

Candidates Have Spoken; Here Are the Amendments

Editor's note: In addition to electing a new Texas governor, a U.S. Senator, a state attorney general and a long list of other state and local officials on Nov. 7, Texas voters will consider nine more changes in the much-patched 102-year-old State Constitution. Here briefly, are the proposed amendments.

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - After voting Nov. 7 on the much-publicized governor's and U.S. Senator's races, Texas voters will find nine proposed constitutional changes they have heard little about. These are nine more patches the Texas Legislature recommends for our much-patched 1876 state constitution.

First on the ballot is one labelled the "Tax Relief Amendment." Actually this is a package of six major issues that represent most of the output of the recent special legislative session. Most of the proposals to give tax relief to homeowners, the elderly and farmers will require additional work by the 1979 Legislature to put them into effect.

The other eight proposed constitutional amendments are left over from 15 approved by the 1977 Legislature. Seven others were voted on in November 1977, with two of them failing.

Many believe the so-called "Tax Relief Amendment" will carry easily, if for no other reason than its name. It probably will carry most of the others with it. Gov. Dolph Briscoe and both major gubernatorial candidates, Democrat John Hill and Republican Bill Clements, support the tax relief package. A statewide organization called Texans for Tax Relief began an information program the first of October.

Leading opposition to the omnibus tax relief measure is the Texas AFL-CIO, which says it would give relief to taxpayers who don't need it, particularly corporate farms and "timber barons."

Provisions of the tax relief amendment include:

- Removes intangibles, such as bank deposits and stocks, from the mandatory tax base, but permits the legislature to pass new laws to tax intangibles if necessary in the future. It also removes the $250 property tax exemption limit on household goods and personal effects and enlarges the exemption to cover more personal property, including automobiles.

- Grants a mandatory $5,000 exemption on the market value of residential homesteads for school taxes. It also authorizes the legislature to grant an additional homestead exemption up to $10,000 for those 65 years and older and for disabled citizens.

- Directs that taxation of farm and ranch lands be based on productivity rather than market value. It would allow legislators to make the same provision in the future for timber lands.

- School districts would be protected against loss of taxes from the increased homestead exemptions and change in land taxation by setting aside $450 million to be allocated to schools by the next legislature.

- A limit tying the state budget to the state's rate of economic growth. However, the restriction could be broken by a majority vote of both houses of the legislature.

- A ban on statewide appraisal of real property for ad valorem taxes. It also says that any enforcement of uniform tax originate in the county where a tax is imposed.

- Addition of a "Truth in Taxation" section to the constitution that says taxes may not be increased more than 3 percent annually without advance notice and full public hearings by the governmental body involved.

The other eight amendments on the ballot, listed as Propositions 1 through 8, would:

1. Encourage state purchase of products made by the handicapped by removing competitive bid requirements.

2. Let the legislature pass a law allowing cities and other political subdivisions to issue revenue bonds for construction of facilities to attract industry. The facilities would be sold or leased to private concerns to repay the bonds.

3. Give cities the power to issue tax increment bonds for redeveloping blighted areas. Bonds would be repaid through taxing the increased value of

Carter Plan—Same Ol' Tune

WASHINGTON (AP) - The country has been down "that very familiar road" before, General Electric Chairman Reginald Jones says of the upcoming Carter anti-inflation program. And he's absolutely right.

There is virtually nothing in the program - which is expected to be unveiled by the president in a nationally televised speech Tuesday night - that hasn't been tried before.

Administration sources say Carter will announce guidelines for wages and prices, not unlike the guidelines approach to combatting inflation that was taken by former President John F. Kennedy in 1962.

Inflation was 1.2 percent in the first year of Kennedy's guidelines, and is about 8 percent now, reflecting a steady worsening despite the efforts of five administrations to bring it under control.

Some critics of Carter's program worry that he is taking a path inevitably leading to mandatory wage and price controls, even though the president is expected to disavow any intention of using controls.

Carter has tried several approaches to inflation in his 19 months in office, each a little tougher than the last, but inflation has gone from 4.8 percent in 1976 to 6.8 percent last year and an expected 8 percent this year.

Both business and labor leaders wish Carter wouldn't resort to guidelines, even though they recognize he must do something. Some of Carter's closer advisers are among those who doubt the guidelines approach will be any more successful than Carter's previous efforts.

"Something is required by popular demand, but failures of guideposts are an all-too-familiar trend. They might as well forget the whole thing," General Electric's Jones, a leading business spokesman, told reporters the other day.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, labor's top spokesman, criticizes the guidelines approach as certain to work against workers. And privately, he has indicated he would prefer mandatory

Debate No. 1 To Be Tonight

By The Associated Press

Texas Republican gubernatorial candidate Bill Clements is not satisfied with taped debate locally only a series of three debates with his Democratic opponent, Attorney General John Hill.

The Democrat, however, applauded his agreement to appear with Clements. Hill said it would lead to "the most extensive broadcast 'debates' between two candidates ever held in Texas."

The candidates were to start the series with an appearance today in Houston. A Dallas station arranged to broadcast the taped debate later in the day.

Other appearances are scheduled Oct. 28 in Dallas and Oct. 31 in Amarillo.

Clements said at a Capitol news conference Monday that Hill still has not agreed to a statewide debate. "These are all local," he said. "The people of Texas are entitled to hear us statewide from the same platform, at the same time and answering the same questions."

Meanwhile, the bitter Senate race between Republican Sen. John Tower and Rep. Bob Krueger, D-Texas, heated up Monday as Tower's campaign director protested that Krueger is waging a campaign of "distortion" and "deception."

Ken Towery mailed a two-page complaint to the Fair Campaign Practices

Committee in Washington in behalf of the Republican incumbent.

Krueger replied in a statement, "Anyone who examines the allegations by Ken Towery will recognize them as inaccurate, groundless and as a last-minute effort to attain publicity for a losing battle."

Tower said a Krueger brochure repeats a false charge that Tower voted for a 29 percent pay increase in 1977; and another brochure aimed at black voters misrepresented Tower quotations.

Krueger said Tower's complaints stem from the fact that his campaign "is losing and is out of gas. His charges are the last gasp of a losing candidate - one who will Hereford High School's Marching Band will go after its 20th consecutive Division I rating during Texas Interscholastic League competition at 3:45 p.m. today in Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium near Canyon.

The marching contest will involve all Class AAAA bands in the Panhandle. Hereford's marchers will be under the direction of Randy Vaughn.

Hereford last year won its 19th straight first-division rating.

The Herd band will perform its contest numbers again during the Homecoming football contest against Plainview Friday night.

The Agriculture Department said Monday that corn inventories on Oct. 1 totaled more than 1.06 billion bushels.

That was slightly more - about 57 million bushels - than experts earlier estimated the Oct. 1 corn "carryover" to be.

The Oct. 1 inventory is the amount of corn left over as the new 1978-79 corn marketing year began. Farmers are harvesting another record crop, estimated by USDA at 6.82 billion bushels.

In a related report, the department said that for the first time since the program was initiated by the Carter administration, farmers have more corn than wheat in a three-year reserve aimed at holding grain off the market until prices go up.

The department said that as of Oct. 20 about 414.6 million bushels of corn were in the reserve program, up from about 386 million bushels the week before.

Wheat in the reserve totaled about 402 million bushels as of Oct. 20, the report said.

Administration officials have been working on final details of an acreage set-aside program to help curb production of corn and other feed grains in 1979.

Although Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland indicated some time ago that the set-aside program would be announced around mid-October, no announcement has been made.

A source said late Monday it will be mid-week at the earliest before the set-aside is announced.

The quarterly report showed that the Oct. 1 corn stockpile of 1.06 billion bushels included about 620 million bushels stored on farms and 444.4 million bushels off farms.

A year ago the corn inventory totaled about 884.1 million bushels, including 446.1 million on farms and 438 million off farms in elevators and elsewhere in storage.

The Oct. 1 corn inventory was the largest at the beginning of a new marketing year since USDA reported almost 1.13 billion bushels on-hand in 1972.

Recently, the department projected

Bloodmobile Seeks

92 Pints

During Stop Here

Local citizens are reminded that the blood mobile from Coffee Memorial Blood Center will be taking donations Wednesday from 3-6 p.m. at the Community Center.

According to Joan Bookout, blood drive chairman here, a total of 92 pints of blood are needed to meet Hereford's blood debt.

Blood given tomorrow can be designated for blood insurance, the pool, or for one of the following individual accounts: Roy Jewell, 8 pints; Judy Phipps, 4 pints; Charles Newell, 4 pints; Daisy Livesay, 8 pints; Delva Emanuel, 8 pints; Jane Kent, 12 pints; Francisco Rios, 12 pints; Molly Davis, 12 pints; Bill Edds, 16 pints; and Glen Bilbrey, 8 pints.

Residents are urged to donate blood so that the local account will have a healthy supply in preparation for the holiday traffic toll next month.

Miss George is a sophomore; her companions are seniors. Students bundled up for the second day in a row today as morning temperatures indicated a cold front over the area. A warming trend is expected beginning Wednesday.

Commissioners Amend For New Salary Hikes

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Deaf Smith County commissioners met briefly Monday to amend the budget to allow a newly-structured pay increase for county employees to go into effect and resolve to ask the state highway department to widen Farm-to-Market Road 809.

Commissioners early this year decided to pay both halves of employees' Social Security taxes, which would have resulted in a 6.05 percent pay increase. In its last meeting, the court learned from County Auditor that the action was not feasible.

Schroeter pointed to an Internal Revenue Service ruling which ordered the State of Texas to withhold taxes on the increase. The state last year granted a pay hike similar to Deaf Smith County's.

Schroeter said it would put the county in an awkward position to pay both halves of Social Security taxes then withhold since the action was intended to grant a pay hike without having to withhold taxes.

The commission earlier this month

Hereford Nets Rebate Of $24,000

Hereford has received a check for $24,567 as its October share of the local option one percent sales tax.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock reported that his office sent checks totalling $23.3 million to Texas cities as their share of the sales tax. The October rebates raise the cities total for the year to $329.9 million, $41.5 million over the same period last year.

The City of Hereford this year has been rebated $302,972, up one percent from last year's $297,570 total for the first 10 months.

The tax is collected by merchants and other sales tax permit holders along with the state sales tax and rebated monthly to cities by the comptroller's office.

Borger received $22,025 as its October share of the sales tax. Canyon $6,076, Dimmitt $6,434, Dumas $20,323, Friona $3,655, Pampa $30,167, Perryton $18,469 and Plainview $38,002.

White Working Hard for United Way Winner

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Another year, another dollar. Ho-hum, here we go again. It's the attitude of a lot of Hereford folks - has been for several years - says Raymond White about the United Way in Deaf Smith County.

White has seen enough campaigns to know. In the 23 years the John Deere implement dealer has lived in Hereford, he has worked in numerous drives, once as president and another time as campaign chairman.

"It's always been a little hard to sell United Way here," White said. "The truth of the matter is, those who work on the United Way campaign are always the most interested. The problem we've had is spreading the enthusiasm we have for what we're working on to all the other people."

White this year seems to be working harder than ever to make the United Way a success. He thinks the trend could reverse.

"I think we're all more excited this year. We have more people interested in what we're doing," said White, one of four volunteers on a campaign steering committee.

"There are two things that are really important this year. One is the goal (199,815) is larger because we're trying to get people to combine what they've given to United Way and what they've given to all the separate agencies, and pledge it all through the United Way.

"The second thing we need to stress is we're asking people to sign a pledge for what they'll give to the United Way in the next 12 months, rather than just write a check today. It's easier for either an individual or a business to pledge the money."

White said he hopes people realize that 80 percent of the money "goes for helping kids' programs."

To White, kids are important. They are the reason he works so hard each year to make the drive a success. They were the reason he was president of the school board a few years back. They are the reason he is presently a director of Region 16 Education Service Center in Amarillo.

White also is a director of the Lions Club Crippled Children's Camp in Kerrville.

His civic accomplishments extend beyond just young people. He has been a Lion for 28 years, has served in every Lion office locally, has been the Lions'

Vance, Carter Meet

Over Soviet Treaty

MOSCOW (AP) - Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance flies home today to confer with President Carter on the next moves in the search for an arms treaty with the Soviets.

One official said only "a fistful" of issues remain, but Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said, "Everybody is going in circles."

Two days of Kremlin negotiations involving Vance, Gromyko and, in the final round, President Leonid I. Brezhnev, failed to resolve the stumbling blocks and wrap up a new treaty to limit strategic weapons.

U.S. officials would not say when or where another top-level meeting might be held. Other informed sources suggested the impasse could be broken through "a political decision" by the sides, without another nuts-and-bolts negotiating session.

Vance cabled a detailed report to Carter at the close of the talks Monday night, and his spokesman, Hodding Carter, told American reporters, "Any question about what happens next awaits the secretary's report to the president."

In separate statements at the conclusion of the talks, both sides said they had been "useful and constructive."

Memphis Teachers

End Longest Walkout

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) - Memphis teachers voted late Monday night to accept a contract with the city school board and end a 13-day strike, the longest teachers' walkout in Tennessee history.

Lorene Osborne, president of the 5,300-member Memphis Education Association, announced at the end of a sometimes stormy meeting that secret-ballooning indicated the organization had ratified the pact.

Mrs. Osborne said auditors were still counting votes late Monday. The contract calls for a basic 6.4 percent increase which rises to 8.1 percent when longevity pay is included.

The vote went against the recommendation of the MEA executive board, which earlier Monday rescinded approval of the tentative contract because the board would not drop a suit against the union. Some teachers reportedly then left their classrooms.

However, MEA lawyer Russell X. Thompson recommended acceptance of the contract, saying the dispute should be handled in the courts.

School officials said 6,094 teachers reported for work Monday - 95 percent of the system's 6,406 teachers. About 58 percent - 65,670 - of the system's 113,084 students were present.

100 Homes Destroyed

In L.A. Brushfires

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Brushfires raged near Los Angeles today after destroying at least 100 expensive homes, scorching some 33,000 acres and turning thousands of wealthy canyon and beachfront residents into refugees.

Firefighters struggled in vain against walls of flame driven by gale force desert winds, as columns of flame roared 100 feet into the air. Officials said there was no hope the fires would be brought under control quickly.

The twisting canyon and coast roads came alive with animals - horses and goats led by soot-blackened owners, and snakes, rats and other small animals of the brush fleeing the flames toward the sea. Officials said some firefighting efforts were hampered by hundreds of cars jammed with panicky residents trying to leave the fire area.

A dozen persons, both firefighters and civilians, were hospitalized for injuries ranging from smoke inhalation to burns and broken ribs. One helicopter dropping fire retardants crashed and another made a forced landing, but only minor injuries were reported.

Natural Gas Line

Explodes, Hurts 42

PEARLAND, Texas (AP) - A natural gas line exploded near a trailer park just outside this Houston suburb early today, injuring at least 42 persons. The area was ordered evacuated for fear of a second blast.

"Quite a few people were burned," said Linda Jewell of the Pearland police department. "They're evacuating the area all around the trailer park right now because there could be another explosion."

There were no reports of any fatalities, but firemen and rescue teams were forced to keep their distance from the blast site by the intense heat.

A spokesman for United Gas said the gas valves were turned off, but it would take at least three hours for all the gas to burn out of the lines.

Miss Jewell said the blast occurred about 3 a.m. "We don't know what caused it. It could have been a gas leak," she said.

Firemen battled the blaze while other authorities evacuated the surrounding residences - mostly trailer homes - in the area.

Police are investigating a hit-and-run accident which occurred Monday afternoon in the parking lot of Mr. Burger, 816 E. Park.

Mrs. Lloyd Smith, 201 Star, reported to police Monday that when she came home for lunch, she found both the front door and garage door open. Nothing was missing or disturbed in the incident, police said.

controls. Here, in brief, is a summary of the various anti-inflation actions and programs by the last five administrations, starting with Kennedy:

In 1962, following a year in which consumer prices increased only 0-7 percent, concern over potential inflation prompted Kennedy to announce voluntary wage and price guidelines linked to productivity.

In a 1975 analysis of the Kennedy program, Congress' Joint Economic Committee said the guidelines were generally successful in the short run, with inflation of no more than 1.6 percent in a single year.

But in 1965, with the war on in Vietnam and President Johnson unwilling to raise taxes to pay it or for his "Great Society" programs, budget deficits and prices both rose and inflation became serious for the first time since the Korean war.

Inflation went from 1.9 percent in 1965 to 4.7 percent in 1968. Economists now feel Johnson erred in not raising taxes. The Federal Reserve Board made about the only anti-inflation move, tightening the money supply and raising interest rates over Johnson's objections.

Johnson belatedly recommended a tax increase for 1967 and supported voluntary wage and price standards for business and labor.

Richard M. Nixon took over in 1969 with inflation worsening and he turned to tighter spending and money supply policies. But the approach did not work, and inflation hit 6.1 percent in 1969 and 5.5 percent in 1970.

Finally, on Aug. 15, 1971, Nixon surprised the nation by imposing a 90-day wage and price freeze and then introduced the most elaborate controls program since World War II. It required virtually every union wage hike and big business price increase to be approved by the new Cost of Living Council.

The program succeeded in holding inflation to 3.4 percent in both 1971 and 1972. But after controls were relaxed in early 1973, prices soared again because of pent-up wage and price pressure and Nixon declared a new 60-day freeze in June, this time on prices alone.

Another controls program followed as inflation for the year reached 8.8 percent, a post-war high. But in 1974, the administration decided controls were not working and lifted them entirely.

With controls removed, prices and wages soared, in part the result of the four-fold increase in world oil prices. Inflation for all of 1974 was 12.2 percent, still the post-war record.

Nixon's approach then was to slow the economy by raising interest rates and tightening the money supply. The expectation was that this would remove upward pressures on both wages and prices.

However, the economic slowdown was not successful and the economy sank into the 1974-75 recession, which was the longest and deepest since World War II.

Gerald R. Ford took office in 1974 and initiated the much scoffed-at "Whip Inflation Now, or 'WIN' program. It was entirely voluntary.

Inflation did ease in the aftermath of the record 1974 price burst, dropping to 7 percent in 1975 and 4.8 percent in 1976. Economists now agree that the recession was the chief factor in slowing inflation, not the WIN program, which was soon abandoned. And inflation of 4.8 percent was still regarded as a serious problem.

Although Carter took office in 1977 declaring he wanted stand-by authority to impose mandatory wage and price controls, he soon didn't need such authority, and he doesn't now have it.

His approach from the outset was to encourage voluntary wage and price restraint guidelines earlier this year.

What will come next if the new program doesn't work will be determined by what happens to inflation during the next year or so.

Carter inflation adviser Barry Bosworth said last week that if the new program fails, the only remaining alternatives "are the cruel choices of a severe recession or mandatory wage and price controls."

But those too have been tried before.

Begin Scrutinizes Pact

JERUSALEM (AP) - The Israeli Cabinet convened for the second day to pore over a draft peace treaty with Egypt amid reports that Prime Minister Menachem Begin had reservations on several points in the 10-page text.

Sources close to Begin said it would be "logical" to assume that the meeting would end in instructions to the Israeli negotiating team to seek revisions in the draft when the Washington peace conference resumes, probably late this week.

The sources declined to relate to specific issues in the draft.

But the newspaper Haaretz said Begin was unhappy with a substantial number of items in the text regarding military arrangements in the Sinai Peninsula, from which Israel has pledged to withdraw within three years, and over political plans for normalizing relations.

Another report, in the Jerusalem Post, said Begin's reservations did not include the issue of linking the bilateral treaty with the more complex Palestinian question.

Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan and Defense Minister Ezer Weizman were expected to face tough questioning from more conservative members of the 16-member Cabinet, who feel Israel is being pressured into making further concessions beyond the Camp David accord.

The two Israeli negotiators had resisted wording in the draft linking the peace to progress on settling the issues of the Israeli-occupied West Bank of the Jordan River and Gaza Strip and the political future of their Palestinian inhabitants.

U.S. sources said in Washington over the weekend that Egypt and Israel had reached a compromise on putting such a clause in the treaty to appease Egypt. But Egyptian Prime Minister Mustafa Khalil said in Cairo Monday that Egypt had "asked for modifications."

The Egyptian-Israeli treaty is to deal primarily with Israeli withdrawal from conquered areas of Egypt's Sinai Peninsula and the establishment of normal relations between the two neighbors after 30 years of hostility.

On Monday night, the U.N. Security Council extended the term of U.N. peacekeeping forces in Sinai for nine months after the Russians refused to agree to a one-year extension recommended by Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim.

go to any length to win." In another development in the Senate race, La Raza Unidos' senatorial candidate Luis Diaz DeLeon said Monday in San Antonio he will file suit before the Nov. 7 general election against Krueger, aide Mark Campos.

DeLeon claims that Campos had offered him inducements totaling nearly $2 million to withdraw from the race, because it was thought that DeLeon might swing 2-3 percent of the vote from Krueger.

Campos denied that he had made the offers had said DeLeon had solicited a federal job and several federal grants favored by La Raza Unidos.

"He (Campos) has a right to say whatever he wants to," DeLeon told a news conference. "He will have his day in court."

Krueger has also denied that any offers were ever made.

Tower has called on U.S. Attorney Tony Canales to investigate the alleged offers. DeLeon, who has taken his allegations to Assistant U.S. Attorney Ruben DeLuna in Brownsville, said he will cooperate with federal investigation.

An incident last week attracted more attention Monday as Tower offered an explanation of why he refused to share his opponent's hand at a Houston Press Club forum.

"I was brought up to believe that a handshake was, and is, a symbol of friendship and respect," said Tower in a mailgram. "I was not brought up to believe that a handshake is a meaningless and hypocritical act done for public display."

The Senate candidates were seated at the same table one week ago after Tower had withdrawn from four scheduled appearances with Krueger. The Republican had accused his opponent of engaging in "gutter politics." Krueger denied the charge and said Tower's actions were an indication he was not willing to be available to the voters or the press.

"Sen. Tower wants to buy his little TV advertisements and say what he wants to say without answering to me or to the voters," Krueger told reporters after the incident.

The gubernatorial campaign also took Clements to Odessa Monday, where he again accused Hill of using state equipment and state employees on state time to aid his bid for the governor's seat.

Clements told a group of West Texas supporters he will audit the attorney general's office if elected.

The Republican also denied earlier reports estimating his campaign expenses at nearly $7 million. Clements said the figure was closer to $3.5 million.

5. Expand the authority of justice of the peace courts to handle civil cases from $200 to $500. The legislature would be allowed to raise the limit to $1,000.

6. Let the legislature increase the size of the present 14 three-judge state courts of civil appeals. The increased size would be up to the legislature. The change also would allow a civil appeals court to sit in sections.

7. Abolish the State Building Commission and the State Building Fund.

Powers and duties of the commission already have been transferred to the Board of Control by the legislature.

8. Allow water districts to provide fire-fighting services to residents and to issue bonds on approval of two-thirds of the voters to finance the fire-fighting.

Population Threat Exaggerated?

WASHINGTON (AP) - The doomsday of an overpopulated world may not arrive after all, say two population experts who note that birth rates in developing nations are declining faster than sociologists had expected.

Indeed, the world's average childbearing rate declined significantly between 1968 and 1976, say University of Chicago demographers Amy Ong Tsui and Donald J. Bogue in a new report.

In these seven years, the authors estimate, the rate dropped from 4.6 to 4.1 births per woman of childbearing age in 148 countries. "Only 10 years ago, doomsday prophesizing called for mass starvation, world chaos and possible world war by the year 2000," says their report, published last week. "If recent trends continue, the world population crisis appears resolvable."

The report, titled "Declining World Fertility: Trends, Causes, Implications," examined the impact of expanded birth control programs on developing countries.

Some countries, such as China, India, Indonesia and Egypt, that have been seen as seedbeds for a population explosion are evidencing major and continuing fertility declines, the authors say.

For instance, they found that China's fertility rate dropped 24 percent, from 4.2 to 3.2 births per woman of childbearing age and may fall to 1.9 by the year 2000. In Indonesia, the fertility rate dropped 29 percent, from 6.5 to 4.6 births per woman.

The authors' research shows that by 1976, 63 developing countries had their own family planning programs.

Also by 1976, almost $1 billion was being provided to developing countries for family

PENNSBURY VILLAGE, Pa. (AP) - It was sewage that united villagers last year in a court struggle for independence, but taxes became the rallying cry - higher taxes, not lower.

This year, the 1,000 residents coolly doubled their property taxes as homeowners and politicians across the nation gleefully jumped aboard the bandwagon of Proposition 13, the California referendum which limited such levies.

Leaders of this condominium community, a few miles west of Pittsburgh in southwestern Pennsylvania, have a so-called attitude about bucking the California trend. They say that in the long-run their tax plan will leave everyone with a bigger next egg.

"It's not where we are this year compared to last, but where we would have been if we hadn't done any of this," said

Donald Speakman, Pennsbury's 27-year-old tax collector and one of the recessionist leaders.

Pennsbury Village - a well-heeled complex of 503 condominiums, with swimming pool, tennis courts, a commercial center and only 1.5 miles of roads on 48 acres of hillsides - seceded from Robinson Township in June 1977. Last November, Pennsbury held its first election. In January, it began functioning as an independent borough.

Pennsbury did not decide to go it alone until the township ordered it to tap into the municipal sewage system - at a cost of up to $400,000 the first year and about $120,000 a year thereafter. The law required that everyone hook into a government operated, sewer system.

This made no sense to Pennsburians who had their own sewage treatment plant, for which they pay $20,000 a year.

"The community would have had to declare bankruptcy. Our total budget wasn't even that much," said Speakman.

But although sewage forced the initial secession drive, closer scrutiny showed Pennsburians that secession might offer other benefits in the bargain - including some lucrative tax write-offs.

By levying its own property tax, revenue would stay within the village. And service normally financed by the non-deductible "common charge," such as gas, water and road and grounds maintenance, would be paid for out of the village property.

So, with a zealous mixture of indignation, accounting acumen and horse sense, the people of Pennsbury finally cast their lot among themselves and took on the township in the courtroom.

Autograph Party To Cite Work On AAM History

An autograph party for Gerald McCathern of Hereford, author of a new book on the American Agriculture Movement, will be held in the community room of the Hereford State Bank Sunday from 2-5 p.m.

Copies of McCathern's book, "From the White House to the Hoosegow," will be on sale for $3 each.

The book, written by McCathern this spring, traces the first year of AAM activities from tentative tractorcades and picketing at area industries in October and November of last year through the full-scale march of an "agri-army" on Washington in January of this year.

McCathern's book is some 300 pages in length, and includes numerous photographs of AAM activities during a period beginning with a tractorcade to Amarillo last fall and concluding with the infamous "Hidalgo Massacre" incident on a bridge near McAllen on the Mexican border.

FHA-HERO Bake Sale To Commence Today

A two-day bake sale begins today at 3:30 p.m. at Thriftway Supermarket as a fund-raising project of the city's FHA-HERO students. The sale will close today at 6:30 p.m.

More baked goods will be sold tomorrow afternoon from 3:30-6:30 p.m. at Furr's and Ideal groceries.

Among the items to be sold will include fruit loaves, breads, cakes, cookies, brownies, and cinnamon rolls. All of the baked goods were prepared by FHA-HERO students at Hereford High School, Stanton Junior High and La Plata Junior High School.

Proceeds of the sale will benefit Hereford Satellite Center.

The public is urged to support this project, which is under the direction of Martha Layman, Dorothy Prowell, Mrs. Burl Burlsmith, Louise Witkowski, Dean Bradley and Lena Sanders, FHA-HERO supervisors.

Mrs. Blankenship Gives Club Program Thursday

The fashioning of silk flowers was demonstrated Thursday afternoon to members of Farm and Ranch Club during a luncheon meeting at K-Bob's Steak House. Sondra Blankenship presented the program.

Vesta Mae Nunley, club president, called the meeting to order and roll call was answered by "Unusual Crafts I've Seen." The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

It was announced that a club member, Jessie Wagoner, has been hospitalized.

Mrs. Lou Hall, an associate member, received the floating prize.

Guests in attendance were Joyce Geiger, Kay Pacholski, Thelma Sorrell, Margaret Hall and Lizzie Wilson.

Members present were the hostess, Dorothy Weaver, Mrs. G.V. Hall, Mrs. Phillip Miller, Mrs. Nunley, Fannie Rudd, Corinne Odom, Jessie Mae Thomas and Dorothy Worthan.

The club's next meeting will be a luncheon Nov. 16 in Mrs. Worthan's home.

Employing Teamwork

Miss Trolinder Named Queen Of Rodeo Club

Cathy Trolinder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Evans, east of the city, was named 1978-79 Queen for Hereford High School Rodeo Team.

Rodeo Team will be held in Childrens Oct. 27 thru the 29th.

CATHY TROLINDER

Cathy is a sophomore at Hereford High, and participates in the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association in goat tying. She has been a member of the rodeo team and TSH-SRA for 2 years. She advanced to the TSH-SRA finals in June of 1977.

After tying for 15th place in goat tying, Cathy is now tied for 15th place for the 1978-79 season. She placed 6th at Berger and 2nd at Slaton this last weekend.

Hereford High School's next

Ti Wa Ni Li met Friday. Calling the meeting to order was Amy Mason.

The Pledge of Allegiance was said, followed by a prayer given by Troyce Schuder. Minutes were read by Misti Hardin and a poem was read by Georgia Collins.

Past and present business was discussed by the members. Following the meeting the group was given a tour of the Hereford Brand by the publisher, Speedy Nieman. Returning to the lodge, Amy Mason lead the members in a group song.

Those present were Amy Mason, Lisa Dirks, Georgia Collins, Norma Flores, Lorce Adams, Mikala Moore, Troyce Schuder, Donann Cummings and Misti Hardin.

Mrs. Hunter Named HD Club President

Officers for 1979 were nominated Friday afternoon during a meeting of Cultural Home Demonstration Club in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room, with Mrs. John Hunter presiding.

To be installed as next year's officers are Mrs. Hunter, president; Mrs. Tom Hargrave, vice president; Mrs. Arthur Dettmann, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Ira Scott, reporter; Mrs. M.H. Wiseman, Council delegate; and Mrs. Ted Sumner, parliamentarian.

In other business, the club voted to participate in the Country Christmas Bazaar, being sponsored by Westway Home Demonstration Club in December. Also, a donation was approved to benefit the local library kitchen fund.

The club will hold a family fun night Nov. 13 at the Flame Room, beginning at 7 p.m. Two guests were welcomed, including Jewel Rogers and Ella Stehr.

Mrs. Howard Hershey presented a program on managing one's time wisely.

Mrs. Wiseman was hostess to Mmes. Hunter, Hershey, Hargrave, Grady Parsons, Dettmann, Sumner, and Scott.

The club's next meeting, scheduled Nov. 10, will be in Mrs. Hunter's home.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

I subscribe to a lot of fiction, but none that I enjoy more than a publication called "W."

"W" chronicles the beautiful people who eat food I can't pronounce, have houses in places I can't find on the map, and who are so rich they were born tan.

Once a year they devote an issue to what is "in" and what is "out." This is just gonna make your day.

"Out" this year are jogging and rafting. "In" are helicopter skiing in the Bugaboos, sculling, and riding to the hounds.

Private planes and corporate jets are "out" and the Concorde and balloons are definitely "in."

Washington is "out" and so are the Carters. But then so are beef, dinners for more than 10, Sandy (the dog in the Broadway musical "Annie"), ultra-suede and Princess Grace. (Lord, a week without news of Princess Grace could throw me into withdrawal.)

Robert Redford is "in" and so are the First National Bank of Boston, homemade soups, Walter Cronkite, cowboy belts, Bora Bora and tap dancing for exercise.

My husband was reading over the lists when he said, "Listen to this. Guess what's 'in' for men? Skinny neckties, white shirts, trouser cuffs, white boxer shorts and black cotton socks."

"Make your point."

"The point is they're putting a stamp of approval on my entire closet."

"That's tricky when you consider nothing new has been added or subtracted from your closet for the last 20 years. Do they say anything about white dusters and goggles to drive your car in?"

"Don't be testy. If your wardrobe is an 'outie,' I'll have to carry you through the season on my impeccable taste. Besides, if I've told you once, I've told you a dozen times, hang onto your clothes long enough and they come back into style. Listen to this, you know that macho at the school who turns up his jacket collars and pushes up his sleeves? Well, he's OUT! And so is the weirdo with epaulettes on all his tight shirts! By the way, you don't suppose all this is a put-on, do you?"

I grabbed the paper out of his hands. "Bite your tongue! I mean when a publication prints that raw fish is 'out' and pasta is 'in,' you want argue with them?"

Majestic Miss Texas

To Be Named Nov. 5

Young women in this area are invited to compete for the Majestic Miss Texas State Title 1978. Six Queens are to be crowned to represent the Lone Star State at National Majestic Miss America and National Majestic American Sweetheart in 1979.

Age divisions are as follows: Tiny Miss, ages 3-5; Little Miss, ages 6-8; Petite Miss, ages 9-11; Young Miss, ages 12-14; Teenage Miss, ages 15-17; and Senior Miss, ages 18-25.

Queens will receive: A 6 foot tall Majestic State trophy, Majestic Miss State crown, Diamond Stick pin, eligibility for both Nationals, plus, more.

Five alternates receive Majestic Miss trophies.

Both boys and girls will compete for the Texas state talent title. Talent winners will receive prizes and eligibility to compete for National talent. Acts will range from a simple tap dance to classical piano.

National winners receive: An 8-day trip to Honolulu, Hawaii (to compete for the World Title), trophies and crowns, scholarships, diamond jewelry, plus more.

The pageant will be held at the Executive Red Carpet Inn, ballroom, in Houston.

Saturday Nov. 4 and Sun. Nov. 5 will be the dates.

Young persons needing further information on an entry blank, should send: Name, address, and age to: Mrs. Flanders, 432 Plantation Blvd., Lawrenceville, Georgia 30245 or call Mrs. Flanders at 404-963-1167 or Mrs. Sprattling at 404-945-5622.

Due to the amount of contestants who come to compete for the coveted Majestic Miss State Titles, the directors are limiting each age division to 20 contestants each.

Furnishings Budget Can be Stretched

COLLEGE STATION - A kitchen design for the older adult needs four "basics," says a housing and home furnishings specialist.

Pay attention to storage areas, counters, the range and the table, advises Sue Young.

Mrs. Young is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Make these four areas easy-to-see and reach, and that will make storage, preparation and serving more convenient, she says.

It will also help insure safety, Mrs. Young adds.

STORAGE

Eliminate difficult-to-reach storage areas—including space over the range.

Store supplies and equipment at the point of first use. Get rid of not-needed gadgets.

COUNTERS

Make sure there is counter space next to the range and the refrigerator.

Have the counter built low enough for working in a sitting position.

If that isn't possible, install pull-out boards.

RANGE

Use an electric range, if possible. They pose no threat of escaping gas from a "barely-on" burner, which an older adult might overlook.

Also, have burner controls at the front or side of the range, if possible—to prevent reaching over a hot burner to make adjustments.

Place the dining table in the kitchen for convenience, if there is space. Then it can serve as work space—and the "worker" can be seated.

Also, place it by a window, if possible, since a pleasant view can enhance the appetite, especially for an older adult eating alone.

Allow enough room for easy movement around the table.

Brussels Sprouts Tasty When Not Overcooked

COLLEGE STATION—When not overcooked, Brussels sprouts, rich in Vitamin C, offer a delectable taste treat, a Texas home economist says.

Overcooking of Brussels sprouts destroys their Vitamin C and detracts from their full flavor, Marilyn Haggard cautions.

Miss Haggard is a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Named after the Belgian city of Brussels where they were first grown in the 13th century, the sprouts grow on a stalk. Actually, they are miniature cabbages, Miss Haggard says.

To buy quality Brussels sprouts, look for small, firm heads.

To cook them, boil them in salted water—or in a small covered container with only a small amount of water—for just seven or eight minutes.

Then butter, salt and pepper them for a delicious simple side dish. Or try "Casserole of Brussels Sprouts."

CASSEROLE OF BRUSSELS SPROUTS

2 tablespoons butter of margarine
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 chopped onion
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

1 cup cooked or canned tomatoes
1 1/2 cups cooked Brussels sprouts fine bread or cracker crumbs mixed with melted butter or margarine

1/2 cup grated cheese (optional)
pepper

Heat butter or margarine in a sauce pan. Add celery and onion, and cook slowly until yellow. Blend in flour, salt, pepper. Then add tomatoes. Stir and cook until mixture is thick.

Place Brussels sprouts in a greased baking dish, cover with mixture. Sprinkle crumbs and cheese over the top. Bake at 350 degrees F. about 30 minutes. Serves 6.

BREAKFAST MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE

Skipping breakfast really does make a difference in how you perform at school or on the job.

Studies show people who miss breakfast become more tired and less efficient later in the morning than those who don't skip the meal.

Breakfast is especially important for youngsters. In the national 4-H food-nutrition program, girls and boys 9-19 learn-by-doing that a good breakfast can prevent physical and mental fatigue, and supply up to one-fourth of their daily nutritional needs.

4-H members say it doesn't really matter what you eat for breakfast as long as there is a balance of foods. Try selecting something from each of the four basic groups: milk and dairy products; meat, fish and eggs; breads and cereals; and fruits and vegetables.

Young people can learn all about nutrition and food preparation in 4-H projects and projects supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service and supported by General Foods Corporation.

The 4-H program encourages the development of good food habits that last a lifetime. It provides opportunities for 4-H'ers to plan, purchase, prepare and serve tasty, nutritious meals and snacks.

To recognize 4-H'er accomplishments in the program, General Foods donates four medals of honor in each county, one expense-paid trip per state to the 57th National 4-H Congress in Chicago Nov. 26-30, and six national scholarships of $1,000 each.

Winners are chosen by the Cooperative Extension Service and awards are arranged by National 4-H Council. More information is available from county extension agents.

Here's a breakfast suggestion from "Quick Meals," a 4-H members' food-nutrition project manual:

FRENCH OMELET [1 or 2 servings]

3 eggs
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter, margarine or oil (omit if using a nonstick skillet)
3 tablespoons water
One-eighth teaspoon pepper, if desired

1. Beat eggs, water, salt and pepper with a rotary beater or fork until yolks and whites are well mixed.

2. Heat the butter, margarine or oil on medium heat in a 7- to 8-inch omelet pan or heavy skillet until just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water.

3. Pour in egg mixture all at once. The mixture should begin to cook immediately at the outer edges.

4. With a fork, carefully lift cooked portions at edges so uncooked mixture flows underneath. Slice pan rapidly back and forth over the heat to keep mixture in motion and sliding freely to avoid sticking.

5. Cook until the mixture is set. The omelet will be moist and creamy on top.

Seafood Month Proclaimed

COLLEGE STATION - The seafood industry is big business in Texas, and to recognize its contributions to the Texas economy, Gov. Dolph Briscoe has proclaimed October as Seafood Month.

Purpose of the proclamation is to recognize Texas fisheries and to promote the Texas seafood industry, points out Annette Reddell, seafood consumer education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Texas has long been a leader in agricultural production, but few people realize that it ranks fourth in the nation in the production of seafoods," notes Reddell.

According to the latest statistics by the National Marine Fisheries Service, there were more than 80 million pounds of Texas seafood landings in Texas in 1977 valued at $34.2 million. "With the accepted economic multiplier for seafood production, this means a total impact on the Texas economy of more than $400 million," explains the specialist.

Because of the tremendous value of Texas shrimp, the state produces 9.6 percent of the entire dollar value of U.S. fisheries. Also, some 14 different species of fish are harvested commercially in Texas, the most valuable finfish being redfish, speckled trout, red snapper, black drum and flounder. These species make up 95 percent of the value of Texas' commercial catch.

In excess of 8 million pounds of blue crabs and oysters were landed in Texas in 1977 valued at about $4 million, adds Reddell.

The sprawling Texas seafood industry covers more than 1,000 miles of coastline from Port Isabel to Sabine Lake.

Texas pays tribute this month to its fisheries through promotional and educational efforts of the Extension Service's Marine Advisory Program. According to Reddell, these continuing activities are part of the Sea Grant College Program at Texas A&M University. Leadership and advisory service is provided to industry and consumers by six county Extension marine agents, two area marine fisheries specialists, an Extension seafood technology specialist and an Extension seafood consumer education specialist.

Landers Encyclopedia

DEAR READERS: Over the years I have recommended several books when I felt they had unusual merit. Today I am recommending something special. This book represents 18 months of hard labor, contains 1207 pages, 660,000 words - and deals with every imaginable (and some unimaginable) kind of problem. It's an encyclopedia. Doubleday published it. I wrote it.

When I embarked on this monstrous project, my editor cautioned me to keep it a secret. "We don't want anyone to steal the idea," he said. Three months later I was telling everyone I knew. "Stealing this idea," I explained, "would be like stealing a perforated ulcer."

THE ANN LANDERS ENCYCLOPEDIA - From A to Z contains articles written by 297 of the country's leading authorities - as well as many pieces written by Yours Truly. Sprinkled generously throughout are some of my favorite columns - and I hope, yours. I called on the most distinguished experts in medicine, psychiatry, psychology, law, religion, business and politics. Just name it - it's in there.

The encyclopedia deals in depth with many physical problems - to name a few: Acne, Asthma, Arthritis, Brain Tumor, Cancer, Cataracts, constipation, Crabs (public lice), Diabetes, Face Lifts, Heart Attacks, Hair Transplants, Headaches, Hemorrhoids, Hepatitis, High Blood Pressure, Hypoglycemia, Kidney Disease, VD, and many more.

Since I'm not an authority in these fields, I enlisted the help of experts - professors from medical schools at Harvard, Yale, Johns Hopkins, the University of Chicago, Northwestern, Stanford, Duke, Cornell, Georgetown, Baylor, Meharry, the Mayo Clinic, etc.

Emotional problems run the gamut from alcoholism, boredom, bedwetting, depression, incest, impotence, frigidity, guilt, insomnia, jealousy, lying, nightmares, paranoia, schizophrenia, shyness, stuttering, suicide and more.

Social problems include abortion, adoption, battered women (and men), body odor, child abuse, contraceptives, divorce, drunk guests (what to do with them), gambling, gossip, grief, homosexuality, halitosis, hangovers, hypnosis, kvetching (complaining), living together, masturbation, prostitution, rape, reconciliation, runaways, senility, sex (teenage, inside and outside marriage, sex after 60), shoplifting, snoring, TV or not TV, transsexuals, vasectomy, voyeurism, widowhood, wills (the importance of), workaholics, how to get a raise, and other subjects too numerous to mention.

I owe an enormous debt of gratitude to the nearly 300 wonderful people - tops in their fields - who dropped everything and wrote pieces for my book. No one was paid, and only two people turned me down because they were "too busy."

It's always hazardous to select a few names from an index which boasts to many "stars." To cite a few would mean excluding too many. So I'll just say my contributors are the best and brightest - and most of them put aside their own important work to help put together this encyclopedia.

Forgive this shameless plug, but I've been told that I have succeeded in gathering the most extraordinary collection of information that has ever appeared between two covers. I hope you like it.

Do you feel awkward, self-conscious - lonely? Welcome to the club. There's help for you in Ann Landers' Booklet "The Key To Popularity." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Dallas Discipline Staying, Indicates Coach Landry

DALLAS (AP) - In January 1972, Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry compromised discipline to win the Super Bowl. He said later he would never do that again. Tony Dorsett found that out the hard way Sunday.

Shorts

SEATTLE (AP) - David Sims, a starting fullback for the Seattle Seahawks who has scored eight touchdowns this season, won't require surgery on a knee strained during Sunday's victory over the Oakland Raiders, a Seahawks spokesman said.

Gary Wright said Sims suffered a severe strain of his left knee during the first half of the Seahawks' 27-7 victory and would be sidelined for three to four weeks.

Sims, who scored one of his touchdowns in Sunday's contest, is the team's leading rusher.

Landry looked the other way after Duane Thomas missed a meeting during Super Bowl VI preparations. He knew that with Thomas the Cowboys were a superior team to the Miami Dolphins. And Landry won his first Super Bowl.

But Sunday young millionaire running back Dorsett found out how important practice sessions are to the 18-year veteran coach. Landry put Dorsett on the bench because Dorsett overslept and missed an hour workout Saturday.

"I had to set him down," said Landry. "I don't think he intended to miss practice... But I think it is important for a player to tell us if they have to miss practice."

Actually, Cliff Harris missed a meeting during the exhibition season. However, he called in and also apologized to Landry.

"He (Harris) slept the same way, but he came to me and several players and he really felt bad about it," said Landry.

Dorsett's immediate rebellious attitude did not set well with the Cowboys coach.

Dorsett snapped, "I don't belong on no one's bench. I don't deserve that. I'm not sitting on anyone's bench."

Dorsett sat Sunday until Landry decided starting half-back Preston Pedarson needed some rest. And Dorsett will sit and sit again until Landry decides otherwise.

"I'm not hardheaded in this area," said Landry firmly. "If he (Dorsett) recognizes what he did and comes back to work, fine."

The Cowboys had a day off Monday after defeating Philadelphia 14-7 Sunday and the World Champions host Minnesota Thursday night in a nationally televised game.

What do Dorsett's teammates think?

Quarterback Roger Staubach said, "Tony is a fine guy. He just needs to wake up and go where he's supposed to go on time. I don't think it will hurt the team. We'll just have to wait and see."

What Staubach left unsaid is you don't buck Landry. Staubach simmered for years because he couldn't call plays then finally agreed you couldn't knock Landry's results.

Dorsett's feelings are severely bruised because he had his parents, sister, brother-in-law, two nieces and a close friend in the stands.

"I was humiliated," said Dorsett. "I'll try to swallow it but I'll never be able to forget it."

Razorbacks Fall In Football Poll

By The Associated Press

In the space of 60 minutes, a college football team can see an unbeaten season come to a crashing halt and find itself hurtling down the rankings of pigskin powers.

That fate befell the Arkansas Razorbacks after their 28-21 loss Saturday to the Texas Longhorns, as a nationwide panel of 64 sports writers and broadcasters dropped Arkansas from third to ninth in The Associated Press poll.

The victory gained little ground for the Longhorns, however, as they improved only one notch to seventh.

There was no change in the top spot, however, as the Oklahoma Sooners garnered 54 first-place votes and 1,270 points - 63 more than second-ranked Penn State, which was listed first on the other 10 ballots.

Both are 7-0 after victories Saturday. The Sooners, first for a fifth consecutive week, swamped Iowa State 34-6 and to third, clouted Tennessee 30-17 and earned 1,073 points from the voters. Nebraska, which also advanced one notch, was eight points behind the Crimson Tide after its 52-14 rout of Colorado.

Maryland blanked Wake Forest 39-0 to collect 938 points and earn the fifth spot. Southern Cal, which knocked Alabama out of the top spot earlier this season, hammered Oregon State 38-7 and got 926 points, while Texas totalled 893 and Michigan, which walloped Wisconsin 42-0, got 767 points and was eighth - in front of Arkansas and UCLA.

The Second Ten consists of Houston, Arizona State, Missouri, Louisiana State, Pitt, Georgia, Purdue, Navy, Notre Dame and Cremon.

Texas A&M, 12th last week, suffered its second straight setback with a 24-6 loss to Baylor and dropped out of the rankings, while Clemson - ranked 18th in the preseason poll - made its first appearance in the regular season scramble.

Spikers

The Hereford volleyball team lost a tough game here Monday night against visiting Lubbock Coronado. The game sets were 15-0, 15-7 and 15-6. Teresa Lambert was high scorer, Cindy Cox best spiker, Diane Valdez best setter and Lambert best All-Around. The Herd spikers play at Plainview Thursday evening in more district action.

Garvey, Lopes Lead All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) - Ron Guidry, the good left arm of the New York Yankees, is among three players from the world champions selected to The Associated Press 1978 American League All-Star baseball team.

Second baseman Willie Randolph and third baseman Graig Nettles were the other Yankees chosen for this year's team in a nationwide poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Yankees were the only club with three representatives. Boston and Milwaukee each had two players - outfielder Jim Rice and catcher Carlton Fisk representing the Red Sox and shortstop Robin Yount and outfielder Larry Hisle the Brewers.

The remainder of the AL team, announced today, included first baseman Rod Carew of the Minnesota Twins, outfielder Al Oliver of the Texas Rangers, designated hitter Rusty Staub of the Detroit Tigers and Baltimore's Jim Palmer as the right-handed pitcher.

The National League All-Stars, announced Monday, included first baseman Steve Garvey and second baseman Dave Lopes of Los Angeles; outfielder Pete Rose and outfielder George Foster of Cincinnati; outfielder Jack Clark and left-handed pitcher Vida Blue of San Francisco; shortstop Larry Bowa of Philadelphia; outfielder Dave Parker of Pittsburgh; catcher Ted Simmons of St. Louis and right-handed pitcher Gaylord

Perry of San Diego. Guidry, a 25-game winner with a league-leading 1.74 earned run average and nine shutouts, was an obvious choice for the left-handed pitcher's spot, and the voters accordingly made him a unanimous choice.

Randolph, a .279 hitter with 36 stolen bases and one of the slickest gloves in baseball, won easily over Kansas City's Frank White, 143-57. Nettles, who hit 27 homers and drove in 93 runs, was a closer winner over Kansas City's George Brett. Nettles collected 173 votes to 140 for the Royals' third baseman.

Rice, a .315 hitter who was the league leader in homers with 46 and RBI with 139, was the top vote-getter in the outfield with 283. Hisle, who hit 34 homers while driving in 115 runs, received 186 votes. Oliver, who hit .324 and had 89 RBI, won the final outfield spot ahead of Detroit's Ron LeFlore, 152-105.

Carew, the league's leading batter with a .333 average, was a knowledgeable vote-getter over Cleveland's Andre Thornton 286-20.

Yount took the shortstop position without much trouble over Boston's Rick Burleson, 173-92. Yount had his best season for the Brewers with a .293 batting average and 71 RBI. Fisk, a .284 hitter with 20 homers and 88 RBI, beat New York's Thurman Munson for the catching position, 160-122.

Staub, with 24 homers and 121 RBI, won the DH position by 154-74 over Rice, who split his duties between the outfield and the DH spot. Palmer had a 21-12 record and a 2.46 ERA, gaining the right-handed pitcher's slot over Boston's Dennis Eckersley.

Running Club Promoting City Run

The Hereford running club has slated a membership run here Saturday afternoon.

The run will commence at 1:30 beginning at Dameron Park and proceed down Main Street to Veteran's Memorial Park.

Club spokesman Bill Marquis said the run will be just for fun.

YMCA Activities

In more YMCA boys flag football Saturday, 14 city teams competed in fierce grid action.

In the first game, the Falcons dumped the Bears 20-6, followed by the Packers downing the Rams 26-0.

At 10:30 a.m., the Saints and the Lions battled with the Saints coming out on top 13-0.

Next, the Cowboys shelled the Cardinals 21-6 and the Jets blasted the Oilers 21-0.

Finally, the Colts dumped the Dolphins 6-0, then the Chargers whipped the Raiders 26-6.

Oilers Romp Over Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP) - The Pittsburgh Steelers, who looked on the bright side after their first loss this season, were also on the bruised side after their first run-in with Earl Campbell. "I hate to lose, but something good may come out of this," linebacker Jack Lambert said Monday night after Campbell smashed for three touchdowns to lead the Houston Oilers to a 24-17 victory over Pittsburgh. "There's some possibility that maybe we thought we couldn't be beat. Now we know we can," Lambert added. "That undefeated stuff is over with."

The game capped a weekend of upsets around the National Football League, and the Steelers lost the distinction of being the last NFL team with a perfect record. Now they're 7-1 with the tougher half of their schedule ahead.

The Oilers, who withstood two deep Steeler thrusts in the frantic final four minutes, climbed to 5-3 and now trail Pittsburgh by two games in the American Conference Central Division.

"We'll work hard and hope for the best," said Campbell, who carried 21 times for 89 yards. His three touchdowns came on short bursts against a Pittsburgh defense that had allowed a total of three rushing touchdowns in seven prior games.

Houston also benefited from the third-down passing of Dan Pastorini, who hit 13 of 19 tries and wasn't sacked.

Pastorini and running back Ron Coleman set the tone early on a 23-yard third-down pass that kept alive an 80-yard drive for a touchdown. It came on Campbell's 1-yard run early in the second quarter.

A series later, Terry Bradshaw and Lynn Swann connected on the first of two Steeler TD pass, a 25-yarder.

After a fumble recovery, Roy Gerela kicked a 30-yard field goal to give the Steelers the lead. Toni Fritsch countered with a 39-yard Houston field goal six seconds before halftime to make it 10-10.

In the third period, Pastorini hit a pair of third-down passes on a 70-yard drive that ended when Campbell powered 3 yards.

Early in the last quarter, Pastorini found tight end Mike Barber for 26 yards on third down. Campbell ended the 80-yard march with a 1-yard ram and the Oilers led 24-10.

Then Bradshaw went to work. After having a 23-yard touchdown pass to Swann nullified by holding, he hit Swann with a 6-yard scoring toss with 5:20 left.

After a successful onside kick, Pittsburgh drove to the Houston 15-yard line before a Bradshaw pass was intercepted by safety Kurt Knoff.

After an Oiler punt, Bradshaw led a march to the Oilers' 14-yard line, but it ended when he threw a fourth-down incompleteness with 10 seconds left.

"Games like this make you old in a hurry," said Oiler Coach Bum Phillips.

The Hereford JV's play Lubbock Estacado here Thursday night at 7 p.m. while the varsity Whitefaces tackle Plainview here Friday for the Homecoming ball game. Action above shows the Longhorns here last week against Lubbock High, who won the game 8-7.

SWC Race Knotty Says UT Coach

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Texas Coach Fred Akers, with a container of coffee in one hand and a cigarette in the other, was conducting his weekly post-game meeting with the media following the Longhorns' 28-21 victory over Arkansas Saturday when the subject of the Southwest Conference race came up.

"This conference right now is really a strong, strong conference," Akers said. "There's a bunch of teams that can put knots all over your head. I've said many times I think the Southwest Conference is the toughest conference in the country and has been for the last three years."

Asked if by "toughest" Akers meant it was the best-balanced conference... or just the best. He thought for a moment and decided to take the plunge. "Okay," he said, "it's the best. There are more teams in this conference that can compete on a national level than in any conference in the country right now. The Big Eight was like that until the last three years."

For those angry fans in other parts of the country reaching for pencil and paper, Austin's zip code is 78712.

It was an emotional weekend for Akers, a 40-year-old native of Blytheville, Ark., and a graduate of the University of Arkansas, where he was a placekicker and defensive back from 1957-59.

"I think you should go to your state university," Akers said. "You should have pride in your state university. For that reason, I'm proud of Arkansas and I have a lot of feeling for Arkansas. It's my state - I was born and raised there - and my state university. But now I'm here at Texas and my only concern is to beat them."

"When the ball is kicked off, I put out of my mind that I ever went there. They become just an opponent then."

As a high school senior, Akers visited Louisiana State. "It was the first time I'd ever been on a plane and I wasn't sure I'd ever get on another" - Tennessee, Auburn and Mississippi and almost became a member of the first class at the Air Force Academy.

"I guess I would have gone there except for Jack Mitchell," he said, alluding to Arkansas' coach from 1955-57.

"He came down and reminded me about Arkansas. Most of my contact had been with Bowden Wyatt Arkansas' coach from 1953-54, but he went to Tennessee."

Akers said he hears from "quite a few people" back home the week of the Texas-Arkansas game. "Some want tickets, some just want to call you a traitor again and some want to say they're proud of you - an Arkansas boy doing what you're doing."

"I tell 'em all, 'Thank you, I appreciate your support.' Most of the letters and phone calls from Arkansas are very complimentary."

Facing Arkansas, Akers said, was "a special thing" the first time as an assistant coach and the first time as a head coach. "After that, they're just a quality opponent," he said.

Hereford Runners Place at Lubbock

The Hereford girls cross country team placed 4th healthy 10th in the Lubbock Invitational Cross Country Meet Saturday.

The local long-distance runners netted 286 points while competing against 16 other high schools.

Amarillo Tascosa racked up 1st place with 52 points followed by Amarillo High 53 and Abernathy 103 points.

Lubbock Monterey was 4th with 134, Caprock 5th 162, Coronado 6th 183, Slaton 7th 196, Brownfield 8th 215, Midland 9th 221 and Hereford.

Others were Abilene Cooper 11th 293 points, Palo Duro 12th with 311, Big Springs 13th 320, San Angelo 14th 340, Plainview 15th 359 points and Abilene High 16th 430.

Susan White of Amarillo High won 1st place with a time of 12:39.

Hereford's top finisher was senior Velma Arroyos, who placed 5th in a field of 110 runners.

CHICAGO (AP) - The Chicago White Sox have traded pitcher Jim Willoughby to the St. Louis Cardinals for outfielder John Scott.

The 29-year-old Willoughby had an 1-6 record with 13 saves and a 3.86 earned run average for the White Sox last season.

Scott, 26, had had brief major league stints with San Diego of the National League and Toronto of the American League.

Vik Aerial Show Beats Packers, 21-7

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) - Almost by habit, the Minnesota Vikings have defeated arch-rival Green Bay and bouyed their perennial playoff hopes.

But even peerless passer Fran Tarkenton sees troubles ahead for the aging Vikings if they do not find a ground attack soon to complement Tarkenton's aerial show.

The 38-year-old Tarkenton completed 26 of 43 passes for 262 yards and three touchdowns as the Vikings turned back the Packers 21-7 at Metropolitan Stadium Sunday. But the Vikings gained only 60 yards without running," said Tarkenton. "You can't do that very much."

"We got some great defense against Green Bay and a lot of production out of Ahmad Rashad, Sammy White and the others. So the celebration is over, right now. Dallas is next."

The Vikings, 4-4 and two games behind the Packers in the NFC Central Division meet the defending Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys, 6-2 in the playoffs last December to advance to the Super Bowl.

"We can start to think about the future if we beat Dallas."

Second Annual Arts and Crafts show

sponsored by the

Hereford Whiteface Kiwanis Club

Arts and Crafts show will be at Sugarland Mall, October 27 and 28, 1978.

This will be Friday and Saturday and will be from 9 A.M. until 6 P.M. each day.

This will be a good show with artists and craftsmen from several states, including New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas being present displaying their work of art and hand crafts. We are also happy to have many of our own local artists and craftsmen displaying their artistic work.

All items on display will be offered for sale and you the public will not want to miss the opportunity to buy that painting for your home or to pick up that Christmas present for a friend or loved one. This show is sponsored by the Hereford Whiteface Kiwanis club and the Clubs share of the proceeds will be used in community projects.

"Low rates are a big reason we're the largest home insurer. But there are more..."

Low rates wouldn't mean much without our first class service. Drop by, or give me a call.

Prescribing heart medicine

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Recently, I was listening to a TV program but missed the first part. The doctor was discussing arterial blockage of the heart causing angina or heart pain. He mentioned a medicine called Inderal. Can you tell me more about this medicine and what it does? My husband has coronary insufficiency, coronary artery disease. Would this pill help him?

DEAR READER - You can't prescribe for a person without knowing exactly what his problem is and how serious it is, as well as the rest of the health status of that person - in this instance, your husband. I can tell you that Inderal is frequently used to treat high blood pressure and also to treat individuals who have irregularities of the heart, and to help relieve angina or chest pain caused by heart disease.

That doesn't mean it is indicated in all these cases because there are other medicines that sometimes work better for a particular case, but it is a very useful medicine and often is the proper choice.

The basic action of Inderal is to block the effects of adrenaline. Some individuals have irregularities of the heart because they are particularly sensitive to adrenaline products produced either by their own nervous system or by the adrenal gland. Adrenaline tends to be stored in the heart muscle and causes it to be more irritable.

To give you more information about angina, I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-10, Heart Attack, Myocardial Infarction, Angina Pectoris. These are the three conditions that are sometimes confused with each other, but all may be related to the same underlying disease of the arteries to the heart muscle.

Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Address your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10109.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 24, the 297th day of 1978. There are 68 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1945, the United Nations Charter went into force as the Soviet Union became the 29th nation to ratify it.

On this date: In 1603, James I was proclaimed king of England, Scotland, France and Ireland. In 1648, the Peace of Westphalia ended the Thirty Years War. In 1795, Poland was partitioned by Prussia, Austria and Russia. In 1952, presidential candidate Dwight Eisenhower said he would go to Korea to end the Korean War if elected. In 1964, Northern Rhodesia became the independent republic of Zambia. In 1976, a fire swept a social club in the Bronx section of New York, and 25 young people perished.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson's daughter, Lynda Bird Robb, gave birth to a girl. Five years ago: The United States rejected Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's request for American troops to join with Soviet troops in supervising a Middle East cease-fire.

Today's birthday: Former pro football star Y.A. Tittle is 52 years old. Writer Denise Levertov is 55.

New Pope Pledges Diplomacy

VATICAN CITY (AP) - Pope John Paul II met with representatives of 125 nations and international organizations Monday and pledged to continue the Roman Catholic Church's diplomatic initiatives toward communist nations, encouraging "all the initiatives that can be taken."

"The principles which guided my predecessors, and especially the mourned Pope Paul VI, will continue to inspire the action of the Holy See," said the pontiff in a speech to the delegates who attended his installation on Sunday.

John Paul did not cite any specific policy or country by name, but the reference to the so-called "Ostpolitik," or policy of working accommodation with communist nations, appeared clear from his mention of Pope Paul.

It was under Paul that the Vatican began diplomatic initiatives to Soviet bloc countries with the aim of protecting the estimated 60 million Roman Catholics living under communist governments - and more than 30 million in John Paul's native Poland.

Addressing the assembly in French, the pontiff said, "There cannot be true human progress nor lasting peace without the courageous, loyal and disinterested search for cooperation and an increasing unity among all peoples. For this the church encourages all the initiatives that can be taken, all the steps that can be accomplished."

The former Polish cardinal met privately with 15 sovereigns and chiefs of state, starting with King Juan Carlos and Queen Sophia of Spain, in his library.

He then moved to the Hall of Benedictions for his formal address.

John Paul had marked his installation Sunday with an appeal to different economic and political systems to "open wide the doors to Christ."

The chairman of the board of the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C., is the chief justice of the United States.

Abraham Lincoln was clean-shaven until he was 51 years old.

Cubans Depart for United States

MIAMI (AP) - Eugenio Zaldivar, one of 46 Cuban political prisoners allowed to come to the United States, says he's returning to Havana because "I miss my sons and my wife."

Zaldivar said he would go back to Cuba as soon as he can arrange passage and collect his family so they can return here.

"The Cuban government and U.S. officials in Havana have assured me there will be no problem for all of us to leave together," he added.

Most of the 46 prisoners and 33 relatives who left Havana aboard a special airliner departed Jose Marti airport Saturday to tears and waves from the friends and relatives they left behind.

Zaldivar was a 19-year-old student when he was captured by Cuban soldiers on a raid against the communist regime in 1966. After 12½ years in prison he was one of the first group of political prisoners allowed by President Fidel Castro to emigrate to the United States.

Zaldivar said a mixup in paperwork prevented his family from accompanying him on the historic flight.

The release of the prisoners was spurred by the efforts of a small group of exiles, headed by Miami banker Bernardo Benes. Benes, whose bank was picketed last week in protest over his involvement in the release, said he received from Castro an agenda for further talks and the release of more political prisoners.

Castro met with a small group of U.S. reporters while the prisoners were taken to the Havana airport and said the U.S. government did not influence his decision.

"This was between Cubans," he said, giving credit to Benes and his associates. "If the U.S. government was to get involved, then it would be entering in Cuban domestic affairs."

Castro also said he may allow up to 1,000 more political prisoners to go to the United States by the end of the year.

Tony Cuesta, 52, who lost his eyesight and left arm when he led Zaldivar and four others in the fateful small-boat raid, was undaunted in his opposition to the Castro regime.

With his bride of less than two weeks at his side, Cuesta said he would devote himself "to try and obtain the freedom of all political prisoners in Cuba and the reunification of Cuban families."

"I have fought Castro with weapons and I still won't make any concessions," he said. However, he admitted that "this is a change in his policy."

While in Havana, U.S. reporters also were permitted for the first time to visit a Cuban prison and talk with a selected group of some 50 political prisoners.

Paul Harvey News
Naked Newsmen

When are we newsmen going to strip ourselves naked as we strip others? I've been on all major TV talk shows and nobody ever asked the hard questions.

When are we newsmen going to submit ourselves to the X-ray scrutiny with which we probe the private lives of public people?

When are we going to submit ourselves to a shakedown search - open our closets, empty our pockets, hang the dirty linen on the line?

A while back the Boeing Airplane Co. got a whopping billion-dollar contract for a new generation airplane. I announced: "Good news for Seattle, Wichita and all Boeing suppliers!"

It was also good news for Boeing investors. Had I been one - which I was not - might I have contributed to boosting the stock price by the relative prominence I gave that item?

When the SST was being debated, and the B-1 bomber, I favored both. Had I owned Boeing stock - which I did not - might not my recommendations have been self-serving?

For that matter, how do you know that I did not take money from South Korea to soft-pedal criticism and help that government get more of your tax dollars? You don't know.

Questions arise almost every day. What is a newsmen who also has personal interests - or private investments - and any of us worth his salt has some of both.

Why not subject news handlers to the same scrutiny which we subject political politicians where a potential conflict of interest exists?

We spotlight the drinking habits, the pill use and the sexual mores of a Rep. Hays, a Rep. Mills or a Sen. Brooke, convinced that private indiscretion subjects a public servant to potential blackmail. Why not us of the news media?

Are we not vulnerable to distorting or killing a story or embellishing a story due to some personal habit or quirk of character?

You bet we are! Chet Huntley suffered embarrassment because of a financial interest in a meatpacking business which could have influenced his editorial judgment on a related subject.

I've been guest on all the top rated TV talk shows and nobody ever asked me any of the "hard questions which are always asked of politicians:

"Have you ever accepted from any foreign government a party, a party girl, a plane ride or a vacation?"

"Have you ever had a homosexual lover?"

"Do you have any secret bank accounts, any debts to gamblers?"

"Do you drink?"

"What are your investments, total assets, other income sources?"

"Did you ever report favorably on any person or property in which you have a vested interest?"

"You are always talking up Arizona; do you own land in Arizona?"

Yes, these questions do seem to be impolite, impertinent, an invasion of privacy. Yes, they could embarrass our families.

Yet these are questions to which we demand answers from public servants. And in some ways we are more influential than they.

Some five years ago we of the news media overthrew the U.S. government. How many of us could have stood up to the grueling grilling to which we subjected the Watergate principals in that ugly expose?

How many of us are willing to strip to the degree that we stripped them?

I certainly don't want to. But if it is a good idea - and I think it is - somebody has to go first.

Do I hear a second from anywhere in the major league media?

WASHINGTON (AP) - The government announced Monday it will spend $2 million to erect another 12 miles of fence at two locations along the Mexican border to reduce illegal immigration.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service said six miles of fence will be constructed at El Paso, Texas, and six miles near San Ysidro, Calif., to be completed in six months.

The INS said that there were nearly 1.4 million border patrol arrests at those two locations in the 1978 fiscal year that ended Sept. 30.

The agency said part of the fence at El Paso will be in the downtown area of that city. Officials said because it is a heavily populated area, those crossing the border illegally have been able to evade arrest by hiding in buildings and mixing in with the general population.

The fencing will be 10 feet high. In the El Paso area, it will include a concrete base three feet high. At San Ysidro, there will be four feet of steel grating extending one foot into the ground and seven feet of heavy chain link fence on top.

The government has already put up 27 miles of fence along the 2,000-mile border.

Heller and Greenspan both rejected mandatory wage and price controls as an alternative.

In also rejecting voluntary guidelines, Greenspan said he thought "the chances of them succeeding are nil, and what concerns me most is that it will further erode the credibility of the president, which is a very important ingredient in the long-term battle with inflation."

Calling recession "a better than 50-50" chance either next year or in 1980, Greenspan said, "the sharp decline in the stock market ... if it continues, tells us that the probabilities that recession will be in 1979 rather than 1980 increases."

Heller called the odds better than even that recession may be avoided next year.

Carter Program Blasted

NEW YORK (AP) - The voluntary wage and price guidelines President Carter is expected to propose will not curb inflation, says a top economist of the previous administration.

Alan Greenspan, chairman of the White House's Council of Economic Advisers under former Republican President Gerald Ford, also said Sunday the United States is likely to have a recession sometime in the next two years.

However, Walter Heller, an adviser to Democratic presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson, disagreed with Greenspan during an appearance Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers." Heller said guidelines alone were not an answer, but added that the president, if he does it right, if there's real conviction and clout to the program, could somewhat de-escalate the rate of inflation. "This meant moderating, not curing, inflation by using the prestige and economic levels of the presidency in terms of budget, procurement and government regulation, Heller said.

Maine, Indians Agree

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) - Main political leaders Monday signed an out-of-court, $37 million compromise that could settle Indian claims to 12.5 million acres, or nearly two-thirds, of the state's territory.

This morning's endorsements bring the state closer than it has been in almost a decade, to settling claims by the Penobscot and Passamaquoddy tribes.

"Everyone has agreed to the proposal, with some details to be worked out," said Attorney General Joseph Brennan following a breakfast meeting at the Blaine House with members of Maine's congressional delegation and Gov. James B. Longley.

The tribes' claim is based on the 1790 federal law called the Non-Intercourse Act that said all land deals with Indians must be ratified by the federal government.

The leaders said because the proposal has their full endorsement, they see little problem with Congress approving the $37 million deal sometime next year.

The tribes have not formally agreed to the proposal, but Penobscot tribal governor Wilfred Pehrson said last week there is a "good chance" his people will accept the compromise.

Brennan, who has fought for resolution of the claims in court, said the deal negotiated by Sen. William D. Hathaway during the past few months vindicates the position the state has held for a long time - that the federal government assume total responsibility for the claims.

The only political leader expressing reservations was Rep. William Cohen, who said he endorsed the plan, but would have preferred the question of liability be settled in court because of its precedent-setting effect for other states facing similar land claims.

The pact frees the state of any responsibility in the land claims. Under the deal, the federal government would give nearly 4,000 Indians $27 million in cash, plus an additional $10 million to buy land. Large paper companies in northern Maine have agreed to sell the tribes 100,000 acres at fair market value, but just what land they will sell has not yet been decided.
