

City Is Not Pushing Annexation, Opponents Told

By DUDLEY LYNCH
News Editor

The City of Hereford doesn't want to annex anybody south of town that doesn't want to be annexed.

This was constantly asserted Tuesday night by Mayor Ray Cowser before about 100 persons — most of whom live in the area south of the city limits where a 30-name petition recently originated requesting annexation.

"It is not the intention of the city commission to force anyone into the city of Hereford," the mayor told the Community Center crowd.

Review Picture

Cowser, City Manager Dudley Bayne and City Atty. Earnest Langley spread the plus-and-minus picture before the residents. It actually amounted to a crammed "short" course in the city government.

The group patiently waited through the diverse explanations on such matters as taxes, water and sewer charges, zoning, bond issues and police and fire protection and then began to speak its piece. More appeared against annexation than for, at least at the meeting.

"If I was a real estate dealer and I had property to sell or I was a lumberman I would be all for it," asserted one man. "But I'm not and I can't see any benefit to it."

Wanted Outside

Another spokesman added: "We moved out because we wanted out of the city limits."

The mayor laid the facts bare, and they are probably more revealing to the present citizens of Hereford than to those wishing to be annexed.

Cowser said the projected cost of annexing a 328-acre area in a hypothetical region which was outlined because, as the mayor explained, "we had to start somewhere to form a cost estimate" would require $241,102.93 to provide water and sewer service only.

The total annual tax revenues from the 130 property owners within the 328-acre plot — which would have a valuation of $1,626,245 — would be only $10,000, Cowser revealed. "What you pay, to get cold-blooded about it, would not pay off the bonds (needed to provide the services), he noted.

Wouldn't Pay Way

Though the annexed residents would, in effect be assuming a proportional share of the debts of the city of Hereford, the present residents would be the ones to shoulder the largest burden of paying off the $241,000 bond issue to provide services to the new area, the mayor commented.

"The City of Hereford does not have this kind of money," he said. "Let me remind you that what we would do would all hinge on a bond issue and that would be decided by the voters of Hereford. You couldn't vote because you have to be a resident of the city six months before an election."

Basis For Figures

The area which City Manager Bayne used to compile his figures is as follows:

Coneway Subdivision; Blocks 77, 84 and 92 of Whitehead Addition; Blocks 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 13, 14, 17, 18, 19, 20, 23 and 24 of Ricketts Addition; All of Ridgecrest Addition; All of Knob Hill Subdivision; All of West View Subdivision; All of West Acres Subdivision; Fifteen acre Sowell tract; Dimmitt Hwy. to section line; 730 feet west of highway and 500 feet east of highway.

This arbitrary selection was the source of a number of queries Tuesday night and Cowser and Bayne continually contended that the area is only a designation for cost computing purposes.

"We don't want to annex you if you don't want to come in," the mayor repeated. He said the commission will attempt to be ruled by the majority voice of the area seeking entry.

List Pros. Cons.
In discussing the pros and cons of the question, the mayor and other officials listed:

The probable rise in property values. "South Hereford, in my opinion, is the last excellent building site left in Hereford, considering all things," Cowser averred. He predicted "a tremendous growth" if the area is annexed.

Police and Fire protection, all at city expense. "Generally speaking you would have to observe the same rules and regulations and enjoy the same privileges and protections that are

Deck The Halls With Beets At Holly's!

The massive piles of beets seen north of Hereford's Holly Sugar plant will soon wind their way through the maze of slicers, funnels, pipes, conveyors and channels — through diffusers, presses, filters, carbonation vats, vacuum pans and countless other processing devices — until the end product of pure, white beet sugar is conveyed to the top of a giant 250-foot-high elevator and stored until it is sold for use in homes. This picture was taken from atop the elevator Tuesday as the harvest neared the mid-point. Officials estimate that plant operations will last through mid-February of 1965. More than 183,000 tons of sugar beets are on the lot at the plant ready for slicing. ## Beet Growers Cite Dearth of Housing

A delegation of area sugar beet growers appeared before the Hereford city commission Monday night seeking a favorable response toward a 200-unit labor housing project they propose west of town.

The group, organized at the Deaf Smith County Housing Authority, said a "declaration of cooperation" by the city is required by the federal government before it will guarantee low interest bonds to build the project.

Without the housing, the growers predicted dire labor shortages.

United Fund Sets Urgent Meet Today

A meeting that has been tabbed by United Fund officials as a "vitaly important" affair is scheduled for 10 a.m. today at the Jim Hill Hotel to plan a fund raising effort by Hereford women next Tuesday night.

At stake, says Melvin Jayroe, chairman of the 1964 fund drive, could be the future of Hereford's United Fund project.

The current drive, which started Oct. 1, has brought in only $23,000 of the $29,222 which the seven participating agencies pegged as the minimum needed for the coming year's operations.

Hasn't Met Goal

Hereford has not reached its goal in three of the last four years. This year's failure would make the fourth and "it will be the last one, too, if we don't make it," Jayroe ventured.

The meeting this morning — at which UF leaders hope 200 to 300 women attend — will plan the door-to-door appeal next Tuesday night. Each woman will be assigned one city block to cover.

Appeal To Mothers

"If we have 15 women, we'll cover 15 blocks," Jayroe, district manager for Southwestern Public Service Co., said. "If we have 300 women, we'll cover most of Hereford."

The appeal for workers is being made to the mothers of the more than 2,500 children who participate in Campfire Girls, Boy Scouts, Little League and Pony League activities.

"None of these agencies can operate on less than the minimum," he said.

Sees No Obligation

"We want to explain this thing well enough to get you to possibly go along, if it won't cost you any money and won't hurt you — and, we don't think it will," said James W. Witherspoon, attorney for the housing authority.

Commissioners, openly leery of the possible implications of a "declaration," agreed to study the request and were to meet at 5 p.m. Wednesday to hand down a decision.

In other action at the 2½-hour meeting, the council:

1. Approved a zone change for two lots at the southeast corner of Ross and 3rd St. from C-multi family to E-central business. The change was sought by Merlin Weber, 718 Thunderbird, and was recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission.
2. Accepted a bid of $11,695 for equipment and installation of automatic controls for the city water system. The low bid was from Autocore Industries Inc. of Albuquerque.

To Outlaw Turns

3. Agreed to a proposal that the city pay the power costs in operating street lights in the Green Acres and Bluebonnet additions. Developers of the additions will then reimburse the city, a maneuver which will lower the cost of operating the lights.

4. Authorized the city manager and police chief to erect signs prohibiting left turns on Main St. at 3rd and 4th Streets.

5. Approved the platting of a block area (Riverside addition) south of Packard Mill in south of Hereford.

6. Condemned as dangerous a structure in the 100 block of Bennett St. The building, the Yellow Hammer cafe, was partially destroyed about 1½ months ago by fire. Notices of condemnation were issued.

The annual membership meeting of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Assn. will be at 8 p.m. Monday in the Community Center. Two directors will be elected and D. D. Monroe of Clayton, N. ## WAYNE THOMAS IS CHOICE

Chamber Elects Attorney To Head 1965's Program

Wayne Thomas, Hereford attorney and virtually a life-long resident of the county, was elected president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning. He will be installed Jan. 7th.

Other new officers include Neil Cooper of Cooper's Market, vice president, and Bert Boomer of Pitman grain, treasurer. In other business, the chamber's board of directors approved a sign purchase for the chamber office, and ironed out details on the annual banquet.

With Law Firm

The new president is associated with the law firm of Witherspoon, Aiken, Thomas and Langley and has been since returning to Hereford fresh out of the University of Texas law school in 1951. He is 36 years old. He was graduated from West Texas State University with a bachelor of arts degree.

He has served as president of the United Fund in 1963, served on the Deaf Smith County Hospital board since 1954 (including two terms as president of the board), is a member and Sunday school teacher at the First Baptist church and a member of the Lions Club.

His wife and three children reside at 206 Sunset Drive.

New Directors

The chamber's new directors met with the board Wednesday. They are Cooper, Pete Caviness, Johnny Pool and Dub Hair. Outgoing directors are Maurice Tannahill, Lloyd Sharp, J. D. Kirkland and Clint Formby. Austin Rose Jr., whose term would normally expire this time, will be retained as immediate past president and will serve on the executive committee.

School Officials Make Change In 1965 Insurance

Hereford Independent School District board of trustees met in a regular session Tuesday night and awarded insurance contracts for the school's property to Hereford Insurance Co., which submitted the low bid of $9,604. The action marks a policy change in awarding the full contract and commissions to one agency.

Bids were discussed extensively by the commissioners. Five local insurance firms submitted bids. The bid of the Hereford Insurance Co. represents the premium guaranteed the school board for the first year of a five-year contract. It is a "deviated" contract, covering most — but not all — of the cash value of the buildings.

Change Procedure

The next lowest bid was submitted by Plains Insurance Co., with their deviated bid being $10,527 and the non-deviated being $13,157. Hereford Insurance's non-deviated bid was for $11,526.

Lone Star Agency and Pool-Sigman Insurance Agency submitted deviated bids of $10,567.97 while their non-deviated bids for $14,096.23. The high bid was submitted by Robinson Insurance Co., with a deviated bid of $11,419 and a non-deviated bid of $14,291.

Robinson previously had the

SANTA SETS APPEARANCES

Holiday Parade Slated Friday

Final plans are being made today for the Christmas Parade which will begin at the intersection of Sixth and Main Streets shortly after 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Thousands of area residents are expected to turn out for the parade which will climax with the appearance of Santa Claus.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Bill Thompson announced late Wednesday he had received notification that Santa Claus will definitely arrive in time for the parade.

Santa did mention in his letter to Thompson, that the Oasis Shrine Club had offered the use of its fire truck, and he would appear on the truck in the parade.

Thompson said that this would be the first Christmas Parade held in Hereford since 1961. Last year the Chamber sponsored a sleigh ride during the holiday season to kick off the holiday, but the committee felt the parade would be better received.

"Following the parade, Santa will appear on Main St., where he will have a chance to visit with many of the children present at the parade, and listen to what they want for Christmas," Thompson said.

"Santa may not have an opportunity to visit with all of the children tomorrow evening, but he will return to Hereford Saturday, where he will make scheduled visits at several of the local stores and listen to the requests of the local children."

Thompson said Santa would make Saturday appearances at Piggy Wiggle from 1:30 until 2 p.m. From there he will travel to Sears and Roebuck, where he will stay until 2:30 p.m.

After the appearance at Sears, he will go to Helen's Youth Shop and stay until 3 p.m., when he will rush to Harman's Store and stay until 3:30 p.m. Santa will be at Penney's from 3:30 until 4 p.m. and at Rotherford and Co. until 4:30 p.m.

denation will be posted and the owners will have 60 to 90 days to comply before city may take further action.

Close City Street

7. Closed a section of Ave. A between 13th and 14th streets which, actually, had never been opened.

8. Declined to sell Kenny Kearns, owner of Kearns Machine Shop, a 10-acre tract of the old city dump ground. The council felt the land might be needed later. Kearns wanted to construct a new shop.

9. Authorized the city manager to pay a $928 bill for repairs to a 150-hp electric motor for a city pump station. The motor was damaged by unknown causes, possibly lightning.

10. Reviewed a report on bond fund expenditures which revealed the city had a Nov. 30th balance of $70,060.42 on the $500,000 bond issue approved last year. Future expenditures already foreseen will decrease this to $18,486.17. In the $150,000 street improvement tax bonds, the Nov. 30th balance was $115,197.21, most of which will go for widening U. S. Hwy. 60 and Harrison Hwy. and the installation of storm sewers.

Cite Labor Shortage

In listening attentively to Witherspoon's presentation of housing authority's request, the commission heard outlined what growers feel may be a chronic labor shortage.

"Apparently farmers this year have seen the last of what has heretofore been called 'bracero labor,'" Witherspoon averred. He predicted also that the minimum wage for farm laborers will be raised to $1.25, a factor which would enable workers to "pay more for housing."

Witherspoon criticized the labor camp presently situated west of Hereford but said the housing authority was making no pretense of "telling anybody how to run that facility. . . That's your business," he said.

"We think we have a need for 200 additional farm employees, but they come and they sleep in the bar ditches. . . and in garages over town and in those shacks out there and they leave," Witherspoon claimed. "They are better than that."

Lack of Leadership

The Deaf Smith County farmer asserted that leadership has been lacking in providing assistance for the Mexican population around Hereford. This has resulted in "the encroachment of the Latin people into parts of our town where they have never been before," he said.

"If we had some program set up, I think we could direct those things to some extent," he suggested.

The housing project is an answer, he proposed. In answer to questions from Mayor Ray Cowser, he said the housing authority favors a site though it would be receptive to any suggestions from the city as to a location — just west of the present labor camp.

This might aid in upgrading the camp, he proposed.

One-Family Units

Units would be planned for one family. The figure of 200 units might be expanded later if needed, he said.

Witherspoon and County Judge H. C. (Hank) Williams, a grower, said all the city has to do is sign the "declaration of cooperation" which Williams contended is "nothing more than an indication of enthusiasm" for a self-improvement project and tangible evidence that it will not be opposed by the project.

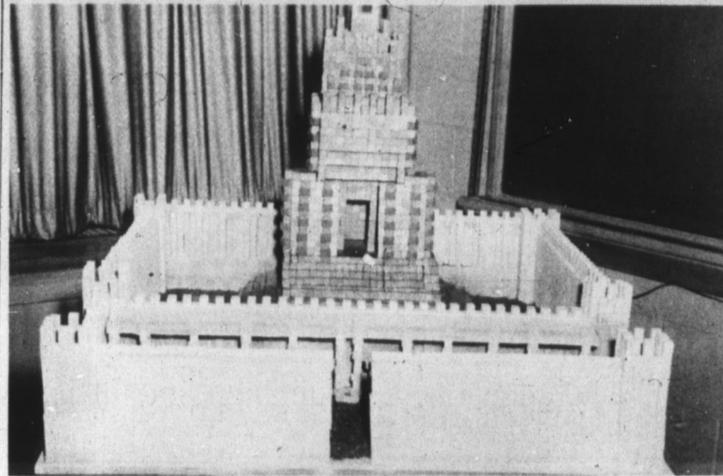

"Who actually issues the bonds?" the mayor asked. "I think it is the Federal Housing Agency," Witherspoon replied.

City Atty. Earnest Langley volunteered knowledge of the government's procedure for such loan guarantees. He said it had been a year since he read the material but that he remembered the "declaration of cooperation" is necessary before the Housing and Home Finance Agency will consider a project.

Blighted Area?

"Do we have to say we have a blighted area — does it have anything to do with urban renewal?" asked City Manager Dudley Bayne.

"No," Langley answered. "I

HISTORY PROJECT — Pupils of the church Jerusalem as a group project. Brother Dennis history class of St. Anthony's Catholic School Sennett is teacher of the class. made this reproduction of the Temple of (Angel Photo) know that concerned me quite a bit when I first saw it. But it is not concerned with urban renewal in any way. The authority owns it, operates it and pays for it."

A councilman asked if the project would compete with present housing.

Grower Raymond Higginbotham answered. He said he brought in a crew from Eagle Pass this year and was responsible for finding housing for them. The first site "was too expensive," Higginbotham commented.

They moved to another address where it rained "and drowned them out like a bunch of drowned rats," he continued. The housing area where they ended up had a stopped-up septic tank, and they were forced to move in an outdoor toilet for five families, he said.

Not Interested

"I think this is the only type housing it will compete with," he deduced.

Witherspoon said the Hereford labor housing situation has made it difficult for growers to induce either labor organizations, or laborers on their own to come into the area.

He claimed neither the U. S. Labor Dept. nor the Texas Employment Agency will approve the present labor camp as housing for laborers recruited through the Texas agency.

The proposed housing project would enable recruitment through labor organizations, he said. "Instead of depending on the laborers to come up here on their own and being disappointed a few times and going on to Colorado. . . leaving us high and dry," Witherspoon suggested.

Witherspoon said the authority "could have had this thing built a year ago, if we had this declaration."

He was immediately challenged by commissioners.

Witherspoon had said earlier a representative of the authority had met with the council several months previously and returned to report: "They aren't interested."

The commissioners said they hadn't met with anyone.

City Manager Bayne said he hadn't either.

Councilman W. L. Davis Jr. said Witherspoon's indication last week that he wanted to appear before the commission was his first knowledge of any contact with the city by the authority.

Appearing with Witherspoon were Williams, Pete Davis of Clovis, Virgil Marsh, Austin Ros Jr., Daniel Larson, Jay Boston, Higginbotham and Walter John Paetzold.

"Then, I don't know who he (the authority representative) talked to, but he said he talked to someone connected with the city," Witherspoon said.

Present for the council meeting were Mayor Cowser, Commissioners Albert Maxwell, Davis, Gid Brown and Lloyd Sharp, City Manager Bayne and City Atty. Langley.

mum," avers Roy Faubion of the UF campaign group. "If they don't get their UF allotment, they will have to get out on their own and raise it."

"We are talking about the very life blood of these agencies," he asserted.

now currently enjoyed by the citizens of Hereford," Langley said.

—Cost of water and sewer service: Cowser said everyone who would be within 150 feet of a city sewer line would be required by law to connect. The tapping fee is $5; but the resident must pay the expense of building the line from his home to the city line. Residents would not be required to "tap" the city's water line, but if they choose to do so, the cost is $75. They may use city water for drinking purposes only and still use their wells for yard and other purposes — only, the two systems must be separate. Water, sewer and trash minimum charges per month would be $4.25.

—Savings in home insurance: Bayne said a $15,000 home would save $38 a year in insurance premiums, but the city taxes, based on the same valuations as the school's, would total $90.

—Zoning: Unless specifically provided otherwise, all annexed property would come in as Zone A (residential property).

The processes of getting a zone change were outlined.

Involuntary annexation: Langley explained that under a new state law passed in 1963, the city could involuntarily annex up to 10 per cent of its present area per year without the approval of the affected residents. He noted the city has used the involuntary method only three times since its present charter was passed.

Gets Last Word

The officials admitted that it is possible that the areas, some of which could be as small as a block, that want to be annexed might be arranged so that others areas not wanting to be annexed would have to be included to make the expensive water and sewer lines feasible.

"What is your honest opinion?" one listener asked the mayor. "Do you want South Hereford in at this time?"

Cowser's answer:

"The only thing that I can do is express my own opinion. As I said before, I think that some of the more attractive property is in South Hereford. But our city is growing to the north and west. We would like to see the city more balanced.

But our opinions on whether we want to take you in are immaterial."

And Cowser had the last word: "Those of you who want to come in, present a legal petition and we will consider it."

"What do we do if we don't want in?" questioned an opponent.

"Nothing," replied the mayor.

City officials attending included Cowser, Bayne, Langley and commissioners W. L. Davis Jr., Lloyd Sharp, and Albert Maxwell.

PROBE COUNTY FACTS, FIGURES

Four Essay Winners Are Named In Survey Contest

Four students at St. Anthony's School have been named winners in the annual essay contest sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Historical Survey Committee.

Texas history students at any of the county's schools were eligible. This year's entries were virtually all from St. Anthony's, said Mrs. Elmer Patterson, chairman of the committee.

Gets First Place

Awarded first place for an essay on the history of the county was Sharon Bartels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bartels. She was presented with a $10 prize by Mrs. Patterson contract with the school with other agents sharing in the dividends. The board felt that it would be fairer for all concerned to award the entire contract to the low bidder.

Total coverage on the contract represented approximately $3,327,084. The motion was made by Dr. A. T. Mims to accept the low bid and was seconded by Bill Gentry.

Supt. Darrell Williams read a letter to the board from District Judge Harry Schultz, requesting that the board approve the participation of Deaf Smith County in the hiring of a juvenile officer for the 61st Judicial District.

Williams explained that the juvenile officer would live in Dalhart with the counties in the district sharing the $7,200 annual salary according to the population apportionment in each county.

"Deaf Smith would have to pay $2,317 and would probably not be served as well as our present system, with the officer being stationed in Dalhart, some 90 miles away," Williams told the board.

At present, Sheriff Lowell Sharp is serving as county juvenile officer, but Williams suggested to the board the possibility of a visiting teacher to curb the truancy problem in the school system.

Williams recommended the following persons to the textbook committee: Arithmetic, grades one through six, Madeline Bell, chairman; Mrs. Jean Ricketts, Lavada Shannon, Mrs. Helen Yeager and Mrs. Marie Gordon; Readers, grades seven and eight—Mrs. Geraldene Hodges, Science, grades seven and eight—Fred Mercer; Civil Government, high school—William R. Phillips; General Woodworking—Alvin Smith; Business Education—Mrs. Sue Howell; Driver Education—Aldrean Hudson; Related Math—Don Stevens; Spanish III—Mrs. Ilene Young and chairman of the committee, Darrell Williams.

The board unanimously approved the floor plans submitted by the superintendent for the new band hall to be constructed at the high school on the East side of the present band hall.

Williams explained the floor plan of the present building and the new building and told how all the space in both of the buildings would be utilized.

The board approved the payroll and November invoices after looking over the figures submitted by Williams.

They approved a trip for the Young Farmers and Young Homemakers and their sponsors to the State Convention in Dallas, Jan. 8-9, 1965.

Also approved was a trip by Williams, superintendent, and Kendall Williams, assistant superintendent, to the Administrators Conference on Education to be held in Austin, January 6-8, 1965.

The board heard a report from the principals for each of the schools in the Hereford Independent School District, with each principal explaining enrollment percentages in his respective schools.

Members recognized a marked rise in the Latin-American population in the schools. One school has 67 percent Latin-Americans.

Only one elementary school in the system has a majority of Anglos.

Extensive discussion followed on the elimination of the early morning classes from next year's schedule. Several of the trustees were opposed to the idea of dropping the classes, with others feeling it would be beneficial to drop the program.

After nearly a half-hour's discussion, a motion was made to table the discussion to a later date and was approved unanimously.

Following a short report from the business department and the superintendent, which involved the present condition of the school system, the meeting was adjourned by President Ivan Block.

All of the trustees were present at the meeting.

and Melvyn Young of the Hereford Brand, which sponsored the awards.

Presentations were made at a school assembly Wednesday morning.

More Winners

Other winners were Gerald Paetzold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paetzold, second, $7.50, on the subject of the development of industry in Deaf Smith County; Jane Reinart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reinart, third, $5, on the subject of a history of Hereford and county schools; and Stephen Dziuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dziuk Jr., fourth, $2.50, on the subject of the organization of Deaf Smith County.

On Same Topic

The first place essay is similar to another winner published in recent years by the Brand. As a consequence, the following essay—to prevent a redundancy—is the second place article by Gerald Paetzold, a seventh grader, on "The Development of Industry in Deaf Smith County."

In agreeing on the banquet details, the board chose a 10-ounce charcoal broiled KC steak for the menu, decided to continue the policy of having the incoming president serve as master of ceremonies, eliminated any special music and discussed policy on complimentary tickets, ushers and other arrangements.

Further details were assigned to a sub-committee headed by Raymond White and including Cooper, Russell Carver and Bob Rott.

ment of Industry in Deaf Smith County."

Deaf Smith County was formed August 21, 1887 from part of the Bexar Territory. I wonder if early pioneers who traveled across these great plains or the early settlers ever dreamed of the great things that were in store for this county. Looking over the wind-swept prairies did they once think that green fertile fields and irrigation would flourish here? Many regarded this country as broad waste lands fit for nothing but cattle range.

Since 1898 Deaf Smith County has been famous for its fine Hereford Whiteface cattle. In the early days of the county, cattle roamed the plains and were driven to markets; but today there are fine major commercial feed-yards and many smaller ones in the county. Even in 1902 Hereford was a shipping center for cattle with 6,000 cattle being shipped in one week. Today a packing plant here processes 25,000 head of cattle per year. Many buyers from major packing companies are regular buyers of the fine cattle. Even with agriculture, cattle is still big business and remains the solid backbone of the county.

Irrigation has played a key role in the progress of Deaf Smith County. Without the water from wells many of the crops would not have been possible. The first test well was dug in 1905, but real interest did not develop until 1910, and today more than 2500 wells are in operation. Irrigation is in deed the lifeline to progress, and the hope for the county's future prosperity depends on it.

The leading industry in the county is agriculture. There are many diversified crops here. The largest single crop is the grain sorghums, closely followed by wheat. These crops helped build the "skyscrapers of the plains" the grain elevators. There are fourteen such facilities in the county, with storage for more than 22,000,000 bushels. One industry that grew up as a result of wheat is the marketing of stoneground wheat flour.

Deaf Smith County is on the northern edge of the "Cotton Belt" but it produces over 16,000 bales each year. There are five gins to serve the cotton producers.

The industry that seemed to grow up and flourish overnight was the vegetable industry. Such crops as potatoes and onions had been grown since 1903 but not on a large scale. After World War II the county seemed to become a huge vegetable garden with potatoes, carrots, onions, lettuce and even cabbage and cucumbers.

No wonder is has been given the title "Salad Bowl of the Panhandle." It has the necessary ingredients for their success—"water, work, soil and sunshine."

Sugar beets are thought of as a new crop in the county, but the first beets were grown here in 1911. The first carload was shipped on Nov. 10, 1911 and there was much talk about a refinery in 1912. It has been many years since then, but in 1934 Deaf Smith County got its first sugar refinery. This refinery has opened the door to many new things to come in the way of industry. The pulp from the beets is a good cattle feed. Sugar may even bring about a candy factory in the future, but who can tell.

Many industrial plants have risen as a result of the crops: agricultural chemicals and fertilizers, irrigation pumps and parts, gins, packing sheds, shippers, elevators and many others. With all of the diversified industries and crops, Deaf Smith County can only look to a bright future with rapid growth.

Mrs. Draper In Demonstration For H. D. Club

"Skirt treatment" was the program presented by Mrs. Argen Draper for the West Home Demonstration Club at their recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Carlos Vaughn. Types of material for lining, how to pin a lined skirt, and pleats were topics discussed by Mrs. Draper.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Carlos Vaughn and Mrs. Ida Mae Vaughn. Miss Evelyn Bell planned the games and Mrs. Jewel Awtry won the hospes gift.

Members and families, and guests were served a covered dish Thanksgiving supper at the Community Center. The recreation committee was in charge of preparations for the supper.

Secret pal gifts will highlight the Christmas party Dec. 8 in the home of Miss Mary Bradley.

Paul Schroeter, brother of A. J. (Major) Schroeter of Hereford died Tuesday afternoon as the result of an automobile accident south of Brady Tex. He was about 48 years of age. Schroeter lived in the Hereford area for a short time in the early 1960's, helping his father and brother in the operation of the Elm Court. He is remembered by many in this area. Survivors include his wife, Carolyn; three daughters, Paula and Lora of the home and Sherry of San Jose, California; two brothers, A. J. of Hereford, Richard of Long Island, N. Y.; one sister, Mrs. Helen Sundstrom of Austin, Texas and his mother Mrs. R. R. Schroeter, also of Austin. Funeral arrangements were pending Wednesday. By Melvin Young

H. L. Hershey, who farms north and east of Hereford, has taken issue with a statement in the Brand recently concerning the brick paving in Texas. The story, originating with the Associated Press, and quoting the Texas Highway Department stated that no brick highways remained in the state. That is, all the original brick highways were either replaced or covered with black-topping.

"The westbound lane of U. S. 180 between Weatherford and Mineral Wells is an example of a brick road now covered with asphalt", the story said. But according to Hershey, it just isn't so. He says that he has traveled that road at least three times in the past year and the brick surface is still there.

We came to the conclusion however, that the road builders are a little behind the department public relations men. Perhaps the allocation has been made for the surfacing of the road, but the actual work still not completed.

Perhaps L. J. Clark can straighten us out on this. Actually, we suppose it isn't really important whether the work has been completed or not. The fact remains that brick has seen its day as a road building material. The big problem of course, being the cost of installation.

Few can say that it hasn't served us well. Many old-timers in the Hereford area will remember when the present brick streets were installed, and what a pleasure it was to drive down the fine brick thoroughfare rather than in the mud.

If you don't believe they will last a life-time, just take a gander at Main Street. It's brick, you know.

And the hunting stories are still floating around.

This one is a little old, but we thought it was worth mentioning.

Bill Davis, owner-manager of Davis Implement Co., picked up some friends about 5 years ago and headed for a ranch near Clovis to hunt quail. Like all good sportsmen, Davis and his companions had acquired permission to hunt on a certain spread in the Clovis area, and were given explicit directions as how to get there. "After turning off the highway," they were told, "pass through three gates and you'll be on the place."

But in the excitement of the hunt, the hunters failed to count correctly. They passed through only two gates, and that was the beginning of their troubles. Actually, a covey of quail probably caused their memory to slip. They cut loose on the birds, and after getting all the legal limit would allow, they made ready to depart.

But staring him in the eye was "the maddest looking man I've ever seen", Bill relates, "and those two standing in the back of the pickup with loaded rifles didn't look any happier."

Bill immediately tried to explain to the unhappy land owner that they had permission to hunt on the land, but soon found that they did not indeed, for they were on the wrong ranch.

Bill says it took a couple hours of fast talking to convince the fellow that they had made an honest-mistake. "He kept insisting that we meet him in Portales at the courthouse", Bill said, "and we knew that meant trouble."

But it all came out in the wash. And from that day hence, the hapless hunters have counted the gates pretty well before cutting-down on the game.

Wanted: Two old crank-type telephones.

Nope, we're not going fishing in Old Mexico. We want the telephones for the Deaf Smith County museum.

Some of the old timers tell us that this telephone was a mainstay in the community life of the early settlers, and no museum could be complete without it.

There should be some in the area. Lots of fishermen like to use the old relic today. But telephone fishing is illegal in the states and we suppose the only place it can be used is in Mexico. An easy way to catch a lot of fish if you're in a hurry.

Mrs. Ray Bosley has donated a patch-work quilt to the museum. The quilt is known to be over 100 years old, quilted around 1850. It has been in the family since that time.

It has been a kooky year. And looks like Christmas will not be much different.

We noticed in a leading trade magazine recently that you can now purchase a his-and-her giant sports balloon inflated with hot air from a propane gas burner. The balloon is made of rip-proof nylon and is available at Neiman-Marcus for only $6,850. Every family should have one. Also high on the Christmas shopping list will be such items as cashmere shirts and drawers from Scotland ($48 each), a hi-fi record player system that broadcasts bird calls for three miles ($125) and numerous wacky toys for the junior set.

Call us when it's over please. We're going into hibernation.

We've heard it said: "It's a sign of age if you feel like the morning after the night before and you haven't been anywhere."

London's New Tower Tops List Of Britain's Tall Buildings

By PATRICK MASSEY
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Dwarling London's ancient landmarks is a brand new tower that ranks as Britain's highest building.

Official name of this giant is the Post Office Tower (POT for short) which owes its existence to the fact that the British couldn't dig up the roads fast enough for all the telephone lines they need.

Standing on a site in quiet Bloomsbury, the tower thrusts up 620 feet. The building is only 380 feet high but atop this is a lattice-type structure containing a radar scanner for checking weather hundreds of miles away. Most novel feature from the tourist's point of view is a revolving platform built into the tower at a height just above 500 feet.

Turning at the rate of three revolutions per hour, it will give the diner a drifting panorama. Tourism apart, the principal purpose of the structure is to beam microwaves across the country.

The Post Office runs the telephone service in this country and also has responsibility for television transmission facilities. Lately it found itself in need of more voice and vision channels than could satisfactorily be provided by landlines.

The tower's microwaves will be able to carry 15,000 telephone calls and 40 television channels simultaneously.

Such a height was necessary because microwaves travel in a straight line. The transmitting point, therefore, had to jut up above the top of the Thames Valley in which London stands.

Also it had to be higher than any other London building to avoid interference.

The signals from London will be picked up and relayed around the country by a projected network of some 38 similar, though lower, structures.

The tower should be open for tourist visits by the summer of 1975. Though the highest building in Britain, it is less than half the height of the Empire State Building and less than two-thirds that of the Eiffel Tower.

Besides the restaurant there are viewing galleries both open and behind glass. Two elevators, the most that could be squeezed into the slender structure, will rocket up and down at 1,000 feet per minute.

By the time work is all through, total bill for the Ministry of Works is expected to top $7 million.

Television Crew Shoots Film On Beet Activities

An Amarillo television station shot a short documentary film on the Hereford sugar beet industry Tuesday afternoon and will show the footage at 8:30 a. m. Sunday over Channel 4.

Royce Bodford of the KGNC-TV farm and ranch department, said the film will comprise part of the Cotton John's Weekend Report.

Scenes were taken at Hereford feed yards, of harvesting on the Bill Kendall farm west of Hereford, at the Holly Sugar Corp. plant and with Dexter Little, manager of the Hereford Holly district, and Wes Fisher, assistant manager.

Bill Rhew of the KGNC staff took the pictures.

Longtime Citizen Of County Dies: R. F. Day, 68

R. F. Day, 68, a longtime resident of Hereford and the owner of a house-moving business died at 10 p. m. Tuesday in Deaf Smith County Hospital after a 2-day illness.

Services will be in the Wesley Methodist Church with the Rev. Clesby Patterson of Fritch and the Rev. Noah Armpriester, pastor of the Wesley church, officiating. Burial will be in Rest Lawn Cemetery under direction of Gilliland Funeral Home.

The time of the service is pending.

Day, a native of Hill County, moved to Hereford in 1941 from McLean. He was a member of the Wesley Methodist Church.

The family home here is at 401 Austin Road.

Survivors include his wife, O-day; three sons, Frank of Hereford, Orval Holt and Oscar Holt, both of Amarillo; four daughters, Mrs. Florie Simpson of McLean, Mrs. Faye Davis of Hobbs, N. # Herd Defeats Dimmitt 61-37; Season Record Stands At 3-4

Speaking of Sports...

by PHIL DUNCAN
BRAND SPORTS EDITOR

With all the football equipment neatly tucked away for the season, Hereford Whiteface cagers have found themselves amid a frenzied basketball schedule.

The Herd has three wins against four losses thus far this season, but they have been very respectable in losing to Palo Duro of Amarillo and Monterey of Lubbock, both AAAA schools.

The other two losses were handed out by powerful Midland High School and Seminole. Both of these teams have apparent powerhouses this year and should have great seasons.

Jim Nelms, a boy remembered well by baseball fans, sparked the 81-61 win over the Herd Friday evening in a double header held Friday and Saturday at Seminole.

Nelms hit for 25 points in defeating the Whitefaces. Nelms hit two grand slam home runs last spring as the Indians edged the Herd out for the Bi-District title.

Robert Strange has been romping and stomping for the Herd thus far this season as he is averaging nearly 17.5 points per game for the six played thus far in the season. This is just a pretty good point per game average for a boy who is playing his first season as a varsity regular.

Strange has hit in the double figures every game thus far this season, hitting 25 points in the Seminole game Friday and 25 against Midland. His lowest number of points per game came in the Palo Duro game, when he got only 11 points.

Head Basketball Coach Cuby Kitchens speaks very highly of Robert for his activities both on and off the field.

This column will appear on the newly formed sports page of the Hereford Brand. We feel local sports fans want a page they can look to for their sports news. We want to run anything of interest in sportsmen in Deaf Smith County.

Any person bagging deer, quail, pheasant, ducks or any other game animal which happens to be in season should call the sports department at EM4-2030 and let us mention these items in this column.

Hereford Whitefaces met the Dimmitt Bobcats for the second time of the season Tuesday evening. The Herd beat the Bobcats 53-48 in the opening game of the season and proved they were even better on their home court as they walloped the Bobcats Tuesday.

The B-team for the Herd was issued their first loss of the season by the Dimmitt Junior Varsity Tuesday.

The junior varsity took their first win of the season from Dimmitt, 35-30 and returned the following week to put down the Littlefield Wildcats, 45-29. The junior varsity has been inactive during the two doubleheaders played at Amarillo and Seminole by the varsity.

We hope to have the final wrap-up on district statistics in football for local sports fans with

PLAYER OF WEEK

Strange Hitting 17.3 Per Game

Robert Strange, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Strange, 203 N. Bennett, continued to pace the Hereford Whiteface Basketball team in the scoring column this week as he is averaging more than 17 points per game.

Strange, a senior at Hereford High School, is averaging 17.3 points per game and leads the Herd in almost every department thus far in the season.

He has made 36 of his 44 free throw attempts thus far for an average of nearly 82 percent.

"This free throw percentage is real astounding," Coach Cuby Kitchens said. "There are very few boys in the district carrying this type of average on free throws."

"Robert is doing a real good job for us this season. His field goal attempt average is really impressive and he is the only player hitting in the double figures thus far in the season."

Virgil Strange, Robert's brother, was a former standout for the HHS cage team. Strange graduated in 1962.

According to Kitchens, Robert has worked harder than anyone this year and it is showing up in the games.

He is a two-year letterman, playing on the varsity his junior and senior years.

Strange was not a starter in his two previous seasons, but served the team well in the substitution tanks. Robert was not the high-scoring type player last season that he has proved to be this season.

Robert started out the season with an impressive 17 points against Dimmitt. He hit for 25 points against the Littlefield Wildcats last week as he did against the Seminole Indians Friday evening.

Strange has been held to 11 points by the Plainsmen of Monterey and by Palo Duro of Amarillo. Thus far in the six games this season, he has posted his scoring in the double figures.

"We are real proud of Robert and are very sure he will continue to do the fine job during the remainder of the season that he has done thus far," Kitchens said.

"We are going to have a real tough schedule this season and are depending on Robert and his teammates to pull us through the season. It is going to take a lot of improvement on everyone's part to have a real successful season, but these boys have what it takes if they are willing to put out the effort."

"They have missed some easy shots this season and have been making some of their easier shots the hard way. If they get to where they can quit missing these and take advantage of breaks, we could develop into a real fine team," Kitchens said.

The next game will be held Tuesday at Littlefield. The Herd has already posted a 72-55 win over the Wildcats here last week.

Strange was a standout in the Littlefield game.

The next game after the Littlefield game will be a doubleheader played here on Dec. 19.

Stanton Eighth Graders Defeat Estacado 19-17

Stanton Junior High Dogies' eighth graders won a hard fought battle over the Estacado Junior High of Plainview in a second overtime Monday evening, 19-17, bringing their season record to 3-2.

Bill Cole led the scoring for the eighth graders with six point as he hit three field goals and missed one free throw attempt.

Brice Hunter was close behind with five points, while George Bullard hit for four points with two field goals.

Jerry Russell and John Martin each had two points to conclude the scoring for the Dogies.

Son of Estacado was the leading scorer for the opponents with six points, while Stringer and Hodel each had four points.

None of the players in the game were fouled out.

Hereford had a 9-5 edge at the end of the first quarter, scoring only two points the second quarter to have only a 11-7 edge. The Dogies did not score in the third quarter and the opponents hit two points in the fourth stanza. Hereford hit six points while Estacado had eight to tie the game at 17-17.

The first two minute overtime saw neither team scoring, but finally Hereford scored before the end of the second overtime to win the game, 19-17.

Both teams hit eight field goals while Hereford won the game by sinking three free throw tosses while Estacado had only one.

Estacado was charged with 12 fouls and Hereford was charged with only 10.

Estacado Beats Dogie Seventh Graders, 20-14

Stanton Junior High Dogies' seventh graders dropped a low-scoring bout to the Estacado Junior High School's seventh grade 20-14 Monday evening at Plainview.

Marsh Pittman was leading scorer for the local team as he hit six points on three field goals.

Allen Hardin had three points Woodward and Percy Mays had two each and Santry Rush had one.

The Stanton team was trailing 6-3 at the end of the first stanza and went to the lockers at half-time with a game tied at seven-all.

Estacado pulled ahead 14-8 at the third quarter and went on to retain their six point lead to the end of the game.

High point man for Estacado was Ott with eight points, which included four field goals.

Roberts and Hale hit five each, while Hanna hit two for the opponents.

Strange Held To Six Points; Joe Childers Has 17

134 urbar Strange Held For Hereford Whitefaces trounced to a 61-37 victory over the Dimmitt Bobcats in a return match at Whiteface Gymnasium Tuesday evening.

Joe Childers led the attack for the Herd as he hit 17 points to lead the scoring for the Herd, while the Bobcats managed to contain Robert Strange to six points, for the first time this season.

Strange had been averaging 17.3 points per game and had hit in the double figures in every game previous to the Dimmitt game.

He made both of his free throw attempts and hit two field goals, while Childers was hitting seven field goals and hit three of four free throws for his 17 points.

This was the highest points per game Childers has hit this season. His point per game average was 9.4 points, previous to the Dimmitt game.

Gene Duvall hit eight points to place second in scoring for the Herd while Charlie Moreno was hitting six. Steve Hodges had one of his better nights of the season in hitting seven points.

Mike Moore, Roger Owen and Robbie Lemon all hit four points each, while Gary Payne was scoring three.

Greg Richards hit two for the Herd to wind up the scoring.

Dimmitt did not have a single player to hit in the double figures, but Dickie Dyer and Bob Bradford hit nine each to tie for the scoring lead on the Dimmitt side.

Ronnie Kenmore hit for seven, while Steve Hutton and Chuck McKinney were scoring five each. Anthony Mays was the only other player to score for the Bobcats, adding two points to their total tally.

The teams were tied at eight-all at the end of the first stanza and the Herd only had a one point edge at half-time.

However a big third quarter for the Herd gave them a 40-24 lead as the Whitefaces hit for 21 points compared with four for the Herd.

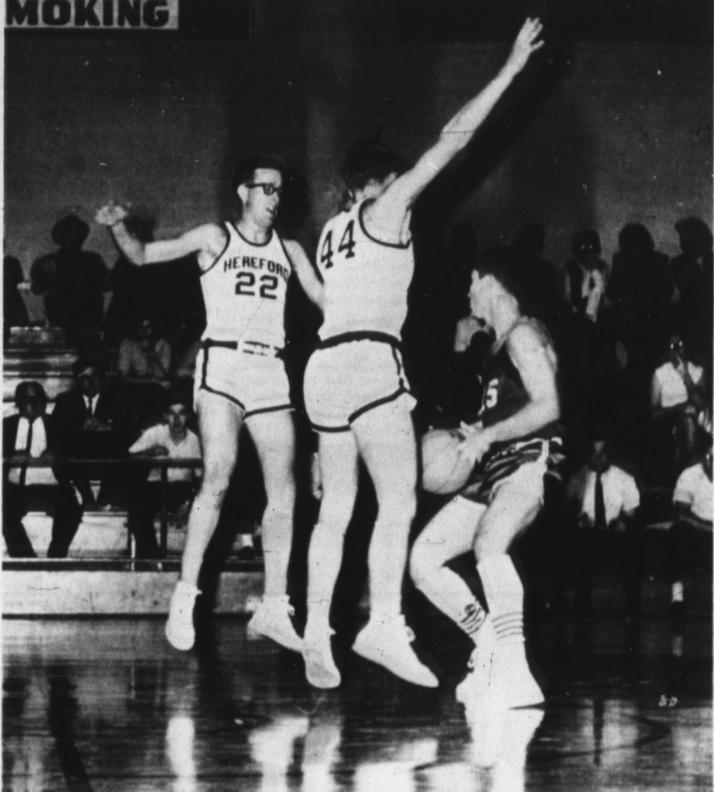

The Herd hit 19 points in the final stanza, while the Bobcats were hitting 13 points.

The local boys hit only seven of their 17 free throw attempts, while the Bobcats hit seven of their 12 free throw attempts.

Referee for the game was Jack Martin and the Umpire was Buc Dugger.

The Herd hit a total of 27 field goals, while the Bobcats hit only 15.

No player was fouled out in the game.

Herd Drops Both Games Of Doubleheader At Seminole

Hereford Whitefaces dropped both games of a doubleheader at Seminole Friday and Saturday evening as they were thoroughly trounced by the Seminole Indians in the opening game 81-61 and by the Monterey Plainsman of Lubbock, 101-48.

Robert Strange played true to his regular form in the Seminole game as he hit 25 points to pace scoring for the Herd. Strange was the only player to hit in the double figures for the Herd.

The Indians led the Herd in every stanza Friday evening, chalking up a 40-29 half time lead.

The Herd hit 13 of their 26 free throw attempts for a 50 percent average, which is comparatively close to their average thus far in the season.

Joe Childers had eight points in the game, while Roger Lemons had seven.

Gene Duvall and Charlie Moreno had six each and Steve Hodges had five. The only other Herd cagemen to hit for points were Roger Owen and Gary Roberson, who had two each.

Strange hit eight of his nine free throw attempts to lead his teammates in that department also.

Jim Nelms was high-point man for Seminole as he chalked up 25 points. Ted Welch hit 18 to boost the Indians in their decisive win over the Herd in the opening game.

Two other cagers, Hal Moore and Fred Simpson hit for 10 and 13 points respectively for the Indians.

Moore was the only player to foul out for the Indians, while Joe Childers was the only Whiteface to foul out. Hereford was charged with 16 fouls, Seminole was charged with 22.

Seminole posted a 27-17 first quarter lead and widened the margin to 40-29 at the end of the first half. The score at the end of the third quarter was 55-40 and the margin was widened to 20 points at the end of the game.

In the final game of the doubleheader Saturday evening, the Herd was handily put down by the Plainsman of Monterey in Lubbock, 101-48.

The Plainsman contained Strange better than any previous effort this season as they held the Hereford "fireball" to 11 points.

Both Strange and Childers, leading scorers for the Herd, fouled out to hamper the Herd in the final half of the game.

Monterey had seven players hit in the double figures as Gary Hughes led the scoring with 17 points.

Earnie Gilkerson and Craig Wright hit 11 each for the Plainsman, while Bill Abernathy, David Reed and Charlie Hitt all had ten each.

Steve Hodges had nine points for the Herd, while Joe Childers had eight points. Robbie Lemons had five points, while Charlie Moreno and Roger Owen had four each; Gene Duvall posted three and Mike Moore and Kenny Justice had two each to conclude the scoring for the Herd.

Hereford committed 20 fouls compared with 19 charged to the Plainsman.

Hereford completed 13 of their 21 free throw attempts, while the Plainsmen were completing 25 of their 28 free throw attempts.

Snyder won the double header after they defeated Monterey Friday evening in the opening round, 67-71.

The mighty Tigers returned the following evening to trounce Seminole and win the event. Seminole placed second, while Monterey defeated Hereford for the third place position.

The American Power Boat Association sanction 302 regatta during 1964 as compared to 475 the previous year.

Texas or TCU has been the host team for seven of the past nine Cotton Bowl games.

After Notre Dame beat Navy, Middle coach Wayne Hardin said: "Notre Dame is probably the best team in the country."

BOBCATS WIN 49-45

Junior Varsity Falls To Dimmitt

Hereford junior varsity cage team dropped their first game in three outings this season as they lost to the Dimmitt Bobcat Junior varsity, 49-45 in a battle which saw the lead saw back and forth on several occasions.

Oscar Holmes continued leading the scoring battle for the junior varsity as he hit 12 points to pace the Herd.

John Howell led the scoring for the Bobcats as he hit 17 points and gave the visitors the edge.

The Hereford junior varsity had defeated the same Dimmitt team in the opening game of the season at Dimmitt, 35-30, but failed to come out on top in the tussle Tuesday evening.

Bill Watts and Billy Frank had six points each, while Randy Tooley and Larry Champ had five points each.

Brami Knox, Nate Stark and Donnie Welby had four, three and two points respectively.

Bill Watts was the only player to be fouled out of the contest.

The junior varsity hit seven of their 16 free throw attempts for the evening, while the Bobcats were hitting 12 of their 15 free throw attempts for nearly an 80 percent completion average.

The Bobcats led in the first quarter 12-6, but the score was evened up at the half, at 24-all. The Bobcats outscored the Herd junior varsity in the third quarter as they gained a 37-35 edge, which the local boys failed to overcome.

The Herd had 19 field goals, while the Dimmitt team had only 18, so the key to the game fell in the better percentage of free throws made by the visitors.

A large crowd was on hand for the contest.

Referee for the game was Jack Martin and Umpire was Bus Dugger.

Next junior varsity game will be Tuesday at Littlefield. The junior varsity defeated the Littlefield team Dec. 1, 45-29.

CAUGHT IN A TRAP — Ronnie Kenmore, 12, with ball, appears to be caught in a trap as Gary Roberson, 22, and Mike Moore, 44, close in on him at mid-court in an attempt to regain possession of the ball. ### H. D. CHATTER Events At End Of Year Bring Club Programs

By ARGEN DRAPER
Home Demonstration Agent
Besides Christmas other fine events come at the end of the year. That's the clubs achievement events. The clubs feel that this is the completion of a very good year. My only regret is that I can't be more than one place at a time. Congratulations to home demonstration clubs, 4-H clubs and subcommittees for fine accomplishments in 1964.

The work of the Family Economics Committee has been recognized again. On Thursday I will help with the Money & Credit Conference in Dimmitt. This program begins at 9:30 and lasts until noon. Others on the program are James Murphrey, area farm specialist; Lynn Parks, specialist in Consumer Information Relating to Textiles & Clothing. Also, Allen Roberson of a stock exchange of Amarillo.

Some of you will remember that Mr. Roberson gave a talk to a farm and home management group in Hereford about a year ago.

The Turrentine girls and Mrs. Bess Werner were on an area television show telling about their Barn Museum. They have had a number of calls and some visitors from Dalhart to see the antiques. The comment from local folks is Carol Turrentine's answer about what she likes best about the museum. Carol, a Money Management contest winner, answered, "The Money." The Turrentines and Mrs. Werner are enjoying most of all the visiting they do at the museum. They are ready to cooperate when the local plans work out for a county museum. Too, a home demonstration club passed a resolution for each club member to donate a day a year to work in the local museum. This might be an aid to getting the civic project rolling.

Mrs. R. L. Wilson, of all people, said she was going to quit sewing. I understand there was quite a scream from one of the local merchants as Lizzie has always done so much sewing for herself and others.

At least two major changes affecting the financial status of many American families have taken place during the past decade: Double paychecks and more family savings.

This observation comes from Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Approximately 40 percent of the families with wage earners in 1950 were receiving two or more paychecks, compared with more than 50 percent of wage earner families now receiving two or more paychecks.

The working wife is primarily responsible, says Mrs. Meyer. One out of three married women are now employed.

Average family income during the past 10 years has risen from about $3,300 to just under $6,000. The average is for the nation as a whole. In many instances, two or more paychecks have served to boost family income into the $10,000 or higher bracket.

Naturally, two paychecks and higher incomes have had an effect on savings. The Home Loan Bank Board, a government agency that keeps an eye on the thrift of the nation, reports that total savings of individuals are now approximately $400 billion, or nearly twice that of a decade ago.

"This works out to the equivalent of over $7,000 per family as the government measures thrift," says Mrs. Meyer.

With cooler weather already here and more just around the corner, many homeowners are making plans to winterize their homes for increased winter comfort and economy.

A good place to start this job is with the doors and windows, advises W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer, Texas A & M University. Many windows

The Comanches Saved Texas, Writer Claims

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There seems to be some current thinking in the nation that the Apaches were the toughest and roughest of all the Indians. But if you have an ounce of Texas chauvinism you must support the claim of the Comanches to that title.

The Comanches are sorta Texas' own, and Texans might be sending their taxes to Madrid or Mexico City if it hadn't been for them.

The story of how the Comanches stopped the Spaniards in their march to control Central Texas is told in "The San Saba Mission," published by the University of Texas Press and written by Robert S. Weddle, owner and publisher of the Menard News.

The Spaniards, hoping to Christianize and pacify the Apaches, established a mission town and fort at San Saba more than two centuries ago.

But the Apaches, running around all over the country, were not about to be pacified or become mission Indians.

Actually, the Apaches were being squeezed between the Spaniards and the Comanches and tried to use the Spaniards and the Comanches for their own purposes.

The Comanches paid little attention to either the Apaches or the Spaniards except to kill them.

At this point, the Spanish decided to really invade Comanche territory and teach them a first-class lesson.

The Comanches already had learned their lesson. And profiting from it, they acquired firearms, learned to use them and adopted some of the better features of European military warfare with the French their eager teachers.

And the Comanches demonstrated what terrible soldiers the Spaniards were. The troops of Spain had conquered vast areas of North and South America as long as they faced only arrows and spears. When they collided with fighters who could shoot back with something more than wood and flint, they collapsed.

The expedition did win a skirmish about where Dallas now stands, but then ran into the main force of Comanches and their allies on the Red River. The result was a rout for the half-trained, out-manned and out-manuevered Europeans.

The Spaniards retreated back to San Saba and some of them kept going beyond that. The mission and fort faded away two centuries ago, leaving San Antonio the only secure spot in that region.

The Comanches roamed Texas, free and presumably reasonably happy, for generations after that.

The Indians can't take all the credit for the Spaniards' failure. The church and the military leaders argued on any topic that came up, and indecision stretching from San Saba clear back to Madrid had a part.

Author Weddle has some fine dramatic stories of battles, and has pointed up well the significance of the San Saba installations.

The story starts a little slow. Pass over the first few chapters and you reach the real yarn.

The last time a Big Eight team appeared in the Cotton Bowl (1946), Missouri gained 408 yards rushing but lost to Texas, 40-27.

Use Post Office's New ZIP Code, Mail Early, Suggests Postmaster

All major post offices have recently converted their parcel post sorting and transportation facilities to the ZIP Code system, reports Nolan Grady, Hereford Post Office.

This is important to people in all areas of the country, since almost every parcel at one time on its trip goes through these offices. The use of ZIP Codes can save 24 hours or more in the delivery of most parcel post.

"ZIP Codes on parcels means a far less chance of damage because of more direct routing and fewer handlings, but the success of the program hinges on public use of the ZIP Code numbers in addressing packages," he said.

Put ZIP On return

Grady suggested that even if people do not know the ZIP Code of the address to which their mail is going, they should use the code on return addresses. "We will help you with the ZIP Code on your outgoing parcels; however, you can help the 'line' move faster by including the ZIP Code in the address before you come to the post office," he said. "When cards and packages arrive, the five digit return address codes should be added to your Christmas lists for use in the future."

ZIP coded mail from smaller post offices will generally be sent to the nearest main post office or "sectional center". From there, it is sent directly to the sectional center nearest the final destination. In most instances, this eliminates at least one further separation of mail.

Quicker Route

By way of illustration, Grady pointed out that a parcel mailed from Hereford to Altus, Okla., without ZIP Code must be sent to Oklahoma City for further sorting. From there it would go to the Lawton sectional center and then on to Altus. If the package is ZIP Coded, it will go directly from the Amarillo sectional center to the Lawton sectional center which will save at least 24 hours and cut the cost of transportation considerably.

In many instances the Hereford Post Office will have sufficient volume to send our mail direct to distant sectional center offices, which produces even more savings in time and number of handlings.

Boosts 5-Cent

Grady also wants to encourage patrons to use the new 5-cent Christmas stamps. Greeting cards mailed at the first-class rate may contain written messages and will be forwarded or returned if undeliverable. Those mailed at the third-class rate of 4-cents will not be returned or forwarded nor may not contain written messages. Four new colored Christmas stamps are available this year.

Grady urges citizens to mail early. "The Post Office Department will handle approximately seven billion pieces of mail during the pre-Christmas peak and we want all of your parcels to be delivered on time," he said.

Public Speaking Is Club Subject

Mrs. Leroy Aven recently discussed "Steps for Speech Preparation" for members of Dawn Boys' 4-H club.

Club projects ideas were discussed by Juston McBride, county agent. He offered help on any project undertaken by club members.

Members present included Robert and Paul Galley; Tommy and Wayne Betzen; Dion Miller; Glenn Polan; Mike Engler; Kevin, Steven and Neil McAndrews; Stephen Hoffman and Gerak Witkowski; visitors Mike Souter, Mrs. Clarence Bezen and Sylvia and Mark, Tony Hoffman, and leaders Mrs. Earl Plank, Mrs. H. H. Miller and Mrs. Aven.

The Initial Teaching Alphabet was developed in England by Sir James Pitman from the theories of his grandfather, Sir Isaac Pitman, of shorthand fame.

Classing Office Says Micronaire Readings Lower

LUBBOCK (Special) — Average staple length and micronaire readings were lower last week, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock office.

Volume of cotton received at the three South Plains USDA Classing Offices was the highest for any week this season. The adverse weather conditions on Thursday and Friday temporarily halted harvesting activities, but the three offices continued receiving a heavy volume of cotton because of the backlog at gins and warehouses.

The three USDA Offices on the South Plains classed 240,400 samples during the week ending Friday, bringing the season's total to 678,100. At this date last year the three offices had classed 725,100 samples.

71% In White

During the past week 71 per cent of the cotton classed at the USDA Lubbock Classing Office was in the White Grades and 29 per cent in the Light Spotted grades. Middling cotton made up only 5 per cent of the total, Strict Low Middling Plus 1 per cent, Strict Low Middling 50 per cent, Low Middling Plus 6 per cent, Strict Good Ordinary Plus and Strict Good Ordinary 1 per cent, Middling Light Spotted 16 per cent, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 12 per cent and Low Middling Light Spotted 1 per cent.

Average staple length was down slightly from the previous week. Seventy-seven per cent of all cotton classed was 15/16 of an inch and shorter. The previous week 72 per cent was 15/16 of an inch and shorter.

Micronaire readings declined sharply during the week. Seventy-two per cent of all cotton tested in the Lubbock Office was in the desirable category of 3.5 and better. The previous week 81 per cent of all cotton tested was in this category.

Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities were: Strict Low Middling 20/32 — 26.85, Strict Low Middling 15/16 — 27.35, Strict Low Middling 31/32 — 27.80, Middling Light Spotted 29/32 — 27.25, Middling Light Spotted 15/16 — 27.65, Middling Light Spotted 31/32 — 28.20, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 29/32 — 26.25, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 15/16 — 26.75, Strict Low

Dec. 20th Important Date To Show Entries

FORT WORTH (Special) — Dec. 20th is an important date for exhibitors planning to show in the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, according to W. R. Watt, president and manager.

That is the closing date for cattle, horses, sheep and swine. Poultry, rabbit and pigeon exhibitors will have until Jan. 15th to file entries. The 69th edition of the show officially opens at 2 p.m. Jan. 29th.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — It was roundup time in the suburbs the other day when a saddle horse jumped a fence.

The Duval County patrol wheeled up in force — three patrol cars and one motorcycle — to keep the horse off the nearby expressway jammed with rush hour traffic.

Patrolman J. B. Edwards, on his motorcycle, got the job of hot pursuit. He zipped down paths, up driveways, around houses and through yards for an hour until the horse finally wore down and Patrolman Fred Dozier slipped a rope around its neck.

"That horse had nerve enough to nuzzle me on the jaw as though the whole thing had been a big joke," Dozier said.

Life expectancy for Americans has increased from 47.3 years in 1900 to about 70 today.

Prices paid farmers for cottonseed remained steady the past week with prices ranging from $45 to $55 per ton.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Comish Sketches Proposed Plans For State Water

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Officials of State and Federal water agencies and of river authorities and cities, heard the Texas Water Commission outline the procedures by which it will develop a statewide water plan for Texas.

They gave it their warm endorsement, and pledged to help the state agency in its job of putting all the many regional and river basin plans into a unified whole.

However, spokesmen for cities disagree sharply over the vital issue of diverting water from areas of surplus to areas of need.

Hear Eight Objectives
In two conferences called by Texas Water Commission, city officials and river authority and district leaders heard eight objectives of statewide water planning outlined. In a third conference Dec. 10, industry representatives reviewed the proposed program.

TWC Chief Engineer John Vandertulp lists these goals for the planning program:

An adequate water supply for all purposes — flood control, water resources for fish and wildlife, water quality management, ground water recharge, and provisions for navigation, drainage and hydro-electric power;

Coordination of proposals of state, local and federal agencies with a view to statewide and area needs;

Study Desalting
Determination of feasibility of converting sea water and brackish waters into fresh water;

Determining a and specifying dams, conduits and other physical facilities needed;

Establishment of a timetable for construction;

Determining agency coordination necessary in operation of projects for maximum benefits;

Division of responsibility among federal, state and local interests in financing, building and operating water facilities; and Recommending means of carrying out the responsibilities.

Rights and property in basins of origin must be protected and assurances given that only surplus waters will be exported, Vandertulp said.

Representatives of areas with rich water resources warned against panalyzing their growth and prosperity by tapping their supplies to aid less fortunate regions. Areas of shortage urged consideration of their needs.

John Simmons of Orange, general manager of Sabine River Authority and president of Texas Water Commission, warned against inflexibility and called for a "living plan" that can be brought up to date regularly.

ONE-HOUSE LEGISLATURE?
— Latest of the proposals being prepared for the 1965 Legislature is one from Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont to abolish the State Senate and establish a one-house Legislature, such as the one in Nebraska.

Smith's unicameral plan, which he says he'll introduce shortly after the Legislature convenes on Jan. 12, includes proposals to reduce the House of Representatives' membership from 150 to 100, and raise House members' pay from $4800 a year to $10,000 a year.

The lieutenant governor's job of presiding over the Senate also would be abolished. This is one bill that likely will not make through either house of Texas' bicameral Legislature, much less both.

POLLUTION — Texas Water Pollution Control Board, set back in court in its efforts to prevent pollution of West Texas ground water supplies by oil-field brine, announces that it will appeal the decision to the higher courts.

But the board will continue to supervise disposal of oil and gas brine after it leaves the producer's hands.

MENTAL HEALTH REPORT RECEIVED — Texas ranks 39th among the states in services to the mentally ill, the Committee for Mental Health Planning reports.

Committee's report to Gov. John Connally emphasized the need for consolidation of all state mental health services.

Early detection, early treatment and a tremendous saving of time and money on the part of the patient and the taxpayers were listed as some of the prime benefits of the community care program the committee recommends.

COURTS SPEAK — Third Court of Civil Appeals agreed with trial court that El Paso Electric Company must pay occupation tax to the state for electricity sold in Texas, though generated by its New Mexico power station. Company had argued the tax would violate interstate commerce clause of the federal constitution and create risk of multiple tax burden on interstate business.

Third Court also declared unconstitutional an amendment to state liquor laws aimed at regulating export businesses operating along Texas' border. Decision upheld Austin district court decision that state could not regulate the exporters handling liquor through customs bonded warehouses.

A Pecos County farmer, James T. Slaughter, won a five-year battle for water rights on Barilla Creek when the State Supreme Court endorsed a ruling that his water rights were secure under the 1895 Irrigation Act, and had not been diminished by passage of a 1913 law.

SMALL TRACT VICTORY — Ten operators of 22 wells in Port Acres Field of Jefferson County were granted bigger special gas production allowances by Texas Railroad Commission.

Commission order sets allowable of 325,000 cubic feet daily for 382 days, 238,000 cubic feet a day afterward, instead of 150,000 cubic feet previously established. Commission agreed the earlier allowable set Nov. 14, 1963, would not permit them to recover their investment. Operators had asked allowable of 350,000 cubic feet a day.

WELFARE ROLLS INCREASE — Texans on welfare rolls increased from 260,781 to 264,639 during the last year, Texas Department of Public Welfare reports.

DPW's annual report shows public assistance payments of $221,100,000. Biggest share, $159,400,000, went to old age assistance for an average of 230,005. Grants ranged from $5 to $83, and averaged $58.16 a month.

Aid to families with dependent children came to $18,700,000; aid to needy blind to $4,000,000; and aid to permanently and totally disabled to $6,200,000. Administrative and service costs were $10,100,000. Federal government provided 74 per cent of all funds, or $164,600,000.

SLANT WELL JUDGMENT — Total judgments in slant oil well cases reached $1,055,595 — with recovering of $8,000 in a Rusk County case.

Austin District Judge Herman Jones entered the new judgment against J. K. Maxwell of Kilgore, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr alleged Maxwell's Rusk County Well had been deviated and operated in violation of Railroad Commission rules.

FINAL BAY STUDY HEARING SET — Spokesmen for news papers, radio and television have been invited to testify before the final hearing of the Committee for the Study of the Bays of Texas.

Testimony on municipal industrial and recreational pollution of bay waters has been heard in five previous sessions.

Sen. Culp Kreuger of El Campo, chairman, said the committee's chief concern is to determine if any legislation is necessary to cope with problems arising from multiple uses of bays.

Committee will report its recommendations to the governor and Legislature.

SHORT SHORTS — Texas State Committee for Public Education reports signs of progress and plans for program expansion in its anti-dropout program.

Attorney General Carr ruled that the Veterans' Land Board may use funds after Dec. 1, 1965, to pay the purchase price on lands it agreed to purchase prior to that date.

Parks and Wildlife Department authorized Dec. 11, 12 and 13 as open season on aoudad sheep, for the second straight year.

Terrell Blodgett, Ranger native who has served as city manager of Waco and Garland and assistant city manager in Austin, was appointed to Governor Connally's staff as coordinator of the U. S. Economic Opportunity Act in Texas.

Cotton and peanut crops were speeded along by mild weather, U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Shortcuts For Christmas

In grandmother's day, preparations for Christmas were started at least a month before Dec. 25. Grandmother bought, baked, peeled, sliced, sorted and belled till her fingers wore thin.

Today's less kitchen-anchored mom takes short cuts to holiday cookery. Instead of investing hours in making complicated fruit cakes, she may bake for Christmas a Fruit and Nut Coffee Loaf in half an hour at the host. The latter is made with Cook Book's Brown 'N' Serve Rolls.

These American Bakeries muffins stuffed with candied fruit are reminiscent of the best taste treats of the horse and buggy era. Yet they save hours of work.

FRUIT AND NUT COFFEE LOAF

- 1/2 cup mixed candied fruit
1/3 cup chopped nutsmeats
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
3 Brown 'n' Serve Rolls
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine

Thin confectioners' sugar icing - Mix candied fruit, nutsmeats and corn syrup. Split Brown 'n' Serve Rolls to but not through bottom crust. Spoon candied fruit mixtures into slits.

Arrange filled rolls in greased 9 x 5 inch loaf pan. Spoon any leftover filling over and around rolls. Drizzle with butter.

Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until well-browned. Glaze with thin confectioners' sugar icing while warm. Garnish with additional fruits and nuts, if desired. This makes 4-6 servings.

Leaders Of Two Service Groups Cite Agreement

Hereford's top officers in the Red Cross and Civil Air Patrol have praised the joining of the two organizations - on a national and local level - in support of the Red Cross national mission of disaster relief.

The agreement provides that whenever the Civil Air Patrol is supporting the Air Force during an emergency, Red Cross will request CAP support through the USAF designated mission coordinator - controlling the CAP resources being utilized.

Can Call Direct - However, in an emergency in which Red Cross needs transportation by air of its personnel, materials or medical supplies to carry out its official relief work but which is of a nature not warranting Air Force participation, Red Cross may call upon CAP unit commanders directly for use of CAP aircraft and personnel.

Both Melvin Jayroe, chairman of the Deaf Smith County chapter of the American Red Cross, and Dr. Milton Adams, commander of the Hereford Composite Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol, hailed the announcement of the agreement.

Adds Mobility - This working agreement will

COLOR-CODED WATER - HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Fire plugs in Hopkinsville come in a variety of colors - red, green and yellow.

It's not the decor, but rather a code to let firemen know the size of the water main serving the hydrant.

Plugs served by large mains are green, the ones on medium size lines yellow and those on small lines are red.

give the Deaf Smith County Red Cross a mobility and speed of movement which it may urgently need in time of emergency. We welcome this agreement and recognize it as a valuable addition to the emergency services provided by both organizations," Jayroe said.

Adams commented that the agreement was a welcome addition to the emergency services provided by both organizations.

national responsibility for the Civil Air Patrol. Red Cross personnel perform many invaluable services to the public during times of disaster as well as during normal times," he said. "If Civil Air Patrol can in any way make that service more effective by its participation, the local squadron will be ready to lend any assistance requested."

108-Year-Old Negro Still Fishes In Mississippi

By JERRY CURRY

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP) - Willie Edwards has gone fishin' nearly every day since the Civil War. "I've caught a mess of 'em in that time," said the 108-year-old Negro whose family records show he was born at Canton, Miss., on March 19, 1856. "But I can't tell you how to catch any fish - depends on the man."

Every day the weather's ripe, Willie calls his dogs and ambles up the levee in front of his rural southeast Missouri home 15 mile south of Sikeston. There he fishes in the backwater of the Mississippi River.

"The only way you'll get rid of Willie is to tie him out on the levee and let the 'skeeters eat him," grinned W. H. Bennett, a white friend and neighbor who runs a nearby grocery store. "I came here in 1922 and Willie was old then. Now I'm old, and I'm sure he's at least 108."

Willie came to this flat farm country in 1914. The cotton fields around LaForge, a community so small it isn't on the map, reminded him of his native Mississippi.

"I can barely remember my folks," he said of his parents who were slaves. "I was 9 years old when the Civil War ended but things didn't change too much for us colored people. You still had to go to the old massa if you wanted to eat."

But the war's end did give Willie more freedom than he had dreamed of, and a lot of spare time. So he started fishing and hunting when he wasn't working in the fields. He still hunts a lot.

Hunts, Fishes for Food

"My old eyes are still good enough to hunt squirrel, rabbit and 'coon," he said. "And I'm still a pretty good shot. Besides, I've got four good dogs to help me. My hunting is for the table."

Willie fishes for food and fun. "I think the fishin' pole has a lot to do with what you catch," he said. "Willow's the lightest but ash is the strongest - and I like a strong pole when I'm pulling in the catfish."

Willie selected an ash from his front yard and walked up the levee about 200 yards in front of his four-room frame house. His dogs followed.

He was the picture of contentment there on the levee as he baited the line with a worm and tossed it into the backwater. A few minutes later he landed a two-pound mud catfish. He threaded a short stringer chain through its gills and laid the fish beside him on the grass.

Willie hauled in another big cat, put it on the chain and started down toward his house. He owns 44 acres, most of which he rents to white planters who live around him. The rental, plus $50 monthly he receives from the state pension plan, keeps him "in pretty good shape."

Occasionally two of Willie's four children drop in to check on him.

"You'd think I was old enough

Band Wins Acclaim As Grid Team Has Very Poor Season

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Southern Methodist's football team had a dismal season but the band, called "Ninety-Six Guys and a Doll," won all sorts of acclaim.

The Best Dressed Band in the Land is one title hung on the musical Mustangs. At least it has volume.

The band has 14 different uniforms and changes at least once during a football game.

Ski Slopes Of Interest, Gals!

NEW YORK (AP) — Where the boys are, according to a lot of propaganda, is on the beaches anywhere under the sun at vacation times. But girls in vast numbers are there too.

Where the boys are in satisfactory proportion from the female point of view is on the snowy slopes in the high altitude all with rudders on their feet.

Most wise girls do not like these statistics to get around and possibly spoil a good thing. Still, every man hunter should know that two out of every three of the 1,750,000 skiers cutting through the pristine snows in the U. S. and Canada this season are male.

And four out of seven are single. Furthermore, in many a female's estimation these winter sportsmen are most attractive men.

Is it any wonder then that 75 per cent of the females getting a lift up mountainsides these days are single girls? And is it any wonder that ski clothes of the year in 1962, thinks the activity should mostly be fun. But the Mustang Band takes no back seat in musical ability. Last fall an "SMU Mustang Jazz" album was released and is now claimed to be the largest selling single college album in the nation.

So the band is noted for its music as well as sartorial splendor.

'DRINKING' ORANGE TREES GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Orange trees love water as well as ducks do. Plant physiologists at the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station found that a healthy 15-year-old orange tree weighs 1,000 pounds and half the weight is water. A 15-year-old tree can produce 500 pounds of fruit a year and the fruit is 80 per cent water. The scientists reported each citrus tree "drinks" 30 to 50 gallons of water a day.

Band Wins Acclaim As Grid Team Has Very Poor Season

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Southern Methodist's football team had a dismal season but the band, called "Ninety-Six Guys and a Doll," won all sorts of acclaim.
"The Best Dressed Band in the Land" is one title hung on the musical Mustangs. At least it has volume.
The band has 14 different uniforms and changes at least once during a football game.
The lone majorette, Dotty Wilson, is the reason for the "96 Guys and a Doll" appellation.
The high-stepping band has such things as candy-striped blazers, pony attachments, tuxedos and even nightshirts.
The dash for new duds takes careful planning. Numbered plastic travel bags help, but once during the Ohio State game — Director Irving Dreibrudt had some agonizing moments when things went awry and it looked as if the band would miss the halftime gun.
"Where are they?" shouted Dreibrudt into his walkie-talkie. They were on their way, replied assistant band leader Jack Rohr in the ramp. They made it.
Most of the time it goes smoothly and the two-way communications help.
Aren't 14 costumes expensive? "I got a deal," whispers Dreibrudt. His goal is 20 costumes for 10 football games "so the band will never have to be seen in the same set."
Dotty has been twirling seven years—since she was 14. She regards the boys of the band as "my 96 brothers." But her agile antics seem to evoke a bit more than brotherly admiration from the young men.
Dreibrudt, Texas bandmaster

Ski Slopes Of Interest, Gals!

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Where the boys are, according to a lot of propaganda, is on the beaches anywhere under the sun at vacation times. But girls in vast numbers are there too.
Where the boys are in satisfactory proportion from the female point of view is on the snowy slopes in the high altitude—all with rudders on their feet.
Most wise girls do not like these statistics to get around and possibly spoil a good thing. Still, every man hunter should know that two out of every three of the 1,750,000 skiers cutting through the pristine snows in the U. S. and Canada this season are male.
And four out of seven are single.
Furthermore, in many a female's estimation these winter sportsmen are most attractive men.
Is it any wonder then that 75 per cent of the females getting a lift up mountainsides these days are single girls? And is it any wonder that ski clothes of the year in 1962, thinks the activity should mostly be fun. But the Mustang Band takes no back seat in musical ability. Last fall an "SMU Mustang Jazz" album was released and is now claimed to be the largest selling single college album in the nation.

So the band is noted for its music as well as sartorial splendor.

Drinking Orange Trees

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Orange trees love water as well as ducks do.
Plant physiologists at the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station found that a healthy 15-year-old orange tree weighs 1,000 pounds and half the weight is water.
A 15-year-old tree can produce 500 pounds of fruit a year and the fruit is 80 per cent water.
The scientists reported each citrus tree "drinks" 30 to 50 gallons of water a day.

Headstrong '4-F' Volunteer Stays In Peace Corps

By KENNETH L. WHITING

FREETOWN, Sierra Leone (AP) — One of the prized volunteers in a unique Peace Corps experiment in Africa is a red-bearded Californian who was kicked out of the corps on his last day of training.

Doctors who expelled 21-year-old Jeff Mareck because of a childhood skull injury assumed he would quietly return home from the training camp at the University of Maine in Orono. Instead Mareck went to Washington and appealed to top Peace Corps officials. They were polite but insisted rules were rules. Still not interested in returning home to Novato, Calif., Mareck took a freighter to England and another ship from there to this West African capital.

He walked into Peace Corps headquarters in Freetown and announced he would work with the volunteers. Officials stared, then shrugged and agreed that anybody who wanted to remain with the corps as badly as Mareck did should be accommodated.

The Peace Corps is running a pilot project known as rural development in this former British colony. It is akin to the corps' better-known community development program in Latin America. Basically a self-help project, corpsmen help villagers dig wells, repair bridges, build schools and lay roads through the bush. Equipment is supplied by the Sierra Leone government, CARE and the U. S. Agency for International Development (AID).

then they have to tend to their tiny farms. But the program is so successful now that they have started taxing themselves. And they are now much more aware of America."

Mareck's impact in the Peace Corps is more than a display of determination in remaining a member. Many volunteers in this country the size of South Carolina are equipped with Jeeps. Most are school teachers and many are women with little technical knowledge of the Jeep. Primitive road conditions take a heavy toll of these vehicles.

His superiors say Mareck's greatest contribution to the Peace Corps may well be his authorship of a mimeographed booklet called "Jeep Life. Why they won't and what to do when they don't run."

Tent Selling Point: Colors To Keep Cool

By BILL JOHNSON

Associated Press Writer

A visit to any camp ground during the height of the season will prove once and for all that color has caught up with tents.

Where the buyer once had a choice of only olive drab or more olive drab, he's faced now with an array of reds, blues, yellows, whites, light greens and browns in solids or stripes.

One of the selling points of the light-colored tents — or of tents with aluminized roofing — is that they are cooler because light colors reflect the sun. There are many campers who will dispute this, though, and say they can't tell a bit of comfort difference in a light or darker colored tent.

About the only way to keep a tent cool in the sun is to cover it with a fly, a piece of canvas or other heavy material stretched above the tent to provide shade.

A better way to insure comfort than buying a light-colored tent is to make sure of plenty of ventilation. At least half the tent door should be screen and there should be plenty of windows.

A window on the back and one on each side will provide good four-way ventilation. Most popularly priced tents have a window only on the back, but this will do if it is large enough.

A tent in the sun can be hot, but once the sun goes down the temperature drops. Cotton shirts may feel fine during the day, but at night in the open, flannel pajamas do too. Many a camper has gone to bed, on top of his sleeping bag only to snuggle down with the door flap tied shut about 2 a.m.

Cook extra oatmeal and pour into a greased small loaf pan; chill. Next morning, turn out, slice and brown in hot butter or margarine. Serve with butter or honey. Wonderful for breakfast on a cold morning.

If your oven-fried chicken isn't so crisp as you would like it, try using a higher temperature (400 or 425 degrees) than the usual moderate temperature (350 or 375 degrees) often suggested in recipes.

Chiffonade salad dressing is often found on the menus of fine hotel restaurants. Why not make it at home? You can do so by adding finely chopped hard-cooked egg and cooked beets to French dressing.

to take care of myself," he said. "My oldest boy is 68. He and my daughter, who's about 60, live around here. My other kids live up in Wisconsin."

Willie was married twice. Both of his wives died long ago.

Farming for One

He runs a strictly one-man operation at his farm, raising hogs and chickens, growing vegetables and looking after an apple and peach orchard. Willie uses a home-made smokehouse to cure meat and he cans the farm's fruits and vegetables.

"The only way I can live is to raise it," he said. "I even make my own dog food. That boiling pot there has some beef and pork in it, and a little other stuff. When it's ready the dogs lap it up."

When day is done, Willie gathers his dogs around him and watches television.

Many Peace Corps volunteers in rural development work are swashbuckling types, bronzed from their outdoor work, frequently full-bearded and much admired by the more sedentary Peace Corps teachers.

Suspicious villagers were uncertain at first what the "photo" — the Temne Tribe's work for white man — or "Europeans from America" were about.

"Are you digging for diamonds?" one asked Mareck who was drilling a well at the time. Sierra Leone is rich in gems.

"They were quite shocked when we installed a pump on the well pipe and water came out," said Mareck. "Water to them was something they always had to carry in pots on their heads several hundred yards from a small, muddy pool."

Volunteers work directly under a Sierra Leone district officer and through village chiefs and local tribal elders.

Early rural development workers sometimes were caught in local tribal disputes.

"One tribe wouldn't drink the new water supply from the same tap as another tribe so an extra 600 feet of pipe had to be laid to a separate tap for them," Mareck said.

"It has taken a year to get the program rolling. At first we tried only short projects so the people could see the result of the labor come about quickly."

"Each volunteer keeps two or three projects going at once because the villagers can only work so far and so fast and

BBB Warns Of Door-to-Door Sales Pitches

TORONTO (AP) — The Better Business Bureau in Toronto has a copy of a prepared spiel that one door-to-door firm gives its salesmen.

The script tells the salesman everything from when to laugh to when to start a sentence disarmingly with "Golly, Mrs. Jones."

It lists 27 standard objections the customer might have to buying the product and 27 answers for the salesman to use.

Even the recently bereaved are not safe. The salesmen are told (Instruction No. 16) to say "We've had a death in our family too, so I know you feel."

Thomas Rimmer of the Toronto Branch emphasized that 95 per cent of businesses are legitimate. What concerns the Better Business Bureau is the remaining five per cent which go on year after year making a profit through shady operations.

The prepared spiel is common in the United States as well as Canada. The pitch is rehearsed work for word.

Rimmer says you should be wary if the salesman says he's working his way through college, getting popularity points for a trip to Europe, taking a survey, or if he offers bonuses, gifts, cut prices, something for nothing.

Their calls are not made at random. They know the best time. They generally choose a time of day when a housewife is busy and might sign up.

Once a contract is signed, he says, only a lawyer can help.

Birth Research Done In New York

By NANCY EATON
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The premature baby kicks in his incubator. His hands are so tiny his identification bracelet is buckled around his ankle. It would slip off his wrist.

Every rib stands out as he labors to breathe. An oxygen line runs into the incubator.

He seems frightfully small, but the nurse says reassuringly that he's really quite big — over three pounds. At birth two months ago he only weighed two pounds.

He's coming along nicely, except for the persistent trouble with breathing.

Even his breathing is improving. He has graduated from the new respirator machine — a sort of infant's iron lung that breathes for the child when his lungs are too underdeveloped to do the job.

The respirator is not in general use. It is one of the advanced new developments for premature babies being tested by Babies Hospital of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York. The machine saves lives, and doctors hope that it may help prevent the brain damage that affects 25 per cent of all premature children. But no one really knows, and only years of research will provide a definitive answer.

Research on Jaundice

Research is also underway at Babies Hospital on the jaundice that plagues prematures, which may be a cause of brain damage. As yet there is no general agreement on how much jaundice a baby can withstand before it becomes dangerous, how to prevent it or how to treat it.

Important progress has been made in the last two years on the needs of prematures. With discovery of micro-techniques which require only a drop or two of blood, detailed and accurate analysis can be made of a

STAGE GAMES PARTY

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4818 of Hereford sponsored a games party for veterans of the Amarillo Veterans Hospital Friday. Participating were C. W. Smith, post commander, Fred Ruland and Stan Fry. Assisting were Mrs. Ada Hollabaugh, Mrs. Nola Ralston, Mrs. Alta Davis and Mrs. Gladys Graham, members of the post auxiliary.

Ever use sour cream for a cole slaw dressing? Just mix with lemon juice, sugar, salt and pepper to taste. The slaw may be made from shredded green cabbage or the cabbage plus pineapple.

Crabgrass is not new. Thomas Jefferson found that it invaded Monticello.

baby's blood chemistry. And new methods of intravenous feeding provide the baby's fluid needs until he is able to take in enough by mouth.

Work with Health Dept.

Babies Hospital is one of 15 centers for prematures in the New York metropolitan area which work closely with the New York City Health Department to insure proper pre- and post-natal care for mother and baby. The Health Department helps pay hospital costs and runs a visiting nurse service. The nurses visit every premature's home, report housing violations and help the parents prepare for the premature.

But perhaps the most vital field is that of preventing premature births. Some are the result of physical difficulties — diabetes, infection or illness. And some women, for reasons largely unexplained, simply can not carry babies full term.

Many Unnecessary

But too many premature births seem unnecessary — the result of poor prenatal care, malnutrition, or overworked mothers who may have had six other children and do not care about a seventh. One-fifth of the nation is "ill-housed, ill-clad and ill-nourished;" more than 50 per cent of the prematures are born to families below the poverty line. One young mother who had her premature at Babies Hospital lived in a sixth floor, cold-water, rat-infested walkup. With four children already, she rarely went to the clinic for prenatal care. How could she? It involved several hours of waiting in line, and there was no one to leave the children with at home. However, the greatest reason for premature birth is still unknown. The search for the answer goes on unceasingly. In the meantime, more and more is being learned about prematures, and the number that is saved increases constantly.

Dual-Purpose Furniture Is Economical

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Newly weds should keep in mind the economical and space saving advantages of new dual-purpose furniture while shopping for that first home.

A trend observed in lines of nine manufacturers, for example is toward fully upholstered dining room chairs that may be used in other areas of the home. Low backs and seats are likely to accommodate lower dining room tables also, around 26 inches instead of the usual 30, offering further possibilities as a use for bridge and other games.

New chairs are designed to be equally attractive in any setting and from any angle. Instead of the usual upholstered seat and pad, many new dining room chairs are fully upholstered.

One line features extra-plush five-inch thick latex foam rubber cushions. They can fit into living room emergency seating or at the television with equal ease.

Casters make it a simple matter to roll chairs from room to room, even over heavy pile carpet. Zippered covers on chair cushions offer the added advantage of easy cleanability, and may be reversed in emergencies to hide stains.

Monday's Dollar Day Helps Put Muscle Into Holiday Buying Home Stretch

YES, INDEED! CHRISTMAS IS FOR THE YOUNGSTERS—Down-town shoppers early this week including a host of youngsters. They're not interested in economics, but their insatiable appetite for the items off the toy counters and their capacity for outgrowing clothing bought "just yesterday" have a lot to do with the giant jump at Christmas time in retail sales. In the photographs, from left to right: Laurie Ann Pittard, 3½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Pittard, 201 Sunset Dr., takes a look down deep at a toy box in a variety store. Larry Haney, 8, son of Mrs. Wyvonna Haney, Rt. 1, appears lost in thought as he ponders a Christmas card for someone special. Jeanne McKenzie, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith McKenzie, has a problem shopping for the man in her life. Melony Dowell, 8, and Kris Dowell, 6, children of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Dowell, Dimmitt, cut a few capers while mom hunts down something for dad. (Brand Staff Photos)

Christmas shopping began with a bang this week as hordes of shoppers converged on the downtown stores Monday, officially kicking off the shopping for the Yuletide season.

With 10 days of the month gone, merchants generally felt that sales were far better than this time one year ago.

Clete Corliss, chairman of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, said most of the merchants around town were having record sales for December and most of the success could be attributed to the Dollar Day held Monday.

Best in History

Corliss, manager of Penneys, said, "As for our store, we had the largest Dollar Day in the history of the store. Sales were far over last year's December Dollar Day."

Corliss explained that Dollar Day came later in the month this year than it had in previous Decembers. "Shoppers were just more in the mood for Christmas since it was later in the month and felt it would be a good time to do some of their Christmas shopping."

"We of the Retail Merchant Committee noticed an unusual number of shoppers from the outlying towns in Hereford Monday and feel the local news medias did an excellent job in attracting the shoppers to Hereford."

Staying Open Later

"Stock in the local stores is at its peak. Stores are beginning to stay open late on evenings until Christmas," Corliss said.

A local dry goods merchant felt that it was a little early to tell how the shopping season was going as it was only one

"We had children coming in after school, parents coming in and picking out, clothes and putting them on lay-away and every type of shopper we normally see at this time of the year," the store owner said. One variety store merchant felt his sales were down somewhat under last December 10, but felt the reason for this was due to the late crops.

Ornaments Selling

"When the farmers finish up in the fields, everyone is going to have an idea of what was made this year and be in more of a mood for some Christmas shopping," the manager said.

This particular merchant deals mostly in the sales of toys and Christmas decorations, which he considers a large part of his Christmas shopping sales.

"Sales on Christmas decorations, trees, ornaments and such really went into full swing early this week. Usually people are not in the mood for buying until they get the tree up and decorated — then they will be in the Christmas spirit and get after their shopping," the manager said.

A check with a local bank indicated that the volume of sales around the town must be high, judging by the "turn-over" in accounts, which has taken a sharp rise thus far this month.

"We urge everyone to check their local stores before venturing out-of-town," Corliss said.

"Local merchants are willing to stand behind their merchandise after Christmas and exchanges can be easily and satisfactorily made."

Ottawa Often Shocked, But Never Bored By Peppery Woman Official

By BEN WARD
OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Amid the clutter on the mayor's desk here sits a small porcelain ash-tray bearing a French inscription:

"What the devil can't do, a woman can."

Friends and foes of the ash-tray's owner, Charlotte Elizabeth Hezelyne Whitton, agree it's a fitting motto for the 5-foot peppery woman who has often shocked — but never bored — the 280,000 residents of this national capital.

As mayor for nine of the last 13 years, Miss Whitton has turned Ottawa's civic affairs into a dizzy whirl and become the best-known most controversial woman in the country.

Council and board of control meetings, once deathly dull, now explode into shouting, name calling uproars with Mayor Whitton's strident voice overwhelming all comers. The four-member board of control has been called the "board out of control."

One day she flew at a husky male controller in a rage of Irish temper, punching and kicking him until he beat a startled retreat. An eyewitness almost fainted.

Whitton-cisms
Another time she jokingly pulled out a toy pistol at a board meeting and touched off near-panic.

A news photo of her sliding down a curling rink on her fanny, skirt askew and a cabinet minister laughing uproariously in the background, made front pages across the continent.

In between such antics, she has become a symbol of aroused womanhood with such Whitton-cisms as:

"Whatever women do they must do twice as well as men to be thought half as good. Luckily, it's not difficult."

"The nation that fails to enlist the magnificent resources of its women is flying on one wing and bound for a crash landing." Once near the end of a board meeting she had completely dominated she snapped:

"Speak up, gentlemen, I am not opposed to male participation in government!"

Our Charlotte — When she's neither acting up nor speaking out the 68-year-old spinster works at the mayor's job with all the happy frenzy of a teen-ager at a Beate show, a penny-pinching eye on every facet of the city's $30,000,000-a-year operation.

Her worship has two big things going for her — an energetic, devoted women's committee that campaigns furiously for "Our Charlotte," and a platform wit and charm that none of her likely opponents can match.

Power of a Woman
In 1950 Charlotte lectured a women's club for neglecting public affairs and was promptly challenged by the Ottawa Journal to run for board of control, which up to then had never had a woman member.

Within an hour the Charlotte Whitton Committee was born. Whitton workers began popping up everywhere, their symbol a needle and a wisp of blue thread worn on the collar.

On election day Charlotte Whitton led the vote.

Her first battle was to insist on the board's tradition of naming as deputy mayor the controller with the most votes. Then Mayor Grenville Goodwin died suddenly and Controller Whitton was sworn in.

Suddenly Charlotte was in complete command.

She was born March 8, 1896, in the Ottawa Valley lumbering town of Renfrew, eldest child of a Yorkshire-stock Protestant father and an American-born Irish Roman Catholic mother. A brainy child, she grew up to be a social worker winning a flock of honors along the way.

Queen of Ottawa
Her brown, grey-streaked hair is kept in a short, wavy and businesslike cut and she fights an intermittent battle to keep her weight down to around 130.

Though an aging spinster, she likes to tell jokes about herself.

At conventions she rocks her audience by telling them about a night-long train trip whereupon a man in the lower berth kept her awake with his noisy snoring. She leaned out and shook his curtain. Whereupon the man poked his head out and said, "No thanks lady, I saw you when you got on."

As mayor she purchased flowing robes for the entire council, but during a two-year, out-of-office period, these got lost some how. Charlotte unearthed the mayor's outfit, however, and at the slightest excuse dons her robe, three-cornered hat and gold chain of office. Her enemies make cracks about "Queen Charlotte I of Ottawa."

But it's not the "Queen" they minded. It's her spirited style of reign.

Dr. Held Is Dimmitt Speaker

Guest speaker for the Delta Xi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Dec. 5 was Dr. McDonald Held, head of Fine Arts Department of Wayland College, Plainview. Dr. Held also read the poem, "The Lost Word" by Henry Van Dyke. This tea was held in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church at Dimmitt.

Club president, Miss Hazel Merritt, presided over the business meeting. "Religious Emphasis in Christmas" in words and song was the program of the day, introduced by Mrs. Charles Vandiver, Dimmitt. Mrs. James Horton, Dimmitt, sang Christmas songs, "What Child is This" and "He Shall Feed His Flock".

Arrangements are to be announced for the next meeting, Jan. 9.

When a recipe calls for "poaching" a food, cook it gently in hot liquid so that it will hold its shape.

Rainbows' Party At Kings Manor

Final plans for the Christmas program and party for residents of King's Manor Dec. 20 were made at the Order of the Rainbow for Girls meeting Monday evening in the Masonic Temple.

Worthy Advisor, Ann Mercer, introduced two grand visitors, Miss Janey Noland, Grand Treasurer of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls, and Miss Elaine Louder, Grand Representative from Massachusetts to Texas. Both are attending West Texas State University.

Annie Nunley and Kitty Oliver were elected to receive the degrees of the Order, and Phoebe Jo Allender was received by affiliation from the Dalhart Assembly.

Due to a conflict with a school program, the Dec. 21 meeting will be held at 4:30 p.m.

Refreshments reflecting the Christmas season were served from a table decorated in the Christmas motif. Thirty-three members, seven Masons and members of the Eastern Star, the grand officers and the Canyon Assembly mother advisor and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Cabe, were present.

VISION

What you see and what you look for, when you read, makes a difference. Vision is 87% of all avenues to the brain. Can your vision distinguish between good and evil, honor and dishonor? Jesus said, If your eye leads you into sin, pluck it out. The library of your church will give you reading of 20-20 vision for the soul.

The Bible, in any version, is the world's best reading. Has your Bible reading vision become impaired? Do you develop astigmatism when you start reading God's word? What reading the Bible has done for others... it will do for you. Read it with 20-20 vision of mind and of soul.

Four Sweethearts And Beaus Have Definite Role In Clubs

Three high school club sweethearts and one beau consider it an honor and a privilege to be elected to represent various school clubs. They are Penny Johnson, senior, Key Club Sweetheart; Linda Rickman, junior, FFA Sweetheart; Peggy Neff, Sweetheart; and George Muse, senior, FHA Beau.

Since FFA has a sweetheart, the FFA girls decided to select a beau. George had to meet the qualifications of grades, personality, and he had to be a senior boy enrolled in FFA.

George is a member of Key Club, FFA, and is one of the student council executive committee. He was a football captain the past season and vice-president and class favorite of his junior class. The seniors last year chose him to lead their procession at graduation.

George's duties are to attend every meeting and help with club projects.

Linda was chosen by the FFA boys on the basis of personality, looks and grades. Any senior girl could be chosen for sweetheart of Key Club. Peggy's grades were the only qualifications she had to meet.

The three sweethearts have different hobbies within a wide range of interests. Linda prefers sewing, riding horses, and participating in all outdoor activities, while Penny enjoys playing the piano. Working with photography, cheerleading, and dancing take up most of Peggy's time.

Each organization elected their sweethearts for specific purposes: Linda was elected to represent the Hereford FFA Chapter in the district beauty contest. Key Club sends in Penny's picture and a questionnaire she has filled out to be judged by the Texas Magazine of Key Club for Sweetheart of the Month. Peggy will represent her club in the district DE sweetheart contest.

"It is truly a privilege to have been elected sweetheart of Hereford FFA chapter and I hope I can represent them to the highest of their expectations," commented Linda. She is a member of National Honor Society and Young Women's Auxiliary at the Avenue Baptist Church where she is also secretary of the youth Council. Linda received the Best Citizen Award while she was a freshman at Stanton Junior High.

At FFA meetings, Linda learns the various methods of conducting and transacting business, and the importance of parliamentary procedure in conducting a meeting.

Penny is a member of NHS also. She works after school at Rutherford's and takes piano lessons. Last year she played the piano for the musical presentation of The King and I. At the Tri-Hi-Y Thanksgiving devotionals this year, she played the organ. Penny has been an officer of Tri-Hi-Y for two years. In the district UIL typing contest last year, she placed second.

Being a cheerleader, DE secretary, and a member of Tri-Hi-Y keeps Peggy occupied. Throughout high school, Peggy has been DE vice-president, junior class favorite runner-up. (See Sweethearts, Page 8)

Mrs. Durham Is 15-Yr. Teacher In Hereford

Mrs. Margaret Ann Durham teaches food classes to freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior girls. She also has a class of boys' homemaking.

Homemaking her major and science her minor, Mrs. Durham attended the University of Texas, Sul Ross State, and graduated from West Texas State. She did post-graduate work at Texas Tech and there received her Master's degree. Since her graduation, she has been teaching 16 years, 15 of which have been here. She taught in Baird a year before coming to Hereford.

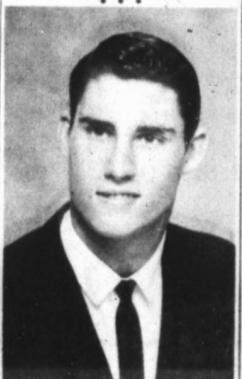

Good recipes and cooking are among some of her favorite hobbies, besides just enjoying people. She has two children. Her son, studying at Texas A & M, is working to receive his Ph.D. in bio-chemistry and her daughter is married and is an X-ray technician.

Some of her many other activities include the Wesleyan Service Guild; B & PW CLUB; Delta Kappa Gama, a teachers' (See Durham, Page 8)

Borden's Milk is checked for quality
23 times to guarantee good taste

You get milk that is richer, better than required by law.

Because milk is produced, bottled and sold under governmental regulation, some people think all milk is alike. Federal, state and city regulations do assure certain standards of quality. But Borden's Milk is produced to a standard of excellence in excess of legal requirements. We take the extra steps to make Borden's Milk better. Twenty-three specific checks are made between farm and final bottling to assure you milk that stays sweet and tastes good.

Rice University Requires High Entrance Standards

William March Rice University, Houston, was established as Rice Institute in 1891. This college is one of the "elite" institutes for higher-learning in Texas.

Rice University has a limited quota of 450 freshmen. Admission is limited to applicants who rank near the top of their graduating classes on the basis of a superior (predominantly "A") scholastic record in addition to a College Entrance Examination and a convincing performance on the writing sample.

The Scholastic Aptitude Test is administered along with the writing sample (a one hour writing workshop) at any of the CEEB testing stations throughout the country.

Minimum quantitative admission requirements for admission to the university are English, 4 units; social studies, 2 units; algebra, 2 units; plane geometry, 1 unit; trigonometry, 1/2 unit; foreign languages, 2 units; laboratory sciences, 2 units, and additional subjects, 2 1/2 units.

Both physics and chemistry are required of applicants for the science-engineering division. A course of high school chemistry is a pre-requisite to the beginning course of chemistry.

Application forms for regular admission should be requested after Oct. 1 for entrance the following September. All applications must be completed by Feb. 1, with the possible exception of Form B which should be sent as soon as the first semester grades are available. Applicants will be notified of the Admission Committee's decision early in April.

Applicants (even those with exceedingly strong records) who apply after Feb. 1 or who do not complete all the required entrance examinations by Jan. 9 will encounter virtually insurmountable competitive disadvantages.

Application forms for an early decision may be requested as early as July 1, and must be filed before Oct. 15. Candidates unable to complete the required CEEB examinations on or before the July test date will not be considered for an early decision.

Early decision applicants will be notified of the Admission Committee's decision by Nov. 15. All Rice students are full-time students. Rice has no summer school or night classes. Rice does not offer courses by correspondence. Students are admitted only in September of each year.

Rice University offers majors in each of the following fields: Science-Engineering Division biochemistry, biology, chemical physics, chemistry, geology, mathematics, physics; civil, electrical, and mechanical engineering.

Academic Division — anthropology, classics, economics-business administration, English, French, German, history, mathematics, philosophy, political science, psychology, and Spanish.

The third division is Architecture. Rice does not have schools of medicine, dentistry, or law.

Education courses necessary for certification to teach in secondary schools are available. The Rice curriculum includes no elementary education courses. (See Rice, Page 8)

Annual 'Stunt Night' Scheduled For Saturday

Stunt Night, 1964, is scheduled Saturday at the high school auditorium beginning at 8 p.m. John Gilliland will preside as master of ceremonies.

The admission of $5.00 for students and $7.50 for adults will go to help defray cost of the 1964-65 annuals.

Mrs. Viola Chisholm, yearbook sponsor, reported that 12 clubs marily token awards," said Mrs. Chisholm.

organization; TSTA; and the classroom teacher's organization.

At the present time, her boys' class is preparing simple foods and the girls, luncheon and supper meals. When asked about changes she would like to see at HHS, she replied, "More funds to operate the department."

Clothing and all related subjects are taught to freshman, sophomore, and junior girls and boys by Mrs. Dorothea Prowell. During her twelve years of teaching, she has experienced many amusing situations, especially in her boys' classes. One instance was a boy sewing in reverse.

She enjoys knitting, sewing, working in the yard, and her family.

Mrs. Frank Prowell has two children, Dollie and Shari, and a grand-daughter. Being an advisor and honorary member of the FFA, a Sunday school teacher, president of La Plata School Club, and a member of Delta Kappa Gamma also keeps her busy.

Her third year homemaking girls are presently making semi-tailored suits and her first year girls are making simple dresses. The boys are cooking.

Freshman homemaking, including cooking, clothing and all related subjects, is taught by Mrs. Dean Bradley.

Although she has been teaching fifteen years since her graduation from Texas Tech, this is her first year in Hereford. She commented, "I enjoy the friendliness of the faculty and of the students." She is also interested in sewing for her three daughters.

Her foods classes are now getting ready for the Christmas season by making centerpieces, door decorations, and other ornaments for the home. The supplies used were things the girls had on hand at home.

Cast Praised For Recent Production

"The entire cast did a tremendous job and truly showed their talent" was Tye Hillger's comment on the outcome of the all-school play, "The Mouse That Roared," which was presented in the high school auditorium Friday and Saturday nights. "I think that Jon David Miller and Kenneth Eastman did an excellent job with their character roles. I believe that in the future a lot of work can be done with the characters who played minor roles," he added.

Rozi Rush, Paul Christman, and the cast went to Floyd's Restaurant after the Friday night performance. A party was held in the Community Center after the final performance Saturday night. Those attending were Tye Hillger, the cast, crew members, stage hands, and their guests. An appreciation gift was presented to Hillger for his outstanding work as director. Rozi Rush and Clarkie Adams were also complimented on their excellent work in the production of "The Mouse That Roared."

The cast was composed of Clarkie Adams, Gerald Leatherman, Jon David Miller, Jim Brink, Gwen Cargo, Joyce Beznar, Dorothy Frerich, Kay Brogden, Romanita Lucero, Kenneth Eastman, Glenda Fiesher, Marsha Hardwick, Kathy Pool, Linda Price, Randy Hopson, John Lesly, Ren Lee, Doug Watson, Nancy Smith, Chris Meredith, Denise King, Sid Bayne, Dale Smith, Kerry Thompson, Larry Clements, Clint Oliver, Beverly Lemons, John Perrin, Mike Harvey, Cindy Loerwald, Joe Walker, John Lohr, Bob Reinauer, and Paul Drager.

Assisting Tye Hillger in the direction of the play was Rozi Rush, Stage manager was Paul Christman. The prompters were Linda London and Patsy Stoy. Organist was Penny Johnson.

Tickets and sales were handled by Carmen Betzen, Cynthia Knox, Lynda Lohr, Linda Lynch, Jean Keeth, and Patti Davis. Proceeds will go to the Thespian Society.

Ushers were Patsy Smith, Suzanne Hart, Carol Clearman, Charlotte Hill, Carol Moore, Claudia Loerwald, and Beverly Packard.

Students in charge of properties were Helen Davis, Ronald Ott, David Grubbs, Cindy Wilson, and Beverly Lemons. Rozi Rush, Pat Price, Adair Melton, Darla Caraway, Beverly Barrett, Carol Coffey, and Margaret Adams constituted the make-up crew. The costumes crew consisted of Carol Clearman, Shelly Rush, Barbara Moore and Maura McAndrews as crew chief. Joe Walker, Becky Elliot, Paul Drager, and Billy Jo Witherspoon were responsible for sound effects, while Pat Williams, Dannie Kemp, Carol Moore, and Car-lean Richardson were responsible for publicity.

Toni Beauchamp was chief of the set crew. Assisting Toni with the sets were Martha Hensley, Patti Davis, and Susan Stapp. Gerald Witkowski and Kevin Andrews were in charge of the lights.

"I would like to thank all persons donating properties, the Amarillo Radio Stations, KPAN, Frank Jones, Richard Jackson and the Boys' Choir," said Hillger "as well as the Whiteface Staff for their assistance in this play." Hillger added, "I would especially like to extend my appreciation to Rozi Rush, Paul Christman, Joe Walker, and the crews for their wonderful cooperation."

Mrs. Chisholm Returns After Absence

Mrs. Viola Chisholm, English and art teacher at HHS, recently returned from a six week absence. She left HHS on Oct. 16 and returned Nov. 30.

"It's wonderful to be back, because it gets kind of old being home when you're used to being around people all day long," stated Mrs. Chisholm.

The New York Giants still had three more home football games when they were eliminated from the 1964 National Football League race.

Rice

Annual tuition has been set at $1,200. In addition each student pays the Student Blanket Tax of $38 which covers student activities and use of the health service. Each student pays $10 per semester for each of the laboratory courses in which he is registered. Seldom would this amount to more than $40 per year. Books and supplies cost approximately $100 per year.

Room and board on campus is $955.60 for men and $1,005.60 for women, tax included. In most cases $2,800 will cover the total annual costs (including incidental expenses) for resident students and $2,400 for non-resident students. Rice has accommodations for 220 resident students and a separate dining hall and common room available to both resident and non-resident members.

The charge for room and board in the college provides for the serving of three meals per day excluding the evening meals on Saturdays and Sundays. Meals are not served during Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter recesses. In May or June a room deposit of $50 is required of each student to secure his room assignment for the following school year.

The sum of $450.00 for men or $475.00 for women is required to be paid before taking up residence in September. The remaining sum of $455 for men or $480 for women is to be paid before second semester classes begin in February. It is not necessary to make any arrangements for rooms before the notice of admission is received. Rooms are completely furnished, exclusive of linen.

Editors' Notes:

Winter has finally arrived; school was forced to dismiss early Thursday. Too bad that snow could not have waited until Christmas. But, there will probably be a sand storm on Christmas day.

Stunt Night is Saturday in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Admission is only $5.00 for students and $7.50 for adults.

Friday night at 7:30, the Whiteface Band will march and play in the Christmas Parade downtown. Even Santa will be there, so do not miss him or the wonderful playing of a twice-Sweepstakes band.

Congratulations, Jerry McCathern and Tyler Thompson. Jerry won a place on the All-State Band with his "magnificent" cornet playing. Tyler made Area Band and has a chance to tryout for All-State.

Student Council is planning to sponsor a toy campaign near Christmas time, to help Santa in his workshop. The toys gathered will be repaired and given to children who otherwise would have no hope of receiving a gift at Christmas. Watch closely for announcements as to the time of the campaign, and start saving those toys.

Today the National Honor Society will have their formal initiation at an all-school assembly. Tomorrow, the Whiteface Band will present a Christmas music assembly.

Preliminary SAT Scores Released

Juniors, sophomors, and freshmen may have the results from the different tests taken in October and November by arranging for an appointment with either Mrs. Earl Holt, sophomore and freshman counselor, or Robert Thompson, junior and senior counselor.

One hundred thirty-six juniors who plan to go to college took a Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test which helps to determine how well juniors will score on college entrance examinations next year. Thompson is also discussing the results from the Iowa Tests of Educational Development, given to the whole junior class. It deals with areas in social studies, natural science, correctness of expression and general vocabulary.

The 240 members of the sophomore class took the differential aptitude tests Nov. 4 and 5. These tests were developed to provide a scientific and well-standardized procedure for measuring the abilities of boys and girls from the eighth to the twelfth grades in order to provide guidance both educationally and vocationally.

The differential aptitude test yields scores in eight areas: verbal reasoning, numerical reasoning, abstract reasoning, space relations, mechanical reasoning, and clerical speed and accuracy. The last two areas were simple achievement tests which the authors included to measure abilities for a great many academic and occupational pursuits.

"The scores of these tests, by themselves," said Mrs. Holt, "provide useful information, but as a group of scores depicting a pattern, the scores take on additional meaning. For most efficient and accurate use, however, the results must be set in their proper place in a framework of all known data concerning the individual. This principle cannot be emphasized too strongly."

The freshman class of 306 may have the test scores of the Educational Ability Basic Achievement Tests taken on Oct. 21 and 22 by signing the register in the counselor's office for an appointment. Mrs. Holt will interpret the results of the test along with a profile sheet for the student's permanent home record.

These tests provide a reliable measure of each student's educational progress and educational ability. "It is a comparable set of measures for all students," said Mrs. Holt, "and an assessment of strengths and weaknesses for each student with a view to future planning for the individual."
