1,000 Expected For Annual REA Review And Barbecue

"Miss Deaf Smith County Rural Electric of 1959" will reign over activities at the meeting of Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative Inc. at the county Bull Barn Thursday.

A giant affair has been planned, according to Leo Forrest, Co-op. manager, who said the Hereford Rotary Club is preparing to feed 1,000 members and guests at noon.

Thirteen high school girls from Hereford, Dimmitt, Friona, Adrian, Farwell and Texico will vie for honors in the beauty contest. Cotton John Smith of KGNC Radio-TV in Amarillo will be contest master of ceremonies.

Other highlights of the meeting will be a business meeting at 1 p.m. and election of two directors. The Trio Plus One, consisting of Jerry, Dennis and Austin Hodges and Walker Parris, all Hereford High School students, will furnish entertainment during the meeting.

Co-op members will elect two directors to fill places presently filled by Webb Guber of Farwell and Raymond Higginbotham of Hereford. Nominating committee selected Webb Guber and Donald Watkins for the Farmer County place and Raymond Higginbotham and C. C. Ellis for the Deaf Smith County place.

During the business meeting, matters pertaining to the local Cooperative will be presented, plus discussions of long range planning and legislation concerning the Cooperatives of Texas.

Merrill Riggan, operations field representative for Rural Electrification Administration will talk on long range programs for an electric cooperative.

A statement of the general operating report will be presented by an official of the Cooperative. Final event will be the drawing for attendance door prizes. An array of electrical appliances will be given to members whose names are taken from a basket.

"The whole program has been prepared for the entire family," Forrest said. "It is the day members come together to vote on the affairs of their cooperative and enjoy the fun and entertainment on the program."

Winner of the local beauty contest will enter the state contest when the state cooperative delegation meets in Houston. Three out-of-town delegates, to be named later, will serve as contest judges.

Beauty queen contestants include Miss Dolly Jo Prowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prowell of Hereford, sponsored by the county 4-H Leaders Council; Miss Judy McGee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Taft McGee of Hereford, sponsored by the Home Demonstration Club Council; Miss Virginia Isbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Digby of Hereford, sponsored by Farmers Drive In;

"HELLO! This is a reminder of the Rural Electric and Rural Telephone meeting Thursday in the Bull Barn." Using such a Texas-sized phone, REA secretary Ann Quicke probably wouldn't have had the strength to notify all of the 1,000 who are expected for the meeting, but the notices went out well ahead of time. Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up Week Slated May 16 - 23

Clean Up—Fix Up—Paint Up Week in Hereford will be May 16-23, it was decided Tuesday.

Sixteen persons met in a session called by the Civic Affairs Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce to set the dates and arrange preliminary plans for the intensive clean-up campaign in the city.

Mrs. Tom Carter will head the sprucing-up drive, with the aid of Chamber members, civic clubs, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and, most of all, the residents of Hereford.

A personal contact approach will be used throughout the city in order to enlist the help of everyone.

Mrs. Carter commented. The three garden clubs in Hereford will start contacting residents the week of May 11, aided by the local study clubs.

Residents will be asked to cooperate by cleaning up, fixing up and painting up around their homes and businesses and, if possible, to assist their neighbors in cleaning up nearby vacant lots.

Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds will make their contribution by distributing posters pointing up the aspects of the drive.

First physical activities are set for Saturday, May 16, when Boy Scouts will swarm into selected vacant lots and give them a first-class cleaning.

Regular City trash forces will be supplemented by the addition of two more flat-bed trucks and five men. These extras will be used primarily for the removal of tree limbs and other large items. Additional trucks also will be recruited to assist in gathering trash from alleys during the week, if needed.

Several special events also are in the planning stage for Clean Up-Fix Up-Paint Up Week in Hereford. They will be announced later, Mrs. Carter said.

Special attention will be given to cleaning up alleys and vacant lots in Hereford during the week.

Clean surroundings mean happier people, both in the office and at home. The pending city-wide clean-up drive can mean a lot to Hereford. A neat, clean attractive city creates a good first impression on its visitors and that adds up to more friends, and more residents, for Hereford. The clean-up campaign can also help satisfy the urge of housewives who have cleaned out closets, waxed floors, (Continued on page 2)

Advertising Keep America Free, Weber Tells Group

America without advertising would be a "slave nation," Edward G. Weber, advertising manager of Southwestern Public Service Company, told Hereford Rotarians at the noon luncheon of the group in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel Monday.

Art Manjeet was admitted as a new member of the Rotary Club, and was presented his pin by Rotarian Faust Collier.

Visiting Rotarians at the meeting were John Armstrong of Amarillo and Bob Lindsay of Canyon. Wayne Thomwas was a guest of Rotarian Jim Witherpoon.

Weber, a Chicago-born advertising manager of the company since 1949, entitled his talk "What Is America Without Advertising?"

He told the group that advertising is the force that makes our economy possible. Through newspapers, radio and television, he said, expression is freely used.

Public opinion, Weber said, is laid on a foundation of the free press, and advertising makes the free press possible.

However, he pointed out, under a hood of "classified information," the public is denied many of its privileges because of the lack of "all the information" being available to the press.

Weber is a graduate of Knox College in Galesburg, Ill., and a former captain in the Marine Corps, in which he enlisted as a private.

The former news editor, junior sales executive and assistant station manager for NBC also is past president of Amarillo Advertising Club.

Southwestern Public Service Company advertising has won 15 national awards since Weber joined the company. At present, he is chairman of the department of promotion for the Episcopal Church in North Texas.

Electrocution is the penalty for murder in the District of Columbia.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

NEW YORK (AP) — There is one big difference to French comic Robert Dhery between the Paris theater and Broadway.

"There your success depends entirely upon what spectators say — the word of mouth," he explains. "Here it is entirely up to the critics."

The star of the current hit "La Plume de Ma Tante" feels the public dependence on reviewers is "very understand-ble — the critics analyze and give reasons. In Paris they just say 'I like it,' or 'I don't like it' — they rarely say why."

Do-it-yourself enthusiasts spend 60 million dollars annually on tools for the home.

New York City occupies 6/100,000ths of the earth's land surface.

Cooking with gas was not common before the 1870s.

Hereford, Texas, Thursday, April 30, 1959 — Section Two

Hereford Man Named To Begin Training In Air Traffic Control

The Federal Aviation Agency announced recently the appointment of Claud L. Walls to begin training as an air route traffic controller. Walls, formerly of Hereford has been assigned to the San Antonio, Air Route Traffic Control Center.

Describing Walls' duties,

Gerald B. Fox, Chief of San Antonio ARTC Center, said, "As an air route traffic controller Walls will undergo extensive training with the experienced FAA controllers at the San Antonio ARTC Center. These controllers, working with the many electronic marvels surrounding them, direct for their control zone, all civil and military aircraft flying on instruments from point to point throughout the United States.

"Safety in the air will be Walls' main concern. Controllers constantly advise all pilots in their area of the position of other airplanes. . . with the goal of constantly maintaining a safe separation of aircraft."

Upon completion of his training as an air route traffic controller, Walls will become one of the many highly trained FAA employees in the United States. This experienced team of career specialists, along with the giant web of electronic air aids, makes up the more than 158,000 miles of safe air highways that are used by both military and civil aircraft.

In announcing the new appointment, FAA Region Two Administrator L. C. Elliott said today at his headquarters in Fort Worth. "Walls has joined the new agency created by the Congress in 1958. The authoritative Federal Aviation Agency, in addition to encouraging and fostering the development of civil aviation, has the task of modernizing the federal airways, directing air traffic control of both civil and military aircraft, allocating the diminishing airspace, and both issuing and enforcing air safety rules."

Walls' wife and children live at 128 Beach in Hereford, but will be moving to San Antonio shortly.

Announces Bean Price Supports

The U. S. Department of Agriculture April 8 announced 1959 crop support prices by areas, ranging from $4.21 to $8.81 per hundredweight, for 11 classes of dry beans.

The prices are set to return to growers the national average support price announced on Feb. 18 at $5.35 per hundredweight, which is approximately 60 per cent of the February parity price of $8.88 per hundredweight announced Jan. 30.

Classes of dry beans included under price support are pinto, great northern, pea, and medium white, small white and flat small white, red kidney (including bark, light, and western), pink, small red, large lima, and baby lima beans. The class support rates listed are for U. S. No. 1 grade cleaned and bagged beans with all charges, except receiving and loading out, paid through maturity dates for price support loans on the 1959 crop.

Premiums for U. S. Choice Hand Picked and U. S. Extra No. 1 grade beans will be 10 cents per hundredweight for all except pea beans, on which the premium for U. S. Choice Hand Picked grade will be 25 cents. Discount for U. S. No. 2 grade beans will be 25 cents per 100 pounds. Premiums and discounts for the 1959 program are the same as under the 1958 program.

The 1959 support rates will be 74 cents per hundredweight less than the 1958 rates for all classes and areas except for baby lima beans for which the reduction is 59 cents. The baby lima bean support price was reduced only 59 cents for the 1958 rate in order to reflect a more comparable relationship between the two grades.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

Research In World Health Increases Life Expectancy

To the people of the 18th District:

Since this seems to be an age of fear, and each of us lives from day to day wondering what the morrow will bring for us to be more scared of than we were of the stark tragedy that was to befall us yesterday, it occurred to me that the people of this country might be interested in the present health of the world.

I feel that the proof of this theory lies in the advance which has been made in the faculties with which God has endowed him will bring greater benefits to future generations, and avoid the necessity of periodic intervention by God to prevent man from destroying himself.

I feel that the proof of this theory lies in the advance which has been made in lifetime. Although there is much to be done and the future will require much more to be done, the progress to date is remarkable. More than 25 per cent of the people of the world can now expect to attain an age of 65 years.

Strange to say, the highest life expectancy rate is in Norway. There, it is 73 years. Others enjoying a rate of 70 years or more include the United States, Australia, the United Kingdom, Sweden, and Japan. These are all highly developed countries from an industrial standpoint. Russia has a reported life expectancy rate of 66 years at the present time.

Those having a rate of above 50 years include the southern portion of South America, Spain, some central European countries, the Philippine Islands, the Sudan in Africa, Mexico, and others. The lowest rates of life expectancy are in central and northern South America, southwest Asia, India, Egypt, and others. It is also noteworthy that very few of the countries enjoying high expectancy rates are located near the Equator, yet most of the countries with the lowest life expectancy rates are located at, on, or near the Equator. Whether or not this geographical location has any effect on the situation, I do not

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

It's Air Conditioning Time In Legislature

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN — Most people in or connected with the 56th Legislature are comforting themselves with the knowledge that air conditioning was installed in House and Senate chambers last year.

It may be pretty hot, they say, before a majority of both houses come to agreement on new taxes.

House members systematically cut to pieces the big omnibus tax bill (HB 727). As originally proposed, it would have raised $300,000,000, mostly from scores of new selective sales taxes on items ranging from face paint to house paint. After members got through cutting out the loudest howls, it was down to less than one-fourth its starting size.

It was then given preliminary approval (second reading) by the narrowest of votes, 74-to-72, counting Speaker Waggoner Carr's "yes" vote. Carr stepped down from the speaker's rostrum to plead with members to pass the bill, even though it had been stripped to practically nothing, so as to "get something to the Senate."

Senate cannot consider a tax bill until it has been passed by the House. But for the Senate, getting the shattered fragments of HB 727 is like getting four wheels and some broken glass with the invitation to make an automobile.

In the days that remain until May 12, or in special sessions thereafter, the Legislature faces these decisions:

1. Appropriations — House has

Wool Application Filing Urged

The Deaf Smith County ASC Office urges wool growers who marketed their clip between April 1, 1958 and March 31, 1959 to be prompt in filing applications for payment under the national wool program. The deadline for applications is April 30 and the payment rate will be announced as soon as possible after that date.

Growers can speed up the payment program by prompt filing of applications. Information contained in the applications is needed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in computing the average wool price received by growers during the 1958 marketing year. That price must be calculated before the rate of payment to growers can be determined.

Under the wool program, payments are made to growers as an incentive to increase wool production. The payment rate is the percentage necessary to bring the national average price received by growers for wool up to 62 cents a pound. The percentage method of payment encourages a good job of marketing, since the grower who received the highest price for his wool also received the largest payment.

TEENS

By Jean

Hi there! Well, here I am again with the latest tid bits from around the campus.

Danny Martin isn't too old to ride a bicycle because he says he is still peddling.

Ask Sue Callagher how she acts when someone tells her there is a bug on her back. She probably wouldn't tell you, so I will. She jumps up and down and screams, "Get it off, get it off!" Later she finds out it was just a little, tiny, bitsy bug. Harmless, at that!

Wonder why Linda Shaffer's face is so red; could it be because she spent the weekend at Conchas Lake? Did you have fun, Linda? By the way, with whom did you go to the lake?

Could it be possible that some boys in Mrs. Euck's 1st period Texas class helped themselves to a delicious looking cake in the ladies lounge? Ladies lounge! Now boys explain yourselves!

ed two pounds since she started going with Kenneth May. Does he feed you well, Anna?

Connie Robinson said she went straight home from the show Saturday night. Honestly Connie, you can't kid us!

Congratulations to Jan Wallace, Lee Blocker, and David Larson for being named to the all-star cast!

Melba Lawrence didn't get in until after midnight Saturday night. What's your excuse this time, Melba? Another flat maybe? By the way, Melba, why were you lumping up and down on Main Street? Could it be you had ice down your back?

What were those noises coming from your hotel room Sunday morning, Rosie Strasser, Deanie Jacobs, and Connie Renfro? What's your theme song now?

Hey Nancy Parsons, why were you standing on the street corner Thursday night? Couldn't be that someone ran off with your car could it?

M. C. WILLIAMS, who farms near Hereford, is completing the planting of his 1959 sugar beet crop. A four-row planter moves over prepared ground at left, and seeds it at right, leaving the crop ready for sun and irrigation.

Williams, who has been growing sugar beets since 1954, produced 711 tons of the sweet root in 1958 from 40 acres.

Rep. Walter Austin...

know, but it would seem that such is the case.
Also to be considered is the fact that most of the countries having the low expectancy rates have a high percentage of poverty. In summarizing the world data, we find that 80.5 million or 23.7 per cent of the world population have an estimated average life expectancy at birth of 30 years; 218.5 million or 10 per cent of the world population have a life expectancy of between 30 and 35 years; 713.3 million or 23.6 per cent enjoy a life expectancy of 65 years or more.

It should also be said that approximately one-third of the world's population, 936.3 million, cannot be the subject of such information because there is not sufficient data from which to make an estimate.

In 1957, it was estimated there were 2,790 million people living in the world. More than one-half, or approximately 1,400 million, live in Asia, 204 million live in Russia, and 174 million in the United States. This population is increasing at an accelerating rate, due primarily to the declining death rate, rather than an increased birth rate.

The fastest rate of increase occurs in Middle America, where it is 2.7 per cent. It is 2.5 per cent in southwest Asia, and 2.4 per cent in South America. The smallest rate of change occurs in Europe, where it is 0.6 per cent.

The fact that America is ahead of the other countries in the increase of population is due primarily to the great strides which we have made in the solution of health problems and the splendid contributions to medical science by our medical profession.

So long as good health conditions continue to grow better and better, producing strong, healthy human beings, and these on the increase, I do not believe we should have much fear about being overtaken by some grave catastrophe that will wipe out all humanity.

Earnest Langley, of Hereford was in Washington last week where he was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court. We enjoyed seeing him and Mrs. Langley. Sam Singleton from Dalhart was in the Nation's Capital in the interest of the Great Plains Soil Conservation Districts Action Committee, of which he is Chairman. Kenneth Kendrick of Stratford and LaVerne Edwards from Pahrump were in town for conferences on wheat legislation and programs. S. B. Whittenburg visited us en route home to Amarillo.

We had a fine visit and conference with Don Miller of Borger, who was here attending the Jaycee Conference on Project Tax-Reform. Miller was recently named by the Borger Jaycees as the outstanding member of the year and he is a State Director of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

I understand that Mrs. L. V. Cradit, Mrs. B. C. D. Bynum, Mrs. Wilida Neely and Mrs. James Barnhill, all from Amarillo, and Mrs. Clyde Warwick of Canyon are in Washington attending the 68th Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution. We hope to have an opportunity to see them before they return home.

Member of Congress
18th District of Texas

Announces...

tween the support price and the prices received by farmers for baby lima beans.

As under past programs, beans will be supported through loans and purchase agreements, which will be available from harvest time through Jan. 31, 1960. Maturity dates for loans and agreements will be Feb. 29, 1960 in Michigan, Pennsylvania, and New York, and April 30, 1960 in all other States.

The national average support price for 1958 crop dry beans was $6.18 per hundredweight.

The 1959 support price for U. S. No. 1 grade for all counties in Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas is $5.72. The 1958 support price was $5.87.

Japan made only 6,000 cameras in 1937. But by 1955 its production of cameras reached a total of 750,000.

gard its defeat as third term fodder. He said at one time its passage meant more to him than anything since the tide-lands.

Afterward, the governor said "the fight has just begun." He was critical of Speaker Carr for having allowed the measure to come to a vote when it did.

Senate has given final approval to three bills affecting ranchers and dairymen.

A milk bill, sponsored by Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, would prohibit bringing in milk from other states unless it could be established that the milk was produced under the health and sanitation standards placed on Texas producers.

Sen. Ray Roberts of McKinney pushed through a bill that would provide a penalty for allowing cattle to roam on state and national highways and relieve motorists of liability for hitting stock.

A bill tightening licensing regulations of veterinarians also was passed by the Senate. Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress, sponsor, noted that there is no present law to suspend licenses of veterinarians guilty of malpractice.

Senators refused, 16-15, to take up Sen. A. M. Alkin's bill to improve schools and raise teacher pay.

Those who opposed said passing the bill before tax money is found wouldn't bring a "crying time" to the teachers.

Hopeful teachers could take some comfort from the fact that some who voted against considering the bill said they would favor it when money is on hand.

Texas will probably have an opportunity to vote in November, 1960, on whether to adopt a new approach for regulating lending practices.

Both House and Senate have approved a proposed constitutional amendment that would allow the Legislature to regulate the amount of interest that could be charged. Present 10 per cent ceiling on interest, set in the Constitution, would be abolished.

A constitutional amendment must be approved by the voters at a general election after it has been passed by the Legislature and signed by the governor.

Backers of the change say it will pave the way for driving loan sharks out of Texas. Such a measure has been sought for a number of years and has the backing of Texas' Legislative Council.

Texas is on the way to having a new medical school and three new state-supported four-year colleges.

Senate, in a burst of educational zeal, passed bills to (1) elevate Arlington State College between Fort Worth and Dallas to a senior college, (2) make Tarleton State College at Stephenville a four-year college, (3) make Midwestern University at Wichita Falls a four-year state-supported college and (4) establish a new University of Texas medical branch at San Antonio.

All except the Midwestern bill already had been passed by the House.

Meetings of state, city, county and district boards and their records will be required to be open to the public under a bill given final Senate approval.

Measure that passed was a combination of Sen. Prestor Smith's "open meetings" bill and Sen. George Parkhouse's "open records" bill.

Senate Jurisprudence Committee had amended Smith's original proposal to say that closed meetings could be held "for the discussion of appointments or matters which, if made public, might adversely affect the public security or the financial interests of the state or its political subdivisions."

Beauty At Home

Q. What steps can I take to encourage more gloss and sheen in my hair?

A. This is largely dependent upon regular shampooing and thorough rinsing. But daily brushing preserves this sheen. Choose a good brush with long, flexible bristles, set widely apart. Such a brush not only does the best job of brushing, but is easier to keep clean, too.

Q. What powdering technique should be followed by the girl with a round or "moon" face?

A. She should add an extra application of darker powder to the outside of each cheek to tone down and make the fullness of her face less obvious.

Q. What can I do about hiding such leg blemishes as small broken veins, burns, birthmarks, and the like?

A. There are a number of special products on the market, which do a very effective job of concealing these imperfections. You should be able to procure these at your drugstore or cosmetic counter.

Q. How can I rid myself of annoying dandruff flakes in my eyebrows?

A. Scrub the brows well with a complexion brush and warm soapsuds, and rub in a little olive oil or mineral oil before retiring at night.

Q. Which do you think are better, long or short waistlines in dresses?

A. If you must choose between a waistline that is too short and one that is too long, choose the latter. Nothing throws a figure out of proportion more quickly than too short a line, unless the costume was especially designed to emphasize a particular cut.

Q. Should the color of one's fingernail polish and her lipstick be the same?

A. This is an old, and still very much approved, rule of beauty. It's a very good idea, too, because your fingers are close to your mouth many times a day, and any clash in color tints is also clashing to one's beauty makeup.

Q. I've heard that pearls are in good taste with almost any costume. Is this true?

A. Yes. When in doubt, wear pearls — wear them with anything.

Q. Due to my oily type of skin, I have difficulty in keeping my lipstick on very long and in preventing it from caking. What can I do about this?

A. Before applying the fresh lipstick, put a generous coating of powder over the lips. Then, with a brush or lip pencil, make an outline of the mouth. Fill in with lipstick, and blot away the excess with some tissues.

ily. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pinnell. They went during the day to visit his father who was a patient in the Amarillo hospital.

HEAVENLY... is this angel food cake frosted with whipped cream and garnished with strawberries dipped in seedless red raspberry preserves.

Strawberries Colorful Early Spring Arrival

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Strawberries are showing themselves and it's not quite orteka time. That grand and glorious all-American open season comes later. Then short-shakes are made with a lavish amount of berries, heavy cream (plain or whipped) and biscuit rather than cake — rich biscuit, but biscuit.

So what's in between? We're all for an angel food or sponge cake (lower in calories than other varieties) served with a strawberry-lemon sauce. This tastes delightful "as is," but if you want to gild it you may add a topping of whipped cream.

Both angel food and sponge cakes may be bought, of course, made at home. If you choose angel food made from a mix, you may wish to try one of the new varieties — orange, lemon or neapple-lemon.

Here's the recipe for the sauce. It is justly slightly on the rt side so be sure you choose rawberries that are beautiful-ripe. Try the sauce sometimes, too, on good old-fashioned stage pudding.

STRAWBERRY - LEMON SAUCE

Ingredients: 1 pint ripe strawberries, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 cups water, 1/3 cup lemon juice, 4 teaspoons butter or margarine, salt.

Method: Turn strawberries in a colander; rinse with cold water; hull. Dry on paper toweling; slice lengthwise. In a 5 or 2-quart saucepan stir together thoroughly the sugar and cornstarch; add the water gradually, stirring until smooth after the first additions. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until boiling, thickened and clear. Turn heat low; add lemon juice and butter; stir until butter melts and combines; remove from heat. Stir in a few grains of salt and the sliced strawberries. Serve warm over sponge or angel food cake. Makes 1 quart thin sauce.

STRAWBERRY GARNISH

We've discovered a way to fix strawberries for a garnish that's utterly delightful. Put 1/4 cup of seedless red raspberry preserves and 1 tablespoon of hot water in a 1-cup measure. Place the cup in a small saucepan of hot water over low heat; stir until the jelly melts; remove the cup from the water. Wash and hull strawberries; dry on paper toweling. Lightly spear a strawberry (at the hulled end) with a thin-tined fork; dip into the warm melted jelly to coat. Hold the berry a second or so over the cup of jelly to drain a bit. Lightly spear another fork into the tip of the coated strawberry and (with the help of the first fork) stand the berry on its hulled end on several thickness of paper toweling. Dip the remaining berries, one at a time, the same way. Allow the berries to stand until as much of the jelly as is going to drain down does so. This amount of jelly will be enough for dipping about 1 1/2 pints good-size strawberries.

This garnish takes a little doing but the final effect is wonderful to look at and delectable in flavor. Well worthwhile for a party!

SOMETHING MISSING

MOUNT SIDNEY, Va. (AP) — Voters found something missing here in the 1958 election. The something was Col. C. S. Roller Jr., who has missed just twice as an election judge since he was appointed in 1900. He missed in 1918 when in France with the 89th Division. This year he was in the hospital.

Feather Gal Helps Check Allergy Ills

By GERALD MILLER
BUFFALO, N. Y. (P) — June Spohr makes the best chicken feather juice in town. And if you're allergic to chicken feathers you can use it. Miss Spohr is a medical technician in the Buffalo General Hospital allergy laboratory, maintaining a connoisseur's collection of extracts for testing and treating allergic patients. Just about everything in our environment can produce an

Beauty At Home

Q. How do I employ the "kneading" system of removing surplus flesh from the waistline?
A. This is a quite good method of removing fat. Grasp as much waistline fat as you can between the fingers and palms. Lift and squeeze as if kneading dough. Do this all across the tummy, and over your hips, until the flesh tingles.
Q. How can I prepare myself a good, "all-purpose" facial beauty mask?
A. Add three teaspoonfuls of powdered milk to the white of an egg, and apply this to face and throat. Let dry, then remove with tepid water.

allergic reaction in someone — ragweed, camel-hair coats, mohair furniture, a neighbor's dandruff or the chicken feathers in a pillow.

Why certain people react to some things, and not to others is a mystery, says Miss Spohr, but the treatment is immunization: injections of the stuff that riles you.

Ragweed pollen, for example, causes misery to persons allergic to it. But pollen extract injected into the bloodstream builds up antibodies that produce immunity.

As part of her job, Miss Spohr

LESSON FOR WHOM? HAMDEN, Conn. (P) — Joseph Liscio was arrested on a complaint from his wife who told police he had "pushed her around."

He pleaded guilty and was fined $9 for breach of the peace. When Liscio heard the fine, he turned to his wife and said: "Gimmie, please." Even the judge smiled as Mrs. Liscio opened her handbag and paid the fine.

maintains an elaborate supply network. She has contacts in zoos, farms, beauty shops, poultry markets, flower shops, grocery stores, race tracks and industrial plants.

"You get the stuff you need wherever you can," she says.

"If we need camelhair I go to the zoo and clip a camel. I go to poultry shops for feathers, to factories for industrial dusts and to beauty shops for human hair."

"I even nag my friends to save the dirt in their vacuum cleaners for me. That's for household dust, one of the common causes of allergy in women."

After she has whatever dirt, dust, pollen, hair or feathers she needs, Miss Spohr produces a juice by pressing them in a chemical mixture through a handoperated wine press. The extract is purified and bottled for anyone who might need it.

Ironically, Miss Spohr is a victim of her own efforts.

"After years of processing ragweed pollen," she says, "I developed an allergy to it myself. I've had to start taking my own injections."

My Lord And Me

Until several months ago God was not in my life at all. Now, He is with me everywhere I go, and with everything I do. He answers my prayers and guides me daily. I don't understand why more people don't see that God is the answer to everything. He will keep you from all kinds of trouble and help you out of things that you didn't want in on in the first place. God is my closest friend, and I have much faith in Him. The Lord has been very generous with me. He has given me all I could hope or pray for. All I know to do for Him is to try to win more people for Him. If I knew just exactly how to go about it, I would do it more often.
If God will only spare me the time, I will full-heartedly try to prove I can love and trust Him as much as anyone, and do as much for Him. Every night when I pray, I know that God answers my prayers, for I have seen the results. If only more people would accept God. I'll stand for Him everywhere I go, no matter how rough it gets. I know that He will watch over and guide me to do His work, for that is my ambition.

Absent

Whenever you miss school, they call you an absentee. It has to be excused, that's a guarantee.
When you get it unexcused, you have to pay a fee. The teacher writes in her book, A minus three.
I'll make it a point. Never to be absent again. Because in the teacher's book, that's a terrible sin.

Are You Ready?

Are you ready to meet the responsibilities that will be yours as you venture out into the world? There are king-sized tasks waiting for you, can you meet them with a qualified dependability? Can you fill the shoes of the ones before you?
Right now is the time to begin your planning. It is impossible to jump into responsibility without first being prepared. One of the best ways to be prepared is not to shirk your responsibility now. Your hard work in high school and in college will be rewarded when you succeed in the responsibility placed before you in life. A person with a good attitude, ability, and dependability is sure to cross over the ever present obstacles ahead without any trouble. Again I say, "ARE YOU READY?"

Skirts

By KATHRYN McCLAIN
There is never an end to the kind of skirts you see. On all kinds of girls. From fat to thin, they be.
Some are plaids and checks. Others with buttons and bows. While some are prints and solids.
Or stripes in neat little rows.
Some are flowing and full. Others are tight as hide. And yet there is the medloore. While I prefer them wide.
You see them as in an Easter Parade. All colors from black to red to white.
Some are gay and enchanting; others are very bright. But all in all, they fit into the scheme just right.

Boys Air Pet Gripes On Girls

By VIVIAN BROWN
Do-high school girls have annoying habits - that irk their young male friends? Yes, scoured three male high school seniors, members of a football team, when asked that question. It seems campus kings dress up for dates these days, and a date is a big deal.
"We don't hang around killing time at the local bee hives. When we have a date, we want it to count," says one of the 18-year-old students who earns his date money by working in a garage weekends and after school. Here's how the gripes simmer.
Mkncup? They don't mind it, providing it "doesn't bounce off the face," as one boy put it.
"Why does a girl have to smear her mouth with lipstick, anyway?" he asks. One of the boys claimed that three girls smeared his suit with lipstick at one dance he attended. Other objections include too-long fingernails, heavy mascara, obvious eyeshadow.
Clothes: "I don't want to take a girl out to hear other fellows whistling at her," is the response of one boy to the plunge neckline, skin-tight dress idea. The tight-fitting sweater also annoys these boys. Advice includes:
Don't try to be sophisticated. Save long earrings and your mother's fur pieces for an important occasion. "It puts a guy on a spot to see you dressed up when he can afford only a movie and ice-cream soda," say the boys.

Laboratory Is Emerald Mine

LABORATORY MINER: Carroll F. Chatham cuts a 30-carat emerald with a diamond saw in his San Francisco laboratory. Chatham grows the emeralds himself by a top secret process.

as the cultured pearl is to the real pearl."

"The average person could never tell the difference and even the expert needs special equipment," he claims.

Gem experts take issue with the last statement and also with the "culture" tag Chatham has placed on his gems.

They contend Chatham's emeralds are man-made and therefore — "synthetic." Chatham argues that they are grown in a way similar to the manner nature grows its stones and therefore "culture" is the correct term.

You can buy Chatham emeralds, but not from Chatham. He sells the rough crystals to a New York City firm which cuts, polishes, and distributes the finished stones.

"I don't sell anything direct," says the 44-year-old chemist, who has been growing emeralds for 20 years. "In fact, I never see my stones in a ring."

The emerald crystals take a year to mature. Only a "very tiny percentage comes out top grade." But even the low grade are useable for carvings, beads or pendants.

"Don't be critical of apparent imperfections because you won't find a perfect stone except in a minute size," Chatham advises. "Look for brilliance and pleasing color, nearness, no spots."

A top grade, one carat Chatham stone sells for about $200. The same size and quality natural stone retails at $1,200. Chatham figures an eight carat natural emerald would cost about $10,000, where his would retail for $3,000.

"A real emerald is difficult to duplicate as to richness in color," says Eugene Chaput, a wholesale jeweler, who handles both the Chatham and real emeralds.

He describes the Chatham stone as containing "a little more blue green color." Although most are foggy, Chaput says a few Chathams are clear.

Chatham has improved his process during 20 years, especially in growing bigger crystals. Some now approach 300 carats.

Local Residents Attend Anniversary Celebration

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT
Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Jack were in Hobbs, N. M., Saturday night and Sunday where they attended the golden wedding anniversary celebration for Mr. and Mrs. George Forbes. ### Boy's Air...

"Oh, yes," adds another boy, "I'm all for organizing babushka raiding parties and burning every babushka we can locate. There must be more attractive hair coverings available to hold hair in place, even in the wind. Why do girls choose such unflattering headgear?"

The tease? The girl who leads a boy on to get a date will not be asked again. She blinks her eyelashes, holds hands in the ice cream parlor, but screams when a boy tries to kiss her after a date. "Some girls are just out for the good time you can give them," says a dejected boy.

The casual type? She's so casual, she's careless, these young men point out. "You wouldn't mind her wearing a cement-mixer hairdo, if she combed it occasionally. The girls are at fault in other ways, say the boys."

They always have a coat of polish on their toenails at the beach — "but sometimes their legs look hairier than a pool-die's. The trouble is when a girl goes too casual, she acts like she's competing with a man." How do they want a girl to behave? The consensus is they like a girl to "be herself," a girl "who dresses at her own age level," "good character," a girl "whose conversation isn't limited to trying to solve the problems of the world when she can't solve her own school or family situations," a girl who is "jolly without resorting to man-talk to prove she's good fun."

By ALAN CLINE
SAN FRANCISCO — Chemist Carroll F. Chatham has turned a tiny laboratory on 14th Street into an emerald "mine."

Chatham turns out about 60,000 carats in rough emerald crystals a year using a top secret crystallization process which he says he'll sell for two million dollars.

Chatham contends he is the only person in the world growing emeralds, and that his product "is as close to a natural emerald in all chemical and physical properties

as the cultured pearl is to the real pearl."

"The average person could never tell the difference and even the expert needs special equipment," he claims.

Gem experts take issue with the last statement and also with the "culture" tag Chatham has placed on his gems.

They contend Chatham's emeralds are man-made and therefore — "synthetic." Chatham argues that they are grown in a way similar to the manner nature grows its stones and therefore "culture" is the correct term.

Chatham has improved his process during 20 years, especially in growing bigger crystals. Some now approach 300 carats.

But he insists he isn't hurting the natural emerald market. "People with money who want the natural stone will still buy it. That's an historical fact," he says.

Van Cliburn Has Allegiance To Church, Concret Stage

By W. G. ROGERS

NEW YORK — "Faith in God, love for people, and vision of a better world" — this is not the credo of a preacher but a piano player who exactly a year ago was catapulted over night into fame.

Once in a while a singer comes out of a church choir; actress Ethel Waters enthusiastically proclaims her belief; Jenny Lind was notably devout. Here is one more musician who, instead of hailing from Bohemia, comes from Baptist Sunday School and prayer meeting, and persists in his double allegiance to church and music hall.

When it came to writing a Cliburn Legend (published next Monday by Doubleday), it seemed natural that two authors were needed to cover the subject's two bright facets, and the work is described on the title page as "By Abram Chasins with Villa Stiles." Chasins is the musician, Miss Stiles the inspirational writer.

On April 13, 1958, Van Cliburn won the first piano prize of the Tchaikovsky competition in Moscow, where he was hugged and kissed on both cheeks by Nikita Khrushchev. It could be that without the prayers of the church goers of Kilgore, Tex., young Cliburn would never have been kissed by the Communist boss of atheist Russia: As he got ready for the severe ordeal of appearing before the judges, says Chasins — unless this is Miss Stiles speaking — "He did not neglect to telephone his parents in Kilgore to notify them of the time he would be playing and to elicit their spiritual support.

They, in turn, elicited the support of the local ministers, and later I learned (says Cliburn) that the ministers had asked the whole town to pray for me. My parents did not pray for me to win, because winning in their minds is not always the best thing. They prayed that God's will be done."

The news of his victory came to the senior Cliburns by phone call from Moscow just before they left for a prayer meeting. For a previous competition in Chicago, the first time he missed a major prize, he also had prayed, explaining, "I'm praying to God to give me the strength to bear it if I don't come through."

One conductor "blew his stack," in Chasins' words, when during a performance a pedal on Cliburn's piano broke, and the devout young artist promptly walked the enraged and profane maestro off the stage saying, "Let's pray." They did.

"Music is God's language," Cliburn believes and often says.

One photo in the book shows him with hands clasped in prayer just before he did his first Carnegie Hall concert after the Moscow triumph. He had a private box in Madison Square Garden for evangelist Billy Graham's rally.

What with the prayers, the ticker tape and the incredible adulation — of which this book contains an apparently complete and detailed record — the boy makes one of the really extraordinary stories in the art life of our time.

Though you may have heard him in a concert, and seen him, you need this biography to give an adequate idea of the intensity of the storm and furor he has kicked up, in all innocence, wherever he has appeared in the last 12 months.

Before he went to Moscow, he got $100 or less for a concert; since Moscow, he has on one occasion in California collected $18,000 for two nights, and in his native Texas, $10,500 for a one-day affair.

Once he got $75 off a TV show; now the same show paid him $3,000. His single recording of the Tchaikovsky may sell one million discs this year.

Casins points, fairly, to some critical objections raised, in particular lately, to some of Cliburn's playing, but mostly he sticks to the almost incredible success story. The boy was born July 12, 1934, and named Harvey Lavan Cliburn Jr., for his business father.

His mother, Rildia Bee O'Bryan, taught piano, and the boy decided when he was three or four that if she could teach his playmates she could teach him. He was a fast grower, till he reached his present 6-foot-4, and perhaps in connection with that he has had more than his share of boils and carbuncles; he has been laid up just recently with one bad finger, and when he went to Russia, forearmed against sickness he took along 300 vitamin pills and some gelatin.

He fell early into the habit of winning prizes both in his home town and in Texas. In 1951 he entered Juilliard, in New York. He greeted his teacher to be, Mme. Rosina Lhevinne, with, "Honey, I'm here to study with you."

When he squeezed two pianos into his room, he told his landlady excitedly: "Honey, it looks just like home!" When he won the coveted Leventritt

PIANIST VAN CLIBURN... is a man of deep religious faith. "Music is God's language," says the 24-year-old Texan, shown here during a practice session.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago

On account of the Brand failing to appear on time for last week and for some other weeks, the manager has been "raked over the coals," and they were good and hot. Last week on account of the rush on press day or rather press night, and thus not having time to check up properly, several blunders appeared in the ads which made them either ridiculous or placed the merchant in an improper attitude before his customers. Therefore, it becomes necessary to do two things: The first is to put out the paper on Friday morning so that the subscribers will get it by 10 o'clock; the second is to ask the advertisers to file their ads in this office early in the week. This arrangement will be far better for the advertiser for the reason that his ad gets before the readers on Friday and gives Saturday for trading and shopping.

25 Years Ago

Rain - the gully-washing, drouth breaking rain fell here, and in all the surrounding area

Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The fall varied over the county, but all told the two downpours totaled more than an inch and a half. In Hereford there was nine-tenths of an inch Tuesday night. Last night's rain, while falling more rapidly, amounted to three-fourths of an inch, bringing the total for the two nights to an inch and 65 one-hundredths.

Two weeks ago there was a half-inch rain and in March snow brought about two inches of moisture. This is the extent of the area's rain since last August excepting a trace of moisture in early November.

Bible Words for Today

I KINGS 20:40 "As thy servant was busy here and there, the man was gone." (AV)

The text tells us the story of a man who was assigned the responsibility of keeping another man in his custody; but because of inattention and negligence he let the man escape.

It is a serious indictment against anybody who is so busy in looking after his personal interests that he neglects his responsibilities and obligations to God and to his fellow men. When any person gets the reputation of being long on promises and short on performance, stock in that person's usefulness and importance speedily drops. In fact it is one of the most serious social offenses for a person to accept any responsibility, knowing at the time that he has no intention of meeting it, or that in all probability he will not be able to carry through. Such nondependability is unardonable, because a person guilty of such may keep someone else from accepting the responsibility who would meet it.

One of the best recommendations anybody can have is that he possesses the Christian virtue of dependability.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

for advertising, too!

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste, and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures—known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. He has access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. The circulation FACTS obtained by the A.B.C. auditor are condensed in easy to read A.B.C. reports which tell you How much circulation we have; where the circulation goes; how it was sold and many other FACTS about the audience we provide for your sales messages. Make your advertising investments on the basis of this audited information. Ask for a copy of our A.B.C. report.
