The United Way kickoff meeting here Wednesday featured talks by Bob Josseland and Don Cumpton, and we don't think they could have picked two better speakers. Cumpton's enthusiasm rubs off on anything he does, making him an ideal campaign chairman. "We've got a big goal--that's a lot of money--but we can do anything we want to do," stated Cumpton.

Josseland, nationally-known in the cattle feeding industry, spoke of Hereford having the most caring and loving people in the world. He felt that community concern in a recent family tragedy, and said he hoped others could learn in other ways--such as the work accomplished through United Way.

Josseland asked each person at the luncheon to look straight into the eyes of the person next to them and say, "I can make a difference." He added that we all can make a difference and have "something to believe in," which is the theme of the United Way campaign.

The volunteer workers in United Way had to be inspired and motivated Wednesday. Now, if we can just transfer that attitude to all the citizens in Hereford, we will have a successful campaign!

Dr. Nadir Khuri was pleasantly surprised to see a "welcome home" page in Sunday's Brand with the names of many Hereford citizens. Friends who arranged the page said the number of signatures could have been more than doubled if they'd had time. We join others in the community in expressing a sincere "welcome home" to Dr. Khuri! He is expected to be recuperating at home several weeks before resuming his practice.

Cow Patty Bingo has brought a measure of fame to Slaton, and planners of Hereford's Town & Country Jubilee might consider adding the game to next year's activities here.

Cow Patty Bingo, simply put, is a fund-raising gamble based on which square a cow will deposit its chip. At Slaton, chamber directors sold tickets for $5 each. One thousand tickets were sold and the grand prize was $1,000 for the person holding the number of the square in which the first chip was deposited. The first person with a wet square got only $50.

The Houston Chronicle published a picture and article about the event; Cable television's sports network, ESPN, contacted Slaton about videotaping the game of chance, and a Lubbock television station made a video for a news release. A Houston columnist, Thom Marshall, wrote that the officials of Texas should "draw inspiration" from Slaton's event.

In fact, Marshall suggested rather than a lottery, the state sponsor a monthly, travelling giant bingo field and release the Texas Longhorn mascot loose to make some lucky person a large deposit. "It could be a floating crap game," wrote Marshall.

There is one little flaw in the game, Slaton officials discovered at this year's event--it can take longer than planned. The first cow released on the parking lot of squares was not in the mood for a deposit. A second cow was brought in but only produced a wet square. Finally, the third cow produced the winning deposit.

Fiestas Patrias weekend underway

Rodriguez to be crowned Saturday

Rachel Alaniz, left, 1990 Fiestas Patrias Queen in Hereford, will crown her successor, Isabel Rodriguez, at the annual Fiestas Patrias coronation ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Bull Barn. Hereford has crowned a queen for the Diez y Seis de Septiembre celebration each year since 1952.

Three days of activities began today as the annual Fiestas Patrias celebration started in Hereford.

The celebration commemorates Mexico's first organized cries for independence from Spanish rule on Sept. 16, 1810.

On Saturday, Isabel Rodriguez will be crowned as the Fiestas Patrias queen at a special ceremony at the Bull Barn. She is the 39th queen crowned in Hereford, and will succeed 1990 queen Rachel Alaniz.

The weekend's events began with a cultural fair Friday at the Hereford Community Center. The fair featured over a dozen booths and demonstrations of traditional dance, ethnic costumes, cultural crafts and foods and Spanish music.

Traditional foods were prepared at several booths, with samples served to fairgoers. Hereford schools made field trips to the fair throughout the day.

Saturday will begin with a parade at 11 a.m., going from Hereford High School to Park, then down Main Street. The parade will feature bands, floats, prized cars, charros and other entries. Persons wishing to enter the parade may contact Lupe Chavez at 364-2727. Cash prizes will be awarded to top entries.

Saturday evening's activities will begin at 6 p.m. with a eucharistic liturgy at San Jose Catholic Church. Rodriguez and her court will be presented and honored. The guest homilist for the mass will be the Rev. David Cruz of Lubbock.

Events at the Bull Barn begin at 7:30 p.m. with the presentation of Alaniz, 1991 runner-up Teresa Castillo and Rodriguez and her court during the elegant marcha and coronation ceremonies. The program will also include the reading of "El Grito de Independencia" and the national anthems of the United States and Mexico.

The evening's activities will conclude with a dance featuring Burt Zuniga and Tentacion. Tickets for the coronation and dance are $7.50 in advance. Tickets at the door will be higher, so persons attending are encouraged to buy their tickets in advance by calling San Jose Catholic Church at 364-5053.

A full program is in store for the annual "tardeada" from 3-7 p.m. Sunday at the Bull Barn. The keynote speaker will be the Rev. Virgilio Elizondo, founder of the Mexican American Cultural Center in San Antonio, Elizondo, whose services are televised each week on Univision (Hereford Cablevision Ch. 33), will speak on the Hispanic image of the sacred and divine. Elizondo has written several books and is active in other areas. Ordained as a priest in 1963, he has served as rector of San Fernando Cathedral in San Antonio since 1983.

The afternoon will also include mariachis, comedy performances, folk dancers, foods and other activities. Persons wish to have a booth at the tardeada may contact Art Gonzales Sr. at 364-1771. Booths are $25 each. Admission to all events other than the coronation and dance is free.

Lawmakers split on bailout

WASHINGTON (AP) - Some House members are resisting doubling the taxpayer cost of the savings and loan bailout to $160 billion, but other lawmakers and Bush administration officials say there is little choice.

The Resolution Trust Corp., which has received $80 billion from Congress over its two-year life, will run out of money by the end of October, warned Deputy Treasury Secretary John Robson and L. William Seidman, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

The response Thursday from members of the House Banking subcommittee on financial institutions, who would have to approve the request before the full committee and full House could act, ranged from resignation to outrage.

"We do have to fund this. Let's hope it's the last time.... We've heard it before. Let's hope and pray it's true," said Rep. Charles Schumer, D-N.Y.

Others balked at providing a second $80 billion to finish the cleanup program in two more years and complained of the RTC's inefficiency and inability to obtain a clean bill of health from its auditors, the General Accounting Office.

"What we really see here is the last of the Soviet-style bureaucracies. What we see basically is an impotent monolith," said Rep. Joseph P.

Kennedy, D-Mass.

Seidman defended the RTC, which he supervises, and predicted to reporters during a break in the hearing that Congress would appropriate more money this fall.

"There is no alternative except to... ultimately default on the government's obligation to depositors," he said. "I don't think most people want to put this off until the heat of an election year."

Through August, the RTC had spent $67 billion of the $80 billion appropriated, Seidman said. It had seized 646 failed S&Ls, closing or rescuing 511 of them, he said. The agency plans 85 more rescues this month and next at a cost of $12 billion to $13 billion.

Another $80 billion would pay for 343 additional bailouts, bringing the total past 900, Seidman said.

He also is recommending that Congress sever the RTC from the FDIC, streamline its dual-board structure and create a strong chief executive officer position.

Robson said the administration favors the appointment of a chief executive officer but wants to avoid legislation requiring a more extensive restructuring, which he said would be disruptive.

"If we are permitted to stay the course, we can get the job done with increasing efficiency," he said.

PLO takes hostages, surrenders

TYRE, Lebanon (AP) - An Israeli gunboat today chased three PLO guerrillas in a rubber dinghy onto the Lebanese coast, where the gunmen took at least 14 U.N. peacekeepers hostage before surrendering.

The guerrillas exchanged fire with a joint force of Israeli soldiers and allied Lebanese militiamen, and a hostage and guerrilla were killed, said Timur Goksel, spokesman for the U.N. Interim Force in Lebanon. Two hostages and another guerrilla were wounded, he said.

The Israeli troops captured the wounded guerrilla, and Israel's proxy South Lebanon Army militia captured the other.

The guerrillas were apparently trying to reach Israel to carry out an attack, but landed on the coast after they were intercepted by the Israeli navy, said a UNIFIL source, speaking on condition he not be further identified.

The guerrillas identified themselves as members of Palestine Liberation Organization Chairman Yasser Arafat's mainstream Fatah, the largest Palestinian guerrilla group.

The dead peacekeeper was a Swedish sergeant and the two wounded were French soldiers, Goksel said.

Israeli sources said the area along the Lebanese border was put on alert and searches were under way to ensure no guerrillas infiltrated into Israel.

Goksel said two rubber dinghies with guerrillas were involved.

One carrying three fighters landed on the Mediterranean coast at Naqoura, three miles north of the Israeli border and 11 miles south of Tyre, early in the day near a post manned by French peacekeepers.

This group surrendered peacefully to UNIFIL soldiers, Goksel said at a news conference in Tyre.

He said another guerrilla band landed elsewhere in the Naqoura region and intercepted six UNIFIL Swedish soldiers who were just north of Israel.

Discovery begins special mission

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) - Discovery thundered along the East Coast and into orbit, carrying five astronauts and a complex research satellite that scientists hope will tell them where and why Earth's ozone layer is shrinking.

The 100-ton space shuttle rose from its seaside launch pad at 7:11 p.m. Thursday, piercing a hazy sky as it darted out over the Atlantic Ocean and up the East Coast.

Scientists on the ground cheered as it sped away with the Upper Atmosphere Research Satellite, a $740 million effort to study Earth's deteriorating ozone layer and other stratospheric elements.

It is the first in a series of satellites planned for Mission to Planet Earth, a decades-long probe of the environment from space.

"It's the moment we've been waiting for," said Don Wuebbles, an atmospheric scientist who has been working on the project since 1978. "After 13 years, how can I put it in words?"

NASA said initial checkouts of the observatory showed it to be in good shape.

People along the Eastern seaboard, especially those in the South, had a rare opportunity to see an ascending spaceship. Discovery hugged the coast as far as Cape Hatteras, N.C., then arced sharply out over the Atlantic on its way to a 336-mile-high orbit.

The unusual path was required so the shuttle could reach a high inclination, the angle of the orbit to the equator.

The mission's hours - an evening liftoff and the first night landing at Kennedy early Wednesday - also are required for the precisely timed release of the satellite midway through the five-day flight.

Commander John Creighton and his crew have worked after-hours for months, putting in virtually all their flight training at night. Friday's bedtime was, as usual, at dawn. Wakeup was in the afternoon.

The men's primary job after reaching orbit was to check the 14,500-pound observatory and the shuttle's mechanical arm, which astronaut Mark Brown will use to deploy the satellite late Saturday.

This evening, in preparation for the satellite release, Creighton and pilot Kenneth Reightler Jr. planned to maneuver Discovery to an altitude of 354 miles, one of the highest for a shuttle.

A special satellite and several unique experiments will focus on Earth's environment, along with many other special tests over the next five days.

The sight of Earth was awesome, even from 336 miles up.

"We are WAY up here," Creighton said as Discovery circled the world for the sixth time. "You look out the overhead window and you can see from coast to coast all the way across Australia."

The observatory is to spend at least 1 1/2 years studying the ozone layer, located in the stratosphere six to 34 miles above Earth. Scientists believe manmade chemicals are destroying this band of oxygen, which filters out ultraviolet rays that could wipe out life on the planet.

Teachers may give up sick days

DALLAS (AP) - Teachers have been asked to give up their sick days to help administrators retain 127 teachers laid off recently because of budget constraints.

Officials of four teachers' organizations joined Superintendent Marvin Edwards in announcing the unusual plan which saves the district $1.75 million and keeps 127 teachers on the payroll.

"What we're going to do as professional organizations is encourage our folks to look upon it now as a new day is dawning, let's be positive, let's pull together," said Maureen Peters of the Alliance of Dallas Educators.

Edwards says the plan would save $850,000, or 15 percent of the district's budget slated for substitutes.

Under the plan, nonessential administrative vacancies this school year would not be filled until financing goals are met.

A substitute teachers costs the district $55 per day.

"Unless we have full cooperation, it will not happen," Edwards said during a news conference Thursday afternoon.

Edwards said the plan was "very fragile" and would be evaluated monthly.

School board president Rene Castilla applauded Edwards' work on the agreement.

"This will be the first of many more times in the future that we will stand united behind the superintendent of our schools," Castilla said.

The plan would also speed up the teacher re-certification process and freeze current administrative vacancies in the DISD, with the exception of positions responsible for distributing public funds.

Another $400,000 could be saved the administrative hiring freeze and $500,000 is saved by pushing up the date for the start of teacher recertification.

Retired teachers would be used also as volunteer substitutes.

The new plan comes after DISD trustees rejected Tuesday Edwards' call for an 18-percent tax increase to cope with the layoffs. Instead almost $1 million in other budget cuts was approved.

The board voted 6-3 against hiking taxes by .5 percent.

Trustees ordered Edwards to look harder for more money in the $544 million budget to rehire the laid off teachers.

Dallas school administrators have blamed the layoffs on the so-called "Robin Hood" school finance plan, which shifts millions of dollars from property-rich school districts to property-poor ones.

Under that state funding plan, the DISD lost some $47 million and laid off 257. The other 130 teachers have been retained through other budget tactics.

A moratorium will also be placed on using substitutes for teachers participating in out-of-district meetings and conferences, Edwards said.

"This concept is not only innovative but a very generous and gracious commitment on behalf of the teacher organizations to encourage everyone to work together to help fellow employees to stay on the payroll this year," Edwards said.

Hispanic Heritage Week proclaimed

Hereford Mayor Tom LeGate has signed a proclamation designating the week of Sept. 10-16 as Hispanic Heritage Week in Hereford. The focus of the proclamation is the annual Fiestas Patrias celebration to be held Friday through Sunday. Joining LeGate for the signing are, from left, Victor Holguin, Virginia Artho and Teresa Munoz, members of the Fiestas Patrias organizing committee.

'Bounty hunting' charge leveled on psychiatric hospital chain

AUSTIN (AP) - The Psychiatric Institute of Fort Worth is ending its relationship with a business Attorney General Dan Morales claims illegally paid for patient "bounty hunting," company officials said.

Morales on Thursday filed suit against Psychiatric Institutes of America, Inc. and PIA of Fort Worth, Inc. He accused PIA of paying Recovery Line Inc. to find crime victim patients the company could use to siphon money from state crime victim compensation funds.

David Brockett, administrator of the Fort Worth institute, said in a written statement that the hospital "is terminating its contract with Recovery Line."

"We have been considering this change for several weeks," Brockett said, adding that "the contractual relationship was in complete compliance with Texas law."

Brockett and PIA officials in Washington, D.C. did not respond to other questions about the lawsuit, except to say they intended to cooperate with the attorney general's investigation.

Officials with Recovery Line in Fort Worth did not immediately return a telephone call from The Associated Press.

Morales' lawsuit was filed in state district court in Houston. Judge Scott Brister signed a temporary restraining order preventing the company from paying for patient referrals, Morales spokesman Gray McBride said.

Morales also froze $3.1 million in unpaid PIA victim compensation claims and placed a moratorium on some $10 million in claims on the fund filed by other mental health care companies.

He said the lawsuit represented just "the tip of the iceberg" in an alleged kickback scam that has affected thousands of Texans and tens of millions of state dollars.

An investigation was prompted by "an alarming rise" during the last year in payments to mental health care companies from the state's violent crime victim compensation fund, Morales said. More than $23 million was paid from the fund in fiscal year 1991, officials said.

"The skyrocketing payments made to bogus therapies now threaten to drain the crime victims' fund, undermine its very existence, and prolong the profound pain the crime victims and their families carry with them day after day," Morales said.

Although Morales said he anticipated additional civil or criminal legal action against alleged medical kickback schemes, he said PIA was singled out because it is a major service provider and had the "clearest violations" of state law.

Assistant Attorney General Larry Bales said investigations showed that hospitals have solicited crime victims as patients and given them unnecessary care, at times confining them until the state's $25,000 payment is used up "and then kicking them out on the street."

Morales said the other PIA affiliates in Texas are: Cedar Creek Hospital, Amarillo; Twin Lakes Hospital, Denton; Arbor Creek Hospital, Sherman; Laurelwood Hospital, The Woodlands; Bedford Meadows, Bedford; Brookhaven Psychiatric Pavilion, Dallas; Willow Brook Hospital, Waxahachie; Baywood Hospital, Webster; Stafford Meadows, Stafford.

Failures of airlines may end low fares

WASHINGTON (AP) - The lower fares and better service that followed government deregulation of the airline industry could be swept away if failures leave only a few giant carriers to dominate the skies, a research panel says.

A report issued Thursday by the independent Transportation Research Board said that while competition is flourishing, that could change if so many airlines fail that the remaining few have no incentive to keep prices low.

Some have predicted that the airline failure rate could leave the nation with as few as three major carriers, and the report said that might not be enough to retain true competition.

"If as many as five or six major carriers survive the pending shakeout, the committee believes that pricing will remain competitive," said the panel, an arm of the National Academy of Sciences.

But it added that current trends "suggest the industry will continue to concentrate, which at some point might threaten the benefits achieved during deregulation."

Commenting on the report at a news conference, Transportation Secretary Samuel K. Skinner contended that it showed deregulation, which took effect in 1978, "is working, has worked and will continue to work."

But he acknowledged that steps must be taken to encourage competition and to assure that as many major airlines as possible survive.

"We are doing everything we can to make sure we have those five or six competitive carriers, or more, as we move into the next century," Skinner said.

Two major carriers, Braniff and Eastern, have ceased operations in recent years, joining a long list of merged or failed airlines.

Pan American World Airways, once the flagship airline of the United States overseas, is selling off its assets; Continental Airlines has sought the protection of the bankruptcy laws.

Trans World Airlines has defaulted on some of its multimillion-dollar debt and other carriers are in financial trouble as well.

"To date, ... competition has generated many benefits for consumers," the report said. "The freedom given to managers by deregulation to realign their routes and costs has resulted in a more efficient industry. Average fares have increased more slowly than costs, although most bargains occur in markets where three or more carriers compete for service."

With Lion at the door, food prices dropping

DALLAS (AP) - Dallas-Fort Worth grocers have taken out their swords and red markdown pens as Food Lion Inc. enters their jungle today.

The food fight has been great for customers. Grocers are tossing around triple coupons, allowing credit card payment and even offering home delivery.

"We probably haven't seen it like this before in that so many people are doing so many different things," said J.L. Williams, president of Minyard's Food Stores, a Coppell-based owner of 73 stores in the metropolitan area.

Food Lion, a $5.5 billion, 800-store giant is leaving its base in the Southeast for the first time with plans to open 41 North Texas stores by the end of the year.

The first 13 opened today across the Dallas-Fort Worth area. A distribution center near Roanoke, north of Fort Worth, will serve the stores and about 150 more if the company expands in Texas, spokesman Mike Mozingo said.

"Any community, regardless of size, is fair game," Mozingo said. "From that distribution center, we can reach 200 miles in any direction."

That probably rules out the Houston market, considered by industry analysts to be even more competitive than Dallas-Fort Worth, and the San Antonio market, dominated by locally-based H.E.B. Grocery Co.

But many grocers are watching Food Lion's first steps in Texas, said Mike Duff of Supermarket Business, a monthly industry magazine published in New York.

"They've been sort of the up-and-coming challenger in the food business," Duff said. "It does not necessarily mean Food Lion's success will translate well from one area to another."

Food Lion's typical store is smaller than most of its Texas competitors. They don't have floral displays, rent videos or sell garden equipment but have bakeries and delicatessens.

And, in a bow to its full-service competitors, Food Lion for the first time will have automatic teller machines in its Texas stores.

"A lot of us feel Food Lion per se won't fill the needs, pharmacy, floral, all of the items available in most (Dallas-Fort Worth) stores," said Bill

Parker, president of Kroger Co. stores in the region.

But Mozingo said, "We felt like we could go in with a store, conveniently-sized, conveniently-located and have lower prices."

He said the company's research showed 10 to 15 percent of Dallas-Fort Worth shoppers bought their weekly groceries at convenience stores, which tend to have higher prices than grocery stores.

A random shopping-basket survey by The Dallas Morning News in May found lower prices at a Food Lion store in North Carolina than at Dallas-Fort Worth grocers except HyperMart USA.

While Food Lion creates a low-price perception, Duff said the chain rarely gets involved in price wars the way HyperMart or other discounters do.

But grocers in Dallas-Fort Worth aren't taking any chances.

Among the promotions, service

expansions or sales developed in recent months:

- Triple the value of coupons below 30 cents and double between 30 cents and 50 cents at Kroger and Tom Thumb stores this week.
- Home delivery by Kroger for the cost of groceries plus a $9.95 service charge, payable by cash, check or credit card.
- Image and name change for Skaggs Alpha Beta. The chain, a subsidiary of Salt Lake City-based American Stores Co., will take the Jewel Osco name of another American Stores subsidiary.
- Outstanding teacher of the week program by Minyard's that allows customers to nominate teachers. Each week's winner receives $1,000.
- Credit card-type payment at several store chains. Tom Thumb's Promise cards, which automatically deduct a grocery bill's amount from a shopper's checking account, will expand from its Plano stores to all 60 in Texas.

Sunday morning Bible classes will meet at 9:30 a.m. Classes are planned for the needs of different age groups. The morning worship service, which begins at 10:25, includes The Lord's Supper, congregational singing, prayer and meditation. The 6 p.m. Sunday service is a time of encouragement and edification.

On Wednesday night at 7:30, the congregation meets for special study and devotion.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"Mama Always Liked You Best!" is the title of Dr. James W. Cory's sermon for the regular 10:30 a.m. Sunday worship service. The scripture lesson is found in James 2:1-5, 8-10, 14-17.

Sunday School for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m. Fellowship time will be in large fellowship hall from 10:10-10:30 a.m. The youth fellowships will meet at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Women's Bible Study will meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Sept. 16 at the church. The study is in Romans and lead by Helen Rose.

Acolyte training or 3rd-4th graders will be held Wednesday from 4:30 to 5 p.m.

AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH

The congregation at Avenue Baptist church would like to invite you to their services this Sunday. There will be a Brotherhood breakfast at 7:30 a.m. in the fellowship hall. All men are invited to come.

Sunday School begins at 9:40 a.m. and the worship service at 11. We will be having Mission Ingathering for the Mary Hill Davis. Offering for state missions during the morning service. At 6 p.m. will be children's choir.

youth Bible study and discipleship training. The evening worship service will begin at 7.

The prayer group will meet Monday night at 7:30 at the church.

There will be a Sunday School teachers meeting at First Baptist Church in Canyon on Sept. 17. We will leave the church at 6:30 p.m. All teachers and workers are encouraged to attend.

There will be no Wednesday evening activities on Sept. 18, so that everyone may help with the Cup of Cold Water booth at the Tri State Fair in Amarillo. The regularly scheduled activities for Wednesdays will resume on Sept. 25.

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday School is at 10 a.m. at Immanuel Lutheran church. If you need a ride, please call us at 364-1667 or 364-1668.

We will be giving special emphasis to Lutheran Television today. We will have a special video presentation or our adult Bible class called "Waiting for the Wind."

The worship service sermon is entitled "Watchers or Witnesses?" The text is Mark 7:31-37.

ST. ANTHONY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

All persons age 60 and up are invited to a senior citizen special event at 6 p.m. Sunday in the school cafeteria. A card party for persons of all ages will begin at 7:30 p.m.

A sand volleyball tournament will be held Sunday. Registration is only $30 for a four-person team. Call Charlene Sanders at 364-2977.

Children's religious education classes will begin Saturday for grades one through six. Cost is $10 for one child, $15 for two, and $20 for three or more. Registration will be from 1-2 p.m. Saturday at the school.

A family ice cream social and sing-along will be held Sept. 29 at 7 p.m. It will feature homemade ice cream and cookies and music by The Flashbacks.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST

All children of the church through sixth grade are invited to a back-to-school Sunday School hayride on Saturday, Sept. 14. Children, parents and Sunday School teachers are to meet at 6 p.m. in the church parking lot. An old fashion weiner roast will be enjoyed before the trip back to the church at 8 p.m.

Tickets are available for the fall fashion show and dinner to be held at King's Manor, Sept. 17 at 7 p.m.

All youth are invited to meet at 2:15 p.m. Sunday in the church-Sears parking lot for a trip to the Bull Barn to experience a celebration of Mexican-American culture. The youth will return in time or Youth Choir and activities will conclude at 6:30 p.m. that evening. For more information, contact Jo Ochs.

Hints from Heloise

Q. Do you know of a way to remove double-faced carpet tape and its sticky residue from tile floors? — Waldo Austin, Lacey's Spring, Ala.

A. The Tile Contractors Association of America suggested you try lighter fluid. Be sure to test an inconspicuous spot first since it could dull the finish of some tiles. Don't forget it's highly flammable and be sure the area is well ventilated. Keep the lighter fluid out of the reach of children or pets. — Heloise

REMINDERS

Dear Heloise: We spent several years in a country with few telephones and got into the bad habit of just dropping in on friends.

Often the person I drop in on is out and I have a hard time leaving a note since I rarely carry tape or thumbtacks in my purse.

I finally began carrying a self-sticking note pad. It eliminates the need for tape or tacks and I just have to worry about finding a pen. — Marty Jones, San Antonio, Texas

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN ZEHTI

MAKING THE DEVIL TREMBLE!

THE BIBLE HAS BEEN ACCLAIMED THE WORLD'S BEST SELLER! NATURALLY, MORE THAN JUST ITS MAGNIFICENT CONTENTS HAVE MADE IT SO. OVER THE YEARS, MANY "GIMMICKS" HAVE BEEN USED BY PUBLISHERS AND HIGH-PRESSURE SALESMEN TO FURTHER THE SALES OF THIS GREAT BOOK, SUCH AS THE FOLLOWING: IN 1908 A LONDON EDITOR WAS AMUSED BY A NEW YORK WIRE DISPATCH AND PRINTED IT! THE QUOTE (NON-VERBATIM) FROM THE LONDON NEWS:

RECENTLY, IN ITS DISPLAY WINDOW, A LITTLE NEW YORK BOOKSTORE HAD HEAPED A GREAT PILE OF BIBLES MARKED DOWN FOR CLEARANCE. PEOPLE WERE CHUCKLING--AND BUYING! BECAUSE NEVER BEFORE WERE BIBLES OFFERED AT SUCH A LOW PRICE--AND ABOVE THE PILE IN LARGE LETTERS WAS AN INSCRIPTION: "SATAN TREMBLES WHEN HE SEES BIBLES SOLD AS CHEAP AS THESE!"

WE APPLAUD THE BOOKSTORE'S INGENUITY! WE WISH WE KNEW THE LOW PRICE! AND HOW MANY BIBLES WERE SOLD! AND HOW MISERABLY SATAN SHOOK!

JV Herd gets win against Longhorns

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

The Hereford junior varsity football team beat Vega's varsity 19-6 Thursday in Vega. It was the first time in the six-year series that Hereford won.

Several other Hereford teams played Thursday, but all lost.

The JV Herd got two touchdowns on the ground from Chris Vallejo to lead the way. Also, the Longhorns were intercepted four times: twice by Cody Powell and once each by Richard Wilbanks and Leonard Martinez.

The Herd scored first in the second quarter on Vallejo's 2-yard TD and Greg Copen kicked the extra point for a 7-0 halftime advantage.

Hereford's Mark Kuper hauled in a 10-yard pass from Chad Carlile for the Herd's second score, and the kick failed. Vallejo closed Hereford's scoring with a 9-yard run.

Vega scored with less than two minutes left in the game. Their drive was helped by 45 yards in penalties. The run for two points failed.

Hereford coaches Craig Yenser, Ed Copen, Ron Young credited Martinez' punting for giving Vega bad field position on most of its possessions. Among Martinez' punts was a 63-yarder.

Plainview Red 34, 9th Maroon 30

The lone high school game played in Hereford was a see-saw offensive battle which Plainview won by scoring in the final minute.

Cody Curtis scored all four of Hereford's touchdowns, coach Curtis Cotten said, including a 73-yarder in the second quarter. Hereford scored first, then Plainview scored. It went that way throughout the game, and Plainview won because they scored last.

Curtis also ran for a two-point conversion. Hereford got two other two-point conversions on passes from Ashley Noland: one to Justin McWethy and one to Greg Kalka.

"The offensive line did a great job," Cotten said. "In a freshman game, if you score 30 points and have 300-plus yards, that's a credit to the offensive line."

Plainview Blue 18, 9th White 8

In a game played in Plainview, Hereford's only scoring play was a 60-yard pass from Chris Castro to O.J. Rodriguez in the third quarter, coach Robert Gamboa said. Shannon Wells ran for the two points.

Plainview scored once each in the first, second and fourth quarters.

Friona JV 6, Herd Sophomores 2

In Friona, all the scoring was in the third quarter, and coach Oscar Rendon credited the safety to the entire defense. After Friona's touchdown, Hereford stopped the running try for two points.

Hereford Junior High vs. Friona Hereford Junior High's seventh and eighth grade Maroon "B" teams hosted Friona's "A" teams, and Friona won both games.

The eighth grade game ended 20-8. Bobby Suarez scored on a 15-yard run, then ran for two points. Friona scored in each of the first three quarters.

The seventh grade score was 14-0, with Friona scoring in the first two quarters.

"It's pretty tough playing a B team against an A team, but they did pretty good," said coach Rodney Allen.

One more yard

Cody Curtis of Hereford's ninth grade Maroon team tries for extra yardage with a Plainview defender riding his back. Despite Curtis' four touchdowns, Hereford lost 34-30.

Hurricanes pound Klingler, Cougars

MIAMI (AP) - Houston's run-and-shoot did neither against the Miami Hurricanes, who disarmed quarterback David Klingler by storming past his porous offensive line on every play.

"What could we do?" Klingler said after Miami's stunningly easy 40-10 victory on Thursday night. "Our receivers were getting open. We were just struggling to get time to find them. They've got a great pass rush."

The second-ranked Hurricanes (2-0) limited Houston last week had prompted Miami coach Dennis Erickson to order his players not to talk to the media before the game. The barbs apparently resumed on the field.

"There was a lot of trash being talked," Miami linebacker Michael Barrow said. "This was the bad-boys bowl game. It was a lot of fun. That's what the game's all about - if you dominate someone, you talk trash to them."

Miami dominated from the outset, scoring on three consecutive possessions to take a 21-0 lead 90 seconds into the second quarter. At that point, Houston had one first down.

"It's got to be as great an effort as I've been around in my coaching career," Erickson said.

Houston coach John Jenkins attributed the trouncing to Miami's talent and his team's 17 penalties for 158 yards.

"We're not going to swim around in tears and self-pity," Jenkins said. "We can't afford to with another big road game at Illinois (Sept. 21) staring us in the eye. We've got to close ranks and march on."

The Hurricanes led 30-3 at halftime and coasted to their 39th consecutive victory at the Orange Bowl, tying Notre Dame for the second-longest home winning streak in NCAA history. Miami also kept intact a streak of 11 consecutive wins over Southwest Conference teams, including a season-opening 31-3 victory at Arkansas and a 46-3 rout of Texas in the Cotton Bowl last season.

Williams. "Everybody asked how we'd stop Klingler," Torretta said. "Nobody asked how they'd stop us. Usually everybody talks about our offense. It was nice being the underdog."

"We knew we were going to move the ball," Thomas said. "Their whole team is offense. I don't know if they even practice defense."

Inflammatory remarks by the Hurricanes about Houston last week had prompted Miami coach Dennis Erickson to order his players not to talk to the media before the game. The barbs apparently resumed on the field.

"There was a lot of trash being talked," Miami linebacker Michael Barrow said. "This was the bad-boys bowl game. It was a lot of fun. That's what the game's all about - if you dominate someone, you talk trash to them."

'Pokes-Eagles rivalry misses Buddy Ryan

By The Associated Press

This time, Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson won't have Buddy Ryan to kick around when the Cowboys play the Philadelphia Eagles.

Of course, that's not the only difference with the Eagles. For the second straight week, Jim McMahon will be the starting quarterback.

Last week, the Eagles (1-1) lost 26-10 to Phoenix and Washington beat Dallas (1-1) 33-31.

After a 27-0 loss to the Eagles on Thanksgiving Day 1989, Johnson claimed Ryan had a $200 bounty out to injure kicker Luis Zendejas and $500 on quarterback Troy Aikman.

"I didn't think a head football coach would stoop this low," Johnson said at the time. "I would have said something to Buddy but he wouldn't stand on the field long enough. He put his fat rear end into the dressing room."

Ryan denied the charges, but the two continued to trade insults.

After the 1990 season, Ryan was fired after a disappointing playoff loss and replaced by Rich Kotite.

"This is a tremendous rivalry," Kotite said. "All the games are hard-hitting and very competitive."

But this Sunday, the focus will be more on the field than on the sidelines.

With the season-ending knee injury sustained by Cunningham in Week 1, the Eagles and Cowboys may end up in a battle for a wild-card spot.

The bad feelings between the two teams continued when the Cowboys lost Aikman with a separated shoulder last December in a loss to the Eagles. Lineman Clyde Simmons drove Aikman into the ground with a legal tackle. Losing Aikman may have cost the Cowboys a playoff spot.

"Fortunately, we've seen some of that (Philadelphia) style of defense, some against Atlanta and some again with the Redskins," Johnson said.

Herd visits Palo Duro

Dodgers, Braves on collision course

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles-Atlanta showdown for first place in the NL West doesn't really need any hype, but Tommy Lasorda tried, anyway.

The Dodgers and Braves start a sold-out three-game series tonight at Atlanta, with Los Angeles trailing by one-half game.

"It's good for baseball, and it's good for the city of Atlanta," Lasorda said. "I have many dear friends in Atlanta. I wish they were 10 games behind in second place, but this is going to be exciting, three games there and three games at home. All their fans will be out there pulling for the home team. I look forward to seeing 50 or 60 thousand in the stands."

Both teams won Thursday night: Atlanta beat San Diego 5-1 behind left-hander Charlie Leibrandt and Los Angeles survived 10 innings for a 6-2 victory at Houston.

Atlanta, 41-20 overall and 25-7 at home since the All-Star break, extended its winning streak to a season-high seven games.

The Braves had steadfastly refused to discuss the Dodgers in recent days, concerned, they said, only with the next game.

"Now, I guess we can," said Leibrandt, who gave up one run and five hits in seven innings to win his sixth straight decision.

"We've put ourselves in a position where we want to be - on top - with LA coming in," Leibrandt said. "We've got the momentum and we're ready to go. We're probably playing our best baseball of the year."

The Dodgers have won six of their last eight games on the road entering the series at Atlanta.

With the score 2-2 in the 10th at the Astrodome, Darryl Strawberry hit a three-run homer and Kal Daniels added a solo shot. It was Strawberry's sixth homer of the year at Houston, tying Dale Murphy's single-season record for an opponent.

"This has been a big road trip for our club," Strawberry said. "We didn't want to die. We have fought as a team, and going into Atlanta, I hope we can keep the same aggressive attitude."

Mike Morgan (11-9) starts for the Dodgers tonight against Braves' ace Tom Glavine (18-9). On Saturday, Tim Lincecum pitches against John Smoltz and the Dodgers send Ramon Martinez against Steve Avery on Sunday.

"Right now the Braves control their own destiny," San Diego first baseman Fred McGriff said. "If they beat the Dodgers, they'll win it. If they don't, they won't."

Cardinals 1, Pirates 0

Ken Hill (9-9) gave up two hits in 6 2-3 innings for his first victory in more than two months and Felix Jose drove in the only run with a bases-loaded walk from Doug Drabek (13-13) as St. Louis defeated visiting Pittsburgh. The loss kept the Pirates' magic number for clinching the NL East at 14.

Mets 6, Cubs 3

Howard Johnson had three RBIs, giving him 101 for the season, and scored the go-ahead run, leading New York over Chicago at Wrigley Field. Rookie Anthony Young (2-1) was the winner and Mike Bilecki fell to 13-9. Chicago's Andre Dawson hit his 26th homer.

Expos 6, Phillies 2

Larry Walker had three hits, including his 14th homer off loser Bruce Ruffin (3-7), and drove in three runs as visiting Montreal beat Philadelphia for its seventh victory in eight games. Chris Nabholz (5-7) gave up seven hits, struck out four and walked three in 7 2-3 innings for the victory.

Reds 7, Giants 3

Mariano Duncan homered twice, rallying Cincinnati past San Francisco at Riverfront Stadium.

It was the second two-homer game of the season for Duncan, both coming during a barrage of seven homers and 17 RBIs since he returned from the DL on Aug. 23. Tom Browning (14-10) survived San Francisco's three-run first inning for the victory. Paul McClellan (3-4) took the loss.

Texans invited to try-outs

By The Associated Press

Five Texas collegians are among the 90 baseball players invited to try out for the 1992 U.S. Olympic team in November.

Three of those invited play for the University of Texas: outfielder Calvin Murray, infielder Scott Malone and utilityman Brooks Kieschnick.

Chad Fox, a pitcher for Tarleton State in Stephenville, and infielder Mike Hickey of Texas A&M also were invited to the inaugural USA Baseball Team National Trials in Homestead, Fla., Nov. 1-10.

Tigers fading from race

By The Associated Press

The Tigers are finally fading from the AL East race.

As the weather gets cooler, so do Detroit's pitchers. The Tigers lost for the 10th time in 14 games as the Milwaukee Brewers beat them 7-0 Thursday night and dropped them 5 1/2 games back of AL East-leading Toronto, which was idle.

"When the offense carries a club, how long can it go?" Tigers manager Sparky Anderson asked. "There is no way you can win without pitching. You give me the No. 1 pitching and you can have the No. 1 hitting. Pitching is the whole game. You're never going to do with hitting. You look at any club and they're going to stop hitting."

Detroit has been shut out four times in its last 14 games, and the Tigers know they're running out of time.

"You play a 162-game schedule and it's going to happen," Anderson said of the skid.

Four pitchers combined on a four-hitter and Milwaukee scored once in the sixth and six times in the seventh.

"We had more opportunities tonight, a lot more people on base," said B.J. Surhoff, who hit a three-run triple. "The last few games we haven't had many. We struggled."

Chris Bosio (11-10) allowed four hits in six-plus innings. Julio Machado, Mark Lee and Doug Henry finished with hitless relief.

Mark Leiter (8-4) gave up three runs and six hits in six innings for the visiting Tigers.

Red Sox 7, Yankees 2

Visiting Boston won for the eighth time in nine games as Mike Greenwell drove in three runs, including two with a first-inning single. Jack Clark added a two-run single in the fifth.

Kevin Morton (5-3) allowed both runs and five hits in 6 2-3 innings and Greg Harris and Tony Fossas finished.

Ellis Burks missed the game with a stiff back and Wade Boggs fouled a ball off his right instep. Both are unsure if they will play tonight.

New York lost its seventh straight as Pascual Perez (1-3) allowed four runs and five hits in 4 2-3 innings.

Rangers 4, Twins 3

Nolan Ryan (10-6) became the second pitcher to reach double figures in victories in 20 different seasons. He allowed one run and two hits in seven innings and struck out nine.

Ryan passed Tom Seaver and moved into 14th place on the career list with his 312th victory. The only pitcher to reach double figures in victories more times than Ryan is Don Sutton, who did it 21 times.

Jeff Russell finished for his 27th save. Jack Morris (16-11) gave up four runs for the visiting Twins.

Indians 6, Orioles 5

Charles Nagy (9-12) gave up two runs and eight hits in eight innings and Baltimore pitchers walked seven, including six in four-plus innings by Jose Mesa (5-10).

Carlos Martinez and Reggie Jefferson each drove in two runs for visiting Cleveland.

Cal Ripken hit his 28th homer, matching his career-high, and Orioles left fielder Joe Orsulak had three assists.

Angels 7, White Sox 4

Dave Gallagher missed a suicide squeeze sign and lined a go-ahead, three-run double off Brian Drahman at Anaheim Stadium as California rallied for four runs in the eighth after winning a 3-1 lead in the top of the inning.

Gary Gaetti hit a game-tying single off Melido Perez (7-5), Scott Radinsky walked Donnie Hill and, one out later, Gallagher lined his double after missing the sign for the squeeze.

Mark Eichhorn (3-2) won and Bryan Harvey hit his 39th save, matching Oakland's Dennis Eckersley and Minnesota's Rick Aguilera for the major-league lead.

Another Von Erich dies

TYLER, Texas (AP) - Chris Adkisson, the youngest of the ill-fated Von Erich family of professional wrestlers, has died after being hospitalized for a gunshot wound to the head, officials say.

Adkisson, 21, was admitted to East Texas Medical Center Thursday at 10:07 p.m. and died 20 minutes later, said hospital spokeswoman Diane Ohmes.

Chris is the fourth Von Erich son to die young.

The family's real name is Adkisson, but their father, Jack, took another name when he began wrestling in the 1950s as Fritz Von Erich. He was a lineman for the Southern Methodist University football team and the Dallas Texans, but turned to wrestling after being injured.

Jack Jr. died as a child in 1959 after being electrocuted, and David, considered the best wrestler, died in 1984 of an inflammation of the intestine during a wrestling tour of Japan.

In April 1987, Mike Von Erich, 23, died of an apparent suicide after a series of health troubles. His death was due to an overdose of a tranquilizer, and authorities found notes at his car and residence. In 1985, he spent nearly a month in Baylor University Medical Center, where he was treated for the bacterial infection known as toxic shock syndrome.

The Von Erich family's wrestling show, World Class Championship Wrestling, was syndicated in 66 U.S. television markets as well as in Japan, Argentina and the Middle East.

The family was also struck by tragedy in June 1986 when Kerry Von Erich, who appeared at Mike's service on crutches, died in a motorcycle accident.

Kevin Von Erich is the only son still wrestling.

Southwest Outdoors

with Mel Phillips

Looking through my bag of good stuff from the recent Hunters' Extravaganza, I came across several items that your favorite hunter will need. Early Christmas presents are the best kind.

For the hunter who has everything, "Butt Buddy, the long gun holster" is the perfect gift. Designed by Greg and Jerry Gerleman of Olpe, Kansas, Butt Buddy is a neat leather holster that attaches to the belt and provides a convenient gun rest for the arm weary deer, quail or pheasant hunter. For less than $20, this great idea is so simple that everyone should have at least one. Call the Gerlemans at 1-800-345-2195.

The second item that can't wait until our Christmas list is Outdoor Videos: the Outdoor Catalog. The video market now has experts from every outdoor field from flyfishing with Gary Berger to turkey calling with Eddie Salter. Organized by outdoor categories, the Outdoor Video Club is the brain child of Tulsa Stephen Olsen at 1-800-54-TAPES. The call is free and the catalog only costs $5.

I finally received a response from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department concerning our July challenge to catch fish at Lake Meredith with a fishing pole instead of a container of Rotenone fish poison. A fellow named Joe Kraai, TPWD's regional biologist, ignored the fishing challenge but did respond with a four-page letter.

Too bad that Kraai didn't use a fishing pole. His letter documented his lack of concern for the problems faced by local anglers. He first accused this writer of claiming "that no fish are caught at Lake Meredith during the winter months." Every reader knows that we have discussed how the fishing has declined from the good fishing of 1990 down to a five percent success rate at recent catch-and-release fishing tournaments.

As to his charge that "Mel said fishermen should go to New Mexico or Oklahoma instead of Lake Meredith because they have better fishing." Never did this columnist say that fishermen should go out of state. We simply observed that local anglers are going out of Texas for their fishing.

Our purpose was to point out the need to improve fishing at Lake Meredith and increase the recreational opportunities here in Texas. We did not even name Kraai as the man who orders the cove kills at Lake Meredith.

Question of the Week--When was the last cove kill conducted at Lake Baylor?

If you learned that Kraai planned to lead a cove kill at Lake Baylor, what action would you recommend? Send your answers to Southwest Outdoors; 3214 Parker; Amarillo, Texas 79109, and we will share some of them with our readers and the responsible people at TPWD.

Mavericks may equal last year's team

By MIKE DRAGO
Associated Press Writer
Not even coach Bill Harper can tell you how good the defending Class 5A champion Marshall Mavericks are. The Mavericks, who finished at 14-2 with the "big school" title last year, took heavy losses from graduation, including all-state defenders Tremayne Green, Kelvin James and Willis Hudson. Only four starters returned on each side of the ball.

Marshall also lost head coach Dennis Parker to the University of North Texas. Harper, who served as Parker's defensive coordinator, seems to be filling all the holes so far. Quarterback Richard Hall, who played on the junior varsity team last year, has completed 19 of 35 passes for 221 yards through two games. New starter Duane Jernigan has 54 carries for 285 yards. But can these Mavericks be as good as the 1990 version?

"Now you're putting me on the spot," Harper said. "When you're state champions, you've got a long way to go, and this is only the third week. I feel the same as I did this time last year." Little is cleared up by looking at Marshall's first two victories, 27-3 over Benton, Ark., and 10-7 over Monroe Ouachita, La. This week's game, against the No. 3 Dallas Carter Cowboys, figures to make the task easier.

"Ouachita was ranked No. 2 in the state of Louisiana. Benton was ranked No. 8 in Arkansas. But when you play the No. 3 in Texas, you're stepping up quite a bit," Harper said. In the only other game involving two ranked teams, No. 2 Aldine plays host to No. 7 Fort Bend Willowridge. Elsewhere, it's No. 1 Arlington Lamar vs. South Grand Prairie, No.

4 Alief Elsik vs. Fort Bend Clements, No. 5 Huntsville vs. Silsbee and No. 8 Odessa Permian vs. Tyler John Tyler in a Saturday game. Killeen and Waco, which are tied for the ninth ranking, play Odessa and Converse Judson, respectively. In Class 4A, No. 1 West Orange-Stark, which stopped Bay City 21-0 to take the top spot this week after Dallas Roosevelt faltered against Wilmer-Hutchins, meets Beaumont West Brook. No. 2 Bastrop battles Leander, and it's No. 3 Burkburnett vs. Fort Worth Diamond Hill-Jarvis, No. 4 Waxahachie vs. Marlin, No. 5 Lubbock Estacado vs. Big Spring, No. 6 Houston C.E. King vs. Liberty, No. 7 McKinney vs. Terrell, No. 8 Austin Reagan vs. Seguin, No. 9 Dallas Roosevelt vs. South Garland and No. Austin Westlake vs. Austin.

Miller, who left for Notre Dame, and running back Derrick Harris. So far, so good, coach Eddie Brister said. In a 20-6 first-week victory over Houston Stratford, running back Deshon Hosea carried for 104 yards and two touchdowns on 11 carries and receiver Jason Garner was impressive. Brister said getting the team ready for Aldine has been easy. "Our kids are pretty successful themselves, so when we play a team with the notoriety of an Aldine, they get pretty worked up," he said. "Our intensity level was up this week. The workouts were the same, but the intensity level was sure a little higher." Aldine coach Bill Smith said quarterback Eric Gray, who is recovering from leg wounds he suffered in a drive-by shooting, will start.

Wolverines have own Rocket

By The Associated Press
Desmond Howard has put a rocket into the attack of the Michigan Wolverines. When No. 7 Notre Dame faces third-ranked Michigan on Saturday, the Irish could find out what was so tough about playing them with Raghib "Rocket" Ismail in the lineup for three years. In Michigan's opening-game victory over Boston College last week, Howard scored four touchdowns, catching seven passes for 86 yards and three TDs and running the second-half kickoff back 93 yards for another score. "Desmond played a great, great game," Michigan coach Gary Moeller said. Howard's four TDs against Boston College made him the seventh player in Michigan history to score four or more in a game, and the first since Rob Lytle in 1975.

The kickoff return made him only the second Wolverine to take more than one back for a TD. Howard returned a kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown in that Michigan State game last year. "Making the big play when we're behind is what really gets me going," Howard said. "I like doing the spectacular." In other games pairing ranked teams Saturday, No. 16 Alabama is at No. 6 Florida, No. 21 UCLA is at No. 11 Tennessee and No. 23 Baylor is at No. 12 Colorado. On Thursday night, No. 2 Miami won its 39th consecutive game at the Orange Bowl with an impressive 40-10 victory over No. 10 Houston. Miami's Gino Torretta, the less-touted quarterback in the matchup with David Klingler, threw four touchdown passes as the Hurricanes dominated on both sides of the ball. Klingler, who had 54 touchdown passes last season and nine in a 73-3 season-opening win over Louisiana Tech, was 32-for-59 for 216 yards and his only touchdown pass came with 3 seconds to play. Torretta was 16-for-35 for 365 yards. He threw two scoring passes each to Kevin Williams (33 and 51 yards) and Lamar Thomas (2 and 71).

In other Saturday games involving Top 25 teams, it's Western Michigan at No. 1 Florida State, No. 5 Penn State at Southern Cal, North Texas at No. 9 Oklahoma, Colorado State at No. 13 Nebraska, No. 14 Iowa at Iowa State, Mississippi at No. 15 Auburn, No. 17 Georgia Tech at Boston College, Central Michigan at No. 18 Michigan State, Louisville at No. 19 Ohio State, LSU at No. 20 Texas A&M, No. 22 Syracuse at Maryland, Temple at No. 24

McCartney likes Baylor

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) - Almost in one breath Colorado coach Bill McCartney calls Baylor "the best-kept secret in college football," "potentially a top-10 team," "one of the best teams to come into this stadium since I've been coaching here," "the best Baylor team since the one we faced in the 1986 Bluebonnet Bowl." McCartney, whose No. 12 Buffaloes play host to No. 23 Baylor on Saturday, has seen film of only one Baylor game this season - the Bears' 27-7 romp over Texas-El Paso last week - so he bases his evaluation partly on another factor: recruiting. Since his Buffaloes lost to Baylor 21-9 in the Bluebonnet Bowl, McCartney has been keeping tabs on the Bears. "Two or three years ago we found ourselves recruiting against Baylor more and more, and we lost several players to them," McCartney said. "I could see this coming." Baylor's strength lies in its offensive and defensive lines. "Their two starting guards (John Tumpaugh and Monte Jones) are both four-year starters," McCartney noted. "Last year, (Baylor coach) Grant Teaff said he thought his center (Scott Bahren) was the best in the Southwest Conference, and this year he's the positive." "On the other side of the ball, those front four all look like Alfred (Williams) and Kanavis (McGhee), and that's the way they play," he added, referring to Colorado's two outside linebackers who were high NFL draft picks last spring. "Their quarterback, J.J. Joe, can throw and run. (Fullback Robert) Strait could be the best fullback in college football based on the way he looked in the UTEP game." The 230-pound Strait rushed for 112 yards on just seven carries - a 16-yard average - and scored two touchdowns. The Bears generated 370 total yards with their veer offense, including 280 on the ground, while limiting UTEP to 192. "Baylor has led the Southwest Conference in defense the last three years, and this defense looks every bit as good," McCartney said. "They have good players all over their lineup." OK, Bill, but how about your own team? The Buffs aren't exactly chopped liver. Colorado opened defense of its national championship with a sluggish 30-13 victory over Wyoming last week. Quarterback Darian Hagan ignited the Buffs in the second half with his passing and with punt returns of 37 and 30 yards. "I'm concerned about our punt coverage, about having to contend with Mr. Hagan," Teaff said. "This guy is able to run it from one end to the other. He's a great kick returner as well as a gifted quarterback." Teaff says Hagan will be a focal point for the Bears' defense. "If you don't contain Hagan, you're going to get your brains beat out, that's for sure," Teaff said. "You'd better slow him down or you'll be embarrassed. But if you load up and just try to stop Hagan, they have several other weapons that can hurt you." "Any team that has a Lombardi candidate in the middle of both lines (center Jay Leeuwenburg and nose tackle Joel Steed) has got to be tough. They'll be hard to run on and they'll run the ball well." But contrary to its tradition, Colorado didn't mount a consistently effective ground attack last week. Slowed by a young offensive line and inexperienced backs, the Buffs rushed for only 167 yards - well below last season's average of 271. "We aren't going anywhere without a running game," McCartney said. "It's just going to take some hard work." The Buffs had some success opening up their offense in the second half, using the pass more frequently. But McCartney says his option-oriented team is "not set up to do that" and insists that tactic "will spell defeat."

WLAFF to continue play

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) - The World League of American Football will still be around next year, providing it can survive next month in one piece. The NFL on Thursday discussed the viability of the spring league, but deferred a decision on the 1992 season until its Oct. 23-24 ownership meetings in Dallas. There had been published reports this week that the NFL-sponsored league would be suspended in 1992, largely because it lost an estimated $15 million in its first full season with European and American teams. The league was a huge success in Europe, but not nearly as big in the United States. Still, Dan Rooney, chairman of the new league's board of directors, said "there was overwhelming support by the leagues' shareholders to go forward." "I'm pleased with the way it came out," Rooney said after Thursday's daylong meeting.

Spy search works like novel

BERLIN (AP) - The hunt for Markus Wolf, once Communist East Germany's spymaster, is providing cloak-and-dagger thrills left over from the Cold War.

Officials aren't saying much, but that hasn't stopped a flood of news reports speculating that the elusive ex-agent may be anywhere from Cuba to Austria.

The Interior Ministry has dismissed reports he may be in Austria as "typical speculation" but has not commented on his possible whereabouts.

On Thursday, ARD television said the 68-year-old Wolf would surrender to German authorities if he's allowed to stay free pending trial.

The German news agency ADN said Thursday that Wolf is hiding out with friends in the Vienna area, once the crossroads of undercover agents from East and West.

The popular magazine Stern, meanwhile, is running a series about a woman who spied for Erich Honecker's foreign intelligence boss. The title of the series: "Danced with Wolf."

The tall, striking Wolf once ran East Germany's secret service with an clan that made him the envy of his Warsaw Pact colleagues.

His most sensational move was the planting of a spy in the office of then-West German Chancellor Willy Brandt. When the agent's cover was blown in 1974, Brandt's government fell.

Wolf served as East Germany's top spy from 1958 until he retired in 1987.

Once so elusive there was only one picture of him believed to be in circulation in the West, the retired spymaster showed up as a speaker at a huge pro-democracy rally in East Berlin on Nov. 4, 1989.

Wolf's attempt to pitch himself as a reformer met with ridicule from the crowd, whose demands led to the opening of the Berlin Wall five days later.

He slipped away to Moscow as Germany raced toward unification in October, eluding the law enforcement authorities who sought his arrest for spying against West Germany.

Yet, there are some who say Wolf's possible cooperation with investigators may be more important than sending him behind bars.

"He's supposed to be able to give authorities information about an estimated 400 still-uncovered East German agents in West Germany," ARD television said Thursday.

However, ARD said that chief federal prosecutor Alexander von Stahl was unlikely to grant Wolf's reported offer to turn himself in as long as he stays out of jail pending trial.

The prosecutor, according to ARD, won't let the conditions be "dictated" - and especially not by a former top spy.

News reports say Wolf left his haven in the Soviet Union last week, as Moscow grew increasingly resentful of its Stalinist past and as Bonn pressed for his return.

"Is Markus Wolf in Cuba?" asked Berlin's Spandauer-Volksblatt daily newspaper in a headline on Tuesday. Speculation also had him heading to Hungary or another Latin American country.

A LONE STAR "STEAL"

Now you can run your classified ad in newspapers all across Texas for only $250. That's right—a 25 word ad costs only $250 to run in 225 newspapers with a combined circulation of 1,260,218 (that's 2.4 million readers) throughout the Lone Star State.

One call to this newspaper, that's all. We'll place your ad in 225 newspapers. All you have to do is get ready for the results.

This new sales opportunity is brought to you by this newspaper and the member newspapers of the Texas Press Association.

Buttons make fashion statement

Like the zipper before it, the lowly button has been bidden to do more than add modesty to women's clothing.

The House of Chanel likes camellias, in addition to its famous gilt double-c logo. Zang Toi, who scattered some orchid-shaped buttons on a suit last spring, now lets you wear a heart - or two or three - on your sleeve. They're on the cuffs, pockets and front closure of an evening jacket.

Also for fall, Franco Moschino buttons up a black tuxedo suit with old-fashioned water faucet handles. Gemma Kahng's flight of fancy is doves on a fuchsia and wool crepe jacket.

Christian Lacroix and Steve Fabrikant are among others who decided to upgrade the button to haute status. But if designer clothes don't fit your budget, buy buttons or button covers and spruce up last season's finds.

"You can update without incurring a big expense and make your outfit look brand new," says Susan Abbey, assistant manager of Tender Buttons, a boutique of nothing but buttons in New York.

Today's best bets, she says, are buttons shaped like coins, colored jewels, cameos and flowers. Yesterday's buttons also are in demand. Relics from other eras can fetch $400 or more at the store.

The first buttons were probably pre-historic carved stones that functioned like toggles, says Millicent Saftro, co-owner of Tender Buttons and co-author of "Buttons," $49.50, to be published in October by Harry N. Abrams, Inc.

Buttons were an indicator of wealth and social status in the 18th century.

"The more elaborate and bejeweled, the higher your station in life," Saftro says. "It was, after all, an era of dandyism."

Button buyers should start by perusing fabric stores, says Barbara Johnson of Federal Way, Wash., president of the National Button Society.

"Fabric, yarn and needlework shops are carrying modern buttons that are quite collectible," she says. "Right now it's quite fashionable to have unusual buttons on your garments as well as on accessories such as shoes, belts, handbags and gloves."

Elizabeth Scanlon of Denver, past president of the Colorado State Button Society, says you should raid your mother's or grandmother's button box. Also scour flea markets, garage sales and the Salvation Army.

In addition, button dealers advertise in the National Button Bulletin, published five times yearly. Membership in the National Button Society is $15 a year including the bulletin.

Tender Buttons is a New York emporium with a more than a million buttons and a button museum. It's the place to go if you're in the market for art nouveau buttons, turn-of-the-century British enamel, large Victorian jewels or rabbits coming out of a hat.

Best-sellers include rhinestones for their dress-up value, gold and pearl combinations for their timelessness, and, naturally, plaid.

"We see buttons as miniature works of art," Saftro says.

Indeed, some buttons are just that. Among the store's most expensive buttons is one fashioned from an 18th-century painting under glass, about $400.

Rare buttons available only as singles or too expensive to purchase in multiples can be sewn onto a lapel, worn as a brooch or squirreled away as a collector's item, Saftro says.

For those not handy with needle and thread, button covers might be the answer. The covers, with a key-hole in the back, slip easily over common buttons found on shirts and blouses.

Pick from fish, flowers, colored stones, pearls and metal. They're often sold in matched or unmatched sets of six, starting about $20 per set.

"Button covers are the only fashion item I've ever heard of that really don't cost anything," says Al Markowitz, president of Krumark Industries, a New York manufacturer of button covers. "You can blow $100 on five 6-piece sets of button covers and mix and match an almost infinite number of combinations," he says. "It's a great way to recycle old clothing."

313 N. Lee

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 15 cents a word for first insertion ($3.00 minimum), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	.15	3.00
2 days per word	.26	5.20
3 days per word	.37	7.40
4 days per word	.48	9.60
5 days per word	.59	11.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid word lines--those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing; all capital letters. Rates are $4.15 per column inch; $3.45 an inch for consecutive additional insertions.

LEGALIS

Ad rates for legal notices are same as for classified display.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have been told that coffee is not good to drink when you are trying to lose weight as the caffeine in it slows down your metabolism. Is there any truth to this? If so, is decaffeinated coffee the answer? I drink about eight cups of coffee throughout the day and need to get on a diet. I am a 31-year-old female and am about 70 pounds overweight.

What I really need to lose is my flabby stomach and waist. What kind of exercises do you recommend to flatten the abdomen? Every time I get on a diet my legs are the first to go.

DEAR READER: If you are 70 pounds overweight, I doubt all the excess fat is in your legs. You probably do need to lose a lot of fat from your abdominal area. Your concern about your abdomen also makes me wonder if your abdomen is larger in circumference than your hips. If so, that is associated with an increased risk of heart disease as you get older.

No, coffee will not keep you from losing weight. Actually caffeine will increase your metabolism to some degree. Of course if you add cream or sugar or both, you will increase your calorie intake. At eight cups a day that could be significant over time. I do think over two to three cups of coffee a day is excessive.

You cannot flatten your abdomen significantly with exercises if you already have a lot of fat inside and outside the abdomen. It may be harder for you to lose abdominal fat, but as you lose body fat, it will eventually start to have a significant effect on your girth.

A general exercise program to use calories is useful. That includes walking. The more exercise you are able to do, to use calories, the more successful your program will be.

Many of the exercises recommended to flatten your abdomen have little value other than using calories. The most useful one is literally "sucking in your abdomen" and hold it pulled in as tight as you can for several seconds. Relax and repeat. You can do these exercises several times a day, whether you are standing, sitting, or lying down.

I have discussed why these exercises are so important as well as the role of sit-ups and leg-lifts in my new Special Report 104, How to Battle the Bulge. Your address is not on your letterhead so I can't send you a copy. Those who want this report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/104, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077.

Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077. Although Dr. Lamb cannot reply to all letters personally, he will respond to selected questions in future columns.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is for the man who feels inferior and depressed after comparing himself with college classmates who have done so much better in life--financially, that is.

I'm reminded of the story about two women who saw each other at their 25th college reunion for the first time since they had left school.

First woman: Marjorie! It's wonderful to see you again. You look terrific. How has life been treating you?

Marjorie: Things couldn't be better. My husband, Tom, has made a huge success of his father's small business. He has opened five branch offices--one in Tokyo. Tom was named "Man of the Year" by the Chamber of Commerce. He's going to be president of the Chamber in the spring.

First woman: That's fantastic. Marjorie: I'm very active in volunteer work, which I love. I've been president of the Junior League three years in a row. No one will run against me. It seems they won't let me go. This may turn out to be a lifetime job!

First woman: Fantastic. Marjorie: Our son Jim, made Phi Beta Kappa. He is captain of the football team and was named "fraternity man of the year."

First woman: Fantastic. Marjorie: Our daughter, Julie, was named most likely to succeed in the senior class at the university. She was also elected president of her sorority.

First woman: Fantastic. Marjorie: Our daughter, Julie, was named most likely to succeed in the senior class at the university. She was also elected president of her sorority.

First woman: Fantastic. Marjorie: But what about you, dear? What have you been up to lately?

First woman: My life is not as exciting as yours but I just finished an interesting course in charm school.

Marjorie: Charm school? That's fascinating! What did you learn there?

First woman: They taught us to say "fantastic" instead of "bull-----" P.B., Prairie Village, Kansas

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I thought you and your readers would enjoy a true story about a genuinely good person and his generous deed.

My wife and I were visiting Philadelphia recently. On our last day there, someone picked my pocket. The thief took my wallet which contained quite a lot of money, credit cards and my driver's license.

We made arrangements to have money sent to us so we could get home. When we went to the parking lot to pick up our rental car, I had to explain to the attendant that I didn't have the claim check because my wallet had been stolen.

A gentleman standing nearby overheard the conversation, handed me a $20 bill and said, "Please take this." I thanked him and explained that my wife had a few dollars in her handbag and that we had already made arrangements to get the necessary cash. He insisted, however, that we should have an extra $20.

When I asked him for his name and address so I could return the money, he said, "It's a gift. Please let me do this." Then he left.

We decided then and there that Philadelphia deserves its name: "The City of Brotherly Love." Yours very truly--Robert Belknap, La Verne, Calif.

DEAR ROBERT: What a sweet story. More evidence that even though the world seems to have become a dangerous and untidy place, there are still plenty of kind and generous people around. Thanks for writing.

How long since you've updated your business insurance?

That's one question our business clients never have to worry about. As an independent insurance agency, it's our business to watch for the changes that come with growth--new locations, additional employees, new equipment. Then we analyze how these changes affect our clients' insurance needs, and recommend the best protection available.

Years of working with major insurance companies, like CNA, have given us the experience to make business insurance protection keep pace with our clients. If you're responsible for your company's business insurance, give us a call.
