Commissioners hammer out self-insurance plan

By KAY PECK
Staff Writer

Concern for the well being of county employees was repeatedly the deciding factor in determining health care benefits during a Deaf Smith County Commission meeting on Monday.

Commissioners worked with Rick Holder, a representative of S and R Benefits, in organizing detailed coverage in a self-funded medical insurance plan. The plan was approved by commissioners on Sept. 19, and will go into effect as of Oct. 1.

Decisions were needed on numerous details before a final health plan could be composed. One major consideration in Monday's meeting was the setting of premiums.

The supplemental payments made by employees to cover dependants will remain the same as they were during the past year. Those rates are $234 per month for a family, $173.58 per month for a spouse and $83.41 per month for children.

The amount to be paid by the county to fund coverage for the employee will show a marked increase. Last year, the premium per employee was $113.51 each month. Under the new plan, the county will set aside $152 every month for each employee.

Both the county and employees with dependent coverage should see a substantial savings as a result of the new health plan compared to the policy now in effect. Blue Cross-Blue Shield (the company which currently covers county employees) recently notified the county of a substantial rate increase. If officials had decided to stay with this coverage, per month premiums would have increased to $197.96 for the employee, $409.67 for a family, $302.72 for a spouse and $145.47 for children.

Under the self-insured program, instead of paying premiums to an insurance company, the county will deposit the funds into a special holding account. A small premium ($30.71 per month per employee) will be paid to S and R Benefits for catastrophic coverage and the rest will be used to pay claims.

"This is not county money. I want to make that explicitly clear," Holder said.

Funds in the insurance account must be used to provide employee coverage.

Holder served as an expert guide for commissioners as they made detailed decisions concerning the writing of a self-insured policy. For the most part, commissioners decided to retain the coverage currently in effect. Members of the commission expressed concern that financial realities may eventually change that policy.

"I think in the future, it may be impossible for us to offer some of the coverage we have now," Judge Tom Simons said.

For the moment, at least, county employees can expect to receive roughly the same level of coverage which they received during the past year from Blue Cross-Blue Shield. This includes an agreement for prescriptions in which employees will pay $5 per prescription for name brand drugs and $3 per prescription for generic drugs. The county's insurance will pay the remainder.

There will be a change from existing coverage in that a prescription card will not be available. Instead, S and R Benefits plans to contract directly with local pharmacies. Employees will use their insurance cards as identification when purchasing prescription drugs.

The county commission's decision to retain this type of prescription coverage went contrary to a recommendation made by Holder. The S and R Benefits representative had suggested that prescriptions be made subject to the $300 deductible with employees paying 20 percent and insurance coverage paying 80 percent above that amount.

"This is going to cost us. I don't want anyone to be deceived," Judge Simons said to commissioners.

He was referring to greatly increased claims which will be paid because prescriptions are not subject to a deductible.

Prescription coverage was not the only instance in which commissioners decided against Holder's recommendations and in favor of the employee. The most dramatic example came in a discussion over hospice care. Holder recommended that commissioners drop the current $20,000 ceiling to $10,000.

"You only go into a hospice when you're terminally ill, and if you're terminally ill, you don't need to be spending $20,000," Holder said.

"You've developed kind of a cold attitude when you're paying the bills," Commissioner Troy Don Moore (Precinct 3) responded.

"I don't much think I'd want to cut that (hospice care coverage)," said Commissioner John Stribling (Precinct 1).

Commissioners decided to leave the hospice care coverage with a $20,000 ceiling.

Several hours were spent studying and deciding on numerous aspects of health care coverage. In the end, the commissioners and their expert advisor formed a policy which is very similar to current coverage.

"We can make amendments to the plan at any time," Holder reminded commissioners.

He suggested that the policy be reviewed after it has been in place a few months to see if any changes are needed.

In other business, commissioners approved a number of line item changes and fund transfers to the current 1988-1989 budget.

"We're just shuffling money," County Auditor Alex Schroeter said.

Computer programming support for county offices was the subject of extended discussion.

"Hart Graphics finally contacted us and let us know they were getting out of the software support business," County Clerk David Ruland said.

Hart Graphics currently holds the contract with Deaf Smith County to provide computer software service. County officials had learned of the company's intentions through unofficial sources sometime back.

"It's my personal opinion that we have not gotten what we paid for at all," Ruland said.

In their notification to the county, Hart Graphics stated that they were turning over their software support contracts to Bob Thompson of Brownwood. They suggested that the county use Thompson in fulfilling the remainder of the existing agreement.

Elected officials from a number of county offices indicated that they were willing to work with Thompson on a trial basis. There was a general reluctance to charge software in order to go with another company because of the time invested in installing and learning the use of programs already in place.

"If he (Thompson) can't handle it, we need to get our money back," one official said.

It was decided to instruct District Attorney Roland Saul to contact Hart Graphics. He is to negotiate for a trial period for Thompson and a possible cash settlement to the county if this arrangement does not prove to be adequate.

Commissioners also decided to set public hearings on Oct. 9, for discussions of both a county septic tank order and the signed identification of county roads.

A request for permission to cross a county road in Precinct 1 with an electric line was approved by commissioners.

UWDSC reaches 22% of goal

The campaign for the 1990 United Way of Deaf Smith County has only reached 22 percent of its goal after two weeks, but the good news is that only 198 prospect cards out of 2,000 have been returned.

In a report meeting Monday at noon at the Ranch House, campaign chairman Dr. Trow Mims announced that contributions and pledges now total $27,446, or 22 percent of the $125,000 goal.

Volunteers are divided into 10 divisions, and the Major Division has brought in the most contributions ($6,751), while the Special Division has reached the best percentage of its goal, 63%. The Golden Age division ranks next with 47% of its goal reached.

Three more businesses have attained the "fair share" or 100% of employees participating. They are Dr. Milton Adams, Thompson

Abstract, and West Texas Rural Telephone. George Warner Seed was previously listed.

Other contribution or pledge totals, by divisions: Pacesetters $3,800; Corporate Gifts $2,080; Agricultural $1,805; Metro $1,757; Professional $1,215; Whiteface East $686; and Whiteface West $554. The campaign staff will meet again next Monday at noon for another weekly report meeting.

Drug plan agreement reached

WASHINGTON (AP) - Senate Democrats, reaching for advantage in the politically charged war on drugs, seek today to finalize a tentative agreement with the Bush administration to boost the president's anti-drug plan by $900 million.

"The American people wanted more than the president requested, and this gets more," Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., told reporters in outlining the plan Monday night. "It's not a final solution, but it's a good first step toward fighting the war on drugs."

The agreement, subject to final approval by a handful of key senators who were returning to Washington today, would raise to $8.8 billion the anti-drug funds for the fiscal year that begins Oct. 1. It includes an across-the-board cut of about 0.43 percent in other federal programs to pay for the stepped-up drug war.

Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., the chief negotiator for Senate Republicans, said the White House had agreed to the plan in general terms.

Bush was traveling Monday and had not analyzed the details of the proposed agreement, said White House spokesman Roman Popadiuk. But if it proves consistent with news reports, "then it may form a basis on which we may proceed," Popadiuk said.

The accord was expected to break a two-week logjam keeping four major spending bills from final Senate passage; transportation; foreign aid; veterans, housing and space; and labor, health and education.

But it appeared impossible for Congress to pass in time all of the 13 spending bills needed to keep the government running after Sept. 30, and the House was expected today to approve a 25-day stopgap spending measure. The bill would continue the flow of cash to federal programs at current levels.

The compromise anti-drug figure would be $900 million more than Bush sought in his Sept. 5 speech to the nation, and $3.1 billion more than is being spent on anti-drug programs in the current fiscal year. Congressional Democrats had criticized Bush's request as too little to make headway against the drug scourge.

Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell, D-Maine, said the agreement would "substantially improve the president's drug package," and added he was "gratified that the administration has agreed to support necessary funding for the drug program."

While the compromise figure went a little less than halfway toward the $2.2 billion increase Byrd originally proposed, nearly all of the increase - $800 million - would be devoted to drug treatment, education and prevention programs that Democrats said were most seriously underfunded in Bush's outline.

Hatfield sought to minimize any Democratic advantage from the accord by pointing to Bush's leadership in proposing the anti-drug package in the first place.

"This is a bipartisan war," Hatfield said, adding that he expected many Senate Republicans to support the compromise package. "The Democrats don't have any greater degree of support for the drug war than the Republicans."

Poll: Bush will up taxes

NEW YORK (AP) - Three of four Americans believe President Bush will ask Congress for a tax increase despite his campaign pledge that he would not raise taxes, according to a poll published today.

The New York Times-CBS News poll also found resounding approval for the way Bush is handling his job.

The poll found that 73 percent believe Bush will request a tax increase during the next four years. The percent finding is the same as in a Times-CBS poll in January.

The poll indicated that 69 percent of the public generally approves of Bush's job performance and 18 percent disapproves.

The poll also indicated that -79 percent believe Bush will be able to maintain good relations with the Soviet Union.

-51 percent think Bush will not reduce the drug problem significantly.

-54 percent think the environment will not improve significantly.

-57 percent believe he will improve education.

The poll, based on telephone interviews with 1,347 adults nationwide from Sept. 17 to Sept. 20, had margin of error of plus or minus 3 points.

While most of the poll was good news for the president, the same was not true for Vice President Dan Quayle.

Only 13 percent had a favorable view of Quayle, with 19 percent had an unfavorable opinion of him. About 45 percent said they knew too little about Quayle to form an opinion about him.

Coplen is winner

Greg Coplen of Hereford missed just three games and was closest to the Estacado-Hereford tie-breaker to claim the top prize in last week's Hereford Brand Football Contest.

Coplen will receive $25 in Hereford Bucks for his efforts.

Robert Gamez also only missed three games but was off a little on the tie-breaker. Gamez will claim the $15 second prize.

Valentin Zamora also missed just three games but was off on the tie-breaker. Zamora will get $10 in Hereford Bucks.

There were nine contestants who missed four games and 15 who missed just five games. There were 167 total entries in last week's contest.

The games for this week's contest are in today's Brand.

King benefit set

A gurney relay race competition to benefit Holly King of Hereford will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Amarillo Medical Center at Ninth and Wallace Blvd. in Amarillo.

Holly was injured last June 13 in a near-drowning incident at the Medipark in Amarillo. She underwent three months of medical care and rehabilitation. Holly returned home last week, but she will face much more rehabilitation and other medical needs and expenses.

The competition will be on a mile-long fairly flat course with three person teams of one rider and two pushers. There will be three teams in each heat with heats matched as closely as possible to age and coed combinations on the teams.

The entry fee is $10 per person, and all proceeds will benefit Holly. Certificates will be awarded to the winners in each heat, and door prizes will be given. The fee may be paid upon registration beginning at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Center in Amarillo. Each contestant must sign a waiver of liability, and parents or guardians must sign that waiver for minors.

Local Roundup

Incidents investigated

A lawn mower and a truck jack, together worth about $190, were taken in a theft northwest of Hereford reported to the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office over the weekend.

A boy, 14, was reportedly kicked in the leg and side by a man, 28, during a dispute investigated by the Hereford Police Department on Monday. The youth was also allegedly slapped by the man's mother. Assault charges are pending in city court.

A case of criminal mischief reported in the 300 block of Bradley St. resulted in approximately $150 in damage to that home. The damage in that incident came in the form of broken windows.

Other incidents investigated by county officers were: Theft of livestock (a pig) reported near the city landfill; a case of credit card abuse reported by a local business; a case of criminal non-support; burglary of a habitation at a location north of town off Progressive Road with two microwave ovens taken in that theft; and a burglary of a building south of town with stolen property including a welder valued at $80.

Other incidents investigated by the Hereford Police Department were: A family disturbance on East Dairy Road; criminal mischief in the 800 block of East Park Ave.; apparent domestic violence in the 300 block of Adelito Calle with no charges filed; harassing phone calls in the 200 block of Ave. C; theft of $25 worth of gas in the 400 block of East First St.; report of an open door in the 100 block of South Lawton St. with nothing found to be missing;

Charges were filed in a case of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle in the 400 block of McKinley St.; domestic violence in the 600 block of West Second St. with no charges filed; a theft of items valued at approximately $100 in the 200 block of North Texas; an assault in the 200 block of Ave. B with charges pending; harassing phone calls in the 400 block of Ave. H; burglary of a residence in the 200 block of Ave. H with items stolen valued at $10;

Burglary of a pickup reportedly took place in the Hereford High School parking lot; burglary of a car in the 500 block of 25 Mile Ave.; possible burglary of a residence in the 800 block of Brevard St.; suspicious person in the 100 block of Aspen St.; disorderly conduct in the 800 block of Grand with no charges filed; a disturbance involving two juvenile males at a convenience store in the 500 block of South 25 Mile Ave.;

Criminal mischief with damage to an automobile windshield in the 700 block of Irving St.; burglary of a residence in the 100 block of Ave. A; and a disturbance involving a juvenile male who was allegedly trespassing reported in the 400 block of Gracey Street.

City police issued 68 citations and investigated four minor traffic accidents.

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department responded to one call.

Eleven arrested

Ten persons were arrested by the Hereford Police Department over the weekend and on Monday. The arrests included a man, 22, for no driver's license, no liability insurance and on a warrant for minor in consumption of alcohol; a man, 28, for no liability insurance (second offense); a woman, 19, for no driver's license, not wearing a seat belt and on a warrant for theft by check; a man, 23, for no liability insurance (second offense);

A man, 27, for public intoxication and fighting in public; a woman, 21, for public intoxication and fighting in public; a man, 19, for no liability insurance (second offense); a woman, 33, for theft; a man, 26, for public intoxication; and a man, 23, for assault in connection with alleged domestic violence, evading arrest, resisting arrest and terroristic threat.

The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office arrested one man, 51, for a commitment on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Freshman parents meet today

Parents of all freshman students at Hereford High School will meet at 7 p.m. today at the HHS auditorium.

All parents of ninth graders are urged to attend this important meeting to plan for the class supper and other activities.

Clear forecast

Tonight will be clear with a low of 45. South winds will be 5-10 mph.

Wednesday will be sunny with a high of 78. East winds will be 10-15 mph.

This morning's low at KPAN was 43 after a high Monday of 78.

Apple tree planting

Second grade students of Pene Coplen and Jane Jackson at Tierra Blanca Primary School in Hereford help plant an apple tree Monday, commemorating the birthday of "Johnny Appleseed." The students also planted apple seeds they had collected. The teachers hope the students learn the importance of conservation, some new vocabulary words and scientific facts, and some economic responsibility: they will have to pay the bill for the tree.

Applications available for area poster child contest

As part of observance of National Epilepsy Month, High Plains Epilepsy Association is sponsoring an area poster child contest. Any child between the ages of 10-14 who has epilepsy and lives in the Texas Panhandle is eligible to enter. A winner will be selected at a banquet at Dyers Barbeque, Oct. 21.

The winner will be selected by a panel of judges who will base their decision on the child's participation in school, extra-curricular activities, and the ability to meet people and discuss epilepsy. The purpose of the contest is to demonstrate that most children with epilepsy, with proper treatment and counseling, can live normal lives.

The winner will represent High Plains Epilepsy Association at various functions throughout the year. The winner and one parent will journey to Austin to see the state capital. Airline tickets will be donated by Travel Quest of Amarillo.

On July 20, 1969, Apollo XI astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin became the first men to set foot on the moon. Armstrong stepped onto the lunar surface and said, "That's one small step for a man, one giant leap for mankind." Aldrin followed and said, "Beautiful, beautiful. Magnificent desolation."

For an application to enter the contest please call High Plains Epilepsy Association at 372-3891. All applications must be completed by Oct. 16.

High Plains Epilepsy Association is a United Way agency.

Here's a list of foods that help lower cholesterol

NEW YORK (AP) - Oat bran is not alone in helping to lower cholesterol. Soon rice bran, barley, legumes - even carrots - may be the latest additions to the list of cholesterol-fighting foods.

There's nothing unique about oat bran's ability to lower cholesterol, says Robyn Flipse, a contributor to the Environmental Nutrition newsletter. "It's the soluble fiber in oat bran that works to reduce cholesterol, and soluble fiber is easy to find," she says.

RICE BRAN: Adding rice bran to the diet may help reduce cholesterol levels. Rice bran is unique in that it contains only one-half the soluble fiber of oat bran, yet lowers cholesterol just as much.

BEAN CUISINE: Eating dried beans, peas and lentils can help lower blood cholesterol levels.

"Bon Voyage Cruise" held in Braddy home

The first meeting of the Hereford Study Club was a "Bon Voyage Cruise" held Thursday, Sept. 21 in the home of Willie Braddy. Members came dressed in nautical attire. Outdoor dinner tables were decorated in keeping with the theme.

Hostesses for the meeting were Gracie Shaw, Inez Witherspoon, Virginia Winget and club President Doris Bryant.

Each member voted to donate $10 in lieu of having a club project.

Gladys Setliff read correspondence from United Way requesting donations; Senior Citizens, financial support for building expansion; and Friends of the Library, encouraging book donations and attendance at their upcoming book fair Oct. 14-15. Jean Ballard suggested a committee review the requests and other considerations. Braddy suggested that the public welfare committee study various projects and bring their recommendation before the club.

Club members wrote get-well notes to be sent to Barbara Allen, who is awaiting a liver transplant in Dallas. Gracie Shaw presented the yearbook.

Members present, in addition to hostesses, were Helen Spinks, Bessie Story, Joan Yarbra, Setliff, Morgan Cain, Mildred Garrison, Mary Story, Jean Ballard, Elizabeth Cesar, Nedra Robinson, Betty Gilbert and Virginia Winget.

Brunch held Thursday in R.W. Eades' home

Bay View Study Club opened the club year, Thursday, Sept. 21, with a brunch in the home of Mrs. R.W. Eades.

Hostesses were members of the social committee: MMes. N.C. Hays, Milton Rudder, Wes Fisher, Don Graham, and Alton Frasher.

The serving table was centered with an apple "tree", and autumn flowers were used throughout the house.

Following the brunch, President, Mrs. J.A. Burran, conducted a business meeting. She welcomed

Mrs. Paul Scott as a new member of Bay View and Mrs. Charlie Bell as a guest.

A surprise to members was the announcement that a $25 War Savings Bond had come to light. It had been purchased in 1944 by Bay View to help the war effort for $18.75 and is now worth $105. (The bonds do not pay interest after 40 years.) Mrs. Bob Wilson was president of the club at that time.

Mrs. Austin Rose, program chairman, presented the new yearbooks and gave an overview of the programs. The theme for the year is "DEJA VU". The next meeting will be Oct. 5 with Dr. Stephen McElroy speaker, in the home of Mrs. Ernest Langley.

Members present for the brunch were: MMes. J.R. Allison, Dudley Bayne, Burran, Eades, Fisher, Fraser, N.C. Hays, M.M. Morrow, Rose, Rudder, Abel Ruga, Scott, Howard Gault, and Jack Gililland.

Rush party planned Oct. 3

Alpha Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met in the home of Nan Gauthreaux with Alene Tindel as co-hostess, Tuesday, Sept. 19.

Committee reports were given and area convention for Oct. 28-29 in Vernon was discussed.

A rush party will be held Oct. 3 in the home of Karen Carter at Dimmitt.

Secret sisters names were revealed and thank yous were in given.

Refreshments were served to Lynda Brown, Karren Ruland, Murlene Streun, Virginia Jackson, Barbara Burkhalter, Carter, Phyllis Neill, Rose Marie Robinson, Gerry Taylor, Brenda Thomas and Margie Waddell.

BOBBY HEATH

Airman 1st Class Bobby R. Heath has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the community college of the Air Force.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Day of Vega.

The airman is a 1988 graduate of Sonlight Christian School, Pecos, Texas.

Pvt. Angie Garza has completed a supply course at the U.S. Army Training Center, Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the course, students received instruction in the maintenance of stock records and the procedures necessary to receive, store, issue and ship supplies and material.

Garza is the daughter of Emma Garza of 603 Grand E. Trail, Hereford, Texas.

She is a 1988 graduate of Hereford High School.

Pvt. Richard W. Holcombe has completed a tracked vehicle mechanic course at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky.

During the course, students were trained to repair engines, transmissions, and the fuel, electrical and air hydraulic systems of the Army's tracked vehicles. They also learned to perform recovery operations for abandoned, damaged, disabled or mired vehicles.

Holcombe is the grandson of Leon Murry of 219 24th St., Yuma, Ariz.

His parents, Pete and Pat Holcombe, reside at 206 16th St., Hereford, Texas.

The private is a 1988 graduate of Hereford High School.

A RARE SPECIES

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo (AP) - One of nature's most strangely-colored creatures is the okapi, a member of the giraffe family living in the Congo Valley forests.

It stands about four feet tall with an elongated neck and cream-colored face, and nose and ears either deep brown or black. Its body is reddish-brown and the legs are a creamy-white color with zebra-like stripes and bands of purple-black.

The okapi, whose forelegs look longer than its hind legs, is a shy animal that stays in remote areas.

Spikers dump Randall, lead 1-4A

The Hereford Whiteface volleyball team took sole possession Saturday of first place in District 1-4A with a 15-2, 15-12 win over Randall at the HHS Gym.

Hereford ran its district mark to 4-0 and is 16-3 on the season with the win.

In the JV match, Hereford dumped Randall 15-3, 15-9.

The spikers will visit Levelland today for matches beginning at 6:30 p.m. The Lobos are 2-2 in league play and 3-11 overall.

Against Randall, Libby Kosub racked up 12 service points with four aces and also had five digs and a stuff. Nikki Self added five points on serve including an ace and Poppy Richardson served for four points. Richardson also had a kill and two stuffs.

Jill West, Cande Robbins and Shantel Cornelius each recorded three service points for the match with all three getting an ace apiece.

Cornelius led in kills at four while Robbins had two and Krystal Sims, West and Richardson each had one.

Richardson and Robbins led with two stuffs each while Sims contributed four digs and Cornelius three.

Coach Brenda Reeh said the Randall program has developed rapidly in only its second year of competition.

"We are certainly happy to have ended the match in two games," she said. "Randall is a much improved team. They're young, but they try to do things the right way when they're on the floor."

Reeh added that the Herd's tentative play was a factor in the scoring.

"We have got to play each point to win. Sometimes we played as though we're scared to lose. Playing cautiously won't win matches for long, so we will key in on earning points this week in workouts. We can't rely on the opposition's mistakes to score points for us."

Herd JV vs. Randall

The junior varsity notched its 14th win of the year in beating Randall, 15-3, 15-9.

Jennifer Bullard led with seven points on serve with an ace while Kyanne Lindley added six points with three aces for the Herd.

Jayne Moore contributed two service points with an ace and also had a pair of kills and three digs.

"They played a good match," JV coach Lynn Gilbreath said. "Randall gave us the ball back, which let us play some."

"In the second game we had a few unforced errors, but were able to overcome those setbacks."

Randall, AHS win meet

Randall and Amarillo High took the team titles Saturday in boys' and girls' large school varsity divisions while Boys Ranch and Canyon won in small school and junior varsity divisions at the Hereford Cross Country Meet held at Veterans' Memorial Park.

Randall scored 32 points to edge Amarillo High in the large school boys' varsity race while the AHS girls won with a 68-point total.

Boys Ranch placed four runners in the top five in both small school and junior varsity boys' races to win both divisions.

Canyon took home wins in small school girls and JV divisions by placing four runners in the top 10 in the varsity race and three in the top five for the JV.

Hereford teams placed third in boys' varsity and fifth in girls' varsity while the JV squads took seventh in the girls' race and 11th in the boys'.

Top finishers for the Herd were Tim Stagner in boys' varsity and Teresa Castillo in girls' varsity. Stagner finished 14th, covering the three-mile course in 16:18. Castillo took sixth place with a 13:45 over two miles.

Netters top Dumas

The Hereford Whiteface tennis team continued its run of dominance Saturday as the Herd took a 16-2 decision at Dumas in 1-4A competition. The Herd has lost a total of three matches in its last three dual meets.

For the third straight time, the girls swept their portion of the competition as Hereford upped its district record to 3-0.

In singles matches not counted in the standings, Jason Paetzold, Donny Perales and Eric Cortez all won in straight sets for the boys while Trisha Teel and Cydney Spies won for the girls, also in straight sets. Jennifer Legate fell in an extra match to Dumas' No. 4 player, Deena Beck.

The Whitefaces host Palo Duro at 4 p.m. today in a non-district tilt and will resume district play at 1 p.m. Saturday when Estacado visits at the HHS courts.

Colorado mourns Aunese

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) - The Colorado football team, its coach and hundreds of fans bade an official goodbye to Sal Aunese, the team's starting quarterback last year and its inspiration this season.

Coach Bill McCartney and Gov. Roy Romer spoke during a memorial service on Monday for Aunese, who died on Saturday of cancer.

"His humility and his courage are something we will always remember," McCartney said in remarks to the 2,000 people who attended the 90-minute service in Macky Auditorium.

Aunese, 21, died in Denver's University Hospital Saturday night. Doctors first diagnosed him as having inoperable stomach cancer on March 30. He recently was hospitalized with breathing difficulties.

Many in the audience wept openly as McCartney praised the team of doctors who tried to help Aunese's condition deteriorated. McCartney's voice broke as he spoke to the team, seated in the first three rows.

"Perhaps never in recent history has a young man allowed a group of guys to love him like you did," McCartney said.

Romer expressed sympathy for Aunese's family and teammates, who have dedicated the 1989 season to him, and school president Gordon

Gee lauded Aunese as someone who faced his cancer battle head-on.

"His indomitable spirit shone through despite his troubles," Gee said.

At a news conference following the service, McCartney said the university would decide whether to retire Aunese's No. 8 jersey. "The subject is definitely worthy of discussion," he said.

Born Siasau Papa Aunese on May 8, 1968, in San Diego, he is survived by his parents, three brothers and three sisters, all of Oceanside, in addition to his son.

A private funeral is scheduled next Monday in San Diego.

Scott gets ace at Pitman No. 9

Rea Scott of Hereford scored a hole-in-one on No. 9 at Pitman Municipal Golf Course Sunday.

She used a 3-wood from the 150-yard tee box to get her first "ace" as a golfer. The feat was witnessed by Clarence Scott.

Rea said she went to the green and "looked all around for my ball" before deciding to check the hole. Sure enough, the ball had rolled into the cup for a hole-in-one!

What is a heart attack?

The human heart basically is a muscle that pumps blood. It has its own blood vessels, the coronary arteries, that nourish it and keep it alive.

In most cases when a heart attack occurs, fatty deposits (composed mostly of cholesterol) have lined the coronary arteries. As these deposits build up, they progressively narrow the arteries and decrease or stop the flow of blood to the heart. When there's a decreased flow of blood to the heart, the heart muscle may be damaged, but when there's a complete blockage of the flow of blood so that the heart can't get the oxygen and food it needs, a part of the heart may actually die. This is a heart attack.

A heart attack most often results when a blood clot forms in a narrowed artery and blocks the flow of blood to the part of the heart muscle supplied by that artery. Doctors call this form of heart attack a coronary thrombosis, coronary occlusion or myocardial infarction.

When a heart attack occurs, the dying part of the heart may trigger electrical activity that causes ventricular fibrillation. Ventricular fibrillation is an uncoordinated twitching that replaces the smooth, measured contractions that cause blood to be pumped to the organs of the body. In many cases, if trained medical professionals are immediately available, they can get the heart beating again by using electrical shock and/or drugs.

If the heart can be kept beating, and not too much heart muscle is damaged, small blood vessels may gradually reroute blood around the blocked arteries. This is the heart's own way of compensating for the clogged artery, and it's called collateral circulation.

The key to surviving a heart attack is promptly recognizing the warning signals and getting immediate medical attention.

How to Recognize a Heart Attack

If you feel an uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest (that may spread to your shoulders, neck or arms) and your discomfort last for two minutes or longer, you could be having a heart attack. Sweating, dizziness, fainting, nausea, a feeling of severe indigestion, or shortness of breath also may occur, although not all symptoms necessarily occur. Sharp, stabbing twinges, on the other hand, usually aren't signals of a heart attack.

When a person has these symptoms, it's natural for him or her to deny what's happening. No one wants to think that he might be having a heart attack. But before you shrug off the symptoms, it's important to know that more than 300,000 heart attack victims died before reaching the hospital last year, many of them because they refused to take their symptoms seriously.

What should you do if you think you might be having a heart attack? If you're uncomfortable for two minutes or more, call your local emergency medical service (EMS) immediately. If the EMS isn't available, get to a hospital offering emergency cardiac care as soon as possible.

Know in advance which route from home or work will take you to the hospital the quickest. You might even discuss your possible choices with your doctor. Another option is to call your local American Heart Association and ask which recognized emergency medical service and hospitals cover your area. Keep emergency information where you can find it easily and develop a "buddy system" with someone you know.

Recovery and Rehabilitation

When people are hospitalized because of a heart attack, they often become depressed and anxious about whether they'll be able to resume full physical, social, professional and sexual activities. Usually there's no cause for worry. Unless the heart attack was extremely severe, most heart attack victims in time and with the proper care can function as well as they did before their heart attack.

COLORFUL SCIENCE

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) - Science is filled with color.

Fusion scientists at the University of Rochester use crystals to break a high-power laser beam into several beams of slightly different wave lengths, or colors. When the beams converge, they produce more uniform illumination.

With this process scientists are able to nearly eliminate variation in the illumination of one tiny target pellet of fusion fuel.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm involved with my sister's husband. We had an affair before they married and decided to continue -- discreetly of course.

The only reason "Mel" married my sister, was because he felt sorry for her. She has been through some rough times -- abortions, attempted suicides, health problems, etc., etc. They have been married for seven years and I've been seeing him for eight.

I had a beautiful little girl by Mel, but nobody knows that he is the father. I love this man and he loves me. I know Mel wants to marry me, but he doesn't want to hurt my sister. Their marriage is empty (no sex) and her health is so poor he has to wait on her hand and foot. He is afraid to ask for a divorce for fear she will try to commit suicide again.

How can I get the man I love? Please make up a name for me -- Anonymous

DEAR ANONYMOUS: The name I have in mind for you could not be printed in the newspaper.

The best thing you can do is get out of the picture. Make a life for yourself in another city, if possible. If you continue to carry on with Mel, you are sure to be found out and the family will be split apart. You cannot build happiness on someone else's grief.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: While visiting an elderly friend of my mother, she asked me if I minded watching Mass on TV with her (I am not Catholic). I told her, "Certainly not. I will probably learn something."

The priest talked about the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill." I was fascinated when he said that it is not necessary to use a gun or a knife to kill someone. He said, "You can kill a person's spirit by talking instead of listening or belittling and putting a person down, or by being indifferent of a person's needs -- in other words, ignoring him or her."

I then thought of the lonely elderly people I see day after day, who are simply existing in nursing homes. Their families pay the bills and give them gifts that they neither need or want. They send fancy cards on special occasions when what these older folks hunger for are a few loving words written on a piece of paper or, better yet, a visit and a warm hug.

I looked at my friend and saw that her eyes were filled with tears as the priest continued his sermon. He spoke of the emotionally starved elderly to whom nobody listens, making them feel as if they gave outlived their usefulness. I then knew that my suspicions were right. This lonely lady with whom I was visiting was one of these victims. My heart went out to her.

Ann, will you please bring this powerful message to your readers who may be guilty of killing without realizing it? Thank you, dear friend. -- A Devoted Reader from Portsmouth, N.H.

DEAR DEVOTED READER: Here it is, a sermon of truth if ever I heard one. Thank you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Everytime I hear "Taps" I get misty-eyed. It has an impact on me like no other piece of music. This is odd, when one considers that there are no lyrics, just the sound of a bugle.

Where did "Taps" originate? Who wrote it? I've asked many people and nobody seems to know. Do you, Ann? -- L.W. in Bakersfield

DEAR BAKE: No, I don't, but I'll bet a reader does. How about it? Is that Ann Landers column you clipped years ago yellow with age? For a copy of her most frequently requested poems and essays send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and check or money order for $4.85 (this includes postage and handling) to: Gems, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada send $5.87)

CLASSIFIED ADS
 Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion ($2.00 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN.
1 day per word	.14	2.00
2 days per word	.34	4.00
3 days per word	.34	6.00
4 days per word	.44	8.00

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
 Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines-those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $3.95 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALIS
 Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS
 Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I had my second bypass three months ago. I am confused about olive oil. Should I use it? The hospital nutrition department told me not to use it. I read a new book about cholesterol by a TV doctor and he says to use it.

My neighbor, who is a native of Greece and raised on nothing but olive oil, just had a heart attack at age 45.

Please tell me about olive oil and margarine made from safflower oil. I had my first heart attack and bypass 16 years ago at age 45.

DEAR READER: There is a lot more to preventing heart disease than whether you use olive oil or not. Actually, some of the news stories touting olive oil were based on studies that didn't even use olive oil. It pays to read the original research reports.

I'm not convinced that any fats are "good for your heart." Many of the studies that claim to have shown that olive oil — or some other unsaturated fat — decreases your risk of heart attacks only show that limiting your saturated fat intake does help lower the risk in a population being studied. Certainly too many calories of any food that leads to being overweight is harmful and all fats — olive oil included — contain nine calories per gram — the highest source of calories of any foods.

I would agree that olive oil is far superior to fats that contain a lot of saturated fat, which includes beef fat, butter fat — as found in whole milk, butter and cheese — coconut oil, palm kernel oil and palm oil. But the reason is because olive oil is low in saturated fat. Many other oils share that characteristic, including safflower oil, corn oil and soybean oil.

I have discussed the various fats in foods and provided tables that list the saturated, monounsaturated and polyunsaturated fat content of common fats in Special Issue 32-02, Fats and Oils in Food, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send $1 with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/32-02, P.O. Box 19622, Irvine, CA 92713.

The choice of margarine depends on what oils it is made from and specifically how low in saturated fat it is. None of the vegetable margarines contain cholesterol.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have a paralyzed diaphragm. I have endured extensive testing, probing, myograms, CAT scans and other tests. Nothing has been done to alleviate this condition. Scant suggestions were made as to what might be done. I cannot lie prone in bed. I must sit up in a straight chair at all times — even sleeping in the sitting position. Is there any treatment for this condition?

DEAR READER: Perhaps. Recently I had another question about one side of the diaphragm being paralyzed, which is less of a problem. When both leaves of the diaphragm are paralyzed, the flaccid diaphragm is easily pushed up into the chest by the abdominal contents when you lie down. That prevents your lungs from expanding normally and prevents adequate respiration.

4-H'ers receive honors at District 4-H Bake Show

Deaf Smith County 4-H'ers netted honors and garnered cash prizes in the District 1 4-H Better Bake Show held Saturday at the Tri State Fair.

All three county participants received alternate to first place winners. Jennifer Hicks placed second with product entry of no-knead caramel braid and placed second with her written project record. Lori Urbanczyk was second winner in junior food product with a sour cream coffee cake recipe. Karon Harder placed second place with written project record in junior division.

First place winners included Sherri Withers of Hutchinson County, top senior product winner, and Chelana Pool of Moore county, best junior product baker.

First place project records were compiled by senior contestant, Shawna Wagoner of Hemphill county, and junior entrant, Paula Ann Shawver of Potter county. Shawna is the granddaughter of Joe Wagoner of Hereford.

County bake show junior and senior product and record winners from the 20 county Top of Texas area were eligible to compete in the contest which is an exclusive District Contest held to promote wheat consumerism, teach nutrition and develop additional food preparation and skills.

In the baked product division, the 4-H'ers prepared a product using a minimum ratio of 1:2 parts whole wheat to white flour. The emphasis was on the nutritional value of the recipe chosen, the taste, texture and appearance of the product.

Juniors (ages 9-13) prepared a quick bread recipe of their choice and seniors (ages 14-19) prepared a yeast-leavened recipe.

Records were scored on the basis of goals set, knowledge attained, educational activities, leadership, citizenship and community service, awards and a summary of the bake show activities.

The contest is co-sponsored annually by the Tri-State Fair and Texas Wheat Producers in Amarillo, Arrowhead Mills of Hereford and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Judy Flynn, district Extension director, is contest superintendent.

Committee members assisting Flynn included Leesa Wood Calvi, chairman, Beverly Harder and Alby Peters, extension home economists in Randall, Deaf Smith and Potter counties respectively.

Contestants and the counties represented included Kari Bowen, and Amy Gunter, Armstrong; Janie Bednorz, April Cook, and Becky Williams, Carson; Jocelyn Mitchell and Angela Sage, Dallam; Karon Harder, Lori Urbanczyk and Jennifer Hicks, Deaf Smith; Kari Glenn, Rachel Woodard and Shannon Myers, Donley; Dennis Williams and Laura Williams, Gray; Kim Wagner, Leslie Latta and Karla Kunsleman, Hansfore; Tami McDonald, Jimmie Lou Stanford, Tina McDonald, Hartley; Jennifer Frey and Shawna Wagoner, Hemphill; Jennifer Gray, Lewayne Lyckmann and Sherri Withers, Hutchinson; Lindsay Ricketts and Sean Shores, Lipscomb; Chelana Pool, Jennifer Barton, Ali Stephenson and Cindy Denny, Moore; Corey Frost, Heath Wiebe, and Teresa Lamaster, Ochiltree; Melanie Harwood and Meredith Allred, Oldham; Teresa Bezner, Paula Ann Shawver, Kathryn Famum, Randall; Kimberly Bouldin, Buffy Ellison and Jennifer Haynes, Sherman; and Melissa Reynolds, Wheeler county.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agriculture Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

JENNIFER HICKS NO-KNEAD CARAMEL BRAID

- 1 pkg. dry yeast
- 1 c. milk, scalded, cooled
- 1/4 c. sugar
- 1/4 c. margarine, softened
- 1 1/2 t. salt
- 2 eggs
- 2 1/2 c. all purpose flour
- 1 1/2 c. whole wheat flour
- 2/3 c. brown sugar, packed
- 1/3 c. margarine, softened
- 1 c. chopped pecans
- 1/4 c. margarine
- 2 c. confectioners' sugar
- 1 t. vanilla or almond extract
- 1-2 T. milk

Dissolve yeast in 1/4 c. warm water in bowl

Add scalded milk, sugar, 1/4 cup softened margarine, salt, eggs and all-purpose flour, mixing well. Stir in whole wheat flour. Let rise, covered, for 1 hour or until doubled in bulk. Beat 25 strokes by hand. Pat into 12" x 18" rectangle on well-floured board. Sprinkle with mixture of brown sugar, 1/3 cup margarine and pecans. Cut into three 4" x 18" strips. Roll each strip lengthwise to enclose filling, sealing ends and long ends.

Braid loosely on greased baking sheet, sealing ends.

Let rise, covered, for 30 minutes or until increased 1 1/2 times in bulk. Brown 1/4 cup margarine lightly over medium heat in saucepan. Stir in confectioners' sugar and vanilla.

Add enough milk gradually to make of desired consistency. Spread over partially cooled bread. Yields 15 servings, 400 calories

LORI URBANCZYK SOUR CREAM COFFEE CAKE

- 1 1/2 cups sugar
 - 3/4 cup margarine or butter, softened
 - 3 eggs
 - 1 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
 - 1 1/2 cups whole wheat flour
 - 1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 - 3/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1 1/2 cups dairy sour cream
- Filling (below)
Light brown glaze (below)

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease tube pan, 10 x 4 inches, 12-cup bunt cake pan or 2 loaf pans, 9 x 5 x 3 inches. Beat sugar, margarine, eggs and vanilla in large mixer bowl on medium speed, scraping bowl occasionally, 2 minutes. Beat in flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt alternately with sour cream on low speed. Prepare filling.

For tube or bundt cake, spread 1/3 of batter (about 2 cups) in pan and sprinkle with 1/3 of the filling (about 6 tablespoons); repeat 2 times. For loaves, spread 1/4 of the batter (about 1 1/2 cups) in each pan and sprinkle each pan and with 1/4 of filling (about 5 tablespoons); repeat.

Bake until wooden pick inserted near center comes out clean, about 1 hour. Cool slightly; remove from pan(s). Cool 10 minutes; drizzle with light brown glaze.

Filling: Mix 1/2 cup packed brown sugar, 1/2 cup finely chopped nuts and 1 1/2 teaspoons ground cinnamon.

Light Brown Glaze: 1/4 cup margarine or butter--2 cups powdered sugar--1 teaspoon vanilla--1 to 2 tablespoons milk

Heat margarine in 1 1/2-quart saucepan over medium heat until delicate brown; remove from heat. Stir in powdered sugar and vanilla. Stir in milk, 1 tablespoon at a time until glaze is smooth and of desired consistency.

Hints from Heloise

COCOA

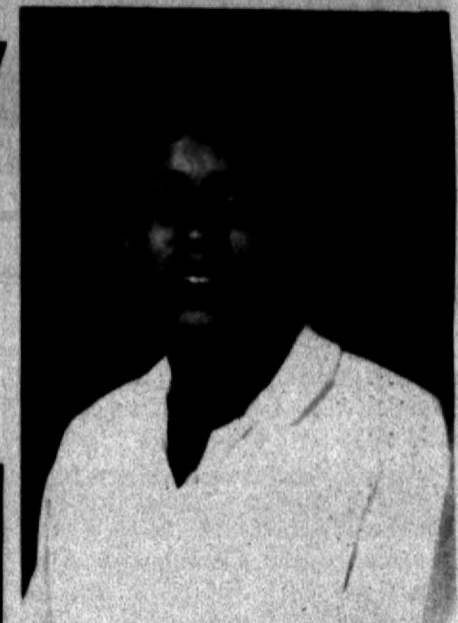

Dear Heloise: I use baking cocoa quite often and have always found it difficult to measure. Some of the cans have rather small openings and the cocoa itself is often lumpy. I've solved both problems by simply sifting an entire 8-ounce can into a 2-pound plastic margarine tub with an air-tight lid.

Now I have easy accessibility for any size cup or spoon, and the smooth texture makes for more consistent measuring. It stores just as well as in the original container. — Sherrie Clingenpeel, Roanoke, Va.

FAT-FREE SOUP

Dear Heloise: I have an easy way to get most of the fat off of broths and soups, but many of the women I talk to have never heard of it, so I thought I'd share.

Just pour the cooled broth or soup into a jar or plastic container with a tight-fitting screw-on lid. Make sure the lid is tight, then turn it upside down and put it in the fridge. The fat will rise and harden on the jar bottom (which is now at the top), then you can pour off the broth or soup without the fat. — Germaine Pilote, Manchester, N.H.

David Hernandez enlists in U.S. Army

David Hernandez of Hereford has enlisted in the United States Army for four years for training as an infantryman.

"Private Hernandez, a senior at Hereford High School, enlisted under the Delayed Entry Program which allows an individual to make an advance reservation for guaranteed training up to one year prior to attending the training. This option is especially beneficial to high school juniors and seniors looking ahead. They'll have the security of knowing that once high school is completed that the Army's training and educational benefits are waiting in the wing," said recruiter Staff Sgt. Jaime Cruz-Torres of the Canyon Army Recruiting Office.

In June, Private Hernandez will report to Fort Jackson, S.C., for basic training, then to Fort Gordon, Ga., for infantryman training.

He is the son of Jesus Hernandez and Rosa Linda Salinas of Amarillo.
