

Welles Confers With Ministers Of Hemisphere

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 13 (AP)—United States Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, encouraged by conversations with Brazilian government leaders, went into an all-day series of conferences with American foreign ministers today to discuss relations between this hemisphere and the axis nations.

Defense Gives Way To War, Speaker Says

It is no longer civilian defense—but civilian defense—it's no longer national defense—but war effort, George Haddaway, Dallas, editor of Southern Flight and secretary of Texas Private Fliers association, told a gathering of 228 service club members at a joint meeting in the Settles ballroom Tuesday noon.

His remarks followed those of Judge James T. Brooks, who served as captain of a local war, who warned people that "war is still hell" and that there is lots for us to do.

Others who appeared on the program were Mayor G. C. Dunham, who is co-chairman of civilian defense in Howard county together with County Judge W. S. Morrison; Herschel Summerville, in charge of registration for civilian defense; Dave Duncan, president of the host Rotary club; and Dr. P. W. Malone, chairman of the chamber of commerce aviation committee and group commander for Civil Air Patrol in West Texas.

Entertainment for the day was furnished by Shirley June Robbins, who sang two patriotic novelties with Mrs. Anne Gibson Houser accompanying at the piano. Irvy Cox led in group singing.

"We have had unity since Pearl Harbor," said Haddaway, "but unity is not all that will win this war. It is but an ingredient. For the first time the U. S. flag has been replaced on our territory by that of a foreign nation. Still we are sitting behind a false feeling of security. We have consistently underestimated the enemy."

"We were beat to the draw and at the moment we are lagging in the nation doing his dead level best in the war effort, the day will come when we will win."

He pointed to the 27,800 private aircraft, the 80,000 licensed civilian pilots, the like number of civilian flying students, the 2,000 civilian airports as a means of relieving the military of certain detail work.

"Don't get the idea," he said, "that CAP is only for pilots. There's a job for every person in CAP—mechanics, radio and telegraph operators, etc. We have a chance to have a part in this civilian defense."

Dr. P. W. Malone, who introduced him, called attention to a CAP area meeting at 7:30 p. m. today in the Settles. He also introduced Les Bowman, who piloted Haddaway here.

In a brief but stirring address, Judge Brooks time and time again cautioned against complacency, said that "it has happened to you—and what are you going to do about it."

Don't Hurry, Folks—Auto Tax Not Payable Yet

Federal automobile use tax may not be paid at the postoffice here for several days yet, Postmaster Nat Shick said Tuesday.

Pair Extradited From California To Face Charge

EL PASO, Jan. 13 (AP)—The long dormant Frome murder mystery, one of the most baffling in western criminal annals, came to life after four years today with the arrest of a man and woman in California and their extradition to Texas to face murder charges.

Although officials shed little light on the elements of the latest developments, they commented that the arrests appeared to be the first break in the case.

The suspects were identified as Charles Hatfield, 34, a truck driver, and Bonnie Hatfield, 34, both of Bakersfield, Calif. Officers said they were taken into custody early in January, and indicated they were now en route back to Texas but refused to divulge their immediate whereabouts.

Culberson county sheriff's officers indicated the couple would be taken directly to Van Horn.

It was near there that the bodies of Mrs. Weston G. Frome, 46, of Berkeley, Calif., and her 24-year-old daughter, Nancy, were found in the mesquite-studded desert, victims of a strange and brutal killing. They were slain March 30, 1938, and their bodies discovered four days later.

Sheriff Albert Anderson of Van Horn said the charges were filed in Culberson county and that extradition papers had been issued.

According to Detective Lieut. Thomas Corey of Los Angeles, the Hatfields were taken into custody at Bakersfield early in January by Capt. R. G. Phillips of the Texas rangers and Sheriff Anderson.

The Hatfields were taken to Los Angeles, but the case was kept so secret that they were not even officially booked, Corey said.

The Texas officers left Los Angeles with the Hatfields Friday, the detective said, presumably to return to Texas by way of San Diego where they would pick up witnesses.

It also was known of the Hatfields. In the face of official silence, the only thing they learned immediately was that a man of that name had been investigated in connection with the Frome murders and with check charges at El Paso as well.

Mrs. Frome and her attractive daughter were slain March 30, 1938 in the lonely reaches of West Texas near Van Horn while motoring east from El Paso.

The discovery of their semi-nude and tortured bodies prompted one of the most spectacular manhunts staged in the southwest in recent years. Up to the present the case has constituted one of the major unsolved murder mysteries of the cactus country.

In the years intervening since the slayings, posse officers and Texas rangers have run to earth hundreds of clues without apparent result. Even in the present instance, Assistant District Attorney Gill Newsom said of the suspects:

"We don't know how much they are involved, but they are being returned here to eliminate them if they are not connected with the case."

Robbery has been advanced by some as a motive for the slayings. Some of the women's jewelry and money and the contents of their car were taken.

So horribly were the bodies mutilated that one investigator said, however, that only hatred or revenge could be the explanation. Another held that the women might have been killed by border narcotics runners in a case of mistaken identity.

They were last seen alive March 29. Officers said they had spent several days at El Paso and had visited the gay spots across the Mexican border in Juarez and then set out for Dallas en route to South Carolina.

Philippine Defenders Win Cannon Duel; Japanese Fall Back Slightly

Couple Charged With Frome Murder Situation For Allies Grave

MRS. FROME AND NANCY ... their brutal slayings solved?

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—American and Filipino artillery batteries have "proved definitely superior" to the Japanese, the war department said today in announcing that columns of enemy tanks, other armored units and infantry had been "shattered and dispersed" in a 24-hour battle.

Eleven hostile batteries have been silenced in the continuous artillery duel, reports from General Douglas MacArthur said, and Japanese batteries have been forced to fall back from their earlier positions.

The war department said American and Philippine batteries, "proved definitely superior" and columns of enemy tanks, other armored units and large heavy infantry forces had been "shattered and dispersed" by the relentless shelling from the defenders. Losses to the American-Filipino forces, as they staunchly defend the Batan peninsula west of Manila Bay, were called "relatively slight."

Japanese dive bombers supported the enemy artillery fire, the morning communiqué said, but there were no enemy bombing attacks on the fortifications at the southern tip of Batan or Corregidor Island, the guardian of Manila Bay.

The pace of Japan's expanding conquest aroused the capital today to the grim possibility that the united nations may be forced back to Australia, the last bastion from which a major counter-offensive can be launched in the South Pacific.

This admittedly was taking a long view, but the tide of battle in the Far East encouraged some optimism even though Washington held doggedly to the hope that somewhere in the East Indies the enemy would be brought up short by a serious defeat.

Dutch silence on details of the fighting on Celebes and Borneo was generally interpreted as an indication that the Japanese invaders were gaining ground. The desperate situation in the Philippines was no better. On the Malay peninsula the monotonous story of enemy successes continued.

In this drive toward Singapore, the Japanese already were in a position for a flanking attack on the Dutch island of Sumatra. Should both Borneo and Sumatra fall, the invaders would be poised for a pincer assault on Java, the strongly defended island which is the core of Netherlands resistance.

There were a number of imponderables in the situation. The Japanese have spread their forces dangerously thin. The Dutch stoutly assert that they can hold out if reinforcements arrive, particularly in the air. And Anglo-American reinforcements are reported en route, although there has been no hint as to their air strength.

However, the position in many quarters of the capital was to face the worst possibilities squarely on the theory that if the worst did not happen, so much the better. This attitude was strengthened by the remarks of Navy Secretary Knox, who said yesterday that no decisive showdown with the Japanese fleet could be expected in the near future.

Australia has one big advantage that cannot be duplicated anywhere in all Oceania. Its great land mass provides space for as many air fields as are necessary, for "down under" continent is 25 times the size of the united kingdom, or about the area of the continental United States, minus Arkansas or Iowa. The comparatively few air fields available to allied nations heretofore has proven a great disadvantage.

Main bases in southern Australia would be out of the range of Japanese aircraft, and the bombers could be ferried to advance bases in the north to take off on offensive missions.

Australia also has four British naval bases and there is a fifth in nearby New Zealand. Three of Australian bases are in the south, but the fourth at Darwin in the north would be neutralized to a great extent by any complete Japanese victory in the Netherlands Indies. At present the long chain of islands flanking the southern sea approaches to Australia more than half way across the Pacific are mostly in American, British and Free French hands.

WASHINGTON REPORT WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The census bureau reported today that cottonseed crushed in the five-month period, Aug. 1 to Dec. 31, totaled 2,388,110 tons, compared with 2,319,899 tons in the corresponding period a year ago.

Case One Of Most Baffling In All Western History

Their automobile was found, its contents gone, but the ignition key still in the lock.

On April 3, the bodies were found side by side, face down in the sagebrush and mesquite desert off the road six miles east of Van Horn.

Their clothing had been partly torn off. Both had been beaten, tortured and shot.

Nancy's hand, burned to the bone as though by a lighted cigar or cigarette, clutched the only clues—a package of matches and a man's handkerchief.

AUSTIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—Governor Coke Stevenson disclosed today that extradition papers for Charles Hatfield and Bonnie Hatfield had been issued after murder charges had been filed at Van Horn charging the pair with the slaying of Nancy Frome in 1938.

MEXIA, Jan. 13 (AP)—Sheriff Sam Adkins said today a woman was turned over to Van Horn, Tex., officers Sunday for questioning in connection with the Frome murder case.

The sheriff said he understood the woman had been taken to Van Horn where a charge of complicity in the murder of Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her daughter, Nancy, would be filed.

He evaded the question when asked if the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hatfield resulted from questioning of the Mexia woman.

The woman was arrested Sunday morning at 3 a. m. at her farm home near Mexia and taken to Corsicana at her own request for questioning.

The sheriff said the woman, who had been living in this vicinity for the last 18 months, was in California shortly before the Frome slayings. He said he understood she was in Van Horn the night of the slayings and might have been there several nights previously.

Better Turn For Allies Is Hinted

By the Associated Press Dutch bombers were reported slashing today at a Japanese invasion armada off the Japanese-conquered island of Tarakan, Dutch North Borneo, as cheering reports spread that Anglo-American reinforcements were en route to the new Far East battle zone.

Simultaneously, British dispatches declare cryptically that an important announcement could be expected at any moment "which may change the Malayan situation considerably in Britain's favor."

Taken together, these seemed to indicate that powerful allied counter-blows may soon be struck.

Washington military observers further pointed out that the mako's invasion forces, striking in Malaya, China, the Philippines and the Dutch East Indies, had now spread out dangerously thin and become vulnerable to a concerted allied counter-stroke.

Dutch East Indies headquarters at Batavia acknowledged that its garrison at Tarakan had been compelled to surrender in the face of overwhelming odds, but said Japanese conquest of the tiny, oil-rich island off the northeast coast of Borneo was "very costly to the invader."

Imperial Tokyo headquarters said Japanese troops also captured Kankas airdrome at Menado, chief port of Minahasan peninsula, Celebes Island, across the Celebes Sea from Borneo.

The Japanese thrust into Celebes, a part of the fabulously rich Dutch Indies archipelago, indicated that Tokyo's war lords may be aiming at an early invasion of Australia, with the stepping-stone island of Timor midway between Celebes and Australia, as the next objective.

Election of officers and a talk on the policies of the Red Cross by George D. Montague, field representative of St. Louis, Mo., will be business undertaken at the annual Red Cross meeting here at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Red Cross headquarters.

C. O. Nalley, an outgoing chairman, will preside. New chairman, vice chairman, secretary-treasurer, executive board and nine special service chairmen will be elected at the meeting.

Everyone who is a member of the Red Cross is urged to attend this session.

Negroes Facing Murder Charges

BISBEE, Ariz., Jan. 13 (AP)—Sheriff I. V. Pruitt left today for San Antonio, Tex., to return three negro soldiers to Arizona for prosecution on charges of murdering Coy Carroll Qualls, Fry, Ariz., territorial driver.

Pruitt, traveling by automobile, was accompanied by Deputy U. S. Ratterree.

The soldiers, AWOL from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., are Charles E. Brady, Cole and St. Louis. They were arrested after Qualls' blood-stained taxi cab was found abandoned in San Antonio.

Sheriff Pruitt said each of the soldiers signed statements admitting being involved in the killing. Qualls' body was found early yesterday on the desert, nine miles east of Douglas, Ariz. He was stabbed in the head and neck.

Willkie Gets Position On Labor Board

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt has selected Wendell L. Willkie, the man he defeated for the presidency in 1940, as one of a number of umpires and arbitrators to assist the new 12-man war labor board, and discussed the job with Willkie today.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, indicated Willkie had not definitely accepted the position, and said the list was incomplete.

The labor board, with William H. Davis as chairman, was created late yesterday by executive order and is armed with authority to submit labor disputes to binding arbitration to keep war industries operating at full speed. It superseded the defense mediation board, and will absorb its functions and most of its employees.

Willkie has consulted the chief executive with comparative frequency in recent months and there have been repeated rumors that he would be asked to take a government position, particularly since he has been a strong supporter of most aspects of the administration's foreign policy.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The United States and Uruguay today signed a lend-lease agreement, whereby this country will supply military and naval goods to the South American republic.

Uruguayan Ambassador Juan Carlos Blanco announced signing of the agreement but said he could not reveal the amount of aid involved.

It was rumored to be between $17,000,000 and $20,000,000.

Signing of the lend lease agreement was the second major accord signed with a Latin American power within the past 24 hours, as a pact for military collaboration was approved yesterday between Mexico and the United States.

Informed sources attached significance to the fact that the two agreements were signed at the opening of the conference of foreign ministers at Rio De Janeiro approached. The conference opens Thursday.

Navy Flier Hurt In Plane Mishap

J. F. Tucker, a navy flier, received a broken arm, fractured nose and bruises Monday afternoon when his amphibian plane overturned on the Big Spring airport.

Wheels of the plane struck rough ground to one side of the runway, causing it to nose over. It was indicated the plane could be repaired.

Tucker is under treatment at Malone and Hogan clinic-hospital.

Russians Retake Key Rail City

Russia's armies were unofficially reported today to have recaptured the key rail city of Orel, 200 miles south of Moscow, where a force of 200,000 Germans was believed virtually encircled by the southern claw of a giant soviet pincer aimed at Smolensk.

The British Exchange Telegraph Agency quoted Berlin sources as saying Adolf Hitler already had moved his field headquarters from Smolensk, 210 miles west of Moscow, to a city in southern Russia.

A London broadcast said the BBC "understands unofficially" that Soviet troops had retaken Orel, while other Red army forces driving northwest from Kaluga, 110 miles southwest of Moscow, were reported more than halfway on their 90-mile trek to Vyazma, on the Moscow-Smolensk road.

In the north, Hitler's high command admitted that the battered German armies had been thrown back to the Valdai hills, the upper starting-point of last October's German drive against Moscow which the fushner-boasted would be the "last great, decisive victory" of 1941.

The next high command also reported quickening action on the southern (Ukraine) front, where the Red armies of Marshal Semeon Timoshenko are driving to recapture Kharkov, the Russian "Pittsburgh."

German troops on reconnaissance raids east of Kharkov were reported to have killed 219 Russians and captured 98.

On the North African front, Hitler and his axis ally, Premier Mussolini, suffered a new blow as British troops were officially reported to have recaptured the desert town of Salum, on the Egyptian-Libyan frontier, where axis forces had held out as a threat to communications of the British counter-invasion into Libya.

More than 800 miles to the west, British vanguards have reached the road from El Aghalia, on the Gulf of Sirte, to Marada, a desert city 70 miles to the south, along which general line the enemy appears to be preparing to make a stand. Middle East headquarters said.

Air Conditioning For Tanks May Be Boon To Householders

DALLAS, Jan. 13 (Wide World)—When peace comes, the average man with a small home may be able to thank the war for a new kind of air-conditioning suited to his house and his pocketbook.

The new weather-maker is small, compact and simple. You can carry around in one hand—if you can lift 50 pounds packed into a suitcase—enough of this weather to cool a 30-ton army tank.

That is more than enough for cooling one room, nearly enough for a small home.

In Texas, tanks are being used in experimenting with the little weather-maker. Under some conditions of warfare, the heat and fumes of a tank in action are the limiting factor in the length of time the crew can continue to fight.

The heat in the crew compartment runs up to 130 degrees. The men get exhausted after a few hours, with faces coal-black from fumes, dust and gas that drift

Eighty-Six Enlist In Home Guard

Eighty-six men were down on the dotted line Tuesday for a place in Big Spring's company E, 94th battalion, infantry Texas Defense Guard, as the result of an enthusiastic rally Monday evening in the Settles ballroom.

Approximately 200 men jammed-packed into the ballroom area to hear a brief explanation of organization plans and pleas from Capt. Erick Wiley and Maj. A. B. Knickerbocker, Odessa, regional commander.

"This is not a picnic," cautioned Wiley. "We can be called out by the governor. We must be ready."

Maj. Knickerbocker scoffed for this contention in warning men not to sign enlistment blanks unless they fully intended to be completely active. "This is not a social function. It is something that will call for much energy, thought and spirit. You must work and you must study."

Keynote of the guard, said Capt. J. W. Fryon, Odessa, is cooperation, unity, and advised men that military courtesy and hard work would be demanded in the process.

Assisting in the organization were Lt. Harry B. Bravester, Odessa, who like Maj. Knickerbocker and Capt. Fryon, was a member of the staff, and Lt. Eugene G. Latham and Sgt. Ralph Lee of Colorado City's guard unit.

Fourteen women, volunteering their services, did a yeoman chore in efficiently handling those who submitted enlistment papers. They kept as many typewriters busy and had exceptionally good work, said officers. Capt. Wiley had highest praise for them.

Likewise a group of local doctors stayed close to the job and examined men as rapidly as the women filled in preliminary data.

Enlistment forms were being inspected by a physician Tuesday and it was possible that some of those included would be rejected because of physical disabilities.

A company is composed of 75 men and three officers, although it is possible to carry several supernumerary men to work into the company as the occasion demands.

Maj. Knickerbocker may be back here Thursday to check papers with company officers. Date of induction of the company is problematical.

OOTONSEED REPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The census bureau reported today that cottonseed crushed in the five-month period, Aug. 1 to Dec. 31, totaled 2,388,110 tons, compared with 2,319,899 tons in the corresponding period a year ago.

Change In Semesters Is Affecting Schedules Of College Sports

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—The impact of war has thrown the athletic programs of eastern colleges into confusion, but there seems certain to be more sports activity instead of less.

Today the situation is jumbled—and the athletic directors themselves are in the dark, many not knowing even when their own institutions will begin and end their school terms.

Many colleges plan to crowd three semesters into calendars in an academic "speedup," and this is where the war is being reflected most fully on athletics.

Vacations are being abandoned and commencements advanced generally a full month, resulting in the shortening of spring schedules and the discarding of sports junkets formerly made during the Easter recess.

However, there will be intercollegiate athletics during the summer terms for the first time at many colleges, physical education will be compulsory for all men at some schools, and freshmen may be admitted to varsity competition.

All of these problems were discussed by the athletic heads of some 50 eastern institutions who gathered here last weekend to map sports schedules for 1942-43. Out of their conferences came assurance that the aim of all was continued competition.

The firm stand of the military and naval academies on the desirability of competitive sports helped strengthen some who were shaky and considering emphasizing calisthenics and intramurals at the expense of their varsity athletics.

Both Army and Navy are continuing full sports programs. "Competitive athletics are the mechanism by which we teach what a gentleman is besides what he can learn in books," declared Lieut. Col. Louis G. Hibbs, graduate manager of athletics at West Point. "We are intensifying our academic program, trying to give the cadets a lot more in the same length of time, and this has reduced their recreation periods and sports as 'recreation.' It is a vital part of the training of an army officer."

Capt. Thomas S. Long, director of athletics at Annapolis, echoed this opinion, saying: "For several months we have had an accelerated program at the academy, advancing the graduation for the classes, but we do not intend this to halt the participation of midshipmen in athletics."

Almost every large college in the east except Harvard has advanced its commencement with the weekend of May 9 favored by most. Pitt may conclude its term the last week in April.

Because of the weather, only about one week of baseball, tennis, track and golf can be scheduled by these schools before their terms end, but Dartmouth and others are arranging to keep their athletes on the campus long enough to complete their schedules, even though classes are over. Seniors will remain eligible for the full season.

Colleges planning three semesters expect to count the summer session a regular part of athletic eligibility requirements. While this would enable athletes who are scholastically deficient to regain eligibility for football, in some cases, it might curtail the varsity careers of other performers to two years where institutions have eight semester rules in force.

The latter factor is an additional influence for the use of first year men on varsity teams. Originally this privilege was sought by small schools threatened by the loss of a large part of their sports squads to the military service. But both Yale and Princeton now have lined up in favor of disbanding freshman teams and letting the boys who are capable play with the varsity.

William Fairman, Princeton director of athletics, pointed out that thousands of dollars saved by discarding frosh sports could be used in expanding the junior varsity program, which would reach more students.

Football schedules, next fall at least, will not be greatly affected. But the summer semesters will delay the start of fall terms at many colleges until October and doubtless will curtail future scheduling of early games.

Sweetwater - Odessa Clash Tonight To Determine District 3 - AA Lead

Hogan Favored In L. A. Golf Playoff

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13 (AP)—Golf's mighty mite, Benny Hogan, ruled a favorite to defeat Huffy Thomson in the playoff today for top money and the championship of the Los Angeles open golf tournament.

The two wound up in a tie for first place in the bitterly fought seventeenth annual event, long hitting Thomson posting a 69 for a 73-hole score of 282, and his Texas-born rival from Hershey, Pa., chalking up a 70 for the same total.

They tee off at 1 p. m. (3 p. m. CST) at Hillcrest Country Club to break the first headlock since Johnny Revolta lost to Vic Ghessini in 1925. Thomson is gunning for his second triumph in the event. He won in 1938. The winner gets $350, the runner-up $170—and no locker room split before hand.

Hogan and Thomson had little in common starting the playoff. Hogan topped the nation's professionals in average strokes last year with 70.38 per round in 101 rounds. Long hitting Jimmy didn't make the first ten leaders. Hogan won the most money—$15,358. Thomson wasn't in the top ten.

But Thomson, long time resident of California and now resident pro at exclusive Del Monte, always has been a strong competitor on his adopted soil, and he proved yesterday he can come from behind.

All seven-game schedule that will leave little doubt of the top favorites for Southwest conference basketball honors will be inaugurated tonight at Dallas and Houston.

Baylor's Bears, dark horses of the race, get their major test of the season against the battling Mustangs of Southern Methodist at Dallas.

S.M.U. is resting on the bottom but the Mustangs showed in their two titles with defending champion Arkansas that they are going to be strong factors in the battle for the title.

The high-flying Rice Owls play once-beaten Texas A&M at Houston.

The real fireworks start Friday night, however, when Rice opens a two-game series with Arkansas at Houston. If either team sweeps this series, the critics will concede the title to that quarter.

Baylor also plays Friday night, tangling with the Aggies at College Station while Southern Methodist entertains Texas at Dallas.

Saturday night Texas plays Texas Christian at Fort Worth.

Steers Will Tangle With Midland Five

The issue of whether Sweetwater can maintain its dead-beat race with Odessa for district 3-AA basketball laurels will be decided in a measure this evening when San Angelo travels to the Nolan county citadel for the feature clash of the loop.

Other games of the evening are of minor consequence in relation to the race since Odessa, already securely entrenched with Sweetwater, entertains Lamesa at home.

Big Spring must go to Midland and if the Steers are in anything like as fine fettle as they were against the San Angelo Bobcats here last week, they should give the hapless Bulldogs a drubbing.

In the other game docketed for the evening, Abilene goes to Colorado City, but being away from home is not apt to bother the Eagles to the extent that they will permit the Wolves to upset them. Abilene lost unexpectedly to San Angelo in the opener, was slow getting started against Lamesa, and in the last half of the latter game the Eagles snapped out of it and now appear to be the team to stop Odessa—if, indeed, Odessa is stopped.

Against Midland Coach Derward Marum is due to call upon Peggy Blount, his center and high scorer for the Steers, Dewey Stephenson, Horace A. Earnest Bostick, James Fallon, Red Womack and James Tidwell. Blount has been having some foot trouble—but it seemed to help his basket eye last week. Tidwell has been out with an ailing toe, but may be ready to go today.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

District 22 Battles On Tap Tonight

Held in check a little longer than other cage loops in this area, the district 22-B teams break into action this evening with three games.

Until the Sterling City tournament last weekend, Foran was regarded as the favorite. But the Sterling Eagles copped their own tourney in rather convincing manner and thus cast plenty of doubt on the Foran chances.

Sterling slapped down Water Valley, 27-17, in the finals of the tourney, and thus Water Valley must take a less favored role in the district chase. Although Foran had to content with consolation honors in the skirmish, the Buffaloes of Cagle Hunt were never more impressive than they were in slugging Christoval 59-11 with Smith scoring 21 points.

No monopolies on best players showed up in the tourney, regarded as the best index to the outcome of the district chase. Foran had Smith and Cowley, Sterling City had Churchill and Langford while Water Valley landed Counts.

Garner's chances in the league were somewhat shaded by Sterling's 25-15 victory. However, Sterling's showing may be equalized in league play when the home court advantage is neutralized. This evening Sterling goes to Garden City, Westbrook to Garner, Foran to Coahoma.

Carnett Bumps Off Cosden Puts League In 3-Way Tie

Crystal Five Overwhelms Vaughn 47-23

Carnett proved the giant-killer Monday evening in rising up to upset the mighty Cosden aggregation and throw the city basketball fast league back into a three way tie, noosing out the Oilers 37-36.

In other games, Crystal maintained its improved pace in swamping Vaughn's by a 47-23 count, while in the slow league Radford moved out in front by upsetting the ABC club in a rough and tumble affair that almost produced several private encounters.

The City team of the slow league this week is due to be replaced by the Sea Scouts, but the arrangement has not been completed.

Thursday Crystal is to tangle with Carnett in the featured tilt of the evening at 7:15 o'clock. Cosden meets Vaughn's at 8:15 p. m. and in the slow league game the Oilers will tangle with the Sea Scouts in event they take the City's place.

New Scorer Found For Oklahoma U.

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 13. (AP)—Temporary loss of his star pointmaker, Center Gerald Tucker, through a ruling of the conference eligibility committee, sent Coach Bruce Drake searching for a new goal getter.

He found one in Paul Heap, veteran of Oklahoma's Sooner cage men, whose modesty thus far had confined his game to passing the ball to the other fellow.

"Listen here, Paul," warned Drake, "you've got to shoot that ball or we're not only going to get our pants whipped off. You're going to get yours worn out from sitting on the bench."

Heap was high scorer Saturday night as Oklahoma topped Kansas State, 47, to 40, in a Big Six conference game.

Odessa tournament dates are Jan. 26-27-28.

Temple Lewis, trainer of the Odessa team, said he would like to engage Big Spring's squad in inter-city combat during the tournament.

Odessa and Monahans have already scheduled a tournament warmup card for the Ector county auditorium on Tuesday night, Jan. 20. The two teams vied hotly for honors last year, winning three team berths apiece.

Members of both teams have already gone into serious training for the '42 tourney. Most champions and near-champions will be back.

Star Netmen May Turn Pro

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 13. (AP)—Two of the country's ranking players of 1941—Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., and Gardner Mulloy of Miami—disclosed today that they may desert amateur tennis to play for pay.

Sabin is No. 6 in the national list.

There are some details that have to be worked out before we can say definitely we will turn professional, but it looks now as if we will," said Mulloy, who was rated seventh in the country in 1941.

Mulloy and Sabin have played doubles together frequently and reached the finals of the national last year. They were beaten by Kramer and Schroeder for the title.

Kramer, Mulloy and Sabin are now playing in the University of Miami Invitational tournament.

Louis Goes Into Army Tomorrow

NEW YORK, Jan. 13. (AP)—Joe Louis is busy doing things for others during the last hours before he dons the uniform of a private in the United States army.

The heavyweight boxing champion, who passed the physical and mental tests yesterday and will be inducted tomorrow at Camp Upton, has a date at 3 p. m. today to turn some $50,000-plus over to the Naval Relief Society and later in the day will visit a hospital for negro infantile paralysis victims.

The $50,000-plus is Louis' share of the fight Friday night in which he flattened Buddy Bear in a single round. Joe's 40 per cent of the $188,700.85 gate amounted to approximately $64,000. He is retaining only training camp expenses.

After returning yesterday from Governor's Island, where he passed his pre-induction examinations, Louis said his decision to enter the army at once had been so sudden that not even his wife had been informed in advance.

War calls have the right of way

In these troubled, wartime days the first duty of the telephone company is clear.

Our Army needs communication . . . fast, dependable communication to every part of this nation.

Our Navy needs it . . .

The industries which supply ships and guns and shells need it . . .

To provide that communication, the 28,000 men and women of the Southwestern Bell . . . the entire physical resources of this company . . . stand pledged.

The nation's job is our Number One job. The messages of war must go through as quickly and as surely as it is possible for human beings to handle them.

Gail Road Work Moving Slowly

Work is proceeding slowly on Howard county's major road improvement project of 1943—the paving of the Gail road and additional five miles northward.

Since the WPA program is greatly curtailed at present, the county is having to do nearly all the work, according to Judge Walton Morrison. Grading and improvement of drainage structures is underway now, with paving to follow.

Miss Laneous Notes

Well, girls, let's face it. If things keep going like they are now there will have to be some changes in our 1943 life. It's always the woman who pay you know!

First, our lipstick will go the way of all luxuries so the pessimistic say. It seems they use the stuff for argument somewhat how or other. Then there comes the rubber shortage which means no girdles or garters. How we girls will keep our cotton hose up and our tummies in is something the scientists have yet to figure out for us.

Then in place of the old black wool that we've been wearing, we'll go in for blue uniforms so the advance notices read. All made according to military styles which don't allow for bumps anyway.

These things are all to the debit side. Pale lips, and ootun legged, and girdeless, we women will pursue our life. But in place of bridge in the afternoon, a day on the golf course, or afternoons of the pleasure, we'll be mighty busy. There will be our days at the knitting and sewing rooms of the Red Cross, our evenings with First Aid classes and home nursing courses. Our money goes into defense stamps and bonds instead of penny ante.

Add it all up and get a glimpse of what life will be for the women this next year. But listen to the women talk! There isn't a smart in a million. The women are just grinning ruefully and jumping to the job! It ought to restore faith in us girls.

Many deaths charged to "heart disease" are really caused by serious infectious disease, the census bureau discovered during a study of death certificates filed in state offices.

1 (3 1/2 oz.) can pineapple wedges	1/4 cup milk
1/2 cup KARO (blue label)	7 tsp. KARO (red label)

Combine beef, ham and bread crumbs. Mix together eggs, milk, KARO (blue label) mustard, salt and pepper. Open one of pineapple wedges; drain, and add 1/4 cup of fruit syrup to egg mixture. Blend well with meat. Fill large greased muffin tin about 3/4 full.

Average about 6 pineapple wedges or each muffin. Top with apricot half. Pour about 1/4 teaspoon KARO (red label) over each, and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes, or until done. Makes 8 servings.

A First Line FOOD FOR DEFENSE Against Fatigue

Editorial— Let's Be Gracious About Losing 'Little' Services

Latest press dispatches quote Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones as saying that a synthetic rubber production can and will be perfected that will end America's shortage in a year and a half. This is good news, and there is no reason to doubt that such production will come to pass, for American science and technology can be expected to meet the demands of the time. But there is no reason for American people to be lulled into a false sense of security, or to look upon the tire situation as another of those "Eastern gasoline shortages." The fact remains that the tire situation is serious and that full cooperation from every citizen is essential in the solving of the problem. Cooperation is essential from the standpoint that all of us must accept discontinuance or curtailment of a thousand little services we have come to accept as a matter of course. We must accept without complaint, and without

NO TIME FOR LOVE

By WATKINS E. WRIGHT

Chapter 15 BRIDGE, FOR TWO "You seem as far away as that England you spoke of," Lavinia said presently. "You are over there in your thoughts, aren't you?" "No," said Rod. "I was thinking of something else entirely." "It must have been something terribly engrossing — from your long silence, and intense expression." "It was," said Rod. "Maybe I'll tell you about it sometime." "That," said Lavinia, "gives me something to look forward to. Then she felt a sense of annoyance because of Rod's evasiveness. "You know where to find me if you're ever in a confessional mood." "Thanks," said Rod. He gave her a swift smile, and then looked up at the sky. "I'm afraid that little black patch up there means rain. Maybe we'd better be getting back to the mainland." "Just as you say," Lavinia replied, feeling disappointed, cheated. "Shall we start for the boat now?" "Yes, I think we should," Rod got up, pulled Lavinia to her feet. They strode off toward the cove where the supper things were waiting to be packed. "I found the book on bridge," Rod told her, as they began gathering up the knives, forks, spoons, and other articles which had to be carried to the boat. "We'll try out some of the rules and conventions as soon as we get to the cottage." "That will be nice," Lavinia said somewhat stiffly. Somehow or other she had lost interest in playing bridge with Rod. Something had happened to her, or to both of them. He seemed remote, unresponsive, and friendly and sweet. "Oughtn't we to wash these things first?" "No, we'll dump them in the dishes," said Rod, "and I'll clean up in the morning." "I'd be glad to wash them, and let you dry them." "You're sweet, Lavinia. But I never let my guests help with the work." "An old English custom, I suppose," Lavinia couldn't keep a frown from creeping into her face. "Or am I wrong?" "It's just a way I have," said Rod. "It's neither English nor

Washington Daybook— Oriental Super-Salesman Doesn't Go For Fol-de-Rol

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—At a small gathering the other day, Jesse Jones, who has a firm hold on at least some of the purse-strings of America's wartime billions, was preparing to depart. "You better not leave," said Sen. Tom Conally, "Dr. (T. V.) Soong is going to give us a little lecture on China."

grinned. "All the more reason I should go. I've heard Dr. Soong's little lectures on China and every one of them cost me money." That, of course, was facetious but it wasn't off the mark at all. Dr. T. V. Soong is probably the greatest high pressure salesman that ever came out of the Orient — and his sole stock of goods is China.

In an intimate, off-the-record group, I have heard him talk for more than an hour, pausing only for questions. His answers are lucid, direct, and backed by a bewildering array of facts and figures. The sum and substance of it is, when he is through, you are China plus. The guerillas are magnificent; the regulars, with nothing more than small arms, machine guns and hand grenades, are giving the Japanese fits. The Burma road will never be closed as long as the British hold their portion of it. In Manchukuo, in Formosa, and the occupied areas of China, the Japs already have lost the economic battle.

Lavinia was hardly more than a gesture before "T. V." had talked Uncle Sam out of $100,000,000. It was called a "loan" but the only collateral was the word of T. V. Soong. Dr. Soong is the antithesis of Orientalism. It is true that over in the Chinese embassy, he has had a stove moved into his room so that he can brew his own tea, but the new foreign minister of China doesn't use the tea-time approach. When he had laid his case for China before the president, Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, the federal banking officials and Jesse Jones, he was told that the matter would have to be put up to congress. What he said would hardly bear repeating. This was a business transaction. Take it or leave it. The U. S. government agencies did — and so did congress. The loan was approved a year ago. Dr. T. V. (the initials are further proof of his Americanism; in the old Chinese tradition, his name should be Dr. Soong Tsuen). Soong is tall for a Chinese. He is stocky. His hair is roach-back from his forehead. He wears horn-rimmed glasses. All of that gives him an imposing, intellectual air. Sometimes I think he consciously tries to heighten this impression by his terrible seriousness. I think that will start punning, wisecracking and telling stories in the best U. S. manner.

When War Comes To Hollywood — Routine Takes A Licking

(Second In A Series) By ROBBY COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Soon after war came, a quick check showed that more than 800 studio workers were in the armed forces, with many more awaiting call either as reserves or in selective service.

There were big names on the list — names like actors James Stewart, Robert Montgomery, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Wayne Morris; like Directors John Ford, Garson Kanin, John Huston; like producers Gene Markey, Meriam C. Cooper; like cameramen Joe August and Gregg Toland; like sound engineers Col. Nathan Levinson and Major John Aalberg.

Hollywood is a place of specialized skills, and Hollywood expects to lose some of its finest technicians — in camera and sound departments, in laboratories and cutting rooms, in electrical departments — for the duration.

But pictures will go on being made, and probably with no impairment of the technical superiority which has made Hollywood's movies standard. Technicians who are left — over age, or otherwise barred from active service — may have to do a little doubling in brass, or work longer hours, but in the main the war should serve to spread more regular employment, do away with the past necessity for parceling out work-hours.

Inside the studios the impact of war has changed the old routine rather startlingly — though with no effect on production quality yet observable. New York stage actors who used to groan at getting up "in the middle of the night" for a 9 o'clock call are getting there at 8 and getting off at 5. That's a blackout precaution, to get the workers home if possible before dark.

They've eliminated night shooting as well, for the same reason. In pre-war days many a section of town was flooded with brilliance as nocturnal crews went about their work. For the same reason, the gala premiere — with its searchlights and jewels and crowds of stargazers — is in eclipse.

When war comes to Hollywood, routine takes a licking. Technicians are being called to active service, and some are being doubled in brass or working longer hours.

Special Trains To School Convention

Murray Fly, superintendent of Odessa schools, who has been named president of the Texas delegation to the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators, has announced that two special trains will be operated from the state. The convention is set for Feb. 21-26 in San Francisco. One train will operate over the T. & P. to serve administrators in North, East and West Texas, he said, and those from the balance of the state will go over Southern Pacific. Both will join at El Paso on the morning of Feb. 19 and will stop for a day on Feb. 20 at Los Angeles. Members of the

$40,000 Loss In Galveston Fire

GALVESTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Fire destroyed the ABC store, ABC racket store and Masonic lodge quarters on the upper floor of an old building in the center of the business district last midnight. Dense smoke hampered firemen in fighting the blaze. Damage was estimated unofficially at more than $40,000. If all the cigars made in the United States were rolled into one mammoth stogie it would reach 80 miles from Chicago, Ill. to Topeka, Kas., the census reports.

Man About Manhattan — Mr. Valentine Gets Tough Again

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Motorists in this city are watching their speedometers and giving fire plugs a wide berth. They know Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine wasn't kidding when he decreed double fines, and even jail sentences, for traffic violations. The commissioner is one of those hardboiled guys who deals bluntly with factual problems. "Some motorists can't be treated decently," he says, "so we'll sock 'em where it hurts. Double fines for first offenders. After that—jail." It was Lewis J. Valentine, ex-Brooklyn copper, now commissioner of all Metropolitan police, who gained a hard reputation during the gangster era. "Muss 'em up," he told his cops. This led to charges by certain ladies organizations in the city that he was "terrorizing thugs." "That's right," the Commissioner replied. "I can't think of anything that needs terrorizing more than thugs." After that he called for a general policy of face-slapping for racketeers. Dutch Schultz, now dead, came in for a measure of the commissioner's blunt contempt. The cops had orders to pick him up, and rather than come in in iron, Schultz surrendered. When Valentine was told that the gangster had voluntarily surrendered he bit his lip and said, "My only regret is that he is not being carried into the city of New York in a box." Later the commissioner had his wish. Schultz was assassinated by rival gangsters in a Jersey saloon. Occasionally, however, the commissioner's logic backfires, and newspapermen still chuckle over his discomfiture at roulette one day. A lot of gambling equipment had been seized, and Commissioner Valentine denounced all gambling as games for "suckers." "Look here," he cried, tossing a chip on No. 7 and giving the captured wheel a spin. "I'll show you how ridiculous this is. You can't win." The newspapermen and the cops held their breath. Around and around the little ball sped, and finally it came to rest on No. 7. The cops gulped, and the reporter's face slowly turned to a brilliant red. Sharing Commissioner Valentine's ire at careless motorists is Chief Magistrate Henry E. Curran, who bawled, "The most inaccessible object in New York today is a fire hydrant. It is so surrounded by parked cars that a fireman must be a Columbus to discover it." Ergo, police department clerks have set to work stamping 100,000 extra summonses. Six hundred cops have been turned loose in the mid-town area. Most streets in the Manhattan business district will be forbidden to parked cars. Commissioner Valentine says at least 100,000 cars are parked illegally in Manhattan every 24 hours. The Commissioner aims to do something about it.

small portable radio. He turned the dial until he got a dance orchestra.

"What's that for?" Lavinia inquired.

"I need a little dance practice," said Rod.

"You mean with me?"

"Naturally."

"You don't know what you're letting yourself in for."

"I'll gamble on you, if you'll gamble on me. I'm pretty rusty, and need to be in trim for our evening together at the Inn."

"So do I," Lavinia went to his arms.

They danced for over half an hour. And then Lavinia noticed that the sound of rain upon the roof had stopped.

He switched off the radio. He joined Lavinia on the porch, and closed and locked the door.

"Have you really enjoyed our outing?" he asked.

"Indeed I have," said Lavinia.

"So have I," Rod said. "It's been one of the happiest days of my life."

"It's been the happiest day of my life," said Lavinia.

At the place where the lawn met the rocks, they satiated.

Rod took her hand, looked deep into Lavinia's eyes. For a brief, exciting moment she was quite sure he was going to take her in his arms and kiss her. But the moment passed. Nothing happened.

"Good night, Lavinia," Rod said. There was a strange new tone to his voice, a sort of huskiness, as though he were experiencing some kind of emotional upheaval.

"Good night, Rod," said Lavinia, and ran across the lawn, and was gone.

Call Issued For Civilian Air Patrol

A call to automobile mechanics, radio, telephone, telegraph operators, those with transportation to offer, and those who can help in any way went out today from Dr. P. W. Malone prior to an area Civilian Air Patrol meeting set for 7:30 p. m. in the Settles.

"This is something in which all can have a part," he said. "It is in reality a part of civilian defense, and the need is great. We plan to tell about prospective courses which would familiarize the public with aviation, which would offer refresher courses to automobile mechanics so that they could do emergency plane work, and many other things."

Representatives from a dozen cities in this area were to attend the meeting tonight. The area included extends from Sweetwater to Monahans, from Crane to Lamesa.

George Haddaway, Dallas, prominent in the CAP organization in Texas and possibly D. Harold Bird, Dallas, state wing commander, will be here for the party. Maj. John Curry, head of CAP in the nation, is expected to be in the state Wednesday to inspect units, and there is a bare possibility he might come to Big Spring before getting away.

Reddy Kilowatt's Tips on How to Get the Most from Your Electric Service...

YOU CAN'T OUTGUESS THE WEATHER...

But Your Electric Refrigerator Does

Yes, your electric refrigerator outguesses the weather. It automatically maintains the necessary low temperature to keep expensive food from spoiling regardless of the summertime temperature in your kitchen when you are cooking. Then, when the house cools off at night, your refrigerator has practically no work to do and uses very little current.

You can help your refrigerator do a better job of keeping food fresh and wholesome by defrosting the freezing coil regularly, and by placing food and dishes so that circulation of cold air in the refrigerator won't be hindered.
