

Last Friday Sheriff Miller and J. C. McDonald made a night raid at Teacosa and captured a small still, corn liquor and mash, and one man, who gave his name as McMullin. Another party was implicated but was not present at the time of the raid.

Over a quart of liquor was brought in and the stills operating at the time they were taken by the law still contain contents that are usual for the making of liquor. The outfit had been made of a ten gallon oil can and a five gallon oil can. Usual copper worms were used.

McMullin and the brewery equipment were brought to Vega. McMullin will be held for action of the grand jury, which has its setting in August. —Vega Sentinel.

The Great West Mill and Elevator Company, of Amarillo, offered a prize of $100 to the first contract delivery of a car of new milling wheat. The Harvest Queen Mill and Elevator Company, of Plainview, delivered the first car of wheat to them, and received this prize. This wheat was delivered by Ira Ratliff and J. E. Kellehor of Plainview.

Hotel Keitner, the forty-room, $40000 hotel building which is being built in Tahoka would be a credit to any town the size or larger than this little city. The building is being built of brick and tile, and the contractor expects to complete the building by the middle of September.

This is a grasshopper story the authenticity of which is vouched for by the County Agent Guy R. Jones. Three men from Iowa Park went on a fishing trip on the Wichita River. In going for minnows a change into old clothes was made. After returning to the bank where they had left their clothes one man discovered that three large holes had been eaten in a new $7.00 Panama hat by the grasshoppers, another found that the entire sweat band of his hat had been devoured and the third found that the knees of his trousers, as well as the pockets had been partly eaten and a fabricated rubber belt which he wore was frayed around the edges. All returned home fully convinced of the grasshopper menace. —Electra News.

Woman is Given Verdict of Death By N. Mex. Jury

Mrs. Nannie Halsey, Luther Foster and William Archer were found guilty of murder in the first degree, by a jury in district court at Roswell, N. M., at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, after a deliberation of only fifteen minutes. The verdict was arrived at on the first ballot being unanimous as to the three defendants. The three defendants received the verdict which carries with it the death penalty, with stole calm.

Under the law governing this case the decision of the jury meant either a verdict which would carry with it the death penalty or freedom for these three persons. There was no middle ground in this case which is regarded as the most remarkable criminal cases ever tried in New Mexico, with sufficient unusual angles to set a record in New Mexico jurisprudence.

There were at least fifty law points in this case which had never been decided before in New Mexico. In this case Archer was charged with being the principal, the man who fired the fatal shot which instantly killed Fred Halsey at his home near Hope on Sunday night, March 30, this year, just as he had returned home from Anstiff where he attended church.

It was alleged that his wife, Mrs. Nannie Halsey and Luther Foster conspired together, and secured Archer to kill Halsey. Seven different men during the trial testified that Foster had made propositions to them to kill Halsey. The state's evidence was entirely circumstantial, beginning at a time when Foster was an El Paso police officer in 1922, down to the time the fatal shot was fired.

Sheriff C. S. Purcell Announces His Withdrawal From Race For Re-election: Benton Only Candidate

Sheriff C. S. Purcell Tuesday handed the Brand the following announcement of his withdrawal from the race for re-election as sheriff and tax collector:

I regret very much to announce to my many friends that I am withdrawing from the Sheriff's race. So faithfully have they always stayed with me. Some of those on the other side will say I am afraid of my horses, but not in the least. With all due respect to my friend, Mr. Benton, I am confident that I could beat him out. There are several reasons as to my withdrawal; one mainly: as to official and prosecuting assistance I am handicapped, and if I should be re-elected, I feel that now is the time to take out and let the people elect Mr. Benton. There may be a few that rejoice when they receive this word, but will say as to the law violations they may not be rid of me. Should I make up my mind to accept either of the two jobs offered me, it might fall to me to usher them to where the poor and rich lick off the same block.

Don't get the idea that I am disgusted with the people. I have been around over different parts of the country and will say that Deaf Smith county has as nearly, or more one hundred per cent Americanism than any county in any state, and I am for Deaf Smith county. Not near has everything been done that should have been done. The Ku Klux Klan say they are for law and order; so am I, but I am not a K. K. K. and if there is one in this county he has not made himself known. But I am glad they have not up to the present seen necessary to have to organize to take care of the law violations. As to law violators I think they should all have to eat out of the same half bushel.

If it is Mr. Benton that succeeds me, I think he is a good man, and if between now and the time I go out I can familiarize him with the work, will gladly do so, and hope that he may have the help of the people, which all officers need.

Many thanks to my friends for what they have, and are now doing for me. Yours for further service.

C. S. PURCELL, Sheriff.

Mrs. Jno. Pitman Showered at Henry Wilkinson Home

Mrs. Jno. Pitman, Clifford Acker, John Williams, Ray Barber and Fred Oberthier entertained with a delightful party and shower Tuesday afternoon complimentary to Mrs. Jonathan A. Pitman, who until very recently was Miss Douglas Wilson daughter of Mr. T. K. Wilson.

The affair was given at the home of Mrs. Wilkinson which was beautifully decorated in sweet peas, with rich red carnations and ferns adorning the tables and other places of vantage.

The bride arrived to find all the chairs in the house filled with friends, but one, in which very primly sat a miniature bride, who graciously gave her place to the honoree. Mrs. Pitman was entertained with a duet by Misses Eloise Pitman and Kathleen Hawkins. Mrs. Elmer Dameron in her pleasing way toasted the bride. Mrs. Carl Mountz sang too very appropriate songs. Mrs. Fred Oberthier Jr. gave a toast to the wedding ring.

Suddenly everyone was startled to hear a loud knocking at the door followed by a heated argument between the hostesses and a Gypsy peddler, who was pleading for admittance in such a determined way there was no denying her. She entered with her cases and began trying to make the most of her opportunity of disposing her wares. The guests were invited to inspect her assortment of everything imaginable that would come in handy for two newly weds, such as; cut glass, silver, canned fruit, table linens and household linens, electric grill and toaster, pillows, rugs, etc., were upon each guest found something suitable to present to the bride. Mrs. John Williams was exceptionally clever in the part of the Gypsy.

After the many delightful hostesses served a delicious salad course to about eighty guests thinking that the girls left behind would not be sufficiently consoled with their refreshments Miss Alice Johnson toasted them as follows:

Here's to the girls that are left behind, The girls who are lonely,—the girls who pine,

To the ones so far neglected and unnoticed by man, Even though many they have offered the wedding band.

The sufrage, spinster, spinster, and clerk, Who, house-wife's duties, I'm sure would never shirk, But let's all stick together girls, and not give up hope, 'Cause some day we might too pull the right rope.

The season for man hunting just stays in full sway, And as for game laws,—we have none to-day.

But all these girls have promised to stand by me and say, That Doug,—you're just one more out of our way.

Paul R. Davis and Family in Auto Accident Sunday

A clipping from an Arizona paper handed to us by Leonard Davis, contains the following:

Edgar W. Kelly, 35, Southern Pacific operator at Redrock, was instantly killed from a crushed skull and broken neck Sunday afternoon when his car ran wild in a strip of loose dirt one mile and a half west of Postvale and turned over. Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Davis, of Redrock, and their month old baby were in the car with the operator.

Davis had a miraculous escape, receiving only a few minor scratches and bruises. The baby was thrown for several feet and was found lying at the side of Kelly's body, uninjured in any way. It is with the mother at St. Mary's hospital. Where the Davis family was moved from the scene of the accident. Mrs. Davis has a number of deep cuts about the face and a fractured left arm. Her right shoulder is badly bruised but no bones are thought to be broken.

Kelly and the Davis family were returning to Redrock from this city where they had come to get medicine for the Davis infant. Kelly was hurrying to get back to Redrock in order to be on time to take his post at the railroad station to dispatch some important train news. His trip to Tucson was purely a courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Davis, who had no other way to get to Tucson to procure medicine for their child.

Mr. Davis who is section foreman for the S. P. at Redrock, said Kelly was driving about 35 miles an hour when his touring car struck a small mound of dirt left by the county grading machine. The car had no sooner got into the dirt when it swerved and seemed to leave the ground.

Deputy Bob Neuse, who investigated the accident for the sheriff's office, reported the Kelly car to have turned over twice and landed on its side, throwing all the occupants clear of the car, which was heavily damaged. Passerby picked up Mr. and Mrs. Davis and baby and brought them to the hospital here. Kelly's body was taken to Redrock's mortuary where it will remain pending word from relatives in Logansport, Ind. Kelly's old home from where he came to Arizona seven years ago. Kelly was never married and his nearest relatives are several cousins in Logansport.

At a late hour last night Mrs. Davis was reported to be resting comfortably.

Paul R. Davis, son of W. H. Davis of this city, left Hereford last fall for Redrock, Arizona where he began work with the Southern Pacific Railroad as a section foreman. Mrs. Davis was formerly Miss Rosa Kerns of this city, and left only a few weeks ago to join her husband at Redrock. Mrs. W. H. Davis accompanied her at that time. The last report stated that Mr. and Mrs. Davis were still in a hospital in Tucson.

A. W. Stockton and Family Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stockton and their three children of Temple, Texas, and Mrs. Joe Trussell of Fort Worth arrived here Saturday. Mr. Stockton is a brother of Mrs. E. F. Connell, the Stocktons departed Tuesday morning for points in New Mexico, but are expected back to Hereford in a few days to spend the remainder of the summer. Mrs. Trussell is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Connell and will remain here for an indefinite time. Mr. and Mrs. Trussell just recently graduated from the Baptist Seminary at Seminary Hill, Texas. Mr. Trussell is now engaged in leading the singing in revival meetings near Ft. Worth.

County Commissioners Inspect Highway Monday

The County Commissioners and E. W. Harrison went over the Harrison T. S. Highway Monday to inspect the condition of the road. Mr. Harrison said the Highway was in first class condition and that he expected to see a great lot of wheat come from that direction. The commissioners and Mr. Harrison stopped at the noon hour at the home of H. A. Gray for dinner. All thoughts of hard times were dispersed when they were seated at a well filled, heaped up table. "Nothing lacking around this joint" said one of the boys.

Exterior Work Being Done on Court House

The exterior wood work on the court house got a much needed coat of paint last week. C. I. Savage with a crew of men did the work. Some interior decoration will be done in the rooms in the east end of the building damaged by water last winter.

National Democratic Chairman at Desk

Cordell Hull, of Tennessee, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee at his desk in convention headquarters at New York.

Democratic Mule Will Feel Kick of Pat Harrison

An especially interesting feature of the national Democratic convention, which opened in New York City Tuesday, from the Hereford standpoint, is the fact that Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, was scheduled to deliver the "keynote" speech opening the convention.

Senator Harrison was one of the speakers on the Chautauqua platform here in 1923 and made many friends while in the city. He played a round of golf on the local links with several of the Hereford golfers, and turned out to be a "regular fellow."

Pre-convention dope Tuesday indicated that McAdoo and Smith would probably deadlock the chances of either for a two thirds vote in the convention and that a "dark horse," with John W. Davis of West Virginia as the most probable candidate, would eventually win the nomination.

Miss Lorena Taylor Weds Arney Man Saturday

Miss Lorena Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Taylor of Arney, Texas was united in marriage to Floyd Fortner last Saturday night at the Taylor home. Rev. H. M. J. Richards of Little Rock, Arkansas performed the ceremony.

Miss Taylor spent the past school year at Southwestern Junior College at Keene, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Fortner will make their home in the Arney District.

U. S. Assistant Director Bridenstine Here Tuesday

Mr. Bridenstine, Assistant Director of Rodent Control of the U. S. Department of Agricultural Bureau of Biological Survey, was in the Brand office Tuesday afternoon and gave us the report of his work and his assistants. Mr. Bridenstine said "in checking up the results of the prairie dog poisoning campaign in Deaf Smith county, that this county easily leads all other counties in the Panhandle in prairie dog extermination work. The commissioners and sheriff Purcell are to be congratulated for their ready cooperation with the U. S. Bureau. Sheriff Purcell is to be commended on selecting a crew of men that has secured such good results. With a little more work, practically all the prairie dogs in the county can be wiped out."

VERY SMALL BEGINNINGS HERE IN 1902

PARKER RECALLS SOME EARLY HISTORY OF HEREFORD CITY

WAS FIRST BRICK

Western Bank Building is First Erected of Any But Wood

The Chamber of Commerce held their regular noonday luncheon at the City Cafe. President D. L. McDonald and vice-president E. W. Harrison being absent, Homer Wilkinson presided. No regular program was outlined as the chairman called for members to say something. Dr. Overton again romped on his two best friends, G. A. F. Parker and F. H. Oberthier in his good natured way, told of the possibilities of gas coming to Hereford and leading them water in return, nominated a man from Hereford to head the democratic ticket for president of the United States and then had the audacity to name his cabinet, choosing a republican for postmaster general. The diners enjoyed the Doctor's speech and applauded him because he quit.

G. A. F. Parker was called upon to recount the improvements in Hereford since he has been here.

Mr. Parker stated he came here twenty-two years ago and built the first brick building in the town which is today the home of the Western National Bank.

All of our business houses have been rebuilt since then, brick buildings, taking the place of frames. Our splendid water and sewer system; our light plant, our paved streets, our present Court House and all our churches and school houses have been built in these twenty-two years. At that time the Christian people had the only church building in town. It was the small frame building now used by G. W. Smith and Son Wrecking Company.

There was very little farming around here then, and there was no hogs in the country, and hardly any chickens or milk cows. We had to buy cold storage eggs and Elgin butter. Then we had no public park. Now we have more and better parks than any town in the Panhandle.

Every disaster, such as a fire, has been followed by improvements. Then I was a bachelor, so let not John Mosely and L. Baskin lose hope.

Our moral and religious growth has kept up with, or ahead of our business growth. Today with our two cotton gins, we are building a splendid county hospital.

Steadily and surely as in the past I expect to see Hereford advance ever forward and upward.

Those present were: Homer Wilkinson, Dr. J. W. Overton, G. A. F. Parker, John Mosely, L. Baskin, A. H. Streun, W. E. Dameron, F. H. Oberthier, W. R. Stockman, C. C. Rockwell, W. E. Dunlap, Miss Virginia Barnett, Ralph Barnett, N. C. Vogels, George Floyd, Dr. J. M. Ferrell, George Overton, O. J. Beene, E. S. Ireland, W. Ashbrook, D. F. Ashbrook, and Frenell Thurmond.

You Need Not Fail

by Whit Hadley

Frank C. Riblet, from Gallon, Ohio, had every right to—but didn't. Riblet's father owned a store in Gallon and couldn't make it pay. His family were in abject poverty. Taken from school when a small child he started as a freight train coupler in the yards of Gallon. Then he became a vender of candy on a train from Crestline to Indianapolis. Next he fired a locomotive and then became an engineer, holding his job eleven years. He built a shanty to live in and spent half of each night studying how to make more money, and starving himself to save every penny.

Then he went to Cleveland and as a free lance tried to sell real estate. He hit upon a novel scheme of taking an option on a lot, trading the lot for a grocery store, developing the store and selling it. His profits were meagre but they were profits.

With them he bought a half interest in a livery stable, paying $50 down. He found himself handicapped by a competitive livery man, so with three city lots bought on option he traded them for his competitor's business and gave him notes in addition. With the profits from both stables he took up the options and bought more real estate on option. Then Riblet took a 60-year lease on land next to a big hotel, erected a five-story livery barn and doubled his income.

When his wife's health failed he sold out and went to Arizona, living there three years, then returned to Cleveland. He made plans to erect the finest garage in town but stopped to have his picture taken. Becoming interested in photography he went across the street, rented a store, hired the photographer's clerk who had waited on him, to run it, and started to do business. It became necessary for him to hire six assistants.

Recently Riblet became interested in Texas oil wells. He struck oil the first shot at 1800 feet. He used a peculiar argument in securing capital. He impressed upon each investor that the risk they ran was great. He suggested that each one put in only what he could afford to lose in case of failure.

Today Riblet is a well preserved man of seventy-one, and is worth one million dollars.

HELPFUL HINTS

Mrs. Henshaw: This newspaper will publish "Helpful Hints" in this form at regular intervals. We suggest you clip this column and paste it in your recipe book.

Home-made Cement.—It is not necessary to buy cement. A very good one may be made by following this simple recipe: Mix some plaster of Paris with the white of an egg to the consistency of cream. This is as good as any prepared cement and a good deal cheaper.

After Cleaning Clothes.—Very often after cleaning clothes with gasoline a ring will be left. This may be removed by steaming over a teakettle.

Silver.—If silver is put into a pan of sour milk and allowed to stand overnight, it will be bright and shiny in the morning.

Pipes.—The pipes in a sink need never become stopped up if just a little precaution is exercised. If a cup of kerosene is poured down the drain once a month, followed by two gallons of boiling water the next morning, there should never be any trouble. The kerosene cuts the grease and the boiling water washes it away.

Making a Vase.—A pretty vase or flower container may be made from an old bottle. That sounds strange, doesn't it—but it's so. First, saturate a cord in either kerosene or turpentine and tie around the neck of the bottle at the place you wish to cut it off. Then light the two ends of the cord and turn the bottle slowly so that the heat may be evenly distributed. Third and lastly, plunge into cold water and the neck will break off evenly.

The Grater.—After grating either lemons or cheese, a very stiff-bristled brush will thoroughly cleanse the grater.

Candle Grease on Linen.—Candle grease may be removed from any linen article by putting a blotter under the piece and using a warm iron. Let the iron stand on the material long enough to melt all the grease, which will be absorbed by the blotter.

Clothes-pins.—Clothes-pins which have been boiled in salt water will keep the clothes from sticking to the lines in cold weather. A rather good hint for this weather. Add a teaspoon of salt to a quart of water, in boiling.

Misses Ola and Sallie Maline Brashers, left last Sunday for Madill, Okla., where they will visit with their Aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Minter. They expect to be away four or five weeks.

At the Mark Cowser home on Friday evening a nice program was given by Mrs. Ray Sheffy, Misses Josephine and Norma Cowser and Mr. Jake Harrison of Canyon. The program consisted of Music, and readings which were greatly enjoyed by all. After the Sheffy-Cowser and Harrison program, the Fred Galle family rendered some fine music and songs. At eleven o'clock refreshments consisting of punch, and cake, were served to the following: Judge and Mrs. Ray E. Mr. Clifton was a resident of Dimmitt for several years, but for the past four years has lived in the city of Los Angeles. We were glad to see him here again and enjoyed his visit very much.

Mrs. C. B. Williams is visiting relatives and friends in Plainview.

The farmers and merchants are feeling a little blue now as it seems that it is forgetting to rain any more in this part of the country. The crops can't stand many more dry hot winds. We are hoping that we will soon be blessed with a good soaking rain, before our crops are entirely ruined.

W. H. Gilbreath Gets Letter from Son in Calif.

The Brand was handed a letter from a boy who used to live here, but is now in San Pedro, California.

W. H. Gilbreath came in Monday and handed us a letter from his son John Gilbreath who is Quartermaster on the battleship California, stationed at San Pedro, Calif.

He stated in his letter that he liked there just fine, but still thought of Hereford. He also told some very interesting things about the great explosion of the battleship Mississippi. He said their ship was the first to their rescue.

Mr. Gilbreath seems to like the Navy just fine, and talks of staying with it. He told his father he had failed to get a few copies of The Brand, and said in order to keep up with every issue he was going to subscribe for it.

Poem by Uncle John

Jim Tinker's got a thoughtful spouse—a regular gem, old Jim declares; whenever Jim's around the house, he's one of her especial cares. She criticizes how he chews, an' hates to see his whiskers grow—She fusses lots about his shoes,—she likes to see 'em shine, ye know. She loves to see her hubby work, and bring the toothsome bacon in, but he must eat it with his fork, and not spill gravy on his skin! She notices if on his breath there ain't the scent of new-mown hay—why, it would pester me to death to bresh my teeth six times a day! . . . Jim likes to read the paper some—of evenin's in his rockin' chair,—till she suggests he get the comb, an' rake the straw-seed from his hair. . . . She recommends a chilly bath each night afore he hits the hay,—and registers a show of wrath, on how he stows his cloze away. . . . I'll say they are an ideal pair, affectionate—an' rightly mated. . . . There wouldn't be no discord there, if she could keep Jim regulated.

IS YOUR HEALTH SLOWLY SLIPPING AWAY?

Hereford People advise You to Act in Time.

Is failing health making you uneasy and unhappy? Are you tired, weak and dissipated? Suffer daily backache and stabbing, rheumatic twinges? Then look to your kidneys! The kidneys are the blood filters. Once they weaken, the whole system is upset. You have dizzy spells, headaches and urinary irregularities. You feel all worn-out. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Thousands recommend Doan's. Here is Hereford's proof:

Mrs. J. W. Davidson, Hereford, says: "My kidneys were weak and acted too freely. Headaches and dizzy spells annoyed me a great deal and often little spots came before my eyes, blurring my sight. I always felt tired and worn out. I began to take Doan's Pills and they cured me of the attack."

"Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simulate—Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Davidson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y."

The Golden Grain

Is waving its crested head on every hand—and the harvest will be great.

There is now every indication that this season is going to be one of the red letter seasons we will recall in the years to come.

We have known some of the lean years that have gone into the discard, and we rejoice in the fact that 1924 gives every indication of a turn in Fortune's wheel.
