UFO revelation is earthshaking

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Some UFO sightings may actually be "earthquake lights" - glowing globes of electricity the size of a basketball, a scientist

John S. Derr, a U.S. Geological Survey geophysicist in Albuquerque, N.M., said he believes the lights are generated by rock movements or groundwater flow changes as underground stress accumulates in the months before an earthquake.

"The Earth is much stranger than we give it credit for," he said by telephone from Santa Fe, N.M., where he presented his findings Tuesday during a meeting of the Seismological Society of America.

Most reports of unidentified flying objects turn out to be sightings of real objects such as planets, satellites, meteorites or planes. Derr said his study suggests many other UPO sightings also have a natural explanation.

He found that dozens of UFO sightings in New Mexico in 1951 and 1952 were clustered within 60 miles of the epicenters of three quakes that measured 4 to 5 on the Richter scale and occurred less than a year

Derr's study "is interesting and I'm cautiously supportive," said Kendrick Frazier, editor of the Skeptical Inquirer, a magazine that frequently debunks UFO reports. "I think he's possibly got something. I hope additional people analyze the data to see how well it stands up.

There is not a lot of hard evidence to support it, but I would definitely not rule it out," said Jim Mori, a Geological Survey seismologist in Pasadena. Moris said there is growing evidence that underground stress generates radio signals before some quakes, and a similar phenomenon may explain reports of quake lights.

Derr said quake lights have been reported for years in Japan and China, in Washington state's Cascade Range, in Missouri and other states near the New Madrid fault zone, and near oil fields in Texas. "The typical report is an orange ball of light, although some are blue-white and some tend toward greenish," he said. "They just float along through the air. ... Some people feel spooked. Some people feel awed.' The study used a computerized list of UFO sightings reported throughout

New Mexico. Derr eliminated sightings with obvious explanations such as satellites and planets. He also eliminated outlandish reports, such as people claiming close encounters with aliens or spaceships.

That left about 150 reports of UFOs resembling what is known as ball lightning. Derr found about 80 of the 150 sightings clustered in time and location around the epicenters of quakes that occurred near Tucumcari on June 20, 1951, near Carlsbad on May 22, 1952, and near Los Alamos on Aug. 17, 1952.

"The sightings tended to get closer to the future epicenters as the time of the quakes approached," he said. Martha Savage, a research seismologist at the University of Nevada at Reno, said she was skeptical Derr's correlation between UFO sightings and impending quakes is anything more than coincidence. The theory that pre-quake stresses can cause earthquake lights "is not well-accepted at this point," she added. Derr speculated that changes in groundwater flow before and during quakes generate electrical charges, creating quake lights in places where rock layers let electricity escape to the surface.

Arms, air link embargo takes effect Governments asked to expel Libyan diplomats, too

U.N.-imposed embargo of air links and weapons sales to Libya took effect today to pressure Col. Moammar Gadhafi to hand over suspects in the bombing of Pan Am Flight 103. His government said Arabs will "kneel to no one" but Allah.

The U.N. sanctions, approved by the Security Council March 31, also called on nations to expel most Libyan diplomats. In one of the first concrete steps against Libya today, Japan asked a diplomat at the Libyan Embassy in Tokyo to leave the country.

Arab states in the region, which had complained about the sanctions, were nonetheless complying.

flights. Air France grounded a Friday flight.

The sanctions do not include what would be the most crippling measure - a boycott of Libya's vital oil sales. But both the United States and Britain said an oil embargo was under consideration.

Secretary of State James A. Baker III also noted that the United States and its allies had gone to war with Iraq last year to ensure its compliance with U.N. resolutions.

At the United Nations, the Security Council's first discussions on enforcing the sanctions were to be held today.

The United Nations demands Libya turn over two men indicted for flight over Lockerbie, Scotland, which killed 270 people. It also says Libya must prove it has renounced terrorism and cooperate with France in the investigation of four other Libyans suspected in the 1989 bombing of a French airliner that killed 171 people. France on Tuesday confirmed that it has asked Libya to extradite two Palestinians suspected of participating in the 1988 attack against the Greek ferry, City of Poros, in which nine people died.

Gadhafi's offers to have the suspects surrender to a neutral foreign country have not been enough to satisfy Washington, London or Paris. "The U.S. will do what it wants.

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) - A Morocco and Jordan today canceled the 1988 bombing of the Pan Am We are not afraid even if there is an attack," said Selma Ily, a schoolteacher who joined at least 5,000 Libyans Tuesday night at a Tripoli stadium to cheer nationalistic poetry readings.

Libya had what amounted to a one-day rehearsal for the sanctions Tuesday, canceling all flights to and from the country to mourn in isolation the anniversary of a U.S. bombing raid.

Libya says 41 people, including Gadhafi's adopted daughter, were killed when U.S. fighters raided Tripoli and Benghazi in 1986. The raids were revenge for a bombing in Berlin that killed a U.S. soldier and a Turkish woman.

The Libyan Foreign Ministry issued a statement commemorating the anniversary and referring obliquely to the current standoff: "Threats can never make us take a god besides Allah and we shall not kneel except to Him."

Governments began preparing to evacuate their citizens from Libya, though some of the 1 million foreign workers - the majority Asians, but including 500 to 1,000 Americans planned to stay.

A South Korean airliner sent to bring 256 Korean workers home from Libya today was refused permission to land in Libya. South Korean officials assumed Libya refused in order to retaliate against the U.N. sanctions. South Korea had special U.N. permission to evacuate its workers by air.

Libyans seemed prepared to withstand the sanctions. Most imports come by sea or land routes not covered by the sanctions, and travelers can fly to nearby Tunisia or Malta, and from their drive or sail to Libya.

Developing nations may find it hard to reabsorb returning workers, sanctions could make Libya incapable of servicing the debt it ran up to the former Soviet Union, and Western countries risk major losses if their citizens leave and break contracts with the Libyan government.

Let you kids into kitchen

Hasty lifestyles have depopulated the American kitchen, but for both taste and health, parents would do well to begin cooking again-and let the kids help, says Julia Child.

"Helping in the kitchen is how youngsters learn to appreciate good food and good cooking," Child said. "Children as young as four or five years old can help with simple tasks such as washing and tearing lettuce for salad or setting the table. And these activities stimulate conversation and creative interest in food preparation and taste experimenta-

"Cooking at home gives us greater control over what we eat-an additional dividend for the whole family," says Child.

Our Best Friends Are Cutting Us To Pieces.

Our best friends don't always give us the best treatment. Typically, they invite us into their homes, read us like a book, take what they need from us, and put us aside to use again at thier convenience.

It's a tough existence, but we don't mind. In fact, we like it. The news, editorials, and advertising coupons clipped from our pages provide our readers with knowledge, enlightenment, even an occasional 30¢ off on breakfast cereal. We're kind of flattered that people enjoy hanging onto bits and pieces of us - sometimes for years. That's something no other local advertising medium can offer.

So, although our friends keep cutting us to pieces, we'll keep showing up at their homes. Our only request: sharp scissors and a steady hand.

'Horns answer Herd's comeback for 7-5 win

By JAY PEDEN Sports Editor

A little rain never hurt anybody, but it almost destroyed the Caprock baseball team.

Caprock had a 4-0 lead early in Tuesday game at Whiteface Field, but a 10-minute rain delay between the third and fourth innings gave Hereford a chance to regroup. The Herd scored five runs in the fourth inning to take the lead before eventually falling 7-5.

We gave it away," Herd coach T.R. Sartor said of the early Caprock lead. "Mentally, we failed to show

Sartor was talking about errors that were more of the mental variety than of the fielding variety. A high pop-up hit the ground 25 feet in front of home plate, and nobody was near it. A throw went down to second on a steal attempt and went into center field because no one was covering second. A baserunner got caught off first base by a throw from the catcher,

Champions soon to be crowned

By Saturday night, District 1-4A will have crowned individual and team champions in track, tennis and

The track and tennis district meets are Thursday and Friday--tennis in Borger and boys' and girls' track at Randall. Tennis starts at 10 a.m. both days, going until dark Thursday and until they finish Friday.

Track also starts at 10 both days with the varsity field events finals. On Thursday, there'll be boys' long jump, shot put and pole vault, and girls' high jump, triple jump and discus. They'll use the same schedule on Friday, with just the genders switched. Junior varsity events start at 11 a.m.

Running events start at 1 p.m. bour days. On Thursday they'll have preliminaries, and they'll start with the 100-/110-meter hurdles. For each event, they'll run JV girls, varsity girls, JV boys and varsity boys. Following the short hurdle race will be--in 40-minute intervals--the 100meter dash, the 400 dash, the 300 hurdles, the 200 dash and then the 3,200 run finals. On Friday, the schedule will go like this: 400 relay at 1 p.m.; 800 run at 1:15; 100/110 hurdles at 1:35; 100 dash at 1:55; 800 relay (girls only) at 2:10; 400 dash at 2:20; 300 hurdles at 2:40; 200 dash at 3; 1,600 run at 3:15; and 1,600 relay at 3:45.

Golf will finish its district rounds Saturday in Hereford at Pitman Municipal Golf Course. That is the only remaining round for the girls, but the boys also have a district round at Borger Friday. The Hereford boys are currently second, 30 strokes behind Pampa, and the Hereford girls are third, four strokes behind secondplace Pampa. They're 25 strokes behind front-runner Borger.

Only the first- and second-place teams advance to the regional tournament.

Rain sprinkled on Whiteface Field at times in the first few innings, and when a light shower started, umpires called a temporary halt to the game.

When play resumed, Hereford found a spark. Kyle Hansen started the inning with a walk, then with one out, Jerry Rincon doubled into the left field gap. Hansen scored from third on Richard Sanderson's grounder to short, and Rincon came home and Sanderson reached on shortstop Michael Gallegos' error.

Michael Campos hit a long shot down the left field line which inning on a leadoff single and a twobounced over the fence for a ground-and ended up safe at second by pure third. Rene Cano knocked in reached when his pop fly fell halfway Sanderson with a single up the middle, and Cano snuck into second when the cutoff man held the ball while looking at Campos on third. With two outs, Ramos grounded to second, but Jeremy Reyes' throwing error allowed Ramos to reach and Campos and Cano to score.

That gave Hereford a 5-4 lead. The tone of the game seemed to improve from there on for Hereford, despite the fact that Caprock came back to win. That's because Hereford did not play well in the first two innings.

Caprock scored once in the first out double. The bad play started in rule double, stopping Sanderson at the second, when Jason Ornelas between the pitching mound and home plate. Ramon Campos followed with a single, then David Vasquez chased them both home with a triple that fell in front of left fielder Hansen then bounced unusually high and over him. Tony Goodman singled home Vasquez.

He stole second, and the throw split shortstop Cano and second baseman Fonzie Enriquez, both of whom were late getting to the bag. After Goodman went on to third, Sartor, apparently fed up, took Enriquez from the game.

Goodman was left at third as Ramos, the Herd's starting pitcher,

After Hereford took the lead, Caprock was able to tie it up in the top of the fifth. Caprock's clean-up hitter, Joe Gray singled and went to second on Paul Buentello's single. Ornelas grounded to second baseman Ralph Holguin, who flipped to Cano for one, and Hereford just missed a double play. With men on first and third, Ornelas tried to steal second. Herd catcher Michael Campos, thinking double steal, threw down to third but Sanderson couldn't get to the throw. Gray scored easily to make

Caprock broke the tie in the sixth. Ramos walked the first two batters of the inning, and Sammy Casarez relieved him. Reyes laid down a beautiful bunt to sacrifice the runners to second and third. Pat Sena followed with double to the right field

Hereford got one base-runner in the sixth inning but Campos, who reached on an error, was stranded. Caprock starter David Vasquez wrapped up the complete game win by retiring the Whitefaces in order in the seventh.

Ramos, who got the loss, pitched pretty well--despite giving up all seven runs (five earned).

"I thought he was pitching really well," Sartor said. "He got hurt by our failure to execute. He definitely pitched well enough to win. I thought it was his best pitching performance this year."

Hereford falls to 1-3 in District 1-4A and stands 4-14-2 overall. Caprock improves to 10-7 and 3-1 for a firstplace tie in the district. Randall and Dumas are also 3-1 after wins Tuesday: Randall 5-3 over Pampa and Dumas 10-0 over Borger. Pampa and Dumas are both 1-3.

Kansas City's eighth-inning rally after being no-hit for seven innings by Ron Darling was not exactly inspiring. It was effective enough.

The host Royals scratched out their runs in the eighth on three sacrifices, two wild pitches, an error and their only hit of the night.

'It was strange, but we'll take it," Hal McRae said.

Keith Miller grounded to deep shortstop and beat Mike Bordick's throw to the bag for the only Kansas City hit. A's manager Tony LaRussa then brought in Rick Honeycutt, who threw wildly to first on Chris Gwynn's sacrifice bunt. Terry Shumpert then laid down another sacrifice, but Honeycutt's throw to third was late, loading the bases.

Miller and Gwynn then sped across the plate on consecutive wild pitches. The Royals finally got the ball out of the infield when Gregg Jefferies scored Shumpert with a sacrifice fly.

A man who played for the Yankees in eight World Series - all on winning teams - was outfielder Tommy Henrich. His book, "Five O'Clock Lightning" (Birch Lane, $19.95) tells about his career with "Ruth, Gehrig, DiMaggio, Mantle and the Glory Years of the NY Yankees."

Baseball writing abounds in "Writing Baseball" (University of Illinois, $28.95 hardcover, $11.95 paperback), edited by Jerry Klinkowitz. Also from the University of Illinois Press comes "You Know Me Al" ($9.95 paperback), a new edition of Ring W. Lardner's first fiction and only novel. Its six chapters, containing letters from a bush-leaguer to Al Blanchard, his friend back home, originally appeared in 1914 as separate articles in the Saturday Evening Post.

Year after year, as the Brooklyn Dodgers came agonizingly close to becoming champions, the lament "Wait 'til next year" had been a source of comfort among perpetually disappointed Dodger fans. "This Is Next Year" (Ballantine-Available, $9 paperback) by Philip Goldberg is the story of a young Brooklyn fan who, in 1955, finally gets to see his team win a World Series.

I've used Nair report can send $3 with a long, and shaved, which has only made it worse. I've had no medical problems. I'm still very young. Is this something I'm going to have to live with, or do I have some options?

DEAR READER: Women have as much or more hair on their faces as men. The fine hair is essentially invisible. At puberty, the high testosterone levels in males cause the fine hair shaft to lengthen and become coarse, producing the male beard. Since females do not have that high level of testosterone, the facial hair remains about like it was before puberty. Then at the time of the menopause, the hormone balance in the female is altered and the invisible hair or fuzz becomes more promi-

Inherited characteristics are important. Some ethnic groups in particular are prone to more prominent body hair, such as hair on the legs and arms, than others. Visible hair on the upper lip is common.

It is now believed that hormones, added to the genetic pattern, are the cause. Increased levels of free testosterone have been identified with more sophisticated tests. Just measuring the total testosterone in the blood is not sufficient to determine the cause. This is the basis for using spironolactone (Aldactone), commonly used to treat high blood pressure. It has an anti-androgen (anti-male-hormone) action. Cyproterone acetate is also used because it blocks the binding of and I am not. dihydrotestosterone to hair follicle

The guideline also define a drink as 12 ounces of regular beer, 5 ounce so wine, or 1.5 ounces of 80-proof distilled beverages. Although it is one of the deadliest cancers among women, ovarian cancer can be successfully treated if detected in its earliest stages. For this reason, it is important to have yearly pelvic and rectal exams by a doctor to check for abnormalities of the ovary.

Ovarian cancer is most common in women over 50, especially white women. Factors that appear to increase the risk of this disease include being childless; having a history of infertility; having a strong family history of ovarian cancer; or having previous cancer of the breast, endometrium or colon.

Often, cancer of the ovary produces no symptoms. When symptoms do occur, they may include vague discomfort in the pelvic region; ndigestion, gas and bloating; or pain during sexual intercourse. Abnormal bleeding and abdominal pain and swelling also may be signs of ovarian cancer. Frequently, however, these symptoms are signs of other conditions. The pelvic and rectal exam is the first step in the diagnosis of this cancer. If the doctor discovers a suspicious lump or abnormality, he or she may want to do an ultrasound exam, a test using sound waves to create pictures of the internal organs key on Easter hams and eggs, but because the holiday comes late this year, consumers also will find good bargains in early vegetables.

The headliner for most Easter advertising will be ham," said Dr. Dick Edwards, food marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

"Not only will consumers get a wide choice, but the prices will be very, very low," he said. "Hog prices are about 40 percent lower this month than they were a year ago."

The lowest-priced hams, running 89 to 99 cents per pound, will be the cured, water-added, bone-in variety, Edwards said. Whole fresh hams will be priced in the same range. Boneless canned hams will be available at prices from $1.80 per pound for 5pound tins.

Shoppers looking for meat alternatives will not be disappointed with poultry and beef prices also declining. Both are selling 10 percent lower than their peak last they were at Thanksgiving, but the they will run between 59 and 79 cents per pound," he said. national brands will command the higher prices.

Shoppers also should find specials on rib roasts and whole loin roasts, both of which will be marked down at least 30 percent, he said.

Eggs will be another "hot" items for Easter adds.

Volume has dropped with the growing popularity of plastic eggs for easter egg hunts, but the demand is sufficient to make the holiday number one in egg sales," Edwards said. Prices for eggs are down about 25 percent from last Easter.

"Egg producers usually hope for a price spurt at Easter time due to the tremendous demand, but it will not happen this year," he said.

Low initial prices plus the use of eggs as a "loss leader" in market advertising will result usually great reductions. The lowest prices will be for the medium-sized eggs, which some aggressive retailers will sell at 49 cents per dozen, he said.

The lateness of Easter this year presents a unique marketing opportunity for fresh produce he said, Because numerous varieties will reach stores in time for the holiday.

Strawberries will top the produce specials at 49 cents per pint through-

April supermarket specials will feature shortcakes, pie shells, and whipped cream toppings.

A mild winter with adequate rain has provided ideas growing conditions, and there will be plenty of berries at prices lower than n the past tow years," he said.

Green beans, broccoli, artichokes, asparagus, green peas, and bell peppers have been in the market for several months, but supplies have been limited. Production in April will expand and prices will drop, Edwards

Making their first appearance for the year in the produce section will be sweet corn, okra, egg plant, "sweet" onions, and -- late in the month -- vine-ripened tomatoes

"April is a very good month for citrus because the grapefruit and oranges have reached full maturity and is sweet and plentiful," the economist said.

April also marks the end of the Chilean produce season. The best value for Chilean fruit during the month will be grapes with sale prices of 79 to 85 cents per pound, he said.

Passover will not be overlooked, "Turkeys will not be as cheap as Edwards said. Meats most aggressively marked down will be kosher turkeys and chickens. Other traditional foods also will be discounted.

Peanut butter should be cheaper this spring because the 1991 crop was about 40 percent greater than the previous year's drought-stricken

"This will help consumers feeling the economic pinch," he said. "Peanut butter sales usually increase because it's cheaper than other sources of protein.

New roasted honey peanut better and low-sugar, low-slat varieties will appear on store shelves this spring -the first major change in peanut butter marketing in two decades.

With the coming of the fresh fruit and vegetables season, manufacturers of caned and frozen goods will be scrabbling to reduce inventories, he

"Tomatoes lead a list of products that have an unseasonably excessive inventory."

All kinds of tomatoes -- whole, stewed, paste and sauce -- will be marked for reduction. Canned green beans, beets and carrots also will go on sale.

Among frozen foods, prices on peas, broccoli, cut corn and lima beans will

> CARMEL, N.Y. (AP) - Talk show host Sally Jessy Raphael has moved to sue the county over the auto accident that critically injured her 19-year-old son.

> Raphael filed legal papers last week alleging Putnam County and the villege of Putnam Valley failed to provide proper guardrails or shoulders or to post speed limits along the road where Jason Soderlund crashed Jan. 11.

> "Jason's accident wasn't the first. She wants the county to put lights and signs on the road," said Raphael's spokeswoman, Cindy Schneider.

> Putnam Valley Police Chief William Carlos said the cause of the crash has not been determined.

Raphael's daughter, Allison Vladimir, 33, died of a drug overdose in February.
