County Favors Ford, Dole

Carter, Mondale Win Election

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

It was a back and forth battle all night long but Deaf Smith County voters went against the grain of the national electorate by favoring President Gerald Ford with 2,776 votes compared with Democrat Jimmy Carter's 2,613 votes. Of course, the nation's ballots showed that Carter narrowly defeated Ford for the presidency on the popular vote.

Newton Wins TRC Seat

By The Associated Press

Democratic state legislator Jon Newton, surrounded by a busload of his hometown friends, was "loving every minute of it" Tuesday night as he watched returns showing him to be an easy winner of a seat on the powerful Texas Railroad Commission.

Newton, a 34-year-old three-term lawmaker from Beeville, drubbed Republican challenger Walter Wendlandt, an Austin attorney and former Commission engineer, by a two to one margin Tuesday.

Here is how it looked, according to the latest returns from the Texas Election Bureau:

Railroad Commission
Newton 1,940,250, Wendlandt 982,099.

Democrats Control Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democrats will have exactly the same U.S. Senate majority in next year's Congress, despite a party turnover in 14 seats and the election of 17 new senators in Tuesday's elections.

The present party lineup, 62 Democrats to 38 Republicans, was left unchanged after the counting of ballots in the 33 seats at stake.

The last race decided was in California, where incumbent Democrat John V. Tunney lost a seesaw battle to his 70-year-old GOP opponent, former San Francisco State College president S.I. Hasakawa.

Returns from other states showed Democrats wresting seven seats from Republicans, while GOP candidates took six seats from the Democrats.

Among the election day casualties were four veteran Senate Democrats—Vance Hartke of Indiana, Joseph M. Montoya of New Mexico, Gale W. McGee of Wyoming and Frank E. Moss of Utah.

Why Did Carter Win?

NEW YORK (AP)—Voters' desires for a change in Washington overcame their qualms about Jimmy Carter and their respect for Gerald Ford's experience in office, an Associated Press Poll shows.

Carter won by coaxing support from the traditional Democratic blocs, despite their feelings that he has promised more than he can deliver and that he will be a less than excellent president, the survey showed.

The former Georgia governor drew strong support from the lower income groups, labor union members, blacks and the less educated, all the traditional bases of Democratic strength.

Carter's pattern of lukewarm support proved too much for Ford to top with votes from independents and disaffected Democrats, even though the President's backers expressed somewhat greater enthusiasm for their choice.

nation, voter turnout for Tuesday's election here was significantly higher than expected with some 5,561 appearing at the polls. This represents about 71.6 per cent of the 7,765 voters registered to vote in the county. It beats out the 1972 voter turnout of about 5,060 voters which composed about 70 per cent of the registered voters then.

Even with the record turnout both in percentages and number, contested races were close.

The local voters gave Carter a commanding win in the May Texas Democrat Primary but he lost ground as the election approached. But the decision has been made and Carter and his vice-presidential running mate Walter Mondale of Minnesota are the next White House occupants.

Ford, after two years in office following the resignation of Richard Nixon will leave office in January. The hopes of his running mate Robert Dole of Kansas also went down the drain.

Other candidates for president receiving votes were Thomas J. Anderson and his running mate Rufus Shackelford, 16 votes; Peter Camejo and his running mate Willie Mae Reid, no votes; and Eugene McCarthy, 21 votes.

CONGRESSMAN GEORGE MAHON of the 19th Congressional District retained his post by defeating Republican challenger Jim Reese, Odessa, by the latest vote count. It was 80,470 for Mahon and 67,402 for Reese across the district with 255 of 262 precincts reporting according to the Associated Press.

Locally, the race was much tighter much to the delight of Wes Fisher, county Republican party chairman. Voters here gave Mahon 2,698 ballots compared with Reese's 2,567 votes. Of course, Democrat party chairman Robert Strain was happy that Mahon actually won here even though narrowly.

Three of the local precincts reported identical vote totals for both Mahon and Reese. They were precinct one at the courthouse with 688 votes for the candidates; precinct four, Simms, with 24 votes each; and precinct eight, Walcott, with 10 votes each.

The most hotly contested of the statewide races was between incumbent Democrat Lloyd Bentsen and Republican Alan Steelman, a congressman from Dallas. Texas gave Bentsen the election by a wide margin, but again Deaf Smith County voters were not so wide split. The county was 2,994 for Bentsen and 2,146 for Steelman.

Candidates getting votes for U.S. Senator besides Steelman and Bentsen were Majorie P. Gallion and 15 ballots and Pedro Vasquez with 25 votes.

Refer to other stories and the vote tabulations in this issue for a detailed look at results.

THE WRITE-IN ATTEMPT to oust Don Yarborough from his uncontested race for associate justice on the Texas Supreme Court, place 2, was not successful. He won it statewide by a handsome margin mostly due to name identification of former Senator Ralph Yarborough and former candidate for Governor Don Yarborough.

Voters here were a little more aware of the situation by giving write-in candidate Sam Houston 1,428 votes and Tom Loran 174 votes. Yarborough polled 2,299 ballots.

Locally, candidates were uncontested except for a few small vote write-ins, which for the most part could be considered jokes such as the votes for

Carter Gains Needed Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—President elect Jimmy Carter's long, once-solitary journey from Plains, Ga., will carry him to the White House in January with a victory forged from the traditional Democratic party coalition of the Old South and industrial North.

Carter was declared the victor over President Gerald Ford early today when his electoral vote total reached 272, two more than the 270 needed for election. Wisconsin and Mississippi were the states that established the Democratic candidate's majority in The Associated Press tabulation.

Three states—Oregon and Maine, where Ford held a slim lead, and Ohio, where Carter was ahead—remained too close to call. If Ford were to carry all three, Carter's victory margin would remain just two electoral votes.

The lead in California passed back and forth through the night with Ford finally declared the winner near daybreak.

Returning to Plains from his election headquarters in Atlanta, Carter received a tumultuous, emotional welcome from a crowd that included most of the town's 683 residents.

Beaming his now-famous smile, Carter told the crowd, "I told you I didn't intend to lose."

But when he tried to continue speaking, his voice choked, he turned his head and then embraced his wife, Rosalynn, who was sobbing.

"It was a long night," he said when he regained his composure. "But I guarantee you, it's going to be worth it to all of us."

The latest returns showed Carter carrying 22 states and the District of Columbia with 272 electoral votes. Ford had 25 states with 231 electoral votes.

The popular vote totals from 96 per cent of the nation's precincts gave Carter 38,848,599 and Ford 36,980,456.

"I pray that I can live up to your confidence and never disappoint you," Carter told jubilant supporters in Atlanta after the results were clear. "It's time for us to get together, to correct our mistakes, to answer difficult questions and to make our nation great."

Carter praised Ford as "the most formidable opponent that anyone could possibly have." And he called his defeated opponent "a good and decent man."

Neither Ford, the first incumbent denied a new term since Herbert Hoover was swept from office in 1932, nor his running mate, Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas, appeared at a Republican "victory party" in Washington.

A White House spokesman said Ford had gone to bed before Carter was declared the winner.

Voters' desires for a change in Washington overcame their qualms about Jimmy Carter and their respect for Ford's experience in office, an Associated Press poll showed.

Carter won by coaxing support from the traditional Democratic blocs, despite their feelings, expressed in the survey, that he has promised more than he can deliver and that he will be a less than excellent president.

The former Georgia governor drew strong support from the lower income groups, labor union members, blacks and less educated, all the traditional bases of Democratic strength.

Thus, on Jan. 20, 1977, James Earl Carter Jr. will take the oath as the 39th president of the United States. Taking office as vice president will be Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, a man who once toyed with the idea of running for president himself, but then decided against putting himself through the rigors of a national campaign.

Carter will be the first deep Southerner to reach the presidency by election since Zachary Taylor in 1848.

IT APPEARS, Wednesday morning, that Jimmy Carter will be our next President. Forecasters cautioned on election day that it was "too close to call", and that's the way it went in many states.

We did not endorse a candidate, but we did predict that Deaf Smith County would go for Ford, Bentsen and Mahon. It came out that way, but the Bentsen and Mahon margins were not as substantial as we thought they would be. The voter turnout was great here, setting a new record, and it was better in many states than was predicted.

The television news analysts generally agreed that the vote turnout helped Carter since there are more registered Democrats. They also explained his margin as coming from the South, the blacks and Mexican-Americans, the old

City, County Get Mixed Drink Tax

Deaf Smith County and Hereford city government entities are a bit richer as of a recent mailing of mixed drinks sales taxes collected by the State Comptroller's Office.

Last week, the county received a check for $444.94 for its share of $1,607.93 in taxes collected. Hereford received a check amounting to $381.71 for a total of $2,544.73 in sales taxes collected for mixed drinks.

Amounts received by other area counties are Farmer, $72.91; and Castro, $368.48. Oldham County didn't receive enough to show up on a computer listing by the state.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said he has sent checks totaling $3.1 million to 360 cities and 190 counties for their share of the mixed drink tax for the July-September quarter.

Another $7.6 million raised by the tax during that same period will remain in the state general revenue fund, Bullock said.

The total collection for the quarter—$10.7 million—was some $1.5 million more than collected for the same period a year ago, he said.

Collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission, the tax represents 10 per cent of all gross receipts from the sale of mixed drinks.

Bullock explained that his office remits to the counties and cities 15 per cent of the total mixed drink tax collected within their boundaries. The balance goes into the state general revenue fund.

The tax is collected and a share returned to the cities and counties on a quarterly basis.

The 190 counties will receive a total of $1.6 million for the July-September quarter and the 300 cities will receive checks totaling about $1.5 million.

The City of Houston topped the list with mixed drink sales totaling $26.5 million for the three-month period, according to the receipts received by the Comptroller's Office.

Total sales reported for other major cities included Dallas, $17.9 million; Fort Worth, $4.2 million; San Antonio, $8.3 million and El Paso, $4.6 million.

Retail Sales Increase Shows Improved Economy

A recent listing by the State Comptroller's Office shows that a total of 373 outlets in Deaf Smith County had gross sales of $130,287,299 during the second quarter of the 1976 (April-June).

These businesses received a total of $23,279,453 in gross taxable sales, which is the total of receipts of all taxable tangible personal property sold, rented, or leased.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said that a computer analysis of the state's businesses that total of $33.9 billion in gross retail sales in Texas during the second quarter of 1976 occurred. This represents a growth of more than 17 per cent over the $28.9 billion in sales during the same period of 1975.

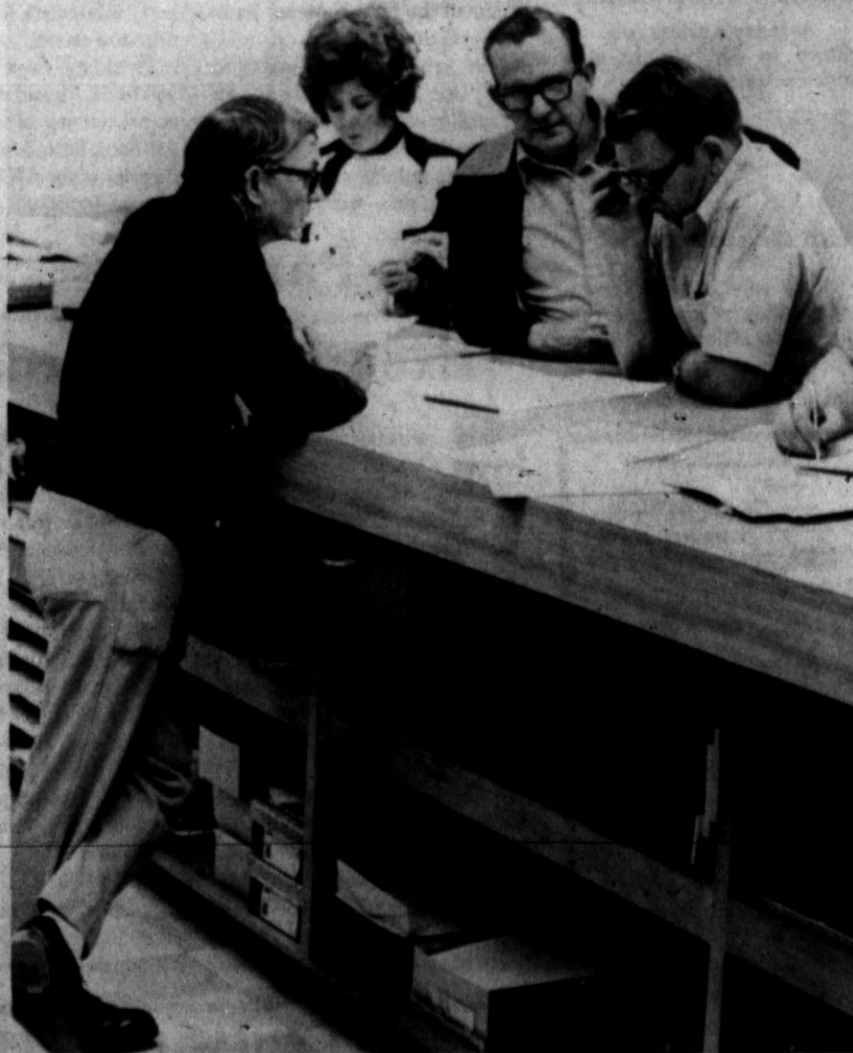

Of the county's sales, the total amount subject to taxes was $9,926,310. This is figured by subtracting the allowed deductions under the tax from the gross taxable sales and adding in the use tax purchases which are all taxable items and/or merchandise inventory purchases either in or out of the state which are converted to personal or business use.

Bullock said the 17 per cent growth rate far exceeds every estimate of inflation during the past year and shows the Texas economy continues to improve.

The analysis lists gross sales in Texas of $31.5 billion by in-state firms and $2.4 billion by out-of-state firms during the second quarter of this year, the Comptroller said.

He added that gross sales by in-state firms in Harris County have climbed 11 per cent from last year to $8.2 billion, and in Dallas County by 16 per cent to $15 billion.

Parties Meet

The Democrats and Republicans in Deaf Smith County came face-to-face Tuesday night as they discussed results in the presidential election. Appearing at the County Clerk's office at the courthouse were (standing, left) Raymond Higginbotham, co-chairman for the Carter campaign here, and (far right) Wes Fisher, county Republican party chairman. There was defeat and victory for both on the local level.

Bible Translators Set Panhandle Meetings

A series of rallies to acquaint people of the Texas Panhandle with the expanding work of Lutheran Bible Translators around the world will be held from November 8 to November 14. Mr. Steve Sanderson and his wife, Parma, of Tempe, Arizona, will be describing the work they are preparing to enter in Sierra Leone, West Africa.

The Sandersons have already completed two sessions at the Summer Institute of Linguistics at the U. of North Dakota, and Steve has completed a year of training at Concordia Theological Seminary in Springfield, Illinois. They are now nearing the time to leave for the field of Sierra Leone, West Africa where they will be involved in translation work among the Limba people, one of the many tribes in the world who do not have a printed language.

The purpose of these evening presentations is to acquaint people with the Lutheran Bible Translators mission and the opportunities that lie ahead. The Sandersons will also outline various types of personal involvement which are available. Currently over 115 workers serve in various capacities such as linguists, translators, or as support workers. Pilots, teachers, medical workers, mechanics and tradesmen are all needed in the team enterprise.

Specific details regarding each rally are available by calling any of the Lutheran Church in each of the designated areas. The scheduled itinerary is: Nov. 8, Borger, November 9, Dumas; November 10, Amarillo; November 11, Canyon; November 13, Tulia; November 14, Friona.

Accompanying the Sandersons on the tour will be Mr. and Mrs. Ted Schuenebman of Roswell, New Mexico, area representatives for Lutheran Bible Translators. For further information, contact a Lutheran Church in your area, or write directly to Lutheran Bible Translators, Box 5566, Orange, CA 92667.

Ways To Understand Decorating Terms

"Art Nouveau" and "Art Deco" are decorating terms for two different styles that frequently may confuse consumers.

Both are currently popular in newspapers, magazines and store displays. And knowing their meanings may lead to valuable discoveries in attic or basement, Glenda N. Moore, a housing and home furnishings specialist, says.

She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Art Nouveau, French for "new art", denotes furniture, fabrics and architectural designs which first appeared in Europe in the 1890's. This style formed a transition between the 19th and 20th centuries.

"Based on natural growing forms, the characteristic motif became a curving line which ended in a whiplash, like twisting tree trunks and branches.

"Abstract, but not geometric, forms expressed the lines of natural growth. Art Nouveau combined industrial materials with handicraft uniqueness," she explained.

Decorations were also combined with functionalism. Fixtures, lamps, staircases, door knobs and even nail heads expressed the new shapes and lines.

"Popular Tiffany lamps, designed by Louis Tiffany, reflected one American contribution to Art Nouveau."

"This 'Style 1900' showed little resemblance to past designs or to those which seemed to follow," she said.

Art Deco refers to the popularization of modern designs in the 1920's and 1930's. Named after the 1925 Exposition Internationale des Arts Decoratifs held in Paris, France, this modernistic style quickly became popular in America largely through efforts of department stores, she explained.

"Glossy, lacquered woods, glass, shiny metals, polished stones, and some newly-invented plastics were used in various contrasting ways to apply new materials to traditional forms."

"Zig-zags, triangles, sunburst and thunderbolts appeared in fabrics, as well as furniture and architectural designs.

"Art Deco represented the mechanical progress of modern machines, automobiles and appliances in much the same way as Art Nouveau expressed organic growth.

"The amateur can identify styles of furnishings, architectural designs which are found in today's department stores and buildings while viewing movies depicting these eras. After doing so, take a look around the house for possible 'hidden' treasure," she suggested.

Navy Boatswain's Mate Seaman Alan D. Omey, whose wife Paula is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan J. Grady of 116 Ave. J, Hereford, is participating in Exercise "Kangaroo II," the largest peacetime training operation ever held in Australia.

He is a crewmember aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Henry B. Wilson, homeported in San Diego.

He is one of more than 32,000 sailors, Marines, soldiers and airmen from the U.S., Australia and New Zealand (ANZUS) taking part in the three-week exercise. The tri-nation exercise, involving more than 40 ships and nearly 250 aircraft, is designed to test and evaluate plans for combined ANZUS operations in a simulated combat environment.

"Kangaroo II" is being conducted in the Tasman and Coral Seas and along the eastern Australian coast. It centers on a major amphibious landing by U.S. forces and a subsequent link-up of the assault units with Australian and New Zealand ground forces for follow on, combined land operations.

Oklahoma Votes For Jerry Ford

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - It took the biggest voter turnout and the smallest victory margin in state history to produce President Ford's narrow victory early today over Jimmy Carter for Oklahoma's eight electoral votes.

Ford defeated the Carter by less than one per cent of the total record voter turnout of nearly 1.1 million.

It marked only the fourth time since statehood that Oklahoma has supported the presidential loser. The last previous time was in 1960 when Oklahomans voted for Richard Nixon and the nation voted for John F. Kennedy.

With 99 per cent of the votes counted, Ford led by about 7,400 votes. He had 532,353 votes, or 49.7 per cent, Carter had 524,922, or 49 per cent, and independent candidate Eugene McCarthy had 13,772, or 1.3 per cent.

The race was a fierce see-saw contest from the time the polls closed at 7 p.m. Tuesday until Ford pulled ahead to stay shortly after 1:30 a.m. today.

Carter swept rural Oklahoma, winning 56 of the state's 77 counties in making a strong effort to become only the second Democratic presidential candidate to carry Oklahoma since Harry Truman's 1948 victory over Thomas Dewey.

Since 1962, a shrinking share of the Americans eligible to vote in Presidential elections are actually doing so. The Conference Board notes. Between 1968 and 1972, voter participation plunged to 55 per cent even though the voting age population posted its largest increase since 1930.

Ann Landers Complaints Valid

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I join those who get the anger out of their systems by unloading their pet peeves on you? Mine is the "Drop Dead" attitude of many small business people toward their customers and clients.

Within the past week I have experienced the following:

My hairdresser booked me for 9:00 a.m. I was on time. She arrived ten minutes late, put on the coffee pot, proceeded to wipe the chairs and shampoo bowls, then made a couple of personal phone calls, oblivious to the fact I was fuming.

A shop across the street from my office advertised a big sale. I used my coffee break to run over the pick up some bargains. There was only one clerk in the place to handle the customers. The phone was ringing off the wall. While I was tapping my foot impatiently, two customers came in and walked out. So did I. The salesperson was too busy answering phone calls to wait on me.

A pretty little gift shop opened near my home. I dropped in yesterday. The young owners had brought their collie dog and angora cat to work. ("Hate to leave them alone all day.") I have a serious allergy to all kinds of animal fibers and had to leave immediately lest the presence of those two hairy creatures bring on an attack.

Am I picky-picky? What do you think?— Judge Me

DEAR J.M.: I think you were poorly treated on all counts. I hope the small business people who read this will pay close attention to your complaints. They are valid-- and not uncommon these days.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Just a thought regarding organ donations. Our beautiful 21-year-old son was killed by a drunk driver. I wish to God someone had mentioned donating his kidneys or eyes at the time. No one did. Neither my husband nor I thought of it.

Our son was the kind of person who would have wanted to do such a thing. And I would have felt so much better about the horrible tragedy knowing someone had been given added years or sight because of our boy. The whole ordeal would have been less painful had I known his death had helped someone in some way.-- San

Declaration: Independent
More and more new voters are labeling themselves independents. The Conference Board notes. The share of new voters regarding themselves as independent rose from 26 percent in 1962, to 34 percent in 1960, to 50 percent in 1972. And since party identification habits are generally developed early, many of the younger independent voters could keep that label throughout their voting lives.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 31 years old and have been dating the same man for five years. His parents would like us to get married. My parents would like us to get married. I want to get married. Our friends think we make a wonderful couple. The only person who isn't in favor of the idea is HIM.

I've talked to the guy several times about setting a date. All he does is shrug his shoulders and say, "I'm not ready yet." He doesn't want to break up.

New officers were elected by members of Palo Duro Extension Club when the group met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Lin Fisher.

Mrs. Ted Coleman will serve as president; Mrs. Wallace Hill, vice president; Mrs. Roy Lively, secretary; Mrs. Charles Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. Mickey Brisendine, reporter; Mrs. State Norvell, home demonstration delegate. These women will be installed in January.

Also, during the business meeting, it was announced that members will hear a Christmas

Summerfield Study Club To Celebrate Anniversary

Members and former members of Summerfield Study Club are invited to celebrate the organization's 50th anniversary at a tea scheduled from 3-5 p.m. Thursday. The event will be held in the Fellowship Hall of Summerfield Baptist Church.

Charter Club members will be recognized as special guests. They include Mmes. Ray Johnson, L.H. Lookingbill Sr. and Lee Curry.

With the assistance of R.O. Dunkle, county agent of Deaf Smith County, the Summerfield Homemakers Club was organized June 19, 1926 at the home of Mrs. J.L. Lookingbill.

Serving as officers were Mrs. Curry, president; Mrs. L.L. Cannon, vice president; Mrs. Johnson, secretary and treasurer.

Other charter members were Mmes. B.C. Roberson, Duke Story, J.A. Noland, Louie Huckert, C.R. Walsler, S.P. Edwards, Wayne Murdock, Lawrence Johnson, C.H. Churchill, Bob Lance and W.G. Harris and Helen Story.

In 1935 the club was federated and the name changed to the Summerfield Study Club. The club has received many awards in both district and state federation for their club programs and community projects.

Several club members have held state and district offices. Mrs. L.H. Lookingbill and Mrs. Ray Johnson have both been honored with district life memberships.

As long as a public school was maintained in Summerfield, the school was a major project of the club. Members added delica lights in the auditorium, operated a school cafeteria, established a library, improved the water system and landscaped the school grounds.

During the depression, the dues were held to 50 cents per year. They held box suppers, pie suppers, programs and plays to augment funds. In 1928 the club made $45 serving lunch to the Hereford Chamber of Commerce at 50 cents per plate.

When it was decided to consolidate the school with the Hereford schools, the club members converted the schoolhouse into a community center.

Members of the club and their husbands held regular work sessions and did all the interior and exterior work.

Since its organization, the club has maintained a high

Women's Division Elects Officers

A slate of officers to serve under the direction of Donna VanderZee were elected for 1977 terms by the executive board of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division. The action was taken during the board's regular monthly luncheon, Tuesday at Hereford Country Club.

Mrs. VanderZee had been previously elected to the president's position of the Women's Division earlier this fall. Chosen to serve with her during the coming year are Wynelle Robinson, vice president; Sharon Davis, secretary; Berta Ottesen, public affairs chairman; Ruth Black, fine arts chairman and Carrol Ann Simmons, finance and membership chairman.

Conducting Tuesday's election was the current WD prexy, Georgia Sparks, who asked for progress reports from several committee chairmen:

It was announced that Dec. 1 is the deadline to submit nominations for the Chamber "Woman of the Year." The award will be decided from letters nominating a current Women's Division member. These letters, to be sent to the Chamber office, should be designated "Woman of the Year Entry" and may be submitted by any individual.

This year's version of the Christmas Home Lighting Contest has set an entry deadline on Dec. 17, when out-of-town judges will choose the winning decorations. Chairman of this activity is Mrs. VanderZee.

Reporting for the steering committee of the Miss Hereford Pageant, Mrs. Robinson stated the Lucy Rogers will serve as chairman of that particular task force. Co-directors of the local production will be Mrs. Robinson and Sharon Hodges.

The pageant will be held Feb. 26 in the high school auditorium. Miss Texas Carmen McCullough, will perform for the expected crowd.

Ruth Black, director of the fine arts committee, announced that next year's Fine Arts Festival is scheduled March 26 and 27 at the Community Center.

Bill Albright, executive vice president of the Chamber, gave his monthly synopsis of the C of C activities. He listed the new Chamber officers, who will be installed in January. According to Albright, the Chamber office and various other local concerns will be closed Nov. 11 in observance of Armistice Day.

The Chamber executive continued his report, stating that a ceremony is planned here Nov. 29, when Christmas lights throughout the city will be illuminated. He also said that a new sign has been acquired to cite the monthly "Beauty Spots," and other Chamber billboards have been retouched. The Chamber Fun Breakfast this month is scheduled Nov. 30 in the high school cafeteria.

In further business, the Chamber Women voted to donate $100 to the local United Way drive. Plus, it was announced that the Women's Division has a total membership now of 191 individuals with Olivia Denning counted as the most recent addition.

In attendance at the recent meeting were Tony McMorries, Chamber secretary, Albright, Kathy Johnson, Lavon Nieman and Mmes. Ottesen, Black, Robinson and Sparks. A guest was Sharon Davis, who will serve as a member of the board during the 1977 year.

Peru Purchases Fighters

LIMA Peru (AP) - Peru's air force has bought 36 swept-wing supersonic fighter planes from the Soviet Union, the government announced Tuesday. It is the first such purchase by a Latin-American country other than Cuba.

Foreign Minister Jose de la Puente told a news conference that the Soviets made the "most attractive" offer during arms suppliers' bidding from the United States, the Soviet Union, France and Britain.

Usually well-informed sources said the planes cost some $250 million under lenient credit terms, but the foreign minister gave no details on the cost or delivery date.

"Planes have no ideology or flag," said de la Puente, apparently denying that the planes have any significance beyond the renewal of obsolete aircraft.

Western intelligence sources say the planes are expert versions of the Sukhoi 22, a plane believed to be able to fly twice the speed of sound.

Son Of Dixie Waited Late For Victory

ATLANTA (AP) - The longest wait of Jimmy Carter's life stretched into the wee hours today, his electoral count over President Ford inching toward victory.

The 52-year-old Democratic candidate watched the returns in a 15th floor suite of Atlanta's Omni International Hotel, awaiting the moment he could announce in this Southern capital that the first son of Dixie since Reconstruction had won the White House.

Nearby, in the same downtown complex, 25,000 supporters waited for Carter to appear in the World Congress Center-all the fire marshal would allow inside. The huge arena was filled to capacity at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday, and state police estimated that another 10,000 clamored outside.

In his hotel room, Carter switched two television sets from one network to another, watching the inexorable result of a gritty odyssey that began with some of the electorate referring to him as "Jimmy Who?" and calling him a dreamer.

With him were his wife, Rosalynn, children and daughters-in-law, his sister, Ruth, and other relatives. His sister, Gloria, brother, Billy, and his mother remained at home in Plains, Ga.

Flying from his home at Plains, Ga., to Atlanta to wait out the election, Carter, in high spirits and good humor, appeared so confident of victory that he chatted with reporters about his plans for the transition period after the election.

He said he had already perused about 75 names for Cabinet and other top-level posts and that, after a week of relaxation, he would open a Washington office and spend three or four days a week there.

"The logistics of trying to do it out of Plains," he said, "are just too great."

He also said he was not surprised at the voter turnout, that the crowds he drew in the campaign's final days and weeks told him the pollsters predicting a close election were wrong.

"The polls took a dive," he said. "Pollsters don't like to go out on a limb. The safest strategy is to say it's too close to call."

He said both the press and his opponents had underestimated his organization.

Before he left Plains, Carter, with his mother, wife, children and other relatives at his side, told a crowd of home folks thronging the one-block main street that, win or lose, "we've made political history."

He said the company's chief executive officer in Texas was true. Again, Swenson said yes. In that testimony, the payroll figure used for that period was $442.8 million.

Then Bell asked Swenson to compute on a pocket calculator payroll figures listed in exhibits in support of the rate increase. "I'm not a very good adder," said the company's chief accountant.

He came up with figure $567,099,000, then said, "I'm sorry." I added up the wrong column.

Bell Uses Different Figures

AUSTIN (AP) - The Public Utilities Commission lawyer says Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has used three different payroll figures for the year ending June 30, 1976.

The company is asking for rate increases that will produce $298.3 million a year.

The commission's lawyer, John Bell, Tuesday asked G.W. Swenson, chief Texas accountant for the telephone firm, if he used the figure $591,567,000 in a letter to a commission staff employe Sept. 16.

Swenson said yes. Bell then asked if the testimony Monday by the company's chief executive officer in Texas was true.

Swenson said one figure included intrastate expense of only about 80 per cent, and another figure does not include capitalization.

Atty. Gen. John Hill told the commission Monday the company has the highest possible market rating for its bonds, yet claims its investors are being shortchanged.

Dogies, Mavericks Split Grid Games

Stanton and La Plata Junior Highs split a couple of games Tuesday at Whiteface Field, with the La Plata seventh grade coming out on top 10-0, and the Stanton eighth graders taking the nightcap 12-6.

The seventh grade contest was a defensive struggle, which was filled with penalties as both teams had trouble getting set on offense.

La Plata finally got on the score board with just 2:24 left in the first half on the toe of Aubrey Richburg, who booted a 28-yard field goal.

The score was set up when La Plata's David Clark blocked a Stanton punt, which was picked up by Gerald Gamboa and returned to the Dogie 10.

Stanton stiffened, however, and forced the Mavericks to take the three points.

The Dogies had two opportunities to score early in the contest, once when Mike Burnham picked off a Maverick pass and returned it to the Maverick 30, and again when Burnham fell on a Maverick fumble at the La Plata 22.

Each time the Dogies were thwarted by the Maverick defense, which was led by Richburg, Sammy Combs, and Julian Lucero.

La Plata added their final score on the fourth play of the final period when quarterback Alan Wartes squeezed in from the three with 4:47 left in the contest.

The drive covered 43 yards, with the big play coming on an 18-yard scamper by Clark, which gave the Mavericks a first down on the Dogie 10.

Richburg added the PAT for the final 10-0 count.

The eighth-grade contest was a close affair, with Stanton finally emerging on top on a touchdown with just 48 seconds left.

The two squads played to a

0-0 deadlock through the first half, and the Dogies took the lead on a Richard Saenz touchdown with 3:34 left in the third period.

Saenz capped a 53-yard drive on a four-yard run for the score. A try for two points failed.

La Plata came back with a touchdown by Brent Self on a five-yard run. Self had set up the score on a 40-yard pass reception from La Plata quarterback Norman Hill two plays earlier.

The touchdown came with 4:54 left in the game.

Stanton got the game winner some four minutes later as they took the ensuing kickoff and drove 47 yards for a score.

Saenz got the honors for the second time, and broke over the goal line from two yards out. Another run for two failed, but the Dogies had all the points they needed as the grabbed their second win of the season.

Adrian Cagers Win Openers

The Adrian High School boys and girls basketball teams both opened their seasons on a winning note Tuesday night, with teams from Grace Christian of Amarillo falling to their guns.

Freshman David Blankenship scored 10 points to lead the Matadors over Grace Christian 37-36. Adrian got a basket with just 20 seconds left to grab the win.

Grace Christian had opened with a 10-9 advantage after one period, and had widened the lead to 22-17 at the half.

Adrian, led by Blankenship, and junior Randy Lloyd, rallied to win the second half 20-14 to take the victory. Lloyd finished with nine points on the night.

The Adrian girls had a much easier time of it against Grace Christian, running to a 73-25 win. Sophomore Susan Skaggs led the way with 17 points.

As it turned out Adrian got all the points they were in need in the first quarter as they romped to a 29-4 advantage. At halftime the bulge was 38 points as Adrian moved ahead 48-10.

Senior Martha Morales backed up Skaggs performance with 12 points of her own. Grace Christian was led by Connie Ashley with 12, and Nancy Perkins, who tallied 10.

Both Matador teams travel to Amarillo to take on Alamo Catholic next Tuesday.

Also, teams from Walcott, Hartley, Channing, and Grace Christian will participate along with Adrian in a junior high tournament this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday in Adrian.

Charlie O's Eight Top Re-Entry Draft Pool

NEW YORK (AP) - The Oakland A's, winners of consecutive world championships in 1972, 1973, and 1974 and five straight American League West Division titles from 1971-1975, are about to self-destruct.

The process will take place Thursday when 24 players who won free-agent status by playing the 1976 season without signed contracts will be selected in baseball's first re-entry draft.

Eight of them come from Oakland, and six of those eight-catcher Gene Tenace, outfielders Joe Rudi and Don Baylor, infielders Sal Bando and Bert Campaneris, and relief pitcher Rollie Fingers - form the heart and soul of the A's. All are expected to be chosen early and often in the draft.

The other two Oakland free agents are veteran first baseman Nate Colbert and Willie McCovey, who figure to be in somewhat less demand.

The Oakland eight form the largest single club contribution to the draft pool. Baltimore has four players available and three of them - slugging outfielder Reggie Jackson, second baseman Bobby Grich and 20-game winner Wayne Garland - are among the top names. The other available Oriole is minor league outfielder Royle Stillman.

Also up for grabs are the opposing starting pitchers in the opening game of the 1976 World Series - Don Gullett of the San Francisco, second baseman Dave Cash of Philadelphia, and second baseman Tito Fuentes of San Diego. Starter Steve Stone of the Chicago Cubs and relief ace Bill Campbell of the Minnesota Twins complete the list of pitchers available.

Cougars, Raiders, Bears Favored In SWC Clashes

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - Bo Schembechler and the Michigan Wolverines never have been known as the Happiness Boys, but they are capable of making an occasional joke.

Here is one courtesy of Schembechler: "We have to keep our momentum going. There are teams left on our schedule that can still beat us."

And from quarterback Rick Leach: "You can't take any Big Ten team for granted."

Well, yes, there still are teams on Michigan's schedule that can beat the Wolverines. There is Ohio State on Nov. 20 and whatever team they play in whatever bowl they go to.

But first there is Purdue this Saturday and Illinois next week. The last time the Wolverines lost to those teams was 1966, when Purdue won a 22-21 squeaker and Illinois prevailed 28-21.

So, in this election year, the immediate choice lies between Michigan and Purdue, and here is one vote for ... Michigan 35-6.

Last week's score was 48 right, 23 wrong for a .676 percentage, making the season's count to 385-157-10-710.

Florida vs. Georgia at Jacksonville: This game is similar to the Texas-Oklahoma war in Dallas with 72,000 screaming fans split down the middle. Breaking the tie, here's one shaky vote for ... Florida 27-21.

Oklahoma State at Nebraska: "The thing that impresses me about the Cornhuskers is everything," says State Jimmy Stanley. "We're impressed, too, Jim ... Nebraska 31-21.

Colorado at Missouri: Last weekend, the Big Eight scramble was reduced from a five-way tie to a three-team deadlock. Now, Colorado must win to remain tied with the Oklahoma State-Nebraska winner ... Missouri 24-17.

Houston at Texas: It is elimination time in the Southwest Conference ... Houston 20-16.

Army at Pitt: Army is improved, but the Panthers and Tony Dorsett are too much, too soon ... Pitt 38-13.

Southern California at Stanford: This used to be the Blood Bowl when John McKay was at USC and said he wanted to beat Stanford by 2,000 points. But with ailing Ricky Bell below par, this looks like the Upset Special of the Week ... Stanford 28-24.

Texas Tech at Texas Christian: Tech Coach Steve Sloan says he will shave his head if the Red Raiders make it to the Cotton Bowl. TCU, 0-7 and a strong possibility to go 0-11, will not do much to dull the razor ... Texas Tech 45-14.

Cincinnati at Maryland: The Bearcats enjoyed their one-week stay in the Top Twenty before a 31-17 loss to Georgia knocked them out ... Maryland 28-14.

Illinois at Ohio State: The Illini started out 2-0, including a big victory over nationally ranked Missouri. But now they must win two of their final three games to have a winning season. And, unfortunately, they play Michigan next week. This week ... Ohio State 31-13.

Notre Dame at Georgia Tech: Pepper Rodgers was knocked cold during last week's loss to Duke when one of his players tripped over a telephone cord, yanking the earphones off the head of an assistant coach and whacking Pepper in the face. This one is going to hurt, too ... Notre Dame 24-14.

Arkansas at Baylor: The Razorbacks still are tied with Texas Tech in an attempt to return to the Cotton Bowl. Arkansas recently had two weeks off and beat Houston. Now Baylor has had two weeks off. A lightning-strikes-twice hunch and a Second Upset Special... Baylor 20-17.

Louisiana State at Alabama: LSU certainly was not looking ahead when the Tigers walloped Ole Miss 45-0, but 'Bama might be with Notre Dame one week away. A third Upset Special was in the works until it came to mind that Bear Bryant always - well, almost always - teaches his former pupils a lesson ... Alabama 21-14.

Minnesota at Northwestern: So let us make this the third Upset Special instead, as the nation's longest losing streak comes to an end at 14 ... Northwestern 24-20.

Kansas State at Oklahoma: Just what the doctor ordered for the Sooners after all those injuries and other problems ... Oklahoma 41-14.

Tulsa at Virginia Tech: One of the day's better games, with Tulsa 5-2 and VPI 6-2. The winner will be looking for a bowl bid ... Virginia Tech 20-14.

Randy Jones Cops Cy Young Award

SAN DIEGO (AP) - Randy Jones says now that he's won the Cy Young Award, he ought to be the highest paid San Diego Padre and intends to bargain for a three-year contract.

"It's like a boyhood dream come true. It shows I'm for real. It hasn't really sunk in yet," said Jones, 26, at a news conference Tuesday shortly after learning he was the winner of baseball's highest award for a pitcher.

"I felt all along that I would win, but I thought it would be very close," said the left-handed hurler who received 15 of the 24 first-place votes in this year's balloting.

Jones, who won 22 games for the Padres this season, narrowly lost the Cy Young award to Tom Seaver last year.

"Last year, I knew I had to beat Tom Seaver. This year, I felt they (other candidates) had to beat Randy Jones," he said.

Jones was named somewhere on all 24 ballots cast by a committee composed of two baseball writers from each of the 12 National League cities. Six second-place votes and three for third gave him a total of 96 points. The writers cast 69½ points for New York Mets left-hander Jerry Koosman and 25½ points for Don Sutton, the Los Angeles Dodgers righthander.

Jones said he should be the highest paid performer for the Padres, regardless of what it takes to sign a Reggie Jackson, a Bobby Grich or a Joe Rudi in Thursday's re-entry draft.

Jones also said his pitching arm is on the mend. He revealed he threw a little Sunday while supervising a ground of youngsters at a baseball school.

Jones underwent surgery in early October for a muscle problem which has not been fully diagnosed.

"I felt no pain then or later," he said of the workout. "I think I'm back to 50 per cent of normal. I'm not worried about my arm. It will just take time for it to recuperate," he said.

Oilers Embarrassed

HOUSTON (AP) - A disaster, embarrassing, depressing were some of the terms describing the Houston Oilers Tuesday after their 38-14 schellacking from Baltimore in Monday night's nationally televised pro football game.

"It wouldn't be easy to try to figure out what's wrong with us," linebacker Gregg Bingham said. "But it would be depressing."

The most depressing statistic was an Oiler losing string that now extends three games after a 4-1 start and the lead in the American Conference's Central Division.

"They beat us, no they embarrassed us," middle guard Curley Culp said. "They stuffed the ball down our throats."

Not only did the Colts blast the Oilers on the field, Colts General Manager Joe Thomas rubbed it in after the victory.

Commenting on Oiler defensive end Bubba Smith, a former all-pro for Baltimore until Thomas traded him to Oakland, Thomas said "I thought Bubba was finished when we traded him in 1973. Watching him tonight, it looks like I was right. There's not much resistance."

Tim Matheson's personal quest

The Quest has begun to rub off on one of its stars, Tim Matheson. Once a college-bred liberal, he's become a staunch advocate of the law of the West -- the kind of instant justice you just can't get in today's labyrinth of a criminal justice system.

Kurt Russell, as the Baudine brothers, seek out and execute some men who were guilty of lynching. He says he appreciated that form of justice, but is quick to assert he is not a raving fascist.

TIM MATHESON: "We've got things all backwards these days."

classics and the period forces the actor to develop character. People who ride horses for transportation walk differently from those who drive cars. If I'm typed

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Wednesday November 3, 1976

Americanism and the Western are to Matheson synonymous, so he's quite pleased with his role in the new series, the first of what may become a revival in TV Westerns.

"I am a liberal in the sense that I am anti-war. I was behind the student demonstrations -- I didn't participate but I agreed. I used to be extremely liberal in the terms of civil liberties and prison reform, and in many ways I still am. But when it comes down to rights, everyone is ultimately responsible for himself. It's not society that's at fault. The problem today is no one is taking that responsibility."

Matheson is also a strong advocate of patriotism. "What's wrong with loving your country? Sure, it makes a lot of mistakes, but we can help correct them. To me this last Fourth of July was a great day, because we were all united in a common Americanism."

"There are no crimes anymore. It's all for a cause. The Harrises claim they are not doing anything wrong. I don't buy that. How many innocent people get killed by people with a cause who aren't doing anything wrong? Don't the innocent have rights?"

All of this discussion came out of a recently filmed scene from an episode of The Quest, in which he and in Westerns I can't think of a better place to be."

But he is still not content, with all his love for the genre, to work only in cowboy epics. Matheson has tackled the "real" classics as well. He played Romeo to Penny Fuller's Juliet in San Diego a couple of seasons ago and got impressive reviews. He didn't know what the reviews of the next day would be when he walked on stage opening night, so the moment was one of sheer dread.

"I entered through the theatre and I was standing there and heard the speech just before my entrance and I suddenly thought, 'What am I doing here? This is another fine mess I've gotten myself into.'"

When it turned out to be far from a mess, Matheson decided to work further in the theatre. Most recently, he appeared in Shaw's "Man of Destiny."

But he still respects the world of video and film. "I had an inverse snobbery. I believed the stage is where it's at for an actor. Not any more. Now I respect stage and film actors equally."

DUB'S AUTOMOTIVE EQUIPMENT SALES

Since moving to Hereford back in 1957, J.J. "Dub" Boyd has become one of the leading automotive equipment suppliers of area garages and machine shops.

Dub's present business is known as Dub's Automotive Equipment and is located at 1312 Park Ave. Just east of his prior business location which until Jan. 1 of this year was known as Boyd's Machine Shop. At that time he sold the machine shop business and established his equipment supply operation. Dub is now a distributor for Kwik-Way equipment and Ajax Automotive Lifts and Jacks. He carries a good selection of repair and service equipment for garages and machine shops such as high pressure cleaning units, electric heavy duty air compressors, metal lathes and much more for the automotive repairman.

Dub and his wife Ruby have two sons, Steven is a resident at Lubbock state school and Richard is a junior at Hereford and is active in the basketball program. The family attends the First United Methodist Church.

Dub is an active member of the Noon Kiwanis Club, member of the Chamber of Commerce, on the advisory committee of the Senior Citizens and a member of the Automotive Wholesalers of Texas.

Write-Ins Fail To Stop Yarbrough

By TOM DECOLA
Associated Press Writer

Houston lawyer Don Yarbrough spent $300 in winning the Democratic nomination for the Texas Supreme Court last spring, a victory he called "a miracle, so to speak."

Tuesday, Texas voters elected him over two write-in candidates, but the spectre of possible disbarment loomed over the result.

Some 15 civil suits against the 35-year-old justice-elect caused the State Bar to initiate disbarment proceedings against him, and it was unclear whether the State Constitution would allow a disbarred attorney to sit on the bench.

Yarbrough beat State District Judge Sam Houston of Denton and Tom Loran, another Houston attorney.

Latest figures showed Yarbrough with 1,160,435 votes against Houston's 248,959 and Loran's 123,710.

Both Houston and Loran said they ran more to stop the unopposed Yarbrough than for a real desire for the seat. They each acknowledged that education of voters to the write-in process and the fact that a straight Democratic vote was a vote for Yarbrough would be problems.

They were right.

The constitutional question comes from a phrase which says a Supreme Court justice "shall have been a lawyer." Interpretation of that phrase will be up to none other than the Texas Supreme Court, which must decide if a justice must be a lawyer while sitting on the bench.

and the young, and the labor unions. Too, they figured he got more of the independent vote than expected.

Although Ford carried Deaf Smith County, it was by a very narrow margin. Our guess is that Ford drew votes from those who were worried about more government controls and more spending. But our economy is based on agriculture, and Carter seemed to offer more hope in that direction.

From the campaign statements, it appeared that Carter offered more in all directions. He stressed leadership and a better vision for America. Ford's notion seemed to be that more progress can be made by stopping bad ideas than by suggesting new ideas of his own. He was a champion vetoer of Democratic proposals—which was not all bad—but voters apparently were looking for new leadership outside the Washington scene.

One thing for sure, Carter made political history. He won the Presidential race from the deep South without being a vice president of holding a national office.

2. Be a comfortable person so there is no strain in being with you. Be an old-shoe, old hat kind of individual.

3. Acquire the quality of being relaxed, easygoing, so that things don't ruffle you.

4. Don't be egotistical. Guard against (giving) the impression that you know it all.

5. Cultivate the quality of being interesting so people will get something of value from their association with you.

6. Study to get the "scratchy" elements out of your personality.

7. Sincerely attempt to heal every misunderstanding you have had or now have. Drain off your grievances.

8. Practice liking people until you learn to do so genuinely.

9. Never miss an opportunity to say a word of congratulations upon anyone's achievement, or express sympathy in sorrow or disappointment.

10. Give spiritual strength to people, and they will give genuine affection to you.

Dairy Queen Is Vandalized

A business was vandalized here Tuesday evening with those responsible inflicting damage with a BB or pellet gun, according to city police.

The damage occurred at the Dairy Queen on Park Avenue, where the glass door of the firm was shot repeatedly.

Damage was estimated at $100. The incident remains under investigation.

Yarbrough invited a fight with the State Bar, which he said "would stop at nothing to get me."

He said the bar's pride is a powerful moving force. "Some of the complaints against me are laughable," he said.

"The State Bar is faced with the fact of sailing out into the harbor with their flag flying. They know full well, if I sink their ship, all the king's horses and all the king's men can't put Humpty-Dumpty back together again.

Briscoe Recommends More Funds To Support Public Schools

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Dolph Briscoe recommended Monday an $850 million increase in state aid to public education over the next two years. He also extended his "no new taxes" policy to school district property taxes.

"I will not approve legislation placing additional state funds into public education unless this ceiling or cap on local taxes is part of that legislation," Briscoe told some 3,000 school board members and administrators.

Significantly, Briscoe's proposal includes no funds for increasing the minimum salary schedule for teachers.

"I think there will be money available to make a recommendation concerning that subject if the governor chooses to do so," said Dickie Travis, the governor's budget officer.

Callie Smith, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association, said he needed time to analyze Briscoe's proposal before commenting. "I did appreciate the positive attitude the governor took toward public school education," Smith said.

Briscoe's chief recommendation would increase state support of the Foundation School Program from 75 per cent to 90 per cent, at a cost of $640 million. The program establishes minimum spending levels, partly subsidized by the state.

The proposal, if approved by the 1977 legislature, would drop the local districts' share-called "local fund assignment"—by 60 per cent.

Briscoe was applauded enthusiastically by the school men and women when he said:

"The level of local fund assignment will require approximately nine cents per $100 of taxable property values in effective tax effort, compared to the existing 35-cent rate," Briscoe said.

He announced that his education office had completed its study of taxable property values—used in determining local fund assignments—and found they total $238 billion—an increase of $78 billion.

District-by-district breakdowns furnished by the governor's office indicate only a handful of districts would be required to increase their foundation program expenditures next year.

Tax reductions would not necessarily follow, however, since many school boards spend amounts well above the minimum level to enrich their programs.

-$10 million to upgrade school district tax offices, coupled with creation of a state agency to train and certify assessor-collectors, set standards for their offices and "promote equity" among taxpayers. The governor's figures on local property values were issued on the exact deadline set by the 1975 legislature, which poured $650 million in added state funds into the districts.

Taxable property values for many districts would be reduced if the legislature adopts a method for evaluating agricultural land on its productivity instead of its value in the marketplace.

Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, chairman of the House Committee on Public Education, said he liked some of Briscoe's proposals but favored 100 per cent state funding of the foundation program.

Relying on local districts to pay part of its preserves disparities in the property tax, said Massey, who shared the stage with Briscoe.

Small Town Lawman Fights Prostitution

JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (AP)—Vowing to crack down on prostitution in this central Kansas farm town, the sheriff raided the B&W Snack Bar and confiscated two beds and an empty whisky bottle.

The sheets will be sent to the Kansas Bureau of Investigation for laboratory analysis, Geary County Atty. Michael Francis said Tuesday.

Sheriff Jim Gross, who was authorized by a district judge to seize the beds as evidence, said he's storing them in his office until the court determines what to do with them.

Three women were arrested on prostitution charges as part of the weekend raid that followed an undercover investigation at the Main Street snack bar, a popular hangout for many of the 15,000 soldiers at nearby Ft. Riley, Gross said.

"That's the right time, payday at Ft. Riley," Francis said of the weekend crackdown. Gross said officials in this town of 20,000 persons had tried several months ago to wipe out prostitution by leveling a red light district on East Ninth Street and turning it into a parking lot.

But the world's oldest profession simply moved on to Main Street, the sheriff said, and city fathers called a meeting with Francis to discuss the problem. Francis went to Judge John Rugh for the search order.

Gross said he and his deputies found the beds and bottle in a room separated from the rest of the snack bar by a partition that extended only part way to the ceiling.

Francis said he would file for an injunction closing the snack bar for two years as a nuisance. He said the owners would have 20 days to respond in court.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 3, the 308th day of 1976. There are 58 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1936, President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal got a vote of confidence at the polls. Republican presidential candidate Alf Landon carried only Maine and Vermont.

On this date: In 561, Julian became Emperor of Rome on the death of Emperor Constantine.

In 1796, John Adams was elected the second President of the United States.

In 1868, the Republican candidate for president, General Ulysses S. Grant, was elected over Horatio Seymour.

In 1903, the Republic of Panama was proclaimed.

In 1964, President Lyndon B. Johnson swamped Republican Barry Goldwater in a presidential election.

In 1970, a Marxist, Salvador Allende, became president of Chile.

Ten years ago: The United Nations Command in South Korea charged that a North Korean "killer group" had murdered and mutilated six Americans in an ambush near the truce line.

Five years ago: Roman Catholic bishops meeting in Rome overwhelmingly upheld the Church rule that priests could not be permitted to marry and remain in the ministry.

One year ago: President Ford named Donald Rumsfeld as Secretary of Defense, Elliot Richardson as Secretary of Commerce and George Bush as director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Today's birthdays: Democratic Senator Russell Long of Louisiana is 58. Former French Culture Minister Andre Malraux is 75.

Thought for today: You know how it is in an election year. They pick a President and then for four years they pick on him.

Adlai Stevenson, 1965. Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, General George Washington, facing British forces north of New York City, issued stern orders against American army desertions, which had become widespread.

Rainbow Chapters Ousted

INDIANOLA, Iowa (AP)—The International Order of the Rainbow, a service organization for young girls, canceled the charters of all 136 Iowa chapters after one of them voted to admit a girl whose mother is black.

"It hit us like a bolt out of the blue," said Carol Holdsworth, grand deputy for Rainbow assemblies in an area of south central Iowa that includes Indianola.

She and other Rainbow officials said they learned Monday that the order had expelled Iowa's assemblies, with a membership of 5,000 girls, because the Indianola branch voted in October to admit Michelle Palmer, 12.

"The kids balloted and they wanted Michelle," said Mrs. Holdsworth. "They did the right thing."

Michelle's father, Dwaine Palmer, who is white, said he was "stunned by the whole thing. Nothing like this has happened to us before."

Helen Kline, supreme inspector of the Rainbow Order in Iowa, said the revocation was ordered by the supreme assembly of the International Order of the Rainbow for Girls in accordance with a 54-year-old "unwritten law" prohibiting blacks from becoming members.

"I can't get over it -- it's just tragic," said Mrs. Kline, of Malvern.

Asked whether she considered that the revocation implied a policy of racial discrimination, Mrs. Kline said, "We call it selective membership."

Bentson Returned To Senate By Large Mandate From Voters

By The Associated Press

Sen. Lloyd Bentson, D-Tex., a veteran South Texas campaigner has won a second term in the U.S. Senate by beating back a surprisingly strong challenge by North Texas Republican Alan Steelman.

Bentson, who put on a campaign blitz in the last few weeks while Steelman was being hurt by lack of funds, was in trouble in the large metropolitan areas of the state, but he offset his losses with huge gains in the smaller counties and the rural areas.

The cubic mile of sea water contains 128,000 tons of salt.

Latest returns from the Texas Election Bureau, with 4,887 precincts reported out of 5,422, gave Bentson 1,773,365 votes, 57 per cent, and Steelman 1,302,567, 42 per cent. Marjorie Gallion, a Crane housewife, trailed far behind with 14,010 votes.

Bentson acknowledged his victory late in the evening and sighed: "It is especially gratifying not to be included among the Senate incumbents who met defeat."

"It's been a bad day for incumbents in Senate races across the nation," he said. "From New York and Maryland to Tennessee and Indiana and points west, incumbent senators are being voted out of office. I pledge to continue serving our state and nation to the best of my ability during the next six years."

Meanwhile in Dallas, Steelman, who gave up a safe 5th Congressional District seat to take on Bentson, refused to concede defeat early in the evening despite a comfortable 65-35 percentage lead by Bentson, but late at night he called Bentson to congratulate him.

He declined to make any comments.

Steelman, 32, carried Dallas and Denton counties and put up a good fight in Harris County.

Houston early in the evening, at times leading by nearly 50,000 votes, before Bentson surpassed him.

Steelman also was strong in some West Texas oil counties.

But the rest was Bentson country as the veteran politician, who had also run statewide last May in the presidential primary and the primary for the Senate nomination, rolled on to secure his second term in the Senate.

It was a battle between a party loyalist, Bentson, and a Republican maverick who was on record as saying he was not accountable to party bosses and openly courted liberal Democrats.

Both Bentson and Steelman were Texas-oriented in their philosophical approach although Steelman, because of his record in Congress in favor of environmentalist legislation and his support of minority business enterprises, appeared to have a more liberal image.

Bentson openly endorsed Carter in the last weeks of the campaign. Steelman backed Ford, as he had done in the primary election when Ford was swamped by Ronald Reagan.

Both Bentson and Steelman portrayed themselves as fiscal conservatives and rarely disagreed on national issues. Bentson opposed the Humphrey-Hawkins public works bill, but said he would vote for it as a last resort for jobs.

Steelman favored the creation of jobs through personal and corporate income tax cuts. Both opposed gun control and voted for the Voting Rights Act which was extended to Texas.
