Hereford's two banks posted a new all-time high — again — for accounts at the end of the first quarter of the year, exceeding by more than a million dollars the previous record set at the close of 1965.

Deposits at the First National Bank and Hereford State Bank totaled $27.4 million on April 5, it was announced this week, as compared to $26.2 million on Dec. 31, 1965.

Thus, local banks continued their trend of setting new records at virtually every bank call during recent years. Although a portion of the increase was attributed to new loans, the majority of the deposits jump stems from "normal financial growth of the area," officials said.

Hold-over deposits resulting from a good year for many area farmers also received credit for pushing accounts upward. AT THE CLOSE of 1965, bankers said they could foresee no reason for a let-off in growth of the area and the bank call announced last week bears out the statement.

Showers To Late For Many Farmers

Deaf Smith County's first general rain since October arrived early Friday morning — too late to save some dryland crops — but soon enough to provide life-saving moisture to others.

Rainfall through Saturday afternoon totaled .44 in Hereford and more elsewhere in the county, but was apparently not enough to be of a great economic value.

Showers came too late for many dryland crops already dried up in the western portion of the county, and offered little help for farmers there as moisture totaled less than a tenth of an inch.

One farmer said about all the showers did for him was "get up an appetite for more rain." He'd about decided it was through raining around here.

The showers came on the heels of a freeze Thursday morning which may have caused some damage to some crops.

The rains brought the moisture total in Hereford to just 1.34 for the year, far below the seasonal normal for the region, but above the 1.15 total rainfall of April 22, 1965.

Normal total moisture in the county for the year through mid-April, according to U. S. Weather Bureau, is about two and a half inches.

MOISTURE from showers early Friday and Saturday morning varied across the county, with heavier amounts to the south and east.

Moisture Total Still Far Short Of Area Norm

Showers in Deaf Smith County Friday and Saturday upped moisture totals for the year somewhat, but still left them far below seasonal normals for the area.

"I've been here 36 years, and this is about as dry as I've ever seen," commented Phillip Miller, who farms 16 miles northwest of Hereford.

Miller, a weather observer for the Soil Conservation Service, has the records to back up his statement.

ALTHOUGH much of the county received as much as 26 inches of rainfall during 1965, the moisture total at the Miller farm was just 12.82 last year.

And Friday morning's shower which left more than half an inch of rainfall in portions of the county dropped only .08 of an inch in his raingage, in the heart of the county's dryland crop region.

Bankers, Lawyers Survey New Code

Bankers and Lawyers from 20 area cities had registered, as of Saturday, for the Mid-Plains Legal Institute to be held in Hereford all day Saturday, April 30.

Sponsors of the Institute indicated that probably as many additional cities would be represented by the time registration closes.

The Institute is designed to acquaint lending institutions and their legal counsel with the changes that will result from the adoption of the Uniform Commercial Code as a part of the Law of the State of Texas, when the Code becomes effective on July 1, 1966.

ATTORNEYS said that the commercial law of the State has not seen as many drastic changes at one time in almost a century, as will be facing banks, finance companies and other lending institutions in the effective date of the new law.

The Institute is being jointly sponsored by the Bar Associations for the 69th Judicial District, comprised of Deaf Smith County, and five neighboring counties, and by the Bar Associations for the 64th and 154th Judicial Districts, to the south of Hereford.

Bradley Appeals Court Verdict On Land Sale

James H. Bradley of Hereford has filed an appeal with the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans concerning a civil suit recently ruled upon by a U. S. District Court jury in Amarillo.

In a suit in which Bradley sought title to a tract of land located near Sugarland Mall Shopping Center or $40,000 for loss of earnings, the U. S. District Court jury found that the 82-year-old owner of the tract was mentally incompetent at the time he agreed to sell the parcel of land to Bradley in 1964.

Schools Push Reading Aid

A tour of Hereford elementary schools might offer some surprises to parents these days as new teaching methods are being put into practice to upgrade reading instruction.

Among innovations utilized here for the first time this spring are many new instructional machines, hundreds of new books for libraries in elementary school classrooms, and unique, specially equipped classrooms known as "reading stations," which place emphasis on individual instruction utilizing the latest techniques.

They are all part of the local school system's efforts to provide the best possible solution to the problem of how to "teach Johnny to read."

OVERALL instructional programming for the schools places emphasis on reading in the lower elementary grades. Teachers of primary children recently attended workshops in reading.

And now, for the first time, all elementary classrooms have their own reading libraries, many volumes for which were secured by funds from new federal programs under the supervision of the Texas Education Agency.

Students who need special attention in reading instruction are receiving the benefits of many innovations in both teaching materials and methods.

These students, for some 45 minutes daily, leave their regular classroom to go to the newly-instituted "reading stations," where they receive instruction in groups of from six to ten.

EACH SCHOOL has such a classroom, set up See SCHOOLS Page 2

NEW READING INSTRUCTION METHODS — Innovations in reading instruction in Hereford schools recently include such new methods as (left photo) reading laboratories where students individually use a tape recorder and a record player to help improve their reading. Baseball Field Equipped With New Backstop

Whiteface baseball field has taken on a new look in the past week with the addition of a new backstop for the field.

THE NEW backstop is slightly higher than the old one and is much sturdier, according to coach Don Dorman, head baseball coach.

Earlier this year workers added a mixture of clay to the soil in the field to make the ground firmer and they also improved the pitcher's mound.

Dorman said the addition of the backstop makes the field in 'good shape' for the upcoming district games.

THE BACKSTOP is constructed of three-inch pipe with cyclone fencing used for the stop. Construction will be finished in time for the game with Silverton Tuesday at 4 p. m.

The new backstop now goes to the end of both sides of bleachers, where the old one did not offer that much protection from the balls fouled backwards.

The Facts About Judges' Retirement

District Judges and all higher court judges are paid by the State of Texas. In 1949 a Retirement System was established for all such judges and since then all judges have been paying into a retirement fund, much as you pay Social Security. And State Funds, not county funds, have also been, and will continue to be paid in regularly.

The present District Judge, who completes 20 years in office at the end of 1966, has earned his retirement and can start drawing it on his 65th birthday in 1967.

The retirement of a District Judge does not increase your local taxes any more than the retirement of a School Teacher increases School District Taxes.

Herd Golfers Place 2nd In Region

Tie With Andrews, Win In Playoff Round Friday

Hereford Whiteface golfers took second place in the regional tournament Friday after making a tremendous comeback from an off day Thursday.

Only five strokes separated the locals from the first place position in the Region I meet at Odessa.

The Whitefaces wound up the two days in a tie for second place with Andrews' number one team, but after a playoff round the locals managed to pull ahead of the Andrews group.

Play began Thursday and at the end of 18 holes of golf the Hereford group had taken fourth place in the meet, but after an almost flawless day Friday the Whitefaces moved into the second-place position.

Andrews' number two team took the title at the meet and then the Andrews' number one team took third only a few strokes behind the Whitefaces.

Jimmy Young wound up with second-place honors in the region for medalist. He finished just in a tie with Jimmy Chapman of Andrews and beat him in a play off round. Joe Tubb of Levelland won the Medalist title.

Coach Cuby Kitchens said "the boys did an excellent job of playing in the tournament."

The boys were met by unusually cool windy weather in the normally warm town and were hampered somewhat by the 50-60 degree temperatures.

Wind posed another problem for the players in the tournament with an almost constant 10-18 mph wind blowing from the northeast.

Unlike the district play where five men played on the team and the top four counted, in regional play only four players are allowed on the course from each school and all of their scores count.

Jimmy Young, Andy Channer, Roger Owen and Mike Horton represented the locals in the Region I Tournament.

The final score for Hereford was 643 with Andrews scoring a 638 for both days.

Thursday scores ran high with Young scoring a 77, Channer a 84, Owen, a 77 and Horton a 92.

On the second day the men showed a marked improvement over the first round of the course with each of them cutting an average of four strokes per man off their game.

Horton showed the most improvement, cutting some 12 strokes off his first score.

Channer cut his score by six strokes on the second go round and Young knocked off three strokes.

Owen was the only Hereford player to score higher the second day. He scored four strokes higher.

On the second day Young scored a 74, Channer a 78, Owen an 81 and Horton an 80.

Young, Owen and Channer are all seniors this year. Mike Horton is a junior and Steve Hendon, who has been the fifth member of the team in district competition is a sophomore.

Andrews will continue into the playoffs, but the regional meet was the end of the line for the Whitefaces.

There were six teams entered in the competition. They were Hereford, two teams from Andrews, Lamesa, Levelland and Muleshoe.

Following the Andrews number one team in fourth place was Lamesa, then Levelland in fifth and Muleshoe in sixth.

Hereford took the district title last week in Perryton after gaining some 64 strokes over second-place Muleshoe.

Earlier in the season the locals led the district by only five strokes, but pulled themselves out of the danger zone at their own meet when they pulled ahead some 48 strokes.

The Whitefaces led the district all through the season although they did place third in the Dumas meet.

Hereford won the district title after the scores from six district tourneys were added to compile the final score.

CINCINNATI @ — Members of the Cincinnati Reds took top honors in three individual batting departments in 1965. Pete Rose led the league in hits with 209, Tommy Harper was high in runs scored with 126, and Deron Johnson's 130 runs-batted-in topped both leagues.

FOR PONY LEAGUE

Blanks Available For Ball Players

Applications are now available for boys age 13 and 14 to fill out for entering into Pony League baseball this summer.

TRYOUTS HAVE been set for May 5 and 6 at Dameron Park with the player auction being held the evening of May 6 after the final tryouts.

The application blanks are available at Stanton Junior High School and must be filled out by each boy regardless if he played ball in the Pony League last year or not.

At the present time plans are being made for six teams, but the number of applications from prospective players will determine the number of teams which will play.

THE FIRST games for the league are scheduled for May 16 and officials will try to plan the schedule so that each team will play twice a week.

Boys who try out for the teams will be able to see the results of the player auction on the following Sunday in the Sunday Brand. They will also be able to find out about the results at Dameron Park.

MANAGERS for the teams are Marvin Coffey, Tigers; Bill Wall, White Sox; Ben Noyse, Red Sox; Carl Carlile, Indians; Gerald Mobley, Orioles, and Ronnie Osborn, Twins.

Ted Higgins is the president of the Pony League organization for this season.

Antarctica's 5,300,000 frozen square miles form a remarkable world laboratory where scientists from many countries work in harmony.

Hereford To Begin District Play Friday

The Hereford Whitefaces have only one game on their slate until they get full-fledged into conference baseball competition.

HEREFORD will clash with the Silverton nine here at 4 p. m. Tuesday and then Friday will play hosts to the Canyon Eagles at 3:30 p. m. for the first district game of the year.

The game will be Canyon's debut into the district baseball ring. Until this year only Dumas and Hereford had sported teams.

Tuesday May 3 Hereford will travel to Canyon for the second district game of the season before hosting Dumas at Whiteface Field on May 5.

At the present time the Dumas Demons have only one blemish on a perfect record for the season with the Amarillo Sandies slipping up on them early in the season.

Grid Members To Visit HPC Over Weekend

Head football coach Jack Meredith, Gene Drummond and Greg Richards will all travel to Brownwood next weekend where they will visit Howard Payne College.

WHILE THERE the boys will talk to football officials there about obtaining scholarships there and the possibility of playing college ball for that school.

Drummond was named to the all district team in the position of halfback and was named the Hereford Brand fighting Whiteface award during his junior year.

Drummond will be eligible to sign with the team during the visit, but Richards will have to wait until he is finished in the spring sports.

Members of the Hereford High School Acappella Choir have been enjoying themselves at Six Flags Over Texas while the rest of us have been slaving away. The group left Hereford Thursday morning for T. C. U. for a workshop. After the workshop they enjoyed themselves and should be home Sunday morning.

The school has seemed pretty empty without the choir members in class. With a reduction in classes there have been more study periods, is that good or bad?

Virgil Young, H. H. S. chemistry instructor, has informed me that the reason the school song dies down at the end is that it is just too high for the masculine voices. If that's the case, perhaps it should be altered.

SEVERAL members of H. H. S. traveled to Odessa for the Interscholastic League competition this week-end. It just happened that the track and golf fellows were also in Odessa for the regional meet.

Assistant principal Jesse Geron is well-known for his singing abilities. But did you know that he is also quite a dancer? What kind of dancer, I can't say, but he really livens up things in the office.

IN SPITE of all of the efforts of the Junior Class there are a few Seniors who know the theme of the Jr.-Sr. banquet. All I have been able to find out is that it's one of three. Even the Seniors who do know aren't telling. Is it one of these... Flight to the Moon, Holland, or the Arabian Nights? All three sound fabulous, why won't anyone tell?

 Seriously, the Juniors are to be commended for keeping all so "hush-hush." They have really put in hours of hard work and it will all be appreciated.

Senior Keys are in and have been given to the Senior class by Cowan Jewelry. This is just one of the things that helps to make the Senior year a little extra special.

THE MAIN topic in any conversation any more seems to center around the annuals. Not a day goes by that someone doesn't spread the word that the annuals are in. Hey, Annual Staff, isn't it about time for us to suddenly have an unscheduled assembly?

 Signs went up Friday for the upcoming class elections. It's amazing to walk into the school and see how much it has changed over night. Respect the hard work put in on all of the signs and posters. There are some really humorous signs hanging on the second floor walls. Don't forget to support the candidates of your choice.

CONGRATULATIONS to the Hereford Golf Team. The team placed second in the regional golf tournament. Jimmy Young also took second medalist honors. The boys have really had a good year.

Respect all such as sing when all alone! R. Browning

New Fabrics Stay Ironed

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

"The Fabric With the Lasting Memory," is the title of a talk given on permanent press. This is the greatest advancement since nylon hose. The garments live up to the promise and they do not need ironing. It is predicted that by 1970, 50 per cent of all soft goods will have permanent press finish. It is quite a wonderful process and all consumers should inform themselves of the characteristics and care. A few points of the talk are as follows:

- (1) Higher in price
- (2) Wear-life shorter
- (3) Buying from reliable retailers
- (4) Read and heed printed instructions
- (5) Return garment if proves unsatisfactory
- (6) Beware of fabric with an odor, as the odor will not wash out
- (7) Buy to fit as alterations are very difficult
- (8) In ready-mades, be sure all seams and pleats are pressed (9) Be informed by knowing what to expect Don't get the impression that this process is perfect or without fault, but it is wonderful if it serves your purpose. Therefore, lasting memories can be locked into place for life of the garment. It is a wonderful day in the textile world. (P. S. Keep your iron)

THIS WEEK I have decided to quit worrying. It just doesn't pay. I was asked to be chairman of the first session at the Workshop on May 2 at College Station, including introducing the director of Extension, the assistant director for home economics and also the main speaker. It isn't that I worked much at this, but I did worry enough to get the thing underway. And then to my consternation, the conference chairman wrote and asked me to cancel this idea and to summarize the meeting.

Now should I worry about this or simply concentrate on this duty when I get to College Station The job the first session was my preference so it could be finished and I could enjoy the rest of the conference. Someday, I'll quit being agreeable to these big jobs.

AT THE OFFICE, we are so proud of Jean Kennedy for being a charter member of the National Secretaries Association. The initiation and installation Sunday afternoon were very impressive. This should be good for Hereford. Congratulations to the eleven secretaries who were initiated.

SANDRA FRY exhibited her food show product at North Hereford Club two weeks ago. The club members were complimentary of the program and the tasty cornbread. Mrs. Paul Hoff asked for the recipe. This is Sandra's prize winning recipe:

GREEN CHILE CORNBREAD
1 1/2 cups yellow cornmeal
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup sour cream
1 cup grated cheese
1 small can creamed corn
1 small can diced green chiles
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup chopped onions
Preheat oven to 450 degrees
Generously grease muffin tins
Sift all dry ingredients together
Add remaining ingredients in order listed and mix well
Fill greased muffin tins one-half full and place in oven
Bake for 15 to 20 minutes or until well browned.
This will make 12 servings.

WHILE AT CANYON at the District Foods Show, the custodian at the high school asked if I had been to the Barn Museum. The next part on the program was by Janice Turrentine, so I got her to tell everyone at the program about it. Many of the things at the Barn Museum at the Turrentine-Werner farm will be brought to the local museum when it is organized.

For the past 18 years, for 12 or 13 more years and the blasting out six million tons, of granite, Crazy Horse will be finished.) It is in the Black Hills of South Dakota and is a memorial to the spirit and courage of the North American Indians. This great work of art is only 20 driving miles from Mount Rushmore Memorial. Crazy Horse memorial will measure 641 feet or about the length of two football fields, and the height of a 56 story building.

ORGANIST PLAYS TODAY — Margaret Heiny of Amarillo, talented musician who has won praise for concerts given in many West Texas cities, will appear here this afternoon in a program sponsored by Hereford Music Study Club. The public is invited to hear the concert, without charge, at 4 p.m. in the Presbyterian Church. Club members will be hostesses at a reception afterward in the church fellowship hall, with the audience invited to meet the artist.

of Mr. & Mrs. Joe Benson of Dimmitt, did a good job at Canyon with the program. Susan is the granddaughter of Mr. & Mrs. A. T. Jones. People are so nice to cooperate.

IT IS SO INTERESTING to read of the shaping of the world's largest statue. This is an immense graven image of the Sioux warrior, Crazy Horse, and it is being done by Korczak Ziolkowski. The "Mountain of work" is really an 18 million ton rock.

what he calls "Supper" at a public restaurant near Capital Hill and goes back to work.

When the Billie Sol Estes case first broke in Texas, the powers-that-be tried to sweep it under the rug. Williams investigated and made the motion for a Senate investigation. In the end, Estes was convicted of fraud and conspiracy.

Broke Bobby Baker Cast The story of the Bobby Baker scandal is well known. It is an unfinished story since Baker's trial still lies ahead. But I fit had not been for John Williams, there would have been so Senate investigation, no indictment, and indeed no exposure of the operations of Lyndon B. Johnson's former protege.

As a minority member who persists in finding embarrassing facts, Williams has been subjected to the investigation himself. Once he had to drop the Baker case temporarily while he defended himself against an investigation of his own taxes. He wound up getting a refund.

THE DEMOCRATS have tried mightily to defeat Williams. On the Saturday before the 1964 election, President Johnson closed his campaign in Delaware, which has only three electoral votes, pleading for Williams' defeat. Johnson carried Delaware by a landslide but Williams was re-elected to a fourth term — the longest period of service of any Senator from that state.

Williams is a poor speaker, talking so softly that he can scarcely be heard. But when it is known he is going to take the Senate floor, there is a full attendance of both Senators and reporters. The country boy doesn't talk unless he has something to say, and often what he says leads to jail for wrong-doers.

Spirit Of Giving Lasts All Year, Just As Hobby

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Stacks of gifts, ready to be wrapped and tagged, supply one of the most pleasant excitements of the Christmas season, almost everyone agrees. Mrs. Lena Menefee refuses to limit that happy period; she already has gifts for young and old stacked for next Christmas.

THE HOLIDAY MAY come but once a year, as the old saying has it, but Mrs. Menefee has found a way to spread its charm over the entire year. Her hobby is making gifts for everyone in her family, and the fact that the family has grown from six to 80 members since they came to West Texas in 1925 has not changed her plans.

In addition, she makes gifts for many friends; the total last Christmas was well over 100. That list keeps her working at her hobby all year long.

Mrs. Menefee, mother of Mrs. Sam Long of Hereford, is now a resident of King's Manor. Until about a year ago she lived on her farm at Lazbuddie. With her husband and four children she moved to Parmer County in 1925 from Greenville. After her husband's death she lived alone for seven years, then left the farm to occupancy of a grandson's family.

EXCEPT FOR SOME favorite pieces of furniture and keepsakes which she brought to her room at the Manor, she divided household belongings among members of the family. "so now when I visit any of them, there is something that belonged to me in their house", she explains.

Gracious, silver-haired Mrs. Menefee has mementoes of her former home on the Plains and also of the Texas Gulf coast where she and her husband used to spend much time in winters. Both enjoyed fishing, and snapshots of them and their friends with big fish attest to their skill at the sport.

She also has a gardener's green thumb, perhaps inherited by Mrs. Long who is president of one of the city's garden clubs, and the window-ledge of her room is lined with blooming plants.

AMONG GIFTS she has already made are pillows in an attractive variety for her grown-up granddaughters; clothes brushes made of nylon net layers, for their husbands; cunning little stuffed fawns and clown dolls for the great-grand babies; tiny dolls made of baby sox and big pixie dolls for the older great-granddaughters, dogs and clowns for their brothers; gay garden hats made of checked gingham for friends.

She uses scraps of cotton, silks lace and thread in her work, and adds decorative bits of embroidery or crochet to many of the items. Pillows are made of bright-colored satin, taffeta or velvet to grace living room sofas or sturdy materials for a college girl's dorm room.

For unusual appearance, she smocks pillows made of flower-printed terry towels, or weaves threads through the mesh of cotton dishrags for another variation of a tailored pillow cover.

SUCH INGENUITY keeps her gift supply fresh, to the annual pleasure of her children, 14 grandchildren, 29 great-grandchildren and assorted in-laws. In addition to Mrs. Long, her children are Mrs. Rubymae Syms of Albuquerque, Mrs. Frances Trieder of Lazbuddie and the only son, J. S. Menefee of Corpus Christi.

A long-time Baptist, Mrs. Menefee says of the Methodist-church-built King's Manor, "I love this home and", smilingly, "I'm grateful for a Methodist home allowing a Baptist to come live and have fellowship with their own. I love them all".

Living and working with other church denominations is nothing new to Mrs. Menefee, however. When she first lived at Lazbuddie the entire community worshipped together at the school building, with ministers of various churches visiting to preach.

As the town developed and separate churches were built, the Menefeas kept up their friendship with members and pastors of them all.

Mrs. Lena Menefee she stretches Christmas

Press Group Reveals Rules For Scholarship

West Texas Press Association has announced applications will be received until May 14 for its 1966 journalism scholarship, which will be worth $600 to some West Texas high school graduate for studying newspaper journalism for four years in college. All applications for the scholarship should be sent by interested seniors to the WTPA scholarship chairman, Bill Turner, publisher of the Olton Enterprise Olton, Texas, 79064.

Announcement of the scholarship winner will be made by June 1.

STUDENTS who would like to apply for the scholarship should talk with their high school principal and editor or publisher of their hometown newspaper, who will be glad to help them with necessary application details. Rules concerning the application have been mailed to the high school principal and also to the newspaper.

The scholarship winner receives $150 per year ($75 per semester) for each of the four years of his or her college career providing satisfactory academic requirements are met.

The WTPA has offered this journalism scholarship each year since 1956 and has had as many as five students in college at one time receiving scholarship funds. Several have graduated and three are in school this year.

Applicant must be in the upper 25 per cent of his class, must have demonstrated ability in newspaper journalism and a desire for a newspaper career.

Nine West Texas colleges and universities have been designated for scholarship winners by the West Texas Press Association. Nine designated schools for scholarship recipients are Abilene Christian College, Angelo College, Hardin-Simmons University, Midwestern University, Sul Ross College, Texas Tech, Wayland Baptist College, West Texas State University and Texas Western College.

JOE M. WADE New Farm Bureau Agent

New FB Agent Named For Hereford Office

Joe M. Wade assumed duties this week as head of the Farm Bureau Agency in Hereford replacing Gene Leach who left to take a position in Lubbock recently.

WADE CAME to Hereford from Dumas where he has been the agent for eight months. Prior to working in Dumas Wade worked out of the Levelland office for nearly two years.

Hereford's office has a membership ranking in the top 10 per cent of Texas' 207 agencies.

Membership of the Hereford agency is now approximately 650 farmers and ranchers in the area.

Wade was named an All-Star insurance salesman last year which means that he sold over one-half million dollars worth of insurance in that year.

At present the office has one full-time employee and a receptionist and is located in a new building which was opened in January.

Since January the local agency has gained some 70 members in the Hereford area.

Wade and his wife Juandell are presently living at 129 Mimosa with their three children. The children are Monte, 14, Arlene, 12, and Terry, 10.

Robert Jacobsen is president of the local organization.

AN OPEN LETTER

SO THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW:

In a recent political ad in the local newspapers and on the radio station, committees supporting Judge Schultz printed a letter listing the names of members of a Moore County Grand Jury. It has come to our attention that the way the ad was worded has caused people to take this ad to mean that all members of such Grand Jury are now supporting Judge Schultz and urging his re-election. Such was not the intent of the letter at all.

Furthermore, we were not consulted about the use of our names in the newspaper nor for use on the radio. This letter was written back in 1965 and it was not intended that our names would be used in the support of any political candidate.

We authorize this to be used in the newspapers or over the radio to clarify the misconception the unauthorized use of our names has caused.

DROPS ON PLAINS, TOO

Deaf Smith Cotton Acreage Declines

Cotton acreage planted in Deaf Smith County during 1966 will be more than 1,000 acres reduced from the 1965 total, according to an announcement Friday by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., of Lubbock.

According to figures released by PCG, Deaf Smith farmers have signed up to plant only 8,189 acres of cotton for 1966, as compared to 9,444 in 1965.

THE 1,255 acre reduction represents a 13.3 percent decrease.

Eligible for cotton production was 10,581 acres, with farmers choosing to divert 2,392 acres, or 22.6 percent.

Farmers in 23 Texas High Plains counties served by PCG, have signed up to plant 1,451,407 acres of cotton in 1966 — 28.2 percent or 570,223 acres less than the 2,021,630 final planted acres on the Plains in 1965. This will be by far the lowest planted acreage for the area in many years.

The 1966 planting intentions were given to PCG by the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office at College Station. The figures were compiled from county ASCS reports on farmer sign-up in the 1966 cotton program through April 1, so for all practical purposes, the figures are final.

PRODUCERS in the area indicated they would divert 704,909 of the 2,158,216 acres that were eligible for the annual program. That comes to 32.77 percent, as compared to the state average diversion of 31.6 percent.

Many observers, including the writer, had previously calculated that the overall 1966 acreage reduction from 1965 would be very close to the 35 percent maximum diversion permitted under the new law. And the drop from the 1965 effective allotment for the area is, in fact, 803,738 acres or a little over 35 percent. But this figure is not too meaningful in view of the fact that 233,615 acres of the area's allotted 2,255,245 acres were not planted in 1965, but were in the old soil bank or were diverted under the 1965 domestic allotment program.

AND IN ALL likelihood, all of the acreage that farmers have said they intend to plant in 1966 won't actually be planted. There will be some degree of underplanting by most farmers to avoid the stiff penalties attached to any acreage planted above the producer's signed intention. This will amount to no more than an acre or two per farmer, however, and final planted acres should still add up to over 1,400,000.

It was necessary this year to include several new factors in the acreage calculations. The original 23-county allotment was 2,122,770 acres. But there were 13,324 of these in the soil bank or in the new cropland adjustment program, leaving only 2,109,446 acres of the base allotment eligible for the annual sign-up.

Still, the total acreage available for the sign-up was reported by the state ASCS office to be 2,158,216—considerably more than was eligible from the base allotment. This fact is presumably accounted for by a net about right, even through the "net" gain in acres was only 46,770. This is because virtually all allotment transfers within the area between farms of the same ownership were from lowyield farms to high-yield farms, causing a reduction of the transferred acreage. For example, three High Plains counties actually lost acres by way of owner transfers.

Dickens County's total acreage dropped 1,205. Garza showed a loss of 505 and Motley County went down 219 acres. However in terms of bales produced, there should be no loss because of the higher expected per-acre production from farms to which acres were transferred.

Not included in the acres producers intend planting in 1966 are any that may be planted under the export acreage provisions of the program. But these are not expected to total enough to materially affect the Plains output for 1966. Also to be considered is the fact it isn't too late for allotments to be placed in the cropland adjustment program. But this isn't likely to have any great effect either.

There are some who predict that substantial increases in per acre yields from the reduced acreage this year will soften the effect on number of bales produced. Others maintain that, with a big portion of their income from direct government payments, producers will cut to the bone costs on planted acreage and per-acre yields may actually go down. Both schools are probably right in some instances and wrong in others.

So, for such an early production estimate, it's probably just as well to assume yields similar to those of 1965 and reduce production by the same percentage as the indicated acreage cut — 28.2 percent. Production in 1965 came to 2,205,097 bales. So as good a guess as any is that we'll raise 1,583,260 bales in 1966 — 621,837 less than last year.

Water Resource Study Grant Set

The Office of Water Resources Research in Washington, D.C., will provide $15,487 for two studies to be conducted through the Texas A&M University Water Resources Institute.

Dr. E. T. Smerdon, Institute director, said that although the two projects involve research in different areas, information provided will be "vitaly important to Texas as it moves toward a more complete development of its water resources."

"THESE PROJECTS are part of the annual allotment program of the Water Resources Institute and will receive additional funding from OWRR in the next fiscal year," Smerdon explained.

One of the studies is under direction of Dr. Jack Runkles, A&M professor of soil physics, who will investigate mechanism of evaporation from soils in semi-arid climates. The research will be supervised by Dr. Charles Wendt, soil physicist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center near Lubbock.

Runkles said 40 percent of the average annual water income for Texas is lost by evaporation.

"If 1 percent of this loss could be prevented, enough water would be saved to supply 26 cities the size of Lubbock or to irrigate the South Plains cotton crops for one and a half years," he emphasized.

THE OTHER project, directed by Dr. R. J. Baldauf of the A&M Wildlife Science Department, will study influence of water development projects on the ecology or environment of a river system.

Baldauf will conduct the research on the lower Trinity River, the upper Trinity Bay, and the nearby delta and marsh areas. Data will be observed in relation to water quality and populations of animals living in the water, such as fish and shrimp. Ways in which upstream reservoir development affects fish populations and other water life will be determined.

Thanksgiving has not always been a favorite American holiday, the National Geographic Society says. Thomas Jefferson denounced it as a "monarchical practice" and refused to observe it. Prior to the Civil War, many Southerners ignored Thanksgiving as a Yankee custom. Abraham Lincoln revived the holiday and set aside the last Thursday of November as a national observance.

Hereford Area Leads State In Growth Rate

AUSTIN — Deaf Smith, and Randall counties are the fastest growing counties in the state, according to a University of Texas Population Research Center report on population changes between 1960 and 1965. Overall, the state gain was 1.6 per cent.

A new population estimate as of April 1, 1965, shows that Texas as a whole has gained 756,464 people in the five years since the 1960 census, an average gain of 1.5 per cent a year.

BUT THE TREND toward big-city living continued, the Population Research Center at the University of Texas indicated in its report. Of the gain in population, 637,374 was in the 21 metropolitan statistical centers containing cities of 50,000 or more.

Only three of the 21, Odessa, Midland and Cameron County, failed to show gains in population during the five-year period. Dallas, with a gain of 3 per cent, Austin with 2.9 and Houston with 2.6 per cent, were leading gainers among the 21 metropolitan areas.

This year, the population estimates were based, as in the past on the census of children of school age, adjusted by statistical methods to produce an estimate of the true population. The Center said it has concluded that perhaps the best method is to use the intermediate figure of three produced by three different methods.

IN GENERAL, the fast-growing areas of Texas are the irrigation counties in the South and High Plains. Top gainer in the state is Randall County, which has gained an average of 7.7 per cent a year since 1960. Next is adjoining Deaf Smith County (Hereford) which has gained 7.1 per cent a year. Hartley's gain of 7 per cent puts it in third place.

Other high gainers are Bell, 4.9 per cent a year, and Coryell, 6.7, due in part at least to growth of military populations at Fort Hood from 1960 to 1965. Montgomery County's gain of 5 per cent reflects the growth of the Houston metropolitan area into that adjoining county.

Decline of oil activity in West Texas is reflected in population losses in the Permian Basin. In addition to Midland's loss of 0.9 per cent a year and Ector County's loss of 1.2 per cent a year, Andrews went down 4.9, Scurry 4.5, Upton 6.8 and Winkler 4.4 per cent a year.

SHAW-ELIOT ANTHEM LONDON (AP) — An anthem, setting words of T. S. Eliot to music by Dr. Martin Shaw, has been edited for publication and will get its first performance with a London choir in March. The American-born poet, who died in London on Jan. 4 last year, disliked having his verse sung but made an exception for

Dr. Shaw in this case. The anthem, for double choir and organ, is called "The Greater Light" and was composed for Liverpool Cathedral. It was believed lost in World War II bombing raids on the city until Mrs. Shaw recently found the original manuscript among the composer's papers.

Gray Ladies At Work

The Sunday Brand

SECTION TWO

HEREFORD, TEXAS 79045, SUNDAY, APRIL 24, 1966

OFFICERS TALK PLANS — Mrs. C. A. Saul, left, president of the Gray Ladies of Red Cross Chapter, talks with Mrs. Ray Carille, secretary, at the April luncheon of the group Thursday noon. Plans for a variety of spring activities were discussed by members who reported many hours of work in the past month.

MESSAGE RELAYS are made as part of the numerous services to residents of King's Manor by Gray Ladies. Mrs. F. C. Davis, with the telephone, is assisting Mrs. Clara Shore at the reception desk in the foyer of the Manor. Residents depend upon the Gray Ladies for many neighborly deeds of kindness.

VOLUNTEER SERVICE is rendered year-round by some 25 members of the Red Cross Gray Ladies, whose trim uniform dresses are a welcome sight to patients at West Gate, residents of King's Manor and a number of ill and shut-in persons here. The Gray Ladies render such aid at West Gate and King's Manor as assisting with recreation and exercise, writing letters and just visiting. For individuals they sometimes prepare food, supply transportation for the ill or elderly, sit with hospital patients to relieve tired family members, or provide other neighborly services. They cooperate in national and county activities of the Red Cross and assist in the local chapter's office when needed.

SIGHTSEEING TRIP — Mrs. Louie Olson, left, and Mrs. Marvis Southward take Mrs. W. H. Garrett, a resident at West Gate, to the sun room in her wheel chair while they are on a regular visit to the hospital. They often assist patients to walk for exercise, and write letters or carry messages when requested, among other helpful acts.

OFFICE AIDE — Several members of the Gray Ladies, including Mrs. R. L. Criswell who is at the desk here, perform a valued service to the county Red Cross Chapter by serving as aides to the executive secretary, Mrs. Genevieve Miller, during rush times, or when she is out of town attending conferences. They have learned enough of the office duties that they can handle routine work or emergency calls.

retary, Mrs. Genevieve Miller, during rush times, or when she is out of town attending conferences. They have learned enough of the office duties that they can handle routine work or emergency calls.

FUTURE NURSES' OFFICERS — This year's leaders of the Future Nurses group in Hereford High School, headed by Patty Roach, are, from left, Jane Wilhelm, senior member of the executive council; Cindy Jones, secretary; Charlotte Hill, treasurer; Miss Roach, president; Camille Pavlicek, historian; Beverly Betzen, point-keeper. These and other members who have earned the required points, received pins when the Hereford Medical Auxiliary entertained recently for the girls and their mothers.

Miss Vicky Urbanczyk, whose marriage to Robert Schmucker is to be solemnized April 30, was complimented with a shower Monday evening when a group of friends entertained in the Knights of Columbus Hall. Wearing a green suit with corsage of white carnations, Miss Urbanczyk greeted callers with her mother, Mrs. Conrad Urbanczyk; her fiance's mother, Mrs. Alvin Schmucker, and his grandmother, Mrs. Henry Schmucker of Nazareth.

Pre-Nuptial Shower Given Miss Urbanczyk

Miss Vicky Urbanczyk, whose marriage to Robert Schmucker is to be solemnized April 30, was complimented with a shower Monday evening when a group of friends entertained in the Knights of Columbus Hall. Wearing a green suit with corsage of white carnations, Miss Urbanczyk greeted callers with her mother, Mrs. Conrad Urbanczyk; her fiance's mother, Mrs. Alvin Schmucker, and his grandmother, Mrs. Henry Schmucker of Nazareth.

Others in the hostess party were Meses. Walt Warren, Charles Kropff, Gerald Banner, Harold Kreighauser, Eddie Hoffman, Allen Evers, George W. Schulte, Henry Kuper, S. A. Fangman, Leander Reinart, Alban Bezner and Wirt Albracht.

Gifts to the bride-elect were displayed on a table covered with lace over mint green, holding a large green bowl of white irises.

Two Hereford Students Receive Mention In College 'Who's Who'

Two Hereford students, Carl Wimberley and Don Rice, will be honored at special ceremonies Sunday, April 24, at 3 p. m. in the ballroom of the Student Union Building at West Texas State University.

Shingles, or certificates of membership in the 1965-66 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," will be presented by Randy Chennault, Odesa senior and outgoing president of the student body.

Leaflets Supply Program Notes For Club Lesson

Leaflets with information about fabrics were distributed to Ford Home Demonstration Club members by Mrs. Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, as she spoke at a meeting Wednesday in Ford Community House. Mrs. Leroy Edwards was hostess.

Mrs. Draper's subject was Clothing — Action. She stressed the importance of learning characteristics of various fibers, and studying labels which are required by law on garments, in order to know how to buy fabrics suited to various purposes and also how to care for them. Identification of the four natural fibers was discussed, with the note that these are now usually combined with man-made fibers, so labels need careful study. Performance guarantees are also listed on many labels, with cleaning instructions, the speaker added.

Mrs. A. L. Hollingsworth presided for routine business. The next meeting was announced for May 18 in the home of Mrs. John A. Smith with Mrs. Raymond Smith as hostess. They were present Wednesday as were Meses. Raymond Flores, J. C. Gossett, C. G. Heard, Bruce Hicks and John Brorman.

Tea, Convention Trip In Future Nurses Week

Attendance at the state convention of Future Nurses of America in Amarillo Friday and Saturday climaxed a week which opened last Sunday afternoon with an annual tea honoring Hereford FNA members, with women of Hereford Medical Auxiliary as hostesses.

Pins earned by members who compiled required points in the FNA program of this year, were presented at the tea in Community Center, and the four with the highest number of points were delegates to the state convention.

They were Patty Roach, local president, Cynthia McMinn, Tony Beauchamp and Cynthia Knox. Mrs. A. T. Mims, sponsor from the Medical Auxiliary, accompanied them to Amarillo for Friday afternoon and Saturday meetings.

Mothers of the girls were also guests at the Sunday tea, and each pinned a corsage at her daughter's shoulder in the award ceremony for which Mrs. Joe Whitley, Medical Auxiliary president, presided.

Members who received pins last year, and added guards by their work this year, were Miss Roach, Jane Wilhelm, Beverly Betzen, Lois Bosley and Linda Kuper.

Those receiving pins were Cheryl Solomon, Joyce Loflin, Charlotte Hill, Cindy Jones, Camille Pavlicek, Lucille Self and Cathy Finley.

After the pin presentation, punch and cookies were served from a table centered with a tiered glass stand which held the corsages and other flowers. Mrs. J. D. Hamblen poured punch.

The spring tea is an annual event for the Auxiliary to honor the Future Nurses and their faculty sponsor, Mrs. Earl Springer.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Somewhere or other I read lately somebody's nostalgic recollection of eating dandelion greens in spring, with instructions for picking the tender leaves and boiling them, or using very young leaves like leaf lettuce, wilted with hot bacon grease and served with vinegar.

WISH THAT WRITER was in my front yard right now; it's a gourmet's delight if dandelion is his dish. Maybe all of us should try eating them on the theory that if they were a vegetable instead of a nuisance, they would immediately be attacked by bugs, blight or drought, and disappear.

Dandelions didn't grow where I lived as a child, so I never ate any of the greens, although we tried anything that we thought was edible among the wild plants. The greens we ate in spring, however, were lambs-quarter, which are still better than spinach, and mighty good mixed with mustard greens.

BRIGHTENING up her office at Deaf Smith County Hospital Wednesday, Christine Brooks was wearing a suit of cardinal red with shoes to match, an outfit vastly becoming to a slender brunette.

And Mrs. Ray Carille wore a sweater of the same gay color with her white blouse and dark skirt at the Red Cross Gray Ladies luncheon Thursday. I understand, by the way, that the Gray Ladies are going to have a new uniform dress soon — not gray!

ANNOUNCEMENT of the South Plains Iris Society's annual show next week-end comes from Lubbock, where it will be staged at the Municipal Garden Art Center, 4215 College, from 2 to 8:30 p. m. Saturday and 1 to 5 p. m. Sunday. Anyone who grows iris is invited to enter the flowers Saturday morning.

Iris should be blooming at their best about that time, unless we have another wintry interval, and the Society's show should be well worth a drive to Lubbock.

The announcement also carried a note concerning King's Iris Garden near Tulla, where it says, more than a thousand named varieties of the flower will be in bloom the first two or three weeks in May. Most Hereford folk probably know of this garden, but its location is news to us newcomers.

It is open to visitors, but the owners ask that attendance of groups such as garden clubs be by appointment. The garden is 7 1/2 miles north of Tulla on paved Farm Road 146. That's on my list of places that must be seen this spring. Imagine 1,000 varieties of iris all in one spot!

IT'S GETTING about time for a good show of wildflowers in the Panhandle, with a little cooperation from the weather. Friends who have been to Palo Duro and Ceta Canyons lately say flowers are already in full bloom down in the canyons, and that's another destination for a Sunday afternoon drive.

BIRD WATCHING

Spring means many things to many people but to the bird watchers it is the best season for pursuing their hobby of bird watching. There are more gazers in our area than might be expected who have this nature-study as a hobby. Included in the group are invalids, semi-invalids, retired persons and people who just like birds.

Many of the bird watchers have their own favorite reference books, but they have occasions to check books from the library to supplement their own. It might be for a rare bird they have seen, or for an art class drawing or some other special angle which is not included in their own volumes.

OF ALL BOOKS on the subject, probably the best known are the Audubon books. John James Audubon is considered an authority on birds and is famous world over for his beautiful paintings and illustrations on the birds of America.

We have in our possession one of the fourth printings dated 1962, of his Birds of America but the first copyright was as recent as 1937. Our copy is not as complete or detailed as the one owned by the Deaf Smith County Library but it is one of our favorite volumes.

Under the library classification of 598 and 598.2 you will find many excellent books on birds. Titles of some are, Bird Neighbors, Birds of the World, Song and Garden Birds of America, Field Guide to the Birds of Texas and many others; of various slants.

One of the most popular among bird watchers is Peterson's Field Guide to the Birds of Texas. It has special sections, such as a place to keep records, and other references, with special classifications and illustrations.

THE NEWEST book in the library, a large and beautiful volume, is Wetmore's Song and Garden Birds of America. This one might become a rival to Audubon's, with its many colorful illustrations and well written text.

recommend Zim's, Birds. It is found in the children's department. Its 112 pages are concise and brightly colored. Although it is somewhat vivid in colors, it is a good clear guide. For many years we carried this little volume along with our field glasses in the car for quick reference. We recently replaced it with Peterson's Texas field guide book.

Bird watching is one of the most relaxing of hobbies, inexpensive and a time-consuming out-of-dorrs-pleasure. —Corinne J. Neely

In his report to Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce, Blanton projected his estimate of the city's growth to 1990, when he foresaw a population of 45,000 with doubled urban area and expansion in transportation, banking facilities, housing, industry and retail sales.

The speaker noted that statistics on city growth this year are already ahead of that predicted by the expert.

Mrs. Philip Shook, vice president, conducted business in the absence of Mrs. Bill Michaels. The next meeting was set for 9 p. m. May 3, following the Hereford High School Choir concert. It will be in Mrs. Clint Formby's home.

Other members present were Mmes. Milton Adams, Emit Detman, Formby, Roy Harris, Ansel McDowell, Dennis Richardson, Urline Streu, A. J. Schroeter, Raymond White and Louis Woodford.

Lurid magazine articles and movies about man-eating clams are exciting enough. But the clam, which can weigh up to 500 pounds, is no man-eater. It leads a quiet life among the coral reefs of the Pacific, eating algae all day long.

Dear Friends of Deaf Smith County:

The duties of my office keep me from seeing each of you personally as this office has grown from gross paid to the County in 1955 of less than $9,000.00 to fines and costs paid to the County in 1965 of more than $46,000.00. So I take this means as a solicitation for your vote. I am running on my past record — no promises. I have tried to be fair, honest, impartial and courteous, and I have tried to enforce the law of this state and the United States as I swore to do when I took office. The experience of the last 10 years makes me qualified, so on May 7, 1966, I hope that you will cast your vote for me as your Justice of the Peace of Deaf Smith County.

Power Failure Study Headed By Rogers

Electrical industry and government leaders across the country are being asked in letters mailed today to provide a House subcommittee with comprehensive data on electrical power "blackouts" which occurred late last year in the Northeastern United States and elsewhere.

Congressman Walter Rogers of Texas, chairman of the Special Subcommittee to Investigate Power Failures, said answers to the letters would provide background necessary to develop subsequent phases of the investigation.

Meanwhile, Congressman Rogers announced the appointment of a special counsel to assist the subcommittee with its study. He is John M. Kerwin, 49, a Chicago attorney whose practice in recent years has primarily centered in the electrical power field.

LETTERS WERE mailed over Congressman Rogers' signature to chief executives in private and public utility companies, officials of equipment manufacturing companies, governors of each State, mayors of principal cities, electrical trade associations both private and public, consulting engineering firms specializing in power fields, and to the Defense Electrical Power Administration.

Utility executives whose views were sought did not include those associated with companies in the Northeast, Congressman Rogers said a special inquiry would be directed later to utility officials in the area affected by the November 9-10 Northeast power failure in order to determine the specific nature of problems they encountered.

"IT WAS APPARENT after the blackout that many companies and groups associated with electrical generation, transmission, and distribution were making studies," Congressman Rogers said. "Our subcommittee believes that the results of these studies will be invaluable in determining the cause of the power failures and bringing about corrections. This is a highly technical problem and we're seeking to draw on the experience and guidance of the most knowledgeable people concerned with it."

The special subcommittee was directed to investigate causes of power failures, areas of responsibility, systems and policies, sufficiency of available power, and possible remedies to prevent such occurrences in the future. In addition to Congressman Rogers, members of the subcommittee are Hon. Fred B. Rooney of Pennsylvania, Hon. John M. Murphy of New York, Hon. James T. Broyhill of North Carolina, and Hon. James Harvey of Michigan.

THOSE POOR AGRONOMISTS

NEW YORK (AP)—A new spike for golf shoes caused considerably less damage to putting greens than the conventional spike in tests conducted by the green section of the United States Golf Association.

The significant feature of the new type is a recessed flange or shoulder, so that only the spike protrudes outside the shoe sole. The spike in common use has a flange outside the sole. The flange is usually blamed by agronomists for causing undue compaction of the soil, which in turn can destroy grass.

The damage caused by three types of spike was studied in tests conducted under the supervision of Dr. Marvin H. Ferguson, national research coordinator of the USGA green section, last summer at College Station, Texas. Standard spikes were compared with two new models having recessed flanges.

Peaceful uses of nuclear explosions point the way to economic and efficient blasting. It has been found that a one-megaton nuclear explosive carves a crater 3,200 feet across and 690 feet deep. It moves 50 million cubic yards of dirt at a cost of four cents a cubic yard. By conventional methods, the cost might run $2 a cubic yard.

Standard spikes were compared with two new models having recessed flanges.

State Highways Spare Flowers

With 840,000 acres of right of way to care for, the Texas Highway Department needs all the help it can get. That's why roadsides in Texas as this time of year may look somewhat shaggy. Mother Nature is lending the Department's maintenance men a helping hand by doing her spring planting.

EACH SPRING, operators of the Department's mowing machines are under orders to skirt patches of wildflowers along the 66.5 thousand-mile Texas highway network.

This leaves intact breathtaking vistas of bluebonnets, indian paint brush and other wildflowers.

AND IT ALSO lets nature take her course. The wildflowers are untouched until they go to seed and the pods ripen.

Only after the flowers reseed themselves do the Highway Department men give the roadsides the season's first complete and thorough manicure.

Come next spring, these areas will be ablaze with wildflower blossoms again.

FOR THREE decades, the Texas Highway Department has been concerned with the appearance of its roadsides. The Department pioneered highway beautification.

And though "beauty is its own reward" there are practical reasons for the program that has made the Texas Highway Department the state's biggest gardener.

BY HELPING to retard erosion of slopes along the highways, wildflowers serve an important function in protecting the taxpayer's investment in the Texas highway system.

Natural flora along the highways are augmented by plantings of other trees and shrubs by the Department.

Together, these touches of roadside beauty act as hidden persuaders to drivers. A carefully-located tree or shrub subtly calls the driver's attention to a potential roadside hazard.

Coupled with the 1,100 safety rest areas, roadside parks and scenic turnouts on Texas highways, the plantings of man and nature combat "highway hypnosis."

In this way, beautification efforts play an important role in highway safety. They encourage the driver to take frequent breaks from the wheel, lessen fatigue and making his trip safer and more pleasant.

THE NEW CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE

We have heard and read much about the New Code of Criminal Procedure that went into effect January 1st. The Old Code was already complicated and highly technical. Then the New Code made more than 200 changes in court procedure in criminal cases.

To be well prepared to deal with these changes Judge Schultz, at his own expense, attended a 3 day Institute on the New Code at Austin last November.

With the rapid increase in population in this district there has come a proportionate increase in the number of criminal and civil cases. The type of cases coming before our district court for trial have also increased in complexity.

These things call for all the experience and know-how the district judge can command. They also require aggressive scheduling of cases for trial and the use of pre-trial procedures to get cases prepared for trial and moving along.

Judge Schultz's record shows that he has the ability to handle the increased problems of our District Court.

THE CHURCH I LOVE... IS MADE UP OF NEW CREATURES (26th in a series).

"Wherefore if any man is in Christ, he is a new creature: the old things are passed away; behold, they are become new." (II Corinthians 5:17).

According to Christ, the process by which a sinner becomes a "new creature" is called the "new birth." (John 3:3-5). James explains, "Of his own will he brought us forth (begot us) by the word of truth that we should be a kind of first fruits of his creatures." (James 1:18). Peter adds to this explanation, "Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere love of the brethren, love one another earnestly from the heart. You have been born anew, not of perishable seed, but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God." (I Peter 1:22, 23).

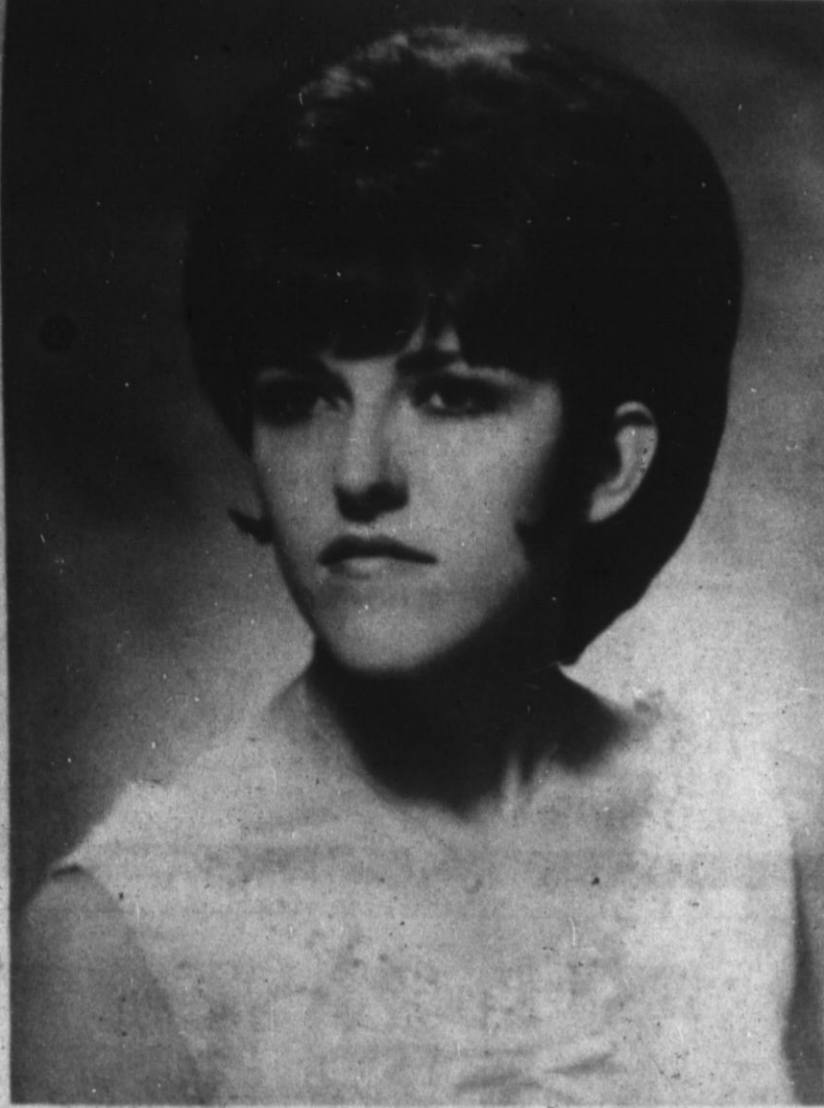

The "new creature" is in Christ Jesus. When we are in Christ, we are in his body, the church. "For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ." (Galatians 3:27). "For by one Spirit we were all baptized into one body." (I Corinthians 12:13).

The "new creature" has had sins washed away in the blood of Christ. He has been born of "water and the Spirit." His body is now the "temple of the Holy Spirit." Like filthy rags, he has put off sin and all unrighteousness, and put on a "heart of compassion, kindness, lowliness, meekness and patience," forbearance toward others, forgiving others and loving God above all and his neighbor as himself.

The "new creature's" hope and aspirations have changed. He no longer says, "I'll do what I want to do," but now says "Not my will, but thine be done."

BRIDE-TO-BE — Miss Carlette Caperton and Jim Ray Messer are planning a May 27 wedding in First Baptist Church here, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Caperton, 120 Juniper, announce. High Plains Research Shows Sesame Prospect

Dr. Earl H. Collister, Executive Vice-President of the High Plains Research Foundation, announced that research with the sesame plant — one of the world's earliest sources of human food — will be expanded at the Foundation during 1966. He stated that the Foundation's expansion in this field of research is necessary in order to help meet the needs of many areas of Texas for alternate cash crops which can be grown in a diversified system of farming.

Sesame is one of the world's oldest food crops for humans. Seed produced by the ancient sesame plant is a source of food quality vegetable oil, and the cake or meal provides an excellent protein for human foods, poultry, and livestock. The high quality sesame protein can be used in the enrichment of many human foods. Sesame meal is rich in vitamin B, calcium and phosphorus. Sesame seeds contain approximately 50% oil, 25% protein, 11% carbohydrates, 5% ash, 4% crude fiber and 5% moisture.

IN ADDITION to being an excellent oil for cooking, oleomargarine and shortenings, sesame oils can be used in the manufacturing of paints, soaps, cosmetics, perfumes, insecticides and pharmaceutical products. The seeds are used in garnishing baker products and in the manufacturing of food snacks and candies.

The objective of the Foundation's research program with sesame is to develop high yielding, non-shattering varieties adapted to harvesting with a grain combine. In all of the countries throughout the world where sesame is grown, it must be hand-harvested when the seeds ripen since the plants will shatter their seed.

500 experimental strains will be used in the Foundation's research work with this important world food crop during 1966. These experimental strains have been developed in the Foundation's research work with sesame during the past 9 years. New sources of breeding material are currently being received from scientists in 20 countries. These seeds are being furnished at the Foundation on a direct exchange basis so that desirable genetic traits can be selected for use in the breeding work at Halfway.

Seeds of several sesame strains are being irradiated at the Atomic Energy Laboratory at Oakridge, Tennessee by Dr. Osborne, Associate Professor, Plant Genetics. The purpose of this work is to induce mutations by breaking the chromosomes with a source of irradiation energy, and thereby possibly bring about new and unusual plant types.

The Foundation's goal is to develop high yielding varieties adapted to complete mechanization for production under irrigated and dry land conditions. The paper-shell, non-shattering pod characteristic is being used in developing improved varieties. The paper-shell pod can be threshed easily with a regular grain combine.

In commenting further about the Foundation's research work with sesame, Dr. Collister stated that, "Sesame offers a possibility of alleviating some of the hunger and starvation throughout the world by providing a good source of protein, minerals, and vitamins as a natural food. Since it can be grown throughout many countries it affords a very definite opportunity to be used as a world food crop of the future."

A HOWE OF A SUCCESS

LONDON — The Royal Air Force's latest recruiting drive was a huge success—they more than filled their needs for police dogs.

The RAF had appealed to the public, by press and radio, to donate thoroughbred German Shepherds for guard duty at bases at home and abroad.

Within two days of the appeal, 50 Alsatians meeting the rigid requirements were accepted for the RAF Police Dog Training School at Debden in Essex. Within a month, more than 100 Alsatians were "recruited."

The RAF maintains a force of 1,000 Alsatians to help guard aircraft and other property at installations in Britain and overseas.

Gray Ladies Plan Duties For Month

Assistance with the tuberculosis test program in schools of the county next week, in transportation of delegates to a Red Cross youth conference at Ceta Canyon May 13, at a party for retrainees at Amarillo Air Force Base Apr. 28, and in a national Red Cross campaign for layettes to be sent to Viet Nam, were all planned by Red Cross Gray Ladies Thursday.

Members met for luncheon at the Red Rooster Cafe and Mrs. C. A. Saucy presided for the discussion. She appointed Mrs. Louie Olson, Mrs. F. C. Davis and Mrs. Ray Carlie a committee to nominate a slate of officers for the annual election next month.

Mmes. Marvis Southward, Saucy, Carlie and Olson volunteered to assist school nurses who will give the tuberculosis patch tests to all pupils in public and parochial schools.

Reports of volunteer service given by members the past month included almost 100 hours spent by four members sitting with patients at local hospitals.

Refreshments for the Amarillo AFB party will be prepared by members, and some plan to go to the base to act as hostesses, as is customary for two parties each year.

Officially, the head-hunting has ended among the Naga tribesmen of India. But rumors to the contrary persist. Heads are important to the Naga (other's that is) because the Naga believe that possessing the head transfers the victim's strength to the hunter.

CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES — Construction on the St. Thomas Episcopal Church continues as the workers build a new educational wing as well as new offices. An addition to the sanctuary will be begun on the building in approximately two years after the first phase is completed. Cost for the eight classroom addition will be $26,500, according to Rev. Staley Hackley, vicar of the church. A tower with a bell was also added. The bell was presented to the church in 1962 by the Santa Fe Railroad Company and was first cast in 1875. (Staff Photo)

IN SENATE SPEECH

Tower Challenges High Court Action

Editor's Note: Texas Senator John Tower addressed the Senate Tuesday during the debate on the Reapportionment Amendment of which he is co-sponsor. Here are excerpts from his prepared remarks.

When the United States Supreme Court in 1962 overruled years of precedent to decide that federal courts could pass upon the validity of state legislative apportionment systems, Mr. Justice Frankfurter sharply and eloquently protested:

(This decision) may well impair the Court's position as the ultimate organ of 'the supreme Law of the Land' in that the Court's authority... ultimately resists on sustained public confidence in its moral sanction. Such feeling must be nourished by the Court's complete detachment, in fact and in appearance, from political entanglements and by abstention from injecting itself into the clash of political forces in political settlements."

THERE CAN be little doubt of the sagacity of that protest. Today, federal courts have not only apportioned a number of legislatures; they have shortened terms of legislators and lengthened them, have directed unscheduled elections and cancelled scheduled ones, have specified what business legislatures may carry on and under what conditions, have either set aside or directed efforts to write new state constitutions.

In brief, they have participated and are participating in the full panoply of political activities in our states. No detachment, no refusal to entangle themselves in day-to-day political activities, no self-restraint is visible in most of the lower federal courts and certainly none in the United States Supreme Court.

THE PROPOSAL before us recognizes and expresses several important points.

First, it recognizes that the people of any State are far better able to decide how their individual state differences are going to affect, and should affect, their apportionment scheme, than are federal judges appointed for life.

It allows them to take into account densely concentrated populations or a sparse spread of people, to mediate between rural, urban and suburban, to solve problems caused by great distances, communications, inaccessible regions, and the like.

SECONDLY, it recognizes that in a democratic government population should play an important, even predominant, role in the allocation of political power.

It does this by leaving untouched the holding that one house must be based on population; it does this further by leaving to the unfettered vote of the people of the state the determination of whether to base the apportionment of the other house on population or on other factors of their choosing. The people decide.

Thirdly, it is an attempt to extricate the Court from the blind alley into which it has strayed and to restore much of its lost prestige and influence.

It seeks to do this by recognizing part of the principle laid down by the Court in the apportionment cases, giving it the sanction of Congressional approval and the approval of ratifying states, and at the same time, loosening the rigid, unworkable strict-population standard for both houses of a state legislature. No one can point to anything in the proposed language itself which would constitute a rebuke of the Court.

Yet, we must not forget that the amendment is necessary because the Court overstepped the boundary of judicial competence in the first place by getting into the issue.

THERE ARE a number of sound reasons why the Constitution should be amended to allow the people in each state to determine how and on what standards the houses of their legislative bodies should be based, but far and away the overriding reason is the logic of "bicameralism." Why have two houses

MAGAZINE EDITOR SPEAKS

Tech Livestock Feeder Confab Scheduled May 12 In Lubbock

C. G. "Charlie" Scruggs, vice president and editor of the "Progressive Farmer," will be the principal speaker at Texas Tech's Livestock Feeders Conference May 12.

Scruggs, a leader in and spokesman for Texas agriculture, will speak at 10:15 a. m. in the Tech Union on the "Changing Agricultural Situation: Its Future Outlook."

REGISTRATION for the one-day event is $5 per person. The fee includes a luncheon and a printed copy of the conference proceedings.

Dr. George F. Ellis Jr., head of the sponsoring Tech Department of Animal Husbandry, said at least 300 ranchers and cattle feeders from throughout the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico were expected to attend.

OTHER FEATURED speakers include Spur rancher Sim Barrow who will discuss utilization of research results, and Paul Marion of the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station who will talk on cattle feeding at the Spur installation.

Tech Agriculture School faculty members will deliver a variety of papers with emphasis on development of all-concentrate feeding.

Scruggs, an active rancher who raises beef cattle and Mohair goats, has had a longtime interest in agriculture. He was born at McGregor and, while still in high school, was elected president of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America in 1941. He also was awarded the association's highest national honor the American Farmer Degree.

HE IS A GRADUATE of Texas A&M with a degree in agricultural economics. Now a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve, Scruggs enlisted as a private during World War II and served as an infantry officer in Europe.

A past president of four different Texas agricultural organizations, Scruggs also is a former president of the American

if both are going to represent exactly the same thing

The reason for bicameral legislative bodies, after all, is to create a balance, to institute a check on hasty, though popular, action so that there is time for reflection. This check becomes meaningless if both houses are subject to the same popular passions of the moment. If the principle of check-and-balance is destroyed the very essence of American democracy is removed.

Check-and-balance is the one principle setting our democracy apart from all the others in the world's history. Under this system our nation has become the world's most free and most prosperous country. To tamper with that system is to tamper with American greatness.

Eradication Program. Scruggs' leadership in this program brought him the Outstanding Service Award of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, selection as Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture by the Texas County Agents Association and honors at a "Charlie Scruggs" Day at the Houston Livestock Exposition where he was named a Life Member.

OTHER RECENT major awards include the "ASTA" Award as the outstanding U. S. agricultural leader in this program.
