parade and participate in the Saturday night rodeo grand entry. They are: Castro County Sheriff's Posse; Hale County Sheriff's Posse; Hockley County Sheriff's Posse; Roosevelt County (N.M.) Sheriff's Posse;

Petersburg Riding Club; Terry County Sheriff's Posse; Will Rogers Range Riders from Amarillo; the XIT Rangers from Dalhart; and the Hutchinson County Sheriff's Posse. Along with the Hereford Riding Club, there will be about 200 prancing horses and colorfully-dressed riders on hand.

Other dining area, a large kitchen, with cession stand and storage facilities.

Main entrance would be on the south, with the building facing north, with a terrace on the north side. Adjoining the clubhouse would be a kidney-shaped swimming pool, a children's pool, two tennis courts and large parking areas.

Club boosters emphasized that they are planning a family-type club, with facilities for all ages.

They also emphasized that the country club was not taking over the city golf facilities and would not place restrictions upon the present golf course operations. "We plan to spend about $20,000 on public facilities for golfers who do not desire to join the club," one of the organizers said.

Marketing quotas have been approved by farmers for the last six wheat crops. In last year's referendum on quotas for the 1959 wheat crop, 84.1 per cent of the farmers voting favored quotas.

Collier recently announced that support price for 1960 crop wheat in this county should not be less than $1.78 per bushel, figured on the basis of the county support rate last year, if growers approve marketing quotas.

The rate would drop to an average of $1.18 if quotas are rejected. Collier said the county rate last year was $1.82 compared with the $1.81 national average.

County farmers have been notified of acreage for 1960 wheat. Allotment in the county this year is 200,423 acres, 1,886 acres less than last year.

If quotas are approved, farmers who comply with their individual farm wheat acreage allotments may market their entire crop without penalty and be eligible for price support at the 75 per cent of parity rate.

A grower who exceeds his allotment will be subject to marketing quota penalties on his excess wheat except that any grower may produce up to 15 acres for harvest as grain without penalty.

If marketing quotas are voted down, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketings, but price support will be available at 50 per cent of parity to farmers who comply with their acreage allotments.

The referendum is being held at this time so that farmers will know at winter wheat planting time whether or not marketing restrictions will be in effect at harvest time in 1960.

"This referendum is important to all wheat growers," Collier said, "and we are hoping for a heavier vote than in preceding years."

Batter Police Car In Wreck

A Hereford police patrol car and a passenger car driven by a 14-year-old Hereford youth were damaged in an intersection collision at Fourth and Bennett at about 9:10 p.m. Sunday. The patrol car was driven by Joel Kenneth Morris, 35, 812 Brevard, a Hereford police officer. The car's right rear fender was struck by the left front fender of a 1950 model automobile driven by Don Elvin Sheppard, 14, 110 Ave. D. Damage to the patrol car was estimated at $100, and to the Sheppard car, $150. Sheppard was cited for failure to grant the right of way and for having no driver's license. There were no injuries.

Three Charged On Contributing

Two Hereford men and a Hereford woman were charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department this week and bonds for each were set at $500 by County Judge Homer Hensley. The three were arrested by Deputy Sheriff L. R. Cherrymones Monday in connection with taking a 15-year-old Hereford girl to California without the parents' consent. The girl is related to two of the persons charged, Cherrymones said. Charged were Ellen Genele Mauldin, 25, Andrew Glenn Mauldin, 21, and Kenneth Ross Stacey, 19. The girl has been returned to her parents. The group left Hereford for California on July 6 and returned July 17, Cherrymones said.

Sentence Four In JP's Court

Three Hereford men and a woman from Granbury, Tex., were assessed fines and court costs in Justice Of The Peace court this week on four separate charges filed by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department. James Alden Meanseo, 51, of Hereford was charged with disturbing the peace after arrest by Deputy Sheriff Bill McCarver Friday night in Hereford. Meanseo was fined $200 and costs. Lito Arispe, 19, of Hereford was fined $25 and costs by Justice of the Peace Berry Miles after being charged with disturbing the peace. He was arrested Saturday by deputy sheriffs McCarver and Domingo Pesina at the Labor Camp. Tony Town Gonzales, 23, of Hereford was charged in connection with an affair in Hereford after arrest Sunday by deputy sheriffs McCarver and Pesina. He was fined $35 and costs.

Charged with running a stop sign and speeding, Glenn Edward Tankersley, 22, of Granbury was arrested Sunday by McCarver and Highway Patrolmen Charles Skinner and Kenneth Maxwell. Tankersley was fined $150 and costs. He was arrested three miles east of Hereford on Austin Road.

Refreshing Visit
TOLEDO, Ohio (P) — Pleading guilty to illegally entering the United States from Canada, Robert Pickering, 35, of Stoughton, Sask., explained he did it because a brewery strike in Ontario cut off his supply of beer. He found things better here. Two days after he left Canada, he was arrested in Toledo on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Alternates for the team are Louis Barnett and Danny Loerwald. According to Duane Baize and Roy Hartman, coaches of the Hereford All-Stars, the prospects look good for having a winning team in the area tourney. The team is hitting well. Baize said, but the defense still seems slightly weak. Coaches are concentrating on improving ball-handling this week. Hereford coaches are slated to scout the Plainview team Thursday night.

SIGHT FOR SORE EYE
AKRON, Ohio (P) — It was pain — not love — at first sight for Ed Gill and Gerry Marzano. Love came later. The young couple met when Gill, with a speck of dirt in his eye, went to the B. F. Goodrich Co., dispensary where Miss Marzano works to have the eye treated. They will be married in May.

UNDISTURBED TV
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (P) — The television set in George Pernicano's restaurant has to compete with the jukebox and the singing chef. So Pernicano installed headsets for patrons who insist on TV with their meals. Rosemary is a fine seasoning to use when cooking veal.

IN-SERVICE training for police officers is being held nightly at City Hall this week. Ed Powell, instructor at the Texas A & M Police School, is shown above telling officers that their job primarily is public relations and that they "have an intangible" to sell—some want it, but not to pay, and others don't want it at all." The school is being held from 7 to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday. (Staff Photo)

By JIMMIE GILLENTE
I guess everyone knows that the railroads are having a tough time of it these days. However, I notice in the Wellington paper where our own Bootleg Philosopher has solved the problem.

For years, he points out, the railroads ran along in good shape, and always maintained an "Agricultural Agent" to help the farmers decide what to plant, when to market, and how to operate their business. Now that the farms are getting by fairly well, the philosopher figures that the farmers should set up a "Railroad Agent" and hand out a little free advice to the transportation people. This, of course, depends on the reaction of the farmers—but it does sound sensible.

C. E. Coleman got back from New Mexico this week, and is still excited over the 17-inch trout he took his last day. If you haven't heard about, you'd sure better dodge the boy if you see him coming.

The proposed Country Club seems to be rolling right along. They reported 101 members Tuesday. They need 300 members and have an office set up across from the hotel in the Robinson-Decker insurance firm. Charley Seed, Bill Decker, Hap Caviness and Clint Formby have put in a lot of time developing the plan; also Earnest Langley. If you want some details, see one of these boys or drop in at the office. The last 100 will be slow, but I figure they will make it. Besides, it is wonderful to see some of our younger citizens put their shoulders to the wheel and take the lead on a civic project.

Labry Ballard is another young man, now serving as Lions Club president. He says to remind everyone that the big carnival opens with the rides Saturday afternoon—and will be going full-tilt Saturday night. It skips Sunday, then runs through next week. Funeral services for Joseph M. Hollenstein, father of Herman Hollenstein of Hereford, were held Tuesday in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Umbarger. The Rev. W. F. Bosen, pastor, officiated.

Mr. Hollenstein, 77, of Umbarger, died at 2:15 p.m. Sunday in Neblett Hospital in Canyon, where he had been a patient for a week.

He was a farmer near Umbarger and had lived there since 1913. A native of Switzerland, he was born Aug. 3, 1881, and was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and the Knights of Columbus.

Survivors include his wife, Agnes; two sons, Ernest of Buckeye, Ariz., and Herman of Hereford; six daughters, Mrs. Marie Vanhaus of Happy; Mrs. Regina Huseman; Mrs. Bertha Huseman and Mrs. Martha Huseman, all of Nazareth, and Mrs. Ann Klemman of Tulia; 40 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery at Umbarger under direction of Warren-LaGrone Funeral Home of Canyon. Rosary services were held Monday night in the parish house at St. Mary's Church.

VANDALISM DAMAGE to a vacant house at 122 Moreman St. last week amounted to nearly $300. Five Hereford youngsters, ranging in age from six to 10 years, were accompanied by their parents in a juvenile court session Saturday, and the parents agreed to make full restitution for damages. A kicked-out partition between the living room and kitchen of the house is shown above. (Staff Photo)

Parents To Pay For Vandalism

Five Hereford boys, ranging in age from six to ten years, were released to the custody of their parents after appearing in juvenile court Saturday in connection with the vandalism of a vacant house northwest of Hereford sometime last week. Investigating Deputy Sheriff R. Cherryhomes said the parents agreed to pay $295 in damages of the house, which is owned by Jack Messer of Hereford. Address of the four-room house 122 Moreman St.

A sheet rock partition between the living room and kitchen at the front of the house was kicked out and five windows and two door panes were broken out. Cherryhomes said.

way, John McLean or some of the old timers are bound to come up with the real dope and prove that I am wrong.

Jesse Stanford is a fine gentleman. He left Saturday on his vacation and wouldn't tell anyone for sure where he was going. When he got to Vega, though, he mailed me a card: "You are always fussing about those 'Wish You Were Here' cards from distant places," wrote Jesse, "but I figured you wouldn't mind getting a card from Vega." He was right, too; it didn't upset me one bit!

The Gaylord Newells and Johnny Sims spent a few days in Albuquerque with the Jack Wilsons last week and came home by way of Ruidosa. They happened to be there when Louisiana's Gov. Earl Long was on the rampage that made headlines. All in all, they classified him as "somewhat of a character."

H. A. Tuck, Brand news editor made his classification talk at the Rotary Club Monday and estimated that there are 921,600 chances to make a mistake in each 24 page paper we publish. He figured this by multiplying the 24 pages by the 8 columns on each page, by 20 inches to each column, times 8 lines to each inch, times 30 characters in each line; this totals 921,600. He said he felt fairly hopeless until he remembered that a large percentage of the space was advertising, which cut the possibility for error down to 368,400 chances in each edition. Twice each week, however, steps it back up to 737,280 chances each week—which is still pretty heavy odds.

Despite all of the vacations, Hereford's Harvest Festival seems to have the stage well set for a big week. I notice where it will honor Tuesday night approximately 100 growers, processors, shippers and vegetable people in general. This is the first time I remember such a testimonial affair in Hereford—ever. It sounds like an excellent idea. Without the vegetable business, this would be an entirely different place. All you have to do is ask some of the old timers who can remember when it did not exist.

In addition, many people benefit indirectly from the industry. All in all, it helps make our area one of the most diversified in the country.

J. F. Messer and his boys found out Tuesday that it is almost as hard to demolish a tree as it is to grow one. They started clearing the grounds south of the courthouse to make room for the new jail building and it took several hours to get out the first tree—even with the use of a winch truck and heavy grader. Without this equipment, the task would have been next to impossible.

Add to the list of new grandpas: Jimmie Alfred and Robert Veigel. First thing you know, these old boys will be buying electric trains—for the grandchildren, of course.

Dr. Milton Adams

Challenge For 20th Century Program Topic

The Challenge of the Twentieth Century was the subject of the prize winning speech given by Dr. Milton Adams at the Tuesday night Toastmasters meeting.

Adams called the increase of leisure and the increased opportunity for education the challenge of the century. He cited the changes that have taken place in the first 50 years as pointing to the need for education.

Adams said that the first 50 years of this century have seen the arrival of almost universal suffrage and the reduction of toil. The school facilities have increased as have the opportunities for adult education, Adams said.

Another indication of the century is the increase in those seeking a liberal education. The purpose of a liberal education, Adams said, is to better aid man in using his freedom.

A speech by Kenneth Coker, who also served as Toastmaster for the evening, described slaughter on the highways.

In a plea for safe driving, Coker painted a picture of mass death and destruction caused by highway accidents. If a single disaster should cause as many deaths as occur on the highways during a normal holiday period the public would rise in indignation.

Coker advocated that for increased safety, drivers should give their undivided attention to their driving, never drive after drinking and give their cars periodic inspections.

A speech by Grant Fuller called for speakers to be positive. In this speech, Fuller told of the attributes that he likes to see in a speaker.

Enumerating these attributes Fuller listed a positive attitude, the use of positive statements and the proper use of words. He also cited breath control and an even delivery as vital to positive speaking.

The Toastmasters Club of Borger is to send representatives to attend the Hereford meeting next week. Arrangements are being made to have the meeting in the First National Bank.

Joint Services Held For Crash Victims Tuesday

Joint funeral services for Mrs. Martha Teague Laney, her daughter, Terry Lynn, and three other members of the Laney family who died last Thursday in an automobile crash near Beaumont, Calif., were held Tuesday in the Church of Christ at Fullerton, Calif.

Other victims were Mrs. Laney's husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Laney, and their son, Keith, all of Fullerton.

Mrs. Laney was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Teague of Hereford. She had attended Hereford schools and had been a resident of Hereford until her marriage Sept. 10, 1954, in Clovis.

She was born Aug. 20, 1938. Her daughter, Terry Lynn, 3, was born Sept. 25, 1955.

She is survived by her husband; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Teague of Hereford; a brother, R. R. Stewart of Hereford; two sisters, Mrs. Clint Laundry of Hereford and Mrs. H. C. Choate of Phoenix, Ariz.; and her grandmother, Mrs. M. A. Galloway of Texarkana.

Mr. Teague, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Laundry attended the services in Fullerton.

Safflower Demonstration Held At Gentry Test Tract

Oilseed crop gains recognition among farmers

Area farmers Lesly Lazbuddy, R. L. McAnnally, Gentry and Charles Corn discuss the test tract.

Area Farmers Curious Of New County Oilseed Crop

More than mild interest was shown by county and area farmers as nearly 30 carloads of farmers and interested persons inspected the 70-acre safflower test tract on the Bill Gentry farm, 17 miles northeast of Hereford, Saturday afternoon. Those attending the demonstration viewed 10 different test plots showing growth under normal dryland and varying irrigation practices.

Farmers Oil Seed Mills, Inc., formed by Farmers Union in cooperation with International Safflower Corporation, hosted the demonstration.

The 10 test plots were planted to register the rate of seeding and irrigation needed. Three plots were pre-irrigated, but were not irrigated again. Three plots were irrigated once after breaking through the ground, and three plots were irrigated twice.

Another plot was planted 30 days after the main field was seeded. The tract has been sprayed for chinch bugs once, but has needed little effort in helping it along through its stages of growth.

Giving commentaries on the crop were Gentry and Charles Corn, irrigation and crop specialist for International Safflower.

On April 6 this year, 24 county and area farmers signed contracts to plant 305 acres of safflower at an area meeting in the county Bull Barn.

Safflower in the county should mature in 110 to 150 days as a spring-planted crop.

Soil Conditioning Subject Of Meet

Almost any soil condition necessary for the growth of any agricultural product can be produced in the Hereford area, Dr. L. B. Barnett told an audience of Hereford Optimist and their guests Tuesday.

Dr. Barnett outlined the progress of agricultural experimentation in raising feed and measuring its yield in pounds of beef per acre.

"Technical know-how has been meager," Barnett said, "because the land in the area is adaptable." On the other hand, Barnett suggested that the alkalinity factor has been rising from the use of fertilizers.

The experimentation in the area has been concerned with producing different soil conditions. Barnett cited a field of corn west of town as an example of this effort. Here he said, soil conditions similar to those in the corn raising, mid-western states has been reproduced.

With this ability to produce soil conditions, Dr. Barnett concluded, any feed formulation can be produced with local feeds.

George Heard Family Impressed With Greece

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Heard, who has been employed at the Daura Oil Refinery in Baghdad, Iraq, for the past two years left his position in the testing department of the company June 7. He and his family are visiting in other countries before returning to Hereford.)

July 5, 1959
Athens, Greece
Dear Folks:

We are almost ready to leave Athens, and to pass the time while Margaret does her chores and our packing, I will peck out a few lines.

It is almost unbelievable in the change which one feels after arriving in Greece. Although there are many signs of poverty, the improvement over the middle East is tremendous.

Just think — NO FLIES! — in the hotel or restaurant. In fact, in walking through the market district where meat was hanging and on display in the open, there was no foul odor or flies. Much cleaner and more pleasantly fragrant than some of the best districts of Baghdad.

And the best of all is that the people look so good. Really they do not look any better or as good as the people at home, but it is so much better than one sees in the Mid-East. The improvement here over Turkey is greater than the improvement of the appearance of the Turkish people over the Arabs.

The ruins here are very high grade also, but to me were not as interesting as the ruins in Cairo. We were so tired of ruins yesterday afternoon that we took a walk in a very nice park. It was all so pleasantly normal just to walk around in an ordinary, but pretty place, and look at trees, shrubs, and grass, and watch people feed ducks and geese in the pond and pigeons on the walks.

We did not get to see much of the country here as our only trip out was to Corinth. The farm houses were very meager, but well kept and clean. The land is so rocky that I am sure one of our farmers would not bother with it. I am sure that there must be more and better land somewhere as the stores look well stocked with excellent fruits and vegetables.

If I had to depend on my observations in the country, I would conclude that all the Greeks had to eat was olives and grapes and all that they could drink would be olive oil and wine. According to the newspapers there is a shortage of wheat and there is some concern as to whether it will be the farmers or the government who will lose money on it. Sound familiar? Or does it?

But as I say, things are looking better and more like home all the time. Iraq is the only place I know that has a wheat shortage to the extent that the government has to import wheat, to keep the farmers from making too much money. Even when they have too much wheat, the farmers keep their wheat for a better price.

We spent a very safe and sane Fourth of July. No fireworks, no picnic; not even a party at the Embassy. I do not know why, but in Athens the USDA ambassador does not throw a big drinking party for the visiting citizens of the US as they do in other places. Possibly we have been blessed with a more economical group of ambassadors than we have had in other places.

So this Fourth of July, I do not get to thank you tax payers for the money that was spent on a party as I did the past two years.

The newspapers were so pro-American in their comments that it was almost embarrassing. After reading newspapers for so long that berate every virtue and action of the US, I am usually braced to control myself when I pick up a paper. But here they sound almost too good to be stimulating.

While we were in Istanbul, one of our most interesting excursions was a ride on a ferry through the Bosphorus. Boats are used as transportation through this narrow body of water that separates Europe and Asia.

We got on at the landing in Old Istanbul and took in all the stops until we reached the northernmost stop, which is near the Black Sea.

On the way back we got off at one of the stops and ate lunch in an excellent restaurant. The novelty of the setting was that the restaurant was glass-enclosed and built on piles over the water, and vines were growing up the supporting columns and along the ceiling.

We caught a later boat-back to the starting point. These boats run frequently and are well patronized, even crowded at times. It seems that all public transportation is crowded in Istanbul in all directions, and at all times. Usually public transportation has a pattern of being crowded at times, and in only one direction, but it seems in Istanbul the people on the Asia side want to be or work on the European side and vice versa. There never seems to be a mid-day or mid-morning lull so people like us can ride when we really have no place to go.

We also visited the campus of the American supported school, Robert College. It has a very beautiful location overlooking the Bosphorus.

July 17, 1959
Venice, Italy
Dear Folks:

We are now participating in the summer invasion of Europe by the Americans. It is something that we had planned to avoid as our contract with the government of Iraq was supposed to end in January next and with date we could have a spring trip. But we are enjoying ourselves even though we are traveling sooner than planned.

The Americans are ably assisted in the invasion of Italy by the Germans. The Germans seem to be the largest national group that we have seen and they have been well represented in every place we have visited so far.

It is interesting to note the various groups and individuals we see. In Jerusalem we seemed to be in the midst of traveling missionaries of various sects, who were both going and returning from tours of duty.

We have seen several odd collections of group travelers. In Cairo there was a group of German women whose age probably averaged 55 years and whose weight averaged 165. Although they were wearing "sensible" shoes, there was considerable huffing and puffing and looks of "my feet hurt, but I don't want to miss anything."

The largest group that we have seen was a Jewish group. It was so large they had it divided in several sections. They were visiting Pompei at the time and I am not sure that they saw much of it as they seemed to be spending most of the time hunting for Group 4, or part of group 7 was mixed with group 2, along with hunting a place to get out of the rain, or the nearest refreshment stand, or "W. C." They would probably have done as much good if they had gone to Coney Island.

Here in Venice we saw a sizeable group of Negroes traveling together. We have seen a few Negro families or individuals traveling, but this is the first large group that we have seen. In one of the glass factory salesrooms we became involved in a gang of teenage French speaking girls. I would not say that they were French citizens as it is very seldom that we have come across a French citizen abroad.

Incidentally, the glass products here in Venice are of endless variety and very pretty. The two largest age groups that we see seem to be those of 60-plus and college age groups. Generally the Americans have a good appearance, much better than average, but there are some individuals who get themselves clothed in the most peculiar garbs. I can't imagine what prompts bald-headed men to grow beards when they travel.

We have not yet figured out the way to pick out a place to stay without too much trouble. There seems to be no real standards for rating hotels. It is also not clear in my mind just what the distinction is in the naming of some of the various places to stay. They use the term hotel, hostel, house, pensione, albergo and motel.

It seems that all hotels here are not of the usual arrangement that we think of in the states. Some of them here are just made-over houses. But we have also found some rather nice hotels that were made from large old homes.

We stayed in a pensione in Rome that seemed to have all the services of a hotel, except a newsstand. I believe one can safely say that if he wants to pay the highest price he can do so by going to a deluxe or luxury hotel, but that does not always insure having the best place.

We stayed in a first class hotel in Athens that is several times better than the luxury hotels appear in Venice. We stayed in a second class hotel in Siena that has all the qualities of a first class or luxury and the price was low. We also picked out a very nice looking hotel and after we stayed in it a day we found that it is fourth class.

In Spain we decided that the difference in luxury and first class was the fact that they put stiff front shirts on the bell-hops. The place we stayed in Cairo was very expensive and had the location and food and rooms of a very expensive hotel if it were located in Rome.

We are waiting in Venice an extra day for some papers we have to get to be able to drive a car through Europe. It takes longer to do things here than at home. We have a lot to say about the red tape of our government activities, but after the things I have seen we surely have a lot to be thankful for.

An auto dealer tells me he gets quicker service by a week from Studebaker than he does from Fiat here in Italy. Both business and government are slow.

George

News Dept. Operation Topic At Rotary Club

H. A. Tuck, news editor of the Hereford Brand, described the operations of the newspaper for an audience of Rotarians and their guests at the weekly Rotary meeting Monday.

Enumerating the distinctive departments that combine to print a paper, Tuck stated that there were 15 full-time employees working for the brand.

Outlining office procedures, Tuck called a newsmen's life routine punctuated by moments of frantic activity. He told of two peak periods of activity which come before the deadlines on Wednesday and Saturday.

He went on to describe how the staff works on the inside pages in the early part of the week and turns its attention to the first page as the deadline approaches.

Tuck illustrated his talk with some displays showing a front page, news copy, complete with headlines and a galley proof. He also displayed a piece of teletypewriter tape and photo engravings.

FIREMEN BETTER AT ARSON

TOLEDO, Ohio — Suburban Sylvania firemen, burning an old barn to test their techniques, scored better in arson than in fire-fighting. Touched off when fireman Ken Ehrsam sloshed gasoline about and ignited it, flames destroyed the barn in 15 minutes flat — while the firemen fought hard to control the blaze.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Session Fizzles To End

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN — Texas' 56th Legislature fizzled to the end of its third session and 180th day with its main job — providing money to run state government — still undone.

Gov. Price Daniel called a fourth session to begin just hours after the last one ended. House members repeatedly voted down tax bills presented by joint conference committees of senators and representatives. Senate voted favorably each time.

First House rejection was by a vote of 81-to-64. This was on a bill to tax tobacco, natural gas production, corporation franchises, utilities, motor vehicles, liquor, wine, boats, motors, airplanes, radios, TVs, phonographs, cameras and liquor by the drink in private clubs.

Speaker Waggoner Carr named a new House conference group composed of members who had voted against the bill. They met with the same Senate conferees that had worked twice before.

Only change in the new report was that the private club tax was cut out and the radio and TV tax slightly increased. House rejected it again, this time 83-to-66.

More conferences and more votes followed in the final frantic hours. All futile! None made any apparent progress toward compromising the basic bone of contention, whether to tax gas pipelines. House favors this "severance beneficiary" tax by a narrow margin. Senate is flatly against. Along with his new call, Governor Daniel issued a sober warning. Unless a tax bill is passed and effective (requiring a two-thirds favorable vote) by Aug. 15, there won't be time or money to get Sept. 1 checks to 225,000 old age pensioners.

During the tense, short-tempered days in the wind-up of the last session, Speaker Waggoner Carr was, for a time, the target for pent-up frustrations and pressure.

Carr had worked to get the House to accept the Senate-passed tax bill. When the House turned the bill down, Carr said that "obstructionists" had defeated it.

This was a red flag to members already sensitive to public criticism of a "do-nothing" Legislature. For several days they simmered. They accused Carr of trying to thwart the will of a House majority, talked of voting him out of the speakership.

In a dramatic showdown, Carr stepped down from the rostrum and challenged his critics to remove him if they thought it would make things any better. Nobody accepted his dare. A few minutes later, on motion of Rep. Joe Burkett, the man Carr defeated for the speakership, Carr was escorted back to the speaker's chair.

And the wearying legislative battle began again. A bill to require state college students to pay an activity fee passed both houses by very narrow margin. Measur would allow the colleges to charge students up to $30 a semester to support health services, book rentals, cultural and athletic events, campus publications, parking, etc.

Any college may exempt from the fee up to 10 per cent of its enrollment in cases where the charge would cause "undue financial hardship."

Bill was hard-fought. Opponents declared it would make "free public education" available only to the rich. Backers said the colleges had to have more money. It was estimated the bill could bring in as much as an extra $1,000,000 a year.

Both houses passed and sent to the governor a bill guaranteeing public access to state-owned beaches.

It took a conference committee to work out the differences between House and Senate ideas on the bill.

As finally passed, the bill says the public shall have the right to come and go from public beaches. No one, it says, shall erect a fence or barrier to prevent this.

Beaches that cannot be reached by public road or ferry are exempt.

Governor Daniel's expected signature on a newly-passed bill will put a damper on the teen-agers.

It will require boys under 21 and girls under 18 to wait three days after obtaining a license to get married. Also, to get the license, the youngsters must be accompanied by parents or guardians.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

Control Over Water Rights A Hot Issue

To the people of the 18th District:

The problem of water rights has long plagued mankind and apparently will continue to do so. The issue: "Who has control over the water in this country, the federal government or the state governments?"

Attempts will be made to resolve this question during this session of Congress. It is another prime example of the federal government, by devious means and methods, undertaking to override state laws and to assume full control of the water in all of the states insofar as the federal government wants to use or employ it.

In other words, the federal government takes the position that all of the citizens of this country as between each other and the states in which they live, are subject to the provision of state water laws. But the federal government is wholly and completely exempt from compliance with any state laws, rules, or regulations governing the search for water, the production thereof, and the use to which it is to be put.

The problem has been developing over a period of several years, but it is only in recent years that the Supreme Court has gone far afield in subjecting the water and water courses to a "dominant servitude" invested in the federal government. In 1940 the court held that the navigability of a stream for purposes of federal control does not depend solely upon natural and ordinary conditions of a river, such as volume of water, regularity of flow, etc., but the availability of the river for navigation if reasonable improvements are made, regardless of whether or not such improvements are constructed or utilized. If a substantial part of a stream can be made navigable, by construction of improvements to make it navigable, it is to be considered navigable in the first instance and subject to the control of the federal government, even though no work is ever done thereon.

In 1955 the court held that even though certain federal laws subject the waters on and under public lands of the federal government to state water laws, the United States government could simply withdraw the lands from the public land category, call them "reserve lands", and thereby be fully and completely exempt from any state laws concerning the waters or any rights acquired by individuals from the states.

It was later held in another case that a military installation of the federal government was not required to comply in any respect with the water laws in the state in which the installation was located.

There are many other cases that could be cited on this subject, but I hope that these will (Continued on page 2)

These courses, for two semester hours credit, include "Marching Band Techniques," "Choral Materials," "Band Pageantry" and "The Concert Band." Seminars will be held in woodwind and brass. Students enrolling for bands may also participate in choral activities, and all twirlers will be expected to enroll for band training. Movie Shown By Local Congregation Showing of a one-hour color film, "Divine Will International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses", was held at the Jim Hill Hotel Wednesday at 7 p.m.

The public press, newsreel and other news channels gave world-wide attention to the assembly last summer, acclaiming it as the world's largest Christian convention, according to Lloyd Reddoch, presiding minister of the local congregation. For eight days, it packed out both Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds in New York City.

A quarter-million delegates from 123 lands were present at the climax of the event to hear Nathan H. Knorr, Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society's president, speak on the subject "God's Kingdom Rules — Is the World's End Near?"

Reddoch described the film as informative and educational. He stated that it will provide hope and inspiration to all people interested in godly living and world peace.

H. D. CHATTER 4-H Club Dress Revue Scheduled For July 24

By ARGEN DRAPER The last two or three weeks we have gotten a number of surveys through the mail. I always cooperate in these surveys, thinking that it might help.

Last Friday we got one and the company enclosed a dollar bill as a tip for our effort. Has this been going on or is this new with the company to encourage people to answer the questions?

The 4-H Dress Revue will be Friday, July 24, at 3 p.m. in the High School auditorium. This will be worth your time to attend if you are interested in youth programs and good sewing.

Jeanette Hadaway will be commentator for the 4-H division, and Teresa Revel will be commentator for the division for little girl's dresses. Some of the women who are helping in this division are Mrs. Emmitt Johnson, Mrs. Eugene Tannahill, Mrs. Wern Koelzer and Mrs. H. V. Fields. There will be others who will exhibit little girl's dresses. They are the ones who have taken the course from one of the Leaders.

I am more enthusiastic about little girl's dresses than ever as Teresa Revel has given us an excellent workshop and has taught the use of the machine. She has one of the latest models, one of the most modern sewing machines, and has mastered the use of the attachments.

We are getting more calls at the office everyday for the freezing bulletin, canning bulletin, pickles and relishes, and the one on making jellies, jam, and preserves. If you come to the office for the bulletins, be sure and get the two on jellies, jams and preserves. They are companion bulletins, one from the Department of Agriculture and one from Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The following recipe is from Mrs. Grady Parsons. She served this at club when Cultural met with her in June. It sounds complicated but it isn't. You will like it for summer meals.

CHERRY PINEAPPLE SALAD

1 can of Bing cherries, pitted
1/3 cup whipping cream
1/3 cup mayonnaise
2 three-ounce package of cream cheese at room temperature
Dash of salt
1/2 cup nuts, coarsely chopped
Dissolve the gelatin in boiling water, drain pineapple and cherries saving the juice which should be approximately 3 cups. Add enough water to make this 3 cups liquid.

Mix pineapple juice, cherry juice, and lemon juice with gelatin.
Divide gelatin in half; chill until partially set. Fold in pineapple and spread evenly in a cold, water-rinsed dish 9 x 13 x 2. Chill until firm.
Whip the cream, mayonnaise, cream cheese, and salt together until light and fluffy. Spread evenly over the firm gelatin. Chill until firm.
Chill remaining gelatin until partially set. Fold in cherries and nuts. Spread over cheese layer. Chill until firm. Cut in squares.

Army Specialist Four Rodney L. Tumlinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie N. Tumlinson of Hereford, recently qualified as expert in firing the M-1 rifle while assigned to the 517th Ordnance Company in Germany.

Tumlinson, a machinist in the company in Mannheim, entered the Army in September, 1957, completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo., and arrived in Europe in May, 1958.

The 22-year-old soldier is a 1956 graduate of Mission High School. Before entering the Army, he was employed by the U. S. Agriculture Department in McAllen.

His wife, Peggy, is with him in Germany.

Gorgeous George To Wrestle Here Saturday Night

The Hereford Lions Club is presenting the biggest attraction of the year Saturday night, July 25, at 8:45 p.m. at the Bull Barn with the "toast of the coast — the human orchid", Gorgeous George.

George is one of the most famous wrestlers of all time and has appeared on many national television shows. He and Enrique Spindola will be wrestling in one of the double main events along with Bulldog Plech and Doug Donovan bringing up the other main events.

Gorgeous George, who will be accompanied by his pretty new Valet, Cherie Du Pre, will have some surprises for the fans. For one thing, he has had his long curls cut off and made into a wig.

Allen Craig On Aircraft Carrier

Allen L. Craig, airman apprentice, United States Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Craig of Hereford is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Bon Homme Richard, undergoing a month-long overhaul and repair period at Hunter's Point Naval Shipyard in San Francisco.

The repairs will be followed by exercises off the coast of California, and in the Fall she will depart her home port, Alameda, Calif., for duty with the U. S. Seventh Fleet in the Far East.

The Richard returned to the U. S. in mid-June from the Western Pacific.

DEDICATION services were held at noon Saturday for "Casa De Amigos" (House of Friends), the Weekend Center for Latin-American migrant women and children at the Palmer Norton building, south of Deaf Smith County Courthouse. Participating in ceremonies were the Rev. Joel Treadwell, vicar at St. Thomas Episcopal Church of Hereford, Miss Gloria Guerrero, Missionary with Texas Migrant Ministry, Mark Waddill, United Council of Church Women's chairman on migrant ministry, Harold Kilpatrick of Austin, executive secretary of Texas Council of Churches, and the Rev. Gilbert Davis, pastor of First Christian Church of Hereford. (Staff Photo)

Spindola, Ferrazza Capture Main Event

Enrique Spindola and Danny Ferrazza took the second and third falls of the main event wrestling match Saturday night at the Bull Barn over Tony Morelli and Ripper Leone.

Morelli and Leone took the first fall in twelve minutes but were cooled in the following two falls.

Leone took the first event in fifteen minutes with a back-breaker hold on Ferrazza. Morelli was disqualified for not breaking a hold on the count of five to forfeit the second event to Spindola.

FROZEN LEMON PIE
Beat well, 4 egg yolks and add 1/2 cup sugar. Add grated rind of 1 lemon and the juice of 2 lemons. Cook over slow fire until of custard consistency. In another bowl, mix 3 tablespoons lemon-flavored gelatin, 1/3 cup sugar, and 1 cup boiling water. Set aside to cool. When both mixtures are cool, add the gelatin mixture to the custard mixture slowly, beating constantly. Add 1 cup cream whipped, then fold in the beaten whites of 4 eggs. Line refrigerator pans with finely crushed crumbs of vanilla wafers or graham crackers. Pour custard onto crumbs, carefully, filling pan almost full. Top with more crumbs, then freeze. At serving time, cut the frozen pie into serving size pieces, and remove from pan with a spatula. If a square pan is used cut into squares; if a round pan is used, wedge shaped pieces make attractive serving.

point up the great danger that lies in this trend. Since the scarcity of water in the western states places the people in those states in a position of complete dependence upon the ability to obtain water, the control of water is an all-powerful weapon. People of these states could be completely overwhelmed and dominated by the federal government. If such powers fall into the hands of unscrupulous public officials, and they easily could, it would take many, many years to recover from the damage which could be done. Although there were no federal public lands in Texas originally, the federal government has acquired much property in recent years, and can acquire such additional amount as it desires simply by condemnation procedures. Hence, every state of the Union is a potential victim of possible complete servitude to the federal government. This information is gathered together for the purpose of showing the trends toward centralization of the government in all facets of the economy. Unless these trends can be successfully checked, it will be only a short time before state governments will be governments in name only and wholly without power. The peoples living in the less densely populated areas of this country will be subject to the rule and the control of the thickly populated metropolitan sections of this country. This will not meet with the approval of the people of the 18th Congressional District of Texas or any other group of independent thinking free Americans. Everyone seems to be making a guess about adjournment of the Congress. Frankly, I feel that much would have been accomplished had we adjourned by July 15. This was not possible because of the controversy surrounding the "labor reform bill." It appears that this bill has now been agreed upon by the House Committee and will be before the Congress within the next several days. This will be a hotly contested matter and may hold Congress up for as long as two additional weeks. Added to this is the time that will be required if a civil rights bill is debated. This could hold the Congress in session until Sept. 15; however, most of the guessers think that we will be out by Labor Day, and I certainly hope so. mean more running across the state line to marry. However, Oklahoma recently passed a similar law.

Amid the legislative tax deadlock, the Commission on Higher Education decided to stop studying new money-spending programs until there's money to spend. Commission's job is to determine needs of the state's colleges and universities and make recommendations to the Legislature. Expanded programs and new degrees are being sought by many schools. But when the Commission met, there was no money in sight even to open the schools next fall, let alone expand them.

Commission resolved to "approve no programs which entail additional expenditures until such time as monies are provided for the programs and offerings already in existence."

Oil Industry Is Featured On New Postage Stamp

By SYD KRONISH
An oil derrick against a light background will highlight the design of the new 4-cent Petroleum Industry Centennial commemorative stamp. It will be issued at Titusville, Pa., on Aug. 27, and will mark the 100th anniversary of the completion of the first oil well at Titusville by Col. Edward L. Drake.

Lettering on the stamp is a hand-drawn calligraphic style in white against a dark background. The writing surrounds the design in U-shaped form.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations of the stamp may send addressed envelopes together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Titusville, Pa., prior to Aug. 27. The outside envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers Petroleum Industry Stamp." On June 22 Switzerland issued stamps in its "famous men" series. Rising College Prices Cause Money Problem

By VIVIAN BROWN

College costs have climbed and many a bright student is at a loss to figure out how to finance his education. Time was when families could mortgage the old homestead as each new college entrant came along, but college educations are expensive today, and one can't figure on Dad footing the bills for the entire brood. It may not be possible.

Even a publicly-supported college may cost a minimum of $1,500 a year for tuition and living expenses. At a private college, a realistic budget covering all expenses for one academic year may amount to $2,500, says the American Bankers Assn. which conducted a survey.

There are only a few ways to get to college with the funds you have on tap, the A. B. A. advises. One way is to win a scholarship, but there are only about 125,000 scholarships available annually for 3,000,000 students, and the average award is less than $300 a year.

A more dependable source of income is part-time and summer work that will pay some of the costs. It has become virtually impossible for resident students to completely work their way through school these days. The national average shows you can aim at the goal of earning about one-fourth of your expenses, which means working full time in the summer and part-time during the school year. The college of your choice may have a job placement bureau to help you find work on or off campus, and it may even turn up a good summer job for you.

A third way you can ease the squeeze on family finances is by borrowing money to be paid back after you get your sheepskin. Check to see whether your college choice has a loan fund. Some of the schools will advance as much as $2,500 over a four-year period with from three to six years after graduation to repay the money.

You may be able to borrow money from your local bank. Educators and bank people have worked together to develop some plans to meet college money problems. Under one of these plans, students in good standing can obtain long term, low interest loans up to a total of $1,500. You must apply to

The sheep men in this section of the state have sold most of their clips, and the total will run at about 500,000 pounds. The price ranged from 13 to 17½ cents per pound. The clip would average, in the estimation of Allan Bell, at from 6 to 12 pounds per head. Mr. Bell bought some 100,000 pounds of the wool market at Hereford. He is now and has been at work for some time to get the quarantine raised against sheep in the Panhandle. As is known the national government has placed a quarantine against the entire state, but as there is no scap in the Panhandle Mr. Bell feels that it should be raised for this part of the state.

Although the project has been badly crippled by the reducing of relief workers to an average wage of $20 per month, construction on Highway 33 is continuing, according to Cooper De-wey, engineer in charge. He is using two crews of 30 men each per week.

The highway in the city was re-opened Tuesday of this week when the barricades were removed. It will not be given an asphalt topping as a relief project, but will be built by the highway department under contract.

Traffic is not being detoured around 33 east of Hereford. Vehicles are being allowed to pass the job on the shoulders of the wide road bed. Crews are bar-your community bank for these loans which are secured by an 80 per cent guarantee of repayment from a fund contributed by business firms and individuals.

Many banks make special education loans of various types on their own, either granted to the parent or on the joint signature of parent and student with both sharing responsibility for payments.

The newest source of student loan funds is the Federal Government. Under the National Defense Education Act, qualified students attending colleges which participate in the plan can borrow $1,000 a year, up to a $5,000 maximum, with the loan repayable after graduation over a 10-year period. Your eligibility is determined after you apply to a college and it appraises your scholastic record, need and career interests.

It's a good idea for a high school student to save every cent he can get his hands on and put it away in a college fund. It will certainly help when the time comes to sign up for college.

reading a short stretch at a time, excavating the sub-grade, then placing the caliche in the excavated section. As they finish a section they will remove the barricades and move on to the next.

ART WALL Jr.
Wall's Pendulum Action Pays Off On Little Chips

By ART WALL JR.

The shot off the edge of the green—that little chip shot from 60 feet on — is one that troubles many an average golfer.

When I get in that position I try to think of a pendulum on a clock. I go straight back of the ball and straight through.

You keep your feet close together on this shot, the knees bent and let the club do the work.

I try to hit down on the shot after I pick a place on the green where I want the ball to land. I try to get the ball to roll the rest of the way. For

GREATER ROOMINESS

Official dimensions reported to the Automobile Manufacturers Association make this point abundantly clear. For example, Chevy's front seat room is up to 5.9 inches wider than in comparable cars. And Chevy even offers more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars!

MOST ADVANCED ENGINES

We'll let SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED talk about Chevy's standard passenger car and Corvette V8's: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." And every motor magazine concurs! There are eight V8's to pick from—the widest choice in Chevy's field.

FRESH STYLING

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine's experts took one look and said, "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling."

HIGHER TRADE-IN

N.A.D.A.* Guide Books carry the proof of Chevy's extra trade-in value. They show that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to a solid $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevy's field.

SAILING

...that is exactly what all of us dream of. But this is God's world and we certainly must learn the laws of the winds of God if our journey is to be smooth. We must chart our course with caution.

We must know how to man the sails. We must read carefully the "guide book for mariners," called The Sermon on the Mount. One must know how to tack and, most important of all, ask the "Great Pilot" what course He recommends.

Let your church attendance and support record, the contribution you make to the cause of good, and your love for the brethren serve as your compass. The smooth sailing of your ship will be determined by the judgment you use in your preparation. You can't make it alone, Mister. Better take God with you.

Lest We Forget: Men, by cavils and disputes, have thrown obscurity over the plainest of truths. To the proud and self-sufficient, the faith of the Gospel is made a stumbling-block, but to the humble and contrite, the light of the meridian sun is not more clear. Here are no conditions imposed; no limitations fixed. It is not said, "If you do so many good works, Jesus will accept you"; but simply, "Believe in Him." Believe that He died to save sinners; believe that by the blood of His cross He has made reconciliation for you with God, and that He will save to the uttermost all that come unto God by Him. A most cordial welcome to you.

Texas Granite Used In Capitol Face Lifting

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON, (AP) — The new east front of the Capitol soon will be taking shape, now that the big pink Texas granite cornerstone has been laid.

The cornerstone is like the granite used in construction of the Texas state Capitol, as well as the bases for the statues of Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin in the U. S. Capitol's Statuary Hall. The cornerstone is a 3-foot cube, with a hollowed-out space 20 by 20 by 12 inches in which a copper box was placed. It weighs 4,200 pounds.

President Eisenhower used the same silver trowel in the ceremonies that George Washington used to lay the original and now missing cornerstone. And, like the original and in the custom of that day, the new cornerstone rests below ground level.

It is because of that old custom, says the Capitol's architect, that the original cornerstone can't be located. When the 20-million dollar face lifting job is completed and the old walls are reinforced, there may be some further probing to try to locate the cornerstone which Washington dedicated.

nothing definite in the architect's office as to why Texas granite was picked for the new cornerstone, the general belief is that it was as a token of recognition to Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham.

He, more than anyone, was responsible for getting Congress' consent for the rebuilding of the east front. The work will project the front walls out beyond the now overhanging dome, replacing crumbling soft sandstone, and make additional office space.

Texas granite also will be used as flooring in the spacious portico of the new east front. Incidentally, during the cornerstone laying ceremonies, President Eisenhower looked at the cornerstone and expressed his surprise that such stone was found in Texas. At that point according to one official who overheard Eisenhower's comment, Rayburn reminded the president that many public buildings in Texas were made of the native granite — including the courthouse in the President's birthplace of Denison.

In Rayburn's address at the ceremony a copy of which was placed in the copper box, he said:

"We trust that this whole building will stand throughout the ages and that irresponsible and mad men who are willing to destroy everything will never set foot on this soil."

"We love this ground. We love this Hill!"

AROUND THE CAPITAL:
From page 1 of the Capitol Hill newspaper "Roll Call" is this observation: "Newest rumor in the Presidential guessing whirl: Nixon for President and Texas' lone GOP Congressman Rep. Bruce Alger for Vice President."

Former Texas Sen. Tom Connally, who will be 82 on Aug. 17, still is a frequent visitor to Capitol Hill.

Arriving in his private, chauffeured car from the home where he and Mrs. Connally live in northwest Washington near the Shoreham Hotel, he goes directly to the barber shop which is operated exclusively for senators — and to which he still has the privilege of going. He seldom goes about the building.

Though out of the whirl of things now, Connally, renowned for his oratory is NOT forgotten. For example, in the July 2 Congressional Record's appendix the first article is headed: "History of the Connally Act."

Placed in the Record by Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), the article contains the speech of Texas Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson before the Interstate Oil Compact Commission in New Orleans. It recounts how Connally sponsored the 1935 law making it a federal offense to ship oil across state lines produced in violation of state production quotas.

Johnson in inserting the Thompson speech noted that the commissioner lauded the Connally Act "as a fine example of Federal cooperation with the oil States."

How Can I?

Q. How can I avoid falling meringue on my pies?
A. This calamity can usually be prevented if you brown the meringue slowly with a low flame. When it's almost ready to remove from the oven, open the oven door so the pie can cool gradually for about 10 minutes. Then take the pie out and the meringue, if it's properly prepared, will remain "on high."

Q. How can I avoid unsightly blotches of white starch on dark-colored clothes?
A. By tinting your starch solution before using it. Use tea or coffee for browns, bluing for blues, or you can use commercial dyes.

Q. What is a good substitute for toothpaste?
A. A half-and-half mixture of baking soda and salt makes a fine cleanser for your "ivories."

Q. How can I, when painting outdoors, avoid having insects land on my fresh paint job and stick there?
A. Add a little oil of wintergreen or oil of citronella to your paint, about one tablespoon per gallon. This will repel the bugs, and still will not affect the texture of your paint.

Q. How can I sharpen a knife?
A. Fold a piece of emery paper in the center and draw the knife blade back and forth several times inside this.

Q. Do you know of a quick and easy method of purifying one's breath?
A. Try sucking on a lemon, following this with a good drink of cold water.

Q. How can I keep my coffee pot "sweet"?
A. Fill the coffee pot with cold water, add a tablespoon of baking soda, and bring the water to a boil. Never wash a coffee pot with soap, or your next batch of coffee might carry a soapy taste.

Q. How can I improvise a scouring pad for my pots and pans when I am temporarily out of the real thing?
A. One of the simplest, and yet very effective, pads can be effected by crushing a brown paper bag into a ball and scouring with that.

Q. How can I easily remove grass stains from clothing?
A. These stains can often be removed by sponging with ammonia and water.

Q. What can I do if the "fast" colors in a garment aren't so fast as they might be?
A. You can make them more fast by adding a little acetic acid or ordinary vinegar to the wash water.

In order to pitch properly, a youngster must know what he is about to do. Don't get into the bad habit of looking at the sky, at the ground or to the sidelines. Look at your target. That would be the catcher's mitt.

The sooner you school yourself to the good habits, the sooner you will learn good control.

Don't try to pick up the target when the pitch is halfway home. Get your eyes on the target when you come to the set pitching position, and stay people who are at home with QUALITY choose GAS appliances

Enter the home where choices are made strictly on the basis of quality, and the chances are excellent that you'll find a built-in Gas range in the kitchen. That's because people who are concerned enough to evaluate, discover that a Gas range offers superiority in two ways. The range itself combines precision accuracy with complete automation. And GAS, as a live-flame fuel, does important things that no other fuel can do. It consumes cooking vapors so that you can enjoy closed-door smokeless broiling. With Gas there's no warm-up wait when it's turned on... no lingering heat when it's turned off. And only an instantly responsive Gas flame permits perfect control of the subtle variations in temperature that mean so much to the taste and texture of foods. Gas is the choice of people who insist upon quality at any price... and it's incidental that Gas costs from five to eight times less than any other fuel! Where the finest is truly appreciated... GAS belongs.
