Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week Starts

Beautification All Year Emphasized

Hereford's annual campaign against disease and community blight will open officially on Monday when Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up Week gets started. It will continue through Saturday, April 29.

Five Teachers In Auto Wreck

An automobile carrying five Hereford school teachers overturned near Anton Friday morning, injuring the driver and a passenger. Listed in good condition at Deaf Smith County Hospital in Hereford Saturday morning were Mrs. Margaret Aven, driver of the car, and Miss Della Stagner, who sustained minor bruises and lacerations in the two-car accident.

But an important difference this year is that the campaign will be continued throughout the year with a complete beautification program.

Another change from past years will be Hereford's entry into the nation's Cleanest Town contest.

Each resident is asked to clean his premises this week, including alleys and vacant lots. Extra trash pick-up will start on Wednesday. All residents are asked to have trash stacked near garbage containers by that time.

Small items of trash and debris should be placed in covered containers or boxes in the alley for fast handling and to avoid possible spreading by prowling dogs or high winds. Due to the large job facing city trash workers, some of the trash may not be picked up for several days. However, extra trucks and labor will be put to work and the pick-ups will be handled as quickly as possible.

Mrs. Jimmie Gillettine, chairman of the Clean Up Week drive, announced that interest in the campaign was particularly high because of the efforts which will follow to make Hereford a more attractive town.

City's Deposits Show Increase

Recent sales of Deaf Smith County cattle have made a mark on two local banks and two savings and loan institutions, which showed that combined deposits are up $1,475,970.42 over last year, according to statements of conditions this week.

Combined deposits of the two banks, First National and Hereford State, and Hi-Plains Savings and Loan Association and Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union totaled $17,662,170.77, compared to $16,186,200.35 reported at a comparable time last year.

Deposits of the two banks this year totaled $13,165,058.44, compared to $12,555,688.41 for the same time in 1960. This is an overall increase of $609,370.03 over the comparable bank call in March of last year.

Much of the increase can be attributed to cattle sales this far this year. Cattle were pulled from grazing in wheat recently.

Campfire Girls will make individual efforts in their home neighborhoods and also will clean the Campfire Hut area. Their efforts are coordinated by Dr. H. A. Cavness.

Boy Scouts and Explorers plan to clean up for their sponsoring organizations, concentrating particularly on church grounds. Assisted by Cub Scouts, they also have volunteered their efforts to clean up the Veterans' Park area. They are being directed by Louis Macheuca.

All Hereford school children will lend their efforts, too, according to Mrs. Elmer Patterson, who is in charge of this phase of the week-long drive.

This will be the first year for Hereford to enter the 1961 Clean Town Contest, Mrs. Gillettine said. Last year more than 6,000 cities, towns and villages entered. Hereford will be competing with towns having about the same population. (Continued on page 3)

Eight Contestants In Miss REA Competition Thursday

Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative Friday announced names of the eight contestants who will be entered in the "Miss Rural Electrification" competition Thursday afternoon.

The beauty contest will be one of the highlights of the Co-op's annual meeting, which will be held in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Candidates for the 1961 title are: Dixie Hartzog of Farwell, Sandra Kay Hodges of Hereford, Mary Behrens of Dimmitt, Judy Bradley of Hereford, Caroline Brumley of Hereford, Donna Beyer of Dimmitt, Laquita Elder of Friona and Carolyn Routon of Farwell.

The West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative meeting will start at 10 a.m. Directors whose terms expire include Charlie Burke from Westway and Robert Wilson from Tharp. New directors will be elected during the two-hour meeting.

Nominated for directors' posts include Burke and Frank Zinzer Jr. of Westway and E. E. Hise and Vernon Estes from Tharp.

At noon, the Hereford Rotary Club will serve a free barbecue.

The Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative meeting is slated to start at 1 p.m. with a welcome by Hereford Mayor Ray Cowsert. Guy Williams of Hereford will entertain with a humorous talk.

Cotton John Smith of Amarillo will be master of ceremonies for the annual Miss REA beauty contest.

The business session, which is scheduled to be finished by 3 p.m., will include reports by the officers and manager of the Co-op. Three directors are to be elected. Those whose terms expire are Sloan Osborn of Friona, Tom Draper of Castro County and Dewey Wright, who lives south of Dimmitt. All are three-year terms.

Nominated for election as directors were the following, of which one will be elected from each place: Osborn and Fern Barnett from Place One; Draper and L. B. Wortman from Place Two; and Noel Gollehon and C. G. Ballard from Place Three.

Members also may nominate from the floor. Cooperative manager Leo Forrest explained that all members may vote. In joint membership, only one person may vote.

Dedication For County Buildings Fills Saturday

Marshall Formby of Plainview, former chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, will be guest speaker for the open house of Deaf Smith County's new jail and renovated courthouse Saturday, April 29. A former Hereford resident, Formby is an attorney and owner of several radio stations. He is co-owner of KPAN in Hereford.

The complete program for the all-day open house was announced Saturday by County Judge Don Zimmerman, who is coordinating activities with the Hereford Bar Association. Saturday is Law Day and the end of Clean Up Week in Hereford. The newly redecorated courthouse will open for inspection from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. and all offices will be open.

Members of the County Home Demonstration Council will serve refreshments throughout the day on the second floor of the courthouse. Guides furnished by Hereford High School will take tours through the building. Personnel will be on hand in each office to explain working operations, new equipment. (Continued on page 2)

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE manager Bill Thompson and his son, Tyler, plant red geraniums to go along with the Chamber's drive for clean-up week and year-around beautification to set an example for all local residents. Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up Week officially opens on Monday and will continue through Saturday, April 29. (Staff Photo)

Around Town

Campaign fever, also known as "politicalitis," has struck again. A segment of our residents are thinking up slogans, buttonholing voters and lining up workers for the last minute push. But the disease, this time, is primarily confined to the vicinity bounded by Union, Grand, Avenue F and White Lake. Hereford High School students are in the final days of the annual class and student body officers. In a change this year, the school's political rally will be held Thursday, April 27, at 7:30 p.m. It will take place in the high school gymnasium and the public is invited to attend. It should be well worth your time.

Bicycle Safety Week, sponsored annually by the Hereford Optimist Club, will not be held this week as planned. Because of conflicts, it will be held sometime in May. The exact dates will be announced later, according to chairman Wilbur Evanson.

All members of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative are urged to meet in Hereford Monday to further discuss the possibility of setting up a brucellosis control program in this area.

Set Brucellosis Meeting Monday

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. Monday in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company. All interested persons are invited to attend as all cattlemen in the county would be affected by this program, according to T. L. Sparkman Jr., a county rancher. Either Dr. C. M. Patterson of Texas A & M Extension Service or Dr. James B. Henderson of the Animal Health Commission of Austin will attend the meeting to answer questions which were asked at a meeting of county cattlemen last month.

Queen Selection Will Open Third Harvest Festival

Selection of the Harvest Festival queen will be the opening activity for the annual celebration, it was decided at a Friday meeting. The winner will reign at all Festival activities. Members of the Harvest Festival committee set the queen's contest for Monday, July 24. It will be arranged and sponsored by the Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce. Chairman Gerald Hale and JC president Dale Barkley, agree that the JCs would contribute $100 to the Festival Committee and would make all arrangements on the contest.

It also was decided that the agriculture banquet portion of the week-long celebration would be held on Tuesday, July 25. Planning of the parade occupied part of the breakfast meeting Friday. No entry fees will be charged this year, the group decided. Commercial entrants will be asked to decorate their entries, however. It also was decided to give trophies this year to first place parade winners in the commercial and group divisions, rather than cash prizes, as in previous years. Problem of getting bands for the parade also was discussed.

The Festival will include the queen contest, appreciation banquet, carnival, barbecue, farm and home show, rodeo and an air show. It will open July 24 and continue through July 29.

MINOR TEAM TRY-OUTS SET

Announce Major League Rosters

Major league team assignments were made at Little League field Saturday afternoon following a week of try-outs and player auction Friday. Little League major teams for 1961 include: Yankees — Felix Albiar Jr., Jimmy Allison, Danny Eaize, Gene Duvall, Danny Lester, Randy Baizo, George Connally, Billy Neal, Jimmy Shepard, Mike Horton, Lenny Petree, Glenn Thomas, David Huckert and Tom McGowan.

Judy Bradley Is Area FFA Sweetheart; Walser Nominee

Judy Bradley, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradley of Hereford, Wednesday was selected as Amarillo District Future Farmers of America Sweetheart. Miss Bradley is Hereford FFA Chapter Sweetheart. Ken Walser, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Walser of Sumnerfield, was nominated for Area I president for the 1961-62 year at the district FFA meeting, which was held Wednesday at Boys Ranch.

Jerry Johnson, Bill Nolan and Charles Vasek, Lee Kimball, Billy Miller, Larry Carlson, Joe Frank Huckert and Scott Martin.

Walser is president of the Hereford FFA Chapter and vice president of Amarillo District FFA. The Amarillo District Sweetheart will be entered in the Area I Sweetheart Contest May 13 at Palo Duro High School in Amarillo. Miss Bradley was named District Sweetheart from a list of 18 candidates attending the FFA meeting at Boys Ranch, and was given a trophy.

Some 96 FFA chapters will be represented at the Area I meeting on May 13 in Amarillo. Eighteen FFA chapters attended the Amarillo District meeting. High school chapters present were from: Hereford, Canyon, (Continued on page 2)

The Lone Star Degree is the highest honor an FFA member can achieve on the state level. A total of 25 degree applications were accepted at the district meet. Deposits of the two banks this year totaled $13,165,058.44, compared to $12,555,688.41 for the same time in 1960. This is an overall increase of $609,370.03 over the comparable bank call in March of last year. Much of the increase can be attributed to cattle sales this far this year. Cattle were pulled from grazing in wheat recently.

Hereford Bombs Lazbuddie, 26-0; Lobos Here Tuesday

Hereford bombed the Lazbuddie Longhorns here Friday afternoon with a 16-hit barrage for a 26-0 victory. It was the Herd's fourth win in a row.

On Tuesday, the Whitefaces will resume District 1-AAA action, playing host to the Levelland Lobos. It will be the first conference game of the season for the Levelland Lobos, while Hereford beat Dumas in the opener last week. Levelland has an unimpressive 2-7 record this season, but recorded an upset victory recently over the strong Monterey diamond crew. In Friday's game the Longhorns were unable to get together on its defense against the booming Hereford bats. They also were set down by three Hereford hurlers, Jimmy Collier, Dick Combs and Gary Kendrick. Lazbuddie got only four men on base, and only one managed to get past first.

Collier started on the mound and had fine control. He set them down in order except for hitting a runner in the third inning. In the second he fired only nine pitches, all of them strikes.

Meanwhile, back at the dugout, the Hereford bats were whistling. Greg Combs started with a double, Charlie Thomas singled, Dan McDowell was safe on a sacrifice, Charlie Burrus doubled, Jim Collier was safe on an error, Edwin Thomas doubled, Ronnie Botkin walked and John Willoughby singled as seven runs crossed the plate. Lazbuddie was charged with three errors and a passed ball during the inning.

It was more of the same in the second, McDowell singled, Collier singled, Edwin Thomas singled, Botkin got on by error, stole second and came in on two more errors. Wes Poarch was safe on a fielder's choice, Willoughby singled in two runs, Combs was hit by the pitcher and came in on Charlie Thomas' triple for another seven. (Continued on page 3)

Giants — Andy Chaner, Gene Drummond, Gene Sparks, Robert Dean Wagner, James Childers, Darrell Dameron, Dean Riddle, Sidney Shaw, Davis Scott, Roger Beasley, Charles Brewton, Ronald Ott, Russell Phillips, Mark Golden and Kenneth Kelley.

There will be one additional day of try-outs Monday for those who did not make the major squads. Minor league try-outs will begin at 5:30 p.m. at Dameron Park, and auction will be Tuesday. Announcement of minor team rosters will be made Wednesday, at 5:30 p.m., at Little League Park. Major league auction was held Friday night, and try-outs were held Monday through Wednesday for the four major league teams. Major league teams include 15 boys each and the minor league teams will have 20 players each. (Continued on page 3)

American Farmer's Degree application was accepted for Billy Lytal of Hereford at the Wednesday meeting. The American Farmer's Degree is the highest honor an FFA member can achieve. Lone Star Farmer's Degree applications were accepted for 11 members of the local chapter, including: Ken Walser, Edward Allison, Joe Shultz.

Two-Night Run Of Senior Play Begins Monday

"Smilin' Through," the 1961 Hereford High School senior class play, will begin a two-night run Monday.

The annual play will be presented Monday and Tuesday in the high school auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Proceeds from the play will be presented to the school as a token of the class's appreciation.

"Smilin' Through" is a drama which incorporates laughter as well as tears, blended with love and hatred, to form the theme of action. Director of the play is Miss Delores Wall, an instructor at Hereford High. She said the play is somewhat difficult to present in that characterization is of utmost importance. Cast includes: Karen Sue Daniels as Ellen, Sandra Moore as Kathen, Edwin Thomas as (Continued on page 2) ment and other changes.

The brief dedication ceremony will take place at 2:30 p. m. in the District Courtroom. Bruce Miller, head of the local bar, will be master of ceremonies and will give a welcome to those attending.
A short dedicatory address will be given by Palmer Norton, president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. James W. Witherspoon will introduce Formby.

Special guests at the dedication will include Judge James D. Denton of Amarillo, Court of Civil Appeals, District Judge Harry Schultz of Dalhart and members of the Deaf Smith County Commissioners' Court.
Judge Zimmerman has issued special invitations to officials of 14 area counties and many are expected to attend. He also extended particular invitations to all the citizens of this county to tour the courthouse and jail facilities, and to inspect all of the offices in the building.

In the drama, two sweethearts are separated by hatred which exists on the part of the girl's uncle for the innocent aspirant's father. A mutual friend of the two families tries to enter in and patch things up, but in turn finds himself on the receiving end of his uncle's dislikes.

Events get brighter as the silver lining comes "s'milin' through" to climax the production.

There are eight different population categories.
The degree of improvement and the amount of participation by residents form one of the main factors in picking the national winners. Trophies are given to the winning towns.

But, unlike previous years, Hereford's efforts won't wait after Clean Up Week. A master plan for year-around improvement and beautification has been outlined by the Beautification committee of the Dear Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Irving Alexander is chairman of the committee, which has met several times since it was appointed in February.

One of the major factors in the request that all residents plant red geraniums this spring to give the city a bright, cheerful atmosphere. Businesses and service establishments also are planting geraniums wherever possible.

Later this year an official town flower will be selected for the community.

Mrs. Belle Hromas, who is in charge of park beautification, said that the city had agreed to plant red geraniums in all city parks during the next few days.

Last week the City Commission agreed to purchase 14 red-wood planters to be placed on Main Street. They will include a green climbing plant, plus seasonal flowers for colorful accents downtown. If the project, presented by Mrs. Ansel McDowell, is successful it will be expanded to include more planters in the downtown areas. The planters will be curved, with a flat back placed against buildings. They will be about three feet long, 18 inches tall and extend about 12 inches from the wall.

Mrs. Lloyd Pool said a group of judges would select the "Beauty Spot of the Month" throughout the year. The three garden clubs in Hereford have appointed a panel of 12 judges to decide on the winners from among nominees. The first beauty spot will be announced next week.

Anyone wishing to nominate a beauty spot is asked to call Mrs. Pool at EM 4-1207 or write her at 511 East Fifth. Plans also are nearing completion in other phases of the year-around effort. Mrs. Art Manjeot and Mrs. Ralph McCullough are heading a group to beautify all property along U. S. Highway 60 inside Hereford. Mrs. L. B. Barnett is in charge of beautification for U. S. 60 in the rural areas.

Mrs. Luther Lesly is in charge of beautification along U. S. Highway 385.

Langtry, Tex., was named for the famed actress Lily Langtry.

Four errors, a wild pitch and three stolen bases aided Hereford's hitting.

During the third, Hereford hitting sent runners scampering around the bases. McDowell was hit by the pitcher, went to second on a wild pitch and came in free on Charlie Burrus' screaming homer over the center field fence. Collier got on by error, Edwin Thomas walked, Poarch singled, Willoughby walked, Combs and Charlie Thomas singled, McDowell doubled and Burrus was safe on a sacrifice. The Herd added nine runs on five hits, helped by an error, a wild pitch as a stolen base.

Sophomore Dick Combs came to relieve Collier on the mound. Working two innings, he faced seven men, giving up a single in the fourth and another single in the fifth.
Reserves swarmed onto the field for Hereford. While the defense was almost airtight, they lacked the varsity's hitting power. They were retired in order during the fourth and fifth innings.

The younger Herd came to life at bat, however, in the sixth, Mickey Stevens walked, Gary Kendrick singled, Ken Loerwald got on by error, Bill Steele got on by error and the first three came in on three errors and a sacrifice.
Kendrick pitched the last two innings for Hereford. He retired the side in the sixth and gave up a single while facing four men in the seventh.

Burrus swung the big stick for Hereford with a double and a homer in three trips, plus four runs batted in. Tiny John Willoughby, playing shortstop, hit two singles in three trips, but drove in three runs. Greg Combs, Dan McDowell and Edwin Thomas hit doubles, while Charlie Thomas hit a triple.

Hereford was charged with two errors, while Lazbuddie had 11. Collier was the winning pitcher, while David Tarter took the loss. Tarter worked three innings, gave up 23 runs on 15 hits, walked three, struck out four and hit two. He also

Rose Marie Reid

Above: "SIGNET" swimsheath does away with the backline almost completely... sure sign of the super inner-shape genius of the Rose Marie Reid Circolair swimbral Sunworshiper colors in a lightweight shadow-weave, elasticized. 8-16, 22.95.

Above: "ROMANCE" blooms on the beach in this mailot of roses on just seven ounces of acetate, nylon and Vyrene spandex fiber print! Everything's roseier by inner-shaping the silhouette with the instant uplift, mould and definition of Circolair swimbral Sizes 10-16, 27.95.

At left: "DELIGHT" names this swimshape-by-the-ounce... and no wonder! Soaking wet or sun dry, it weighs in at a few delightful ounces, with no loss in its shaping power thanks to the curve persuasions of Helanca nylon knit, inner-moulded by a Rose Marie Reid Circolair swimbral 10-16, 25.95.

BY JIMMIE GILLENLINE
(Editor's Note: F. A. Tucker was in Austin last week-end visiting his son, and was kind enough to bring the following clipping from the Austin American - Statesman. Olin Hinkle, the author, is a former West Texan and is now an assistant professor of Journalism at the University of Texas. He was previously associated with West Texas State College, Canyon, and on the editorial staff of the Pampa Daily News. Anyway, it does give us a chance to see ourselves as one other man sees us.)

MEMO TO CEG, after a trip to Amarillo:
Panhandle people built the big historical museum at Canyon and they are as frontier-conscious as J. Frank Dobe, but there is one frontier they can't take — the New Frontier. The only frontier they recognize is what they call the last one. As they see it, the Panhandle is the Last Frontier of self-reliant individualism. They take pride in projecting such an image of themselves by voting for John Tower for senator, accepting the conservative "line" on national and international affairs, railing at waste in government, whether in Austin or Washington, and voicing grave doubts about LBJ, the United Nations, and leadership of the National Council of Churches.

No after-dinner speaker in Amarillo has done his duty until he has referred to one of the Kennedy clan in a derogatory manner and has said that "the way to get to Washington is to go to Harvard, then turn left." This Harvard quip always gets a laugh from the Panhandle conservative; anyone failing to respond with a deep belly laugh powered by full inhalation of pure high plains air is, of course, suspected of that highest of crimes short of mayhem: liberalism.

John Birch societies are active in Amarillo, although it is hard to find a "responsible citizen" who will admit to membership. Local papers print thousands of words, pro and con, each week on the societies and their controversy with Amarillo ministers over the National Council of Churches, Communist-hunting J. C. Phillips of The Borger News-Herald is at last getting the attention he has long sought for his ideas. However, the Panhandle people, despite their delight in thinking alike on issues, are skeptical of outside direction of their affairs. The Klu Klux Klan flourished there for a time but when it was killed it was very dead.

So the image of the Panhandle man emerges. He notes conservative, ridicules national policies and state leadership, rails at "radicals," blasts dogooders, and — except during depression years — sneers at federal aid. He accepts newcomers as long as they brook his talk like natives almost immediately. He reverts his past but makes his cities as modern as tomorrow. He arises early to greet each new horizon glow. Beyond it he sees more people, more oil wells, more wheat from "The Golden Spread," more fattening cattle. But never make the mistake of calling this The New Frontier. Your Panhandle man might get so riled up that he would spit out that worst of his cuss words — bureaucrats!

 Smith County Council are urged to attend a meeting Thursday, April 27, at 8 p.m. It will be held in the board room of the school administration building. There will be a program on exceptional children and an election of officers.

Senior Class mothers are to meet Thursday in the high school auditorium. Committee members are to meet at 3 p.m. and all class mothers at 4 p.m.

It was ironic, Hereford baseball players had a tremendous day Friday while it was obvious that nothing Lazbuddie did came out right. And the Longhorns had entered the game with a 2-0 record and the rightful boast that they had not been scored upon during their first two victories. They had shut-out Bovina and Farwell in previous contests. Sophomore reserve catcher for Hereford, Paul Hoff, probably made the outstanding play of the game when he came charging back to the screen, dived and made a bare-hand catch of a fast-dropping pop foul.

But a game that really counts comes up Tuesday when the Levelland Lobos visit Hereford for a district game. With one victory and three games left, Hereford needs another win at home. After Tuesday, the Whitefaces will have to tangle with Dumas and Levelland on the road to wind up the district season.

Since I am notorious in the 500 block of Avenue J for my strong aversion to yardwork, it came as quite a shock the other evening when I appeared to fertilize the lawn. I still contend that encouraging grass to grow is a foolish thing. But the other husbands felt better about my poor example when I brought my wife a belated birthday present: a pair of deluxe, rubber-cushioned, floating-blade, nylon-covered trimming clippers. Now, if I can just figure out a way to keep my wife and two sons using them instead of me, my stock probably will go up again with the other husbands. However, they still can't figure out why I often volunteer to dry dishes. It's simple, really. That's better than having to wash them and get dishpan hands.

Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs will have a covered dish luncheon Friday, April 28, at the Hereford Community Center. It will start at 1 p.m. All club members are urged to attend, according to Federation president Mrs. Bessie Patterson.

Sgt. Roger Sosebee, head of Texas Highway Patrol unit in Hereford, has withdrawn his resignation with the Patrol, he announced this week. Earlier this month, he had tendered his resignation and accepted the assistant chief of police post in Dumas, but this week decided to withdraw his resignation. He will still be head of the Highway Patrol in this nine-county area.

 COLUMBIA, S. C. — George Rideoute, 60-year-old liquor store operator, doesn't think the money in the cash register is worth a life — even that of a holdup man.
 Held up by a nervous Army private, Rideoute quietly picked up his own gun. But he let the 18-year-old private take the money and get away.
 "I'm going to get rid of this gun," said Rideoute. "I could easily have shot him. I'm glad I didn't."

 car on Highway 84 when the Aven car was hit by the Anton man's automobile.

The Aven car careened into a field and overturned. All passengers were taken to the Littlefield hospital and released. Leroy Aven, husband of the driver, took the five teachers back to Hereford.

The boat which the Barnett car was pulling overturned in the accident, which occurred about 8 a.m. Friday three-fourths of a mile west of Anton. The five teachers were headed for a school meeting in Lubbock when the accident occurred.

Fire which broke out in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Jones, 819 Blevins, Grease in a pan on the kitchen stove apparently caught fire and burned wooden cabinets above the stove. Mrs. Jones was treated at Deaf Smith County Hospital for first and second degree burns of the right hand and forearm when she tried to extinguish flames. Damage was estimated at $1200. The fire broke out at about 9:15 a.m. Friday.

JOEL HODGES, vice-president of the Hereford State Bank, is a member of the Family Economics Sub-committee of the Deaf Smith County Program Building Committee. He has shown the film, "Personal Money Management", to many local organizations. Over 3,300 persons have been reached through this program.

MRS. RICH CLARK, vice-president of Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club, puts some of the knowledge learned through the local program to a practical use. She is preparing rhubarb for storage in her freezer, to be used in the off-season for tasty pies or relishes. Mrs. Clark, a former 4-H Club member and Gold Star Award winner, is the mother of a nine-month old son.

ARGEN DRAPER, Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Agent, has demonstrated Meat Cookery to nearly all of the HD Clubs in the county. A good program for any housewife, they are taught the correct way to cook different cuts of meat from the standpoint of nutrition and just simple "good eating".

Hereford Garden Club Engagement Is Revealed To Observe Arbor Day

Plans were made by Hereford Garden Club to observe Arbor Day at a recent meeting of the club held in the home of Mrs. Ralph McCullough. For this observance, the women will plant a tree at Northwest Elementary School.

Mrs. W. C. Hromas, president, presided over the business meeting, at which reports were heard concerning landscaping at the House of Friends at the Labor Camp. Members voted to recommend to the city that they continue to pick up trash that will not go into the regular used trucks. They also voted to sponsor a Camp Fire group and to help them with a program in flower-raising and arranging.

Mrs. M. T. Rutter, schedule chairman, distributed schedules for the Summer Flower Show, which has a tentative date for June 20. Theme for the show this year will be "Summer-time Melodies."

Mrs. S. S. Williams brought horticulture tips, telling members that now is the time to feed and spray peonies. It is also a good time to begin planting glads, she said.

Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. presented the program on "Linear Pattern in Flower Arranging." She used Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor Arms as authorities in saying:

"Each of the linear patterns have a significance. The circle denotes peace, while other patterns main tranquility and other qualities."

Mrs. Hill used arrangements brought by members to illustrate the vertical, Japanese and crescent patterns. These arrangements were then judged by Mrs. Hill, Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr. and the members present.

Those attending were Mesdames Hugh Clearman, W. J. Hacker, Emmett Hale; O. G. Hill Sr., W. C. Hromas, John Jacobsen Jr., Art Manjot, R. W. Mitchell, G. W. Newsom, J. D. Pickens, E. Ramey, M. T. Rutter, S. S. Williams, R. L. Wilson, Frank Brinkman, J. T. Gilbreath, A. O. Thompson, Jim Black, C. D. Kelton, Jeff Roberson and the hostess, Mrs. Ralph McCullough.

Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) has been speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives for 16 of the last 20 years.

Engagement Is Revealed

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Phyllis Ward was announced this week by the future bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ward of the Frio community.

Miss Ward will wed Charles Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brown, June 17 at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. B. L. Davis will perform the marriage ceremony.

The bride-to-be is a senior at Hereford High School and will be graduated in May ceremonies. Brown was graduated from Hereford High School and is presently serving in the Fourth Training Regiment of the United States Army at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He will receive his discharge May 25.

The couple plans to reside in Hereford following their marriage.

White Elephant Party Is Held

A White Elephant Party and salad supper were held Thursday evening by La Madre Mia Study Club at the Hereford State Bank building.

During the short business session, plans were made for an out-of-town trip April 27, in place of the regularly scheduled meeting. Members will go to Amarillo for dinner and the theatre.

Members bided on cleverly wrapped objects brought by other members during the "White Elephant Sale." The members of the winning stunt at the recent Rotary Club Stunt Night were also recognized as they awarded small "Enee" awards in the form of tiny dolls for their performance.

Games of bridge and gin rummy were enjoyed by Mesdames James Brownlow, Joe Brooks, Charles Frye, R. V. Hale, Joe Henry, Dean Herring, Joe Locke, Harold Morton, Dennis Lomas, G. C. Merritt, Bobby Owen, Homer Lee Owen, Richard Pickens, John Smith, Eugene Sparks, Bobby Williams, Benny Gollehon, Harlon Voyles and Leon Billington.

Les Meres Holds Annual Guest Night

Les Meres Study Club observed its annual Guest Night recently in the home of Mrs. Doc Carter, 507 Ave. J. Mrs. Arman Lauderback and Mrs. Nelson Rieger assisted with hostess duties.

Guest of honor was Miss Heidi Rutishauser, exchange student from Switzerland at Hereford

High School under the sponsorship of the American Field Service. Mrs. Cliff Kerr introduced Miss Rutishauser to the group before the program presentation.

Miss Rutishauser spoke on her native country, describing the country extensively and telling of the custom differences in the United States and her homeland. She also entertained the group by singing a Swiss folksong.

Guests attending were Mesdames Kenneth Malone, Melvin Young, T. E. Brisendine, Leroy Aven, Ray Watson, David Patterson and Misses Carolyn Aven, Ruth Hutton and Heidi Rutishauser.

Members present were Mesdames Al Lee, Cliff Kerr, Doc Carter, Arman Lauderback, Dick Gholson, Al Smith, Nelson Rieger, Dale Smith and the hostess, Mrs. Doc Carter.

Golden Speaks To Local Group

The Hereford Young Farmers held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night at the High School Agricultural department building.

Vocational agricultural teacher, Wade Thompson, introduced the speaker of the evening, O. Z. Golden of Deaf Smith Research Foundation, Inc.

Golden gave a talk on soil testing. He told how samples of soil were tested. He also told of some fertilizer tests that the foundation had carried out and their results. Golden stated that anyone who wanted to have soil tested could take the samples to the foundation laboratory and they would run tests on it.

There will be a short farm management course sponsored by the Young Farmers May 15-19. The course will be taught by Carl G. Anderson, farm management specialist from Texas A and M College.

Wives of farmers are invited to attend the course. Anyone interested in attending the course is urged to contact Jess Robinson at the agricultural department of the high school.

Elect Student To Class Post

Jeanette Rayburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rayburn, 217 Ave. B, Hereford, has been elected treasurer of the 1961-62 sophomore class at Howard Payne College here.

Miss Rayburn, a graduate of Hereford High School, is an elementary education major.

Berean Class Has Meet On Monday

The Berean Sunday School Class of the Temple Baptist Church met Monday in the home of Mrs. Charlie Callaway.

Mrs. Arthur Blackburn opened the meeting with a prayer. Roll call was answered by members identifying themselves.

The nominating committee presented the slate of officers for the coming term. They are: Mrs. Brice Glass, teacher; Mrs. Woodrow Dutton, president; Mrs. Charlie Callaway, vice-president; and Mrs. M. A. Bettis, secretary-treasurer. The class voted to hold meetings the third Monday of each month.

Mrs. Arthur Blackburn was named program chairman and the social committee will be composed of Mesdames Anson Dearing, W. H. Andrews and Henry Andrews.

Mrs. Charlie Crowell gave the devotional on "What Chris-

Turner Home Scene For Harmony Meet

The home of Mrs. Henry Turner was the scene Monday evening for a regular meeting of Harmony Music Club. Mrs. Frank Ford assisted with hospitalities for the evening.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Turner. Mrs. Baxter London led the roll call, which was answered with "Church Music."

Mrs. Frank Ford presented "The History of Church Music" and introduced a special guest trio composed of Lavon Thompson, Donna Rogers and Avie Justice. The trio sang "There Is Music" by Kohlman and "At The Cross" by Hudson, with Mrs. Sam Long playing piano accompaniment.

Mrs. Henry Kinsfather presented a special piano arrangement of "What A Friend We Have In Jesus," which was followed by a group sing of favorite hymns.

Refreshments of cookies and punch were served to Mesdames U. V. Pierce, Sam Long, Baxter London, Frank Ford, Albert Ricketts, Henry Kinsfather, Joe Curtsinger, the special guests and Mrs. Turner, the hostess.

CHIVALROUS BULLS

TUCSON, Ariz. — Tom McHugh killed a cow with his car in open range country. Then the action really started.

Two irate bulls, horns lowered, charged his car and demolished it. One of the bulls suffered fatal injuries. McHugh was treated for a minor scalp cut.

Average personal income in most countries of Latin America is below $500.

Tech Students To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Beddo of Roby have announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Molly, to Donald D. Zimmerman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Zimmerman Sr. of Hereford. Wedding vows will be exchanged May 24 in Lubbock.

Both Miss Beddo and Zimmerman will be graduated from Texas Technological College in Lubbock in June ceremonies.

The couple plans to live in Austin following their marriage, where Zimmerman will attend the University of Texas School of Law.

OWF Holds Meeting At Christian Church

Group II of the C. W. F. of the First Christian Church met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Louise Roberson of Summerfield.

Mrs. Hazel Williams, leader, opened the meeting with a prayer. During the ensuing business session, it was decided that money be added to a fund for a graduation gift for the young man the group sponsors at Juliette Fowler Home in Dallas.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Ray Suit presented the program using the current study theme of "Together In Providing Leadership." Assistance in the program presentation were Mesdames F. S. Smith, Carlos Vaughn and Carl Williams, each of whom reviewed the life and works of missionaries in Japan, China, India and Argentina.

The devotional followed, led by Mrs. Carl Williams. Her theme was "Blessed Is the Nation, Whose God Is Jehovah." She stressed the fact that this nation must continue to be a Christian nation. To do this, she told listeners, you must pray, give generously, study and work in practical ways suggested by Christian leaders.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames C. R. Smith, Nona Jowell, Ray Suit, Glenn Williams, Carlos Vaughn, R. S. Smith and the hostess, Mrs. Louise Roberson.

Calliopian Club Meets Thursday

Calliopian Club held its regular meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. B. F. Cain, Mrs. Bruce Beene was introduced to the group and welcomed as a new member.

During the business session, Mrs. Roy Grubbs, president, presided over several motions put before members.

Club members voted to continue the Tile Project started last year for the Community Center and to help with the Campfire Group sponsored by the club. They also voted to change the meeting date to twice a month; one night meeting and one luncheon meet. This will be instigated for the new club year.

Mrs. Paul Coneway conducted a short parliamentary drill.

Those attending were Mesdames B. F. Cain, Larry Byer, Paul Coneway, Lorraine Fowlkes, Austin Fraser, Jon Fraser, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Roy Grubbs, Sue James, Jack Kasahn, Ansel McDowell, W. J. Messick, Emmett Milburn, A. T. Mims, M. W. Nobles, Wesley Owen, Carl Perrin and the new member, Mrs. Bruce Beene.

RETREATS ENCOURAGED

WASHINGTON — Air Force chaplains are conducting a series of "Spiritual Life Conference" retreats at key sites around the nation. Regulations permit Protestant officers, airmen and their dependents to attend at their own expense without the time being charged against their accrued leave time.

Area Boys, Girls Entered In County 4-H Contests

BY MRS. T. L. COLLINS
Several boys and girls gave County 4-H demonstrations in different places at Hereford last Saturday.
"Safety First Aid with Snakes" was given by Adair Melton and Nancy Minks. They were judged first place winners and presented blue ribbons.
"Raw Vegetable Salad Preparation" was given by Marilyn and Phyllis Tice. They received blue ribbons.
"Everyday Accidents and Their Prevention" was presented by Vicki Burns and Marsha Burns, who won first place and blue ribbons.
"The Family Fall-Out Shelter" was given by Elizabeth

Burrus and Nancy Tyler. They received red ribbons.
"Scratches and Wounds," given by Ronnie Euse and Kelly Tyler, received red ribbons.
A demonstration on Beef Cattle business, "The Story of Thirty Bull Calves," was presented by Larry Minks and John Perrin. They won first place.
A number of parents were present for these demonstrations.
Most of these students will be going to Canyon on Saturday to enter district competition.
Mrs. Bill Walters and their children from Levelland came Friday to visit her aunt, Mrs.

Lee Tice and family. They returned home on Sunday.
Marsh Pittman from Hereford rode the school bus out on Friday afternoon. He spent the weekend with Charles Bass.
Cecelia Burrus went to Canyon on Friday afternoon to visit her sister, Margaret, a student at West Texas State. On Sunday Mrs. Hershel Burrus, James, Mary Alice and Frances Irene went to Canyon for the older girls. The family had lunch in the cafeteria. They then went to Amarillo where they visited her mother, Mrs. Lenore Kribbs, before returning home.
Mr. and Mrs. Chock Garrison and children and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jacobson, all of Adrian, had the Friday evening meal and visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Burns and family.

The Leland Burns family had Sunday dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Cretz, Paula and Melony of Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tannahill and Donna Gayle of Lockney made a short visit in the T. L. Collins home on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Agnes Donahue of Lubbock had lunch in our school cafeteria on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rader were surprised at noon on Tuesday to have their two daughters drive in to see them. They were Mrs. J. M. Payne and Darla of Hereford, Mrs. M. C. Davis of Cotton Center and her mother-in-law, Mrs. M. C. Davis Sr., also of Cotton Center. They had lunch and visited for awhile.

For assembly on Wednesday morning, Thomas Collins read Proverbs first chapter. Miss Shirley Bourquin presented ribbons to Charlene Weaver, Margaret Minks, Robert Davis, Keith Henderson and Ronny Buse. They were the winners of the Interscholastic League meet in Lubbock.

Sketches of the fifth and sixth grades program for Friday night were given. Group singing closed the meeting.

The fifth six weeks at Walcott School closed on Friday. Report cards were given out on Wednesday. These pupils made all A's on their report cards: Kathleen Cook, Sherri West, Gary Coleman, Chris Burns, Joe Don Weaver, Kathryn Monroe, Nancy Minks, Sheldon White, Barbara Brown and Galen Jack.

Walcott boys and girls 4-H Clubs met on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Loreta Fowler and Mrs. Glenn Burrus met with the girls.

Mrs. J. V. Perrin, Norman Minks and J. W. Thomas of Hereford met with the boys. Larry Minks, president, presided during the business. Thomas talked about co-ops. The REA in Hereford has lines in two-thirds of Castro and Farmer Counties, parts of Oldham and most of Deaf Smith. He showed a film, "All About Co-ops." The next meeting will be May 2.

Miss Royce Lee Pruitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pruitt of Hereford, became the bride of Robert J. Ritzel of Utica, N. Y., on Friday evening. Mrs. Don Kirby, Kay, Dianna and Larry and Mrs. W. R. Dickson of Hereford drove to Plainview on Friday afternoon to visit her mother, Mrs. Beulah Watkins. Mrs. Dickson visited, friends there. They came home Saturday evening.

Mrs. Bertram Jack, Dianna, Maria, Galen and Kent and Miss Veri Miller made a business trip to Clovis, N. M., on Friday.

Native grass has really turned green these last few warm days.

"LOOK JUNIOR. BREAKFAST!" - This picture, far from showing Dallas being invaded by monsters, is the artful work of John Mazziotta, Dallas Times Herald photographer using a stuffed dinosaur mother and her baby with Southland Life Tower as the background. The big dinosaur is actually just two feet tall, typical of the kind that stores can't keep in stock because of the current monster mania in the toy business. The Tower is 42 stories tall. The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Anna Martin was announced here this week by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin, 509 Park Ave.

Miss Martin will marry Kenneth May, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. May, June 11, at the Wesley Methodist Church, The Rev. E. H. Martin will perform the wedding ceremony. Both Miss Martin and the prospective bridegroom are seniors at Hereford High School. They plan to live in Hereford after their marriage.

How Can I?

BY ANNE ASHLEY
 Q. What can I do to prevent the annoyance of stoppage in my kitchen drainpipe?

A. First of all, avoid letting any of your greases go down the drain. These build up in the pipe and congeal in time. It's a good idea always to run piping hot water down your drain for a few minutes after your dishwashings. Another good preventive is to give your drain the lye treatment every six months or so.

Q. Just what are the colors that seem to make a room look larger, and also the colors that make a room appear smaller?

A. Colors that seem to increase the size of a room are peach, pale pink, beige, yellow, or white. Colors that seem to shrink a room are hues of terra cotta, cocoa, rose, red, or elephant gray.

Q. How can I make my own liquid hair shampoo?

A. Shave a bar of good castile soap into one pint of water, allow this to simmer over a fire until the soap is entirely dissolved.

Q. Have you any suggestions for restringing necklaces in the interest of greater strength?

A. If you'll restring your necklaces with fishing line, you'll eliminate worries over possible future breakage.

Q. What can I do about removing the lime deposit, hard-water scales, and discolorations from the insides of aluminum vessels, which have been produced by the constant boiling of water?

Tell Veterans' Benefits, Flag Usage At Club Meet

Grant Hanna and Cecil Wilkins talked on veterans' rights and proper display of the flag during Tuesday's meeting of the Hereford Optimist Club.

Wilkins, who is county veterans service officer, explained pension laws and disability benefits for veterans of World War II and the Korean war. He also explained the difference between service-connected and non-service disabilities and the benefits which are available from each.

He said that veterans under 65 must have 60 per cent disability to draw a pension, or a total of 70 per cent on two or more disabilities.

He also said that widows are eligible to $60 per month if they earn less than $600 yearly, with the pension dropping down gradually, with a cut-off at $1800 per year income. Children under 18 also are eligible for benefits.

Wilkins emphasized that all veterans should record their discharges in the county courthouse, for which there is no charge. This allows faster service in the event a claim is made.

A $250 burial allowance, burial flag and headstone also are provided free for all veterans upon request of their survivors.

Hanna talked briefly on flag display and the holidays upon which the flag is to be flown. He told of the flag program carried on in Hereford by the American Legion. For a $10 yearly charge, the group puts out, takes in and stores flags for business houses throughout the year. At present, he said, 125 flags are displayed for each holiday. After the repaving program is completed, Hanna said an intensive effort would be made to have flags displayed along First Street.

Optimists decided to postpone their annual bicycle safety week until May because of several conflicts. Wilbur Evanson was appointed chairman of the program.

Once Over Lightly

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party; the party in this case being me. Spring has sprung and so have I, for the time has come for spring house cleaning.

Having put it off for several weeks (the game was called because of rain, which is just another way of saying the children wouldn't stay outside), I finally worked up enough nerve to tackle the job at hand.

Loaded down with the various paraphernalia essential to good housekeeping, I ventured into the living room. After one long hard look at the chaos, I sat down in the middle of the rug and had myself a good cry.

What this family needs, I muttered to myself, is an adobe hut with dirt floors! I don't even bother buying Better Homes and Gardens anymore. . . . It just sends me to bed with a splitting headache. . . . probably caused by frustration.

After a few more minutes of silent mourning for the life I could have had if I had married that millionaire (and wishing I had even met one), I started in with the feather duster. Removing the ever present little handprints from the bowling trophies (the kids get a large charge from showing visitors my five to Daddy's one) and picking up wads of worn out bubble gum soothed my bleeding ego for a short while.

Mixing up some upholstery cleaner (which works for everybody but me) I attack the couch with a vengeance. Good grief! There's a smear of that green eyeshadow again. One of these days I'm going to find the secret hiding place the girls are using.

Running my hand along the inside of the couch, I discover hidden treasure. Three socks (none matching), two pencils, seemingly hundreds of bob bly pins and one chicken leg (or rather the remains of one, cooked, of course). Add to this two Golden Books, one red sneaker and three spoons and you have a pretty fair haul. The only thing missing is my engagement ring, which disappeared mysteriously from my jewelry box four months ago.

After polishing the end table and coffee table and running the vacuum cleaner, the room looks almost livable. Not any fashionable layout, by any means, but a comfortable, lived-in room, where a family of five spends many happy hours.

Next room to get the beauty treatment is the kitchen. First on the list is the refrigerator. Peeping timidly inside, I quickly slammed the door in horror. Pouring myself a cup of coffee to steady my nerves, I sat down at the dining room table.

Idly, I wondered if maybe it wouldn't be a good idea to trot down and buy a new refrigerator. Discarding that idea, mainly because of M-O-N-E-Y, I grabbed a waste basket, several dishrags, a bottle of Handy Andy, and a flyswatter. (The latter was for my protection; you never can tell about neglected iceboxes.)

Off we went again. Terrible blobs of leftovers got thrown into the garbage, along with several tomatoes well past their prime and a piece of cheese that must have been better days. Also discarded were several contributions from the children's Corner, put away, I suppose, to ward off starvation in case of a bomb raid or Martian attack. Several items I recognized (barely) as being put on their plates at one time or another, but being passed up in favor of dessert.

Finally, looking like Old Mother Hubbard's cupboard (I happen to be referring to the refrigerator) but still nice and clean, the door to Inner Sanctum is closed. One hour later, I stood at the kitchen door, admiring the sparkling appliances and shiny floor, still wet with wax. Then, in from the other door of the kitchen walked four filthy boys (one I will have to claim), trailing grass burs and several odd tons of sand. I had to listen to the routine that their stomachs thought their throats were cut and peanut butter sandwiches would be just fine, ma'am.

After bribing them out of the house with a nickel each for a popsicle, I managed to fly through the rest of the house with comparative ease. Curtains were stripped from the windows and given a quick run through the washer. Drawers were cleaned and closets straightened. (On this last foray I found that black patent high heel I lost last May.) And the vacuum cleaner chugged merrily on.

At 5 p.m. the job was finished. Everything was in its proper place and the furniture gleamed with wax and elbow grease. Crisp curtains hung at the windows and the smells of a newly cleaned house mingled with the odor of meat loaf and potato casserole cooking in the oven. Screams from Rocky, The Flying Squirrel, drifted in from the television set, with three scrubbed little faces watching their favorite show with intense concentration. (I can't understand it, but it has something to do with Boris and Bullmoose. . . .)

The highlight of the day came as the front door slammed behind the man of the house. After kissing the children hello and shedding his shirt, he came into the kitchen to greet me.

Lifting a lid from a saucepan to sniff the contents, he turned to me for a quick peck on the cheek. Then, (and he looked me right in the eye) he said: "Hello, honey. . . what did you do today?"

Mrs. Barkley Hostess At Bay View Meeting

Mrs. Philip Barkley was hostess Thursday when the Bay View Club held its regular meeting at the Community Center.

During the business meeting, members voted to make a contribution to the Hereford Migrant Ministry. Mrs. Colby Conkwright, Social Committee chairman, announced plans for the final meeting of the year, which will be a coffee at 9:30 a.m., May 4, at the lounge of the Community Center.

Mrs. D. H. Alexander presented the program, using three novels by Louisa Grace Erdman: "The Wind Blows Free," "Wide Horizons" and "The Good Land."

In her introduction, Mrs. Alexander said: "Miss Erdman is a nationally known historical novelist," and went on to give excerpts from the three books.

Mrs. Alexander traced the history of the Pierce family through the three novels, all the way from cow chips to coal oil.

"The Pierce family is like hundreds of families who made this country what it is today, leaving us the heritage known as the 'Glorious Golden Spread,'" she said.

Attending were Mesdames D. H. Alexander, H. L. Benefield, Colby Conkwright, Howard Gault, W. J. Gilliland, Jimmie Gilentine, Francis Hardwick, E. W. Harrison, A. M. Jones, W. S. Kerr, J. W. Kirby, Paul Mathers, Carl Perrin, J. W. Spradley, J. P. Slaton, Dick

Barnard and the hostess, Mrs. Philip Barkley.

Admen Say Ladies Lacking In Logic

NEW YORK — Advertising researchers have peered into the minds of the female mind and come up with some intriguing news:

The housewife collects food recipes in an almost compulsive manner. Know what she does with them? Files them neatly away, forever. Most of them she'll never read again, much less try.

You know when a girl finally realizes why she's taught fractions in grade school? Not until she's married and starts wrestling with cookbook recipes, trying to reduce meals for a family of four to her new twosome. Once a woman develops a certain way of doing things, that's it. She is sublimely indifferent to any time-motion study aimed at helping her be more efficient, especially in the kitchen or nursery.

These findings are reported by Henry O. Whiteside, research director of a large national advertising agency. He tells advertisers to aim their messages, not to women as a whole, but to a select segment.

At a recent advertising conference, Whiteside advised: "You can address your more novel ideas and products to the young wife. She is trying anything and everything in her brave new world."

He notes that in any one year, there are possible 1,150,000 first marriages in a population of 50 million families — a relatively small target.

But, Whiteside notes, if the advertiser scores with this group "he may collect a customer who will repeat for 30, 40 or 50 years."

The mature housewife, Whiteside says, knows she can please her family by limiting experimentation at mealtime, especially if all her children are boys. He explains: "Men and boys are ultra conservative when it comes to food. They like their meat and potatoes this way this year, they liked them that way last year and that's the way they want them next year."

And Whiteside has this report on the homemaking education of American girls:

"When the girl is in the sixth, seventh or eighth grades she will follow mother around, watching, smelling, touching, tasting, asking a thousand questions — most of which are shoved aside.

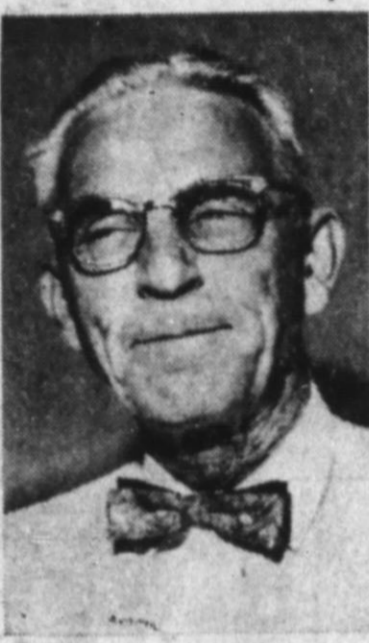

"Mother doesn't want her underfoot, or sometimes indulges her in the creative experience of scraping carrots, peeling potatoes scrubbing the pots and pans, emptying the garbage or doing any other unpleasant work guaranteed to be uninteresting."

Whiteside said courses in home economics are offered in most high schools "but by now the girl's curiosity has been shifted elsewhere. Boys are being discovered."

Only when the girl has become engaged does she come up against the mighty task of feeding a man whose eating habits have been developed by his mother over a period of some 20 years.

Small wonder then, says Whiteside, that the young bride "has some feeling of helplessness and inadequacy."

'Made In America' By Neighbors And Friends

The Hereford City Commission set a precedent this week in which the entire citizenship may well take pride. The commission paid "just a little bit more" and purchased American-made, rather than foreign-made pipe.

At least three important phases are involved in the transaction. First, if Americans do not purchase American-made goods, how can we expect others to buy from us? Second, the quality of the American pipe, in the opinion of our commissioners, is sufficiently superior to justify the two or three percent higher price. Third, our city officials set an example which most of us as individuals may well follow.

Today, we see on every hand an influx of imported products and materials, all based on lower price, and frequently of inferior construction and materials. Basically, most of these imports are produced lower in price because the people in competitive nations have extremely low living standards and often work for less than $1-a-day salaries. Needless to say, they contribute practically nothing to our schools, the maintenance of our armed forces, or the development of U. S. missiles.

Through automation, the American manufacturer has been able to complete with these low salary scales and poor living standards - - and still pay American workmen good salaries. Today, however, the bind is becoming tighter - - and we find ourselves hard-pushed to compete. Japan, Italy, Switzerland and Mexico are making tremendous inroads into our national production schedules. Inflation and high federal taxes contribute toward placing the American manufacturer and laborer in an even more precarious position - - and currently proposed increases in higher wage legislation and federal hospitalization would be another step in the same direction.

Just as we do not want the American farmer to become a peon, none of us want to see the living standard of the American workman lowered, especially to $1-a-day levels. Likewise, it seems impossible to operate our government in the "manner to which we are accustomed" with much less tax revenue. It can be done on both counts, of course, but we do not feel that the average American would approve, or long continue to be happy with such a situation.

For this reason, it seems only practical that American municipalities, counties, states and other buying subdivisions should give extra consideration to purchasing American-made materials. And just as the City of Hereford led the way, all American citizens should follow.

Generally speaking, any immediate saving on foreign materials will probably be temporary, because such purchase can only increase taxes to offset the overall loss.

Will PTA, Grassroots Standby, Bow To Changing Times, New Ideas?

In this era of changing times many fundamental American institutions have been dropped, or replaced by other organizations. Currently, such a trend seems underway in regard to another of our old grassroots reliables, the Parent-Teacher Association.

All over the Panhandle, we note where these organizations are voting themselves out of existence and, in some cases, replacing the need with PTO, or with strictly Parent's Associations. The Hereford High School PTA recently followed the pattern of discontinuation, and some of our other school PTA's have, at least, considered following the possibilities.

Why? We do not have the answer. It is probable that the teachers with their own strong, highly centralized organizations pointing toward other goals may account for part of the failure. Many parents, justified or not, seem to get the idea that PTA's are too highly controlled and guided along certain lines. Mostly, through, we would guess that our schools are today better financed, better organized and, consequently, find more direct and simpler methods of achieving such goals as the PTA once sponsored and maintained. A more complex curriculum, too, may well contribute to less need for the old fashioned PTA.

School grounds, once a prime PTA objective, are now established and supervised through the Board of Education; chili suppers and pie suppers, likewise, have moved down from the parent to the student and classgroup level. Conflicting ideas, which invariably arise through such groups, may also provide embarrassing and uncalled for situations to school faculties and administrators. At the same time, it is only logical that some parents would not enthusiastically agree with many of the school-sponsored plans, and that at least a portion of them would not care to become lobbyists for teacher and school causes.

All in all, we would chalk the situation up as inevitable, due to changing times and conditions.

However, the old fashioned PTA did serve a purpose and serve it well. The greatest loss, it seems to us, will be the contact between faculty and parents, especially in view of the fact that many teachers do not otherwise have an opportunity to study and know the people who actually pay their salaries. Both groups, we feel, benefitted materially from this association.

Perhaps it will be study courses for parents to better learn and observe school techniques, or maybe it will come in the form of special clinics, but we do predict that something new and different will sooner or later replace the PTA organization. At this point, we can only hope and pray that it serves the purpose half as well as did the old PTA, which stayed with us so long and helped bring us so far.

Little League Going Strong

With many of the preliminaries already behind, Hereford youngsters are enthusiastically catching flies and swinging bats in preparation for another successful year of Little League.

In a large measure, the success of Little League can be attributed to the fact that it provides a lot of fun for the kids who participate. Little League sort of exploded and became part of the local scene by demand of the youngsters a few years back. Instead of being recruited, the players have more often been the directors and producers. Little League has, at the same time, been the community's foremost melting pot of integration - - and has provided untold hours of entertainment for parents and interested adults.

Like most other successful methods of combatting delinquency, Little League is not tax supported. It is a wonderful example of the combining of Christian principles and capitalistic system for public welfare in a democratic form of government. Little League, if possible, is even more American than the game of baseball itself - - and we doubt if there exists any where a more laudable result of the American way of life.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Isaiah strengthens men today as he did 2700 years ago: "Hast thou not heard that the everlasting God... fainteth not, neither is weary... He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength... they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles."

He inspires: "They shall beat their swords into ploughshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Now Is Time To Start Attack On Dandelions

BY MRS. R. L. CRISWELL

Which came first, the chicken or the egg? Let's put it another way. Which came first, the dandelion or the lawn? Did you ever see so many dandelions growing happily and taking over lawns with a yellow grin?

It seems that it was not always so; in Hereford, that is. Rumor has it that they came in when the lawn was planted at the courthouse many years ago. The seed grass had a good percentage of dandelion seed, and so they grew and blew here and there and settled anywhere they could find a bit of moisture and lawngrass to help them in their merry race to outgrow the grass that the fond homeowner hoped would someday be a lawn.

Dandelions do not like shade, but will stretch their necks very long to put that yellow mane into the sunlight and in reach of the winds to carry the seed so many places to begin again. They are great growers; did you ever notice how close they grow to a favorite plant in your flower bed?

Another tale that is even older says that a citizen of our town saw pictures of the lovely yellow flowers and ordered a package of seed, planted them and the yellow maned lions have been expanding and killing out lawns since that time. And now our country friends are bemoaning the fact that they are moving into their domain. Irrigation is wonderful for them.

Dandelions not only dislike shade; they do not like dry weather. Usually there are plenty of seed just waiting for a wet spring or fall to help them along.

It is said there are acres and acres of them cultivated in France and Germany. One can't imagine why, but come to think of the picture in the Brand three years ago of Mr. Coker and the wine jug in a field of them. One wonders, though, because the recipe for dandelion wine has so much fruit of different kinds that it would seem the dandelions were added as an afterthought. Only the blossom is used in the wine and must be picked when they are in full bloom and fresh.

It is said the plant got its name from the rough-tooth edged leaves and the yellow mane of the flower; however the leaves are eaten when the plant is young and before it has bloomed. After blooming, the leaves are too bitter to be edible.

For a salad or as cooked greens, the leaves are gathered and washed and used as any other greens. For a salad, they are chilled and used as a green or wilted with hot bacon grease.

In the eastern states the leaves grow several inches wide and are easily gathered and recognized by the tooth edged leaves and relished by those hungrily awaiting a green vegetable.

One man, having fought them gallantly for several years, has admitted that he is whipped. And from the number growing in lawns all over the city it would seem that others have bowed to the enemy, not only because of the expense of fighting such a prolific enemy but the gallant defender, after months of waging the fight, will see that a neighbor up the street has fallen in battle and the wind has lifted the downy seeds and they are floating gaily over his freshly cleared lawn and realizes with a sinking heart that he has won over the few and is being attacked by the

CACTUS STRIKE AT END

Officials of the Phillips Chemical Company and of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union jointly announced that "their negotiating committees have reached an agreement to end the 103-day-old strike at the Cactus Plant at midnight Wednesday. The new agreement was submitted to the Union membership for ratification at a special meeting in the Union Hall Tuesday night. Terms of the new agreement were not disclosed, pending ratification. Phillips officials disclosed that Monday evening a letter had been mailed to all striking employees inviting them to return to work Wednesday. Officials stated that the invitations are now being held in abeyance in view of the agreement which has been reached. Following ratification of the new agreement, employees will return to work on regular shifts starting with the early morning shift on Thursday. Employees will have seven days in which to return to work under the terms of the "back-to-work agreement."

PHONE NUMBERS CHANGE

Olton telephone customers began using a new numbering system last Thursday. The changeover was complete for in-town telephones; however, all rural telephones had one way service until phone company employees visited each subscriber. The rural area was expected to be completed by Friday. The new numbering system is known as the all numerical calling plan with each telephone number composed of seven digits. The new system replaced the more familiar two letter-five number system inaugurated when the telephone industry first launched its long-range program to permit operators and customers to dial direct from one city to another.

C-C DISCUSSES STOP LIGHTS

Consideration of a stop light at two vital intersections was the main topic of discussion at the regular board meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Board Thursday night. The board voted to present the city council with a request that stop lights be studied and approved for the intersection of Phelps Ave. and Highway 84 and another at the intersection of Highways 385 and 54. The board felt that consideration should be given on the basis of safety and more convenience to the area shopper as well as giving the passing-through motorist a chance to see main street.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm calms his concern about the Russians' space flight, in his letter this week.

Dear editor:

I was out here on this bindweed farm the other afternoon looking up at the sky and a neighbor stopped and asked: "What're you doing, looking for a Russian traveling through space?"

I told him nope, just looking for clouds.

Everybody I know has been excited, and a little concerned, about the Russians getting the first man into space, and it is an achievement, but I have a notion that the Russians, who threw their hats in the air when they heard they were first in space, spent the next few minutes looking for them on the ground, as hats spring from the products of the earth, not from space.

You will notice that man, when he goes into space, has to carry his own earth-produced oxygen with him, whereas we've already got all the oxygen I need completely free any place I want to go on this farm.

My point is, outer space may be interesting to look at the first trip or two out, but it could get mighty boring in the long run.

And as for our being behind the Russians in space, it's true, but I'll tell you, I believe we can catch up and I believe we will, in the final analysis, a new scientific feat is impossible to get a monopoly on. You can't keep a secret very long. Everybody's got laboratories these days. It's sort of like the secret of the bicycle. One country at one time no doubt had the bicycle first, but once the idea was discovered, bicycles turned up all over.

The United States sooner or later will be sending men through space too, and this generation won't be over before we start having traffic collisions up there too, but I have a notion the novelty will wear off and traveling through space may wind up like a man I know who saved up his money and traveled around the world. He said the trip was interesting, but the best sight he saw was the look of home when he got back. And you've got to remember this man was on the earth's surface, not going around it 150 miles up where you don't meet any new people and your main pastime is wondering if there's a leak in your oxygen hose.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Boats Join The Swing To Glass

BY FRANK ECK
Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Wood, plastic or aluminum? This question again will be the dilemma facing thousands of people taking in boat shows this summer.

The forerunner of such exhibits and the one having the greatest display of things nautical is the 51st National Motor Boat Show in New York's Coliseum.

It will house more than 450 craft. Of this number, half will be plastic or fiberglass, 40 percent wood and 10 percent aluminum.

They will run from a 5-foot-6 fiberglass sea skimmer to the millionaire's dream — a 47-foot cruiser that sleeps six and — pardon us — costs $86,000. At that price it was no problem to include an automatic pilot, radio telephone, depth indicator and Muzak.

But the trend in this country's largest participant sport — boating — seems to be towards plastics. In 1960, pleasure craft were used by 40,025,000 people.

The National Assn. of Engine and Boat Manufacturers tells us that an estimated 8,025,000

LAND OR WATER?: The outboard runabout is about the easiest craft to beach. This often keeps a small family happy while the skipper goes off to fish. The two small fry seem bent on seeking that buried treasure.

pleasure craft used the nation's waterways and lakes last year.

Retail expenditures on boating last year reached $2½ billion. Ten years ago the figure was well under $1 billion. Public expenditure on pleasure boating has steadily increased since 1952, and predictions for 1961 are that many more people will have an open purse for boating, either as a second home or for plain recreation.

The swing to glass is such that a number of outboard boats now feature lapstrake outer shells over fiberglass. And one aircraft maker, known for its aluminum canoes, is swinging to a 17-foot fiberglass outboard runabout.

Many an old timer wouldn't be caught dead in a plastic boat, but they do require less care, less painting, than their wood counterparts. It seems that in this era of fast pace living and the continued population shift from the city to suburbia the boatman wants something that doesn't need painting every GLASS OR WOOD?: Plastic boats, such as this outboard runabout, will be featured at most boat shows this winter. But the Comet sailboat, made of wood, still has its place in boating.

Church Honors Former Pastors

Sunday, April 13, at 5 p.m. St. Anthony's Church will have a basket dinner honoring Father Albert Heald, who has been in Japan for the last ten years, Father James Salvi and Father Cletus McGraory both of Graymore, N. Y. They were formerly pastors of this parish.

Everyone in the parish is invited. Bring enough food for your own family. Iced tea and coffee will be served.

Victi and Marsha Burns will go to Canyon on April 29 to give their safety demonstration. They were in the senior division. In the junior division, Nancy Minks and Adair Melton will also give a safety demonstration. Marilyn and Phyllis Tice won blue ribbons for a demonstration on salad preparation.

Phyllis and Sharon Tice brought and served refreshments.

Dean Clark of Hereford, a senior business administration major, is the new vice-president of the Texas Tech Accounting Society for the 1961-62 year.

Sharon Brinkman, also a senior business administration major from Hereford, was initiated, along with 18 other students, in the honorary business sorority.

There was no mystery about Mussolini's death. His own people had turned against him. Captured April 26th, with his mistress, Carla Petacci, he was tried summarily and executed by Italian partisans and left to hang in the street.

Mystery shrouded Hitler's final days, but months of investigation put the threads of the story together. At just about the time Mussolini was dying, Hitler and his mistress, Eva Braun, were married in a secret ceremony. They locked themselves in a room for five days and on April 30th completed a suicide pact. Gasoline had been ordered and the bodies were burned to prevent identification.

Remember the year? This year marked the end of an era and we could turn back to living normal lives again. A lot of returning veterans got a real kick out of getting behind the wheel of the family car once again!

The year was 1945. You'll get a real driving thrill when you take the wheel of a new 61 Ford. You will be excited, too, about the kind of deal we can make you right now. Trades were never higher than the one you'll get when you step up to a 1961 Ford at CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR Co., Inc. W. Hwy. 60 at Miles. EM 4-2727.

Four Hereford Students In WT Spring Production

Four students from Hereford and one from Dawn will have roles in the annual spring production of the Opera and Musical Workshop at West Texas State College in Canyon.

The show chosen by Director Royal Brantley will be "Guys and Dolls," a musical comedy by Frank Loesser and Abe Burrows, based on characters and stories by Damon Runyon. It will be presented May 4-6 and again May 11-14, in the Fine Arts Building auditorium.

A lead role of Rusty Charlie will be sung and played by Bobby Miller, junior from Dawn.

Lee Blocker of Hereford will be an "acting doll," and Erin Werthenberger, Gary Werthenberger and David Dziuk will all be guys and gamblers in the production, which will use a cast of more than 60.

Music director will be Brantley, and William A. Moore will be production director. Mrs. William A. Moore will be acting coach and Robert L. Antrim will be technical director. Choreography is being done by Gene Galle, director of the Amarrillo Civic Ballet.

Miller, son of Mrs. Lois Miller of Dawn, is a junior music major. A graduate of Hereford High School, he transferred to WT from East Texas Baptist College. He is a member of the WT A Cappella Choir.

Miss Blocker is a sophomore speech major and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Blocker, 312 West ern. She is secretary of Buffalo Masquers and a member of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity.

A freshman music major, Dziuk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dziuk. He is a member of the A Cappella Choir.

Erin, a sophomore, and Gary, a freshman, are both speech majors. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. O. Werthenberger, 513 Ave. J. Erin is cast director of Alpha Psi Omega and won several awards for acting and technical work for the Branding Iron Theatre last year.

many. Is it any wonder that he succumbs to drinking the wine in a wild desire to forget all the sweat that has poured from his brow in the fight and the only thing accomplished was a bit of moisture for the never languishing foe.

All is not lost; take heart, grab your weed bar and let's go merrily walking back and forth over our lawn with the assurance that the bar will kill all it touches, even burning a few flowering plants that we are so proud of. Cinnamon Rolls Are Demonstrated

On Tuesday the Walcott 4-H girls held their regular meeting. Roll call was answered with "My favorite cake."

Loreta Fowler gave a demonstration on how to bake cinnamon rolls.

Phyllis and Sharon Tice brought and served refreshments.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

As members of the National and Texas Federation of Music Clubs, we would like to take this means of letting the public know that we would like to encourage the movement to return public school music to its proper place in the curriculum of our public schools.

For many children this is the only opportunity for music study that is offered in life. For others it is a more varied and less specialized aspect of music education. We feel that it deserves a place in the curriculum as well as do the athletic programs that are in operation. It could very easily reach more students than do the athletic programs.

Of course, we realize that this presents problems such as finding qualified teachers, proper equipment, and arranging schedules to include music periods, but we feel that the results will more than compensate for the problems involved.

Keeping in mind that music is something to be shared with everyone, we will appreciate anything that can be done to return it to our educational systems.

Sincerely yours,

How Can I?

Q. How can I restore a taffeta slip that has become limp?
A. Sponge it with borax and water. Use half a teaspoonful of borax to half a pint of warm water, making sure that the borax is completely dissolved. Sponge the slip on the wrong side, and, when nearly dry, iron on the wrong side with a moderately hot iron.

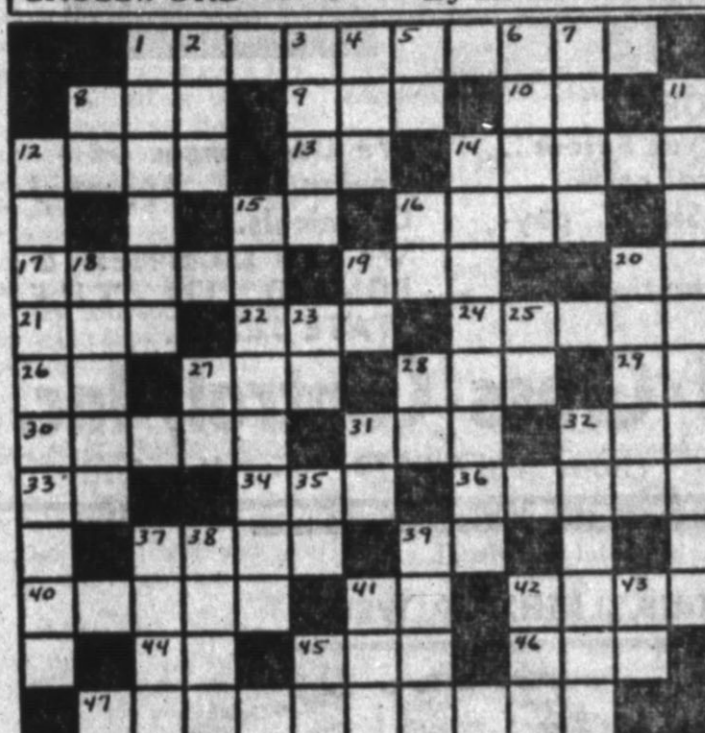

Q. What can I do when some of my hard-to-replace glasses develop nicks on their rims?

Mrs. Robert Strain
President
Dawn Music Club

A. Wrap a piece of "OO" emery paper around the handle of a spoon and rub it back and forth across the nick until you've smoothed it down to "lip-saving" comfort.
Q. How can I rewhiten the blackened cracks between the ceramic tiles in my bathroom?
A. Scrub clean with a stiff brush. Mix white tile cement and water to a paste. Rub this into the soiled joints, but wipe the tile clean after putting on the paste. You can renew an entire wall in just a few minutes.

Restaurant Is Founded For Jobless Chef

BY MILTON MARMOR

LONDON — It isn't often that a smart new restaurant is opened to provide a job for a cook — but then the case of Kou Teh-Lou was an exception.

To begin with, Kou was one of China's great chefs.

Then, he became the chef in the Communist Chinese embassy in London, a post he held from 1954 until last Feb. 26 when he defected and sought freedom in the West.

The British government gave him refuge and thereby scored a major culinary victory in the East-West struggle.

But, Kou was left without a job.

So the anti-Communist Chinese of London, led by former Nationalist embassy counsellor D. Chen Yao-Sheng, got together with a syndicate which operates some of the leading Chinese restaurants in London and did something about it.

They established the Lung Feng Restaurant Club in the smart section of Knightsbridge.

The club has a nominal membership fee yet runs on lush, luxury lines.

It also has something you cannot get in the average Chinese restaurant — real Chinese food.

The delicacies are flown in from the Far East and, if you order well in advance, you can sit down to shark's fin soup, Pekin duck and other dishes with the sauces that bring back memories of youth to old Far East hands.

Head-chef Kou, a charming, jolly sort, is beginning to feel at home in his new surroundings.

But there's the sadness of the East behind the eternal smile. His family is still in Peiping.

"Cooking is all that is left for me," he said through an interpreter, for his English is still almost nil. "My wife and two sons are in Peiping. I write to them. But I never get a reply. "I hated Communism, especially having to go to self-criticism sessions. They even wanted me to say I was a bad cook."

BEATING THE CLOCK

OMAHA — The jet age sure is wonderful. Not long ago a KC-135 jet tanker of the 34th refueling squadron landed at its home base here some four hours (by the clock) before it left Anderson AFB, Guam, Departure time was 7:40 a.m., Guam time, and arrival in Omaha was 3:30 a. m., Omaha time — the same day. The plane crossed the International dateline en route. It actually beat the sun to the United States by about 4½ hours.

25% DISCOUNT in cost-per-mile!

Now, for not one penny more than you pay for conventional 1st line nylon tires you can have Gates Air-Float Deluxe in the low profile design that gives you 25% to 30% more miles. You save fully one-fourth of the dollars you spend on tires—a 25% discount in cost-per-mile!

TESTED more than
10 MILLION MILES $19.95

Because it is built lower and wider (closer to the true running shape of a tire) Gates Air-Float Deluxe low profile design greatly reduces the major cause of tire wear — scuffing of the tread caused by excessive flexing as the tire runs. Heat, another enemy of tire life, is also greatly reduced. That's why this tire gives average drivers a bonus of 5,000 miles or more—a fact proved by more than 10 million miles of carefully recorded fleet tests.

Unconditional ROAD-HAZARD GUARANTEE

against ANY tire failure for the entire life of the long-wearing tread—no time or mileage limit!

Should tire fail for any reason, you get a new tire, with full credit for unused mileage, based on Gates standard, nation-wide adjustment schedule.

JUVENILE AIDE
DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—A Des Moines man who has been hearing about juvenile delinquency went to his office to do some night work. When he returned to his car several hours later he found a note on the front seat.

It said: "You left the lights on, so if your battery is dead, that's why. I turned the lights off at 9:40. You're welcome. Roosevelt High School student."

P. S.—The car's engine started all right.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

HEREFORD, TEXAS

She Is A Church's Keeper

By Dorothy Sanderson

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — "It was my legacy!" That's the way Mrs. Evelyn Pederstein Lubenow explains how she became custodian of Trinity Lutheran Church here.

"The job has been in the family for about five decades," she says. "Dad got the job about the time he and Mom were first married. After his death, Mom took over. She — with the assistance of my two brothers and me — cared for the church until her death in 1957. Then I took over."

Blue-eyed, 5-foot-5 Mrs. Lubenow is a hairdresser by profession. She took over the work in the church steadily about five years before the death of her mother, when her first husband died, leaving her with an infant daughter and a small son.

"The church job offered me a chance to supplement my social security and at the same time be with my children."

The interior of the church, large and ornate, requires a great deal of elbow grease to be kept clean. Mrs. Lubenow does all the work including washing walls, scrubbing and waxing floors, setting up for banquets and socials, making minor electrical and plumbing repairs, shoveling snow and seeing that the trash is removed.

"The kids are a big help," she says. "They do a lot of odd jobs that save me hours every week. They are even learning to cook, and often help to prepare our meals."

Mrs. Lubenow arranges her schedule according to the hours when her children are at home. "During the school year, I sometimes tidy up at home, then drive down and spend three or four hours at the church and get home by the time school is out."

Other times Mrs. Lubenow will wait until after school and enlist the aid of her two children — Scott, 11, and Gail, 8 — and other neighborhood small fry to dust and help at the church.

"In the summer we try to get our work done in the morning so we can go swimming before supper," she says.

"It's like an interreligious council some days," jokes Mrs. Lubenow. "All the kids in the neighborhood want to come down to the church with my youngsters. Some days I'll have as many as 10 or 12 of them here at once. They love to have lunch at the church."

"At mealtimes they all say grace according to their own faith, and they get a real kick out of saying Catholic, Congregational or Hebrew grace in the Lutheran church."

For the children it's half work, half play. "They are all eager to help clean up," Mrs. Lubenow says. "After the work is done they go downstairs and bowl or play games. Actually, my kids are the envy of the neighborhood because they always have so much to do. They haven't time to be bored."

Mrs. Lubenow was remarried recently. "When I told the pastor I was going to get married," Mrs.

FAMILY AFFAIR . . . Mrs. Evelyn Lubenow and 3-year-old daughter Gail clean Trinity Lutheran Church in New Haven.

Lubenow smiles, "he insisted I have a candlelight ceremony. That meant I had to set the candles up the night before my wedding and delegate someone to put them away afterward."

"Most girls take a day or two off before their weddings but I had to put several extra hours to prepare the church and see that everyone I had delegated to care for things while I was away knew exactly what his job was."

Carefree and undisturbed by her rugged routine, Mrs. Lubenow

How Can I?

Q. How can I clean my all-aluminum luggage?

A. Usually, it can be cleaned just by wiping with a damp cloth. Hardware stores have preparations that remove stain from aluminum — and these, rather than home experimenting, are much preferred.

Q. What treatment will prevent rust on stored-away yard and garden tools?

A. Store these tools in a box of oil-soaked sand. Fill the box with clean sand, and then saturate it with some motor oil.

SURPLUS

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — A pump supply company got a telephone call from the mayor of Cotter, Ark., advising that the city wanted to replace an old water pump.

"We need it bad today," the mayor said. "We're out of water."

At that moment, the company had water to spare — A flash flood had covered the floor nine inches deep in water.

Beauty At Home

Q. Would you think it a good idea, when one is tinting one's hair, to give the same treatment to the eyebrows?

A. Never, NEVER! Not around those precious eyes! Any coloring you add to your eyebrows should be done with the eyebrow pencil.

Q. My naturally dry skin seems to have acquired flakiness. Any suggestions?

A. To remove the flakiness, try mixing a little ordinary table salt with your cleansing cream once or twice a week. The abrasive action of this will do the trick. Your skin is in need, too, of the nourishment of a good skin-food cream.

Painting Over Stain

While painting over old stained woodwork, sometimes the dyes from the stains persist in showing through, often coloring the new paint. Time and money can be saved by first applying a coat of aluminum house paint — not bronzing aluminum.

Kids No Trouble If Grandma Has Aid

BY VIVIAN BROWN
Grandma is usually delighted to take over the grandchildren and give the young people a honeymoon weekend. However, she probably has forgotten how much work it is, if she hasn't done it since her own children were little. The event should be made easier for Grandma so she can keep her good health in the process and perhaps offer to take on the task again.

A mother who anticipates using Grandma as baby sitter will give her everything she will need, including menus and a schedule for naps.

Junior's equipment is likely to fall into three major categories: mealtime needs, a "beauty kit," and clothing.

Here's a packing list and schedule for a typical baby at the creeping-toddling stage:

In the mealtime bag, pack enough food for all his meals. Grandma will probably provide some fresh food, such as milk and eggs, but save her a shopping trip and cookery work by including several small packages of baby cereal, jars of strained or junior fruit, vegetables and meat, some of the new protein dinners in beef, lamb or chicken flavor, and several cans of juice. Include baby's spoons, his baby food warmer, bottles, nipples and cup. If he is still on formula, make up a two-day supply and carry it in a thermos bag. Since Grandma may have to make up a new batch before the visit is over, it is wise to include specific instructions plus all the equipment: sterilizer, bottle brush, measuring cup, etc. The mealtime bag should also contain his bibs.

Put all his grooming aids in the "beauty kit." These will include talcum powder, cotton balls and cleaning tissues, baby oil, baby lotion or other preparations, his vitamins, comb and brush, towel, washcloth, soap. Any special medicine, salve for possible rashes or other ailments also should be included.

Baby's clothing needs will depend on the weather and his activities, but sturdy everyday clothes will be less trouble for Grandma than Sunday-best garments. Be sure to pack enough clothes since Grandma will be too busy to do a lot of laundry. Take plenty of diapers, but include a box of disposable diapers for alternate use.

Be sure to include a letter giving his schedule and special information on medicines, vitamins and other special equipment new to Grandma.

KEEPING THE KIDS . . . Don't dump junior on Grandma unless you have brought along the bottle warmer and some toys to make the weekend a pleasure, not a chore.

Cockney Role Nets Highest London Wage

By Milton Marmor
LONDON — A motherly character actress known for her cockney portrayals surprisingly is the highest paid actress on the London West End stage.

Her name is Kathleen Harrison and the play she stars in is something called "Watch It, Sailor!" a light comedy that has become one of London's biggest successes.

The play is presented by Toby Rowland, an American-born theater producer living here. Rowland, from Montana, recently became a British subject.

Rowland's success in a sort of play that doesn't worry about the carriage or egghead trade in a strange way is indicative of what happens in the British theater.

For several years he has been producing serious, high minded plays. Most of them

Beauty At Home

Q. Will you please recommend a good "weight-gainer" cocktail I can mix myself?
A. Several times a day (between meals), mix one fresh egg yolk with a glass of orange juice, add a tablespoon of honey, beat until foamy, then down the hatch. It's tasty, and it's pound-producing.

Q. How can I safely and quickly bleach the rather dark fuzz on my upper lip?
A. Try some repeated applications of lemon juice.

RED BLUFF, Calif. — The 552nd Airborne Early Warning Squadron at McClelland Air Force Base made a logical choice in asking the Rev. Lester J. Maitland, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Parish to be speaker at its dining-in night.

TOUGH BOSS
HARTFORD, Conn. — A boss fired his clerk when she refused to report to work on the day of her daughter's bridal shower. The clerk sought jobless benefits.

State Unemployment Commissioner Harold Strauch upheld the clerk. Awarding her the benefits, he said the boss was "flinthearted" for firing her.

sets — can be more fully appreciated than is possible with simple reading.

Supplying plenty of low cost electricity to rural Americans is just one of our big jobs. Another equally important function, we believe, is paying our own way in the nation's economy. We think we've done this mighty well, and here's why:

Even though we serve widely scattered consumers, America's Rural Electric Systems — 1,000 strong, across the land — have already paid over $1 billion in principal and interest on their $3½ billion in REA loans.

Best of all, every penny of this billion dollars — paid into the U. S. Treasury — came from the light bills of the consumer-owners of these rural electric utilities! This, we submit, is a credit record second to none — another reason why we say that rural electrification is good for all Americans!
