COUNTY HOSPITAL PROVES A SPLENDID INVESTMENT FOR PEOPLE OF ADJACENT REGION

The annual report of the Deaf Smith County Hospital for the year 1929, recently submitted to the board of directors shows in an unmistakable way the benefit the institution is to Deaf Smith county.

According to Mrs. Edna Bruner, superintendent, under whose efficient supervision the hospital is now being operated, a total of 235 patients were cared for in 1929.

The hospital is not a profitable institution for Deaf Smith county in dollars and cents from the standpoint of cost of operation. During the past year the hospital's books show a deficiency of over $4,000, of which amount there is a possibility of collecting a little over $1000.

After five years operation, the Deaf Smith County Hospital has proven that it is a good investment for the county, not from a standpoint of revenue, but the fact that adequate facilities are available at home to care for any emergency that may arise.

One Game Each Won by Hereford and Panhandle

The Whitefaces of Hereford HI dropped Friday night's basket ball game to the visiting basketballers from Panhandle by the close score of 15-14, then came back Saturday night to get the jump on their out-of-town friends and take the long end of the second game with them, 24-21.

With the exception that Russell and Gregory changed positions, the Whitefaces played the same line-up both games, standing with J. Sherman and Gregory as forwards, Russell at center, and Gilliland and L. Sherman, guards.

Panhandle played Vughan and Simmons as forwards, Gotcher at center, and Owen and Weaver as guards on Friday night, with Holcomb and Fullingim taking Vughan's and Weaver's places Saturday night in their line-up.

Kerr Implement Company Sells Interests at Dimmitt

The Kerr Implement Company, with places of business both in Hereford and Dimmitt, last week sold their store in Dimmitt to the Dimmitt Implement Company of that place.

W. F. DUNGAN IS MILK INSPECTOR; TOOK OVER WORK FIRST OF WEEK

W. F. Dungan, of McKinney, Texas, arrived here Monday to take up the work of City Milk Inspector and local cow tester for Deaf Smith and Randall County Cow Testing Association.

Shallow Test to Be Made West of Town Soon

Without saying much of anything to anybody about it, A. L. Thomas and others of Hereford have blocked up several sections of leases west of Hereford and have a test of well spudded in ready or drilling.

The location is about 24 miles west of town and a half mile north of the Harrison Highway. The driller has a contract for a shallow well, using eight-inch pipe, to be completed within 60 days.

Mr. Thomas in commenting on the location, said he expected to obtain production within the contract depth, as the structure was very favorable according to a considerable number of geologists' reports.

Trained Nurse to See After the School Children

Plans have been completed by the executive committee of the Red Cross for employing a health nurse for Deaf Smith county schools, according to C. W. Humble, chairman of the local chapter.

Mr. Humble has communicated with Red Cross headquarters at St. Louis and the State Health Department at Austin asking for assistance in securing the services of a capable nurse for the work and it is hoped that one will be employed and on the job before long.

A Snow Each Day Is Record, Shown In This Vicinity

Hereford and Deaf Smith county have been having weather with a vengeance during the past week. The thermometer has been down around the zero mark and likes to stay there even to the day time.

Last week's snow stayed on the ground until the first of this week and Tuesday and Wednesday more snow has fallen to replace it. While the present condition is disagreeable, no one complains much as the moisture conditions have such to do with the prosperity of the Plains, and no one can complain at all of that this winter.

CITY DRUG STORE GETS EXTENSIVE REPAIR JOB

The City Drug Store in this week undergoing repairs that will effect an improvement in the good service the business has been able to give. A concrete foundation has been laid for the cold drink fountain and the prescription room at the rear of the store has been rebuilt to permit a complete rearrangement of the drugs and medicines for the pharmacist's convenience.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB

The Music Study Club will meet next Monday, the 20th, with Mrs. Gilbreath. The meeting is to be a business session with choral practice. Miss Swisher, conductor of the chorus, urges every member to be present in order to finish work on the cantata, "Gladia."

CARE OF BODY TO BE TAUGHT REST OF TERM

Physical education will be offered for all grade children in the Hereford schools during the remainder of the school year. This is in keeping with the state law requiring that such work be taught beginning with September, 1930.

Regular class room teachers will conduct the classes this year, although it may be found to be desirable to modify the organization to provide for specially trained teachers in this field for next year.

Each child will have approximately 30 minutes per day for physical training and health exercise. In the departmental grades there will be one period each day, while in the lower grades the time will be divided up into shorter periods of games, relaxation, drills, health instruction, etc.

These People Have Read The Brand for Years

The little notice that appeared in the Brand last week concerning early subscribers of the paper brought a deluge of protests from older subscribers than mentioned last week. Here are a few of them:

L. P. Landrum said: "I came to Hereford in February, 1904, and immediately began taking the Brand and have been a subscriber ever since."

L. F. Fuqua said he arrived in Hereford in 1908 and one of the first things he did was to subscribe for the Brand.

Mrs. Beulah Robinson, of Sumnerfield said she had been taking the Brand or 28 years.

Now along comes R. P. (Bob) Brazil, who said he helped print the first Brand and that it was printed in the A. H. Billston building adjoining the east to the First National Bank building.

The Brand reporter has not approached Troy Womble yet, but it will be a safe bet that he was one of the first subscribers of the Brand as well as one of the first inhabitants of this city. The Brand claims to be thirty years old this week, but there was a paper published prior to that time and a copy of it is now in possession of D. R. Gass.

Work On Gas Line to Clovis New Mexico, Under Way

Civil engineers and surveyors of the West Texas Gas Company are working out of Hereford this week preparatory to the laying of the gas pipe line extension through Priona, Bovina and Farwell as far as the state line to convey gas for the city of Clovis, New Mexico. E. N. Curry, chief draftsman of the Amarillo office of the West Texas Gas Company is in charge of the crew of workmen.

4-H CLUBS BEING LINED UP FOR YEAR'S WORK; BIG INTEREST MANIFEST

County Agent Dunkle is busy this week organizing the boys and girls of the rural communities into their respective 4-H clubs. Mr. Dunkle says the interest among the boys and girls is growing and he expects to enlarge the scope of work done so well last year.

This year the term projects will not be used, but the club members will have demonstrations and will be expected to carry two subjects. J. A. Miller, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, and R. B. Calloway, poultry extension man of the Panhandle Lumber Company, assisted Mr. Dunkle this week.

Taxes Coming Slowly; Rush Due Shortly

Sheriff John B. Miller, who is also county tax collector, says there is going to be a long line of impatient people waiting to get their automobile and truck licenses on the last day of January if the rate license plates are being taken out now does not increase quite a bit before that time.

Tax collections are coming in at a good rate, the city, county and independent school district collectors say, but the big rush days are not yet. There are always those who will wait until the last minute, and all warnings to be early go unheeded, yet each one will blame the "other fellow" for being the occasion of making him wait in line on the last day of the month.

Better Keep the Pup In His Own Back Yark, Kid

C. R. Boyd, city marshal of Hereford, is this week issuing warnings to dog owners over town to look after the whereabouts of their dogs if they expect to keep them among the living.

It seems there have been cases of rabies discovered in other towns and unless strict measures are taken by Hereford city authorities there will be similar cases here. There is apparently far too many stray dogs over the city, anyway, that seem to have no definite place of abode and it is only a measure of public health and safety that they be got rid of occasionally.

We have clean-up days and weeks for everything else, so why not for canine nuisances? City Marshal Boyd says he has one clear cut rule as to whether a dog is a nuisance or not. When dog clean-up time comes if the animal is running loose about town kill it. The warning printed elsewhere in the Brand this week is notice for all who want to keep their dogs to see that they are confined securely at home.

HEREFORD STUDENTS ON TEXAS TECH HONOR ROLL

Two Hereford students in Tech, at Lubbock, made the honor roll for the spring term of Texas Technological College with an average grade of B on 18 term hours of work for W. C. Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Morgan, and a grade of B on 16 hours of work for Miss Ruth Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wolfe. The above report came to this office from the Tech registrar's office.

ROBERT WAYNE REYNOLDS SEEMS TO BE FIRST '30 BABY

As far as it has been able to be determined, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Rankin C. Reynolds, Robert Wayne, will receive the baptism given by W. D. Keller to the first white baby born in Deaf Smith county in 1930.

Robert was born early Thursday morning, January 2, and unless other claimants put in an appearance pretty soon, is going to be the proud owner of the beautiful bassinet, which is an exhibition in the window of R. B. Black Co.

NEW MEXICO TEAM TO PLAY WHITEFACE AGGREGATION ON LOCAL COURT FRIDAY NIGHT

Growth of City Shown By Records of Utility Co.

Things keep showing up every once in a while to indicate in an unexpected way how much the city of Hereford and the county around it is growing. A friendly visit and conversation with Fred Oberthier, Jr., manager of the Hereford office of the Texas Utilities Company, let know that during 1929 there have been made 127 connections to serve new patrons electric current in Hereford. There were 116 in Dimmitt and 50 in Priona.

Panhandle-Plains, Inc. In Session at Amarillo Today

A district meeting of the directors and managers of the Panhandle-Plains, Inc. is being held in Amarillo today. J. A. Miller, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, J. C. Black, past president of the organization and now a member of the executive board, and J. E. Hill, who spent considerable time last fall with one of the truck loads of Panhandle exhibits at Central Mississippi Valley points, are attending today's meeting.

The delegates will assemble at the Amarillo Hotel at 11:00 o'clock where they will be guests of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce at luncheon, and the afternoon will be spent in the transaction of business of the Association.

Rebekahs Install Officers At Friday Night Meeting

The Hereford Rebekah Lodge met last week to install officers for the year. A regular business session preceded the installation of the officers as follows: Miss Ursulae Fridley, Noble Grand; Mrs. Leah Stewart, vice grand; Mrs. Henry Williamson, Past Grand; Mrs. I. I. West, Chaplain; Mrs. O. L. Rutherford, Warden; Mrs. M. D. Fincher, Conductor; Mrs. Hugh Witherspoon, R. S. to N. G.; Mrs. E. E. Fridley, L. S. to N. G.; Miss Mary Bradley, R. S. to V. G.; Mrs. C. J. Paddock, L. S. to V. G.; Miss Edah Parks, Inside Guardian; Mrs. Herman Stewart, Outside Guardian; Miss Mary Bradley, Musician.

This Man Has Old Furniture Which May Be Valuable

E. H. Blood is the proud possessor of two pieces of what might be called antique furniture. The one is an old bedstead constructed of curly maple with the metal legs on the sides and ends in order that ropes may be stretched across it at different heights to act as springs. This piece, Mr. Blood says, has been in the family 120 years. He has been having the bedstead remodeled and will put it back into service. The other is a black walnut chest made of slabs of timber one inch thick and was made by Mr. Blood's grand father who then lived in Trivola, Illinois. Both pieces of furniture are in almost a perfect state of preservation, Mr. Blood says, and it would take a small sized fortune to make him part with them.

GLENN SNYDER'S MOTHER DIES IN LAWRENCEVILLE

Glenn Snyder, who was called to Lawrenceville, Ill. recently by the critical illness of his mother, Mrs. J. F. Snyder, and returned to Hereford Thursday, of last week, received a message Monday announcing her death at her home the day before. Mrs. Snyder will be remembered here as she and her husband have visited in Hereford several times.

MILFORD S. VANCE DIES

Milford S. Vance, 79, passed away last Sunday and the remains were laid to rest in the local cemetery the following day. Mr. Vance made his home here with his son, Frank Vance, for a number of years. Mr. Vance leaves five other children who reside in West Virginia. Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church, Rev. J. W. Boultinghouse officiating.

The basketball squad of the Portales, New Mexico, high school puts in its appearance in Hereford tomorrow (Friday) night to play the Whitefaces of Hereford High school two games in the high school gymnasium. The games begin at 7:00 o'clock.

Saturday night of this week the Whiteface boys' team will go to Canyon to play the Calves, the first year team of the college, in the college gym. As the Eagles of the N. T. S. T. O. Denton, will play the Canyon Buffaloes that night also, it is probable that quite a few Hereford fans who like to watch the Whitefaces in action will go along to Canyon Saturday night to also see the Eagle-Buffalo game.

The Whitefaces won and lost with Panhandle High last weekend, but both the Friday and Saturday night games were so close in scores that they were thrillers from start to finish and it was no disgrace for either team to lose.

Hereford Sale, January 31, Due to Attract Big Crowd

There is an indication that Hereford's hotel capacity will be over-taxed on the last days of January, during the time of the Annual Registered Hereford Sale scheduled for January 30.

Secretary J. A. Miller of the Chamber of Commerce, suggests that all residents of the city who have extra rooms to spare during these days and are willing to supply accommodations for the out-of-town attendees of the sale, let him know in plenty of time so that he may have the situation well in hand when the time comes. Call him at the Chamber of Commerce.

City Basketball Squad to Play Amarillo Presbyterians

The usual strong Hereford city team of professional basketball is again organized and will face the 1930 season with the prospect of several good games for the local fans.

The first encounter shows that the boys have plenty of courage for they are taking on the fast stepping Presbyterian team from Amarillo here in the high school gymnasium tonight at 8:00 o'clock. Hereford's probable line-up will be Bernard Seed at center, J. A. Tapp and T. E. McCollin as forwards, and Onias Carroll and Pearl Singletary as guards.

An interesting act of brotherly kindness will furnish extra sport for the fans tonight, as Pearl Singletary's brother, Ray, plays with the Amarillo Presbyterians.

Bank Deposits Show Region In Fine Condition

Bank deposits in Hereford as shown in the publications of the financial statements of the city's three banks this week, reveal the fact that Hereford and Deaf Smith county withstood the onslaught of Santa Claus and Christmas presents very well, indeed. There was just a little bit less than one and one-fourth million dollars on deposit in Hereford's banks on the last day of the year.

This compares well with the bank reports given on October 3, when the three banks here showed deposits of one and one-half millions and indicates that Hereford and Deaf Smith county are facing the year 1930 in good condition.

CLASSY WINDOWS

There is more than art in dressing a merchandise display window attractively. Many times wit in the choice of descriptive words and a little foresight in the opportune time to present an idea makes the window conspicuous. Hereford citizens are missing a treat this week if they fail to go past the window of Strou Hereford and pause long enough to see the artistry of Homer Henslee who is said to be responsible for the creation. Take time to read the inscriptions—they are appropriate and quite catchy.

LONG DISTANCE PHONE RATES SHOW DECREASE

The nation wide decrease in long distance rates which went into effect New Year's day, means an annual saving of $333,500 to telephone users in Texas, it was estimated by G. N. Halley, district manager Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Saving to telephone subscribers in the entire country will reach five million dollars, he said. The reduction, the fourth voluntary rate cut, will center on day station to station calls, that is calls to a distant number rather than a specific person and applies to points 60 to 300 miles distant, and will amount to 10 cents in most instances, 5 cents in the few remaining cases.
Person to person calls, for a particular person, and evening and night station to station calls will not be changed except in a few cases. Report calls on person to person calls will be dropped 5 to 40 cents on calls 140 to 2200 miles.

Report charges are made when the telephone but not the person wanted is reached.

THE PROPER WAY TO COOK WITH GAS

There is a right and a wrong way to use a natural gas cook stove. The wrong way is expensive—it wastes natural gas. The right way applies the heat directly and eliminates much of the waste.

The metal stove lid keeps the utensil too far away from the flame. Bring the vessel into contact with the flame. The tips of the flame should just touch the pan for the most efficient utilization of the heat.

Be sure there is sufficient draft to carry off burnt gas fumes. However, an excessive draft should be avoided as it will carry the flame away from the utensil.

You are paying for the gas you burn—why not follow proper methods of heat application and get full value for your money?

THAT'S WHERE THE PIE GOES

Testing Increases Dairy Profits

San Antonio.—An increase of 28 pounds of butterfat, and return above feed cost per cow of $16.74 in 1929 over 1928, are shown in the dairy herds enrolled in the Bexar county Herd Improvement Association, according to the second annual report recently submitted by R. E. Lawrence, cow tester. These increased profits are said to be due to the records kept of the weight and test of each cow's milk, which enabled owners to cull out 56 boarder cows for sale to the butcher, to balance rations intelligently and to feed each cow according to her production.

There are more than 500 cows in this Association, organized and operated in cooperation with the Extension Service, and of these 183 cows made more than 300 pounds of butterfat during the year as compared to only 76 a year ago. There was an average increase per cow of about 100 gallons of milk per year over the 1928 records and while the feed cost was $4.26 per cow more, the net returns showed an increase of $16.74 per cow.

The high cow in the association produced 9129 pounds of milk and 529½ pounds of butterfat—a production made on regular twice-a-day milking and ordinary care. It cost $39.59 more to feed each cow in the highest producing herd than it did in the lowest producing herd, but the profit in the former exceeded that in the low herd by $131.56 per cow for the year.

It is also pointed out that the low herd in 1929 is the same herd that was low in the Association for 1928, and that as a result of the cow testing work their owner has sold his entire herd. It has put this farmer temporarily out of the dairy business, but his only

Rations Recommended by Poultry Experts Gets Eggs

The formula used in the third annual Southwest National Egg Laying Contest conducted at San Antonio is as follows: 100 pounds wheat bran, 100 pounds gray mash, 100 pounds yellow corn meal, 100 pounds meat scrap, 60 pounds ground oats, cracked or ground, 35 pounds mineral mixture, 25 pounds leaf alfalfa meal. Grain ration: 200 pounds cracked yellow corn, 200 pounds milling wheat, 100 pounds milo maize. In this part of Texas kafir and milo maize are used for substitutes for yellow corn. The mineral mixture used consists of 10 pounds of fine ground oyster shell, 3 pounds sulphur, 5 pounds bone meal, 7 pounds calcium carbonate (calcite flour), 5 pounds salt and 5 pounds fine charcoal.

The above feeds were fed in November, with an additional portion of semi-solid butter milk, cod liver oil and sprouted oats. The report says that sprouted oats, with semi-solid buttermilk is fed the first thing in the morning, slightly less than 1 3/4 pounds to each 100 hens. The buttermilk is fed in a wet mash to which 1-8 pound cod liver oil is added to make the mash moist, of a crumbly consistency, to 100 hens. Grain is fed in the evening at about 4:30, eight pounds to 100 leghorns and ten to the heavy breeds. Dry mash is always kept before them. Charcoal, oyster shell and grit (calcide crystals) are also kept before them in open hoppers. The birds are removed from the trapnest every hour.

Hillside Hatchery Modernizes Old Plant Here

With the installation of a humidifier which controls the flow of the proper amount of moisture at all times during the hatch and the boiler now being connected with natural gas, the Hillside Hatchery and Poultry farm will no doubt have one of the best equipped Smith incubators in this part of Texas. Mr. Coneway, proprietor of the hatchery, has just finished with the aid of S. H. Mullens and C. A. Jennings, Smith incubator experts, this moisture control device patented by Dr. Smith, manufacturer of the mammoth Smith incubators. Heretofore the hatchery has been using coal as a fuel for the hot water coils for the incubator but since gas has been made available at the hatchery the only logical thing to do was to make use of this almost perfect fuel. The humidifier acts also as a disinfectant by simply adding permanganate of potassium to the water vessel under the humidifier when it is drawn into the egg chamber of the incubator, fumigating the interior of the machine. Mr. Coneway and his resident foreman, Charlie Sowell, were busy testing out the incubator last Saturday and find with gas as a fuel automatically controlled, kept an even temperature with but little attention of the operator.

The Hillside Hatchery has also installed a Smith 7500 capacity hot air battery brooder. The new brooder is located in the incubator room and was built under the supervision of Smith specifications. It has been proven that this new system of brooding always has uniform temperature, a constant supply of fresh air and proper ventilation, correct humidity of moisture and a partly lighted brooding room. Steam is used for heating as it is the simplest method of supplying the combination of controlled temperature and moisture. In brooding chicks, Mr. Coneway says, it is necessary that the proper amount of moisture is important as it is helpful in reducing death losses, feather development and with air saturated with moisture the brooder can be operated at a lower temperature and the chicks will be more contented and grow faster and more uniformly.

The exterior of the incubator-brooder building has been stuccoed and repainted. The interior is due to get a fresh coat of two of paint. A new feed and mixing room has been added to the two 20x100 laying houses. The room also contains a granary with a capacity large enough for several hundred bushels of grain. Concrete floors have been put down in the laying houses, new roosts mounted in oil cups filled with oil and supported by chains, making the roosts mite proof. Mr. Coneway says they will continue the sub-agency for Purina feeds and have added the Jamesway poultry equipment along with the Moe & Boyall lines. The Hillside has at this time only one flock of chickens, some Rhode Island Reds that were raised last year on the farm, but that preparations are being made to add several strains of high-class breeding birds.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I am announcing my candidacy for re-election to the above offices and respectfully ask your consideration and support in the Democratic Primary election to be held in July, and if you want me it will be my earnest ambition to continue to do my best to perform the duties of office intrusted to me.

The Home Town GIRL

She lived in a quaint little cottage
Way out at the edge of the town;
Her people were poor and untutored,
The cottage was dingy and brown.
But little I cared for her station
For when I had kissed her good-night,
The Old Town seemed full of her presence,
Out there in the silver moonlight.

We've builded a fortune together,
She's stood by my side through it all,
The girl whom I courted back yonder
In the cottage so dingy and small.
Her children are sturdy and cultured,
Her home is no place for a frown;
No other could ever replace her,
My wife from the dear Old Home Town.

1930 Chevrolet Far Superior to Older Machines

The Chevrolet Motor Co. announces a new car for 1930, known as "The Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet history." Announcement of the new car right at the close of Chevrolet's greatest year, for the sensational success of the six-cylinder Chevrolet, introduced just a year ago, resulted in an output of 1,350,000 cars last year, breaking by a wide margin all former Chevrolet annual production records.

In making public Chevrolet's plans for 1930, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, declared that with the improvements incorporated in the new car, Chevrolet was anticipating a volume of business that will equal if not surpass the phenomenal record of 1929. And in order to accommodate an early demand, production is being speeded with all haste consistent with the precision methods for which Chevrolet's manufacturing operations are famous.

New car shipments have been going out to dealers for the past 20 days, with deliveries to owners scheduled to start immediately. The cars on display in thousands of Chevrolet showrooms from coast to coast, at the same time the announcement of the new car was made through the advertising columns of more than 6500 newspapers.

Scores of distinct improvements have been made in the 1930 Chevrolet line, the factory announces. Greater beauty, added safety factors, improved riding comfort and better all round performance with added power and faster acceleration are announced as features of the new line.

Larger tires, small wheels, Delco-Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers at all four wheels, Fisher slanting non-glare VV windshield and vastly improved four wheel braking system are some of the highlights. Brakes are of internal expanding "articulated shoe type" both front and rear, those on the front having two shoes while those on the rear have four. These brakes also are fully enclosed giving perfect protection against water and dirt.

The attractive new closed bodies in a variety of colors carry the famous Fisher stamp of craftsmanship. Eight models, three of which are new to Chevrolet, comprise the line. Of the eight five are closed cars, three open. The closed cars are the sedan, coach, coupe and sport coupe and club sedan. Open models are roadster, sport roadster and phaeton. The new models are sport coupe, sport roadster and club sedan. The six-cylinder valve-in-head engine introduced a year ago after four years research and development, has been further improved and refined. The result of this engineering talent is a smoother, quieter and more powerful motor. The new engine, fully enclosed, with a high compression non-detonating head, develops 50 horsepower.

Smoothen operation of the engine and longer life are assured through the use of light weight pistons. Steel-backed crankshaft bearings have been adopted because they are more durable.

Announcement last week of substantially reduced prices on the new Chevrolet Six at the same time that the car embodying many distinct improvements made its bow created a sensation in automotive circles. Reductions as announced range from $25 to $50 on seven of the twelve models in the 1930 line, while three new body types introduced for the first time this year are priced to parallel the new low figures on models retained in the current series. The present base price of $495 brings the six cylinder Chevrolet to within $5 of

High Production Brings Profits

College Station.—High egg production is essential to high profits in the poultry business, and unless hens lay 140 eggs or more per year with many of them coming in seasons of high prices, something is wrong. Poultry flock demonstration records sent in by county and home demonstration agents to E. N. Holmgren, poultry specialist in the Extension Service, show that this standard of production is within reach of owners of ordinary farm flocks and that profits of $2 per bird a year are not too much to expect if good management is used.

In Shackelford county J. D. Fite of Moran completed a year's record November 1 to find that his flock of 259 Leghorns laid an average of slightly more than 210 eggs per hen and returned a net profit of $3.72 each. It cost 10 cents per dozen to produce these eggs and they sold for an average of 31 cents per dozen. The flock received a commercial laying mash all year and a scratch feed composed of wheat and milo. Clean, fresh water was before the birds at all times and effort made to have green stuff available always. Houses were regularly cleaned and sprayed with disinfectant, the hens dusted with sodium fluoride for lice and wormed by putting two pounds of tobacco dust in 100 pounds of mash.

The county agent in Fisher county submits a record made by F. G. Inken on a flock of 102 Rhode Island Reds showing production of 163 eggs per hen for the year and a profit above feed cost of $3.75 per hen. The big five ration consisting each of 100 pounds ground corn, ground oats, wheat bran, wheat shorts and meat scrap was fed with the addition of alfalfa meals when green stuff was not available. The scratch grain was waste picked up on the farm.

Cost of Girls' Clothing Studied

Matador.—The impression that modern girls are unduly extravagant is not borne out in records kept by 30 Motley county 4-H club girls for it cost them an average of only $41.54 each to clothe themselves last year. The highest cost recorded was $96 by a girl who was forced to hire her sewing done due to the illness of her daughter, and the lowest cost noted was $16.70 by a girl who sewed every stitch of her own clothes. These girls are farm girls ranging in age from 12 to 17 years, and the cost records were kept at the instance of Miss Ruth Bloodworth, home demonstration agent, who is using the data as a basis for demonstrations in 1930 budgeting clothing expenditures in advance.

The records show that the wearing of silk hose all day and every day may please a girl's vanity but it is an expensive habit, for it costs more than twice as much as it does to wear cotton hose for the lowest price at which even the four cylinder Chevrolet was ever sold.

school and sport wear and silk only on dress occasions. Ten girls who wore cotton hose for ordinary wear used an average of four pairs during the year and two pairs of silk hose. The former cost 60 cents a pair and the latter an average of $1.49 a pair, making the total cost for hose for the year $5.36. The remainder of the girls wore silk hose exclusively and used an average of nine pairs last year, costing a total of $13.32. The variation in number of pairs of silk hose varied from six to twenty-two.

In connection with this work the girls learned that the wise selection of material, choice of appropriate colors, good finishes and simple design make money spent for clothing yield the greatest satisfaction. Fast colored prints, for instance, were found better than gingham for most every-day purposes, because the prints do not shring, have a finer finish and launder more easily.

Shopping tours developed the fact that when it comes to buying silks, it pays to pass up silk substitutes in favor of pure silks, if one can afford the cost, and if not, to choose rayons.

NOTICE

To the Citizens of Hereford: We wish to announce to the citizens of Hereford that we will not be candidates for re-election in the city election to be held in April of this year.

We have tried to serve the City to the best of our abilities, and while we know that mistakes have been made, we appreciate the fact that most of the people of Hereford understand that we are only human, and therefore subject to error.

We are proud of the progress that has been made during our administration, but we are mindful of the fact that only through the wonderful support and co-operation of the citizens of the town has it been possible to accomplish most of what has been done. We have received as near 100 per cent co-operation and support as could be expected, and we are deeply grateful for it.

To serve this town as Mayor and City Commissioners is an honor any citizen should be proud of, but it means a personal sacrifice to anyone, and we feel that the duties and responsibilities of the city government should now fall on some other good citizens of our town.

During the time that we have served together only harmony has prevailed. It is only through harmony and cooperation between the Mayor and City Commissioners and the support of the citizens of the town that any administration can accomplish what it should, and we sincerely trust that you will select a new Mayor and City Commission who can work together for the betterment of our fair City.

Your humble servants,

Are You Getting Ready To Build?

With the advent of the New Year and the planning for new activities when winter is over, the urge to build a home surges paramount in the breast of every true, wide-a-woke citizen.

Literally hundreds of new residences are going to go up and many old homes are going to be remodelled into modern, beautiful homes before 1930 closes.

Are you going to be one of the builders? If you are, you owe to yourself to investigate our plan service, the quality of builders products we represent, and the years of experience our company has had in designing and helping build homes in the Panhandle country.

R. H. KEMP LUMBER CO.

"Lest We Forget"

I believe in patronizing home industry. Buy your dry goods, groceries, Hereford Baked Bread and Cream O' Plains butter from your local merchants. By so doing, you are helping build the town in which you are living and which helps educate your children.

Don't go to Amarillo or Plainview to buy a monument. I can sell you the same quality of granite or marble for less money. In buying from me you are helping some one who spends his money right in Hereford the year around.

When you give the Plainview or Amarillo monument agent an order, he probably eats only one meal and spends one night in your town. I will compare prices with any of them, and guarantee the quality. We sell the best and you MUST be satisfied. No money down until you see the goods.

Chain Stores are All Right

Regardless of what Old Man Henderson, of Shreveport, says. Just take chain stores, for instance, and Hereford's "M" System, Piggly Wiggly and Helpy-Selfy as examples. They are locally owned and managed, and merely have a small advantage in buying and a big advantage in selling expense.

The Same Thing Holds True With Tire Selling

Our large purchases of BRUNSWICK TIRES (a half carload at times) for cash, selling for cash, and low overhead expense, puts us in a position to compete with any chain or mail order tire. Virtually, we are a unit of the BRUNSWICK TIRE SYSTEM, so we would be foolish to "knock" chain stores.

The fine reputation of BRUNSWICK TIRES, together with the fact that every BRUNSWICK sold by us is backed by RICE should mean much to tire users.

BRUNSWICK'S ARE "FAMOUS FOR QUALITY."

Sargon's Fame Spreading Over Entire World

People of This Country Sending Famous Medicine to Relatives and Friends in England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Canal Zone, Norway, Sweden, Cuba, and Many Other Distant Lands.

If you had found a medicine that was of such benefit to you that you would go to the trouble of sending it to relatives and friends in distant countries, you would have to be convinced in your own mind that it possessed real merit, wouldn't you?

That's just what thousands of people throughout the United States are doing with Sargon.

From all over America and wherever Sargon has been introduced, thousands of letters have been received from grateful users telling of the gratifying results that have been accomplished by this celebrated medicine.

county officials, and even Ministers of the Gospel have deemed it their duty to come forward and tell what Sargon has done for them.

These are only a few of thousands of such cases and not a day nor a week passes that does not bring hundreds of statements from the people concerning the good this medicine is doing, and reciting case after case that would convince the most skeptical.

Sargon's fame is built on actual results—not empty promises, and only those who have put it to the test know its real powers.

Sargon's aim is not mere temporary relief, but new and abundant health. No wonder it is now called the medicine with a million friends.

Thousands Express Gratitude.
On November 27th, a letter dated November 23rd, was received at the Sargon offices advising that in one week one drug firm alone had received orders for Sargon to be shipped to Cavite, Philippine Islands; Coca-Salo, Canal Zone; Bolebrook, Ireland, and Paris, France.

Only recently a well-known resident of Denver, Colorado, who had been restored to health by Sargon, sent a full treatment to London, England, to his sister, who is the wife of an executive of one of the greatest retail drug firms in the British Empire.

During the past month there appeared in the Toronto papers the statement of a well-known World War veteran whose health had been greatly impaired while in the service, who stated among other things, that he owed his restoration to health to two bottles of Sargon sent him by a friend in Minneapolis.

Letters Received from the Northwest.

From the Northwest, many letters of this kind have been received advising that users of Sargon are sending it to relatives back in their old countries of Norway and Sweden.

Many such letters and endorsements have been received from men of prominence, including former governors, business and professional men, mayors, state and Union Monday afternoon. The Willing Workers Club met with Mrs. Bob Higgins January 8, and owing to bad weather only a few were present. The afternoon after the business session, was spent socially and refresh-

Dawn Items

(This is the first of a series of articles to be submitted from time to time by high school pupils at Dawn on various agricultural projects.)

Is dairying profitable? Just ask the people of Dawn, community. Give the cattle proper care and see what they do. Listen to this:

L. A. Smith of Dawn community has been keeping an accurate account of his dairy products for the past year and a half. His herd of 14 cows, all fine registered and grade Jerseys, have been paying large dividends.

Each cow is fed cotton seed meal twice a day on the principle of 2 pounds meal to 32 pounds of milk produced. A mixture of ground bundle feed, two bundles heglira to 1 of sorghum is accessible to the animals all the time. During the summer the cows are pastured on sudan, in winter on wheat.

A large, well equipped barn offers shelter in cold weather. Mr. Smith is a member of the cow testing association. In November 8 of his herd were on the honor roll. This means each of the eight produced 140 pounds butter-fat or 1000 pounds milk during the month. The record in August showed a profit of $7.00 on every dollar expended. November showed $2.90. The herd averages 35 gallons of cream per week and at present prices an income of $28.00.

The skimmed milk is useful in the feeding of calves, hogs and chickens.

Lester Galley in another prospering dairy man. He has made an enviable record with Guernsey cattle.

J. N. Straub has 14 pure bred Jersey dairy cows which average 22 gallons of milk per day and 25 gallons of cream per week.

M. F. Mayfield, another dairyman has several good dairy cattle.

Dawn P. T. A. will meet Friday night, January 17, and all members are urged to be present.

"The Little Clodhopper," a comedy-drama, was presented here Saturday night, with a cast from Frio directed by Owen Stagner. The play was under auspices of the Dawn P. T. A.

It happens in the best families

SUNSHINE poured in through the window. A fat sparrow twittered on the sill. It was a beautiful morning. Norma hummed happily.

Suddenly her husband barked. "Why in the world can't you make good coffee?"

Then he followed it up with the comparison that every bride dreads.

"My mother never made miserable stuff like this!"

Norma tried to fight back her tears, but failed.

"I make it just the way your mother taught me," she sobbed. "She showed me how to make all your favorite dishes. We never told you."

Gene was sorry. He put both arms about her and kissed away her tears.

"You haven't made any changes at all?" he questioned, puzzled.

"No," Norma told him. "Not one . . . that is, yes; one little one. I've been using a different brand. One of the neighbors said . . ."

"You go back to White Swan Coffee," her husband exclaimed with mock severity. "Darling, there is no better."

So, Norma went back to White Swan and now everything is serene again.

Some of the artful processes are as old as the happy custom of serving coffee; others are as new as science can devise them; all are employed with the skill acquired by more than a half century of roasting and blending a coffee of unrivaled goodness.

Freshness is one of the most vital of the many factors which insure the White Swan flavor. It always comes to you fresh from the roaster. Your dealer is within easy shipping distance of one of the 22 Waples Platter Houses strategically located to insure prompt distribution. In addition, a fleet of motor trucks operates over established routes, making regular deliveries to the 10,000 White Swan dealers.

By going to the very source for its product, by controlling every step of its preparation and distribution, this sixty-year-old institution of the Southwest makes sure that no finer coffee can be brought into your home for the price you are asked to pay.

To guarantee this, the Waples Platter Company has become importer, roaster and packer, as well as distributor of the inimitable White Swan Coffee . . . available at your grocer's in one and three pound cans.

Good Program Heard by Local Men at Luncheon

One of the best programs in months was enjoyed by the Chamber of Commerce last Monday when the body met for luncheon at the Methodist church. Guests and all, seventy persons partook of the lunch and there must have been at least fifty business people present. That last item alone was one of the best indications of a good program—there will be a good program every time if that many business firms of the town are represented.

C. W. Humble, vice president, directed the program and it moved along with dispatch in a very entertaining way. Ardelle S. George, vocal instructor, accompanied by Miss Deenie Mae Steele at the piano, sang "In London Town" in a charming way, and responded with an encore. B. L. Loomer, associated with Carroll Cleaners, gave some lively piano music, playing as an encore a new composition by Otto Schick, Hereford composer and musician.

Ardelle S. George was introduced to the diners, and in a few words presented her plan for the organization of a community chorus for Hereford, asking the moral support of the business people in the undertaking.

G. A. Payne, manager of the Western Chain Tire Stores, was introduced as a new member of the Chamber of Commerce, and J. E. Hill presented A. K. Webster, mayor of the town of Tack, who was a visitor Monday. R. O. Dunkle, county agent, presented R. B. Galloway, poultry expert associated with the Panhandle Lumber Co., headquarters at Amarillo.

Judge C. F. Kerr, member from Hereford and Deaf Smith county, of the Pao Duro Park commission, gave a very interesting account of the work done toward getting the state to buy Palo Duro Canyon and convert it into a park. Mr. Kerr reported the amount of money assessed against each county adjacent to the canyon necessary to get the matter before the legislature. Deaf Smith county's share will be $50. A survey of the park site, as far as can be made by horseback, has been made, and estimates of the amount of money necessary to purchase the land have been made. Mr. Kerr said the owners of the different parts asked $1,600,000 for their holdings. A. K. Webster, also a member of the committee, voiced his approval of the canyon as a state park site.

Rev. E. P. Geiser announced the training class being conducted by the Presbyterian Sunday school this week, and introduced Dr. Hodges, member of the State Synod, who is here to assist with the work.

J. E. Hill, chairman of the committee relative to recent telephone developments in Hereford, reported that several meetings of importance had been held, and the committee was waiting for definite action as results of them.

Alex Thompson introduced Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Trussell, who are visiting home folks in Hereford and assisting with the revival meeting at the Baptist church, he as singer and she as pianist. Mrs. Trussell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Connell. Rev. J. M. Fuller spoke a few words of praise of the musical teaching ability of Otto Schick.

Chairman Humble in closing announced that a definite program of Red Cross activities was about ready for Deaf Smith county, a more complete explanation of which is given elsewhere in the Brand this week.

AN EXPENSIVE LESSON

The recent "market breaks" characterized as the most severe since the panic of 1914, has taught thousands an expensive lesson.

The prevalent practice of buying stocks on lean margins, by persons without reserves to weather reverses, is basically unsound. Leading financial authorities and major stock exchanges and their members have continually warned and raved against this practice. Even margins normally considered safe did not stand in the late crisis.

The fact that short-sighted spec-

THE SMALL TOWN IS LEADING AMERICA

Not long ago the nation was stirred by the drift of population away from farms and rural areas into the great cities. Young men, attracted by the high wages paid by industry and what appeared to be superior social and economic advantages of urban life deserted the soil for the city.

In the past quarter century rural America has made tremendous progress. Better schools, good roads, the automobile, telephone and radio have created a rural civilization greater than any in history.

Industrialists, attracted by such factors as lack of labor difficulties, low taxes and uncongested, pleasant living and working conditions, were barred from entry into the small town only because of lack of power.

Then rural electrification on a large scale was inaugurated. And now, according to authorities, the smaller towns are on the road to industrial leadership of America and the countryside is staged for the next scene of our industrial progress. The drift of population has turned. At present the only pronounced gain in industrial wage earners is taking place in the country.

It is safe to say that many towns which are almost unknown today will be the great industrial centers of the future. The industrial revolution of the eighteenth century apparently doomed rural progress, now with the electric revolution of the twentieth century is reversing the process.

Cotton Grown for 7c Per Pound

College Station.—While the Texas cotton yield was falling to a new low level of 108 pounds of lint per acre, Texas 4-H club boys went their winning ways undisturbed and according to preliminary reports will average at least twice that yield. A summary of the yields on 26 club acres scattered over the state shows that these boys averaged nearly six times as much lint per acre as the average farmer did, or 611 pounds to the acre.

The average cost of production per acre—for the boys was $40.60, which means that the produced the fleecy staple for 6.6 cents a pound. These costs include, according to Extension Service authorities, labor at 20 cents per hour, horse labor at the same figure, fertilizer, picking, ginning and rent of the land at $5 per acre. The boys made an average acre profit of $55.84 from average acre returns of $126.50.

How was it done? In the first place, most of the cotton was grown on good land, made good by terracing, peas or other legumes and turning under, and good refuse. The seed bed was prepared late last fall or winter and in nearly every case pedigreed cotton seed was used. Only two boys of this group planted half-and-half cotton and their profits did not exceed the average. Fertilizers played a big part in these yields, especially in East Texas, where most of the boys applied several hundred pounds of various fertilizers with emphasis on the high nitrogen kinds. As for the rest, it's just the old story of clean cultivation and shallow, with a little poisoning of insects thrown in where it was needed.

The highest yield per acre thus far reported to Extension Service headquarters is that of Bill Flint of El Paso county who picked 3700 pounds of pedigreed seed cotton from one acre. In East Texas the high yield thus far is credited to Homer Thigpen of Bunk county, with 5632 pounds of seed cotton on an acre.

Panhandle To Benefit by Cut in Grain Rates

Thousands of dollars will be saved monthly by Hereford and Deaf Smith county grain dealers as a result of an amendment to a traffic order covering the shipping of grain and grain products from points on the Santa Fe line from Farwell to Canyon to be shipped into Lubbock, Plainview or Sweetwater. An amendment to application 881, referring to circular No. 7874 by the commission will allow grain and grain products originating on the Santa Fe line from Farwell to Canyon to be shipped into Lubbock, Plainview or Sweetwater, stopped for inspection or unloaded for milling purposes then shipped on to any other destination in Texas on one bill of lading. Herefore shipments originating at these points stopped in Lubbock carried an out line haul charge of six cents per hundred, which amounts to about $48 per car.

S. E. Cone, who operates an elevator in Hereford and buys a large amount of grain in this section, was one of the first to make an effort to secure this amendment. He took the matter up with the Santa Fe some time ago and the railroad referred the matter to the Texas-Louisiana Tariff Bureau, an association working for the best interests of railway lines in the two states. The bureau put out a bulletin to Texas lines and when no objection was received, the matter was placed before the Railroad Commission of Texas, which passed the amendment.

With a big part of Farmer, Deaf Smith, Castro and Randall counties served by the Santa Fe through Hereford, grain shipments from this area are immense. Heretofore local dealers were penalized in competing for business in this section of the Plains grain belt, while the growers were likewise penalized by having their market suffer from this additional freight charge.

Thousands of dollars paid in freight charges will be refunded to shippers as the amendment was made effective as of April 7, 1929. The outline haul of approximately $48 per car charged over this period will be refunded to local grain dealers.

The amendment will prove of an immense advantage to the wholesale grain market. It puts the South Plains on a par with any grain center in this part of the state and will bring more grain into these markets. It will mean saving thousands of dollars to grain dealers who handle grain from this section of the Plains. It will benefit local elevators by opening to them this grain for storage or milling purposes when it is shipped south. It will benefit farmers and grain dealers of Farmer, Deaf Smith, Castro and Randall counties by opening to them new and wider markets.

GASOLINE "CHEF" CONTROLS DIET OF CAR

Vitamins, calories, roughage, mineral salts—for your car? Not exactly. But, according to experts on automotive fueling, your car has dietary problems just as surely and equally as important as you body. And it is the business of the gasoline "chef" to see that the car gets the type of diet that will give it the ambition, pep and resistance it needs to keep on the job, refrain from catching cold, and stay out of the class of sluggish auto disappetees.

Who is the gasoline chef? He is a scientist who spends his days, and often his nights, working, testing, studying and discovering better ways to feed your motor. His kitchen is a great research laboratory maintained by the concern whose motor fuels you buy at the filling station.

"Yes," says E. C. Jopling of the Phillips Petroleum Co., "the research man in the motor fuel industry is really, among other things, a 'gasoline chef.' In our laboratories we have experts who are continually studying the dietary needs of the motor car and producing fare that meets those needs.

"For example, our experts realize that the gasoline is used a few years ago would not adequately fit the requirements of the modern high compression motors. They knew, too, that a gasoline 'diet' upon which a motor could thrive in winter or in a cold climate was not necessarily the correct diet for that same motor during the summer or in the warmer summer climate.

"It was this knowledge which prompted our 'gasoline chefs' to discover how literally to take gasoline apart, then to combine and recombine its various parts so as to meet different seasonal and climatic requirements of the modern motor. The motorist naturally wants his car to start easily in any kind of weather, to accelerate quickly, to have plenty of pep for the open road, to deliver real mileage, to have a vast reserve of power and to run smoothly and quietly at all times of the year. Thanks to the 'gasoline chef' who not only knows a motor's needs but knows how to supply those needs, the careful motorist is now in a position to keep his car on a healthful diet that assures uniformly high standards of performance."

Women Intolerant of Car Noises.

Generally speaking, women are more susceptible to noise than men. No where is this better illustrated than in the automobile. In the days when the motor car was largely a mechanism for masculine operation and enjoyment, very little attention was paid to the elimination of squeaks, rattles, grinding noises, vibration and the crashing, clanking sounds that emanated from the chassis and bodies of our early gasoline vehicles. Now all that is changed and much of the credit for the silence of the modern automobile must be given to the millions of women who have become car owners and drivers.

One of the newest and most interesting methods of noise elimination adopted by several manufacturers has been the use of ball bearing spring shackles which allow the springs to operate on smooth running ball bearings free from the annoying squeaks and rattles common to older cars. Thus is war being waged on noise and again women has been the incentive for progress.

Electricity and Agriculture.

The use of electricity on the farm is expanding rapidly. On January 1, 1924, electric service from high power lines was applied to 175,000 farms; on January 1, 1925, 325,000 and on January 1, 1929, 500,000. It is estimated that at the present time practically one million farmers in the United States are using electricity. Of this number about 500,000 have individual plants.

The development of rural electrification is yet in its infancy. There are about 6,500,000 farms in the United States. Electricity should be used on all of them. The farmers, constituting one-fourth of the country's population, use only one-fifth-second of the electrical energy consumed. The average per capita consumption of electricity is 580 kilowatt-hours. The average per capita consumption on all farms is only 40.

More attention is being given to supplying farmers with electricity at a cheaper price than ever before. Farmers are using electricity for more purposes each year. They are beginning to realize the part that electricity can play in developing better conditions on the farm. The rapid development of rural electrification is highly desirable.

Fire Prevention Week Coming.

October 6 to 13 has been set aside as Fire Prevention Week. During that time public and private organizations and authorities will make an effort to instruct citizens in the fundamentals of doing away with our terrible fire waste.

In past years the fire rate has always gone down during the observation of this week, only to rise again to "normal" immediately after. It is the old case of a lesson going in one ear and out the other.

Fire is perhaps the greatest single menace to progress we face. Every year it destroys property which in terms of monetary value would support whole governments, cover the country with paved highways, provide greater educational facilities or do any number of other great services. And on top of this must be placed still greater destruction in human life.

During Fire Prevention Week we will learn of the danger of neglected wiring, carelessly disposed of matches or cigarettes, piles of refuse, poor building construction, and so on. But unless our citizens carry the lessons learned through the other fifty-one weeks of the year, nothing will be gained.

Make Fire Prevention Week the start of a Fire Prevention Year.

MONT E. BAKER,

Guarded by the Man Who Loved Her

By A. W. PEACH

MARJORIE LAWTON looked at her handsome, disturbed lover with amused yet tender eyes. "You and father and the whole family cannot understand why I am willing to live out the years down here in the stumps—and it is useless of you to try to understand," she said quietly.

Duke's face was white. "But my dear Marjorie, I simply must have you! I'll do anything for you! Come—be sensible—and help me make a home!"

Her gray eyes were wistful. "Dick, I do like you, but you see I want to do things with my own hands—and that makes all the difference!"

His jaws set. "I don't see it! I move than half believe you are in love with Senter—a ward boss!"

"Don't be rude, Dick. He is a good friend."

Returning to the office she found Senter waiting. He turned toward her and his blue, steady eyes brightened and shadowed. "Marjorie, there is to be a strike in the factories, and that means trouble. I wish you would give up your trips into the 'Kitchen.' Don't go down tonight."

She laughed. "Just when I am needed you want me to quit. I have just been invited to quit for good."

"I see, Duke. If I lose you—I did not finish the sentence."

All that Duke and Senter had said to her came back that evening when she threaded the mass of the section known as the "Devil's Kitchen"—Duke's request, Senter's warning. Danger lurked in every shadowy corner, but she had gone safely by it for months. She was sorry, nevertheless, that Mrs. O'Berry had had to choose such an evening to call for aid from the settlement house.

Suddenly, as she started up the stairs, her arms were plucked behind her. Firmly, something was thrust into her mouth and a voice said softly in her ears:

"No noise and you will be safe!"

She was carried swiftly down the stairs to a waiting car. She was lifted in—and then her courage broke, but before she could endeavor to escape three forms shot from the sidewalk, and a low, throaty voice said:

"Hold on! what are you doing with Miss Lawton?"

"Go with you, ya," the man in front of her said. "This ain't her!"

The car started. A dark form leaped in upon the driver and the car stopped. A revolver flashed and banged near her. Curses broke sharply.

"Hold on! Hold on!" a voice said. "We give up, Blake. It's a joke, anyway."

"A joke?" a sharp voice said. "Well, Keel, you'll have to tell me to Senter. Take her up, Griff."

She was stunned and dazed and hardly heard the arguing voices beside her and around her. Only when she found herself facing Senter in the office of his tenement flat did her old independent self rally.

"He came to her suddenly, his face tense. "My dear, what does this mean?" She saw in his eyes his sense of the danger she had met.

"Keel can tell you," Blake's cold voice said.

Keel looked troubled. "It was a joke, that's all. Old man Duke's son, Dick, put it up to me to give this girl a good scare, and we was doing it when Blake hissed up—that's all."

Senter's jaws were lined in white. Marjorie looked up and smiled. "It was some wild relief on his part, Glenn, to care for me. He was pretty desperate. This afternoon, let them go, please, and then take me home." She realized in that moment how weak and weary she was.

At his nod the men fled out, and he turned to her, looking a shade better. "I will take you home and then you must promise me to stay there until the trouble is over, for your own sake."

"What, Glenn?" she asked, some sense of what he meant dawning upon her, and with it coming a thrill in her warm heart that Duke had never stirred.

"Well, it's just this: you are a beautiful girl and there is never a day when you have not been in danger."

"And your men have been keeping watch over me," she added, softly, and she remembered hundreds of incidents which showed how faithful that watch had been; his love had been with her like a sheltering arm in her fearless journeys where the other settlement workers would not go.

She drew her arm around her waist and glanced up at him, trembling a bit as she saw in his eyes the tremendous meaning of the love he bore her. If she but said the word that love would be hers—that strong, faithful arm would shelter her to the end of her days, and he and she would spend the years in the toll that was dear to the heart of each.

"Take me home, Glenn, and then some day, if you ask me nicely, perhaps I'll come and stay—with you—always! Now—don't you kiss me—just—"

She felt his lips on her hair. "I know, dear," was all he said, and she knew that just as he knew that how weary and she was with excitement and shock, so would he know and understand through the happy years to come.

POULTRY

CULLING METHODS QUITE IMPORTANT

Much Money Lost Each Year by Unskilled Manner.

All the good methods in building a profitable poultry flock may be followed but if culling is not practiced, the results are disappointing.

"Culling is one of the most discussed phases of poultry work," says C. F. Parrish, poultry extension specialist at the North Carolina State college. "There is a great deal of money lost each year on unskilled and ill-timed culling. Most poultrymen are elastic in their culling practices, leaving weaklings, short and round backed birds, deformed or underzoned chicks with the hope that these may develop into profitable birds. This is bad. Culling must start with the baby chicks and space may be saved and disease eliminated if the baby chicks are rapidly culled."

This culling needs to be followed on through the growing stage and when the pullets are transferred to the laying house in the fall, the good poultryman will pull out the weaklings that may have been overlooked earlier. If egg production drops suddenly, it may be a case of poor feed or disease, but when birds have gone eight months and have not laid, it means that they are from low-producing stock and should be disposed of.

The laying flock should be culled at least once each month, says Mr. Parrish. When egg prices drop in the spring, another rigid culling should take place, with only the best hens in the flock kept in the laying house. The virtue of this plan is that the hens are marketed as they become culls and no birds are kept that are not paying their way in egg production. In such cases, also, the hens are not ill dumped on the market when prices may be low.

To cull properly, Mr. Parrish suggests giving attention to the comb, health, eyes, molt, pelvic bones, flexibility of the abdomen, shank and beak, vent color and weight.

Profitable to Market Cockerels as Broilers

Those who have been advocating putting the cockerels off as broilers rather than keeping them will be interested in the findings of the New Hampshire Agricultural college. After numerous experiments, they have satisfied themselves that it takes but seven to eight pounds of feed to produce a broiler weighing two pounds, while it takes anywhere from 12 to 20 pounds of feed for each succeeding pound-up to six pounds. It does not pay market men to hold their cockerels to get the six pounds in weight.

The poultry editor has always been advising you to get rid of your cockerels long before they eat their heads off, so to speak.

Highly Concentrated Foods Hurt Turkeys

The turkey has a rather large digestive system and long intestines, accompanied by an ever-present appetite, so that it is compelled to satisfy his appetite on highly concentrated foods. Indigestion is almost certain to result.

If this is not immediately relieved death will follow, and usually salts or, better still, castor oil will effect a cure.

Plenty of green food is essential to young turkeys, such as alfalfa (if quite tender), clover, lettuce, chopped onion tops and dandelion leaves. All these should be supplied to turkeys through the winter, a little way up from the ground, so that they have chance to lurk in the soil.

Gains for Chicks

Chicks make the cheapest and most rapid gains when they are young. It is therefore essential that an ample amount of good wholesome food be kept constantly before the birds. Mash hoppers should be of sufficient size so that a large majority of the chicks can eat at the same time, thereby avoiding the constant fighting and crowding for room to eat. The outdoor mash hopper of adequate size is very desirable for developing the young stock. All feeding utensils should be kept clean.

Grasshopper Control

Turkeys are a great aid in keeping grasshoppers under control. They require little feed and little investment in the way of buildings. Their need of a wide, free range makes it somewhat difficult to grow them in thickly settled countries. Grown turkeys are extremely hardy, but young points need considerable care. A little water on the feathers, cold feet, a bit of spoiled food, or even one louse, will kill them at this stage. Poults should be watched until well feathered.

Turkeys on Upgrade

Turkey raising is on the upgrade, now that the blackhead bugaboo has been done away with. And the turkey growers are getting the marketing system down to a fine point, too. Six turkey marketing associations have just been formed in various parts of Colorado and the next thing will be a statewide pool. Profits received by members of turkey marketing pools in the West last year were very pleasing—what's why new pools are being formed to handle this year's crop.

FARM STOCK

GOOD SIRES WILL RETURN PROFITS

Bull Will Influence More Calves Than Five Cows.

(By J. J. MOXLEY, Extension Live Stock Specialist, Kansas Agricultural College.)

In the opinion of Kansas cattlemen, a good sire is worth 20 per cent of the value of the cow herd. These same live stock raisers figure the sire will influence more calves than five cows during his lifetime.

The bull represents the corner stone for a foundation of successful cattle production. Closely connected with him is the right kind of cows. They should represent the good, big beef type.

In the Minnesota car lot baby beef contest, where the weight of a carload of calves at 15 months was the method of determining the winning load, calves out of the biggest, beefiest cows and sired by medium to big bulls were the ones which ranked at the top.

Giving consideration to a demonstration in Clay county the past year a group of cows which would class as "good cows" were compared with those which were classed as medium in the weight and value of the calves. The good grade cows had calves weighing 90 pounds more than those out of the medium grade cows. Their calves were worth $1 per hundred more—making a difference for the year of $15.91 more in favor of the calves out of the good grade cows.

From every angle in the cattle production business, a good sire is a necessity, and a good cow herd is a great help in the production of beef that will return a profit.

Proper Care of Horse's Feet Often Neglected

An important but oftentimes neglected job is to trim the feet of farm horses. In dry weather the feet become tough and hard and it is difficult to do anything with them. However, following a rain, or a spell of damp weather, they will cut easily, and it is no great effort to get them into shape for the season's work. Most farmers own a rasp which can be used to file down the rough, unsightly edges of the hoofs which have grown during the winter. Few farm horses are expected to work on cement or concrete roadways and they do not have shoes. A little judicious trimming at this time will give the horse better grip on the ground and more confidence to go at heavy pulls. The colt, also, should not be forgotten for the care which you give the feet of a colt may govern to a large extent the conformation of his legs at maturity.

Find Lambs on Pasture Are Most Profitable

Lambs produced on pasture are more profitable, is the conclusion of Purdue university agricultural experiment station after two years' work. When ewe and lambs were both fed on grain and hay, the profit per lamb amounted to $4.11, and when both were pastured on timothy, oats and alfalfa pastures, the profit per lamb amounted to $9.81. "The market finish of the two sets of lambs was the same," said Claude Harper, sheep specialist.

"Does it pay to feed lambs on pasture?" is a question often asked by Hoosier farmers. Purdue found that lambs developed on pasture returned a profit of $9.81 and lambs fed grain on pasture returned a profit of $9.97 per lamb above feed costs.

Kill "Gad Flies" While Still in Grub Stage

"Gad flies" or "heel flies" which pester cattle in the springtime, may be killed while still in the grub stage, imbedded in the backs of cattle, by placing an ointment consisting of one part iodoforn and three parts vaseline on each warble hole.

This ointment should be placed on the hole of each warble, or large swelling on the animal's hide, with the finger.

The grubs can be removed from the backs of animals by pressure with the fingers, but this seems like a hopeless undertaking. Then, too, crushing or destroying the grubs in the backs of cattle is liable to bring on dangerous anaphylactic symptoms.

Cure for Worms

Tetrachlorethylene, in single doses, has been found to be approximately 100 per cent effective against the sheep stomach worm, and is also very effective against the hook-worm and some of the other round-worms found in the small intestine of the sheep. The drug is given in capsules, in doses of five cubic centimeters. The animal should not be fed for 12 hours before treatment. If possible, the drug should be administered by a veterinarian.

Economical Gains

At no time in a sheep's life can a more economical gain be made than when the lamb is suckling its mother, and at this time one has to be on the alert lest something is done or neglected to do something as to hinder its growth, thereby robbing it of its baby fat much earlier than nature intended. The first 60 days of the lamb's life the lamb can, with a little forethought, be made to gain from one-half to a pound per day.

Ton Litter Paid Well for Feed

Tulla.—Skim milk brought four cents a gallon and grain sorghums $79.80 per ton fed to an eight-pig litter by W. A. Wood, Swisher county farmer, who has completed the local ton litter contest. The pigs weighed 1690 pounds at the end of 150 days.

The ration as given by the county agent consisted of skim milk, grain sorghums, barley and a commercial protein supplement. Feed and labor cost $90.32, making the pork cost 4.7 cents per pound. The litter sold for 10.6 cents per pound and the profit above feed and labor was $102.13.

Sweet Clover Cut Butterfat Cost

OLTON.—When his sweet clover pasture began playing out in June the cost of producing butterfat went up three cents per pound, so George Bohner, one of Lamb county's dairy demonstrators discovered. In May when ground kafir and sweet clover pasture were used his two cows produced 67.6 pounds of butterfat at a cost of 5.2 cents per pound for feed, according to records brought out in the cow-test-by-mail association. These cows produced 69 pounds of butterfat in June at a cost of 8.2 cents per pound.

Corn Produced for 36c a Bushel

Anderson.—Corn was produced this year at a cost of 36 cents per bushel by Ed Scymozek, who grows crops on terraced land, plants cow peas down the corn middles and uses commercial fertilizer. In his demonstration this year he applied 300 pounds of 12-4-4 fertilizer per acre at a cost of $2.00 per hundred. It increased the corn yield sixteen bushels an acre, W. L. Ross, county agent, stated.

WIDE MOS INCREASE THIS MAN'S CORN YIELD

Big Foot.—Planting corn in rows seven feet apart gives eight to ten bushels more to the acre than that in three and one-half foot rows, is easier to gather, takes less labor in cultivating and is easier to keep clean of weeds, according to O. M. Ruess, local Erie county corn demonstrator.

TERRACES BLACK LAND AT COST OF $2.25 PER ACRE

Mosheim.—It cost Dr. W. W. Blankenship, less than $2.25 an acre to terrace 100 acres of black land stubble with a large caterpillar tractor and road grader, the county agent reports. The machinery and men to run it cost $5.50 per hour. Terraces much above the average of 30 feet wide and two feet high were built.

FERTILIZER INCREASES PRODUCTION OF CORN

Daingersfield.—An extra twenty-five bushels of corn was made on one acre by Richard Crossland, 4-H club boy of Morris county this year by applying 300 pounds of fertilizer. Under favorable moisture conditions he made forty-six bushels of corn on his acre.

Watermark, Letter Heads, Envelopes, all Job Work, at The Brand.

Clover Halved Grain, Doubled the Milk Yield

Rusk.—As a result of one sweet clover demonstration last year, W. L. Knapp, county agent, has been able to place 1500 pounds of yellow blooming sweet clover seed with Cherokee county farmers recently. Some hairy vetch and biennial sweet clover has also been placed.

Last year Mr. Thurmond grazed two acres of vetch through December and January and then removed the stock until March 24 when he turned them in again until early June. During the latter period a four-acre sweet clover patch was available and fourteen head of cattle and three horses grazed the two fields until the plants seeded. He then cut the grain ration for dairy cows in half during this time and says milk production doubled.

Important Don'ts for Children

Do not touch a fallen or broken wire. It may be a "live" wire, that is a wire that has electricity flowing through it, and which does not have a protecting cover of rubber. Such wires are dangerous and may cause death.

Do not gather cigar or cigarette stumps. It is an unwise thing to do for possibly the person who threw it away had a disease of some sort—infected tonsils or tuberculosis, and the child who puts the stump in his mouth may be taking in also the germs of a disease.

Do not put money in the mouth for disease germs are often passed in this way from one person to another. In addition there is always the possibility that coins may slip back in the throat and cause choking.

Do not run with a tuffy stick or any sharp pointed instrument in the mouth.

Do not get in front of trains or other fast moving vehicles. "Stop, look and listen" at crossings. Keep off the railroad tracks. Be careful at switches.

Do not persist in swimming just after a meal, or when overheated, nor in unknown or dangerous waters.

Do not throw sand, for sand in the eye is unpleasant and sand in the ear is dangerous.

Do not play with children who have contagious diseases.

If the baby is left in the care of an older child, the child should be taught to keep the baby away from fire and matches.

Give the baby no small or sharp pointed play things.

Keep medicines and poisons out of the baby's reach.

Protect the baby from disease germs such as may be on the floor and dusty carpets.

The reporter had written it "bell," but the compositor garbled it as usual and when printed it read:

"The bride and groom received congratulations standing in the shadow of a large wedding bill."

JESUS BEGINS HIS MINISTRY

MATTHEW 4:17-25

Golden Text: Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.—Matthew 4:17.

Introduction.

"Teaching, preaching, healing; these were the methods for setting up the kingdom. Teaching was the new light, preaching the new power; power not of the sword, but of the Word. Healing, this is what a sick world wants, this is what the souls and bodies of men alike are crying out for. Heavenly light, heavenly power, heavenly healing—these are the weapons of the new warfare; these the regalia of the new kingdom. It is daybreak on the shores of Galilee. The Sun of Righteousness has arisen with healing in his wings."—J. M. Gibson.

Fishers of Men: (1) Humble workers, but a lofty work. (2) It requires tact, perseverance, patient endurance of frequent failure. (3) He who calls us to it promises that we shall not labor in vain. Two methods of fishing; with the net, catching fish in large masses; with the line, catching them one by one. Preaching and teaching. Jesus used both methods and would have his followers do the same.

Jesus Driven from Nazareth.

Jesus, at the time of John's imprisonment, was in Jerusalem, and immediately returned to Galilee. Matthew has omitted much that we learn from the fourth Gospel, John 1:15-5, 5-47, including the calling of the first disciples at Bethabara where John was baptizing, the first miracle (the turning of the water into wine at Cana), the first cleansing of the temple, Christ's conversation with Nicodemus, the first great ministry in Judaea, Christ's departure for Galilee and conversation on the way with the Samaritan woman at Jacob's well, the healing of the nobleman's son at Capernaum, Christ's visit to Jerusalem at the passover, and the healing of the cripple at the pool of Bethesda. After this he went back to Galilee, following John's imprisonment, returning to his home town of Nazareth; but there he preached in the synagogue and refused to work miracles to satisfy the idle curiosity of his fellow townsmen, who there upon sought to kill him. He therefore though it must have been with a very sad heart, left Nazareth and went eastward to the northwest shore of the Sea of Galilee, making his home (probably with Andrew and Peter) in Capernaum, a great fishing center. This town was Christ's headquarters through all his remaining life.

The Sea of Galilee.

"And walking by the Sea of Galilee." It was so called because of the province in which it was situated. John (21:1) calls it the 'Sea of Tiberias' because of the city on its border. Luke (5:1) gives it the name 'Lake Gennesaret,' the region at the northern end of the lake where the 5000 were fed. Josephus calls it 'Gennesar,' Hebrew, 'Chinnereth,' (Deut. 3:17, Josh. 12:3)—Prof. W. F. Slater. "He saw two brethren, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew, his brother." "Matthew does not mean that Simon on this occasion received the name of Peter, but that Simon is the same disciple who was afterwards famous as Peter."—Alfred Plummer. These brothers were from Bethsaida, a city about two miles east of Capernaum, on the Sea of Galilee. Peter, at least, came to live at Capernaum, where Christ healed his mother-in-law of a severe fever. "Casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers." As the birth of the King was first announced to shepherds in the fields, so the King himself selected his immediate followers from humble, lowly men, hard workers, whose occupation made them patient, resourceful and steady. Still, in almost every land the beginnings of the Christian church have been with just such people.

"Fishers of Men."

"Come ye after me." Literally, "Here! after me." It was a royal summons, full of authority, yet kindly. "And I will make you fishers of men." An utterance "full of significance as a self-revelation of the speaker, authoritative, yet genial, indicating a poetic idealistic temperament and a tendency to figurative speech; betraying the rudiments of a plan for winning men by select men."—Prof. A. E. Bruce. Christ's words to Peter in Luke 5:10 are full of meaning: "From henceforth thou shalt catch men," literally, "take men alive." This is the greatest work that any man can do, and it must be individual work for individuals. "You cannot reach a thousand unless you can reach one. The world is never going to be brought to Christ wholesale."—Charles G. Trumbull.

"Straightway."

"And they straightway left the nets and followed him." "Straightway," the adverb so characteristic of Mark's vigorous Gospel, is the adverb for the earnest Christian. "By the street of By-and-by one arrives at the house of never." Now is always the acceptable time when Christ summons us to any task. "Tomorrow" is the devil's work, his most effective temptation. Because these four fishers were "straightway" me, Christ saw that they would make good helpers in the work of the kingdom. The nets? They could take care of themselves. What were two nets compared with the eternal interests of the kingdom of God? Yet a net has held many a man in its folds and kept him from following the King.

For Disciples Called.

"And going on—from thence he saw two other brothers." They were partners of Andrew and Peter (Luke 5:7, 10, and, like them, had received their call to discipleship more than a year before, at the time of Christ's baptism. "James the son of Zebedee." He became the first martyr among the Twelve (Acts 12:1); and is not to be confused with the James who wrote the Epistle, who was a brother of our Lord. "And John his brother." The "disciple whom Jesus loved," writer of the incomparable Fourth Gospel, the three Epistles and the Revelation. He and James were of fiery, bold disposition, and so were called Boanerges, "sons of thunder." John was probably the youngest of the disciples and outlived the others. He became bishop of Ephesus, and died at the age of one hundred. "In the boat with Zebedee, their father." He was the husband of Salome, named among the women who ministered to Jesus (Matt. 27:56). This Salome was the sister of Mary the mother of Jesus, and so James and John were Christ's cousins.

Teaching, Preaching, Healing.

"And Jesus went about in all Galilee." Peter, who was with our Lord, told long after his death how he "went about doing good." (Acts 10:38). He could have accomplished much by remaining in Capernaum, teaching and healing those who would be sure to come to him there; but he accomplished infinitely more by going forth all over the land. He would have his disciples labor at home, doing intensive work, but also reaching out as far as they can to other towns and, as they can through their missionary gifts, to the ends of the earth. "Teaching in their synagogues." These synagogues were the "place where the Jews used to assemble for religious purposes after the return from captivity. There were synagogues in every large town (see Acts 9:2, 20). The people assembled here on the Sabbath. We may gain some idea of the proceedings in them by what is recorded in Luke 4:16." Canon W. C. E. Newbolt. The ruler (or rulers) of the synagogue invited any capable stranger to address the congregation. "And preaching the gospel of the kingdom." "The good news of the near advent of the kingdom as in verse 17."—Rev. Edward E. Anderson. The kingdom of God is the reign of God in human hearts and lives. "And healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people." "He healed them as easily as the light that fills the firmament, without struggle or noise or huge effort. What is thy complaint, O heart of man? He will heal thee. Do not go into the detail of complaints; there is but one disease and its short name is 'sin.'"—Joseph Parker.

Great Multitudes.

"And there followed him great multitudes from Galilee." "Imagine, if you can, the condition of a country in which there are no doctors, where the healing art is only practiced by a few quacks, who rely more on charms than on physic for their cures. Such is now, and such was Palestine in our Lord's day. Until the medical missionaries were sent by several English societies, there was not a physician in the land, and even now there are very few. In such a country as this, with sick and crippled in every village, picture the eager excitement when the news spreads that there is a good physician arrived in town; that he has healed a fierce demoniac by word, and a great fever by a touch."—H. D. Tristram. "And Decapolis. Decapolis means literally 'ten cities.' It was the region east of the upper Jordan and Sea of Galilee, possessing ten principal cities." "And Jerusalem and Judaea." Southern Palestine. "And from beyond the Jordan." Parnas, the region east of the Jordan. Here is a picture of a wide-extended popularity, based on preaching and healing both of which exemplified the love of God as it had never before been shown to the children of men.

Special Lesson.

"The Master is not far from any one of us. Follow me, is his word, and I will make you fishers of men. Go ye, evangelize; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." He that

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Deaf Smith County—Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon Burrell Franklin, Lela Franklin and John W. Henderson by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Deaf Smith County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Hereford, Texas, on the first Monday in February, A. D. 1930, the same being the 3rd day of February, 1930, A. D., then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 29th day of July,
A. D. 1929, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No.
1690, wherein Claudia B. McKenzie, Wesley R. McKenzie and Darrell Dolan are Plaintiffs, and Burrell Franklin and Lela Franklin,
R. B. Hoover, C. P. Cozart, F. M.

Cozart, John W. Henderson, Sam-
mie S. Connally, D. L. Connally, Imogene Slade Hines and J. B.
Hines are Defendants, and a brief statement of plaintiffs' cause of action, being as follows:
That on or about March or April of 1928, Claudia B. McKenzie was the owner of the Southwest Quarter of Section 25, Township 5, Range 3 East, Capitol Syndicate Subdivision, Deaf Smith County, Texas, in fee simple, and that the defendant Burrell Franklin persuaded her to deed said property to him with the understanding that he would dispose of it and assist Mrs. McKenzie in taking care of certain debts; that no consideration passed for the deed; that said Franklin represented that he would execute back a power of attorney that would fully protect Mrs. McKenzie; that relying upon his promises and being in ill health and unable to understand the legal aspects of the transfer and being so overreached by said Burrell Franklin, she did execute the deed to him and Lela Franklin on or about February 25th, 1928; that the said Franklin executed a power of attorney on June 14th, 1928, but revoked same the following day; that she did not know of said revocation until July 1st, 1928; that she transferred said property to Darrell Dolan, and when that deed was filed, plaintiff first learned that Franklin had revoked his power of attorney and also had conveyed considerable other property without her knowledge; that said deed from Claudia B. McKenzie to Burrell Franklin and Lela Franklin was obtained through fraud as aforesaid; that she relied upon the fraudulent representations of the said Franklin, which induced her to part with her title, and that all of said misrepresentations, coercion, duress and persuasion were practiced upon her without the knowledge of her husband, Wesley R. McKenzie; that subsequent to the filing of the original petition, defendants Burrell Franklin and Lela Franklin had attempted to sell said property to one R. B. Hoover. Plaintiffs allege that said deed was not made in good faith and that the property was sold at a grossly inadequate price and that no consideration actually passed for the purported transfer and delivery of said deed until after the lis pendens notice was duly filed of record; that R. B. Hoover is claiming some interest by reason of said transaction and that whatever interest he claims is subordinate to the rights of Plaintiff; that defendants C. B. Cozart and F. M.

Cozart are claiming some character of title by virtue of the conveyance of the said R. B. Hoover, which is also subordinate to plaintiff's rights; that the defendants John W. Henderson, Sammie

S. Connally, D. L. Connally, Imogene Slade Hines and J. B. Hines, are each claiming some character of interest in the land, but their claims are inferior and subordinate to the rights of the plaintiffs;
said cause of action being more fully detailed in certified copy of plaintiffs' petition hereto attached.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Hereford, Texas, on this 24th day of December, A. D. 1929.

"A SONG OF KENTUCKY"

On account of its human quality and its numerous thrills, "A Song of Kentucky," Fox Movietone all talking, romantic comedy drama is one of the most vitally interesting pictures to reach the screen in a long time. It is a story of love and intrigue and has a race track background. One of the high spots in the production is the running of the 1929 Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, Louisville. These special scenes were made by Lewis Siller, director, his assistants and the principals at the historic course. "A Song of Kentucky" will be played at the Star Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, January 22-23.

MRS. M. W. CORNETT DIES

Mrs. M. W. Cornett, 45, passed away very suddenly Wednesday evening at the family home on North 25-Mile Avenue, before a physician could reach her. Mrs. Cornett had been ill in October, but seemed to have almost entirely recovered at the time of her passing. Heart trouble was thought to have been the cause of her death. The Cornett family came here from Pampa about two and a half years ago and purchased the place of their present residence. Mrs. Cornett is survived by her husband, seven sons and three daughters. Funeral services will be held at the Christian church Friday afternoon and interment will be at West Park Cemetery.

Jacob J. Kropff Dies At Home Last Saturday

Jacob J. Kropff, 61, passed away last Saturday evening at 740 in the home north of town about two miles on 25-Mile Avenue. He had been ill the past two years, having had several major operations here and in Amarillo. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church the following day and the remains were laid to rest in the local city cemetery.

Mr. Kropff leaves his wife, five sons, Joe and Clarence, Amarillo; John, Carl and Charlie, who reside at home; a daughter, Mrs. Russell Hunter, Borger; two brothers, John of Mulohoe, and Edward of Talmadge, Kansas; also three sisters in Kansas and another sister in Wyoming. Those who attended the funeral services from out of town were Joe and Clarence Kropff, and John Kropff. The friends here were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Slay, all of Amarillo.

Mr. Kropff was born in Bloomington, Ill., where he spent his boyhood days, later moving to Kansas, and then to Amarillo where he was engaged in the hotel business. Mr. Kropff and family came to Herford about six years ago and purchased the Dunn irrigated farm north of town, their present home. Mr. Kropff and sons successfully engaged in farming on their irrigated farm and remained active in the work until he was stricken about two years ago, when he turned his farming interest over to his sons. He had a host of friends in Herford and the surrounding community.
