GOOD CROWD AT AMARILLO LAST FRIDAY

HEREFORD CLOSING UP AND GOES ALONG TO THE FAIR

Hereford closed up last Friday, September 26, and attended the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo in a body. Not only Hereford, but the surrounding rural communities as well, contributed large numbers of holiday pleasure seekers.

The tourists were supplied with badges and wind shield stickers by Secretary Overton and just before noon the delegation pulled a parade down Folk street, headed by the Hereford Band. Afterwards everybody went to the fair grounds, a great many staying over through the Pageant at night, in spite of the high, cold wind that came up, accompanied by choking dust churned up by the milling crowds.

The Tri-State Fair was noticeably bigger and better than heretofore, and seems to have struck its stride. The exhibits were all splendid and while Deaf Smith county's exhibit was not entered for prize competition it attracted a lot of attention. Another splendid booth in the agricultural building was the Castro county exhibit, handled by Fred Galle.

Three Hereford people won prizes in different divisions of the fair. The Rev. Paul J. Merrill captured first prize in the musical composition section for the second successive year, with his song "Homeward Bound." Mrs. E. C. Eubanks was awarded second prize in the short story contest. Her story was entitled "Transition," and depicts the gradual change of the Panhandle-Plains from a cow to a farming country. There were over forty papers submitted and Mrs. Eubanks' victory was a notable one.

Mrs. B. F. Guthrie also won third prize for a publicity article in keen competition with some of the best writers in the country, including Mrs. Phebe K. Warner.

Will Fire Up New Gin on Saturday; You Are Invited!

The new cotton gin, known as the Johnson & Moore (Gin) will be open for inspection next Saturday afternoon. The machinery will be in operation, being tuned up for active work next week. Messrs. Johnson and Moore have issued a cordial invitation to the public to make a visit and look at the last word in gin machinery.

Thursday the gin men, accompanied by W. D. Trueblood of Childress, and W. R. Upchurch of Pilot Point, cotton buyers, made a trip across into New Mexico, soliciting business. Quite a bit of good cotton is expected from that neighborhood. Messrs. Trueblood and Upchurch will open offices here at once and will buy our cotton this fall.

Manager Tillotson of the Hereford Gin has had a big crew at work for weeks practically remaking the gin. The capacity has been increased to four stands, the saws are practically new, now bolt extractors of the latest make purchased, and considered as a whole, the gin is practically a new one. This will give Hereford nine gin stands of the approved types.

HILLCREST GOLF CLUB TO PLAY AT HEREFORD SUNDAY

The Hillcrest Golf Club of Amarillo will play at Hereford Sunday afternoon, beginning about one o'clock. Dow Mercer, chairman of the Greens Committee, is busy this week screening sand and filling it for use on the greens.

There are only two or three of the local men who are playing good golf right now, but the Hereford men hope to beat the invaders nevertheless. Secretary Homer Fox has prepared the handicaps to be used for the next thirty days, as follows:

A. A. Foster 78, J. J. Clark 79, E. B. Williams 81, W. H. Russell 82, W. R. Steckman 83, B. F. Marrs 83, A. Herbst 84, H. K. Fox 84, L. H. Foster 84, E. D. Fox 85, Dow Mercer 86, Henry Wilkinson 86, J. A. Pitman 86, P. W. Price 87, C. C. Acker 91, Seth B. Holman 91, H. L. Rice 91, Mac Pitman 92, Bank Ramey 93, W. C. Pitman 98, Harry L. Seed 104.

Diners Talk of Exhibits at Nice Luncheon Monday

Monday was report day for fair committees at the weekly luncheon of the business men, held at the Cordova Hotel. Secretary George Overton was absent, being busy erecting the Lubbock booth, but President Overton was on hand and held down both jobs.

A. M. Jones, general chairman of the fair committees, made a detailed report on the Abilene exhibit. He paid high tribute to his co-worker, J. B. Elliston, for hard and faithful work throughout; also complimented several Hereford people now in Abilene for their loyalty and assistance in making the booth a success. He mentioned Harold Spratt particularly for his work in decorating the booth, also Miss Zula Wood and sister, Miss Joanie, Mrs. Alvin Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Potts and family. He said if the committee had gone to Abilene prepared to compete in advance, they could have done much better. As it was the strongest showing was made in fruits and vegetables, capturing 193 points where the first prize-winner only took 195.

Mr. Jones commented upon the fact that the winners at Abilene were practically exhibits handled by County Agents and deplored the lack of such practical and necessary leadership in Deaf Smith county. His remark drew a round of applause from the audience.

J. B. Elliston, Mr. Jones' co-worker at Abilene, reported briefly, covering some points not mentioned by Mr. Jones, and heartily O.K'ing the plea for a County Agent. He said he believed the exhibit had brought a lot of needed publicity to this section.

Dr. Overton and George McCurry, who handled the Amarillo exhibit, reported for the Amarillo trip. The Doctor was not pleased at some of the arrangements made for handling the Hereford delegation and bluntly said so. Mr. McCurry said his booth attracted lots of attention, especially the reproduction of the famous bull Bean Randolph, in native grains. D. L. McDonald expressed dissent from the policy of not sending an exhibit to Dallas, and E. S. Ireland said he had nothing to report about the Lubbock exhibit except he was very busy getting stuff together and would leave next day.

The chair appointed C. C. Rockwell, Gano Hastings and A. Herbst to work up a crowd to go to the Lubbock Fair on Hereford day, Thursday, October 2, after which adjournment was taken. Those present were: H. H. Hawkins, D. F. Ashbrook, L. Baskin, A. Herbst, Seth B. Holman, E. B. Black, J. E. Beyer, A. M. Jones, G. A. F. Parker, Dr. Overton, N. C. Vogele, Rev. Garvin, E. W. Harrison, Rex Tynes, Geo. McCurry, Rev. Merrill, Marvin Prewitt, C. L. Roberts, C. H. Dillehay, C. A. Skelton, Gano Hastings, H. D. Reed, C. C. Rockwell, D. L. McDonald, Frank Gyles, W. R. Steckman, F. H. Oberthier, J. B. Elliston, E. S. Ireland.

REPORT FROM HOSPITAL

Reports from the Hereford Sanitarium Thursday stated that C. W. Sowers underwent a major operation last week. Jack Sanders was operated upon for appendicitis Wednesday afternoon.

Mayor Knight's condition is reported as not being good, and he seems to be getting weaker.

MR. AND MRS. JACK MURPHY INJURED WHEN COUPE UPSETS

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murphy and Ed Frye, all of Tulla, were severely shaken up and bruised last Sunday morning when the coupe they were driving turned over when just outside of Canyon. The three were enroute to the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo.

Mr. Murphy received several cuts about the face and body while Mrs. Murphy was severely bruised about the body and face. Mr. Frye escaped with only a few scratches.

Albert Murphy, Jack's brother, accompanied by his wife, Omer Baker and Mrs. Moses, mother of Mrs. Jack Murphy, and two sisters of the latter who live here all hurried to Canyon and brought the injured people here.

Thursday they are reported to be doing nicely.

MISSOURI PROSPECTORS LIKE THE HEREFORD COUNTRY

Thos. Chavaux and Joe Moody, accompanied by three others, drove in to Hereford overland last Sunday from Belgique, Mo. Mr. Chavaux is a land owner in this county, and his friends came through with him to see the country. They all reported that they liked this country very much, and that they expected to move here soon.

A Stirring Up of Public Sentiment In Favor of a Cleaner City Badly Needed, If Reputation is Retained

Up to now the city of Hereford has been noted for the beauty of her trees, and streets, and flowers, and little parks, and homes. Hereford is known far and wide as "that pretty little town."

It's an enviable reputation and one that the people of this city should cling to tenaciously. It's a financial asset, as well as being a thing to rouse civic pride and satisfaction.

But even a good reputation can be quickly shattered by neglect. During the past year or so, while the Mayor has been ill, the weeds have begun to encroach upon the vacant lots of Hereford and today the view is anything but pretty. The Commissioners issued a Cleanup Day Proclamation and tried to get the city in good shape, but the people generally paid little attention to the suggestion. Also there is a city ordinance covering this matter, but naturally the Commissioners hesitate at enforcing it.

But something ought to be done. If public sentiment is aroused something will be done. We respectfully suggest that this is a job for the Chamber of Commerce, the various ladies clubs of Hereford, and the City Commission, all cooperating to maintain Hereford's reputation for civic beauty.

Quarantine Was Applied Here For Only Brief Time

Local livestock circles were greatly exercised the past week when the entire state was for a short time placed under quarantine, when the dreaded hoof and mouth disease was discovered near Houston, Texas. But the western portion of the state, from the T & P north, was relieved of the quarantine within twenty four hours, and people began to breathe easy again.

The U. S. government has taken hold at Houston, experienced men have been rushed from California, and the infected herds are being slaughtered. It is not believed now that the Panhandle country will be effected at all by the scare.

THIRD ANNUAL CELEBRATION OF NAVY DAY IS OCTOBER 27

More than a million Americans located in all parts of the United States will take part in the third annual celebration of Navy Day which will be observed all over the country Monday, October 27. Parades and celebrations will be held in all of the large seacoast cities. There will be meetings of chapters of the Navy League and other organizations in nearly every city and town throughout the land. Lectures and speeches dealing with the Navy will be given and local services held, commemorative of the deeds of American heroes of all periods of our country's history.

The observance of Navy Day originated in 1922 when it was decided that a day should be set apart for the commemoration of the deeds of American sailors in the World War and in our country's other struggles, and also for bringing before the attention of the public the value of the Navy to the nation in peace and in war. Supported by the Navy League and other patriotic societies, and aided by the cooperation and assistance of the Navy Department and the officers and men of the Navy, the celebration proved successful from the start and has become a recognized event in the calendar year.

A DUFFLINGER KILLED, CAUGHT IN MOWER DRAGGED 100 FEET

A. Dufflinger, aged 74 years, was killed Wednesday afternoon on the W. I. Valentine farm northwest of Hereford when a team of horses he was hitching to a mower became frightened and ran away with him. The unfortunate man was caught in the mower and dragged over 100 feet, sustaining injuries that caused his death in a few hours.

Mr. Dufflinger had no relatives living here and so far as known has only one relative living, a sister in Minneapolis, Kansas. She will meet the body at Kansas City and will accompany it on to West Jefferson, Ohio, where the burial will occur.

Cash Prizes Offered For Essays Fire Prevention

Thirteen years ago the custom of observing Fire Prevention Day throughout this country was established, when October 9th—anniversary of the Chicago conflagration of 1871—was set aside for that purpose. More recently it has been customary to observe the entire week which includes October 9th, to the end that a comprehensive program in keeping with the importance of the occasion may be peed in effect, the purpose of which is to impress the individual citizen with the fact that the tremendous fire waste is everybody's loss and everybody's responsibility, and that great majority of the casualties and fires that occur may easily be avoided.

The week of October 5-11 will be observed by the public schools of Hereford, with essays by the pupils on fire prevention, and by programs on certain days. Judge W. H. Russell is scheduled to speak at the chapel hour on fire prevention Wednesday at the Central and Thursday at the High school.

Ralph Barnett, manager of the Hereford Insurance Agency, is offering cash prizes to the school pupils for the best essays on fire prevention, as follows: High school, $7.50 for first essay, $2.50 second essay; Central school $5.00 first essay, $2.50 second essay.

The understanding is that papers will probably be sent to the Canyon Normal for judging and grading.

Billie Hudnell of Amarillo and Mrs. Connie Clannahan of Dimmitt were united in marriage last Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery. It was a quiet affair, only the immediate family being present. Rev. W. P. Garvin of Hereford, read the ceremony that made them man and wife. The young couple left immediately for Amarillo where they will make their home. Their many friends wish for them much happiness in the future.

The third car accident within a week for this community occurred Thursday afternoon, when a Ford roadster containing three people turned over near the R. J. Kibbe home in north Hereford. Mr. and Mrs. Floy Danley of Lockney, accompanied by their grandfather, J. A. Jones, 83 years of age, were enroute to Santa Fe, N. M., when the accident occurred. Mrs. Danley has a broken collar bone, her husband a badly bruised hip, and Mr. Jones a bone broken in one leg.

R. J. Kibbe brought the injured people to town and to the office of Drs. LeGrand & Hicks, where they received emergency treatment.

A strange coincidence in connection with this affair is the fact that the lady is just out of bed from a recent accident in which she was run over by a plow and badly crippled for weeks.

Abilene Exhibit Was Successful And Worth Effort

The following is a partial list of individual exhibits winning prizes at the Abilene Fair: Threshed millet, first, J. B. Jones; kafir, ten heads, first, Otto Masile; baled alfalfa, first, J. W. Houston; corn, ten ears, first, Arthur Holberg; Irish cobbler, second, Hellman Bros.; onions, first Mrs. D. Crawford; turnips, second, R. Roberts; beets, first, Mrs. W. A. Daugherty; tomatoes, second, Mrs. A. M. Jones; egg plant, first, Vogele & Rice; celery, first, F. D. Perkins; kershaw, second, F. D. Perkins; pumpkin, first, G. W. Brumley; sweet peppers, second, Mrs. W. B. Dameron; pears, plate, second, Mrs. Geo. W. Smith; plums, plate, first, Mrs. Geo. W. Smith; quart honey, second, George Dent; canned pears, second, Mrs. L. W. Carlyle; canned beans, first, Mrs. L. F. Borden; canned beets, first, Mrs. F. A. Gyles; canned cucumber pickles, first, Mrs. Robo McLean.

The Brand is in receipt of the following letter from Miss Zula Wood, Hereford girl, now in Abilene:

"Under separate cover I am sending you the paper with an account of the exhibits in it and for fear you did not get one I want you to read about it. Surely does my heart good to tell people about that being my home country. Have heard nothing but praise for the booth, so you folks must be lenient with Mr. Jones and Mr. Elliston in your criticism, because I am so confident that they are going to "KINDA" stretch the truth when they get back. I surely like the new leaflet you have put out all new pictures and the reading matter sounds good to me.

"I wish more from out there could have come to the fair because it certainly was good. They brought Al Sweet's Band here from Chicago at the price of $3,000.00, and believe me they can make the music. Each night they have fire works and they are beautiful. Then there are several big foot-ball games, auto races two days and everything that goes to make up a fine fair. The best they ever had here."

The Abilene and Fort Worth papers gave Deaf Smith county exhibit at Abilene some nice publicity and complimented the county highly on the quality of its agricultural products.

MISS GLADYS BRYANT PRESIDENT ORTHONIAN SOCIETY

Miss Gladys Bryant of Hereford has been elected by the Orthonian Literary Society of Clarendon College as president for the fall term. Miss Bryant was a member of the winning debating team last year and won other honors for the Society. She is a member of the Senior class, 1925, and takes a leading part in the various College societies. Clarendon College feels proud of her record and expects great things of her when she begins work following graduation.

TOURIST CAR TURNS OVER THREE SUSTAIN INJURIES

A tourist car, a Chevrolet, loaded with eight people and a lot of baggage was traveling at a high rate of speed about three miles this side of Dawn last Thursday afternoon when it ran into some loose dirt and rolled over. W. M. Luther, owner of the car, had a collar bone broken, and Anne Luther, aged twelve, sustained a broken collar bone and two smashed ribs. Mrs. Luther was badly bruised about the body. The others escaped severe injuries.

The party was brought to the Hereford Sanitarium and given treatment, continuing their journey Thursday morning, October 2.

UNCLE JOHN ESTES SAYS TALK IS PANHANDLE PLAINS COUNTRY

Uncle John Estes returned Sunday from a trip to Hillsboro and other Central Texas points where he has interests, more convinced than ever that the Plains' country is coming into its own right away.

"Everybody down there is talking about West Texas and the Panhandle Plains country," said Mr. Estes. "And all who can get away are coming out here, too. There's lots of cotton down there and there will be a general movement up this way. It has effected the sale of land in that country. As I watched the steady stream of cotton pouring into town and the busy scenes of feverish activity caused from the good cotton crop I could shut my eyes and visualize such scenes at Hereford, and that not far off, either."

TOOK FIFTH ON EXHIBITS AT LUBBOCK

WOULD HAVE DONE BETTER WITH AGENT IS BELIEF

Deaf Smith county won fifth prize at Lubbock, according to returning members of the committee in charge, Thursday afternoon. The four counties ahead all sent exhibits picked and prepared by their County Agents! Details of the winnings will be ready for next week's Brand.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2 WAS HEREFORD DAY AT THE LUBBOCK FAIR, AND SEVERAL CARLOADS OF PEOPLE WENT DOWN TO TELL 'EM ABOUT THIS COUNTRY.

The Deaf Smith county booth at Lubbock is in charge of Secretary Overton, E. S. Ireland, D. F. Ashbrook, A. M. Jones, and others, and is declared to be a cracker-jack. The best of the exhibits at Abilene and Amarillo, together with new and fresh stuff from home was used in this booth, and the committee had high hopes of making a good showing in the money.

Lots of Improvements Going In Over the Plains

There's quite a bit of improving going on, even in advance of that harvest of row crop and cotton. Information obtained from the three lumber yards shows the following:

Rockwell Bros. & Co. report that Tiefert Bros. have just completed a one room school house on the B. J. McCaskey ranch, twenty five miles north, and are now building a two-room school house in the Easter community in Castro county, twelve miles south of Hereford. They also have a contract for a six room modern residence, situated, for J. R. Mitchell, Bellview, N. M.

The Panhandle Lumber Co. states that Burkner, Lambert & Hicks have a contract for the erection of a three room house on a quarter section nine miles southeast in Castro county, belonging to S. L. Harman. Mr. Harman held a Jersey cow sale last week while here from his home in West Virginia.

Watson & Farwell are furnishing the lumber and B. Franks has the contract to build J. P. Roberson a six room house on his twenty acre tract in West Hereford. The foundation for this house and basement is just now about completed.

WHITEFACES PLAY FARWELL ON FRIDAY—FIRST GAME AT HOME

The first home football game of the season is scheduled for Friday afternoon of this week, beginning at 3:45 o'clock, on the high school gridiron. Farwell High will furnish the opposition, and a battle royal is looked for.

Hereford has played two games so far, the first a practice game with Amarillo, and the second a tie 6 to 6 struggle with Tulla High at Tulla last week. The Interscholastic League this year has two classes, Class A for big schools like Amarillo, and Class B for schools the size of Hereford, Tulla and Farwell. So the Amarillo defeat did not count against the locals. Their state is still clean, and they have an excellent chance to win the championship of this district in their class. They need the united support of the local people Friday and it is hoped, a good crowd will turn out and root for them.

The Tulla game was hard fought, Hereford pushing over a touch down in the first quarter and Tulla making theirs in the second. The teams were well matched, although Hereford was crippled without the big tackle, George Connell, who is injured. This tie will be played off at Hereford November 7. The Hereford lineup last week was: left end, Wood; left tackle, Wade; left guard, Higgins; center, Patterson; right guard, Sharp; right tackle, Witherspoon; right end, A. Russell; quarterback, J. Russell; left half, Hines (C); right half, Thurmond; full back, Barrett. No substitutions.

THE TRI-STATE FAIR

Congratulations are due Amarillo, as well as all the Panhandle, for the 1924 Tri-State Fair. There is no doubt now that the exposition has been put upon a solid foundation and should develop rapidly from this time onward. Amarillo has struggled with the problem of financing and managing a fair commensurate with the Panhandle's importance for many years, and now looks to have won the battle.

The Fair belongs to all the Panhandle Plains country, as well as to Amarillo. The leadership is merely placed with Amarillo because of her geographical and railroad position. There have been a few kicks on the handling of the fair this year, of course. Anything worth while is always criticised. But to our way of thinking the people of Amarillo handled the work exceedingly well and acquitted themselves very creditably in their work of city, and country, building.

REFLEXES IN HASH FORMATION

In New York State we hear of the policeman who having captured a burglar he found to be his son now intends to testify against the boy and if possible send him to prison. In Minnesota we read of the Rev. T. M. C. Birmingham denounced his son, who is a candidate for the United States Senate on a wine and beer platform, and asking the voters to "give him a good square knock out blow." In Connecticut we read of a restaurant chef beating his bride of two weeks because she grew weary of his cooking and dared eat in a rival restaurant, and yet we complain that the American people are losing their moral fibre.

Peculiarly in each of these cases there is heard no word of complaint at the attitude assumed by "the opposition." The boy burglar says he would not respect his father if he wished on his job and showed himself yellow. The candidate for United States Senator says the position taken by his father, "is a consistent one for him to take," and finally, the Connecticut bride expresses the opinion that it was right in her lord and master to fight for his business but asks how she could eat his hash when she no longer loves its maker. She would have regarded the assault justifiable had she spent her husband's money in this rival restaurant and thus used the capital of her souse to undermine his business. She bought that hash, however, with her pin money, that thirty cents remnant of the dowry which she clung to as an anchor in case of storm. These cases present a new and perhaps a more useful opportunity for the exercise of the reasoning faculties of our great specialists in reflexes, complexes and other strange understandable phenomena.

FRIO - EASTER ITEMS

On account of the Singing Convention at Dimmitt Sunday the attendance was small at Sunday school. We had a good attendance at League in the evening.

The young people's Sunday school class spent a pleasant evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harlan last Friday. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the Harlan home were Misses S. T. and Nannie Fields, Eva, Zelma and Maurine Sullenger, Grace Woolery and Grace Ragsdale; Messrs. Bob and Linn Ake, Jesse Laughlin, Vicks Woolery, Kox, Mitchell and Longbine.

This community was well represented at the Tri-State Fair. Among those who visited Amarillo sometime during Fair week were Percy Estes, Bob Knox, Mrs. W. B. Green, Joe Green, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Green, Mr. and Mrs. K. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Easter, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Frye, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Sanders,

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hunter, Misses Nettie Lee Green, Ina Sullivan and Lily Mae Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Knox were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Easter Sunday.

Mrs. W. J. Sullivan visited with Mrs. Steve Sanders one afternoon last week. E. T. Woodburn of Hereford visited one day last week in the Carl Frye home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Owens and family of West-Way visited in the Joe Stagner home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harlan and family visited Sunday in the Woolery home.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Estes and family visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Estes of Hereford last Sunday.

Saturday night will be regular meeting of "Literary." Everybody come.

CONCERNING SALLIE

Sallie is a modern, pretty young creature, with all the emotions and desires you yourself had when you were at that glorious age that lies somewhere between sixteen and twenty-five. Sallie is everywhere. The eyes of the world are upon the ultimate outcome of her moral code. Is she going to weaken her creed of right and wrong and stretch her philosophy to that of the girls who have a "good" time?

Your little girl is just where Sallie is. She must decide for herself. They are all Sallies at heart. Sallie's experience, put down truthfully from the pages of her life, may help your Sallie's. Each chapter is complete in itself. Read it this week. You will enjoy it.—Editor.

ANNIE CODDINGTON GOES TO CHURCH

"This is my idea about it," I heard Curtiss Wright say the next morning, as his voice drifted in to me from the sun porch where he and Dad were deeply engrossed in conversation.

The Florida East Coast will have one of the most attractive and modern settlements for their workmen of any town in the South, if our plans carry," he supplemented, "it is my desire to design simple and substantial houses for the men and their families, but, at the same time, each one of those houses will have its distinct and separate individuality. These people will have pride in their homes if they are not built exactly like hundreds of others in the same village. Their sense of the beautiful should be encouraged. Its effect is far-reaching. Parks, too," he went on, his voice rich with the interest he felt in his subject, "will be kept by a committee of women in a turn-about system so that they will feel the flowers are their own. Put your shops in a village of this sort," he summed up his argument, "and your men will be more efficient. Furthermore, everyone coming to Florida will view it with interest."

"I think your plans are splendid, Mr. Wright," my father was talking, "and as president I have the privilege of giving the most acceptance with our heartiest congratulations. I shall want you to take entire charge of this end of the work, however, and because we shall probably have frequent consultations, it will be most pleasant to have you as our guest while your sketches draw the making."

I waited expectantly. Suppose he had changed his mind and decided not to stay after all.

Then came the answer. "I shall be more than delighted," Mr. Wright responded.

Curtiss Wright in the house. Our guest. I contemplated the future with a glow of enthusiasm. Propinquity . . . bright conversation . . . golfing . . . dancing and the whole town buzzing. The woman hater. My bet with Majorie. Oh, it was thrilling!

"Good morning to the glad new day," came a cheerful voice and Anne Coddington stood in the doorway. At the same time Father and Mr. Wright entered.

"Miss Coddington?" Mr. Wright inquired during the introduction which followed, "have we not met before? The name and face are hauntingly familiar."

"No, I am sure you are mistaken," Anne answered hurriedly, and with what I thought unnecessary decision, "I have an uncanny trick of remembering names and yours is not registered. I'm sorry," she concluded, her voice more excited than usual, then changed the subject.

"Et vous, Miss Sallie. We missed you at breakfast," Mr. Wright said, coming over to the chaise-lounge where I was reclining.

"Couldn't make it," I replied.

"I'm just dragging one foot after the other this morning," I announced when father had gone with his golf sticks and some friends to his beloved Timpanua.

"A hectic party, Anne, darling," I explained. "We all got, razzle-dazzled, except Mr. Wright who was my 'date' (I couldn't resist saying), "but this morning I'm so nervous I feel like I've got the heebie-jeebies. I can see you've had your beauty sleep, you look like a May Morning."

"Thanks, I went to Alma Davis's dance and it really was lovely. Paul Whitman's orchestra from New York and exquisite favors. I was home by midnight though, and turned in early, so I could have a swim at Elen Gray's this morning. I feel like a million dollars."

And indeed she looked it. Her dainty frock was of soft flit lace and with the right tint of tea roses about it, and a pinkish-orchid hat that shaded her face, making it look like a flower. Her little white kid slippers were spotless. One could feel that she was going to church. There was a clean air of Sabbath-morning freshness about her. Curtiss Wright was quiet. I wondered what he was thinking. Finally he crossed the room to where she was sitting, took up her prayer-book and hymnal, and ran through it.

He looked at us both and I wondered if he were making comparisons. I felt rotten. My head had a dull, ceaseless pain. I had put on the first frock I had come upon and it needed pressing; there was a run in my stocking. I thought of how unattractive I must now look, compared to Anne's perfect grooming.

"Oh, what a difference in the morning," I yawned, and began humming. I decided I'd feel better when Anne left us. I would have a quiet chat with Curtiss Wright and find out what he knew about Ted's disgraceful behavior.

Yes, it would be comforting to have him sit beside me, and talk in his nice voice which was low and soothing; I closed my heavy lidded eyes. I wished vehemently now that Anne would hurry.

"Episcopalian, I knew it," he was saying. "You have an Episcopalian face. The boys in the army used to bet that I could guess any man's religion. It gets to be easy when one studies people. Anyway, your service is very impressive. It has depth and strength behind it that tones one up for the rest of the week."

"I was just wondering if you would like to go to St. John's with me this morning," Anne invited. "I have my car outside and I'll be so glad to have you." Anne glanced at her watch. "If you were dressed, Sallie, you could go too, but we only have ten minutes."

"I shall be delighted, Miss Coddington," Curtiss Wright accepted, "and thanks very much for the invitation. Would you go if you were dressed?" he asked coming over and looking down at me.

"Not on your life, I'm better off with my own thoughts. But don't you bother about me. I'll be busy getting my own houseparty tomorrow."

George Dent, Hereford's champion fisherman, invaded Amarillo last Friday and added the scalp of the Amarillo champion to his string of victories.

It seems that Joe Dent, son of the champion, had had his troubles trying to beat the Amarillo champ catching fish, and finally imported his father to turn the trick. Mr. Dent took Hereford frogs with him and caught a half dozen bass, the largest weighing five pounds. The Amarillo man surrendered the belt when he saw this big fellow. Mr. Dent is having a lot of fun telling about the contest.

The Money Is There

But, you, Mr. Merchant, must go after it if you are to get your share. The people of this community must live, and to live they have to buy what you have to sell. If you were the only man in the world selling your line you might get by without advertising it, but you are not. This being true, it is equally true that people will go to the merchant who tells them about his merchandise, his prices and service, rather than to the merchant who has so little pride in his business that he seems afraid to advertise what he has for sale.

We can help you to advertise your merchandise in an effective, business-bringing manner. Let us show you how.

THE PASSING DAY

By Will H. Mayes, Department of Journalism, University of Texas

Although he has lately abolished several bureaus and consolidated others in the interest of economy, Dr. Malone Duggan, State Health Officer, has created the position of Secretary of Public Health Education with a view of giving the people more direct information on matters pertaining to public health. This is a progressive step of the Health Department that must redound to the good of the public, for although physicians have of late been impressed with the value of health conservation, the people as a whole are woefully ignorant in matters pertaining to the preservation of health. This is because they have not been accustomed to thinking of health other than as a personal matter, when it is really in most cases a community or even a state or national problem. The secretary placed in charge of this work is Mrs. C. R. Fields, who has done much efficient service as an educator and as a journalist, and has besides had training through service in the Health Department.

The average citizen seldom thinks of the public health as an asset or liability to his community. The cost of an epidemic is not measured by the expense to those who are the direct sufferers, or by the suffering, by the loss of time, but by the additional loss of community productivity. No community can prosper as a whole where its health average is below normal, for it can not produce to meet the requirements of a normal population. No person wants to locate in or move to a place where health conditions are bad, even though he could be assured of perfect health for himself and his family, because every one knows that such a place can not make a desirable home. Considered purely as an economic question it pays people to guard the health of the entire population as far as it can be done. If the Texas Health Department can impress this truth upon the entire State, and then can even in a small measure teach the people how best to conserve their health it will have justified the entire expense of its maintenance.

The best way that people otherwise unacquainted with a place can judge it is by its newspapers, and the part of the newspapers on which judgment is based is invariably the advertising columns. Some eighty Texas newspapers reach my office regularly and I can at once tell whether a town is progressing or going backward by a glance at those papers. One can almost tell how the yards look, whether the homes are kept painted, if mud holes are in the streets, if hogs and other stock run loose, if business is good, if the merchants are mossbacks, if the town is always half asleep, just by the spirit shown by the merchants in their advertising. No town is better than its business men make it, and the business men are never better and seldom worse than their advertising shows them to be.

It does not take a big town to make a good place in which to live, but it does take a live town to make an attractive home. Some men and women can grow accustomed to anything and can live anywhere, but the young people are not going to stay a great while in a place that is constantly going down, after they learn that there are better places in which to live. Youth seeks progress for its environment. Agency become content with disintegration. If the older people expect to retain the young about them, they must provide them with pleasing surroundings. There must be good streets and roads, well equipped schools, attractive homes, modern conveniences, bathing and picnicking resorts, well stocked stores, up-to-date entertainments. In short a place must be growing and developing along with the rest of the world or youth will seek more congenial surroundings.

A good way to determine whether yours is such a place is by comparison. How does your community, if you live in the country, compare in every respect with other country communities around you? If it is worse in any way than others you know it is not all that it should be. How does your town compare with the town to the South, to the North, to the East and to the West of your town? Are any of them going forward while yours is hesitating?

ing? Have the citizens of your place, with all the natural advantages of the others, gone ahead of the others in every way that makes toward progress, or have they gone to sleep? If your town isn't just as good, just as progressive, just as growing as the others, it is time for an awakening and for serious study, for it is in danger of what for lack of a better name often is called "the dry rot."

Etiquette

Dear Miss Flo: Is it necessary for a lady to remove her glove before shaking hands? (2) When a gentleman shakes hands with a gloved hand, should he say, "Pardon my glove." Thank you. L. P.

It is not necessary for a lady to remove her glove. A gentleman should always remove his glove before shaking hands, and a "Pardon my glove" does not excuse his rudeness.

Dear Miss Flo: Recently a relative of mine died and friends sent flowers. Would it be proper to publish a card of thanks in the newspaper or should a personal note of thanks be sent to each friend? (2) If the latter is correct, will you kindly give me a form which I could use. A. K.

Either is correct. If you wish to write each person who sent flowers an individual note expressing appreciation, the following short note would be sufficient.

"Dear Mary: Your kind expression of friendship and sympathy was very much appreciated, and touched me deeply."
 Sincerely yours,

Castro County Booth No. 7 at Amarillo Tri-State Fair

The Castro county booth at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair was one of the most attractive and most artistically decorated booths there, thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Galle, who took so much interest and worked so hard to make the booth a success.

The exhibits were worth seeing, although they were hurriedly gathered. Next year we must put our best foot foremost and prepare for the fair in time. Large Crowd at Singing Convention
One of the largest crowds in its history gathered Sunday in Dimmitt at the Singing Convention, the last to be held this year.

ALL OUT OF SORTS?
So Was This Hereford Woman Who Tells Her Experience

All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for that backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Thousands have found new health and strength by helping the weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. This Hereford case is one of many:

Mrs. F. A. Millard, Hereford, says: "My kidneys were in a weakened condition and acted too freely. I had a dull ache across the small of my back. Headaches and dizzy spells also bothered me a great deal. I took Doan's Pills for the trouble and they brought me relief. I continued with Doan's and they cured me."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Millard had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N.Y.

Members of the convention from each community came with a well arranged program, and every one enjoyed the splendid songs that were sung throughout the day.

The ladies of Castro county responded as usual, with big baskets overflowing with good eats of all kinds, and everyone left late Sunday afternoon, with the satisfaction of knowing that the Dimmitt Singing Convention had been a success.

"GIRL SHY", NEW LLOYD PICTURE, FRIDAY - SATURDAY
Bashfulness that bubbles over with laughter will arrive in town when Harold Lloyd's latest feature Pathe comedy "Girl Shy," opens at the Star Theatre. Lloyd has hitherto given to the screen Friday and Saturday, October 3 and 4, many humorous novelties in his varied characterizations, but in "Girl Shy" he promises to outdo his previous laugh efforts with his portrayal of a very bashful small town boy, who made a secret study of girls, and the more he studied them, the more he feared them. It is a really novel role, and should be full of fun, because Lloyd has by this time achieved a reputation for never disappointing his many followers.
